THE TRIAL OF A MURDERER.

PARIS, July 14.—In the trial of Pranzi yesterday for the murder of Mme. Regault, her maid, and maid's child, no extenuating circumstances were shown. The prisoner declared he was innocent and kept a bold face to the end. It is expected he will appeal, but the case against him is terribly strong. The scene in the court room at the close of the trial was very touching, and many ladies on the benches struggled to get a glimpse of the prisoner.

A NEGRO MARRIES AN HEIRESS.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—It was announced yesterday that "Belly" Wist, the famous negro minstrel, has married the heiress, Miss Rumelia J. Mosses, the daughter of the late E. J. Mosses, Esq., U.S. minister to Turkey. The loving couple were united Wednesday afternoon, at Camden, Pennsylvania's and New Jersey's Gretna Green.

DEVELOPING IRISH WOOLLEN INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, July 14.—Peter White, representing a new company to develop the Irish woolleen industry, recently re-organized by Messrs. Parnell & Davitt, returned to Dublin to-day, taking with him, as the result of six weeks' work, American orders to the value of $1,200,000. He could have taken double the amount named, but the mills now in operation in Ireland cannot fill more orders at present.

COMMEMORATING THE FALL OF THE BASTILE

PARIS, July 14.—The fall of the Bastile was to-day commemorated with great demonstration and was entirely of a peaceful nature. Numbers of patriotic leagues and other associations, with banners and trumpets, marched past the statue and deposited upon it a colossal memoral crown. As this was done there were a few cries from the procession of "Vive La France," "Vive La Republique," and "Vive Boulanger," but there were no attempts at disorder. This evening President Grevy and his ministry were greeted with some isolated cries of "Vive Boulanger" and "resign," and a few hisses on their arrival at the Long Champs to witness the review, but cries of "Vive La Republic" predominated and the people seemed generally disposed to be friendly. The review of troops passed off without incident. It was witnessed by an immense but orderly crowd which cheered the troops heartily. The march first began at 4:10 p.m. and was finished at 5:50. The president and cabinet then returned to Paris. The populace this evening are calm and all fears of disorder have vanished.

FRENCH ANIMOSITY TO GERMANY.

BERLIN, July 14.—A German resident of Condry, France, writes to the Manheim Journal that the anti-German feeling in Condry is terrible and that he and other Germans had narrowly escaped being killed. He and his countrymen were insulted in the streets and it was hardly safe to venture out. The Kreuz Zeitung, referring to this letter, says it is intolerable that Germans should have to endure it. France must be made to understand there is a "thus far and no farther" in the matter. The Deutchese Tagblatt publishes, in a prominent position, a number of verses reminding France that the German hand rests upon the sword.

CATTLE QUARANTINE.

OTTAWA, July 14.—An order-in-council has been passed extending for 90 days the cattle quarantine to Manitoba and the North-west territories.

TYNDALL SPEAKS AGAINST GLADSTONE.

LONDON, July 14.—Prof. Tyndale, in a communication published to-day, says he has received numerous letters from all parties in America on Ireland's home-rule question, and they all recommend the utmost resistance to Gladstone's policy. "Inasmuch," says Prof. Tyndall, "as a disperate gainster, miscalled a statesman, has chosen to invoke ignorant foreign opinion against the instructed opinion of his own countrymen, it is worth showing that American opinion is not entirely on his side."

POLITICAL REFORM IN MEXICO.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 14.—Political interest in the commemoration of the anniversary of the death of President Quariz on Monday next increases and owing to renewed activity the clerical party and liberal party orators propose to make the occasion one of special significance and there is a general belief that out of the speeches which will be delivered food will be furnished out of which a political controversy will arise. It is known that prominent members of the liberal party are anxious that sterner means be taken against the violent form of laws instituted during the administration of the president.

VIVE LA GREVY.

PARIS, July 14.—President Grevy, accompanied by all the members of the ministry, left the palace of Elizel at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon to attend the review of troops. An escort of cuisassiers preceeded and followed the carriage. The people along the route greeted the president with cries of "Vive La Grevy."

DECREASE OF CRIME IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, July 14.—Justice O'Brien, in an address to the grand jury of the county of Kearney to-day, admitted there was a decrease of crime in the county.

POLITICAL ADDRESS.

LONDON, July 14.—Trevellyan has issued an election address to the people of Bridgetown division, Glasgow, which he is contesting in the liberal interests. He says: "From the first I disaproved of the liberals supporting conservatives against liberal. No words of mine can be quoted in which I wavered in this. This course of adoption, which proves to every unprejudiced man that the policy of discontent aims not at the settlement of the Irish question, by amending bills presented in 1886, but at the suppression of the liberal party, I cannot partake of."

THE REGENT WILL REMAIN IN OFFICE.

TIRNOVA, July 14.—The sobranje refused to accept the resignation of the regent, who tendered his resignation on the ground that his mission was completed now that the sobranje had elected a prince. The regent will therefore remain in office, pending the powers' decision respecting the action.

GUNPOWDER EXPLOSION.

ROME, July 14.—The details of an explosion of a gunpowder magazine at Massowah on the 11th inst. show that 10 Italian soldiers were killed and 7 injured and that $200,000 worth of camp property was destroyed.

ANOTHER CASE OF SMALL-POX.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—The physician in charge of the small-pox hospital to-day notified the health officer that a man named John Daily had been admitted to that institution with a bad case of small-pox. When Daily discovered he was sick, and suspecting the nature of the disease, he wisely walked out to the hospital, from which place the case was reported to the health officer.

ANOTHER CASE OF SMALLPOX.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—The physician in charge of the hospital today notified the health officer that a man named John Daily had been admitted to that institution with a bad case of smallpox. When Daily was discovered he was sick and suspected the nature of the disease. He wisely walked out to the hospital, from which place the case was reported to the health officer.

THE GREAT GUNMAKER DEAD.

BERLIN, July 14.—Fred. Krupp, the well-known German metal founder and gigantic steel gun maker, died today in his villa near Essen, Rhenish Prussia. Herr Krupp was born at Essen in 1812.

THE SECOND READING MOVED.

LONDON July 14.—In the house of lords this afternoon Baron Ashbourne, Lord Chancellor of Ireland, moved the second reading of the crimes bill. In making the motion he described the bill as a measure intended to counteract the criminal demoralization system of intimidation now reigning in Ireland. The system of coercion of a loyal people interfered with every relation of life. Neither sex nor age were spared from this odious and furious tyranny. It was slanderous upon the trades' unions when it compared them with the tyranical league. It was absolutely startling to hear Gladstone cloak the abominable system of boycotting in the expression of "exclusive dealing."

Earl Granville said that he would not deny that the government, finding itself unable to maintain law and order by existing measures, had the right to apply to parliament for further powers, but when the restrictions proposed suspending common personal rights, the clearest proof was required to justify the exceptional law. The state of Ireland was as peaceable now as in 1885, when the ordinary law was found sufficient. Every body knew the real aim of the bill was to suppress the combinations that interfered with the policy of the government and brand them as illegal. The opposition having done its utmost to resist the passage of the bill must leave upon the government the responsibility of the result. The Duke of Argyle, Lord Carnovan, and others spoke, and the bill was then read a second time. The measure will be discussed in committee to-morrow.

THE BOAT RACE.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 14.—Teemer, Hamm and Lee was the order of the finish in the final heat of the single scull race to-dap. Hosmer and McKay won in the consolation race. A high wind made rough water and the time was very slow. In the final heat Teemer had the west course and was sheltered from the wind. Hamm was in the center and Lee had the east side of the lake. Both races to-day were 4 miles. Teemer and Hamm started together and Lee kept falling behind. Teemer lead Hamm to the 3rd mile stake in 4 seconds, and there for some reason stopped rowing. Hamm quickly passed him. Then Teemer squared away again and passed Hamm after half a mile. He finished in 28.21. Hamm was 2 seconds behind, and Lee a half mile up lake.

FAILED TO AROUSE HOSTILE DEMONSTRATION.

PARIS, July 14.—Herr Rochefort, the Deputies Laisant and Loseuvre, and a number of other irreconcilables made an attempt to excite hostile demonstration during the review at Long Champs to-day, but the people around quickly drowned out their voices with cries of "Vive le Grevy." President Grevy addressed a letter to Gen. Ferron, minister of war, in which he says: "The review was magnificent. I admit the martial bearing and perfect precision of the troops. Convey to them my hearty congratulations."

The West Shore

FREE

For the balance of 1886, including the mammoth holiday number, to all who subscribe now for 1887.

With the January issue THE WEST SHORE will begin its twelfth year. Every number contains original illustrations of scenery, towns and industries in the Pacific Northwest, equaling in excellence the best productions of Eastern magazines. The contributed articles, general literature and stories are entertaining and carefully edited, making the magazine a choice family visitor. The comments on events of interest to this region and the large amount of information concerning our various resources and the progress of development given in every number render it extremely valuable. No family can afford to do without it, and every one financially interested in the Pacific Northwest or desirous of learning its resources will find it invaluable.

If the subscription price ($2 per year) is sent in now you will be entered for 1887, and the remainder of 1886 will be sent as a premium.

L. SAMUEL,

(ad lib) 122 Front Street, Portland Or.

Daily British Columbian

Friday Evening, July 15, 1887.

It is not believed the refusal of Turkey to sign the Egyptian convention will at all complicate matters. Possession is said to be nine-tenths of the law, and Great Britain has virtual possession of Egypt, an advantage which she is not likely to surrender. Under the circumstances the failure of the convention will probably be regarded as a very good excuse not only for remaining where she is, but for strengthening herself in the country. It is almost certain that if Turkey were to sign the convention now, the act would lead to very serious complications. France finds herself backed by Russia in anything she may do to embarrass Great Britain, and no one knows how soon French impetuosity might produce a crisis. But it is not probable France will take any decisive steps to evict the British forces now in Egypt. That would be a more serious affair, and would certainly furnish a plausible pretext for making Egypt in fact a part of the British empire.

So far as roads operating on or to the Pacific coast are concerned, the effect of the enforcement of the interstate bill hereafter will not at all disturb the course of trade. It has been decided that the long and short haul clauses are not intended to operate where roads have to compete with water routes. There is not a transcontinental road which does not have water competition. The Pacific Mail steamers, with their connections across the isthmus and on the Atlantic, are a safety-valve for high pressure rates which the transcontinental lines have vainly endeavored to close. The roads along the coast, all the way from Mexico to Seattle, are likewise subject to competition by water. It may be expected, then, that rates on the American roads will rule low, and from this we draw the consoling reflection that C. P. R. rates will be low also. Access to the American roads is so convenient for the people of British Columbia that under the circumstances the Canadian road would not venture to impose any very serious burdens upon us.

Speaking of the railway rumpus in Manitoba, the San Francisco Bulletin says: "The northwestern provinces of Canada, including Manitoba, are the most valuable territory of the Dominion. Some day 20,000,000 or more of people will find good homes there." The Bulletin might with safety make it 50,000,000. In fact the territory west of Lake Superior could furnish accommodation and the means of existence for half the population of Europe; and with the large westward emigration and the crowded and poverty-stricken condition of many European countries, it is probable the development of that vast and wealthy region will be much more rapid in the future than it has been in the past. When a population of twenty millions has found good homes in the Northwest the population east of Lake Superior will probably have grown to at least ten or fifteen millions, making the population of Canada over thirty millions. That would be a nation worthy the name, and yet there would be left territory and resources enough for vast future development. This Canada of ours is a big country—bigger than the United States—and the variety and value of its resources are very great.

A greatly improved method of producing sodium and aluminium has just been discovered. These metals have hitherto been rare, and, consequently, dear, although they exist very extensively everywhere. Our common clay is principally composed of aluminium in combination with silica. But the process of extracting the metal has been difficult and costly. The value of the new discovery consists in the fact that these metals may be produced by it in almost any quantity and at one-fourth of their present cost. Aluminium has some very valuable properties. It is only about one half the weight of steel, while in combination with copper it forms a substance having equal tenacity with steel. Besides, it does not tarnish on exposure to the air or water. These properties are such as to indicate the importance of the discovery of the new process which will bring the price of this remarkable metal down to the present price of steel. It is suggested that aluminium, or some of the combinations of it, will shortly enter largely into the construction of ironclads where great strength is required without too much weight. Canon could also be made of it, and for bridge work it would be invaluable. Our clay beds may yet come to be among our most valuable resources an account of the aluminium which may be extracted from them.

Messrs. Parker & Laird, of Hilladale, writes: Our Mr. Laird having occasion to visit Scotland, and knowing the excellent qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, concluded to take some with him, and the result has been very astonishing. We may say that in several instances it has effected cures when ailments had been pronounced incurable by eminent practitioners.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE

STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. THE ECCENTRIC IN PHOTOGRAPHS.

Homely Women Who Have Parts of Their Faces Taken—Brains Devise Compensation for the Lack of Physical Fascinations.

"However," said the photographer, "I started out to speak of the recent waking up of the plain women of the world to the value of the eccentric in posing before the camera.

"I speak of actresses because they have the most original ideas, and carry them out fearlessly. Here is the proof of a picture of a hopelessly inferior-looking woman who is starring in the West with her own company and making a great deal of money.

"She fully appreciates the value of a photograph as an advertising medium, and as her own face—pure, simple, and unadorned—will never craze the populace, she has hit upon the scheme of showing only a part of it at a time.

"Here are three of her designs."

The first represented a roguish and grinning face with a mass of tangled hair, two rows of white teeth, and a barely perceptible dimple. The face looked out from between two curtains which were drawn down on either side of it, meeting beneath the chin.

There was something so frolicsome and gay about the whole expression that one smiled involuntarily on looking at it. The effect was further heightened by the contrast of the faces on curtains on either side.

Two faces were woven into the curtains, and both of them were as solemn and gruesome in expression as it is possible to imagine. They were not very distinct, and they served admirably to give emphasis to the jolly face that looked out from between them.

The second photograph represented a section of a board fence.

Roughly painted on two planks were the words, "Ah, there!" and through a big crack between the boards could be seen one eye, an eyebrow, and a part of the nose of the actress.

There was something extremely wide awake and artful about the eye, and the nose was wrinkled so that it had a decidedly "tough" expression.

Altogether the oddity of the picture would cause people to look at it twice before turning away.

The third and last of the series of pictures was by all odds the best of the three.

It represented the head and neck of the actress rising out of the sea.

One might be excused for thinking that she had just swallowed a lot of salt water, for the face fairly spluttered with excitement. The mouth was drawn down, the eyes opened to the fullest extent, and the long and stringy hair hung over the wet face.

Everything was dripping wet, and the whole appearance of the face prepared one for the blood-curdling shriek which women bathers of a more boisterous sort usually give vent to after they have been forcibly doused under the waves at Coney Island.

"These three pictures," said the photographer, handling them carefully, "will advertise the original from one end of America to the other.

"The photograph as an advertising medium is, comparatively speaking, a recent idea, but it is, nevertheless, enormously effective, and it grows more important every year.

"Now that plain women have got started in this line, there is no telling where their ingenuity will stop, for they see the importance of catching the public eye, and, as I said before, it is the unlovely ones of earth's womankind who possess the greatest amount of originality and brains."—[N. Y. Sun.

Humboldt's Maniac.

The case of the late mad King Louis of Bavaria revived the very old question as to where reason ends and madness begins. Apropos of the discussion, a French paper tells a story.

During one of his visits to Paris, Baron von Humboldt expressed to his friend, Dr. Blanche, the distinguished authority in matters concerning insanity, a desire to meet one of his patients.

"Nothing easier," said Dr. Blanche. "Come and take dinner with me tomorrow."

Next day Humboldt found himself seated at the dinner-table of the famous alienist, in company with two unknown guests. One of them, who was dressed in black, with white cravat, gold-bowed spectacles, and who had a smooth face and very bald head, sat with great gravity through the entire dinner.

He was evidently a gentleman of undoubted manners, but very taciturn. He bowed, ate, and said not a word.

The other guest, on the contrary, wore a great shock of hair brushed wildly into the air; his shabby blue coat was buttoned askew, his collar was rumpled, and the ends of his crazy necktie floated over his shoulders. He helped himself, ate and chattered at the same time.

Story upon story did this incoherent person pile up. He mixed the past with the present, flew from Swedenborg to Fourier, from Cleopatra to Jenny Lind, from Archimedes to Lamartine, and talked politics and literature in the same breath.

At the dessert Humboldt leaned over and whispered in his host's ear, glancing at the same time at the fantastic personage, whose discourse was still running on:

"I am very much obliged to you. Your maniac has greatly amused me."

"My maniac!" said the doctor, starting back. "Why, that isn't the maniac. It's the other one."

"What! The one who hasn't said a word?"

"Certainly."

"But who in the world can the man be who has talked this fashion all the while.

"That is Balzac, the famous novelist."

The Great Problem of Origins.

We should fully understand the responsibility which we incur when, in these times of full-grown science, we venture to deal with the great problem of origins, and should be prepared to find that in this field the new philosophy, like those which have preceded it, may meet with very imperfect success.

The agitation of these subjects has already brought science into close relations, sometimes friendly, sometimes hostile, it is to be hoped in the end helpful, with those great and awful questions of the ultimate destiny of humanity, and its relations to its Creator, which must always be nearer to the human heart than any of the achievements of science on its own ground.

In entering on such questions we should proceed with caution and reverence, feeling that we are on holy ground, and that though like Moses of old, we may be armed with all the learning of our time, we are in the presence of that which while it burns is not consumed—of a mystery which neither observation, experiment, nor induction can ever solve. —[From Sir W. Dawson's Address to the British Association.

Leading Valuable Assistance.

"What a truly good woman the Rev. Mrs. Whitechoker is," remarked a gentleman, referring to the wife of a fashionable minister: "I don't think I ever met a lady of more character and worth. She must be of great help to her husband in his ministerial work."

"Oh, yes," responded the gentleman's wife: "She is. She practices what he preaches."—[Puck.

MANUFACTURE OF TOOTHPICKS.

A Place Where They Are Made by the Million, and the Way They Are Made.

There are, I have been told, but three toothpick factories in the United States. One of them is located at Belmont, Allegany county, New York, just on the edge of the town and near the banks of the Genesee river.

In going over most factories one is generally ushered in at the wrong end; that is, where the completed work is ready for shipment. This factory was no exception to the rule, but I will take you below stairs first and we will then work upward gradually.

The factory makes two articles of commerce, toothpicks, as already stated, and allumettes, or lamplighters. To commence at first principles.

We started in the basement, and after exploring the engine room betook ourselves to where the woodwork was in its first stages. We found in this second room piles of circular blocks of wood about sixteen inches in diameter by perhaps five in thickness. This wood was "hard" and "soft" maple and pine.

These are put into a revolving machine which strips them of their bark; they are then sent up to the first floor. Here they are again put into another revolving machine which cuts them into fine strips which are then cut into the required shape for toothpicks.

The "picks" are dropped out at one side while the refuse falls from the other into a shaft and is carried down to the basement and subsequently used for firing. Some are round, some square.

This little machine which makes them appears simple enough to the uninitiated but in reality is quite complicated, containing, we are informed, several hundred knives.

These small articles of after-dinner service are then taken up to the second story, where they are kept in a heated room until sufficiently dry for packing.

Descending to the first floor—for we have followed our miniature guide upstairs and down—we enter a room where several girls and women and two or three boys are at work.

One girl we find stamping thin pasteboard boxes with a press and then folding these boxes by hand with a rapidity impossible to be followed by the eye. The experienced fingers grow very nimble.

On the other side of the room girls were sorting and arranging "picks" and putting them in boxes. The work was executed with an alertness only acquired through long practice.

The plan of arranging them in bundles preparatory to boxing is this: From the large heap in front draw a smaller quantity, yet several times larger than the proposed bundle. These little sticks lay at "sixes and sevens" as confused as the most contrary pile of jack straws. The first motion is to draw the pile toward the worker, the second to draw the hands across the pile laterally and carry off any offending sticks that lay in their way, and then close in the pile as the third motion, again scattering and arranging. Reiterating these motions with more or less variation soon brings order out of chaos, and the pile grows beautifully less as compact, neat bundles assume the desired shape and proportion. They were then quickly boxed and thrown aside ready for the market.

In the manufacture of the allumette the wood was cut into long strips of two different widths, four and a half inches for the narrower, and as I remember about eight inches for the wide, and thirty-second of an inch in thickness.

These were then hung from beams in a drying-room, and the draped, ribbon-like effect of the room was very pretty. They were after ward put by the quantity [illegible] machine, whence issued the useful allumette ready for bundling and boxing.

This factory is not only one of the "sights" of Allegany county, but indeed of New York State, for, to the best of my belief, it is the only one in New York. —[Rochester Union.

Useful Hints for the Care of the Health.

A good illustration of the changes of temperature to which the body may be subjected in a brief interval may be found on any warm day in early Summer when a strong north or easterly wind is blowing.

On such a day an individual sitting in the full blaze of the sun, and well sheltered from the wind, may feel positively "hot," while another, equally well protected from the wind, but sheltered also from the sun, may feel but comfortably warm; a third exposed to the full blast of the wind, to the rapid passage over the body of a cooler air, may reasonably complain of being chilled.

Now it so happens that the disorders that depend upon what is known as catching cold depend for the most part upon sudden changes of temperature. Against these evils of sudden change woolen under garments afford a trustworthy protection.

They isolate the body. They prevent it from being influenced by the abrupt changes of temperature that are active around. Their properties are such that they become the poorest exponents of those changes.

Linen and cotton, on the other hand, good conductors of heat, are susceptible of modifications of temperature. They render the body injuriously au courant with the condition of the surrounding atmosphere, and would encourage it to take part in all the changes of temperature to which the atmosphere is susceptible.

These, then, are among the reasons why it is recommended that at all times woolen materials should be worn next to the skin, and from these facts it will be understood why woolen clothing is advised for those who visit the Arctic regions, while it forms the best material for under-dress for such as are exposed to the Tropics.—[The Book of Health.

Salt in the Orchard.

Mr. Emil Bauer of Ann Arbor, Mich., has experimented with salt on his pear orchard of 580 trees, which were affected more or less with blight annually.

In the Autumn of 1884 he applied three quarts of salt to each tree, and the apparent results so encouraged him that he made another application last fall.

He reports very favorably in regard to the effect of salt on the fruit, which before the use of salt cracked badly but is now sound.

In the Matter of Similes.

Language is a slippery thing to deal with, as some may find when selecting their similes. Says a writer:

"Speak of a man's marble brow, and he will glow with conscious pride, but allude to his wooden head and he's mad in a minute."—[Temple Bar.

Correct.

Teacher: "Miss Sinnico, please parse the sentence, 'Adolphus married Caroline.'"

Miss S.: "Well, 'Adolphus' is a noun, because it is the name of a thing; 'married' is a conjunction, because it joins Adolphus and Caroline, and 'Caroline' is a verb, 'cause it governs the noun."

Fire! Fire!

TESTIMONIAL!

Vancouver, 23rd June, 1886.

MR. G. ROBERTSON,
Vancouver;
Representing Goldie & McCulloch,
Galt, Ont.

SIR.—We the undersigned having witnessed the terrible fire which wiped out of existence the young city of Vancouver, on the 13th inst., have, after the fire, examined the safes sold by you, some of which were put to the most severe test, having been surrounded by large quantities of lard and bacon, and we are pleased to testify to the remarkable manner in which every Safe sold by you preserved its contents, not only books and papers, but also thousands of dollars in paper money were taken out in perfect condition. We can, therefore, with the greatest confidence, recommend them as thoroughly fire proof:

L. A. Hamilton, for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company; M. A. MacLean, Mayor; John J. Blake, Stipendiary Magistrate; Richd. Alexander, Justice of the Peace; John Boultbee, Police Magistrate, City of Vancouver; Thomas Dunn, Justice of the Peace; Isaac Johns, Col.; Edward E. Rand, Real Estate Broker; R. 1873. # GRIP! 1887.

CANADA'S COMIC JOURNAL

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

THE AIM OF "GRIP" is to set forth, in an impartial and independent manner, the passing events of Canadian political and social life. Its Cartoons speak more definitely and more pleasingly than who'e columns of editorial. In this pungent, easily appreciable, and artistic style of presenting a subject, the whole situation is revealed at a glance. The success of Grip shows how well this fact is appreciated—its Cartoons on the passing political events of the country being even more eagerly sought after than the chaste and humorous letter-press of the paper,—though the latter is equal to that of any similar publication on the continent.

The publishers of Grip are making extensive improvements for 1886. The old cover is to be discarded, and the journal will hereafter comprise 12 pages, and be printed on heavy toned and calendered paper,—every number being so artistically executed as to compare favorably with the best papers on the continent. The advts. will be compressed and more systematically arranged; while similar improvements will be made as to the letter-press. A new and handsome design will adorn the title page; while the Cartoons will continue to be a distinctive feature.

The price of Grip will hereafter be $2 a year, which is lower than that of any paper of its kind in America,—most of them selling for $5. Single numbers of Grip will be 10 cents.

Twice a year, at Midsummer and Christmas, a beautiful special number will be issued, the number of pages being increased, and pleasing features introduced, particulars of which will be given in preceding issues. These numbers will be presented to subscribers without extra charge.

GRIP'S PLATFORM:

Humor without Vulgarity;
Patriotism without Partizanship;
Truth without Temper.

Only $2 a Year, Postage Free.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN Printing Company

(LIMITED.)

ON THE 10TH OF JANUARY, 1887, the COLUMBIAN Newspaper and Printing Concern was purchased by a joint stock company composed of citizens of New Westminster, to be known as the "British Columbian Printing Co., Limited." The concern has been for nearly a year owned and controlled by the British Columbia Stationery and Printing Company, of New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver. The object of the new company is to continue the publication of the BRITISH COLUMBIAN newspaper and carry on a general printing and publishing concern, controlled entirely by those whose individual interest it will be to promote the development, especially of the Mainland. There will be no slackening of the energy hitherto displayed in the management of the establishment, and its patrons may rely upon receiving full value for their money. The COLUMBIAN will continue to be entirely independent in both Dominion and provincial politics, and will devote itself to the advancement of such schemes as may be considered in the public interest. The concern is now entirely separate from any other business, the book and stationery establishment in this city having been taken over by Mr. T. R. Pearson, who will continue to carry it on in his own name and for his own benefit. It is desirable that a daily newspaper should be maintained in this city, and the new company asks for public patronage on the ground that it is engaged in an enterprise calculated to promote the public welfare. It asks that the COLUMBIAN be judged on its own merits and supported only so long as its policy is enconsistt with its professions. In consequence of this business change all accounts due the concern must be settled without delay so that the books of the former company may be adjusted and closed. A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada,

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.

Immigration is pouring into the United States at such a rate this year as to create considerable uneasiness in some minds. The time may come when the true American will be at a discount in his own country, and the national policy will be shaped by foreigners.

The occupation of Adam, the father of our race, is set down as a gardener, and he had a very back-breaking time of it, too. As he was the only man in existence when he embarked in the profession he could not sit on the piazza reading a newspaper while his hired man was spading up the virgin soil.

Mrs. A. Nelson, Brantford, writes:—"I was a sufferer from chronic dyspepsia for eleven years. Always after eating, an intense burning sensation in the stomach, at times very distressing, caused a drooping and languid feeling, which would last for several hours after eating. I was recommended by Mr. Popplewell, chemist, of our city, to try Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, and I am thankful to say that I have not been better for years; that burning sensation and languid feeling has all gone, and food does not lie heavy on my stomach. Others of my family have used it with best results.

GARDEN PARTY.—A garden party under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church will be given at the residence of Mr. James Cunningham, Agnes st., on Wednesday evening, July 20th, at 8 o'clock. Ice-cream, cake and music. Admission 25 cts. djy14td

"THAT YOUNG MAN" was the title of a very interesting and instructive lecture given in St. Andrew's Church last night by the Rev. Patrick McFarlane McLeod, of Toronto. Mr. McLeod intermingled some very humorous anecdotes with his address, which served to keep his audience in a laughing mood all the time. Nevertheless he was heard with interest, and his words savored of much that would be wise and sensible for the young man of the present day to adopt.

NOT SO BAD AS THAT.—"Father," asked Rollo, looking up from the new labor paper, the Lounger at Rest, "I see Mr. George Henry proposes to abolish poverty. How will he do that; by making us all rich?" "No, no, my son, by making us all poor." "How poor? As poor as old Lazarus, the beggar?" "N no, not exactly; about as poor as Mr. George." "And how poor is he? As poor as his paper?" And the whole Rollo family rose up and shouted in chorus, "Not by a long chalk!"—Brooklyn Eagle.

ILLICILLEWAET MINING CO.—The Illicillewaet Mining Co. is the name of a new mining Co. that was formed in this city last spring. The members of the company are nearly all Westminster citizens. They have located claims adjoining the mines of Mr. G. B. Wright, at Illicillewaet, and have now a force of men at work opening the ledge. Some samples of the rock were sent to this city about two days ago, and were taken from here to Victoria to be assayed. If the rock gives promise of turning out well the company will proceed to erect stamp mills on their claims.

HE HAS BEEN WITH US.—A subscriber of the Weekly Sun, writing from Madrid, St. Lawrence county, N. Y., says: "As I have tasted the waters of the Red River I take quite a lively interest in your affairs in the Northwest. You have a beautiful country from the Red River to the foothills of the Rocky Mountains. Your mountain scenery is unsurpassed in the world. The Rocky Mountains, the Selkirk and the Coast or Gold range down the Fraser; then from Port Moody through the thousand islands to Victoria; then through the celebrated Plumper Pass and up the Fraser River to Westminster, is something never to be forgotten by one who loves nature in all its grandeur. Your country will, in my opinion, in time be the home of many millions. And the tourist who loves nature in all its varieties of lakes, rivers, mountains and plains can find all that the most fastidious could desire.—Winnipeg Sun.

OTHER EASTERN CANADA ITEMS.

WINNIPEG, July 14.—Mr. J. Haney, the R. R. V. R. contractor, returned from St. Paul last evening, he having gone down to arrange for transport, etc., and met his wife and family, who have come to join him here for the summer. In conversation with a reporter Mr. Haney mentioned that he had been able to make the most satisfactory arrangements possible for transport of ties, etc., should the C.P.R. not be disposed to work harmoniously. The Northern Pacific, he said, had given a pledge to have its extension to the boundary completed by the 15th September, which would be ample time to transport ties and rails to the work if other arrangements were not made. He expected there would be about 1,200 car loads of freight for the R. R. V. R. The Northern Pacific people were very courteous and accommodating, being anxious to assist in any possible way.

THE GRADING.

Mr. Haney stated that the surveyors had completed 40 miles of the survey and would have the profiles ready this evening, so that he would commence to-morrow morning and let sub-contracts. If all went well, some of the sub-contractors who had been holding themselves in readiness might be on the work to-morrow. The clearing of the brushwood had been completed and everything was now in readiness to go straight ahead with the work.

STEAMER LOST.

HALIFAX, July 14.—Word has reached Liverpool that the Boston-bound str. Merimac had been lost of Little Hope Island, off that port. The disaster occurred shortly after midnight last night, the steamer running into the rocks during a thick fog. The passengers, about 90 altogether and crew, reached land in safety, but saved very little of their effects. The steamer's bottom is gone, and she is believed to be a total wreck. The Merimac arrived here early yesterday morning from Charlottetown and Port Hawkesberry and proceeded in the afternoon for Boston. About half her passengers were from Halifax and the remainder from the eastward. No particulars of the wreck have been received, but it is reported Capt. Crowell and several of the crew were badly but not fatally injured. The Merimac, owned by H. Loring, Boston, is 119 tons register, and 26 years old.

MONTREAL NEWS.

MONTREAL, July 14.—The expected exposures in police circles have been postponed for a few days, but the report of serious trouble is confirmed by the suspention of a detective and sergeant, two of the most prominent men in the force.

Hugh Ryan has arranged for the shipment of the material for the Red River Valley Railroad over the C. P. Railway.

Sir Chas. Tupper leaves for England to-morrow.

It is rumored that S. R. Galloway, late general manager of the Union Pacific, will succeed Jos. Hickson as general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway.

H. D. Whitney, the defaulting secretary of the Harbor commissioners, has gone to Havana.

Hon. Mr. Mercier is going to start an English paper here.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

MONTREAL, July 15.—The St. Lawrence sugar refinery was destroyed by fire this morning and one man killed and three others wounded by jumping from windows. Loss $600,000.

LATER.—About 6 this a. m. a fire broke out in the St. Lawrence sugar refinery, a seven story brick building. The whole fire brigade was called out, but was powerless to save the building, which soon became a mass of flames, and the structure, together with the brick buildings adjoining occupied by Flumes, O'Brien, Carston, and Jones, was completely destroyed. A large part of the walls fell with a crash, but so far as known no one was killed by the walls. A man named Moore, while descending the fire escape fell to the ground and expired immediately. Others are reported to be missing or severely injured. An immense pile of debris is being searched. Many men escaped from the building entirely naked.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECKING.

HALIFAX, July 13.—A dastardly attempt was made to-night to wreck a train with two hundred Orangemen on board. A switch was maliciously opened. Only one car jumped the track. The engineer and firemen escaped by jumping.

ACCIDENT IN A THEATRE TENT.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, July 12.—While the Wilbur Dramatic Co. were performing to an audience of six hundred last night, about two-thirds of the seats gave way, precipitating a large number of people to the ground. Several were bruised. The accident created a panic and a number of ladies fainted.

TORONTO, July 13.—Attorney-general Mowat will leave for New York to-day, sailing from there by the Sardinian. His trip is said to be in connection with the case of the Queen vs. St. Catharines Mill and Lumber Co.

NOTES.

The disbanding of the Montreal Garrison Artillery is daily expected.

Mr. W. J. Tupper, barrister, of Winnipeg, son of Sir Charles Tupper, was married in St. Matthew's church, Halifax, to Margaret, third daughter of Chief Justice Macdonald.

F. Burrows, of Wilkesport, writes that he was cured of a very dangerous case of inflammation of the lungs, solely by the use of five bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Feels great pleasure in recommending it to the public, as he had proved it (for many of the diseases it mentions to cure) through his friends, and in nearly every instance it was effectual. Do not be deceived by any imitations of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Be sure you get the genuine.

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S WEEKLY maintains its position as the leading illustrated newspaper in America; and its hold upon public esteem and confidence was never stronger than at the present time. Besides the pictures, HARPER'S WEEKLY always contains instalments of one, occasionally of two, of the best novels of the day, finely illustrated, with short stories, poems, sketches, and papers on important current topics by the most popular writers. The care that has been successfully exercised in the past to make HARPER'S WEEKLY a safe as well as a welcome visitor to every household will not be relaxed in the future.
