THE LEAD SITUATION.

A British Columbia lead trust is a new thing in combines, and its very existence will no doubt be strenously denied by those chiefly interested, says the Nelson Tribune. Yet there are certain circumstances which point to the active operation of such a trust before long.

Up to the present the lead refinery in Trail has only been treating about one-third of the pig lead made. It has become public property that the Canadian Smelting Works are proposing to treble the capacity of its refinery. For a year past there has been standing one additional building which can be utilized for this additional refinery.

There is only a limited market for lead and its products in Canada. The Canadian production is in excess of this market. The market of the United States is shut off because of a duty of $2.12½ per ton on all lead imported. The London market is so low as to be unprofitable. The Canadian market is the London market plus the freight to and fro across the Atlantic. Canadian lead then sought the outlet of the Orient. Here it found Australian lead an active competitor. However, by pooling issues, and not cutting prices, Canadian lead got a small share of the market. The Oriental market is governed by the London prices plus the sea carriage. As both Australia and Canada are closer to the Orient than is Great Britain, these colonies have an advantage over the mother country to the extent of the difference in their favor of the sea carriage.

The Canadian Smelting Works, allied, if separated from the Canadian Pacific, practically controls, greatly through the indefatigable energy of its manager, the Canadian lead market. It gets the top prices of the Canadian market. The surplus, excluding the Oriental supply, then is sold at London prices. By shipping much of the lead to be refined to the Selby works in San Francisco, 10 per cent of it is allowed to be sold on the United States market without incurring the $2.12½ import duty. The remainder goes direct to the Orient.

In this way the market has been held. The Hall mines smelter today is smelting more lead than is Trail, but its product is being handled by the Canadian Smelting Works. All this is very nice, but into the compact butts, in the rudest manner, the Marysville smelter with a capacity about equal to that of the Hall mines or of Trail.

If Marysville has to market its lead in Canada—and there is nothing to prevent it—there will be at least double the quantity of lead on the market here than for which there exists a demand. Hence the tendency would be to sell down to the London price. In other words the price of the surplus would govern the price of the whole supply.

Now, the cost of marketing and refining in London is about $32.50. The smelters charge the mines $30 only. This is because they are getting the advantage of the higher Canadian price. Hence, if the Canadian prices were lowered through open competion the smelters would be forced to charge the higher rate mentioned. This would have the effect of curtailing the output.

Thus it is demonstrated that the Canadian market must be controlled. This can only be done by taking the Marysville product off the hands of that company. The trust is thus indicated.

But this only lands the Canadian Smelting works on the other horn of the dilemma—over production.

The only available market is the Orient. The pool will have to be broken. In the open competition which ensues the winner is likely to prove to be Canada. The sea haul from Canada to the Orient is slightly shorter than the haul from Australia to China. The chief lead port is Swatow, 140 miles north of Hongkong. In this neighborhood, one of the most densely populated in China, is produced nearly all the pewter used by 400,000,000 of people and much of the tea lead. The Australians have a line of steamers which run directly to Swatow, not transshipping at Hongkong, as do the Canadians. Australia has this advantage, which, however, can easily be equalized.

The Canadians are enjoying an increasing trade with the Orient, especially an import trade. Cheap labor is permissible on the Canadian boats—white labor only on Australian. The Canadian boats make much money on the Chinese passenger traffic; the Australian boats may carry only one Chinese passenger for each 500 tons of registered tonnage. Hence the sea carriage on lead can be made much cheaper from Canada to the Orient than from Australia to the same place.

The Australian lead mine, the Broken Hill, has installed the Heberlein process, thus doing away with the necessity of shipping to Cardiff. The British Columbia Marysville smelter is doing the same thing.

ALONG THE CORBIN ROAD

Bonners Ferry Herald: Great activity is being displayed by the promoters of the Spokane & International railway, and they are rushing preliminaries so as to start construction at as early a date as possible.

The route through or past Bonners Ferry does not seem to be definitely located yet. It seems to be established fact that the Paradise Valley route is not being further considered. The line will come down on the north side to a point near the old ferry landing. It seems to be the opinion that it will cross the river at that point, and continue to the Great Northern right of way, thence parallel to the Great Northern, crossing the Y about the center and then heading for the A. E. Bunting place.

General Manager Roberts was here this week with the right of way agent, ascertaining the cost of right of way along the route indicated.

Contractors have looked over the line, but so far as we can ascertain no contracts have actually been let.

The wagon road being constructed up the Moyie will be finished through to the International line next week.

HILL GETS IN CORBIN'S WAY.

Spokesman-Review: The Great Northern Railroad company received deeds yesterday to seven lots in the middle of River Front addition, which D. C. Corbin is buying for terminals for the Spokane International. The deeds were given by Philip Roach and A. M. Lupfer. Mr. Lupfer was formerly an engineer for the Great Northern and is now the chief engineer of the Spokane and Inland road. Both Mr. Lupfer and Mr. Corbin had long conferences with J. D. Farrell, assistant to the president of the Great Northern, when he was here Wednesday.

When asked if the Great Northern were trying to block his enterprise, Mr. Corbin said: "I do not wish to talk about that now. I have bought four-fifths or more of River Front and Pittwood's additions already and expect to acquire the remainder either by purchase or condemnation.

"The preliminary work on the road is well under way, and we shall let some of the grading contracts immediately. I am hurrying the work on some of the places where the construction will be the heaviest and will let them first. I expect to have a large amount of work done before snow flies."

YANKEES ARE COMING.

Winnipeg, April 24.—Theodore M. Knappen, secretary of the Western Canada Immigration society, is in the city enroute from a trip through the western and middle states. He says of the season's immigration to Canada that the trips so far indicate a larger movement than last year. The demand for western Canada lands is greater today than two years ago, and all active land men in the states are as busy as they can be, hardly a day passing without a large party leaving on a tour of inspection of Alberta, Assiniboia or Manitoba lands. Winnipeg people do not notice the movement as most of the United States people cross the border at Portal, striking the heart of the agricultural districts there and striking out from that point in all directions. It is not uncommon to see the Soo train pull out of St. Paul with parties of from 300 to 500 settlers on it. These immigrants are all well to do, many of them having bank accounts figuring from $15,000 to $20,000, who have accumulated their little pile through thrift and careful living.

Another very interesting aspect of the migrating farmers is the long freight train containing their goods and chattels with a passenger coach attached, where the owners of these possessions live while traveling over the road.

Mr. Knappen said that a short time ago on a visit to Iowa he learned that the population of Iowa has decreased remarkably in the past five The price of lands is so very high there that it is a temptation to the farmers to dispose of what land they have and emigrate to western Canada, where they can get lands for one-tenth of what they sold their own lands for.

The editor of the Wallace Farmer at DesMoines, Iowa, told Mr. Knappen of a farmer who had acquire the farms of 33 residents in his district, and of another who had bought up 13 farms from intending emigrants. The effect of emigration is particularly noticeable in Iowa, where there is such a vast agricultural area and no very large cities.

The farmers' idea in laying out their new lands is to put all available space into wheat, yet diversified farming will be carried on in a small way, for these newcomers are people who have always lived well and believe in all available comforts in their new homes.

Mr. Knappen said that the prospects for the summer's work were very promising, and that this summer there will be a large number of influential newspaper men from the east who will be taken over the new provinces, showing them what western Canada offers the well to do farmers of the east and the openings for investors. The largest undertaking of this nature will be the entertaining of 25 correspondents from Washington, D. C., who are to spend three weeks in a trip through the west. The party is to leave Washington on or about June 17th, arriving here about the 22nd. In July and August several smaller parties of newspaper men will be entertained by the association. No doubt there will be very satisfactory results obtained from these visiting journalists, for the ground will be so carefully covered and details of the immigration bureau so carefully explained that many valuable articles will be written on western Canada.

VICTIM OF BLACK-MAILERS

The Calgary Herald of the 22nd prints the following dispatch:

Toronto, April 22.—The World, the daily published by W. F. Maclean, M. P., says: Clifford Sifton became involved in a scandal. This scandal became public property and Sifton's colleagues told him a settlement must be arranged. Laurier and prominent representatives of the hierarchy were parties to this settlement and a large sum of money was involved. It was also arranged that Sifton should retire on account of ill health.

Sifton, however, went south and the autonomy bill was introduced in his absence. Sifton immediately hastened northward and after an unpleasant conference with Sir Wilfrid Laurier he resigned.

Then the plotters got to work.

The Calgary Eye Opener published the whole story of the scandal including names, dates and terms of settlement. Many Eye Openers were sent to Ottawa. A New York newspaper published the story and Sifton was given to understand that this was only the beginning of publicity to be given his indiscretion.

He saw that his choice was between surrender and a blackened reputation. He surrendered.

The World says it gives the story as a matter of "duty to the public," and that Sifton's action in accepting the compromise under the whip of the blackmailers is that of the "husband and father terrorized by unscrupulous conspirators."

FOOTBALL.

Town Team 2, C. P. R. Shops 1.

The result of the first game was never in doubt, the Brigade scoring the three goals without effort. The Office team sorely missed the services of Dr. Bishop, Ed Hume and O. Walsh and without this strong trio were unable to cope with the stronger play of the brigade.

The teams lined up as follows:

Fire Brigade—Goal, Fink; backs, Attridge, Bennett; half backs, Greer, Captain Starke and Johnstone; forwards, Graham, Staples, Hill, Haines and Nicholson.

C. P. R. Offices—Goal, Mercer; backs, Patton, Patmore; half backs, Henderson, Ryckman, Stewart; forwards, Elwell, Gallon, Captain Wilson, Kelly, Belmont.

Fire Brigade 3, C. P. R. Offices 0.

The second event between the Shops and the Town, which was the first league game of the season, was a treat to the strong contingent of football enthusiasts who were onlookers being well contested by both teams. It is unfortunate, however, that owing to a misunderstanding of an important rule of the game the Shops team were successful in protesting one of the goals scored against them, the match therefore does not count and very likely will have to be played over again. The chief strength of the Town team lies in their consistent combination work and from a spectator's standpoint is very pleasing.

Following is the lineup of the two teams:

Town Team—Goal—Moore; backs, S. Baldwin, Wilkinson; half backs, Ferguson, Captain Baldwin, Turnbull; forwards, O'Neill, Chalmers, Worlidge, Edmonson, McLaren.

C. P. R. Shops—Goal, Dowson; backs, Whebell, Sarrell; half backs, Abbott, Long Seville; forwards, Coldwell, Brooks, Bathie, Captain Shankland, Sneddon.

NOTES ON THE GAMES.

The Town team are the first to appear in complete uniform, the red and white showing up very well.

Whebell, of the C. P. R. Shops was invincible and saved his goal time and again.

The next in order of merit for the Shops is Long. He was always in evidence.

It would be hard to particularize the "good ones" in the Town team. They are a capable lot but Turnbull and O'Neill were prominent in several brilliant plays.

E. Simpson

Editor and Manager.

The Herald is worth $10 a year. It costs only $2. No man in South East Kootenay can afford to be without it, and everyone living outside of the district, who is interested in the progress of this section, should read it. It publishes the news while it's news. It is controlled absolutely by the publisher. No clique, party or individual dictates it policy. It don't try to please the people. It's desire is to publish a newspaper that will be a credit to the community. Send in your subscription and and you will be thankful ever afterward.

Advertising rates $1 per inch, single column, per month, no more and no less.

Reading matter 15 cents per line to non-advertisers; 10 cents per line to regular advertisere. Business locals five cents per line ach insertion.

If you desire to reach the people of South East Kootenay you must advertise in The Herald.

The Herald has a firstclass job plant, and its work is of the best. The Herald don't want charity. It wants a square deal on your job work. If we can't suit you in quality and price, kick, and send your work to some Cheap John house in the east that never spends a cent in Cranbrook.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The debate on the school question seems to be without end, and during the debate many members talk more for political effect than far the good of the Dominion. Extremists are dangerous at any stage of the game, and when the subject of religion is the mooted question they generally go to the limit. All worshippers of God are entitled to respect, and no man living will ever know which is the right religion until he is dead, and then it will be impossible for him to communicate his knowledge to those he has left behind. So long as a religion teaches a betterment of the moral condition of humanity, so long is it entitled to the kindly considerations of the people. No church has the monopoly on the heavenly route, and since religion affects the individual himself, that individual has the right to choose his spiritual course without question.

The president of a national bank in Milwaukee called the board of directors together the other day and calmly informed them that he was short in his accounts to the bank the trifling sum of $1,500,000. Schlitz beer will have to take second place in the struggle to make Milwaukee famous.

Cranbrook will pay into the provincial treasury this year more than twice the amount in taxes ever paid before, and in return will receive less than one-half as much paid in former years for public improvements. When such a condition exists in a new and rapidly growing country there is some thing wrong with the system of government.

If the town is not incorporated this year the people who pass around subscription papers for public improvements will not have a pleasant task.

Has Cranbrook a board of trade, and if so what is the membership? How many of the Herald readers who have interests in this town have paid their membership fees for this year? This is a question that each man should try to answer for himself.

The immigration to Canada this year will exceed that of any other previous year, and the immigrants are composed of the very best classes of English and United States citizens. Canada is known today all over the civilized world as the land of opportunity.

Lost, two fleets of warships. Any information will be thankfully received at St. Petersburg or Tokio.

It will be a relief when President Roosevelt returns to Washington and the papers cease telling sickening details about his adventures in the woods and how he got up in the morning and the number of flapjacks he devoured at any one meal.

Frank Oliver walked in without opposition, and Frank Oliver's paper frankly admitted that it was due to his personal popularity. Mr. Oliver's big majority at the last election is sufficient reason for the declaration.

Calgary does not look with kindly eye on the elevation of Frank Oliver to the cabinet. Mr. Oliver represents Edmonton, and Edmonton is a rival of Calgary in the fight for the capital.

The heavy immigration to the prairies of Western Canada this year means increased prosperity for British Columbia in general and East Kootenay in particular.

The day thot the Marysville smelter blows in should be the occasion for a big excursion to that town from Cranbrook.

Mr. Corbin is pushing the preliminary arrangements for his new road, and in every move that is made he has the best wishes of the people of South East Kootenay.

One of the important appropriations of the next session of the Dominion parliament will be one for a government building at Cranbrook, and what is more it will be a big appropriation, for the needs of this part of the district will require a large building.

There is one point of interest that Cranbrook people never show visitors and that is the provincial government building. The one now in use is often mistaken for the woodshed at the public schools.

The lumber business is improving in this district and that means that times are improving.

What are you, a booster or a knocker?

We had a notification from the post. master at Butte, Mont., the other day to the effect that the paper addressed to Sam Mitchell was refused. That is an old game. Sam Mitchell has been taking the Herald for several years and has not paid his subscription. He adopts this method of getting out of it. If his soul can stand such a contemptible act we can stand the loss of the money, but he can rest assured that S. Peter will have that account marked against him.

Watch Cranbrook grow.

The province of a newspaper is to give the news, promote the best interests of the community and avoid action that would tend to stir up unnecessary personal strife. Some editors labor under the unhappy delusion that they were placed in charge of a newspaper for the purpose of exploiting themselves, securing public revenge upon personal enemies, improving upon what the Lord has done and finding fault with the world, the town in which they live and the people with whom they associate day in and day out. But so long as a man owns a paper, just so long will he probably dictate a policy to suit himself. The world has been that way in the past and it will continue that way in the future. The difference in the man makes the difference in the papers.

A merchant who pays a price for an advertisement that is not warranted by the circulation of the paper in which the ad. is published is not following a good business policy. The Herald gives value received, and what is more, its subscription lists are always open for examination by any advertiser seeking information along that line.

By the way, have you paid your subscription to the Herald this year? And speaking of paying subscriptions, is it not strange that a man can take a paper year after year and ignore subscription statements? Such an individual must have an exalted opinion of himself and imagine that the mere fact that his name is on the list is sufficient honor to the paper without paying over any filthy lucre.

There are no very rich men in Cranbrook, but those who are here and have made any money, made most of what they possess right in this town. That speaks well for the place.

What a town Cranbrook will be in five years, unless the people here will it otherwise. The building of towns, like the building of reputations, depends to a great extent on the individuals interested. If the people of Cranbrook want a real town here, they can have it.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE OLD MAN

Moyie, after several struggles, has finally succeeded in reorganizing its board of trade. Good for Moyie. Cranbrook might well do something along this line. After holding a meeting a few months ago, attended by eight or tn people, tossing around a number of boquets and electing officers for the ensuing year, it adjourned to a long sleep and pleasant dreams.

Trout fishing is now on and Ananias has taken himself into seclusion.

Teach a boy to be absolutely reliable. That characteristic makes an excellent foundation stone for success.

A parent who will permit his boy to roam the streets instead of attending school is committing a crime against himself, his offspring and future generations. And we have a few guilty parents in Cranbrook.

Dr. Hirsch says that children shoud be well supplied with fairy tales, and a Denver paper adds that many of them are by listening to papa's explanations to mamma at the breakfast table as to what kept him out so late the night before.

Easter services and bonnets were more attractive than ever in Cranbrook this year.

P. Mathieson is the promoter of a new sidewalk on Armstrong avenue and as usual a few people pay for it the reason there are no marriages in heaven is that there are no men there.

There has been a great deal of useless discussion about accepting $100,000 gifts from J. D. Rockefeller owing to the taint on the money. If the baldheaded bilionaire will send a gift of $100,000 to the Old Man, he will never have his feelings hurt by bitter comments as to how he made the money.

During the past week some cold blooded individuals with brutal minds and barbaric instincts have been throwing "hokey-pokey" on harmless dogs about town simply to hear the poor, tortured animals yelp in pain. If there is a law that will reach such people it should be brought into action. To torture a poor, helpless dumb brute for the fiendish delight of seeing suffering is the act of a brute, and the guilty one should receive a dose on his own back, bared for the purpose.

A number of the eligible bachelors of Cranbrook received an advertisement last night at the Old Maids' convention that was nearly as good as if it had been published in the Herald.

There is a vast difference in being an old maid in fun and an old maid in earnest.

It is good business for business men to stand together, as such a policy is bound to make better business for all concerned.

It is often said that "Billy" McInnis is the best talker in British Columbia. If he lands that Yukon governorship he will have reason to believe that talking pays.

You are going to hear a lot of healthy kicking in Cranbrook as well as in many other towns in this province when the new school act goes into effect. It will hurt when the tax notices show the effect of raising $2,000 to $3,000 in a small community like Cranbrook to carry on our schools, especially when all the other money that is raised here in the same manner goes to the coast and only a small proportion of it comes back again.

RAMBLING REVERIES

BY A DREAMER.

GOOD AND BAD TRAINING.

Isn't it queer things that comes to our minds oft times? Here we behold little girls decked out in all the intricate labyrinth of tucks, ruffles, drawn work; shirring, smocking, piping, embroidery; with their soft hair tortured into bangs, frizzes, crimps, curls, waves, braids, puffed, rolled or pompadoured, as the case may be, or as Dame Fashion may decree. While under that stylish thatch the busy little brain is teeming with the seeds of vanity, self-love, pride, envy, discontent, jealousy, as ignorant of the tender lessons taught by Him who who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me for of such is the kingdom of heaven," as if they had been orphaned in early infancy. Mothers, we appeal to you to put more time into the culture of character of your children and less time on their dress and mere outward appearance. "The soul alone enduures," and to you it is given more especially to train immortal souls for eternal happiness or misery. We see children often who have never been taught the principal of doing unto others as they would wish to be done by," nor simply trust and love him who tenor their duty to their parents, tenderly placed his hands on their heads, their elders and to the poor. It is in the early days of their young lives shat these lessons should be taught, while their hearts are tender and their natures plastic, and it is the mother who should sow the seeds in the infant minds which are to spring up in after years in the shape of firm principles of rectitude, truth, charity courage, honesty and all that makes a man or woman worthy or beloved.

Home should never be the place where business should be discussed—except for a very short time. Mother has had all the troubles during the day that are good for her without being compalled to listen to the troubles of her husband. Father has had enough cares while acting in the capacity of bread winner for the family without having all the details of the home troubles of the day put on his plate to digest for his evening meal. Discussing the doleful from morning until night is enough to set one crazy. Home is the place to show how good you feel. If you don't feel as good as you would like to, take a walk in the back yard until you get into a condition that will permit you to be a comfort to those to whom you are in dutybound to be a comforter.

The most of the things of this life may be set to music, but people get the wrong tune and sing Naomi or Windham when they ought to set things to the music of Mount Pisgah and Coronation. We may not all of us have the means to graduate at Harvard, Yale or Oxford, but there is college at which all of us graduate—the college of hard knocks. Misfortune, Fatigue and Disaster are the professors; cuffs and blows are the curriculum; the day we leave the world is our graduation; some sit down and cry; some turn their faces to the wall and pout; others stand stand up and conquer. Happy the bee that even under leaden skies looks for blossoming flowers. Wise the fowl that, instead of standing in the snow with one foot drawn up under the wing, ceases not all day to pick.

FAULT FINDING.

A man would get a very false notion of his standing among his friends and acquaintances if it were possible—as many would like to have it possible—to know what is said of him behind his back. One day he would go about in a glow of self-esteem and the next he would be bowed under a miserable sense of misapprehension and disgust.

It would have been impossible for him to put this and that together and "strike an average." The fact is there is a strange human tendency to take the present friend into present confidence. With strong natures this tendency proves often a stumbling block; with weak natures it amounts to fickleness.

Never employ yourself to discover the faults of others—look to your own. You had better find out one of your own faults than ten of your neighbor's. When a thing does not suit you think of some pleasant quality in it. There is nothing so bad as it might be. Whenever you catch yourself in a fault-finding remark say some approving one in the same breath, and you will soon be cured. Some of the best of us have too many infirmities to answer for, says Dean Swift, we ought not to be too severe upon those of others; and, therefore, if our brother is in trouble we ought to help him without inquiring overseriously what produced it. True worth does not exult in the faults of others; as true refinement turns away from grossness and deformity, instead of being tempted to indulge in an unmanly triump over it.

It would be well if, not only in looking at our own condition, but at other people, we set out the sparkle instead of the gloom. With five hundred faults of our own, we ought to let somebody else have at least one. When there is such excellent hunting on our own ground, let us not with rifle and greyhound pack spend all our time in scouring our neighbor's lowlands. We are afraid the imperfection of other people may kill us yet How much better, like the sun, to find light wherever we look.

FERNIE ANNEX

Fernie has outgrown her limits and as a result

THE CROWS NEST PASS ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER COMPANY, LTD.,

has laid out a townsite along the line of Railway, the Great Northern, to be known as the "Fernie Annex" and which adjoins the present or original townsite of Fernie. The land is within the municipality of the City of Fernie and comprises about 550 lots. Lots in the present or original townsite of Fernie which originally

Sold for $250 are worth $4,000 to $5,000 today

The advent of the Great Northern Railway has given an additional impulse to the already rapid growth of Fernie and it was the work of necessity to lay out this new townsite to meet the urgent demand for residential lots. The new lots will be placed on the market about the 1st May, but full particulars with exact date of sale will be announced in the next week's issue of this paper.

Plans will be furnished on application.

Straight from London

comes the news that Double Breasted Sack Suits are in vogue again.

We had the hint months ago—had our designers create styles that even London's famous West End tailors might envy.

There's nothing in England handsomer than the Fit-Reform Sacks.

3 button—loose backs—big, broad shoulders—wide roll collars and lapels.

Imported Scotch, Irish and West of England Tweeds—and Blue Serges.

$15, $18, $20 up to $30.

A Dollar in Value For a Dollar in Money

That is what every man asks for in this world, and self protection and self interest warrants the demand. The retail buyer demands it in his purchases, and the merchant who fails to give "a dollar value for a dollar in money" will soon be out of business.

The retailer, in turn, must seek the dollar value in all his purchases. Advertising is a part of his purchases. It is a recognized factor in building up and maintaining a business in Cranbrook, as well as in other towns. Results have demonstrated that the judicious advertiser has the advantage over the man who fails to advertise.

Therefore it behooves the business man to get his dollar value in buying his advertising. The Cranbrook Herald charges $1 per inch per month for its advertising space, and its circulation in the country tributary to Cranbrook guarantees a dollar in value for every dollar expended. An advertisement in the Herald brings results. This has been proven by all who try it, simply because the Herald is read by the people who patronize the Cranbrook merchants. The basis given by newspaper experts as to the number of readers for each paper printed is five. On that basis the Herald would have nearly 4,000 readers in the territory tributary to Cranbrook. But cut that down to 2,500, and that is fair and legitimate. That means that every issue of the Herald is read by 2,500 people who, during the year, make purchases of Cranbrook business men. That is why the Herald can give the dollar value for every dollar expended. The Phoenix Pioneer is one of the best papers in the province, but as an advertising medium for Cranbrook merchants its space would not be worth five cents per inch. The Golden Star is another excellent paper, but Cranbrook merchants could not afford to patronize its columns for the reason that it has no circulation in the territory tributary to Cranbrook. Neither of these papers could give the Cranbrook merchant the circulation. Circulation is the basis of value in estimating the worth of advertising. The Herald has the circulation, and, what is more, its lists are open to inspection by its advertisers at any time. The Herald is not asking for advertising on the basis of friendship, but simply from a cold business standpoint, from the standpoint of a dollar value for a dollar paid. The Herald circulation is not a pig in the poke proposition. Any advertiser can satisfy himself by the subscription books, and he is privileged to visit the press rooms and secure the proof by watching the counter as the papers are turned out.

A dollar value for a dollar paid is the policy of the Herald, and no Cranbrook advertiser can afford to overlook the fact.

F. E. SIMPSON,
Editor and Manager.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mr. Jones, the well known hotel keeper of Wardner, was in town yesterday.

George Leitch came down from Marysville Monday evening to attend the ball.

Miss Ethel Peverelli left Wednesday morning for a couple of weeks vacation at Calgary and Banff.

Remember the football game at Marysville Wednesday evening, May 3, Cranbrook vs. Marysville.

Mr. McRea, the C. P. R. agent at Marysville, was among the outsiders who attended the hospital ball.

Messrs. Hagerman and Moffat and Misses Webster and Rutley left today for a visit to N. Hanson's place at Wasa.

Bradley & Co. are doing some fine painting these days. They are now engaged on several large contracts. Paint that stays evidently pays, and people building want the best as it is always cheapest in the long run.

The incorporation question will be settled next week at Victoria, one way or the other. Those who are informed say that the counter petition contained about as many names, property considered, as the original petition.

Arrangements have been made for a big time at Marysville next Wednesday evening. The Cranbrook football team will play the Marysville team and later there will be a ball at the Falls View hotel. Rigs will leave Cranbrook for Marysville about three o'clock in the afternoon, returning after the dance.

BRINGING IN FORTUNES.

The Calgary Herald says: Theodore Knappen is here after a tour of the western middle states and says on many days trains with from 300 to 500 settlers leave St. Paul over the Soo line for the territories. Some settlers have as much as $20,000 in cash.

THE HOSPITAL BALL.

For several years the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Eugene hospital have given a ball soon after Easter for the benefit of the hospital, and the receipts each year have been ample evidence of the appreciation of the people of Cranbrook of such an institution being located here. This year in point of numbers in attendance at the ball and net proceeds, the ball has proven a greater success than ever before, and the result is a credit to Mrs. E. H. Small, president of the society, and her able assistants. The total receipts were $255.20, and the expenses $42.75, leaving the handsome balance of $212.45, which has been turned over to the Sisters. The ball was given on Monday evening and the hall was crowded almost to the suffocation point. Never before had the place looked prettier. Everything in the way of decorative material in the store of Hill & Co. kindly loaned for the occasion by Mr. W. D. Hill, and under the artistic direction of Mr. E. H. Small plain walls and unattractive ceilings were transformed into pretty panels of harmonious color combinations. The music was exceptionally good and the supper was all that could be desired. Taken in every way the ball was a great success, and all present had a most enjoyable evening.

ROAD UP THE ST. MARYS.

If the business men of Cranbrook fully realized the importance of a road up the St. Marys valley they would not rest until work had been started. The building of the smelter at Marysville has made the need of this wagon road greater than ever. There are valuable properties in that valley and properties that would be worked if it were possible to get in supplies at a reasonable rate. The trade that would follow the development of that valley would be enormous, and that trade can be easily secured by Cranbrook business men when it is open. What is needed now is a wagon road. The board of trade should take up the matter, the business men as individuals should take up the matter, and every individual in Cranbrook should take up the matter until the government would be forced to make an appropriation for this improvement in self defense. It is a movement like this that the Herald refers to when it insists on the people of Cranbrook standing together. It is not only a road up the St. Marys valley, but there are other improvements that will benefit the town but none of these improvements will be secured if the people sit quietly down and wait until they come along. Let us have the road up the valley as a starter. What do you say? Do you want it, or are you indifferent?

THE OLD MAIDS' CONVENTION.

The Old Maids Convention convened last evening at Wentworth hall proved to be one of the most laughable and enjoyable entertainments ever given in Cranbrook by home talent. The hall was crowded and when the curtain went up there was presented to the curious view of the audience a bevy of females that in dress and general appearance were, to say the least, alarmingly striking and extremely ridiculous. One was impressed with the idea of fashion plates in the time of our forefathers, and too much praise cannot be given for the originality displayed by the ladies in the costumes prepared. From beginning to end the proceedings of the convention were pleasingly mirthful and interesting to all. It is not an easy task to arrange an entertainment on such an elaborate scale, and now they did it in such a short time is a mystery. The Herald would like to go more into detail if it had the time and space, but will have to be content with the statement that the work of all was meritorious in the extreme, and that the ladies who participated are deserving of unstinted praise.

NOTES ON PORTLAND EXPOSITION.

Foundations are being laid for an annex to the Administration building and for the postoffice and express office at the Lewis and Clark exposition.

Elaborate clusters of electric lights representing the final touches to the Bridge of Nations are now being placed in position.

All exhibits for California's participation in the exposition were shipped from that state April 15.

The famous Boston-Montana band of 35 pieces, composed entirely of underground miners from Butte, Mont., will attend the exposition. The band was organized twenty years ago and ranks with the best musical organizations of the country.

Two men who will participate in the rock drilling contests at the exposition enjoy enviable records. In fifteen minutes this team drilled through 37 inches of hard, tough granite. They are husky miners from the Galice district in Southern Oregon.

A large tower is being erected over Guild's Lake at the exposition. Upon this will be placed a searchlight, the rays of which will be cast about the grounds at night and greatly enhance the lighting features of the centennial.nial.

A feature of the Oriental displays at the exposition will be a large sandalwood temple which attracted much attention in the East India building at the St. Louis exposition. The building has been shipped and will be erected at the centennial within another week.

FROM IRELAND.

Castle Coote, Roscommon, Ireland,
April 10, 1905.

My dear Simpson:—I would feel obliged if you would kindly send my paper to the above address as it is probable I shall be here for some time as it is hard to get me away from the old sod, even though we Irishmen are always fighting like the devil for conciliation and hating each other for the love of God. We are having very good weather here now. It is plaisant to hear the birds singing once again, for though we are well favored in East Kootenay in many things, yet there are very few of the feathered songsters that make spring time in the old country so enjoyable. I am glad to see by the Herald that the future for East Kootenay in general and Cranbrook in particular is brighter than ever. I don't think I am wrong in saying that if the outlook was not bright it would be something very unusual.

With very best wishes, I remain yours faithfully,

John F. Adams.

Synopsis of Regulations for disposal of Minerals on Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 2 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—Persons of eighteen years and over and joint stock companies holding free miner's certificates may obtain entry for a mining location.

A free miner's certificate is granted for one or more years, not exceeding five, upon payment in advance of $5.00 per annum for an individual and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500X1500 feet, by marking out the same with two legal posts, bearing location notices one at each end on the line of the lode or vein.

The claim must be recorded within fifteen days if located within ten miles of a mining recorders' office, one additional day allowed for every additional ten miles or fraction. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereon. When $500 has been expended or paid the locator may upon having a survey made, and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1.00 an acre.

Permission may be granted by the Minister of the Interior to locate claims containing iron and mica, also copper, in the Yukon Territory, of an area not exceeding 160 acres.

The patent for a mining location shall provide for the payment of royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent of the product of the location.

Placer Mining.—Manitoba and the N. W. T. excepting the Yukon Territory.—Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square, entry fee $5, renewable yearly. In the North Saskatchewan river claims are either bar or beach, the former being 100 feet long and extending between high and low water marks. The latter includes bar diggings, but extends back to the base of the higher bank, not exceeding 100 feet. Where a mechanical dredge is used, claims 200 feet wide may be obtained.

Dredging in the rivers of Manitoba and the N. W. T., excepting the Yukon Territory.—A free miner may obtain only two leases of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable in the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bed or bars of the river below low water mark, and subject to the rights of all persons who have, or who may receive entries for mining diggings on beach claims, except on the Saskatchewan river, where the lessee may dredge to high water mark on each alternate leasehold.

The lessee shall have a dredge for operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles, but where a person or company has obtained more than one lease one dredge for each fifteen miles or fraction is sufficient. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile on river leased. Royalty at the rate of two and a half per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Dredging in the Yukon Territory.—Six leases of five miles each may be granted to a free miner for a term of twenty years, also renewable.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bed or bars in the river below low water mark, that boundary to be fixed by its position on the 1st day of August in the year of the date of the lease.

The lessee shall have one dredge in operation within two years from the date of the lease, and one dredge for each five miles within six years from such date. Rental, $10 per mile for first year, and $10 per mile for each subsequent year. Royalty same as placer mining.

Placer Mining in the Yukon Territory.—Creek, gulch, river and hill claims shall not exceed 500 feet in length, measured on the base line or general direction of the creek or gulch, the width being from 1,000 to 2,000 feet. All other placer claims shall be 250 feet square.

Claims are marked by two legal posts, one at each end, bearing notices. Entry must be obtained within ten days, if the claim is within ten miles of mining recorder's office. One extra day allowed for each additional ten miles or fraction.

The person or company staking a claim must hold a free miner's certificate.

The discoverer of a new mine is entitled to a claim of 1,000 feet in length, and if the party consists of two, 1,500 feet all one way, on the output of which no royalty shall be charged, the rest of the party ordinary claims only.

Entry fee $10. Royalty at the rate of two and one half per cent on the value of the gold shipped from the Yukon Territory to be paid to the Comptroller.

No free miner shall receive a grant of more than one mining claim on each separate river creek or gulch, but the same miner may hold any number of claims by purchase, and free miners may work their claims in partnership by filing notice and paying fee of $5. A claim may be abandoned, and another obtained on the same creek, gulch or river, by giving notice and paying a fee.

Work must be done on a claim each year to the value of at least $200.

A certificate that work has been done must be obtained each year, if not, the claim shall be deemed to be abandoned, and open to occupation and entry by a free miner.

The boundaries of a claim may be defined absolutely by having a survey made and publishing notices in the Yukon Official Gazette.

Petroleum.—All unappropriated Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and within the Yukon Territory are open to prospecting for petroleum, and the minister may reserve for an individual or company having machinery on the land to be prospected, an area of 640 acres. Should the prospector discover oil in paying quantities, and satisfactorily establish such discovery, an area not exceeding 640 acres, including the oil well and such other land as may be determined, will be sold to the discoverer at the rate of $1.00 an acre, subject to royalty at such rate as may be specified by order-in-council

FROM THE DEAD LETTER OFFICE

By JAMES SPENSER

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

The doctor had told young James Ridgely to hunt up a quiet place and give himself six weeks' rest, and Cressville was the locality selected. The young man found himself the only stranger in the village.

While he proceeded to rest the villagers proceeded to size him up. At the end of a week Josiah Flint, who could tell the difference between a potato buyer and a lightning rod man forty rods away, announced that he was satisfied. Young Ridgely belonged to neither class mentioned, said Josiah, but was the son of a banker and therefore a perfect gentleman.

His announcement was followed by that of Miss Ruth Williams, who was also satisfied. Miss Ruth had seen her twenty-fifth birthday. She was the daughter of a poor but proud widow. She herself was also poor, but proud. The widow did dressmaking and millinery and was assisted by her daughter. Poor but proud people must do something to earn their bread and butter.

It was Miss Ruth's opinion that the young and good looking stranger was a missing heir and that he ought to be made to feel at home in Cressville while waiting to be "discovered." Her mother looked up from her work to add:

"Ruth, you are twenty-five years old."

"Well, you needn't throw it in my face," was the reply.

"You ought to get married."

"Well?"

"Set your cap for the stranger."

"I'm going to."

She did. She had been setting her cap for various and divers men since she was twenty, and if she hadn't met with luck it was not her fault. It had always happened that they died or got married to some one else or had to leave Cressville to avoid the sheriff.

The young man who had come to rest his nerves took long morning walks. Ruth Williams found out about it from the innkeeper's daughter and took a sunrise stroll. She took it in just the direction and just at the time to be rescued from an old lame horse by young Ridgely. He dashed forward like a hero and beat the old horse back, and Miss Ruth duly expressed her gratitude and almost fainted away. It was an auspicious beginning.

In three days more it was the talk of Cressville that Ruth Williams had "captured" the stranger. They went riding and walking together. She exhibited him to the neighbors and held her poor but proud head higher than ever before. At the end of the second week they were supposed to be engaged. If anybody had denied the rumor, it would have been asserted that young Ridgely had sat with her on the front piazza two successive evenings till after 9 o'clock.

"Ruth, have you got him?" asked the mother as the rumors reached her ears.

"He hasn't proposed yet, but"—

"I see. Ruth, don't let him get away."

Ruth didn't mean to; but, alas, young men will stray. Uncle Jason Davis was postmaster at Cressville, but as he was in bed with rheumatism and his wife had to nurse him his niece, Miss Betty Sweet, came over from Akron to help out in postal affairs. She was a girl of twenty and fairly good looking. She didn't set her cap for the stranger, but in his calls at the postoffice he became acquainted with her and at length asked her to go boat riding on the mill pond. She went, and the widow laid aside the hat she was trimming to say to her daughter:

"Ruth, that chit of a girl must be crushed."

"I shall crush her," replied the daughter.

But Betty Sweet refused to be crushed, and young Ridgely refused to devote his entire attention to either. He was having a mild flirtation to assist the recovery of his nerves, and time passed pleasantly.

On the evening previous to his departure he sat on the piazza with Ruth. She had arranged it so. The mother had gone to take home a dress, with orders to "hang out" as long as possible. It was an ideal evening for a proposal, and Ruth divided the subject into twenty-four parts and worked every one of them for all it was worth. It was in vain, however. The nearest the young man could be got to approach the dangerous subject was an admission that when he got married he should have hollyhocks in his front yard. When he finally left, he said he might write, and as the words were accompanied by a sigh Ruth felt that she was still justified in hoping on.

A week passed, and no letter came. Then a second week followed. At the end of that time Ruth understood how it was. A letter had arrived, but had been suppressed by Betty Sweet, who was, of course, determined to prevent a marriage. In another week it was public gossip that Betty had tampered with the mails. She denied it, of course. Some one thought it his duty to write to Washington about it, and it finally came about that an inspector arrived in Cressville and proceeded to inspect.

Ruth Williams had lodged no formal complaint. All she had said or would say was:

"Mr. Ridgely was to write me. He must have written. What has become of the letter?"

The inspector was forced to spend several days in listening and questioning. He might have doubled the days had not the dead letter office solved the mystery. It returned to Miss Ruth Williams of Cressville a letter that had been misdirected to Miss Ruth Willams of Copesville. She opened it in the presence of the inspector and fifty of the interested villagers. It was from young Ridgely, and it read:

My Dear Miss Ruth—One of my sleeve links has been missing since my return. Did I lose it on the piazza the last evening of my stay in your restful little town? With kind remembrances to all—

"This is not exactly a proposal," said the inspector as the letter was read.

"N-no," replied the blushing Ruth.

"But it may lead to one, and, while I congratulate you on the one hand, on the other I think you all owe an apology to Miss Sweet."

His Dog Identified Him.

Bank clerks naturally and necessarily require satisfactory identification of persons who ask to have checks cashed. The same rule is followed in the postoffice by clerks who cash money orders, but what the nature of the identification shall be and by whom are matters which rest to some extent in the discretion of the clerk. The Boston Herald tells a story in which a dog bore witness to his master's identity.

A Boston business man called at the postal order department to get an order cashed, but the clerk in attendance had only recently been appointed. He said the caller would have to be identified before payment could be made.

"Why, I have had hundreds of orders cashed here," he replied, with a show of impatience. "Isn't there some one here who knows me?"

"I'm the only one on duty just now. The others are out to luncheon," said the clerk.

"Will you take the inscription on my dog's collar as sufficient identification?" was asked.

"Yes; that will be acceptable."

The man whistled for his terrier and, taking him in his arms, "boosted" him up to the window. The clerk read the name and address on the collar and paid the order.

Comforting.

A clergyman who had recently been installed as the new pastor of an Episcopal church boasted of his broad mindedness and orthodoxy. His ambition was to become a popular clergyman. With this end in view he embraced every opportunity to announce the fact that his advice and good offices were at the service of any one, therefore, no matter of what creed, color or religion.

One day he was urgently requested to attend a house of sickness. On inquiry he discovered that the sick person was a Presbyterian. Regardless of this, however, he wended his way, entered the house as a good Samaritan and administered what spiritual relief he could to the patient. On leaving the house he encountered the wife of the invalid and remarked:

"I am very glad to have been of any comfort to your husband, my good woman, but tell me what made you send for me instead of your own minister?"

"Well, sir, you see," she replied, "it's typhus my poor husband has got, and I didn't think it just right for our own minister to run the risk."

Jack's Bride.

A bluejacket who was recently married gives the following description of his bride and her apparel:

"My wife is just as handsome a craft as ever left millinery drydock, is clipper built and with a figurehead not often seen on small craft. Her length of keel is 5 feet 8 inches and displaces twenty-seven cubic feet of air, of light draft, which adds to her speed in the ballroom, full in the waist, spars trim.

"At the time we were spliced she was newly rigged fore and aft with standing riggin' of lace and flowers, mainsail part silk, with forestaysail of valenciennes. Her frame was of the best steel covered with silk, with whalebone stanchions.

"This rigging is intended for fair weather cruising. She has also a set of storm sails for rough weather and is rigging out a small set of canvas for light squalls, which are liable to occur in this latitude sooner or later.

"I am told in running down the street before the wind she answers the helm beautifully and can turn in her own length if a handsomer craft passes her."

LOOKIN' BACK.

By Moira O'Neill.

Wathers o' Moyle an' the white gulls flyin'
Since I was near ye what have I seen?
Deep, great seas, an' a starong wind sighin'
Night an' day where the waves are green,
"Struthe na Molle," the wind goes sighin'
Over a waste o' wathers green.

Sternish an' Trostan, dark wi' heather,
High are the Rockies airy blue;
Sure, ye have snows in the winter weather,
Och, an' the shadows between the blue.

Lone Glen Dun an' the wild glen-flowers,
Little ye know it the prairie is sweet,
Roses for miles, an' redder than ours,
Spring here undher the horses' feet—
Aye, an' the black-eyed gold sunflowers;
Not as the glen flowers small an' sweet.

Wathers o' Moyle, I hear ye callin',
Clearer for half o' the world between,
Antrim hills an' the wet rain fallin',
While ye are nearer than snow tops keen.
Dreams o' the night an' a night wind callin',
What is the half o' the world between?

Sketch of Moira O'Neill.

"Moira O'Neill" is the pen-name of Mrs. Agnes Skrine, known to her intimate friends as "Nesta." She is one of a clever trio of sisters, a poet, while the others are artist and musician. We claimed her for several years as a Canadian, and some of her loveliest songs were written in the vicinity of Pincher Creek, within sight of the Rockies. Evidently the song quoted above had its inspiration in the scenery of our Northwest, which nature has framed on the grand scale, and which must present a profound contrast to the "glens of Antrim." Thither Mrs. Skrine has returned and there she is now living. Her poems have been published chiefly in Blackwood's Magazine and The Spectator. Her poetry is Irish of the Irish—tender, wistful, hovering on the borderland between tears and laughter, and as musical as an old Gaelic melody. It springs straight from life, a genuine growth of the Antrim glens. A small volume of her songs has been published by the Blackwoods.—Pharos, in The Globe.

THE OLD FAMILY CIRCLE.

Modern Distribution of the Various Members of an Ordinary Family.

Where is the home life that used to be? Where is the dad who sits in the circle and reads the paper to the family, and who is ready to discuss the style in hats or the price of corn in Egypt? He is a rare bird.

Where is the daughter Mary, who once was one of this family circle in the days of the used-to-be? Oh, Mary is upstairs getting ready to go to the opera. Her beau will be along in a minute.

Where is Tom, who used to be one of this happy circle that sat in the old-fashioned room before the wide-mouthed grate? Tom belongs to the Always Up and At 'Em Society, and is going out to-night to debate on the question, "Is It Right to Get Rich Quickly?"

And Jim?

Well, Jim, you see, is the wonderful master of the Ready to Aid Fraternal Association, and this is lodge night.

Then where is Bill?

Why, Bill is chief lamp-post holder of "The Stand On the Corner, Spit and Remark Club." This club meets nightly, and Bill is decorating the sidewalk.

But ma?

Oh, yes, mother is chief needle-keeper in "The Matrons Sew for the Shirtless Association," and ma is out at a meeting of the sewers.

But that rip in Bill's trousers? Hish! never a word.

Then what about Pa?

Well, dad is a true, faithful, and consistent member of two bodies, "The Sit Up With the Sick Friend Society" and the "I Must Go Out to See a Man Club."

So the key is left under the mat, and the cat minds house listening to the ticking of the clock and keeping his eye peeled on the rat-hole by the sink.

Oh! for the days of the good old home life, when fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers, enjoyed the delights of the family circle; when the chairs were drawn about and the old man romped with the kids and made a monkey of himself for their sake.

Say, dad, do you ever play with the youngster now, or do you go home from work, light your pipe, grab a paper, and draw yourself into your shell, or do you hike upstairs, take a wash, put on a clean collar, and scoot?

Do you know your child or do you push him away when he comes up and pulls your paper? Do you growl when he asks you: "Say, pa, what did the teacher mean when she said the earth moved? It ain't moving now."

Get up and have a romp, and answer the kid. You would answer a stranger on the street. Unbend. Kings have done it. Don't mind if you bag your trousers; there are tailor's irons. Let them muss your collars and rumple your hair; there are laundries and brushes and combs and mirrors.

And then, when the years draw down and your footsteps are faltering near the brink, when the light is dim and the road uncertain, do not be surprised if your arm is held and your feet are guided by some son some daughter you loved and romped with. Romping beats whipping.

"Yes, but don't I buy clothes and feed them?"

Yes, that is true. The farmer also feeds his pigs, blankets his horses. But you can't purchase a pound of fellowship or two pounds of love and romp at a store and send it home. You carry that, my friend, beneath your vest.—Charles F. Raymond, in Toronto Star.

The End of the World is coming and so is the end of the BIG SALE of the Morrow & McFarlane Stock

G. P. Tisdale, the fruit dealer, has leased the old stand; we promised to move two weeks ago; he has given us until the 30th to vacate; he is worrying our life out, so the directors have decided that Saturday, April 29th, is the last day they can possibly continue the BIG SALE. On that day we will close the grandest opportunity ever given the men and women of this district to buy far below eastern prices. With the thousands of people that have been taking advantage of the BIG SALE in the last two weeks, we are sure that it is generally known that we are selling cheaply. We want you to do a little thinking. Is there anything you need? If so, don't forget that on Saturday, April 29th, will be the BIG SALE of the Morrow & McFarlane stock, and your opportunity to buy at cost.

Mr. White, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff at Fernie, was in town over Sunday.

W. F. Tate has improved the appearance of his home by giving the house a new coat of paint.

Joe Patmore came down from Blairmore last week to spend a few days with his brothers in this town.

Mrs. Brock, one of the teachers in the public schools, is in Revelstoke this week attending the teachers' institute.

The subject in the Baptist church next Sunday will be "A Cry of Defiance." A cordial welcome is extended to all.

Mrs. M. Harshman, of Kalispell, Mont., and her sister-in-law, Mrs. F. A. Jones, were in town today on their way to Marysville for a short visit.

Dr. Bishop went down the road last Saturday to meet Mrs. Bishop and the boy, who have come to join the doctor here in Cranbrook and reside permanently.

That Fernie is growing is evidenced by the fact that the Coal company have put an addition to the town on the market and are selling lots rapidly.

Remember the football game at Marysville Wednesday evening, May 3, Cranbrook vs. Marysville.

John J. Moran was found guilty on Wednesday of purloining a roll of blankets from the Royal hotel and will spend six months as the guest of the provincial government in consequence.

C. H. Nelson, who is to take a position in C. E. Reid & Co's. drug store, is expected to arrive here the first of the week. He will be accompanied by his family.

N. E. Siddons, formerly of the firm of Manning & Siddons, has not made up his mind as to what he will do. His friends in Cranbrook hope that he will remain here permanently.

Mrs. H. P. Chenette, of Marysville, was in town several days this week visiting her husband, who is confined in St. Eugene hospital, but who is now much better.

Misses Hazel and Edith Lund passed through town last Saturday for Wardner from Nelson, where they are attending school, to spend the Easter holidays with their father.

Fresh onion sets at Fink Bros.

Vic Rollins has received a letter from his brother Will to the effect that their father is still in a very precarious condition and that it will be several days before it can be definitely determined as to his chances for final recovery.

Every Odd Fellow in Cranbrook is invited to come to the hall next Sunday morning to participate in the services commemorating the 86th anniversary. The members will go from the hall to the Methodist church, where the services will be held, Rev. Thompson having been selected to deliver the sermon this year.

Duncan MacFarlane was in town Monday on his return to Marysville from Ontario, where he spent the winter. Mr. MacFarlane did not say much but there was a pleasant smile on his face when he got off the train as evidence of the fact that he was glad indeed to be back once more in the Kootenays. The cent belt is all right for a visit, but after a man has lived in the west for a few years he does not care to remain permanently in the east.

T. M. Roberts has been in the hills the past week with the McVittie surveying party.

The street sprinkler is getting in its fine work much to the relief of the people on windy days.

A number of Cranbrook people went to Wardner today to attend a dance given by Mr. Ryan at the Wardner hotel.

Archie Smith has been discharged from the hospital and is rapidly improving. He expects to be able to resume work within a short time.

Mrs. John Hutchison has left the east for Cranbrook with her son and will arrive some time next week. Mr. Hutchison has secured the Forbes residence for his future home.

Messrs. Chenette and McNeal, of the Falls View hotel of Marysville, will give a ball on the evening of May 3d. Every arrangement will be made to give those attending an enjoyable evening.

F. J. Smyth, of the Moyie Leader, was in town yesterday and today. Mr. Smyth says that the weather is ideal at Moyie this time of the year, and that the fishermen have been having splendid luck.

Mrs. A. W. McVittie and children are expected in a few days to take up their residence in Cranbrook again. Mr. McVittie has leased the Downes home for a year and is here now preparing for the arrival of his family.

H. D. Curtis, the new manager of the electric and water works companies, arrived last week and has assumed the duties of his position. Mr. Curtis comes from Slocan and has brought his family with him. They will occupy the house to be vacated by Mr. Stocks.

Remember the football game at Marysville Wednesday evening, May 3, Cranbrook vs. Marysville.

There has been a slight change in the closing arrangements. The stores will be kept open Saturday nights, C. P. R. paynights, nights preceding holidays and Wednesday nights. Other nights all stores will close promptly at six o'clock. This seems to be a fair arrangement to all concerned.

There has been some good work done by the constables in clearing the town of a most undesirable class but there should be no let up to the good work. Cranbrook has been a great haven for this class and they will not stay away unless they are made to understand that Cranbrook air is unhealthy.

When you build that house let us talk to you about heat. Patmore Bros.

A number of big hearted young men are arranging to give a benefit ball on the evening of May 23rd to assist Mrs. Thompson. A more commendable move could not be made. The little woman is in poor health, she has two children, and she works like a slave day after day without any word of complaint. A ball for this purpose should be one that every person who knows the facts would be anxious to patronize by the purchase of a ticket. It is acts like this that convince all of us that the world is good and worth living in, and the Herald hopes that the supply of tickets for this event will soon run out.

MOYIE.

(From the Leader.)

"Dick" McClure is applying for a hotel license near Yahk.

W. L. Reid, formerly of Moyie, is now a resident of East Spokane, Wash.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. V. Desaulnier Wednesday morning.

Mrs. W. R. Stone left Monday for her old home in Omro, Wis., for a visit.

Dr. Harvie won the $25 fishing rod which was raffled by Joe Baker Tuesday night.

Joseph Sterrit, district manager P. Burns & Co., was up from Cranbrook Tuesday.

Joseph Niederstadt is again making beer in his brewery, and the first batch will be on sale next week. Mr. Niederstadt is one of Moyie's best citizens and he should be given every encouragement by the people living here.

THE GUN CLUB.

The Moyie gun club held its weekly shoot yesterday afternoon, and the following is a list of the contestants andthe number of clay pigeons broken by each out of a possible 25:

Armstrong	19
Campbell	17
Cameron	13
Hill	10
Smyth	10

Cameron won the final contest by breaking 19 out of 23 birds.

BOARD OF TRADE REORGANIZED.

At last the Moyie Board of Trade has been reorganized. At a recent meeting C. A. Foote, R. T. Howard and J. H. Hawke were elected to do missionary work in behalf of the board and to call a meeting for the purpose of reorganizing. Last night in Eagle hall a very enthusiastic meeting was held and the best of harmony and goodwill prevailed. All were in favor of reorganizing, and this work was at once proceeded with Following is a list of the new officers:

P. J. McMahon, president.
F. J. Smyth, vice-president.
E. A. Hill, secretary-treasurer.

Executive Committee—A. P. Macdonald, C. A. Foote, J. H. Hawke and Joseph Niederstadt. The president, vice-president and secretary are also members of the executive committee.

F. E. Simpson, the strenuous editor of the Cranbrook Herald, came up to Moyie last Saturday and spent a few hours mingling with the people of the silver-lead city. Simpson is a good mixer and possesses the knack of making friends wherever he goes. He is broad minded, and the Herald under his management has always represented every portion of the district fairly and impartially. Moyie has always received excellent treatment from him.

FORT STEELE.

(From the Prospector.)

V. Hyde Baker, Cranbrook, was in town Saturday last.

Mrs. J. Taenhauser and Mrs. R. Fraser were Cranbrook visitors on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. McVittie and Robert Little were Cranbrook visitors on Monday.

George Goldie, Cranbrook, was a guest at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. McVittie during the easter holidays.

Mr. George Scott and family left on Friday for Tobacco Plains where they will reside in the future.

Mr. Fred Binmore went up Wild Horse creek Sunday. He reports that placer operations have commenced on the Fisher lease.

A. W. Chisholm was up from Bull river Wednesday. He reports that active operations will commence on the power plant between May 1st and 10th.

Fears are expressed from all mining camps in South East Kootenay that there will be a scarcity of water for mining purposes this summer owing to the unusually light snowfall of the past winter.

WINDERMERE.

(From the Wilmer Outcrop.)

C. A. Blacklock arrived in Windermere with Capt. Armstrong from Golden on Monday and left on Tuesday's stage for Cranbrook.

Geo. Wilmer returned to Athalmar by Monday's stage after an absence of more than two years and his many friends are glad to welcome him back. Since leaving here he has traveled in many countries, going as far as New Zealand, but like so many others he is glad to return to this valley.

It is stated that the Columbia River Lumber company has quite decided to employ 300 men in this vicinity next season, and already are preparing their plans. This will insure a lively camp and gives our ranchers an opportunity to display their enterprise by planting large crops of all kinds.

Once more the Outcrop is its ownself again. After waiting more than two months for a "roller mould" to reach this Palace by awfully slow freight we got weary and borrowed a length of Mr. Starke's water piping—and here we are full size. Perhaps no printer ever before thought of using a rain-spout as a roller mould, but in the mountains printers have to fall in line with the rest of folks and do some tall rustling at times—our water-spout roller is a good one and we don't give a care now whether our new mould gets across the continent before the century wanes or not—such is life in the west.

FERNIE.

(From the Free Press.)

The new bridge at Morrissey which is about completed is a firstclass structure.

W. R. Hibbard and family left yesterday for Whitefish, Mont., where they will reside.

Malcolm McInnes was so far recovered on Tuesday as to be able to proceed to Calgary.

General Manager Lindsey leaves on Wednesday for California to bring Mrs. Lindsey and his two sons to Fernie. They will arrive here by way of Victoria, about the 10th of May.

C. H. Powell, inspector of the C. P. R. telegraph, was in the city this week making arrangements for installing the commercial office in the L. T. W. block. It is expected that a lady operator will be employed.

The government sale of logs at the McRae Lumber mill, Hosmer, was held on Monday by A. Joyce. The logs were put up for $390 taxes due and A. Black, the new owner of the mill bought them in at that figure.

BLOWN TO PIECES.

A man named Hiram P. Thrall was literally blown to pieces near Crows Nest on Saturday. Thrall was employed at the powder magazine of the Breckenridge & Lund railway construction camp two miles west of the summit. A rough cabin was used to store the dynamite in and it is supposed that the explosion occurred during the process of thawing some of the sticks. The explosion was very severe. The cabin was blown to atoms, little pieces of boards being scattered on all sides for a great distance. No trace, not even the minutest, could be found of the stove. The trunk of the man's body whs found 100 feet up the slight incline where a stump its progress. The head arms and legs were blown in other directions. Little pieces of the man's red sweater were found for a great distance on all sides of the scene of the terrible explosion.

THE FERNIE BREWERY SOLD.

The Fort Steele Brewing company has purchased the entire interest in the Fernie brewery. The deal was put through a few days ago and the new owners are now in possession. The consideration was about $11,000. N. Klausman, the late manager of the Fernie brewery, is still employed to complete some necessary work there. The new owners purpose closing the plant for the time. Much of the equipment will be used in connection with the old plant on Coal Creek where the production of beer has lately increased very much. Later, when it is expected the demand will overtake the capacity of this plant the new brewery will be run again under the new management.

WILL BE READY MAY FIRST.

The Elk Lumber and Manufacturing company are making good headway with their new plant and the wheels of the big concern will likelybe turning by May 1st. The planer is keeping step with the other departments but some of its machinery has not yet arrived which may delay its completion. A very complete system of double track tramways are being put in for conveying the lumber from the mill to the yard and back again to the planer. Some improvements are being made on the natural log course north of the bridge. The angles and points are being straightened out, which greatly improves its appearance.

SOLD THE SEASON'S CUT.

The Fernie Lumber company has sold its entire lumber cut for the season to Christy & Co., wholesale dealers, of Winnipeg. Mr. Christy, the head of the firm, was in the city on Monday and Tuesday completing deal. The Winnipeg firm has bought all the lumber the mill will cut during the year and also the stock of lumber now on hand. This will amount to four million feet and probably a good deal more than that. While the price has not been made public it is understood that the lumber sold at a good figure. This mill is turning out an exceptionally good grade of lumber this season.

A DRUMMER IN TROUBLE.

L. Frooman, drummer for the Dundas Axe company, who for several days spent his money very freely in the city, nearly got into serious trouble this week, He ran out of money and asked C. Richards and J. Yorghart to endorse a draft on his firm for $150. This they did and afterwards they wired the firm to see if it was all right. Word came back that they would not honor the draft and the authorities at Cranbrook were wired to have Frooman arrested there. Last night he came up for trial but a satisfactory arrangement was arrived at and the case was not prosecuted.

(From the Ledge.)

It is reported that the colliery at Carbonado will be closed down, and the force at Michel curtailed with a view of vastly increasing the force at Coal Creek mines and the production of coke in Fernie. If the report is true the company is probably aiming at the concentration of its production where most profitable.

The hotels celebrated Easter Sunday by elaborate dinners. The tables in the hotel Fernie were decorated with cut flowers from Spokane, the gift of Mrs. T. Rookes.

E. H. Bird, manager of the Bank of Commerce, has been transferred to Nanaimo. T. P. May, formerly of Sandon and Dawson city, will be the new mvnager in Fernie.

David Clark, of Pellatt avenue, was probably fatally injured on Monday forenoon while clearing land across the river with a stumping machine. The dog or linch pin came out and he was struck and carried with the sweep of the stump receiving terrible injuries in the pelvic region. He was taken to his home suffering untold agony, and at the time of writing is not expected to live. Mr. Clark is 55 years old and an old resident of Fernie.

Incorporation For Cranbrook

At last the question of incorporation for Cranbrook has been settled. W. F. Gurd, who has been acting as solicitor for the committee appointed at a public meeting held about a year ago, received a telegram yesterday afternoon announcing the fact that an order in council had passed at Victoria granting the application for the incorporation of Cranbrook. To some this will be good news, to others it won't be received with any degree of gratification while there are still more who had no preferences either way. Fortunately there has been no hard feelings over the matter from the start. The question has been discussed for the past four years, but about a year ago a large number of the property owners thought that it was time for action on the matter, and with this idea in view prevailed upon the Board of Trade to call a special meeting to discuss the question in its entirety. The meeting was one of the largest ever held in Cranbrook and the discussion was very free and open on both sides of the question. A vote was finally taken and the result was very nearly unanimous in favor of incorporation. A committee was then appointed and Mr. Dennis, land commissioner for the C. P. R, was seen as to his views. He wrote frankly that although the laws of British Columbia rendered it impossible to secure incorporate rights on a small scale, yet he was of the opinion that Cranbrook had arrived at the stage when some step should be taken to secure local government. Then the matter rested for several months as the signatures of the trustees of the townsite had not been secured. Two of these were finally secured, but at this juncture a counter petition was circulated and when quite a number of signitures had been secured it was sent to Victoria with a hope that it would arrest any further movement toward incorporation. In this way the matter was presented to the government and yesterday decision was rendered by the passage of the order in council granting the application for incorporation.

The next move will be the issuing of the letter of patent for the new municipality of Cranbrook, and this will be done as soon as practical, which will be within the next week or ten days. The letter patent incorporating a municipality shall specify the name, limits, extent, and nature of such municipality, the number of the Municipal Council, what number shall form a quorum thereof, the qualification of the members of the first council to be elected. the time and manner of electing the first council, the returning officer of the first election, the polling places, the day on which the council shall first meet, and such other provisions as may be necessary for the establishment of such municipality. In all probability the election will be held within a month's time. The qualification of an elector will be a property qualification in addition to the regular qualifications of a voter on other occasions. As to candidates there is a property qualification also. In the municipal elections it looks as if the ladies holding property will be allowed to vote.

Who will be candidates is an unsolved problem. The names of G. T. Rogers, R. E. Beattie, G. T. Cory, Jacob Fink, J. E. McNabb, V. Hyde Baker, Tom Gill, and Dr. J. H. King have been suggested for the mayoralty. Any one of these men would be safe men, and with a good council would do much for the advancement of Cranbrook's interests. What Cranbrook wants for the first year is a strong council and a clean one. The slogan should go forth that no grafters need apply. This is a case where citizenship and local patriotism should rank first, and the name of any man who has been even in the shadow of graft should not be considered. It is not a case of politics, or of religion; it is a case of good business.

The Herald has a firstclass job plant, and its work is of the best. The Herald don't want charity. It wants a square deal on your job work. If we can't suit you in quality and price, kick, and send your work to some Cheap John house in the east that never spends a cent in Cranbrook.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Herald editor has received two anonymous letters the past week, which had slurring remarks about the policy of the Herald. There is hardly an individual on earth a bigger coward than the writer of an unsigned letter. The publisher of a newspaper is giving utterance of opinions in each issue. It is quite natural that those opinions do not meet with the approval of all, and the columns of the Herald are always open to the free discussion of any public question. But the writer of anonymous letters never avails himself of the opportunity of a public discussion. To do that would be manly.

The $100 tax on commercial men coming to British Columbia is raising hob with the commercial hotels. Here in Cranbrook it is felt as several travelers have passed right through the town the past week who have always stopped here heretofore. The hotels have lost their business and the business men have lost just that much of the hotel trade. The tax is a two edged sword and it cuts coming and going, much to the detriment of the province.

Let us have peace in Canada and prosperity.

If you desire to talk to the people of this district about what you have to sell the most efficient medium is the Herald. It has the circulation and it can make good on any statement made by showing up its subscription books. That is the proof of the pudding.

The Corbin road is the key that will open this section of the country to the south and bring increased prosperity to Cranbrook.

There are some weekly newspapers in British Columbia that don't deserve any support from the people of the town in which they are published. A newspaper publisher should try to give value received for every dollar that he takes in.

East Kootenay is a poor place to start any kind of official grafting. The people of this district don't want any of that kind of business in theirs.

Andrew Carnegie has given $10,000,000 to indigent college professors. Now, if he wants to get rid of the rest of his roll and die a poor man, he should establish a fund for broken down and busted newspaper men.

It is the news that a paper don't publish that causes many people to be thankful.

Lowry, of the Fernie Ledge, and Smyth, of the Moyie Leader, are devoting considerable space these days to the discussion of female lingerie and the possibilities of dressing a woman on $65 a year.

There are all kinds of opportunities in South East Kootenay for the small farmer. It has been demonstrated that this district has the right climate for fruit raising, that it is an ideal place for the raising of poultry since it has the best of markets right at hand, and for a pleasant home there is not a more attractive section on earth than right around Cranbrook. Fifty to one hundred truck farmers within a radius of ten miles around Cranbrook would mean much for this town, and yet there is no one to tell of these advantages in a systematic manner so that people might be induced to come here and settle. That is what Cranbrook needs, an organization that would take care of inquiries along this line and furnish the required information. It is true there is the board of trade, but a board of trade with no means of securing a steady revenue, with a secretary working for love, with only eight or ten members who would attend a meeting if one were called, is little more than an ornament to a town. Cranbrook should grow and insure growth, every opportunity should be taken advantage of to bring in permanent settlers who will be producers and also buyers. The people of Cranbrook in their chase for dollars are liable to overlook some big things that would mean permanent prosperity to the whole community.

Who will be Cranbrook's first mayor?

What the people of Cranbrook should do now is get together and work for a firstclass council and a mayor who will be progressive, yet absolutely safe. There has existed a difference of opinion as to the advisability of incorporating. The question has been settled in favor of incorporation. It is to the interest of everyone to unite on work that will prove beneficial to the community as a whole. This is no time for knocking or fault finding. Every man who owns property and every man in business in Cranbrook is interested in the advancement of the town. Let us all pull together. It is not a question of politics or religion, but simply a question of business. No one man or set of men can have their way. It is the time for mutual concessions and harmony. This is the growing time for Cranbrook. Let no man stand in the way.

There are too many Chinese in Cranbrook.

The action of the shingle company at Salmo in discharging all the white men and filling their places with Japanese and Chinamen, if followed out by every industrial institution in British Columbia would soon place this province in a position that there would be no Cranbrook, no Nelson, no Rossland, no thriving centers of intelligent people. On the contrary, there would be here and there bunches of Orientals gathered in hovels, and one or two banks to handle the money earned in this province and sent to the Orient. The shingle company of Salmo, although acting within their legal right, made a great moral error and established a bad precedent.

What Cranbrook wants now is a competent captain and an honest, willing crew.

The Hon. Frank Oliver would be less than a man could be return to Ottawa without a feeling of pride and personal satisfaction. In his own district he was returned by acclamation, and at his home town, at Calgary and at Winnipeg the people turned out to make his return trip one grand triumphal march back to the capital. But Frank Oliver, the minister, will be Frank Oliver, the man. Starting in life setting type at the case he has by perseverance, by hard work, and by using his brain, carved out success where many would have failed. With Frank Oliver it has not been pull of family or power of wealth. What honor and success he has gained in life has been tributes to his manhood and ability. The west is proud of its new minister, and he has been accorded receptions due the man by western people generally regardless of party feeling.

FERNIE ANNEX

Fernie has outgrown her limits and as a result

THE CROWS NEST PASS ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER COMPANY, LTD.,

has laid out a townsite along the line of Railway, the Great Northern, to be known as the "Fernie Annex" and which adjoins the present or original townsite of Fernie. The land is within the municipality of the City of Fernie and comprises about 550 lots. Lots in the present or original townsite of Fernie which originally

Sold for $250 are worth $4,000 to $5,000 today

The advent of the Great Northern Railway has given an additional impulse to the already rapid growth of Fernie and it was the work of necessity to lay out this new townsite to meet the urgent demand for residential lots.

AUCTION SALE OF LOTS

will be held on Saturday, the 6th day of May, at the new office site of the Coal Company in Fernie, at the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 2 p. m.

Plans will be furnished on application.

Land Commissioner

BIG TUNNEL COMPLETED.

The big tunnel connecting lakes Beautiful and Coquitlam was completed last week. The water from these two lakes will furnish power for Vancouver and New Westminster. Following are some condensed facts abou the tunnel:

Cost, $320,000.

Total length, 12,775 feet, or nearly 2½ miles.

Size, 9 by 9 with rounded corners.

Area of normal cross section, 73 square feet.

Number of men employed on construction, 100 to 175.

Time required for drilling, two years two months and three weeks.

Average rate of progress per day, between 15 and 16 feet.

Average rate of progress per week, 120 feet.

Greatest distance driven in one week, 80 feet, at the Lake Beautiful end, on week ending October 30, 1904.

Explosives required, over 200 tons of dynamite, gelegnite and blasting gelatine.

Fuse used in blasting, 500,000 feet, or nearly 100 miles.

Candles required to light the work, 175,000.

COMING TO CANADA.

Detroit, Mich., May 1.—A. C. Shaw general agent in the United States of the Canadian Pacific railway, says he believes that a conservative estimate of the number of people who will leave the United States to settle in the Canadian northwest this year is 50,000. The exodus fever is striking as far south this spring as southern Illinois and Indiana. Mr. Shaw says people who go to the northwest from this side of the line make the very best citizens of the Dominion.

Halifax, N. S., May 1.—The Hamburg American steamer Paltanza arrived yesterday, 14 days from Hamburg, with 907 passengers bound for the Canadian west. They left on two special C. P. R. trains; eight of them were held up here for trachoma and one had typhoid. The new comers seem to be pretty well fixed financially. On the voyage out a passenger was struck by a wave, which swept the deck, and was knocked down the companion way and killed. The Paltanza sailed for Boston.

G. N. R. OFFICIALS.

Nelson Tribune, May 1: Early this morning a party of Great Northern officials came in by a special train from Spokane on their way to Yahk and Bonner's Ferry. The party consisted of General Superintendent G. T. Slade, General Manager F. E. Ward, Chief Engineer A. H. Hogeland, Assistant General Superintendent H. A. Kennedy and J. R. W. Davis, head of the permanent way department. Captain Gore of the C. P. R. had been notified of their arrival, and preparations had been made in advance for the placing of the car on a ferry, and the whole party, with but a three-quarter of an hour delay, were conveyed down the lake to Kootenay Landing, whence they are proceeding west to Yahk, and thence returning to Spokane. It was stated that a C. P. R. official belonging to the staff of President Shaughnessy of the C. P. R. accompanied the party but this could not be verified.

What the object of the party in taking this particular trip is cannot be authentically ascertained, but it is surmised that the trip was undertaken in connection with the opening of the Corbin route to Spokane, and the *possibility of making use of the Bon*ners Ferry line, running in from the south, in this connection. That line has been disused for some time past owing, it is said, to the lack of business; but there would not be much trouble in placing the right of way in good order should an endeavor be made to combat the invasion of Jim Hill's territory by the C. P. R. in retaliation of the counter invasion made so successfully into the Crows Nest country in the line from the Great Northern and the projected Boundary to the coast line through the Similkameen.

LUMBER ASSOCIATION MEETS.

There were two meetings of lumbermen this morning and afternoon in the Stratheona hotel, which was attended by President F. W. Jones of Golden, W. C. Wells of Palliser, W. F. Gurd and A. Leitch of Cranbrook, J. Deschamps of Rossland, and T. Ludgate and W. B. W. Armstrong of Arrowhead. Interviewed by a Tribune reporter, President Jones declared that the objects of the meeting were purely for private business of a routine character. Neither the importation of Chinese nor the duty on lumber were to be discussed.—Nelson Tribune.

WELLMAN'S TESTIMONY.

HE ENTERTAINS A VANCOUVER COURT WITH A RACEHORSE DESCRIPTION OF A FAKIR.

Tom Wellman, well known in Cranbrook, entertained the court and crowd in attendance at Vancouver one morning recently in a manner that caused intense interest and admiration. The Daily Province tells the story as follows:

By the time that Mr. T. J. Wellman, proprietor of the Leland hotel, got out of the witness stand in Judge Henderson's court this morning he must have thought that he had had a lively time.

Mr. Wellman told the story himself and smiled as he told it. The affair was the trial of "Doc" Cumyow on the charge of having obtained money under false pretences from Mr. H. H. Playford, manager of the Leland, of which Mr. Wellman is proprietor. The whole thing occurred on the night or evening of December 31, last, just before New Year's day.

A combination of circumstances got jumbled up together and before they had become untangled Mr. Wellman was out $50, Mr. Playford $35, and Mr. Cumyow was the possessor of a bunch of money and the prospects of trouble.

Mr. Cumyow wandered into the Leland the night before the opening of the year. It was New Year's Eve, it was also a Friday night, two long holidays were in sight before the "Doc" would have to get out and rustle his rheumatic cure again, and the "Doc" was willing to go some. He started and while on his way Mr. Wellman came in. Mr. Wellman must have looked good to the "Doc," for in about three minutes by the clock he was digging cheerfully into his clothes to get $50 in response to a touch of the "Doc's."

Mr. Wellman explained how he came to consent to the divorce proceedings between himself and his money. He really thought it must have been hypnotism.

"He told me that he had a theatre and that he wanted to send his wife away, and needed 'the money,' testified the hotel man.

Then Mr. Wellman, who has owned a stable of race horses all his life, continued:

"The man looked gaited right to me. He looked like a stake horse and talked like he was used to a box stall and palace horse cars. He didn't carry a blemish, though he wore blinkers, and from his looks he'd go back to even money any time he shows on a track. Yes, I came up. I was easy. I stood for the touch in a romp."

Now, this part of the evidence related to the touch. The next was the cheque, which constituted the real part of the transaction upon which Cumyow was arrested and tried. Cumyow had been talking earnestly to Mr. Wellman, and Mr. Playford was not far away. Mr. Wellman handed over the $50 and shortly afterward went upstairs. Then Mr. Cumyow got busy with Mr. Playford and gave him a cheque upon the Bank of Nova Scotia and drew down $35. The cheque went the roundabout way through the bank and clearing-house and came back looking like a last year's snow storm.

W. C. WELLS INTERVIEMED.

W. C. Wells, M. L. A., is in this morning from Palliser for the purpose of attending a lumber meeting. He says the lumber business in North East Kootenay is looking up. All the mills are starting up, and a good season is looked forward to. In the meantime, however, the failure to build this year of the Kootenay Central is keeping back the development of the district. "So far is this the case," says Mr. Wells, "that it is likely that the Paradise mine, the chief shipper of the district, will close down, according to H. C. Hammond of Toronto."—Nelson Tribune.

MINERS' INCH IN B. C.

For mining purposes in British Columbia the "inch" of water is said to be defined as follows: The quantity of water that will pass through an orifice two inches high by half an inch wide made in a two inch plank, the water to have a constant head of seven inches above the upper side of the orifice; and every additional inch of water means as much as will pass through the said orifice extended horizontally half an inch. In cubic measurement, one inch of water shall mean a flow of water equal to 1.68 cubic feet per minute.

PROF. HEPBURN REMEMBERED.

The Vernon News thus pays its compliments in a feeling manner to one who is well known in South East Kootenay:

"Another dancing master has come to town who announces his intention of starting an 'Academy of Ideal Dancing.' It is to be hoped that his repertoire of dances will not include the famous glide for foreign parts, which was the most unpopular 'stunt' in his predecessor's program."
