Greenwood Wins Hockey Game

The hockey game at the local rink on Tuesday night resulted in a win for Greenwood by 5 to 1. The Grand Forks team had difficulty in reaching here, only four players arriving, the other membember having taken the north road could not get through and had to return home. The locals let the visitors have three of their players, including Geo. Bryan, Jack Anderson and Bill Walmsley, and the good sportsmanship of the Forks team was shown when they insisted that this game be counted in the Intermediate series.

A good brand of hockey was played in the first period, both teams working hard, many fast rushes being made, only to end with no score.

The second period started fast and it was not long before Bill Walmsley put Grand Forks in the lead by a nifty close in shot. Morrison tied the score a few minutes later on a fast shot. Crowley added the second goal for Greenwood with a nice shot after some fast skating and good stick handling. Shortly after Taylor made a solo rush, going the length of the rink, and secured Greenwood's 3rd goal. Just before time was called there was a dispute over a goal in the Greenwood end, but afterwards was disallowed as the Forks players said that it did not go in the net.

The third period was the fastest, the Greenwood forward line getting in some good combination and two more goals were scored by Hallett and Crowley.

For the visitors the Atwood Bros. showed their old time form and kept the home boys busy. Bryan kept the score down by stopping dozen of shots. His work in goal was a surprise to his own teamates. Walmsley excelled at centre. Each member of the locals showed good form and proved to be faster skaters than their opponents.

Dr. A. Francis was a very capable referee.

Refreshments were served to the players after the game.

The next game will be played in Grand Forks on Friday night and a large number of rooters will accompany the team. It is expected that the next game in Greenwood will be on Tuesday, Jan. 25th, but this will be decided on Friday evening.

A Boost for the Dairying Industry of the District

Dr. Paxton of Grand Forks, under instructions from Dr. Knight of Victoria, chief veterinary inspector, inspected a herd of 18 cows and heifers belonging to A. D. McLennan of Rock Creek. After a five day tuberclin test they were given a clean sheet and were on the 16th shipped to the Fraser Valley where they will go into one of the large accredited herds there. This test was watched with considerable interest and speaks well for the dairying industry of the district.

The Spotted Horse Mine

The Spotted Horse is one of the older mines of Greenwood, and situated as it is almost in the City on the edge of the C.P.R. line one would have expected it to have been systematically developed before this, and it is a matter for congratulation that this is at last being done.

Formerly the property belonged to the Jubilee Mining Company which did a little surface stripping and drifting but made no attempt to really demonstrate its value. This is the more surprising as the mine has remarkable surface showings, so much so that no less an authority than Mr. E. A. Haggen, the famous mining engineer remarked last summer after a visit to the property that the Spotted Horse had the best surface showing that he had seen in the immediate vicinity of the town.

Now, however, the property has passed into the hands of the Silver Charm Mining Company of Seattle, which for the past two months has steadily been prosecuting development work with most encouraging results. The former tunnel was only in about 80 feet, the vein was rather flat and was cut off by a dyke just below it. The present management, however, almost at once picked up the vein below the dyke and are driving in on it. The vein now has a much steeper pitch which ensures indefinite mining ground within the Boundaries of the property. The ore in the new lower tunnel carries galena like the upper workings but very much more zinc, some very handsome rock being taken from the vein, and with further work there seems every likelihood of a good chute of ore being uncovered to the profit of the shareholders and adding to the general prosperity of the camp. So far the new owners ought to feel much encouraged by the results of the policy inaugerated by them.

There have been reports in some of the American papers of high grade gold being found on this claim, and no doubt good assays might well be obtained from picked specimens, but, while doubtless the ore carries some gold, the general opinion in Greenwood is that the principal values are in silver, lead and zinc with the latter now beginning to predominate. There is no doubt that the property is worth systematic development on its merits, and The Greenwood Ledge hopes that this development will not be hampered by irresponsible reports which are greatly deplored by the local management of the mine as tending to a false impression about a very meritous mining enterprise.

With the Curlers

The very cold weather of the past few days has slackened up the curling, but the ice makers have been busy and are putting both sheets in excellent shape for the Bonspiel commencing on Monday afternoon and finishing Tuesday night. Rinks are expected from Osoyoos, Grand Forks, Penticton and possibly Kelowna.

Two games were played in the McLennan & McFeely competition on Monday, Forshaw beat Walters, 11-8, and Walmsley beat Gregory 11-7.

The Points Competition passed of very successfully on Thursday evening last, there being 22 entries. The ice was very keen and the knights of the broom had no difficulty in handling their stanes. D. Burpee and D. Barnes tied for first place with 25 points and in the play-off Burpee won. The next nearest scores were made by Wm. Walmsley and T. Crowley with 22 points each. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Two Rinks of local curlers attended the Bonspiel in Grand Forks Friday and Saturday, returning Sunday, high in their praise of the good time provided for them. There were three competitions and they won by Osoyoos with Burpee's rink, Cascade with Crawford's rink, and Consolation by Greenwood with Gregory's rink. The Greenwood rinks were H. W. Gregory, skip, W. Walmsley, D. Barnes, G. W. A. Smith; G. Walters, skip, R. Forshaw, Dr. A. Francis, H. T. Newmarch.

A Lesson From Montreal

The recent tragic occurence in a moving picture theatre in Montreal where, following a panic cry of "fire," a stampede ensued resulting in the blocking of all aisles and exits and the consequent death through suffocation of seventy-seven children, should lead to a most careful investigation by all Provincial, municipal, school, and other bodies into the present exact condition of all public assembly, and an examination of all ordinances, by-laws and regulations governing the management of all such places.

Apparently not one of the children who lost their lives in the Montreal disaster was burned to death, but in the ensuing panic following the cry of "fire" the exits proved inadequate. It is even possible that the exits themselves were sufficiently large and numerous, but with people standing in the aisles they became jammed.

No doubt in most municipalities throughout this western country proper and stringent by-laws and regulations have been passed prohibiting the placing of extra seats in the aisles of theatres, churches, schools and halls in order to accommodate audiences in excess of the seating capacity of such buildings. It is undoubtedly against the law in most municipalities to allow people to stand in the aisles leading to exits, or in the exits themselves. If no such regulations have been made it is criminal negligence on the part of the responsible authorities.

The important thing is,—are these by-laws or regulations faithfully observed? Are municipal officials alert in seeing that they are complied with? Is prompt action taken against the management of any building who neglects to observe this very fundamental need to insure the safety of the public?

As a matter of actual fact, is it not true that these regulations in public safety are only too frequently honored in the breach rather than in observance? Readers of this article can undoubtedly recall numerous occasions when extra seats have been placed in aisles and people have been allowed to block aisles and exits at largely attended public gatherings.

If those in authority responsible for the enforcement of these regulations for safeguarding the public are negligent, it would appar to be the duty of individual members of such audiences to make vigorous protest to the management in their own interest and in the interest of their fellow-citizens.

Proper construction of buildings can be provided for and enforced; the wisest regulations can be enacted; but when disaster suddenly threatens it is well night impossible to prevent a certain degree of panic, and if only two or three people lose their heads at such time the effect is contagious. It is absolutely essential, therefore, that the cool-headed in the audience have a fair fighting chance to get rapid control of the situation. This it is possible for them to do if, because of an ignoring of necessary precautions, conditions exist which make for panic.

In Montreal no doubt there will be not only a searching investigation, but radical changes in regulations and a tightening up in their enforcement. This, of course, is necessary and wise, but it is only another example of locking the stable door after the horse has been stolen. In all our communities it will be wise if they now take the lesson of the Montreal tragedy to heart, and provide to the full extent that it is humanly possible to do against any like happening in their midst.

Scientific Distribution

Great Britain Would Distribute Population Within the Empire

Britain does not regard its overseas settlement scheme as a means of getting rid of its unemployed population, but is rather endeavoring to develop a scientific distribution of populaton of all classes within the Empire. This was the statement made recently before the Montreal Women's Club by Miss Margaret Bondfield, M.P., in her official capacity as a member of the British overseas settlement committee and of the Society for the Overseas Settlement of British women.

Safety Film Invented

British Firm Has Non-Inflammable Film That Eliminates Danger of Fire

A cinema film which, it is alleged, is non-inflammable and would eliminate the danger of fire in projection rooms of moving picture theatres was tested in a well-known London theatre recently. The tests were apparently successful as the film refused to burn or emit poisonous fumes. The film is a British invention, the result of 14 years of experimenting. A factory is to be erected near London where it is hoped to produce the film in marketable quantities within six months.

Alberta's Coal Supply

Alberta's visible coal supply is about 57 billion tons, Premier Brownlee declares. With the possible exception of China, Alberta has the greatest deposits in the world. The annual production from the province averages around 6,000,000 to 6,500,000 ton.

The magui, a Mexican tree, supplies from its bark a thread three times as strong as ordinary cotton.

Deserved Name Of "Finest Man"

Philadelphia Theatrical Man Had Right Idea About Charity

A group of Philadelphians were discussing the death of Jules Mastbaum, the theatrical man. One of them was a milkman who declared ahat "Jules Mastbaum was the finest man that ever lived. Would you believe it his milk bill was from $500 to $1,200 every month for about five years?"

This called for an explanation and the milkman gave it. He said that when he began delivering milk to Mastbaum's house on his route, the great showman told him to go around and find out what families were so poor that their milk budget was a problem.

"Just look around," Mastbaum told the milkman. "You'll know which are the deserving ones and which aren't. When you have found those, just leave them as much milk as they need. The bill? Send that to me every month."

So, for four or five years, dozens of families in the poorer districts of Philadelphia have found milk on their doorsteps every morning but never a bill for it.

A Modern Treasure Galleon

Spanish Liner Carries Priceless Art Exhibits Back From Philadelphia

Once again a Spanish treasure galleon sailed upon high seas, when the Spanish Royal Mail liner Manuel Arnus sailed from New York recently.

In a special compartment in her hold, safe from intrusion by wind or weather—no matter how severe—she carried art treasures valued at more than $15,000,000. These art treasures were taken from the Royal Palace in Madrid, with special permission of the King of Spain and placed in the Spanish Pavilion at the Sesquicentennial Exposition in Philadelphia.

Included in the collection were a number of priceless Goya tapestries, whose value was not figured in the total estimate, as they are considered irreplaceable. Also among the collection were a number of paintings of the 16th and 17th centuries.

The collection was brought from Philadelphia in a motor truck and was heavily guarded on the pier until loaded aboard.

Cannot Have Tennis Court

Even the Prince of Wales is checkmated now and then by old laws and customs. The Heir Apparent, much to his surprise, has just learned that he cannot have the tennis court in the gardens of Marlborough House, which is to be his London home, because a clause in the original title deeds expressly forbids disturbances of the lawns in any way.

Makes Long Flight In Passenger Plane

Montreal Woman Uses Air Line From England to Cairo

To a Montreal woman, Mrs. F. Evelyne Schopflocher, of 1904 Van Horne Avenue, has fallen the honor of being one of the first persons to make the flight in the first passenger airplane from England to Cairo.

The plane in which Mrs. Schopflocher was a passenger left Croydon airdrome on December 20 and made a successful flight over England, France and Italy, flying over Vesuvius at a height of 9,000 feet and swooping down directly over the crater which was belching smoke clouds and flames. It then passed through the Straits of Messina to Malta, then across the Mediterranean to Khoms and descended to 300 feet across the Senussi territory between Benghazi and Sellum.

Mrs. Schopflocher is to visit the headquarters of the Bahai movement at Haifa, Palestine, and will then fly to Bagdad, for a lecture tour, which will take her through India and Persia, lecturing on the League of Nations Union.

British Airplane Flight Success

Make Return Trip to England via Egypt and South Africa

Success of the flight of four Royal Air Force airplanes from Cairo, Egypt, to the Cape, South Africa, and back to England, is described in an official account issued by the Air Ministry. The whole flight was completed without any change of engines and few major repairs were necessary. An unusual incident occurred at Nairobi, where a snake crept into the leader's machine and twined itself round the spokes of the port wheel. It was allowed to remain in peace until the next stopping place.

New Brunswick Lady Tells of Benefits Derived from Dodd's Kidney Pills

Miss S. Moorehouse Advises All Kidney Sufferers to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Zealand Station, N.B. (Special)—"I saw your advertisement for Dodd's Kidney Pills," states Miss S. A. Moorehouse, who lives at this place. "I have suffered with kidney trouble for over a year, so I decided to give your Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. I have used several boxes now and have found great relief in them. I can highly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills and would not be without them."

The reason Dodd's Kidney Pills have come to occupy such a prominent place in the home is that so many ordinary everyday ills come from sick kidneys.

Rheumatism, urinary troubles, backaches and heart disease can be traced directly or indirectly to sick kidneys. To be assured of good health the kidneys must be kept in good working order all the time.

Exploring Difficult Country

One of the few unexplored regions in the world exists in the interior of New Guinea. The government of Papua has dispatched Officer Charles Karius on a 1,000 mile journey into the country, which whites have not visited, in an endeavor to discover the sources of the Fly river and Sepik river. It is believed to be a difficult country, including mountain ranges 12,000 feet high.

Why Seven Is Considered Lucky

Superstition Based on Primitive Man's Knowledge of Astronomy

From the very earliest times certain numbers have been credited with mystic powers, three and seven, for instance, being thought "lucky," while thirteen was ill-omened. The precise reasons have never been definitely settled by scholars, but the "seven" superstition has always been thought to have been based on primitive man's very first knowledge of astronomy. For instance, there were seven days to each phase of the moon, and only seven planets at first known to the ancients.

It is probable that from this reason the number seven first acquired its connection of "luck." So we got the seven virtues, the seven sleepers, and so on. Modern science, even after rejecting the old idea, is now coming to the point of view that our bodies renew themselves every seven years, and that after all the old "seven" belief may have a real foundation dating far into the past of the race.

PEOPLE WHO NEED HEALTH BUILDING

Should Enrich Their Blood by Using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

There are conditions of health in which no particular organ appears to be at fault, yet the patient is miserable and unable to pursue the activities of daily life with vigor and enjoyment. The remedy needed is a medicine that will benefit the whole system rather than a part. The blood reaches every part of the body and an improvement in its quality is quickly followed by an improvement in the whole system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make a prompt and visible improvement in the blood, and bring new health and strength to ailing people. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is proved by the following statement: Mrs. W. F. Nash, R.R. No. 1, Bellamy, Ont., writing on behalf of her husband says: "For the past two summers my husband has taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with much success. He was in a weak condition, did not sleep well at night tired all the time, with poor appetite. The result was he got very thin. He decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and by the time he had taken three boxes he was feeling and looking so much better that it was very noticeable that the pills were all they were recommended to be. We feel very grateful and advise the use of the pills in all cases of weakness."

These pills may be had from all dealers in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Preventable Diseases

Fifty per cent of the people of Canada die before their time, in the opinion of Dr. H. M. Speechley, one of the leaders of Winnipeg's Health League. The most prevalent of human ailments in the dominion were the social diseases, pneumonia, cancer, influenza, diphtheria, measles, typhoid fever, scarlet fever and tuberculosis. All were preventable except pneumonia, cancer and influenza, Dr. Speechley said.

Of all animals the tiger is the most susceptible to sea sickness.

Production Of Clay Products

Industry Becoming Quite an Important Factor In the Dominion

Steady progress in the production of clay and clay products is seen in the figures for 1925 as finally revised by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. In that year production value was $9,529,691 or 3.4 per cent. higher than that of 1924, which came to $9,215,077. Ontario's output in 1925 was worth $5,195,084 or 54.5 per cent of the whole. Quebec came next with a rating of $2,426,887. Alberta, British Columbia, Nova Scotia, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Prince Edward Island followed in that order.

The Family Physician.—The good doctor is always worth his fee. But it is not always possible to get a doctor just when you want him. In such cases, common sense suggests the use of reliable home remedies, such as Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil which is wonderfully effective in easing inflammatory pains and healing cuts, scratches, bruises and sprains. The presence of this remedy in the family medicine chest saves many a fee.

Saskatchewan Crops

Field crops in Saskatchewan in 1926 are preliminarily estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics to have been worth $325,135,000. The provincial wheat crop had a value of $234,460,000, which is substantially more than half of the Dominion total.

The Need of People

Canada Needs All the Population That Can Be Employed Profitably

In a recent address at Calgary, Premier Brownlee of Alberta emphasized the need of more people "of the right kind." This is one of Canada's most important subjects at the present time, and one to which Alberta probably has given more consideration than any other Province. And the pointed need of selective immigration is usually placed in the forefront, although what might be settlers of the right kind in Alberta might not be so suitable elsewhere.

No one who has given the matter serious thought wishes to have the bars let down to all sorts of newcomers; but the question might well be raised as to whether Canada is wise in limiting its welcome to tillers of the soil. There is, of course, a vast amount of land awaiting cultivation, and this is the biggest field for exploitation, but there is also the danger of overlooking the policy of a balanced population while listening to the warning against over-manning the industrial field.

The two sides have to be considered, that of production and that of consumption. Canada's total production in 1924, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, was valued at $3,018,182,081, and exports of Canadian produce were valued at $1,058,057,898. This means that two-thirds of all production finds a market at home. There is advantage in reciprocity between urban and rural districts. More farmers are needed to raise export wheat and cattle, but also to buy more of the products of industry, and more industrial and urban workers would improve the home demand for the farmers' goods.

The country does not want idle citizens. Of this there can be no question. But producers add to the wealth of the country, and Canada needs all of those who can be employed profitably in any line of activity. Britain is urging that others than agricultural workers should be received under the immigration plans. It is a point worth considering in working out a new policy.—Toronto Globe.

Do You Cough?

Guelph, Ont.—"I caught a severe cold and could not seem to get rid of it. It just clung to me and finally settled in my bronchial tubes causing me a lot of trouble. The cough would be more severe at night than during the day, causing sleeplessness. I finally decided I would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and by the time I had taken one bottle I was entirely relieved of the bronchial trouble—my cough disappeared and I have had no trouble with a cough since. I do not think a person can take anything better for bronchial weakness or deep-seated coughs than the 'Golden Medical Discovery'."—Miss Mary Duggan, 170 Ontario St.

Believes Radio Static Messages From Sun

Will be Deciphered by Next Generation Says Dr. Pupin

The sun and the earth will speak to man and man will understand; the meaning of the messages from the sun that man, in his displeased ignorance, calls "static" and "fading" will be deciphered. These predictions were made by Dr. Michael I. Pupin, retiring president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, who delivered the opening general address of the annual meeting at Philadelphia.

After recounting the half century of progress in electrical communication that began with Bell's invention of the telephone, Dr. Pupin, inventor of the vacuum tube telephone repeater, which makes possible long distance conversation, said:

"The next twenty-five years will not merely see men speaking to men all over the world. The earth itself, and the sun, that greater centre of all our terrestrial energy, which means all our life, will be speaking to men by means of electrical communications, and men will understand the message.

"They are speaking now, but as yet we do not understand. We call their voices 'static' and 'fading,' 'earth currents' and other disagreeable terms. The means of electrical communication which the coming generation will develop also will be powerful instruments in their hands for the study of the electrical activity of our solar system; that study will decipher the messages which we now do not understand.

"I myself have already watched on my instruments the arrivals of these cosmic messages. The earth currents in trans-Atlantic cables and the fading of radio messages, for instance, rise and fall, rise and fall very, very slowly, taking hours and hours to complete a cycle. It is like watching the deliberate and irresistible breathing of a cosmic giant. I can only guess that it means a constant, slow, rhythmic change in the electrical relations between the sun and earth. But where I can only speculate today, the next generation will know."

Trade With United States

Canadians Spend $67 Per Head in U.S. Each Year

Canadians are spending about $67 per head of population (10,000,000) in the United States according to the trade statement for the 12 months ending November 1926, the latest issued. A similar trade statement for the year ended November 30, 1925, showed Canadian imports from Uncle Sam were $570,380,841 or about $57 per capita. The total imports into Canada from the United States are valued for the twelve months under review at $666,128,368. During the same period Canada's exports to the United States were valued at $470,149,366.

In the same 12 months Canada imported from all the countries in the British Empire goods to the value of $211,593,970 or slightly over $21 per capita, but sold to those countries $582,359,463 or more than $58 per head of population.

Owns Several Hotels

Mrs. Rosa Lewis, who at the age of 13, 68 years ago, had her first job as a "slavey" in the Cavendish Hotel, in London, arrived recently at New York in the imperial suite of the Berengaria. She now owns the hotel in which she worked, besides many other hostelries throughout England. The Cavendish, in London, appeals particularly to college men, attracted by Mrs. Lewis' famous cuisine and her motherly interest in them.

Ten thousand automobiles and trucks will be made in England during 1927 and sent to Melbourne, Australia.

Proud Of Marshal Feng

Outstanding Example of Christianized Chinese Say Missionaries

Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang, the pride of the missionaries in China as an outstanding example of Christianized Chinese, undoubtedly has exerted a good influence upon the thousands of young men who have constituted his army.

Whether the amount of instruction he has been able to give them really has implanted in their minds any conception of the Christian religion, is uncertain. But his efforts at teaching his soldiers the rudiments of clean living and morality obviously have borne fruit.

Smoking, obscenity and dissolute habits of all sorts are tabooed under the rigid rules enforced. The value of athletics and of bodily cleanliness has been emphasized. Industry and a desire for learning have been encouraged.

Mottoes of the purport that "He who will not work does not deserve to eat" and "Knowledge and industry are the roads to prosperity and happiness" were painted in large characters on walls and gates around the barracks.

The men were given religious training en masse, and at intervals baptized in the Christian faith in lots running into the thousands.

At the time of the battles between Peking and Tientsin, which resulted in Feng's evacuation of the capital, these troops, most of whom theretofore had done no serious fighting, amazed foreigners and Chinese alike by their courage and the loyalty they showed toward their officers.

Marshal Feng physically more nearly meets the current conception of a distinguished military leader than any other high Chinese officer. He is over six feet in height and weighs more than 200 pounds.

Wheat Pool Membership Increases

Has Become Largest Farmers' Co-Operative Organization in the World

Membership in the Canadian Wheat Pools of Western Canada continues to grow. In recent months there has been a considerable increase of new members. The total membership according to the most recently available compilation, is over 137,000, of which 80,520 are in the Saskatchewan Pool; 38,460 in the Alberta Pool and 19,035 in Manitoba. The members of these Pools are all active farmers and they now control fully 75 per cent of the total wheat acreage in Western Canada.

Though only formed three years ago, the Canadian Wheat Pool has become the largest farmers' co-operative organization in the world. The wheat grown by members of the Pool is marketed through a Central Selling Agency, which has representatives in 51 ports of the world. These representatives, so widely distributed, are partly necessary because of the fact that Canada is the second largest wheat producing country in the world and the world's largest exporter of wheat.

American Riches

How to Use Nation's Resources in the Proper Manner

There used to be thought to be a line of clear cleavage between private and public morality. Statesmen could do without a blush what in their private capacity they would shrink with horror from doing. That imaginary line is becoming dimmer and dimmer. What the citizen should feel, the nation should also feel. And the great question which the United States, in the form both of its Government and citizenship, ought to put to itself on this verge of 1927 is what disposition, both at home and abroad, is to be made of its immense and unparalleled resources? They can be made either a curse or a blessing, whether to America or the whole world.—New York Times.

Places Blame on War

France had 28,892 more deaths in 1925 than in 1924, census figures show, although mortality of infants under one year old contributed only slightly over 4 per cent of the total. The hygiene department attributes the increase to consequences of war wounds and exposures and the fact that 1,500,000 men perished on the battlefields from 1914 to 1918, leaving an unusual proportion of old people among the population.

Distinguished Faces By Noise

Television System Transmits Pictures by Sounds Says Inventor

"It is possible to distinguish your face from other people's faces by the noise it makes," says J. L. Baird, the televisor inventor in a lecture at London. He then proceeded to demonstrate.

He explained he had discovered that transmission of pictures by the television system were received as sounds by telephone or radiophone, each object having its corresponding vibration. In his demonstration he used pictures of various persons and then a match box, a pair of scissors, a hat and a cabbage. One face made a sound like a saw. Another like a pneumatic rivetter, while the hat purred softly. The cabbage's image emitted a noise like a man gargling. These sounds, Baird said, formed permanent records from which the original images could be reproduced.

The Object Of Colleges

Important Thing is to Know How to Get Along With Your Fellow Human Beings

The object of colleges is to educate. The primary object has generally been said to be to educate in history and Latin and Greek and law and whatnot. But we do not agree with that. We think it is the secondary purpose of a university education. We do not believe that the education of the mind is quite so important as the education of the man, if you get what we mean. We believe it vastly important to any of you to know that you should treat your wash-woman with kindness and courtesy than it is to know the binomial theorem—whatever that is. After all, the most important thing you can know in life is how to get along with your fellow human beings—and that takes in a lot of territory. You may know a Greek root from a horse-radish root, but if you deal kindly and considerately with whom you come in contact, your life will be a success. College should teach you this. — American Boy Magazine.

Alberta's Population

Alberta's population is 607,584, according to a preliminary statement of the census taken as at June 1st, 1926. These figures show an increase of 19,130 over the 1921 census, of 111,142 over that 1916, and of 422,387 over 1906. The province's population is divided into 374,614 rural and 232,970 urban. The city of Edmonton shows an increase of 6,342 for the five years and Calgary of 2,208.

Level Crossing Accidents

Record Toll of 127 Lives During the Past Year

The level crossings of Canada took a record total of 127 lives during 1926, and caused injuries to 367 others, according to statistics compiled from the monthly reports issued by the railway board. There were reported to the board a total of 197 crossing accidents, and in 229 of them automobiles were involved. As recently as 1912 there was not a crossing accident in all Canada in which a motor car was concerned according to available figures. The previous high total of crossing accident deaths was set in 1924 when 94 lives were lost in this manner.

In the past 12 months 22 passengers were killed on Canadian railroads, and 334 passengers were injured. In the same period 129 employees were killed and 1,741 injured, and others killed totalled 275 and injured 555, this classification including the victims of railway crossings.

Altogether there were reported to the board of Canadian railways accidents involving the deaths 426 persons and injuries to 2,630 others. Fatalities were much higher than in the two preceding years and are believed to set a record. In 1924 the total of deaths were 348, made up of 17 passengers, 107 employees and 194 others; while in 1925 the number was reduced to 272, with only six passengers, 76 employees and 190 others killed.

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

By Regulating the Stomach and Bowels With Baby's Own Tablets

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are changeable—one bright, the next cold and stormy, that the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds, and through their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety.

In using Baby's Own Tablets the mother has an absolute guarantee that she is giving her precious little ones something that is absolutely safe and something that cannot possibly do harm to even the newborn babe as the Tablets contain not one particle of opiates or other dangerous drug. They are sold by medicine dealers or at 25 cents a box, by mail from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Session

Victoria, Jan. 18.—"Fishing expeditions" on behalf of members of the Conservative opposition in the legislature marked the first week's proceedings of the 1927 session. They fished for news of what the government proposes to do with regard to the Pacific Great Eastern railway; what settlement may be made of the Sumas reclamation claims and what is to be done about this and that. They badgered the Oliver administration about "alleged" wrong-doing and practically declared that the country was going to the bow-wows.

Premier Oliver had a ready answer for everything when he participated in the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne on Friday. During the 10 years which the Liberals had been in power in British Columbia, he said, industrial pay-rolls had increased from $40,000,000 a year to $115,000,000. Every one of the four basic industries, lumbering, mining, agriculture and fishing, had shown phenomenal development and the credit of the province was the highest of any in Canada.

He said that while 10 years ago he had remarked to the late Premier Brewster that the P.G.E. would ruin any government, the Liberal government was not yet ruined, and prominent business men held the view that remarkable success had been achieved in carrying the railway burden as well as had been done. He admitted the problem was a difficult one to solve. The Dominion government; Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National; the C.P.R. railway, and the Alberta government were not interested; nor had it been possible to sell the line to private purchasers, even considering the fact that a land grant of 16,000,000 acres had been provided for last session.

However, added the government leader, everything possible was being done to get settlers on to the lands along the railway, to construct roads, develop the mining areas contiguous to the line and to make a colonization road out of the railroad. This seemed at present the only course to follow. The frank explanations of Hon. Mr. Oliver lost the government no friends.

The debate will probably occupy all of this week and by January 24th the House will get down to real business and discuss legislation to be introduced by the various departments and by private members. The session promises to be a momentous one.

Communication

[The Greenwood Ledge invites correspondence of a public nature but the editor does not hold himself, in any way, responsible for the opinions expressed.]

Editor Ledge,
Dear Sir—

Referring to the Greenwood elections last week, the Mayor had proposed that Maddens' suggest some aldermen for Greenwood.

The Maddens' were in favor of any alderman who would not humbug or be a hindrance to a payroll or any prosperity in a destitute town.

There had been no voter's list posted or compiled for the last five years, the Mayor claimed, and when ratepayers wrote the City Council for a list of ratepayers they were refused a list of owners on the assessment roll, by the Council.

Former owners went to the City Hall to vote and found they did not have a vote.

Mrs. Madden knew nothing of pledges, open secrets, numerous important changes in the handling of the Greenwood schools, etc., until seeing such in The Greenwood Ledge last week.

MRS. MADDEN.

[Editor's note—It is obvious that Mrs. Madden was misunderstood by a large number of those whom she canvassed for votes and The Greenwood Ledge does not feel called upon to withdraw any of the statements made in the article referred to.]

Here and There

The third great International exhibition of leather goods will be held in Milan, Italy from January 22 to 29, and promises to be a greater success than either of the former exhibitions held in Europe. Business transacted during the first two exhibitions amounted to over $13,000,000.

All taxes formerly required to be paid in Italy on hotel bills, baths and medical attention in health resorts, have been abolished, according to recent information given out by the Royal Consul General of Italy. Such information will prove interesting to tourists contemplating a visit to that country.

Quebec—What is said to be a record shipment of eels, 168 tons, left this port for New York recently, the last of eight consignments since the beginning of November, all for the same city. New Yorkers have acquired a partiality for the eel from the region below Quebec, and the trade is growing each year.

One of the largest farm sales in several months to a single immigrant family was recently effected in the purchase of a 720-acre tract five miles south-east of Brandon by a Lutheran farmer and four sons; the purchase price being $28,800. Asbestos waste as a soil strengthener is the latest in the line of by-products. A valuable consignment of twenty-six silver black foxes valued at approximately $20,000 was handled by the Canadian Pacific Express Company in Montreal recently. The animals were shipped directly from the Meritt Silver Black Fox Ranch at Meritt, B.C., and will be forwarded to Messrs. Baullon and Paulin, Grenoble, France, to a new fox ranch of which this British Columbia shipment will be the nucleus.

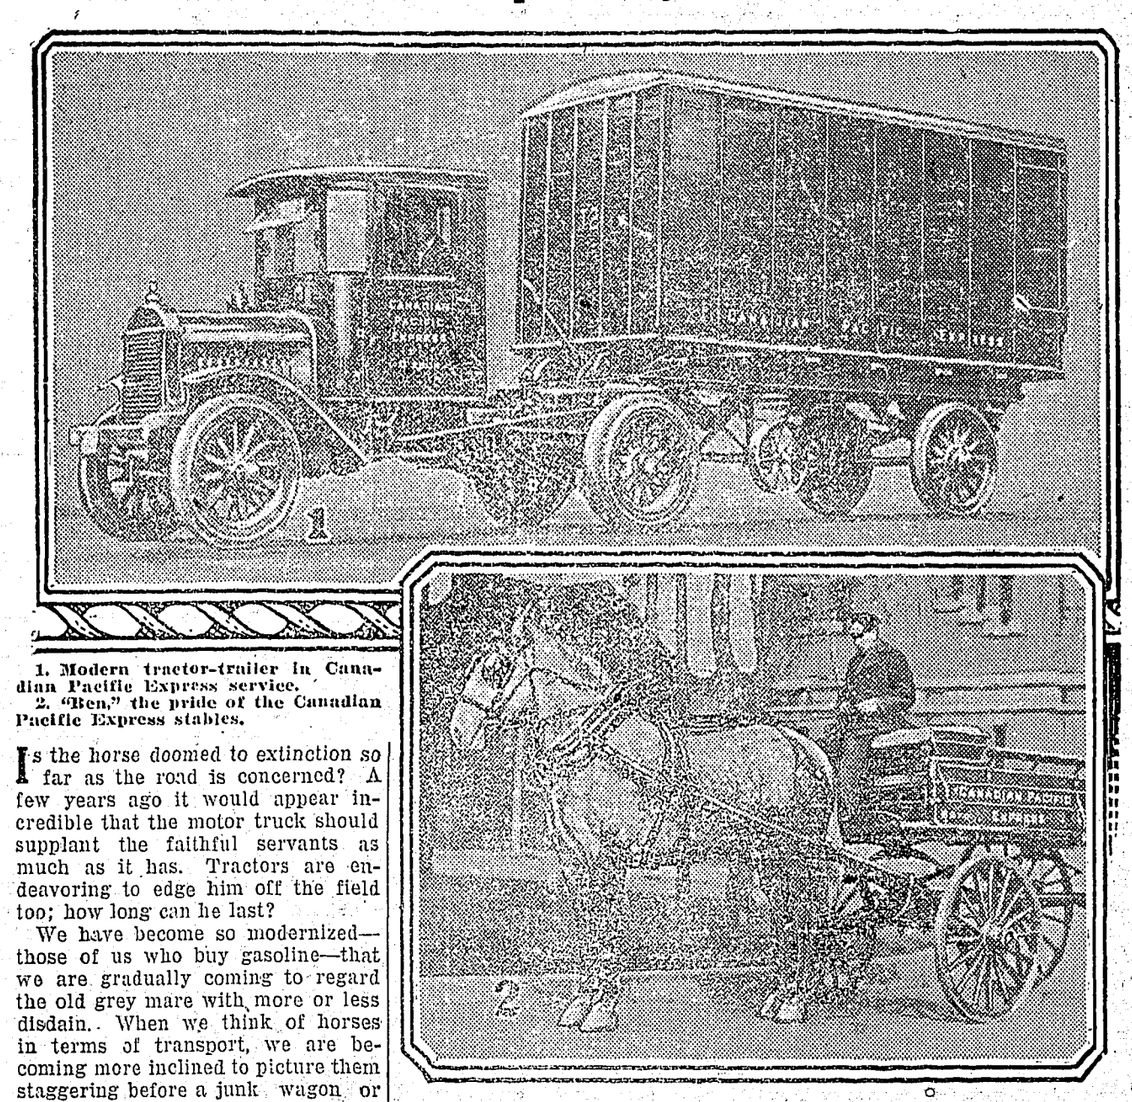
Vie For Supremacy of Road



1. Modern tractor-trailer in Canadian Pacific Express service.
2. "Ben," the pride of the Canadian Pacific Express stables.

Is the horse doomed to extinction so far as the road is concerned? A few years ago it would appear incredible that the motor truck should supplant the faithful servants as much as it has. Tractors are endeavoring to edge him off the field too; how long can he last?

We have become so modernized—those of us who buy gasoline—that we are gradually coming to regard the old grey mare with more or less disdain. When we think of horses in terms of transport, we are becoming more inclined to picture them staggering before a junk wagon or haltingly mobilizing a caleche or cariole, these beasts of whom so much has been written, whose devotion and faithfulness has inspired poets and artists. J. E. Coulter, assistant to the vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Express Company gave us quite a shock recently. He drives a car which is paid for, uses considerable of the company's gasoline and had just completed the purchase of six new trucks—beautiful things—of which he is very proud. "The horse" he said, "the horse will never be altogether replaced on the road, and I will live to see the day when he will replace some of the trucks". And then he waxed eloquent. We could see that had he been born fifty years earlier—"Ed" is a very young man—the Canadian Pacific would have had some of the "nattiest turnouts" possible. Coulter has over two hundred motor vehicles to keep close record of, but he says that his company will only replace a horse where it is proven that an actual economy will be effected. "On long runs, where two horse wagons have not, quite enough work to keep them both busy a motor vehicle will perhaps be more economical, but one motor vehicle, he said, will not economically replace one horse in our service, and particularly in congested areas where many stops must be made". This from a man who lives by efficient transportation.

Mr. Coulter believes that part of maintenance of horses, wagons and other vehicles should be charged to advertising. That is why one never sees one of the vehicles under his direction in need of a coat of paint. He has been able to keep in his stables too, that pride in horse-flesh that was almost a feature of life fifty years ago. Not all of his horses are young ones, but most of them have a record of some kind or another, and when they are finished with express service, they are given the life of ease they have earned. In the Toronto stables is one horse of which the whole organization is exceptionally proud. "Ed" Coulter will tell you about this fine grey gelding and of how he compares with the late "Marquis". The champion "Ben" joined the service of the Canadian Pacific Express Company three years ago and has worked eight hours a day since. In 1924 he took first prizes in the July parade and the Royal Winter Fair. At the last Royal Winter Fair he took all honors again. Another "Marquis" is the judgment.

The horse will never be ousted, at least from the hearts of the express men.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to the value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown Lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown Lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partly free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

Mineral locations are granted to discoverers for nominal fees.
Absolute Titles are obtained by developing such properties, the security of which is guaranteed by Crown Grants.
Full information together with Mining Reports and Maps, may be obtained gratis by addressing—

THE HON. THE MINISTER OF MINES,
VICTORIA, British Columbia.

N.B. Practically all British Columbia Mineral Properties upon which development work has been done are described in some one of the Annual Reports of the Minister of Mines. Those considering mining investments should refer to such reports. They are available without charge on application to the Department of Mines, Victoria, B.C. Reports covering each of the six Mineral Survey Districts are published separately, and are available on application. Reports of the Geological Survey of Canada, Winch Building, Vancouver, are recommended as valuable sources of information.
