Current Events and Opinions.

In case of defeat (of the home rule bill) unless the majority is too significant, and that is improbable, parliament probably will be dissolved, and Mr. Gladstone will appeal to the country. The first result of a successful appeal would be the political disappearance of Mr. Chamberlain. He would have led an abortive revolt against the wishes of the Liberal party. The second result would be the passage of the bill substantially in its present form, and the third would be serious trouble in Ulster, if not in England. The misfortune of the situation, if a dissolution should follow the failure of the second reading of the bill, is this, that the question submitted to the people would not be simply home rule, but the particular form of home rule provided by the bill. It seems now to be clear that if Mr. Gladstone had proposed to the house simply a declaration in favor of home rule, it would have passed, and the principle being thus conceded, the details could have been arranged. But as Mr. Gladstone himself said in his manifesto that the question for the second reading was simply the principle of home rule, the same ground may be taken by his supporters at the polls. The weight of English opinion against the Gladstone bill is very remarkable. Almost all the more distinguished names in the country, including Lecky, who more than any English historian has exposed the wrongs of Ireland, and Herbert Spencer, are arrayed against it. In the present aspect of the controversy Mr. Gladstone seems to be more than ever "the people's William," and it would be a very striking fact if the great middle class which is held to be the citadel of distinctive English character and conviction should prove friendly to Irish home rule.—Harper's Weekly.

The New York Herald says "it is beneath the dignity of the United States to carry on a controversy with a colony like Canada." But it is not beneath the dignity of the United States to try and steal the fish of a colony like Canada. It is because Canada is more than a match for Yankee duplicity that the Americans want to treat with the British government alone. The latter, however, in this matter must consent to stand by Canada in the protection of her just rights, or the loyalty of millions who are to-day attached to the British empire by every tie of endearment will be sorely strained. The Americans have in the past by one trick or another beaten the British government in the game of diplomacy, and the result was that some of the best tracts of territory on this northern continent ever lost to the colonies now forming Canada, Michigan, a portion of Maine, and other districts, rightly belonged to Canada, and in one case were defrauded from the old colonies through the use of a forged map. Such were the disgraceful features of American dealings with the British government in the past. But these frauds cannot be repeated to-day. Canada may, in the absence of the treaty making power on the part of the Dominion, which the Liberals present as a feature of their platform, have to treat with the Americans through Great Britain, but if the Dominion government does its duty in pressing the claims of Canada strongly upon the Imperial government, its views in this matter will be virtually those of the Dominion. The people of Canada have no desire to quarrel with their neighbors. They are willing to negotiate a treaty which shall extend to reciprocity in natural produce and manufactures, giving the Americans the privileges of our fisheries and perhaps reciprocity in the use of canals; but they are not disposed to allow every piratical Gloucester fisherman who chooses to invade Canadian waters, to take his fill of the fish which belong to the Canadian toilers of the sea, without saying by your leave. —Ottawa Free Press.

The gallant cruisers of Captain Scott's Canadian codfish navy have evidently become emboldened by the failure of the American government to resent the seizure of the schooners which they have captured, and are now on the point of committing a more palpable breach of international law. Hitherto they have been content with the capture of vessels actually caught in the act of buying bait in the ports of the Dominion. Now, however, they have started in quest of a number of schooners which, as they have reason to believe, have recently purchased bait within the proscribed limits, their avowed intention being to seize these vessels on the high seas. In the meantime, for fear that one of the Yankee fishing schooners may turn the tables and capture one of the so-called cruisers, the British government is concentrating in Canadian waters a fleet of the most powerful ironclads of the British navy, including the Bellerophon. Of course, as Minister West blandly informs his friend, Secretary Bayard, this concentration is purely accidental and has no significance whatever. The fact remains, however, that the concentration is quietly going on and that it is a most unusual proceeding. Our own poor little North Atlantic squadron, under command of Admiral Jouett, is lying in New York harbor prepared, as we are gravely informed, to sail for the fishing ground at an hour's warning, should the necessity arise. What on earth our poor tubs will do after they arrive at the fishing ground is not stated. The Bellerophon could sink the whole fleet without the slightest inconvenience or danger to herself. The North Atlantic squadron could probably handle the improvised cruisers of the Dominion, but when it came to meeting the great ironclads of the British navy, it would be found wofully deficient. It is probable that Admiral Jouett, when he arrived at the fishing ground, would discover that all that he could do would be to sail back again. He would thus become a marine imitator of that wise but much abused historical personage, the King of France, who "with twenty thousand men marched up the hill and then marched down again."—Seattle Post.

U. S. Foreign Trade.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The condition of our foreign trade is such as to create serious apprehension among those who are studying it. During the last twelve months ending April 30, the total exports of merchandise amounted to $667,004,540 against $740,867,121 for the previous twelve months. During the same time our imports were $623,348,623 against $590,838,990 during the previous twelve months. During the corresponding period of 1884, the exports were $750,758,350; in 1883 they were $811,679,331; in 1882 they were $777,-875,781, and in 1881 they were $912,-585,669. As compared with the figures for five years ago there has been a falling off of over $245,000,000, while our imports have remained about the same. During the twelve months ending April 30, 1885, the balance of trade in favor of the United States was $156,-028,131. During the last twelve months it has been reduced to $43,-055,948. During the month of February last the balance of trade against us was $4,781,425; in March, $6,347,-868, and in April, $3,347,740, thus making a total balance on the wrong side of the ledger for the last three months of over $14,000,000 and the indications are that the excess of imports over exports during the present month will bring this balance up to $20,000,000.

The natural result of this condition is large shipments of gold abroad to pay for merchandise imported. The exports of gold during the twelve months ending April 30 last amounted to $29,312,976, of which $22,969,000 was shipped during the last four months while the imports of gold in February only amounted to $986,384, in March $840,337, and in April $350,751. A slight calculation will show the exports of gold during the last four months to have exceeded the imports by nearly twenty millions, while during the corresponding period of 1885, the imports exceeded the exports of gold by $1,-428,787. During the twelve months ending April 30, 1885, we imported $20,413,434 more gold than we exported. The vast increase in the amount of imported merchandise is attributed to the labor troubles. In January, 1885, the imports were $42,-221,171. In January, 1886, they jumped up to $47,414,600; in February, 1885, they were $42,027,633; in February, 1886, $56,686,659; in March, 1885, $2,976,345; in March, 1886, $60,038,385; in April, 1885, $48,979,-398; and in April, 1886, $57,364,853. During the last four months the imports have amounted to $221,504,497, against $186,024,547, for the first four months of the calendar year of 1885, while at the same time the exports have fallen from $238,840,044 to $217,-595,716.

A Cheerful Home.

A single bitter word may disquiet an entire family for a whole day. One surly glance casts a gloom over the household, while a smile, like a gleam of sunshine, may light up the darkest and weariest hours. Like unexpected flowers which spring up along our path full of freshness, fragrance and beauty, so the kind words and gentle acts, and sweet dispositions make glad the homes where Christ's peace and blessing dwell. No matter how humble the abode, if it be thus garnished with grace and sweetened with kindness and smiles, the heart will turn longingly toward it from all the tumults of the world; and home, if it be ever so homely, will be the dearest spot under the circuit of the sun.

And the influences of home perpetuate themselves. The gentle grace of the mother lives in her daughters long after her head is pillowed in the dust of death, and fatherly kindness finds its echo in the nobility and courtesy of sons who come to wear his mantle and to fill his place; while on the other hand, from an unhappy, misgoverned and disordered home go forth persons who shall make other homes miserable and perpetuate the sourness and sadness, the contentions, the strifes, the railings which have made their own early lives so wretched and distorted.

Toward the cheerful home the children gather "as clouds, and as doves to their windows"; while from the house which is the abode of discontent and strife and trouble, they fly forth as vultures to rend their prey.

The British Columbian.

Saturday Morning, June 12, 1886.

British Politics.

As we anticipated, Mr. Gladstone has asked for a dissolution of the British parliament, and the request has been granted by the queen. The country now enters upon a political contest compared with which the lively last may be considered tame. The blood of the Irish is fairly up, as may be learned from the reports of rioting and disorder published elsewhere, and the hatred existing between Orangemen and Catholics will probably be carried throughout the whole compaign. The prospect is anything but cheering, for it is difficult to discern signs of a peaceful settlement even in the distance. The one question before the electors will be home rule. On this question the battle will be fought, and it promises to be fought with a fierceness never before known in Great Britain. If the home rule party is defeated, Ireland will be in open rebellion: if home rule is successful, the Orangemen throughout the country will in all probability feel themselves at liberty to raise another riot in the name of patriotism!

A Growing City.

In view of the sale of city property to be held here next Tuesday, our readers will excuse us for referring again to the advantages enjoyed by this city. Being situated on the great river of British Columbia, and having direct connection by railway with the C. P. R. as well as by water to all points, its facilities for handling provincial and foreign trade cannot be surpassed. It is the only fresh water harbor of any importance in the province, and sea-going vessels always greatly prefer a fresh water harbor because it cleans the ship's bottom. The city is the natural centre of the fishing and lumbering interests, two of the greatest industries in the province; and it is also the centre and natural market for one of the finest agricultural districts in the country. Its progress for the past six years has been constant and very satisfactory, and this season the value of new buildings and improvements will certainly be over $100,000. There is no city with fairer prospects than New Westminster.

Two More Extracts.

It will probably be admitted that we have proved very conclusively from the Guardian's own columns that its opinion on political questions is worthless. But there are other questions as well as those relating to politics upon which the organ cannot be trusted to give a valuable opinion. Of this fact proof will be found in the following extracts:

From the Guardian, Aug. 2:1879.

In response to the invitation from the Dominion government, Admiral Richards (than whom there lives not a man better qualified to give an opinion on the subject) says, "English Bay is the natural terminus on the Pacific shore," and adds: "MUCH INDEED MIGHT BE PROFITABLY SACRIFICED ON THE LAND ROUTE TO SECURE THIS GOOD ANCHORAGE CONVENIENT IN ALL RESPECTS." Certainly it has been proven beyond all possibility of reasonable doubt, that so far from there being any occasion to make sacrifices on the land route in order "to secure this good anchorage," the land advantages on the route leading thereto are simply enormous.

From the Guardian, Oct. 14:1879.

The money torn from the pockets of the struggling farmers and traders has been thrown into a cesspool of a graving dock, which if allowed to go on will impoverish the people of this province for a quarter of a century to come.

No person who has read the Guardian during the last four years would suspect it of ever having favored English Bay as a terminus for the Canadian Pacific Railway, or suggested that the graving dock was not a most excellent financial venture. But these two extracts are conclusive, and among others already published will be found additional proof of the organ's anxious desire to get rid of the dry-dock in 1879. Now it condemns the present government for disposing of the dry-dock although this province received back from the Dominion every dollar that had been expended on that work. As a reason for the organ's change of opinion respecting the railway terminus it may be mentioned that its editor managed to secure possession of a quantity of land near Port Moody, and he forthwith proceeded to make his newspaper an instrument for booming his own property!

A Valuable Opinion!

In the last few issues of this journal we have published a number of extracts from the Guardian, the opposition organ at this city, in which were contained its opinion of Mr. Walkem and his cabinet in 1879. One of the members of Mr. Walkem's cabinet at that time was Mr. Beaven, now leader of the opposition, who aspires to the premiership if his party should manage to carry the elections. Mr. Beaven is the recognized leader of the party by all the organs, and he is the very person whom, as member of the cabinet of 1879, the local organ denounced as a fraud and a person whom it would not be safe to trust or follow. We do not intend to dwell further on this phase of a very unsavory subject. It is a painful instance of the wonderful transformations which sometimes take place in the opinions of a journal that puts aside all principle and consistency when its individual interests come up. The men who in 1879 were distrusted and plunging the country into absolute ruin, debauching the electors by a corrupt distribution of the revenues and the patronage, are now extolled as the only men fit to receive public confidence and carry on the government! We have already pointed out the probable reason for this change of opinion in the organ, and we ask the electors to remember these things during the present political campaign and not to be misled by any opinion that may be expressed by an organ whose opinion is so completely worthless.

Is it Hair-Splitting?

Some time ago we corrected the Victoria Times for stating that the Chinese clause had been "eliminated" from the agreement between the government and syndicate, and, also, for asserting that the government promised to insert a Chinese clause before the agreement was signed. The Times admits that the clause was not "eliminated," but states that it was "omitted," and maintains that the difference is mere hair-splitting. It is nothing of the kind. A clause might be omitted from the agreement without any evil intent, but it could not be eliminated without the suspicion of fraud. To say that a clause has been eliminated, which our cotemporary did say, necessarily implies that it once formed part of the agreement and was struck out. Our contention was that there never was a Chinese clause in the agreement relating to the New Westminster branch, and this the Times now admits. But our cotemporary still maintains that the government promised to insert a Chinese clause in the branch agreement, and in proof of its contention quotes from the Colonist's report of the debate, in which Mr. Beaven said that the leader of the government had stated that he intended to introduce a clause to exclude Chinese, and Mr. Duck said he "took it for granted that the Chinese would be prevented from working on the extension of the road." This proves nothing at all. The leader of the opposition stating that the leader of the government had stated that he "intended" to introduce a Chinese clause is a very different thing from saying that the government promised to insert such a clause. But the remarks of Mr. Duck, as quoted by our cotemporary, indicate that the debate referred not to the "branch" at all but to the "extension" from Port Moody to Vancouver! If the premier's promise related to that, it has been fulfilled, for Chinese are not allowed to work on the extension. We are quite certain that no such promise was made about the branch, and the Times cannot produce proof of its assertion. Our contention that the clause securing a bonus to the branch was inserted at the last moment is also perfectly correct. The general agreement had been for some time before the house, and was almost upon the point of completion when a deputation from this city waited on the government and induced it to consent that the branch line also should be made part of the agreement. The only clause relating to the branch line is clause 12, which is virtually the last clause in the agreement, and it was added, as we have stated, after the rest of the agreement had been discussed by the house.

STILL ANOTHER.—Mr. W. H. Ladner asks us to announce that he will be a candidate for the district of New Westminster at the coming election.

ARRIVED.—Mr. J. A. R. Homer, M.P. for this district, reached Victoria yesterday, and is expected to arrive in this city by the str. Teaser this evening.

FOR THE CITY.—Mr. W. Norman Bole telegraphs from Kamloops that he will be a candidate for the representation of this city in the next provincial legislature.

THE WATER. — A despatch from Matsqui to this journal was received yesterday afternoon as follows: "Water at a standstill during the past 24 hours. It is now 4 ft. 2 ins. below the great flood of 1882."

THE CAMPAIGN.—In another column will be found the programme arranged by the provincial secretary for this district. The other candidates seem to have been engaged in a "still hunt" so far, and have made no announcement.

FOUND GUILTY.—At the Kamloops assizes Mallott, who shot a man at Farwell last year, was found guilty of murder and sentenced to be hanged on the 28th proximo. Mallott was confined for several months in the gaol at this city.

THE Whatcom Reveille says that the str. Evangel will not call any more at Whatcom unless a U.S. port of entry is established at Semiahmoo so that vessels can be cleared for British Columbia, and it asks: "What will be done with our butter, eggs, strawberries, spuds, and other fruits?"

ON Tuesday morning T. C. Atkinson, of the law firm of Corbould, McColl & Atkinson, and Mary Ellard, daughter of the late James Ellard, were married at St. Mary's church, Sapperton, by the Bishop of New Westminster. The bridal pair left on the str. Rithet the same morning for a wedding trip. We wish them all possible happiness.

A CLOSE SHAVE.—On Wednesday a man named Geo. Sinclair, while painting the new Orange Hall, fell a distance of about 30 feet and was considerably hurt. His nose was broken and his face badly scratched, but we are glad to learn that the injuries are not likely to be as serious as was at first supposed. A defective scafold was the cause of the accident, and it is a wonder the man escaped with his life.

THE municipal council of Surrey has an advertisement in this paper calling public attention to the lands of that municipality. Persons coming to this country often go up and down the river and go away disappointed because they have seen no land that suits them. If they were to take a trip through some of the townships away from the river, they would be surprised at the richness of the country. Information respecting Surrey lands may be had from the reeve or clerk.

THE LAND SALE.—Quite a number of lots in the city squares and reserves are on the list for Tuesday's sale, and every one who wants a piece of land for building purposes or speculation will have a fair opportunity of being accommodated. City property for the last five or six years has been making a steady advance, and it is as safe an investment as a man can find. The sale takes place at the Council Chambers in this city at 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning.

AHEAD ALREADY.—The embryo city of Vancouver is ahead of us already in the matter of licenses. A by-law passed at last meeting of the Vancouver council requires all saloon and hotel bars and liquor stores to close during the whole of Sunday. We hope such a law will soon be enacted in this city. It is a disgrace that while ordinary traffic is not allowed on Sunday, a traffic admitted by all to be specially evil in its tendency and associations should be permitted without hindrance.

MORE CROOKEDNESS.—When tenders were asked for the Dominion Day printing it was explicitly stated by Mr. Hall that the whole of the programme was to be inserted in the posters. The posters have been issued, but the matter contained on the programme does not appear in them at all! The omission makes the job worth about $2 less, but we suppose the committee doesn't care much as long as the people foot the bills. We hope every one is pleased with the artistic appearance of the programme!

POLICE COURT.—On Wednesday a man named Sutherland was assessed $1.50 and $1 costs for d. and d. Kilpatrick, for driving too rapidly over plank road, was fined $2 50 and costs, the lightness of the fine being in consideration of the fact that this was his first offence. On Thursday a stage driver was up for fast driving over a plank walk. In defence he stated that at the time he was driving a young horse that took fright at an obstruction on the street. Under the circumstances the magistrate dismissed the case.

DROPPED DEAD.—Samuel Brierly, an old Cariboo miner, who has been staying at the Colonial hotel for the past week dropped into a faint while in conversation last Friday night about 9 o'clock. Restoratives were administered, but without effect. Dr. Mcguigen was sent for and on his arrival announced that death had claimed its own. The unfortunate man had been complaining during the day of a pain in the head, and several times he "wished he were dead," little thinking that in a few hours his wish would be realized. Death was caused by heart disease. Deceased was a man of over 50 years of age, and unmarried. He is an old resident of British Columbia, and latterly worked as cook in Gellespie's camp. He was spoken of as a sober, industrious man. — Vancouver News.

Our local cotemporary published a characteristic paragraph on the Dominion Day printing job, in which he attempts to cast discredit upon the statements of this journal. Any person who wishes to verify our statements can do so on application to the committee. Mr. Hall, who had the matter in hand, declares that he stated to the Guardian, as he did to us, that he would supply the material for the job—so that the misrepresentation lies between that gentleman and our cotemporary. Mr. Hall certainly informed the committee that the material was to be supplied by him.

DOMINION ALLIANCE. — The executive of the New Westminster Auxiliary to the Alliance met on Wednesday. The treasurer reported subscriptions for the guarantee fund to date $232.50. A member reported the organization of a strong auxiliary at Chilliwhack. Steps were taken towards organizing at Vancouver. The president reported that the provincial executive desired suggestions as to points to be included in the bill now being prepared for submission at the next session of the legislature, and action was taken in accordance with the request. The intention is to frame a good, comprehensive license law, calculated to protect society against the more glaring evils of the liquor traffic. It was resolved to ask every candidate for the local house to pledge himself to support the principle of this bill; and also to make an appeal to the electors to support only such candidates as will pledge themselves to good wholesome restrictive legislation. The executive will meet again on Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.—COM.

EXCITEMENT IN THE CAMP.—A member of the survey party, now at English Bay, gives a rather exciting account of the dangers incidental to surveying in that region. On several occasions there had been an alarm in camp on account of some unknown animal in too close proximity. A few days ago some of the party saw a couple of bears in the water with the dogs barking about them, and, filled with the desire to distinguish themselves, they attacked them with various weapons—pistols, revolvers, popguns, and goodness knows what. The bears stood it for awhile, and then began slowly to move off—they were getting tired. But one ball from a revolver rather rubbed the skin of the older bear, and he turned around with some impatience and—but here the narrator broke off, for the bold, brave surveyors did not wait to see what bruin would do. However, there was heaps of fun, for the bear did not follow them, and the boys peppered away until the two denizens of the forest moved off to the dark recesses of their, till now, undisturbed retreat.—Vancouver News.

CHILLIWHACK CAMP MEETING.—This annual Methodist gathering began on Tuesday, 1st inst., and lasted for one week. It was attended by a larger number than usual, including several visitors from Nanaimo, Victoria, and New Westminster. There were also many natives present, under the leadership and instruction of Rev. C. M. Tate, assisted by several native preachers. The attendance of ministers, too, was unusually large, comprising Revs. Messrs. Watson, Hall, Bryant, Seccombe, Hemlaw, Wood, and Patterson, and the results of the meeting proved decidedly gratifying. Of the whites, 21 names were given at the close, and of Indians 6, as probationers for membership in the Methodist church. Besides all this, the general success of religion has been considerably enhanced in Chilliwhack and Sumas by the influence of these services and the good effect there will be seen after many days. The interest shown in this institution by the people appeared in the closing service when a debt of $210 was wiped out by the united appeal of Revs. Bryant and Tate. The further improvement of the camping grounds will be at once commenced. Mrs. D. Robson assisted by her effective rendering of solos from the "Gospel Songs" and was much appreciated.—Com.

From Mount Lehman.

(Correspondence of the Columbian.)

MOUNT LEHMAN, June 9.—A great part of the Matsqui Prairie is now covered with water, and the opinion prevails that the flood will reach the high mark of 1882. It is to be hoped this opinion may not be realized, for such a flood would do a terrible lot of damage to people who have settled on low lands along the river for the last few years. Mount Lehman is safe from the flood, for it can stand a rise of about 100 feet.—Some of the boys have returned already from the gold mines, and report a good deal more water than gold just now.—Crops are looking well, and there is every prospect of an abundant harvest.—Bears are quite plentiful in this region. A number of Nimrods have been after them, but without success.

Mrs. E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, Warren Co., N. Y., writes: She has been troubled with asthma for four years, had to sit up night after night with it. She has taken two bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and is perfectly cured. She strongly recommends it, and wishes to act as agent among her neighbors.

Brownville to Upper Sumas.

(Correspondence of the Columbian.)

Your correspondent having been one of the party who laid out the Yale-Hope wagon road in the spring of 1874, some observations made during a trip recently from Brownville to Upper Sumas and Mount Lehman by wagon road may be of interest to your readers. The changes that have taken place since then are so great as to be worthy of mention. In 1874 the first place one struck after leaving Brownville was the Innes farm at Langley Prairie, a distance of 13 miles. Soon after the road was opened Mr. Murchison settled west of Langley Prairie; and to-day you will find quite a number of settlers along the road between Brownville and Langley Prairie, and cross roads are being constructed so as to give access to back claims on both sides. From Langley Prairie to Upper Sumas is a distance of 20 miles. There was not a soul to be seen in this distance at the time of the construction of the road. The first settler to come was Mr. John Musselwhite, who went to Upper Sumas, and I believe Mr. Murray and his son were the first to settle on the road west of Langley. Between Langley Prairie and Upper Sumas is where the greatest changes are to be seen. From Mr. Murray's for a distance of 7 miles the changes are somewhat surprising. Where a few years ago a person might travel along without hearing or seeing anyone, to-day you could scarcely go half a mile without finding people busily engaged in making houses or in other occupations relating to civilized life. Here, also, many side roads are being constructed to give access to lands back from the trunk road, and settlers may be found in some instances as far as 3 miles back. Six miles from Langley Prairie is situated the well stocked store of Shortreed Bros. A mile beyond is Alder Grove post-office and a lodging house conducted by Mr. Whyman. There is also another store run by Mr. Jackman. The post-office is a sort of centre of gravity, and promises well as the site of a village in the near future. Here the Walker road from the American side and the Whannock road from Fraser river intersect the trunk road, and this point is half way between New Westminster and Chilliwhack. Mr. Geo. Stroeble has erected a large building at this point, intending to provide accommodation for the travelling public. Alder Grove is also to have a resident Methodist minister shortly, and the people are asking for a school, which is greatly needed. Between Alder Grove and Sumas there are a large number of settlers, and new ones are constantly coming in, and a considerable quantity of good land is still left for those who want it. From Alder Grove your correspondent returns to the 26-mile post, and finds the road leading to Mount Lehman, a new settlement which is making rapid progress. Mount Lehman was first settled in the year 1874 by Messrs. S. W. and Isaac Lehman and A. Douglas, but at that time the prospects of forming a settlement were so poor that these people became disheartened and left. About 6 years ago Mr. S. W. Lehman returned, with his family, and he and a few others have worked hard to develop the settlement, and their efforts have been very successful. The settlement now has about 50 settlers, a school with an attendance of about 25 scholars, a post-office, and a store conducted by Mr. E. J. Thomson. Throughout the settlement the soil seems to be very rich. The timber is principally alder, and there are some of the finest tracts of alder bottom that one could wish to see. The name "alder grove" would apply here with quite as much fitness as at the neighboring settlement, and here also there is some very good land awaiting settlement. There has been a great deal of money spent (apparently to good advantage) in these two settlements in opening up main roads by the present government. In politics the people do not seem to have much to say. They have had no dealings with any but the present government, and as they are generally well satisfied with their treatment they seem disposed to let well enough alone. The people through these two settlements deserve great credit for the amount of road making they have done themselves. The time is not far distant when these two settlements will be joined into one continuous community. When that comes to pass it is to be hoped they may be one in will as well as in fact. I am of the opinion that this region is destined to become the garden of the province of British Columbia. The land is first-class, and will raise in abundance anything adapted to our climate; and there is no dread of river floods that so many are experiencing elsewhere just now. The people seem to be giving a good deal of attention to the cultivation of fruits. I am informed that last year and this spring about $1,000 worth of young fruit trees were put out in the two settlements; and as great care is taken to secure the best varities, they are sure to be abundantly rewarded for the cost and trouble. I hope, Mr. Editor, you will give this letter a place in your valuable paper.

The Dominion Alliance.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN.—In view of certain circumstances which need not be very particularly specified, it seems to me well that certain facts connected with what may be called the temperance movement, should be put before the people at this time. It is generally known that a convention was held here last month to organize, or to provide a basis upon which to organize, the temperance people of the province. That convention was called by the Provincial Branch of the Dominion Alliance, and its work was done upon the lines laid down by the Alliance. Now I think it will be granted by everyone whose head is as cool and clear as a temperance man's (or woman's) head ought to be, that those who hope for the accomplishment of any useful work in this matter, must look to organized effort for the fulfilment of their hopes. It will also be granted that organized effort is impossible if any considerable number of temperance people insist upon putting forward each his or her own particular hobby. The Alliance seeks to avoid hobbies; while it is quite willing that its friends should ride theirs to death on all other occasions, it respectfully requests them to leave their steeds at home when they are about Alliance work, and also to be careful that their prancing raises no dust in the way of those who are seeking to do that work.

Coming now to the Provincial Branch of the Alliance and its auxiliaries, it is, I think, a fair statement of its present aims to say, that it seeks such legislation as will protect the community against the admitted evils of the liquor traffic. The license laws of British Columbia at present are little, if anything, more than revenue laws. They are, indeed, "license" laws—they provide that you shall pay a license fee, and that, having paid it, you have license to do as you please. The Alliance believes that a great deal should be added to this; and added, because the welfare of society demands it. That is the kernel of the whole matter. I should be sorry to say that the Alliance ignored the moral aspect of the question; but it does not, so to speak, approach the question from the moral side at all. It seeks to restrict and restrain the liquor traffic, just as the laws of large cities restrain men from building wooden houses within certain "fire limits," viz., in the interests of society. Against the platform of the Alliance, the old argument that temperance legislation is an interference with personal liberty has no power; for it cannot be denied that the law which I have just cited, and a hundred others which might be cited, are as much infringements of personal liberty as any temperance legislation can be.

No one in these days, who wishes to be considered a person of respectable understanding, denies that an unrestrained liquor traffic is a menace to society, and, that being admitted, the position of the Alliance is impregnable. Let us hope, therefore, that all loyal and patriotic men will be found supporting the efforts of the Alliance in this province, to obtain civilized legislation as to the liquor traffic at the earliest possible date.

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

BELFAST, June 9.—Orangemen are rioting here to-day, and have wrecked one hundred houses in the city, two of which they burned. The excitement is intense, and men are wild. The rioters have broken into several whisky stores and possessed themselves of the liquid contents. Large numbers of men and women are lying about in gutters drunk, and others are prowling about the streets. Several assaults were made by the police upon the rioters and seventy of the latter have been severely wounded by buckshot. The police have been ordered to fire balls in the event of a renewal of the rioting.

ST. JOHN'S, N.F., June 9.—Bread riots are threatened in Conception Bay. Unemployed men are parading the streets in crowds. The police, with rifles and fixed bayonets, so far, have prevented looting. The British war ship Lily has been ordered to Conception Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 9.—Advices from China state that United States Minister Denvy is reported as saying that Gen. Wilson was prepared to undertake the building of roads without China being obliged to expend one cent; that United States capitalists were ready to supply all capital and material necessary to give China a complete railway system in the shortest possible time.

A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes: I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public "one of the best medicines they have ever used;" it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES.

BELFAST, June 10.—People here have been wrought up to a state of great excitement by the riotous demonstrations of Orangemen during the past two days. All work is stopped, stores and many residences are closed and barricaded. Mobs in every street are prepared for further deeds of violence. The Orangemen are greatly incensed at the constabulary for firing upon them, and threaten to sack the barracks. Detachments of soldiers and police from Dublin and other cities are being forwarded to Belfast to assist the authorities in restoring order. At midnight a mob of Orangemen raided a public house kept by a Catholic named O'Hare, and after sacking it set it on fire. The police charged the rioters a dozen times without bayonets, but each time were forced to take refuge in the barracks, where they fired upon the mob from second story windows. The mob, however, held its ground 20 minutes longer, although the firing was heavy and incessant. Scores of rioters were wounded. It is known positively that six men and two women were killed. A great many wounded were carried away by friends, and whether their injuries are fatal is not known. 20 rioters who received bullet wounds are lying in one infirmary. A large number of Orangemen took part in the riot to-day.

LONDON, June 10.—In the commons this afternoon Gladstone, who was loudly cheered on rising, said that in consequence of the rejection of home rule he had advised the queen to dissolve parliament without delay, and her majesty had graciously assented to this, and he would therefore ask the house to wind up the business of the session at the earliest practicable moment. The premier's statement was received with cheers.

A HINT WORTH HEEDING.—Life loses half its zest when digestion is permanently impaired. Surely then a speedy means of restoring this essential of bodily comfort is worth trying. Every rank, every profession, bears its quota of evidence to the beneficent influence upon the stomach, and also upon the liver, bowels and kidneys, of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, or celebrated Blood Purifier. What is the wise course suggested to the sick by this testimony? We leave them to decide.

Rev. Sam Jones is to hold a series of religious meetings in Toronto in October.

Mr. Henry Marshall, Reeve of Dunn, writes: "Some time ago I got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery from Mr. Harrison, and I consider it the very best medicine extant for Dyspepsia." This medicine is making marvellous cures in Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, etc., in purifying the blood and restoring manhood to full vigor.

AFTER DINNER.

Persons who suffer from Indigestion can arrest the progress of that painful malady by the use of an after-dinner pill, so composed that it will give tone to the stomach, prevent heartburn, rouse the liver to healthful action, invigorate the kidneys, and thus, through the activity of these organs, promote the natural movement of the stomach and bowels. AYER'S PILLS are so compounded that their action, though mild, effectually produces the above results. They also, in curing Constipation, remove the cause of Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Kidney Disease, Rheumatism, and many other serious ailments.

AYER'S PILLS

contain no mineral nor poisonous substance, and do not gripe unless the bowels are irritated, and even then their influence is healing. To continue their effect in constipated or chronic cases, they need only be taken in diminishing instead of increasing doses. For seamen, and inhabitants or travelers in sparsely settled countries where physicians are not at hand, they are of inestimable value. There is hardly a sickness they will not alleviate, and in most cases cure, if taken promptly. To young girls just entering upon womanhood, and to women whose period of maternity is drawing to a close, Ayer's Pills, in moderate doses, merely sufficient to ensure regular action of the bowels, will be found of Incalculable Value.

Port Hammond Nursery!

NOW IS THE TIME TO SEND IN your orders, if you want some of those nice fruit or ornamental trees, shrubs, etc., from Ontario. As I return about the middle of June to settle up my affairs there and come out this fall with the stock for my nursery here, and will select and bring your orders right along with me for this fall and next spring's planting, I will satisfy all both as to quality of trees and fruit, and I will be settled here in the business so you will know where to find me. ## Irish Home Rule.

LONDON, June 8.—The cabinet will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon to consider what action is incumbent upon the government as a result of their defeat last night. Gladstone rose earlier than usual and during the forenoon he had two hours' conference with Roseberry, foreign minister. Ninety-four Liberals voted against the home rule bill. There is intense excitement throughout the whole country over the outcome of the long parliamentary contest. Conservatives and Whigs everywhere are making the day one of jubilee, ringing bells and singing "God Save the Queen." Dispatches from Ireland state that at Belfast, Londonderry, Armagh, and other towns, the loyalists have been stoned during their parades and demonstrations, but up to a late hour this afternoon no cases of fighting or extreme violence are reported. The cabinet at its meeting by a unanimous vote resolved to appeal to the country. They hold that by resigning they would only prolong and complicate the acute dispute which will be terminated by a speedy dissolution of parliament. Gladstone will send a special messenger to the Queen to-night with a letter recommending that her majesty dissolve parliament as the only means to secure a stable government. If the Queen does not exercise her prerogative and summon Hartington to form a new ministry Gladstone on Thursday will ask the commons to proceed with the supply bill, and will indicate the Queen's intention to dissolve parliament at an early date. Chamberlain has arranged to hold a meeting of his followers to decide whether they shall act with the Hartington committee or as an independent political party. At present Chamberlain favors the latter course. He expresses himself as confident of being able to retain his seat for West Birmingham. It is thought Gladstone will not make a final statement before dissolution until Monday next at the most. The Liberal federation has prepared a manifesto to the electors of Great Britain. It adopts home rule as the Liberal party platform in the coming election. The Radical dissenters will organize Radical union headquarters in Birmingham. The union's programme will include a large extension of self government in England, Scotland, Wales, and Ireland, coupled with some control by the Imperial parliament. The Most Rev. James Donnelly, D. D., Roman Catholic bishop of Clogher, County Tyrone, Ireland, and all the priests of his diocese, have sent an address to Mr. Gladstone, stating that they cannot consent longer to be trampled on by the relentless Orangemen of Ulster. An eye witness describes Parnell upon the floor of the house of commons last night as follows: "He was unusually pale. He commenced his speech nervously, and he afterwards followed the lines of his manuscript, which had been submitted to and approved by Mr. Sexton. The speech forthwith assumed a higher level, and the orator became very impressive. Every sentence was formed with the greatest accuracy to express certain shades of meaning. Mr. Parnell's face flushed with affection and pride when he exclaimed: 'We cannot surrender a single Irishman.' The concluding appeal for peace and prosperity for suffering Ireland was delivered in a chord of tender and gnuine kindness different from his usually cold and dispassionate tone. A meeting of forty Scotch peers and members of the house of commons was held to-day. Lord Rosebery presided. A committee was appointed to propagate the Irish home rule doctrine in Scotch constituencies. Measures were adopted for the establishment of home rule literature and speaker's funds. Gladstone, after announcing the dissolution of parliament, will issue a manifesto to his Midlothian constituents, which will serve as a general appeal to the country. He will visit Midlothian to inaugurate an elaborate campaign. A conference of Chamberlain's followers will probably be held on Thursday, and then a manifesto will follow. The Whigs have virtually decided to oppose Mr. Gladstone in Midlothian.

DUBLIN, June 8.—There is the wildest enthusiasm among the loyalists in the north of Ireland over the defeat of home rule. Rockets were sent up at Coleraine, county of Londonderry, announcing the result of the vote to the adjacent towns. The news was soon known throughout Ulster. Ten thousand loyalists paraded at Lurgan this morning in honor of the victory. Rioting continues in the Orange districts of Monghan. At Largan several militiamen have been wounded, some houses wrecked, and several persons shot, some dangerously wounded. One Thomas Gallagher was shot dead. Troops have been ordered from Armagh to clear the streets. Almost all the constables were injured by stones or bricks. The Freeman's Journal, Mr. Parnell's organ, says: The principle of home rule is for a moment defeated but is not killed. The bill has been lost but the principle of home rule triumphs. The 311 affirmative votes cast last night for Mr. Gladstone's measure virtually commits parliament to home rule. Who should say the matter rests there? The News (ministerial) says: A dissolution has been rendered inevitable by last night's vote. Parnell's emphatic declaration that Ireland would accept Gladstone's bill as a final settlement will have a wider influence with the nation to-day than all the astute and minute criticisms of Goschen.

BELFAST, June 8.—Rioting was renewed here this evening. A mob of Orangemen wrecked a number of houses of the Catholics, severely injuring some of them. The riot act was read and the police fired upon the mob which replied with revolvers. Many were injured on both sides, but the police finally triumphed.

The absorbing question among people who live in the light of royal favor is how the Queen's jubilee shall be celebrated. Her Majesty completes her fiftieth year of tenancy of the English throne on June 20, next year, her reign having been exceeded in length only by Henry III and George III. The proposal finding the most favor at present is to devote next year to holiday exhibitions of every description all over the country, getting some member of the royal family, of course, to open each one, in the belief that by this means a great stimulus will be given to trade of all sorts.

President Cleveland has approved the bill which requires that the study of the nature of alcoholic liquors and narcotics, and their effect shall be pursued in the public schools of the District of Columbia and the territories, and it is now a law. The result can not but lead to the growth of a powerful temperance sentiment among the young men and women of the inchoate states of the great West, which will bear fruit in prohibition when they enter upon the dignity of full-fledged statehood.—Toledo Blade.

Death to Anarchists.

When the mob of Anarchists shattered the windows of Rosenfeld's drug store, at the corner of Center avenue and Eighteenth street, last Wednesday night, it became bolder and crushed in the sash and doors with paving stones and bars of iron. Then it poured into the entrance like a flock of sheep, and swarmed behind the counters and dispensary. Bottles of liquor were taken from the shelves and the contents drank out of hats and sponges. Men and boys fought like madmen over the spoils. They drank until they all became demoniacal in their orgie; and then, the liquor having been swallowed up, they sacked the show cases, demolished the mirrors with stones, and fell upon the scores of bottles standing on the shelves. All those not containing liquors were dashed upon the floor; the others were handed down and the stoppers pulled out. If the liquids looked or tasted like liquor, they were gulped down without further enquiry. The labels on the bottles were Greek to the ignorant, crazy mob, which was bent on enjoying a gratuitous debauch. While in the midst of their orgie the police swooped down upon the rioters and sent them fleeing to all parts of the neighborhood. Since that time it has been leared that many of the rioters have died from the effects of sucking too long at the neck of the wrong bottle, and that scores of others are either dying or lying grievously ill from the same cause. It is also said that many children entered the drug store while the orgie was in progress and helped themselves to the lozenges which were kept in bottles on the shelves. A large quantity of this medicated candy contained opium and other drugs. The little pirates ate the sweets with avidity, and are now suffering the consequences. Some are writhing in paroxysms of pain; others are lying in a stupor from which they cannot be aroused. Nearly all the sufferers are children of Bohemians and Germans. "The dose those fellows got in that drug store," said the officer who stands at the corner of Eighteenth street and Center avenue, "did more to quell the disturbance in this neighborhood than all the other things combined. It looks as if the whole ward had been put to sleep. Down on Seventeenth street, near Brown, there is an entire family vomiting and yelling with pain. They won't let a physician into the house, and their friends will not give their names nor the number of their house. Nobody knows to what extent the ward is afflicted, for the sufferers are persons who invariably conceal such matters."—Chicago Herald.

A Tail-Tosser.

"Stir up that mass of leaves," said my friend, as we passed a heap, the droppings from a large live oak. We had left the brook, that in the higher level was full, and were now following the narrow trail. Inserting my gun-barrel under the pile, out ran a black lizard about six inches in length. The hunter quickly stepped in front of it, when the little creature, seeing that it was surrounded, stopped, raised itself high on its short legs, and bowed its head several times, turning its eyes inquisitively upon us.

"I thought I saw one run under the leaves," said my companion, "and I want to show you another instance of a peculiar method of protection. This lizard is black because it lives upon the rocks, dark ones, in gloomy places, but down in the valley you will find the same lizard on sunny roads very much lighter in hue—in fact, it also changes its colors. But this is nothing to what I hope to show you. This fellow is a tail-tosser; in other words, he can instantly, by a jerk of the body, whisk off as much of his tail as occasion requires. You can easily see what a protection this is. An enemy in chase seizes the lizard by the tail, and the member is thrown off, and while the follower is engaged in devouring it the animal itself is off. This is quite remarkable, but there is more. The lizard can throw off its tail at will to distract the attention of the pursuer. Now, I will make the attack, and you watch the tail while I catch the body part."

The lizard-hunter then began a series of movements with the switch that made the little animal, that was now puffing out its throat in anger or fear and showing a vivid metallic blue patch upon the side, dart about in an undecided way, looking vainly for a loophole of escape. Finally, when the lizard was fully aroused, the switch was brought down just behind it with extreme violence. A whisk of the black body, a gleam of metallic blue, and the lizard was gone, the hunter after it, while I stood with eyes rivited on what for a moment I considered a worm that had escaped from the mouth of the reptile. It was the tail, however, leaping up and down upon the leaves, twisting and contorting itself in a variety of positions and looking exactly like a worm that had been disturbed and was trying to show its displeasure. For fully two minutes this rejected member twisted and writhed and then gradually lost its seeming life. In the meantime the lizard had been captured and it was found that the tail had been tossed or cast almost at its base or where it joined the animal.

"You see the idea," said the hunter. "The lizard thought that he was about to be captured and that harsh measures were necessary, so in an instant he decided to part with his tail, hoping in this way to distract our attention from the body part, which would run off. The tail is jerked off or tossed by a quick side motion of the body, and the moment it is severed the animal darts away so rapidly and naturally the pursuer stops to examine the leaping tail, that to a bird might seem a worm, and with any animal would arouse curiosity enough to delay it long enough for the lizard to escape.

"This fellow has had hard luck," continued the speaker, holding up the tail. "You see how much smaller a part of the tail is than the rest. The scales are more delicate, and it has a bluish cast quite different from the rest. That means that the lizard has been through this operation before, and this tail that it has just cast had not really attained its full growth."

"Then they reproduce them?" I asked.

"Certainly, or else where would be the benefit? The tail and all the bones grow again, and will an indefinite number of times. The only drawback is that it takes time, perhaps three months or more in the summer, to attain its growth. Sometimes two tails are reproduced instead of one, but this is only in rare cases. In Asia some of the geckos are tail-tossers, and a gecko has been seen to throw off its tail and then, as if deceived itself, seize and swallow it."—Southern California Cor. Philadelphia Times.

ROYAL COLUMBIAN HOSPITAL!

NEW WESTMINSTER.

Board of Directors, 1885-1886:

W. N. ROLE, President.
J. W. HARVEY, Vice-President.
W. H. KEARY, Sec.-Treas.,
MESSRS. JAS. CUNNINGHAM,
G. E. CORBOULD,
C. M. McNAUGHTEN,
H. ELLIOTT.

GENTLEMEN.—In presenting our report for 1885, we beg to state that it becomes a necessity that provision should be made for greater accommodation and more funds, if the institution is to keep pace with the growing requirements.

The Steward has performed his duties acceptably to the Directors, and the Hospital has been kept in as efficient condition as the premises admit.

The Surgeon has been attentive in his duties and reports a large increase in the number of in-door and out-door patients.

The Directors notice that patients from all parts of the province seek admittance at this institution, notwithstanding that similar institutions are located in at least four other parts of the province; and as to the nationalities of the patients, the registry shows that citizens from all parts of the world have been admitted.

A great number of improvements have been made during the year. A house has been built for the Steward, by which the up-stair rooms of the Hospital are used as fever wards. The foundations of the buildings have been thoroughly overhauled and repaired; the two large wards have been wainscoted and are filled with patients, in fact the Hospital has been crowded through the whole year.

A drain to the river is imperatively necessary, also wash and drying house, woodshed, &c. These improvements must be managed the coming year.

The Board desire to thank Holy Trinity Church congregation, Choral Union, and Port Moody Literary Society for amounts received from them, and the following ladies and gentlemen for old clothes, linen, quilts, cushions, books, papers and periodicals: Mesdames Townsend, Dickinson, Bentley, D. Hennessey, J. Cunningham, Wintemute, Benson, Cummings, Suter, Baker, McNaughten, C. Robson, M. Thain, S. Cawley, Society of Little Helpers, Moodyville, the members of the Baptist congregation, New Westminster, and to Messrs. I. B. Fisher, W. J. Armstrong, S. Trapp, Z. S. Hall, and W. H. Keary.

Annexed find Surgeon's and Treasurer's report and statement.

W. H. KEARY,
Hon. Secretary.

ROYAL COLUMBIAN HOSPITAL,
NEW WESTMINSTER,
10th April, 1886.

To the Members of the Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN.—I have the honor to make the following report on the Royal Columbian Hospital for the year ending 31st March, 1886:

|---|---|
| Number of Indoor Patients | 75 |
| " Outdoor " | 56 |
| " remaining under treatment | 20 |
| " died | 7 |

CAUSES OF DEATH OF THE SEVEN WHO DIED:—Old Age, 1; Softening of Brain, 1; Aneurism, 1; Railway Accident, 1; Paralysis, 1; General Debility, 1; Chronic Alcoholism, 1; total, 7.

I have to thank you for carrying out the suggestions in my last year's report. The wards up-stairs have been found very useful, and with a little repair they would be all we could wish for. The Steward's house is quite comfortable and is well worth the outlay both to the Hospital and to the Steward and his family.

The wainscotting of the wards downstairs is a great improvement.

Again I have great pleasure in thanking a number of friends of the Hospital for presents of clothes, old linen, pictures, books, papers, &c., &c. I have also to thank the Steward, Mr. Charles Digby, for his constant attention to the cleanliness of the building and his watchful care of the sick and his promptness in carrying out all my directions.

I am sorry that you have not been able to undertake the construction of a thorough system of drainage about and from the Hospital; but I believe it is your intention to do so as soon as possible, i. e., when sufficient funds are in hand.

I am yours faithfully,
R. J. BENTLEY, M. B.,
Surgeon.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

In presenting the accounts for the past year, the Treasurer begs to call attention to the fact that the outlay has been rigidly scrutinized, in which he has been greatly assisted by the Steward, Mr. Digby. Still there seems little prospect of any reduction of expenditure and, therefore, the help of the government and the public must be increased if the efficiency of the institution is to be maintained.

W. H. KEARY,
Hon. Treasurer.
