The event being a "farewell" to Mrs. Muir who has been a valued member of the Aid. In her pleasing manner Mrs. Muir was always ready to help in all things for the benefit of the community. Although saddened with the thought of parting all were determined to make the occasion a happy one. Games and music furnished the entertainment. In behalf of the Ladies Aid, Mrs. L. Bryant, in her usual cheerful manner and well chosen words, presented Mrs. Muir with a silver vase, and from eight intimate friends a silver cake or sandwich tray. Mrs. Muir was as greatly surprised as pleased and requested those present to convey her thanks to all members of the Aid and other friends. Refreshments were served at 11 p.m. After singing "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow" the gathering of friends departed wishing Mrs. Muir all happiness in her new home.

Elkhorn Fraction Drilling

Drilling on the Elkhorn Fraction commenced last Monday and another shift of men will be put on in the near future. Art. Williams, of the Canadian-Ingersoll Rand Co. visited the mine on Tuesday and was delighted with the machinery arrangements carried out by Manager Clothier. His firm supplied compressor, hoist, engines and drills and he says the installation of the plant can be shown as a model.

Refused $75,000 For Wellington Mine

The information published by the Grand Forks Gazette, Nelson News, and Vancouver Province, last week, on the offer for the Wellington mine at Beaverdell is incorrect. Asking for confirmation of this news item from the secretary of the syndicate, Geo. S. Walters, we were informed and shown that the figure refused was $75,000.00

Assays on the trial five ton shipment have been received showing 350 ounces of silver to the ton with further values in gold and lead.

Additional men have been put on this week and Ed. Nordman, a member of the syndicate and who made such a success of the Sally mine operations, was inspecting the workings during the week.

The rich ore being opened up at this increased depth on the Wellington is gratifying to the syndicate and very interesting to the owners of the adjoining Sally and Bell mines.

City Council

An application for purchase of a house on Silver St. by Capt. H. W. R. Moore was referred to the buildings committee.

The Council endorsed the arrangements made for the renting of the rink by the mayor and city clerk, and expressed their satisfaction in the manner in which the water situation had been handled while ice-making was in progress.

Other business transacted was of the ordinary routine nature.

H. T. Newmarch arrived from Parksville on Saturday and has taken over the managership of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Referring to Mr. Newmarch's return to the Boundary the Grand Forks Gazette says: "Mr. Newmarch is well known in Grand Forks. He was a very popular accountant with the bank here about a dozen years ago, and shortly after being transferred to Vancouver Island became manager of the branch at Parksville, 11 years ago. His old friends will be glad to welcome him back to the district."

Beaverdell Briefs

Pat Kennedy, one of the oldest mine holders on Wallace Mountain, is on a trip to the Okanagan.

D. McIntosh returned from the coast on Monday, after spending the holidays with his family there.

Francis and Eddie Cousins have returned to work at the Bell Mine after a week's visit to their home in Peachland.

Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Carpenter, of the Rambler mine, are visiting in Grand Forks for a couple of weeks, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Freeland.

R. T. Brown, compressorman at the Sally mine for the past three months, left on Wednesday morning for the coast, where he expects to remain for a couple of months, owing to ill health.

The local boys are forming a hockey team and hope to be in shape in a couple of weeks to challenge any of the neighboring towns. A fine sheet of ice is being kept clean on the river.

Cars and trucks are still able to operate on Wallace Mountain hill, the snow not been deep enough to interfere. This is the first winter the road has been kept open so late and it now looks as though it may be passable all winter.

It looks as if Beaverdell is to add another to her list of high-grade properties, as the Wellington now looks as good as any claim on the hill and the crew is to be enlarged shortly. In Al Morrison the Syndicate has an excellent miner and manager.

Presentation to Jas. Muir

On Monday morning, Jan. 4, a number of citizens gathered in Chas. King's office to bid farewell to Jas. Muir, the popular manager of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who was leaving in the afternoon for Grand Forks where he will be manager of the bank's branch there. Mr. King was chairman and referred to the first time he met Mr. Muir on his arrival four years ago. The chairman stated a banker played a great part in the success of the district. Mentioning the Bell mine as on a $2500 loan this property was brought to a producing stage and today it is one of the best paying mines in the province. The speaker hoped that Mr. Newmarch, the new manager, would carry out the policies of Mr. Muir. Mr. King then presented Mr. Muir with a case of pipes and a smoker's stand, as a token of remembrance from the business men and friends. Mr. Muir was taken by surprise. He thanked the donors for the gifts and stated that he had always taken great pleasure in doing what he could for the town and district. He was not going far away and hoped to be able to visit on different occasions but more especially when he could have a game of curling. Mayor Gulley, Jas. Kerr and G. S. Walters also spoke and associated themselves with the remarks of the chairman. Mr. Newmarch said he was pleased to be with us and would endeavor to carry out the policies of his predecessor. Three cheers and a tiger for Mr. Muir brought the affair to a close.

Skating Rink Open

The Rink was opened for skating on Tuesday evening, the ice being in excellent condition. A good season is being looked forward to by the hockey club which is managing the rink.

Alex. Robinson is renewing acquaintances in town.

Successful Colonization Means Increased Immigration

The continued development, progress and prosperity of Canada is dependent upon a continuing increase in population, and having now entered upon the second quarter of "Canada's Century" it is of prime importance to themselves and their country that all Canadians take a keen and active interest in promoting this, the Dominion's first and greatest asset.

It has, however, become increasingly evident during the past few years that the problem that confronts Canada in the field of immigration is not so much immigration itself as colonization. If the Federal Government and Parliament saw fit to take down all the bars to immigration there is hardly any question but that very large numbers of people from European countries would come to Canada. But it is open to serious question whether an unrestricted inflow of people would be in the best interests of the Dominion, or of these incoming people themselves.

Neither Government and Parliament, nor Canadians in general, are of the opinion that such an unrestricted influx of people would be desirable. The opinion still prevails, and wisely so, that there must be selection of immigrants, although it is now recognized that there can well be, and ought to be, some relaxation of the restrictions imposed during those years immediately following the war.

While, therefore, immigration regulations will undoubtedly be modified, and efforts put forth to secure a larger number of people in this and succeeding years, the main effort of the Dominion Government, transportation companies, and all bodies primarily interested in the settlement of our vacant areas, will be in the direction of successful and therefore permanent settlement; in a word, the promotion of colonization rather than the mere encouragement of the immigration of people to Canada.

Past experience establishes the wisdom and necessity of such a policy. Carrying it into effect, however, cannot be left solely to Government. It will call for the active interest and participation of the whole people of Canada, and may well constitute one of the major activities of all organizations such as Boards of Trade, Canadian Clubs, the various service clubs, farmers' organizations, churches, Community Clubs, and all kindred organizations.

Successful colonization means the placing of new settlers in districts where their labors will be crowned with success, where their surroundings and neighbors will be congenial, where they will not lack the essentials necessary to the making of happy, prosperous, contented homes.

To cite one example. Late in 1924 the Swiss Settlement Society was organized in Canada under a Dominion Charter with headquarters in Montreal, with the object of encouraging Swiss settlement in Canada. This Society, in its first year, has been markedly successful in securing the support, financial and otherwise, of prominent people throughout Canada, in Switzerland and the United States. It is engaged in getting in touch with all Swiss now resident in Canada and ascertaining the measure of their success here, the problems which confronted them and how they were overcome, the problems and difficulties still to be overcome. The Society aims to help them, but at the same time to make known to prospective immigrants from Switzerland the actual experiences and successes of their countrymen in Canada, and to assist such new immigrants to locate in desirable communities on arrival here and to help them in all possible ways to succeed. That is, there is an organized Society to which all Swiss in Canada can turn for helpful advice and assistance.

Reference may be made to another development which is bound to have a permanently beneficial colonization effect. In its peace-time work the Canadian Red Cross Society aims at the improvement of health, the prevention of disease, and the mitigation of suffering. In its efforts in these directions it has taken particular notice of the need of nursing care for expectant mothers and children, and sick and accident cases among the new settlers in remote and pioneer districts where doctors are few in number and far distant from the settlers' homes, and where as yet the population is too small to warrant the establishment of hospitals. In such districts the Red Cross is establishing Nursing Outposts with fully qualified nurses in charge. Over thirty such Outposts have now been established by the Red Cross in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Northern Ontario. Others are being opened as rapidly as the funds of the Red Cross will permit, and only recently an English nursing association donated funds for the equipment of two additional Outposts in Saskatchewan in districts into which British settlers are now going.

These are real moves calculated to promote permanent and successful colonization. Such societies as the two cited, and others that might be mentioned having the same object in view, are deserving of the cordial sympathy and hearty support of the people of Canada. They are helping to make Canada, and to bring about the realization of the prophecy that the "Twentieth Century belongs to Canada."

Successful colonization means not only retaining the settlers who do come, but it means larger immigration because an ever increasing number of people will come to participate in the success of these others. Thus will Canada grow and prosper as it ought to do and as Nature by her varied and bountiful gifts intended it should.

Arabs Using Autos Instead Of Camels

Sheiks Find Them Practical in Raiding Enemy Tribes

American enterprise, which has already put the sheik on the film, is now putting him into a Ford. For countless centuries, says a London Morning Post dispatch from Bagdad, Arab has raided Arab, relying on the camel as a means of traversing the wide spaces which separate one desert encampment from another.

But in this century of change the time-honored "ship of the desert" seems doomed to be replaced by the motor car, for one of the Iraq tribes recently carried out a raid against another in Syrian territory by means of three Ford cars.

The tall, bearded figured of Ajil-Al-Yawwar, sheik of the tribe concerned, has frequently been seen in flowing Arab dress driving his Ford in the streets of Bagdad. The discovery of the martial task to which the Ford can be put has, in the eyes of the Bedouin, robbed a once menial task of its shame.

THE CHEERFUL WOMAN

Is One Who Has the Rich, Red Blood of Good Health

The fact that one woman is bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked, strong and cheerful, while another is pale, weak and depressed, is due more often than otherwise to the condition of the blood. The way to remedy this depressed state is to build up the blood, and for this purpose there is no other tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A case in point is that of Mrs. Melvin Abra, Graveley street, Vancouver, B.C., who says:—"About two years ago I was a very sick woman. I seemed to be wasting away and getting thinner all the time. I grew so weak that the doctor sent me to the hospital, but the treatment there did not help me and I returned home. Then I tried a number of tonics with no better results. At this stage my mother came to me, and as she is a firm believer in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, she started me on this medicine. I can only say that they did wonders for me. I began to get new health and strength after I had taken a few boxes, and day by day this improvement continued until I was again well and able to do all my housework, and I have not had a sick day since. I cannot recommend your pills too highly and urge those who are looking for health and happiness to give them a trial."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

New Design For Aeroplane

Machine With Central Engine Room Being Built As Experiment

An aeroplane has been designed, the chief feature of which is a central engine room. As it is an experimental type, only two 450 h.p. Napier Lion engines have been fitted, but, pursuing the same lines of design, the experts declare that there is no reason why half-a-dozen or even more engines should not be fitted into a machine able to take them. They see in it the forerunner of the type of air liner which will, when flying has become more fully developed, be plying regularly between London and New York. This experimental craft, which is known as the Bodmin-Napier, has been under design and construction for between two and three years.

Secret Of the Air

Dutch Passenger Monoplane Vanished Completely, Leaving No Trace

A group of "air express" pilots in London, some about to begin and others having just completed flights at 100 miles an hour between London and the continent, were discussing the strangest things that have happened in aviation since men first flew.

They agreed that for sheer mystery no case equals that which threw a gloom over the London air station not long ago.

A Dutch passenger monoplane ascended one afternoon to make its scheduled flight to Amsterdam. An experienced pilot was in charge, and the weather was not unfavorable. There were no circumstances to cause anxiety.

Yet from that day to this there has been no news or trace of that machine. It simply went up into the air and vanished. It never reached Amsterdam. It never landed anywhere.

The only theory experts can advance is that while on the cross-Channel flight the engine failed and the plane fell into the water. Unfortunately, it was not fitted with wireless, so the airman had no chance of broadcasting an "S.O.S."

It is strange, however, that no trace of the machine was ever found. Nor were any of the bodies retrieved.

Swiss Colonization In Canada

Sending Out Questionnaires to Swiss Working on the Land

The Swiss Settlement Society which, as our readers remember, was formed for the purpose of establishing Swiss immigrant farm help in Canada as settlers on their own account in settlements congenial to them, is sending out at present an interesting pamphlet and questionnaire to the Swiss working on the land.

The questions asked aim comprehensively at those points of the problem which interest the prospective settler most and which will enable the society to give him intelligent assistance in his quest.

Pamphlet and questionnaire can be obtained from Fritz Beck, Secretary of the Society, 11 Bishop St., Montreal. Western address: Care of F Immigration Hall, Winnipeg.

FIVE MEN BELIEVE ON JESUS

Golden Text: Behold, the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world! John 1-29.

Lesson: John 1.19-51.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53.4-12.

Explanations and Comments

The Winning of Andrew and John, verses 35-39.—On the morrow after his conversation with the deputation of priests and Levites from Jerusalem who came to ask if he were the expected Christ (verses 19-28), John the Baptist, the herald of the Christ, pointed out Jesus to his disciples as the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world (verses 29-34). Again, on the morrow after that, two of the Baptist's disciples, Andrew and probably John, were standing with him when he saw Jesus in the distance and said to them, "Behold, the Lamb of God!" (The word Lamb is used for Christ more than seventy times in the Book of Revelation and indicates sacrifice.) The Baptist's words suggested to the disciples that they follow the greater Master.

When Jesus turned and saw the two following him, he said to them, "What seek ye?" "He opened their mouth because he wished to fill it," observes an ancient writer.

Lose Naturalization Papers

Fourteen Aliens Lose Canadian Citizenship For Various Causes

Fourteen certificates of naturalization of aliens in Canada as British subjects have been revoked by order in council.

Those whose certificates have been cancelled, it was learned at the secretary of state department, include two Germans, one Assyrian, two Russians, and a number from various parts of Central Europe.

Conviction of criminal offences, carrying with them deportation, is the reason given for revocation in two instances. In the other cases, false representation in procuring naturalization or fraud is the cause of cancellation. The majority of the aliens affected have already left Canada.

"Present indications are that the Saskatchewan egg and poultry pool is an assured success and that the pool will be functioning by the time eggs start to move in the spring," declared G. F. Edwards, chairman of the provisional board of directors.

Over 4,000 contracts have already been signed and they are being received at the pool headquarters in Regina at the rate of about 100 a day. It is estimated that the production already under contract is in the neighborhood of one billion dozen eggs a year.

Alberta Corn Growers

Acreage Devoted to This Crop Is Rapidly Increasing

Recent successes of Medicine Hat corn growers at the provincial exhibition held in Lethbridge, amply prove the suitability of this district for corn growing. The acreage devoted to this crop in Alberta has made great strides in recent years. In 1919 only 900 acres in Alberta were planted to corn. In the following year the acreage increased to 7,000; in 1922 to 15,600; in 1923 to 53,900; and last year to 68,000.

Whether the corn be of old or new growth, it must yield to Holloway's Corn Remover.

Petition to Eliminate Two From Treaty of Versailles

A strong movement has been launched in England to supplement similar efforts made in France this summer to eliminate articles 231 and 227 from the Treaty of Versailles. These are the articles in which Germany acknowledges guilt for bringing on the war and which fix upon Germany the accusation of having committed offences against international morality, the sanctity of treaties and the customs of war.

A petition has been signed by more than 100 persons of eminence, including university professors, high dignitaries of the church and writers, who declare they have been deeply moved by the similar petition signed last July by 100 French men and women of distinction.

The petition says:

"We regard these two articles which were forcibly imposed upon a defeated nation under the most terrible threats, as having expressed a state of mind in the allied and associated powers which has now largely passed away. We believe they are manifestly unjust and constitute a grave obstacle to international understanding.

"Consequently, we urge that the governments concerned either to amend theso articles with no further delay, or if amendment of the treaty prove too long and cumbrous a proceeding, to announce severally their intention to disregard them."

Must Remember Amplifiers

Side Remarks Distinctly Heard In House of Lords

Members of the British House of Lords must be on guard against making side remarks which are not intended for the assembly at large; for, since amplifiers were placed in the house, the slightest whisper can be heard in the farthest corners of the great room.

In the old days a speaker could be heard with difficulty unless he shouted, and there was a constant general exchange of remarks by members who paid little attention to the business of the day. But a member who now quietly remarks to a neighbor that some speaker is a "silly old fool," does so at the peril of having every newspaperman in the gallery hear him quite distinctly.

Rapid House Construction

A British construction firm, applying the principles of mass production to home building, has succeeded during a few weeks time in turning out a complete house every 30 minutes of a working day. The houses are roomy, workmen's homes built almost entirely of concrete. They sell for approximately $2,250 each.

Facts About London

Interesting Information Gleaned From Report of Londno City Council

Much curious information about the vast human hive known as London is contained in a statistical abstract issued by the London county council.

Among many things it is shown there are not enough men to go round. Bachelors number 539,700 and widowers 72,459, while there are 725,806 single women and 223,615 widows. The number of husbands is 865,300, while the number of married women is 877,298. The total number of men is 1,477,159 and women 1,821,727.

London has a large appetite, consuming last year 480,520 tons of meat, poultry and provisions. The Billingsgate market sold 184,080 tons of fish.

Suicides of men were 362 last year and of women, 144.

There was not a single death from smallpox last year.

London's 191 night schools were attended by 117,358 students.

Institutional poor relief was given to 69,743 on the day chosen for the count, as against 91,484 in 1915.

The number of Scots in London is dwindling. While in 1900 there were 56,605, last year there were only 49,881.

The resident population of the "City," the original nucleus of the metropolis and the business centre now, dropped from 128,728 in 1801 to 13,709, but the day population increased from 261,061 in 1881 to 436,721 in 1921.

London county council's total expenditure last year was £25,236,971.

There were 7,111 fire alarms last year, 2,292 of them false. Fire damage was more than £900,000.

There are 8,058 saloons in London.

Taxable valuation of the metropolis is more than £50,000,000.

There were 19,000 fewer marriages last year than in 1915.

To Solve Arctic Riddle

Flight of Birds Over Arctic Regions to Be Studied by Aviators

Solution of an Arctic riddle that has fascinated explorers since first they began penetrating the polar regions will be sought by Captain G. H. Wilkins and his companions on their proposed non-stop flight next spring over the top of the world.

The riddle, briefly, has been: "Where do the birds go when they keep on going north?"

Almost every Arctic expedition has observed the phenomenon and it has led to the belief that land must exist somewhere beyond the farthest point reached by man. The land is thought to be somewhere near the ice pole. Mr. Stefansson is one of those planning the flight.

It is over that pole, rather than over the geographical North Pole, that Captain Wilkins will fly next year. If land is discovered, it will be claimed in the name of the United States.

The ice pole is the centre of the frozen Arctic Sea. It would correspond to the geographical pole, if the ice pack on top of the world were on straight, but the pack leans to the west.

The Detroit Aviation Society, of which Henry Ford's chief engineer is president, is backing the expedition.

The costs of the flight will be between $100,000 and $150,000.

Planning Tree-Lined Trans-Canada Highway

Campaign to Raise Million For Work Should be Supported

The proposal to line with trees the great trans-Canada motor highway from Halifax to Vancouver is one calculated to excite the interest and arouse the imagination of all. Dr. P. E. Doolittle, pioneer Canadian motorist and motor league official, announces that the Federal Government has undertaken to supply the trees and that he will personally lead a campaign to raise $1,000,000 for carrying out the work.

Canadians everywhere will applaud the plan. Besides the pleasure that a treelined cross-nation highway will give our own citizens, there is the very important consideration of the tourist industry. Anything that will add materially to the number of foreign motorists attracted here yearly must be regarded as very much worthwhile. The proposed highway would do that and, therefore, we may confidently expect that all the money expended on it will be returned many times.—Border Cities Star.

A Merchant's Code

A Set of Rules That Has Led to Success in Merchandising

Fred Anderson, miracle merchant of Cozad, Nebraska, is credited with doing more business per capita than any other known business institution. Last year his business ran considerably over a quarter of a million dollars.

How does he do it, how does he turn his stock three and one-half times each season, in a village of 1,300 people, in a county which barely boasts of 8,000 inhabitants?

Here is Fred Anderson's code for the merchant:

Your face is the mirror of your soul. Keep it trimmed with sunshine and radiance. Your store window is the mirror of your store. Keep it trimmed—tied up with your advertising.

Goodwill is more than a spoken work. It implies the Golden Rule theme of business. Get it and keep it.

Be a part of your community, energetic in its activities.

Boost your competitors. Perhaps some day they'll become customers.

Talk to folks in your advertising; not at them. Advertise, not only your store, but every local association and interest that is worth while.

Keep a mailing list and keep mailing to your mailing list; then your mailing list will soon keep you.

Advertise, Advertise! If your business isn't good enough to advertise, why not advertise it for sale?—Frank R. Otto in Forbes Magazine.

Swift Trains Predicted

Will Travel As Quickly As Aeroplane Says P.M. President

A new age of transportation with crack passenger trains running safely at terrific speeds on concrete roadways reinforced with steel trusses is predicted by Frank Alfred, of Detroit, president of the Pere Marquette Railway and one of the 43 executives attending meetings of the American Railway Association.

Cars of the new trains will run on roller bearings and their speed will be almost as fast as aeroplanes.

Mr. Alfred, with the assistance of Paul Chapman, engineer, has worked out the type of road bed and bearings by which he expects the railroads to remain the standard of long distance passenger transportation.

Newspaperman Awarded $6,000

Announcement is made at Seattle that Ernest Cowper, newspaperman, has been awarded $6,000 by the German reparation commission for damages to his health, sustained when a German submarine sank the British liner Lusitania in 1915. Cowper, now assistant dramatic editor on a local paper, was a passenger on the vessel on his way to France as correspondent.

Mystery Of Mars

Dominion Astronomer Does Not Believe That Sister Planet Is Inhabited

Dr. Francois Henroteau, director of the astronomical observatory of the Dominion Government at Ottawa, does not believe there is any human or near-human population on Mars. Nor does he believe that any of the other solar planets are inhabited. Dr. Henroteau expressed these views in the course of an illustrated lecture on "The Planets and Our Unknown Worlds" before the members of the Alliance Francaise at Montreal. Dr. Henroteau also expressed doubt as to the canals of Mars being canals at all, although admitting that he had seen, himself, ten of those peculiar lines which Lowell enthustically proclaimed to be canals, linking Marsian oceans together.

Natives Gradually Become White

People of Underground City in Abyssinia Change Color

Mrs. Rosita Forbes, English woman explorer, whose last expedition was into Abyssinia where she visited the buried Troglodyte city of Lalibehla, arrived in New York with a story of how the natives of the city were gradually becoming white from living underground. She said they already had become grey haired.

The natives, she said, carved the underground homes into the solid rock, reserving the upper levels for their temples and the lower ones for homes. The religion of the people is Christian, although they have retained their ancient rituals. There are eleven underground churches. There are 11,000 naitves living in this city.

Will Not Disturb King

Princess Mary's Son Cannot Take Noisy Toys to Buckingham

Queen Mary believes in useful Christmas gifts, but this year she departed from her usual custom and purchased a drum and a bugle for her grandson, Henry George Herbert, eldest son of Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles. Henry George Herbert, nearly three years old, received the presents on Christmas morning, with the distinct understanding that he leave these noise-making toys at home whenever he goes to Buckingham Palace to visit his grandfather, the King.

A messenger boy came into the Broad Street Hospital the other day to be treated for a broken wrist. A doctor fixed the boy up and told him to come a week later. The next day the lad showed up again, when the doctor happened to be very busy. The doctor was about to chase him out, when he exclaimed: "I'm sorry, doctor, but I broke the other one."

The doctor fixed that. "Come next week," he said. But two days later an ambulance brought the kid in. He had broken his leg. He stays at the hospital now. And I suppose that in the meanwhile the old compensation keeps piling up.—New York Evening World.

Slips Lead To Detection

Very Many Criminals Make Mistakes That Betray Them

After eluding the police for years, even the most astute criminal will bring about his own arrest by making just one little slip. Less gifted crooks often give themselves away.

An instance has recently come to hand, says a London writer. The police had been baffled by a murder until they chanced to examine the hat of the victim. Inside the band, to make the hat fit better, was a piece of paper. This proved to be a court summons made out to another man. He was questioned and his guilt established. In his hurry to get away from the scene of the crime he had taken his victim's hat for his own!

One crook betrayed himself by the way he carried off his plunder from a West End mansion. Among the spoil were two silver inkstands. They left a trail of ink half a mile long, which led the police to their man.

Crime and its detection is a highly scientific business, and in it, as in everything else, there's many a slip.

The annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1925, of the commissioner-general of immigration of the United States, shows that Canadian emigration to the United States was only half of what it was in the previous year. At the same time the figures of the Canadian department of immigration and colonization show that between April 1st and October 31st, 1925, 21,275 Canadians who had gone to the Unite dStates, declaring their intention of making permanent residence there, returned to the Dominion after being away more than six months.

Silver Anniversary

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Sater was the scene of a very brilliant and enjoyable event on Sunday night when upwards of 50 people gathered to celebrate the silver anniversary of this popular couple. Wm. Wilson acted as spokesman while the presentation addresses were made by G. S. Walters and Jas. Kerr. A. N. Mowat was called on to make the congratulatory address. The whole community joined in wishing them success and happiness. The presents were useful and valuable and consisted of a dinner set, six silver knives, set of silver table mats, silver vase and a silver meat fork. Mr. and Mrs. Sater were taken very much by surprise in their own hospitable way, for which they are renowned, arose to the occasion and thanked the guests for their expressions of good wishes and hoped that the same kindly feeling that they always had for their neighbors would continue to the end. The large crowd gave three hearty cheers and sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Cake and coffee were served and an exceedingly pleasant evening enjoyed.

Movie Lot is Made Into a Shipyard

The "lot" of Thomas H. Ince Studios was transformed into a ship-building yard during the filming of Ince's latest production "Anna Christie," a First National release. The stoke hole of a huge liner; the engine room; sections of a big deck and a ship's prow were a few of the other big sets required for the mammoth production.

"Anna Christie" comes to the Greenwood Theatre on Saturday, Jan. 9th.

It is one of the best equipped sawmills in this part of the country, having all modern up-to-date machinery.

Kettle Valley like many other British Columbia towns and villages can boast of its very mild climate. It's golf enthusiasts played their favorite game up to eight days before Christmas and it's fame is still spreading, even more than is anticipated by its residents. A resident and member of the amateur swimming club took a dip in Palm Beach to demonstrate the balmy nature of the Kettle Valley river mid-winter period, the occasion being New Year's day. It is now on the map to compete against the well known English Bay Beach Swimming Club enthusiasts and the still more famous Palm Beach Swimming Club, of California.

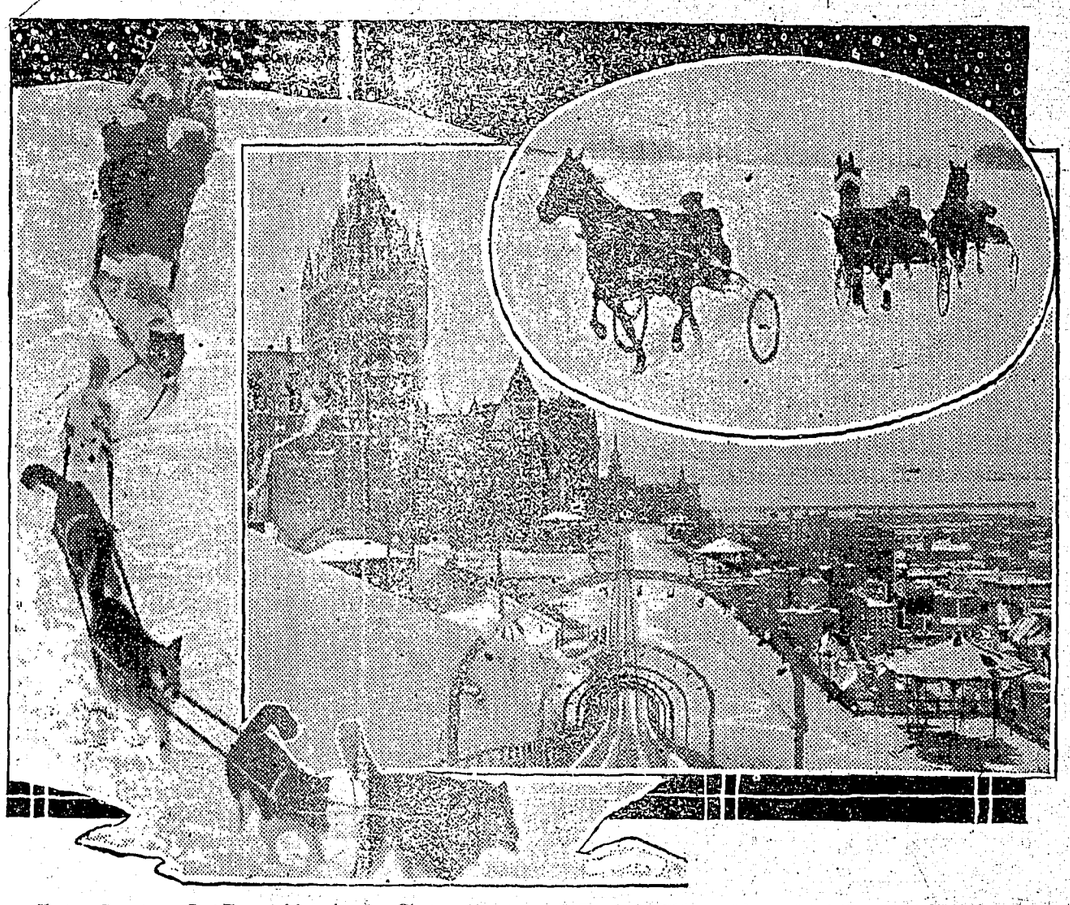
Jack Frost Brings King Sport to Quebec



Chateau Frontenac Dog Team with trainer. Chateau Frontenac & Toboggan Slide. (Upper right) Trotting Races—Quebec.

What is expected to be the most brilliant winter season in the history of Quebec was launched in that city recently with the formation of the Winter Sports Club which is under the patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Quebec, Hon. Narcisse Perodeau, Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of the Province; and Mayor Jos. Samson of Quebec.

The Club has undertaken to arrange the International College Ski Competition, the International Snow Shoe Convention, the World Championship Snowshoe races, and the famous Quebec Dog Derby. The Ski competition will include a five-mile cross-country race, a ski-jumping contest, and tests in efficiency including Christiana turns.

Sight-seeing tours and sporting events will follow in harmonious succession right through the season in addition to the major events. In the Quebec Open Amateur Ski meeting in February, clubs from Montreal, Ottawa, Berlin, N.H., and others will compete. Ivind Nelson, amateur ski champion, and Oliver Kaldahl will be the ski instructors. A lady instructress is to be appointed and visitors to Quebec will be carefully instructed and taken out in parties.

As usual, skating will form one of the attractions. Lars Grafstrom and Mrs. Allan Kerr will act as instructors. Towards the end of January, arrangements have been made for a skating masquerade on the brilliantly illuminated open rink outside the Chateau Frontenac, while another masquerade may be held in February. The rink will also be available for smaller masquerade skating affairs.

Moonlight ski-runs and sleighing parties, the brightly lighted toboggan slide, music from dancing rooms in the Chateau, all will add to the gaiety and charm of the carnival. The Dufferin Terrace Toboggan Slide runs well over a quarter of a mile. A long climb back, but what a soothing sensation to come flying down a long, smooth stretch of ice as if the toboggan would never stop. Five Swiss bob-sleighs have been acquired and competitions will be arranged some time in February.

Besides the regular hockey league games, negotiations are in progress to arrange an exhibition game between Sons of Ireland and a Princeton University team, while there is also every possibility of having a few ladies hockey teams. Trips will be made periodically to the Shrine at St. Anne de Beaupré, Chateau Richer, Montmorency Falls and other beautiful sites about the city. A number of excursions will be made to the Island of Orleans via the ice bridge with ski-ing on the return journey. This novelty is expected to make a decided hit with tourists.

Fast horses have been trained for ski-joring and will also compete on a track of beaten snow in trotting races.

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."
