To most people, the connecting or disconnecting of a telephone seems a simple operation of installing or removing the instrument. As a matter of fact, in every case it necessitates changes in the cables and wires overhead or underground. It also necessitates changes in central offices wires and switchboard connections; in subscribers' accounts and directory listings, and frequently requires new "drop" lines from open wires or cables. The problems of station movement are among the large problems of telephone service. Because of the double operation of disconnecting and reconnecting, the work involved is often twice as great as in the case of new subscribers.

Flirts for a Purpose

Is there any excuse for a girl or a married woman flirting to stimulate the love of a sweetheart or husband? Mildred Harris Chaplin star of "The Inferior Sex," deliberately flirted with a purpose in this picture which will be shown at the Green Theatre on Saturday, September 16th. "The Inferior Sex" is a picture that tells girls how to win a man's love and how to keep it when once won.

Whoop 'er up. Another of those dances that made Rock Creek famous on Friday night the 22nd inst. Come on, make it a night that is never forgotten. The floor is electric as is this invitation.

M. McLeod, the optometrist, will return to Greenwood on Friday the 15th inst. Another opportunity to have your eyes tested by this celebrated specialist. Dont forget the date, Sept. 15th at Goodeve's Drug Store.

Motorists unanimously declare that the best roads in the Province are between Bridesville and Grand Forks but they particularly praise the roads around Greenwood for safety, hard bed and beauty. The tourist trade has become an important industry and the numerous points of attraction in the surrounding countryside should be emphasized. A Bureau of Information, or a printed pamphlet dealing with this subject should be available for distribution. Good roads are something motorists delight to cover quickly but the natural beauties should hold the traveller. The need of this is stressed by well wishing travellers repeatedly.

The wedding of Miss Mae Keady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Keady to Gus Graser, of Midway, is announced to take place in the R.C. church at 10 o'clock, Sept. 20th.

Soon every grindstone in the city will be busy edging skates when the lads and lassies discover that a gang of men are employed at present repairing the roof of the skating rink in preparation of the winter sports.

The death occurred at Penticton hospital on Friday, of W. A. McLean, an old timer of Southern Okanagan and Similkameen. The late Mr. McLean was 65 years of age and lived about 30 years in British Columbia, chiefly in Hedley.

The annual meeting of the Greenwood District Liberal Association will be held in Riverside Hall, Rock Creek on Wednesday, Sept. 20th at 3 p.m. For the election of officers and the appointment of delegates to the Nelson Convention on Sept. 28-29.

On and after Sept. 20th, the provincial bounty on gophers will be discontinued. This means that any person desiring to benefit under the Provincial Act and having gopher tails in their possession should turn same in to nearest Government Agent before that date.

Add another laurel to the efficiency of the district's prowess; W. J. O'Donnell, of Main Kettle River, secured the largest number of captured or destroyed gophers yet recorded in this or adjacent districts, having given proof of destroying 900 gopher rodents and securing in return the provincial reward of about $29.

Fish stories, Waltonian patience, fishermans' exaggerations are forever proverbial and apparent but our local sportsman and genial citizen, Mr. G. S. Walters, brings home the proof of his skill every time. During the weekend he spent some time on the Main Kettle River and he was proudly displaying a basketful of beauties. Sixteen river trout weighed twenty two pounds. The sporting blood of George is irrepressible but to another belongs some credit and praise for this happy result. Now then please tell us just how many of the sixteen were caught by your worthy help mate?

The following interesting items were received from Wm. Lakeland formerly of Greenwood but now Provincial Constable at Fairview;—"It is remarkable and pleasing to see so many old town friends as they pass along the Okanagan. There has been quite a number of Greenwoodites touring along through here this summer, and the only fault is that they dont stay long enough to let you know everything you would wish regarding the old hang out. Jim Bush was along some time ago with his hat at about the same angle, then comes the genial Doc. Goodeve hunting for Okanagan tomatoes, and quite a few more of those that are well known. I also had a visit from Billy Hibbert recently of Anaconda who motored over the Fairview Summit from Hedley where he is employed at the Nickle Plate. Mr. Hibbert stayed over night and I consequently was able to get quite a little news of the old berg from him. He expects to move from Hedley to Coalmont where he has the chance of a good job. We have quite a few here now from the old berg, C. Hammerstadt, G. A. Rendell, Charlie Martin, M. Beattie, Fred McMann and others but it would not be advisable for people to come here who have not got anything to come to, as this place has dropped quite dead lately and does not look like reviving for some time yet although there is a time coming when this place is going to be some town. Hope everybody in old Greenwood are O.K.

Capt. A. D. Welstead arrived last week from Huntingdon, Eng., and intends spending the winter here.

A. W. Lift and Miss Margot Rock have returned after a month's holiday with friends on the Arrow Lakes.

Dont forget the Rock Creek Fall Fair at Riverside Hall on Oct. 6th. Opens at 11 a.m to 8 p.m. Dance to follow.

R. E. Norris has again been appointed game warden. Anyone wishing a hunting licence can obtain same from him.

Miss Stella Pearson returned to Penticton last week after spending a very enjoyable holiday with her aunt, Mrs T. N. Walker.

H. Whiting left on Thursday's train for a month's holiday. O. E. Bonnett is acting as relieving agent at Rock Creek station in his absence.

Commander N. Lewis is cutting his 3rd crop of Alfalfa this season. His two first were exceptionally good and the third promises to be the same.

The new addition to the Kettle Valley school was completed on Sept. 1st by J. O. Thompson and is a great improvement. The residents are very proud of this school.

Major Glossop, secretary of the Rock Creek Fall Fair, is urging competitors to send in their entries as soon as possible. Leaving off till the last week makes so much extra work.

Quite a few are intending to spend the winter in England this year. Among others are Major and Mrs. Glossop, Mr and Mrs. H. Douglas Hamilton, and Mr. J. C. Jacques.

There will be a good dance in Riverside Hall, Rock Creek on Friday 22nd. Proceeds to help pay expenses for enlarging the Kettle Valley school. A big crowd is looked for.

Grass hockey, the favorite outdoor sport started last week. Only a few turned out owing to so many shipping cattle. Next week a good game is being looked forward to and many more before the snow comes.

The apple crop this year is the best ever had in the valley. Major Glossop reports having 600 boxes of Wealthy on his orchard, which he is selling at the small sum of 50cts. a box. Of course the box is not included at this price. Call at once and get what you want.

Last week a working bee consisting of E. Harker and R. Pawsey assisted by Majors Glossop and Gray added a chancel to the English Church at Kettle Valley. Stained glass windows were put in on the East side, these windows being obtained from the church at Phoenix. It makes a great improvement.

Mrs. W. Elson Dead

On Friday, September 8th Mrs. Wellington Elson, (nee Meriam Catherine Henderson) died at her home here after an illness of three months duration. The late Mrs. Elson was well known throughout the district having been in business in Greenwood for about 20 years and was always honorable in her dealings and had the courage of her convictions. She was born near Tyrone, Penn., 45 years ago and was married to W. Elson at Spokane on June 25th, 1905. Besides her sorrowing husband she leaves four sisters and two brothers to mourn her sad demise right in the prime of life. Her sisters are Mrs. Chas. F. Humrich, Carlisle, Pa., Mrs. T. L. Wilson, Bellwood, Pa., Mrs. G. D. Blair, New Castle, Pa., Mrs. J. A. Stewart, Salt Lake, Utah, and two brothers living in Pennsylvania.

The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon from her late residence and the body was taken via C.P.R. to Warriorsmarks, Penn., where interment will take place in the family plot. The funeral was largely attended and many floral tributes were sent by the sorrowing friends of the deceased.

Mining News

The proof that the work of pioneers in the district was based upon solidity of careful research is evidenced this week by the entrance of a strong company into the Rock Creek district. Many years ago Rock Creek was turned over by stalwart placer miners but when the Greenwood district offered greater attractions in lode and quartz ores its fame was forgotten. Now comes the Jack Paul Mining Company of Spokane into the district with the purpose of developing leads found adjacent to Rock Creek which is contributory to the Greenwood district. Of unusual local interest is the fact that Fred Keffer, once so active in Greenwood mining interests and known as a most conservative engineer is connected with this new enterprise. It augers well for the company that men of Mr. Keffer's reputation have connected themselves with the holding company. In past years Mr. Keffer when in Greenwood went far afield in his exploitations and was known as a most careful examiner of mining properties. Associated with Mr. Keffer are some local gentlemen and Provincial extra registration is applied for. The directors are at present visiting Greenwood and speak enthusiastically of the districts future.

Be A True Sportsman

The shooting season in Canada's Western Province is at hand and young and inexperienced sportsmen will vie with seasoned old huntrs in taking toll of wild duck, prairie chicken, geese and bigger game. In many respects the West constitutes the amateur hunter's paradise. In other Provinces, to a very great extent, it is necessary for sportsmen to travel far afield from home to enjoy the hunting season, but in the Prairie West wild duck are to be found on almost every pond, slough and lake, while prairie chicken feed about the stooks of grain and roost in the little wooded bluffs which dot the farm homesteads.

These game birds are one of the assets of our Canadian West, and an asset worth protecting. Apart altogether from the sport of hunting, these birds have a high food value and are a delicacy much enjoyed by all. During the close seasons their presence adds to the picturesqueness of Western life and call forth expressions of interest and delight from permanent residents, visitors and tourists.

It is in the interests of all, therefore, but perhaps more particularly in the interests of the sportsmen themselves, that restraint should be exercised by all hunters at the opening of, and throughout the shooting season. Laws have been enacted restricting the period of the "open season," limiting the size of the daily and seasonal "bags," and imposing penalties for infractions of these ordinances. Violations of these laws are, however, not always easy of detection, but it should be a part of every true sportsmen's code that he observe these laws which have been enacted for his own and the public good, and that he should actively interest himself in seeing that such laws are obeyed by others, and offenders brought to book.

Old-timers can recall when the buffalo ranged over these prairies in countless thousands; so numerous in fact that any thought of the possibility of their extermination never entered the mind of anyone. Yet a comparatively few years of wanton, wholesale slaughter and the buffalo disappeared and is only to be seen today in zoological gardens and in specially prepared Government reserves. In like manner the industrious little beaver, Canada's national animal, was in danger of extermination until the killing of beaver at any and all times was prohibited.

A report recently issued by the British Columbia Government states that the famous Fraser River, the greatest river in the world for years in its yield of sockeye salmon, whose waters only a decade ago were so crowded at spawning seasons of the year that a person could literally walk across a solid mass of fish, is now fished out of sockeye, and that the Skeena River, for decades second only to the Fraser in its salmon production, has practically reached the same condition. And the salmon industry was not so long ago one of British Columbia's greatest industries, and one which advertised that Province all over the world. The men who have been responsible for thus annihilating the salmon in a hurry-up get rich quick scheme have ruined not only their own business but have inflicted irreparable loss on their Province and Dominion.

There should be an object lesson in these things, the force of which should not be lost upon every man who takes out a hunter's license in the Western Provinces this year. Some men may think it smart and an evidence of great skill and marksmanship to bring down an unusually large number of birds, and to boast of their achievement, but it is something over which they should hang their heads in shame, rather than boast about aloud.

Shooting for the mere sake of shooting is not sport, and the man who indulges in such a practice is not a true sportsman. And most assuredly he is not the friend of sportsmen, because sooner or later the inevitable result will be to deprive everybody of a legitimate means of sport, and to rob this country of what has already been described as a very valuable asset.

Game guardians should be accorded every possible support by all true sportsmen and lovers of wild life. Instead of assisting offenders against our game laws to escape detection and the just penalty for their infractions of the law, people generally should co-operate to expose these lawless ones and bring them to justice.

The West can ill afford to have our game birds go the way of the buffalo, the beaver and the sockeye salman. Strict observance of existing game laws by sportsmen, and the exposure of the few who consider their momentary pleasure to the rights and interests of others and who by their acts jeopardize the future, will assure to the Western Provinces an ever-continuing pleasure and guarantee a retention of one of the picturesque features of the country—its wild bird life.

England May Make Oil

Great Britain may become self-supporting in oil as the result of recent scientific research work.

Frank Hodges, Secretary of the British Miners' Federation, believes that by application of low temperature carbonization British coal deposits can be turned into oil.

Government experts are making tests which they state indicate that the predictions of Hodges are not without foundation.

Coaching Through London

Enthusiasts Pay for Privilege of Handling Ribbons

One of the most entrancing sights of London to many visitors is the fine coach-and-four which every morning makes its way along Piccadilly and so out on to the high road, with a load of happy passengers for Hampton Court—a three hours' run. But few people who see the coach and listen entranced to the guard's cheery blast on his posthorn—few Londoners even—know that the vehicle is driven each day by a different man of means, a coaching enthusiast, who pays so much towards the maintenance of the service for the privilege of being allowed to handle the ribbons. It is quaint things like this—and there are many of them—that make London so fascinating, alike to the visitor and the man who "belongs."—Overseas Daily Mail.

A CORDIAL INVITATION TO DISEASE

This is an apt description of Constipation. It's an unnatural condition to begin with—but it's dangerous because it leads to indigestion, fills the system with poisons, brings on anaemia. You don't need a purgative, you don't want to weaken the system by a harsh griping medicine—what you need is mild natural stimulant to the bowels. You get just what you need in Dr. Hamilton's Pills which tone up the liver, restore the bowels to perfect action and postively end constipation. You'll feel tiptop after regulating your system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Good for young and old—a real family medicine. 25c all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Montreal.

Restore War Devastated Regions

Reported Hugo Stinnes Will Enter Pact With French Interests

Industrial leaders of Berlin, who are credited with being well-informed as regards the plans of Hugo Stinnes, Germany's leading industrialist, predict the early conclusion of a pact between Herr Stinnes and a group of French interests, represented by the Marquis de Lubersac, which will have for its object the scientific working out of a plan for the restoration of the war-devastated areas.

The negotiations, which have been going on virtually over the heads of the German and French Governments, will make it possible for local co-operationists and larger units in the former French zone to contract direct with the Franco-German syndicate for building and other materials, which will be delivered chiefly by Germany.

Livestock in Canada

Statistics furnished by the Dominion Department of Agriculture show that there were over 500,000 more milk cows in Canada in 1921 than in 1920, 400,000 more other cattle, 15,000 fewer sheep, nearly 400,000 more swine, and 6,600,000 more poultry. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal-oil).

Just Penalty for the Man Who Endangers Human Life

One thing is certain, the motorist who goes careening through the streets, without regard for the life and limb of pedestrians, or who operates his car while under the influence of liquor, is as much a menace to the community as a mad dog and deserves no more consideration. In addition to other penalties imposed, persons found guilty of these graver violations should be deprived forever of the privilege of driving automobiles. France a Scapegoat

France finds itself in the position of a man who has suffered simultaneously from a fire, a highway robbery and a defalcation; whose debtors refuse to pay what they owe, and whose creditors not only insist on collecting their claims but throw obstacles in the way of his getting from his debtors the money with which to pay them. The Binder After Harvest

It Pays to Cover and Protect Parts From the Weather

The knotter mechanism of the binder is a complicated and delicate piece of machinery and should not be exposed to the weather. A heavy coating of rust on these parts causes most of the knotter trouble of the following years. If the machine must be left in the field for a time it is a good policy to cover the knotter part with a heavy coating of axle grease and tie an old piece of canvas over the binder head.

Binder canvases will not stand any particular amount of exposure and should be removed as soon as the machine is stopped. Crickets and mice quickly destroy the canvas and in some cases even eat the slats. One will be repaid for his time if all the canvases on the binder are well wrapped in heavy building paper and suspended on wires from the rafters in the granary or hay loft where they cannot be molested by insects or mice.

A Duck's Speed

The speed at which a duck can fly is much greater than the average person would suppose. For instance, it has been estimated by a competent authority that the speed of the canvas-back is ninety-eight miles per hour; that of the blue-winged teal duck, eighty-nine miles; and that of the Canada goose, seventy-six miles. These speeds are probably in excess of their average flights, however.

Praise for the Sparrow

Much Maligned Bird Is Prominent Amongst Insect Destroyers

When the harbinger of spring, the robin, incurs the wrath of the farmer for its incursions into the orchard or the strawberry patch, the despised English sparrow will have difficulty in edging into his good graces. This maligned bird, however, has a friend at court, and its virtues are recited in an official report of the biological survey of the department of agriculture. The report explains that studies of birds as insect destroyers and of vermin and parasite pests, extending through a century of observation, show that many so-called bird pests are active aids to the farmer as insect destroyers.

The survey proves that the sparrow is one of the prominent birds which feed upon the seventeen-year locust, asparagus beetle, locust lead- miner, caterpillar, canker, army and drop worms, and that the quail, usually a seed eater, also feeds on the locust the olive scale. W. L. McAtee, of the United States biological survey, cites cases where flocks of birds have destroyed insect plagues and their eggs and larvae so completely that such species never have returned to the localities where they were causing much damage. Ordinarily, of course, the birds are not sufficiently numerous to cope with widespread insect invasions.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Meaning of Conservation

How to Make the Best Use of Our Natural Resources

Curious how many people entirely misunderstand the meaning of conservation. We overheard someone, not long ago, talking glibly of the need of conserving our forests, and it became evident that his idea was that someone should prevent the lumbermen from cutting down the trees. Conservation means use; intelligent use as distinguished from wasteful use. Canada has been endowed by nature with incalculable natural resources, but it is mere folly to brag of those resources, to pat ourselves on the back as thought their possession were in some way a merit of our own, unless we are prepared to get to work and put them to the best possible use. Our waterpowers might as well be in Greenland unless we are determined to develop them, and to develop them intelligently. Our timber resources are inexhaustible if we practice conservation in their use, and that does not mean letting them alone, but cutting scientifically and adopting a policy of reforestation. Our enormous coal resources are capable of adding immensely to the national wealth, and making us independent of outside sources of supply, if we put our experts to the problem of how to make them economically accessible to the country as a whole.—Ottawa Journal

The Fruits of the Earth

New and Old Fruits New Being Cultivated

Out of 100,000 known species of plants, man has brought into cultivation only about 300 species. During the past two thousand years we have not discovered and cultivated a single plant which can rival maize, rice, the sweet potato, the date, small grains and the banana, which was discovered three or four thousand years ago. Among new fruits that have been found recently is the fiejoa, a South American fruit which is being grown in California. It possesses the refreshing taste of the pineapple and the sweetness of the strawberry. The jujue is a new fruit which has been cultivated in Northern China. It was first know some years ago and is now being grown in California and Texas. It is usually eaten in candied form, and is preferred by many people to the date, which is resembles. The sapote, a Central American fruit about the size of an orange, is being grown in Florida, while the roselle, a new acid fruit grown in Southern California, is used for jellies and in the making of refreshing beverages.

Mid-Atlantic Weather Station

French Bureau Proposes That Ship Cruise Designated Spot

A mid-Atlantic weather station, consisting of a specially fitted ship cruising around a designated spot, is strongly advocated by the French Meteorological Bureau. Col. Delambre, Director of the Bureau, says:

"A vessel of 2,500 tons capable of both sailing and steaming should cruise around where the trans-Atlantic traffic is greatest to disseminate broadly weather forecasts and news. Such weather forecasting by a floating island would extend by three days the French, Spanish and British forecasts. Moreover, such an island station would be priceless for centralizing all the weather observations taken by the 300 ships, of more than 500 tons each which, on the average, are cruising the Atlantic at the same time. It could also be a relay for trans-Atlantic radio traffic."

The annual cost of maintaining such a floating weather station is estimated at 3,000,000 paper francs (about $600,000 normally).

All For His Children

This Man Might Be Able to Settle Germany's War Debt

A writer in a German newspaper has been estimating the fortune of that mystery magnate, Hugo Stinnes. Before the war it was reported that his private wealth amounted to M35,000,000—gold marks, of course. His fortune today is more difficult to estimate because it is scattered over many companies in numerous countries. But financial circles, who study these things with much interest, say that he is now worth M140,000,000—gold. He has therefore quadrupled his wealth during the war and since. In paper, that fortune equals the dizzy figure of M7,000,000,000, so that Hugo Stinnes is a millionaire in paper marks 7,000 times over. Asked recently why he worked night and day piling up millions, he remarked: "It is for my children." He has two sons and a daughter.—Montreal Gazette.

Japanese Buying Objects of Art

Had Passed Into Hands of American Collectors During War

Many Japanese merchants became rich during the war and built themselves fine houses, but when they were ready to furnish them they found that most of the desirable old Japanese objects of art on the market had passed into the hands of European or American collectors. One New York dealer who years ago picked up numerous articles in Japan for little money, and who had not found a sale for them in America, was agreeably surprised to learn recently that he could send them back to Japan at a handsome profit.

The U.S. and Europe's Plight

The Reluctance of America to Hold Out a Helping Hand

We sit yawning on the bench and criticize the stroke of drowning nations. If our observers are accurate they must at each recurring conference report that continental Europe is drifting from bad to worse, with no relief in sight; the statesman of our lately associated nations almost at the end of their resources; civil war with anarchy and ruin to follow, audibly muttering around the corner. And we go on observing. As for holding out a helping hand, before it is too late, to our friends, our neighbors, our customers in trade, and our fellow-trustees of the garnered fruits of centuries of culture, that would be forming "entangling alliances," and is not to be thought of.—From the New York World.

RUN DOWN PEOPLE WEAK AND NERVOUS

Thousands in This Condition Can Easily Help Themselves

There are thousands of people who bear the pain and discomfort of minor ills in the hope that the indisposition is only temporary and will be outgrown in time. Often such illnesses are not serious enough to require the attention of a doctor, but will respond to intelligent home treatment if a reliable remedy is used. Women, busy with a multitude of household cares, or girls studying hard in school, easily fall a prey to that condition of bloodlessness known as anaemia. The trouble need not be serious if prompt measures are taken to check it in its early stages. Dr. Williams Pink Pills will restore the elements needed to bring the blood back to strength, and once the blood regains its healthy quality the entire body will soon show the benefit. Among the many who have found benefit through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills is Mrs. Albert W. Smith, Miscouche, P.E.I., who says:—"I was very much broken down in health, had pains in the region of my heart, and was so short of breath that if I went upstairs I would have to lie down as soon as I reached the top. Then a strange nervous twitching of the muscles took possesion of me, and every muscle in my body would apparently be twitching. I became very emaciated, and my family were much alarmed as to my condition. At this time I read an article in our home paper concerning Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to give them a trial. The result was that in a short time I felt much improved, and under further use of the pills I felt like a new woman, had gained in weight and was in every way better. I would urge anyone afflicted as I was to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Prince Not Wealthy

Financial Demands Absorb Greater Part of Yearly Income

Although probably nobody will maintain that the Prince of Wales should be classed as a poor man, yet he is by no means so affluently situated as many may imagine. It is true that his apparent income runs into about 200,000 a year, but the financial demands upon him are so heavy that this sum is very considerably shrunk before he can really call any part of it his own. Incidentally, it may be of interest to know that, although parliament granted certain sums for the Prince's eastern tour, he was considerably out of pocket as a result of his somewhat extensive trip.—Christian Science Monitor.

Keep Younger Longer

So far as we can size the situation up, the man of sixty or seventy years of age today is much younger than the man of the same years was a quarter of a century ago. When you look around it is remarkable how much of the work of the world, and much of it very important work, you will find being done by men who are rubbing up to, or have passed, the three-quarters of a century mark. And who will say that this change isn't to the good. What is the use coming to the carpet slipper age until you have to.—Christian Guardian.

Montreal Board Of Trade Perpetuates Maisonneuve

There is a striking monument in Montreal to Maisonneuve, founder of Canada's Metropolis. As in his lifetime, his thoughts were of the West, so does the memorial to him stand today. The sculptor has caught the spirit of the adventurous pioneer in the poise of the body and the head. Vision, courage, determination are plain to the observant eye and understanding mind.

Maisonneuve and the host of gallant men and noble women who laid the foundation of the Canada of today, long ago embarked upon the greatest and last quest. But their faith in the new land is as a living flame in the hearts of their successors. They see their country favored by geography and nature, a link between East and West, and extending almost 4,000 miles from ocean to ocean. They know that it is endowed with a richness of natural resources beyond the power of man to calculate. Above all they rejoice in its attainment to a place and a voice in the councils of the nations.

Retrospect is often pleasant. The true Canadian has little time for that. His heart and mind are on the present and the future. He knows that if his country is to come to full fruition as a nation it must be by still worthier efforts on the part of its people individually and collectively. No single province within the Dominion's far-flung boundaries can afford to disregard another. Each must be in sympathy with all the rest. The East share in the problems as well as in the joys and prosperity of the West. The West must have faith in the East. Bound by an invisible but unbreakable chain of mutual affection and goodwill they can, and will, put and keep Canada in the very vanguard of the world's great nations.

The development of the national spirit has been fostered in many an hour of peril, difficulty and struggle. It is beginning to bloom in beauty and strength. Its progress has been greatly advanced of late years by the action of important organizations in sending delegations to many sections of the country, so that their members may add to their first-hand knowledge of their homeland. Such an organization is the Montreal Board of Trade which will celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of its founding by beginning on September 1, a thirty days' tour of the Dominion. The members will not only see the country in all the glory of its most beautiful scenic settings, but the journey will be so arranged as to give them a new perspective of its wealth of soil, forests, mines and waters, and impressions of its industrial and commercial growth that would be impossible of visualizing in any other way.

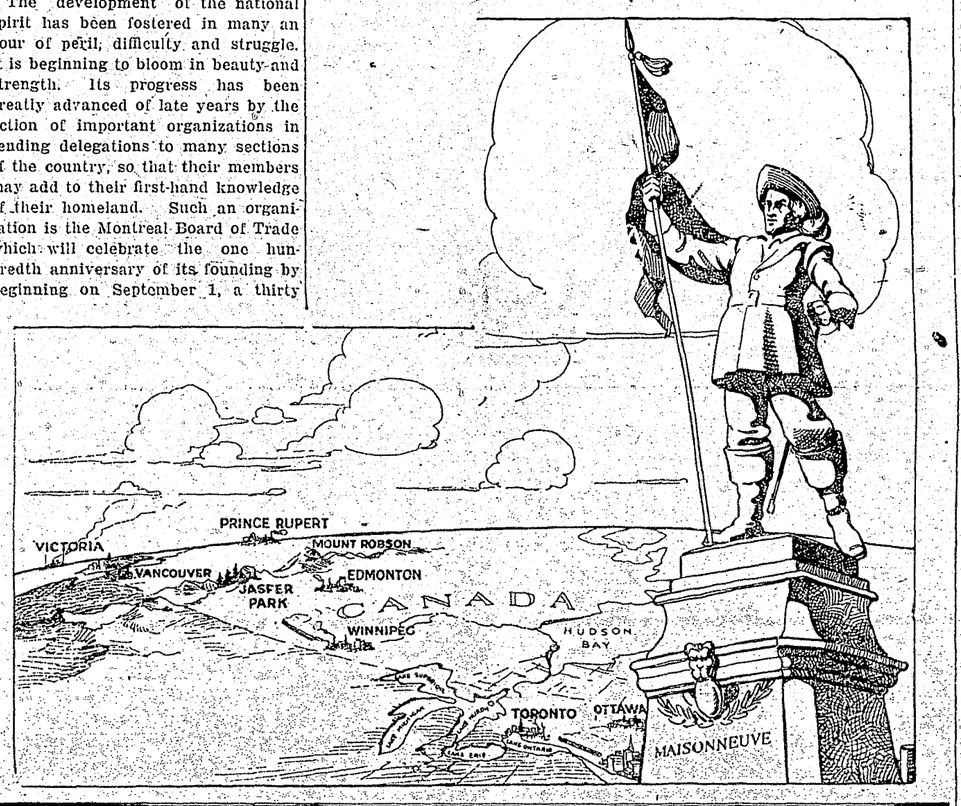
From Montreal the party will travel westward via Toronto and the Great Lakes, thence from Port Arthur to Winnipeg, the greatest primary grain centre on the continent, across the vast prairie lands and through the Rockies to Vancouver and Victoria.

On the return journey they will make the 550-mile cruise up the north Pacific Coast from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, one one of the palatial Canadian National Railways steamers. This part of the journey will give the party a splendid idea of the development in the mining, lumbering and pulp and paper industries of British Columbia, with all their future possibilities. At Prince Rupert, Canada's most northerly Pacific port, hewn out of the solid rock of Kaien Island, there will be every opportunity to gain an insight into the enormity of the halibut and salmon industry of the province. From Prince Rupert eastward the party will be come acquainted with the Skeena River, with its historic and romantic traditions, its arresting grandeur, and its fame as one of the most prolific salmon streams in the world. They will see too, some of the Bulkley and Nechako River Valley country, one of the newest fields of settlement opened up in the west. Unknown to the vast majority of Canadians, the luxurious valleys that lay between the mountain ranges in this area, are suitable for mixed farming, dairying, fruit growing and cattle raising. In the years to come their productivity, now a matter of knowledge to comparatively few, will offer means of livelihood and competence to thousands of new people.

Shortly after leaving Prince George, the party will pass through Mount Robson Park. This is a veritable wonderland of mountain scenery, some 650 square miles in extent and set aside by the Government of British Columbia as a national playground and wild life sanctuary. Here will be obtained an excellent view of Mount Robson, with an altitude of 13,068 feet. It towers above the surrounding peaks, sublime, majestic, with green glistening glaciers and pure white snow adding to its beauty. Sometimes its own summit is lost amid the mists and clouds; quite often that summit is the centre of raging storms. But on Mount Robson they beat in vain.

Next Jasper Park, another mountain kingdom, but of greater extent, embracing 4,400 square miles of sublime mountain scenery, is entered. Here the party will spend a day at Jasper Lodge, the new Alpine chalet built on the shore of Lac Beauvert by Canadian National Railways, and the first of a series to be built throughout these Northern Canadian Rockies. At night they leave for Edmonton.

From Edmonton the homeward route will be through the rich farm lands of the northern part of the prairie provinces to Winnipeg following the trans-continental line of Canadian National Railways through the rich pulp forests and new farm lands of Northern Ontario to Cochrane, down through the famous Cobalt mining districts over the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway to North Bay, thence to Ottawa and back to Montreal.



Safety Ships

New Device Overcomes Difficulty of Launching Lifeboats

Lifeboats arranged on deck on rails, so that they can be run to that part of the ship from which launching is possible, are features of the new steamship Mecklenburg, claimed to be the last word in safety ships, which has just made her maiden trip between Folkestone and Flushing.

In many cases of disaster at sea it has been found impossible to launch all of the boats on a ship because of the list. By this new device this difficulty is said to be overcome.

Better Trade Conditions

Canada continues to cut down her expenditures abroad, and according to the summary of Canadian trade for the month of July, 1922, at the same time is increasing her exports of domestic merchandise. Imports during July, 1922, were valued at $60,757,019, a decrease of nearly $2,000,000 as compared with the corresponding month a year ago. Exports of domestic merchandise during the month under review are valued at $70,430,235, as against $54,519,036 in the corresponding period of 1921.

Why the Rush?

New Plan to Exterminate Rodents

Use Poison Gas to Clear French Fields of Mice

The valley of Ajole, on the Swiss-French frontier, has been invaded by thousands of mice, and the rodents are doing much damage. They are believed to have come from the trenches in Alsace. The village authorities have arranged drives by the people, offering half a cent for each dead animal. Poison gas is being used and the method is to inject this into the subterranean galleries built by the mice. It has proved most effective, 27,000 dead being the record for one day.

Physicians in Error

Diagnosis in Lung Cases Far From Correct, Says French Doctor

Doctors often fail to diagnose correctly lung consumption as distinct from other respiratory diseases, according to Professor Erist, of Paris, in a recent address before the British Medical Association.

The speaker said that in 1916, at Compiegne, 192 men were sent into hospital with a diagnosis of tuberculosis. Observations showed the diagnosis to be justified in only 53 cases. The 139 other cases, he declared, were undoubtedly non-consumptive.

In 1918, Dr. Erst examined 342 men in Paris, said to have consumption. Of these only 37 had lung consumption, 22 were not definitely diagnosed, and 283 were certainly non-tubercular.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 17

THE MESSAGE OF MALACHI

The subject of today's lesson is broader than the text, especially the verses printed. The best way to teach this lesson is to give a survey of the entire book.

Malachi was perhaps contemporary with Nehemiah; probably sustained the same relation to Nehemiah that Haggai and Zechariah did to Zerubbabel. After the completion of the walls of Jerusalem Nehemiah seems to have been called back to the Persian court, but returned to Jerusalem after a few years. Though outwardly the lives of the people were correct, the prophet pointed out the sins of a corrupt priesthood, mixed marriages and a failure to pay tithes.

I. Israel's Base Ingratitude (1:1-5).

God approached them with the tender affirmation "I have loved you." It was the prophet's burden to declare this fact unto them (v. 1). So formal and worldly were the people that they failed to see God's hand upon them. The attitude of Israel to God is shown in the skeptical insinuation "Wherein has Thou loved us?" The prophet answers this by showing God's choice of Jacob and His passing by Esau; His destruction of Edom and saving Israel.

II. God's Severe Indictment (1,6-2:17).

1. Against the Priests (1:6-2, 9). They were guilty (1) of profanity (1:6). Their profanity was in despising the name of God. To fail to honor God is to be profane. To use His name in any unreal way is to be thus guilty. (2) Sacrilege (vv. 7, 8). Their sacrilegious act was in offering polluted bread and blemished sacrifices. To bring such offerings to an earthly ruler would be a gross insult. Gifts to be acceptable with God must be genuine; must cost something. We should give to God our best. There is no intellect too brilliant to offer in the Lord's service. The young should not esteem their lives wasted who offer them on the altar of missionary sacrifice. (3) Greed (1:10). They were not willing to open the doors of God's house without pay. Our service should be out of a heart of love for God, not for profit. This has a vital application to ministers and evangelists today. To enter Christian service because of worldly gain is of this type. (4) Weariness (1:12, 13). Because of lack of love the routine of duty became irksome. (5) Not teaching the law to the people (2:1-9). Those set apart to teach God's law to the people have a great responsibility and God will most surely demand an accounting.

2. Against the People (2:10-17; 3:7-15). (1) For ungodly marriages (2:11, 12). God's purpose in the prohibition of mixed marriages was that He might raise up holy seed (v. 15). The marriage of the believer with the unbeliever today brings confusion into the fold of God and turns aside His purpose. (2) for divorce (2:13-16). Divorce was the source of great sorrow—even the tears of the wronged women covering the altar (v. 13). The offerings of a man who had thus treated his wife would be an abomination to God. The tears of wronged women today are going up to God and make even the prayers of some men an abomination to Him. (3) Public wrongs (3:5, 6). (a) Sorcery—magic. Those who practice such things should be regarded as public offenders (b) Adultery. This is a sin of wider extent than the parties concerned. (c) False swearing. (d) Oppression of the hireling, widow and fatherless. (e) Turned aside the stranger from his rights. (4) Blasphemy (3:13-15).

III. The Severe Judgments Which Shall Befall the Nation (3:1-5; 4:1-6).

1. By Whom Executed. This is done by the Lord. Judgment has been committed to the Son of God (Acts 17:30-31).

2. Time of Second Coming of Christ. John the Baptist was the forerunner of His first coming. Elijah shall be the forerunner of His second coming.

3. Result. For the righteous it will be a day of healing and salvation. To the wicked it will be a day of burning and destruction. A book of remembrance is now being kept. A day of retribution is coming.

Big Alberta Crop

Southern Alberta will have a 30,000,000 bushel wheat crop this year, according to D. C. McDonald, a farmer of long experience and grain broker, who considers this estimate conservative for the territory south of the Canadian Pacific main line to the international boundary. He estimates that the wheat crop of the entire province will top that of 1920 when 82,712,738 bushels were threshed.

Handel's Appetite

Said to be Able to Eat a Meal That Would Satisfy Five Ordinary Appetites

Many great musical composers had exceptionally large appetites. When Handel dined alone at a restaurant he generally took the precaution of ordering a meal for three. Once, on asking, "Iss de tinner retty?" at a tavern where he was little known, he was told, "as soon as the company comes," and he astonished the waiter by seating himself with the remark, "Den pring up he tinner—I'm de company!"

Handel, always voracious, delighted in dining alone, and was known to consume a meal that would have satisfied five ordinary appetites.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

is greatly relieved by constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.

Squaws Will Have Vote

Full-blooded Comanche and Klowa Indian squaws will be found in the election booths of Southwestern Oklahoma this year for the first time. Although these women cannot speak English and still prefer raw meat to the cooked product, it is estimated that at least 6,000 of them, with the men of these tribes, have registered.

City Council

City Council held a regula meeting on Monday evening, Mayor Gulley in the chair and all Aldermen present.

Routine business was quickly disposed of so as to leave ample time for discussion of finance report and the lenghty reports of the Water and Health committees. Many features of the finance report were satisfactory, but the lighting and water accounts showed a debit balance, chiefly owing to heavy repair expenses and tardiness of payment by some consumers. In accordance with the instructions received from the trustee for the bond holders, the council notified the City Clerk to warn those consumers of light and water who are neglecting payment that service will be discontinued at the end of the present month.

The report of the Water Committee was dealt with and great satisfaction expressed by the rest of the council for the very able manner in which this committee and the City Clerk have dealt with the matter of protecting the water rights of the city. Considerable correspondence has ensued with the Water Rights Department at Victoria in connection with the application of W. Jenks for a water right on Twin Creek and it has only been by personal investigation by the committee that certain arguments advanced have been satisfactorily answered. The matter is still under consideration but the water committee are keeping in close touch with all the happenings attached thereto.

The Health Committee reported an abatement of the pollution of Twin Creek by cattle congregating at a certain point which had been illegally fenced off. The Provincial Health Department co-operated with the Health Committee in the investigation of the complaints made by several citizens and which same complaints proved to be well founded.

Next Council meeting will be held on Monday, Oct. 2nd.

Grouse Shooting Season

The definition of the districts under the B.C. game regulations is not easily understood, and as a consequence there is misconception of the clause regarding the opening of the grouse season in this district.

Grouse may not be shot in the Eastern district, which embraces all Eastern B.C.—East of the summit of the Coast range and South of the Grand Trunk Railway, until September 23.

In the Provincial Cariboo Electoral District (what is known as the Cariboo country) and in Fort George Provincial Electoral District an exception is made. grouse shooting opened on Sept. 2. This date does not apply to the Greenwood Electoral District, nor the Okanagan.

SEEKING HIS LOST MASTER

"Billy," Quebec's tramp dog, is still seeking his lost soldier master. When the boys came back on the "Empress of France" he and "Billy" became separated and "Billy" has been looking for him ever since. He meets the "Empress" each time she arrives at Quebec, sniffs at the passengers who come down the gangway, walks away with an air of disappointment and then waits for the next passenger ship. Everybody's friend but no man's dog for long, "Billy" has as many names as he has friends, answering with a wag of his tail to "Bum," "Tramp," "Bijou," "Rags," "Paddy," etc. Now and then an admirer takes "Billy" home, but in a few days the little wire-haired terrier is nobody's dog again—nobody's but the lost master's—and is back on the docks once more to meet the ships and him.

How "Billy" knows when a passenger ship is due is a mystery of the Quebec water front, but know he does. He is as regular and prompt as the customs' men, greets the incoming steamer with joyous barking, and after he has bossed the job of placing the great hawsers which moor her alongside the pier, he dashes to the gangway and looks for a once familiar figure, khaki-clad, Perhaps some day the lost master will return. And if he does, faithful "Billy" will be there.
