SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

The fourth session of the International Geological Congress will be held in London from Sept. 17th to 25th. The previous meetings were held in Paris in 1878, Bologna in 1881, and Berlin in 1885.

WHERE THE DAY ENDS.—In a German chart, published in 1870 by Dr. Gleuns, a line dividing places keeping Sunday and Monday respectively passes through Behring Straits, leaving Aleutian Isles on the east, curves sharply in between the Philippines on the west and the Carolines on the east, then curves again sharply, sweeping north of New Guinea, and leaving the Chatham Isles on the west. At all places west of the line it is Monday while it is Sunday on the east.

PAINLESS DEATH.—The use of carbon dioxide has been recommended as a speedy and painless means of extinguishing life in animals, but it appears that death does not always ensue at once on suffocation by this gas. A frog was recently placed in carbon dioxide for half an hour, and then, apparently dead, was subjected to some electrical experiments, but two hours later was discovered as lively as ever. The observation suggests that suffocation may produce at first a kind of catalepsy, and that life should not be too hastily pronounced extinct in persons taken from burning buildings, mines, etc.

THE SMALLEST PEOPLE.—Skeletons of two Akkas, the pigmy people discovered by Schweinfurth in 1870, have been acquired by the British museum, and show that this race is undoubtedly the most diminutive known. The stature of the male skeleton is about an inch below four feet, and that of the female about as much above. The few previous measurements recorded indicate that these heights are rather below the average, though a living adult female of three feet ten inches is known. Prof. Flower finds that the Akkas belong to the black or Negroid branch of the human species, and that they are not allied to the Bushmen or Andaman Islanders, which tribes they most resemble in size.

BLOOD EDUCATION.—Many of our most fatal diseases are now known to be due to the feeding of bacteria upon the body. These bacteria sometimes find nothing that they can feed upon, and the proper way of coping with them, says Prof. E. Ray Lancaster, is by educating the white blood corpuscles to resist their attacks. The corpuscles can be gradually trained by weak or small doses of poisonous matter, as of arsenic, to offer a high degree of resistance to doses that would have been fatal if given at first. This is the principle of preventive inoculation, which has proven remarkably successful in diseases of cattle and sheep, as well as in small-pox in man. It is believed that the white corpuscles can be trained to receive the most virulent poisons, and it is hoped that this training will be carried on so as to deal with a great number of diseases.

PLANETARY DOMAINS.—Assuming the sun's mass to be 330,500 times the earth's, a body falling from an indefinitely great distance would strike the solar surface with a velocity of no less than 382.52 miles per second. Drawn by the planet's attraction alone, the body would reach Jupiter with a velocity of 37.37 miles per second; Saturn, with 22.58 miles; Neptune, 13 72 miles; Uranus, 13.25 miles; the earth, 6.91 miles; Venus, 5.22 miles; Mars, 3.18 miles; Mercury, 2.90; and the moon, 1.48. The region in which each planet exerts a more powerful influence than all other bodies is, however, not indefinitely great, being chiefly limited by the sun's superior force. Mr. R. A. Proctor has calculated the extent of the domain over which each planet's attraction is the supreme power, together with the velocity with which a sun-drawn body, coming from a very great distance, might pass through these several regions of space. The spherical domain of mercury is only 32,000 miles in diameter, and bodies pass with velocities up to 42 miles per second. For our moon this diameter and velocity are respectively 36,000 and 26 miles; Venus, 106,000 and 30; the earth, 322,800 and 26; Mars, 165,000 and 21; Jupiter, 29,834,000 and 11.5; Saturn, 29,912,000 and 8.5; Uranus, 24,000,000 and 6; and Neptune, 40,000,000 and 4.75. These figures show how great are the chances that the movements of comets may be perturbed by the outer planets, whose attraction is strong over a wide extent where the distant sun exerts feeble influence.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

BOULANGER INTERVIEWED.

LONDNN, Ap. 4.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes an interview had with Gen. Boulanger. The general says he is like an ordinary candidate for election to the chamber of deputies, and that he did not appeal to the electors of the Department du Nord for personal vindication in petty department questions, but on account of a great principal, therefore his presence at the polling district, and a personal canvass were unnecessary. Of victory there was no doubt that it was certain. The principle which was represented in this election was declared by the general to be a revision of the constitution of the French republic. The chamber of deputies, he said, was impotent, and failed to represent the people at present.

WON'T GIVE UP THE YANKEE.

TANGIERS, April 4.—The government of Morocco has replied to Consul Lewis refusing to accede to the demands of the American government with reference to the imprisonment of Rabal. It is expected that the American warships will take vigorous measures to enforce the demands of their government. It is officially stated that the difference between the Moorish government and the American consul present no new phases. The United States warship Enterprise has sailed for Nice, where her commander will consult with the admiral of the American squadron.

THE CANADIAN LACROSSE PLAYERS.

LONDON, Apl. 4.—The lacrosse team are eminently pleased with the result so far and express their confidence that as they have begun by severely defeating three such good teams as Manchester, Owens College and Bradford, they have reason to expect to continue throughout their tour. Some London friends of Lacrosse are giving a reception and banquet to the Canadians here next Wednesday.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

CLEMENCEAU DEFEATED.

PARIS, April 5.—The supporters of M. Clemenceau are chagrined and indignant at his defeat for president of the chamber of deputies yesterday.

THE QUEEN TO VISIT BERLIN.

BERLIN, April 5.—Bismarck is preparing to receive the Queen.

UNHAPPY CUBA.

KEY WEST, Fla., Apl. 5.—The son of Senator Alentado, a rich sugar planter of Havana, has been kidnapped by bandits in Baino, sixty miles from Havana, and held for $4000 ransom.

A special from Carbarien says: "On the Guavabalos plantation, situated in Guayajar district, an old man named Antonio Moreno was killed by six mounted bandits, armed with Winchester rifles and machetes. They attacked and plundered the plantation. Kidnapping is becoming general all over the island.

PARTIAL COMMERCIAL UNION.

OTTAWA, Apl. 5.—Sir Chas. Tupper, minister of finance, in answer to a question in the house of commons today, said the retaliatory bill introduced in the U. S. Congress, was the result of a misunderstanding in that country. He added that in the next official gazette there would appear a proclamation providing for the free interchange of products between the two countries. This announcement has created a sensation in political circles, and is regarded as a complete backdown on the part of the Dominion government, especially in view of the declaration made last week by the cabinet ministers that Canada would maintain her interpretation of the international arrangement at all hazards.

THE POPE AND THE IRISH.

ROME, April 5.—The Pope is seemingly willing to advise the Irish leaders and people to exercise moderation, but has refused to give any positive orders to oppose the national league movement.

A HOLY WAR PROCLAIMED.

CAIRO, April 5.—The Khedive has received a copy of the proclamation issued by the Mahdi, declaring a sacred war against Egypt, and ordering the Soudanese to enter her territory. To this is attributed the renewal of hostilities near Saukim by Osman Digna, and alarming reports of movements in the interior.

MELINE ELECTED.

PARIS, Apl. 4.—In the chamber of deputies to-day a third ballot was taken for the president of the chamber, resulting in the choice of M. Meline by seniority, he and M. Clemenceau, receiving 168 votes each. The senate resolved that, in view of the gravity of the situation, a too lengthy prorogation of the chamber would be attended with great inconvenience.

COMMISSIONER TO AUSTRALIA

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Frank McCoppen, of San Francisco, has accepted the presidents appointment of chief commissioner of the United States to the Australian exposition, which opens at Melbourne a few months hence.

THE FISHERIES TREATY.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The fisheries treaty will be called up in committee on foreign affairs, on Saturday. At the present time there are two lines of action being discussed. One is to have the committee report a resolution expressing the opinion of the senate that the treaty is unsatisfactory, and should not be ratified, the other is to refer it back to the state department with a suggestion that it be amended in certain particulars.

To lessen mortality and stop the inroads of disease, use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. For all diseases arising from impure Blood, such as Pimples, Blotches, Biliousness, Indigestion, etc., etc., it has no equal. Mrs. Thomas Smith, Elm, writes: "I am using this medicine for Dyspepsia. I have tried many remedies, but this is the only one that has done me any good."

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

PHELPS LEAVES LONDON.

LONDON, April 5.—Phelps, the American minister, left London to-day for Southampton to embark on the steamer for New York.

POLICE FOR THE BURLINGTON.

CHICAGO, April 5.—This morning a detail of a hundred city police were massed at the DesPlaines street station, and instructed to relieve the Pinkerton guards that have been keeping watch over the Burlington road. The police supersede Pinkerton's men at all points on the road in the city.

THE LAYTON GALLERY.

MILWAUKEE, Apl. 5.—The Layton art gallery, presented to the city of Milwaukee by Fred. Layton, an old and wealthy resident, was thrown open to the public to-day. The building and grounds represent an investment of about $100,000. To this Layton added donations of pictures valued at about $50,000, and to-day he drew a check for $100,000 as an endowment fund for the temple. Other prominent citizens have contributed liberally in the shape of valuable pictures, and altogether the gallery will compare favorably with any other institution of the kind in the country.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

MASON CITY, Iowa, Ap. 5.—A terrible accident occurred this morning on the Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, 5 miles out of New Hampton. Brief particulars have been learned here up to this time. A smoking car, two passenger, baggage, mail car and engine plunged through a bridge into the Wapsie river. The smoking car, containing over 20 passengers, is entirely submerged. The engineer cannot be found, and it is thought he is drowned.

BISMARCK RESIGNS.

COLOGNE, Ap. 5.—The Gazette says Bismarck has resigned, being unable to agree with the emperor's policy.

THE MOROCCO DIFFICULTY.

WASHINGTON, Ap. 5. — Secretary Bayard to-day received a cablegram from United States Consul Lewis, at Tangiers, the tenor of which is that a satisfactory settlement of the trouble with the Moorish government will soon be reached.

BIG POW-WOW IN THE HOUSE.

OTTAWA, April 4.—The opposition made a big row in the house to-day over the government's decision to place on the free list, green fruits, seeds, trees and shutes, claiming a great victory for them. The change was made with a view of helping the Washington administration to get a tariff bill through congress. This bill will be of great benefit to Canada inasmuch as it proposes to place on the free list, lumber, iron, ore, grain, etc.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Apl. 5.—The state prohibition convention this morning adopted resolutions favoring woman suffrage and a law by which all saloons would be closed on Sunday.

UNEASY IN PARIS.

PARIS, Apl. 5.—The bourse is uneasy and excited owing to rumors of incidents having occurred on the German frontier.

THE BOND BILL PASSED.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The senate to-day passed the bond bill without a word of discussion and without the division the committee of conference ordered.

A TRAINING SHIP ASHORE.

LONDON, April 5.—The naval training brig Martin, manned by boys, is ashore at Blockhouse Point, Portsmouth. Tugs are endeavoring to pull her off, but their efforts have thus far failed.

A TRAITOR ON TRIAL.

LONDON, April 5.—The trial of Templar, of the 7th rifles and chief of the baloon department of the army, for divulging army secrets, began to-day at Chatham.

O'BRIEN WANTS DAMAGES.

DUBLIN, April 5.—William O'Brien has begun a suit against the Cork Constitution, conservative, for libel, claiming £5000 damages.

OFF FOR AMERIKY.

LONDON, Apl. 5.—Four thousand Irish emigrants sailed to-day from Queenstown for America.

Mothers!

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the childrens' panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents. dwmh20m1

Rev. J. McLaurin, Canada Baptist Missionary to India, writes: "During our stay in Canada, we have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil with very great satisfaction. We are now returning to India, and would like very much to take some with us, for our own use and to give to the diseased heathen.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Daily British Columbian

Thursday Evening, April 5, 1888.

A telegram from Ottawa, which will be found in another column, contains an announcement by Sir Charles Tupper to the effect that a proclamation would appear shortly providing for a free interchange of natural products between Canada and the United States. This announcement, if correct, will take the whole country completely by surprise. Sir Charles Tupper has been one of the most zealous defenders of the N. P., and, according to the doctrines of those who inaugurated this policy, it was to protect the farmer as well as the manufacturer. That it has not protected the farmer to any extent appears from the fact that a large majority of the farmers have pronounced in favor of reciprocity. The new departure, taken in connection with the resolution lately passed by the U. S. congress, points directly towards commerciul union — a principle which we believe is steadily gaining strength on this side of the boundary.

Fahey, the Montreal detective, has been convicted and sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary. For many years this man stood at the top of the profession. He was clever, popular, and enjoyed the confidence of those who knew him. But he has been convicted of a very serious crime, the details of which show that while accepting the confidence of his employers he was secretly making them the victims of his avarice. A great robbery was committed some time ago in Montreal, and the trial has resulted in proving that Fahey, the trusted detective, was a party to the crime, in the proceeds of which he shared. The case has produced quite a sensation in eastern Canada, and the trial has been watched with the greatest interest. We are told that evil associations and fast living were the causes of his downfall. These causes will be found to have operated in the downward career of most men who end their lives on the gallows or in prison. There are bad men to be found in all communities, and those who seek their society for companionship cannot escape contamination. The road to ruin is almost always a gradual decline. The first steps are nearly always bad associations. In view of these facts it is of the utmost importance that parents should exercise the greatest care as to the associations formed by their children. The minds of young people are like plastic wax upon which impressions for good or bad are easily made. When character bocomes fixed it will retain these early impressions, and the destiny of every man is to a large extent determined by the associations of youth. Parents who permit their children to run on the streets, and especially to remain there after the sun has gone down, assume responsibilities which may cause them endless regrets in the time to come. It is very seldom that a child learns anything useful on the street, and it is almost certain to learn much that is calculated to impede its physical, mental and moral development through life.

The statement submitted to the city council by the chairman of finance on Monday night must force upon the attention of ratepayers the absurdity of carrying on the city government with present resources of revenue. The council has an overdraft of $3,800 at the bank, and $69 cash on hand! Of course the overdraft may be expected to disappear whenever the taxes begin to come in, and there will be a small surplus left for public improvements after fixed charges have been met, but no work of any magnitude can be undertaken until the revenue has been very materially increased. If it is deemed inexpedient just now to put a tax on personal property, it will be necessary to fix a very much higher rate on real estate. But, although the revenue is quite insufficient to meet the requirements of the city, and must be increased, it can hardly be said that the council has made the best of its opportunities for raising a revenue. The auditor's statement at the close of last year showed as an asset uncollected, but overdue, taxes amounting to the sum of $5,059.35. This is a large sum, equal to one-third of our ordinary revenue. It is fair to presume that a large proportion of this sum might have been collected. Part of it, namely, $958.17, has been carried over from previous years extending back no one knows how far. Now, if these arrears cannot be collected, they ought not to appear as an asset: if they can be collected, the council has no right to permit them to remain unpaid after they have become due. Every year we are forced to pay large sums for interest on money borrowed for the purpose of carrying on the business of the city. It is a fact that those who pay their taxes promptly have to pay also their share of this interest; that is, they pay their own debts loyally, and have to bear part of the burden consequent upon the delinquency of others who are speculating with money which belongs to the city. There is no fairness in such a practice. Prompt payment of taxes should be insisted upon; and where they are not paid voluntarily they should be paid under compulsion. If the $5,000 due on account of arrears of taxes had been paid, there would now be no overdraft, and there would be money in the treasury with which to begin much-needed works.

Late Canadian News.

KINGSTON, March 29.—Col. John Kilborn is dead, aged 94. In 1812 he fought at the battle of Lundy's Lane, and with the late Chief Justice McLean and Hon. H. Merritt was taken prisoner and confined at Pittsfield, Mass., until peace was restored. He was in parliament in 1828.

MONTREAL, March 31.—M. Lavalo, a member of the Quebec legislative council, has been arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences in connection with the colonization funds.

WINNIPEG, March 31.—The suspension of four or five C. P. R. passenger conductors running west of Brandon is announced. It is alleged that they assisted an operator named Howard, who purloined a ticket at Kalmar station, to evade Chief Detective Hossack. Howard was arrested at Vancouver and brought back to Rat Portage, where he is now awaiting sentence. He made a confession in which he informed on conductors who had befriended him.

Four carloads of material for a cable car system for Yokohama, have arrived here. Ten Japanese manufacturers are here en route to the eastern states, where they are going for the purpose of acquiring information.

Two Pennsylvanians, who have made a stake in the Lake Dauphin oil region, are forming a company to prosecute operations.

The first shipment of Manitoba wheat via the Northern Pacific has been made. The customs difficulties have been removed.

Commissioner Coombs and a party of Salvationists left for the Pacific coast. Among them is Captain Harrison, who will be married in Vancouver to Captain Hackett.

Greenway says the R. R. V. R. will be moving in July next.

OTTAWA, April 2.—The cabinet spent seven hours on Saturday on the terms of the monopoly contract.

The appeal of Purcell, of Glengarry, has been allowed by the supreme court. Purcell is therefore confirmed in his seat. The question turned on the six months clause of the act.

A Sluggish Liver

Causes the Stomach and Bowels to become disordered, and the whole system to suffer from debility. In all such cases Ayer's Pills give prompt relief.

After much suffering from Liver and Stomach troubles, I have finally been cured by taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills. I always find them prompt and thorough in their action, and their occasional use keeps me in a perfectly healthy condition.—Ralph Weeman, Annapolis, Md.

Twenty-five years ago I suffered from a torpid liver, which was restored to healthy action by taking Ayer's Pills. Since that time I have never been without them. They regulate the bowels, assist digestion, and increase the appetite, more surely than any other medicine.—Paul Churchill, Haverhill, Mass.

INVIGORATED.

I know of no remedy equal to Ayer's Pills for Stomach and Liver disorders. I suffered from a Torpid Liver, and Dyspepsia, for eighteen months. My skin was yellow, and my tongue coated. I had no appetite, suffered from Headache, was pale and emaciated. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills, taken in moderate doses, restored me to perfect health.—Waldo Miles, Oberlin, Ohio.

Ayer's Pills are a superior family medicine. They strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, create an appetite, and remove the horrible depression and despondency resulting from Liver Complaint. I have used these Pills in my family, for years, and they never fail to give entire satisfaction.—Otto Montgomery, Oshkosh, Wis. ††

TELEGRAM.

OTTAWA, 27th March, 1888.

TO LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF BRITISH COLUMBIA, VICTORIA.

Your Government should issue public notice cautioning persons going on Sealing expeditions to refrain from assertion of their rights by force, and from taking on board arms and ammunition in excess of their usual requirements. The whole matter is engaging the attention of Her Majesty's Government and forms the subject of diplomatic negotiations now in progress. Any intemperate action in the meanwhile would be most detrimental to British Columbian interests and might lead to serious complications and be followed by grave consequences to those concerned.

HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

THE PRISON GRAVEYARD.

ng Sing's Burying Ground for Convicts—Death of a Prisoner.

On the side of a steep hill whose peak many hundred feet high, and whose ase is at the granite walls of Sing Sing, re two graveyards divided by a wind-g country road. The one nearer the rison is the old plot that was used for urying dead convicts until the small atch of level ground was thickly prinkled with rough wooden crosses and mall roughly carved stones, and then a uch larger place further up the hill as set apart for this use.

The big prison has stood on its present ite for more than fifty years, and although he number of convicts there has increased proportionately with the growth of he population, the average number of eaths within its walls has not increased. Humanity and science have cut down he death rate. On an average ten persons a year die in the prison, and nearly ll of those who have died have been uried in the prison graveyard and left here undisturbed. A few have died by ccident in the work shops, but the percentage of deaths by accident is so small s to be scarcely worthy of note. A large ajority of deaths has been caused by onsumption, which, however, is rarely ontracted within the prison walls. A risoner suffering from consumption is nown every consideration possible with rison discipline. His work is made ight, and as soon as he shows the symptoms of breaking down he is sent to the ospital.

In the prison graveyards repose the ones of about 500 convicts. This makes he number of deaths average nearly ten year. The old graveyard on the slope earest the river looks like a deserted ot's acre of olden times. A dozen ears ago, when the burying ground was oved further up the slope, the fence of he old place was left to take care of itelf, which it has failed to do. The ounds have been beaten down until hey are level with the ground. The ough wooden crosses that bear a numer corresponding to one in a big ledger n the prison, in which a record of the ead is kept, stand in straggling fashion. hese were originally unpainted pieces f wood nailed together in the form of a ross, and driven into the earth. A few f them have been kicked over, but even n those that are still standing the numer that were on them once have been defaced by the weather that they are arcely legible.

The newer graveyard is in a much etter condition. The wooden crosses re comparatively new, and the numers that are on them can be plainly een. At the head of a few of the ounds stand rough stones, crudely cut. very one of these stones tells a story ore pathetic than do many of the pretentious monuments in big and finely ept cemeteries. These stones are all he work of prisoners, who labor during ours of leisure as acts of friendship.

When a prisoner is very ill and there oms to be danger that he will die, his iends are notified, and the iron rule of he prison is for the time unnoticed. He allowed to settle up in the presence of is friends all of his worldly affairs, and have them about his bed-side until he end comes. There are occasions, of ourse, and many of them, when the risoner is either absolutely friendless or only anxious to die without making s shame known to his friends. When e end comes the body is then free, and the friends of the dead man is given e melancholy privilege of bearing the ody outside of the prison walls. A ison funeral is usually a solemn affair. he big bells that are used in the prison always clanging out some kind of an er to the prisoners or summons to epers, and they always stir a world of oes in the silent corridors. When a soner is dead the fact is generally well own, and an unusual silence is preved, even for this dreary place. Then whisper is heard that the dead man to be buried in the convict ground. e coffin is brought forth, the body ced in it, the chaplain reads a service d then it is interred.

Mutual Politeness.

Extreme politeness sometimes verges martyrdom. The youthful hero of ss Alcott's best story heroically ate t upon his strawberries instead of ar, to avoid troubling his hostess by knowledge of her mistake. He was e of a minority of valiant souls who r all and say nothing for courtesy's te.

Alfred De Musset, the French poet, dially hated dogs. When a candite for the Academy, he called upon a minent member, as custom required. the gate of the chateau, an ugly and ty dog received him most affectionate- and insisted on preceding him into e drawing-room.

The academician entered, and in due urse invited M. De Musset to the din-room, whither they went with the g at their heels. Seizing his oppority, the animal placed his muddy ws upon the spotless cloth, and stole hoice bit of meat.

"The wretch wants shooting!" was De usset's muttered thought, but he politesaid, "You are fond of dogs, I see."

"Fond of them!" retorted the host, "I te them."

"But this animal here? queried De usset.

"I have only tolerated it because I ought it yours."

"Mine!" cried the other, "the thought t it was yours alone kept me from lling it!"

Allies to Dickens' Stories.

In the following narration some inious person has woven together the les of Mr. Dickenson's writings:

Oliver Twist, who had some very Hard mes in the Battle of Life, and having en saved from the Wreck of the Golen Mary by Our Mutual Friend, Nicholas Nicklebury, had just been finished ading A Tale of Two Cities to Martin uzlewit, during which time The icket on the Hearth had been chirpg right merrily, while the Chimes from e adjacent church were heard, when ven Poor Travelers commenced singg a Christmas Carol; Barnaby Rudge en arrived from the Old Curiosity op with some Pictures from Italy and etches from Boz to show Pickwick pers, when David Copperfield, who d been busy taking American Notes, tered and informed the company that s Great Expectation of Dombey & Son, garding Mrs. Lirriber's Legacy had not en realized, and that he had seen oots at the Holly Tree Inn taking nebody's Luggage to Mrs. Lirriper's dgings in a street that has No Thorfare, opposite Bleak House, where e Haunted Man, who had just given s of Dr. Marigold's Prescriptions to an ncommercial Traveler, was brooding er The Mystery of Edwin Drood.

—Husband (in amazement): "Ten dolrs a yard for such stuff as that?" Wife very naturally mistaking the cause of is surprise): "That's all; isn't it a barin? Only ten dollars, just think of it." Why, it's scarcely half width." "O, on't worry about that, dear. I was reful to make every allowance for that nd got twice as many yards as usual."

THE DANISH HORN.

A Remarkable Relic Said to be a Genuine Trumpet of Zion.

In the royal museum of Copenhagen there is, and has been for more than two hundred and seventy-five years, a golden trumpet, known throughout Denmark as the "Danish Horn," with engraved emblems, comprising the symbol of purity, the triple lily. Its weight is one hundred and two ounces and it measures two feet nine inches in length. This horn is said to be a genuine trumpet of Zion. The surrounding circumstances strongly sustain the position, and up to the present time there has not been the slightest scientific doubt as to the genuiness of the relic. The lily, as a symbol of purity, was generally carried in the right hand by the vestal virgins of the temple; it also forms the emblem on the "shekel," the Jewish coin. There are also discernable the mutilated remains of what has the appearance of pomegranates, and traces of an inscription which, as far as it can be made out, is engraved in that kind of Hebrew characters known as the Samaritan text. The emblems and inscription may be easily accounted for and accepted for the meaning of the word "Jehovah."

The trumpet was discovered by a farmer's daughter, partly concealed in the ground, in 1630, in the diocese of Rypeny, Jutland. As to how it found its way from Palestine to Denmark can only be conjectured at. It is accepted as a fact that the relic at one time was one of the instruments anciently used in Solomon's temple. Certain ornaments, and especially the beautiful engraving near the opening of the large end of the instrument, forming a turreted border around its edge, are the most convincing proofs for this position. When Titus Vespasianus, the youthful Roman General subjugated Judea and destroyed its temple, he took the renowned tables, the seven-branch candlestick, the "Sacred Books" and the trumpets to Rome, where they were, with other trophies of victory, carried in procession through the city in honor of the conqueror. Upon the arch of Titus these things were sculptured and may be seen in Rome in a fair state of preservation to day. The "Sacred Books" the victor presented to Josephus Flavius, the Jewish historian. Afterward, when Titus became emperor of Rome, the instruments and "tables of shew bread," by decree of the Senate and council of Rome, were placed in the great temple of Jupiter. Between the fourth and sixth centuries Rome was overran by hordes of northern barbarians. The city was taken, religion for the time dethroned, and temples, regardless of the sanctity, sacred or historical, were sacrilegiously plundered. After their retreat from Rome the Vandals carried off with them the spoils they had seized in the temples.

This trumpet of gold which corresponds in every particular with the trumpets sculptured upon the "Arch of Titus," was doubtless carried to the north with the other plunder and in turn lost by the conquerors of Rome, who had taken it from the conquerors of the Jews.

Another illustration of the old adage, that "History repeats itself."

Don'ts for the Sick Room.

Don't light a sick room at night by means of a jet of gas burning low; nothing impoverishes the air sooner. Use sperm candles or tapers wich burn in sperm oil.

Don't allow offensive matters to remain. In cases of emergency, where these cannot at once be removed, wring a heavy cloth—for instance, like Turkish toweling—out of cold water, use it as a cover, placing over this ordinary paper. Such means will prevent the escape of odor and infection.

Don't forget to have a few beans of coffee handy, for this serves as a deodorizer, if burnt upon coals or paper. Bits of charcoal placed around are useful in absorbing gases and other impurities.

Don't have the temperature of a sick room much over 60°; 70° are allowable, but not advisable.

Don't permit currents of air to blow upon the patient. An open fire place is an excellent means of ventilation. The current may be tested by burning a piece of paper in front.

Don't give the patient a full glass of water to drink from, unless he is allowed all he desires. If he can drain the glass, he will be satisfied; so, regulate the quantity before handing it to him.

Don't neglect during the day to attend to necessaries for the night, that the rest of the patient and family may not be disturbed.

Don't ask a convalescent if he would like this or that to eat or drink, but prepare the delicacies and present them in a tempting way.

Don't jar the bed by leaning or sitting upon it. This is unpleasant to one ill and nervous.

Don't let stale flowers remain in a sick chamber.

Don't appear anxious, however great your anxiety.

Don't forget that kindness and tenderness are needful to successful nursing. Human nature longs to be soothed and comforted on all occasions when out of tune.

How Much They Felt.

Kind feelings are not worth much unless they lead to kind actions. People who are full of sympathy and benevolent wishes which never end in anything better than talk, will do well to read Mr. Hamilton's description of what he saw in Kaffir-land. It is an excellent sermon from the text, "Let us not love in word, but in deed."

I had opportunities of seeing many acts of great kindness that these people showed to each other; and as one instance out of many I will relate the following, which came under my notice:

A poor fellow had lost all his cows with lung sickness, and three of his wives died at the same time, I believe from eating the diseased meat. Unluckily, he had not planted many mealies, so that he was in a true state of bankruptcy.

A meeting of the heads of the kraals was called, and after talking the matter over for some time, they all became silent and thoughtful, evidently considering what had better be done. Suddenly a man sprang up and exclaimed:

"I feel so many cows and calves for you!" then another got up and said how many he felt, a third had a like sensation, and then a fourth, and so on through the august assembly, until the man was again possessed of a very respectable herd.

A Chinaman's Theology.

The Chinaman had for his counsel Mayor Kirkland and for his interpreter, Mr. James Radford.

When asked if he believed in God, the Chinaman replied: "Me knowee God; he heapee good mance; Mr. Kirklaland, he God; Mr. Jim Ladford, he God; Melican manee no foolee Chinaman on God—not much."

Mayor Kirkland, elated with his newly acquired divinity, made an eloquent appeal, and [illegible] Chinaman's cause.—(Abilene (Texas) Reporter.

Scrofula

Is one of the most fatal scourges which afflict mankind. It is often inherited, but may be the result of improper vaccination, mercurial poison, uncleanliness, and various other causes. Chronic Sores, Ulcers, Abscesses, Cancerous Humors, and, in some cases, Emaciation and Consumption, result from a scrofulous condition of the blood. This disease can be cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

I inherited a scrofulous condition of the blood, which caused a derangement of my whole system. After taking less than four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla I am and, for the past year, have not found it necessary to use any medicine whatever. I am now in better health, and stronger, than ever before.—O. A. Willard, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass.

I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores for five years; but, after using a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the sores healed, and I have now good health.—Elizabeth Warnock, 54 Appleton street, Lowell, Mass.

Some months ago I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores on my leg. The limb was badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy failed until I used Ayer's Sarsaparilla. By taking three bottles of this medicine the sores have been healed, and my health is restored. I am grateful for the good it has done me.—Mrs. Ann O'Brian, 158 Sullivan st., New York. ††

A slight cold often proves the forerunner of a complaint which may prove fatal. Avoid this result by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, the best remedy for colds, coughs, and all throat and lung diseases.

The speaker has decided that the new license bill introduced by Hon. Mr. Robson is not in order, and is not properly before the house. So there will be no change in the license act this year.

Yesterday was the best day this year in the salmon fishing, and a fair run may be said to have commenced. W. H. Venen's boats brought in about 4000 pounds, among which were very few white salmon.

The rehearsal for the "Seven Clerks" is progressing well, and next Wednesday evening this very interesting drama will be put on the boards at Herring's opera house. The costumes to be worn are exceedingly rich and handsome.

The s.s. Batavia cleared from Vancouver yesterday for Yokohama and Hong Kong, taking 11 cabin and 14 steerage passengers. Her cargo consisted of 2073 tons, the principal items in which were 26,052 sacks of flour, 6,160 pkgs. cotton and 5 street cars.

Attention is called to the new business advertisement of Messrs. T. J. Trapp & Co. which appears on the first page of this paper. This establishment is one of the oldest hardware houses in the city, and is widely known throughout the province. Our readers are advised to make a note of the advertisement and take a look at the goods.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Where is the Professor?

About two months ago a man named Baillie, calling himself a professor of dancing, came to this city from Vancouver and opened a class. The Lenten season having just commenced the class was small, and being at considerable expense in connection with the hall, music, etc., he soon ran into debt. Baillie had announced his intention of giving a grand masquerade ball to-morrow night, but one of the musicians, refusing to play until arrears were paid, is said to have spoilt his plans, and last Sunday the professor disappeared and nothing has since been learned of him. Baillie owes a number of bills about town and the parties to whom they are due would be glad if he turned up again and settled. It is to be hoped the professor has not decamped, but indications point that way.

Interesting Lecture.

Last night the Rev. Father McGuckin, O. M. I., of Westminster, delivered a very interesting lecture in Philharmonic Hall. The rev. gentleman chose for his subject "The City of Rome and its Ancient Monuments." He described in glowing terms the admirable architecture and skilled workmanship of the various places of religious worship; gave a graphic picture of the dimensions of the Coliseum, which was capable of seating 100,000 spectators, and astonished his hearers at the marvellous grandeur and immense proportions of the renowned church of St. Peter's. Lack of space prevents our entering into a more lengthy account of the very interesting lecture. The large and appreciative audience were highly pleased with the able manner in which the rev. gentleman handled his subject, and paid the closest attention during the whole of the lecture.—Colonist.

The Juveniles.

The Juvenile Opera Co. drew a full house last night to witness their production of that charming comic opera, "Olivette." The first act showed that there was really a well-selected organization of little people, many of them charming in manner and graceful in form, and pretty in features, while all showed the careful training which must have been bestowed in order to bring them to the high standard of efficiency evidenced in their acting and singing. The music of "Olivette" is delightful, and the little people sang it remarkably well, the applause of the audience at times being almost uproarious in its approval. The "Farandole" song and dance was three times recalled. Camille Cleveland was a sweet and pretty "Olivette." She possesses a pleasant voice and her solos were excellently rendered, while her acting was graceful and natural. Emma Berg, the "Countess," is the eldest in the troupe, just past sweet sixteen. She also won great favor for her singing and acting, as she really deserved. Geo. Boyle made a capital "Capt. De Merrimac." He possesses a sweet tenor voice, well trained, and his singing was much appreciated. Evan Gamble as "Valentine," won an encore in his first song. Julian Martin made a fascinating "Duc Des Ifs," her acting being exceedingly good and her elocution clear and distinct. She is handsome and clever, and was popular with the audience. Little Teddy Gamble, "Coquelicot" is the comedian of the company. In his song "Bob up Serenely" he literally brought down the house, receiving three recalls. Stella May, the smallest member of the company, is not by any means the least in merit, and as "Valentine" was very droll. Though a "wee bit lassie" she danced the horupipe so well that she received an enthusiastic encore.—Colonist.

Ye Big Feede and Synge.

The great feed, which had been looked forward to so anxiously for many days by the hungry individuals who had been fortunate enough to secure a ticket, was fought to a finish last night in Herring's opera house. Sharp at 5:30 o'clock one of the deacons dashed into combat against a plate of pork and beans, ably supported by a large slice of Boston brown bread. The deacon's success was the signal for a general engagement, and soon knives and forks, plates and cups were rattling in a most alarming style. The ladies were constantly in attendance, and continually cheering on the combatants to better efforts. The cooking was excellent and the variety of edibles great. Even cultured Boston would have gone into raptures over the pork and beans and brown bread; they were delicious and cooked in true New England fashion. The old-fashioned pumpkin pie, flavored as only a Yankee knows how, was on the table in abundance, gingerbread and short bread were also there, and the delicious apple pie, with its crisp crust, made glad the hearts of not a few enthusiastic devotees of that grandest of all pies. The ladies, dressed becomingly in the quaint old style of a hundred years ago, looked charming, and if a few young men ate a little more than was good for them, or lingered a little longer at the table than the wishes of the appetite demanded, they can be readily excused, for even some of the older heads found it difficult to part from the scene. When all had been filled to repletion, the supper was declared over, and preparations were made for the big sing. About 8:30 o'clock the curtain rose on a scene not soon to be forgotten. Some thirty young people, dressed in costumes from 100 to 500 years old, were distributed about the stage, the old folks being gathered about the fireplace. The big sing then followed, which was well conducted throughout and greatly appreciated by the audience. The programme was nicely arranged and carried out successfully. Auld Lang Syne and God Save the Queen brought this very enjoyable entertainment to a close. It is needless to announce success attended the promoters of this big sing, in every detail, and it is safe to say Herring's opera house never contained such a large audience as last night.

Mitchell & Platt, druggists, London, Ont., write Dec., 1881: "We have sold Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its first introduction, and we can safely say, no medicine on our shelves has had a larger sale, or gives better satisfaction. We always feel safe in recommending it to our customers.

Late Despatches.

THE BUCHAREST RIOTS.

LONDON, Mar. 31.—The Bucharest riots are looked on as presaging an immediate series of uprisings in the Balkan States, chiefly in Roumania, Roumelia and Bulgaria, which have undoubtedly been organized by Russian agents, and will be conducted by leaders in Russian pay. It has long been suspected, and in many cases known, that Russian spies and Russian money have been in free circulation in the Balkans, and if the Muscovite organizers of the revolt have not completed their work to their entire satisfaction, their failure to do so is in no wise attributable to any interference on the part of the Bucharest, Sofia or Philopolis authorities.

DESERTERS FROM KING JOHN.

LONDON, April 2.—Famished deserters from the ranks of King John's army continue to arrive at Massowah, and report that serious dissention has arisen between King John and Ras Aloula. Detachments of Abyssinian troops are already retreating across the Digdingta Hills.

ARREARS OF PENSIONS.

WASHINGTON, Apl. 3.—The house committee on invalid pensions to day appointee a sub-committee to take under consideration the various bills looking to the repeal of the limitation clauses fixing July 1st, 1880, in the arrears of pension act of 1879, as the time by which all claims for arrears of pensions should be filed. Gen. Black, commissioner of pensions, has estimated that it will take between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 to pay all claims for arrears for pensions, should the limitation clause be repealed.

THE CANADIANS WIN.

LONDON, Ap. 3.—A game of lacrosse was played between the Canadian lacrosse team of Toronto, and the South Manchester team, which resulted in a score of 7 goals to 0 in favor of the Canadians. The Canadians appear to be ahead of the English players at all points. The Toronto lacrosse team played their first game at Didsburg, their opponents being the team of Owens College, of Manchester. The score was: Canada, 5 goals; Owens College, 1. The club had a rough passage over the ocean.

THE NEW CHINESE TREATY.

WASHINGTON, Apl. 3.—The new Chinese treaty is published. The contracting parties agree that for a period of 20 years the coming, except under conditions specified, of Chinese laborers to the United States shall be absolutely prohibited. This shall not apply to the return to the United States of any Chinese laborer who has a lawful wife, child, or parents in the United States, or property therein to the value of $1000, or debts of like amount due him and pending settlement. Nevertheless, every such Chinese laborer shall before leaving the United States deposit as a condition of his return, with the collector of customs of the district from which he departs, a full description in writing of his family or property or debts as aforesaid, and shall be furnished by said collector with such certificate of his right to return. Should the written inscription be proved to be false, the right of return thereunder or of continued residence after return shall in each case be forfeited. And such right of return shall be exercised within one year from the date of leaving the United States; but such right of return to the United States may be extended for an additional period not to exceed one year in cases where, by reason of sickness or other cause of disability beyond his control, such Chinese laborer shall be rendered unable sooner to return. The provisions of the convention shall not affect the right at present enjoyed by Chinese subjects being officials, teachers, students, merchants or travellers for curiosity or pleasure, but not laborers, of coming to the United States and residing therein. To entitle such Chinese subjects as are above described to admission into the United States, they may produce a certificate from their government or the government where they last resided, viz., by the diplomatic or consular representative of the United States in the country or port whence they depart. The United States agrees to pay on or before March 1, 1889, $276,619.75 to the Chinese minister, in full indemnity for losses and injuries sustained by Chinese subjects in the United States.

JUDGE LYNCH AGAIN.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 3.—Two hundred armed and masked men rode into the quiet little town of Haynesville, Ala., last night, went to the county jail and demanded possession of Theo. J. Calloway, the negro, who murdered Mitchell Gresham near Sandy Ridge in Laundes county a few days ago. They forced the jailer to surrender the keys, then went to the cell where the murderer was sleeping, took him out in front of the court house and hanged him to a limb of a tree. His body was riddled with bullets and left dangling in the air. Nothing is known as to the identity of the lynchers, except that they were friends of the murdered man. Gresham and the negro had had a dispute about a rubber coat one day last week. Gresham and his brother met the negro in the public road with a shotgun. Gresham asked him what he was going to do with the gun, and he said: "I will show you," whereupon the leveled the gun and fired. The charge blowed the back part of the young man's head off, causing instant death.

BULL-DOG KELLEY.

DULUTH, April 3.—"Bull-day" Kelley, who murdered a man in British Columbia two years ago, and whose arrest and the efforts for whose extradition made such a sensation in St. Paul at the time, has been making things lively at the head of the lake lately. Kelley went to West Superior the other day and pummeled a Norwegian almost beyond recovery. He made a run for the Minnesota side of the bay and thus eluded the officers. Yesterday the local police put him in durance vile for participating in a lively scrap on First avenue west. Kelley had his face badly cut.

The Medicine for Liver and Kidney Complaint.—Mr. [illegible] Anger, Ottawa, writes: "I take great pleasure in recommending to the general public Parmelee's Pills, as a cure for Liver and Kidney Complaint. I have doctored for the last three years with leading physicians, and have taken many medicines which were recommended to me without relief, but after taking eight or ten Parmelee's Pills I was quite relieved, and now I feel as free from the disease as before I was troubled.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria

Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescences, as many have testified who have tried it.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY.—Always buy the best because it is the cheapest in the end, and not only is Burdock Blood Bitters the best medicine known for all chronic diseases of the Stomach, Kidneys, Liver and Blood, but it is really the cheapest as it needs less to cure and cures more quickly than any other remedy.
