Saturday Evening, Nov. 26, 1887.

The Gloucester fishermen are in trouble again. A letter has just been received from Newfoundland stating that it is forbidden by law to both natives and foreigners to catch herring after January. A copy of the law—which must be a new one—accompanied the letter. Every fall many vessels of the mackerel fleet are in the habit of fitting out for the Newfoundland frozen herring trade, the return cargoes being disposed of in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other large markets. The vessels usually carry with them stocks of merchandise which are exchanged for the herrings. As the mackerel fishing was a failure this year and the vessel-owners expected to make up for their loss by a profitable frozen herring trade much dissatisfaction is felt at Gloucester over the announcement contained in the letter.—Mail

A delicious story reaches me from Germany, apropos of Prince Bismarck. During his recent stay at Marienbad the chancellor was in the habit of taking long walks unattended, and one day finding himself somewhat far from the town took the shortest cut back. His way led him across some fields, and the Prince marched vigorously forward, forgetful of the fact that he was trespassing. Suddenly he was hailed in loud stentorian tones, and on looking back saw a stout countywoman pursuing him. The indignant proprietress of the fields accused him to his face of his offence, and declared that she would follow him and give him in charge. She proved as good as her word, and tramped after the chancellor until the high road was reached and a police-officer came in view. The worthy woman formally made her complaint, and the police-officer was about to arrest the offender. Struck by the resemblance of the trespasser to a certain high functionary, the police-officer cautiously demanded his name. On hearing the name the policeman was simply paralyzed with fear, and the overbold countrywoman, gathering up her skirts, fled precipitately. Naturally the police officer was reluctant to take the charge, but Prince Bismarck insisted upon going to the station. When there he charged himself with the offence of trespass and paid the fine customary in such matters. In addition to this the Prince sent a present by way of consolation to the woman whose land he had invaded. —London St. Stephen's Review.

New gold fields are constantly being discovered which promise to remove, for the present, all fears of any very large diminution of the regular supply. The Alaska mines are in a lusty infancy. In Columbia, Venezuela, Guiana and Bolivia gold-mining has taken a new lease of life. The South African mines are, some of them, marvelously rich, and new ones are rewarding the enprise of prospectors. A few months ago attention was called to the goldfields of the Amoor river. There is some trouble about their development owing to the jealousy of the Chinese and Siberian authorities, but that is a matter susceptible of settlement. In Australia there is the promise of the opening of extensive and rich diggings. The latest report of valuable discoveries comes from Sumatra. A few years ago a Frenchman named Wallon came upon abundant traces of gold in the native kingdom of Acheen. Wallon lost his life in the course of his explorations, but news of his discovery found its way to civilization and recently a Russian adventurer named Hendenstrom followed in his foot steps. He encountered great difficulties, but finally, with the aid of a native Prince, made his way into the interior and prospected the region. His experience was most encouraging. Gold was found in large quantities. The report comes from him that in many localities the ground yields from 200 to 300 francs to the cubic meter. Mr. Hedenstrom found traces of old workings in the gold-fields, and tradition has it that King Solomon drew precious metal faom Sumatra. Be that as it may, the Russian prospector after fresh difficulty, obtained a concession from the native authorities, and it is probable that steps will soon be taken to open the new gold-field.—*S. PRESIDENT ELECTED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Sidney Dillion has just been elected president of the Oregon Transcontinental company.

COULDN'T FACE HIS SINS.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 25.—It is reported that Charles Albert Kobler, the attorney who committed suicide on Wednesday, was driven to the deed by the approaching revelation of heavy forgeries committed by him in the management of estates and trust funds entrusted to his care. An estimate is made that the liabilities thus incurred amount to about $175,000, while the property left by Kobler will not exceed $60,000. The revelation discloses the motive to be nothing more than to keep up a style of luxurious living beyond his means.

CAST UP BY THE SEA.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., Nov. 25.—About 300 barrels of flour were picked up on the beach here this morning. The steamer that sounded her distress signals last night in an easterly gale and snow storm may have been in a collision and sunk, or may have run ashore at the foot of Dayo Blanco Island, and jettisoned her cargo.

The Albany is thought to have been the name of the vessel, but nothing can be learned at present of any disaster.

ROAST PORK.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 25.—Windsor's big packing house caught fire last night, and although the firemen were on the scene promptly, they were powerless to allay the flame. The fire raged furiously and not only destroyed the packing house itself, but all its contents. The heat was so intense, and the fire burned so rapidly, that it was impossible to remove the goods stored in the warehouse. The total loss is estimated at $200,000. The fire originated from the explosion of a kerosene lamp in the rendering room.

HIS NAME IS DENNIS.

DUBLIN, Nov. 25.—Dennis McNamara, a shop-keeper at Ennis, has been sentenced to a weeks imprisonment for selling copies of the suppressed United Ireland. This is the first instance of the kind.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

CHINA ADVICES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—The steamer City of Pekin arrived from the orient the morning with the following advices: Information has been received at Hong Kong of the loss, off Mindoro, of the ship Monarch with a cargo of hemp and sugar: Also the loss of the Spanish schooner Jesusa which went to her rescue. The captain of the Monarch and three of his crew were drowned.

An enraged father nailed his own daughter alive in a coffin the other day for the offense of adultery.

The Corean mission to Europe had been organized and was to have started the same time as the one for the U. S. but the matter has been shelved indifinitly.

A Japanese paper is the authority for the statement that Blaine is to visit Japan next Spring.

Markham the British paymaster who escaped to the United States after committing forgery and embezzlement has been sentenced to four years imprisonment with hard labor.

Pak Chu Yuen, who was appointed Corean minister to Washington, while on his way to Tokio was stopped and recalled. The collapse of the United States mission has caused much disappointments to American's who have been and are still striving to get Corean representation at Washington. If successful Coreas complete independence would be clearly established and Chinas suzerainty destroyed forever.

Hostilities have been renewed at Acheen. Four hundred Acheenese recently entered the Dutch lines and in the engagement which followed the Acheenese last forty one men. Four troops were killed and seventeen wounded.

Cholera is abating in Che Foo owing to the rainfall. The number of deaths have fallen from a hundred to ten a day. At Port Arthur the mortality among the Chinese from cholera has been frightful.

HEAVY LIABILITIES.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 26.—The liabilities of W. H. Lipman the tailor who failed on Thursday, are $70,000.

FAVORS A REVERSAL.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—A report was circulated in this city yesterday that favor judges of the court of appeals favored reversal of the conviction of Jacob Sharp, and three apposed it. District Attorney Martine heard the rumor but could not find any authority for it.

DOUBLING ITS CARRYING CAPACITY.

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—The Canadian Pacific has decided to double the capacity of its freight rolling stock, between now and the end of next year. It will require of 5000 freight and 2000 flat cars and 200 locomotives. This will necessitate the erection of large shops here which will employ 2500 men.

PLOT AGAINST THE QUEEN'S LIFE.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The police have just announced that Cohen, the dynamiter, who recently died here, and Hawkins and Callan now under arrest, were tools of several men who were about to put into excution a plot against the Queen's life.

THE TIME TO BE EXTENDED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—It is stated to-day that the president intends to recommend in his message to congress that the time of indebtedness of the Pacific railroads be extended.

THE CABLE WAR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Jay Gould is in daily communication with his eldest est son, and many believe that the latter has gone to see Mackay, under his father's orders, to try to end the cable war, either by the purchase of the Commercial company, or by making a strong agreement.

A LILLIPUTIAN.

WAKEFIELD, Tenn., Nov. 26.—Mrs. Henry H. Mayville, of this town, has given birth to a child that promises to be the coming prodigy of the age. When born it weighed exactly eight ounces and was completely covered in a pint cup. It is now ten days old and weighs one and a half pounds. It is perfectly healthy.

THE CHINESE QUESTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—The Call this morning has a long editorial on the Chinese entering the United States over the Canadian border, the facts of which were mentioned in these dispatches yesterday. It says: "A grave feature arises from the seeming inability of our government to cope with the evil. The whole stretch of country from Vancouver to Montreal is available for the illicit transit of Chinamen into the United States. It it impossible to guard so long a line, and when United States officials do catch a Chinaman in the act of smuggling themselves into this country what are they going to do about it. When this question was put to the government at Washington, in reference to some Chinamen who had surreptitiously crept into Washington Territory, and whom the Canadian authorities refused to take back without payment of $50 head money, the sapient reply came 'Put them in jail.' Nobody in the interior department was aware that such a doom would would suit the Chinese. It is suggested that we ask Canada to adopt our exclusion act. We can ask; but why should it comply? The dominion parliament is not concerned about excluding Chinese. It knows they will not stay in Canada; but it is very gravely concerned about building up the Canadian Pacific line of steamers and the great Canadian seaport at Port Moody to rival San Francisco. Sir John Macdonald would tell Mr. Bayard that Canada will take care of her own interests, and will leave the United States to take care of theirs. It strikes us this new development in the Chinese question is of rather more importance than the points upon which Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, tells the Pacific coast delegation they must concentrate their strength.

GERMAN DIPLOMACY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Advices this morning from Samoa show that affairs there are still in an unsettled condition. The Germany naval commander has demanded a large sum from King Tamasee for the assistance which the Germans recently offered him against Malietoa. This new move of the Germans to make Tamasee pay for being used as a tool to their intescets is probably the only excuse to depose Tamasee before proclaiming absolute German sovereignty over the Samoan Islands.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

HANLAN AGAIN DEFEATED.

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 26.—Beach has won the boat race from Hanlan.

fe23-te

Daily British Columbian

Saturday Evening, Nov. 26, 1887.

A great many people have wondered at the action of Rev. Mr. Spurgeon in separating himself from Baptist Union, and the facts seem to have been misapprehended by some people who suppose that the eminent preacher is now actually severed from the Baptist communion. The causes of Mr. Spurgeon's action are very plainly set out in a communication to a London paper. Finding that a great many members of the Baptist Union seemed to have abandoned the simple doctrine of salvation by faith, and the perfect sufficiency of the atonement to rehabilitate fallen man, and were speculating upon the probability of future probation and other innovations which appeared to him subversive of pure faith and calculated to destroy spiritual life, he reached the conclusion that he ought no longer to be associated with an organization which seemed to be sowing the seeds of heresy. Mr. Spurgeon is still a Baptist, and it is those from whom he has withdrawn who are open to the charge of having weakened the church.

It is announced that George Francis Train has become disgusted with the boasted freedom of the United States, and has determined to take up his residence in one of the eastern Canadian provinces. George has been lately airing his views publicly. Of course he was in sympathy with the anarchist doctrines promulgated by Most and the Chicago agitators. Most is a pestilent disturber of all sound government, and George Francis Train was his natural colleague. These two men undertook to get up an agitation in favor of pardoning the condemned anarchists who were awaiting the erection of the gallows at Chicago, and in their public utterances they did not spare the civil authorities and the tyranny of law. Most's utterances were of such an incendiary character that he fell into the hands of the authorities, and is now awaiting trial. Train probably thinks discretion the better part of valor, and fears he may meet with Most's fate if he remains within reach of the American eagle. But if this hairbrained fire-brand thinks it will be safe for him to carry on his treasonable agitation in Canada, he may be rudely undeceived. Canadians are no fonder of dynamite than the people of the United States, and they are not in the habit of letting criminals slip through their hands if they can help it. The authority of government in Canada is as firmly fixed and the laws are as vigorously defended as in any part of the continent. If George Francis Train comes to Canada and expects to maintain a healthy existence, therefore, he will have to drop the anarchist agitation or take the risk of finding himself with a rope about his neck.

It might be somewhat risky to venture upon congratulating the people of Manitoba upon the final ratification of the contract for the completion of the Red River Valley Railway. The arrangement is said to be final; and after so much humbug one feels disposed to accept the announcement in good faith. We have always held the opinion that the construction and operation of this road, if it is maintained as an efficient and independent line, will have a most beneficial influence on both Manitoba and the C. P. R. There seems no reason to doubt that the C.P.R. freight rates have been a source of discouragement to the people of Manitoba and the Northwest. Every cent added to the cost of carrying grain to the seaboard was a cent taken off the price received by the farmers, and when it came to be known that wheat brought higher prices at places across the boundary than could be obtained at points in Manitoba and the the Northwest equally distant from the world's market, the fact was industriously used against the Canadian territory. It is a well known fact that thousands of Canadians now settled south of the national boundary would have remained in Canada but for the drawbacks resulting from railway monopoly, high tariff, and illiberal land regulations. As soon as these disadvantages have been removed, we may expect to see Manitoba and the Northwest filling up with great rapidity. The resources of the country are beyond dispute, and it will not be long before the C. P. R. and its rivals will find themselves sorely taxed to get away with the increased business resulting from the improved condition of the country. The Canadian road may find it necessary to reduce its tariff, but we feel sure it will find ample compensation for any loss from this cause in the large increase of passenger and freight traffic that is certain to follow the opening of the country to railway competition.

If a few Grains of Common Sense could be infused into the thick noddles of those who perpetually and alternately irritate and weaken their stomachs and bowels with drastic purgatives, they would use the highly accredited and healthful laxative and tonic, Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, which causes "good digestion to wait on appetite, and health on both"

What Wesley Says.

Those who sell this poison, murder Her Majesty's subjects by wholesale. Neither does their eye pity nor spare. They drive them to hell like sheep. And what is their gain? Is it not the blood of these men? Who, then, would envy their large estates and sumptuous palaces? A curse is in the midst of them: The curse of God cleaves to the stones, the timber, the furniture of them. The curse of God is in their gardens, their walks, their groves; a fire that burns to the nethermost hell? Blood, blood, is there; the foundation, the floor, the walls, the roof, are stained with blood! And canst thou hope, O thou man of blood, though thou art "clothed in scarlet and fine linen, and farest sumptuously every day"—canst thou hope to deliver down thy fields of blood to the third generation? Not so; for there is a God in heaven; therefore, thy name shall be rooted out. Like as those whom thou hast destroyed, body and soul, "thy memorial shall perish with thee!"

A Worthy Example.

The temperance people throughout the country will commend Mrs. Cleveland for not offering wine at the luncheon she gave six young ladies of Washington recently. It had been the custom to serve several kinds on the occasions, and this was the first gathering of any pretensions where it was absent. The action of the Woman's Temperance Union at St. Louis in reference to Mrs. Whitney's luncheon to the President's bride was remembered by all who went to the White House the other day, but those who know, say it did not make the slightest difference with Mrs. Cleveland, who would not serve wine under any circumstances. She does not drink it herself and does not believe it appropriate to serve wine at gatherings of young ladies. As the President's wife sets the fashions, it may be expected that the example will be followed by the official social of the capital, and it will certainly do no harm to the world at large.

Red Noses as Danger Signals.

Why is a dram drinker's nose red? The question is answered by Dr. J. B. Johnson, a Washington physician, who says that the dram-drinker's heart beats about 13 times oftener in the minute than the heart of one who does not drink alcohol. The arteries, in consequence of this increased heart action, carry the blood to the nose quicker than the veins carry it back. The blood, therefore, remains congested in the overfilled vessels, and the nose and face as well thus become habitually red. So stagnant is the blood that when the dram-drinkers nose meets a sudden current of cold air it immediately turns purple and so remains until warm air restores the color. So the red nose is caused by congestion. Every organ of the body is in a similar state—a warning of an impending fate not to be avoided.

Making Liquor Selling Disgraceful

The other day news came that the Missouri Masons were to enforce a rule excluding from their order all saloon-keepers. The action of this most powerful of secret societies, suplementing that of the Knight of Labor and all temperance societies, cannot but have a mighty influence in the right direction. You cannot prevent men from selling liquor by making the act disgraceful. It is a fact that operations the most debased have been willingly followed if the pecuniary rewards were large enough. But you can prevent young men from associating with those upon whom society has put its ban. When you make liquor selling disgraceful, you make the saloon even less respectable than it is at present as a place of resort.

The Drink Evil in France.

The French senate recently discussed the report of the committee on consumption of spirits. M. Claude said that the committee had come to the conclusion that the drinking of spirits in France had reached such a height as to be a social danger. Alcohol was essentially a dutiable article, and it behoved the state to prevent its excessive consumption, at the same time securing the utmost profit to the treasury by the suppression of adulteration and other frauds. M. Rouier approved the committee's report. He said the government would prosecute fraud wherever discovered, and that the revenue collectors would be instructed to take vigorous action against imposition.

Draw Your Own Conclusions.

Has the liquor traffic ever built a church, an asylum, or endowed a college?

Has it ever set a standard of business character which is recognized in banks and counting rooms?

Has it ever given society a single great brained and great hearted man?

Has it ever made a wife happier than she would be with a sober husband?

Has it ever led a youth up into a noble manhood?

Has it ever paid its own way as a revenue returner?

Has it ever lessened crime and criminals?

Scrofula

Is one of the most fatal scourges which afflict mankind. It is often inherited, but may be the result of improper vaccination, mercurial poison, uncleanliness, and various other causes. Chronic Sores, Ulcers, Abscesses, Cancerous Humors, and, in some cases, Emaciation and Consumption, result from a scrofulous condition of the blood. This disease can be cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

I inherited a scrofulous condition of the blood, which caused a derangement of my whole system. After taking less than four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla I am and, for the past year, have not found it necessary to use any medicine whatever. I am now in better health, and stronger, than ever before.—G. A. Willard, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass.

I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores for five years; but, after using a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the sores healed, and I have now good health.—Elizabeth Warnock, 54 Appleton street, Lowell, Mass.

Some months ago I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores on my leg. The limb was badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy failed until I used Ayer's Sarsaparilla. By taking three bottles of this medicine the sores have been healed, and my health is restored. I am grateful for the good it has done me.—Mrs. Ann O'Brian, 158 Sullivan st., New York. ††

KING KALAKAUA'S PALACE.

How He and Queen Kapiolani Live in Their Hawaiian Home.

Kalakaua means "Day of Battle," and his kingship has realized its force, for on the very day of his election to the throne in February, 1874, a riot occured which was only quelled by the presence of three men-of-war, whose crews—seven hundred all told—rushed to the rescue and subdued the turmoil. Now he has just been introduced to a revolution. Kalakaua is a rewd, and let it come to an altern tive between signing the new constitution and clearing out, depend upon it his big matter-of-fact signature will soon make its appearance.

In so petty a kingdom one would hardly look for so spacious a royal residence as the Iolani Palace. By the way, there is no unnecessary modesty about the Hawaiians in their selection of names, as "Iolani" means "Palace of Heaven," and if mortal magnificence is synonymous with paradisacal beauty, certainly the appellation is deserved. How proud Kalakaua must have felt four years ago when he left the little one-story building, built of coral, that had so long done duty as a royal home, and was installed in the splendid edifice that now graces Honolulu.

The foundation stone of Iolani Palace was laid with full Masonic ceremonies (Kalakaua being a prominent Mason) on Queen Kapiolani's birthday, the last day in the year 1879. It stands on an immense block, close to the heart of the city, bounded by King, Richard and Likelike streets and Palace walk. The palace itself covers an area of 140x120 feet, being thus nearly square. It consists of two stories and a basement. It has a large central tower and a smaller tower on each of the four corners. From the base to the top of the central tower it is 84 feet high. The original surmised cost was $50,000, but by 1880 $45,000 had been expended and a further appropriation of 80,000 was asked to complete it. Then its completion was promised for 1881, but at its opening in 1883 the whole affair was found to have cost $340,000. It is built of brick (cemented) from designs by Baker, remodeled by C. J. Wall, and the exterior is elaborately ornamented, while the interior is—well, an artistic surprise.

In all there are forty rooms, and considering that all but those in the basement are seldom used, it will puzzle the reader to imagine what could be arranged in so many apartments. But the Hawaiian Kamehamehas were powerful and had many visitors, besides which Kalakaua himself has been almost around the globe, and the foundation of decorative orders brings about the promulgation of still more decorative gifts, so that Iolani Palace is literally loaded with curiosities, both novel and ornamental.

The front or state entrance to the palace, which entrance is only used on very special occasions, is on King Street, nearly opposite the Government buildings. Entering the palace this way, the visitor comes first of all to a very broad hall leading from this entrance, each side of the staircase, and then right through to the back of Palace Walk end of the building. The first room to the right of this hall is the throne room, and here is enough conglomeration of the barbaric and the modern to mystify the beholder. All around the walls are well-executed portraits of the former Kings of Hawaii, and at the extreme end of a portrait which both the King and Queen have often silently gazed upon. It is an oil painting of Kaahumanu, a wife of Kamehameha the Great, who, after his death, became Prime Minister and was virtually monarch during the short reign of Kamehameha II. Perhaps Kapiolani objects to her name ("Captive of Heaven") as she looks on this savage dame's determined features and longs to emulate her. But her spouse knows that those despotic times have long since gone by.

Here, also, are the marvellous royal feather robes, the gorgeousness of which no one can imagine. The robe used by Kalakaua, and exhibited in this throne room, is the identical mamo (mantle) worn by the great first Kamehameha. It is eleven feet in width and five feet in length, and made entirely of golden feathers from the Oo, or royal bird. Only two feathers are found (one under each wing) on each bird. As it takes a thousand feathers to make an ordinary necklace, what a vast quantity must this robe contain? And this is not only the collection of a lifetime, but the combination of the hoards of eight or ten successive chiefs. At the opening of Parliament this robe is spread on the throne as symbolical of royalty, but at other times it is always kept over in the palace, and it is said that Kalakaua was once discovered alone in the throne room with this robe around him, gesticulating and voicing forth vowels to his ancestors, like a child with a new toy.

Kalakaua is now fifty-one years of age and has been drawing $25,000 a year ever since he started, besides extra money being paid his Queen, his and her staffs and their household expenses. Although the King has an interest in three saloons and has some good property in land, and certainly often helps some of his poor subjects, yet the mass of his wealth goes for the Poi feasts and Hula dances, in which his predecessors also revelled. Even when the white people are now invited, the old name of Luaa (native feast) is used and the gyrations of the finger around the calabash of sticky taro form the principal event. Hula dances are even given in the public grounds, but under great restrictions and shorn, in the presence of Europeans, of their dominant features.

See Kalakaua on a state occasion, and, fairly corpulent as he is, he seems hardly to have room to hold his medals and decorations—all one blaze of useless glitter. But creep down to the Union Saloon early some evening. There you will see His Majesty, King Kalakaua, of the Hawaiian Islands, sitting before a toddy, dressed in an old blue serge suit, with a cheap straw hat on the back of his head, and looking, ah! far happier, after all.

Custer's Last Fight.

History has been corrected somewhat since that dark and bloody page was recorded, and not the least important is that the Indians outnumbered fully five to one all the white men in the country, including the different commands of Custer, Benteen, Reno, as well as Gen. Terry's and Gen. Gibbon's commands, then at the forks of the two Horn rivers, on the way up to effect a junction with the Seventh cavalry. Had they only known it the savages could have swept everything before them, as they were in superior force, armed with magazine rifles and fighting for their lives, although, as a rule, our North American aborigines have a wholesome dread of artillery, of which Gen. Terry had one or to pieces along.

A few years ago Wilton was one of the most flourishing villages in Minnesota. A railroad built through that section left the village at one side, and now the place is dead. One of its original proprietors had just sold 115 lots to one purchaser, and the old town site is to be converted into farming land.

"It Saved My Life"

Is a common expression, often heard from those who have realized, by personal use, the curative powers of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. ☞ I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died from lung troubles.—E. Bragdon, Palestine, Tex.

About six months ago I had a severe Hemorrhage of the Lungs, brought on by a distressing Cough, which deprived me of sleep and rest. I had used various cough balsams and expectorants, without obtaining relief. A friend advised me to try

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

I did so, and am happy to say that it helped me at once. By continued use this medicine cured my cough, and, I am satisfied, saved my life.—Mrs. E. Coburn, 18 Second st., Lowell, Mass.

I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for over a year, and sincerely believe I should have been in my grave, had it not been for this medicine. It has cured me of a dangerous affection of the lungs, for which I had almost despaired of ever finding a remedy.—D. A. McMullen, Windsor, Province of Ontario.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life. Two years ago I took a very severe Cold which settled on my lungs. I consulted physicians, and took the remedies they prescribed, but failed to obtain relief until I began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Two bottles of this medicine completely restored my health.—Lizzie M. Allen, West Lancaster, Ohio. ††

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. Sprained his Knee.

Mr. C. G. Major, who, with Mr. T. R. Pearson, has been at Mud Bay for a weeks' shooting, fell while at Ladners and sprained his knee badly. Both he and Mr. Pearson returned to the city this afternoon, bringing with them a splendid bag of game.

Apple Shipments.

The immense quantities of apples being shipped from this city to outside points is going on so quietly that few people are aware of the large trade that has sprung into existence within the year. Not a steamer arrives from up-river ports but brings from 100 to 300 boxes. These apples are immediately reshipped to Vancouver, Victoria or towns in the interior where they find an almost unlimited market. During the past week Mr. A. M. Nelson has shipped 380 boxes to Yokohama and 200 boxes to Vancouver, and he will ship 300 more boxes to the latter place on Monday if the weather is not too cold. Other dealers are also shipping large quantities every week, and yet the supply and the demand both keep up.

A Universal Favorite.

The publisher of the West Shore claim for it: "That it is the most enjoyable and cheapest publication on the Pacific coast and should be in every house, counting room and library. The farmers, especially, will find it a clean, wholesome, entertaining family visitor. It is the cheapest illustrated magazine in the world, and has no superior in artistic merit. The West Shore for 1888 will be greatly enlarged in size, and improved in contents, both literary and artistic. A magnificent, large eleograph of the "Entrance to the Columbia River," is now being prepared, and is superior in every respect to the handsome colored engraving of Mt. Hood issued last year. This beautiful marine picture and the November and December numbers of 1887, will be sent free to all who subscribe now for 1888. A most liberal clubbing list with leading publications is now made up, and will be sent to any one who desires to take the West Shore in connection with other publications." The subscription price is only $2.50. Address L. Samuel publisher of the West Shore, Portland, Oregon.

The Highbinders.

The greatest trouble the police here have to contend with, in the Chinese cases which they have occasion to prosecute, is the difficulty of procuring reliable evidence. The obstacle in the way of justice is that class, or society, of Chinamen, known as the Highbinders. This society claims to be something similar to our order of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, but how much right they have to that honor it is hard to determine. When a Highbinder gets into trouble, and falls into the hands of the police, every possible effort is made to get him free again. It is impossible to get another highbinder to give evidence against him, and should another Chinaman, not a member of the society, be known to give evidence against a Highbinder, nothing is left undone to get the witness out of the road. They are well known to swear falsely, use intimidation and any other means within their power to accomplish the end in view. There is no doubt in the minds of the authorities but that the Highbinders resort to murder in order to remove a suspicious or objectionable person from their midst, and cases are well known in this city where Chinese witnesses have had their lives threatened if they dared to give a word of evidence against a Highbinder. It is always noticed in court that so long as the prisoner is a member of this society, some respectable Chinese merchant is present, and the best legal talent is employed to defend the accused. The merchant is always willing to pay any fine that may be inflicted, no matter how much it is, or to stand bail to any amount, no matter how degraded or villianous a person the offender may be. It makes no difference what offence a Highbinder is charged with or how positive the proof may be against him, his friends stick to him and fight the case to the bitter end. The attempted murder of Mrs. Boulger, near Hope, about two years ago, will be remembered by many. She received nineteen stabs in the body by a party of Chinamen, among whom there happened to be a Highbinder. This man was arrested and fully identified by Mrs. Boulger, as one of the would be murderers. The Highbinders, in order to secure the release of their brother, brought a number of witnesses, who swore positively that another Chinaman, not a member of their society, was the guilty person. The accused man was brought before Mrs. Boulger, who said she had never seen him before, and he was not with the party who attempted to murder her. Under these circumstance it is no wonder the police experience so much trouble in bringing evil doers to justice, for as a rule it is only by accident that sufficient evidence can be produced to secure a conviction. It is a great pity that this society cannot be wiped out of existence, as it is a standing menace to law and order, and an unsurmountable obstacle in the path of justice.

Mr. John Magwood, Victoria Road, writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure is a splendid medicine. My customers say they never used anything so effectual. Good results immediately follow its use. I know its value from personal experience, having been troubled for 9 or 10 years with Dyspepsia, and since using it digestion goes on without that depressed feeling so well known to dyspeptics. I have no hesitation in recommending it in any case of Indigestion, Constipation, Heartburn, or troubles arising from a disordered stomach."

A Steamer for Harrison River.

Mr. G. H. Cooper has commenced work on the hull of a new steamer which he intends to run on Harrison lake and river. The steamer will be a stern wheeler, seventy-five feet over all, and fitted for passenger traffic only. Mr. Cooper will run the steamer in connection with the trains and steamers from Agassiz and the mouth of the river, up to the hot springs. She will also be employed for picnic and excursion parties on Harrison Lake. When this steamer is on the lake it will prove an additional attraction to the Hot Springs as a pleasure resort, and Mr. Cooper's enterprise is sure to be amply rewarded.

Ladner's Landing.

A correspondent, who has recently been spending a few days in the Delta district, describes that part of the country as being most prosperous. The farmers have had a good crop, and fine weather in which to secure it. Numerous ditches are being made to reclaim the land, which is of the richest character; but the large acreage held unimproved by speculators retards many active settlers in their operations. Among the finest farms in the settlement are those of Mr. John McKee, senior, (Bay View Hall) and sons, who own 1,500 acres, about six miles from the landing, on the main trunk road. They have 400 acres under cultivation, this season had satisfactory crops of oats, barley, mangold-wurzel and other roots. Thirty horses are used in the field operations, while 200 head of horned cattle are run on the rich pasture. Mr. McKee recently imported the thoroughbred Holstein bull "Gallotte," from Davis' stock, which was some time ago on exhibition here. —Colonist.

A lady writes: "I was enabled to remove the corn, root and branch, by the use of Holloway's Corn Cure." Others who have tried it have the same experience.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. Pither went over to Vancouver this morning.

We regret to learn that the Bishop of New Westminster is confined to his house with a sprained ankle. Dr. DeWolf Smith is in attendance.

George Baillie, a well know citizen of Lytton, was brought down on the express yesterday, and is now under treatment in St. Mary's hospital. Mr. Baillie is suffering from his old complaint, kidney disease.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Grave's Worm exterminator is pleasant, sure, and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—The work on the Gatineau Valley railway has been concluded, for the season. KINGSTON, Nov. 21.—The schooner Glenora arrived here, after a terrible experience in the storm. Five thousand bushels of her cargo were damaged.

OTTAWA, Nov. 23.—A bulletin is being prepared giving the results of the tests of Russian wheat in Canada. All are of an eminently satisfactory nature. It ripens, so the report says, ten days to a fortnight earlier than red fife. Prof Saunders says it revolutionizes wheat growing in the northwest. He has bought 100,000 trees for the Manitoba and Northwest government farms.

Sir Charles Tupper, on his return from Washington, will become minister of trade, and Hon. Mr. Bowell, minister of finance. Mr. Curran will be given a seat in the cabinet without portfolio.

Dyphtheria is alarmingly prevalent in Montreal. Twenty-six deaths occurred last week.

Speaker Kirkpatrick has left Kingston for British Columbia.

A large number of inquiries respecting Canada are being had from British manufacturers.

Mrs. D. Morrison, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writing about Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, says: George Bell used it on his son, and it cured him of rheumatism with only a few applications. The balance of the bottle was used by an old gentleman for Asthma, with the best results. It acts like a charm."

Job printing of all kinds neatly done at the COLUMBIAN office. Prices will be found as low as at any other office in the province.—Adv

High Acid Apples.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN.—Some readers of the COLUMBIAN may have seen an advertisement in the Vancouver News telling the public where to get trees; and the representative wanted seven cars of apples; but to save stationary, stamps, &c., the kind of apples wanted are not grown on this globe, but at present are found only in large quanties at Port Prospect, on the northern part of Imaginary Bay, in the province Impossibility, on the planet Mars. The name of the apples is Non Est Hats. They are a very high acid taste, and are worth 5 cents a pound. If any of your readers want the trees that raise such apples, the representative can be found on Mary street in your city. Prof. Wiggins, when on a visit to the planet Mars looking for storms, brought some grafts of the high acid fruit with him; and as the inhabitants of British Columbia are of very sweet nature, it would be well to order sour grapes. Yours &c.
