HELP TO WIN THE WAR

CONGREGATION MEETING OF KNOX CHURCH

The annual meeting of the members and adherents of the Presbyterian Church of Cranbrook was held in Knox Church on Tuesday evening with Rev. H. Wright, pastor of the church, in the chair. After the appointment of a temporary secretary the minutes of the two previous annual meetings were read by the secretary and approved by those present.

The report from the Session was read by Rev. H. Right who referred particularly to the losses sustained by the congregation through death during the past year. This report was received and adopted.

The financial report of the Sunday School in the absence of the retiring treasurer, Mrs. MacKinnon, was read by Mr. Herbert Chester. Reports from the Ladies' Aid, the Woman's Missionary Society and the Mission Band were given by Mrs. White, Mrs. Surtees and Mrs. Worden in the order named. Each was received and approved.

The financial report from the Board of Management was presented by Mr. J. P. Fink. This report which called forth much favorable comment from those present, showed a total contribution from old sources of $3856.72, an increase of $400 over the contributions of the preceding year.

The meeting then proceeded to the nomination and election of the Board of Management. More than usual interest was centered in this event owing to the fact that three of the seven members elected were ladies, Mesdames Laurie, Barney and G. Taylor being the choice. The election of the male members of the Board showed a choice of Messrs. Manley, McLeod, McKinnon and Robinson. Mr. Fink was then appointed auditor, and Mr. Forsyth secretary, for the ensuing year. In recognition of their faithful work Mr. Harshaw tendered a vote of thanks to the organist, the choir leader, the Ladies Aid and the retiring Board of Managers.

Mr. J. F. Smith moved a further vote of thanks to the past superintendents of the Sunday School, Mr. White, and to Mr. Shields, who at present fills this office very acceptably; a vote of thanks to all members of the teaching staff of the Sunday School being included in the motion.

THE ROARIN' GAME

Cranbrook Rinks Doing Well at Fernie Bonspiel

The Bonspiel at Fernie is being pulled off with all the success, goodfellowship and personal enjoyment which ideal weather, good ice and the hearty hospitality of the Fernie people can make it. There are a sufficient number of teams competing—twenty-six in all—to make each contest interesting; and the prizes, in connection and in addition to each trophy, valuable enough to make each event well worth winning.

The draws in the five contests—The McLeod, the Magrath, the Walker, the Trites-Woods and the Grand Challenge Trophies, are progressing very favorabbly for the four Cranbrook rinks competing. George Hogarth's rink is in the eights in the McLeod and Trites-Woods Trophies; W. F. Cameron' in the eighths in Trites-Woods, Walker and Grand Challenge; J. B. Henderson's in the eighths in the Magrath; and A. S. Ward's in the eighths in the Magrath and Walker.

Hogarth's rink has been going strong until to-day; in fact they were in four contests until this morning, when they felt they ought to drop one and so defaulted to Ward and lost out in another.

The other two teams are just curling well enough to stay in the running but have not yet struck their stride.

After the seven o'clock draw last night playing was adjourned while the curlers enjoyed the hospitality of the Fernie Curling Club at a "smoker." Everybody lined up at the Rink behind three of the best pipers in the west and marched joyously to the banquet hall to the stirring strains of 'Cock o' the North' and 'Robin Adaid.' (Allen Cameron is some piper.)

At the "smoker" a splendid program of songs, speeches and stories entertained the curlers for about an hour and then the business of the Bonspiel was transacted. The chief point of interest in this to Cranbrook people was that the Curlers kindly accepted our invitation to hold the "Spell" here next week. It will be up to us to extend ourselves to make it as big a success as the present

CRANBROOK BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Council Chambers on Tuesday evening.

The interest manifested in the debate of the various questions brought up for discussion showed that the members present were keenly alive to the importance of these matters.

Mr. G. J. Spreull introduced the subject in reference to Athletic Club and Gymnasium. He stated that a meeting of the citizens of Cranbrook was held last fall, at which a committee was appointed to inquire into this matter. The result of this committees investigation was that the probable cost of running the old gymnasium would be in the neighborhood of $2500 and Mr. Spreull doubted that this amount could be raised year after year.

He considered that it would be more satisfactory if some arrangement could be arrived at with the Y. M. C. A. by which facilities would be afforded at this Institution for a Gymnasium, swimming pool, etc. With this object in view it was decided to request the City Council, the Board of Trade, the School Board and the Women's Institute to appoint two delegates each for the purpose of waiting upon Mr. Harshaw and conferring with him as to the possibility of giving effect to the above proposal.

Mr. A. L. McDermot, speaking on behalf of Mr. T. S. Gill, owner of the old gymnasium, pleaded for the cooperation of the Board in urging upon the City to submit a By-law to the people to set aside say about $5000 to purchase the old gym. This was the amount of the mortgage Mr. Gill held against this property, and although it cost about $13,000, Mr. Gill was willing to let it go for $5000.

A committee consisting of Mr. Spreull and A. A. MacKinnon was appointed to secure information as to the probable cost of maintenance of the old gym, and to interview the incoming Council and submit the two propositions outlined above for its consideration.

Mr. W. H. Wilson urged upon the Board the necessity of immediate action in reference to the Canadian National Highway. He stated that the engineers who had been over the various routes preferred the route through this district but that the people of the northern country were sparing no pains in presenting their claims to the Dominion Goverament for the National Highway and unless the people of this district get busy immediately the opportunity of getting the route through district would be lost. A resolution was passed instructing the Roads Committee, of which Mr. W. J. Atchison is chairman, to take the matter up immediately with our Federal member, R. F. Green and to communicate with the other Boards of Trade of the District and the Automobile Association, asking their co-operation and urging upon them the importance of immediate and concerted action in dealing with this matter.

Mr. A. L. McDermot stated that, at a recent meeting of the Retail Merchants Association, he was delegated to ask this Board to endorse a resolution to be submitted at the next session of the Provincial Legislature, embodying the following amendments to the "Weekly Half Holiday Act."

1. That the Weekly Half Holiday Act be amended so as to make it operative for six months (summer) only during the year say from May to October inclusive.

2. That the Weekly Half Holiday be suspended in weeks in which other legal Holidays occur.

3. That the Weekly Half Holiday Act be amended so as to make it effective all over the Province, that is to cover all unorganized territory as well as organized districts. In its present form it effects only organized districts.

A motion was proposed and unanimously carried endorsing the above amendments to the Weekly Half Holiday Act.

The building of a flour mill in this district was discussed at considerable length and a committee apointed to take the matter up wih a committee of the Farmers Institute and report at the next meeting of the Board.

A committee was appointed to wait on the new Council with a request to reduce the Pound Fee for cattle and horses.

Just previous to adjournment the meeting was informed that a reception was then being held in honor of Lieutenant Speery Phillips, returned veteran, and a suggestion made that a resolution of appreciation for his services to King and Country would be in order. The following resolution was drawn up and forwarded to Lieut. Phillips, where the reception was being held.

CHILD WELFARE INSTITUTE & EXHIBIT

In the address on "The marriage of the unfit and the care of the dependent, defective, diseased and delinquent classes, the greater time was spent in reference to the diseased and defectives and the right to marry. Again and again Mr. Dobson drew the sharp distinction between mental disease and mentil defect. No disease has any stigma attached to it, the stigma belongs to the manner in which we come by the disease, and there is no more dishonor attached to insanity which is a disease than there is to Typhoid which is also a disease.

Disease can be cured, and the facts of the case go to prove that greater success than ever is attending the efforts put forth to overcome mental disease. With mental defect however, the case is different. We cannot overcome defectiveness that is in the sense of supplying what is lacking, and it is to the defective as a class that restrictions should be imposed with reference to marriage and the propagation of a family thereby. Sixty per cent. of mental defect is hereditary.

Persons infected with venereal diseases should not be allowed to marry without a certificate from a certified doctor.

Persons affected with active tuberculosis should also be restricted from marriage.

The startling statement was made that there are 15,000 mental defectives in Canada and very inadequate provisions made for their care. Ontario has the only institution in the Dominion which cannot begin to cope with the problem; but Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are making provision at the present time and a very strong effort is being put forth in B. C. to secure action on the part of the government in the building of a proper institution..

The strongest address of the whole series however was that delivered on the closing session of the institute. The topic was "The living Wall or The triumph of Personality" what we have learned from the war.

It was one which stirred the audience to the depths of their being and was at the same time a very illuminating commentary on the past three years of the war.

Dealing with the conditions that had surrounded the mode of warfare during that time, Mr. Dobson referred to what he termed "The main strategy of the War," "The main issue of the war," and "The main method of the war."

The main strategy was that known in military circles as Strangulation, which is an effort to isolate from the rest of the world the leading industrial country or countries on the opposing side. Thus we find the allies endeavoring to isolate Germany while Germany in turn seeks to cut off England from the rest of humanity. The first seeks this end by her navy while the latter hopes to reach her goal by the underwater method. There is a distinct difference in the moral quality between two methods but the end sought is the same in both cases.

This attempt at isolation is a recognition of the fact that with the progress of industrialism the world has become united in actual fact by railroad, steamship, cable, printing press and the Marconigraph, into one world system of distribution.

Industrial countries have multiplied needs with the increased use of machinery and have become more and more dependent upon the rest of the world for supply. We are very much nearer world unity and human brotherhood to day than we have ever been before.

The main issue of the war arose out of the foregoing fact. The world is being so united that there are only two ways of getting along as among nations. The first way is that of Tyranny or one nation or group of nations ruling over the rest of the nations by its mechanical power or organization. The second method is that of democracy or weak and strong nations expressing their mind and will as an allied democracy ruling together. It is exactly the same issue over which we have struggled in the British Empire during the past three hundred years, namely, whether one sovereign, by divine right as it was claimed, rule over the citizens, or whether sovereign rights should be vested through the ballot in all adult citizens who should rule together in form of government.

Christianity and the bible creates this issue wherever they go. The bible teaches men to believe that they are created in the likeness of God and christianity teaches them to believe that they are children of God, that humanity is one family, and whenever men get these ideas they will refus to be slaves and will demand co-operation in self government.

The bible is indeed the most revolutionary book in the world. Wherever the bible and christian message goes, it will ultimately overthrow tyranny in government, industry or business.

The main method of the war has become very different to what it formerly was. In the early days of the war, defence and aggression centered largely around forts that had become, as it was thought, invulnerable. But with the fall of Namur, Liege and Antwerp, the lesson was learned that confidence could no longer be placed in mechanical devices as a means of defence. And so Joffre busied himself, while the allied lines followed a rearguard action, establishing a living wall across France and Flanders and trench warfare became the new method.

Trench warfare means that the main defence is human personality.

The three elements of character that are most essential to this living wall are (1) The spirit of sacrifice symbolised by the cross; (2) The spirit of fraternity and (3) That hope or confidence of a better day which leads men to sacrifice themselves and endure hardships for the sake of future generations. These are the essentials of christian personality.

This living wall has gradually extended until it has entered the politics of the empire destroying their partisanship. It has entered industry steadily but surely destroying competition, profit systems and profiteering and in its place building up co-operation and brotherhood in business and politics.

This livingwall has extended in to the homes of the people and in the conservation of food and clothing and abstention from luxuries the same qualities are essential.

While the industrial age has brought much of pain, strife and wretchedness, destitution and death, it brings us at last to human brotherhood and co-operation and the triumph of personality and the better day and every good citizen will aid to usher in this new day.

ANOTHER OLD-TIMER PASSES TO GREAT BEYOND

(By our own correspondent, Invermere, B. C.)

Jan. 11.—A dispatch received here this morning by friends of the late George Starke, of this place, flashed from Victoria by his wife, announces his death in that city from heart failure at an early hour this morning. Mr. Starke had not, for some few months past, been feeling in the best of health; thinking that a change of air would do him good, he left here a little over a week ago for a visit to the Coast cities. A telegram had been received from him but yesterday saying that he was about to return; and in fact he was expected in on the train which is due to arrive to-night. No further particulars regarding the manner of his death have, up to the time of writing, been received, other than what are set out above. It is anticipated that the end came very suddenly. His wife and little adopted daughter, May Starke, were in Victoria with him at the time of his demise. The late Mr. Starke was born at Farnham, in the Province of Quebec, about the year 1854. In the early eighties the call of the West was strong and he followed it to Winnipeg, and from there passed on into the great unknown West, reaching the camp which marks the present townsite of Golden in the year 1882. True to character he has never reserted his first great love of the mountains and between Golden and this part he spent the remaining days of his life, first as a mining man and then as a hotel keeper and proprietor. Along with Ed. Johnston, who came in at that time, and still lives within the valley, he engaged in many undertakings. He built and ran the first hotel in the settlement of Windermere, and the same in regard to Wilmer, Athalmer, and this townsite. In mining matters he helped develop some of the largest properties about here. It is in his true character of a man and a friend that he will however always and ever be remembered by those who knew him. His right hand and his strong right arm was ever stretched out to help the poor and the needy; to paraphrase Robert Burns:

"He never sought George Starke in vain
Who sought George Stark aright."

His good deeds and silent charities will never be known save to those to whom he proved the benefactor. His business dealings were ever and always of the most upright and straightforward character. He was high up in the craft as a member of the Masonic Order and never lost an opportunity to put into practice the tenets for which the Order stands. He lately resigned the position of Manager of the Invermere Hotel, owned by Hotel Invermere Limited, and in this he is succeeded by Mr. Bob Williams, late of the Columbia Hotel, Golden.

'GREEN STOCKINGS' SECOND APPEARANCE

The Cranbrook amateur dramatic company concluded a series of five performances on Wednesday evening when the play was presented for the second time in Cranbrook. The proceeds of the final performance will be devoted to the I. O. D. E. home for unclaimed children at Halifax and as the audience was a large one, the balance sheet which will be completed within a few days, is expected to show a substantial donation to the funds of the institution.

There was one change in the cast owing to Mr. C. M. Davison leaving for Alberta on Sunday last. At short notice and with only time for one rehearsal, Mr. A. M. McKenzie consented to take the part of Robert Tarver, and great credit is due to Mr. McKenzie for the successful way in which he represented an important character in the play.

The visit to Fernie on Saturday last was not a financial success. This however is not due to any fault on the part of the company but rather to a lack of appreciation of their efforts on behalf of Fernie patriotic funds, by the residents of Fernie.

The dramatic company wishes to record their appreciation of the assistance kindly given in various ways by Messrs. A. L. McDermot, Louis Pearron, F. Worthington, and Parker's Orchestra.

MEETING OF RETAIL MERCHANTS ASSO.

The Cranbrook Retail Merchants Association held their monthly meeting last Friday in the Council Chambebrs. There was a large attendance and considerable business of urgent importance transacted.

The adoption of a new system of two deliveries a day was discussed in all its phases. A committee was appointed to investigate the cost of delivering in the city and report at the next meeting. It was the unanimous opinion that the expense of delivery was quite an item in the high cost of living and that the public could no doubt be educated along the lines of the Cash and Carry system, and if the plan is at all feasible the system will be adopted by the local merchants.

The Secretary was requested to ask the Board of Trade at its next meeting to endorse a resolution, to be forwarded to the Attorney-General, embodying the following amendment to the Weekly Half Holiday Act:

1. "That the Weekly Half Holiday Act be Amended so as to make it operative for six months (summer) only during the year say from May to October inclusive.

2. That the Weekly Half Holiday be suspended in weeks in which other legal holidays occur.

3. That the Weekly Half Holiday Act be amended so as to make it effective all over the Province, that is, to cover all unorganized territory as well as organized districts. In its present form it effects only the organized districts.

The Secretary was instructed to communicate with the Postmaster-General drawing his attention to the decidedly rotten mail service existing at the present time, between Cranbrook and Kootenay Central points, and to endeavor to obtain a direct and more efficient mail service out of Cranbrook, connecting up with the Kootenay Central.

A resolution was passed to co-operate with the Board of Trade and Automobile Association and to endorse any action that may be taken by them in connection with the proposed Naional Highway.

THE SPHERE OF WOMEN

The Election of the Mayor and Civic Councillors by acclamation has given general satisfaction. There is a pronounced feeling that the affairs of the City have during the past year been handled efficiently, with due regard for reasonable economy, and we may look forward with confidence to the same good management for another year.

The re-election of the Police Commissioners is an assurance that the laws will continue to be rigidly enforced and that the City of Cranbrook will maintain its good name as a peaceful and law-abiding community.

It is a matter of regret that the expenses of an election had to be incurred by reason of the nomination for School Trustee. No criticism of the old Board existed, but there is a strong feeling and quite legitimate one that the women should be represented on the School Board by at least one of their own sex. The desire is more than legitimate, it is only right. The supervision of our schools, the selection of those who are entrusted with the moral and mental training of the children, the attention which should be given to their healthful recreations are pre-eminently the functions of a mother and we have too long failed to recognize this important innovation. It does not represent a woman's desire to "butt in" on matters which do not concern her—as was suggested to the Editor by a prominent Cranbrook citizen. It is a matter of deep concern to all women and it is their duty to respond to the privileges of the franchise by exercising their rights to representation on all Boards of Control; and the sooner this sphere of women is realized the better.

The Kaiser appears to be troubled with his Imperial Chancellors, such frequent swapping of horses in midstream gives the impression that Kaiser Bill is getting rattled.

Premier Lenine put his foot into a pot of trouble when he imprisoned the Rumanian Ambassador; the result of his indiscretion will be awaited with more than passing interest.

It must be one of the signs of Spring that the Cranbrook Board of Trade came to life again on Tuesday evening after hibernating for four months.

What an opportunity was lost for a display of chivalry. Ladies first, would have been a courteous way of avoiding an election for school trustees.

The ending of the drama between the Bolsheviki and the Germans is awaited with interest but not with concern, the deflection of the Russians may prolong the war but it will have no effect on the final outcome.

Food Controller Hanna is to be commended for his prompt action in seizing 300 tons of onions recently shipped to Vancouver from Kelowna; hoarding to obtain higher prices in the face of a food shortage is a form of profiteering which merits severe condemnation and is deserving of a greater penalty than mere confiscation.

January 10th was a red letter day for the woman suffragette in England and the United States; the women have won by the display of true womanly instincts, by their splendid activities, courage, endurance, and sacrifices in the midst of the sufferings of the war what they never could have won by years of street marching and window smashing.

The strong appeal of the British Labor Party to the people of the Central Powers is a broad minded expression of the war aims of the Allies; and their determination to continue the war until these aims are secured will give the German people something to think about if the manifesto ever reaches them, which is doubtful. Dropping such manifestos in Germany by aeroplane might have a greater moral effect than the dropping of bombs.

MINING NOTES

A rumor gained currency around Cranbrook recently that the American Smelting & Refining Company intended erecting a smelter somewhere in the immediate locality. This canard had its source in Spokane and by easy stages found its way here. The whole thing is nonsense. It has not been proved that the Company has, so far, spent a dollar in taking up any of its various options. It is quite true that somewhat extensive diamond drill exploration is actually going on on the Stemwinder and Ontario ground, on the North Star Hill at Kimberley, but beyond this the Company has been making no expenditures in this locality. It is not wise to think, therefore, that they without having, so to speak, a ton of ore developed and in sight would entertain the idea of going to the expense of perhaps a million dollars in the erection of a smelter. That can only come when they have ore in quantity sufficient to justify the operation of such a plant; and even if they had, it does not follow that they would treat their ore in this Province. They might take it to one of their own smelting plants in the States and in the beginning, there is no doubt this is the plan they would adopt. For this purpose they would need independent railway transportation and would, very likely, build to Elko to connect with the Great Northern at that point. For this development, too, we shall have to wait very patiently indeed.

All that can be said with regard to the activities of the American Smelting & Refining Company in the Kimberley area is that they, apparently, intend to look into the possibilities of the district; to give the locality a fair and thorough investigation and if they find conditions suit them they will then operate on a scale proportionate to the resources they will find fit for development. That is all that can be said conservatively and with certainty. There is no justification for going beyond it; but at the same time it may be said that when a concern of the enormous importance and financial power of the American Smelting & Refining Company finds itself warranted in investigating any particular district, it does not readily withdraw its hand. It keeps advancing. Further, its operations are the greatest advertisement our district can get. Where the American Smelting & Refining Company casts anchor is always considered safe ground for smaller investors who argue that they would not come in if the stuff were not there to justify them. There is more of the "sheep-instinct" amongst mining investors and operators than amongst most people.

Time was, not so long ago either, when if the American Smelting & Refining Company bought or took an option on a piece of ground, half the wild-catters in the country would flock in and start their magic. Many a wild-cat company was floated on a lump of ore not as big as a hat and which was, in many a case, brought from foreign parts. With all his lives, the wild-catter now seems to be fairly and satisfactorily dead. It has come to this that he must deliver the goods, he must show he has got the stuff before he can handle a dollar. During the boom days in the Slocan, Ainsworth and Rossland camps, the prospector always got a large payment of cash down before the purchaser stuck a pick in the ground. That payment in advance was looked upon by the purchaser as a possible dead loss, just as might be the outlay he would make for the development of the property. Now a days no man in his sober senses even expects a dollar until the claims have shown that the mineral is there to pay that dollar. Those who expect "half cash on the signing of the bills of sale and the balance inside two years" are simply fooling themselves. They will not get it and it is only right they should not. It is enough that the investor stands the chance of losing the money he may spend in costly examination without having to pay hard cash for the privilege of exploring another man's property. When prospectors and claim owners get this point clearly in their minds it will be better for the country and better for themselves in the long run.

The strike at the Trail Smelter has passed into history and happily as between the Consolidated and its employees as a body, it has left no hard feelings. It is right to place on record that the smelter management was in no possible manner or way in fault in this calamitous stirring of labor trouble. In the face of an absolute, hard and fast contract that there would be no strike during the duration of the war, the strike was organized and put in operation by the vote of some three or four hundred men where over 1500 men were directly affected in Trail alone. To the lasting credit of reputable labor organization let it be said that the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, which has its headquarters at Great Falls, Montana, and is in affiliation with the American Federation of Labor, took up the matter and not alone declared that the contract existed in the terms stated above, but ordered the men back to work and added, the most important point of all, that "the works were fair." This expression means that it left the men feetly free to do so without being liable to be called scabs. This knocked the feet from under the agitators and blew their sophistries to pieces. The big majority of the men wanted to get back to work and oack they went. Labor organizations are a mighty power for evil or for good. Where an organization like the International Union comes out and insists on the sanctity of the scrap of paper, insists that contracts be fulfilled, it points clearly to the glorious road that labor, the true democracy, is following under the guidance of the American Federation which only the other day decided with a mighty voice to stand by the Union and by the great President until the head and front of autocratic power, Prussia, be laid in the dust. We are ready enough to criticise labor in its struggles for its rights, we should be equally ready to accord it every praise when, as in the case of the Trail smelter strike, it fearlessly stands by the right.

EARL GREY

A Last Word

A piece of literary news which has for Canadians an almost national significance is the announcement of the forthcoming publication of Earl Grey's last message to the empire. At a time when even the most devoted and unselfish of statesmen might be pardoned for thinking only of his approaching end and his private affairs, Earl Grey summoned his failing energies to utter a final word in support of the ideals to which he had devoted his life. This message has been given to the world through Mr. Harold Begbie, the well known novelist and man of letters, who was for some years intimately associated with the late Earl Grey.

Such a message as this, coming from a statesman of proverbially liberal and progressive views, would at any time deserve the most serious consideration. But as such a period of stress and change as the present, when the whole fabric of modern society has been thrown into the fiery crucible of war, it has a very special significance. Far more keenly than most public men, Earl Grey realized the perils of liberty and progress involved in the great European struggle, perils which might still exist, even if Germany were decisively beaten. These perils lie in the long and bitter struggle betwen capital and labor, in the selfish tyranny of partizan politics, in the spirit of arid sacredotalism in the church, in the general tendencies of society towards money-grabbing industrialism and materialistic standards of happiness. Earl Grey sounds a solemn last warning against these things, and makes a noble plea for that Anglo-Saxon unity and that federalization of the Empire in which he saw the surest hope for the peace and progress of the world.

While Earl Grey's last message is addressed to the whole British Empire, it has a special appeal for Canadians. Of all the great Dominions this is the one in which he took the keenest interest, and to which he was bound by the strongest ties. In fact, his last published utterance under his own hand, was a warning to Canadians to avoid the pitfalls and injustices of party politics. To the end his hopes as an Imperial statesman were centered in Canada, and he delighted to describe himself even in England as a Canadian by adoption. It is therefore only natural that in his last message his eyes should have been turned particularly to this country.

Mr. Begbie has very wisely added to Earl Grey's last word a character study of the dead statesman himself. Canadians have every reason to recall how unselfish and lovable was the personality of this nobleman, who probably numbered more intimate and devoted friends among all classes of the Canadian people than any other Governor-General. As Viscount Bryce says admirably in this very book: "No more beautiful or lovable personality has adorned our generation, or borne more worthily the tests of long life and high office." Similar testimony is given by men of such diverse distinction as Lord Milner, George Russell, the Irish economist and poet, better known as "AE," Sir Starr Jameson, and F. S. Oliver. The appreciations of these distinguished public men and writers, the clever and sympathetic character-sketch by Mr. Begbie, and above all Earl Grey's own last word to a harassed and bewildered world, make this book, which is announced for immediate publication by Messrs. Hodder and Stoughton Limited, Toronto, one which should have an almost universal appeal. It is a fitting monument to a great career closed in honor and in unselfish public service. It represents also the accumulated wisdom of a statesman's life.

VINOL CREATES STRENGTH

Positive—Convincing Proof

It is all very well to make claims, but can they be proven? We publish the formula of Vinol to prove the statements we make about it.

Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol as published above, combine the very elements needed to make strength.

All weak, run-down, overworked nervous men and women may prove this at our expense.

There is nothing like Vinol to restore strength and vitality to feeble old people, delicate children and all persons who need more strength.

Try it. If you are not entirely satisfied, we will return your money without question; that proves our fairness and your protection.

At a General Meeting of the Cranbrook Board of Trade held on the 15th day of January 1918, it was proposed by Mr. Ira R. Manning and Seconded by Mr. Joseph Ryan, and carried unanimously; That this Board very cordially congratulates Lieutenant Speery Phillips on the honor and glory he has conferred on Cranbrook by his early adoption of the Military Profession, his marked progress in that school of hardihood and the distinction he has won in the field which has been recognized by the high honor of the King's Commission, and we, speaking for the City of Cranbrook most warmly welcome him back amongst us, and wish him every good luck in his future life.

On behalf of the Cranbrook Board of Trade,

R. E. Beattie, President.
A. L. McDermot, Secretary.

FORT STEELE

Mrs. A. J. Grez of Fort Steele has received from her son, Pte. Albert Bell, 54th Battalion, C. E. F., a very fine piece of French art. It is hand painted picture of the Cloth Hall, Ypres, in Flames, painted on satin, a border of lilac flowers worked in ribbobn, with hand painted leaves; this piece of work is edged by real fine old Cluny lace, forming a cushion top. In photo received from Pte. Albert Bell shows that he is in the best of health. Pte Bell has lately been granted fourteen days leave which he spent in Lancashire, England.

J. E. Rice of the Excelsior Life Insurance Company is in town on business.

EAST KOOTENAY CHAPTER, I. O. D. E., WALDO, B. C.

The East Kootenay Chapted I. O. D. E. met in Adolph's Hall, Baynes Lake. The financial report for December showed that a good sum of money had gone through the treasury during that month. The amount paid out by the Chapter for that period was about $75.00. Besides this was the amount collected for the Halifax Relief Fund for the children of Halifax. In response to a letter addressed to the Chapter from the Provincial I. O. D. E., headquarters, several members undertook to collect money for this urgent call. A total sum of $352.45 was collected in Baynes Lake and Waldo in a very few days, and forwarded at once.

Contributions to the Chapter's general fund included the proceeds of a "Silver" tea given by Mrs. Joule and Mrs. Clemens at Baynes Lake, which amounted to $10.00, a whist drive at Baynes which netted $11.50 and three whist drives at Waldo which cleared $33.80.

Mrs. Griffith of Baynes Lake gave $5.00 to pay for two copies of a Canadian historical picture which will be given to the schools at Baynes Lake and Waldo.

Mrs. Longworth of Elko, the proceeds of a raffle, $16.00; Mrs. Morrow, Baynes Lake, a donation of $5.00.

Several weeks ago the Regent, Mrs. Joule, offered a prize in each of the two schools for the best pair of socks knitted by a school girl before the January meeting of the I. O. D. E.

The prize in Baynes Lake School was won by Margaret Blake. In the Waldo School two girls had made an equally good showing, Hilda Webb, and Grace Taylor, so an extra prize is being given by Mrs. H. H. Ross.

SPLENDID WELCOME TENDERED TO LIEUTENANT S. S. PHILLIPS AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

The Methodist folk turned out in splendid fashion on Tuesday evening to express in formal and social fashion their delight and pleasure at having once more in their midst, Lieutenant S. S. Phillips who in days gone by has been so closely associated with the various activities of the church life in this city.

The War Veterans also attended in a body and expressed their sense of pride and joy at having amongst them so respected a citizen as a lieutenant On their behalf Corporal Bruin, who only returned that afternoon, expressed their pleasure and gratitude over the invitation being extended to them and told the people how the boys at the front appreciated all that was being done for them by the folks at home.

Addresses of welcome, accompanied with reminiscences were offered to Lieutenant Phillips by Mrs. W. H. Wilson representing he Ladies' Aid Society of the church, while Mr. Patmore, Mr. Morton and Mr. W. C. Adard spoke in the intereses of the Sunday School, choir and the official board of the church, respectively.

The pastor, Rev. Thos. Keyworth, also addressed the guest of honor and in the name of the largest protestant church in the Dominion and in the world welcomed him as the first hero of active warfare to return to the local church. He bade him welcome as one of those men who had written in letters of blood upon the imperishable records of human history, the name of "Canada" and had associated that word in the closest of alliances with Ypres, Esterburt, Langemarch, Messines and Vimy as demonstrating the virility and strength of Canadian manhood.

He also bad him welcome as a man. He had fought in those mighty battles that determined the destiny of nations, but he had also fought for the mainenance of a characer which left unsullied the name of mother and the influence of a noble parentage and christian training. There were those who had fought stubbornly amidst the flash of sword and cannon but who in that internal struggle where every man is the combatant and audience too had lost out and had caused some to blush. But Lieutenant Phillips had won out and had found himself in a larger manhood and a stronger character.

Lieut. Phillips replied in terms of gratitude and satisfaction at being back amongst the folk but disclaimed the right to any of the things that had been said about him.

At this juncture Mr. W. H. Wilson entered the room bearing a resolution from the Cranbrook Board of Trade very cordially congratulating Lieutenant Speery Phillips on the honor and glory he has conferred on Cranbrook.

GREAT WAR VETERANS ASSOCIATION

Three names were added to the membership roll at a recent meeting of the Cranbrook Branch G. W. V. A.

Dr. F. W. Green, Mr. C. H. Phillips and Mr. A. E. Watts have been elected Honorary Presidents.

A Ladies Auxiliary is being formed in connection with the Association. This is a course that has been successfully followed at Vancouver, Nelson, and other centres.

The New Year's entertainment resulted in the funds of the Branch being augmented to the extent of about $60.00.

There having been some enquiries made as to the object of the Branch having funds on hand to any extent, it may be mentioned that those who have already returned from overseas are anxious to be in a position to render immediate assistance to their comrades on their return, whenever this may be necessary. It sometimes happens that delays occur after a soldier's return from overseas before he receives the arrears of pay that have accumulated. With a balance on hand, cases of this sort can receive prompt attention.

A reception committee has been appointed whose members will be on hand to welcome veterans on their return.

Arrangements are being made for a Social and Dance at the Parish Hall on Tuesday, January 29th.

I. O. D. E.

The regular meeting of Kuskanook Chapter, I. O. D. E. was held in the Council Chambers, Jan. 11th at 3 p.m. Regent Mrs. Leslie in the chair, and 28 members present; four members signed the roll; letters were read from Provincial Secretary acknowledging the donation of $25.00 to the Navy League Fund, and from Fane Sewell thanking the Chapter for the special donation of $25.00 in addition to the monthly contribution of $5.00 to the Prisoners of War Bread Fund. The reports of the committees showed that during the month 66 suits of pyjamas had been made and 40 pairs socks; 2 boxes containing 72 suits pyjamas had been shipped to Red Cross headquarters, also a box containing 132 pairs socks, the result of the combined efforts of the St. John Ambulance Society, Women's Institute and the I. O. D. E.

"KHAKI COURAGE"

The following story is taken from "Khaki Courage," by Coningsley Dawson:

During one fierce engagement a British officer saw a German officer impaled on the barbed wire, writhing in anguish. The fire was dreadful, yet he still hung there unscathed. At length the British officer could stand it no longer. He said quietly: "I can't bear to look at that poor chap any longer." So he went out under the hail of shell, released him, took him on his shoulder and carried him to the German trench. The firing ceased. Both sides watched the act with wonder. Then the Commander in the German trench came forward took from his own bosom the Iron Cross, and pinned it on the breast of the British officer.

NEWS OF THE BOYS AT THE FRONT

Maple Leaf Rebekah Lodge, Cranbrook, B. C.

Dear Sister.—Please convey to the members of the Maple Leaf lodge my sincere thanks for the parcel of good things just received. It is good to know that we are not quite forgotten. Although it is seven months since I landed in France, I have not had a wound yet, so I think myself lucky, though it will not do to blow too much We are having a rest now, though we cannot tell what day they will send us up the line again. We are having lost of rain here and you can be sure there is lots of mud—sometimes half way to our knees, not very comfortable to walk through.

Wishing all members a Happy New Year,

I remain,
Yours sincerely,
F. C. Thrift.

Glasgow, Scotland, Dec. 12-17

Officers and Members,
Maple Leaf Rebekah Lodge No. 19,
Cranbrook, B. C.

Dear Sisters.—I take great pleasure in writing a few lines at this time, to thank you for the lovely parcel that you were so kind in sending me, and I can assure you that it was greatly appreciated and perhaps more so than those which reach us when in billets, as this particular one came along when we were on the line of march from Belgium back into France; so we owe quite a few of the luxuries on that particular trip to your parcel, which we would not have had otherwise.

I am having a few days leave from France and am enjoying the most of my time up in Scotland visiting as many of the cities and places of interest as time will permit, but when the day comes around for returning to France I will just have to forget that I was ever on leave and return to the anything but pleasant life of the battle area.

The Chrismas season is drawing near and I trust that this may find you all enjoying as many of the good things which the year may bring forth

Thanking you again for your kindness which I wish to assure you is heartily appreciated,

I remain, as ever,
Gnr. J. E. Macfarlane,
1st Canadian D. A. C., C. F.A.

Somewhere in France, 12-12-17

Mrs. McCallum,
The Maple Leaf Rebekah Lodge,

Dear Sister.—Will you kindly convey at your first opportunity, my warmest thanks and appreciation to the sisters of the Lodge for their parcel, and more, for their kind thoughts and wishes.

I hardly know what to say but I know it feels good to think that our friends out west are thinking of us It helps one very much and makes one long to be bback and enjoy the good old times again. We are being severely tested but if each shoulder their own responsibilities and are determinted to hold, then there is no doubt of the outcome. It is a terrible business we are engaged in, but we all hope that peace will soon reign and then we can hold up our heads and say we have played our part.

It seems a long time since I met with you all, but the recollections are very pleasant and refreshing. "One never misses the water till the well runs dry" and you can take it from me, the friendly meetings we had did not mean so much to us then as they do now. If we are fortunate through God's grace to come out west again we shall appreciate friendship and our social life in a fuller and richer manner than before. We realize the "greenness", the "liberty" that our great dominion permits us to enjoy.

I wish the lodge every success and all a Happy Xmas and prosperous New Year, with a world at peace.

Fraternally yours,
J. R. Marschall.

"Made in Canada"

For thirty-two years Giant Powders have been made in Canada. They were the first high explosives manufactured in the Dominion.

For years the Giant chemists studied the needs of British Columbia land clearers They prepared an explosive especially for stump blasting—Giant Stumping Powder, the first of its class. Hundreds of tons of this improved explosive are used every year by British Columbia farmers, lumbermen, and contractors.

Be sure to get the genuine

which goes further and breaks up the stumps better than ordinary explosives.

"The farmer," says Prof. G. E. Bailey, "should use an explosive prepared especially for his work; one that stands all ordinary shocks of handling and transportation and does not easily freeze."

Thousands of farmers have taken this advice and have found that Giant Stumping Powder always saves them money, time and labor.
