Meeting of City Council

Should City Instal Temporary Sidewalks?

The council met Monday as usual, but the session was brief there being little business of importance to transact.

Mr. F. E. R. Wollaston waited on the council respecting the lane at the rear of the Belgo-Canadian Co.'s offices. He wished to know when steps would be taken to have it cleared so that he could get in and out with his car. The lane was piled up with rubbish from the building of the next block, the contractor for which declared that he placed it there under permission from the mayor and certain aldermen.

His Worship, however, denied having given any such authority, and the aldermen equally disclaimed any responsibility.

Ald. Copeland said the rubbish was useless to the council for street-filling purposes as it consisted mostly of old slabs and sawdust which should be burnt.

Mr. Wollaston said he hoped something would be done at once as at present he had to drive his car round a considerable way and back in over some very rough ground. He thought, too, the lane between the Royal Bank and the Sawmill Co.'s office might be cleared of broken bottles, &c., which endangered tyres. He had picked up a piece of lumber the other day like a porcupine with the nails sticking out of it.

The whole matter was referred to the Board of Works.

Mr. A. W. Bowser then addressed the council. He wished to petition the council for a temporary plank sidewalk along Coronation avenue to afford communication between the cottages which the Tobacco Co. were erecting and their new factory.

In presenting the petition he said he would like to draw the council's attention to the improvements which his company were making in Coronation Ave., a comparatively outlying property. He had let the contract for ten new six room cottages for their work-people, three of which were practically completed. They were also building a lodging house near the new factory which would accomodate twenty-two single men. Between these and the factory there was no sidewalk. When the wet weather came the walking backwards and forwards of so many people would very soon cut up the mud in a way which would make travelling difficult. Although he realized that the council were averse to putting in anything of a temporary nature, yet he felt that a step which would benefit so many new comers, who were assisting to make Kelowna bigger and more prosperous would be worth the investment. When their factory was complete they would be bringing in some 400 people who would be earning good money and spending it in town. Their comfort had to be considered or they would not stay, and the Tobacco Co. would be obliged to use the new building as a warehouse and move the manufacturing part to somewhere else.

In discussing the request it was mentioned that there was a resolution passed by the council against putting in any more plank walks.

Mr. Bowser said he did not see how the council were to get away from using plank sidewalks. The north side of the town had grown so fast lately that it would be impossible to put in sufficient cement sidewalks to serve all the houses which had grown up there.

It was estimated that to put in a plank walk along the 2,000 feet required would cost four or five hundred dollars.

Ald. Taylor said he did not think it wise for the council to put in such a sidewalk. They would be establishing a precedent which would lead to all kinds of trouble. Lots of other people were just as badly in need of sidewalks and they would expect the council to do the same for them. Besides, the city could not afford to spend four or five hundred dollars on a temporary walk which would be torn out again next year; and it was hardly to be expected that the people along the street would be willing to have the planks taken up to put in cement until they had rotted away.

After some further discussion the Board of Works was instructed to investigate the matter and report to the next meeting.

Mention was made of the demonstration of the "Minimax" Fire extinguishers given by the agent, Mr. Chapman, at which members of the council were present. The result had been very satisfactory, but the fire chief had wished to see some other makes in town tried before deciding to purchase.

Mayor Jones mentioned that a Chinaman who was about to build a two-storey brick building on Leon Ave. had requested permission to put up two wooden sheds at the rear. He had witheld his consent to give the council an opportunity to discuss the matter.

It was found upon reference to the building by-law that the council had no power to prevent such erection, no limit being placed upon the number of outhouses allowed.

A plan of a sub-division of the north half of Blocks 31 and 32, Map 202, was passed.

Mr. H. F. Rees, whose property adjoined the new pumping station of the sewerage works had asked the council to share the cost of a 6-ft. solid board fence between the two lots.

Some objection was raised to making the fence six feet high and it was decided that the council would pay half the cost of a five-foot fence, Mr. Rees to pay the difference if he made it six feet

Ald. Copeland said he understood the city had made arrangements with Mr. A. McLennan to move his barn to another position as part of the consideration in the exchange of property for sewerage works. He pointed out that the ground was sinking under the barn on account of the pumping operations and it should be moved at once or it would most likely be damaged.

Before adjourning the meeting Mayor Jones and City Clerk Dunn were appointed delegates to attend the convention of the B. C. Municipalities to be held shortly.

Presbyterian Anniversary Next Sunday

Next Sunday is the anniversary of the opening of the new Presbyterian church, and the services will be of a special character. Special music will be rendered by the choir and the Rev. A. Dunn, B.D., will preach sermons appropriate to the occasion.

On Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the church there will be a lecture on "The Yukon (illustrated with lantern views), by the Rev. C. O. Main, B.D., of Vernon. There will also be a programme of music, &c. An admission charge of 25c. will be made.

Methodists Instal New Organ

The fine new two-manual "Dominion" organ which has been purchased by the Methodist church at a cost of $500 was in use for the first time on Sunday. The instrument, is a fine specimen of the organ builder's art, neat in design, and powerful in tone, its twenty-five stops affording a great variety of combinations, which should add much to the attractiveness of the musical part of the services. The organist is Mr. Stanley Hodkinson.

Encourage Sheep Breeding

A number of Kelowna people went up to Vernon Saturday last to attend an auction sale of imported breeding sheep held under the direction of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Some 450 head were offered for sale including 40 pure bred rams of various breeds. The sale was one of a number which are being held in various parts of the province, in furtherance of an experiment on the part of the Dominion government to encourage the breeding of sheep in British Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Adams left for coast Thursday morning. They will be absent for about two weeks.

Summerland Players Visit Kelowna

The "Summerland Players" received an enthusiastic welcome Tuesday evening on their appearance in the Opera House in the comedy "Cousin Kate." Under the skilful direction of Mr. William Sauter this company of amateurs is rapidly going ahead, and has already achieved considerable popularity in the valley.

Tuesday night's production certainly did not tend to lessen their reputation, and the large audience which nearly filled the Opera House had a treat which it is to be hoped our Summerland friends will not be slow in repeating.

The play is founded upon a romantic mix up of love affairs and though not intricate in plot affords ample scope for some clever acting of the more subtle kind. The humorous situations consequent upon the change of affections of the hero, were well sustained, the cleverness of each individual in the cast preventing any dull moments.

The title role was taken by Miss Higgin who carried through a difficult part with brilliant success winning loud applause from the appreciative audience. Amy, the demure and shy maiden, whose quarrel with Heath Desmond gives rise to all the incidents of the play found a sympathetic interpreter in Mrs. Cecil Garnett.

Miss Cartwright, as Mrs. Spencer, Amy's mother, contributed not a little to the general fun of the piece, as did also Jane (Miss Dorothea Cooper), the blundering but well-meaning housemaid.

Mr. William Sauter, as Heath Desmond, the jolly, care-free Bohemian, was distinctly in his element, and kept things going with a skill which spoke of long experience, and to him is due most of the work of organizing and staging the play.

Mr. Oliver Villiers, as the Rev. Jas. Bartlett, and Master Edward Logie, were both deserving of the highest commendation.

Scenery and costumes had evidently been carefully thought out and left nothing to be desired.

We are looking forward to another visit from the Summerland Players in the near future.

Rebuilding Dreamland

Dreamland Theatre is being extended by a 60ft. brick addition to the rear, carrying it back as far as the lot will allow. The work which will cost some three or four thousand dollars is in the hands of Mr. H. W. Raymer as contractor.

For some considerable time the accomodation at Dreamland has been entirely inadequate, on some occasions large numbers having been unable to gain admission. The addition which more than doubles the capacity of the theatre is an endeavor on the part of the proprietor Mr. Duncan, to keep pace with the demands of the public. Next spring the old portion will probably be taken away and a new brick front built to join on to the new rear portion now building. This will make it one of the finest picture theatres in the interior.

An improvement in the new building will be the addition of a stage, which will make the hall available for concert parties and smaller vaudeville attractions. When finished it will be fitted with opera chairs in place of the benches, and in many other ways will be designed to to add to the comfort of the public.

The Kelowna Study Club at a recent meeting elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. Geo. Robison.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Knight.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Miss Fullerton.
Sec.-Treas.—Mrs. Armstrong.
Press Corresp.—Mrs. J. Dayton Williams.

The next regular meeting will held Tuesday, October 29th at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. F. Armstrong.

Mr. D. McEachern, we hear, has sold his place to the British North America Tobacco Co.

Improvement in Telegraph Service

Important Changes Announced at Board of Trade Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Board of Trade held last night was well attended and was unusually protracted. The conjestion of important matters to be dealt with, however, and the long discussions which took place upon one or two of them resulted in really little being accomplished.

An important announcement was made by Mr. Palmer, district superintendant of the Dominion telegraph service, who was present at the meeting, to the effect that within the next ten days a separate telegraph office would be opened in Kelowna, a move which should result in a greatly improved service.

Mr. Palmer, to whom several complaints have been made during the past few months of the inadequacy of the telegraph service from Kelowna, the delays in delivering and sending messages, and the shortness and inconvenience of the hours during which the office is open for business, candidly admitted he was in entire sympathy with the people of Kelowna in their dissatisfaction with the service which had been given them. The old iron wire from Penticton to Kelowna and Vernon had been taxed beyond its capacity three years ago. An appropriation had been set aside by the department for a new line, and the cable actually ordered, but owing to delays and the retirement of the then superintendent Mr. Stevens, the money had not been used, and the appropriation had lapsed, rendering a repetition of all the formalities incident upon obtaining a grant from the government necessary again before the work could be gone ahead with. Now, however, the work of installing a new line, a full metallic copper circuit, was almost completed, and in the course of the next few days connections would be changed over at each office, and be ready for operation. The line would be used solely for telegraphic business and not as heretofore for telephone and telegraph thus avoiding one fruitful source of congestion and delay. The control of the line would be taken over entirely by the government who would have separate offices. The office hours were to be lengthened and a much more complete and efficient service given.

Mr. Palmer also referred to a communication from the Board asking for the extension of the government line up the west side of the lake. He had been instructed from headquarters to go over the ground and make a report.

Another concession promised by Mr. Palmer was a restoration of the press rate of half a-cent per word which had been removed to discourage press business during the congestion of the line. Asked as to the possibility of obtaining a through rate to the coast or to the prairies without the necessity of doubling the rate by paying again when the messages were transferred to the C.P.R. wire at Vernon, Mr. Palmer said it was not within his power to grant such a rate, but he recommended endeavoring to induce the chief superintendent at Ottawa to approach the C.P.R. telegraph regarding the granting of such a rate.

The committee appointed to interview Mr. Grisdale, government director of experimental farms, on his visit here, as to the desirability of establishing a farm in the valley submitted a report to the effect that Mr. Grisdale had been met by the committee and driven around the district, making an inspection of the principal orchards, the packing houses and the cannery. He had expressed his surprise and pleasure at the evidences of development which were seen on every side. He more than endorsed the necessity for an experimental station in the valley, but had stated that one of the principal difficulties in the way of such a project was the fact that every place on the lake was firmly convinced that the farm should be located there. To place the farm in any one place meant the stirring up of endless jealousy and hard feeling in the others.

A lengthy and interesting report was presented by the committee who were charged with the duty of investigating the feasibility of a road on the east of the lake from Kelowna to Penticton, or rather of the construction of the missing link between Okanagan Mission and Naramata. A party consisting of S. T. Elliott, M. Hereron and F. M. Buckland, piloted by Felix Casorso had traversed the proposed route, the report giving details of their adventurous trip. Although some difficulties were encountered they considered the construction of the stretch of road in question quite feasible.

The publicity committee also submitted a report giving details of the work they were carrying on and expenditures which they had decided upon. The matter of advertising with the Vancouver Progress Club was discussed at considerable length, but it was eventually decided to drop the scheme for the present.

A request from the Progress Club to appoint delegates to attend a convention of Boards of Trade at Vernon during the apple show was referred to the publicity committee.

A letter was read from the residents of Okanagan Mission complaining of the inadequate postal service to that district and asking the Board to take the matter up with the authorities.

A large part of the evening was taken up with a discussion on the problems connected with the shipping and marketing of fruit, problems which had presented themselves with great force this year owing to the abundant crop which had been in evidence in all parts of the valley.

Two new members, T. Bulman and P. E. Corby were elected to the Board.

Roosevelt Shot by Insane Man

Revolver Shot Breaks Rib As Colonel Enters Automobile

Col. Roosevelt, the Progressive Candidate for the United States presidency, was shot at and wounded Monday at Milwaukee, Wis., as he was leaving the hotel for the auditorium to make a speech. The wound was superficial and the Colonel went on to the auditorium and began his speech after he had seen his assailant arrested and taken to the police station.

His assailant, John Schrank, a man of weak intellect, was prevented from firing a second shot by Albert H. Martin, one of Mr. Roosevelt's two secretaries. Mr. Roosevelt had just stepped into a motor car, when his would-be assassin pushed his way through the crowd in the street and fired. Martin who was standing in the car with the Colonel, leaped on to the man's shoulders and bore him to the ground.

Later reports states that the Colonel sustained a broken rib, but that little concern is entertained over his condition.

Mr. H. A. Wright, inspector for the Royal Bank, is at present in town. He is assisted in his duties by Mr. Phinney, who was formerly a member of the local staff.

Local Woman Suffrage League Formed

Last Friday afternoon a meeting was held to organize for Kelowna and District a branch of the B. C. Political Equality League following the visit of Miss Dorothy Davis, the provincial secretary. Mrs. Dora F. Kerr presided and Mrs. J. B. Whitehead acted as secretary.

The business of organizing was proceeded with at once and an executive committee of eight elected as follows: Mrs. J. B. Whitehead, Mrs. Rose Macready, Mrs. Dora F. Kerr, Mrs. Josselyn, Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Fisher, Mr. R. Mathie, and Mr. C. Fulton. Mrs. Kerr was appointed secretary.

It was decided that no annual subscription should be charged as at present no funds are required.

Miss Dorothy Davis, it was mentioned, would be in Kelowna again in December, when a general meeting would be called.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Raymer for the use of the hall.

Shipping Apples to Friends in the Old Country

The Okanagan Loan & Investment Co., Limited, are shipping a number of boxes of apples to England for advertisement purposes, and to make up a car will take orders for delivery to any part of the United Kingdom from individuals desiring to send Kelowna fruit to their friends in the old country. The varieties will be Newtowns and Spitzenbergs, and will be packed by Messrs. Stirling & Pitcairn.

The cost per box will be $3, made up as follows: cost per box, $2; prepaid carriage charges to destination, $1.

The car will probably leave here in two weeks and should be in London about December 1st.

Wilson Landing and West Side Notes

(From our own correspondent)

Mrs. J. Ball is visiting Mrs. Thos. Ball in Armstrong.

Messrs. Green and Lefroy were visitors here on Friday last.

Mr. H. C. Childers of Bear Creek has cleared and fenced some of his fine bench land, putting in a considerable acerage of fall wheat.

Mr. P. Atkinson is putting up a wharf preparatory to building a small bungalow on a pretty site on the lake shore, to the south of his present shack.

Mr. G. A Batchelor is very busily engaged getting his Wilson Landing property into shape for further development. It begins to have a very different appearance. Having some nice level land on the flat he threatens the district with a tennis lawn and all sorts of things.

This is the time of year to mount your favorite pony and visit all your friends, and incidentally the numbers of beautiful places to be seen up and down our lake. The climate is ideal for such a trip. Naturally the West Bank district is in favor on account of roads in every direction. We only want one good road going along the lake through to the north, but not a rock road on the lake shore. It would entail such an expenditure that it probably would never get finished and would cost per foot what? Besides what use would it be? Just try a ride over the mile or two which has been accomplished, and judging by your pony's dejected air you would have some idea of how it would affect your motor tyres for instance.

Don't forget the Sunday-School Institute which will be in the Methodist church on Monday, October 28th. A treat is in store for those who will attend. All are cordially invited.

The government telegraph department have rented a room in the Keller block, which they will open in a few days as a seperate telegraph office.

Irrigation Congress at Utah

Dr. C. W. Dickson returned this week from a visit to Salt Lake City, Utah, where he had been attending the great National Irrigation Congress. Uncle Sam's Irrigation problems are discussed annually at this congress, which though on a larger scale corresponds in some measure with our own Western Canada Irrigation Association. The scope of the organization may be seen from the fact that over 1000 registered delegates were in attendance. In addition there were representatives of foreign governments, including five from Canada: W. H. Fairfield of Lethbridge and Dr. Dickson of Kelowna, representing the Dominion of Canada; E. F. Drake of Ottawa, representing the Dominion Department of Irrigation; Norman S. Rankin, representing the Western Canada Irrigation Association and O. Kirkwold on behalf of the C.P.R Natural Resources Dept.

The sessions were held from Monday, September 30 to Thursday, October 10, in the Morman Tabernacle.

At the afternoon session, September 30th, the report of the National Executive Committee was adopted, the most important feature of this report was that the scope of the congress should be "International" instead of national. Hereafter the title will be "International Irrigation Congress." Under this new arrangement, each of the provinces of Canada will be entitled to the same representation as the American States, viz: fifty delegates appointed by the chief executive; ten delegates from cities of 25,000, appointed by the Mayor, five delegates from towns of less than 25,000 and more than 1,000, five delegates from rural municipalities, Boards of Trade, Commercial Clubs, etc.

The principal address at this session was delivered by Reed Smoot, United States Senator for Utah, on "Liberalizing of our Land Laws." In the course of his remarks, Senator Smoot denounced the existing land laws of the United States, and called attention to the enormous immigration of American Citizens to Canada during the last few years, stated that the administration of the land laws was less burdensome to the settler in Canada than in the United States. Senator Newlands of Nevada made the statement that there would likely be 250,000 settlers move from the United States to Canada this year. A debate followed in which the Canadian land laws were highly commended.

Among other addresses at this session was an interesting one by Brigham H. Roberts on the early history and progress ot irrigation in Utah.

On the evening of September 30, a brilliant electrical pageant, prepared under the direction of the local Board of Control was witnessed by the delegates, and thousands of visitors and citizens of Salt Lake City. The main theme of the display was the growth of Utah under irrigation. After the parade the delegates were tendered a reception at the Commercial Club.

The meetings of October 1st and 2nd were largely taken up by the reading and discussion of papers dealing with various phases of irrigation problems.

On Tuesday, the foreign representatives, including the Canadian delegation, with the representatives from Australia, Mexico, Portugal, Guatemala, Brazil and Finland were entertained at luncheon by the President and Officers of the Commercial Club, and on Wednesday they were the guests of Senator Newlands, President of the 20th Irrigation Congress.

On the afternoon of October 2nd foreign representatives were invited to address the Congress. Mr. W. H. Fairfield replied for the Dominion of Canada, and Mr. Norman S. Rankin for the Western Canada Irrigation Association. These gentlemen intimated that now the congress had been made "International" they hoped that the meeting might be held in Canada at no very distant date.

The final meeting held on the afternoon of October 3rd, was devoted to the consideration of the reports of the committees on resolutions and organization; selecting next place of meeting, election of officers, etc.

The report of the resolutions committee embodied some forty resolutions, which had been carefully considered in committee, and were unanimously passed by the meeting. These resolutions covered a wide range of subjects dealing with irrigation, and will be brought before the United States Congress at its next session.

Phœnix, Arizona, was chosen for the next place of meeting.

Following a lengthy address by a delegate from Idaho, inviting the Congress to come to Boise in 1914. Dr. C. W. Dickson extended an invitation on behalf of Western Canada for the same year.

Shortly after this the following telegram was received by Mr. Rankin from A. Miller, Commissioner of the Calgary Industrial Bureau:-

"The Calgary Industrial Bureau through you desires to extend most cordial invitation to International Irrigation Congress to meet in Calgary in 1914, we also request delegation from Congress to Lethbridge Dry Farming Congress, to visit Calgary and be our guests for a day. Kindly present invitation to Convention." This telegram was transmitted to the Board of Governors, and while it was not in their power to fix the place of meeting for 1914, they expressed their appreciation of the invitation.

In his address to the congress, Mr. Rankin urged that official representatives be appointed to take part in the 1913 convention of the Western Canada Irrigation Association to be held in Lethbridge, Alta. This was acted on, and it is probable that the International Irrigation Congress will be well represented at the meeting in Lethbridge in 1913.

Among other delegates, Mr. W. A. Holabird, of California, manager of the Imperial Valley Irrigation Co., has promised to attend in an official capacity.

Mr. Rankin has also arranged with a number of the prominent speakers at this congress to come to the convention at Lethbridge and deliver papers or addresses, and in this way it is hoped to extend the feeling of international co-operation in irrigation matters which has grown up in the course of the last few years.

Other entertainment provided for the delegates included an excursion to Saltair, and trip over the Old Mormon Trail. The proceedings were brought to a close by a reception and ball at the Hotel Utah on Thursday evening, October 3rd.

Will you be one of the 108 farmers who will receive our Prize Contest checks?

THERE will be twelve cash prizes in each of the nine provinces (108 in all) in the 1912 Prize Contest for Canadian Farmers. The 1911 Contest was so successful in awakening interest in the use of Concrete on the farm, that a second contest, in which three times as many prizes are offered, was decided upon for this year.

The Contest this year is divided into three classes, "A," "B" and "C," and there will be four prizes in each class. (First prize, $50; Second prize, $25; Third prize, $15; Fourth prize, $10.)

Thus there are three $50 Prizes, three $25 Prizes, three $15 prizes, and three $10 Prizes, for each province.

DESCRIPTION OF CLASSES

In Each Class there will be First, Second, Third and Fourth Prizes ($50, $25, $15, and $10) for Each Province.

CLASS "A"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who use most "Canada" Cement on their farms in the year 1912.

CLASS "B"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who send photographs of the best concrete work done with "Canada" Cement on their farms in 1912.

CLASS "C"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who send in the best description, telling how any piece of concrete work was done with "Canada" Cement. (Entries for this prize must be accompanied by photographs of the work.)

Don't think that you must use a large quantity of cement in order to win a prize. The quantity of cement used does not count in Classes "B" and "C." Many of last year's prize winners used very little cement.

When you enter the Contest, you have a chance to win a cash prize of $50 as well as the certainty that you will add a permanent improvement to your farm. If you haven't a copy, be sure and ask for our book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." It will not only suggest many improvements that you can use in entering the Contest, but will tell you all about the use of concrete on the farm.

Just write your name and address on the attached coupon, or use a postal card, and we will send full particulars of the Prize Contest and a copy of "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete" to you absolutely free.

AGAINST FORGERY

How Rich Men Protect Themselves from the Forger by Complicated Systems in Watermarks and Numbers.

An elaborate, but at the same time very ingenious, method has been adopted by some of the world's richest men, in order to protect their cheque signatures against fraud. Not only is a different kind of signature used for each day in the week, but the signatures very according to the amount of the cheque. Suppose, for instance, the millionaire's name is John Peter Smith. On Monday he will sign cheques for $50 or under "J. P. Smith"; from $50 to $250, "J. Peter Smith"; for over $500, "John Peter Smith"; for over $5,000, "John Smith," and so on. On Tuesday there is a re-shuffling of the signatures; $50 cheques will be signed "J. Peter Smith"; $50 to $250, "John Peter Smith"; over $500, "John P. Smith"; over $5,000, "P. Smith," and so on.

Thus the forger who would alter a cheque for $250 into one for $25,000 has many difficulties to face. He may succeed in adding the extra "0"; he may succeed in altering the word "hundred" to "thousand" — which is not so hard as it looks. But when he presents the cheque, the cashier, from the date and the amount, sees that it ought, say, to bear the signature "John P. Smith," when actually the name reads "John Smith." Thus the fraud is discovered. It is not every bank, of course, that would undertake the working of a complicated cipher like this, but a millionaire's account is usually worth taking a good deal of trouble over.

Certain firms in London devote the whole of their attention to the manufacture and printing of cheques, circular notes, letters of credit, and other securities for bankers. One of these firms, after considerable pressure from a certain millionaire, has devised a form of cheque which is watermarked like a Bank of England note and which is declared to be absolutely safe.

Not only is the maximum amount water-marked in the body of the blank cheque — "under $250" or "under $500" — but the place where the drawee usually signs his name is prepared by a secret process, so that it can be written on only by a special kind of ink, the manufacture of which again, is a secret.

This species of cheque is used by a select body of City men dealing habitually with big sums of money, and up to the present has been found to afford almost absolute security.

Why Is It?

That girlish actions are suggestive of buoyant spirits

That a pen may be driven, but a pencil does best when it's lead.

That while one swallow does not make a summer, one grasshopper can make more than a dozen springs.

That a tack points heavenwards when it means mischief

That a man may be truthful in everything else, but he always played a better game of billiards several years ago than he does now.

German Promise Suits

Breach of promise suits are unknown to German law, but the courts at Gottingen have recently had to adjudicate on the nearest approach to such a case as the German code permits. A young professional man of Berlin had a visit from his 'fiancée,' who stayed over the week-end with his mother. On Monday he took her to the station and, as he thought, started her for home. But she got out at the next station, came back, and the next thing the young man heard was that she had been seen walking unescorted in the Friedrich Strasse.

He wrote her an angry letter, demanding an explanation. She replied breaking off the engagement. He then requested the return of all his presents and of the money he had spent during their betrothal. As she took no notice of this letter, he brought suit.

But again the mere man had no chance. The courts decided that she was justified in breaking off her engagement by the angry tone of her fiancé's letter, and that her escapade in no way reflected on her character.

"NEVER DAE FOR A MEENISTER"

A carping old Scotch woman said to her pastor one day: "Dear me meenisters mak' muckle adae aboot their hard work. But, what's twa hits o' sermons in the week tae mak' up. I cud dae it myself." "Well, Janet," said the minister, "let's hear ye." "Come awa' wi' a text, then," quoth she. He repeated with emphasis: "It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop than with a brawling woman and in a wide house." Janet fired up instantly. "What's that ye say, sir? Dae ye intend onything personal?" "Stop, stop!" broke in the pastor. "You wud never dae for a meenister." "An' what for no'?" asked she sharply. "Because, Janet, you came ower soon tae the application."

The Wiser Man

A young New Haven man, returning home from a health trip to Colorado, told his father about buying a silver mine for $3,000. "I knew they'd rope you in!" exclaimed the old man. "So you were ass enough to buy a humbug mine." "Yes, But I didn't lose anything. I formed a company, and sold half the stock to a Connecticut man for $7,000." "Y-you did," gasped the old man as he turned white. "I'll bet I'm the one who bought it." "I know you are," coolly observed the young man as he crossed his legs and tried to appear very much at home.

A clergyman in Keokuk, Iowa, while waiting for a train at a railway station, was accosted by a couple who requested him to marry them. He saw his train approaching, and he married the couple in the following brief manner: "Do you want one another?" Both replied "Yes." "Well, then, have one another."

LADY CARD-SHARPERS

Investigation Show That Certain Women Make a Business of Attending Charity Card-Parties to Cheat.

Eleven women were refused admission recently to a charity card-party organized at the Church of St. Francis Assisi at Brooklyn, because they were believed to be card-sharpers. An investigation which was started unearthed the fact that a number of women make a business of attending such affairs of the gamblers who haunt Transatlantic liners. The women are not professional gamblers, but members of respectable families, who are unable to resist the temptation to cheat at cards.

It has become known that women band themselves together for concerted work, by lip signals, by marking cards with tiny pin-pricks, and otherwise, and, according to Father Kelleher, of St. Francis Assisi, who discovered the latest conspiracy, even know how to stack the cards.

Father Kellheer's discovery was due to an extraordinary accident. He was riding on a Brooklyn tram-car when he overheard two women seated next to him discussing how they intended to capture the prizes at the St. Francis party by cheating. Father Kelleher told the other priests of the church, and they watched the doorway of the 47th Regiment Armoury, where a card-party was being given. Father Kelleher detected the two women with nine others as they were endeavouring to enter. They were told that they could not get in. No explanation was offered, and the women did not demand any, but hastily disappeared. The churches and charity organisations are generally being notified of the discovery, with the suggestion that concerted effort should be made this winter to break up the practice. It is a disputed point whether the women are amenable to arrest on a charge of cheating.

GLORY OF THE MORNING

The Morning itself, few people, inhabitants of cities, know anything about. Among all our good people, not one in a thousand sees the sun rise once in a year. They know nothing of the morning. Their idea of it is that part of the day which comes along after a cup of coffee and a beefsteak or a piece of toast. With them, morning is not a new issuing of light, a new bursting forth of the sun, a new waking-up of all that has life from a sort of temporary death, to behold again the works of God, the heavens and the earth; it is only a part of the domestic day, belonging to reading newspapers, answering notes, sending the children to school, and giving orders for dinner. The first streak of light, the earliest purpling of the east, which the lark springs up to greet, and the deeper and deeper colouring into orange and red, till at length the "glorious sun is seen, regent of the day" — this they never enjoy, for they never see it. I never thought that Adam had much the advantage of us from having seen the world while it was new. The manifestations of the power of God, like His mercies, are "new every morning" and fresh every moment. We see as fine risings of the sun as ever Adam saw; and its risings are as much a miracle now as they were in his day — and, I think, a good deal more, because it is now a part of the miracle, that for thousands and thousands of years he has come to his appointed time, without the variation of a millionth part of a second. Adam could not tell how this might be. I know the morning — I am acquainted with it, and I love it. I love it fresh and sweet as it is — a daily new creation, breaking forth and calling all that have life and breath and being to new adoration, new enjoyments, and new gratitude.

Great Moral Question

Mr. Alexander, the evangelist, tells the following story:—

"There were two darkies over in my country named Moses and Ephraim, who went out one night to rob a hen-roost. Moses planted the ladder, climbed up the tree where the chickens were roosting, grabbed them round the neck one by one, and handed them down to Ephraim, who put them in a bag. About a dozen had been bagged when Moses suddenly stopped the proceedings.

"'What's the matter, Brother Moses?' asked Ephraim.

"'I'se jes' been thinkin' whether, now you and me's members ob de church, it's right for us to take all dis yer man's chickens.'

"'Brudder Mose,' said Ephraim, 'dat's a great moral question which you an' I ain't got time to wrastle wid. Pass down anudder yaller-leg!'"

An Evidence of Chinese Awakening.

G. Davidson, who for 25 years has been engaged in educational work in China, gives this typical incident as illustrating the viewpoint of the modern Chinaman as aroused by the revolution. A British teacher in one of the schools of Chengtu, we are told, was pointing with pride, before his native geography class, to the many red colored possessions of Great Britain, when he was stopped by shouts from the little Chinese pupils of:

"You stole them."

We are further told that in connection with the propaganda of the revolutionary party there has been circulated a poster depicting the swallowing of Egypt by Great Britain.

English-Speaking Italians.

A correspondent, who has been at Tripoli, says that one of the curiosities of the Italian army of occupation is the large number of men in the ranks who speak broken English. This is a jargon learned in the lower sections of large American cities. It has been picked up by Italians who had been resident in America for a time, and have then gone home again in the ordinary course of events, or who have been called home to take part in the war now on.

SAVE THE BABIES

Sea Water Injection is Cure for Infantile Cholera and Thousands of Children Have Been Saved By New Method.

A new cure has been found for infantile cholera, that dread complaint which wipes out so many young lives during the summer. The hot European summer, which has recently ended, claimed a toll of babies, and the new method was given an ample testing in London and Paris with what are claimed to have been excellent results.

Dr. Quintin, a Parisian philanthropist, was the discoverer of the new method, which is composed of carefully determined doses of modified sea water injected under the little infant's skin. and during the past five years thousands of children have been satisfactorily treated. The system was introduced into London by the generosity of Mr. Otto Beit, and a large Polyclinic was opened, at which the children were treated. So successful were the results that many of the provincial hospitals also introduced the treatment with equal satisfaction.

The preparation is not a patent medicine, and, it is stated, can be prepared by any chemist, and a number of local ladies interested in child welfare are now in communication with the London officials with the idea of getting the treatment established in Montreal ready for next summer.

THE TIMID PENDULUM

Once upon a time a clock-maker was making a clock, setting each wheel into its proper place, and fitting the different parts together. The pendulum was lying on the table beside him, waiting for its turn, and it passed the time in making a calculation of how long it would be before the great wheels of the clock were worn out and its own work done.

"Of course, I shall go on ticking as long as these wheels last," said the pendulum; "I shall be expected to tick so many times to the minute and sixty times that to the hour I shall never rest day or night, so that I must tick twenty-four hours instead of lying still and sleeping peacefully through a few of them. Then there are 365 days in one year alone, and the clock will probably last good for at least seventy years. If I had a pencil I would put it all down, but I can't do multiplication in my head. Millions of ticks, I'm sure, if not billions! I can never do it," and the poor unhappy pendulum sighed deeply.

"But surely you can do one tick at a time?" asked the clockmaker kindly.

"Oh, yes, that's a very simple matter," answer the pendulum.

"Well," said the clockmaker, "that is all you will ever have to do really," and he hung the pendulum in its place, taking care to make it quite comfortable, because it is more important to get properly settled on a hook than on a chair, and it sets to work steadily ticking.

"Now, if I were you," advised the clockmaker, "I should not count 'One, two, three, four,' because if you do happen to think of something else you'll get wrong. You will find it ever so much safer to say, 'Tick, tack, tick, tack,' that gets to be second nature in time and I can promise you will never go wrong." So the pendulum took his advice and went on steadily ticking one tick at a time, and it is ticking yet quite cheerfully, undaunted by any rows of figures either before or behind.

THE LITTLE BELL

For centuries it has been the custom to inscribe church bells with mottoes, sometimes in English, sometimes in Latin. If you have read Longfellow's "Golden Legend" you will remember the voices of the bells as they sing. These words are all taken from the mottoes on very old bells. As a child I remember seeing the enormous new bell for St. Paul's going by road to be hung in the Cathedral, and we could read the Latin inscription that was round it. When I was on my holiday I saw the bells in the tower of a beautiful old church, and looked for their inscriptions. Some of those only commemorated the date of the founding and the name of the giver or the founders but one inscription was in rhyme:—Although I am both light and small, I will be heard above you all.

I could not help thinking that motto would do for a great many people as well as for that small bell, if anyone ever thought of putting an inscription round a little girl's pinafore or a little boy's belt.

Quite a Difference

When Lawrence Barrett's daughter was married Stuart Robson sent a cheque for a thousand pounds to the bridegroom. The comedian's daughter Felicia Robson, who attended the wedding, conveyed the gift.

"Felicia," said her father, upon her return "did you give him the cheque?"

"Yes," father," answered the daughter.

"What did he say?" asked Robson.

"He didn't say anything," replied Miss Felicia; "but he shed tears."

"How long did he cry?"

"Why, father, I didn't time him. I should say, however, that he wept fully a minute."

"Fully a minute," mused Robson, "Why, daughter, I cried an hour after I signed it."

An "Ear Telephone."

Differing from the various kinds of instruments which are used to aid persons of defective hearing, a new long distance hearing apparatus has recently been invented to assist the hearing of normal persons in much the same way that a telescope does the eye; that is, it enables one to distinguish sounds through a greater distance, besides amplifying those which would ordinarily be detected by the unaided ears. For this reason it has been facetiously called the "ear telescope."

EUROPE'S THIRST

Germans the Great Beer Drinkers and the French the Largest Consumers of Wine in Old World.

"The Dane drinks annually 104 quarts of beer, little or no wine, and 24 quarts of brandy; the Swede absorbs 56 quarts of beer and 9 quarts of alcohol, while the Norwegian, on whom sobriety is imposed by very severe laws, is content with 31 quarts of beer and 3 quarts of brandy. The Russian requires only 5 quarts of beer and 5 of brandy (vodka); the Frenchman must have 32 quarts of beer, 108 of wine, and 10 of brandy. The Englishman consumes 6 quarts of gin, or whisky, little wine (scarcely 2 quarts), and 152 quarts of beer, ale, or stout; the Dutchman, 38 quarts of beer and 8½ of brandy; the Belgian 221 quarts of beer and 9 quarts of alcohol. The Austrian absorbs 16 quarts of wine, 80 quarts of beer, and nearly 11½ of brandy; the Hungarian the same quantity of brandy and wine but only 11 quarts of beer. The Italian drinks little beer (scarcely 2 quarts), 98 quarts of wine, and 1.3 quarts of brandy; he is the least alcoholic of Europeans.

"As for the German, he has the right, from his astonishing capacity, to a prominent place in these statistics. It is hardly possible, in his case, to confine oneself to averages. To pass over the extent of the Empire, including the grand duchy of Luxemburg, the consumption per head amounts to 7 quarts of wine, 6½ of brandy, and 125 quarts of beer. But the Alsatian and the North German drink 98 quarts of beer, while the Badener drinks 158 the Wurtemberger 169, and the Bavarian 24. As for the dwellers in the great cities, some of them are veritable bottomless pits; at Berlin 200 quarts of beer are drunk by each inhabitant annually, at Nuremberg 325 quarts, at Frankfort 432, and at Munich 570. When we realize that there are in Munich, as elsewhere, children, women, old persons, youth, and perhaps even, among the adults, some drinkers of average thirst, we may ask ourselves with some trepidation what is the daily flow of the river of beer, rolling its tumultuous waves down the esophagus of a loyal disciple of Gambrinus.

CHARACTER BY FINGER-NAILS

Amuse your friends by telling them their characters by their finger-nails. Broad nails are said to indicate a gentle nature, and persons possessing them are inclined to be timid and bashful. Those who have red and spotted nails have a desire to command, show great delight in war, and have a disposition to be cruel. White spots on the finger-nails denote misfortune.

Those who have very pale nails are subject to much infirmity of the flesh. Melancholy persons, and those who have a desire to higher branches of knowledge, have pale or lead-colour nails. White nails denote a great love for the society of the opposite sex, very weak constitution, and feverish subjects.

Persons with narrow nails are ambitious, have a keen love for scientific knowledge, and are quarrelsome. Round nails show a great desire for knowledge in general and liberal sentiments; also that their possessors take great pride in their own accomplishments and are rather hasty. Those persons who lack confidence in human nature, and are decided in opinions have long nails. Small nails indicate a very small mind, obstinate and secretive nature.

Persons who have very good appetites and lovers of sleep have fleshy nails. Nails that grow into the flesh at the sides or points denote that their owners are given to luxury.

A TRAIN-LOAD OF MONKEYS

A plague of monkeys some years ago sorely troubled the officials at a small station on the Saran Railway, in North-West India. Trucks full of grain for export were often stored up in the station, and the monkeys came down in large numbers from a neighbouring grove to help themselves to the grain, picking holes in the tarpaulin roof of the wagons.

The officials were wearied out with keeping watch and scaring away the thieves, who daily grew bolder, till an ingenious guard hit upon a stratagem. For several days sweets and fruit were put on the roofs of the wagons, with the result that the whole of the monkey colony were attracted to the spot, and soon became perfectly indifferent to man.

One morning, when they were all busily feeding, an engine was stealthily attached to the wagons, and suddenly the train moved off. The monkeys were quite scared, and made no attempt to escape, sitting crouched together till the train had gone several miles and stopped at a jungle. Then they wanted no hint to leave. Every monkey leapt down howling and fled into the jungle, whence they never returned to trouble the railway.

A City of Salt

There is a city of salt situated at Wieliczka, a little municipality some six miles from Cracow, in Polish Austria, and the centre of the Galician salt industry. It would take at least three weeks to visit ever portion of this marvellous citi, which dates back to 1044. Men have worked in its hollows for centuries. Horses have been brought to life and have died there, without seeing the light of day. It is virtually a city hewn in salt. The mines contain a wonderful ball-room, which is 216 ft. below the surface, and two remarkable chapels, on the walls of one of which is carved a view of Bethlehem. The mines contain twenty-five miles of railway lines, and there is a tempting buffet at the railway station.

DIVORCE IN NATIONS

Some Curious Grounds on Which Divorce is Granted in the Different Nations of the Civilised World.

In connection with the agitation for the reform of English divorce laws, it is interesting to learn the grounds on which divorce is granted in the different countries. In the first place it will probably strike many people as exceedingly curious that, while Ireland has no divorce law — separation alone being allowed — in Scotland divorce is granted for misconduct of either the husband or wife, the sexes being regarded as on an equality in that respect, or for malicious desertion for four years. And while in Queensland, Western Australia and Tasmania the divorce law is almost identical with that in England, in New Zealand misconduct alone on the part of the husband, wilful desertion by the husband or wife for five years without just cause, habitual drunkenness of four years and upwards, imprisonment or penal servitude, for seven years or more, and confinement in a lunatic asylum for ten years constitute grounds for divorce.

In Canada the law is the same as in England, while in America each of the forty-six States makes and administers its own laws of divorce. That is why they vary so much. "In only one State, South Carolina," says the author of "Marriage Making and Breaking," "is there no divorce, and in only one State, New York, is misconduct made an indispensable condition to the grant of a decree. Desertion and cruelty are in varying degrees common grounds in all other States, in fifteen States desertion for only one year being needed. In thirty-five States habitual drunkenness is a ground, and in a majority conviction for felony. Insanity is a ground in nine States, and neglect to provide for the wife and children in nineteen."

In Denmark divorce is obtainable for misconduct, leprosy, incurable insanity, imprisonment for three years, or separation for the same period. A new system of divorce law came into force in Norway in 1910. Under it the husband and wife agreeing to separate, an order is granted by a magistrate. If the parties do not agree, either of them can obtain a separation on the grounds of misconduct, drunkenness, ill-treatment, prodigality, or aversion. The marriage, where the parties agree to separation, may be dissolved at the end of one year.

SOME CLEVER ADS

How Sir George Newnes Advertised His First Venture in the Publishing Line — On An Asses Back.

After the English Tit-Bits was founded Sir George Newnes the proprietor, was always looking out for new ways of advertising it. He was always on the 'qui vive" for fresh notions and an illustration of his ability in this direction is furnished by an incident which took place during a visit to Brighton. Sir Newnes noticed the usual bands of patient donkeys ready to take holiday-makers for "tuppenny" rides at a moment's notice, and the sight inspired him with the following plan: He engaged two of the donkeys, and had gorgeous cloaks prepared for them, bearing the inscription, in gigantic letters, "We don't read Tit-Bits." The public laughed heartily at the idea that the paper was only rejected by asses, and the sale that week was phenomenal.

On another occasion in Newcastle Mr. Newnes as he was then, engaged an army of sandwichmen, the first of whom displayed the name Tit-Bits in gigantic letters on the board towering high above him; the name, and nothing more. The second, in the same manner, paraded the phrase "I like it"; the third, "My wife likes it"; the fourth, "My daughter likes it"; the fifth, "My mother likes it"; and so on, through the whole of what must have appeared a family numerically blessed beyond the average. On the last board was blazoned forth the asserton "So do I," and soon everybody in Newcastle was talking about the name and fame of Tit-Bits.

Everyone to His Taste

With characteristic enterprise Newnes, noticing the popularity of the vegetarian restaurants in Manchester, decided to open one, and in a short time the "Vegetarian Company's Saloon," as he called it, was a great success. It became the talk of the town. At twelve o'clock on a Tuesday the saloon was opened. At 12.30 it was closed, and the proprietor sent a wire to his wife: "Eaten up in half an hour!"

Sir George Newne's brother-in-law tells a delightful story in connection with this experiment. One day when the restaurant was in full swing, he came to it in search of its owner. He found that Mr. Newnes was not there — he had gone out a short time ago. Ultimately he tracked the advocate of vegetarianism to a neighbouring hotel, and discovered him doing justice to a large beefsteak. Mr. Newnes chuckled as he encountered the astonished eye of his brother-in-law, and said, quietly, and with the ghost of a wink, "Everyone to his taste!"

NEW WIRES

Mr. James Kent, Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway telegraphs who has just returned from a trip to the Pacific Coast announces that two new wires have been strung from Winnipeg to Calgary, one via Regina and the other via Saskatoon and Edmonton. A new wire has also been strung from Calgary to Vancouver Speaking of telegraph matters in Western Canada, Mr. Kent stated that during the last six months a great many new branch offices had been opened by the Canadian Pacific Railway. New towns have been springing up and new sections of the country opened and wherever possible the C. P. R. has given the people excellent telegraph services.

Burning Money

The department of finance of the Dominion Government has been burning up much money of late in the way of cleaning up the currency. The circulation has been rid of a very large number of bills this year. The figures of the department show a large increase in the number of dirty bills turned in and destroyed. During the fiscal year of 1911-12 there were destroyed $8,506,832 in one dollar bills and $5,538,615 in twos. This year the cleaning process has produced much greater proportionate results. During the period fron April 30 to August 31, 1911 the were destroyed $3,479,828 in ones and $2,230,136 in twos. During the corresponding period this year there have been cancelled and destroyed $4,312,177 in ones and $3,141,041 in twos.

The old bills are redeemed at the offices of the district receiver general in Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver. They are mutilated and forwarded weekly to the comptroller of the currency. The bills are then examined, checked, bundled, rechecked by the audit branch and then burned.

Device to Register Automobile Speed

The attention of the attorney-general has been called to a patent device for registering the speed of automobiles. By means of a moving arm attached to clockwork a line is drawn on prepared paper so as to show the exact speed at which the automobile was travelling at any minute of the day or night. The device can be installed very cheaply and the idea of the inventor is that one should be placed in every automobile and the key left in possession of the police. All disputes as to speed could then be easily settled and the differences of opinion which are sometimes so marked a feature of police court trials in these cases would be entirely done away with. The inventor is confident that his invention will be welcomed by all owners of automobiles. It is said to be already in use to a considerable extent in the United States on trucks used for commercial purposes.

England's Prosperity

Chancellor Lloyd George, addressing a meeting of London journalists, declared that the prosperity of England at the present time was unexampled in history.

Some of the industries in the north of England, he asserted, were compelled to engage labor from the workhouses.

The national insurance scheme was working smoothly, he concluded, and twelve million insurance stamps were being sold weekly.

Capt. Sir Francis Vane, the founder of the Boy Scout movement, has gone insolvent. He attributes his plight to losses sustained through his association with the movement.

The Duke of Connaught during his visit to the west said that he hoped the stirring musical composition "O Canada" would become the national song of the Dominion instead of "The Maple Leaf."

Six hundred Doukhobors from Saskatchewan arrived at Nelson Sunday night bound for the Brilliant and Glade settlements. Other trainloads are on their way. Together these consignments will increase the number of Doukhobors in British Columbia by about fifty per cent.

"A handsome gold breast pin was presented to Capt. Estabrook by the Duke of Connaught before he left the Okanagan, as a memento of his visit. The pin is a beautiful specimen of the jeweller's art. The Garter with the insigna "Honi Soit Qui Mal Y Pence" encircling the duke's monogram is surmounted by a coronet set in rubies and emeralds all set on a twisted gold wire."—Penticton Herald.

A small army of suffragettes set out from Edinburgh Saturday last to march to London, where they intend to present a petition to Premier Asquith. They are under the leadership of Mrs. DeFont Blanque who will make the journey on horseback at the head of her force. It is believed the march will take about six weeks. At every stopping place meetings will be held and a vigorous propaganda will mark the course of the army.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for the lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

The Three Guardsmen

The Gurney-Oxford Range is fitted with three devices which constantly and uncompromisingly stand on guard to see that the fire is always under perfect control—that the coal bills are sheared down to the lowest figure—that the oven is always evenly and properly heated—that no clinkers obstruct the free burning and proper ventilation of the fire.

The Gurney-Economizer, fitted on the smoke pipe, is the only draft you have to attend to; a small lever put up or down entirely regulates the fire. It saves one ton of coal in six. It carries little heat up the chimney—only the smoke. It feeds the gases which burn to the fire-box, and it cannot be had on any other range than the Gurney-Oxford.

The Gurney-Oxford oven is surrounded by flues that carry an equal amount of heat to all sides. This almost guarantees results in cooking by providing an oven evenly heated, without cold corners or variation.

The Gurney-Oxford Grate is the result of exhaustive tests to find the proper carrying surface for the fire. The fire has abundant air to breathe, and the less amount of coal burned is all consumed. So then, the housewife who has the "Three Guardsmen" watching over her range, will experience security and satisfaction in cooking that is not provided by any other range.

Return of the Gladstone Sisters and Edna Randall

The Gladstone Sisters and Miss Edna Randall, who made such a big hit at Dreamland during the Regatta week, are returning for a week's engagement with an entirely new repertoire from anything shown when here before.

Miss Randall is making a specialty of imitations and impersonations of famous artists, in complete character costume and makeup, including one black face act.

The Gladstone Sisters have all new songs and dances, and their own particular style of acrobatic stunts. They will feature their own conception of the "Society Texas Tommy Dance" in Turkish costume and the Harem Skirt. Also a Mexican "Tarantella" dance in complete costume. Also a new Buck and Wing dance. Also a Skirt and Ballet dance, and in fact something new and different every night.

They have played to more paid admissions in the Province of British Columbia than any other travelling show that has made this territory. Ask the local manager.

Our policy is in harmony with the verse: "Man wants but little here below, but wants that little good." They give a good show, and a short show for a short price.

They will be at Dreamland for the week commencing Monday, October 22nd.

"In the Camp Fire's Glow"

F. Stuart-White's pierrots, "The Versatiles" are to visit this city in the near future, having been booked for the opera house on Saturday, October 19th.

The Versatiles are a clever company of old country favorites who are now touring Canada for the first time. Their performance is described as a delightful combination of a real old English pierrot show and modern musical comedy.

The first part of the evening is given over entirely to the pierrots who present a dainty programme of songs, dances and stories. This is followed by a captivating musical comedy in one act, entitled "In the Camp Fire's Glow." This is described as a sort of tabloid version of "The Girl of the Golden West," with the characters chosen from the strong virile types of young manhood and womanhood to be found on the Canadian frontier. There is the mounted policeman, the good and bad cowboy, the tenderfoot and the beautiful Indian princess; and last on the list but foremost in the action of the operetta, the cowboy girls with their boots, spurs, sombreros, and ever-ready six-shooters.

The company carries complete scenic productions for each act and the costumes are elegant and correct.

Creosoted Cross-Ties Save $1,000,000

The annual replacement of cross-ties in Canadian railway lines is about 10,000,000, according to statistics complied by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior. The average life of a tie, i.e., seven years, could be prolonged to seventeen years if proper preservative treatment were adopted, and an annual saving of 350 million feet, board measure, of timber, could be effected. This is equivalent to three years' cut of one of the very largest mills in the country.

While the initial expense of creosoting would bring the cost per tie from 58 to 93 cents it would save $1,400,000 annually.

Since 1910 two timber treating plants have been established, treating in 1911, 206,309 ties, or 1.5 per cent. of the total cut.

The number of ties purchased in the Dominion in 1911 was 13,683,770, an increase of 4,469,808, or 48.5 per cent. over 1910.

The rapid development of railways in the Western Provinces is largely responsible for this large increase.

Eighteen kinds of wood were used. Jack pine with 40 per cent., tamarack 19 per cent., Douglas fir (used to a very great extent in new electric lines in British Columbia) 14 per cent. and hemlock 12 per cent. were the leaders. A remarkable change is that of cedar, in decreasing from 40 per cent. to 5.4 per cent. of the total.

Buy a Watch Suited to Your Day and Generation

Our fathers were contented to carry a watch as large as our small clocks, and less accurate as a time piece.

But the circumstances are such to-day that they will not admit of this even though it were our preference. Time is money, and has become so valuable that our watches must be almost to the second.

Now, in view of this special demand, we have been particularly careful in the selection of watches that we recommend as being accurate.

Any watch you purchase from us shall bear our personal guarantee, and you can depend you are getting an article that will not disappoint you at the critical moment.

Do You Drink Coffee?

You know, it is funny to hear people talk about the harm coffee does to you.

You have also heard that Tea will ruin your nerves; that cocoa plays havoc with your kidneys: that milk makes you bilious; and that water is full of poisonous germs. If this is so and a person is temperate, they must of necessity die for want of something to drink. or take chances on some one of them.

The Versatiles

F. Stuart-White's company of English Versatiles will be the attraction at the Opera House on Saturday, October 19. This organization is without doubt one of the best offerings ever sent to Canada from the Old Country. Their performance opens with a real old fashioned Pierrot show, followed by a modern musical comedy in which the R. N. W. M. P. play an important part. The cast of players is headed by Miss Zara Clinton, the charming English comedienne, whose success at the Moss Empire and Syndicate Halls in London, is a matter of recent theatrical history.
