Sunday Labor.

The report on Sunday Labor, which has recently been issued by the German Government, has a direct bearing on the welfare of the industrial classes throughout the world. Under the stress of competition with other countries, especially with Great Britain, German artisans have been driven to labor on Sundays. The amount of work varies in the different states, but in Saxony we are told that only the hours of divine worship are exempt. Nearly four hundred commercial and industrial associations have been consulted on the desirability of reform. Of these, a small number advocate total prohibition, and a small proportion do not desire any change; but a large majority are in favor of partial prohibition. Here the matter rests for the present. We cannot believe that so thoughtful a people as the Germans will permanently acquiesce in a custom fraught with infinite mischief to the community. We do not touch upon the religious aspect of the question. The need of adequate repose of mind and body arises out of the limitation of our powers. A day of rest would remain a social necessity if the Jewish and Christian Sabbaths were abolished. Perpetual drudgery would stunt both mind and body. Life would be robbed of hope and brightness if a periodic rest did not break the monotony of toil. Industrial greatness would be dearly purchased at the cost of physical degeneration and moral feebleness. But we do not believe that even as working-machines do the industrial classes gain by laboring on the seventh day. A sentient machine needs frequent recuperation of its powers; if it is to do its work effectively. Drive it on day after day without pause, and you reduce its elasticity. It still moves and and acts, but its results are inferior in both quantity and quality. The German government is less far-seeing than we suppose if it does not intervene to check a practice which though it may seem to meet a present need, cannot fail to injuriously affect the quality of the future population of the empire. Even the soldiers of a future Bismarck will be of inferior calibre if their fathers have been for generations chained like galley-slaves to the oar of a supposed commercial necessity. England, we trust, will not be tempted to followed the example set us by our Teutonic neighbors. Our competition with continental industries has become very keen and close. By bounties lavished by foreign governments, our sugar factories have been shut up. In many branches of hardware we are being undersold. What then? Shall we abolish our Sunday, and work seven days? By doing so, we might drive German workmen into a life of yet more hopeless toil and secure for our artisans a temporary advantage; but we should perpetrate a cruelty on both Germans and Englishmen. The career, if we may call it such, of our industrial classes is already hard and monotonous enough. Let us rather try to make their life brighter and more varied. To many of them the occupations of church and chapel are not a pleasure; but we have no right to punish them with deprivation of those secular pleasures which are innocent, and which bring relaxation to the strained sinews and refreshment to the wearied brain. To our clergy of all persuasions, as men set up for the instruction and civilization of the community, belongs the duty of aiding in the work of brightening the lives of our toiling millions.—Leicester Chronicle.

"Annabella," said a matron to the naughty little girl whose nurse brought her out on the hotel piazza to received correction, "aren't you ashamed? What do you suppose I brought you here for?" "Don't know," she answered sulkily. "Don't know?" "No I don't! You said you must marry off sister Mary this summer, but you did't say a thing to me." Sister Mary's admirers grinned at mamma's discomfiture, but down they went before Annabella's parting shot; "If you did mean to marry me off you'd better bring in some other men. I wouldn't marry one of that crowd.—Boston Transcript.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

POWDERLY'S ADDRESS.

MINNEAPOLIS, OCT. 7.—The annual address of General Master Workman Powderly which was presented to the general assembly yesterday afternoon has caused a decided commotion among some of the factions. The opinion expressed concerning the address are as varied as they are irreconcilable. The supporters of Powderly as enthusiastic in their praise although some of them admit there is a mistiness of meaning about his reference to the anarchists, and too much of an inclination to temporise is apparent in his inferential suggestions that only the men possibly convicted of the immediate action for the murder should be hanged. But while his friends are on the whole satisfied with the document, it furnished abundant material for his opponent to make music of. The utterances in relation to anarchy and the orders are received with general favor although they will not deter the friends of the condemned men from making vigorous efforts in their behalf. That portion, however, in which Powderly declares that anarchists in the order have plotted its destruction, that he has proofs, and he will present them, and that every avowed anarchist should be compelled to withdraw or be expelled, has created a good sized sensation, and there is a general sentiment that the matter should be shifted to the bottom, no matter who may be hurt. There is a division of opinion among the delegates from Canada regarding the suggestion that they should start provincial assemblies, and note the result before insisting upon a separate jurisdiction, seceding from the order. But the conciliatory tone of the address towards the Dominion membership and especially the suggestion that a legislative committee should remain at Ottawa during the sessions of Dominion Parliament for purpose of watching the progress of the legislation, has had a modifying effect, and the Canadians will probably be satisfied to accept whatever they can get in the way of recognition. The proposition to establish a beneficial branch of the order and adopt new plans for the regulation of the state, territorial, mixed and trades assemblies, will be carefully considered, while the proposal to demand of congress the creation of the department of labor, will be unanimously endorsed and a strong commission appointed to carry into effect.

EARL SPENCER ON IRELAND.

LONDON, 7.—Early Spencer, in a speech at Alberyswith this evening, said that he was satisfied that the Land League had nothing whatsoever to do with crime in Ireland. Referring to the state of crime in Ireland, he said he would not advocate a breech of the law, but according to the present condition of affairs, he could expect nothing different. He felt a stronger conviction than ever Ireland stood in no need of Home Rule.

THE CROWN PRINCE'S HEALTH.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The fact of the Crown Prince Frederick William going to Lago Maggiore, is taken as a confirmation of the widespread German belief that he is not only suffering from general debility but that the throat trouble, never under the control of his English physician, is much worse than it has been it any time since the patient forsook his regular doctors for the London specialist. The German physicians, not only those who formerly attended the Prince, but other equally skilled practitioners, have never for a moment ceased to distrust Dr. Mackenzie's diagnosis of the case and are now more than ever fearful that he has been over confident and permitted his professional pride to impair is judgment.

MOROCCO'S NEW SULTAN.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The report of the death of Sultan Muley Hassan of Morocco is confirmed. He has been succeeded by his 16 year old son, who took the oath of office over the dead body of his father, and immediately, upon assuming of office, appointed his favorite uncle his grand Vizier.

TRADE RETURNS.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Report of the Board of Trade for the month of September shows the imports to have increased £1,710,000 over September 1886, and the exports as compared with same month, increased £900,000.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

ALWAYS PLOTTING DESTRUCTION.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 8.—A portion of Powderly's address delivered before the Knights of Labor, declaring that anarchists in the order plotted its destruction, that he has proofs he will present to them, and that every avowed anarchist should be compelled to withdraw or be expelled, has created a sensation. There is a general sentiment that the matter should be sifted to the bottom.

NEW C. P. R. STEAMERS.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—Sir Geo. Stephen, president of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, will leave for England in November to arrange for the building of three powerful steamers to run on the Pacific between Vancouver, China and Japan. The steamers will be about 4000 tons burden.

LOTS OF OIL.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The petroleum flowing from the wells at Baku is inundating the town. It is impossible to store the oil.

$100,000 SHORT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—It is stated this morning that a large deficiency has been discovered in the department of public works, Jersey City. The shortage is said to be $100,000.

NO REPLY YET.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Wharton Barker said yesterday that no reply has yet been received to his letter to Secretary Bayard asking whether he had been informed by the Chinese government that the negotiations with the syndicate were off. The promoters of the scheme are more confident than ever that the reported withdrawl of the Chinese government has not taken place, and that the government has gone too far to back out.

CHEAP SYMPATHY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A cablegram from London says: The anarchists held meeting here last night and passed resolutions of sympathy with their ill-fated Chicago brothers. A protest against their execution was also passed.

A HORRIBLE DISCOVERY.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 8.—A startling discovery was made in this city yesterday. A house located in the block bounded by Michigan, Ontario, Locust and Lagrange streets, was vacated recently and a new tenant moved in. A terrible stench was emitted from a cistern on the premises and an investigation discovered the bodies of 13 babies in a shocking state of putrification. The horrified people reported the matter to the police at headquarters. It appears that the house was formerly occupied by a midwife, and it was supposed for hire she undertook the awful work of taking lives of babies born out of wedlock. The woman is now under arrest.

A LUCKY FISHERMAN.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 8.—The fishing schooner Perigrine White ran into a peculiar looking mass last night and for curiosity it was taken aboard. On arrival here it was taken to a chemist for analysis, who pronounced it ambergris of the finest quality. The find is worth $59,000.

U. S. SHIP CHICAGO.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The statement is made to-day that serious defects have been discovered in the machinery of the new steel cruiser Chicago, which now lies in Brooklyn navy yard, and two weeks at least will be required to put the big vessel in proper shape for her trial trip at sea. It is said there was a miscalculation made when her machinery was put in, and that two weeks will be consumed in rectifying the mistake.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

THE UNEMPLOYED PARADE.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—An immense crowd of poor, homeless, unemployed people to-day paraded in a body through the principal streets in the west end. They carried a black banner bearing in white letters the inscription, "We will have work or bread." Police accompanied the procession, which eventually returned to Trafalgar Square and, with the followers they had attracted, held a meeting. They adopted a resolution to reassemble at the same place next Monday and continue to parade daily until relief was afforded.

AN INFORMER.

DUBLIN, Oct. 8.—At Ennis to-day the prisoners under examination for complicity in the murder of Constable Wheelan were, on testimony of Callinan, an informer, committed for trial. The populace cheered the prisoners as they were led back to jail.

YELLOW JACK.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Surgeon-general Hamilton this morning received a telegram from Dr. Wall, at Tampa, Fla., saying there have been four deaths from yellow fever and about twenty new cases. Many people have fled. It may be necessary to establish a camp of refuge in the country. A telegram was also received from Sanford, Fla., signed Dr. Wylly, president of the state health and protective association, requesting the loan of tents for refugees from the epidemic at Tampa. Dr. Hamilton ordered the tents to be sent.

CLEVELAND GOES FISHING.

MADISON, Oct. 8.—The president and his companions went fishing today in Lake Mendota. A steam launch conveyed them to an island in the lake, from where they went to the fishing grounds in small boats. The only public event on the programme is a reception this evening.

A HEAVY FINE.

SAN FRANCISO, Oct. 8.—Ollie Hutchins, the procuress, was sentenced today to six months imprisonment in the house of correction and to pay a fine of five hundred dollars with the alternative of five hundred days additional imprisonment at the expiration of first sentence if the fine is not paid. The woman was sentenced to six months imprisonment on a similiar charge a week ago.

THE TELEGRAPH DEAL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—A statement to the effect that Robert Garrett referring to the absorption of the B. & O. Telegraph lines by the W. U. said last night "There is no trade, gentlemen," caused considerable talk to-day, but no excitement. The W. U. went off a point but that was not attributed to Garrett's alleged denial of the deal. Jay Gould treated the story laughingly. He said, "There is no B. & O. Telegraph now, as their wires are now part of our system."

Mr. C. E. Riggins, Beamsville, writes: "A customer who tried a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery says it is the best thing he ever used; to quote his own words, 'It just seems to touch the spot affected.' About a year ago he had an attack of bilious fever, and was afraid he was in for another, when I recommended this valuable medicine with such happy results."

Daily British Columbian

Saturday Evening, Oct. 8, 1887.

Party newspapers in eastern Canada seem to view the probable appointment of Sir John Macdonald as a member of the fishery commission solely from a party standpoint. Liberal newspapers, therefore, generally condemn the appointment, while, of course, the organs of the other party praise it with equal cordiality. In many ways Sir John is particularly fitted for the work of the commission, and we are not sure that Canada could furnish a more capable representative. His diplomatic experience has been quite extensive, and he ought to possess a very good knowledge of the business in hand. Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. Edward Blake have also been mentioned as possible commissioners, and either of them, or Sir A. T. Galt, would probably discharge the duties of the position with credit to himself and satisfaction to the country. From the tone of the British press and public men it seems probable that Great Britain will back Canada in what are deemed her just fishing rights, and we ought to be represented by a person whose knowledge of the facts will enable him to act with intelligence, and whose backbone will not grow weak before opposition and discouragement.

To all unprejudiced observers it must appear certain that the cause of home rule is making substantial progress in Great Britain. We believe the time is not far off when such concessions will be made by the British government as will satisfy the reasonable demands of the Irish people. It must have become obvious that without substantial concessions no lasting union can be maintained. It may be that the demands of the Irish in some respects go to such a length as to make compliance with them exceedingly difficult if justice is to be done to England and Scotland; but the circumstances of the island are peculiar, and it will surely be better in the interests of peace to stretch a point than to maintain the present condition of perpetual discontent. When the grievances of Ireland have been adjusted we may confidently look for rapid and substantial progress in that country. In many respects the Irish are now a source of weakness to the empire. In the event of a great war they could not, in their present temper, be relied upon for much assistance. Better make a sacrifice for the sake of contentment, for pacified Ireland would quickly become loyal, and the strength of the empire would be immensely increased.

There has been considerable disappointment at the result of this season's operations in the mining regions of British Columbia. It was believed that the developments of the year would be very much more important than they have been, and great results were looked for especially in quartz. There have been several new discoveries which promise large things, and the exact value of which cannot yet be accurately determined. Chief among them may be mentioned the silver bonanza at Illecillewaet, in which several mining companies are interested. Although these mines have been worked very little, there seems no room to doubt that they contain enormous wealth, and that they will yield a handsome fortune to those who have been fortunate enough to get possession of them. But of the gold quartz there seems to be little more now known than there was a year ago. We have had encouraging reports and reports discouraging, and between the two one can come only to the conclusion that at present the success of the gold quartz mines so far discovered is at least doubtful. There are some who declare that our quartz mines are a fraud. We are not of that opinion. We believe there will yet be found among them many veins that will yield a rich reward to those whose enterprise may develop them. We are sanguine, also, that quartz veins will some day be discovered in this country so rich and extensive that the eyes of the world will open with amazement when they hear of the wonderful new El Dorado. Fifty millions of dollars worth of gold has been washed up in the Fraser River and its tributaries, and it would be safe to assert that there is more than a hundred times that amount still lying unreclaimed in the bed of the river. Where the washings have been so immensely rich there must be a source of supply equally rich at least, and when that source comes to be uncovered the world may prepare to wonder. But that time has not come, and as yet great uncertainty hangs over quartz mining. Every person who has examined the auriferous belts of British Columbia is confident that there are immense areas which will some day be worked with large profits to the owners. Our faith remains unshaken in the richness of our gold fields, but the expectations for the year that is now closing have certainly not been realized. Perhaps next year will give us better results.

Save the Youth.

The supreme demand and work of the present day, says the Rev. L. F. Bickford in the Pioneer, is to save the youth. Why let them grow up in dissipation, to ruin themselves and cast a blight over the lives of parents and friends, and become a disgrace to the community? Why suffer them to become confirmed in evil habits, bound by the strong chain of appetite, and then, with agony and tears, and prayers try to rescue them, while the open saloon, unchecked, is continuing its deadly and ruinous work, and spreading its fiery devastations all over the land?

The youth must be taught reverence and respect for morals and religion. They must learn that these are their true safeguards, and that it is a noble thing to stand on the side of morality and religion against all forms of vice and evil. We must teach them the same with reference to the home; that home is a sacred citadel, ever to be guarded from the foul touch of that ruthless destroyer, the liquor traffic.

If a man cannot protect his home, his name, his character, his children from defilement, temptation and vice, then public sentiment is at a low ebb, and law and government are meaningless things.

Public sentiment depends upon the kind of teachers it has. Government depends upon the kind of hands it falls into. If we would have these become what they should be, we must see to it that the youth maintain a high respect for virtue, morality, religion and law. If we would save the youth, we must not only rescue and protect them, but we must root out the cause of their ruin. And the majesty of law and the power of government must be invoked to do this. Law must be respected and obeyed. A nation of lawbreakers would be the greatest waymark of sin and folly ever set upon the pathway of nations, as they march on to their destiny.

To demand of government to take cognizance of the moral welfare of the community is the right of the people, and when they speak demanding certain enactments it should mean something. When they express their wish for the enactment of certain laws to protect that which is dearest to them—their homes, their sons, and the holy Sabbath—these laws must be made to mean everything they say. And the liquor power, mighty as it is in money and influence, must not be permitted to stay the execution nor continue a violator of the law. The fact is, even under the present imperfect laws against liquor-selling, more than half the liquor traffic is in violation of law. It is the great law-breaker of the land, the outlaw of outlaws. Let the people make it a complete outlaw, and make it feel that it is amendable to law, and it will have to bow to the will of the people.

The only remedy by which to save the youth, to save the home, to save the nation, is complete and uncompromising constitutional prohibition of the liquor traffic. As Christians we recognize that our religion teaches us to be true to the highest interests of our fellow-men both in their private and national capacity. There is before us to be wrought out the greatest triumph of our Christian civilization, and we must keep it a Christian civilization. I mean the triumph of the people over the heart-desolating, home-destroying, youth-ruining, man-slaying, liquor-traffic; and this Christian nineteenth century of light shall not close until it be done.

One of the Causes.

A correspondent writing from Langley suggests that one of the principal causes of the increase of saloons in this province is that the magistrates are appointed by government irrespective of the views of the people on temperance, and sometimes for political purposes. He complains that they are now suffering from this cause in Langley, and charges the senior member for this district with promoting such appointments, and adds: "The right way is, that when magistrates are to be appointed, let the people nominate those whom they know to be sound on all great questions and who also possess the necessary qualifications to ensure respect for the office, and not, as is too frequently the case, the very opposite." This and other reforms in connection with the law and the administration thereof as relating to the liquor traffic are devoutly to be wished; but it is to be feared that politicians, &c., in this province will continue to ignore the whole question until forced to do their duty by the united and consistent action of those who profess to have these reforms at heart.

THE JUGWUMPS.—You Republicans need not build yourselves up and say the Democratic party is the whiskey party. You had absolute control of the government for twenty-four years, and when you left it the country was drenched and doomed and damned with liquor from Maine to California. I am a mugwump, and the difference between me and you is that are a jugwump.—Sam Small's address at Plattsburg, Mo.

The brewers of Pennsylvania have formed an association to fight prohibition, and in their call for a state convention say: "Trade is placed in such a position that we must fight or die."

The Washington Sentinel says: "Prohibition has destroyed every brewery in Maine, Vermont, and Kansas.

A Creaking Hinge

Is dry and turns hard, until oil is applied, after which it moves easily. When the joints, or hinges, of the body are stiffened and inflamed by Rheumatism, they cannot be moved without causing the most excruciating pains. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by its action on the blood, relieves this condition, and restores the joints to good working order.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has effected, in our city, many most remarkable cures, in cases which baffled the efforts of the most experienced physicians. Were it necessary, I could give the names of many individuals who have been cured by taking this medicine. In my case it has worked wonders, relieving me of after being troubled with it for years. In this, and all other diseases arising from impure blood, there is no remedy with which I am acquainted, that affords such relief as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.—R. H. Lawrence, M. D., Baltimore, Md.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me of Gout and Rheumatism, when nothing else would. It has eradicated every trace of disease from my system.—R. H. Short, Manager Hotel Belmont, Lowell, Mass.

I was, during many months, a sufferer from chronic Rheumatism. The disease afflicted me grievously, in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took several bottles of this preparation, and was speedily restored to health.—J. Fream, Independence, Va. ††

How to Dust a Room.

The proper way to dust a room, says a writer in the New York Mail and Express, is to begin with the walls. Pin several thicknesses of cloth over a broom and sweep the walls down thoroughly, leaving at the same time all the doors and windows open. This matter of sweeping the walls is important and should be done once a week in rooms that are much used. Then with a damp cloth wipe off the picture cords or wires, the backs of all the picture-frames, and the tops of the door and window frames, if there is any danger of injuring pictures or frames with a damp cloth use a dry one, but wipe them off carefully.

As often as you can get a good draft which will carry the dust out of the window, shake and beat the curtains, whether they be Holland, lace, scrim, or what not, for they are prime sinners in the matter of harboring dust. The window—sash, sill, and glass—should also receive attention. Use a large cloth, with half of it well dampened for dusting, the dry end being useful to wipe off small articles that might be injured by dampness—and be careful that you manipulate the cloth so as to wipe the dust into it and keep it there. If it gets dirty have a clean one, and always wash them out and scald them after using.

If there are inside shutters to the windows they need to be carred for almost as tenderly as a baby. A thorough cleaning every week, carefully wiping both upper and under sides of the slats, is the only thing that will keep them in decent order. A room is not thoroughly dusted until all the furniture and woodwork and gas fixtures have been cleaned with the damp duster. Upholstered furniture should be taken out, brushed all over and then wiped with the damp cloth, not forgetting the under side.

How to Manage a Baby.

The way to keep the baby from becoming "spoiled" is to let it cry as little as possible. It will gain strength of mind to endure its necessary ills all the sooner, if it is allowed to suffer as little as possible from ills that can be avoided. Its wants should be anticipated; its sources of discomfort should be removed as soon as they arise, without waiting for it to cry; it should be prevented in every way from forming the habit of crying. Study its expression. When it is tired of playing on the floor take it up and dance it about the room, and let it look out of the window for a few minutes. In a little while it will be glad to go back and play on the floor again. If it is necessary to resort to discipline, be careful to seize the right moment for it. If you want the baby to learn to go to sleep without being rocked, choose a day when it has been unusually bright and happy all the morning; wait until twenty minutes or so after the regular hour for its nap, then give it a cup of milk, particularly sweet and warm and nice, make its little bed soft and easy, lay it down gently and soothe it with a little kissing and patting and if it is not already too much spoiled, it will be only too happy to close its eyes in the sweetest kind of sleep. If it does not, its fits of crying will be as brief and as little injurious as they can be.

The Home.

Quick Beef Tea.

Beef taken from the round is best for beef tea, because it is almost free from fat, and it contains more juice than any other part of the meat. After removing every particle of fat, cut the steak into small pieces across the grain. This breaks the fibre and allows the juice to escape. Place the heated meat in a dry, closed saucepan, and sweat for five minutes. Sweating is simply heating the meat, not too hot, and stirring it occasionally to prevent its sticking. At the end of five minutes the pan will be found to contain a gravy, or the essence of the meat, which, of itself, is good for very feeble patients. At this stage pour over the meat its weight in cold water (the gauge being a pint of water to each pound of meat); stir until the water boils and then simmer for five minutes. Do not add salt, unless the doctor permits it. In many diseases salt cannot be used without doing much harm. Strain the tea while hot, then skim the fat from the surface, and it is ready for use.

Washington Irving Was an Honest Man.

Recently Register Rosecrans published a list of ex-officials of the government against whom there stands unpaid balances upon books in his office.

The record shows that Washington Irving owed the government three cents at the expiration of his term as Minister to Spain in 1848.

Not long after a letter was received from an old and distant relative of the author residing in Kilkenny, Penn., enclosing the three cents to close account. She said in her letter:

"I want you to understand that Washington Irving was a scrupulously honest man."

BREAD JELLY.—Bread jelly is a simple delicacy which comes under the head of cookery for invalids, and is thus prepared: Take a French roll, cut it into thin slices and toast them on both sides to a golden brown; then put them into a saucepan with a quart of water (spring water, if it can be had), and simmer over the fire until they become a sort of a jelly. To tell when this stage is reached take up a little in a spoon and allow it to cool. When done strain it through a thin cloth and flavor it with a little lemon juice and sugar. A little Sherry may be added if liked.

LAYER CAKES.—Try this layer cake. Five eggs, their weight in fine flour; and also in sugar, and half their weight in butter. Melt the butter and mix it with the sugar, adding the yolks of the eggs, one by one, beating all the time, and then add the whites, which have been beaten to a stiff froth, adding the flour last. Bake in four jelly-cake tins. Marmalade or quince-jam is spread between the layers.

ORANGE JELLY.—The juice of two lemons, two Seville oranges and twelve sweet oranges, the rind of the lemons and two oranges, one pint of sugar, a pint and a half of water, two ounces of gelatine and the whites of two eggs. The jelly and the above need not be cleared, and in that case the eggs should be left out, and the jelly only strained. A glass of orange wine may be put instead of the Seville oranges, or both may be left out.

CLARET CUP.—Two bottles of cheap claret, four bottles soda water, two lemons, two glasses brandy and one pound lump sugar. Mix thoroughly and stir with a silver spoon. Cut up the rind of the lemons, small, and slice the inside thin. Let it stand for an hour, and strain off the lemons after well stirring again.

ORANGE CREAM.—Soak a one ounce packet of gelatine, and add it to one pint of milk in which 6 oz. of lump sugar has been dissolved. Add a little lemon peel, and boil all together for ten minutes. Strain the milk and add to it half a pint of orange juice and the juice of one small lemon. Stir well, and pour into a mold till set.

Constipation

Is a universal and most troublesome disorder. It causes Headache, Mental Depression, impairs the Sight and Hearing, destroys the Appetite, and, when long continued, causes Enlargement of the Liver, Inflammation of the Bowels, and Piles. Constipation is speedily cured by Ayer's Pills.

For a number of months I was troubled with Costiveness, in consequence of which I suffered from Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, and a disordered liver. My eyes also troubled me. I was compelled to wear a shade over them, and, at times, was unable to bear exposure to the light. I was entirely three boxes of Ayer's Pills. I have no hesitation in pronouncing this medicine to be the best cathartic ever made.—James Eccles, Poland, Ohio.

I suffered from Constipation, and, consequently, from Headache, Indigestion, and Piles, for years. Ayer's Pills, which I took at the suggestion of a friend, have given me effectual relief. I commenced taking this remedy two months ago, and am now free from Constipation, the removal of which has caused my other troubles to disappear, and greatly improved my general health.—W. Keeler, Amherst, Mass.

I suffered from Constipation, which assumed such an obstinate form that I feared a stoppage of the bowels. Two boxes of Ayer's Pills cured me, completely.—D. Burke, Saco, Me. ††

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE

STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practically impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.

The salmon fishing in Semiahamoo Bay and Mud Bay is over for the season and all the boats have been withdrawn.

The funeral of C. H. M. Hunter, who died at Port Moody last Thursday, will take place in this city tomorrow.

The salmon run did not amount to very much last night, and the fishermen spent a cold and uncomfortable time of it.

It is reported that Mr. Kelly has retired from the sub-editorship of the Guardian, and that he will now devote his time exclusively to the manikin.

At 7:30 to-night Mr. T. J. Trapp will offer for sale at his auction rooms a number of suburban lots, and several articles of household furniture, etc. For particulars, see dodgers.

James Gillespie, who was arrested two months ago on a capias and has been confined ever since, was released yesterday, an arrangement having been arrived at with the creditors.

A potato grown in the penitentiary garden is on exhibition in the Bank of British Columbia and attracts a great deal of attention. It is in the shape of a T and weighs about 4 lbs.

Many forget that the hair and scalp need cleansing. Extensive use of Ayer's Hair Vigor has proven that it is the best cleansing agent for the hair—that it prevents dandruff and stimulates the hair to renewed growth.

Messrs. Ellard & Co. have just received direct from the English manufacturers, in the newest and most fashionable styles, a large consignment of dolmans, mantles, jackets and ulsters, for ladies and children, for fall and winter wear. dse21tc

"For years I have suffered from loss of appetite and indigestion, but failed to find relief until I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine entirely cured me. My appetite and digestion are now perfect."—Fred. G. Bower, 496 Seventh st., South Boston, Mass.

There seems to be no diminishment in the amount of freight arriving and departing via the C. P. R. and C.P.N. Co. Yesterday the number of cars handled was 13, seven of which were shipped east, and six received from eastern points for this city and Victoria.

The str. Rainbow arrived from Victoria last evening with 30 tons of freight and the following passengers: J. Farrell, T. Delaney, W. J. Clark, Mrs. Clark and children, E. A. Wadhams, James Brown and about 20 Chinese and Indians. The Rainbow left for Victoria this morning with a small freight and a large number of passengers, chiefly composed of Chinese.

Amongst the passengers by the Princess Louise yesterday were Mrs. Kenna, Mrs. Blausen, M. Douglas, A. Easton, A. McKenzie, P. McTiernan, J. Beer, Alex. McPhee, Jas. Montgomery, W. H. Stranghouse, P. Swanson, Dr. Kent, J. H. Cox. Her cargo consisted of 30 tons local and 80 tons sugar for the C.P.R. The Louise left on the return trip this morning at 7 o'clock, taking 20 passengers and 175 tons of freight.

Mrs. Steele, mother-in-law of Mr. J. L. Stamford, died this morning at 1 o'clock. The body will be embalmed and sent to Mrs. Steele's former home in the east for burial. The funeral will take place Tuesday morning at 12 o'clock from the residence of Mr. Stamford. Mrs. Steele was on a visit to this coast when attacked with the fatal illness that caused her death. She had made a large number of friends in Westminster during her stay and was a universal favorite.

Ill-fitting boots and shoes cause corns Holloway's Corn Cure is the article to use. Get a bottle at once and cure your corns.

ELECTRIC LIGHT IN CALGARY.—On Tuesday night the electric light was put in operation at Calgary. The Tribune says that the light was not much of a success, and most of the merchants had to keep their lamps burning. It is expected, however, that the light will be much improved after a while.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—Mr. E. Rand met with a very painful, but not dangerous, accident on Mackenzie street last night. The street being very dark he missed his footing on the sidewalk and fell, receiving a number of very painful bruises, which has had the effect of keeping him confined to the house to-day. Mr. Rand expects to be able to attend to business by Monday.

MOVING A SAWMILL.—There is some talk of moving the sawmill now at Semiahmoo to Elgin, Mud Bay. The owners have made a proposition to the residents of the municipality, which has not been accepted yet, but a meeting will be held in the school house next week to decide on what will be done about it. The prospects are decidedly in favor of the mill being removed.

A FATAL SLIP.—A man named John W. Martin, while waking along the C. P. R. wharf at Vancouver, on Thursday night, slipped and fell, striking his head heavily on the flooring of the wharf. Dr. Beckingsale, the port physician, was present at the time, and after an examination decided he had sustained concussion of the brain. Martin was removed to his his home, where he died yesterday morning.

HAVING IT OUT.—George Brown, charged with being drunk and incapable, came before the "beak" this morning, and was allowed to depart on the payment of $2 and costs, and a promise not to do it again. Brown is evidently enjoying his spree very much, for the matter of dollars and cents don't seem to be taken into consideration by him. So far his little outing has netted the police court nearly $30, and the chances are that if George does not return home soon the city coffers will be still further enriched.

COMPLAINT FROM DONALD.—At the late assize court held at Donald by Judge Crease, the grand jury made a presentment in which the following occurred: "The respectable inhabitants of this town and their families are considerably annoyed and inconvenienced by the publicity of certain matters connected with a certain portion of the female population, and the inhabitants request through us the intervention of the authorities to investigate and mitigate the nuisance. We request a duly appointed and permanent constable for both here and also one for Golden City, for the proper maintenance of the peace."

I. O. O. F.—The 63rd annual session of the sovereign grand lodge of the Independent Order of Oddfellows was held at Denver last month, when some interesting statistics were presented. During the year there has been an increase of 12,990 members. At the beginning of the year the total membership of the order was 548,523. In Canada there are about 20,000, of whom 700 are in this province. The relief expenditure in Canada last year was $63,000. The total expenditure of the order amounted to $5,659,772, and the expenditure for relief was $2,227,324. The Rebecca (limited to women) has 33,333 members, and expended in relief the sum of $16,290. The income of this branch was $225,593.

Joseph Rusan, Percy, writes: "I was induced to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lameness which troubled me for three or four years, and I found it the best article I ever used. It has been a great blessing to me." Frauds may imitate Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in appearance and name, but in everything else they are dead failures.

An Enormous Yield.

Mr. Wm. Nicholls, of the Gold Park farm, Sea Island, was in town to-day, and before leaving showed us a sample of hard wheat grown on his farm. Last winter he brought from the east 100 lbs. of this wheat and sowed it in April. A week ago the wheat was threshed, and it was found the 100 lbs. had yielded 8,400 lbs. or 140 bushels. This is a splendid yield and only goes to show what the land along the Fraser is capable of.

Personal.

E. L. Kirkland has returned to the city from Chilliwhack.

C. Z. Perry, of the B. C. Stationery Co., paid the city a flying visit to-day.

A. O. Hastings, of the Ogilvie Milling Co., is in the city on a business trip.

P. McTiernan, Indian agent, returned yesterday on the Princess Louise from Victoria.

Mrs. John Austin, of Vancouver, spent the day in town and returned home this evening.

Miss Minnie Gibson left for Aldergrove this morning, where she will take charge of the public school.

Guests at the Colonial: R. B. Devlin, J. Elwood, Semiahmoo; E. A. Wadhams, Ladners; T. L. Higginson, C. Z. Perry, Victoria; W. D. Scott, Seattle; E. Gold, G. A. Smith, A. O. Hastings, T. O. Allen, Vancouver; John Burr, Ladners; N. Wolff, San Francisco.

Couldn't Be Excused.

The afternoon train for Vancouver was about to pull out yesterday when Wm. S. Skewes attempted to get on board. But William was out of luck and missed the train. The only thing that prevented him leaving was a piece of paper in the shape of a capias for $104, taken out at the instance of Corbould & McColl. William said he would like to be ex-skewes(d), but the genial deputy sheriff, with his well-known urbanity of manner, said he had no doubt of it, but the excuse would not be allowed, as the STRONG ARM of the law would prevent him. Skewes is an Englishman and came to this city some months ago, and during the time he has resided among us has occupied his time between doing a little carpenter work and doing nothing, generally the latter. He took apartments in the house of two ladies who reside at the eastern end of Columbia street, and after running up a number of months' rent attempted to leave the city without clearing off the score. Fortunately there is a law to prevent such outrages being committed without punishment, and Skewes is now in jail and will probably remain there until the debt is paid.

A Morning Dip.

This morning a most exasperating accident happened to our fellow townsman, Mr. George Grant, which though not likely to prove fatal is still very painful and annoying. Mr. Grant has a very lively inclination towards the fair sex, among whom he is a great favorite, and justly so, for George is a very good looking fellow indeed. While standing on the bow of the snag boat Samson, waiting to see the ferry with its precious load pull out, the captain of the ferry called to him to move a boat that was in the way. Always alert and active George sprang forward, but unfortunately a bright pair of eyes from the ferry were watching him, and he knew it. The thought flashed through his mind, as he hurried aft to, have one look into those eyes; the thought was father to the deed, and George looked back. He saw the eyes, he caught the smile, the moment was a happy one, but alas, while the pleasure ran highest his shoulder caught a post, there was a sudden shock, a recoil and the cold waters of the Fraser closed over him. Like Lot's wife he looked back and came to grief. Mr. Grant is a powerful swimmer and he was soon ashore again, much to the joy of his many friends who were all glad to see that notwithstanding the accident his smile shone out as bright as ever.

PERSONS OF SEDENTARY HABITS, the greater part of whose time is passed at the desk, or in some way bent over daily tasks, cramp the stomach, weaken its muscles, and incur dyspepsia early. Their most reliable and safest medicinal resource is Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, the Great Blood Purifier, and which is specially adapted to Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation and Poverty or Impurity of the Blood.

Late Canadian News.

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—The banquet to the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston was a grand success. S., writes: "I was completely prostrated with the asthma, but hearing of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, I procured a bottle, and it done me so much good that I got another, and before it was used, I was well. My son was cured of a bad cold by the use of half a bottle. It goes like wild-fire, and makes cures wherever it is used."
