TO THE ELECTORS OF REVELSTOKE RIDING OF WEST KOOTENAY:

GENTLEMEN,—In seeking the suffrages of the electors of this Riding, I wish to briefly state my position which I will define as one of perfect independence.

My first and special care, should you honor me with election, will be the interests of this Riding, which will always and at all times receive my first and best attention.

I believe, in the main, the platform promulgated by the Government is the most progressive which has been placed before the electorate, and legislation along its lines will receive my support, as will also any legislation for the amelioration of the condition of labor in this Province.

Regarding Asiatic immigration I am in uncompromising opposition to it and will assist in every legitimate way to stem its tide and discourage its competition with white labor.

I have the honor to remain,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
ALEX. McRAE.

General French In Johannesburg.

(Special to the MAIL.)

LONDON, May 28.—It is reported to day that General French has entered Johannesburg, but this could not be confirmed. Lord Roberts reported that he himself was within seven miles of Johannesburg. The enemy are abandoning the positions which they had prepared, as he advanced. The Boers just got out of Klip river station with 5 guns on a train as the Australians dashed in. Lord Roberts also reports that General French and General Hamilton have been fighting all day ten miles to his left but with what result is not known. The farmers are surrendering their arms and horses.

Denied a Landing.

New York, May 27.—James Fitzpatrick, alias "Skin the Goat," and Joseph Mullet, the two surviving members of the Irish Invincibles who were recently released from prison in Ireland, where they were sentenced for complicity in the Phoenix Park murders of 1882, were to-day ordered excluded by the Board of Special inquiry at the immigration station and ordered deported.

The expulsion was made under the interpretation of the law which forbids any one being admitted to this country who has been adjudged guilty of a "felony, crime, infamous crimes, or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude." The two men were recently pardoned by Earl Cadogan, lord lieutenant of Ireland, from sentence of life imprisonment and reached this city on the Lucania on Saturday.

The two men were taken before a special board on Ellis Island this morning. The inquisition was secret. After the meeting of the board it was learned that Fitzpatrick was the first of the two to be examined by the board. He admitted he had served 17 years. When asked for what crime he had been convicted, he answered "Treason." He was then questioned as to this charge and he told the board he had been arrested nine months after the famous Phoenix Park murders in company with 23 others, he being sentenced to penal servitude for life. While telling his story to the board Fitzpatrick declared that at the time of his trial he was offered £10,000 by the English Government if he would turn informer against the other members of the band. This he refused to do. Fitzpatrick said that he and Mullet had about $250 between them when they reached this port. Fitzpatrick said: "I came to this country to have a rest and recuperate, then go back to my family."

Mullet indignantly refused to answer any questions put to him by the board. The men were then sent to the "excluded pen." The case will probably be appealed to the authorities at Washington and if not Fitzpatrick and Mullet will leave this port on Saturday on the Lucania.

Increased Salary.

The railway postal mail clerks in British Columbia are quite elated over the fact that their salaries are to be increased by $10 per month; that is, they are to receive the provisional allowance which it was believed they would receive some time ago. Hon. Mr. Mulock has at last realized, through the persistent representations of Messrs. Maxwell and Morrison, that living in British Columbia is much more costly than it is in the east; hence the concession referred to. It is one which we feel sure will be appreciated by every employee of the government in connection with this service, and that their thanks will be duly tendered to Messrs. Maxwell and Morrison for the interest they have displayed in this matter, we have no doubt.—Vancouver World.

Imprisonment for Life.

Welland, Ont., May 25.—The three men, Dullman, Nolan and Walsh, who tried to blow up the Welland canal, were found guilty today and were sentenced to imprisonment for life.

The exclusion of the evidence respecting the connection of the prisoners with Fenianism took much of the sensation out of the trial of the dynamiters. When to-night it was learned that all three had been found guilty and were given the terrible sentence of imprisonment for life, there was a quick revival of the keenest interest.

E. B. F. Johnson, crown prosecutor, delivered a powerful address to the jury. He pointed out that it was an attack on the country, not on the individual. He said:

"To-day the attack is on a canal; tomorrow it may be on railway bridges, next day on the house of parliament. I know not whether this crime is an outcome of a plot of the Clan-Na-Gael or any other secret society or club, nor do I care, as far as the purposes of this case are concerned. One thing is certain, and that is it was not due to private motives, neither was it due to revenge or personal spite, but we can say that the hand which touched the fuse at the lock was a hand traitorous to the state. That hand struck a blow at this country, and not at the Welland canal alone."

Chancellor Boyd charged briefly, and the jury was out half an hour.

Chancellor Boyd delivered sentence immediately, dwelling on the horrible nature of the crime and remarking that Nolan and Walsh might have undertaken the deed for money, but in the case Dullman apparently there was no motive but hate. He then sentenced the prisoners to imprisonment for life.

The prisoners listened stolidly; refused to plead for mercy, and were taken back to their cells.

THE WEDDING RING.

It was made, they said, from the guinea gold—
Poor little ring, so frail and old!
It is worn to a thread, for, all, it has known
A world of love and regrets outgrown.

As I look at the ring, so fragile, so frail,
That shines on my hand while I whisper my tale,
I stoop the delicate thread to kiss,
For it breathes anew of its lived out bliss.

And could I go back to the years that have passed,
With the tender look that she wore to the last,
My grandmother's face, uprising fair,
Would smile as it list'ning to love's sweet prayer.

By the ocean she lived and loved and wed,
And beside it her first glad vows were said;
While mid choirs of billows that, singing, broke
It was there the voice of her future spoke.

Ah, well, she vanished a long time ago!
She had joys and regrets that we all must know,
But she rests with her lover in changeless repose,
And perchance remembers it all. Who knows?
—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Canning's Wedding.

I was to be best man, and Pitt, Canning and Mr. Leigh, who was to read the service, dined with me before the marriage, which was to take place in Brook street. We had a coach to drive there, and as we went through that narrow part near what was then Swallow street, a fellow drew up against the wall to avoid being run over, and, peering into the coach, recognized Pitt and saw Mr. Leigh, who was in full canonicals, sitting opposite him.

The fellow exclaimed, "What, Billy Pitt, and with a parson too!"

I said, "He thinks you are going to Tyburn to be hanged privately," which was rather impudent of me, but Pitt was too much absorbed, I believe, in thinking of the marriage to be angry.

After the ceremony he was so nervous that he could not sign as witness, and Canning whispered to me to sign without waiting for him. He regarded the marriage as the one thing needed to give Canning the position necessary to lead a party, and this was the cause of his anxiety about it, which I would not have believed had I not witnessed it, though I knew how warm was the regard he had for Canning. Had Canning been Pitt's own son I do not think he could have been more interested in all that related to his marriage.—Letters of John Hookham Frere.

CLEANINGS.

It requires 10,000,000 pounds of meat a week to feed the inhabitants in Manhattan, Brooklyn and Jersey City.

A wedding invitation in Cairo extends for three days. There is feasting during all the time, and the house and street are liberally decorated with flags and lanterns.

More than five tons of documents produced by England in the Venezuelan arbitration case have been removed from Paris. They required two large railway vans to take them away.

Los Angeles is distinguished for the number of petroleum oil wells it possesses. The output for 1898 approximated 1,100,000 barrels, and that for 1899 is estimated to be about the same.

The hair of rabbits and other animals in Russia is converted into bowls, dishes and plates, which are prized for their strength, durability and lightness. The articles have the appearance of varnished leather.

TAKING THE REINS.

Frank Cooley, 2:24¼, a new pacer, is a brother of Bessie T, 2:11¼, by Ben McGregor.

The correct record of Tribulation, by Tribute, 2:24, is 2:25½, not 2:25¾, and he is a 4-year-old.

Harry Devereux of Cleveland will return his great young horse John A. McKenon, 3, 2:12¼, to the turf next year.

The yearling filly Zephyr, by Zombo, 2:11, out of Gazelle, 2:11½, has trotted an eighth in 18 seconds and repeat in 17½.

David Blanchard of Boston has an equine pensioner that is 36 years old and has not worn harness for several years.

Minota, 2:19¼, owned by J. R. Lamy, Amherst, N. S., is holder of the fastest record made over a maritime province track by a horse bred in the provinces.

The Northern Pacific railroad will transport 9,000 horses this winter from Washington to eastern points. To move this great army of range horses will require 350 box cars.

The two new trotters, Wilquette, 2:25, by Moquette, 2:10, and Elliott Stone, 2:21¼, by Silent Brook, 2:16½, are both out of Dido, sister of Lottie K, 2:26¾, by Squire Talmage.

The 4-year-old filly Nellie Gay, by Pamlico, 2:10, who took a half mile track trotting record of 2:21¼ the past season, is said not to have made a break in any of her races during the campaign.

There is a four footed curiosity owned at Avon, Ills. It is the foal of a small jenny, by a Shetland sire standing 36 inches in height. The foal is a male, weighs 21 pounds and stands 20 inches.

Phil Groben of Buffalo is raising speed at his farm. He has a fast young trotter, that has shown a mile in 2:20, a 3-year-old pacer that can step in 2:27 and another green one that can go close to 2:17.

J. B. McFerran, Jr., of Louisville is said to have the greatest pony team ever seen in the blue grass country. They are black and white, only 50 inches high, and have been driven on a wager ten miles in less than one hour.—Horse Review.

THE CENSOR.

One bad thing about trade and money corners is that they are seldom square.—Philadelphia Times.

Why exempt lawyers as jurors? They seem to be the only ones who can answer their own questioning.—New York World.

It is rather curious that the world is not shocked at the thought of war, but is vastly disturbed over the violation of the amenities of war.—Elmira Gazette.

Now New York has begun a raid on the get rich quick syndicates all along the line. Meanwhile the blooming idiots who patronize them are still at large.—Boston Herald.

At last it has happened. A stolen phonograph has peached on the thief. The parrot, the cuckoo clock and the chicken in the possum pouch can now be laid aside.—New York Press.

The Berliner Klinische Wochenschrift is authority for the statement that "the development of abnormal redness of the nose is a consequence of the wearing of a veil in winter." We don't see how that lets the men out.—Buffalo Commercial.

The "rainy day skirt" has come to stay. It is going to stay after it gets through raining. As a matter of fact, it is no longer a rainy day skirt; it is a common sense skirt for the twentieth century woman for every day in the year.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A New York woman arrested for keeping chickens in her rooms supposed they were no worse than the squawking parrots and barking dogs of the other rooms of an apartment house. Why should there be so much difference of opinion as to pets?—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CONGRESSIONAL CUTS.

No congress ever yet did so much harm as timid citizens feared it would. A great deal of folly works itself off in talk.—Hartford Courant.

Congress is always said to sit. The members have all had to run so hard for it that when they get there they're mighty glad to engage in sitting.—Zanesville Courier.

Congressmen who say the coming session will be the most important since the civil war must not forget to facilitate the work in a practical and sensible way.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

With a presidential campaign imminent, congressional action in all respects will be swayed, as heretofore in seasons of national elections, by partisan considerations rather than by public interests. To the average congressman, indeed, his party is the public.—Philadelphia Record.

THE JEWELER'S ART.

Old Dutch designs are liked for chatelaine bag frames.

A baby's knife and fork show just a dainty little flower edging.

The bead (silver or silver gilt) of the latest hatpin is long and slender, with a high, round topped stone set in it.

Small sized, open face and half hunting case watches in plain bright gold with white dials represent the stylish utilitarian watch for women.

Belt buckles grow larger. Some conventional oval and square forms are seen, but odd and fanciful designs predominate. Some of the prettiest novelties are in French gray silver or in gold richly shaded.—Jewelers' Circular.
