MEETING PROVINCIAL NEEDS

The great increase in the number of telephone stations in this province means that the telephone subscriber is able to reach many more people by wire, and consequently his service is of greater value. During the past year or two, expansion has been marked in all parts of Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland, but adequate facilities have been installed, both in regard to outside plant and inside equipment, to meet the needs of the various communities. The object of the company is to give a telephone service second to none. The B. C. Telephone Company, being a British Columbia concern all through, has a real interest in provincial progress, and every effort is made not only to meet the needs of development but to anticipate them.

Around Home

W. H. Rambo, of Beaverdell, is visiting in town.

Remember the Rock Creek Fall Fair on Friday, October 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Snell, of Riverside, were in town on Monday.

The Stacey residence was destroyed by fire in Grand Forks on Tuesday.

Miss Ada Thomet, of Midway, is seriously ill in the Grand Forks hospital.

Mrs. G. A. Rendell left this morning for Penticton where she will spend a few days.

Midway defeated Rock Creek at baseball in the latter town on Sunday by a score of 8-3.

Place your orders now for Fall Wheat and Fall Rye for seed at R. A. Brown's, Midway.

The price of silver has advanced during the past week and on Wednesday was quoted at 71⅝c.

Mrs. H. Summers, Mrs. G. Summers and son Harry, returned to their home in Vancouver on Wednesday morning.

Douglas Cavaye of the Bank of Commerce staff is spending his holidays in Nelson and is being relieved by D. C. McKee.

Every once in a while a farmer is heard to say: "Well, well the crop I planted this year is the best and heaviest I've ever had.

Jerome McDonell and Walter S. Smith returned on Saturday from doing some work on their mining property up the Kettle river.

The Pythian Sisters will hold a Card Party in the Masonic Hall on Friday evening, 30th Sept. There will be a short programme and refreshments served. Admission 50c.

John R. Jackson has razed his house in Anaconda and moved the lumber to his ranch near Midway, where he will build an addition to his residence.

Last night Wm. Jenks shot a horned owl that measured 4 ft. 6 inches, while last week C. T. Fenner also shot one, with a steel trap on a claw, that measured 4 ft. 2 inches.

P. Phillip, provincial public works engineer, and Mr. Gourley, inspector for Dominion public works, of Victoria, were in town on Wednesday, having been motored over from Grand Forks by J. A. McCallum.

The wide awake business man, merchants and capitalists and all who are interested in this city's welfare, should put forth every effort to improve the town and make it a place for homes and encourage new enterprises.

V. E. Tripp writing to The Ledge says that the wounds from his recent accident are now quite healed. He was only in the hospital for three days. He lost the tips of the index and third fingers and half of the top joint of the fourth finger. Mr. Tripp says that though Vancouver has many charms and advantages he still often thinks of the good times enjoyed in Greenwood and the kindness and friendliness displayed by everyone.

There are more persons who sponge from newspapers than from any other source. When a man comes into the world he receives a free "ad," when he dies his bad debts are forgotten by the charitable editor. All during his life he asks and receives favors from the newspapers. If they speak well of him the flattering notice is received in silence. If his acts are criticized he talks of a suit for damage. He desires favorable mention and he desires it often. In fact some men have an idea that a newspaper is run expressly to keep them before the public, and that too, without money and without price.

Farmers' Institute Fair

October 7th is the date of the Farmers' Institute red letter day for 1921. Sure it is the date of the fair to be held in Riverside Hall, Rock Creek. Preparations are proceeding apace, and say, if every live wire farmer—and what producer will say he does not line up 100 per cent in that class—has been planning an exhibit of some kind, this year's efforts will produce some fair—we'll tell the world. If you have resolved to exhibit and have inadvently forgotten about it (yes, you have been busy), just pull up your belt another hole and make that resolution a life size reproduction of yourself and be there with the goods.

There will be no frills or trappings with this year's display, just plain acid test, brass tack stuff that will hold your attention and cause you to hold your breath—the kind you have read about but seldom or never seen. The directors will be there with a full to the top programme and they want every resident of the district to boost for the fair. Get in the game fellows and fellowettes, there is room for everybody.

Executive Meeting

Did He Find It

When the bell rang the other day little Johnnie went to the door. Soon he returned alone.

"Who was it?" asked the mother.

"Oh, it was just a man looking for the wrong place," was the reply.

A regular meeting of the City Council was held on Monday night and after routine business was disposed of, the Private Bill to be presented at the coming session of the Legislature was thoroughly discussed from all angles. The Bill in toto was finally approved by the Council with a few alterations and suggestions.

C. J. Eales who has been with the Greenwood branch of the Bank of Montreal during the past 22½ years was on Tuesday transferred to the Nelson branch. On Sunday evening, after church services, the members of St. Jude's church presented Mr. Eales with a dressing case as a token of the great esteem of which he is held not only by the members of the church but by the entire community. And as Mr. Wilson said in the presentation address he is one man who has not an enemy. Rev. Mr. Smyth said he never knew a more conscientious or faithful worker. Mr. Eales will be much missed in church work. Everybody will miss Mr. Eales for he was always polite, gentlemanly and straightforward with one and all. G. Randall, of Keremeos, will succeed Mr. Eales.

Legislature Opens Oct. 18

Victoria, Sept. 28.—Conferences with Premier Oliver and the members of the executive council have been had this week by representatives of various municipalities throughout the province and while nothing definite has been decided upon in the way of relieving municipal taxation problems; still, it is known that important steps will be taken by the government to meet the more or less critical situation. Hon. John Hart, minister of finance, has had officials working upon the question for the past five months and it is hoped to be able to secure sufficienl funds without the necessity of raising the tax rate. Other questions to be considered by the members of the Legislature, which opens on Tuesday, October 18, relate to the Liquor Control Act and highway extension. There will be little new legislation enacted.

South Okanagan Land

Within the next two months additional lots in the South Okanagan land settlement area being developed by the provincial government will be placed on sale. The last sale of lots was made in October, when a considerable number were disposed of. The new area to be disposed of comprises the best fruit-growing land in the entire area and through the construction of the new irrigation system now being pushed ahead will be provided with an ample water supply. Roads have been made through the tract and the new lands are thus made accessible.

Will Not Enter The Federal Field

Victoria, Sept. 28.—The definite announcement that Hon. Mary Ellen Smith, minister without portfolio in the Oliver cabinet, will not enter the Federal field is received here as a strong tribute to the Premier. She has been strongly influential in having legislation enacted bettering conditions for women and children in British Columbia and her work in the province has not been finished. During the coming session Hon. Mrs. Smith is expected to sponsor several important measures dealing with social questions.

Mining News

"The Rock Creek Mining Syndicate has been organized in Vancouver by Martin J. Ravey, to develop placer gold at the mouth of Rock Creek, a few miles from Greenwood," says the Vancouver Mining & Engineering Record. This syndicate has taken up ground which includes a length of 900 feet along the course of the creek that Col. Robt. Stevenson, one of the pioneers in the creek in the rush of 1860, asserts has never been worked for gold. While there are no official records of the production of Rock Creek, it is stated that in the sixties the output of gold was valued at $2,000,000; and that later on it was worked by Chinese who took out $350,000. The last clean-up is stated to have been $16,000 from a shaft 50 feet deep.

F. Keffer, formerly manager of the B. C. Copper Co., had plans for working the upper part of the creek by means of booming dams.

Rock Creek is tributary to the Main Kettle River, flowing in a north-south course to the railway, thence striking east to its confluence with the Kettle River, a short distance north of the International boundary.

"The Love Expert"

"When you are in love with a man, on taking his hand you will blush, the pulse will beat faster and your heart will palpitate."

This is the infallible test of Babs the part played by Constance Talmadge in "The Love Expert," the first National picture which will be shown at the Greenwood Theatre, on Saturday, Oct. 1st.

She tries it on her fathers business partner. It fails to register. She tries it on a college professor. Again the test is negative. She experiments with a handsome young fellow, the fiance of her aunt. Well, the result is very positive, and that's when some strange things began to happen.

$8,000,000 Crop

Victoria, Sept. 28.—Okanagan's fruit crop this year will be worth $8,000,000, according to the estimate of W. H. Lyne, provincial fruit inspector, who has just returned from inspecting the fruit quarantine stations along the border. The work of the department of agriculture in providing advice and inspection has borne fruit this year and full provision will be made at the fall session of the Legislature for a larger staff of inspectors next season.

Returned to His Desk

Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines and commissioner of fisheries, has returned to his desk in Victoria after several months' absence spent in search of better health. The minister underwent an operation in the Vancouver General Hospital, when a nasal abscess was removed. He is much improved in health and the high blood pressure from which he suffered has been reduced materially.

The Sunday School teacher was talking to her class about Solomon and his wisdom.

"When the Queen of Sheba came and laid jewels and fine rainment before Solomon, whay did he say?" she asked presently.

One small girl, who evidently had experience in such matters, replied promptly: "Ow much d'yer want for the lot."—London Evening News.

The West and Redistribution

It is altogether probable that, even before the present issue of this paper reaches its readers, the Dominion Parliament will be dissolved and writs issued for a new Parliament whose legal span of life will run until 1927 unless, because of some exceptional circumstance, it is deemed advisable to consult the people before that year.

In compliance with the terms of the constitution of Canada a census of the population was taken in the month of June last. It is also provided by the constitution that upon the completion of such census the representation of the several Provinces in the House of Commons shall be readjusted in such manner as to give to each Province equality of representation based on population such readjusted representation to become effective upon the termination of the then existing Parliament.

It is admitted by all people in Canada, from Premier Meighen down, that that portion of Canada west of the Great Lakes will be shown to be entitled to a larger representation than it now enjoys, and the fact is equally well recognized that Canada east of the Great Lakes will not be entitled to quite as many representatives as it now has.

Nevertheless, although it would require only a few months more to compile and tabulate the 1921 figures of population and thus make possible an early and fair readjustment of the representation of the Provinces in the House of Commons, Parliament is hastily dissolved, although no new or sudden issue has arisen, and writs for a new Parliament issued which will result in Canada for the next five years being governed by a House of Commons which is not truly representative of the country.

The action taken may be constitutional within the strict meaning of the law, but it seems a violation of the spirit of the constitution. Yet it is not the first time this has happened in Canada. In fact ever since the population of the West began to increase so rapidly, while the population of Ontario and the Maritime Provinces failed to keep pace with Quebec's increase in population, there has been a tendency at Ottawa to precipitate general elections in the year of the census taking right on the eve of redistribution but before making it effective.

Let us take a historical glance back over the past thirty years and the last three census enumerations. In 1891 the House of Commons consisted of 215 members representing the Provinces as follows: Ontario 92, Quebec 65, Nova Scotia 21, New Brunswick 16, Prince Edward Island 6, Manitoba 5, British Columbia 6, North West Territories 4. This was a census year but instead of a redistribution bill being passed before going to the country, Parliament was dissolved, the issue being Reciprocity with the United States. It was not until five years later that the country secured the benefits of the readjustment which was really due in 1891.

The next census came in 1901, but a general election had been held the preceding year, but as the result of the previously delayed redistribution Ontario was entitled to only 86 members instead of 92, the three Maritime Provinces lost 8, while Manitoba doubled its quota from 5 to 10, the North West Territories from 4 to 11, and British Columbia added one. In 1905 the new Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were created, Saskatchewan being given 10 members and Alberta 7. This additional representation became effective in 1908.

While the figures of the census of 1911 were being tabulated, Reciprocity with the United States again became a live issue and an Agreement signed with the United States came before Parliament for ratification. Strong opposition developed in Eastern Canada and the Opposition obstructed and blockaded the passage of the bill. The Government thereupon appealed to the country, and once again the West was deprived of its rightful representation on a question in which it was vitally interested, while the East was allowed a representation to which it was not justly entitled.

War broke out in 1914 and by agreement the life of the Parliament elected in 1911 was extended and it was not until 1917, therefore that the people secured the benefits of the representation to which they were really entitled in 1911. That long delayed readjustment further reduced Ontario's representation to 82, a loss of 10 members in two decades; Nova Scotia dropped to 16, a loss of 5 in the same period; New Brunswick fell to 11, a loss of 5; P.E.I. to 3, or only one-half what it had in 1891. On the other hand Manitoba increased to 15, or three times its representation in 1891; Saskatchewan got 16 and Alberta 12, as compared with 4 for the N.W.T. in 1891; British Columbia was accorded 13 as compared with 6 in 1891; and the Yukon was given one.

In other words, although the membership of the House of Commons only increased from 215 in 1891 to 234 on the strength of the census of 1911, the representation west of the Great Lakes rose from 15 to 57, while the representation east of the Great Lakes fell from 200 to 177.

It is generally agreed, both East and West, that the same evolution in the political power of the country is taking place; that is, that the representation of the West will be increased and that of the East decreased when the final figures for 1921 are tabulated. It means that for one-half of the whole period during which the readjusted representation should be in effect the West will be under-represented.

Pumping Out The Collieries

Cannot Start Taking Out Coal For Six Months.

The pumping of the enormous accumulation of water in the workings of the collieries in the Lothian counties during the recent strike through the withdrawal of the volunteer pumpmen proceeds apace, but even allowing for the work continuing night and day, fully six months will elapse before a start can be made with coal getting at several of the collieries.

A Good Sign.

Inquiry is made whether a wave of something cannot be discovered that would add to the sum of happiness, as a relief from the crime waves and suicide waves with which we are constantly regaled. It is nevertheless a good sign that a wave of happiness is still not news. Happiness is a good deal commoner, and hence more commonplace, than the pessimists are willing to admit.—From the Portland Oregonian.

LETTER FROM MRS. WAKELIN

Tells Remarkable Story of Sickness and Recovery.

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered greatly from weakness, seemed to be tired all the time, and had no ambition to do anything or go any place. My nerves were in bad shape. I could not sleep at night, and then came a breakdown. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and several of my friends advised me to use it, and it surely put new life into me. Now I am quite able to do all my own work, and I would strongly advise every suffering woman to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial."—Mrs. CHARLES WAKELIN, 272 Christie St., Toronto, Ont.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for more than forty years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

Need Of Immigration

Canada Can Take Care of Desirable Settlers.

Certain it is that unless immigration is stimulated, unless more and more immigrants of the right class are welcomed and encouraged, it will be a long time, if ever, before the taxpayer is relieved of the present heavy drain on his pocket, a drain which is increasing rather than diminishing and which the Minister of Railways tells us will run over 100 million dollars during the present year. If the four western provinces were as thickly settled as the Provinces of Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia we would have a population west of the Great Lakes of over 27,000,000. To settle this many people would take over 125 years with as great an influx as we had into the west during the banner years of 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914.

Manitoba has but six people to every square mile. Saskatchewan two Alberta less than two; and British Columbia practically but one.

Surely in this great era, where settlement is so necessary to further development and progress, Canada can take care of all the desirable immigrants offering for years to come.—St. Johns, P.Q., News.

Woman Has Factories In China.

A woman whose business card reads "merchants of Shanghai, Canton and Pekin," has built up a large export business to China, and is the only woman member of the American Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai is Mrs. Mildred S. Crowe, who has three factories in China, and last year did more than $1,000,000 worth of business.

Arrive At Compromise.

New York.—Urbain Ledoux, whose activities in behalf of New York's unemployed have been combatted by the police, announced that he and the police had arrived at a compromise. He has promised, he said, to abandon plans for holding a modern "slave" auction here, and the police have agreed to aid his efforts to feed the jobless.

Rope From Milkweed.

The fibre of some species of milkweed has been used in making rope. The lint found in the pods, while fine and silky, looks twist and cannot be used for spinning, but it has been used for stuffing pillows.

Family Of Fifteen Coming To Canada

Father Is Minister But May Farm In Saskatchewan.

A family of fifteen, consisting of father, mother and thirteen children, stepped on the Canadian Pacific liner Minnedosa at Liverpool bound for Canada. They were as cheery a party as any on the boat and all looked forward with hopeful expectation to the new life which the voyage was opening to them.

Of the children the eldest is 18 years old, and the youngest two. There are eight boys and five girls, including two pairs of twins. The head of the family is the Rev. Rufus John Kirkland, a Primitive Methodist minister, of Danbury, Oxfordshire, who is coming to the little prairie town of Mazenod, Saskatchewan, to take up the pastorate of a church there, and possibly a farm.

Revolt In Baltic Fleet

Four Hundred Officers Arrested and Taken to Moscow.

Warsaw.—A new revolt has broken out in the Russian Baltic fleet. Four hundred of the officers of the fleet have been arrested and taken to Moscow, according to advices from the Soviet capital.

The Russian Soviet Government has invited former financiers of the czarist regime to collaborate with the Soviet Government.

The Many-Purpose Oil.—Both in the house and stable there are scores of uses for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Use it for cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, the pains of rheumatism and sciatica, sore throat and chest. Horses are liable very largely to similar ailments and mishaps as afflict mankind, and are equally amendable to the healing influence of this fine old remedy which has made thousands of firm friends during the past fifty years.

Salisbury Cathedral Has Wonderful Spire

Said to be Most Beautiful in the World.

Salisbury Cathedral, so familiar to many of Canada's sons who participated in the stirring events of the great world war, is perhaps most renowned for its wonderful spire, which is the highest in England, reaching 404 feet in the air, and is said to be the most beautiful in the world.

The history of the See dates back to the time of the foundation of the Bishopric of Sherbourne, in 705, and later in 909, when a new diocese was created.

The present building was begun in 1220, when Bishop Poore decided to remove the present site, and in 1258 the whole building was finished at an approximate cost of $2,500,000.

The celebrated spire, however, was not added until about one hundred years later.

One peculiar feature of the building is that the number of windows is said to equal the days of the year, the pillars the hours, and the doorways the months.

The total exterior length is 473 feet, the nave 229 feet, and the interior height of the nave 84 feet.

Ex-Kaiser's Publishers Are Bankrupt

Large Sums Still Owing For Work Done During War.

The ex-Kaiser's publisher in Switzerland has gone bankrupt. During the war his firm printed and distributed all the propagandist publications for the German Government and the ex-Kaiser, and the cause of its bankruptcy is said to be that large sums are still owing the firm from Berlin and William. The comment of certain Swiss newspapers on this failure is that dealings with William Hohenzollern have never done any one any good.

York Cathedral.

The largest cathedral in England is that of York, the area of which is 63,800 square feet, St. Paul's being the second largest, with an area of 59,700 square feet.

"I see ye have a new hired man, Ezra," said Eben Potter. "How is he doing?"

"Resting considerable easier than the other one did, thank ye!" replied the disgusted farmer.

It is said that wealthy Frenchwomen use extra-dry champagne as a shampoo for the purpose of producing reddish-brown hair with rich golden lights in it.

Honesty Was Not Lavishly Rewarded

Paris Chauffeur Given One Dollar For Returning $10,000.

Among the 85,000 articles lost in Paris and returned to the police department in 1919 were 20,000 umbrellas, according to figures just published. Eighty per cent. of the articles lost in taxicabs are reclaimed, one chauffeur recently bringing a glove of which three fingers were missing. Honesty is not always lavishly rewarded, as may be seen from the case of a chauffeur who sacrificed a morning's work to trace an old woman who had left $10,000 in notes in his cab and was rewarded with a dollar.

BARELY LIVED THROUGH IT

A terrible experience had Edw. J. O'Connor, of Sault Ste. Marie. From boyhood he writes: "I have been a constant sufferer from Asthma and Catarrh. My nose and throat was often stopped up, and I had disagreeable droppings from my throat. When an attack of coughing came on, it seemed as if I would barely live through it. I would gasp for breath. Catarrhozone made me well. It's soothing healing action was exactly suited to my case." To those who suffer from Catarrh, Asthma, Throat Irritation and Bronchitis, Catarrhozone is highly recommended. Two months treatment, one dollar, smaller size 25c and 50c at all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Montreal.

Steel Shipped By Airplane

Was Required In a Hurry For London Depot.

Two cwts. of steel were conveyed from Manchester to London by aeroplane for use in connection with the completion of the steel work construction of the new depot of the London General Omnibus Company at Chiswick, W. The aeroplane, an Avro, was chartered by Lambourne and Co., Ltd., Victoria Steel Works, Openshaw, Manchester, who are responsible for the work, the steel being urgently required for certain vital parts of the building. The machine left Manchester at 9 a.m., reached Croydon, London, at noon, and by about four o'clock the steel was in position at the new depot.

A Remedy for Earache.—To have the earache is to endure torture. The ear is a delicate organ and few care to deal with it, considering it work for a doctor. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil offers a simple remedy. A few drops upon a piece of lint or medicated cotton and placed in the ear will do much in relieving pain.

Explaining It.

DELICATE GIRLS NEED NEW BLOOD

Rich, Red Blood Means Health and Strength.

The anaemia of young girls may be inherited, or it may be caused by bad air, unsuitable food, hasty and irregular eating, insufficient out-of-door exercise and not enough rest and sleep.

It comes on gradually, beginning with langour, indisposition to mental or bodily exertion, irritability and a feeling of fatigue. Later comes the palpitation of the heart, headaches, dizziness following a stooping position, frequent backaches and breathlessness. In a majority of cases constipation is present. There may be no great loss of flesh, but usually the complexion takes on a greenish-yellow pallor.

Cases of this kind, if neglected, become more serious, but if taken in time there is no need to worry. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are free from any harmful or habit-forming drug, are just the tonic needed to remedy this wretched state of health. Though it is not noticeable, improvement begins with the first dose. As the blood is made rich the pallor leaves the face, strength and activity gradually return and the danger of relapse is very slight.

If any symptom of anaemia appears, prudence suggests that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be given at once, and the sooner they are taken the more speedily will their action improve the blood. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

With the first days of autumn, the marketer sees a glorious array of healthful apples. Apples are to the fruit world what potatoes are among vegetables. Unlike most fruits, we do not readily tire of them. It behooves the housewife, therefore, to buy apples in quantity—such quantity as she can conveniently store.

Pick out the best looking apples from among those you purchase, wash them thoroughly with a brush and warm water, dry and polish with soft paper. Pile these in your prettiest fruit dish. The kiddie will often pass by the candy box to pick up and bite into an attractive apple.

While nearly always apples in the raw are easily digested, it sometimes happens that in order to be more easy of digestion, they need to be cooked. There are innumerable recipes for cooking apples in various ways, but every housewife should be familiar with at least three or four easy methods of preparation without reference to her cook book.

For baking, select the green or cooking apple. It is perfectly possible to bake the pretty red apple so common in many sections, but connoisseurs long ago decided upon the all-round superiority of the green apple. Since apples are of the acid fruits, cooking them in either tin or iron vessels must be avoided. An earthen baking dish, an aluminum pot or pan, or the familiar agate or granite utensil must be used.

Before deciding as to the number of apples you will bake, remember that a left-over baked apple that has been properly cared for is quite as good the second or third day after baking. It may be wise in order to economize in oven heat to bake more than you expect to use immediately.

Scrub the apple, remove the core and a strip of skin an inch in width from the stem end of the apple. This will help to prevent the bursting of the skin. Place the apple on the baking dish, fill each cavity with brown sugar and add either a few grains of ground cinnamon or a few drops of lemon juice to each apple. A dot of butter may be put here and there on the apple.

Pour a little water, preferably hot, into the bottom of the baking dish and set the dish in a moderate oven. Open the oven every ten minutes and with a spoon dip the syrup over the apple to prevent burning. Serve cold either with the syrup formed in the dish or with cream, plain or whipped.

From the less perfect apples one may prepare stewed apples. Cut the apple in half, remove the skin and core and from each half of the apple cut about four sections. Make a syrup by boiling together for five minutes a cup of water and one-fourth of a cup of sugar.

Into this put the apple and stew slowly until tender. Care must be taken not to overcook the apples and cause them to break. A bit of stick cinnamon or a couple of cloves or some lemon or orange rind may be cooked with the apple to vary the flavor.

Deep dish apple pie should not be overlooked. This is made with an upper crust only. The best crust will soak the fruit juice if placed on the bottom, and unless one has a particularly good digestion it may cause trouble. A glass baking dish is ideal for this type of pie. The shops are showing delightful little individual glass pie dishes which are highly desirable for serving one-crust pies.

Watercress Farm

Paris Has One Covering Forty-Five Acres.

The largest watercress farm in the world is that at Enghien, near Paris. It covers 45 acres, and consists of a series of ditches, or crossbeds, running parallel. The ditches are about 225 feet long, 4 feet wide, and 18 inches deep. They are separated from each other by grass paths 3 feet wide.

The cultivation of the plant is interesting. The cress is grown from seed planted in April. Before they can be sown the beds must be drained, tilled and manured. When the young grass appears, cuttings are taken and planted in the various ditches in about a foot of water.

Where Frost Goes Deep.

A shaft sunk at Yakutsk, Siberia, in the hope of finding water for the town, failed to penetrate below the permanently frozen ground, or "ground ice," even at a depth of 382 feet. In Alaska several shafts have been sunk about 220 feet, without penetrating below the frozen ground.

A Pertinent Question

Why Did Kaiser Run If Troops Were Never Vanquished.

With his old-time grandiloquence the former German Kaiser sent a message to the Junker meeting held by his son and Ludendorff in Berlin recently, in which he exclaimed: "With proud and warm gratitude I think today of my brave comrades, never vanquished in the field." But if they were never vanquished in the field why is it that the puissant partner of "Me and God" so unceremoniously skedaddled from the field and scurried into hiding in Holland, whence he has never dared poke his head across the border since?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Rooms With Baths Are Scarce.

In London and Paris there are several hotels which have rooms with private baths, but there are very few bathrooms in the average European hotel. It is always an extra even when used with cold water. Hot water is dificult to obtain in winter, and in some hotels, where it is worked by a slot machine attached to a gas geyser, the guest has to feed it with 20 cents for every quart of water.

Spare the children from suffering from worms by using Miller's Worm Powders, a most effective vermifuge with which to combat these insidious foes of the young and helpless. It is an excellent worm destroyer, and when its qualities become known in a household no other will be used. The medicine acts by itself, requiring no purgative to assist it, and so thoroughly that nothing more is desired.

Record Among Canadian Indians

Six Generations Have Been Discovered At Nelson House.

Six generations of one family, whose aggregate ages amount to 342 years, have been discovered at Nelson House. They belong to the Cree tribe of Indians and were photographed at the payment of treaty in July. It is believed that this establishes a record, at least among the Indians of Canada.

The names, ages and relationship of the family follow:

Sarah Donkey, age 112; Carolyne Spence, age 90, daughter; John Donkey, age 70, grandson; Ina Spence, age 46, great-grand-daughter; Sarah Donkey, age 22, great-great-grand-daughter; Jemima Donkey, age 2, great-great-great-grand-daughter.

Sarah Donkey, the first, was born at York Factory of full blooded Cree parents. She retains possession of all her faculties excepting her eyesight, which is failing. To attend treaty she travelled in a canoe for 150 miles and lived in a tepee for three weeks, while the treaty negotiations were on.

Industrial Ontario

Has More Than 50 Per Cent. of Dominion's Manufacturing Plants.

Ontario is the richest province of Canada. Of the Dominion's wealth, estimated at 2,801,000,000 for the year just past, Ontario's share was $1,267,000,000. Consistent with the remainder of the Dominion, agriculture asserts its superiority over other lines of activity and maintains the premier place in provincial assets. Ontario is, however, the first industrial province of Canada, considerably more than fifty per cent. of the product of the Dominion's manufacturing plants being attributable to this province.

Viscount Cowdray has bought the estate of Castle Fraser, Donside, Aberdeenshire, for £48,000. Castle Fraser is reputed to one of the finest specimens of the Flemish style of architecture in Scotland.

The castle has a secret chamber in which the master of the house could overhear the conversation of his guests in the dining hall. This is supposed to have suggested to Sir Walter Scott a similar contrivance in "The Fortunes of Nigel." Walls throughout the building, which stands upon arches, are from 6 feet to 10 feet thick.

World's Finest Diamond

Was Given to King Edward by Transvaal Government.

The largest diamond in the world is the Cullinan diamond, given to King Edward by the Transvaal Government in 1907. The stone was presented to King Edward in token of the loyalty and appreciation of the people of the Transvaal for the bestowal of the constitution on the colony. It was unearthed at the Jaegersfontein mine, Orange River Colony, South Africa, in 1905. In its rough state it weighed 3,025 carats, or 1 1-3 pounds. Amsterdam diamond cutters made nine large stones and several smaller ones from it. The largest still weighs 516 1-2 carats and is said to be the most valuable and brilliant diamond in human possession today.

Choosing Future Queen

Prince of Wales Will Not Be Forced Into Matrimony.

The public never tires of providing the Prince of Wales with wives; it is a favorite amusement not only with women but with men. I was told in confidence who the embryo Princess really is the other day. I shall not betray the confidence, but may say it is a girl whose engagement to quite another young man will soon be announced. Yet I was assured the information came from a member of His Royal Highness's household direct to my informant. So much for social tips, which are about as reliable as racing tips. The Prince is not going to be either hurried or coerced into matrimony. When the announcement of his engagement is made it will be sudden and surprising—we may be sure of that—and it will not please everybody!—Belfast Weekly News.

New "Court Of Miracles"

House Described by Victor Hugo Discovered in Paris.

A new "Court of Miracles," so vividly described by Victor Hugo in "Notre Dame," has been discovered in Paris.

Every night scores of beggars—blind men, lame men, deaf men, dumb men, paralyzed men—came to the house of the "King of Egypt," himself a "blind man" by profession, behind the town hall and in true beggars' style spent their "earnings" in revelry all night long.

Neighbors complained, and one night recently the police descended on the "Court of Miracles" with an ejectment order, but the beggars set up house again in the open air on a piece of waste ground and the revelry began afresh.

The joyous spectacle increased in intensity. The blind saw and the deaf heard, armless men took out musical instruments and played, while crippled, palsied people merrily fox-trotted in the ruddy glare of the camp fire.

The police interrupted the fete, but just as in the days of yore they were met by a stubborn resistance and attacked with crutches and imitation legs and arms. They were routed.

Next morning they returned to the charge, but all the beggars had returned to their "employments" except the "King and Queen of Egypt."

A MOTHER'S ADVICE

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she is always happy to recommend them to others. Her advice, given after a careful trial, can be readily followed with assured good results. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach. They always do good—they cannot possibly do harm even to the youngest babe. Concerning them Mrs. P. Laforest, St. Nazaire, Que., writes:—"For three months my baby was constipated and cried continually. On the advice of a friend I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and now at the age of five months he is perfectly well and weighs twenty pounds. I am delighted to be able to advise other mothers to use them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Growing Union

Movement In Progress to Extend Union of South Africa.

The Union of South Africa, over which General Smuts presides, contains four provinces, but is only a third larger than British Columbia, or two-thirds the area of Quebec. The movement now in progress for the annexation of the colony of Rhodesia, at present administered by the British South Africa Company, would nearly double the area of the Union by adding 450,000 square miles to the 473,000 now administered by the Union Government. It would add 1,500,000 to the native population, with some 40,000 Europeans.

The Government of Mr. Smuts is also administering the former German protectorate of West Africa, an estate of 320,000 square miles, with a small European population and several hundred thousand natives. The number of the natives was greatly reduced, and some races nearly exterminated during the German occupation. General Smuts is thus likely to have under his jurisdiction 1,200,000 equare miles of territory, with a 000 square miles of territory, with a total population not much less than that of Canada.—The Daily Province.

German Merchant Sold Poisoned Hat

Leather Band Contained Quantity of Sulphuric Acid.

The last form of German "frightfulness" is in the form of a poisoned hat, which produces severe pains in the head. It must be recorded, however, in fairness to Fritz, that the inconvenience suffered by the wearers of such headgear is the result of chemical action, and forms no part of a deliberate scheme to inflict torture, on the public.

A hatter at Bonn has just been sued for selling a customer a poisoned hat. After wearing the hat a short time the man felt his forehead throbbing and shooting pains in the head. Not being accustomed to such maladies, he had his hat examined and found that the band was made of artificial leather, which contained a sufficient quantity of sulphuric acid to account for his pains.

The Court awarded the buyer damages and told the hatter that it was his business to discover whether his goods were injurious to customers before selling them.

Canadian Wool Has Good Reputation

High Quality Appreciated by States and Overseas Markets.

A virtual revolution has been wrought in the wool industry of Canada in the past few years. Whereas but a short while ago the wool produced in Canada was offered for sale in such an unsatisfactory state that the Canadian manufacturer looked with indifference upon the home-grown product, tody he realizes that Canadian wool compares favorably with that of any other country and more than half of the domestic production finds its way to Canadian mills. Not only is the high quality of the Canadian product appreciated locally now but in the United States and the overseas markets it is now generally recognized that Canadian sheepmen are producing wool the equal of similar classes and grades grown elsewhere in the world. Gradually but surely a reputation has been built up for Canadian fleece wools on the domestic and foreign markets.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 2.

PAUL IN CORINTH.

The establishment of the church at Corinth is an example of missionary endeavor for all ages. The method employed, which resulted in success then, will result in success now.

I. The True Missionary Method (vv. 1-3).

Paul came to Corinth a stranger in a strange city. He did not have an advance agent to do his advertising; neither did he have his photograph put in the daily paper with sensational announcements, upon his arrival in Corinth. He did not have a trained singer with him; neither did he have his salary guaranteed. His method in gaining a foothold in Corinth was as follows:

1. Finding a home (v. 2). This he found with Aquila and Priscilla, Jews who were recently expelled from Rome by the cruel edict of Claudius. Being Jews, he found natural affinity with them.

2. He toiled for his daily bread (v. 3). He was of same craft with them, being tentmakers. Every child among the Jews was taught some trade by means of which he could gain a livelihood should occasion require. One of the rabbis said that he who failed to teach his boy a trade taught him to steal.

II. Teaching in the Synagogue at Corinth (vv. 4-8).

1. Though compelled to toil for a living while getting a foothold in Corinth, he did not lose sight of his main work (v. 4). He reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath, persuading the Jews and Greeks.

3. His activity was increased when Silas and Timothy came (v. 5). This resulted from three causes: (1) They brought good news from the church at Thessalonica (I. Thess. 3:6). To hear of the steadfastness of those who had confessed Christ under our ministry puts new vigor into our labors. (2) They brought pecuniary gifts from the Macedonian churches (Philip. 4:15; II. Cor. 11:9). Being relieved from the necessity of toil for a living, they now could devote more time and energy to the preaching of the gospel. (3) Silas and Timothy became assistants to Paul in the work, thereby strengthening his hands so as to enable him to accentuate his efforts.

3. Paul opposed (v. 6). His increased activity was met with increased opposition. This can always be expected.

4. Paul announces his purpose to turn to the Gentiles (v. 6). Because of their blasphemy and opposition he ceased to work among the Jews. There is a time when good judgment causes one to abandon work where efforts have been fruitless, but it is difficult to know just when to do it.

5. He did not go far away (v. 7). He remained sufficiently near that those whose hearts God touched could easily find him. It is likewise true that although Christ is obliged to depart from the soul that refuses Him entrance, He lingers with yearning love around that heart.

6. His success (v. 8). Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, was converted. Perhaps the severity of his action in turning away from them moved Crispus to action.

III. Paul's Vision (vv. 9-11).

His experiences since coming to Europe were very trying. He needed encouragement at this time. It is just like the Lord to come at the time of the servant's greatest need. Note the Lord's words to him.

1. "Be not afraid." When one is executing the commission of the Lord he need not be afraid.

2. "Speak, and hold not thy peace." The one who has heard the voice of God cannot refrain from speaking—cannot be still.

3. "I am with thee. The Lord is with everyone who faithfully carries out his commission.

4. "No man shall set on thee to hurt thee." The one sent by the Lord to do a work is immune from danger and harm until his work is done.

5. "I have much people in this city." It is most encouraging to know that in the great cities the Lord has His own people and that the one who goes in His name shall have fruit for his service.

Gingham and Cretonne United

By Marie Belmont.

This youthful frock shows the effective use of cretonne as a trimming. It is fashioned on very simple lines that affect the much-liked chemise dress. The frock is made of orchid-colored gingham, although should you wish you might copy it in any other color that may be more becoming to yourself. It is fastened down the back with self-covered buttons. The deep border and flat collar are cut from cretonne which has a lavender and green grape design. The three-quarter sleeve is finished with a flaring cuff of the cretonne. A girdle of bright green ribbon encircles the waistline.

Made Long Journey Without Food

Penguins Are Able to Fast For Many Weeks.

Fourteen blackfooted penguins have just come 6,000 miles to the London Zoological Gardens without a bite to eat. Even now they are not in a hurry to restart the meal habit, says the Daily Mail.

There is an extraordinary variation between the fasting capacity of birds. Some starve if they have to go through an 18 hours night, while the penguin's limit has not been ascertained, though they go for many weeks without signs of distress beyond a certain slimness. Seals also share his power of going without food. A few weeks between meals does not seem to worry them, though they make perfect pigs of themselves when they like.

Phonograph and Camera.

The latest novelty in pleasure equipment, a phonograph-camera combination, is described with illustrations in the October Popular Mechanics Magazine. A regular spring-wound motor drives the phonograph part and is located within the camera box. Nearly all the modern adjustments with relation to tone variation and speed are included in the construction of the phonograph. The contrivance is so compactly arranged that it makes a handy accessory for outings.

Mrs. Giggin.—Sentenced for life? A delicate feller like him? Well that's a joke on the judge, 'cause he's too sick to ever serve a life sentence.

THE surest way to build up some other community is to invest your money in something that is going to be located there.

"TROUBLES may come and troubles may go but bond troubles go on forever," words by the City Council, music by the public.

THE small fruit growers are putting up a heroic fight, under very adverse circumstances, and they are deserving of all the moral and other helpful kinds of support that the district and community can give them. Every new movement has to overcome difficulties. We believe there is a great future for the small fruit industry in this district, and the men in the business today who are bucking the currant are laying the foundation for a successful structure. More energy and power to them.

NOTWITHSTANDING the lessons that people have learned—the past there are still a lot of folks who insist upon swelling the lucrative commissions earned by stock salesmen who blow into our community quite frequently, tell their wonderful tales of profits to be made land the individual commonly known as that variety of fish which we used to catch in Hickory Creek early in the spring (you know the kind), and fade away to fresh creeks where the new fish and some of the old are biting good. He's a wonderfully friendly chap the stock salesman, and if he gets you going or coming (it's all the same to him) he'll stick closer than a brother until you're milked dry and then he'll leave you some of the nicest bits of engraving which you would care to see, will bid you a fond farewell, because he never expects to see you again if he can help it, and trots along with that winning smile to harvest the fresh crop of which a famous judge once said one is born every minute.

Dispensables

The author of "Bab Ballads" once composed a little list
Of various bores in social life who "never would be missed."
Recent research would seem to prove that list might be extended,
With later types brought up-to-date like those we have appended.

The golfing bore, the fishing fiend, the auto maniac,
The bum who borrows dollars and who never pays 'em back,
The movie pest who reads aloud the text on film screens,
The boor who puffs his 'baccy fumes all over our plate of beans.

The after-dinner speaker who revives cold-storage wit,
The Bolshevik who places his chewed gum where people sit,
And, finally, that biped, emulative of the Turk,
Who struts along the sidewalk with his toothpick hard at work.

"A woman is more graceful than a man," observed the Sage. "Not when she's getting off a street car," commented the Fool.

The Home Circle

OUR BOYS

Yes, boys will be boys; and why should they not? Now, a boy should go to school, but there is no particular pleasure in that, for fun he wants and fun he will have. Your boy should be always nice and clean; it makes him look well—but even that does not satisfy his frisky nature. A boy should go to a meeting, once or twice a week, but, good as he is, he will crave for pleasure. We love a boy with a merry twinkle in his eye; he looks so cunning; and, besides, he will need all the spirit of a young colt before he gets through the world. If properly trained it will be to him what steam is to an engine. Did it ever occur to you to turn boy yourself and lay aside your dignified airs? Try it. Play with them; laugh with them; talk with them; sing with them; and, when night comes, you can pray with them with a result you little dreamed of. If they can have always more pleasure with you than anybody else you will always know where they are. Did you ever notice how the older animals play with their young? It looks funny you will admit. We have often laughed at a stiff-legged horse playing with a colt, and what a queer game of "tag" it was; the baby horse beats every time, but the little one always kept close to its mother, and was never heard to neigh. Parents, take a lesson and it will be possible to know where the "wandering boys are tonight."

Synopsis of Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown Grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 10 acres, may be leased as homesites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

PRE-EMPTORS' FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from for one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enlistment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LANDS.

Provision made for issuance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfilment of conditions of purchase, interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1921.
