Monday Evening, Oct. 24, 1887.

The Wrecked Sloop.

From Mr. E. Hill, who arrived from Cape Mudge by the steamer Dunsmuir yesterday, we learned that the sloop found upset by the Indians, and reported in the Free Press last week, was towed by them into Campbell River and is now there awaiting identification. The sloop is a nicely finished double-ender, painted yellow inside and red outside. The sloop was found on its side with the sail not set. In the boat were found a cook stove and kettles, paint brushes, head of a garden rake, an Indian bow and four sets of Indian bracelets. There is no name or mark on the boat by which she could be identified. The Indian chief at Campbell River has the boat in charge pending it being claimed by the owner. From Mr. Graham who returned by the steamer yesterday we learn that there is no truth in the report that R. Hall and his party were drowned. Mr. Graham saw Mr. Hall at his farm and he was hale and hearty. Mr. J. H. Gray, C. E., and his exploring party, left Salmon River on Sunday, proceeding northwest, and did not expect to return there for fourteen days.

A Bold Robbery!

The trading schooner Oriole, Mr. John Greene, owner and captain, has been at anchor in this harbor for a week or two preparatory to making another trip north. On Tuesday, Mr. Greene came ashore and got the worse of liquor, leaving a man named James Lawrence in charge. On returning to the schooner Capt. Greene found that the box-safe on board had been broken into and between $375 to $400 stolen therefrom. About $230 of the stolen money is in silver and the remainder in bank notes. Suspicion at once rested on this man Lawrence, and on the police making inquiries they found that James Lawrence had left by the E. & N. train on Wednesday afternoon, and that previous to leaving he had paid several little bills owed about town. A representative of the Free Press saw Lawrence leave by the train and heard him say he was going away from the country, but little dreamt that he had dyed his hands in robbery. Lawrence stated to some acquaintances that he intended to go to Australia, On looking through the scooner it was found that Lawrence had left behind his trunk and clothes. It was noticed that he had no valise or trunk with him when he walked up to meet the train. On Thursday afternoon shortly after the robbery was discovered, a description of Lawrence was telegraphed to the superintendent of police at Victoria, but it was feared he would cross to Washington Territory that morning. Lawrence had been working in this city for some time and the suspicion of robbery was a surprise to those who knew him.—Nanaimo Free Press.

The Pacific Province.

In another column will be found a very interesting interview between a Citizen representative and the Hon. John Robson, M. P, P. for New Westminster District British Columbia, provincial secretary and minister of agriculture and mines. Mr. Robson's statements are interesting, as coming from a gentleman who has had experience of British Columbia before and after confederation, and before and after the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway. As a journalist, having for some time edited the BRITISH COLUMBIAN, as a public man with the experience of the legislative councillor, a member of legislature, a private member and a minister of the crown, Mr. Robson is eminently qualified to give practical opinions and reliable information, with reference to the Pacific Province. He is a "Liberal," but we imagine of that class which nourishes contempt for country-killers and nation-destroyers under the name and guise of a party combination. As all events, the candid unvenoured account of British Columbia's present, and the prospects of a future of increased prosperity—whether Mr Robson be Liberal or Conservative, Grit or Tory—will be read with pleasure by all who desire to see each Province thoroughly developed, and satisfied to assist in working out the great national problem every man must hope to see happily solved. The mineral, lumber, agricultural and commercial resources of British Columbia, bid far to place her in the front rank of that galaxy of provinces forming confederation. Her people are industrious, hardy, loyal and progressive, and every true Canadian, will rejoice to learn, that the population returns record a marked increase, both in point of numbers, and character of new arrivals.—Ottawa Citizen, Oct. 17.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

EDITORS KILLING EACH OTHER.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 24.—E. C. Stone, editor of the Telephone, was killed on Friday at Taleqoah, Cherokee Nation, by E. C. Boudinot, jr., editor Cherokee Advocate. The killing arose out of a political muddle now agitating the Cherokee people. The Telephone, which is the organ of May's party, used severe language about Boudinot, whose paper is run in the interest of the Rabbit Bunch or National party. Boundinot went to Stone and demanded an apology or retraction, when Stone made a move as if to draw a pistol, and Boudinot shot him.

STARVING SCHOOL CHILDREN.

VIENNA, Oct. 24.—The inquiry recently instituted into the condition of the Vienna poor attending elementary schools has resulted in the appalling discoveries that upwards of 4,000 children were suffering from the pangs of hunger, some of them being on the verge of starvation. A work of relief is now going on, and hotel and restaurant keepers are feeding large numbers of children every day.

ASKED TO RESIGN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—It is reported to-day at the department of the interior that the resignation of Gen. Sparks has been demanded by Secretary Lamar, by authority of the president. It is explained that the retirement of Sparks has become necessary, not only on account of lack of harmony between him and Lamar, but also from the fact that in some cases he had obstinately adhered to his own views in his official acts, after a reversal of his decision by the secretary of the interior.

DON'T WANT CHAMBERLAIN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Some days ago it was reported from London that the American government had intimated to the British authorities that Joseph Chamberlain would be a very undesirable man to represent England upon the fisheries commission which is shortly to meet here. West, British consul here, denied all knowledge of any such action on the part of the U. S., and state department officials pronounce the story without foundation. There is no doubt, however, that the state department, in common with the rest of the country, thinks that Chamberlain may prove a Jonah to the commission, and it is said on reliable authority that Bayard has seriously considered the advisability of asking the substitution of some one else. It is stated to-day that the subject will be brought to the attention of the cabinet at its first meeting this week, and as the president thinks with the secretary of state that the presence of Chamberlain may jeopardize the chances of its ratification of any treaty which can be negotiated, it is likely Minister Phelps will receive instructions by cable to ask that another and less objectionable diplomat be selected.

THE POST SPEAKS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The Post, which assumes to be the organ of the administration, has a column leader to-day devoted to the political career of Mr. Chamberlain. It closes significantly as follows: "The ministry sends him to America to aid in the settlement of the fisheries contention. Recent events at home will not be reassuring to his political plans and prospects, but really we have little use for this isolated statesman among us."

TERRIFIC GALE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 24.—A terrific gale has been blowing along the Atlantic seaboard all day at an average speed of nearly 75 miles an hour. Telegraphic communication is greatly interrupted in eastern states.

GLADSTONE ILL.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Gladstone is suffering from a bad cold and is confined to his bed. He is also suffering from excessive fatigue, superinduced by his travels of the past few days and the many speeches made by him in that time.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

POISONED HIMSELF.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Henry Henhayon, a brother of Mrs. Cecilia Bowers, for whose murder Dr. J. Milton Bowers is under the penalty of death, was found dead in bed to-day. He had poisoned himself. The deceased was a dentist, 34 years of age. No cause is assigned for the deed. He left a number of papers greatly reflecting on the character of his murdered sister.

STABBED TO DEATH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Phillip O'Brion this afternoon stabbed Thomas Rosengraves. He had administered a beating to O'Brien's brother in the morning.

SMALLPOX IN 'FRISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Edward Christenson was sent to the pest house this afternoon. He is afflicted with smallpox.

ANOTHER CLIPPER ARRIVES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—The ship George Curtis, which left Philadelphia the day after the clippers Seminole and Charmer left New York on the race to this port, arrived last evening.

In Oakland yesterday Mrs. Henry and her two small children were discovered suffering from smallpox. A Spaniard, recently arrived from Mexico was also discovered with the same disease.

A MURDERER'S CONFESSION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—A most profound sensation has been caused throughout the city by the announcement of the suicide of Henry Benhayon and his confession of having poisoned his sister, Mrs. Cecilia Bowers, for whose murder Dr. J. Milton Bowers is under penalty of death. While she was living with her husband, Dr. Bowers, he was constantly in attendance upon her. During her illness he administered the medicines prescribed by the doctor, taking the opportunity to mix in a quantity of phosphorus with each, which finally caused her death. Benhayon's purpose in killing his sister was to obtain possession of the insurance upon her life. Her husband had originally been made beneficiary, but without his knowledge his wife had transferred that right to her brother, making him the person to whom all money was to be paid. When the death of Mrs. Bowers occasioned such intense excitement her murderous brother concealed the transfers and aided in the conviction of Dr. Bowers for the crime. "I must end my misery," was the wail which wound up the letter of confession to the coroner. When the news of Benhayon's confession was carried to Bowers at the county jail, the effect was electrical. He became intensely excited, wept like a child, and words of gratitude for his prospective deliverance flowed from his lips.

THE WILD WEST SHOW.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The American exhibition will be closed Oct. 31st, after which date Buffalo Bill and his wild west show, the main feature that prevented exhibition from failing entirely, will go to Birmingham, and thence to Manchester. The close of the exhibition will be marked by meeting of prominent Americans and Englishmen to discuss questions of international arbitration. Among conspicuous Englishmen who have promised to attend are Cardinal Manning, Gen. Lord Wolsely, Marquis of Bristol, John Bright and Earl of Derby.

SCOTCH HOME RULERS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—A deputation of Scotch Home Rulers arrived in Dublin yesterday and were received by Lord Mayor Sullivan at the Imperial Hotel last evening. Police reporters were not admitted. The hotel was surrounded by an enthusiastic crowd, but the utmost good order prevailed.

THE POLICE WIN.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—The police resumed their attack upon the Widow Faley's house in Bally Kerogue at a late hour last evening and arrested the defenders of the place.

WESTMINSTER HONORED.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Several thousand unemployed workmen marched in a body from Trafalgar square to Westminster Abbey this afternoon; the leader of which carried a red flag. 1200 of them were admitted without opposition. Many kept their hats on, whistled and sat upon the pedestal of the statues. Others mixed with the regular audience, but the greater portion of the latter departed as soon as practicable, leaving strangers almost sole possessors. The unwelcome visitors offered no violence, but showed a disregard for the place by indiscriminate conversation, tobacco chewing, copious expectorating, etc. During the first lesson they grew bolder and loudly jeered the reader, drowning his voice. This conduct was repeated at the second lesson. Canon Protherd preached from Romans 12, 1, "I beesech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable, unto God, which is your reasonable service." He argued that the punishment of lawbreakers was necessary for good of the community. This evident application of personal argument was not favorably received. There was disorder and cries of "Oh, bosh." The preacher made an earnest appeal for order, and entreated his hearers to try and uproot evil and plant good in its place. Some one cried out "That's what we are going to do" amid cries of "hear" "hear" and cheers. Canon Prothero realizing that the ordinary style of sermonizing would not be accepted by his novel audience, now threw his notes aside and addressed himself directly to the unruly crowd. He declared that while legislation alone could provide a remedy for their hunger and suffering everybody could feel and express sympathy for them. This seemed to strike crowd in a humerous sense for there was devisive laughter and cries of "that's all we shall get." The canon went on to say that charitable agencies might do much, this was greeted by the cry "we don't want charity we want work." The preacher got along better when he declared himself in favor of state aid for the destitute. At the close of the service, however the audience gave their opinion of the proceeding by vigorously hissing as they marched out. They were loudly cheered by their companions outside as they made their appearance. The whole party then marched noisily back to Trafalgar square, and speeches were made, denouncing the church for failure to to alleviate the condition of the poor and condemned the police for brutality. There were several arrests made, the charges registered against prisoners being brawling and stealing.

Daily British Columbian

Monday Evening, Oct. 24, 1887.

Our cotemporary of the Vancouver News evidently misapprehends the position of the Southern Railway project. "When the possibilities of traffic are such," he says, "as will make the construction of the road reasonably remunerative, we shall obtain it without having to give thousands of dollars or acres of lands to a few promoters for their own benefit, and to the impoverishment of the province. The experience of the island railroad should have taught us a lesson which it will be to our interests not to forget." There is no ground upon which the Southern Railway can be compared with the island road. The promoters of the Southern Railway have never asked an acre of land or a dollar of bonus either from the government or the people. All they ask is that the charter shall be allowed, and the road will be built entirely by private funds. The charter is held by the Westminster board of trade, in trust, to be used solely in the public interest. It is not proposed that this road shall compete with the C. P. R., or interfere with any existing interest, either public or private, but its promoters believe it will be the means of developing the resources of an important section of this district, and largely increasing the trade of the province and the great national highway.

The Nanaimo Free Press of Saturday intimates that Mr. T. B. Humphreys returned from Comox last Friday looking "extremely ill" after his canvass of that district. It also says: "We learn from private sources that the people of Comox will hold a meeting and choose one from among themselves to represent them in the local house. It is pretty generally understood among the settlers of Comox that the coming man will be a resident and not a worn out politician who has tried nearly every constituency in the province and been rejected at the polls. We think that the people of Comox, as well as those of other districts, will be adopting the wisest course in choosing one from among themselves." We observe, however, that our local cotemporary of the Guardian vigorously advocates the claims of Mr. Humphreys to the constituency, and strongly advises the electors to make him their representative. The fact of his being a non-resident does not strike our local cotemporary as in the least objectionable. "It is the purest buncom," says our cotemporary, "to urge this against Mr. Humphreys;" and in proof he refers to the fact that several of the ministers are not residents of the constituencies they represent! This is an old subterfuge of our cotemporary. How could a man attend to his duties as minister and reside any distance from the capital! At the last election our cotemporary urged the electors to reject non-residents: now he thinks the objection is the "purest buncom." As applied by him, we think so too; but we hope Comox will never elect such a man as Mr. Humphreys.

The Free Press ventures to express the opinion that in all respects Nanaimo is much more favorably situated for smelting works than Westminster, Vancouver, or Victoria. It has a plentiful supply of coal right at its door, and the cost of bringing iron ore from Texada Island would, the Free Press thinks, be very much less than to bring it to this city. Of course Victoria is out of the question as a location for such works. It has neither coal, wood, nor water. But our Nanaimo cotemporary scarcely states the case fairly. If the reduction of iron ore is to be the only occupation of the works, Nanaimo would undoubtedly possess very important advantages over the mainland cities in consequence of her proximity to the coal fields. But the cost of bringing iron ore from Texada to this city would be very little, if any, greater than to Nanaimo. Our cotemporary, however, loses sight entirely of the fact that one of the chief objects contemplated in the establishment of these works is the reduction of lead ores and ores of the precious metals, and these will come from the mainland, principally by the C. P. R. If they had to be carried to Nanaimo they must be transhipped either here or at Vancouver, and the cost of carrying them across the straits, would be a very considerable item. At this city the ores could be taken from the cars right at the furnaces, and coal from Wellington could also be laid down without transhipment. Reduction works to be successful must be located on the mainland, and there is no point on the mainland so favorably situated for that industry as Westminster. We have abundance of wood and fresh water, and all the other materials required can be laid down here without transhipment and at as low a cost as at any other mainland city.

MAUD HAS A RIVAL.

The Wonderful Private Record Made by William Rockefeller's 4-year-old Bay Mare.

The little mare Flemsoe has just made a private record which suggests that she may yet become the rival of great Maud S. A few days ago Mr. William Rockefeller, who is her owner, decided to make a test of her powers, as she was in prime condition, his track superb and the weather just right to bring out all her powers. A few friends were invited to Mr. Rockefeller's private track, about three miles back of the railway station in Greenwich, Conn., to witness the test. Mr. Rockefeller was confident that she would trot better than 2.20, while his driver thought she might do even better than 2.19.

The mare was brought out and given one turn to warm her up, and it was at once seen that she was in fine condition. At the word she went away, doing the first quarter in as steady and firm a step as ever a trotter attained, and at a 2.20 gait. On the last half, without seeming to strain a muscle, and without any special urging, she increased her speed and came down the home-stretch as steady as when she began, and made the heat in 2.19.

This is remarkable time for a four-year-old, especially on a track which, though excellent, is not particularly fast. Of course it is not a record except private, but the time was accurately taken.

This little mare is a bay, as handsomely built and proportioned as Maud S. and is only four years old. If she keeps in good condition there is little doubt that she will by-and-by make a record that will run very close to the Queen's best work. But it is doubtful whether she will ever be seen on a public track. Mr. Rockefeller is very much like Mr. Bonner. He prefers to keep his stable for his own gratification and that of his friends, though he has been urged to allow some of his noted horses to appear on the track.

Mr. Rockefeller is the president of the Standard Oil Company. His pleasures, until very recently, have been limited to his splendid stable. A few years ago he bought sixty acres on the crest of a sightly ridge in Greenwich, and, without stint in expense, laid out the most extensive and in some respects the most perfect private trotting park in this country. A very high and thick granite wall bounds it. It affords rich pasturage for his horses. A perfect view of Long Island sound is obtained from the stable, and the air is ever exhilarating. Here his famous double team, Independence and Cleva were brought, and here on the half-mile track they have made their best record. What it is only those whom Mr. Rockefeller permits to know have learned, but it was satisfactory to him. Besides these and the little bay mare whose remarkable record has just been described, he has some thirty other horses, all good, some very valuable, and the whole stud is estimated to be worth not far from $200,000.

Here, early in the summer mornings, the ruler of the Standard Oil company got his money's worth in speeding the horses, watching their improvement, and now and then putting them to their best efforts for a private record. But he is wholly unlike Mr. Bonner in one respect. Bonner likes to talk about his horses. It delights him to take a friend to see Maud S. or old Dexter or the other marvels in his stable. Rockefeller on the other hand is whist about his stables. He is taciturn in his pleasures as his business, a very rare thing with rich New Yorkers. And day after day, when the dawn is being dissipated by the sun, this master of many millions, alone with his driver and employes, refreshes himself for his day's work with these costly playthings; for they are nothing but that to him.

It is strange that though Mr. Rockefeller is able to find his chief recreation with his horses, he is not particularly fond of driving, and, as a reinsman, is not the equal of his brother, John D. Rockefeller, the former president of the Standard Oil company. William Rockefeller is a man of fine physique. His shoulders are broad, his arms lusty, and he stands firm on his feet and doesn't walk with the quick, nervous motion that is characteristic of many New Yorkers who carry enormous business responsibilities upon their shoulders. He has the grip of an athlete and the nerve of a much-tried and successful man.

John D. Rockefeller, his brother, is a small man. His figure gives no idea of physical strength, as his face does of mental power, and he would be one of the last men to be selected to hold the reins of a trotter, clipping along at a 2.20 gait. That power would be readily recognized as William Rockefeller's. And yet John D. is much the better reinsman. He has not so large a stable as William nor has he any horses as celebrated as Independence and Cleva, nor a Flemsoe that is to be. But Midnight is a pretty good stepper, and on the boulevard John D., Sunday school superintendent as he is, can bring out all the speed there is in Midnight. The brothers used to have frequent brushes on the road, and generally John D. showed William the track. Good-horsemen who have watched them declared that John D. is a better horseman than William, though his chief recreation and delight have not been in a fine stable and fine stock as that of William has been.

William, this summer, however, has given his attention to the stable, for much of his spare time is devoted to the work of improving his new estate, near Tarrytown on the Hudson. This is what used to be known as the Aspinwall place, and when Mr. Rockefeller has carried out his plans respecting it, it will probably be the most beautiful estate in the country.—Mail and Express.

The New Iron Curtain of the Theatre Francais.

The new iron curtain of the Theatre Francais is a gigantic affair. It neither rolls up nor folds together, but ascends in a solid sheet into the upper regions, which have had to be heightened to make room for it. The ascent occupies a minute and a quarter. It appears, too, that the new drop-scene, with its colonnade and busts, is not an ordinary rolling canvass, but is glued to the iron curtain. This gluing was a work of no small difficulty, being probably the "largest order" ever attempted in the way of affichage. The other structural alterations at the Theatre Francais have involved a sacrifice of seating space to the value of more than $75 a night. As the theatre is open every night in the year, and generally fill it to overflowing, the annual loss involved in these changes may be reckoned at something like $25,000. A handsome peace-offering this to the theatrical Nemesis—may it be accepted!—Pall Mall Gazette.

—Three Grand Cordons of the Legion of Honor have just been bestowed in France, respectively upon Generals Saussier, Galliffet, and Schmegans.

A BAD STORY.

About the Awful Experience of a Monk.

It was a dark and cold night in winter; the clock of Saint-Nizier-de-Marcigny had just struck nine; the Church of the Convent of the Recollets was illuminated only by the flickering lamp; and the silence was broken only by the whistling of a gusty wind that blew the flying snow against the window panes. In spite of the rigor of the season and the advanced hour, a woman was piously kneeling on the stone floor not far from the principal altar. All at once she seemed to hear distant groans mingling with the tumult of the tempest. She listened; the plaints seemed to be repeated. She was seized with trembling; but, in spite of it, she went forward some steps in the direction of the sound, and distinguished a hollow voice calling at intervals and with great effort, "Help, brother Recollets, help! O God, take pity on me!"

A prey to unspeakable terror, the woman rushed from the church, rang at the convent gate and demanded to see the prior instantly. The latter, being her spiritual director, and knowing the austere life of his penitent, thought that she had been the victim of an aberration of the senses, caused by excessive fasting and attached no importance to the fact, of which he saw no other plausible explanation. He therefore reassured her as well as he could and dismissed her as soon as he saw she was more calm.

A month later one of the Recollets Fathers died. His body, followed by all the religious and by a large multitude of laymen, was taken to the church. The services ended, the cortege moved toward the vault of the convent. It was situated beneath the church, and was reached by means of a flight of steps communicating with one of the side chapels and the entrance was closed with a heavy stone. When they reached the chapel, some of those present united their forces to remove the stone. As soon as a ray of light had illuminated the entrance to the vault, they beheld a spectacle which they greeted with cries of horror. A corpse in the habit of a monk was kneeling on the upper steps, with face turned toward the ground. The features preserved the expression of acute agony; deep bites in the hands and the lower arms attested that the unfortunate being had fought for long hours against the torture of hunger. His habit, his shoulders and the skin on the crown of his head had been worn by rubbing against the unyielding stone, which he had vainly struggled to lift; and his contracted muscles, which still showed themselves in bold relief against the skin, proved that death alone had put an end to his desperate efforts. It was the body of a young brother who had been laid in the tomb the month before. M. Lenormand says that this took place a few years before the great French Revolution, at Mareigny (Saone-et-Loire) and that at the time he wrote there were some few old people still living there who recollected the facts.

"Here's a State of Things!"

I recall a case that got into the courts a short time ago which singularly illustrates this lax morality and generall depravity. I shall disguise it only by the omission of names, but I have no doubt the parties thereto will recognize themselves. A young man became enamored of a German broker's wife. He frightened the timid Dutchman out of the country and subsequently furnished the abandoned wife falsified proof that her husband was dead. He married her—in fact, married her twice. Subsequently he became enamored of another man's wife, the latter obtained a divorce on the ground of adultery, and the lover, abandoning his first wife, took the divorce out of the state, married her, published the fact of the marriage, returned to New York and lived openly with No. 2. Wife No. 1 had him arrested and he pleaded that her first husband was not dead. She set up that she was never married to the German broker, and the adventurous husband was held for the grand jury; but the indictment was thrown out on the opinion of the district attorney that there was a first marriage with the German and none with the second husband. One of the lawyers in the case was at that time living with the wife of a former client with that client's knowledge and consent. The opposing lawyer was living with the divorced wife of a former partner without interference from the partner, and with the knowledge and acquiescence of his own wife. And the opinion of the district attorney was written by an assistant who had two wives on his hands at the time. If the case had come to trial on indictment it would have stood a strong chance of being tried before a justice who has two wives living, and was then in contempt of his own court for marrying a second time against a decree of divorce depriving him of the right to marry again during his first wife's life. "Here's a state of things."—New York Cor. Cincinnati Commercial.

In The Highlands.

A correspondent of the Boston Transcript writing from near Balmoral in the Highlands of Scotland says: The transformation of several correct gentlemen, faultlessly arrayed in London clothes, into Highland chieftains, is daily taking place before one's eyes. When the Scotch gentlemen, or even Englishmen having places in Scotland, come up here, they immediately put on kilts. In the morning, when they are shooting or tramping over the moors, they wear woollen kilts, and carry a hunting knife, instead of the regulation dagger in their stocking leg. But in the evening they appear at dinner in tartans of beautiful weave, with a jewelled dagger sticking out of their right stocking leg. Not only the gentlemen, but their upper servants put on kilts, and, if anything, the change in the servants is more startling than that in the masters. Mr. Panmure-Gordon is a great landed proprietor up here. His coachman, who was one of the most immaculate jehus in London, sitting up on the box as rigid as iron, and looking as if he were made at the same time and of the same stuff as the carriage, came up to the Highlands, and suddenly turned into a Highlander, and a rampageous Highlander at that, and wheezed and blew and puffed at the bagpipes like a Trojan. It was really alarming to see him heading the Gordon pipers. The Highland Fling is as popular as the Highland dress, and the Prince of Wales' sons dance beautifully, as indeed their father and the Duke of Edinburgh did before them. The Prince of Wales, even now, with middle age and adipose upon him, can dance the Highland fling gracefully, "loupin'" and "skreechin'" all his might. No wonder the Scots like the Guelphs. "They've been makin' o' us," remarked a Ballater shopkeeper, in a burst of confidence.

AUGUSTIN DALY'S next large venture will be a production of "Midsummer Night's Dream," but it will not be brought out until the autumn of 1888, perhaps later. It will be the dramatic event of the time, whenever it takes place.

"It Saved My Life"

Is a common expression, often heard from those who have realized, by personal use, the curative powers of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. ✱✱ I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died from lung troubles.—E. Bragdon, Palestine, Tex.

About six months ago I had a severe Hemorrhage of the Lungs, brought on by a distressing Cough, which deprived me of sleep and rest. I had used various cough balsams and expectorants, without obtaining relief. A friend advised me to try

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

I did so, and am happy to say that it helped me at once. By continued use this medicine cured my cough, and, I am satisfied, saved my life.—Mrs. E. Coburn, 18 Second st., Lowell, Mass.

I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for over a year, and sincerely believe I should have been in my grave, had it not been for this medicine. It has cured me of a dangerous affection of the lungs, for which I had almost despaired of ever finding a remedy.—D. A. McMullen, Windsor, Province of Ontario.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life. Two years ago I took a very severe Cold which settled on my lungs. I consulted physicians, and took the remedies they prescribed, but failed to obtain relief until I began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Two bottles of this medicine completely restored my health.—Lizzie M. Allen, West Lancaster, Ohio. ††

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practically impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc. producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Monday Evening, Oct. 24, 1887.

Warner's Safe Cure 90 cts, at Herring's Drug Store. doc12tc

The battery were over at the Rifle ranges on Saturday for class firing.

The str. Western Slope left for Victoria this morning with 4000 cases of salmon.

The Colonist has "got em again," it now calls Victoria the "land of the rising sun."

Attention is called to the advertisement announcing the changes in the sailing of the steamer Rainbow.

The str. Dunsmuir has gone over to Nanaimo for another load of coal. The cold weather is livening up this line of business.

The Winnipeg city council has offered to take $150,000 worth of Manitoba bonds so as to assist in completing the R. R. V. R.

A horse tried a race with the train this afternoon on Front street and kept the lead for some distance, much to the disgust of the engineer.

The Battery will parade to-night in the Drill Shed at 8 o'clock. Every members is particularly requested to attend as a march-out is contemplated.

The str. Irving left for Chilliwhack yesterday morning with a large cargo of freight and nearly 100 Siwashes homeward bound from their summer's work.

Seven carloads of freight arrived yesterday and 5 carloads went out to-day. Freight is both arriving and departing in larger quantities than during the week ending the 21st.

The steamer Irving arrived down from Chilliwhack this morning with the following cargo; 50 tons of hay and grain, 40 sheep, 14 hogs and 1 horse. She leaves at 7 to-morrow morning for Chilliwhack.

A Siwash got a little too full of the ardent on Saturday and was promptly run in by the police. This morning a fine of $5 was imposed morning on him with a warning not to get into the same trouble again.

It is reported that Judge Haynes of Semilkameen has sold out his ranch and stock to a syndicate of Americans. If this report is correct it will be one of the largest ranch and cattle sales that has taken place in this province.

It is useless to attempt the cure of any disorder, if the blood is allowed to remain impure. Neuralgia and rheumatism are traceable to a disordered condition of the blood, and in numberless cases have been cured by taking a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The salmon are still running in fair numbers but are not in any great demand except for local wants. A few boats are yet engaged in the fishing and will continue to fish as long as the demand for salmon in this city and Vancouver will warrant a fair return for the labor.

The str. Rithet left at noon yesterday for Victoria with 3000 cases canned salmon and 60 head of cattle. She left Victoria on Saturday morning but was obliged to tie up in Plumper's Pass for a few hours owing to the wind and sea both being high. Capt. Irving had charge of the Rithet on this trip.

Sending British Columbia.

Sir John Macdonald gave a dinner party last night in honor of Hon. Mr. Robson, of the British Columbia government, at "Earncliffe." The gentlemen present were the Hon. Mr. Robson (British Columbia), Sir Charles Tupper, G.C.M.G., the Hon. Mr. Bowell, Sir Adolphie Caron, K.C.M.G., the Hon. Mr. Costigan, the Hon. Mr. White, the Hon. Mr. Thompson, the Hon. Foster, the Hon. Mr. Clemow, Col. Baker, M.P.P. (British Columbia), and Mr. J. M. Courtney.—Ottawa Citizen, Oct. 15th.

Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescences, as many have testified who have tried it.

Rail and Steamboat.

The eastern train, which was nearly two hours late, came direct to this city to-day. There were 33 passengers passengers aboard for the steamer Yosemite, which waited the arrival of the train. Shortly after the arrival of the train the Yosemite cleared for Victoria with 55 passengers, 75 tons of freight and 5000 cases of salmon from the Bon Accord cannery.

Indian Agent.

We learn that Mr. Chas. Todd has received the appointment of Indian agent at Metlakahtla, in place of the late J. C. Hughes. Mr. Todd at one time occupied the position of superintendent of provincial police, and his extensive acquaintance with the country and especially with the Indians, and his experience in the administration of the law, ought to be of great advantage to him in his new position. He ought to make a very efficient Indian agent.

New Post Offices.

On November 1st a post office will be opened at Sicamous to be called Sicamous, P. O.; an office to be called Enderby will be opened at Lambly and a new office will be opened at Mr. A. Huck's ranch in Surrey municipality, to be called Surrey Centre. The name of the post office at Priests Valley has been changed to Vernon. The mail to and from Surrey Centre will go by the Hall's Prairie and Clover Valley route which will arrive every Friday and depart every Saturday, instead of on Thursday as heretofore.

Journal of Commerce Special.

Dr. A. E. Gray arrived in the city yesterday from Vancouver, and will remain here some days obtaining materials for the British Columbia number of the San Francisco Journal of Commerce which is to appear shortly. The doctor reports that a large edition of this special number has been taken at Victoria and Vancouver, and he thinks Westminster a place of sufficient importance to justify him in expecting equally liberal patronage. He is accompanied by Mr. A. D. Gihon, a San Francisco artist, who is taking sketches for the illustrations of the special number.

Something very Different.

The Colonist of yesterday prints the following telegram, dated Ottawa, Oct. 22nd: "In conversation with your corresponent, Hon. John Robson said he thought it was rather hard that at the very moment he was doing his best with the Dominion ministers to clear the way for the Westminster Southern Railway he was accused of 'giving it away.' He said he was not suprised at the Times and Guardian seizing upon untruthful items which have appeared upon the subject but he was surprised to find the Westminster council apparently so ready to believe this statement. 'Why,' said Mr. Robson, 'There are few men more interested personally in that road than I am, and I venture to think it has few more loyal and earnest supporters." There is no reason to doubt that the statements of the provincial secretary, as published in the Free Press, were wholly inaccurate and entirely misleading.

John Hays, Credit P. O., says: "His shoulder was so lame for nine months that he could not raise his hand to his head, but by the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil the pain and lameness disappeared, and although three months has elapsed, he has not had an attack of it since."

Personal.

W. B. Wilson, of Vancouver, is in the city.

J. C. Henderson, of Chilliwhack, arrived in the city this afternoon.

N. H. Bain, of Ladners, was in the city to-day on a short business visit.

A. E. DeBeck, of the Brunette Saw Mills Co. has gone over to Victoria.

S. S. Arnold, representing Todhunter & Mitchell, of Toronto, is in the city.

Alex. Ewen has gone down to Victoria to look after several large shipments of salmon he is making to England.

Mrs. Harry Abbott, of Vancouver, accompanied by several ladies and gentlemen, was in the city this afternoon.

Rev. Father McGuicken has returned to the province from Rome and is expected to arrive in the city in about three weeks.

R. T. Williams, of Victoria, arrived in the city to-day, having driven over the road from Ladners He returns to Victoria by way of Vancouver.

Dr. Fagan, of Dublin, Ireland, the newly appointed physician of St. Mary's Hospital, has arrived in the city and is stopping at the Colonial. Besides his duties as physician and surgeon to the hospital, Dr. Fagan intends taking up private practice also.

Guests at the Colonial: Fred. G. White, John Elliot, Langley; A. M. Beattie, W. B. Wilson, Capt. D. L. Chalmers, J. C. Cowderoy, Vancouver; Robt. Hearn, North Bend; J. J. Sears, Kamloops; A. Lyons, Toronto; Geo. Cosins, Aldergrove; R. T. Williams, Victoria; A. B. Gray, S. S. Arnold, Toronto.

We regret to learn that Wm. J. Davis, of Maple Ridge, has been lying ill for some time at Vancouver. He has had to undergo two or three surgical operations. Mr. Davis wishes us to say that his illness has so embarrassed him that he would be very thankful if persons owing him would forward the amount of their indebtedness without delay.

Mr. Peter Vermett, Hochelaga, P. Q., writes: "Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured me of Rheumatism after I tried many medicines to no purpose. It is a good medicine." Just think of it—you can relieve the twinges of rheumatism, or the most painful attack of neuralgia—you can check a cough, and heal bruised or broken skin, with a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, costing only 25 cents.

A Fractious Bullock.

Yesterday morning while a herd of VanVolkenburgh's cattle were being driven to Vancouver one of them a magnificent bullock, was found to be lame and it was considered best to leave it behind. On attempting to turn it back the animal commenced to act strangely and made a number of fierce attacks on the horses and also rushed at several foot passengers, who, however, managed to escape without injury. The animal finally took its stand on vaacant lot opposite Mrs Major's residence from where it glared defiantly at all passers by. As it was church time and many people were passing to and fro it was decided to kill the bullock in case some serious accident should occur. One of the men was despatched for a rifle and returning shot it through the brain, killing it instantly. The carcase was then conveyed to the slaughter house and on being butchered it was found that its right hip had been very severely bruised, which hud made the animal fractious.

MOST EXCRUCIATING are the twinges which rack the muscles and joints of the rheumatic. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, by promoting increased action of the kidneys, by which the blood is more effectually depurated, removes through the natural channels certain acrid elements in the circulation which produce rheumatism and gout. The medicine is also a fine laxative antibilious medicine and general corrective.

Southern Railway et Alla.

What the Provincial Secretary Said to the Ottawa Citizen.

The Ottawa Citizen of the 17th inst. publishes a report of an interview with Hon. John Robson on various subjects, from which we make the following extracts: Being asked whether this province had made much progress since confederation, he said: "Comparatively so; but to us on the Pacific confederation meant little without the C.P.R. Since the completion of that gigantic work its effects for good have been very marked so far as British Columbia is concerned. Without the railway we were isolated: through it we are in real, practical union with the rest of the Dominion, and in touch with the world." After stating that the population of the province may now safely be estimated at 80,000, and that most of the many tourists visiting the country went away delighted, he said: "The coal is flourishing. The placer gold mining shows some improvements; but although our quartz ledges are believed to be rich and very extensive, very little has been accomplished in the way of actual development. Capital is the great want, and, indeed, it is doubtful whether any very extensive quartz mining will take place in Cariboo, the great quartz centre, until railway communication shall have materially reduced the expense of working the ledges with which that part of the province is known to abound. I may state that a quartz ledge of great richness is now being worked at Illicillewaet by Mr. G. B. Wright." Referring to the Cariboo Railway he said: "The province is not in a position to undergo so large a work alone; but we hope to obtain substantial federal aid, as the road would prove of great federal as well as provincial advantage. British Columbia has been, not inaptly, called a 'sea of mountains'; but in the trough of the 'seas' lie great timber and agricultural resources, while in the crest of the waves are to be found unbounded stores of the precious metals. Taxpayers in the old provinces are accustomed to talk about what British Columbia cost the Dominion; but let the federal government only aid in opening up our stores of latent wealth, and it will soon be found that the Pacific province is the richest and most profitable member of the confederation. Even already its excessive contribution to the federal treasury in the form of customs duties would more than pay the interest on all that has been expended upon it." In reply to the question whether this was the only the province had in view, the hon. gentleman said: "No; there is the extension of the E. & N. R. to the head of Vancouver Island, and the Shuswap & Okanagan. And then there is the Southern Railway, running from Westminster to connect with the American railway system. The survey for the extension of the island line is in progress. The survey of the Shuswap & Okanagan Railway was made last year. This road will be an important feeder to the C. P. R. by supplying flour for return cargoes for the Trans-Pacific line of steamers. It is believed that the Westminster Southern will also act as a feeder to the C. P. R." When asked what business had brought him to Ottawa, and what progress he had made, the provincial secretary replied: "The first of your questions I would rather not answer. As to the second, I may say generally that so far I have been met in a spirit which encourages me to anticipate satisfactory results."

Mrs. A. Nelson, Brantford, writes: "I was a sufferer from Chronic Dyspepsia for eleven years. Always after eating, an intense burning sensation in the stomach, at times very distressing, caused a drooping and languid feeling, which would last for several hours after eating. I was recommended by Mr. Popplewell, Chemist, of our city, to try Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, and I am thankful to say that I have not been better for years; that burning sensation and languid feeling has all gone, and food does not lie heavy on my stomach. Others of my family have used it with best results."

Saturday Night's Despatches.

ATTEMPTED EVICTION DEFEATED.

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—An attempt was made to evict widow Faley at Bally Korongre, county Wexford, to-day, but the evictors were repulsed, and the eviction was not accomplished. Twenty-eight men assembled within the cottage and undertook to defend it. The police and emergency men attacked the stronghold, but after being frighthfully burned and nearly suffocated with vitriol and boiling tar, and scared with red hot iron, they withdrew amid the jeers and laughter of the occupants of the house and of the crowd outside. The military has been summoned and another attempt to storm the house will be made.

Thomas J. Condon, M. P. for Tipperary, and a prominent member of the League, was arrested at Mitchellstown to-day for intimidating a witness.

THE INHOSPITABLE PRAIRIE.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 22.—Reports received here show that the snow storm is raging throughout the state generally and in portions of Dakota.

READING, Pa., Oct. 22.—A snow storm prevailed in the northern section of this county this morning, being the second fall of snow in this vicinity in the last twenty-four hours. At Tobyhanna, Pa., the entire Pocono range was covered to the depth of several inches, the thermometer registering 20 degrees above zero.
