Excellent Prize List Attracts Large Crowd Of Masked Dancers To Annual Ball

The sixth Armistice Ball under the auspices of the Great War Veterans' Association held in the Ilo-Ilo Dance Hall on Tuesday evening was a great success in every way and attracted a large crowd. A goodly number of masqueraders were present in costumes, many of which were humorous and clever in their originality; others were beautiful.

Special mention should be called to the comic group—a trio, masquerading as the old time darkies, Rastus, Mandy and Topsy; the latter being drawn along in a miniature express wagon being the source of a great deal of amusement. The group caused great commotion in the crowd and by humorous darky expressions and good natured tolerance of the jostling and juggling of the other maskers, scored a great hit with everyone present. Great was the surprise when the closing of the grand march revealed "Rastus" to be none other than Miss Redford, "Mandy" Miss Oliver, and "Topsy" Miss Sehl, all of the nursing staff of the Cumberland General Hospital. Mention should also be made of the costume worn by Miss Brown, Matron of the hospital, who was successful in carrying off the prize for Best Dressed Lady. The costume was a beautiful old fashioned creation of blue satin and white lace. Great credit should be given the matron and nursing staff for their splendid contribution to the costumes of the evening. Many other beautiful and interesting costumes were in evidence too numerous to mention here.

At midnight the spectators were allowed to participate in the dancing. Plump's Orchestra was at its best and supplied the music for the entire evening.

LADYSMITH BEAT LOCALS

TWO GOALS TO NIL WAS SCORE IN SUNDAY'S GAME

Davis Scores two Goals Within a Minute—Marshall Stars for Home Team

Well, it looked very much as if the Rangers were to add another point to that solitary one that is already chalked down to their credit in the league table, but in the dying minutes of the game "Tuffy" Davis had to spoil it all by scoring two goals in quick succession, safely tucking the game away for Ladysmith. Neither team has any chance to win the fight for the league leadership but that did not prevent them from playing their scheduled game on the Recreation Ground here on Sunday, and this fact did not prevent a good sized crowd from turning out to watch them perform, despite the extreme cold. The exhibition could not be called an interesting one to watch for Ladysmith was decidedly off-color, in the first half at least, while their opponents were without the services of their regular backs, Carney and Gough, the former taking a day off and the latter being forced out with a poisoned foot. Marshall and Weir filled their positions while Stevenson went to half and Robertson to the left wing. The feeling that these changes would weaken the team was, however, soon dispelled.

Campbell kicked off for the Rangers in the first half and play continued uninterupted for the full forty-five minutes, that is, uninterrupted by any goal scoring. Farmer kept close tab on Davis to good effect for that player, who is indeed a star center forward, scarcely made his presence felt on the field during this period. Ladysmith couldn't get going and the few shots they did have turned out to be pickings for Walker, although on one occasion he was very lucky, when beaten on all sides, to have the ball hit the cross-bar and rebound into play, after which it was an easy matter for Weir to clear. The Rangers also gave Anderson some anxious moments, all but scoring on several occasions.

The second half was practically a repetition of the initial period with the exception of the goal scoring. Play continued very even until within eight minutes of the end of the game when Davis scored the first counter for his team from a mix-up in front of the goal. The Rangers, who had been playing for a draw, lost all heart and directly the ball was centered the same player ran through all opposition, which was almost nil, and scored again. And so the game ended.

It would be difficult to pick out anyone on either team who was not up to scratch but it is an easy matter to pick out the brilliant ones. Jock Stevenson was especially brilliant in shying the ball (No offence intended, Jock). Seriousy though, Marshall was the pick of the twenty-two men with Weir a good second choice. Farmer was off his usual game, his kicking not being up to standard. We think too much praise has a bad effect on Amos' feet. For Ladysmith, Campbell was very good and his exhibition of good clean football was generally appreciated by the crowd. This same player left many openings for Watson, but to use the little right winger's own expression, he was "ashamed to take advantage of them as it was too evident that Campbell was trying to give me a chance." Davis was closely watched but his cleverness in manipulating the ball was noticeable, none the less.

On the whole, Referee A. S. Jones had charge of a game in which he might just as well have been on the side lines so free was it from any intentional dirty work.

"FOR THOSE WHO DIED THAT WE MIGHT LIVE"

IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL SERVICES ARE HELD AT GRACE METHODIST CHURCH AND MEMORIAL ARCH

After the combined service of the Congregations of St. George's Presbyterian Church and the Grace Methodist Church, at which a few returned men attended, the members of Holy Trinity Anglican Church were joined by the above congregations at the Memorial Arch on Dunsmuir Aevnue, where a short service was held, led by the Right Rev. Bishop Schofield, of Victoria, with the Rev. J. R. Butler, of the Grace Methodist Church reading the 121st Psalm, Rev. J. Hood and Rev. W. Leversedge also being present. There was a large crowd of the general public at the Memorial Arch, but very few Veterans, and the executive of the local branch of the G.W.V.A. were sorely disappointed at the apparent apathy of the returned men in the city and district, to attend the service held on Sunday last. It is only once a year that a call is sent out to the Veterans to attend Church Service, but after viewing the service on Sunday last we cannot help but quote Sir James Outram:—"With some, the lapse of time has blunted the vivid impression of that heart searching day of mingled relief and poignant memory." With others—the upsprung race of those too young in 1918 to realize the fulness of the meaning of Armistice—the details of its causes are virtually unknown and the anniversary of vague import. So it is well to commerate the day and all that it should mean to every member of the nation which bore its share in the glory of the terrible conflict, and the consumation of its victorious close. Let this day recall some of the salient features, to inspire us by their memory and stimulate us to be worthy of the Empire's triumph and of those who shared in its achievement. Nation was linked with nation in the Great Alliance for the common cause; national idiosyncrasies and prejudices were sunk in the brotherhood of arms and services; man with man; heart with heart—In the trenches and elsewhere along the various battlelines in many lands, officers and men of diverse race and creed and temperament were drawn together as never before."

Yes, dear reader, officers and men of diverse race and creed and temperament were drawn together as never before—but that was a few years ago. How different today. There were men attending the service at the Memorial Arch on Sunday last, who, for some reason best known to themselves, kept aloof from their comrades, the returned men, and viewed the service from a distance. After the very special appeal sent out by the secretary of the local War Veterans—there was we understand, some sixty notices sent out, we looked for a much larger number of returned men than ever before to be present on this momentous occasion. The Great War Veterans' Association in Cumberland, if they would only stick together could become a great asset to the community and able to do a great deal of good to unfortunate comrades. The people of this district gave to the limit in an endeavor to assist the returned men to have club rooms of their own and the fine hall on Dunsmuir Avenue is testimony to their generosity. But when the affairs of the association are left to one or two members, the members shouldering all the work are, to use army language, liable to get "fed up". Think it over returned men, and attend the next meeting of the association.

Leaders Predict Mining Growth

Leading mining and public men of the province were guests at the dinner of the British Columbia Mining Association held at the Union Club, Victoria, last Friday evening. Lieutenant Colonel Charles Villiers, general manager of the Canadian Collieries presided; Valentine Quinn of the Granby Co., acting as Toastmaster. Speaking on the toast list were Premier Oliver, Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines, Hon. J. D. McLean, minister of finance, Hon. A. M. Manson, attorney-general, H. Mortimer Lamb secretary of the Canadian Min-Institute, Thomas Graham of the Canadian Collieries of this city, Mr. Evans of Seattle, and others. Each emphasized the important place mining occupied in the industrial growth of British Columbia.

Hon. Wm. Sloan Sees Bright Future

Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines gave some very encouraging figures in connection with the growth of B.C. mining activities. He laid special stress upon the fact that B.C. was shipping lead, zinc and copper in competition with world markets with increasingly great tonnage of ore in the first two named minerals. Mr. Sloan said that it was the aim of the Department of Mines at all times to co-operate with the men in the field and that they woud always welcome suggestions for the betterment of mining conditions throughout the province.

Donation Tea Splendid Success

Under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church a donation tea was held at the home of its president, Mrs. George J. Richardson on Wednesday afternoon. The rooms were tastefully decorated with flowers and red poppies. Notices had been sent out concerning the tea and a record crowd was in attendance. The purpose of the donations was for a Christmas Sale of Work which is to be given by the ladies of the church on December 3rd. Many beautiful pieces of fancy work, material, etc., as well as monetary gifts were received. During the afternoon tea was served, Mrs. Treen, Mrs. Bruce and Mrs. Nunns presiding at the tea service. The members of the Women's Auxiliary are indeed appreciative of the kind assistance and co-operation tendered them.

Fred Deluce Leaves For "Down Under"

The best outside-right that has ever been seen in the Upper-Island League will be lost to Cumberland United when Freddy Deluce leaves today (Saturday) for Auckland, New Zealand. Fred, though diminutive in stature, was always a big man on a football field where his expert and clean playing won praise from everyone. The Auckland team that secures his services ought to consider itself very fortunate.

He will be accompanied on his journey "down under" by Billy Hilton, the pair sailing aboard the Niagara from Vancouver on November 19th which is next Wednesday.

O. W. Roberts, with number 477, won the Tea Set at the Moose Carnival Dance held in the Ilo-Ilo Dance Hall on October 31st.

C.G.I.T. Girls In Three Day Conference; Many Subjects Were Discussed

The conference of the Canadian Girls In Training held in the Grace Methodist Church on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of last week was a stupendous success, and reflects great credit upon the promoters for the splendid work which so largely tended to make the conference such an outstanding affair. The C.G.I.T. association is an organization under the direction of the leaders of Religious Education throughout the Dominion of Canada and was formed with the idea of instilling into the 'teen age girls of today a better understanding of the intellectual, spiritual, moral and physical fundamentals of life. These girls of today will be the mothers and nation builders of tomorrow, and the training which the C.G.I.T. provides is one of the very best foundations possible for a successful and useful life. About 150 girls represented the various groups in the Comox district. The National Methodist Girls' Secretary, Miss Allison, B.A., and Miss Fountain, B.A., of Vancouver were present.

First Day's Activities

The conference commenced on Friday at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Mr. Walker of Union Bay, conducted the devotional services and gave an inspiring address on the greatest thing in the world "Love" which was much appreciated by the girls. This was followed by an address of welcome rendered in a very effective manner by Miss Edith O'Brien who, on behalf of the girls of Cumberland, expressed great pleasure that such an honor had been bestowed upon Cumberland by making it the seat of such a splendid conference. Miss O'Brien continued in part "We are meeting here under the auspices of the C.G.I.T. program the aim of which is the fourfold development of life. The purpose of this conference is to reveal to us the best methods of making this program effective in the practical affairs of daily life and to give us a vision for effective service. We feel that before this conference is drawn to a close we will agree that the information imparted and impressions received will be of a permanent nature because under the guidance of our leaders and the inspiration of Jesus we shall discover the secret by which our lives may become truly great and good." Miss O'Brien expressed the wish that the conference held in Cumberland would be productive of long cherished memories to all the leaders and girls present. The roll was then called and officers elected, Priscilla Cloutier being elected president of the conference and Irene Smith as secretary. Miss Fountain then introduced Miss Allison who is the National Methodist Girls' Secretary. Miss Allison gave a very interesting talk on the work outlined by the various C.G.IT. groups throughout the Dominion of Canada saying that there were between thirty-five and forty-five thousand members enrolled, these being representatives of small groups such as were in the Comox district. The object was to have every Protestant 'teen age girl in Canada a member of the C.G.I.T.

Saturday's Program

The conference was resumed on Saturday morning by Rev. James Hood who conducted the devotional service. Rev. Hood's subject was based on the two discoveries every girl should make, the discovery of herself and the discovery of Jesus Christ as her ideal. Following this instructive address excellent five-minute addresses were given by four of the members. The girls spoke on the good which had been derived by them from the C.G.I.T. training. Miss Gwen Emily spoke on the subject from a physical standpoint; Vivian Aspeci from an intellectual standpoint Irene Smith from a spiritual standpoint and Chrissie Pollock from a social standpoint. The addresses were very well delivered and much appreciated. These were followed by an address by Miss Fountain who spoke on the happiness derived from a fourfold life. The girls of the conference were later divided into groups, with leaders for discusion of the four features of the program namely "Cherishing Health," "Knowing God" Serving Others" and "Seeking Truth".

The afternoon session was opened by Rev. Leversedge who rendered an address taking as his subject "I

CROWDS VIEW GAMES

Basketball is Proving More Popular This Year Than Ever Before

For the past few years all efforts on the part of several basketball fans to have a going City league have been unrewarded, but this year year their work sems to be bearing fruit, for every game sees a larger and more enthusiastic crowd present and no one has yet been able to complain that they have not received their money's worth in thrills from each mix, either ladies' or men's.

Friday's Games

Last Friday saw the P.D.Q's in action against the Public School girls, and although the score was rather one-sided, 22 to 1 in favor of the former, the game was not. What the scholars lacked in shooting ability they more than made up for in aggressiveness. B. Bickle and K. Bono did all the scoring for the winners. The same evening Bevan had a fairly easy time with the Athletics, better known as the Gutter Snipes, and won out by a score of 41 to 9.

Wednesday's Games

Both games on this day certainly provided more thrills for the spectators than did Friday's for they were more evenly contested. High School girls had a tough time with the C.G.I.T. but won out 14-4. Both teams had hard luck at the basket especially the latter and more points should have been scored. In the men's division the High School almost took the measure of the Owls but had to accept defeat, 21 to 16. The nightbirds used two spares twice during the game and eleven of their points were scored from fouls. They only shot 5 field goals against their opponent's 8 and if it had not been for these foul shots the school would have been easy winners. The teams were: Owls, Foster, Graham, M. Stewart, Watson, Stevenson, Pinfold and Sommerville; and the High School, Wilcock, Stant, Carey, Bobba and Bickle.

A. O. F. WHIST DRIVES PROVING POPULAR

The size of the crowd that attended the regular fortnightly whist drive and dance held by the Forrester's Lodge in the War Veterans' Hall on Friday night, was ample proof that these affairs are becoming the most popular in the city. In all there were thirteen tables of whist in play and for the dance which followed, many more people arrived so that the big hall was comfortably filled.

Miss Ellen Hunden and Mr. Ernest MacDonald carried off first prizes in cards, while Mrs. E. Hunden and Mr. L. R. Stevens had to content themselves with the consolations. Excellent music was supplied for the dance by Messrs. Goodall, Potter and Dewar, who had to play an extra hour before the dancers would consent to go home.

MACCABEES TENDER SURPRISE PARTY

The home of Mrs. H. Bryant, Courtenay, was the scene of a jolly surprise party Monday evening last when a number of the members of Cumberland Review of the Macabees, and their friends, motored to that city. Whist and games were enjoyed, prizes being won by Mesdames Brown, Clark and Stant. Dainty and varied refreshments were served. Mrs. Bryant is Commander of Nanaimo Review of the Order but has recently taken up residence in Courtenay, where Mr. Bryant is engaged in business.

SANDWICK LOCALS

Mrs. R. T. Cooper the on Tuesday morning's train for a two weeks' holiday with friends and relatives in Vancouver.

Mr. Roy Cliffe left Saturday morning for Seattle via Vancouver, where he will go into training for his coming fight in Nanaimo which will take place at an early date.

FLYING HIGH

Don't envy the fellow who rides around in a mortgaged car with the back seat filled with flappers. Don't be jealous of the chap who shakes the box at the hotel cigar stand, while the pretty, painted girl clerk keeps a record of the sixes he is throwing. Just keep your eye on that bird who is flying so high today, and in ten years you will find him still paying interest on a mortgage loan and dodging the bill collectors.

Of all the silly endeavors, the one that makes a fellow want to do the things he cannot afford to do is the silliest. Today more than half the population is engaged in this foolish game of trying to fly too high. With theatre seats selling at $2.50, very few young men can afford to take the girl to a good show. With food at a cabaret selling around four times what it costs at home it is a waste of money to entertain in public dining halls. If the lad really loves the lass they will be happy listening to the phonograph with the lights turned low in her father's house. Racing around in search of pleasure will never get you anywhere. The real joy of living is to be found at the fireside of the home. There have always been young folks, and some old ones, too, who fly too high and the street is filled with moth under the electric lights.

Men who are making good do not bluff, brag or show off. They keep sawing wood, and splitting it, and then piling it up for a day when winter comes.

NO REAL TEARS

Several degrees past middle age, we know a man who manages to stay young by laughing at the old men of fifty, who have oodles of money, stocks, bonds, and servants—plenty of rheumatism, gout, dyspepsia and insomnia.

One of these metal idol worshippers was roasting a friend of ours the other day, and he said: "I can buy and sell that man," meaning, of course, he had the most money. And he had, but the other fellow has the best health, the most friends, and by far the greater happiness.

All the money-mad man has is a withered heart, wabbly legs and maybe a half-million dollars. He has finance—not friends. When we lay him away there will be a fashionable minister, some flowers, a swell metal casket—but no real tears—and the old world will jog along just the same.

DON'T MONKEY TOO MUCH

Sitting in the home of a friend the other evening we heard the strains of a pipe organ over six hundred miles away. The room in which we sat had every window and door closed and the home was weather-stripped. There was no aerial or outside connection with the radio cabinet from which the strains of the pipe organ were coming. A brick house weather-stripped and closed tight as a drum, and yet the pipe organ, played six hundred miles away, was heard distinctly. Talk about your fairie stories, your Aladdin's wonderful lamp and the goose that laid the golden eggs!

The other night we saw a picture that moved on a screen. For a moment it was still—something had happened to the machine. It was still, like the old magic lantern pictures of twenty years ago, then the people began to walk, the birds began to fly and the whole scene was in action.

A few days ago a big bag filled with gas and driven by motors, brought thirty-two people from Germany to America in 81 hours. It took Christopher Columbus months to make the trip.

And so it goes. Science prevents pestilences, surgeons make new faces, physicians prolong life, inventors send ships into the air and under the seas, the human voice speaks obliterated until a man crosses the continent between daylight and dark. This is a wonderful age in which we live.

We have witnessed the expansion of steam from Watt's tea kettle, through the monster turbine engines into the marvelous work of the dynamo. Today scientists tell us there is power enough locked up in a tumbler of water to propel an ocean liner from New York to Liverpool—that a few quarts of water, some day, will run factories and furnish the necessary power of transportation.

And yet some folks are worrying over the possible exhaustion of wood, coal and oil. Better wory for fear some inquisitive scientist touches the wrong atom and blows us all into space. Some seeker after knowledge is apt to do just that very thing, and when he does we won't even have time to say "good-bye."

ATTENTION MOTORISTS!

It has become very apparent of late that the following traffic rules are not being carefully observed by the motorists of Cumberland.

1. Operating cars by night with one headlight.
2. Operating cars at night with headlights of uneven candle power.
3. No tail lights.
4. Turning cars in the middle of blocks.

The chief of police has been instructed to prosecute all motorists violating these rules and they are hereby advised to take warning.

A Swiss cheese replied when a limberger cried
"I can see through you, kiddo, with ease.
Let's trot right away, and get married today."
"Sir, I'm not that kind of a cheese!"

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intension to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding Pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e, carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESTEAD LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

BRINGS DAIRY CATTLE FROM EASTERN CANADA

WINNIPEG, Nov. 14.—En route to Eastern Canada where he will purchase nine carloads of dairy cattle, chiefly Aryshires, for patrons of his creameries in Saskatchewan, William Leison of St. Walburg, Saskatchewan, was met at Winnipeg by representatives of the Land and Colonization Dept., of the Canadian National Railways.

Five years ago Mr. Leison was induced by Canadian National Railway Colonization officials to establish a creamery in the St. Walburg district, which is eighty miles north of North Battleford. Today he has three creameries in full operation, one at St. Walburg, one at Mervin and one at Maidstone, the latter being on the C. N.R. main line west of Battleford, and his annual output of creamery butter has reached half a million pounds. The steady increase in the production of his creameries illustrates, he said, the general development of that section of Saskatchewan in which he operates. In 1920 his output was 33,000 pounds; in 1921 66,000 pounds; in 1922 160,000; in 1923 350,000, and this year 500,000 pounds. There was a good deal of dry weather in the north country this year, Mr. Leison said, a condition which prevented him from realizing a hope of doubling the production of 1923. The creameries saved the economic situation for the farmers, for the steady income from their cream made up for a great deal of the crop shortage and will encourage them to extend their dairying activities. Mr. Leison's entire output of butter has been sold for export to Great Britain.

Mr. Leisen is now on the way to Eastern Canada to purchase nine car loads of dairy cattle, about 240 head. These will be chiefly Ayrshires, and will include nine or ten sires. The cattle will be of high quality, none over five years old, and all will be subjected to the tuberculin test and be inspected as to general health. Mr. Leisen will purchase this stock for patrons of his creameries who are paying cash. Last year he brought in eight car loads.

Speaking about the country north of St. Walburg, Mr. Leisen declared that some of the finest land in Saskatchewan was to be found in the Loon and Midnight Lake Districts and that the settlers there were producing splendid grain crops.

The Provincial Government has promised to build a road of standard grade to these settlements next year, a distance of forty miles, Mr. Leisen states.

CANADIANS RETURN

Canadians to the number of 27,486 returned to Canada from the United States during the first half of the present fiscal year, according to immigration department figures. Of this number, 23,141 were Canadian-born citizens, 2,632 British subjects who had acquired domicile in Canada and later moved to the United States, and 1,713 were naturalized Canadian citizens.

SOUNDINGS FOR NEW ELEVATOR

W. N. Chater, an engineer for C. D. Howe and Company, Port Arthur, has arrived at Prince Rupert, B.C., to take soundings in connection with the plans for the new government elevator to be built there. Mr. Chater is now busy going over the site with the Canadian National Railways engineers.

SALVATION ARMY WANTS GOV'T FARM

Purchase of the government experimental farm at Birtle, Manitoba, for use as a training farm for British immigrants brought to Canada by the Salvation Army, is now pending, according to an announcement made by Commissioner David Lamb, chief emigration officer of the Army, of London, England. An allocation of a quarter of a million sterling has been set aside by General Bramwell Booth for the financing of emigration schemes of the Army under which boy emigrants, young men emigrants and family emigration in groups will be worked.

CUMBERLAND PEOPLE "RUSH THE SEASON"

No folks, the picnic season did not end a month or so ago, but (and some people will not believe this), on Thanksgiving Day, November the 10th two car loads of Cumberland young people left on Monday morning last for Kye Bay sands for a picnic. The first car left at 11:45 and the second, containing the wiseacres of the party, about one hour later. By the time the second car load arrived at Kye Bay, there was a beautiful big fire going on the beach, coffee made and all preparations made for lunch, to which the late comers did ample justice. One of the wiseacres thinking it was a little too cold on the beach made tracks for the bush, having had the good fortune to bring along his shot gun, and from all accounts had a glorious time, being fortunate enough to land amongst a bunch of pheasants On returning to the "gang" it was suggested that tracks be made for Cumberland, as several of the ladies were rather afraid it was going to snow. That was the only reason they wanted to go home. If we are to believe the fair ladies, a most glorious time was had. Personally though we have our doubts, Kye Bay in the summer time is a magnificent place, but in the month of November, with snow about to fall, oh! ! ! ! shivers.

Miss Common Sense teaching the Class of Continents this great lesson of peace. Australia, which knows least of war and therefore most of peace is top of the class. Europe, which knows no peace, at the bottom of the class—for awhile.

Cross out this world's initial error—Hate!
And follow Right—not Might—ensuring Peace;
Pursuing honest work. War's waste must cease;
For ourselves are Masters of our Fate,
The Best is ours—to spurn or emulate.
Our pride in skill most surely will increase;
The old desire to kill we can police,
If we disarm, before it is too late.
No evil comes to him who evil scorns;
But Good will speed the man who lives to serve
His King, his country, fellowmen and God.
The Prince of Peace, with just a Crown of Thorns,
Enriched with blood-red rubies in its curve,
He conquered all. So! fling away thy rod!
Disarm!

"PAT O'HOOLEY"
on
"Flappers"
By I. H. Holden

"'Tis hard-sleddin' a man has these days if he wants t' git shaved in a barber shop," said Pat O Hooley, leaning against a pile of ties and addressing Donovan and his crew of section men. "Ut used t' be bad enough t' listen t' the' barber's chatter. Ivery wan had a lingo of his own; but ut was he-man talk an' ye got hardened t' ut in toime. Now ut's all different. Ivery toime ye go in t' git yer whiskers amputated there's a baunch of flappers loined up in th' chairs an' their prattle would drive ye nutty.

"'Mame,' sez Nora, 'shall I git me hair plain-bobbed, shingle-bobbed, Fuzzy, King Tut, or Kalamazoo? Don't ye think I'd look th' cutest iver in a Kalamazoo?'

"'Naw,' sez Mame, 'wid yer lip half-covered wid whiskers, why don't ye be original fer wance an' invint a style of yer own? Let th' hair run down alongsoide yer ears, shade ut up gradually, clip th' soides of yer bean, an' give th' top a roach—ye moight break int' th' movies as a maniac or a bad-actor of some koind.'

"'Whust!" sez Nora; 'Moind yer long tongue! Can't ye see there's min all about us watchin' an' listenin'?'

"'I can,' Mame; 'an' if they had wan spark of th' gintleman about 'em—if they had th' least bit of common daciny—they wouldn't be sittin' in here gaffin at us while we're making our toilets. I'm thinkin' ut shows their bringin' up!" says she.

"'Huh!' sez I t' meself, "twas not so long ago whin a barber shop was fer min—an' th' lid was off; but now ut's a ladies bowdure! I'm thinkin' this is no place fer Pat'; an' out I goes. While standin' by th' dure watchin' me chance t' duck back in at th' roight toime ,along comes Mother Cahill—an' she's wize at wan glance.

"'Hello, Pat,' sez she, wid a grin, 'Fwhat's atein' ye? Yer lookin' pale, an' yer knees are knockin,' Was th' flappers too much fer ye?'

"'Not exactly, mam,' sez I. Ut's cooler out here.'

"'I'll say th' air is fresher, anyhow,' sez she, wid a sniff. 'What wid their powder-puffs, lip-sticks an' parfumery, ye can smell 'em a block. Look at th' little whiffets! Ivery day, lower an' higher! Bare chists, bare backs, bare knees, rolled-down stockin's, and' dresses ye can rade a noose-paper through! I'm thinkin' th' gals of today are goin' t' th' divil entoirely. If me old Dad had caught me wid wan of thim rigs on wan in I was at home (an' there was no fear of ut, fer I'd fallen dead wid shame t' aven think of puttin' on such things) he'd harse-whipped th' skin off me back an' rubbed salt on it. Ivery wan of thim whiffits should be put in jail fer indacint exposure!" sez she.

"Don't spake so croole of th' gals,' mam, sez I. 'They moight be a lot worse. They're purty high-geared, I'll admit. They're steppin' on th' gas, an' they're goin' some; but they're rollin' on balloon-toires an' they're hittin' on all six. If I was thirty years younger—or aven twinty—th' very divil in th' little scamps would set me heart thumpin', sez I.

"'Well, I didn't think ut of ye! Mr. O'Hooley,' sez Mrs. Cahill, wid her nose in th' air. 'But ye're a man, an' they're all loike putty when there's a woman in th' case.'

"'Maybe so,' sez I; 'but there's always two ways of lookin' at anythin'. At least, th' gals are no sham. Whin a lad puts his arm round a flapper, he hasn't a doubt as t' th' size of her. She's all gal. There isn't on ounce of cotton, excelsior, or old rags t' mislade anywan—an' many an Old Boy was badly soaked in th' Long Ago. What wid hoops an' corsets an bustles an' hip-pads an' balloon slaves an' false hair, a man gittin' married was offerin' himself fer a sacrifice wid his eyes shut. He had no more idjee fwhat he was tyin' up wid than buyin' a pig in a poke,' sez I.'

"'Pat O'Hooley, ye are an old idjit!' sez Mrs. Cahill, contimptuously. 'You an' all th' rist of yer koind may rave an' excuse th' brazen things all ye loike—that's yer business an' ye'll havee t' answer fer ut—but thank hivin! I was born at a toime whin Modesty was th' crownin' virtue; an' young gals was all as innocent as whoitt doves,' sez she.

"'Yes, mam, they was, I wouldn't contradict a word ye are sayin' fer th' world, Mrs. Cahill,' sez I. 'That's not me style. But just th' same—manein' no offince, Mam—I'm thinkin' that th' gals of today, as th' Pote says, are purty much sisters under their pajamas to th' gals of yisterday. As fer th' little white doves ye spake of, I used t' know a whole lot of 'em. Some of 'em was near an' dear t' me, mam; but they're angles now an' have bin fer these forty years,' sez I."

"What did the old hen say to that?" asked Donovan, cupping his hand over a match an' lighting his pipe.

"Nothin' that I could translate int' words," said Pat, with a broad grin. "But she whirled on her heel, an' she goes up th' strate makin' signals loike a tom cat whin ye rock on ut's tail."

CANADIAN APPLES KING OF THEM ALL

Canada has taken a foremost place in the apple-growing world. Awards made at the Imperial Fruit Show in London, England, and at every other show at which exhibits have been made, prove this beyond a shadow of doubt. In flavor and palatability the Canadian-grown apple has no superior. An interesting and attractively gotten-up booklet published by the Fruit Branch at Ottawa and obtainable at the Publications Branch, in establishing these facts, outlines the produce of what is termed "the King of fruits" in the country as a whole and in each of the apple growing provinces, gives details of the Fruit Act to the grading of apples, describes their food value, and supplies upwards of a hundred recipes for making sauces butter, concoctines of various sorts, pies, pudding, relishes, salads, etc., in which the apple is the principal ingredient. Whether fresh, dried, evaporated, or canned, or used in any way, the apple, the booklet points out, is a wholesome food easily prepared, attractive and palatable at all times. It furnishes mineral salts and organic acids; it possesses important nutritive value ,and has medical virtue also, especially if eaten at the beginning of the meal or between meals. It is not difficult to agree with the remark that "no housewife should be without a box or barrel of Canadian-grown apples." To facilitate stocking up in this manner a statement is furnished in the booklet of the proper season or period durwhich various varieties should be used, extending over the nine months from September in one year to May in the next, both inclusive.

FINE WEATHER ASSISTS THRESHING

The good weather of the past two weeks has given a new impetus to threshing throughout the west, and men have been in great demand to make up gangs so that as much as possible of the crop will be threshed while the weather holds. Although eastern harvesters, a couple of weeks ago, were returning at the rate of 300 a day, the balance are taking advantage of the extension of tickets to November 30 to remain in the west as long as possible.

SMOKELESS FUEL IN GLASGOW

Those who look forward to the eventful development of some commercially satisfactory process for the low-temperature carbonization of coal will be interested in a development which is about to take place in Glasgow. We are interested to learn that the Glasgow Corporation had decided to install a five-unit plant of the type developed by Messrs. Maclaurin Carbonization, Limited, to work in connection with the large generating station at Dalmarnock. A single-unit Maclaurin plant, capable of carbonizing 20 tons of coal per day, was installed at the Port Dundas generating station of the corporation in 1915. This plant, with the consent of the corporation, was subsequently moved to Grangemouth, where further experiments have since been carried out on a large scale. The success of these has resulted in the decision above referred to, and the new five-unit plant will be in operation within the next few months. The idea is apparently to produce smokeless fuel for domestic purposes with gas as a by-product. The electricity department is willing to give 1.01d. per therm for this gas for boiler-firing. when coal is 20s. per ton, and it is said that when the new plant is working it will be profitable to dispose of the gas at this price. It is not stated in the report to which we refer, that any attempt is to be made to recover oil or ammonia as by-products, the main object being, apparently, the production of smokeless fuel.—Engineering.

Feeding the baby, answering bells,
Being polite with a heart that rebels.

Blessing the new born baby's breath,
Closing the eyes that are still in death.

B.C. LEADS WORLD IN ZINC PRODUCTION

VICTORIA, Nov. 14.—Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines and provincial secretary, gives out the information that British Columbia leads the world in zinc production. The output has jumped twenty per cent. in two years. The production of lead has doubled in three years, while all branches of the mining industry are in a healthy condition.

INFORMATION FROM FINANCE MINISTER

VICTORIA, Nov. 14.—Important financial information regarding the affairs of the province is contained in information given the Legislature by the new finance minister, Hon. J. D. MacLean. The gross debt of British Columbia on November 1 was $76,738,000 and after deducting sinking funds, the value of P.G.E. Ry. stock and revenue-producing debt, the net debt was found to be only $41,622,000. The government still has power under existing loan bills to borrow $5,174,000.

Could Hardly Walk

Rheumatism was crippling Vancouver lady who also suffered from digestive complaints. Dreco, however, made a marked improvement in her condition although she has only been taking it ten days.

"I have been in poor health for a long time," says Mrs. Marvel Reambeau, of 730 Helmeken Street, Vancouver, B.C. "I had stomach trouble and indigestion and my food would sour on my stomach after eating. My kidneys were very weak, causing pains across by back and I suffered from bilious attacks and dizzy spells, due to a sluggish liver.

"My worst trouble, however, was rheumatism. My ankles would swell up and get so stiff and sore that I could hardly walk and I suffered terribly. In fact my entire system was in a badly run down condition.

"I have only been taking Dreco for ten days, but I feel like a new woman already. My food digests better, my kidneys are stronger and my liver is splendidly active again. The rheumatism is also better. The swelling, stiffness and soreness have nearly all gone and I feel better and brighter in every way.

Dreco is a wonderful system cleanser and tonic. It is made from the pure juices of herbs, roots, barks and leaves and contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Cumberland by Lang's Drug Store, and is sold by a good druggist everywhere. 46.

News of Courtenay and Surrounding District

ARRANGING FOR PRUNING SCHOOL

The secretary of the Comox Agricultural and Indutrial Association is in receipt of a communication from the horticulture department of the department of agriculture, Victoria suggesting the arranging of a pruning school for the district. To those interested a three-day course in practical pruning will be given by instructors appointed by the Horticulture Branch of the Provincial department of Agriculture provided a minimum of eight pupils and not more than sixteen with the necessary fee of one dollar each is obtained. The school would extend over a period of three days and comprise lectures in the theory of pruning and fruit bud formation, as well as practical instruction in the various systems of pruning. Students are also taught the best methods of grafting, budding and the making of waxes and their uses. A greater part of the time however, would be spent in the orchard and small fruit plantation where the work would be carried out under the direction of a trained instructor. If there are not a sufficient number of pupils to form a school in this district a one-day demonstration may be arranged. Those interested should send in their names to Mr. E. Felix Thomas, secretary of the Comox Agricultural and Industrial Association Courtenay, to reach him not later than the twenty-fifth of this month.

Beautiful Snow (?)

On Monday afternoon the cold north wind brought snow with it and by six o'clock the ground was covered to a depth of three inches. About the only ones who were pleased were the kiddies who dug out their sleighs and sought any old hill.

CABARET DANCE GREAT SUCCESS

A Cabaret Dance was held in the Gaiety Theatre on Monday, November 10th and was voted by everyone to be a great success.

The dance floor was in perfect condition and the hall was beautifully decorated with Hallowe'en colors.

During the evening special cabaret items were put on including jiggs, dances and gavottes.

The ever popular Pete McLaughlin kept the people in convulsions with his humorous sketches.

The feature of the performance was that the program was made up entirely of local talent.

Refreshments were served at the tables by waitresses in gala dress. Everyone had a real good time and are all looking forward to the next cabaret.

A meeting of the Courtenay Badminton club is called for Friday night in the Agricultural Hall when the election of officers for the coming year and other business is to be transacted.

The Star Car

"THE ARISTOCRAT OF LOW-PRICED CARS"

The Star Car's Tubular Back Bone

The Star frame is of heavy stock and has no less than six cross rails. The foremost of these is absolutely locked against weaving by two improved brackets, which also form engine support, and the dropped cross member which carries the rear end of the motor is so deep in section that the engine cannot possibly produce weave either through vibration or by the effort of driving the car. When the engine support in the frame is not rigid there are generally some speeds at which the whole motor develops a small oscillation which sends shudders all down the side rails and so to the body and its occupants.

There are two principal ways in which a frame can and usually does, weave. First imagine the frame alone resting on the ground and then think of giant hands taking hold of the two front spring hangers, one pushing back and the other pulling forward. With just two or three plain cross rails it would not require so terrific an effort to move the side rails a little like the halves of a parallel ruler. In the Star such weaving is completely prevented by the diagonal braces at the front end which triangulate the structure. In the Star frame there is a cross rail a little ahead of the rear axle center and another a little behind the engine. Below these and riveted to them by wide flanges, is a large, thick-walled tube which is also used as the muffler, though that is quite a secondary function. This tube would require an enormous force to twist it and this means that the two cross rails that support it must remain parallel. As long as they remain parallel the side rails must do likewise, which means that there cannot be any weave. Finally, another possibility for frame distortion is in the extreme rear ends of the side rails and the Star has these braced together by two cross members back of the rear axle.

AUCTIONEER GETS $1.00 PER DOZEN FOR HENS' EGGS

COURTENAY, Nov. 12.—The auction sale held on Tuesday evening in the Sandwick school house under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Sandwick Presbyterian Church was a distinct success. The members of the church had brought many uesful and pretty articles which made a varied and pleasing display on the large table that accommodated them. The committe in charge of the sale is to be congratulated on having previously secured the gratuitous services of Mr. E. Felix Thomas, auctioneer. Top prices were obtained for nearly all the lots. Hen's eggs brought a dollar a dozen. Much fun and laughter was shown when the auctioneer tried to explain and display the fine points of various delicate articles of femine attire. Mrs. Arnold Grieve kindly acted as auctioneer's clerk and was very efficient. Mrs. Alex. Hogg was kept busy as cashier and reports that the Ladies Aid cleared $85.00 on the evening.

Prior to the auction the Rev. Mr. W. T. Beattie entertained the assembly with a song and some amusing stories While the ladies were serving refreshments which were greatly enjoyed, Mr. William Duncan rendered a humorous reading in the Scotch dialect. At eleven o'clock the large gathering departed for home in the frostly moon light laden with their purchases.

BOARD OF TRADE WANTS RIVER SERVICE AGAIN

COURTENAY, Nov. 12.—The Courtenay-Comox Board of Trade meeting in the City Hall on Tuesday night, with President Pearse in the chair, was well attended. After the preliminary business had been transacted the very important question of river freight service came in for general discussion. Some of the members present were of the opinion that the Board had been slow in taking action concerning the discontinuance of the weekly sailings to and fro from Courtenay. After a lengthy discussion a committe of four comprising Messrs. Theed Pearse, R. U. Hurford, G. W. Edwards and B. Hughes was selected to interview the transportation company's agent Mr. Chas. Simms on his return from Vancouver. One of the members present reported that Mr. Simms was in Vancouver for the purpose of interviewing Mr. McGillis the manager of the Vancouver-Courtenay Transportation Co., regarding the future intention of the company concerning Courtenay. Hard surfacing the Island Highway was also debated and a delegation is to go to Victoria backing this proposition at an opportune time.

Mr. G. Stubbs paid a visit to Victoria over the week end.

Mr. Patterson the school inspector, came up to Courtenay on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Smith of Victoria are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith of the Lake Trail Road. On Tuesday evening they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kerton together with a numebr of other friends when music and games were the order of the evening.

Building Notes.

Mr. Rigles has been awarded the contract for the building of the new laundry on the Union Bay Road for the Courtenay White Laundry. When completed this will be thoroughly up-to-date in every particular. A much needed feature will be the installation of a dry cleaning plant, under the direction of Mr. Campbell, one of the members of the firm who has had many years experience in this class of work.

Mr. Robson has moved into his new house on the Conceina Subdivision.

Mr. Chas. Bool's house on Courtenay Road is nearing completion.

Mr. Clarkson is making a few alterations to the store that he recently acquired from Mr. Campbell.

The River Service.

No further news has been heard concerning the river freight service. Citizens have been seen in little knots at the street corners holding indignation meetings. Had there been more support and less talk we should have seen the covered scow at her appointed birth on the river each Monday. It seems a case of "You never miss the water 'till the well runs dry." Some people feel that the committee were somewhat precipitate in their action in not referring back to the Council.

COURTENAY PAYS RESPECT TO THEIR HONORED DEAD

COURTENAY,—To honor the memory of those men of Comox who went to the great world war and laid down their lives for their king and country several hundred persons made their way to the Memorial Cairn at Sandwick last Sunday afternoon. Promptly at two-thirty o'clock members of the Great War Veterans Association, representatives of fraternal societies and other citizens left the G.W.V.A. building at the corner of Cumberland Road and Union Street, and, led by the Cumberland Band, paraded to the scene of the Armistice Memorial Service. The service was begun by the playing by the band of hymn "Till We Meet Again. Representatives of the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, G.W.V.A., Native Sons of Canada, Knights of Pythias and Elks Lodges silently placed wreaths at the base of the cairn. Comrade Charles Beasley, President of the Great War Veterans' Association thanked the public for the magnificent turnout, after which the Rev. W. T. Beattie, pastor of St. George's Presbyterian Church, Courtenay led in prayer. The Rev. Mr. Leversedge, of Cumberland read a lesson from the Bible and then followed the memorial address by Bishop DuPencier. He paid tribute to those to whose memory the cairn had been erected and exhorted those present to do all possible for the assistance of dependents of men who had gone to the front and made the great sacrifice.

He said that during the great assault in the spring of 1918 in Flanders a message had gone out to the allies that there was to be no retirement; every man had to stand with his back to the wall fighting to the end. It was one of the crucial days of the great war and nature herself seemed in sympathy with the situation. The atmosphere was heavy the skies lowering and the air thick with the comnig storm. Just at dusk there came gleams of brightness and the sky was flooded with light and down it to one man at least appeared to come a noble army of men marching with songs and banners in the unity of a great purpose. And it was borne upon him that these were they who had in all ages lived and died to stand for the right and fight the wrong. They had come in the hour of the greatest danger to give confidence and inspire hope. The vision passed but the soldier stayed with his back to the wall, confident and full of hope.

That was the experience of many men at the front. It had given them inspiration to know that men and women who had devoted their lives to noble things were with them in their hour of need. Therefore it was no wonder that from coast to coast of their great land people were gathered together to try and catch again the inspiration of that spirit which animated their glorious dead. The inspiration which was the soldiers' in the great fight should be his hearers' today. "Greater love has no man than this that he lay down his life for his friend." Their example should be their inspiration. The one thing he and they who had not served could do was to imitate the spirit of those who had.

The heaviest burden he carried, said his lordship, was the burden of the fear that their country had not done all they might by those who had suffered in the war and their dependents. He had tried to do his best for them and he was at all times ready to do his part to assist them more adequately. Above all, let them do their duty by those who had returned broken and physically shattered and who were trying to get back to normal physical condition.

At the conclusion of the address Comrade Leslie Moody sounded the "Last Post" and Bishop DuPencier pronounced the benediction closing the service.

Poppy Tag Day.

The tag day held on Saturday last was a great success. The Girl Guides were busy all day and there were very few residents who travelled the length of Union Street without contributing to the cause. After paying all expenses the sum of $75.00 was raised which is $20.00 more than last year.

HAVE THE BEST ALWAYS

When buying a newspaper the same rule should apply as when buying goods. You want the best for your money. There is one "best" in Canada and it should be in every home. You should have your own local paper without doubt, but you should also have the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal. It is undoubtedly the greatest family and farm paper on the continent and at the low price of Two Dollars it is a wonderful bargain. This year the Family Herald is giving to each subscriber a chance to win as much as Five Thousand Dollars cash, and each subscriber receives a large calendar with a fascinating picture that would adorn any home. For those who secure new subscribers there are some very handsome rewards which are described in a catalogue obtainable free.

call you not servants but friend" emphasizing that the greatest friend any girl could take throughout life was Jesus Christ. Addresses were then given by the following: "The best meeting our group ever had," by Margaret Duncan of Courtenay; "The most interesting service our group has ever rendered," by Irene Bateman, humorous talks on the same subject by two Denman Island girls and "Missionary studies and activities," by Jean McNaughton. A missionary pageant was given by the Courtenay girls, all of which was much enjoyed by those present. A photograph of the conference group was taken, and anyone wishing to secure these photographs may procure same at special conference rates by applying to Rev. J. R. Butler, Cumberland.

Banquet for Girls

On Saturday evening at 6 p.m., one hundred and fifty of the girls sat down to a sumptuous banquet generously provided by the ladies of St. George's Presbyterian and Grace Methodist Churches. A toast to our King was proposed by Priscilla Cloutier, response being made by singing "God Save our King." "Our Country" was proposed by Alma Conrod and responded to by the singing of the National Athem. "Girls of Other Lands" proposed by Miss Baldwin of Union Bay, and responded to by Miss Ward of Comox. "Our Canadian Girls" proposed by Miss Allison and responded to by Beth Horbury. "Our Boys,, proposed by Edna Gear and responded to by J. C. Brown. A vote of thanks was tendered to the ladies for the splendid repast prepared, and three cheers given by the girls in appreciation of the leaders present. The secretaries expressed great pleasure at the high order of the addresses given by the girls and were enthusiastic in praising their efforts.

General Rally

On Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. the Conference Grand Rally was held in the Methodist Church. Devotional services were conducted by Rev. J. R. Butler, who chose as his subject "Jesus, the Supreme being." Rev. Beatty led in prayer. Miss Allison gave a closing address to the girls appealing to them to dedicate their lives to the services of Jesus Christ. Miss Fountain also spoke a few words in closing urging the C.G.I.T. members to always uphold the ideals of the organization, pointing out that the real test came to the girls when leading their individual lives in the home or elsewhere; that while assembled in a group it was much easier to maintain the right standards than when doing so individually. Silent prayer was indulged in by the girls, after which the hymns "Just As I Am" and "Blest Be The Tide That Binds," were sung. The repeating of the benediction brought to a close one of the most enjoyable as well as educational and inspiring conferences ever held in the history of Cumberland.
