Saturday Evening, Sept. 10, 1887.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

TUESDAY, Sept. 6.—Devotional exercises led by Mrs. Spafford, scripture reading, 51st chap. of Isaiah, accompanied by appropriate and earnest remarks, the Lord being present to bless. A reference in the minutes to a letter read from the Hon. John Robson, informing the convention that the study of physiology has been introduced into the public schools for the province, gave rise to a pleasant discussion on the desirability of introducing scientific temperance instruction into the public and high schools. The committee on blank forms now reported, having revised the form somewhat, resulting in large improvement. Report adopted. In yesterday's report it should have been stated that it was resolved that copies of the papers giving reports be sent to the Ontario Alliance secretary and Ontario president of W. C. T. U. An explanation of the duties of the superintendent of literature was given by Mrs. Jenkins. The press superintendent (Mrs. Sargison) reported. A short discussion took place on the press and the desirability of securing it on the side of the W. C. T. U. A report from the superintendent of work among the sailors and lumbermen from Mrs. Thain, of Moodyville, was read. It was suggested that railwaymen and miners be taken into consideration relative to the diffusion of suitable literature in connection with sailors and lumbermen. A report on unfermented sacramental wine, by Mrs. Wells, next appeared and was adopted. "Heredity and hygiene," by Mrs. Dr. Clark, of Victoria, was called for in response as the lady was not present. Evangelistic work report by Mrs. D. Robson, was also called for. A letter was read by the secretary from Vancouver union to the superintendent of evangelistic work; also one from Nanaimo, stating their efforts in this line with success and non-success. Also a report from Victoria indicative of progress in this important branch of the work. A verbal report from Westminster by Mrs. Peers gave evidence of a lively interest taken by many of the ministers of the gospel. Mrs. Spafford spoke very favorably of the help given by her pastor in this work. Also Mrs. French bore simiiliar testimony. A letter from Chilliwhack on the subject was also read. It was resolved that the recording secretary frame a report from the matter placed in her hands, on evangelistic work. The president called for a report on prison work—responded to by Mrs. McCutcheon. Some very instructive remarks were made by the president on the success of prison reformation in Westminster, through the efforts of the W. C. T. U. and christian workers. Many of the prisoners take the pledge; after regaining their liberty, they are sorely tempted by their old companions in ruin to return to their old habits. They are taught in prison to commit scripture and select the hymns for singing. Very happy experiences given by Mrs. French and Mrs. Spafford on this prison work next followed. At this point Mrs. Sargison moved that the convention arise and sing "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," which was done. A report, very full and interesting, on hospital work was read by the recording sec., giving very encouraging information relative to labor in this department. A suggestion was made in this report relative to the desirability of the W. C. T. U. providing for a bed or beds for women in the new jubilee hospital. A very touching incident given by Mrs. Spafford to the point would almost make it appear imperative that this suggestion be acted upon. Convention adjourned for luncheon. Afternoon session opened with devotional exercises conducted by Mrs. Geo. Chadsey. A report of the work among the Indians was read by Mrs. Tait, and adopted. The mainland organizer, Miss. Bowes, reported two new unions; one in Hope and one in Cheam. The island organizer's report shows no new unions—the field being already thoroughly canvassed by Mrs. Youmans and Miss Bowes. A report of the organization of two Loyal Legions, however, was given. Reports of all the local unions were read and approved. Great energy was maintained among the officers thoroughout, notwithstanding the smallness of results, in many cases. The president's address followed—so much appreciated that a motion to the effect that it be printed in sheet form and distributed among the Dominion unions was unanimously carried.

During the afternoon the worthy Cor. Sec. (Miss McDougall) arrived and was heartily welcomed by the convention rising and waving the Chatauqua salute. In the evening Miss Bowes delivered a lecture on "The Juggernant of Christendom," which was listened to with profound attention, and followed by a tangible appreciation.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

C.P.R. SUBSIDY GRANTED.

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—A cable from London says that the British government has granted a subsidy of £45,000 sterling per annum to the Canadian Pacific railway company's steamers.

SERIOUS RIOTING IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Sept. 9.—During the O'Brien indignation meeting at Mitchellstown to-day, a collision occurred between the police and the citizens, in which one man was kiled and over 200 were wounded. Messrs. Labouchere, Dillon, Brunner, Ellis and Condon were present to address the meeting. Before the speaking had begun a squad of 20 policemen vainly tried to break up the meeting. They attacked the people with their batons, and a free fight ensued in which the police were worsted. They then retired to their barracks for assistance. On their departure Mr. Dillon began his speech, but he had not proceeded far when the police strongly re-inforced, returned to the charge, using the butts of their rifles. The onslaught was fierce, but it was fiercely met, the mounted farmers present riding into the fray and joining in the fight. After a time the police were again driven back to their barracks, into which they retreated. Then from windows and doors came a volley directed at a group who were watching the fighting from the bottom of the square. John Reardon was shot dead, and two others were wounded by the volley. One of these, John Shinnock, died soon afterward. In all fifty-four police and one hundred and fifty civilians were wounded. It is not known who ordered the men to fire. Immediately after the firing Messrs. Labouchere and Dillon rushed into the barracks and asked that the men's rifles be examined, in order to determine who had fired. This was refused. The people dipped their handkerchiefs in the blood of the victims. Part of Shinnock's skull still lies in the market place where he fell.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

ANOTHER SMASH UP.

HASTINGS, Neb. Sept. 10.—Early this morning a frightful smash up occured here, by the collision of a St. Joe and Grand Island train with a Burlington and Missouri freight at the crossing of two roads. The freight engine was thrown into a ditch and burying E. S. Fuller the engineer who was taken out alive, but so badly injured he will probably die. The passenger train tumbled over an embankment with the cars piled up in a heap. John Mendenburg, aged 70 one of the passengers, was mortally cut and wounded, and many other passengers were badly bruised.

ANOTHER MAN GONE ASTRAY.

SANTA FE, Sept. 10.—A rumor is in circulation this morning that the ex-warden of the penitentiary, T. H. Gable, has been found short in his accounts to the extent of $15,000.

GREAT DAMAGE ALONG THE NILE.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Despatches from Egypt to-day regarding the rise of the Nile is causing increased alarm. Many estates on the right bank of the river are ruined. The doura crop in many places, being now nearly ripe, is irretrievably destroyed, thus a famine is imminent. At Boulak the high wall, 3 feet thick, constructed between the railroad and river, which was supposed to be equal to any emergency, has given way. The villages around Luxor are destroyed. Luxor itself is seriously damaged. Telegraphic communication with upper Egypt is interrupted.

THE CROWN JEWELS SALE.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—The sale of crown jewels, it is now officially reported, has produced a net sum of 7,000,252 francs and 50 centimes.

THE TERMS MUST SUIT HIM.

WASHINGTON, Sept 10.—A well known Democrat here is in receipt of a letter from President Cleveland in which the latter declares that if he runs for a second term the ticket must be made up to suit him.

POWDERLY WILL RESIGN.

PITTSBURG, Pa, Sept. 10.—H. H. Bengough, a close personal friend of Genl. Master Workman Powderly, to-day received information which leaves no doubt in his mind that Powderly will tender his resignation at the Minneapolis convention and that he will insist on its acceptance. "Pow-derly will not resign because he fears defeat for himself or his policy," said Bengough, "but because he fears the cause he represents will suffer through attacks on him dictated by outside interests."

THE CANADIAN COAST DEFENCES.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 10.—General Lord Alexander Russell, commanding British troops in Canada, will arrive here to-morrow to consult with the Dominion government regarding the proposed changes in strengthening the coast defenses of the colony. There are many conjectures as to the motive which has prompted the Imperial government to this hurried line of action. To the casual observer there appears no immediate danger, yet there must be something underlying all, which has prompted the British government to take the extra precautionary measures proposed.

JUMPED THE TRACK.

SUISUN, Cal., Sept. 10.—A special train containing native sons and daughters, returning from the Napa celebration this morning, ran off the track near the depot at 8 o'clock. No one hurt except the fireman, E. Lake, who sprained his ankle jumping from the engine. Chas. Orr, the engineer, stayed at his post, reversing the engine and saving life and accident. The main track is torn up for two hundred feet.

THE ARMY REORGANIZATION.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The army reorganization scheme, announced last night, is a revolution, as it practically makes Wolseley secretary of state for war without parliamentary responsibility, and leaves the present secretary with financial control of the whole war office, divided into civil and war departments. The latter has entire control of army organization, while the former simply checks the account system. This no doubt means increased efficiency for the army, but the principle of individual responsibiliy, if strictly enforced, will almost certainly lead to friction between the military and civil department. The army will be in the hands of the great heads of departments, against whom the secretary for war and the financial secretary will have to struggle for economy.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

BARTLETT PROBABLY DYING.

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 10, 2 p.m.—Governor Bartlett has been unconscious all day and is resting uncomfortably.

THE FIRE FIEND.

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—Henry Porter's extensive tannery and five adjoining tenement houses were burned to the ground this morning. Twenty-six families are left homeless. The total loss is estimated at $200,000.

BIG RAILWAY TRANSFER.

BUFFALO, Sept. 10.—The Buffalo division of the Buffalo, New York & Philadelphia road, according to decrees of court, was sold this morning, and was bid in by a syndicate for $3,353,371.

BIG BARNS BURNED.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—General Banning's barns at Wilmington were destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $10,000. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—All was quiet throughout the night at Mitchellstown, the scene of yesterday's rioting. All persons who attended yesterday's meeting have returned to their homes. 54 constables were injured to such an extent that physicians' services were required. 150 civilians were also injured. The town to-day is quiet.

THE COVETED DECORATION.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—At the conclusion of the sham fight to-day Gen. Ferron conferred upon Gen. Clement the decoration of commander of the legion of honor.

The mobilization experiment necessitated the raising of the seventh army corps from 10,000 to 36,720. The officers were somewhat bothered in handling a larger number of men than they were accustomed to, and the artillery movements were sluggish.

ANOTHER OBSTRUCTION MOVEMENT.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—In the house of commons to-day, John G. Gibson solicitor general of Ireland, in reply to an interrogation by Sexton, said that the government did not have sufficient information to make a statement in relation to the trouble at Mitchellston yesterday. Upon receiving this answer to his question, Sexton said: I *shall resist any progress of the appro*priations bill until the government gives the desired information."

ABANDONED AT SEA.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The steamer Endymion which arrived yesterday had on board the crew of the british bark Orgnell, from Barrow for Perth-Amboy, which was abandoned in a sinking condition.

THE PRESIDENT OVERLOOKED.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—In an order issued to-day by commander Harper of the department of Pennsylvania G. A. R., for grand army demonstration in military parade next Friday He says: In passing reviewing stand, or when being reviewed by Lt.-Gen. Phil. H. Sheridan, U. S. army, none but post commander will salute. Post colors will be dipped as parade will be reviewed by President Cleveland, and General Sheridan will be in command of the line. It is claimed by some veterans, not grand army men, that the name of President Cleveland should have been inserted in that paragraph of order, and that there was a direct slight to the chief magistrate in not doing so. G. A. R. men, however, are all of opinion that the omission was an oversight and that no slight was intended.

Amos Hudgin, Toronto, writes: "I have been a sufferer from Dyspepsia for the past six years. All the remedies I tried proved useless, until Northrop & *Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dys*peptic Cure was brought under my notice. I have used two bottles with the best results, and can with confidence recommend it to those afflicted in like manner.

Daily British Columbian

Saturday Evening, Sept. 10, 1887.

Now, we suppose the Colonist and the people of Victoria will be perfectly happy, for it has been definitely promised again that the China steamers are to call at Esquimalt on the inward trip! Mr. Everett Frazer, who was at Victoria the other day, said the matter had received much consideration, and it had been determined that the steamers shall call hereafter. The greatest difficulty in the way of bringing about this arrangement was the question of insurance. Underwriters declared that if the steamers stopped at Victoria there would be an addition made to the insurance which, in some cases, would amount to an extra charge of about $2,000. Lately, however, insurance men had surrendered that point and agreed to permit the steamers to call at Esquimalt without extra risk, and this will be done. On the inward trip such passengers and mails as are destined for Victoria or sound ports will be put off at Esquimalt, and, also, special freight. It is believed the detention will be only a few hours. While the new arrangement satisfies the requirements of Victoria, the statements made by Mr. Frazer show that the Colonist was entirely unjustified when it charged Mr. VanHorne with falsehood in connection with this affair. Mr. Frazer fully corroborates the statement of Mr. VanHorne as to the extra demand made by insurance men.

Mr. J. F. Kerns, of Buffalo, N.Y., has invented a device which, it is claimed, will bring into practical use the immense force of Niagara rapids which is now wasted. For a great many years a great many people have been trying to do what Kerns is said to have done, and if the invention is a practical success, doubtless the inventor has struck a veritable bonanza. It is said that he has already been offered $62,500 for the use of his invention in Erie and Niagara counties. The working model of this contrivance is described as a platform about 18 inches wide and three feet long. It has three upright bearings set so that by stretching an endless chain about them an irregular triangle is formed. This chain is furnished with flat paddles that stand out from it to catch the current, which is by means of dams or walls thrown against its longest side. Hinges permit the paddles to feather back against the chain on the return side. One of the wheels around which the chain runs is furnished with a pulley, which gives off the power to a belt that goes ashore. The inventor says it is proposed to make a machine 100 feet long with steel blades 10 feet high. This will cost about $12,000. It is believed that one of these machines will generate electricity enough to furnish light and heat for the whole city of Buffalo. Of course the same principle will apply wherever there is large water power, and the possibilities of the invention are very great indeed.

In our issue of yesterday it was announced that a new steam vessel had just made the most remarkable record for speed ever accomplished, namely 32½ miles in an hour. This is an achievement little short of a revolution, and leads one to wonder where the limit to marine speed may be safely fixed. Fancy a steamer covering the distance between this city and Victoria in two hours and a quarter, allowing for the loss of time starting and stopping! We hope the C. P. N. Co. will without delay order a few steamers of the kind that will do this. It is really too bad that a company which receives so large a subsidy out of the public treasury should be permitted to go on setting at naught the rights and conveniences of the public. On Wednesday it was 7:30 when the Rithet arrived—twelve and a half hours to make 70 miles! Last night she did not arrive till after 9 o'clock, having been detained at Victoria until after noon. If these were occasional eccentricities in a service generally well performed, we should have nothing to say. The public will always excuse an occasional failure where there is aggregate efficiency and a manifest wish to satisfy. But we do not remember a single instance during the whole season when the Rithet has reached this city with the mails before 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and she has very rately arrived much before 6. We have on several occasions pointed out how this wretched service is destroying the popularity of the Fraser River route and forcing passenger traffic into unnatural, inconvenient and expensive channels. Notwithstanding the protests of the board of trade and the district representative, and the fact that these things are fully known to the postmaster-general and at least three other members of the federal cabinet, the people of Westminster have been forced to endure this treatment for nearly a whole summer, and there is no present indication of improvement. It is a shame to the company, and a scandal to the post-office department and the department of marine.

A Blighting Disease---A Sin that is Hereditary.

It is well known that among the many baleful effects of the liquor curse, those inflicted by criminally careless or thoroughly brutalised parents upon their helpless and unfortunate offspring are by no means least in importance, though perhaps often mentioned last in order. We give below some startling examples of this much-lost-sight-of phase of the subject, from the investigations of Dr. T. D. Crothers, superintendent of Walnut Lodge, Hartford, Conn., and published in the Medical and Surgical Reporter of Philadelphia. He quotes Dr. Russ as relating that the miners of Westphalia, who live away from their wives, are generally intoxicated when they come home on visits. The result is that a large proportion of the children born of these families are idiots and feeble-minded.

In a number of cases which he cites Dr. Crothers has directly traced inebriety back to the parents at a time prior to the child's birth. In one instance the father was a sea captain, a healthy, robust man, who never drank except on shore, and then in great moderation. His ship went to China and the South Seas, and was away twelve or fourteen months at a time. He married in middle life, and, on returning from a long voyage would go to his country house and be intoxicated with his wife for a week or more on wines—then recover and start away again. His wife would drink with him and be partially intoxicated. Several children were born, all of whom died in infancy except one, a boy, who grew up and became a periodic drinker, and came under Dr. Crothers' care. He was a nervous, melancholy young man, who could not follow any steady work long, and every two or three months he would rush away to join the most dissolute companions, with whom he would remain in a room and for days drink to a condition of continuous stupor. Finally he would become exhausted and be attacked with gastritis. His mind was unstable at all times, and he was credulous of all things outside of his business. If he became angry and excited he would stagger and talk like a drunken man, his face would grow red, the pupils of the eyes dilate, and the lids swell, and he would be more or less stupid for a long time.

In another case the physician cites that the father as a temperate man. The mother had drank beer at meals all her life. After their wedding, however, both were intoxicated and remained in that condition for a considerable period at that time. The first child was a little, fretful creature, which cried night and day for the first year. By accident whiskey was found to produce the most perfect relief. From this time nothing but some form of spirits would allay the nervous irritation, and as he grew older he would cry for it and refused to be satisfied with any other fluid. At ten he drank beer regularly every night, and at fifteen he drank to great excess. In appearance he was feeble and imperfectly developed. His mind was uncertain and changeable. The taste and effects of spirits gave him, he said, the greatest pleasure. When he could not get spirits he was delirious, and after using two or three glasses he became stupid and laughed at everything until he fell asleep. He was placed in the care of a physician, who tried to withdraw the use of spirits by reducing it from day to day. After the spirits were withdrawn he developed mania and delusions of persecution, during which he escaped from control and drank to stupor. The mania disappeared. Again the effort to break off the use of spirits was tried, but the mania returned more violent than ever, and the spirits were resumed and continued up to death, at 20 years of age.

A man was placed in his care who had occupied a very responsible position of trust, and who with an insane indifference had drank to great excess and forfeited all honor and respect. He was educated, and was a man of talent and great energy. He was temperate up to 40 years of age, when suddenly he drank to intoxication, and he was seen on the streets shouting in a delirious way. In two or three days he became temperate, and seemed to have no regrets or sorrows for the past. He manifested no interest in the advice and counsel of his friends, and made no remarks of explanation nor gave any reason for his conduct. Several months later he drank as before, and returned to his work with the same cool indifference as to his conduct and its consequences. He was forced to resign his position as officer of a bank, and gradually went down lower and lower, until brought to Dr. Crothers. He drank periodically, the free interval being from three to eighteen months. The drink paroxysm lasting from three to six days. During this paroxysm he was maniacal and reeled up and down the street, or was seen in an open carriage, always going where he was most prominent and making public speeches. He recovered and went to the far west to live on a cattle ranch. Investigations of this man's history revealed the fact that his father, who was a temperate, healthy planter, married for the first time at 40. Soon after he drank to great excess, and was after this a periodical drinker until his death ten years later. The father was delirious during these paroxysms and spent his time on the street and in prominent places preaching and lecturing in a maudlin way.

Street Trees.

Nothing adds more to the comforts and attractions of a town than street trees. Their value is almost universally conceded, yet it is only within a few years that organized efforts have been made to plant trees, and improve the general appearance of towns. In many of the most progressive towns are village improvement societies that are doing great good not only in planting trees and in improving the surroundings of the homes, but are exerting by their work an educating power that is of great value. The work of improvement in town ways and private grounds is contagious. Many are ready to improve their places if attention is called to the need of it, and if they can see an easy way of bringing it about. A fine row of trees in front of neighbor's grounds is very likely to stir up those in the vicinity without trees to plant, and a town with streets lined with fine shade trees exerts an influence on surrounding towns in the direction of tree planting.

The rock or sugar maple is one of the most popular trees at the present time for street planting; it is, like all maples, free from insect enemies, and does not draw the vitality from the soil for a great distance about it, as does the elm; the limbs are inclined upward away from carriages, and the autumn colorings are very gorgeous.

The American elm is the ideal street tree in growth and habit, for it will grow rapidly in any good soil, pushes its branches above all surroundings, and forms a perfect arch over a street, and allows sufficient sunlight to pass through to keep the streets free from gloom and dampness. If it was not for the exhausting power of the roots on all soil within a long distance, and the ravages of the canker worm on the foliage, it would be the perfect street tree.

We have many other trees as valuable as the rock maple that should be planted along our streets.

It is a mistake to plant only one variety, for it is quite possible that some disease or insect may attack it and destroy or seriously injure all the trees in a township. Frequently, in late years, the rock maple has been attacked by a disease similar to the pear blight; a limb covered with foliage will wither and die and it is not rare, to see a whole tree go in this way. If this trouble should become universal through some favoring causes, imagine the havoc that would be made in many towns; but if there was a large variety in the shade trees the destruction would be confined to the varieties affected.

The Norway, scarlet and silver-leaf maple are valuable for street planting. The Norway is one of the few European trees that seem to be long lived in our climate; it has a rounder head and darker foliage than the rock maple.

The American linden, although somewhat coarser than the European species, is not injured by borers, and it is a rapid growing and symmetrical tree.

The white Ash is another very rapid growing tree for street planting in all soils; the outline of the tree at maturity is broadly oval or round. It makes a large tree and colors in a very striking and peculiar manner in the autumn. The leaves on the inside of the tree are a bright yellow and those on the outside deep purple or reddish brown.

Vick's Magazine.

Man's Height.

Men of the present day have no occasion to feel humiliated because they are not taller and larger than they are. There is no reason, in the discoveries of science, for the supposition that men, as a whole, have ever had a greater average height than they have now. For a long time, at Rouens, in France, near the junction of the Isere and Rhone rivers, there existed a deposit of gigantic bones which had long been known as the "Giant's Field."

In recent times bones have been exhumed there which were believed to be human, and which were said to be those of Teutobodus, the king of the Teutons, who was overcome near the spot by Marius, the Roman general. The researches of Cuvier, however, proved that these bones, together with all the others exhumed in the same place, were those of the dinotherium giganteum, an extinct animal of the tapir species, which measured about twenty feet in length.

The myth of a race of giants has its counterpart in those other creatures of the imagination, the pigmies. These fabled people, who were so small that a stalk of grain was a tree to them, which they chopped down with tiny hatchets and brush-hooks, were said to inhabit Ethiopia. They were always at war with the cranes, but lived on such excellent terms with the partridges that they were able to harness them into their carriages.

They lived at first, according to the fable, in Thrace, but were driven out of Europe by the cranes, and took refuge in Ethiopia. It is now commonly supposed that the pigmies were nothing more nor less than monkeys of small size, like the marmoset. The pigmy's warfare with the crane was probably the one grain of exact truth which survived in the tradition.

The stories of the pigmies belong with the fables of the Orient. The men of ancient times were of the same, or nearly the same, height of those of the present day. The doors of the ancient houses, the ancient armor, the Egyptian mummies, as well as the bones of fossil men, prove that there has been little or no variation.

The normal stature of men and women ranges between four feet and six feet and four inches. Those who exceed the latter height may be called giants, while those who are below four feet are called dwarfs. There have been dwarfs scarcely one foot six inches in height, but even these have been considerably taller than the fabled pigmies of antiquity.

Youth's Companion.

He Can Afford to Laugh.

A friend tells a unique story of the relations between a prominent business man and one of his employees. The clerk, who is a hearty young fellow, in private life is independent and self-assertive enough, but during business hours he endures, with the utmost meekness, a continuous combing down at the hands of his employer. It is a wrangle, wrangle, wrangle, all day long, no matter how little the young man does to deserve it, and he was an object of commiseration to all his friends until the other day, when he lifted the veil for the benefit of an inquisitive friend. It appeared that on the very day he went to work, and a rate of pay had been agreed on between himself and his employer, the latter had come to him and squarely confessed that his liver was out of order; that he had never been able to keep a clerk more than three months by reason of his own ill temper, and—how much would the young man take in addition to his regular salary to agree to remain submissively under the harshest of treatment? The new clerk thought it over, and then named what he considered a fair figure; to this the employer added twenty-five per cent. and the bargain was struck. So now the "old man" grumbles, growls and swears all day; his clerk meanwhile smiles, and—draws his salary.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS THIS DAY.

Appointment.....Prov. Sec.

Daily British Columbian

Saturday Evening, Sept. 10, 1887.

The steamer Pearl arrived from the North Arm this morning.

Temperature to-day. Maximum, 65 deg. Minimum, 50 deg.

The steamer Robert Dunsmuir arrived this afternoon from Nanaimo.

700 cases of canned salmon went east to-day, they are billed for Toronto and London Ont.

At public meeting held at Vancouver last night it was decided to organize a board of trade for that city.

The customary peaceful condition of our city was left undisturbed last night, and in consequence the police court shows a clean sheet to-day.

The str. Gladys cleared for Hope this morning taking 20 tons of freight and 10,000 feet of lumber for intermediate ports, also a number of passengers.

The interior of St. Paul's (Reformed Episcopal) church is being painted, in consequence of which the services to-morrow, and the Sunday school, will be held in the Orange Hall.

Contractors are reminded that this is the last day for receiving tenders for the new opera house. Tenders are to to be left at the office of Mr. A. M. Herring not later than 7:30 to-night.

The salmon run last night was almost a complete failure only two or three fish to the boat being the result of the nights labor. It is expected the Cohoes will re commence running in a day or two.

Four carloads of bricks arrived this morning from Port Haney for Beckett & Co., which they will use on some of their contracts. The bricks are exceptionally hard and of a very fine color.

Mr. R. B. George would like to meet all the members of the late musical convention in the basement of the Methodist Church, Tuesday evening, Sept. 13, at 7 o'clock. Bring your books with you. se9t3

The str. Rithet arrived from Victoria last night at 9 o'clock, bringing 20 passengers and 50 tons of freight. She cleared this morning on the return trip taking 25 passengers and 90 tons of general freight.

The str. Wm. Irving arrived from up river ports yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, bringing a large quantity of general farm produce and 50 passengers. She left this morning for Hope taking 20 tons of freight and 10 passengers.

Several people for Victoria and up river ports got to the wharf a little late this morning, and much to their disgust found the steamers had cast off the lines. They are now making arrangements to be on hand sharp on time next steamer day.

Consignees per str. Wm. Irving, E. Bell, Clinton; J. Rosseau, R. Ellery, B. S. M. Co., G. Raymond, Henderson Bros., A. M. Nelson, Hayes & McIntosh, D. W. Miller, E. B. Keith, Arch. Woods, D. Jones, G. B. Scuitto, S. Lehman, Mrs. Street.

Messrs Patterson and Trow, M. P's from Ontario, addressed a public meeting at Victoria on Wednesday night, on the principles of reform. These gentlemen held no meeting in this city We presume they came to the conclusion that we were not needing reform so much as the people of Victoria!

Sir Arthur Blackwood has written the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. sincerely regretting his inability to visit Westminster and deliver an address for the association. Had there been any means of communication from Victoria last Monday he would have come, but he was obliged to leave for the east on Tuesday's train.

A chinaman was employed by a party, on Front street to do a little work, the pay for which on completion not being forthcoming the enterprising chinee walked off with a large lamp, which he promises to hold until the money is paid. Yesterday the cautious celestial was notified by the police to return the lamp or trouble would ensue.

The str. Rainbow arrived last night from Victoria with 25 tons of freight and the following list of passengers: Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Phillips, Thos. Hull, Jas. Brown, W. Wilkie and wife, F. M. Sevier, J. El wood, H. Hicks, P. Gannon, H. Harlocke. She left on the return trip at 7 o'clock this morning.

Trapp's auction sale yesterday afternoon was very successful. Hamilton's celebrated trotting mare, was knocked down at $277.50, the purchaser being George Black of Hastings, who has the reputation of knowing a good bit of horse flesh when he sees it. The carriage and harness brought $150.00. The salmon kits brought 19cts each and the half barrels 25cts each, and the other articles disposed of brought good figures. The sale was successful on the whole.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

SALMON PACKING.—Mr. Todd, of the Richmond Packing Co., states that he is endeavoring to gather enough men together to make a large pack of the fall run of salmon, but he is doubtful if a sufficient number of fishermen and laborers can be secured. The Richmond cannery have shipped their entire pack with the exception of about 2500 cases, and these will soon be disposed of. The scarcity of labor may prevent a large addition being made to this year's out put.

THAT TUG OF WAR.—Enquiry as to the tug of war, Westminster vs. Vancouver, which a Vancouver paper states will take place next Saturday at Hastings, has failed to find a person in this city who knows anything about it. It appears that after the Caledonia games there was some talk of such a contest taking place, but the matter did not go any further and was not thought of again. If Vancouver athletes wish to pit their pulling powers against their Westminster brethern there is no doubt but that the contest can be speedily arranged.

AN OPIUM SMOKER.—Early this morning a Chinaman, almost dead from the effects of opium smoking, might have been seen lying on the sidewalk on Columbia street, opposite a drug store. The moment the shop was opened the poor creature dragged himself inside, but from weakness or some other cause could not make himself intelligible, but it was apparent he was after the services of a doctor. At the end of half an hour's rest he seemed to gather a little strength and managed to make his way, though with much difficulty, towards the Chinese quarter.

SAFER NAVIGATION.—The government steamer Sir James Douglas, Capt. Devereux commanding, arrived in port from the mouth of the river this afternoon. Since work was commenced, some time ago, all the buoys in the north channel have been taken up and painted and replaced with new moorings. The fog bell has been shifted from its old position and is now hung beneath the light house. Im*mediately on arriving in port, Capt.* Devereux, accompanied by Capt. Grant, left on the str. Sampson for the North Arm, to lay some new buoys. The Sir James Douglas will remain until Monday noon.

VEDDER CREEK BRIDGE.—A few days ago we stated that complaints had been received from Upper Sumas because no effort had been made to replace the bridge over Vedder's Creek. We have since received a letter from Mr. Henry Barker calling attention to the same matter. Mr. Barker says that unless the bridge is replaced it will be almost impossible for any person in that settlement to reach the agricultural exhibition, and he thinks the government is very remiss in its duty because this important work on a trunk road has so long been neglected. We hope the government will give this matter prompt attention.

MR. KENNEDY'S LETTER.—A letter from Mr. James Kennedy appears in the Vancouver News of this morning relating to the question of city surveys. Mr. Kennedy's excuse for sending the letter to a Vancouver paper is that "the COLUMBIAN has manifested such a decided opposition" to him. This opposition consists in a paragraph which we published a few days ago stating that we "were quite sure that Mr. Kennedy was entirely in error with respect to the double charge for the same work." This observation we made after learning what we believe are the facts. Does Mr. Kennedy suppose that it is the business of a newspaper to publish whatever communication any individual chooses to send it, and to let it pass without notice when *the editor is satisfied it contains an un*truth? If he does, he must have a good deal to learn with respect to the duties and responsibilities of journalism. We have no doubt at all that the charge brought against Messrs. Woods, Turner & Gumble with respect to the double charge for the same work is entirely untrue, and if Mr. Kennedy is as anxious as he professes to be to ascertain the facts and promote the public interests one of his first steps should be to seek information without prejudice and apologize for misrepresenting what he does not seem to understand.

Salmon for Africa.

A shipment of 50 cases of salmon billed to Algoa Bay, Cape of Good Hope, South Africa, are now lying in the freight sheds for trans-shipment to Montreal. We understand this is the first bill of canned salmon shipped direct from British Columbia, to Africa, and it is expected if this lot gives satisfaction that others, and large shipmens will follow. The fish were packed by the British Columbia Canning Co., and are of prime quality.

H. Gladden, West Shefford, P. Q., writes: For a number of years I have been afflicted with rheumatism Two years ago I was attacked very severely. I suffered a great deal of pain, from which I was not free for a day, until last spring, when I began to use Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and I rejoice to say it has cured me, for which I am thankful.

Home from Chilliwhack.

The str. Wm. Irving on her trip down yesterday brought the members of the W. C. T. U. convention which has lately been in session at Chilliwhack. The ladies all speak very highly of the manner in which they were received and welcomed everywhere among the people of Chilliwhack, whose hospitality they fully appreciate. The trip both up and down was attended by fine weather, and the convention returns highly delighted, the only regret being that it was all too short.

Personal.

Mr. C. Z. Perry, the well-known representative of the B. C. Stationery Company, Victoria, is in the city on a visit in the interests of the company.

Messrs. James Trow and Wm. Patterson left for Glacier this afternoon on the Atlantic express. They will remain at that place a few days before taking the route for home.

Guest at the Colonial: James G. McDonald, F. Martin, Paul Marmette Vancouver; A D. Wright Montreal; P. Gannon, R. E. Harslock Ladners; Mrs. W. F. Wood, C. Z. Perry, J. H. Todd Victoria; S. Goldman Portland.

The Arch-Episcopal Visitors.

This morning Mr. W. H. Keary drove Monsigneurs Tache and Fabre around the city and pointed out to them the principal places of interest and beauty. A visit was made to the Royal City planing mills, where Mr. Hendry conducted the visitors through the various departments. The reverend gentlemen were greatly astonished at the size of some of the logs, they being very much larger than anything to be seen in eastern Canada. After leaving the mill a visit was paid to D. W. Port & Co.'s salmon freezing and packing establishment. Mr. Port showed their Graces round the building and explained the freezing process to them, in which they manifested great interest. The party then returned to the palace, highly delighted with their drive and all they had seen.

Their Graces left this afternoon at 4:30 for Vancouver, where they will remain until to-morrow, and then proceed to Victoria, from which place they will leave for home on Tuesday.

A Genuine Treat.

The general prediction, that the Skating Rink would be packed last night to hear the Wizard Oil Concert Company was fulfilled to the letter, and a larger or more appreciative audience could not have been accommodated with comfort. The programme was very select and well chosen, most of the songs and recitations being entirely new to Westminster playgoers. Mrs. Christie sang very nicely, and each song was received with much applause by the audience. It would be hard to say which was Harry Christie's best effort, every song being sung so admirably. It will be a long time before Westminster hears such a voice again. Sidney Burt is a host in himself, and in his own particular style is inimitable. His every appearance was the signal for a general roar of laughter from the audience, and every word uttered was so very funny that at times it was difficult to keep the run of the piece. "Farmer Magee" and "Aunt Betsy" fairly kept the audience in fits from beginning to end. Jule S. Streat in his comic and Irish songs was a treat, and an encore was demanded in every instance. The concert on the whole is generally admitted to be about the best ever given in the royal city, and if the company returns for the purpose of giving another a much larger hall than the Rink will be required.

THE PROGRESS OF MEDICAL ENLIGHTENMENT has led to the abandonment of many antiquated remedies of questionable value, and the adoption of newer and more rational ones. Prominent among the latter is Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the justly celebrated Blood Purifier, a comprehensive family remedy for liver complaint, constipation, indigestion, loss of physical energy, and female complaints.

A BOLD REQUST.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Recorder Smyth received a telegram yesterday from San Francisco from B. Hark Attorney for the celebrated Kissane asking the recorder to have the indictment against Kissane, dismissed. The recorder has not replied and probably will not.

BLAINE AND THE HEBREWS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—A cablegram from Hamburg this morning says: Blaine has found the Hebrew bankers of Frankfort very hospitable. Already he has been their guest at the opera, and was the recipient of a formal ovation at the Seligman mansion. Seligman escorted Blaine through various banking institutions in the city, introducing him at first as "The coming president of the United States." Blaine presently objected to this and assured him he was not a candidate. "But my brothers tell me," persisted Seligman, "you are sure to be elected." "I have no idea of allowing my name to be used," said Mr. Blaine; "I am not seeking the presidency, nor would I take it as a gift."
