LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

EXCHANGING SALUTES.

LONDON, June 4.—Lord Lansdowne and suite, the Hon. O. Mowat and Colonel Gzowski reached London on Saturday night after an excellent passage. The mayor of Liverpool escorted Lord Lansdowne and his party from the steamer to the Liverpool station. When the Parisian was off Lough Foyle she met the steamer Sarmatian with Lord Stanley on board. The viceroys saluted one another with signals, and good wishes were exchanged between them.

LANSDOWNE ON CANADA.

LONDON, June 4.—Lord Lansdowne, on being interviewed, said he was deeply moved by the warmth of feeling accorded to himself and Lady Lansdowne in Ottawa and Toronto. About Canadian prospects he said he was very glad to state that the extraordinary harvest in the North West, coupled with the exceptionally large number of emigrants, had given rise to very sanguine expectations of the progress of the Dominion during the present and the coming season. He declined to attempt to compare his actual experience of Canada with the possible experience of India. The conditions of official life in these great portions of the Empire are far too delicate for one in his position to discuss.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

"LITTLE PHIL."

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 5, 6 a.m.—Sheridan is resting quietly. His pulse is 112, respiration and temperature normal. The gravest anxiety continues to be felt. The remedies and food are borne remarkably well.

REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 5.—Returns this morning show large Republican gains everywhere. Hermann, (Republican), for congress, according to this morning's despatches, will have a majority of from two to three thousand. The legislature is Republican or a joint ballot.

WIND STORM.

SALT LAKE, June 5.—A windstorm occurred in this city and vicinity yesterday, partially destroying the roofs of several churches and school houses. The wind blew at the rate of 40 miles per hour for five hours, and large trees were uprooted and carried away, causing a great deal of damage in their track.

OUT OF DANGER.

ROCHDALE, June 5.—John Bright is pronounced out of danger to-day.

THE POOR CZAR.

VIENNA, June 5.—It is rumored here that another plot against the life of the Czar has been discovered.

RUSSIAN DEMANDS ON TURKEY.

LONDON, June 5.—Russia is making fresh demands on Turkey for the prompt and regular payment of the installments of her war indemnity, and this if persisted in may cause trouble. Russia wants but a small excuse now for active hostilities and as Turkey experiences the greatest difficulty in finding the requisite cash for home purposes, to keep the wheels of government moving, this appears to be an attempt on the part of Russia to force the game.

A HORRIBLE MURDER.

WHEELING, W.Va., June 5.—Samuel and Cornelius Waters were murdered at a road house near here on Sunday night by a woman named Bertha Williams. The brothers were sitting quietly in an upper room when Samuel was called out to settle a dispute between several persons. As Waters stepped out he was seized by the throat and thrown to the ground and while prostrate the Williams woman shot him through the head. Cornelius heard the shooting and ran to his brother's assistance. As he was bending over him the murderess pressed the muzzle of the revolver to his back and fired, the ball penetrating his spine and producing death in a few hours. No cause is known for the assassination.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 5.—Convention day opened bright and sunshiny. The day generally was accepted as a holiday, little if any business being done. Everybody talked to everybody else about the great meeting which was to open in Convention Hall at noon. As early as 8 o'clock small groups began to gather around the vast building, but it was not until nearly two hours later that those who were fortunate enough to possess tickets found their way to the place and entered the hall. Shortly after this the sound of music and tramp of many feet signalled the approach of bands and uniformed clubs. The groups, which by this time had swollen to an immense crowd, became enthusiastic and gave vent to cheering and applause, which was manifested as the various delegations and men of prominence arrived. Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, was one of the earliest of the notables to arrive, and his appearance was greeted with renewed applause. He was followed by the Cleveland club of Buffalo which entered the hall with the band playing "Dixie." Shortly before noon Collins, of Massachusetts, who is to be the permanent chairman, quietly made his way down the aisle. The galleries by this time were filled with spectators, many ladies being among them. The entrance of different state delegations with their handsome banners was met with long applause. By noon everyone was roused up to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. It was after half-past twelve when Chairman Barnum, of the national committee, called the convention to order. Lieut.-Governor White, temporary chairman, was presented and delivered a stirring address. Mr. White said that the experience of the last four years had demonstrated that the charges brought by the republican party were unwarranted and that the people were right in demanding and compelling a radical change. He then paid a high tribute to the ability, trustworthiness, and statesmanlike qualities of Cleveland and said: "For years it has been gradually conceded that it was necessary to reform tariff. The republican party, while not denying the necessity for reform, has ever failed to suggest any remedy, and uniformly thwarted the efforts of the democracy to afford the necessary relief. If the tariff had not been modified it is because of republican obstruction." In conclusion the speaker said the election of Cleveland is demanded by the patriotic sentiment of the land, and that if democrats do their duty the republican party will be unable to retard the progress of country. Senator Gorman, Maryland, moved the roll call of states. As the names were called the principal leaders received applause. The list of committees were then officially announced. At 2 p.m. it was voted to take recess until 10 tomorrow morning.

Presentation and Address.

Yesterday evening a goodly number of mechanics and workmen employed in the sash and door factory of the Royal City Planing Mills waited on Mr. Thos. W. Kerr, at his residence, to present to him a fine silver watch, pitcher and salver and a silver butter dish as a token of their appreciation of his just and fair dealing with them. This gift was presented on the occasion of his resigning his position as foreman for the company—a position which he has held and filled with the greatest fidelity for the greatest portion of ten years. The pitcher was presented by Mr. Russel Smither, who, on behalf of his fellow workmen, delivered the following address:

TO THOS. W. KERR, ESQ.:—We the undersigned employees of the sash and door factory of the Royal City Plaining Mills hearing with regret of your departure from among us and wishing to give you some token of our appreciation of the kindness and courtesy that has marked your dealings as foreman with us, take this opportunity, on the occasion of your resigning your position, to present to you this silver pitcher and salver, and this silver butter dish, with our best wishes for your future prosperity and happiness.

Mr. Kerr, in reply, said that he was taken completely by surprise, but that he was most gratified at this expression of feeling on the part of his fellow workmen, and he assured them that he had always striven to do the fair thing with those under his charge, and, furthermore, that he should prize this gift most highly, and that he should regard it as one of his most valuable possessions.

Mr. Ira Ewing and others made short addresses and paid a high tribute for his impartiality and consistency as foreman of the factory. Mr. Ewing said that he had worked under various foremen for a period of 30 years, and by none had he been accorded more gentlemanly treatment than by Mr. Kerr.

Some music followed, and all were invited to a well-spread table, which Mrs. Kerr had kindly provided, and the inner man was comforted with plenty of good things, not least of which was a dish of fine strawberries and cream.

Mr. Kerr leaves the factory to take charge of a sawmill at Ladners Landing, the previous owner of which he has bought out, and where all his friends wish him the success he so well deserves.

Personal.

Geo. Black, of Hastings, was in town to-day.

L. P. Eckstein left for Kamloops today on legal business.

Capt. Bole, Q.C., went up to Kamloops to attend the assizes there.

H. N. Rich, of Ladners, spent last night in the city and returned home this morning.

Donald Chisholm, M.P., accompanied by Miss Chisholm, returned from Ottawa last evening.

Rev. E. Robson and wife, of Vancouver, arrived down from Chilliwhack to-day and left by the 4:30 train for home.

A. J. McColl, left for the interior this afternoon and will be present at the assizes held at Kamloops and other places.

F. Belleau Gauvreau, C.E., left for Donald this afternoon and will be occupied with work for the C.P.R. for the remainder of the year.

Thos. Gordon Oliver, a representative of the Monetary Times, Toronto, is in the city. This is Mr. Oliver's first trip to Westminster and he is highly delighted with its beauty and surroundings.

For Hudson Bay.

Mr. A. P. Lowe, of the geological survey staff, accompanied by assistants has left Ottawa for Hudson Bay, where they will continue the explorations commenced last season for determining the nature of the country surrounding the shores, and surveying the islands and coast for a map. The party will be absent all summer. They go by the C. P. R. to Winnipeg, and travel thence by canoe and pack to the head of James Bay, making the rest of their explorations along the bay and up the rivers flowing into it, in boats belonging to the Hudson's Bay Company.

Daily British Columbian

Tuesday Evening, June 5, 1888.

Navigation of the Fraser.

The announcement made in yesterday's COLUMBIAN, that, through the persistent efforts of the Royal City Planing Mills Co., a vessel has at last been chartered to load lumber at their mills in this city for the foreign market, will be received with gratification by the majority of our readers, and particularly those in this city. The matter of the free opening and subsequent maintenance of the Fraser river to all classes of sea-going vessels is of the utmost importance to New Westminster city and district; and a beginning, however small, has only to be made in order to demonstrate the perfect feasibility of large vessels coming to this port, and to explode the fallacies which have been heaped upon the subject by interested parties. For several months past the Westminster Board of Trade, as well as the R. C. P. M. Co., have been doing everything in their power to move the proper Dominion authorities to a realization and fulfilment of their duty in this much-neglected matter of the Fraser river channel through the sandheads. A reluctance, if not hostility, has invariably been manifested by the authorities when urged to do the commonest justice in this important matter. Inadequate appropriations have been made—a masterly inactivity has been displayed—buoys have been allowed to get and to remain out of place—no official chart of the channel has yet been furnished—and neither the Sir James Douglas nor the Samson, both Dominion government steamers, have been available when wanted, by reason of "red tape" or other causes. Misleading reports have even been made by the agent of the department in this province, who resides in Victoria, concerning the depth of water in the channel at different stages of the tide, as witness the wide difference in the reports published yesterday as a result of the alleged soundings taken by Capt. Lewis, of the marine department, and those made by Capts. Johnson and McAllister, the well-known pilots. These latter measurements are supported by the evidence of Capt. Rogers, who is well qualified by a long and continued experience over a route involving the passage of the sandheads. Before a meeting of the Board of Trade, held last March, he stated: "I have never found less than eighteen feet at dead low tide at Woodward's Slough. I would undertake to bring up any ship drawing 24 feet. There is good protection at the mouth of the river, and ships could wait with safety. A buoy placed at each side of the entrance to the channel would be an almost infallible guide to navigators." Capt. McAllister, in his report of the 28th March, to the "Yale and New Westminster Pilotage Authority," says that he finds very much improvement in the channel since the work had been commenced on the sandheads, and that when the work then in progress was completed there would be no obstruction in the way of ships crossing the sandheads. The river, he adds, could easily be confined in the channel so as to admit vessels of any draft coming to this port. It was necessary, he said, that the channel should be sounded and the buoys properly placed monthly during the high-water stage. A noticeable and gratifying feature in connection with the honest reports of competent pilots is that soundings made by them from time to time invariably demonstrate that the channel quickly responds to the smallest outlay, thus establishing beyond a doubt that with a moderate expenditure and ordinary precautions the river can be placed and maintained in a first-class condition as a highway and port for the largest vessels. The importance to Westminster city and district of the early accomplishment of this work will be partially apprehended when we consider some of the issues at stake. Before a meeting of the Board of Trade in March last Mr. W. H. Higgins, of this city, stated that he represented a company of mill-owners and lumbermen (Messrs. McLaren & Ross, of Ottawa), who were desirous of locating on the Fraser river near Westminster. The mills which they intended to establish, for the export trade exclusively, would, he calculated, utilize 100,000 to 150,000 feet of logs per day, disbursements in their works and logging camps would amount to nearly a thousand dollars per diem, and two ships a week would be required constantly to load their lumber for the foreign market. This company have recently purchased the McInnes ranch near this city, where they intend to erect their immense lumbering works, they have secured extensive timber limits, and the only thing that can retard their progress is the possibility of the necessary work at the river mouth not being pushed as rapidly as it should. Our readers have only to glance at these facts, then to project their thoughts into the future, allowing something for the development of the industry which we have touched upon, of others which have been long established, and of the consequent and certain birth of new industries, to arrive at the inevitable conclusion that the matter of the placing of the free navigation of the Fraser beyond a peradventure is of paramount importance to us—not even second to the Southern railway. Something has been done, it is true, but much remains to be done. In our issue of yesterday it was stated that "thirty feet of water in the channel is absolutely necessary before the port can be registered as open to all classes of merchant vessels." Although a great deal of navigation can be carried on before this point is reached, still it must be attained, and, the sooner the better, and the Dominion authorities must take immediate steps to issue an official chart for registration at the proper places throughout the world. For lack of this we are handicapped, and have to offer special inducements to vessels chartering for this port, as was done the other day by the undaunted and enterprising R. C. P. M. Co., in the matter of chartering the ship Camana, Capt. Gordon, which is expected here about Saturday. It is matter for congratulation that such enterprise exists amongst us, but it should not be handicapped thus. Our citizens should do their best to favorably impress Capt. Gordon on his arrival and during his stay here. We believe some official recognition by the city of this important episode has been mooted, and it would not be out of place.

Late Canadian News.

TORONTO, May 31.—In the Longley case, while the investigation did not disclose any criminal acts, on the part of the clergyman, several compromising letters, were discovered, which the pastor had written to one lady, declaring he loved her better than his wife.

QUEBEC, May 31.—Fifty-four male and forty-four female Crofters from Lewis, the first detachment of a large number to follow to the North West, besides one hundred and twenty girls for Quarrier's new home at Brockville, have arrived.

Twelve thousand Singer sewing machines have been seized by the custom's authorities here for alleged undervaluation. The company have offered to sell them to the government at the figure named.

WINNIPEG, May 31.—Mr. R. S. Conklin has been selected as the liberal candidate for Springfield, and Frank Burnett for Cypress. Charles Cliffe is the conservative candidate in Brandon. North Winnipeg conservatives so far have not nominated a candidate but a deputation will wait on Alexander Logan and ask him to run.

Perfect Hair

Indicates a natural and healthy condition of the scalp, and of the glands through which nourishment is obtained. When, in consequence of age and disease, the hair becomes weak, thin, and gray, Ayer's Hair Vigor will strengthen it, restore its original color, promote its rapid and vigorous growth, and impart to it the lustre and freshness of youth.

I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a long time, and am convinced of its value. When I was 17 years of age my hair began to turn gray. I commenced using the Vigor, and was surprised at the good effects it produced. It not only restored the color to my hair, but so stimulated its growth, that I have now more hair than ever before.—J. W. Edwards, Coldwater, Miss.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers.

IF YOU ARE SUFFERING from debility and loss of appetite; if your stomach is out of order, or your mind confused; take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine will restore physical force and elasticity to the system, more surely and speedily than any tonic yet discovered.

For six months I suffered from liver and stomach troubles. My food did not nourish me, and I became weak and very much emaciated. I took six bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was cured.—J. M. Palmer, Springfield, Mass. ††

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

TELEGRAM.

OTTAWA, 27th March, 1888.

To LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF BRITISH COLUMBIA, VICTORIA.

Your Government should issue public notice cautioning persons going on Sealing expeditions to refrain from assertion of their rights by force, and from taking on board arms and ammunition in excess of their usual requirements. The whole matter is engaging the attention of Her Majesty's Government and forms the subject of diplomatic negotiations now in progress. Any intemperate action in the meanwhile would be most detrimental to British Columbian interests and might lead to serious complications and be followed by grave consequences to those concerned.

ASSOCIATION.

Guarantee Capital $1,000,000

Full Gov'm't Deposit

HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.

FARMER ENO ON CHURCH SINGIN.

I've been a listnin' to the birds
An' hummin' of the bees,
A blendin' in the chorus of
The wind among the trees.
The world seemed like a meetin' house,
The congregation there,
All jinin' in the joyful hymns
That 'peared to fill the air.

The Lord's ole-fashioned meetin' house,
Ole-fashioned hymns of praise,
The world has sung an' sung unchanged,
Since them creation days.
No bang and bustle worship there,
Got up for show and hire;
But everything that had a voice
Was in Jehovah's choir.

I wish they'd quit the proxy plan,
Where you an' me belong,
An' take the Lord's ole-fashioned way
Of worshippin' in song.
Let everybody with a voice,
In pulpit and in pews,
Just shout the glory in his heart,
An' swell the hallelews.

RAISING QUAIL.

Notes from Practical Experience in Stocking Game Grounds.

Some years ago I brought from North Carolina to New Jersey some fifteen or twenty pairs of quail to put out on my own place. I kept them in my barn from February to the middle of April, feeding them on split peas, their favorite food in North Carolina, and giving them free access to water.

I found they became very tame, and when they were turned out in April they continued to remain for some time in the vicinity of the barn.

The place was very favorably situated for stocking, a stream running along the edge of a wood, with cultivated land on one side, at intervals patches of good woodcock grounds and two or three dry bottoms of old mill dams overgrown with alders and raspberries.

I had food scattered in various places for them until they paired. The most of them raised breeds, but they continued to be much tamer than the native quail, and as a consequence were nearly all shot the first season, some of them before the law was up, by outside parties, no attention being paid to the fact that the land was posted.

From my observation I would say peas constitute good food for quail. Patches of peas and buckwheat should be sown in sheltered places on the grounds where birds are turned out. When these are fairly started it is a good plan to scatter light branches and bramble over them, so as to furnish shelter from hawks while the birds are feeding. Thick patches of bramble furnish the best shelter.

There should be turned out as early as possible an equal number of cocks and hens. It is said that unmated cocks break up the nests and destroy the eggs of the mates they could not win.

The birds should not be on hand long enough to become familiar with man and so become tame and dependent. If they become so—and they can be made as chickens—some method should be used to make them wild before they are shot at.—Forest and Stream.

RALPH WALDO EMERSON.

The Philosopher at a Tavern—A Bar-Keeper's Estimate of the Right Drink for Him.

Henry Wilson used to tell a good story about Ralph Waldo Emerson's attempt to "live like other folks."

Stopping while this fit was on him at a country tavern where he was to lecture, instead of retiring to meditate and freeze in his own cold and cheerless room, he manfully sat in the barroom like the rest of mankind.

He endured the tobacco smoke as well as he could, and watched, no doubt with curiosity as lively as M. du Chaillu's on his first visit to a cannibal feast among the apes, the actions of the men who "sat round." He saw one after another walk up to the bar and demand and swallow a glass of whiskey; and, true to his determination to be for once like other men, the great philosopher—so the tale goes on at last rose, and no doubt with a certain degree of diffidence, but no doubt also with a sufficiency of courage in his port and countenance, advanced to the bar, and in a voice modulated as nearly as he could after those he had just heard, demanded a "whiskey skin."

The barkeeper, a man of high principle, looked into the philosopher's face for a moment, and then said: "You do not want whiskey, you want ginger-pop;" and accordingly administered that mild and harmless stimulant.

THE CZAR'S PALACES.

Information from St. Petersburg—Historic Reminiscences.

Of course, in St. Petersburg one must see everything connected with Peter the Great, even to the skeleton of his valet, which has been preserved.

The cathedral which the great monarch founded is known as the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. Its spire is surmounted by a cross that glitters in the midnight 371 feet above the street—10 feet higher than St. Paul's in London.

Here all the dead sovereigns of Russia, with the sole exception of Peter II, are buried; many of them noted for such barbarous cruelty as one shudders to read of. Even the great Peter had his oldest son put to torture under examination for treason—a torture so severe that its victim soon after died from the effects of it.

At the distance of a short drive from St. Petersburg is a charming miniature palace, owned by the Empress, and known by the name of "My Own." It is in the midst of lovely grounds, and is a happy spring place for the royal family whenever they choose to come to it.

In another palace, the Peterhof, there were in a single room over 800 female portraits taken by the order of Catherine II, from women in different provinces of the empire.—St. Petersburg Letter.

Something Good in Him.

"John," said a wife to her husband, "I've heard say that there is something good in everybody, but I declare that boy of ours, it seems to me, has positively not a good thing in him. He is the worst boy I ever saw."

"You are mistaken, Maria. That boy certainly has something good in him, for I just saw him steal a jar of your best preserves, and he has eaten over half of them now. You must admit that he has at much good in him, or else acknowledge that your preserves are no good."

Get the Symptoms.

"Father, who has just returned home—"There is Tommy?"

"Mother—"I don't know. He is acting very strange."

"How so?"

"He said he wouldn't wipe his feet on my such Christian as you are."

"Did he say that?"

"Yes, and he said if you give him any he'd have your hide on the fence before you knew it."

"Well, we must humor Tommy, and hope he will be a great boy."

"Preacher—"He's got the symptoms, sure."

SCENE FROM THE COUNTRY STORE.

How People Do Business Where They Have Time To Bargain.

This is the way they do business at the cross roads' store, where they have plenty of time for it. The system has not yet gone into effect in the large dry goods emporiums of the cities. Old lady in pink "slat" sunbonnet and a gown made of five and a quarter yards of calico, enters, adjusts her glasses and looks at the three pieces of gingham on the shelf.

"Anything I can show you to-day, Mrs. Skinner?" asked the proprietor coming forward with his mouth full of pickles and cheese.

"I dunno," says Mrs. Skinner.

"Got a fine line o' ginghams just in."

"I dunno but I might look at 'em. No charge for that, I reckon?"

"Oh, no, of course not. Now, here's a mighty fine piece o' green and red plaid."

"I dunno as I like plaid."

"Well, here's a blue and white check."

"I hadn't cal'lated on gittin' a check."

"Well, now, here's a green and white piece."

"I've so many green and white ginghams, I thought I'd like something diff'rent this time."

"They're mighty good colors, Mrs. Skinner."

"I've an idea the plaid'll run in washin'."

"What! Gingham like that run? That gingham'll wash long's there's a rag of it, and never fade."

"I ain't so sure o' that."

"Chaw a piece and see. No'm, that gingham'll bile like muslin. Don't you see it says 'fast colors' on the label?"

"Aw, that don't count fer nothin' nowadays. How much is it?"

"Twenty-five cents a yard."

"How much?"

"Twenty-five cents."

"Fer gingham like that?"

"Yes'm, an' cheap at that."

"My land! I've bought better gingham a-many an' a-many a time fer a shillin'."

"It wasn't sech gingham as this."

"It was a leettle better if anything."

"I guess yer mistaken. This gingham cost me twenty-four cents."

"Then you got dreadfully cheated."

"It'd be a bargain at thirty cents."

"Pshaw, man, you crazy? Now, lookee here, Sam Peters, I'll give you twenty cents a yard fer that gingham, and it's all I will give."

"Can't doit, Mrs. Skinner. Say twenty-three cents and I'll do it, but I'll lose money."

"Twenty's all I'll give."

"I'll split the difference and say twenty-two and a half."

"'Taint wuth it, Sam."

"It's wuth two bits."

"Pshaw!"

"'Deed it is."

"I kin git better gingham fer fifteen cents in town."

"Not much, you can't."

"I know I kin."

"I'll give you sixteen cents for all you can git for twenty cents good as this."

"I'll give you twenty-one cents if you'll throw in a card o' hooks and eyes."

"Can't do it."

"Well, say a spool o' thread."

"I'm losin' money as it is."

"Law, Sam, I'll bet you make ten cents a yard on that gingham. You kin put in a card o' buttons, anyhow."

"I'll say six buttons."

"Why can't you make it a dozen?"

"Oh, I'm losin' money now."

"How you talk!"

"It's so!"

"Well, gimme a yard an' the six buttons an' a stick o' pep'ment candy fer the baby. But I'm gittin' cheated. Take your pay in aigs, won't you?"

"No, I couldn't."

"Ain't aigs same ez money?"

"No'p."

"Well, you storekeepers do beat all at makin' a bargain. You don't leave a body a foot to stand on."—Detroit Free Press.

SUPERFICIAL ACQUIREMENTS.

Some Practical Suggestions for Parents.

The boy or girl who can give the name of every river and the height of every mountain in Asia, the age of every reigning sovereign in Europe, the date of every battle in America, can hardly be as well off for all this burdensome knowledge as one who knows the elements of human physiology and anatomy, who is taught more of the knowledge useful in after life, and can tell how to help himself or another in case of accident or emergency.

The boy who is to go into active life and the girl who is to become head of a household, will have little occasion and less opportunity to use the greater part of the "crammed" lessons so industriously accumulated during their school years.

A fair knowledge of the rules that are at the bottom of all healthful activity, a general acquaintance with anatomy and a well-grounded taste for natural sciences, will all grow into and become part of their daily lives, and such things are far less likely to make pretentious men or women than that kind of smattering "memorized" facts and dates and "words" which is too often the penalty of superficial study.

CORRECTING AMERICAN HISTORY.

Establishing a New Date for the Battle of Trenton.

Mr. Andrew Quinton, of Trenton, New Jersey, asserts that the date on the Washington monument, Baltimore, fixing the battle of Trenton as having been fought on December 25, 1776, is incorrect. He says the battle took place on the day following, December 26. Mr. Quintin thinks the date should be changed on the monument so as to read "Battle of Trenton, December 26." Bancroft in his "History of the United States," Lossing in his "Field Book of the Revolution," Carrington in his "Battles of the American Revolution," Bryant in his "Popular History of the United States," and Raum in his "History of New Jersey," all agree that the battle of Trenton was fought on the morning of December 26, 1776.

The American troops started to cross the Delaware on the evening of December 25, but it was 3 o'clock the next morning when they landed on the opposite shore. It was about 8 o'clock when the action began.

Trousers and Skirts.

All the dudish trousers this spring are striped and nearly all have dark brown stripes, either wide or narrow, on light brown backgrounds.

The newest wrinkle with those who have money to indulge in fads is for very young ladies to wear skirts of precisely the same pattern as the trousers of the man they fancy most. It is already a common sight on the uptown avenues in New York to see young couples uniformly dressed, the girls very often having jackets that match with the overcoats of their companions.

A queer circumstance grew out of this idea in a fashionable school close by Central Park. A young man who knows half the skirts in the school, and is very popular, appeared in very striking trousers a week ago, and this week, it is said, the skirts of five of the girls are of the same material.

A Creaking Hinge

Is dry and turns hard, until oil is applied, after which it moves easily. When the joints, or hinges, of the body are stiffened and inflamed by Rheumatism, they cannot be moved without causing the most excruciating pains. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by its action on the blood, relieves this condition, and restores the joints to great working order.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has effected, in this city, many most remarkable cures, in cases which baffled the efforts of the most experienced physicians. When necessary, I could give the names of many individuals who have been cured by taking this medicine. In my case it has worked wonders, relieving me of after being troubled with it for years. In this, and all other diseases arising from impure blood, there is no remedy with which I am acquainted, that affords such relief as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.—R. H. Lawrence, M. D., Baltimore, Md.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me of Gout and Rheumatism, when nothing else would. It has eradicated every trace of disease from my system.—R. H. Short, Manager Hotel Belmont, Lowell, Mass.

I was, during many months, a sufferer from chronic Rheumatism. The disease afflicted me grievously, in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took several bottles of this preparation, and was speedily restored to health.—J. Fream, Independence, Va. ††

Jos. Beaudin, M. D., Hull, P. Q., writes: "Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil commands a large and increasing sale which it richly merits. I have always found it exceedingly helpful; I use it in all cases of rheumatism, as well as fractures and dislocations. I made use of it myself to calm the pains of a broken leg with dislocation of the foot, and in two days I was entirely relieved of the pain."

The prospects are favorable that we shall have a first-class brass band. The old and famous name of the "Royal City Band" is to be revived as the designation of our new corps of musicians. There will be a meeting at the Hyack Hall of the already partly organized band to-night. There are 12 members at present, and it is expected that before long the number will be increased to 24.

Ald. A. M. Herring has received from the Burland Litho. Co., Montreal, the revised proof of the Westminster district folder, and it is now on exhibition in his show window. The folder as it looks now, is a very creditable and accurate map of the district, each mountain, river, creek, road, village and city being plainly designated. When finished the folder will prove invaluable to parties wishing to locate in the district.

High School Examinations.

The midsummer examinations of the high school in this city terminated yesterday afternoon. The pupils were put through exercises in 27 different subjects, namely: Reading, writing, dictation and spelling, geography, English grammar, composition, geology, English literature, music, education, rhetoric, English history, Canadian history, mental arithmetic, written arithmetic, history of Rome, history of Greece, Latin, French, Greek, natural philosophy, book-keeping, mensuration, algebra, geometry, anatomy, physiology and hygiene. The results of the examination will not be known for some weeks.

Chilliwhack's Churches.

This enterprising and prosperous agricultural community is not behind in the matter of churches. Besides commodious establishments in connection with the Church of England and the Methodist Church, a new Presbyterian church and manse has recently been erected for Rev. G. C. Patterson who has been at Chilliwhack about eight months. The aggregate cost of both buildings was over $6,000, which is a pretty good figure for a comparatively small rural congregation. The new church is to be opened on Sunday, 17th of June. There will be three services, and Rev. Mr. McLeod of Victoria will preach. On the Monday evening following a social will be given in Henderson's Hall, comprising a supper and a varied programme, consisting in part of Mr. McLeod's humorous lecture, "That Young Man." It is expected that the choir of St. Andrews, in this city, and others will go up to be present.

The Cold Water Cure.

Last evening between 9 and 10 o'clock, on Columbia street, Mr. Trapp's pony became balky and lay down on the road, refusing to move, although very strong inducements were made to persuade it to do so. The animal was attached to a dog cart at the time, and the numerous positions it managed to get into often placed the vehicle in a dangerous position, but fortunately no damage resulted from these freaks. After trying numerous devices to make the animal rise someone suggested that the hose be turned on and give the pony a drenching. This was considered good advice, and a stream of water was soon washing the dust out of the animal's hide, but the scheme seemed to be a failure, as the pony lay perfectly quiet, apparently enjoying the cooling stream. Another person then proposed that the water be directed into its ear, and this was tried with the greatest success. The pony got up with a rush, stood on its hind legs and snorted loud and long after which its rage gradually subsided and in a few minutes it walked peacefully to the stable as docile as a lamb.

The Clara W. Young.

The Clara W. Young made her trial trip to-day. She is a decidedly handsome craft as to proportions, model and finish. Her dimensions are: Length over all, 61 ft., width of beam, 12 ft. 8 ins.; depth of hold, 9 ft.; 11x12 cylinder, and 35 to 40 horse-power engine. She was built by the McPhee Bros., at their shipyard below the R. C. P. Mills and is the property of the British American Packing Co., of which the genial salmon-king, Ben Young, is manager. She has the latest improved machinery and steel boilers, imported from John Doty's works, Toronto, and is in every respect complete. The machinery, which worked splendidly, was put in under the superintendence of Mr. J. C. Buchanan, machinist, of this city, who has earned quite a reputation in this line, having superintended the same work in connection with the Falcon and Clara Port, built lately. On her trial trip to-day the Clara W. Young took a spin around the river, flying the Union Jack, and afterwards took a new scow, which has been built here, down to the B.A.P.Co.'s establishment. The new steamer will be used in the cannery business.

Home From Ottawa.

Mr. D. Chisholm, M. P., arrived last night from Ottawa after a rather interesting trip of seven days across the continent. Mr. Chisholm is looking remarkably well, the winter in the east having apparently agreed with his health. The trip homewards was interrupted by a delay at Gravel River, east of Port Arthur, where a bridge had been carried away by a freshet, and another detention occurred near Donald, caused by a landslide which damaged the road-bed considerably. In speaking of his parliamentary duties at Ottawa, Mr. Chisholm says it was very hard work getting appropriations from the government, and it was only by the most persistent application he managed to get the amounts voted. In the matter of the improvement of the mouth of the Fraser, Mr. Chisholm feels confident that he will be able next session to secure a sufficient sum to complete the improvements and put the river in a first-class navigable condition. The amount necessary to put the rifle range in good condition and pay off the remaining debt, also the loan of rifles to the association Mr. Chisholm carried through successfully, but not without some trouble. Mr. Chisholm has been busy all day shaking hands with his numerous friends who were all delighted to see him safe home again.

At the last Queen's drawing-room the costumes of the American ladies were much more sober than those of the English. Yellow and pink seemed to be the London fashion, while chiefly white or black were chosen by the American ladies who were presented.

Mr. T. J. Humes, Colambus, Ohio, writes: "I have been afflicted for some time with Kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases. These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity, and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

That Rural Fracas.

We received some time since from the clerk of the magistrate's court at Maple Ridge a full copy of the certified evidence in the "case of Robert Stephens vs. John Hinch, for assault with intent to do bodily harm." Yesterday two letters came to hand, one from John Laity, the magistrate whose decision is impeached by our correspondent, "Vox," and the other from a new correspondent who signs himself "Vox No 2." Both of these communications call in to question the value of the certified evidence as giving a fair expose of the case. Mr. Laity says that "in summary convictions many questions are asked and answered which only a stenographer could note." "Vox No. 2" remarks that "Mr. Laity is well known to oppose the granting of any liquor licenses in this municipality," and draws certain inference therefrom of ulterior motives. We trust that our correspondents will appreciate our position when we say that the matter now on hand in re this case would fill three columns of THE COLUMBIAN, and that we could not, in fairness to all concerned, publish any one of these separate articles without publishing the whole, and in justice to the majority of our readers we cannot give so much space to this matter. We admit its relative importance, but the different views on the question have already been stated in these columns, and we fear it would terminate where it began—in a difference of opinion. There was certainly a wide difference of opinion in the decisions of the two magistrates—Mr. Harris and Mr. Laity—already published in this paper. They both had the same evidence, such as it was, to go on, and both are bound by the same magisterial obligations. Judges of the supreme court do not always concur, and the fact of two magistrates "agreeing to disagree" would not necessarily convict either of violating his high trust. If, however, any one is aggrieved by the finding of a magistrate, the aggrieved party, we believe, has recourse to an appeal, which would be more satisfactory and final than a newspaper discussion could possibly be. With due respect to our correspondents, we must decline to give any more space to this matter.

The people of this country have spoken. They declare by their patronage of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, that they believe it to be an article of genuine merit, adapted to the cure of rheumatism, as well as relieves the pains of fractures and dislocations, external injuries, corns, bunions, piles, and other maladies.

A Wild Pig Hunt.

Several years ago a litter of pigs, for want of attention and home comforts, strayed from their ancestral hogpen and took to the woods in rear of the upper portion of the city, preferring the wild freedom of the forest to the restrictions and abuses practiced at home. Forest life has evidently agreed with these lovers of freedom, as they have increased, multiplied and devastated the earth to such an extent that residents living in the outskirts have become alarmed at the progress they are making. Gardens, potato patches, turnip and cabbage fields are frequently visited by these pigs and four bits will usually purchase the remainder of the crop after these animals have satisfied themselves. Many attempts have been made to exterminate these pests but all have failed. There is a tradition among old-timers that some great English huntsman killed one, but the feat is veiled in so much obscurity that only very credulous people put any confidence in the story. The fact is the pigs are up to snuff, and are more than a match for the average huntsman, which many an ardent sportsman has found to his sorrow at the end of a long day's tramp. A few of the most ardent devotees of the great Nimrod have been quietly organizing for the past couple of weeks for a regular old-fashioned, out-and-out, catch-as-catch-can boar hunt. It is safe to say that no hunters ever arrayed themselves with more confidence, as to their success, than did these gentlemen. Armed with everything from a rifle to a revolver, from a boar-spear to a skene dhu and from an Australian boomerang to a Zulu assegai the party made a very picturesque and charming appearance last evening as they marched to the camping grounds of the gay and festive pigs. In the party was noticed a veteran who has chased the wild boar all over France and made that beautiful country so hot for the boar tribe that the most of them moved to Norway and Sweden and became, like the French nobility at the time of the revolution, genuine emigres. Another of the party, in years gone by, chased the wild buffalo over the trackless prairies and gaily followed the cinnamon bear and mountain lion to their rocky dens in the then unknown wild, wild west. With such experts as these in the throng who could doubt the ultimate success of the chase? Arriving on the scene the hunters formed themselves into a half-moon and proceeded cautiously into the forest for a distance of six miles, after which they turned about and made their way back to the point of commencement where they awaited the charitable shadows of night to cover them as bruised, tired and annoyed they stealthily made their way home by dark streets and narrow lanes. Out of regard for the families of the hunters, who are much respected in this city and are not really responsible for the conduct of these Nimrods, we withhold their names.

City Council.

The city council met last night for the transaction of business. Present, His Worship Mayor Dickinson and Aldermen Elliott, Shiles, Calbick, Hoy, Ovens, Herring, and DeBeck.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Oscar Crandell, offering to put in panes of glass in broken lamps at the rate of 40 cents each. Referred to lamp committee with power to act.

From W. N. Bole, concerning Corbould & McColl's bill and the bill for the last coroner's inquest. Laid over.

From Jas. Cunningham, asking for the grade of Douglas street, as he intended building there. Referred to board of works.

From H. V. Edmonds, calling attention to the drain on Mr. J. W. Harvey's lot on Columbia street. Referred to the board of works with power to act.

From Wm. Ross and others, asking the council to complete McInnes st. Received.

From E. Mohun, offering his services as engineer for the contemplated water works and sewerage system. Received and filed.

From Peter Grant and Wm. McColl asking the council to construct a stone gutter opposite the Masonic-Oddfellows block. Referred to board of works with power to act.

From J. Rowland Hett, asking for cheque for $50, for city charter. Referred to city solicitor.

From W. J. Corbett, chief engineer, asking for a grant of money to purchase racing hose reel. Received and filed.

From the Burland Litho. Co. concerning the advertising folders. Received and filed.

From W. N. Bole, stating that Mr. W. N. Draper would not accept less than $1500 for his lot. Referred to city solicitor.

From Hon. John Robson, provincial secretary, saying he saw no objection to the council building a tank on Royal Avenue, providing no damage was done to public or private property.

From the collector of inland revenue asking the council to pay the taxes due on land leased for railway purposes.

From A. J. Boville, asking permission to burn stumps on his property, also for permission to lay lumber on the street for building purposes. Permission was given to lay down the lumber but not to burn the stumps.

From W. H. Holden, protesting against the bridge erected by Mr. Wintemute over the ravine in rear of the Farmers' Home. Mr. Holden designates the bridge as a fire-trap. Referred to the fire committe with power to act.

From W S. Gore, surveyor-genaral, stating the government had been pleased to set aside a certain portion of the Queen's park for the use of the city.

Ald. Herring thought the city was entitled to the whole park and the matter should be referred to the city solicitor to find out what the city's rights were in the matter.

His worship said the Insane Asylum required more land and that land would have to be taken from the park. The city would get 37 acres and that could be made very useful. He did not see what good the city solicitor could do in the matter as the property has never been transferred to the city.

Communication received and ordered filed.

From W. N. Bole, containing the draft of a memorial from the council to the secretary of state. The memorial urged the necessity of erecting defences on the Fraser and on Burrard Inlet for the protection of the terminal points of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Ald. DeBeck moved that the memorial be adopted and forwarded to the minister of militia and that the board of trade of this city and the board of trade and city council of Vancouver be asked to co-operate in bringing the matter before the imperial government. Seconded by Ald. Hoy and carried.

From the Coquitlam Water Works Co., withdrawing the offer made by the company to the city dated May 5th and substituting the following:

"That the company will construct and maintain in a state of first-class efficiency a system of water-works for the supply of this city, direct from Coquitlam Lake, and will allow the city the free use of the same, for purposes of fire protection and sewer flushing, on condition of an annual payment of $5,000 to the company. This agreement to hold good for three years, at the expiration of which time the city to have the right of purchase of the said works on payment to the company of their outlay upon the same, with 10 per cent. added thereto, together with such additional sum as will, with the receipts from the works bring up the net annual profits to investors therein to 10 per cent.

Ald. Herring said this was a matter that required mature consideration and he moved that it be referred to a committee consisting of the mayor and Aldermen Hoy, DeBeck, and Shiles. Carried.

ACCOUNTS.

Mainland Guardian, $9.75; C. Murray, $10.30; N. W. Gas Co., $209.25; H. Morey & Co., $4.25; J. Jensen, $56.25; D. McBroom, $46.50; F. Forest, $75.50; W. Dyker, $18; F. Guenniss, $7.87½; C. Blair, $56.25; F. Dominy, $2.

Moved by Ald. Hoy and seconded by Ald. Ovens, that the council call for tenders to build an approach to Mr. Edmond's wharf. Carried.

The committee appointed to confer with the Ven. Archdeacon Woods reported that negotiations had fallen through. Committee discharged.

On motion, the sum of $50 was ordered to be paid to Mr. Whiteside, yearly, for attendance at the police court.

Ald. Elliott tendered his resignation as chairman of the board of works.

By a unanimous vote of the council Ald. Elliott was requested to withdraw his resignation, which he did on consideration.

His Worship paid Ald. Elliott a very deserved compliment on the manner in which he conducted the work of the board.

The financial statement for May was read and adopted.

Ald. Hoy said many complaints were made as to persons piling cordwood on the street. His worship said the matter would be attended to.

Notice of motion was given that at next meeting the council would be asked to strike a rate of taxation for the current year.

The council then adjourned till next Monday evening.

H. A. McLaughlin, Norland, writes: "I am sold out of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. It sells well, and I find in every instance it has proven satisfactory. I have reason to believe it the best preparation of the kind in the market." It cures Dyspepsia, Biliousness, and Torpidity of the Liver, Constipation, and all diseases arising from Impure Blood, Female complaints, etc.

It is suggested that the militia department might utilize Capt. Harstone's invention and convert the Snider rifles with which the militia are now armed into Martini rifles.
