Candidates Are Duly Nominated

Names of Dr. King and T. H. Bronsdon Submitted to Returning Officer Tuesday

Tuesday of this week was nomination day for the federal by-election in East Kootenay, and all question as to an acclamation or a contest was duly settled when half an hour before the time for the close of nominations T. H. Bronsdon submitted nomination papers duly made out in proper form, and establishing the contest between the Liberals and the Progressives for the seat.

Dr. King's nomination papers were first submitted to I. J. Brown, returning officer, and bore the signatures of the following seconders:

H. F. McLean, J. Aiello, both of Fernie; F. M. MacPherson, Dr. F. B. Miles, both of Cranbrook; W. H. Cleland, Invermere; E. Paterson, W. Rankins, Alan Graham, M. A. Beale, J. P. Fink, W. G. Haynes, J. F. Guimont, W. H. Wilson, M. McCreery, W. H. Greaves, G. Hogarth, C. R. Ward, W. F. Attridge, Mrs. G. C. Miles, Mrs. R. L. Paterson, Mrs. H. Jackson, P. Woods, all of Cranbrook; J. F. Gates, J. L. McIntyre, A. B. Tritec, Mrs. E. Todd, E. K. Stewart, of Fernie. Dr. King's official agent is Mr. W. A. Nesbit, of this city.

T. H. Bronsdon's nomination papers bore the following names subscribed as seconders: Wm. Cooper, Wm. Kummer, T. Wilson, Y. Vines, W. E. Davies, all of Fernie; T. F. Roberts, H. Gtmmon, G. E. Kennedy, Mary Wilson Harvey, T. E. Gill, W. Henderson, T. Drummond, J. S. Dunlop, U. Frazino, C. Romano, W. B. Kay, J. H. Cameron, A. K. Gray, G. Lacey, H. Hern, J. M. Clark, and G. F. Bond. The Progressive candidate's official agent is named as H. Gammon.

Both parties will now begin what is likely to be a sharp and incisive campaign, though necessarily of short duration. It is understood that the Liberals will bring some prominent speakers into the riding to support Dr. King, including probably some other members of the Dominion cabinet at Ottawa. The Progressives also are planning a number of public meetings, and are making arrangements for some outside speakers, including a number of prominent western Progressives.

At a well attended Progressive rally h ld last Saturday night at their committee rooms, the decision to contest the election was confirmed, and committees to act in various capacities during the campaign were named, and are now at work. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Progressive party are reorganizing for the campaign, and announce a rally to be held at the committee rooms on Wednesday afternoon of next week at 3 o'clock.

ANNUAL MEETING OF RECREATION CLUB IS HELD THIS WEEK

The annual meeting of the Cranbrook Recreation Club was held early this week at the club, and there was a very good turn-out of members, auguring well for the permanence of the organization. Major H. B. Hicks was in the chair.

A report was submitted by the president, Mrs. E. L. Staples, and the financial statement for the year was also presented.

Officers for the new year were appointed as follows:

President ..... Mrs. E. L. Staples
Vice-President ..... Major Hicks
Board of Directors: J
Vice-President ..... Major Hicks
Mrs. Green, Mrs. Nisbet, Mrs. McQuaid, Mr. H. White, Dr. W. A. Fergie, M. A. Beale, A. DeWolfe, H. R. Dove.

Messrs. W. A. Nisbet and J. H. McQuaid were appointed auditors for the year.

The appointment of a secretary to succeed M. Wyles who is leaving the district, will be made by the executive, and in the meantime Mr. H. White is acting as secretary.

Mr. W. J. Bowser, provincial Conservative leader, was in the city over last week-end, arriving Saturday and returning to the Coast again on Monday. On Saturday evening Mr. Bowser met the members of the executive of the Conservative Association and a few others, and held with them an informal conference in regard to the provincial situation, more especially as it bears upon the coming by-election for the vacancy in the Legislature from the Cranbrook riding, caused by the resignation of Dr. King to enter federal politics.

G.W.V.A. NOTES

The adjourned general monthly meeting of the G.W.V.A. was held on Sunday, the 26th, and was well attended.

The question for the arrangements for the unveiling of the memorial erected on the G.W.V.A. grounds was discussed. The Association is endeavoring to obtain a well known orator, of the West to give the address of the day, but have not yet received a reply to their letter. This should be forthcoming within the next few days, when, if the invitation is accepted, other matters can be at once proceeded with. The date for the unveiling has been set for April 9th, the anniversary of Vimy Ridge, one of the epochal days in the annals of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, and perhaps the day most appropriate for this solemn event. Many of the boys whose names are enrolled on the monument were among the ones to fall on the day our boys stormed that supposedly impregnable position.

The Association is going to see that every returned man within the district is there on April 9th to take part in the ceremony. Special invitations are also to be extended to all the next of kin of those men comprising the honor roll, as far as they can be ascertained. It is hoped that the band may also be able to take part.

Full articulars of the program outlined will be published in a later issue.

The first annual memorial service will be held in the evening of the same day, when the service will be conducted by Rev. E. W. MacKay, the Association chaplain. It is the intention to alternate with the various churches from year to year, commencing with the Presbyterian Church. It is the present intention to try and make the initial service a united one in which all churches will take part. This matter too, will be definitely decided upon later, and an announcement made.

The plans for the 24th of May are being held in obeyance pending concrete arrangements for the fair grounds. This will be known shortly when a public meeting will be held to get things started. All arrangements so far made are being held up pending the question as to the grounds to be used.

Don't forget the big masquerade ball on the 17th March, at the Auditorium.

SOCIAL SERVICE SECRETARY TO VISIT THIS CITY SHORTLY

The community generally will be glad to know that Rev. Hugh Lobson, B.A., B.D., of Regina, the field secretary of the Department of Social Service and Evengelism of the Methodist Church will speak at a public meeting on Thursday evening next, when his subject will be, "The New Age and the Three Wild Beasts of a Day of Mass Movements." Many will remember Mr. Dobson and his splendid address given during the child welfare exhibit held by him lu Cranbrook five years ago.

Mr. Dobson is one of Caanda's greatest speakers and preachers, and is a strong authority on social and economic questons.

The address on Thursday evening will be illustrated by a number of colored slides, showing some phases of "What the Church is Doing." Thursday evening next, March 9, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Albert Butt, of Fort Steele, is now at the St. Eugent Hospital.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

Capt. Tom Best, Religious Work Secretary National Council Y.M.C.A., lecturer and evangelist, will spend several days in Cranbrook the last of this month and arrangements are being made for meetings of different kinds so that every man and woman in the city may have an opportunity of hearing him.

About two years ago Capt. Best passed through Cranbrook and all who heard him then will want to hear him again.

Look for definite news next week.

The Father and Son banquet is not a dead issue. Read next week's paper.

Organizing to Help Children

Fund for Russian Relief Being Raised Locally to Help Dire Distress

Cranbrook, B.C.,
March 2nd, 1922.

To the Editor of the Herald:

Kindly give publicity to the following in your valuable paper on behalf of the Russian famine fund for saving the children of that stricken country.

A meeting held in the city hall Monday 27th was well represented. The following citizens have made a start in the organization, which they intend to put before the people of Cranbrook and the district by showing sympathy in a tangible way, at an early date.

President, Mrs. Dr. Green; vice-president, F. A. Williams; secretary-treasurer, G. T. Moir. Executive. Rev. E. W. MacKay, Rev. R. W. Lee, Rev. Father Murphy, Rev. W. T. Tapscott, Rev. F. V. Harrison, Miss Woodland, Principal Central School, Miss Sing, Principal South Ward School, Wm. C. Wilson, Principal High School, Mrs. P. Noble, Womens' Institute. The executive have power to add to their committee.

The question of making solicitation in all the schools came up for discussion, the following committee of speakers was selected to perform this part of the work: Mesdames Constantine, Spreuil, MacKay, Little, Jackson, McKowan, Taylor and Wells. The matter of a house to house solicitation and a tag day, also the date for making appeal to the people of Cranbrook through the various organizations was left over until the next meeting.

Meeting adjourned to meet in the City Hall Saturday evening, March 4th, at 7.30 p.m. A hearty invitation is extended to every one interested in this charitable work to be present.

We want every organization in Cranbrook to take this matter up either individually or collectively and collect or send its quota to this organization. All monies will be acknowledged and published with the kind assistance of the local papers.

Our aim will be to have no overhead expense, every dollar or cent contributed will go fowarrd to Ottawa to Col. H. J. Mackie, President of the Canadian committee for the "Save the Children Fund." Lord Weardale states that another million children can be saved in the famine district if adequate subscriptions are immediately forthcoming, he also states in the cablegram that arrangements have been made to operate Canadian kitchens, there being now some 600 kitchens in the Volga famine area.

Sir George Bury, treasurer of the fund, states that splendid response has been made throughout Canada from East to West. The amounts vary from $5,000 to $1, and states one woman in St. Catherines, Ont., sent in a diamond ring valued at $60 to the fund. It being possible to feed one child for one month for one dollar, under the staff of British relief workers in Russia. Canadian response will save many lives.

WEATHER STILL FAVORS CURLERS; THREE WINS STRAIGHT IN WORDEN

The curlers are still going strong, and the oldest enthusiasts around the city cannot recall another winter like it. The Worden cup games which have been going on in the last week or so have provided plenty of interest and have produced some of the best curling seen during the whole season. P. M. Morrison has made a record for the Worden Cup by winning it and holding it twice more, giving him the three games to his credit. His rink is made up of N. A. Wallinger lead, Dr. MacKinnon second, J. P. McLaren, third, and P. M. Morrison skip. They won the cup from A. S. Ward, and then successfully defended against E. H. McPhee and J. Milne, in very close games which the spectators will say produced some real curling, including one $500 shot by the skip himself which won one of the games for him.

The Cameron Cup passed out of the possession of the Harris rink last Thursday, and passed to A. S. Ward, who has since held it, winning one other game in its defence. His rink was G. Mortimer lead, J. Ward second, J. P. McLaren third and A. S. Ward, skip.

The curlers are taking every advantage of the weather and are now planning another competition to be put on right away.

MUSICAL SOCIETY PRESENTS SPLENDID HOME TALENT PROGRAM

Initial Concert Put on Friday Last Meets With Gratifying Success

The people of Cranbrook gave a very good reception to the first concert put on by the Cranbrook Musical Society in the Auditorium last Friday. The Society has been working hard under the direction of Mr. Lee Edwards, the director, and fully deserves the success which attended the presentation of their concert. The orchestra of about seventeen pieces provided the main portion of the program, which was filled in with a fine variety of vocal and instrumental selections, making a substantial program, with enough variety to suit all tastes.

Of the five orchestral selections possibly the Verdi selection from the opera "Rigoletto," was their best number. It is quite a pretentious effort for any orchestra, and would seem to indicate that there is going to be little that may ultimately be said to be out of reach of the Society's orchestra. Mrs. E. Paterson very deservingly received an encore for her solo, and the Glee Club, comprising Messrs. Graham, Stewart, South, Pym and Edwards, also did well in their numbers. W. Stewart's southern descriptive number on the banjo, accompanied by A. Graham, which was something out of the ordinary run of programs, was encored, and deservingly so, while A. Knight's darky song was another big hit, the audience insistently calling for more. Mr. Knight is new to the platform so far as Cranbrook audiences are concerned, but should be heard from again. Mr. Lee Edwards' violin solo, "Hungarian Dance," was one of the best numbers he has yet presented to a local audience. It is obvious Mr. Edwards as a violinist is in a class by himself, and it is hoped that in any future event of this nature he may be induced to take a little more pretentious part in the program.

The arrangements in connection with the presentation of the concert were very well attended to, no hitch occurring at all. The Musical Society is doing good work in developing talent in the city that would otherwise probably remain latent, and now that it is branching ou still further its next concert will probably be an even more notable achievement.

PROVINCIAL GOVT. HOLDS TWO SEATS IN BY-ELECTIONS

The results of the by-elections held during the last week in Revelstoke and Omineca ridings were that the government holds both, thereby leaving the situation at Victoria unchanged. In Revelstoke, Dr. Sutherland, newly appointed minister of public works, succeding Dr. King, won over A. R. McIntrye, his Conservative opponent by an overwhelming majority. While Dr. Sutherland is personally popular in the riding, and particularly so in the city of Revelstoke, no chances were taken by the Liberals in the election, and almost every minister in the Oliver cabinet who was available was in the riding some time during the camaign, and outside speakers as well.

In Omineca riding, Hon. A. M. Manson, newly designated attorney-gengeneral in succession to J. W. DeB. Farris, was elected by acclamation. The riding is a large and scattered one, and it was not felt expedient by the opposition forces to go to the expense of a nominating convention, especially when the time for the contest was so short.

KOOTENAY PRESBYTERY MEETING THIS WEEK TO CONSIDER CALL

Meetings of the Kootenay Presbytery are being held this week at Nelson. Rev. J. James of Creston is acting as moderator, and Rev. M. C. Campbell of Kaslo as clerk. Rev. E. W. MacKay of this city is in attendance, and among the matters to be taken up by the Presbytery is the consideration of the call which Knox Church has unanimously extended to Mr. MacKay, and which has to be formally sustained by the Presbytery.

It has been decided to appoint two ordained men, yet to be named, and equip them with automobiles, to carry on the church work in scattered territories. One will be appointed to the Windermere district, to carry on the work in the scattered settlements between Windermere and Fort Steele. The other will work in the rural districts west of Nelson as far out as Midway.

Smelter Head Talks Optimism

Consolidated Co. Sold Out on Lead, President Warren Announces

Announcements by President J. J. Warren of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. of Canada of the satisfactory position of the company, of its latest metallurgical conquests, of the enlargement of its lead refinery, and of its intention to handle the silver-lead-zinc ores of shippers and pay them for the zinc as well as for the other metals, were the outstanding feature of the great banquet given to the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia last Thursday evening by the Nelson Board of Trade. About 70 business men of Nelson and the Kootenay were gathered in the Hume dining room, and heard the applauded President Warren's announcements, which constitute the most significant event in Kootenay mining for many a day.

President Warren said he had the friendliest feeling for the folks of the Kootenay and the Okanagan, notwithstanding certain criticisms that were levelled against the Smelter, some merited, perhaps, some unmerited, and some mischievous. He did not propose to answer the criticsms, as it was no use excusing onself. The Consolidated had been smelting ores for a long time, and it would doubtless smelt them for a long time in the future, and such esteem as the Smelter would ultimately be held in would be what in the long run it would deserve.

He could not assure his hearers that there was sunrise in the east. There was more unemployment there than before. Toronto had 18,030 unemployed, and Montreal about 25,000. Every city had a long list of persons who must be maintained this winter by the taxpayers.

British Columbia Looks Prosperous

"Out here," he said, "the people look fairly prosperous, and I cannot see, if we co-operate with each other, why we should undergo the stringency they are bound to undergo n the east until they can market their goods."

On the prairie, also, he said, the farmers were facing a hard situation, and after they marketed their crops and got it in the terminal warehouse there was little left for their labor.

As opposed to other parts of Canada, he said, British Columbia had much to be thankful for.

It was important, Mr. Warren said, to remember that the selling price of British Columbia's products was not so important as the production cost. The thing to be done was to keep production costs down. British Columbia did not fabricate in the sense that the eastern provinces did. Its products were more in the nature of raw materials—metals, lumber and fish and agricultural products. There was not the population to absorb this output, so that the province must export, and the costs must be kept down, for these exported products either had to meet long hauls, or, if sent to foreign countries, encounter foreign competition. Anything that would reduce costs would aid.

The convention, he remarked, had asked for many things costing money. If any man felt he did not pay enough taxes, he should ask for still more public works, for if one thing was sure, it was that they all had to be paid for out of taxes. British Columbia had a fine race of people, if they would only work. The province had the biggest debt proportionately, and also the highest tax rate. This affected everybody. It kept the Smelter, for instance, from giving as low treatment rates as it would like to do, and it was also a heavy burden on the mines that produced the ore. Taxation, Mr. Warren declared, was the worst remedy that could be sought for one's troubles.

Consolidated Carried On

It was no secret, Mr. Warren said, that a year ago the Consolidated was in a very anxious position, like many other concerns. Its bank credit was poor. It had large stocks of metals on hand, the market was low, and there was a very small demand. It was in a position of anxiety, and had to consider whether it should close down, or should carry on.

He would have the people of Kootenay believe that what influenced the decision most was not whether the shareholders should make money or lose it, but what would be the effect on the district of the Smelter carrying on or closing down. The decision was made to carry on for another three months even though it meant

CRANBROOK MUSICAL SOCIETY NOTES

The members of the Musical Society wish to thank the citizens of the city and district for the generous support accorded their recent concert. It is sincerely regretted that a few of the patrons were inconvenienced in securing their reserved gallery seats, but in future the matter will be properly regulated.

The choral branch of the Society is now well under wty. The first practice was held in the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening this week when work was commenced on "The Highwayman," which the committee expect to have in shape for the next concert. The next choral practice will be held on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock, in the Y.M.C.A. The committee will be pleased to receive the names of any alto, tenor or bass singers who are desirous of joining.

It is expected that the Society will hold its second concert in the first or second week of April. The main item of the program will be a cantata entitled "The Highwayman," which is a modern work by Mark Andrews, the words being a poem by Alfred Noyes. It is written for soprano solo, chorus and orchestra, and was first presented in May, 1914. In addition a number of vocal and instrumental items will be given and it may be taken for granted that the program will be of even greater interest than that presented on Friday last.

The Society wish to publicly thank the G.W.V.A. for their generous offer of the use of the G.W.V.A. Hall for practice purposes. No better or a more practical appreciation of the aims and objects of the Musical Society could be given than this spontaneous offer from the G.W.V.A. The thanks of the Society are also extended to the Board of the Y.M.C.A. for the use of the large dining room for orchestra practice, and to Mr. C. Little who placed a room at the disposal of the Society for band practice.

Members of the Society are reminded that the regular monthly business meeting will be held on Tuesday evening in the "Y" immediately after orchestra practice, which will be closed early on this account. Important business will come before the meeting, including the consideration of the proposed by-laws, and a review of the work and financial questions.

G.W.V.A. THIRD ANNUAL MASQUERADE BALL ON MARCH 17TH

All the necessary preparations for the 17th of March event are completed or well under way It is the intention of the local branch to ask for the cooperation of a number of interested ladies each year to assist in this annual event, and next season will probably see an entirely new list of names. For the present the following ladies have very kindly consented to assist the Great War Veterans:

Mrs. J. H. McQuaid, convening patroness, Mrs. F. W. Green, Mrs. G Hogarth, Mrs. E. H. Wilkinson, Mrs. John Laurie, Mrs. C. H. Pollen, Mrs. F. M. MacPherson, Mrs. J. W. Rutledge, Mrs. A. Ashworth, Mrs. A. Crowe, Mrs. H. B. Hicks, all of this city; Mrs. A. A. Ward, Kimberley; Mrs. C. O. Staples, Wycliffe; Mrs. G. C. Robson, Wattsburg; Mrs. E. H. L. Attree, Fort Steele.

WEDDING

KILLINS—SAWYER

Kingsgate, Feb. 17.—A wedding of considerable local interest took place on Friday morning, February 17th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Sawyer, when their eldest daughter, Florence Isabel, became the bride of Harry L. Killins, of Cranbrook. The ceremony took place at 11 a.m., Rev. E. W. MacKay officiating. Both bride and groom were unattended. The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, and looked charming in a travelling suit of brown duvetyn wth hat to match, wearing mink furs, and carrying a lovely bouquet of pink and white carnations. Both bride tnd bridegroom are widely known and very popularly esteemed. The happy couple left on the eastbound train on route for Winnipeg, where they will spend ther honeymoon and on their return will make their home in Cranbrook where Mr. Killins is engineer in the employ of the C.P.R.

Back to the Times of Forty Years Ago

Less Than Half Hundred Voters at That Time in All Kootenay

B. R. Atkins, now of Revelstoke, makes some further interesting references to this part of the country in the seventh instalment of his "Columbia Valley Chronicles," now appearing in the Vancouver Province. East Kootenay old timers will recall many of the names and incidents mentioned in this article:

Politically, Kootenay, before 1870, had usually a magistrate for representative in council; that year Hon. Edgar Dewdney spoke for it, and in 1871, Robert Skinner. The first post-confederation Assembly members were John A. Mara and Charles Todd; its second, Charles Gallagher and A. W. Vowell; its third, Charles Gallagher and R. T. L. Galbraith. Mr. Galbraith had its confidence to 1886, and from 1887 to 1900, Col. Baker represented the east division or the south riding. Being merged in Yale-Cariboo, Kootenay had no separate federal existence until 1904, when Mr. W. A. Galliher represented it at Ottawa. In 1874, Kootenay had thirty-five registered voters; in 1884, but forty-one. Among such were such familiar names as (the late) Frederick Aylmer, C.E.; F. P. Armstrong and E. J. Johnston. Very old timers only will recognize Capt. Armstrong, registered as "farmer." And (shades of De Smet, who in 1845 found a Morigeau for twenty-six years previously at Columbia head), that list contains the name of "Baptiste Morigeau." In 1885 George Hope Johnston, trader, Kicking Horse, was the only voter in the (now) Golden division of East Kootenay.

Canal Flats Project

In 1882-83, Mr. Baillie Grohman, advocated a scheme to make Kootenay an island by diverting the Kootenay's upper flow into the Columbia (at David Thompson's McGillivary Portage, now Canal Flats); and enlarging the Kootenay's outlet at Nelson, to prevent the rise in Kootenay lake that flooded the flats between the boundary and Kootenay lake; the B.C. government sent Mr. A. S. Farwell to report. On this report (December 31, 1883), a reserve of some 48,000 acres was made (1884), and this, later, he earned by work at least. Mr. Baillie Grohman was so sure of his scheme's success that he was afraid the diverted Kootenay would endanger Major Roger's bridge levels on Columbia Crossings at Donald anud Revelstoke.

Kootenay in the Eighties

Mr. Farwell (1883) refers to the Flathead and Kootenay Indians as meeting to "potlatch" at "old Fort Kootenay on Musula creek," fifty miles south of the line on the south-east bend of the Kootenay river. He met a Mr. Arthur Isaacs, owning a mineral claim on Spillimacheen river. He found 450 (British) Kootenay Indians, well armed, and 35 Shuswaps, on the East Columbia-Kootenay valley and 157 Lower Kootenays, about Goat river. Up to April, 1882, the only land claimant at Columbia Head was Baptiste Morigeau; then, on April 19, E. J. Johnston located eighty acres a few miles below. Adjoining him, on July 2, F. W. Aylmer recorded 320 acres, and on July 9, F. P. Armstrong and D. Bellhousee recorded 320 and eighty acres respectively, on the east shore of Upper Columbia Lake. Isadore was chief of the Upper Kootenays, and reported very well off.

An old timer (nameless) mentions in one of his articles that "at the north end of Flat Bow (Kootenay) Lake is the line of railway surveyed by Major Rogers, found at first by Reynolds the expressman, and afterwards by Sam Weaver, sent by J. Normansell, while in charge of the Kootenay country." Moberly claimed the same honor for his "mountaineer" Perry.

Bonner's Ferry

"Old man Bonner," says Mr. Grohman, "made a fortune out of his ferry in Wild Horse days; returning miners paying in 'dust,' and newcomers anything in money to get in." His son, Dick, was the "only white settler on Kootenay river (1882) for 300 miles." He laughs at Messrs. Farwell and Sproat in one of the old Hudson Bay bateaux of hand-sawn pine, requiring "four men with oars" to move. He notes from the last Victoria paper got, the news of the strikes at and the founding of "Silver City," and refers to similar ones ocurring then in the Coeur d'Alenes, Idaho. He found still a small settlement at Wild Horse,

BETTER THINGS AHEAD

To say that it seems as if better times are ahead of the Kootenays may perhaps be taken to mean that there have been bad times experienced here of late. While it is true that the reflection of world wide conditions has made itself felt here in common with every other place it is just as true that East Kootenay has come through the stringency with less ill effects than many another district. And now it appears there is a rift in the clouds; things are going to pick up. The Canadian dollar is holding up its head once more, the pound sterling is coming back into its own, and there is good reason to believe that the coming of spring is going to bring a revival of industrial activity in this section. Let's be ready for it. Be finished with pessimism and talk optimism.

WHY THE APATHY?

A somewhat striking commentary on the question of the federal by-election now pending is seen in the apathy many people are displaying towards the contest. What does it mean? Conversation with a number of people who are expressing this impassive sort of view and may be deemed representative of many others, leads one to enquire further as to why, if they do not approve of a contest at this time, can they not enthuse over the prospect of a cabinet minister going to Ottawa from East Kootenay? Under some circumstances it is easy to conceive that a great deal would be made of this possibility, but it is apparent even to the most ardent Liberal supporters that there is lacking that spontaneity which would leave no question as to the feeling of the people as a whole. Just what is the cause for this lack of warmth in receiving this new honor which is offered to the district, it is not necessary to discuss. The history of the by-election episode is well known by this time, and it is apparent also on going down to first causes in the attitude of the electorate there is a feeling that having voted once in good faith, only to find it lent to something they never dreamed of, what is there to induce them to do so again?

The Pregressive stand in the matter of course, is primarily one of protest against the course of action taken in opening the riding again. It is always the silent vote that counts in election contests in these days, and it is what the silent vote does in this instance that will decide the issue. There is no reason why the vote should be any smaller than at the time of the election last December. If it is nothing to be ashamed of to be found in support of the advent of the new minister into the riding, then there is no justification for abstaining from voting, or for attempting to cloak one's real feelings under an imaginary mask of apathy. Acclamation is at best nobody's privilege, though custom may have extended it to some under certain circumstances. This is a democratic councountry, and it is allowable for any party or group of electors to place in the running anyone whom they think merits their support.

Many feel that by abstaining from voting they are pursuing a proper course in such a case as this, even though they may possess convictions one way or the other which they are reluctant to display. To adopt such a course is only to encourage political manipulation of every kind, for it is easy to see what may be brought about if the electors can only be induced to withold their disapproval as expressed by the balot.

FROM THE VIEW-POINT OF OUR CONTEMPORARIES

Famine in Russia.

One day the history of the crime against the Russian people will become known — how civilized nations with their granaries full and overflowing with wheat and corn, deliberately allowed millions of women and children to starve to death because they held revolutionary convictions and had the courage to live up to them — wrong though they may be in putting them into practice. When it is known, men will hang their heads in shame as they acknowledge wherein they could have rendered assistance, but did not.—Okanagan Commoner.

The Disappointing Census.

Some of the cities of Canada are growing fast enough to satisfy the demands of the most exacting. The parts in which there should be the most and the best opportunities for strangers arriving in the country are not doing so well. The fertile lands of the Dominion are not filling up as fast as was anticipated by the Fathers of Confederation when they looked upon their work of constructing a Dominion and prouounced it good. The facts might as well be faced. Canada is not attracting settlers in accord with the character of her resources, and even too many of her own people are lured to other lands. —Victoria Colonist.

Pretty Expensive By-Elections

Expenditures in the Revelstoke riding exceeding half a million dollars were promised by the Oliver government during the recent by-election.

By-elections still have to be held in Cranbrook, Vancouver and Nelson.

If similar average amounts are promised to these other constituencies—and Vancouver's well known ability to get a bigger slice than any other riding should assure it of a still greater amount, in promises — these by-elections are going to be pretty expensive affairs for the people of this province. That is, if the promises are carried out.

It is a great idea, this scheme of trying to buy the electorate with their own money.——Nelson News.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Extracts from the Cranbrook Herald of this date, 1901

Dr. J. H. King acted as chairman at a farewell dinner given by the Masonic lodge to G. B. Richardson, who is leaving the city shortly.

G. J. Bury, C.P.R. Superintendent for the Crow's Nest division has been appointed to the post of assistant superintendent at North Bay, and assumes his new duties at once.

The famous episode in the B.C. Legislature over the question of priority as to a seat, between Richard McBride and Joe Martin, took place on Tuesday, and almost brought the disputants to blows.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hill were visitors in the city this week from Moyie.

Senator King arrived on Wednesday of this week for a visit with his two sons here, Dr. J. H. King and M. B. King.

The increase in the gold output from Wild Horse is estimated last year to be at least 25 per cent over the previous year.

WYCLIFFE NOTES

Quite a successful skating party was enjoyed by a number of the younger crowd last Thursday night. The ice was in good condition and the eats at the end of the evening left nothing to be desired.

A Valentine party for the children was held in the Club on Friday night. About fifty little people were present and the evening was pleasantly spent playing games, and a prettily decorated Valentine box proved to contain notes for everyone. Refreshments were served and the party broke up about 10 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O'Farrell, of Calgary, were visitors at Wycliffe for a few days last week.

A fire broke out in the home of H. J. Caldwell on Sunday morning, but luckily the blaze was extinguished before it made much headway and very little damage was done.

The sale of home cooking and candy by the Church of England ladies' held in the Club Monday night was very successful, the sum of nearly $60 being realized, part of which will go toward Church expenses and part to the Russian Relief Fund.

A new ski jump has been made about a mile and a half up the Cranbrook road and it is hoped some good times will be had before the snow goes away.

S. G. Clark left Sunday for Calgary and other points in Alberta. He expects to be gone about a week.

Barney Kierman of Camp 9 was a Wycliffe visitor this week-end. Barney is getting to be quite a live stock expert

Bert Johnson, D. H. Foster, L. Cluzel and P. Franzen all attended the Oddfellows' dance in Cranbrook on Tuesday night.

SURPRISE PARTY TENDERED WELL KNOWN WINDERMERE RESIDENT

(Special to the Herald)

Invermere, B.C., Mar. 1.—A very delightful surprise party was held by the old time friends of Mr. Frank C. Stockdale under the chaperonage of the ladies of Windermere in the ball room of the hotel Invermere on Saturday evening as a celebration of his Nth birthday. Bridge whist was the feature of the evening, the first prize for the ladies being won by Mrs. G. Erickson and that for the gentlemen by Mr. A. M. Chisholm. Mr. Stockdale was presented with a very pleasing remembrance.

The young women of the congregation of Christ Church, Invermere, met on Saturday and formed a Junior Women's Auliliary Mrs. F. B. Atkinson was elected Superintendent; Miss M. A. Turnor, President; Miss Annie Frater, Treasurer, and Miss Effie Turnor, Secretary.

DYED HER DRAPERIES AND A FADED SKIRT

"Diamond Dyes" add years of wear to worn, faded skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, hangings, draperies, everything. Every package contains directions so simple that any woman can put new, rich, fadeless colors into her worn garments or draperies, even if she has never dyed before. Just buy Diamond Dyes — no other kind — then your material will come out right, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods.

Ask Dr. King where the money came from to plaster "acclamation" in every paper in the country.

BOY SCOUTS

What the Cranbrook Troop is Doing

Every patrol in the city is on the job and over 60 boys are training as Scouts and there are prospects of a number more.

On Wednesday the following 12 boys passed their Tenderfoot tests: Jack Dixon, E. Laurie, Frank Malone, Colvin McBurney, Henry Godderis, Gordon Rankin, James MacFarlane, Vaughn Roy, John Horie, Norman Parker, Patric Kennedy, Kenneth Parrett. This now makes a total of 39 boys who have received their Tenderfoot badge.

WINDERMERE POTATOES SCORE SUCCESS AT CHILLIWACK FAIR

(Special to the Herald)

Invermere, B.C., Feb. 25.—Further agricultural honors were brought to the district of East Kootenay though the Potato Growers Association of the Windermere district in the carrying off of three prizes at the Chilliwack Potato Show held there on the 22nd instant. The Potato Growers Association sent ot six entries from here in the Netted Gem class of potato and were sccessful in landing three of the prizes. The first for the show over all British Columbia was taken by Mr. Frank Jones of Wilmer; the fourth by Mr. Arthur J. Walker, of Ajax ranch, here; and the sixth by Harry H. Peters of Clydervale ranch, Athalmer. The Windermere district has long locally been considered as a part specially suited for the growing of tubers. This has been amply proven by the results shown on the Dominion Government Experimental Station here. All the potato crops of the Cambridge Russett and Netted Gem family have always shown large yields and freedom from disease of all kinds.

FINDS PACIFIC ALWAYS GOOD

Mrs. Andrews has used Pacific Milk for four years. Once in a while she gets an idea that another milk might be better and so switches for a can or two, but none of them seem to give her the same results in cooking, particularly in her puddings and cakes. She says Pacific gives things a more delicate flavor and a much finer texture.

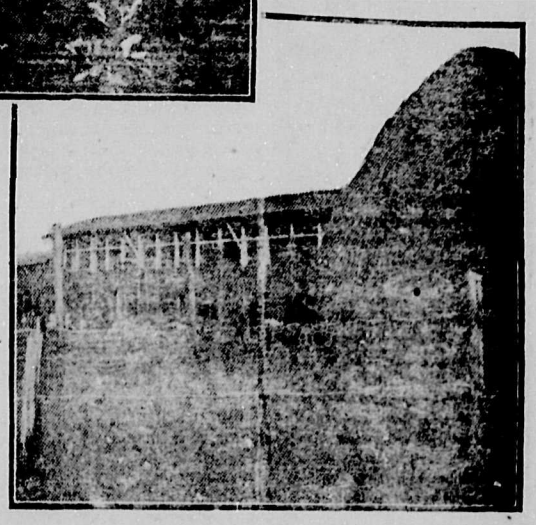
INDEPENDENCE ON TWO ACRES



Three cows, a couple of hundred hens, an orchard, small fruit and a market garden, all on two acres of land in the suburbs of Vancouver! How many sweltering folk in the dusty city limits would believe it possible? And yet Mr. Jones does it, and makes himself an independent man.

Method again! Method, foresight and hard work are three essentials to success, which have made Mr. Jones independent. He has stacked up three tons of hay this summer off the three-fourths of an acre that he devotes to hay, just timothy and clover mixed, nothing else.

All the milk is sold locally at 8 quarts for $1, and the neighbors are only too glad to come and get it themselves.

About ½-acre is devoted to mangolds and feed carrots for the cows, that Mr. Jones has only a little alfalfa to buy for winter, together with the bran and shorts. He has a machine for chopping the hay before feeding, which is an economy in itself.

The cow stable is spotlessly clean and drained into a tank outside whence the liquid manure is taken to the vegetable garden. Cow and chicken manure mixed are generously applied wherever and whenever possible and the effect of this added to naturally rich soil is sweet corn ten feet high and cabbages.

All the vegetables are sold retail (thus doing away with the middleman) and being a gardener by instinct, Mr. Jones follows a certain rotation of crop in planting.

For instance, brussels sprouts are set out where the early green peas or beans have just been turned under the soil so as to get full advant-age of the nitrogen contained in the stalks and leaves of the legumes. In the same way borecole (curly kale) is planted immediately after the potatoes.

He keeps his own seed from cress, onions, parsley and leeks and finds that it suits itself to the soil better each year.

There are plenty of currant and gooseberry bushes and some fine, healthy looking rows of magoon strawberries, but the best of his small fruit are the raspberries, of which he has 700 to 800 canes, and these have proved so profitable that Mr. Jones is going to plant ¼ acre more next year.

In the orchard on one side of the house there are prunes, peaches, plums, apples, pears, cherries and even a "Concord" vine full of fruit. Mr. Jones sold $200 worth of apples last year—$32 of which came from two trees alone.

The chief pride of this model farm in miniature is, however, the poultry. There are 200 head altogether and the 150 layers are kept in one house—divided off into compartments with a run in front of each. As soon as one run looks stale it is dug up, sown down to rape and another run used. Scarlet-runner beans are growing all up the south end of the run as shade. The poultry are Barred Rocks and Leghorns. The house itself is of an exceptional design the owner's own idea entirely. The floor space is 50 ft. by 14 ft., raised 4 ft. off the ground and the space underneath used for dust baths and which, of course, are thus dry all the year round. From these the hens enter the house through an opening in the floor.

Mr. Jones was a dairy farmer in the north of Ireland before he came out to Canada fifteen years ago. Up to just lately he worked in an iron foundry in town, but found that his little farm was paying him so well that he now gives all his time to it. His wife takes no less interest in it all than he does, so that both are "working partners"—the ideal combination.

The illustration shows a view Mr. Jones' farm.

5000 FACTS ABOUT CANADA

The 1922 edition of the popular little Cyclopedia of the Dominion—"5000 Facts About Canada"—will be warmly welcomed by the public, which regards it as an indispensible baaklet, "as full of meat as a cocoanut," as one wit expressed it. Its compiler, Frank Yeigh, is widely known as an authority on everything Canadian, and it is a marvel and model of condensation, with a fact in a sentence. The new issue is enlarged and improved, and its contents will prove a revelation of the growth of the country, not only in a single year, but in a five or ten year period. Over 50 chapters—ranging alphabetically from Agriculture to Yukon—provide a bird's-eye view of the Dominion from every angle. No better advertisement of the country could be had, and many use it in that way to enlighten the ignor*ant as to the wealth, prosperity and* advantage of this Britain of the West. Copies may be had from leading newsdealers or by sending 30 cents to the Canadian Facts Pub. Co., 588 Huron Street, Toronto.

THINKS DRUG PEDDLERS DRIVEN FROM COAST WILL INVADE INTERIOR

Vancouver, B.C.— The Vancouver branch of the Red Cross Society is sending broadcast through the province the following statement in regard to the drug campaign now being waged there:

Because of the publicity which is being given to the campaign against the sale and use of narcotic drugs in Vancouver, some of the drug peddlers are taking to cover in the small towns and rural parts of the province where they are continuing their nefarious trade.

Because of this province-wide moral and health problem, the Provincial Division of the Canadian Red Cross is sending this warning to be published in every newspaper in the province in order that not only the officials but all citizens, especially teachers and parents, should be on the alert against the insidious traffic in drugs.

Dance halls need special watching.

Watch the stranger in town.

Avoid "snow" parties, where snuff (cocaine) is given.

Close chaperonage of girls is the greatest safeguard, and parents should insist on this.

The habit begins by the snuffing of cocaine, which causes a feeling of exhilaration. After three or four doses the user cannot sleep and must then resort to Morphine.

Montreal, Que.— Officials of the Menkins Company (Canadian), who obtained the contract for the erection of the South African Government grain elevators are reported to have sailed for Africa from London. According to Mr. Menkins, the material to be used in building these elevators would be mostly South African. Out of an outlay of 1,250,00 pounds in constructoin work less than 30,000 pounds, he sad, would go to foreign countries for special requirements.

sending a member (Galbraith) to Victoria. About Kootenay Lake, (1882), "a region as large as Switzerland, were but three men." The year before "court, judge, lawyers, constables, witnesses sat in its only cabin with a window." Lieut. Warre (of the Warre-Bavasour expedition) "painted several oil paintings of Kootenay in 1845. Mr. Sproat says the Ainsworth Co. had a man on the Columbia, the Arrow Lakes, and up the Illecillewaet River for three months, going out in October, 1883. He speaks of the "Fairmont" hot springs as some distance east, back of Kootenay Lake, where he met Sproule, of the Sproule-Hamill tragedy.

Canon Creek, says the 1883 government agent, "was discovered in 188- and about $100 taken out since discovered."

Railway Belt Minerals

At Kicking Horse (Golden) in July 1884, there began the famous fight for ownership of the precious metals on the railway belt, in the "argument" between Mr. Redgrave, B.C., and Mr. Burgess for the Dominion. The Privy Council decided on April 3, 1889, for the province.

In 1886 the wagon road from Galbraith's Ferry (Fort Steele) to Canal Flats, was made, and in 1887 than from Steamboat Landing (Capt. Armstrong's Duchess 1) to Canal Flats (90 miles), was a bridge over the Kootenay connected. That year, too Capt. Armstrong built a sleigh road (wagon road lines) from Golden to the Landing, and these with the McLeod trail, the Moyie, the Donald-Blueberry and Golden to Kennedy's ranch, trails, opened the whole terri*tory to trade, settlement and pros*pecting before any other part of the Kootenay. The Monarch mine at Field led to the erection at Vancouver of the first smelter in B.C.; and (except for the Lanark, Illecillewaet) this was the first ore shipper in the province. Ferries, north of Galbraith's in 1884 were the Kicking Horse, Johnston's Landing, Spillimacheen and Kootenay, Upper Crossing. Two were recommended on the Columbia further "below;" one at Beaver and one at Revelstoke.

The first public school in East Kootenay was opened at Donald, in August, 1887. The first teacher was Jas. Sutherland and next Miss Sarah McLean, followed by William Sievewright. The first school at Golden opened in 1889, the first teacher being Dr. Colin Pitblado, succeeded by Miss Kate H. Nelson. Golden's first white woan, Mrs. Archer (1884) and her daughter, Nellie, (Mrs. Gould), were still living there last winter. All old timers there will remember, too, the killing of Beard, the bootlegger of his day, by Bulldog Kelly, and the thrilling story of the latter's career, capture and escape.

In 1883, mails for Kootenay, Joseph's Prairie and Eugene Mission left Victoria once a month, and were due at their destination in fifteen days. From November to the following June there was no mail.

In 1888, Porcupine and Quartz Creek raised a gold flurry and Hall Lee and McMurdo developed ore bodies. On Saturday, June 2, 1888, appeared the first newspaper in all Kootenay, the Donald "Truth" edited by the famous John Houston. A waggish subscriber said he had "half interest" in it—"a six months subscription." His jest was "truth." Mr. Houston, like many more of the railway period pioneers in the north Kootenay, succumbed to the attractions of "Salisbury" (Nelson). Toronto Mountain (Hall Mines), Hot Springs (Ainsworth), Slocan and Trail, to do there as in their older homes; grasping "the skirts of happy chance," breasting "the blows of circumstance," playing the game, and win or lose, men unafraid of fate.

Winnipeg.—During 1921 12,080 settlers, with cash amounting to $3,786,000, and effects valued at about $982,000, came to Canada from the United States, and settled in the country between Part Arthur and Kingsgate, B.C., according to the figures of the Commissioner of Immigration.

Railway News in Brief

Montreal.—According to a circular approved by Mr. W. B. Lanigan, Freight Traffic Manager, Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. H. W. Gillis is appointed Assistant General Freight Agent, Eastern Lines, succeeding Mr. S. C. Harkett, transferred. Mr. Gillis entered the service of the C. P. R. on May 15th, 1905, at Mile End Station, Montreal; in June, 1906 he became assistant biller in the local Freight Department, Place Viger Station; in November, 1906, he took up the position of junior clerk at Place Viger. Promotions following were: June, 1908, billing clerk, Outremont; De*cember, 1909, clerk General Freight* Department, Montreal; July, 1911, clerk divisional Freight Dept., Montreal; July, 1914, assistant chief clerk, office of Freight Traffic Manager, Montreal; March, 1915, *chief clerk to Freight Traffic Man*ager; September, 1918, chief clerk to Vice-President of traffic; November, 1919, assistant Foreign Freight Agent, Montreal; from the latter position he takes up his new post.

Montreal.—A conference of the members of the Quebec District Association connected with the Canadian Pacific Railway consisting of superintendents, yardmasters, agents, freight agents, freight and traffic men, telegraphs, and Dominion Express representatives, was held at the Place Viger Hotel. Mr. E. F. Lawson, Terminal Freight Accounting Agent, Montreal, presided. Mr. T. A. Martin, local freight agent, Montreal, was appointed permanent chairman, and is was decided to hold the next meeting at Prescott. There were nearly three hundred representatives present from all parts of the Quebec District and several important subjects were under discussion. During the afternoon Mr. A. Price, general manager, Eastern Lines, and Mr. W. B. Lanigan, freight traffic manager, Montreal, addressed the conference, and among those present were: Messrs. J. K. Savage, general superintendent; W. J. Uren, assistant superintendent; W. H. Snell, general passenger agent; J. McMillan, manager C.P.R. Telegraphs; F. W. Branscombe, Dominion Express, and H. H. Lynch, chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. Mr. J. W Kitchen was elected permanent secretary Several subjects of a very interesting character were postponed until the next meeting.

New York. — Arrangements for securing traffic for the big addition to the Canadian Pacific fleet were made at the convention of the C. P. R. traffic officials. Passenger agents and other officials from practically every important centre in Canada and the United States attended the meeting.

New steamers with an aggregate tonnage of 130,000 are to be added to the C. P. R. fleet. This will mean greatly increased service out of both Vancouver and the St. Lawrence ports. Competition between ocean lines is now very keen and the C. P. R. men considered plans for securing for their company its share of the traffic. One feature will be the effecting of closer connection between the rail and steamship lines of the company. The C. P. R. will in future be able to book passengers in Chicago for passage to European ports and will carry them to the steamers at Montreal or Quebec in special C. P. R. trains.

The addition to the steamship service as outlined at the convention will include a new fortnightly service to the Orient from Vancouver in addition to the present sailings of the "Empress of Russia" and the "Empress of Asia." The new steamers will be the "Empress of Canada" and the "Empress of Australia."

First sailings will be in April. On the eastbound trip the new steamers will call at Honolulu.

Detailed arrangements were also discussed for rail connections with the new St. Lawrence service to Cherbourg, Southampton and Hamburg. The "Empress of Scotland" and the "Empress of France," the new boats to go on this service, will thus give the Canadian company close touch with Paris and Berlin. The new boats will start as soon as the St. Lawrence navigation opens.

The "Empress of Scotland" sailed February 4th for a cruise of the Mediterranean with a large passenger list. She will return to a Canadian port in April.

At Any Time YOU May Need Zam-Buk

Every home and farm needs Zam-Buk simply because it is the purest, safest and best antiseptic healer ever discovered. Equally good in simple cuts and burns as for chronic wounds or sores. If you would save worry keep Zam-Buk handy.

FOR SCALDS—Mr. Geo. H. Duffus, a C.P.R. fireman, of Fort William, says: "The water gauge of my locomotive burst and scalded the left side of my face terribly. Fortunately I carry Zam-Buk about with me, and as soon as possible I had the balm freely applied. Zam-Buk took out all the 'fire' and stinging and in a few days it had my face nicely healed."

PIMPLES & FACE SORES—Miss S. G. Hamilton, of Alliston, Ont., writes:—"My face and hands were simply a mass of pimples, blotches and sores. The affected parts were as painful as if I had been scalded. I found nothing of real use except Zam-Buk. It soothed, purified and healed my skin perfectly."

OR POISONED WOUNDS—Mrs. A. Berryman, 190, John St. North, Hamilton, who had her right foot crushed by a wagon wheel, says:—The flesh was terribly blackened and inflamed when I got Zam-Buk. Within two days all pain, swelling and discoloration had disappeared. In four days the injury was thoroughly healed."

If you have never used this wonderful healer, send a 1c. stamp (for postage of SAMPLE BOX) to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

WINDERMERE CHILDREN PRESENT SUCCESSFUL CONCERT AT WILMER

(Special to the Herald)

Invermere, B.C., Feb. 25.—On Wednesday evening the children of Invermere, Wilmer and Athalmer gave their long looked for entertainment in McKay's hall, Athalmer. For some months past they have been training under the capable hands of Miss Dora K. Bodecker and the Rev. F. B. Atkinson, the former looking after the musical part and the latter as to the singing, speeches, and general stage effect.

The first part of the three piece entertainment was devoted entirely to the music pupils of Miss Bodecker who rendered the Romberg Toy Symphony in fine style. The stage had been decorated with evergreen trees, and representations of Spring to give a forest background. This made the various "birth" musical instrumnts seem more realistic when played. Although outside winter was still giving its chilliest blasts still one within felt that Spring must surely be com*ing at the sight of the beautiful* flowers of the forest and hearing alternately the cuckoo, nightingales and other Spring birds thrilling. The entire orchestra comprised thirteen forms of instruments the more important parts as director and accompanist being taken by Miss Dora K. Bodecker and the Rev. F. Bertram Atkinson. The assortment was very great taking in cuckoo, nightingales, trumpets, castanets, metallaphone, quail, bell tree, drum, cymbals, rattle, tambourine, triangle, cello, and four small fiddles. The instrumentalists were Misses Mary Turner, Kate Stewart, Grace Stewart, Madeline Turnor, Effie Turnor, Eleanor Bower, Annie Frater; Frances Forster, Kathleen Sims, Joan and Ruth Peters and the following boys, Noel Stewart, Esmond Taylor, William Wainwright, Joe Peters and John Sellentin.

The symphony is a sweet jingle of music all through not having any special air but a constant rythm reminding one of the singing of many birds individually and in a chorus.

The second part of the program consisted in Mother Goose Island, a musical play for children in two scenes, representing the visit of a class of children with their teacher to the home of the famous Mother Goose, all the children representing well known characters of childhood. The two principal arts, that of Miss Bright the teacher, and Mother Goose were taken by Miss May Williams and Miss Effie Turnor, carried on through their acting in a manner that left nothing to be desired. The caste was completely changed from the play which had gone before with a few exceptions, those taking the other leading parts being Eleanor Bower, personating Roland, a boy; John Sellentin as Richard and Jessie Frater as Tiny. The chorus was made up of Barbara Scott, Maudie Green, George Barbour, Bessie Williams, Bernice Thompson, M. Tunnacliffe, E. Tunnacliffe, Willie Wainwright, Fred Wainwright, Truman Heminway, Paul Cordingly Bennett, Noel Stewart, Bobbie Bond, Jack Nixon, David Nixon and Ebbie Bell. Still other small actors were Francis Turner as King Cole; Jack Spratt (impersonated Kathleen Sims); Jack and Jill, Bernice Thompson and little Ed. Bell; Simple Simon, Maudie Green; Boo Peep, M. Bremner, R. Gore; Jack Horner, Esmond Taylor; Miss Moffet, Elizabeth Walker; Tommy Tucker, Paddy Houlgrave; Georgie Porgie—that famous young person who kissed the girls—Douglas Cleland; Red Riding Hood, Mary Frater; Humpty Dumpty, Jas. Frater.

The third and last part of the entertainment was a march and dance by the children and grown up actors in costume to the strains of Tunnacliffe's famous orchestra. Miss Bodecker led as Mother Hubbard and Rev. Mr. Atkinson appeared as Perrot. While it is difficult to make mention of any costumes among so many that were beautiful yet those of Miss Effie Turnor as Mother Goose, Miss Williams, as Miss Bright, Frances Forster, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Forster, as a belle of the 18th century, and Master Frankie Turner, as old King Cole, were especially noticeable in their effect.

Refreshments and a shirt waist dance closed the evening.

The financial results were very satisfactory, over one hundred dollar being netted. This will be used to provide a magic lantern for the use of the Church of England Sunday Schools in the various villages.

ALPINE GUIDE INVITED TO JOIN SECOND BIG EVEREST EXPEDITION

(Special to the Herald)

Invermere, B.C., Feb. 25.—Mr. Conrad Kain, the Alpine guide, has received a flattering offer to join the *second expedition to scale Mount Ev*erest, the giant peak of the Himalayas, but for personal and private reasons he is obliged to decline. Mr. Kain is one of the ogiginal Alpine guides brought out by the C.P.R. He received his early training in the Austrian Tyrol but has climbed mountain peaks in every part of the world. He was one of those who last year gave assistance in the search for the recovery of Preisdent Stone's body when the latter was killed in an ascent of Mount Eon near Mount Assiniboine.

C. P. R. GRANTS SCHOLARSHIPS FOR WESTERN STUDENTS

Montreal, Feb. 21.—Three annual scholarships to the value of $570 each have been granted to Toronto University by the Canadian Pacific Railway, for the purpose of inducing graduates of Western colleges in Canada to pursue their post graduate studies at the University of Toronto.

It has for some time been felt that Canadian national unity would be very greatly fostered by some such move as this.

The universities of Western Canada are growing fast and their standard of instruction is high, the result being that a large and ever increasing class of their students show a desire to pursue graduate and professional careers beyond the stage which is at present offered in their provincial institutions. In the past American universities by reason of their comparative nearness, and also because of scholarships which they have been able to offer, have attracted a large percentage of these students for post graduate work.

Many of the students attending the universities of the Candadian west have originally come from the United States, or even from Europe, and most of them know very little about Eastern Canada, the result being that if they obtain their advanced instruction in the United States, they will, when they return to take up their work as leaders in the thought and action of Western Canada, be even less inclined than formerly to become active factors in the welding together of the Eastern and Western sections of this country.

The purpose of these three scholarships is to strengthen the intellectual, educational, religious and economical links btween East and West and it is intended by this means to enable a constant succession of the brightest and most ambitious of Western university students to become familiar with methods of life and thought in Eastern Canada. There is no doubt that the opportunity to get into first hand touch with the older Canada that lies east of the Great Lakes will be eagerly taken advantage of.

University authorities say there is no lack of advanced students eligible for such scholarships and is stated by Mr. E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in his letter to Sir Robert Falconer, president of Toronto University, announcing the granting of the three scholarships, "the movement is one that will obviously be of benefit of not only the students, but also to the communities in which they will afterwards live."

MOTHER! QUICK, GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "Californa Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

THIN, FLAT HAIR
GROWS LONG, THICK
AND ABUNDANT

"Danderine" costs only 35 cents a bottle. One application stops itching and falling hair, and, in ends all dandruff, a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will appear a mass, so soft, lustrous, and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. "Danderine" is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and luxuriant.

piling up more stocks.

Sold Out of Lead

Following this decision, Mr. Warren said he himself made a journey to China and Japan, perspiring in July, and enduring all the perfumes of the oriental cities to see if those countries could be induced to buy more lead. He arranged agencies to handle the company's products, and largely as a result of this, not only was it a case of the Consolidated not having much metal on hand, but it was completely sold out of lead, and was now in a position to carry in its operation in competition with the whole world.

This accomplishment was a credit to the company's operating staff, he said, which staff had done the greatest metallurgical work of a year ever known.

Can Compete With World

Admitting that he preached cutting costs, Mr. Warren said the Consolidated had first practised what he now preached, for it had cut the costs of production of lead and zinc to such a point that it did not fear any competition whatever. Lead and zinc were down in price, but in spite of that, owing to the progresses made in treatment, the company would be able to sell them at enough to keep going.

On account of the large production of lead ore by the company, and of what would be forthcoming from private shippers, the lead refinery, now of a capacity of 90 tons a day, was insufficient, and the directors had authorized an increase to 150 tons a day. The company would then produce about 45,000 tons of refined lead per annum.

Pay For Zinc Content

Mr. Warren said the Consolidated had found a way it could accept shipments of zinc silver-lead ores, paying shippers a reasonable sum for the metal contents of all three ores. (Applause.) Formerly the zinc operated as a penalty. In a short time the company would be able to take care of the zinc, and give full value for it.

"This makes an epoch in British Columbia mining," he declared. Some criticized the company for not having done this before, but as a matter of fact, the Consolidated had spent $3,000,000 in developing its zinc process, and it was such dangerous to vary the feed even slightly, until the company knew what it was doing. What the company was now preparing to do for the shippers of zinc ores was only the start, he said. As the process improved, as it certainly would do, the company would give the shippers further benefits.

If the operators would stop talking about what the government should do for them, and rely on themsedves, the Kootenay would have a prosperous mining industry, he declared.

Any assistance that the Smelter could give to the shipper or the prospector, would be cheerfully given, he declared, provided that no paternalism was expected (Applause).

Mining Man Heard

L. H. Biggar, manager of the Ottawa mine, said as a small shipper he appreciated what had been done, and since the late conference between the Consolidated and the shippers a feeling prevailed that the company was meeting them fairly.

He referred to the great expenditure on mining in the interior, the vast bulk of the outlay going to labor. He thought the communities could well take a deeper interest in the welfare of the province's greatest industry.

Probably people in general do not realize the stupendous efforts the city works department has been putting forth in order to preserve the water supply for the city in something like normal condition. The prolonged cold spell has been responsible for conditions that have made it extremely difficult to keep the supply up to anything like normal. The frost has gone down very deep, affecting many city services, and even the fire hydrants, while at the reservoir it has been necessary to keep a man at work all the time to keep the water flowing in. Then when the bottom of the creek commenced to freeze it was impossible to keep the water coming in, and blasting had to be resorted to. Fortunately the slightly milder weather of the last day or two has improved the situation, and the water level is understood to be rising now. The situation has undoubtedly been aggravated by the fact that some consumers have been letting taps run almost continuously to prevent their services from freezing, and probably in many cases they have allowed the water to run far more than is actually necessary.

READS IN NEWSPAPER OF BROTHER BEING INJURED IN FIRE

R. J. Binning on Wednesday had the unpleasant experience of seeing in the Calgary Herald an account of a fire in Moose Jaw on Monday in which his brother, W. J. Binning, besides suffering a $100,000 loss to his variety store stock, also suffered painful burns about the face.

The Calgary Herald said in regard to the fire:

"Fire which broks out at 9.40 last night gutted the building occupied by Binning's Fair, variety store, causing losses which will probably total $135,000. At midnight, after a desperate three hour battle in zero weather, the blaze was still unsubdued.

"J. Binning, proprietor of the store was painfully burned about the face and head when the fire broke out in the basement of the building. He narrowly escaped being trapped in the blazing structure, and with other members of the staff was forced to smash a plate glass window in the main street entrance to the building in effecting his escape. His condition is not serious."

"W. J. Binning, of Moose Jaw, who was painfully burned about the face and head when fire damaged his store to the extent of about $100,000 on Monday evening, is a brother of B. C. Binning, of ths city, and was at one time connected with the firm of Binning's, Limited. He moved to Moose Jaw about 18 years ago, and has been in business there ever since. While in the city he was a member of the city council for one year. B. C. Binning had received no word on Tuesday morning as to the condition of his brother."

R. J. Binning, the Cranbrook brother, at once endeavored to get in touch with his brother at Moose Jaw by wire, to ascertain if possible more of the extent of his injuries. His brother's wife and family, he states, are at present at Victoria.

LECTURE ON FOLK LORE OF AMERICAN INDIAN GIVEN MONDAY NIGHT

A very pleasing and instructive entertainment was given in the Parish Hall on Monday evening of this week by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker, on Indian Origin, Characteristics, Legends and Stories.

The program was opened by Mr. Edwards' Orchestra and interspersed with solos by Mrs. Turner, Mr. I. Hannah and Andy Cassidy.

The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Boy Scouts, who were in need of financial aid, and Messrs. Morris and Clark wish to thank Mr. Edwards, Mrs. Turner, Mr. Hannah and Andy for their assistance in making the evening a pleasant one, ad to all who so kindly contributed to its success.

Mrs. Frank Guindon, of Moyie, is a patient at the hospital here.

Born—On Wednesday March 1st, at the Cottage Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bidder, of Fort Steele, a son.

Edward Hannah, C.P.R. operator at Medicine Hat, has been spending a few days with his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. I. Hannah. He arrived on Tuesday and leaves again on Friday.

Joseph Walsh, who is still an inmate of the hospital here, is not improving at the present time, it is stated.

Mr. Mickey Mosely of Pincher Creek, Alta., has again returned to the city and expects to reman here for some time.

The casual observer can already note a distinct improvement in the new city band, which is being whipped into shape by Conductor Edwards of the Musical Society.

The ladies of Christ Church Guild will hold a Sale of Cookery and Candy in the Parish Hall on Friday, March 17th. Afternoon tea served. 1-2

Mr. Horatio Jecks, of Lethbridge, Alta., was a visitor here last week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H E. Jecks.

The Lenten season was duly ushered in this week on Ash Wednesday, with the usual services in the episcopal churches.

A telephone has been installed in the Progressive Committee Rooms under the Royal Bank, the number being 387. 1

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Johnson are now occupying the house on Burwell Avenue vacated just before Christmas by Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Pow tnd family.

In the absence of W. M. Harris at sedlves before the people ?bher the Coast this week S. S. Simpson has been in charge of the government employment bureau. Mr. Harris is expected to return this week-end.

There will probably be a meeting of the city council next week to pass the accounts and consider some by-law amendments. The regular monthly meet'ng date falls on the evening of election day, March 14, so that some change will have to be made in that date.

The schaal board has sent to Victoria for plans and estimates on an eight roomed school building, so that the cost can be compared with the proposed outlay on the eight roomed addition to the Central School that is being considered.

In connection with the mention that was made last week of the fact that Mr. J. Fingal Smith had reached his seventy-fifth milestone in life and was still going strong, it transpires that his twin brother who still resides in the old home province of Prince Edward Island, is also still in the full enjoyment of health and unimpaired faculties, making a somewhat interesting case of family longevity.

J. L. W. Wyles, recently acting as teller at the Bank of Commerce, is leaving this week for Victoria, having been transferred. His place is being taken by Mr. Sharp, of Vancouver. Mr. Wyles' removal also leaves a vacancy on the Recreation Clhb's list of officers, he having been acting as secretary. Mr. Robinson, also recently of the local branch of the Bank of Commerce, is now on the staff of the recently opened branch at Oliver, B.C.

H. S. Watkins, of Vancouver, representative for the Canadian Fair*banks Morse Co., has been in the* district this week, visiting also the mining and lumbering centres.

Mrs. J. B. Racicot, of Fernie, has been at the St. Eugene hospital for a time, and is now reported improving.

With another election in the offing, some of those who had dealings with the government in the mtter of the last one are of the opinion that it was time the first one was squared away before the second contest is brought on.

Next Sunday, March 5th, will be the first anniversary of the settlement of Rev. W. T. Tapscott into the pastorate of the Baptist Church here. It has been a year of growth so far as the church is concerned, and Mr. Tapscott is confident the future holds even better things.

Divine service will be conducted in the Methodist Church on Sunday next at 11 a.m., and 7.30 p.m., by the pastor, Rev. R. W. Lee. The subject at the morning service will be "God's Middleman," while in the evening the pastor will preach on "The Opened Fountain." A hearty invitation is extended to all.

The Cranbrook Methodist Church will celebrate its 22nd anniversary on Sunday, March 12, when special services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. R. W. Lee. On the following evening, Monday, March 13th, an augmented choir will render the popular cantata, "Esther, the Beautiful Queen." Tickets for the cantata will be 50 cents each. The public is requested to keep these dates free. Remember — Sunday and Monday, March 12th and 13th.

The body of George Morris, well known old timer of the Bull River district, was shipped this week to Santa Clara, Cal., for burial, following his death in the hospital here on Saturday, February 25. He was sixty-two years of age, and has been confined to the hospital for many months. Deceased is understood to have been in the Kootenays for upwards of thirty years. His nephew, Thos. Henderson, came to the city and escorted the remains to Santa Clara for burial.

T. H. Bronsdon, Progressive candidate in the by-election in East Kootenay, is busy on his campaign and has the assistance of a good number of willing workers. On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Bronsdon held a meeting at Moyie, and this evening, Thursday, he is to speak at Yahk, and will hold other meetings in these districts as the opportunity offers. On Friday of this week a big public meeting is announced to be held in the Auditorium, at which Dr. King is also invited to speak. On Saturday Mr. Brondon will go to Fernie to hold meetings in that end of the riding.

The local lodge of Oddfellows scored another big success with their second public dance of the season, held in the Auditorium on Tuesday evening of this week. As the last public dance before Lent it was even better attended than the previous affair along the some lines, and the dance committee of five in charge of arrangements, comprising R. P. Moffatt, N.G., S. Fyles, P.G., E. H. McPhee, P.G., and Bros. G. Lacey and J. B. Haslam, are well satisfied with the success attending their efforts. The Cranbrook Dance Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Lee Edwards, supplied the music.

Frank Parks returned to the city last Thursday after an absence of some t'me.

Mrs. M. J. Aust'n who has been in the hospital suffering from pneumonia is much improved, it is now reported.

Mrs. Kenneth Greene of this city, who is at present an nimate of the St. Eugene Hospital, is reported mucn better.

A. Paterson, represting the J. W. Gherke Co., Ltd., Vancouver, lithographers, was in the city this week making business connections for his firm.

The meeting called in the city hall on Wednesday evening this week in connection with the Boy Scout movement was very well attended, about forty people being present. Different organizations in the city had been approached to send representatives, and they responded with the exception of a few. Major Hicks, the district commissfoner, occupied the chair. The organizations represented at the meeting agreed to name one of their number to act on the executive of the Boy Scout Association, and while some of them were prepared to appoint their reresentatives then and there, it was thought wiser to have them appointed later, and the names handed to Major Hicks, who will then call a further meeting to complete the organization. This will be held probably about the 15th.

The regular meeting of the Womens Institute will take place in the Parish Hall Tuesday next. As previously announced Mrs. Garland Foster will speak on Child Welfare. Any member having a friend interested in this important subject are asked to extend an invitation. The program promises to be of unusual interest. This will be interspersed with vocal solos by Mrs Jock Thompson and a recitaton by Miss Adkin. There will also be important business under discussion. Extra seating accommodation is being arranged as a big attendance is requetsed. The library has an additional number of volumes which should prove an attraction to book lovers. Members, don't forget there will be a seat there for you to occupy.

NEW PATENT FLANGE OILER DEMONSTRATED IN WORKING CONDITIONS

A trial was made this week at the Cranbrook Foundry and Machine Shops of the new patent flange oiling device, the invention of J. P. Patton, of this city, and which is being taken hold of by a local private company. The test of the new device was made in the machine shops under conditions nearly approximating those under which it would work on the railroad. A pair of the new oilers have been made, and one was put in place over a wheed flanged like a locomotive driving wheel, and the test was made in the presence of a few invited mechanical men, to pass on the merits and advantages of Mr. Patton's invention. In every case it has been passed upon as feasible, and approved as one of the long felt wants for the purpose for which it is intended., namely, to oil the flanges of locomotives, and save the wear to the tires so commonly known to all railwaymen to be a serious problem especially on the heavy engines now in use.

Mr. Patton, the inventor, went into the field with all comers to compete with, to get out a flange oiling device whereby a flange could be oiled automatically from a rolling contact. The device now produced is entirely automatic and absolutely foolproof. A five year old child can start the machine, and the flowing oil is taken where it is most needed to save the wear to the rails on curves with the consequent cutting of the flanges and tires on the driving wheels. All these points have been gained, and at the first trial satisfaction was obtained, and great things are expected in the near future when street car wheels, cables for tram lines, elevators in hotels and factories, all can be oiled by a machine, with little care needed to get the best of results from it.

There is a movement on foot wherebe the regular manufacture of these patent flange oilers is to be carried on in this city, giving a new payroll for Cranbrook, for those who may be connected with the manufacture of it. Cranbrook will thus become the home of something that cannot be bought anywhere else on the continent. The Canadian Automatic Flange Oiling Co. of Cranbrook holds the patents for both Canada and the United States, and the work they are carrying on ought to mean a good deal in the future to the city.
