BUYS COAST MINE

Granby Company Has Acquired 80 Per Cent of Hidden Creek Stock

Correspondence Evening Sun.

SPOKANE, Oct. 27.—The Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power company has closed a deal for the purchase of 80 per cent of the capital stock of the Hidden Creek Mining company, owning a big copper mine on Observatory inlet, near Prince Rupert, B. C., on a basis of half a million dollars for the property. The interests acquired were held by J. M. and Ralph Hogens, of Butte and New York, M. K. Rodgers, manager of the mine and owner of the remaining 20 per cent of the stock, refusing to sell at any price. The mine is considerably developed and equipped. The property covers 6000 acres of mineral claims, mostly patented, and a thousand acres of town and smelter site. The mine is located a quarter of a mile from tidewater.

The Granby company proposes to equip the property with a matting plant, and will ship low grade matte to its Grand Forks smelter for conversion. The estimated tonnage of ore in sight at the mine is 400,000 tons of average value of 3½ per cent copper. The ore has a high excess of iron and sulphur, rendering it very valuable to the Granby as an aid in reducing metal losses in slag, and coke consumption, and increasing the tonnage of silicious ore which can be handled at the Grand Forks plant.

A Strange Story

The following improbable yarn is taken from the London Free Press of the 3rd ult. The tale, which bears an Ottawa date, is given credence as being the sober judgment of United Canada:

Premier Richurd McBride, of British Columbia, has been offered his choice of the portfolios in the Laurier cabinet, with the right of succession to the Liberal leadership also pledged to him, if he would before next election abandon the Conservative party.

This is the substance of a story that comes to United Canada from an authoritative source in Victoria, B.C., and is corroborated as "quite probable" by Sir Wilfrid's closest personal friends in Quebec.

After examining the political situation at close range personally in Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, and realizing its hopelessness, Sir Wilfrid has, it is said, intimated to confidential friends that the outstanding danger and threatening menace to Liberalism in the west all centres in the towering personality of Dick McBride, the brilliant young premier of British Columbia.

What can he done to delay this catastrophe, the terrified towering ministers ask themselves when they see the ex-ministers and heroes of yesterday — Tuppers, Dewdney, Prior, Mantigne and others—simply onlookers at the show today in the west.

Well, Mr. McBride has been approached and the aforesaid offers have been made to him.

John Henry, the lumber baron of Vancouver, the president of the Canadian Manufacturers' association and partner of James J. Hill, is the gentleman entrusted by Sir Wilfrid as his plenipotentiary in his negotiations with Mr. McBride.

When United Canada asked the Montreal senator if he could recall a political precedent for the offer to Premier McBride, he replied: "Certainly, several," and he went on to say:

"It is no secret that Sir John Macdonald tried to capture the great Honore Mercier, about 1888, and might have succeeded were it not for the late Hon. John Henry Pope. I am told on good authority also that the old Liberal government in Ontario, finding that the young men were gradually rising in revolt against it, offered to take the present Premier Whitney into a coalition government, and later offered Attorney-General Foy a supreme judgeship.

"I may tell you further," said the same gentleman, "that Sir Wilfrid is quite convinced that none of his present colleagues is fit to lead the party."

This startling story will probably be denied on all sides, but that it is founded on facts we have no doubt whatever.

The Oldest Living Person

The claim of a woman of Posen, born in 1785, to be the oldest woman alive, is contested by Mrs. Vasilka, who, according to monastic records, was born in May, 1784, in Bavelsko, Bulgaria, where she has lived ever since. Mrs. Vasilka is a peasant daughter, and for over a century worked regularly in the fields, according to the custom of her country. When she was born Bulgaria was merely a province of the Turkish empire, and the entire population groaned under the tyranny of their Turkish rulers. Mrs. Vasilka lived through all the crises of her nation, and now rejoices to know that Bulgaria is an independent kingdom. During her life, she has seen innumerable wars and rebellions, massacres and atrocities, political crimes and tragedies. She recollects perfectly events that happened at the end of the eighteenth century. Her son, Todor, has also worked in the fields nearly all his life, but he has also taken part in various wars and rebellions in the Balkan peninsula. He is not quite so fresh and vigorous as his mother, although he is still capable of doing a good day's word. The "oldest woman in the world" is said to enjoy fairly good eyesight and good hearing, and she is able to walk without support. She lives on a pension paid to her by many of her numerous descendants, who number more than 100. She is naturally quite a celebrity, and people come great distances to get a glimpse of this wonderful woman, who has defied time for a century and a quarter.

The council accepted the resignation. SMELTING BY OIL

Experimental Plant Is Reported to Be Doing Good Work

An experimental oil burning smelter for the treatment of metalliferous ore has been erected at Van Anda, Texada island. The process is the invention of J. Anderson, a Chicago steel expert. It retains the blast principle, but the use of coke as a fuel is obviated. If half the merits claimed for it are realized present methods of ore reduction will be revolutionized.

The experiments at Texada island are being conducted under the direction of Thomas Kiddie, one of the best known metallurgists on the continent and formerly in charge of the Ladysmith smelter and the Le Roi Mining company's smelter at North port, Wash. Mr. Kiddie states that the experiments have thus far proved very successful, although one or two modifications of the plant, in order to secure greater efficiency, will likely be made.

On behalf of the new process it is claimed that the cost of smelting will be reduced at least 50 per cent, ensuring the treatment of low-grade ores which under present conditions cannot be smelted at a profit. It is probable that when the series of experiments now in progress shall have been demonstrated to be conclusive the company holding the patent will be prepared to erect plants in various portions of British Columbia. This will mean that mining companies with sufficient ore bodies will be in a position to erect their own smelters at their respective mines.

The fuel used in the Anderson process consists of crude petroleum, which is vaporized as it is fed, the principle being not unlike the one in vogue in oil-burning locomotives and steamships. An Anderson smelter with a daily capacity of 100 tons was erected in Mexico last year, and reduction costs are reported to have since been cut in two.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1910

These are the days when a man need not necessarily be timid to get cold feet.

There is a woman in Bulgaria who claims to be 126 years old. It is probably the only authentic case on record where a woman has divulged her correct age.

It is claimed that the next Dominion census, which will be taken next June, will give British Columbia five more members of parliament. This announcement is made at this early date in order that there may be no dearth of candidates when election time arrives.

A traveller in the Okanagan complains because, although that district is celebrated for the fine apples it produces, the hotels serve only culls on their tables. This is a fault that obtains in other fruit growing sections of the province. It appears to be the practice of growers to ship the best away, and to keep the inferior quality for the local market. This should not be so. Travellers are great advertisers, and should be served with the best that a district produces in order that they may not form erroneous impressions of the country.

The King's Business

The campaign to which we have been looking forward, under the management of the Presbyterian church in Canada, and with which all other evangelical bodies are asked to co-operate, will begin in Grand Forks next Sunday, Rev. R. E. Knowles, B.A., pastor of Knox Presbyterian church, Galt, Ont., and the Rev. P. B. Thornton, B.A., pastor of the Presbyterian church of Colbourne, Ont., being in charge.

REV. R. E. KNOWLES, B.A.,
OF GALT, ONT.

Mr. Knowles, who has been pastor in his present charge for twelve years, has the largest membership of any Presbyterian congregation in Canada.

Mr. Knowles is a powerful preacher—one of the most eloquent in the church. He is practical, broad and appeals especially to men. In Cranbrook on Sunday evening, October 16th, he preached to a congregation of 500 people, 75 per cent of whom were men. He is also an author and lecturer of considerable note. As many as possible should hear him when he delivers his first sermon next Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. P. B. Thornton, leader of music.

At 2 p.m. in the Dreamland theatre Mr. Knowles will give an address on "Sowing Wild Oats—and After" for men only, and Mr. Thornton will lead the singing. At 7 30 p.m., in the Baptist church, Mr. Knowles and Mr. Thornton will conduct a union gospel service, which no one should fail to attend. Announcements will be made on Sunday as to future services

REV. P. B. THORNTON, B.A.,

These services, in which the Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist churches are co-operating, will be continued every evening except Saturday in the Baptist church till the close of the services November 11th, 1910.

A MONEY-BACK HAIR GROWER AND DANDRUFF CURE

Read what Mrs. H. Lawrence, 158 W. 17th Street, Holland, Mich., writes about the marvelous results obtained from the use of Parisian Sage, the delightful hair tonic, which is now on sale all over Canada.

"For several months my hair had been falling out, and dandruff also appeared. I used some so-called hair tonics and renewers, but never received any relief from the scalp disease until I procured Parisian Sage, and used it for about two weeks. Parisian Sage made the hair stop falling out, and caused it to grow in quite heavily, stopped the dandruff, and made the scalp cool, clean and comfortable. It also leaves the hair silky, and does not make it stiff or sticky. I endorse the use of Parisian Sage. It is all right."—October 30, 1908.

Woodland & Co. are the agents for Parisian Sage in Grand Forks, and they think so well of it that they guarantee it to cure dandruff, stop falling or spilling hair or itching of scalp in two weeks, or money back. It will make any woman's hair soft and luxuriant in a few days. Price 50 cents a large bottle at Woodland & Co.'s, or direct, all charges prepaid, from the Canadian makers, the Giroux Mfg. Co, Fort Erie, Ont.

When a man begins to grasp the fact that he will do well if he can keep himself within bounds, he begins to get over the idea of reforming the world.

The world needs fewer and better children. The breeding and raising of children should be reduced to a science, so that the world will contain as nearly as possible people who are perfect mentally and physically. This is the real way to make life worth living on this mundane sphere. While the world is filled with invalids, lunatics and misfits, the carnival of crime, disease and misery will ever be in the limelight. —Greenwood Ledge.

AS YOU LIKE IT

Be good and don't tell everybody about it.

Uneasy lies the head that has just been to the hairdresser.

He who hesitates is sometimes saved a breach of promise suit.

All the world's a stage, with nobody to play willingly the dog.

It is usually the morning after that life seems such an empty dream.

The pen is mightier than the sword in getting a man into difficulties.

This would be a sad world if people only laughed when they were care free.

The man who can believe his own romances has a mortgage on happiness.

A man may own an automobile and still feel ashamed to meet his coal dealer.

There is no use in crying over spilt milk. Hustle out and get some cream.

The sad thing about an old fool is that he has so little to recover from his folly.

Pride goes before a fall, but an investigation committee also often precedes it.

Many a woman has joined the suffragettes to offset her husband's lodge activities.

Man wants but little here below, and it makes him sore because he doesn't get it.

The man who fights and runs away may live to see himself in a moving picture show.

Silence is golden, but it is noticeable that most of us are shy on the golden metal.

No man is a hero to his own valet, but some women are glasses of fashion to their maids.

The longest way around is the shortest way home—unless it leads past a baseball park.

The woman who hankers to be unconventional, it is safe to bet, doesn't know what unconventionality is.

The youth who announces that he intends becoming famous usually com promises by becoming ridiculous.

Many men of many minds Many women to offer and bring about amendments to these same minds.

If we could only forget the past and arrange the future to suit ourselves the present were paradise enough.

There may be more pleasure in pur suit than in possession. but most of us are willing to sit comfortaqly down and rest awhile.

Let not your left hand know what your right hand doeth Some member of the family needs must be innocent and respectable.

If we could understand how little the rest of the world accounts us it would save a lot of wear and tear on our nervous systems

We are all anxious to have better civic conditions and also willing that the other fellow should win laurels by doing the necessary work.

Youth's Companion in 1911

Just fifty-two good numbers, one after another, of only the best reading selected from the world's abundance of every sort.

Nearly three hundred of the most entertaining stories ever written—not the kind that are forgotten as soon as read, but stories that one loves to remember and talk about.

Then there are the famous men and women who write for Companion readers. It is the next best thing to meeting them face to face, for they choose topics which are sure to be of interest for their audience of three million Companion readers.

The Announcement of the enlarged and improved Companion for next year will be sent to any Canadian address free, and with it samples copies of The Companion.

Those in Canada who subscribe at once, sending $2.00, will receive free all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1910; also The Companion's Art Calendar for 1910, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.

The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass. New subscriptions received at this office.

Do You Feel This Way?

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your lazy liver to work. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. It will purify your blood. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about a cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good." Dr. Pierce's medicines are OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. Their every ingredient printed on their wrappers. Made from roots without alcohol. Contain no habit-forming drugs. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.
