MINING NOTES

There are 22 men working on the Glossoy group of copper claims in Highland valley, 27 miles from Ashcroft. Ore is being shipped to the Tacoma smelter.—Ledge.

The Independence mine on the Coquihalla Summit, commonly known as the Swede group, will probably resume large operations in the near future. It will no doubt be remembered by the older residents of Hope, about fifteen years ago this mine, then only a prospect, was sold to the Granby smelter company for $140,000. The owners now have a showing of 40 feet of massive copper ore, which runs $23 to the ton. The present workings are within three miles of the new railroad. This mine is about 30 miles from Hope, and 50 miles from Merritt.—Pioneer.

The men who operated the H. & B. mine in the Salmo district from March 1, 1915, until it was taken over under lease and bond on Sept. 3 by A. C. Jameson and R. K. Neil of Spokane, will net about $55,000 from their shipments, according to I. G. Nelson, who was manager of the leasing company, which was known as the Salisbury, Larson & Nelson syndicate of Salmo, B. C. The leasers shipped 71 cars during the period of their possession of the property, and returns from 39 cars gave them a net profit of approximately $32,000, according to Mr. Nelson, and he believes that the 32 cars not settled for will run higher, as the ore was of better grade. Last Monday Mr. Nelson received a draft from the smelting company for $6100, settlement for 317 tons of zinc ore shipped in September, at the rate of 13.27 cents the pound, less freight and duty. "I believe the H. & B. group will become one of the most important zinc properties in the district," said Mr. Nelson. "There has been but comparatively little development done yet, but this has revealed several veins that are exceptionally high grade, and there is every reason to believe they continue to depth."—Miner.

ANSWERED

"Why DO you want to go?" she said,
"Why do you long for battle-fare?"
And she shuddered with pretty dread
"'Tis so dangerous over there."
But the youth in a khaki cap
Shut her lips like a new steel trap.

"Why do you want to toil all day
At an officer's silly word?
Why do you want to go away?
Home, I should think, would be preferred."
But the soldier in battle-brown
Wore a stern and unending frown.

"Why do you want to march, all wet
Through unspeakable seas of mud?"
She had eyes like a violet.
Cheeks as fair as a tulip bud,
And she smiled. But the soldier trim
Looked exceedingly hard and grim.

"WANT?" he said, with a surly smile.
"Truly you must believe me mad."
And he was thinking, mile by mile,
Of the trenches the foemen had,
Where We found on a morning grey
Belgian girls as a devil's prey.

So he thought of a murdered town,
Burgomaster to little boy,
Thought of hospitals crashing down,
Thought of the guns in Hell's employ.
"WANT?" he said, with a sharp disgust.
"I and my comrades say WE MUST!"
—Toronto News.

Trafalgar Day Dance Was Most Successful

In answer to the appeal for funds for the Red Cross, sent out from headquarters, the Hedley ladies Sewing Society arranged for afternoon tea and dance for Trafalgar Day.

They were both well attended and each sent in a splendid contribution towards the Red Cross fund. The amount received at the afternoon tea was $20.50 and at the dance in the evening $40.50, the following day some of those who could not get to the dance handed in small amounts to make a total amounting to $4.50, so that the grand total was $65.50 and the expense for both events came to $15.00, leaving a net gain of $50.50.

The attendance at the dance was very good and everyone present enjoyed the affair thoroughly. The band was on hand as it always is when their is a call for patriotic service and their music was greatly appreciated by the dancers.

From every standpoint the affair was a success, one more added to the achievements of our Hedley ladies whose busy brains are always at work for the benefit of our brave boys at the front.

Following is the financial report handed in by the ladies for publication:—

Hedley Ladies Sewing Society Trafalgar Day Fund Oct. 21st 1815 Amount received Afternoon Tea $20.50 Dance $40.50 Amount received Oct. 22nd $4.50 Total $65.50 Expenditure $15.00 $50.50.

A. Anstey, of Vernon, Inspector of Graded Schools, came to town Tuesday for the purpose of inspecting our local schools. He left today for Princeton.

Anyone wishing Geranium slips for winter bloom, may have all they want to carry away from Hamilton's garden, if they come and take them before severe frost sets in.

A pair of socks, donated by a lady in Victoria, B. C. has been acknowledged by a soldier of the Australian army who is serving in the Dardenelles operations. They were given to him by a nurse on an Egyptian hospital train. Strange to relate, the soldier was formerly on one of Uncle Sam's revenue cutters and knew Vancouver and Victoria very well.—Pioneer.

Two cars of Summerland apples, one a straight car of Grimes Golden, and the other made up of Grimes Golden and Winter Banana, were shipped out last Saturday from the local packing house of Messrs. Stirling & Pitcairn, destined for Buenos Aires, South America. Four cars for the same destination were also shipped from Kelowna the same day, making a total shipment from the Okanagan to the beautiful Argentine city, of six cars.—Summerland Review.

Mr. Rolls procured last week a record for the gramophone which caused some amusement. It represented the Kaiser endeavoring to get the palace of his ally in Vienna, on the telephone. From Berlin to Vienna as the crow flies is a distance of not less than 300 miles and Wilhelm's mighty efforts to gain reinforcements for his assailed army are certainly ludicrous in the extreme. S. E. Hamilton captured this record but Mr. Rolls says he will have some more.

Blackest Chapter in Turkish History

No general denials, no diplomatic evasions can offset the careful investigation made by the American Committee on Armenian Atrocities. From beginning to end its report is based on the testimony of witnesses who are vouched for.

For six months the Turks have carried on a campaign of race extermination in Asia Minor. In cold blood they have plundered and murdered the Armenians, here and there offering the official pretext of military necessity. Wherever there were Armenian populations their homes have been sacked and they have been driven into exile, helpless and starving. Mothers and infants, girls and old people, by tens of thousands have been herded like beasts, left to perish by the wayside or to die of neglect after their removal from their villages. The non-Moslem men for the most part had already been impressed into the Turkish army to fight the Russians, and by way of return their families have been scattered, their women and girls subjected to outrage and the young, sick and aged left without means of subsistence.

In all the history of Turkish brutality there has been no blacker chapter than the atrocities inflicted upon the Armenians since last April. Back of it all is the deliberate policy of the Turkish Government to wipe out a people differing in race and religion with their rulers.

The world has had frequent reminders of the frantic cruelty of the Turk toward the Christian population in the Ottoman Empire. But what will it say to Germany's partnership in Turkey's guilt in the present instance? —New York World.

There is food for thought in the following excerpt from a recent interview granted by the Dowager Empress of Russia: "Russia has been too confident to all those immigrants to whom the empire accorded favors and high position. A German even though he be shown every kindness, remains always a German. I often said so when the Czar Alexander was alive, but he would not believe me. One man only foresaw this Germanic aggression—it was the late King Edward VII."—Province.

Rev. Griffiths Says Farewell to Hedley

Rev. and Mrs. Griffiths left Tuesday for their new home in Michigan City, Idaho, Mr. Griffiths preached his farewell sermon Sunday evening to a packed church. His text was, "Put on the whole armor of God," and the sermon was most impressive, containing as it did the farewell message of the minister who had given the very best kind of service to his congregation. The reception held Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Clare, was well attended and all expressed their regret that Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths were about to leave Hedley. They are followed to their new home with the very best wishes of the congregation of St. John's church and their numerous friends.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Gilbert, on Tuesday, October 26th., a son.

Rev. A. H. Cameron of Keremeos, was in town for a few days last week.

Mrs. Sproule returned Saturday from a visit with Mrs. Marlow of Salmon Arm.

C. H. Carman, the dry good man of Vancouver, came in by motor car Thursday last.

Rev. Frank Stanton is having a small residence built close to the church, and when complete he will occupy it.

The finals in the contest for the Merrill cup will be played in the near future. The contestants will be H. D. Barnes and Paddy Murray, the latter having won in the tie game with S. E. Hamilton.

G. W. Hicks, of W. H. Malkin, Co. Vancouver, motored in from Keremeos yesterday. He is accompanied by Mrs. Hicks who is simply delighted with the trip and the beauties of the Sunny Similkameen.

This is certainly the most beautiful season of the year. The frost had set its mark upon the leaves painting the most beautiful colors, and making our hillsides truly beautiful. The man who cannot feel the appeal of these splendid Autumn days must indeed be made of sordid stuff.

Mr. H. H. Hobbs, late manager of the Hedley branch of the Bank of British North America, and who has been in the employ of the bank at Montreal since he left here, is now in training at Val Cartier. No one can estimate the extent of the German influence. It seems to be able to make itself felt in every quarter of the globe, but its manifestations are always the same—broken promises, torn scraps of paper, breach of faith, and all the other Teutonic virtues down to pillage and murder. Terrible as these expositions have been, the mask has not yet been wholly torn from the Jekyl and Hyde Emperor, who, breathing peace and culture, actually is a consuming fire of hellish hate and brutish murder. Alas for the future of Greece.

Canadian editors who are kicking the most about consorship are those who never have an opinion of their own to express and depend largely on the journals of the yellow type for the material to fill their pages. Their great cry is the "freedom of the press". The censorship in no respect impairs the freedom of the press but might in a great many instances serve to elevate it to the place where people might look upon it and call it decent. One thing, the Canadian press as a whole, is loyal and if the Empire demands it we will suppress the very thing that seems to make us most attractive, viz., the latest news.

With regard to the war, we reach our conclusions too quickly some times. Our judgements are hasty. The fact that Gen. Ian Hamilton returned to England to make a report gave rise to the rumor that the campaign in the Dardenelles had been bungled. But it does not look as if the campaign was bungled when we see the Austro-German forces rushing to the assistance of their ally Turkey. If the campaign was bungled would Germany find it necessary to mass troops at once on the Servian frontier, and at all costs force a passage to Constantinople? No. what is more likely is that the Turbulent Turk, smarting under the yoke of German officers, showed signs of dissatisfaction, if not defection, and Germany has had to make a demonstration to save the personel of the German-officered Turkish army. Don't let us get into the habit of crying calamity, until calamity is upon us.

The scene has changed! No more the beautiful and fertile plains and valleys of fair France. Now it is the mighty and grand mountains of the Balkans. Not the culture and polish of the Parisian and his nation. Now it is the stupendous ignorance and unique customs of those dwellers of the mountains, with their feuds and their vendetta. Not the associations of a great army backed by a splendid fleet, but the struggles of a petty people who have long been the butt of the nations.

Such is Britain's greatness. Today at war with and for the great nations of the earth, tomorrow in the tough of the fight seeing that the little fellow has the right to live. But always with the same even, equitable justice which has held and honorably wielded the balance of power over the world. What stupid diplomats have underestimated the power of this great nation?

Editorial Quotations

A writer in an American exchange says that King Constantine of Greece is a royal busybody, a dangerous ruler and impulsive and headstrong. The writer must have got Constantine and his German spouse mixed up.—Province.

There is one Bulgarian blushes for his country's course, M. Joseph Angeloff, Bulgarian Consul General, London, who has sent the following telegram to the Bulgarian Premier:—"If the reported alliance of Bulgaria with our eternal enemies and persecutors and against our liberators is true, I protest and tender my resignation as Consul General."—World Wide.

A correspondent writes us that alien enemies in this Province are taking the place of men who have entered the army in many lines of work, especially in the mines and smelters. He asks the Government to investigate the matter and take such action as may remedy such a state of things. He expresses his doubts if British subjects in Germany are being paid wages for doing what Germans are ready to do. This matter might well be looked into.—Colonist.

Current trade reports reflect the best conditions and prospects in many weeks, few obstacles to progress now being in evidence. Removal of important restraining influences imparts needed stimulus to new enterprise and launching of many deferred undertakings attest the widespread strengthening of confidence in the future. With cross currents diminishing in force, the tide of business is rising at an accelerated pace and an era of widespread activity is in prospect. Usually during a transition period gains are recorded slowly, but strictly mercantile conditions have passed the stage where progress is difficult of discernment, and of late industrial expansion has been phenomenally rapid. Reports from nearly all sections of the country tell of the unchecked growth of new enterprise, which, while manifest in varying degrees in different lines and localities, is everywhere stimulated by the exceptional strength of the fundamental situation.—Dun's Review.

READ—Then Think!

Now that you have commenced to read this article, just keep right on to the end, and then you will have absorbed meat of the cocoanut.

What has this town ever done for you? It has fed you, and clothed you, and housed you, and given you employment and kept the wolf from your door for these many years.

It has done more. It has furnished you recreation, and enjoyment, and has guided you safely over many of the stones that beset the pathway of life.

It has praised your good deeds and has thrown the mantle of charity over your questionable ones.

It has been, and is, YOUR HOME. But what have YOU done for the TOWN?

You are making you money here but where are you spending it?

Are your buying goods from the local dealer, who pays and otherwise contributes liberally to the upkeep of the community and your home, or are you sending your money away to some catalogue house that wonldn't lend you a five cent piece to save your soul from purgatory?

And now you have reached the point where we want you to stop and think, and think hard, and to a sane, sensible and patriotic purpose.

Donald McLeod, of Hope, B. C., is registered at the Grand Union Hotel.

Hugh Finnigan, an old time prospector of this district, came in from Princeton for a short visit, Tuesday.

Bert Rescol, whose home is in Grass Valley, Cal., is in town for a few days visiting his brother William who been in the Hospital here for some time recovering from a protracted attack of the grippe.

R. S. Collin left for the coast Saturday. Hush—Rumor says, he has gone for the purpose of leading a certain Vancouver belle to the altar. That is only rumor, but anyhow, the Gazette joins with Hedley friends in wishing them health and happiness.

C. Hairsine, of Vernon, representing the Western Canada Flour Mills, came in by auto yesterday. He is well acquainted with Hedley and her people having been in business here some years ago. He is shaking hands with old friends while writing down the orders for flour, etc.

E. A. Magel, of Vancouver, displaying 57 varieties Heinz' pickles, was in town yesterday. His firm is putting up nearly all of the varieties in Canada now so that Hedley people can enjoy them and still know they are helping to boost the "Made in Canada" movement.

C. F. Stiver of Vancouver, representing the British Columbia Life Insurance Company, came into town Tuesday. He had recently returned from an extended trip East and on the Prairie towns. He is much pleased with the evident sincerity of the mining activity and predicts great things for the future of this particular section of the province.

E. G. Clay, of Vancouver, representing Ramsey & Co. the celebrated Biscuit manufacturers, was in town yesterday. In answer to the question, "How is business", he said he was struck with the marked improvement of conditions since the last trip he made through the Province. It was apparent not only in his line but it was also apparent in other lines and all the men on the road were feeling the uplift of it.

Ralph Kendall, of Kelowna, representative of the International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pa. was in town over Sunday, held up awaiting parts for his motor cycle, which were ordered from Vernon. While here he made a canvass of the town in the interest of his School and succeded in writing up some contracts. He speaks in glowing terms of their course in Mining, and Mining Engineering. He left Tuesday evening for Princeton.

James Harper, of the Columbia Bottling Works, of Rossland, came in on Tuesday's train to look over his plant here and arrange some matters of business. Mr. Harper assured the Gazette representative that just as soon as Spring opens up he will start the plant to work here. Just what staff he would put on at the start, he was not in a position to say, but he was safe in saying that the plant would be worked continuously when once started.

Word was received this week from the camp at Vernon that Yorkie—Mr. M. J. Meher, had taken unto himself a wife, in the person of Miss Campbell, well known in Hedley, as her father at one time was in business here. Miss Campbell has been making her home with her people in Edmonton and when Yorkie told her he had enlisted she at once made the trip to Vernon where the marriage took place. The courtship is of several years' standing, both parties being well known here. Yorkie appears in another role and Hedley people will join the Gazette in wishing the newly-weds the fullest measure of success and happiness.

"STORE OF QUALITY"

ADVERTISE IN THE GAZETTE

Are You a Miner or Prospector?

If you are either, read and consider carefully what follows: In the past twenty-five years, hundreds of men like you, poor, hard-working, low-paid men, have risen from the ranks of common labor to such high salaried positions as Mine Superintendent, Manager, Chief Engineer.

These men have not given up their daily work to go to a far distant college and study for three or four years the scientific side of mining. They could not possibly afford to do so, for they were in many cases, men of thirty or forty yes, even fifty years of age, with family ties, they had wives and children to support, how then, did they get their scientific training? You may perhaps think that these men had an uncommon ability for drawing knowledge from their practical experience, but if you will reflect a few minutes on the calculations that a man must be able to make to pass even the lower Government examinations, you will readily admit that a lifetime of practical experience, without instruction of some kind along the lines of mathematics and mechanics, would not take you very far up the ladder of which the different Government examinations are the rungs.

The way these men qualified for better positions was by studying the science of mining in spare time, an hour or two each night, and they have made good, why should you not do the same? Why not let the International Correspondence Schools help you to shorter hours, lighter work and more pay?

Perhaps you think that you have not enough education to begin the study of Mining engineering, this is not the case, the courses of study taught by the Scranton Schools are so arranged that you can commence with addition, subtraction, multiplication and division should that be necessary, and go along gradually into mensuration, which teaches you to calculate the areas of piston heads, cross sections of pipes, etc., which you must know in calculating horse-power, the amount of water, air or sludge that a pump of a given size will deliver under certain conditions, and so on from subject to subject till you graduate.

Methods of working mines under different conditions mine gases, geology, assaying, mine and mineral land surveying, prospecting and all other matters allied to the Mining Engineering profession are fully covered in the most logical order, each subject is a step from the one before to the one ahead, and each prepares the student well for the next step coming.

It is not only in mining but in nearly three hundred other trades and professions that the I. C. Schools have for years been helping poor but ambitious men and women up to the attainment of their aim, and if you are interested and ambitions to rise in any of the below lines of work, trades or professions, you have only to fill out the coupon, mail it, and you will receive a large catalogue explaining in detail the particular course and giving names and addresses of large numbers of successful students.

KEREMEOS

Fall Rains.

Mrs. Geo. B. Clarke entertained this week in honor of Miss Ramsay.

Miss Woods has assumed her duties as teacher at the new school at Keremeos South.

Oscar Lauchmond of the B. C. Copper Co. passed through Keremeos on his way to Copper Mountain on Saturday.

Messrs. Thos. Daly and R. C. Clarke have returned from a successful hunting trip, Tom bringing in a fine buck, which dressed 285 pounds and Mr. Clarke a doe.

A very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Harrison on Monday evening last, it being the anniversary of their daughters' birthday.

Joe Armstrong of Chopaka shipped two car loads of stuff from here on Thursday, they were billed for Vancouver. This is the second large shipment Mr. Armstrong has made this month.

Mrs. Thos. Daly has started a music class in town. Although the attendance at first may be small, we know it will increase as Mrs. Daly's ability is well recognized and her popularity unbounded.

Rev. J. A. Cleland of Penticton will hold English Church services in the Town Hall on Sunday next—Morning Service at 11 a. m. and the evening service at 7.30. The Boy Scouts will parade to the evening service.

D. J. Taylor manager of the Similkameen Fruit Lands Co. had six prospective buyers in from Winnipeg this week. They were all delighted with the valley, three of them buying land. New houses will be built at once and they will return with their families when ready.

Private Sam McCurdy of the 54th Battalion, Vernon Camp, was in town for a few days last week. Sam is looking well and enjoying the work. He tried to induce some of our ranchers to join but did not succeed. His Company leaves for England shortly and I am sure we all wish Sam good luck.

Mr. D. Lawson of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Calgary, and at one time manager here, is in town renewing old acquaintances. He had been on a visit to his brother, who has enlisted, in Vernon and dropped off here on his way home. We hope his mission to Keremeos may prove successful.

COMMUNICATION

Olalla, B. C., Oct. 24th, 1915,

The Editor, Hedley Gazette,

Dear Sir:—

I see by the Vancouver papers that the Red Cross Society is desirious of receiving gifts of apples from the Okanagan and Similkameen. Can you inform me through your columns if there is an agency at Keremeos for receiving such gifts and forwarding same to the headquarters?

I believe that everyone who has any apples of the variety that will stand trans-shipment will gladly give and largely give to such a cause as the one in view—A Christmas present from home for our brave boys who are holding the Huns in check in France and Flanders.

I have one tree bearing good large apples that will keep in prime conditions until next summer. I shall be pleased to deliver the whole crop off this tree to any agent of the Red Cross at Keremeos at any time desired.

If I do not receive a postal card in the meantime I shall look for an answer to this in your next week's issue.

Yours truly,
R. W. NORTHEY
Keremeos Center, B. C., P, O.

In answer to the above query, the Editor of the Gazette is pleased to be able to say that the ladies of Keremeos are not one whit behind the ladies of other parts of the Dominion in respect to their loyalty and they have been making arrangements to take care of the needs of the men at the front in every respect. If Mr. Northey will communicate with Mrs. Fargo who is the Secretary of the Woman's Institute she will give him all further information.

We most heartily commend the spirit of the Ollala rancher who is willing to give the crop of this tree for the men at the front as a Christmas present.

Keremeos to Hold Dance, November 5th

On Friday November 5th. a dance will be held in the Town Hall, Keremeos for the purpose of raising a small amount to help in forwarding Christmas hampers to the soldiers from Keremeos District now enlisted.

There are about 25, either serving at the front or in training for that purpose, and it is thought that a remembrance from those at home would be appreciated by them.

This is being done generally throughout Canada and we should line up with the rest.

This dance ought to be well attended as the object for which it is held ought to appeal to everyone, whether they have a relative at the front or not.
