Daily British Columbian

Friday Evening, August 12, 1887.

The case of canine intelligence from London finds something approaching a parallel in Canada. The London dogs, it will be remembered, brought an injured collie to the King's Cross hospital and barked at the door of the institution until their disabled friend was taken in and attended to. Here is the Canadian case. The Montreal people have opened a home for the children of the poor during the summer months at Varennes. Mr. Sinclair, the secretary to the charity, reports that on the day the home was opened a large Newfoundland dog, well up in years, entered the home and constituted himself assistant guardian to the children. The faithful brute is never off duty, and will not permit a stranger to approach without giving vent to his feeling in deep barks and growls, By day he remains on the verandah, carefully watching the children; by night he is in the corridor, pacing to and fro. No one seems to know where he came from, but there he remains, faithful to his self-imposed task. The committee, it is gratifying to learn, has decided to give him a home for the remainder of his days, as a reward for his faithful services, These cases of dog sense indicate a more charitable disposition on the part of quadrupeds than some bipeds possess.—Mail.

The name of sea lion has been given to a number of large seals of both hemispheres, either from their savage appearance, roaring voice, powerful canines, or maned neck. The northern sea lion is found on the east shores of Kamschatka, around the Kurile, and down the western coast of North America on rugged shores and desert rocks of the ocean, nearly to latitude 40 degrees. It is about fifteen feet long, and weighs some 1,600 pounds. The male have stiff, curled hair on the neck, a thick hide, large head, bushy eyebrows, long nose, and are covered with course hair of a tawny color. They live upon fish and smaller marive animals. The sea lion is invaluable to the natives of the northwest coasts of America, though they are not accounted of much value in the commercial world. But the Indians use their skins for covering boats, and for making long boots for protecting the limbs, they make water-proof garments by sewing together their intestines, and convert their stomach-walls into oil pouches, dry their flesh for food, and sell their mustache bristles to the Chinese, who use them as pickers for their opium pipes. The sea lions are far less numerous than the fur seals, and as they are not protected from indiscriminate slaughter by law, the species is becoming greatly reduced in numbers. Two specimens, of this animal were brought to Lincoln Park, Chicago, some years ago.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A rentleman who returned recently from Aspinwall tells the following curious story of the manner in which the natives of the interior of the Isthmus of Panama capture monkeys: "Almost all the pet monkeys in this country," said he, "come from Gorgona, a small village half way on the line of the Panama Railroad. The inhabitants are mostly native negroes, for no white man could live in the village a month unless he drank whisky and took quinine constantly. The surrounding country is swampy and covered with a dense mass of luxuriant vegetation. At nightfall a thick miasma rises from the ground and hangs over the forest like a cloud. This place is the monkey's paradise. They travel through the forest in troops going wherever the king monkey leads. When the natives have been apprised of the presence of a troop they go about warily to capture them. Their plan is a simple one. A hole is cut in a cocoanut large enough to admit a monkey's paw. The cocoanut is scooped out and a lump of sugar placed in the hollow. A string is then attached to the novel trap and the negroes conceal themselves until the monkeys pass by. Curiousity is one of the chief characteristics of these little creatures, and when they spy the cocoanut lying upon the ground they come down from the trees and proceed to inspect it carefully. The lump of sugar does not long escape their notice, and one of them thrusts a paw through the aperture to grab it. With the lump of sugar clasped in his hand he finds it impossible to withdraw it, nor will his greedy nature allow him to abandon his prize. The negroes have no difficulty in drawing him nearer to their ambush, the whole troop scampering madly about him, chattering and gesticulating as only monkeys can. When they have arrived within easy reach a large net is thrown out, and they are made prisoners. Twenty or thirty are frequently captured at one haul. The natives sell them to the employees of the Panama Railroad, who in turn dispose of them to the American market.—Boston Courier.

IRISH EVICTIONS.

DUBLIN, Aug. 11.—Plunkett was at the castle all day during the cessation of evictions on the Kingston estate. It is believed that his wishes will be acceded to. Mr. O'Brien, in an address at Mitchellstown to-night, urged the tenants to resist the eviction.

BLAINE IN DUBLIN.

DUBLIN, Aug. 11.—Jas. G. Blaine, in replying to an invitation to the Lord Mayor's banquet, regretted that previous arrangements to leave for the continent, would prevent his acceptance. He said he would never forget the kindness he had received in Ireland, and that the interest he had always felt in the welfare and prosperity of the Irish people, was intensified by his present visit, which he would gladly prolong, if it were possible.

THE WRECKED TRAIN.

PEORIA, Aug. 11.—It is learned from one of the conductors, that the excursion train while on the bridge, near Piper City, came into collision with another train going in the opposite direction, and the cars of the excursion train piled upon each other in a frightful condition, and from the shock of the collision, the bridge gave way. The scene which follows is described as heart-rending in the extreme. It was so dark that little could be distinguished, except that the cars lay piled one on the other, all shattered and crushed. Many were undoubtedly killed instantly. Others were crushed, and some were pinned down by broken timbers in such a way that they could not escape. Their cries for help were heart-rending, men and women called in wild despair for aid. It was a long time before a systematic effort could be made to extricate wounded and remove the dead. Added to the horror of the occasion, the cars took fire and many who were killed, were burned as well as many who were wounded, and unable to extricate themselves, and who were thus burned alive. It is estimated that between 100 and 200 were killed outright. The adjacent towns sent help to extinguish the flames, and save the imprisoned wounded and the dead from cremation. The head officials are directing all their available force to the aid of the unfortunate passengers. Ten coaches either went through to the bed of the stream or were piled up in a promiscuous heap crosswise and lengthwise on the track. So far 70 bodies have been recovered, and none have been taken from the cars underneath, while not even a sound can be heard from them. It is feared that all in those cars are dead. The number of killed will reach 200. The wounded, so far as can be ascertained, will number 150.

MURDERED HER LOVER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Fanny Henry, waitress in the Cremorne theatre, shot and killed her lover, Mike Kennedy, this morning and then suicided. She left a note saying she intended to kill Mike because she was afraid his mother would separate them.

OTTAWA ELECTIONS.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—The Liberals will choose Rochon as their candidate in the coming local election for Ottawa county. The conservatives will put up Cormier against him.

SERIOUS FLOODS.

BENSIN, Ariz., Aug. 11.—The unusual heavy rains which fell last night caused considerable damage in San Pedro valley and washed away a large piece of track on the railroad. San Pedro River overflowed its banks, drowing a large number of cattle, sweeping away several bridges and Mexican shanties. The Mormon settlement at St. David's was completely flooded and a number of small buildings were carried away.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

19 MEN KILLED.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 12.—A still exploded at the Wakholm fort which commands the approach to the city and 19 men were killed and many others wounded.

COMMONS NOTES.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—In the commons this evening the allotment bill passed a second reading. The lords discussed the land bill and adopted most of the commons amendments. Services in commemoration of the centenary of Episcopacy in America will be held in Westminster Abbey on Friday. The Bishop of Sowa will preach the sermon.

BLAINE TENDERED A BANQUET IN DUBLIN

DUBLIN, Aug. 12.—Blaine has written to Lord Mayor Sullivan, thanking him for the honor conferred on him in tendering him a banquet, and expressing regret that he must decline on account of previously having arranged to leave the continent Thursday. He will not forget the kindness received in Ireland and the interest always taken by him in the welfare of the Irish people if possible has increased.

FERDINAND WEAKENS.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—It is reported at Rustchuck that Prince Ferdinand has abandoned his journey to Bulgaria in consequence of Turkish threats to occupy the country.

WAS THE TRAIN PURPOSELY WRECKED?

CHATSWORTH, Ill., Aug. 12.—Some sensational features were developed this morning as to the cause of the Chatsworth wreck. Rumors were afloat last evening that it was done by robbers, who fired the bridge. Little credence is given to them. This evening new facts have been brought to light apparently showing the catastrophe to be the work of an organized band, and the company find them worthy of serious investigation. Said Supt. Armstrong to an associated press reporter: That the more he investigated the more it appeared to him that the bridge was set on fire. He had observed many thieves at work and had stopped them from removing articles from the wreck. Many instances of the robbery of the dead were being brought to his attention. The excursion had been extensively advertised, and the fact that the train would pass over the bridge was known. Citizens say a gang of suspicious fellows had been loitering around Chatsworth for some days. Many of these were found early at the wreck, paying more attention to relieving the bodies of valuables than to caring for them. Some men and passengers had frequent contentions with the vandals. In one instance the superintendent found [Here the W. U. wires collapsed, and our readers may be exercising their ingenuity in guessing what the superintendent did find.—ED.]

Daily British Columbian

Friday Evening, August 12, 1887.

The shocking accident which occurred early yesterday morning on the Toledo, Peoria & Western Railway calls public attention again very forcibly to the criminal carelessness of which some railway people are sometimes guilty. Either the bridge over the Vermilion River was quite insecure, or the train was too heavy for it. In either case the railway officials can scarcely escape from blame. The system of inspecting railway bridges and roadways and locomotives does not seem to guarantee the public against accidents that might be prevented. This is the worst accident of a year that has been phenomenally fatal to railway travellers, and it will surely lead to some practical remedy.

The Dark Continent.

It is generally believed that the report of Stanley's death is a mistake. The great explorer is probably still alive, and pursuing with vigor the mission with which he has been entrusted by the British government. The importance of the expedition is such that the eyes of the civilized world have been turned upon the Dark Continent with eager expectancy. The fate of Emin Pasha comprehends more than the life or death of a brave man. Of late years several European powers have been reaching out to grasp a portion of the unreclaimed interior of Africa. When the power of the Egyptian government seemed to have collapsed in the Soudan, Germany, Italy and France endeavored to find in the confusion a pretext under which to secure some spoil for themselves. Italy claimed the right of a military establishment on the Red Sea, and not only occupied it but sent an expedition into Abyssinia. An American journal supplies information which explains some of the true inwardness of the Soudan disasters and the defeat of Italian troops. A number of Cossacks who had gone to the Caucasus, under the encouragement of Russia emigrated to the Soudan and Abyssinia. These Cossacks are said to have been found in the Mahdi's army, and they were certainly received by the Abyssinians with much cordiality. It is reported that they exercised such influence in Abyssinia that the Negus or head of the Coptic Church in that country contemplated union with the Russian Church, or the placing of the Christian population of Abyssinia under the protection of the Czar. The Russian government disclaimed responsibility for this Cossack movement, but admitted the presence of the best cavalry in the world in equatorial Africa as free lances. The Italian expedition into Abyssinia was defeated, and it was reported that Emin Pasha, who under the authority of Egypt had been extending his dominions southwest, was placed in peril by the King of Uganda (Mtesa's old kingdom on Lake Victoria Nyanza) and that Muanga, the king, was acting under Russian influence. The policy of Emin Pasha towards the natives was to be similar to the policy pursued by Gen. Gordon. He relentlessly drove the slave traders out of the provinces, taught the natives the art of tilling the soil after the most approved methods, and introduced the simpler branches of manufacture. He established a mail service, founded schools, and introduced many other civilized practices. With the purpose of extending his authority over the whole lake region he explored the Albert Nyanza, and brought the natives under his influence. For the past two years France has greatly extended her African possessions. The Senegambia colony was extended to the Niger, taking in 96,000 square miles; Gaboon was extended by DeBrazza until it embraced a population of 20,000,000. DeBrazza came into conflict with Stanley, who reprssented the Congo Free State, which is now a recognized sovereignty under international guarantees. King Leopold of Belgium is its sovereign. It has an area of 1,055,200 miles, and a population of 27,000,000. Its trade is to be free to all nations, and the navigation of the Congo is under direction of an international commission. The German East African Co. has also taken possession of a large piece of territory extending from the east coast towards the heart of the continent, and is reaching out for the lakes. It seems that all the powers represented in Africa are eager to acquire the interior lake region where the sources of the Nile are. Great Britain has been driven out of the Soudan, but she may reach the sources of the Nile by the back door, the Congo River. Stanley is acting ostensibly under the authority of Egypt, but as Egypt is now in possession of Great Britain, and Stanley was sent out really by the British government, his may properly be called a British expedition. The task before him is a most delicate one, because it will be necessary for him not only to face hostile and powerful native tribes, but to avoid complications with the European powers whose conflicting interests are represented in the dark continent.

That he may be successful and return with his life and new lustre added to his wonderful achievements is the earnest wish of every friend of African freedom.

A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes: "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public 'one of the best medicines they have ever used'; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."

The West Shore

FREE

For the balance of 1886, including the mammoth holiday number, to all who subscribe now for 1887.

With the January issue THE WEST SHORE will begin its twelfth year. Every number contains original illustrations of scenery, towns and industries in the Pacific Northwest, equaling in excellence the best productions of Eastern magazines. The contributed articles, general literature and stories are entertaining and carefully edited, making the magazine a chaste family visitor. The comments on events of interest to this region and the large amount of information concerning our various resources and the progress of development given in every number render it extremely valuable. No family can afford to do without it, and every one financially interested in the Pacific Northwest or desirous of learning its resources will find it invaluable.

If the subscription price ($2 per year) is sent in now you will be entered for 1887, and the remainder of 1886 will be sent as a premium.

"I take only one English weekly paper, The Spectator, and one Canadian, The Week, and as a rule I should be puzzled to say which I should miss most."—From a letter by Thomas Hughes, author of "Tom Brown's School Days."

The Week:

A Canadian Journal of Politics, Society and Literature.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY, AT $3.00 PER ANNUM.

Independent in politics, THE WEEK appeals by a comprehensive Table of Contents to the different tastes which exist within the circle of a cultured home.

An average of fifteen short, crisp Editorials is given in each number upon CANADIAN, AMERICAN, and ENGLISH POLITICS and LITERATURE.

Amongst the regular contributors is Professor Goldwin Smith; and a distinguished public man in London has kindly undertaken to supply regularly an English Letter. Paris and Washington Letters will appear at regular intervals.

In addition there are special contributions from some of the ablest writers in the Dominion and the United States.

TESTIMONIAL!

Vancouver, 23rd June, 1886.

MR. G. ROBERTSON,
Vancouver;
Representing Goldie & McCulloch,
Galt, Ont.

SIR.—We the undersigned having witnessed the terrible fire which wiped out of existence the young city of Vancouver, on the 13th inst., have, after the fire, examined the safes sold by you, some of which were put to the most severe test, having been surrounded by large quantities of lard and bacon, and we are pleased to testify to the remarkable manner in which every Safe sold by you preserved its contents, not only books and papers but also thousands of dollars in paper money were taken out in perfect condition. We can, therefore, with the greatest confidence, recommend them as thoroughly fire proof.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN

Printing Company

(LIMITED.)

ON THE 10TH OF JANUARY, 1887, the COLUMBIAN Newspaper and Printing Concern was purchased by a joint stock company composed of citizens of New Westminster, to be known as the "British Columbian Printing Co., Limited." The concern has been for nearly a year owned and controlled by the British Columbia Stationery and Printing Company, of New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver. The object of the new company is to continue the publication of the BRITISH COLUMBIAN newspaper and carry on a general printing and publishing concern, controlled entirely by those whose individual interest it will be to promote the development, especially of the Mainland. There will be no slackening of the energy hitherto displayed in the management of the establishment, and its patrons may rely upon receiving full value for their money. The COLUMBIAN will continue to be entirely independent in both Dominion and provincial politics, and will devote itself to the advancement of such schemes as may be considered in the public interest. The concern is now entirely separate from any other business, the book and stationery establishment in this city having been taken over by Mr. T. R. Pearson, who will continue to carry it on in his own name and for his own benefit. It is desirable that a daily newspaper should be maintained in this city, and the new company asks for public patronage on the ground that it is engaged in an enterprise calculated to promote the public welfare. It asks that the COLUMBIAN be judged on its own merits and supported only so long as its policy is enconsistt with its professions. In consequence of this business change all accounts due the concern must be settled without delay so that the books of the former company may be adjusted and closed. Address all communications and remittances to England and Russia.

Sir Charles Dilke's articles in the "Fortnightly Review" on the balance of military power in Europe have called forth a number of replies from men and magazines in a position to speak with some authority. In these articles Sir Charles took the ground that a conflict between Great Britain and Russia was inevitable, and that on the whole the chances of success lay with Russia. A writer in "Blackwood" for July disputes this view, and expresses the belief that the vast Russian hosts which Sir Charles had in his mind's eye existed principally on paper. The courage and fanaticism of the Russian soldier are admitted, but it is shown that the Russian army has virtually no non-commissioned officers in the true sense—that those who pass for such are not a whit more intelligent or better trained than the peasant lads whom they direct. With respect to the Russian cavalry, a Russian military writer has recently stated that during the war with Turkey in 1877-8 that branch of the service broke down hopelessly. In fact, the cavalrymen had to be employed as foot-soldiers, and were assigned to the task of stopping convoys, at which they failed. On one notable occasion a picked body of them, selected expressly because of their supposed shooting skill, were despatched with orders to stop a particular convoy in the neighborhood of Plevna. Having reached a point as near as it was thought desirable for them to move as a mounted corps, they left their horses behind them and advanced to the attack, only to be driven off by a small party of Turkish soldiery, without doing the latter any damage whatever. On another occasion a large body of them, thus dismounted, expended a million and a quarter of cartridges without producing any effect upon the Turks. The Russian artillery is in a more efficient condition, but the transport and commissariat services are in as bad a state as they could well be, the corruption of the officials being widespread and inveterate. England's chief advantage over Russia, however, lies in her great wealth, which implies her ability to carry on a prolonged war: and in her superior facilities for transporting troops to any point at which she desires to strike. Russia must by an inexorable necessity, when England is opposed to her, convey her troops over enormous distances by land. An army wanting altogether alike in an officer, and in a non-commissioned officer class, with habits of peculation engrained in those who cater for it, and suffering always from that disease of "too much "arkduke" which proved so fatal to it in 1877, will enter upon any distant campaign under disadvantages which no number at the depots can compensate. England, on the other hand, has a vast mercantile marine which could be employed in the transportation of troops to the point where she wanted to fight. But even with all the wealth and ships and men she possesses, England could not improvise an army.—Mail.

The Long Suffering Mule.

"You can't kill a mule." This saying was demonstrated almost to a mathematical certainty near Center's shop one day last week. A colored boy was plowing "goobers" for Mr. Center. In the corner of the goober patch was an old well at least thirty feet deep covered with briars. In turning the mule slipped in and went to the bottom. His excited owner summoned a posse to his aid. A rope was tied around the body of the mule and he was drawn to the top of the well. The rope broke and the mule again went to the other end of the well. A second attempt was successful. The mule was safely landed on the outside of the well, and, contrary to the expection of his rescuers, leaped to his feet, and without giving the slightest expression of gratitude, commenced feeding on the grass as though nothing had happened. The plow and gear were demolished and three holes were kicked through the bottom of the well.—Lafayette (Ga.) Messenger.

Mrs. E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, Warren Co., N. Y., writes: She has been troubled with asthma for four years, had to sit up night after night with it. She has taken two bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and is perfectly cured. She strongly recommends it, and wishes to act as agent among her neighbors.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time b' n recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to O. HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.

Yesterday J. B. Harrison obtained a verdict of $1500 damages against the Victoria Transfer Co. for injuries sustained from an accident which happened in consequence of a defective omnibus. The case was tried in the supreme court at Victoria.

At the fish freezing establishment of Messrs. D. W. Port & Co., at the western extremity of Richards st., one may enjoy the luxury of a temperature of about 24 deg. In the drying room of the woollen mill, the most easterly building on Front st., there is a temperature of about 212.

One of our city young men, who very often may be seen riding a steed met with what might have been a serious accident. The horse "bucked" throwing its rider off, and started on a gallop. One of the feet of the rider was caught in the stirrup, and he was dragged a considerable distance in the dust. The horse, however, stopped short, and future damage was avoided.

Consignees per str. Rithet to-day from Victoria: Agt. Dom. Ex., D. S. Curtis, W. Prothero, Z. S. Hall, Jas. Laidlaw, K. of L., D. McP., H. V. Edmonds, H. Harvey, H. Merry, J. Coughlan, J. Cuningham, J. Rousseau, J. Hendrie & Co., Mrs. J. Wilson, Mounce Bros., McD. Bros., M. D. Grassey, N. C. McKing., R. Dickinson, R. C. P. Mills, S. G. Chapman, Stewart & Cash.

Consignees per William Irving:—Hayes & McIntosh 113 hogs, 1 calf; H. Bros., 66 sacks of potatoes; T. McNeely, 2 cases of cherries; Indian, 1 horse; G. Black, 1 cheese; A. W. Nelson, 138 sacks potatoes, 1 box of cherries; J. Calbeck, 10 sacks spuds; T. Greer, 1 cow; R. C. P. Mills, 1 case butter; Woo Sing, 5 hogs; J. Grover, 24 hogs; W. McColl, 2 boxes butter; VanVolkenberg Bros., 5 hogs 1 calf; West, 1 circular saw; L. Pither, 1 box eggs; Law, 1 plow; to J. Harris, 1 horse.

THE LAWS OF THE MEDES AND PERSIANS were not more immutable than those of nature. If we transgress them we suffer. Sometimes, however, we break them inadvertently. Damages frequently take the form of Dyspepsia, Constipation and Biliousness, which can be easily repaired with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the Great Blood Purifier and renovator of the system.

DIRECTORIES.—Mr. E. Mallandaine, jr., arrived from Victoria today, and will proceed immediately with the delivery of the British Columbia Directory to subscribers in the city.

FISHERY DISPUTE.—A dispatch from Ottawa says it is officially announced that there is no truth in the recent cable despatch to the effect that fresh proposals, emanating from the American government for the settlement of the fisheries question, have been submitted. The negotiations are still in progress, and a member of the government is authority for the statement that there will be no modification in the stand taken by the federal authorities.

THE HOSE REEL CONTEST.—The conditions of the hose reel contest which is to come off in this city at the Scotch annual gathering, on the 1st of September, are as follows: Race to be run with 10 men on each reel; lay 500 feet of hose; connect to engine and attach nozzle; break and make all joints; each joint when broken to be dropped on the ground before making; four men from each team to break and make all connections; no breaking to be done until after the nozzle is attached; hose to be tested with 20 lbs. pressure; for each leaky coupling, 2 seconds will be added to their time; hose to be tested with inch nozzle; time to be taken from scratch; race to be run in full uniform; judges' decision to be final. The prizes are: 1st, $60; 2nd, $40.

THE VINTNERS.—We understand that at a meeting of the vintners of this city it was resolved to notify the city council that unless the Sunday by-law was rescinded at next meeting the hotels and saloons would discontinue the practice of closing their bars during the hours of church service, and would keep open all Sunday. As a matter of fact we have never regarded it as of great consequence whether the bars are closed during church hours or not if they are open for the rest of the day. It was also resolved that the hotels and saloons would discontinue the use of gas if Mr. Rand continued to collect the rates, as it was alleged that Mr. Rand has been using his influence against the liquor trade. We do not think tne action of the association in either of these cases wise, or such as will obtain public sympathy.

"The Galley Slave."

Bartley Campbell's popular drama was produced last night by the Wilber company to a crowded house and scored a success. It is estimated that over 400 people attended the performance. The rendition of the play throughout was fairly good, though some parts were a trifle stagy. Mr. Frank McGinnis as "Oliver Oliphant," and Mr. Harry Choate as "Sidney Northcote," and Miss Choate in the role of "Cecily Blain," deserve especial praise. The support was good. As is customary with tented exhibitions a concert was given after the play. Several new specialties were produced, including an exhibition of Kissel, the wonderful Zouave bayonet and gun drillist. To-night Bartley Campbell's "Woman against Woman" will be put on the boards. It is purely an American play and the most successful of the great playwright's many inventions, abounding in the brightest comedy, tender in its pathos, with strong dramatic situations. In short it is bound to please everybody.

Personal.

Hon. Mr. Thompson, minister of justice, was to leave Ottawa last night for this province.

Capt. and Mrs. Jno. Irving and T. R. Smith of the H. B. Co. came down on the Irving today from Hope.

Jno. Hendry left for Victoria this morning with his brother who is connected with the H. B. Co. at Winnipeg.

G. E. Corbould (Corbould & Mc Coll) returned today from Kamloops where he has been attending county court.

Among the arrivals to-day was E. S. Campbell, of the George Concert and Convention Co., of Chicago, who comes to arrange for a convention in this city.

C. G. Major and family, and Miss Clarkson, go out to English Bay tomorrow where they will camp for some time and enjoy the beauties of that delightful spot.

Passengers per steamer Rainbow from Victoria: S. L. Smith, F. Gebke, W. Goudy, C. H. Grun, T. B. Figg, P. E. Gannon, F. Joseph, J. McMillan, F. Hughes, D. B. Calbick, Thos. Cunningham, 3 Chinamen.

Passengers per str. Rithet, from Victoria, to-day: Mrs. Irving, Mrs. Brunston, Jas. Laidlaw, E. Mallendine, W. H. Tuttle, S. Clay, E. S. Campbell, Underwood, Jas. Arnold, T. Peterson, McLellan, Gibson, J. Matthews and others.

Chilliwhack Council.

Council met Aug. 2nd, the reeve and all members present.

Communications were received from T. Wittie informing the council that he had made the Atchelitz bridge secure for the present; from P. McTiernan protesting against the closing of a road by John McCutcheon.

The following bills were ordered paid by orders on the treasury: T. Wittie, $10; D. J. Kennedy, $2; Jas. Murray, $10; J. Grant, $1.25; J. Cross, $2.50; C. S. Ryder, $36.

A resolution was passed instructing the clerk on behalf of the council and residents to prepare a petition to the postmaster-general praying for the removal of the postoffice to Centreville.

Pathmaster Ford's time for returning his road list was extended two months.

C. Young's explanation with regard to the supposed error in his account was declared satisfactory to the council.

The clerk was instructed to notify contractors Ramsay & McGee and their bondsmen that the council holds them responsible for $10 damage to Atchelitz bridge by not replacing braces.

The board of works were instructed to select a site for a bridge across Hope slough and to get plans and specifications prepared before next meeting of council.

The ratepayers in ward No. 2 were granted the privilege of performing work on the roads to the value of half their taxes. Man and team to receive $3.50, laborers $1.50 per day.

The clerk was instructed to draw an order on the treasury in favor of the Chilliwhack agricultural society for $250.00.

The sum of $50 was appropriated to repair trunk road round Shannon mountain.

The contract of brushing the road from Semiault ditch to the Chilliwhack River was awarded to Geo. Maley.

C. Young's tender, 75cts. per rod, for ditching on the big prairie road was accepted.

The clerk was instructed to obtain legal advice on the pound by-law.

P. McTiernan's communication was laid over till the council investigated the matter in dispute.

The real estate by-law, 1887, was reconsidered and finally passed.

The clerk was instructed to notify pathmasters to see that all Canada thistles and other obnoxious weeds are cut or destroyed in their beats.

The foul weeds by-law was read a first and second time, committeed and read a third time and passed. To be reconsidered at next meeting.

Council then adjourned.

Canada does not desire the presence of rascals from the United States, though some of our neighbors profess to observe an affection for that class of people. The real friends of the fugitives are the persons who allow them to escape, and refuse, either by an extradition treaty to secure their return, or, by neglect to invoke the Canadian law, to procure their punishment.—Mail.

Mr. T. C. Berchard, public school teacher, Norland, writes: "During the fall of 1881 I was much troubled with Biliousness and Dyspepsia, and part of the time was unable to attend to the duties of my profession. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure was recommended to me, and I have much pleasure in stating that I was entirely cured by using one bottle. I have not had an attack of my old complaint since, and have gained fifteen pounds in weight."

HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.

ESTABLISHED 1875.

The West Shore

FREE

For the balance of 1886, including the mammoth holiday number, to all who subscribe now for 1887.

With the January issue THE WEST SHORE will begin its twelfth year. Every number contains original illustrations of scenery, towns and industries in the Pacific Northwest, equaling in excellence the best productions of Eastern magazines. The contributed articles, general literature and stories are entertaining and carefully edited, making the magazine a chaste family visitor. The comments on events of interest to this region and the large amount of information concerning our various resources and the progress of development given in every number render it extremely valuable. No family can afford to do without it, and every one financially interested in the Pacific Northwest or desirous of learning its resources will find it invaluable.

If the subscription price ($2 per year) is sent in now you will be entered for 1887, and the remainder of 1886 will be sent as a premium.
