HUNTERS HAD VERY ENJOYABLE TRIP

Gordon Cavin and "Jerry" Antapas, who were out hunting for a couple of weeks in the Campbell River district, returned home last week-end, after a very pleasant and successful outing, hunting and fishing being their main object. They secured good bags of deer and blue grouse.

During their peregrinations they came across a lake in which the fish were jumping "to beat four of a kind." Seeing an old boat on the shore they decided to borrow it without asking permission, no one being in the vicinity, anyhow. Just as they were making a get-away, however, using a stick to propel it, being minus of oars, a genteman, evidently fresh from the Old Country, appeared on the scene and questioned their right to use the craft, of which he claimed the sole right to use the "bally boat, dontcherknow!" And off he trecks to produce the lady who owned the boat to prove his contention. In the meantime the fishermen managed to land a few beauties.

By way of diversion, "Jerry" managed to lose the trail one night while hunting and perforce had to remain in the forest all night, in a heavy rain, with his raincoat for a covering.

Important Junior Game on Sunday

League Leaders Will Clash on Sunday—Union Bay Meets High School Saturday

The Bevan Juniors and Cumberland Juniors will clash at Bevan on Sunday in a Cumberland and District Junior League game for the Canadian Collieries' cup.

When these two teams meet it is always a ding-dong game, and this one should be no exception, as the contesting teams were each winners in last week's games, and the winner in this instance will be league leaders.

Both teams have a win to their credit, and a fast and interesting game is looked for. There should be a big crowd on this occasion. The game is scheduled to start promptly at 2 o'clock. The Workmen's Train leaves the water-tank at No. 6 siding at 1.30 for Bevan, where the game will be played, and will return immediately after the game.

Mr. D. R. MacDonald, Traffic Superintendent of the Canadian Collieries, has kindly granted this privilege.

H. Waterfield, manager of the Cumberland Juniors, says the Bevan team is a good one, but he thinks his boys can go one better and beat them. However, R. Herd, manager of the Bevan team, says his boys intend to keep up the winning streak.

The names of those selected to play for Bevan are not yet to hand, but the following will don the green sweaters for the Cumberland Juniors:

Goal, Lewis; backs, H. Strachan and W. Walker; half-backs, Lockhart, Mitchell (captain), Farmer; forwards, Stevenson, Robertson, Bond, Stewart, Freloni. All others players reserve.

All players and reserves are requested to meet at the Water Tank at No. 6 siding at 1.15 p.m. to get the train for Bevan.

High School vs. Bevan on Saturday.

Another game that will be the centre of much interest in junior circles is the game between the Bevan Juniors and the High School team, which will be played on Saturday afternoon on the Athletic Grounds. The game starts at 4 o'clock, and as these teams are evenly matched a good game is expected.

CANDIDATE SAYS HE IS PROGRESSIVE REFORMER

That is Title William Marchant Tells Liberal Chieftain He Will Campaign Under

"Progresive Reformer" is one more of the many political titles which politicians these days are assuming as indicative of the principles which they will profess in the coming Federal elections.

Mr. William Marchant, of Victoria, retired Federal civil servant, who last week received the nomination at the Liberal convention at Parksville for the Comox-Alberni riding has assumed this designation as expressive of that element of the electorate which, he believes, will be found aligned behind the Liberal cause.

King Congratulates Marchant.

Mr. Marchant this week received the accompanying telegram from Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Opposition Leader, who is now campaigning in Nova Scotia:

"Please accept my heartiest congratulations on your nomination by the Liberals of Comox-Alberni as their candidate in the present contest. Please convey to our friends and accept for yourself my best wishes for the success of our cause on election day."

In response to this message, Mr. Marchant replied by wire to Hon. Mr. King: "Thanks for congratulatory telegram. All Progressive Reformers of every group must rally to effect the defeat of a discredited and moribund Government."

BAZAAR AND SALE OF WORK IN DECEMBER

The Ladies' Aid of St. George's Presbyterian Church will hold a Bazaar and Sale of Work on December 7.

Board of Trade Meets on Tuesday

To Deal With Question of Proposed Reduction in Railway Service on E. & N. Line.

After several months' vacation the Cumberland Board of Trade is showing welcome symptoms of a return to activity. A meeting has been called for Tuesday night next at 8 o'clock in the Council Chambers.

The most important matter to be dealt with at this meeting is the proposal of the E. & N. Railway Co. to run a tri-weekly train service during the winter months. It is hoped every member who can possibly do so will attend this meeting.

In reply to a telegram sent last week by Mr. A. MacKinnon and Mr. G. W. Clinton, to Mr. H. E. Beasley, General Superintendent of the E. & N. Railway at Victoria, in reference to the reduced service, the following reply has been received by Mr. MacKinnon, President of the Cumberland Board of Trade:

"Victoria, B.C., Sept. 29.

"A. MacKinnon,

"President Board of Trade,

"Cumberland, B. C.

"Your wire 28th. No definite date fixed for reduction in daily train service. Question of continuance will depend upon amount of travel. Last year with daily service we handled less passengers than year before with tri-weekly service, and am sorry to say that prospects unfortunately do not look anything like as favorable as last winter. This matter will have our best consideration, but every prospect service will have to be reduced later in season, unless travel improves.

"H. E. BEASLEY."

Another telegram received by Mr. Walton from the secretary of the Victoria Board of Trade said it was not the intention of the railway company to take off the daily service before November 1.

SPECIAL MEETING OF PARENT-TEACHER ASSN.

W. A. WHIST DRIVE AND DANCE VERY ENJOYABLE

Big Football Game on Sunday

Bill Walker's Team to Play the B. C. Champions—Losers to Pay for the Drinks?

Big Bill Walker has a team of coming champions, and as the Cumberland United have an open date this week-end, Bill has hurled a challenge to the champions of British Columbia to a soccer game on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Walker is confident that the aggregation he has gathered together can just about take the measure of the champions. In fact he is ready to wager real money. Manager Bob Brown has accepted the challenge and the big game will be staged on Sunday afternoon.

Both teams have been down to hard training the last ten days and all players, with the exception of Toots Plump, are reported in excellent condition. Toots has a bad foot and does not feel disposed to risk it in such a strenuous game as this is likely to be. Keen rivalry exists between the two teams already and quite an exciting game is anticipated.

Bill Walker declares there is no one amongst the champions of B. C. who can put the ball past him for a legitimate goal. Jock Clark, the captain of the champions, is like Tom Brown's parrot, "thinks a lot and says nowt." One thing he did say when spoken to about Big Bill's ability to stop the champions, was "Wait and See!"

The teams will line up as follows:

BILL WALKER'S TEAM—Goal, W. Walker; backs, Stewart and Gough; half-backs, McWhirter, Carle and Hunden; forwards, Bannerman, Kerr, James, Sutherland and Harrison.

UNITED TEAM—Goal, Boyd; backs, Mortimer and Campbell; half-backs, Irvine, Conti and O'Donnell; forwards, Milligan, Brewster, Pilling, Hitchens, Plump. Reserves, Scott and McWhirter.

Impressions of the Big Game on Sunday Afternoon.

BILL WALKER: "If I could pick four teams to win on the Winning Post Coupon last week, I can pick one team to win this week-end—and that's not the B. C. champions!"

GEORDIE CARLE: "We'll make the champions step all the way, and given an even break, I look for a draw at least."

SAMMY GOUGH: "Why, sure we can beat the champions; they are not the only people who can play football!"

JOCK CAMPBELL: "Just wait and see, mon."

MILLIGAN: "I haven't shot a goal for a few months now—but I am going to have a good try on Sunday."

CHARLIE HITCHENS: "The easiest team we ever tackled."

MANAGER BOB BROWN: "Bill Walker is a good footballer all right, but he is a helluva prophet. I am sure the champions will win."

The programme will be changed three times weekly, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The beautiful Paramount star, Gloria Swanson, has the leading role, a very colorful one, that of a half-gypsy, yet a carefully-sheltered daughter of British nobility, with the longing for the nomadic life of her forbears. Her love story is one that will arouse great interest.

Two Road Shows Next Week.

Two road shows have been booked to appear on the Ilo-Ilo stage next week. On Tuesday, "Peggy's English Pierrots" will appear in a clean and clever vaudeville programme. ANNUAL TAG DAY OF THE HOSPITAL W. A.

On Saturday, October 22, a tag day will be held under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Cumberland General Hospital to raise funds to carry on the work undertaken by the ladies.

The auxiliary provides most of the crockery and linen used in the local hospital, which are procured here, and all money raised is spent in town. Excepting for the dues paid by the members the auxiliary depends on voluntary subscriptions for its support, and it is hoped the public will accord them a generous response.

"THE GREAT MOMENT"

At a Russian orgy in St. Petersburg, Edward Pelham meets Nada, a gypsy, and makes her his wife.

The death of Nada while bringing a daughter in the world affords Pelham relief and he pays attention to the rearing of Nadine, his daughter.

Nadine goes to America with her father. In Nevada, Nadine meets Bayard Delaval, a mining engineer. While standing on a ridge, Bayard is about to declare his love when a rattlesnake bites her. He carries her to his secret retreat in the vicinity and to counteract the poison, ples her with liquor until she becomes intoxicated.

The two are discovered by the Pelhams, and construing the worst, the father insists upon the immediate marriage of the couple.

Hoping to win Nadine in the customary manner, Bayard agrees to a divorce. Although her pride is hurt, Nadine consents to the arrangement and their divorce follows. Bayard continues his work at the mines and Nadine goes to Washington where Hopper, a rich man, seeks to marry her.

A miracle message comes to Bayard who hurries to Washington to rescue Nadine from her proposed marriage to Hopper. He fails to meet her at a public reception and when Nadine learn that he has been there, she throws Hopper's jewels away, veils her face and hurries to Bayard's hotel.

Nadine consents to go to the home of a friend to await Bayard's coming with a licence and minister, and Hopper causes her to be driven to his own home. Bayard discovers her whereabouts and after rescuing her, they become sweethearts once more.

THE POLITICIAN

The politician's now abroad with bright and cheery smile, for every man a friendly nod, his sufferance to beguile. He travels up and down the land, silk phrases on his tongue, he peddles bunk on every hand to voters old and young.

It may be that he is a Grit, or Tory through and through, but Grit or Tory he is it and he is after you. With sympathy and much concern, your troubles he would hear. Of all your wishes he would learn. He lends a willing ear.

At other times he can't be found, though hard may be your lot, but when election time comes 'round he's Johnnie on the spot. His party 'twas the best. They will not disappoint you or be waiting at the test.

The devil once was very ill, so he a saint would be. He wants a vote from you and will be glad of one from me. From Georgia's Gulf to Fundy's Bay goes up the anxious cry. Remember on election day, Dear Voter, I'm the Guy.

Election Regulations

If You Intend to Vote at the Coming Elections Read the Latest Information.

"It is important to have it clearly stated that the Wartime Elections Act of 1917 has no application to the present election as that act is dead and gone forever, nor are Scott Act or by-election lists of any legal force for a general election."

In this way Alexander Smith, barrister, of Ottawa, prefaces an answer to an enquiry as to what voters' lists will be used in the present general election. Mr. Smith at the recent session of Parliament was introduced to the privileges and elections committee of the House of Commons to submit such interpretations on the Dominion Elections Act as might occur to him, with the result that the act was considerably amended.

Under the new Elections Act a British subject by birth of naturalization is entitled to a vote if he or she is 21 years of age, resident in Canada for one year and in the constituency for two months at the time of the issue of the writ.

In cities and towns of 2500 population a person to be allowed to vote must have his or her name entered on the voters' list before election day. In towns of 2500 or less population, and in rural municipalities, persons otherwise qualified, whose names are not on the list, may vote by declaring on election day they are entitled to vote and at the same time have a voter, resident in the same poll, whose name is on the list, swear or declare to the qualifications of the applicant.

"Once the writs are issued, lists will be revised in every polling division in Canada," Mr. Smith says, "and the basis of these lists will be the provincial lists, as used in provincial elections any time within the past two years, except in such provinces where since the provincial elections, new lists have been prepared by sheriffs or municipal or other officials for, or as a basis of, provincial lists. To any such provincial lists will be added the names of persons now qualified and the names of non-qualified persons may be struck off. In provinces where there are no provincial lists, as pointed out, then the lists are to be wholly prepared for the present elections. Notices will be posted in all the polling divisions, rural and urban, setting forth the days given to the revision of the lists."

The rural registrar will furnish a typewritten or handwritten copy of his or her preliminary list fifteen days before polling to each candidate, and a copy of the additions not later than 6 o'clock on the morning of the polling. The rural lists will not be printed as they are really open until the polls close on election day. In cities, towns and villages of more than 2500 population the revising officer, who is the county or district judge, shall provide for the printing of the lists and deliver copies to the candidates at least four days before polling.

In this regard Mr. Smith says it is well to remember that in urban municipalities names are added only by application in person, while in rural divisions the registrar add of his or her own accord, and also will add names submitted to him if he or she is satisfied they are entitled to be added. Provision also is made for a duly qualified person to get his or her name on before the deputy returning officer on election day and to vote. There is no such provision in cities, towns and villages of more than 2500 population. In these, if a person's name is not on the list before election day, he or she cannot vote.

FINGER TIPS

A French doctor with plenty of time on his hands has been specializing in finger nails. He says you can determine the general condition of your health by the appearance of your nails.

If there are white markings on them you liver is out of working order, and if they are of a bluish tinge, your circulation is below par.

Having proved that the nails are connected with health, why not go a step farther and prove that they are connected with character?

Reading nails might be made as popular as reading palms. It would be a delightful parlor diversion, and quite as legitimate as palmistry as an excuse for handholding!

Here are some pointers from a finger tipster:

If the nails are square, you are of a determined disposition with a tendency to stubbornness.

If the nails are a complete oval, you are of a wide-open disposition, and generous to a fault. You will make many friends, and if your cellar is as wide-open as your disposition, you will be able to keep them.

If your nails are rought, your future will be filled with hard work—and the chances are that your past has been also. But you will triumph in the end, just as all rough-workers do.

If your nails are silghtly pointed, you are fastidious and averse to doing housework and bricklaying.

If the nails are extremely pointed, it looks very much as if your past has a Chinese influence.

If there is a half-moon at the base of the nail, you are of a romantic disposition and enjoy sitting in the park in the evening.

If the nail is highly polished you have just paid fifty cents for a manicure!

JUST CAUSE FOR ANGER

Smith (to his grocer): "You seem angry, Mr. Brown."

Brown: "I am. The inspector of weights and measures has just been in."

Smith: "Ha, ha! He caught you giving fifteen ounces to the pound, did he?"

Brown: "Worse than that. He said I'd been giving seventeen!"

FIGURES DON'T LIE

An Irishman was working for a Dutchman, and wanted a raise in wages. Said the Dutchman:

"Pat, if you are worth it, I will give it to you; but listen, Pat, you know there are 365 days in the year?"

"Yes," said Pat.

"Now, you sleep eight hours each day, that equals 122 days you sleep. Figures don't lie, Pat. Take that off 365 days and you have left only 243 days.

"Yes," said Pat.

"Now, Pat, you have eight hours for recreation and devotion, That is equally 122 days. Now take that off 243 days and you have 121 days left. Then there are 52 Sundays in the year. You must take that off, for you don't work on Sundays, and that leaves you 69 days.

"You know I always give you 14 days vacation each year?"

"Yes," said Pat.

"That leaves 55 days. Now, Pat, there are 52 Saturday half-holidays in the year. You know you don't work Saturday afternoon.

"That makes 26 days. Now take that off and that leaves 29 days. Now, Pat, you have about two hours for meals each day.'

"Yes," said Pat.

"That equals 28 days. Now you must take that off. That leaves one day, and figures don't lie, Pat.

"Now, Pat, you know I always give you every St. Patrick's Day off. Now, Pat, I want to ask you do you think you are worth a raise?"

Said Pat—"What the h—— have I been doing all this time?"

WHEN THE PAPER DOESN'T COME

My father says the paper he reads
ain't put up right;
He finds a lot of faults, he does, perusin' it all night.
He says there ain't a single thing in it worth while to read,
And it doesn't print the kind of stuff
the people need.
Te tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum—

GRANDPARENTS

To get the best out of education and health, you should begin with your grandmother and grandfather. It is always a little difficult to go back and change the habits of the old folks, but you might start with your own grandchildren's grandparents: that is one set of ancestors you can control. Why not begin right now?

Heredity is an important factor in the development of the body—every part of the body.

The tendency is for a perfectly healthy organism to reproduce a perfectly healthy organism. If you start out right, you have a good chance to travel along without much of a struggle for health. If your race has allowed itself to go to pieces, you will reap the punishment.

It is your duty so to care for yourself that your children and grandchildren will not have constitutional weaknesses that will make them susceptible to every infection that comes along.

If you allow your teeth to decay and allow the pulps to become exposed and die, you will start a line of systematic infection that is liable to undermine your health—not only your health but the health of those who should look back to you with pride as the one who transmitted rugged health and keen mind.

Do you wish your descendants to apologize for you as the weak link in their chain of ancestry? If you do not take care of every element of your health that is just what they will have to do.

Your mouth and your teeth are very important elements in your health.

Many of the factors of health are beyond your control, but the mouth is so open to inspection and so responsive to treatment and care that at least 90 per cent. of mouth diseases are somebody's fault.

Think of the future and take care of yourself.

THE AD. AND THE MAN

He saw an ad. from day to day
And muttered "I defy it,"
Their stuff may be just what they say,
But I'm not going to buy it.

As time wore on he made remarks
It would not do to mention,
For he was mad because that ad.
Was forced on his attention.

But in a week or two, or three,
He said "There's no denying
The way that ad. gets hold of me—
The stuff may be worth trying.'

For just about a fortnight more
He dared mere words to win him—
And then the ad. completely had
Aroused the spender in him.

Next day he drifted in a store
And quietly expended
A few big iron dollars for
The stuff the ad. commended.

He found it filled a long-felt need,
Its excellence surprised him,
And now he's glad because the ad.
So deftly hypnotized him.

A Red Cross Appeal for Peace

This Appeal is Sent Throughout the World by the Joint Commission of the International Committee of the Red Cross and League of Red Cross Societies at Geneva, in an Endeavor to Arouse Sentiment for Universal Peace and Concord.

The following communication from Geneva is sent to all nations of the world by the Joint Commission of the International Red Cross at Geneva, following out instructions of the Red Cross Conference which met in April of this year. It is an earnest appeal to all peoples of every clime to combat the spirit of war which dominates the world and promote peace.

In virtue of a higher law and duty, and of principles above the level of human passions, the helping hand of the Red Cross was stretched for to all victims throughout the ordeal of the Great War.

Today, the Red Cross owes it to itself and to all its many workers to proclaim as an ideal and a practical intention, a struggle against the horrors of war, an attempt by world-wide help and unselfishness definitely to abolish war.

The mere continuation of Red Cross activity in time of peace will no longer suffice. It is the wish of the Red Cross to work in the interest of peace.

Therefore, the Red Cross calls upon all whole-hearted citizens, irrespective of nationality, religious belief, profession, or social rank, to join as far as lies in their power in a systematic campaign against that spirit of war which is a constant menace to the world's peace.

During five years, millions of men were killed or mutilated. Today, thousands of ex-soldiers or prisoners at last set free bear indelible marks of bodily and mental suffering. All of them believed the generations to come would reap the fruits of the great ordeal in a new international life, which would be more brotherly, franker and more full.

Sinister Influences for War.

Instead, discord and uncertainty, distrust and greed, hatred and the threat of fresh quarrels are reappearing throughout the world. The spirit of war, unconquered, reigns supreme. Its sinister influence is evndent. It inspires lines of policy and press campaigns, which lead public opinion astray and embitters the economic competition among nations.

During the terrible years of the recent war, superhuman efforts were required of the different nations. In order to inspirt such sacrifices, a supreme reward was promised—namely, the annihilation of this same spirit of war, which is a peril as old as the world and a constant menace to mankind.

Thus generations yet unborn would have been delivered from the scourge at the price of the sufferings which the war entailed. This hope sustained nations and armies.

Have they hoped in vain?

Have millions of human lives and the wealth of nations been sacrificed in vain?

Faced with these questions, the Red Cross recognized a duty.

At the suggestion of Senator Ciraolo, chairman of the Italian Red Cross, the tenth International Red Cross Conference, which met at Geneva on April 1, 1921, voted the following resolution:

"The International Committee of the Red Cross and the League of Red Cross Societies shall address an appeal to all nations, exhorting them to combat the spirit of war, which dominates the world."

These two organizations therefore call on nations and individuals to fight with all means in their power this maleficent spirit. May statesmen, writers, school and university, capital and labor memember that it is their duty, in the interest of mankind, to help peace to conquer the earth. Above all, children should be brought up in this fundamental belief.

It is essential that the human mind should once more be open to the broad lines of an internationalism, which, while allowing the citizen to love his town and the patriot his country, teaches all men to respect the existence and the rights of their fellows, by bringing into the daily life the individual light of a justice, which is to be in all the world for all the time.

The Power of Invidiual Conviction.

This true internationalism cannot be attained without the active and intimate co-operation of governments, parliaments, voluntary organizations, the press, the clergy, and above all, national Red Cross Societies. To the union of these forces must be added a supreme factor: the power of individual conviction. Every man, as far as lies in his power, must contribute to make peace permanent in the world.

The individual must no longer see the world in the light of his own selfishness, anger, fear and human passion, but in a spirit of concord and mutual aid.

Thus only can a better future be prepared.

Faithful to the ideal which inspired its founders, and which it has ever served, the Red Cross hereby declares before the whole world, that its work does not end with war. The Red Cross appeals to the heart of all mankind, that each individual may find in himself the needful strength and determination to make and keep universal peace.

For the Joint Council—
GUSTAVE ADOR,
President of the International Committee of the Red Cross.
CLAUDE H. A. HILL,
Acting Director-General of League of Red Cross Societies.
Geneva, July 19, 1921.

WASTE OF NATION PROVIDES FORTUNES

On what wasteful Americans throw away 50,000 junk collectors last year salvaged nearly two million dollars worth of material, says the Waste Trade Journal published in New York. They reclaimed 1,500,000 tons of waste paper, 500,000 tons of old cotton and woolen rags to be made into shoddy all-woollen clothing, 130,000 tons of old copper, 159,000 tons of old brass, 124,000 tons of lead, 50,000 tons of zinc, 23,000 tons of tin, 15,000 tons of aluminum, 200,000 tons of rubber, of which 75 per cent. were used tires and inner tubes, and 6,000,000 tons of scrap iron and steel. But as this waste keeps 50,000 people busy, perhaps it isn't all waste, after all.

OUR NEW JAPANESE ELECTORS

Many citizens will receive with alarm the news that provision has been made by the Dominion Government to enable the Japanese veterans in this province to vote in the forthcoming general election. It is another evidence of the inability of Ottawa to understand British Columbian opinion on the growing menace of Oriental penetration; it is an indictment against our B. C. representatives in the last Parliament that they failed to advise the government of the state of Pacific Coast opinion on that matter.

It is all the greater affront to British Columbia, because the whole matter has been felt out in the Provincial Legislature two years ago. On that occasion the entire Conservative Opposition, aided by members on the Government side of the House and by Veterans' Associations on the outside, raised so great a storm of protest that the Japanese themselves requested permission to withdraw their request for the franchise.

Tributes have been paid in sincere terms to the gallantry and devotion of the Japanese soldiers who served in the British Columbia battalions. Twenty-five per cent. of their number paid the supreme sacrifice; scarcely a survivor returned unscathed. The memorial in Stanley Park to the fallen Japanese soldiers marks a real sympathy and admiration which British Columbians feel.

But the efforts of the Canadian Japanese Association to exploit the war sacrifices of their enlisted brothers by making it part of their published demand for the political franchise does not meet with a welcome response. The enlistment of the Japanese from British Columbia to serve overseas does not alter the fact that as a race they are not permitted to divest themselves of their prior allegiance to Japan, and are not, therefore, capable of becoming true citizens of Canada in the fullest sense.

The series of investigations into the Oriental situation, written by Mr. J. S. Cowper, which have been a recent feature of The World's news columns, has shown from the Civil Code of Japan and from the statements of Japanese authorities, the inability of the Canadian Japanese, or even of their Canadian-born children, to divest themselves of their Japanese fealty. With the rapidly multiplying numbers of the Japanese in this province—one birth in every thirteen this year is that of a Japanese—the dangers of their admission to the franchise are plainly apparent.

Two years ago the inclusion of the Japanese veterans as voters of this province was refused on the ground that it was "the thin end of the wedge." That this rejected wedge should have been re-inserted by Ottawa will be resented. If, as seems not unreasonable, that wedge was inserted in the hope of some small advantage at the forthcoming polls, the resentment will be tinged with a touch of justified anger.—Vancouver World.

With the mining, lumbering and other basic industries along the coast resuming operations, the coal mines of Vancouver Island employing more men than this time last year, and the big fruit crops of the upper country and the grain crops of the prairies being harvested, British Columbia business men are regarding the coming winter with more optimistic outlook than they have revealed for some time.

Instinct is a wonderful thing, finds an exchange. The street department had been flushing the street and a small stream of water still ran down alongside the curbing. The sweet young thing came to the edge of the walk, saw the water, frowned and hesitated ever so slightly, and then crossed over—carefully holding up a skirt that came within at least 12 inches of the pavement.

Where is the old fashioned girl who got spanked when she returned home at 10 p.m. after taking a buggy ride with her beau? She now has a daughter who feels blase if her best fellow fails to honk her home in his flivver at midnight so many nights a week.

ANTI-TOBACCO LAWS—AND HUMBUG

Speaking of those anti-cigarette laws in force in Utah, Kansas and maybe other states, one need not go out of this state, says a Washington publication, to realize the futility of such laws—their absolute harmfulness in breeding a contempt for law that is unwholesome.

Twenty or twenty-five years ago the state of Washington had an anti-cigarette law. It meant such and such a fine for any tobacconist to sell cigarettes to anyone. The law was enforced for possibly half an hour. Then as each dealer found the other fellow was selling cigarettes he restored his own stock.

The cigarettes were kept under the front counter. All you had to do was to go into a cigar store and rap once on the counter and the intelligent dealer would put out the cigarettes. It was done openly, the law fell into disrepute, no one thought of enforcing it and soon it was repealed.

This country is not ready for anti-tobacco laws; there is no excuse for them; they cannot be enforced and the only reason for them is that a lot of the paid reformers, having accomplished prohibition legislation—not prohibition—would rather stay on the payroll with some other reform than go to work.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

Strength of will is what the young men and young women of Canada need. Ours is the greatest country on earth. It offers the greatest inducements. It is just on the eve of an age of growth, like which the world has never known. Rapid as was the progress of the United States, the progress of Canada will be swifter.

Do our young men and young women appreciate the opportunities that are theirs? Do they grasp the situation? Are they preparing themselves to take up the responsibilities that this remarkable age thrusts upon them—responsibilities that demand strength of Character, of Will, of Thought, of Concentration. As they strong enough? Are they brave enough?—Okanagan Commoner.

Exchangelets

Women's rights have not been established firmly. A San Francisco woman has been arrested for smoking a cigar on the street.

The survival of the fittest certainly applies to those who refrain from the use of bootleg liquor.

"Gentle" southwesterly winds are forecasted. It takes the weatherfolk to "gentle" them.

The people of the famine belt of the Near East report having seen a serpent 200 feet long in the Black Sea. Those folks may be hungry, but we will bet they aren't thirsty.

If this flivver business keeps on growing, eventually Uncle Sam may be able to borrow enough money from Henry to pay his debts.

A physician says people are usually happy when the liver is working well. He probably means flivver.

Some of these wise owls who shoot when they see the bushes move might get a good idea of motion pacing behind the bars for a while.

Some soft drink peddlers seem to be hard characters.

When we get something for nothing it usually is worth exactly that.

Women with short skirts should learn how to board street cars with both feet at once.

October days have descended upon us with a blush and a smile, and with the tang of autumn—a combination of meterological innocence and menace that beguiles us, yet reminds us that coal and wood are high and the winter long.—Condon (Ore.) Globe-Times.

"Made-in-B. C. first, Made-in-Canada next, and then Made-in-the-Empire," is the real motto of the Made-in-B.C. Campaign, said Mr. Frank Parsons, chairman of the campaign committee. "The B. If you want to get the most out of life, make it a practice to see nothing but the good. Evil exists only as you recognize it, or in other words, what you don't know don't hurt you, and so far as you are concerned does not exist.—Blue Mountain Eagle, Ore.

Meeting Provincial Needs

The great increase in the number of telephone stations in this province means that the telephone subscriber is able to reach many more people by wire, and consequently his service is of greater value. During the past year or two, expansion has been marked in all parts of Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland, but adequate facilities have been installed, both in regard to outside plant and inside equipment, to meet the needs of the various communities. The object of the company is to give a telephone service second to none. The B. C. Telephone Company, being a British Columbia concern all through, has a real interest in provincial progress, and every effort is made not only to meet the needs of development but to anticipate them.

CUMBERLAND JUNIORS WON INTERESTING GAME

Scored Three Goals Against the High School Team's Two on Saturday Afternoon.

Cumberland Juniors won the first game from the High School boys in the Cumberland Junior League for the Canadian Collieries' cup by 3 goals to 2, on Saturday last.

The game was played on the Recreation Grounds before a fairly large crowd and splendid football weather.

Both teams played a fast and exciting game, of great interest to the onlookers. The following was the line-up of the two teams:

CUMBERLAND JUNIORS — Boffy, H. Strachan, Walker, Lockhart, Mitchell, Farmer, E. Stevenson, Robertson, Bond, Stewart, Freloni (capt.).

HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS—Fouracre, H. Stewart, Reid, Ramsell, Wilcock, W. Jones, Watson, Hood.

Referee, Jas. L. Brown of Bevan.

Linesmen, Pat. O'Donnell and Jock Irvine.

The High School won the toss and the Cumberland boys had to face a strong sun in the first half. Bond set the ball a-rolling right on the advertised time, 4.15 p.m. Ramsell intercepted and banged the ball to the other goal, but Boffy had no difficulty in clearing. The play started off at a very fast clip, the ball travelling from end to end, and both goalkeepers were called on to handle some hard shots in the first few minutes of the game.

The High School boys were first to score. Hood, the outside left, received a pass from Watson and he beat Lockhart and Strachan, and then Boffy, with a fine shot, the latter having no chance whatever to save.

The game was very exciting at this stage, the Cumberland Juniors setting the pace. Several times their forwards missed golden opportunities to score, being too anxious in front of goal. However, after half an hour's play, Robertson, when about 15 yards out, kicked the ball over the heads of the High School boys' backs and goalkeeper, scoring the equalizer. Both teams tried hard to increase their score, the High School forwards playing better combination than their opponents, and results came their way.

All of the High School forwards had a try at goal, but could not get the ball into the net. Most of the Cumberland defence were lined up in front of the goal. Jones had a try, but Walker stopped the ball with his hands, and Referee Brown awarded a penalty kick. Ramsell took the kick and scored a good goal, making them two goals to one when half time was called.

Second Period Started with a Bang.

The second half started just as lively as the first. Some of the displays by the boys kept the spectators amused at times, but on the whole the play was good and the spectators keenly interested. Supporters of both sides were expressing words of encouragement to their favorites.

Ten minutes of the second half had gone when Mitchell received a pass from Stevenson, and scored Cumberland Juniors' second goal, again tieing the score. The High School boys tried hard to get on the lead again, but Boffy, Strachan and Walker were now playing a good defence game and would not let them get through. Freloni got away on the left for Cumberland and sent in a lovely cross, which was taken up by bond, and he beat Fouracre, which made the leading goal for the Juniors. Both teams pressed in turn for the remaining part of the game, but without further results, the Cumberland Juniors winning a well contested game by the score of three goals to two.

BEVAN JUNIORS WON VICTORY OVER BAYS

Thrilling Game at Union Bay On Sunday Last—Visitors Scored Three to Nil.

The Union Bay Juniors had the fast Bevan contingent as their opponents last Sunday in a Cumberland and District Junior League game, and were defeated by the visitors in a fast game by three goals to nil.

The weather was fine and a fairly large crowd witnessed the game, many going down from Cumberland, which shows the interest now taken in junior football in this district.

Keenan, the inside left of the Bevan contingent, scored two goals for his team in the first half, and the visitors scored another in the second, winning easily.

The Bevan forwards played well together, their combination work was a pleasure to witness. The half-backs also were sound, Weir being the pick; the backs were safe, likewise Walker in goal; he brought off two magnificent saves, which were greatly applauded.

The Union Bay forwards did not work so well together; Campbell was the pick and gave Walker a few difficult shots to deal with. The half-backs were not so effective as on previous occasions. Auchinvole played a great game at back, and time and again saved his side from a greater defeat. Brown in goal played a great game, despite the fact that he let three goals through.

The Union Bay team was considerably weakened by the absence of one of the Auchinvole boys, who suffered a dislocation of his shoulder recently.

Mr. Reid of Union Bay refereed the game.

Boffy, the Cumberland Junior's goalkeeper, brought off some good saves last Saturday.

Hood, of the High School team, played a good game at outside left, in view of the fact that he never played in this position before.

Lockhart and Farmer are inclined to rove too much and crowd in on their centre half on various occasions.

Mitchell exhibited some erratic and wild kicking last Saturday, which is unusual for him. Steady up, Micky.

Weir, the Bevan Juniors' centre-half and captain of the team, played a very effective game against the clam boys last Saturday.

The Union Bay boys played a good game and were unfortunate to be three goals down when the whistle blew for time.

J. Stevenson, the High School back, was rather fluky and miskicked many times.

The High School forwards combine well together and in a few weeks will take some beating.

Freloni, the clever outside left of the Cumberland Juniors, tricked his opponents on several occasions, but he is very light and requires a little more speed and a little more vim behind his shots and crosses.

Bond has improved the forward rank of the Juniors with his bustling tactics.

Auchinvole, the right-back of the Union Bay Juniors, was a tower of strength to his team against the Bevan boys.

Brown is a good junior goalkeeper, yet a good senior in another role.

SOME U. S. PROHIBITION DRINKS HAVE REAL KICK

"Smoke" is the new drink from the Orient that has made its appearance in New York in powder form and of a black substance; it is poured into a milk bottle or other receptacle containing water. It fizzes and smokes and the water turns greenish black, somewhat tarnished. The experts then swallow it in one gulp.

A freight handler pointed out a friend who was in the middle of the street wrestling with himself. "He just took a belch o' smoke," explained the husky to a spectator.

As they watched the friend regained his feet and dashed toward the building on the other side of the avenue. He didn't stay when he reached the brick wall. His strides continued up the side of it. Seven of them—and then he fell back flat on the sidewalk. Then he kicked two kicks with both feet at once and suddenly was again upright and running in a sort of shimmy gait toward the northern horizon.

Another drink now popular with men along the docks, it is reported, is a gin made of potatoes and spiced with black raw pepper. The pepper, mariners say, is not the ordinary variety known in this country, but has a flavor somewhat akin to molten lead.

Unless this gin is drunk fast, the drinkers explain, about three fingers in the quickest gulp, it will set fire to the epiglottis. It ranks second in sensations to that derived in biting a dynamite cap, they say.

THE HORRORS OF WAR

Two soldiers went into a restaurant on the eastern front, and said to the waiter:

"We want Turkey with Greece."

The waiter replied: "Sorry, we can't Servia."

"Well then, get the Bosphorus."

The boss came in and heard the order and then said: "I don't want to Russia, but you can't Rumania."

They were not a Paraguay Tommies, as they went away Hungary, saying they never sausage a place, and wishing they were at Frankfort or Bologna where they could Havre decent meal. But they longed most to get back to "Old Brighty" to Sandwich, as they were bred and mustered there.

NOT SURPRISING.

"Mother, I just saw a big lion down the street," announced little Marjie, calmly.

"Now, Marjie, you know that is not so," exclaimed her mother. "I want you to go into the next room and tell God what an awful story you told."

Marjie did as she was told and in a few moments came back smiling.

"I told Him, mother, and He said: 'Now that is perfectly all right, little girl. I've often been fooled by that yellow dog myself.'"

He was a wise man who said that he didn't have time to worry. In the daytime he was too busy, and at night he was too sleepy.

GOING DOWN COLUMBIA RIVER IN A ROWBOAT

Trip From Source to Mouth Will Occupy Six Months.

TRAIL.—M. J. Lorraine, the American civil engineer who is making the trip by boat down the Columbia River from Athalmar, at the foot of Lake Windermere, its source, to Astoria, Oregon, arrived in Trail last week, having made the trip from Downie Creek, forty-five miles, running all of the six rapids. Coming around the Big Bend he ran twenty rapids, including part of the Surprise Rapids, which are the worst known to the rivermen. Mr. Lorraine started from Athalmar on June 13, and expects to arrive at Astoria about December 1. He is a man of 68, and is making the journey alone, camping out wherever night overtakes him.

PENTICTON SOLD $215,000 BONDS TO WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION BOARD

The 1921 Penticton municipal bond issues, amounting to $215,000, have been sold in one block to the Workmen's Compensation Board of B. C. on a basis of a yield of 7.65 per cent. The price at which the debentures have been disposed of is not quite so good as that obtained for debentures sold in 1920 but the fact that they have been taken by an organization which will, in all probability, hold them as an investment until maturity, more than offsets the difference in price.

100,000 ORIENTALS?

Capt. Macaulay, secretary of the Asiatic Exclusion League, says the Vancouver Board of Trade underestimates B. C. Orientals when it puts the figure at 50,000. His own estimate is 100,000.

THE TITLE ROLE

"Waiter," asked the impatient customer, "do you call this an oyster stew?"

"Yessuh," replied Mr. Erastus Pinkley.

"Why, the oyster in this stew isn't big enough to flavor it."

"He wasn't put in to flavor it, suh. He is jus' supposed to christen it."

"Remember, my good man," said the visitor kindly, "that stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage."

"Well, they've got me hypnotized, then, that's all, ma'am," said the old convict, rudely.

Life may be a funny thing, but it takes a brave man to laugh at it.

THE ROMANTIC GLAMOR OF BEAUTIFUL SAMOA

Unusual Physical Features Have Much to Do With First Impressions of Visitors.

The reported desire of Samoans formerly under Germany to be assigned to Great Britain rather than to the mandate of New Zealand, as provided in the Versailles treaty, is of interest to people of this continent, since the other half of these far away Pacific islands belong to the United States.

The romantic glamor more recently cast about the Marquesas has been attached to Samoa ever since Robert Louis Stevenson penned his "Footnote to History" and "Vailima Letters," says a bulletin from the National Geographical Society.

Other visitors than Stevenson sing most extravagant praises of Samoa's charms. A New Zealand soldier pictures one of the archipelago as "an island where a heavy odor of green foliage pervades the air, where there is laughter at the bathing pool, and mellow harmonies at the meeting places, where at every turn the eye meets the glint of the sun on warm, placid waters or travels langourously along the graceful lines of magnificent brown men and women."

Nature Plays Queer Pranks.

Unusual physical features have much to do with the happy first impression Samoa makes upon its guests. The islands are surrounded, in large part, by coral reefs. These mark out the ribbons of placed water—canals of amethystine blue—which skirt the shore lines.

On Savu, largest island of the group, is a volcano which began an eruption in 1905 and continued for four years. Volcanoes are responsible for the queer syphon effects along the exposed coast of Tutuila and the southern shores of Savu. Liquid lava cooled in masses overhangs the ocean, forming caves of vertical fissues. Giant billows beat upon these caves, forcing water and air to emerge in soda fountain fashion through the upright funnels.

New Zealanders Took First German Territory in Great War.

Jet black rocks marks a part of the Tutuila coast, and the white foam of the breakers against these affords another striking natural spectacle.

The first enemy territory to be occupied by the British in the World War was Samoa. Upon arrival of the New Zealand forces the Germans announced that they would neither surrender nor resist. Announcement was made in the Reichstag that "the Pearl of the Pacific" had been invaded.

The people of the island add to its lure—whether it be the natives, pure Polynesians of splendid physique and character unspoiled by alien stock, or the beachcombers, those living story books of the South Seas.

Islanders Balk at Prohibition.

New Zealand's rigid enforcement of prohibition is cited as one reason for the agitation of European settlers for British rule. The United States was a party, with Great Britain and Germany, to the treaty of 1889, which made the islands dry.

But neither treaty nor the 18th amendment apply technically to the Samoan national drink, kava, which is nonalcoholic, but intoxicating. Its effects are discernible, however, only from the waist down. He who imbibes too freely may lose the use of his legs but retain his wits. Wherefore sailors mixed the kava with gin to insure a 100 per cent "jag."

Curious, too, is the method of compounding this beverage. The roots of a sort of pepper plant are chewed by young girls and deposited in bowls, where the male youths may pour in water to the proper dilution. The chief kava chewer in a native village is a sort of permanent queen of love and beauty.

The liquor leaves an enamel deposit in the bowls which is susceptible of high polish. The natives believe a similar encrustation occurs in the in the stomachs of consumers.

Beauty Aids of Samoan Belles.

Dainty Miss Canada daubs her nose with a powder puff when she goes forth to conquer; the Samoan belle oils or greases her head and body from the waist up when she appears in evening dress. A closes likeness arises, however, when the latter bleaches her hair with lime, or stains it with red clay.

Not only are Samoans physically attrictive; they are mentally alert, tractable, and bear no grudges, though easily swayed by emotions. One phase of their social organization, a sort of communism which calls for the sharing of any property with him who asks for it, is accounted a handicap in efforts to better their conditions. But it has been said facetiously that their political campaign methods might be worthy of emulation. For when a leader of a movement desires to gain support he goes to the abode of the head man of the opposing faction, prostrates himself and goes through many postures of humiliation, until assent is forthcoming. However, denial of the petitioner is considered an insult and may lead to fighting.

Of the 14 Samoan islands, only four are important. Of these four, Savu, the largest, and Upolu, the most valuable commercially, now are under New Zealand mandate. Tutuila and Manua are possessions of the United States. Tutuila is reckoned the most beautiful of the group, but its significance, especially in view of present day political interest in the Pacific, lies in its possession of one of the best and safest harbors in all the South Seas.

WARNING TO JOHN.

"Why did you strike the telegraph operator?" asked the magistrate of the man who was summoned for assault.

"Well, sir, I give him a telegram to send to my gal, an' he starts readin' it, so of course I ups and gives him one."

The softer the road the harder it is to travel.

That depends very much upon who gives it. For instance, we recommend Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes" as the cheapest mileage you can buy.

And we know a lot about tires. We have to in our business.

Hence our recommendation should carry some weight, apart from the fact that we are benefiting to some extent by your custom.

We know that if you buy once, you will buy again—because you will find that our recommendation saves you money on mileage.

We will give you a guarantee with Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes" too—a guarantee that protects you against any defect in material or workmanship which may arise at any time in the life of the tire. And we will get you an adjustment on that basis should necessity arise, without quibble or red-tape. Drop in and let us show you Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes" to-day if you can.

"NIGHTGOWN TYRANNY"

Ku Klux Klan Has Half a Million Members and is Meeting Strong Opposition

If what the Ku Klux Klan says be true, that the press publicity which is attacking the Klan's methods is bringing in 5000 members a day, then the editor might well pause before adding his protest against this lawlessness.

Headed by the New York World, twenty newspapers began a simultaneous publication of a series of sensational exposures. These dailies were joined by half a dozen weeklies, which came forward with articles headed "A Nightgown Tyranny," "Imperial Lawlessness," "Applied Violence," and—ironical touch—"The Ku Klux Klan, the Soul of Chivalry."

This last is from the pen of Albert De Silver in the Nation. "A child conceived in the tradition of a lawless past and brought forth in the extravagant obscrurantism of present day prejudice," says De Silver's attack.

The New York World and its associated newspapers present specific point as follows:

"It has grown from a nucleus of 34 charter members to a membership of more than 500,000 within five years.

"Its domains and realms and klans have been extended until they embrace every state in the union but Montana, Utah and New Hampshire. It practices censorship of private conduct behind the midnight anonimity of mask and robe, and with the weapons of tar and feathers.

"Its members are not initiated but naturalized by a ceremony which includes an approximation of the Christian ceremony of baptism.

"When it was organized it was directed against the negro, but now the negro has become a side issue. Today it is primarily anti-Jew, anti-Catholic, anti-alien, and it is spreading more than twice as fast through the northwest as it is growing in the south."

The Houston Chronicle takes the same stand of talking sense to the Klan as follows:

"Boys, you'd better disband. You'd better take your sheets, your banners, your masks, your regalia, and make one big bonfire. Without pausing to argue over objects you have in mind, it is sufficient to say that your methods are hopelessly wrong. Every tradition of social progress is against them. They are opposed to every principle on which this government is founded. They are out of keeping with civilized life."

A HINT FROM PARIS

Paris milliners have pretty nearly exhausted the animal kingdom—including mere man—in their search for novelties in style.

Now as a last resort, they have descended upon the owl. The last word in Paris creations is the owl toque, which is worn jauntily, with perhaps a hoot on the side.

Doubtless the new hat will be seen quite a good deal on the owl cars and at the owl resorts, of which the city has quite a few.

The reason the milliners have hit upon the owl hat is because the owl is hard to get. That's what makes it all the rage. The more difficult it is to get a thing, the more desirable it becomes.

It's the same way in this country with booze, perhaps you noticed.

As a result of the vogue, the market price of owls has jumped from $2 for a live one to $200 for a dead one. Which would seem to prove that an owl, like some people, becomes more valuable in this world by passing on to the next.

ODDS AND ENDS

The following are extracts from the notebooks of the great Russian writer Anton Tchekov:

People are bachelors or old maids because they arouse no interest, not even a physical one.

The difference between man and woman: a woman, as she grows old, gives herself more and more to female affairs; a man, as he grows old, withdraws himself more and more from female affairs.

The more refined the more unhappy. Love, friendship, respect do not unite people as much as common hatred for something.

Death is terrible, but still more terrible is the feeling that you might live for ever, and never die.

Everything which the old cannot enjoy is forbidden, or is considered wrong.

A doctor is called in, but a nurse is sent for.

At Wenatchee, Wash., Frank Schnell, orchardist, has solved the codling moth problem. He festoons his trees with hard cider made from last year's wormy apples. The moths swarm the cans and drink themselves to death.

In the middle ages the diamond was known as Pietra Della Reconciliziaone —Italian for "Peacemaker between man and wife." It still plays the part. Resembles Friend Wife.—Dr. Bertoni has discovered in Paraguay a plant now under special study at Kew Gardens, the leaves of which are 200 times sweeter than sugar.

New Love.—American tourists for whom the ancient Hudson's Bay Co. bastion has in past times been Nanaimo's pre-eminent attraction, now turn their backs on this relic, while crowding one another to snap the provincial vendor's depot.

An optimist is a man who makes the best of it when he gets the worst of it.

G. W. V. A. SMOKER WELL ATTENDED

Captain Carmichael Addressed Comrades at Length on the Amalgamation Question.

The "smoker" held under the auspices of the G. W. V. A. on Saturday last was well attended, many comrades coming from Courtenay and Comox districts. A good musical programme was provided, in addition to smokes, liquid and other refreshments.

Amalgamation Chief Topic.

The chief subject of discussion was the one of amalgamation, which is causing much interest in the organizations of ex-service men.

Capt. Carmichael, vice-president of the provincial command of the G. W. V. A., addressed the meeting at considerable length, devoting much time to the legality of selling beer in soldiers' clubs and about a quarter of an hour to the amalgamation of all ex-service organizations in Canada, the subject which will occupy the time of the Dominion convention at Port Arthur. Captain Carmichael said he was in favor of amalgamation but the tenor of his remarks led to the belief that he was ready to accord the suggestion but faint praise. He said the G. W. V. A. was a national organization with millions of dollars' worth of property, while all other ex-service organizations were limited in their scope. He had an open mind on the subject but could not see what other organizations had done or why the G. W. V. A. should make any sacrifices to bring out amalgamation. Affiliation, he thought, might be more desirable, but what he particularly favored was the absorption of all other ex-service organizations by the G. W. V. A.

Capt. G. R. Bates, president of the Courtenay branch, said he entirely disagreed with Capt. Carmichael in his remarks. He and the Courtenay branch were out for amalgamation, even at the cost of sinking the identity of the G. W. V. A. Politicians had made altogether too free a use of the G. W. V. A. on both sides and ex-service men would never get anywhere until they could speak with one voice in such matters.

Mr. C. J. Bunbury criticised Mr. Carmichael's remarks in the same vein. The Cumberland branch has passed a resolution that they are content to let the matter rest with the provincial command, while the Courtenay branch is out for amalgamation along business lines even if the G. W. V. A. has to sacrifice its identity in so doing.

MOOSE SUPERVISOR VISITED LOCAL LODGE

Mr. W. F. H. Thompson, who has been in the district organizing the lodge, resigned his position and the charter is now closed. A large number of new applications for membership were handed in at Thursday's meeting.

WHEN THE SERMON IS TOO LONG

Ray Hagen, inventor of the saying that "beauty is only knee deep," has perfected a new method of annoying the preacher who leans towards long sermons. Hs is going to try it next Sunday if he goes to church. We will admit that it is bad enough to annoy the divine by looking at your watch at frequent periods when the sermon is overlong, but Ray has gone this one better. He has perfeted the deadly insult of holding the watch to his ear to make sure that it is still going!

ATTEMPTING A GETAWAY

"Who's the fussy old guy?"
"That's my father."
"Is that so. I certainly do like to see a man as particular about little things as he."

"It is rude for a man to fall asleep while his wife is talking."
"But, good heavens, a man has to sleep some time!"

ARMISHAW, FARMER-LABOR CANDIDATE IS VISITING DISTRICT

Mr. J. E. Armishaw, of Sayward district, who has been nominated by a number of supporters at Sayward as a Farmer-Labor candidate, is in Cumberland making a call on voters generally.

Mr. Armishaw says he is in the field, and will stay there until the votes are counted, when he expects to go to Ottawa to represent this constituency.

Mr. Armishaw says he has been nominated by the Independents of the northern part of the constituency who claim that it is time Comox-Alberni was represented by a man from the upper part of the Island.

Mrs. Armishaw is accompanying her husband on his tour of the electorate, on whom they are making a personal call.

"They say a man is incomplete until he's married."
"Yes; that usually finishes him."
