The Great Mystery.

There has been nothing talked about in this city for some days but the mystery connected with the death of H. Benhayon. The newspapers have been loaded down with pages of testimony, taken before the coroner's jury, which have been greedily devoured by all those who have the time for such work. To the more busy part of the community the condensations which, while following steadily the narrative, present all the points in a clear and succinct shape, have been in the nature of a boon. The terrible story cannot be said to present American features. It reads like something that had happened in Paris or London. Many of the characters who figure in it are not easily recognizable as the products of our civilization. The sensation caused by the death of Benhayon depends an the light in which it is viewed in connection with a murder equally starling, committed some time ago. Benhayon is the brother of Mrs. Bowers, for the murder of whom by poison J. Milton Bowers, her husband, is now under sentence of death. The motive for the atrocious deed was supposed to be a life insurance to the extent of about seventeen thousand dollars on Mrs. Bowers' life, made payable to the husband. The confession alleged to have been left by Benhayon states that it was he and not the husband who poisoned his sister, and his motive was to get the same insurance, which had been transferred to him. The first aspect of the case was a suicide brought about either by remorse or the loss of a memorandum-book in which the evidence of his crime was noted, the agent used for the destruction of life being cyanide of potassium. If this should be finally determined to be the true version of the case, Bowers, who was convicted on circumstantial evidence, will necessarily be pardoned, and will receive the $17,000 for which his wife's life was insured. But the theory of the suicide has been strongly doubted from the beginning. There is no legal evidence that Mrs. Bowers ever transferred the policies on her life to her brother, Benhayon. The manner in which the body was found suggested the idea that death was not caused by himself. He appeared to have been carefully laid out. There was no disturbance observable in the apartment. There is also a good deal of mystery connected with the hiring of the room. Persons more or less incomprehensible appear at various stages of the thrilling drama. Cyanide of potassium, a few days before the murder or suicide, was obtained by one of these persons. On the other hand, experts affirm that the confession of Benhayon is in his handwriting. If these conclusions should be established the theory of suicide would be greatly strengthened. But this class of testimony no longer holds the place in the courts formerly accorded to it. Beside, his mother denies vehemently that the confession was in her son's handwriting. Whatever may be the solution of the tangled and bloody skein, it is quite clear that the curtain has been lifted on scenes, tragedies and actors of which the public heretofore had little knowledge. If the popular notion should be realized, we have among us individuals quite as bad as the Borgias, to whom human life is nothing when it stands in their way. A loose system of life insurance, in this case amounting, as already stated, to $17,000, is the thread by which the terrible narrative hangs, no matter from what point it is viewed. It is that pile of gold which, according to the verdict of the courts, induced Bowers to poison his wife. Again, in the suicide theory, it is assigned as the cause which prompted Benhayon to poison his sister. It will finally fall to the condemned Bowers, if under the new resolutions he should be given his liberty. It is quite evident, no matter whatever is the outcome, that something will have to be done to check these loose forms of life insurance which offer premiums for crimes of the most atrocious character.—*S. LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

THE HALLETT SCANDEL.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Captain Selwyn has instituted legal proceedings against the newspaper which published an article in reference to the Hughes-Hallett scandal, calling him a coward for not meeting Colonel Hallett in a duel. The affair will now probably be thoroughly investigated.

Lord Salisbury, Henry Matthews, the Home Secretary, and Sir Charles Warren, the chief commissioner of police, were in consultation to-day concerning the condition of the unemployed poor. They fear Socialist riots on Lord Mayor's day, November 9th, and are devising means to prevent any disturbance.

THE ALLIANCE STRENGTHENED.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Spain has joined the alliance of the central European powers, Gemany, Austria and Italy. This fact is not generally known, but it is very significant, and may have important results in the Mediterranean littoral, and on international relations in that region.

AN OLD STORY RE-TOLD.

NEWHAVEN, Conn., Nov. 4.—A singular and romantic story came out today in the course of a legal hearing before Judge Andrews in the Superior Court. A motion was made to sell certain stocks belonging to the estate of Robert Sproule, late of British Columbia. Sproule was the agent for a Connecticut company engaged in working a mine on the other side of the American line. He was charged with murder, and the company advanced him $1800 to defend himself, and he gave his stock to the company as security. He was sentenced to be hanged, and after five respites by the Canadian government, the sentence was carried into execution. It is claimed now the government hanged the wrong man.

ANOTHER CAPE WAR.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A despatch from Durban (Natal), says it is reported that a skirmish had taken place at Dinizula between the natives and the British troops, in which three of the latter were killed.

A NEWSPAPER CANARD.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—A bold attempt was made this evening to blow up Chief Justice Waite with what has the appearance of being an infernal machine. The machine was delivered to him at 6:30 p.m. by a special post office mail messenger. The box is about six inches long and half inch in depth. It had printed on one end, "Beauties of Tennyson," and on the cover was addressed as follows: "To the Hon. Chief Justice Waite, No. 1415, I street, N. W. Important papers." The box contained a glass tube in the shape of a syphon about eight inches long, and bent about three inches from the end. The tube is three-eights of an inch in diameter, or thereabouts, the size of an ordinary percussion cap, filled with giant powder extending for 1¼ inches, on the top of which is another cap. To this cap is attached a small wire and to that is attached a second wire. This second wire was attached to the top of the box by a hook fastened to the top of the box. The remainder of the tube contains a dark colored liquid. Around the shorter end of the tube is a wrapping of white paper, held in position by mucilage, the contents of which is as yet unknown. When Chief Justice Waite received the box, he immediately opened it. By a providential dispensation, the wire which was attached to the cap, became detached, and the lid of the box was removed without pressing upon the cap. It is supposed that in stamping the box the wire had become detached, thus saving the life of the chief justice. The police were notified of the receipt of the alleged infernal machine, and it is now at the police headquarters. The police claim to have some knowledge of the mailing of the box, and say that a man was seen about 4 p.m. addressing the box to the chief justice in the city postoffice. They have no accurate description of the man, and beyond the facts stated can give no further information.

LATER.—S. G. Hopkins, the journalist who professed to have discovered a plot to blow up Chief Justice Waite, confessed this afternoon that he concocted the whole scheme for the purpose of selling the story to the newspapers.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

CAFFEREL DISGRACED.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Gen. Cafferel has been ordered to divest himself of all his decorations. His trial comes off on Monday next.

A REWARD OFFERED.

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—The police have offered a reward for the arrest of the persons who originated a report of the emperor's death on Thursday. The chamber of commerce has also offered a reward.

A NOTED JESUIT DEAD.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 5.—Father John Bapst, a noted Jesuit, is dead. With other Jesuits he was a refugee from Europe in 1848. He was assigned to Portland, Me., and at the time of the Know-nothing troubles his house was ransacked and he was stripped of his clothing, tarred, feathered and nearly beaten to death. The citizens of Portland, to partly atone for the outrage perpetrated, presented him with a gold watch, to accept which he received special permission from the superior of the order in Rome. He was the only Jesuit priest in America who wore a gold watch.

OGLESBY WON'T INTERFERE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Emily Wilson, sister of Governor Oglesby of Illinois, who has just returned from visiting him, says the governor is fully resolved not to interfere in the anarchists' cases.

THE FESTIVE TYPOS.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Compositors in this city have gone out on strike. The strike has spread to newsboys, and the papers here are badly crippled.

A DRUNKEN CAPTAIN RESPONSIBLE FOR THE LOSS OF THE STR. VERNON.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 5.—The fact was made known to-day that the loss of the propellor Vernon last Saturday with forty or more lives, was owing to the captain's drukenness. Alex. Stone, only survivor of the disaster, said today the captain was drunk most of the time Friday night, which was the night that the steamer was lost. "The captain was as drunk as I ever saw him, and he kept taking drink every little while. If the captain had been sober I don't believe the vessel would have been lost, for any sober man would have turned back when he saw how badly she rolled in the big seas."

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

WATSONVILLE, Cal., Nov. 5.—Henry Huntsman, a constable of Pajaro township, while hunting in the mountains near Corralitos, yesterday, was accidentally and fatally shot by his brother, who was riding in the same wagon.

AN APPEAL FOR THE ANARCHISTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—The following telegram from local anarchists left here this morning: "A. R. Parsons and others, Cook County jail, Chicago. California defense fund association have resolved that all of you sign a paper to Governor Oglesby for commutation of sentence. We urge you to make this sacrifice for the sake of friends and cause. (Signed) Charles Burgman, secretary." It has been urged upon all in sympathy with the anarchists to give financial aid to the families of the condemned men, whether they be executed or imprisoned.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

A HARD GLOVE CONTEST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—A terrific glove contest took place at one of the athletic clubs last night, between Geo. Smith, of this city, and Jack Riordan, of San Jose. Smith weighed 138 pounds and Riordan 148. At nearly 10:30 o'clock the men stepped into the ring. Riordan from call of time in the first round until the close forced the fighting. In the 8th round Smith won first blood, giving Riordan a cutting blow on the mouth. The fighting went fiercely on until in the 53rd round Riordan was credited with 2 knock-down blows. The fight ended at the 61st round, and was declared a draw. It then became known that Smith had broken his left hand in the 21st round and his right in the 41st, but he never mentioned the fact.

O'BRIEN TO DRESS IN CONVICT'S GARB.

DUBLIN, Nov. 5.—The Tulamore prison authorities have ordered that O'Brien shall wear the uniform prescribed by regulations for convicts.

SULLIVAN TAKES TO BRAGGING.

QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 5.—John L. Sullivan expressed himself as very indignant at the boastful language used by Kilrain and Mitchell. He says that he wants to fight both of them in the same ring. He declares he will come home champion or die.

ORDERED TO CHICAGO.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 5.—Two companies of the Sixth infantry stationed here left this morning for Chicago, where they have been ordered. Their going is quite generally regarded as having some connection with the coming execution of the 7 anarchists there on the 11th inst.

WEIGHTY SIGNATURES.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Among those who have signed a petition to the governor for the commutation of the anarchists' sentence are C. W. Gouldy, Democratic leader and general counsel of the Northwestern Railway; S. P. McConnell, a prominent member of the bar; S. O. Gregory, ex-president of the Iroquois club; J. K. Boysen, Democratic nominee for state's attorney; Lyman Trumbull, ex U. S. senator; W. G. Ewing, U. S. district attorney; T. S. Winston, ex-minister to Persia; Judge Moran, of appellate court; Lyman J. Gage, president of the First National bank; Marvin Hughitt, president of the Northwestern Railroad; and Judge Baker, of the criminal court.

THE UMBRIA IN STORMY WEATHER.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Umbria, on which Jay Gould is a passenger, arrived at Queenstown to-day. A hurricane was experienced on Wednesday and the steamer shipped a number of tremendous seas. Five steerage passengers were injured during the storm. In an interview Gould said that he suffered no inconvenience from the storm.

LEPROSY IN THE QUAKER CITY.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—The board of health has discovered that two well developed cases of leprosy exist in this city, but owing to the obstinacy of a German physician, under whose care they are, they cannot be located.

Daily British Columbian

Saturday Evening, Nov. 3, 1887.

From the very confusing and contradictory reports that come from the east respecting the R. R. V. Railway, it is somewhat difficult to ascertain the true position of affairs. Evidently the arrangement made with Mr. Holt was broken off at the last moment, and the whole scheme is now in a muddle. The contractors have not been paid for work done, and the rails are lying scattered all the way from Port Arthur. Many people seem to suspect Mr. Norquay of insincerity.

One of the American sealers whose vessel was seized in Behring's Sea said the other day to a newspaper reporter that the result of the government's action would probably be the placing of American sealers under the Canadian flag. It has been shown by experience that British vessels get more consideration from the U. S. government in the seal fisheries than American vessels. While the Canadian schooners have been ordered to be released, the American schooners still remain in custody, with very little prospect of either release or compensation for the serious losses sustained. The U. S. government feels secure in ignoring the rights of its own subjects, but does not dare to trifle with those of a great power like Britain. If it be true, as stated in a despatch yesterday, that the new admiral of the north Pacific will take war vessels to Behring's Sea and resist by force the illegal seizure of any British sealers, the situation may become uncommonly interesting next season. It is not probable, however, that any hostile acts will be committed on either side over the seals. After what has already passed, U. S. authorities will hardly be insane enough to repeat the high-handed proceedings of the past two years in Behring's Sea.

A case was recently tried at Edmonton, N. W. T., which gives one the impression that the half-breeds beyond the mountains have a very confused notion of the value of human life or the ties of relationship. Two men were tried for the murder of Marie Courtereille. The two men were father and son and the victim was the father's wife. It appears that she had shown signs of insanity, and had manifested a dispositson to kill her husband and step-son for the avowed purpose of eating them. For a long time she had to be watched day and night. Finally they tied her with a rope; but she seems to have been strong enough to break loose in spite of their precautions. One night she got away and grabbed her husband violently. The two men asked her if she was brave enough to die, to which she replied in the affirmative. They then told her they would pray for her when they came to the first church, and pay enough to get her past trouble in the next world; and with this generous assurance they murdered her with axes in a most brutal way. The two men were found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to six years at hard labor. The sentence seems to us altogether out of proportion to the offence—they ought to have been hanged.

After the adjournment of the interprovincial conference, the delegates were entertained at dinner by Hon. Mr. Mercier, premier of Quebec. After dinner a number of speeches were made referring to the work accomplished. From these speeches we gather that the conference has been very successful. Hon. Mr. Mowat said he had never been connected with a body of men who manifested more ability, candor or patriotism than the members of the conference. The deliberation seem to have been carried on with the utmost harmony. Speaking as to the subjects discussed, Hon. Mr. Norquay said: "Amongst the numerous propositions of vital importance which are comprised in the series of resolutions unanimously adopted by this conference and signed by every one of its members, I am happy to state that the autonomy of the provinces has been most positively asserted as the real basis of our form of government and the only guarantee of its maintenance. The proposed modifications upon which we have agreed will no doubt meet the views of the intelligent portion of the community and the true friends of our common country. The very difficult question of the financial position of the provinces and their respective claims has been satisfactorily dealt with, and after a thorough and unprejudiced discussion of the matter the delegates to the conference have come to a conclusion which, if carried out, will meet the requirements of the various provinces without detriment to the general interests of the Dominion." It is stated that the resolutions passed by the conference will be made public in a few days, when the people will have an opportunity to judge of the wisdom of the conclusions reached. It is not unlikely that these resolutions may form material for considerable discussion in the Canadian house of commons when it next assembles.

The Saloon's Kindred Evils.

The saloon element does not stand as only a representative of intemperance in strong drink, but it is representative of immorality and crime. A temperance movement directed solely against the saloon will fall short of accomplishing the desired aim. There are kindred evils that must be removed—evils that support the saloon and with a subtler, though no less strong influence, enter places accorded respectability, and are thus shielded from impeachment or protest. Immorality, in whatever garb of respectability it may be clothed, and the more concealed the worse, is an evil forming the basis on which every saloon is established. There is a subtle influence pervading the entire social fabric which, at least tacitly, favors the saloon because both are joined in immorality, each supplementing the other. The temperance movement has been a blessing, yet it is not broad enough. It should be a moral movement, bent on removing the social disorders which underlie the saloon. These are the fields from which the saloons grow as grain. The removal of the saloon will not entirely remove them, but their destruction will be the destruction of every vestige of intemperance. It is in this social substrata that the whisky interest is entrenching itself. Placing its faith in this, it has moved along in the line of consolidation and organization, resulting in a national union, a kind of civil or political compact, presenting to existing parties the support of its voting and financial strength. As a political factor its strength is becoming most alarming, and the tendency of political parties to court its support by heeding its dictates is humiliating and disheartening. Members of both prominent parties have endured much hoping for favorable action by their respective organizations; but a feeling of disappointment is clearly discernible, and the indications point strongly toward a general breaking away of the moral elements of both parties, and the formation of a new power that will embrace the reformatory measures demanded. Either political party has the opportunity of gaining this support, and the party that will embrace the reforms will receive a stronger aid than can be given by the saloon, for the moral element predominates. But the reform must be radical and deep. It must reach beyond the saloon, and destroy the power behind the throne. Chicago Current.

Prohibition's Progress.

The rapid progress of the prohibition movement is a puzzler to politicians and a surprise to everybody; yet, after all, the difference between temperance and prohibition is not so great as many people imagine. Whenever a man makes up his mind that he can get along better without whisky than with it—that it is not the necessity and benefit which he thought it to be, but wholly unnecessary and a positive evil—it is not to be wondered at that he should shortly be asking himself why the manufacture and sale of an article productive of so little good and capable of such infinite mischief should not be stopped. What's the use of making that which ought not to be used? Such is the perversity of human nature that he reasons wholly from his own experience and observation and not from the experience or observation of his neighbor, who believes in drinking all the whiskey he can comfortably carry, and, of course, sees things in a different light. It will be noticed, moreover, that while "sumptuary laws," as the party platforms used to call them, have lost their old-time terror, and all good citizens admit that the whisky traffic must be rigorously regulated, so the question of statutory interference with "personal liberty" of the citizen is losing much of its weight. We have all known temperance men who, having no moral scruples as to the moderate use of liquors, have nevertheless abandoned the indulgence altogether as a protest against the immoderate use and unwholesome example to the intemperate. It is nothing uncommon nowadays for temperate men to say that they are ready to make still further sacrifice of their personal liberty for the sake of the general welfare, and consent to an absolute prohibition of a traffic which to a majority of its patrons is the worst possible investment they can make. This is a growing sentiment, and it cannot be stopped. The recruiting officers of the prohibition party are multiplying every day, and though it may be many years before the new crusade accomplishes its full object, it is already a force that is bound to command the respect, even if it is slow to secure the indorsement of the old party leaders.—Ex.

Martin Luther's Prohibition Prayer

The man who first brewed beer was a pest for Germany. Food must be dear in our land, for the horses eat up all our oats, and the peasants drink all our barley in the form of beer. I have survived the end of genuine beer, for it has now become small beer in every sense; and I have prayed to God that he might destroy the whole beer-brewing business, and the first beer-brewer I have often cursed. There is enough barley destroyed in the breweries to feed all Germany.

Mrs. Annie Boyd, of Grand Rapids, Mich., has recovered $9,500 damages from a rumseller who sold her husband liquor, under the influence of which he killed a man and was sentenced to prison for life.

Scrofula

Is one of the most fatal scourges which afflict mankind. It is often inherited, but may be the result of improper vaccination, mercurial poison, uncleanliness, and various other causes. Chronic Sores, Ulcers, Abscesses, Cancerous Humors, and, in some cases, Emaciation and Consumption, result from a scrofulous condi*tion of the blood. This disease can be* cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"I inherited a scrofulous condition of the blood, which caused a derangement of my whole system. After taking less than four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla I am and, for the past year, have not found it necessary to use any medicine whatever. I am now in better health, and stronger, than ever before.—O. A. Willard, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass.

I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores for five years; but, after using a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the sores healed, and I have now good health.—Elizabeth Warnock, 54 Appleton street, Lowell, Mass.

Some months ago I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores on my leg. The limb was badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy failed until I used Ayer's Sarsaparilla. By taking three bottles of this medicine the sores have been healed, and my health is restored. I am grateful for the good it has done me.—Mrs. Ann O'Brian, 158 Sullivan st., New York. ††

IMPORTANT AND PEREMPTORY

Auction Sale

—OF—

FARMING LANDS.

We will sell by Auction at our Sales-Rooms,

Cordova St., Vancouver, B. C.,

—ON—

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 16TH,

AT 7 P. M.,

By order of HENRY MATHERS, Esq., of New Westminster, nearly

6000 ACRES

CHOICE FARMING LANDS

In Township 14, on the South of the Fraser River, District of New Westminster.

The Property consists of 640 acres in Section 8, 640 acres in Section 9, 640 acres in Sec. 16, 640 acres in Sec. 17, 309 acres in Sec. 18, 620 acres in Sec. 19, 560 acres in Sec. 20, 640 acres in Sec. 21, 285 acres in Sec. 27, 640 acres in Sec. 28, and 240 acres in Sec. 29.

Owing to a combination of circumstances the property has to be realized upon this season, and this is a rare opportunity to obtain valuable land either to settle upon or for speculation. Township 14 is situated between Langley and Matsqui, two of the most flourishing settlements in the Province, and the soil is the richest of prairie and alder bottom, than which there is no better farming land on the continent. Some of the land is situated on the banks of the river and at the present time a road is being built through the property from the river to the Yale wagon road. It will be sold in block or sub-divisions to suit purchasers. The terms are extremely liberal, viz.: one-fourth cash, the balance in five yearly instalments with interest at 7 per cent. Title is the Crown Grants.

In view of the steadily increasing value of land in this part of the Province, we would respectfully call the attention of farmers and speculators to this sale.

NOVELTIES IN JEWELRY.

ONYX link bracelets are still in favor.

MUSSEL shells of silver make unique salt holders.

CHAINWORK collarttes are now being worn to a great extent.

LAWN tennis rackets of oxidized silver are fashionable lace pins.

A STAR of sapphire in a daisy of diamonds is a rich design in brooches.

IN SCARF pins, those of black oxidized silver with diamonds, are most stylish.

LINK cuff buttons of platina and gold checker-board patterns still meet with favor.

AN ATTRACTIVE lace pin is a golden shell partially open, showing a pearl in its center.

SAILORS knots, Roman knots, and lover's knots are the prevailing fancies for hairpin tops.

A GOLDEN street-lamp top, with a diamond for the light, makes an attractive scarf pin.

AN edelweiss of white enamel, with a diamond center, is a handsome design for brooches.

A PLEASING effect in pendants is obtained by setting a topaz carved in clusters of diamonds and pearls.

GIRDLES composed of heavy links of onyx, with pendants of he same material, are now being produced.

IN rings a large turquoise, set in a cluster of diamonds on a double wire shank, is a pleasing pattern.

A MINIATURE barrel filled with pearls and hanging in the center of a coil of ropes is a novelty in brooches.

A NEW design in pendants is a double star of diamonds and sapphires, in the center of whi h rests an opal.

A BEAUTIFUL pendant is heart-shaped and contains about twenty diamonds, the largest of which hangs from the center.

THE latest in pendants for chatelaines are small riticules, the tops of which are drawn tight and hold half a dozen pearls.

NOTHING is more appropriate for second mourning wear than sardonyx lace pins set in flower designs, with sprays of pearls.

IN a superb painting of the president's wife, recently seen, she is represented as wearing a blue enameled pansy brooch with a diamond center.

AN attractive belt, recently seen, consisted of a series of oblong medallions, one-half of which were plain and the alternate ones decorated.

AMONG the great number of parlor ornaments recently introduced is a miniature basket of champagne, in which is set a small cloak. The basket is gold, the bottles enameled and their corks silver.

Marriage as a Partnership.

Marriage is still only too often a bargain, but at least it is no longer an entirely one-sided bargain. It is tending toward the only true ideal of life-long companionship—a partnership on equal terms, with equal give-and-take on both sides. Women no longer feel bound to render that implicit obedience which was considered de rigueur in our great-grandmothers' days, and men no longer universally demand it. Husbands, moreover, are beginning to learn that their prime duty is not "to look after" their wives. The very sentence is indicative of the most ghastly misapprehension of the whole ideal of matrimony. The general feeling of society condemns a man who lives to rule his wife on the same principles as a Pasha rules his harem. And indeed the whole scheme of modern life makes it practically impossible for him to to so. A married woman enjoys, as a rule, complete liberty during the life-long day, and even at night it is frequently impossible for a busy man to escort his wife. Thus everything turns on the relations between the married couple. If a girl is really in love with the man she marries she may be trusted with any amount of subsequent freedom. If not, not; and therefore we say that the injudicious and worldly parents who are responsible for the great majority of ill-assorted unions are also responsible for the many evil results which are to be seen in society at this day. For it is a fact that many American girls are as much forced into marriage as the French girl, whose husband is selected while she is yet in her convent. Not by main force, no—but by the whole tone of her education, by the exaggerated fear of being an old maid, by the obvious necessity of making way for a younger sister, by the persistent scheming of her parents, and by her own longing for emancipation, for marriage undoubtedly does mean emancipation to most women; and it is precisely those who look forward to it most who are likely to make the worst use of it.

Shipping Gold to Europe.

When one recalls the millions upon millions of dollars in gold that annually seek Europe to provide for the necessities of our import trade, the question of how gold is shipped to Europe becomes a curious and interesting one. The Bank of America is the largest single shipper of gold abroad. Shipments are made in stout kegs, very like the ordinary beer keg. Every one contains $50,000 in coin or in bar gold. The latter is the favorite for these shipments, since the government has permitted the sub-treasury to exchange bar for gold coin, as coin in $1,000,000 shipment is liable to a loss by abrasion of from eight to twenty ounces, or from $128 to $320; and the bars only lose about three-fourths of that amount. Where coin is sent double eagles are preferred. They are put in stout canvas bags, each bag containing 125 double eagles, or $5,000, and ten bags fill each keg.

About the only precaution taken against tampering with kegs is a treatment of the keg ends technically known as "red taping." Four holes are bored at equal intervals to the projecting rim of the staves above the head. Red tape is run through these, crossing on the keg's head, the ends meeting at the centre, where they are sealed to the head by the trade t wax and stamped with the consignor's name. The average insurance is about $1,500 per $1,000,000. Then there is an expense of $2 a keg for packing and cartage aboard ship, or $200 for the same sum, and the liability to loss by abrasion, whatever it may prove to be. There are great Wall street firms shipping from $25,000,000 to $100,000,000 annually. Some of these have for years insured themselves, and assert that the saving has been sufficient to replace a loss of $1,000,000. These are large figures. But this has become a country of large figures and affairs.

—Mrs. Rachel Lloyd has been appointed assistant professor of analytical chemistry in the Nebraska State University for the coming year, at a salary of fifteen hundred dollars.

Your Children

Are constantly exposed to danger from Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, and diseases peculiar to the throat and lungs. For such ailments, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, promptly administered, affords speedy relief and cure.

As a remedy for Whooping Cough, with which many of our children were afflicted, we used, during the past winter, with much satisfaction, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For this affection, we consider this preparation the most efficacious of all the medicines which have come to our knowledge.—Mary Parkhurst, Preceptress, Home for Little Wanderers, Roxbury, Md.

My children have been peculiarly subject to attacks of Croup, and I failed to find any effective remedy until I commenced administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This preparation relieves the difficulty of breathing and invariably cures the complaint.—D. Stacks, Salem, Columbiana Co., N. Y.

I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for many years, and have found it especially valuable in Whooping Cough. This medicine allays all irritation, prevents inflammation from extending to the lungs, and quickly subdues a tendency to Lung Complaint.—J. B. Hill, Prattsville, Mich.

[illegible] effectual, for [illegible] Croup, as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I never offered my little family six months, carrying them safely through the worst case of Whooping Cough I ever saw.—Jane [illegible], Pine Bluff, Tenn.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. And whereas our said Lieutenant-Governor, by and with the advice of his Executive Council, has been pleased to name the Thirty-first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, as the day on which the said Act shall come into force.

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS THIS DAY.

Notice ..... T. Elwyn
Choral Union ..... N. A. White

Daily British Columbian

Saturday Evening, Nov. 5, 1887.

Police court matters were unusually lively to-day.

The rain last night was as mild and warm as a June shower.

Fourteen salmon were caught by one of W. H. Viahen's boats last night.

Five carloads of freight arrived yesterday and twelve carloads went out to-day.

The s.s. Parthia has been discharged and the work of loading has been commenced.

Attention is called to Mr. Trapp's auction sale of land in the Colonial Addition.

The Rev. C. H. Spurgeon is said to have declined an offer of $90,000 for 100 lectures, to be delivered in America.

Calgary is now agitating for a smelting works, and the people are going into the matter with a great deal of spirit.

The St. Andrew's and Caledonian societies intend holding their annual dinner on the evening of the 30th inst. in the Hyack Hall.

The out pnt of the various cigar manufactories of the United States has increased since 1880 from 2,000,000,000 to over 5,000,000,000.

Some old dinner customs still prevail. The Romans used to recline at their banquets, and the habit of lying at public dinners still prevails.

Another small landslide occurred this morning on the line between Port Moody and Vancouver. It was cleared away in time to prevent any delay to the trains.

The str. Irving arrived down from Chilliwhack this afternoon with 10 passengers, 25 tons of grain and 20 hogs. She leaves again for up-river ports on Monday morning.

Temperature to-day: Maximum 54 degs. Minimum 47 degs. Barometer 29:62. Rainfall 1:64 inches. The barometer is raising and the indications are for finer weather with high winds.

Avoid the harsh, irritating, griping compounds so often sold as purgative medicine, and correct the irregularities of the bowels by the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. They are invaluable as a family medicine.

A stabbing affray took place in Vancouver yesterday morning between two Indians who were both under the influence of liquor at the time. They were both badly cut up and presented a horrible sight when arrested.

It is expected the shipment of live lobsters being made by the fisheries department to this coast, will leave Nova Scotia shortly. A specially arranged car has been prepared at Moncton for their conveyance.

A single bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla will establish the merits of this medicine as a blood purifier. Many thousands of people are yearly cured of chronic diseases by the faithful use of this remedy. It is unequaled for the cure of scrofula.

Arizona is about to operate a dam which in magnitude surpasses anything of the kind in the country, it is claimed. The reservoir will store 15,000,000,000 gallons of water for irrigating thousands of acres of placer and grazing lands.

The Orange ball last night was a grand success in every way. The supper was an excellent one and the music and dancing very good indeed. Many Vancouverites were present and returned home highly delighted with the entertainment.

Mr. Parpetus Boileau, Ottawa, says:—"I was radically cured of piles, from which I had been suffering for over two months, by the use of Thomas' Eclectric Oil. I used it both internally and externally, taking it in small doses before meals and on retiring to bed. In one week I was cured, and have had no trouble since. I believe it saved my life."

THE MODUS OPERANDI—The mode of operating of Burdock Blood Bitters is that it acts at once and the same time upon the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys and the Blood, to cleanse, regulate and strengthen. Hence its almost universal value in Chronic Complaints.

Barnum on Advertising.

P. T. Barnum says: "Be careful to advertise in some shape or other, because it is evident that if a man has ever so good an article for sale and nobody knows it, it will bring him no return. The whole philosophy of life is, first sow, then reap. This principle applies to all kinds of business, and to nothing more eminently than advertising. If a man has a really good article there is no way in which he can reap more advantageously than by sowing to the public in this way."

A Prisoner Escapes.

Early this morning a Chinese prisoner, confined in the jail, made his escape in an unknown manner. It appears the Chinaman's duty was to carry meals to the prisoners and thus had access to the kitchen. It was discovered at 10 o'clock this morning that Sing was missing and an investigation immediately was instituted which, up to the time of going to press, had not resulted in anything definite, as to the manner of his escape being discovered. It is thought by some that the Chinese cooks in the jail had something to do with it. The escaped prisoner was serving a term for stealing blankets from an Indian.

Mr. Begg in Ottawa.

Mr. Begg, immigration commissioner for British Columbia, called last Saturday on Mr. Tuttle, passenger traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, at Ottawa, in reference to a through rate for the crofter immigrants from Quebec to Vancouver. He found that the rate west of Winnipeg was considerably in excess of that charged on the line from Quebec to that point. His object was to secure a pro rata rate from Quebec to Winnipeg, which, if obtained, would save considerable to each adult passenger. The crofters would form parties sufficient to fill a car or more at each trip, so that there would be no expense or inconvenience to the railway managers in furnishing special or extra cars for them.

Another Race for Ned.

An Australian letter dated Aug. 25 says: "C. Smith, the well-known trainer, has recently returned from Rockhampton, where he has been for several weeks. He reports Edward Trickett as very well in health and prosperous in business, possessed of considerable property and quite a king amongst the people of the town. Smith brings an order for some sculls, which he has placed with Dawson. These sculls are for Ned Trickett, who is a bit hard to suit with sculls. But this is the real news, that Edward Trickett will issue a challenge to Edward Hanlan for $500 a side for a straightway race on the Fitzroy race river, at Rockhampton. The course can be any distance from three to five miles. The match can be made any time.

Resolutions of Regret and Condolence.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Synod of the Diocese of New Westminster the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the executive committee of the Diocese of New Westminster records its sense of the great loss which it and the whole synod and the church in this diocese has sustained in the death of Dr. C. N. Trew.

Resolved further, That the committee gratefully acknowledges the eminent services rendered by Dr. Trew to the church in this diocese in his capacity of lay secretary of synod.

Resolved further, That this committee on behalf of the church in this diocese tenders to Mrs. Trew and her family the expression of its deepest sympathy with them in their bereavement.

Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be engrossed and forwarded to Mrs. Trew.

Another Fishing Industry for B. C.

Mr. Thos. Mowat, fisheries inspector, has received from Victoria two young shad caught off Race Rocks. He will preserve them by the Wickersham process, which process it will be remembered was successfully tried on a salmon some weeks ago. The fact that the shad are coming north is very important to the fishermen of British Columbia and it is hoped the day is not far distant when these waters are teeming with them. In 1876 250,000 shad eggs, from the Delaware River, were taken to California and after being hatched were deposited at the mouth of the Sacramento River. The young fry throve well, multiplied and increased so rapidly that the shad fisheries have overtopped the salmon industry on the Sacramento River. Last year 10,000,000 lbs. of shad were marketed in San Francisco, valued at $1,000,000, or more than the fisheries of the Fraser River net. The shad have been working their way northwards for a number of years, last year they were caught in the Columbia River, and this summer they have reached British Columbia waters, but in very limited numbers. Mr. Mowat is in communication with the government at present for the purpose of gaining permission to secure a large number of shad eggs, and, after hatching them, to place the young fry in the Fraser. We hope the permission will be given, and if so, it will not be many years before the shad fishing equals in value that of the salmon industry. Fresh shad brings 10 cents per lb., on an average, the whole season through in San Francisco, and the demand is always ahead of the supply.

Personal.

Geo. Jay, of Victoria, arrived in the city this afternoon.

A. PEELE, CAPT.

Police Court.

Before T. C. Atkinson P. M.

Felix Parent charged with being drunk was admitted to bail, and contrary to all expectations turned up to refute the insinuation. Felix was still in the embrace of the ardent, and taken altogether it was probably the funniest case ever brought before the court. He opened out a long harangue to His Honor stating that half a hundred years ago a Canuck was borne and he had the honor of being that person. Felix then went back to the conquest of Canada and was proceding to prove his pedigree when His Honor interfered and asked him to hug the question. After several attempts to catch the thread of Felix's argument His Honor got tired and cut the case short by fining Parent $2.50 at the same time remarking he was sorry to be compelled to do this. Felix appeared to be conscious of the necessity of the fine for he assured the magistrate it was all right and not to feel sorry for it was a matter of duty. With a cordial good-bye all around Felix bowed himself out with all the characteristic politiness of a Frenchman.

Peter Auguste charged with a felonious assault on the person of James Fraser. Pleaded not guilty.

The evidence of James Fraser, went to show that he was on his way home and mistaking Auguste's house for that of a woman he wanted to see, he rapped at the window. Auguste came out with a club and Fraser on finding his mistake, apologized, but Auguste struck him with the club. Fraser then ran and the prisoner ran after him and struck him with the club again, knocking him down. Fraser admitted he was drunk on the night of the assault, and was in a house of ill-fame. Also that he did not remember where he had been and that his actions were confused in his mind.

William Herdon testified to hearing the complainrnt calling for help and on running out of the cabin, found Fraser badly cut and bleeding.

Dr. McLean, stated he had examined the wound and found it to be about two inches long; he probed it carefully but did not find any fracture of the skull. He thought the wound could be given by a club, similar to the one produced.

His Honor after reviewing the case very carefully, fined the defendent $25 and costs or two months in jail.

Jessie Hart charged with stealing $150 from the person of John Anderson and also with keeping a house of ill-fame. Pleaded not guilty.

John Anderson, sworn, said: I went to the prisoners house and wanted to stay all night; I had $180 in my pocket book; I put the money under the pillow in the bed we slept in. I missed the money in the afternoon, I had been a little drunk. When I accused the woman of taking the money, she denied it and I had her arrested.

Peter Auguste, swore the complainant had three $50 bills on Thursday night and he also saw Anderson go into the prisoners house.

L. Ford of the Cleveland Hotel, testified that the prisoner was in the hotel yesterday and changed a $50 bill.

His Honor considering the evidence sufficient, committed the prisoner for trial.

The charge of keeping a house of ill-fame being fully proved, the prisoner was fined $50 and sentenced to 3 months in jail.

Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

Carried unaminiously. Moved by Coun. Stewart seconded by Coun. Punch, that a copy of the foregoing resolution be forwarded to the Rt. Hon. Sir John A. Mcdonald, K. C. B. also that copies be furnished to the local newspapers. Carried unaminiously.

Miss Mary Campbell, Elm, writes:—"After taking four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, I feel as if I were a new person. I had been troubled with Dyspepsia for a number of years, and tried many remedies, but of no avail, until I used this celebrated Dyspeptic Cure" For all impurities of the Blood, Sick Headache, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Costiveness, etc., it is the best medicine known.
