Recently Tom Hansen was barred out of Oroville. He appealed to Washington, but the authorities there sustained the action of the local officials, and Tom will have to get a special permit when he desires to camp for a short time under the Stars and Stripes. The Ledge has received a letter from George Robinson, partly deleted by the ships censor. George was abroad the Duke of Edinburgh when that ship took part in the naval battle of Jutland. He gives a graphic description of the battle, and states that the Germans lost more ships than they admitted, and thinks that it will be a long time before another naval engagement occurs. Robinson says that he gets The Ledge regularly, and had several copies with him when his ship went into action. Copies of The Ledge can nearly always be found where there is fighting going on, at home or abroad.

War Dog Died on Duty

A dispatch, received in November from Dunkirk, France, announced that "Marquis," the regimental dispatch dog of the Twenty-third French Infantry, had been mentioned in the orders of the day, having fallen in duty at the battle of Sarrebourg on the Belgian frontier.

At this action it became necessary for an officer to send a report immediately to his superior, but at the time the German fire was too intense to allow a man to cross the fire zone, and "Marquis" was charged with the mission.

Off he ran, across the fire-swept zone, and arrived nearly at the objective point, when a German ball struck him in the right side and brought him down. He struggled to his feet, though losing a great deal of blood, and dragged himself up to the position where the officer was directing a section of machine guns. He let fall the order, reddened by his blood, and breathed his last.

His soldier comrades are raising a fund for a monument' on which is to be inscribed, "Marquis—Killed on the Field of Honor."

Work will begin at once, on the coal mines at Seaton 20 miles from Hazelton by the Wright Coal Mining Co. The product is a bituminous coking coal, and the company expects to be shipping 300 daily before the end of July.

The Lanark mine is within 20 miles east of Revelstoke on the C.P.R. When the Horn-Payne operated it in early days, $800,000 worth of ore was taken out in three years. About two years ago W. B. Dornberg of Spokane examined and bought the property for its present owners. Good values and big ore bodies of galena in all the different levels. The product will be nitrogen, which will in due time be applied to the manufacture of high explosives at the company's plant in the United States.

Advices from Port Arthur state that there is much more interest being taken in mining in that district this year than there has been for several years. A promising looking copper prospect has been discovered at Mine Centre, about 190 miles west of Port Arthur, on the Canadian Northern Railway. Some ore will be shipped to Trail, B. C. for testing. The find has resulted in a number of prospectors going to the district. Prospectors are busy on the iron ranges, northeast of Nepigon, working from the Canadian Northern.

WE WANT SQUARE MEN

THE political life of Canada is largely rotten, and thickly spattered with flesh-pot grabbers. Crazed with ambition, and filled with the lust for easy money these whitewashed bandits, posing as politicans, are seeking to gain the earth without using a gun on the highway. Canada needs in all its governments square men, who are too courageous to lie, and too honest to deal from the bottom. J. G. Holland voices our sentiments in the following lines:

God give us men. The time demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and willing hands;
Men who the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue;
And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking;
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
In public duty and in private thinking!
For while the rabble with their thumb-worn creeds,
Their large professions and their little deeds
Mingle in selfish strife; lo! Freedom weeps!
Wrong rules the land, and waiting Justice sleeps!

TYPHOID FEVER

THE season for typhoid is rapidly approaching, and it behooves the people to be on their guard against this dreaded disease. It usually enters the system through infected milk or contaminated water, or contaminated food. Oysters, green vegetables, which have been fertilized by sewage are potent carriers of typhoid. Keep your eye on vegetables sold by Chinamen. We must eat or drink the germs in order to get the disease It does not come in the air. Cooking fruits, oysters and vegetables, and boiling water and milk are effectual methode of preventing. Atways keep your hands clean when in proximity of typhoid patients. The soldiers in the slimy trenches of Europe are freer from typhoid than the rich people who live upon American boulevards. This is due to the practice of the typhoid vaccination. It is not painful to be vaccinated with the typhoid serum. It consists of three hypodermic injections given at certain intervals. Several laboratories in the United States prepare this vaccine, and its use fairly guarantees against typhoid for two or three years.

Phoenix

A dishwasher is wanted at the Brooklyn.

English is still the official language of the city.

There are some changes at the Queens Hotel this week.

Big Andy Johnson may spend next winter in Phoenix, Arizona.

Nick Palorcia is moving this week to Copper Mountain, near Princeton.

Mayor Matheson received a telegram this week stating a younger brother had died at Livingstone, Montana.

Jim Marshall is so busy these days that he has deferred his trip to the Slocan.

It is reported that a mining expert located a poker game here recently, from which he extracted $600 before the lead pinched out.

Mose Burns has gone to the front line trenches near Phoenix. The wagon road brigade are shelling the highway this week, and are well armed with sharp spades, elbow grease, and big lunch buckets. None of the brave boys are suffering from a lack of water. Captain Tom Russell, is in command, ably assisted by Sergeant Jim Murdoch, Corporal Charles Hagan, and Mose, the private. General Bowser will pass up the hill today and review the brigade from his chariot. The writer advises the little Napoleon to pack a bottle with a string attached to it.

NOTICE is hereby given that I intend to apply at the next sitting of the Board of License Commissioners of the City of Phoenix for a transfer of the Liquor License held by me for the Brooklyn Hotel to Messrs Bush & Marshall.

John's Monument

EDITOR LEDGE

DEAR SIR.

The water was turned on yesterday at the John Houston Memorial. The first team of horses to approach it were hitched to an ice wagon, and they refused to drink. Perhaps the horses knew that the monument was cut by non-union labor from Austria. Methinks if old John knew this, that he would rise from his sarcophagus and rush along Vernon street with a battering ram.

Yours truly,
INTER POCULA.

B. C. PROHIBITION ACT DOES NOT PROHIBIT

Measure Provides for Free and Unrestricted Importation of Liquor From Outside Points.

The B. C. Prohibition Act, on which the electors of British Columbia will be asked to register their opinions at the polls, is not a prohibition act in any sense of the term. So contrary is it to the terms of prohibition that prohibitionists themselves are freely criticising the measure and the man who is neither "wet" or "dry" is asked the pointed question as to what will be secured by the bill save the building up of industry and trade at points outside the province.

All of which goes to show that it is advisable that the electors who desire to vote intelligently on the subject should carefully examine the Act before election day.

The "wide open" clause of the Act, Clause 57, reads in part as follows:

"NOTHING IN THIS ACT SHALL BE CONSTRUED TO INTERFERE "(a) WITH THE RIGHT OF ANY PERSON TO IMPORT FROM WITHOUT THE PROVINCE LIQUOR FOR BONA FIDE USE IN HIS PRIVATE DWELLING HOUSE"

This clause means that any resident of the province is allowed to purchase all the liquor he desires, just as often as he wishes, without control or regulation by the government, so long as he sends his money outside the province for his supply.

This clause would, for instance, allow any person to place a standing order with any liquor dealer outside the province for a weekly or monthly shipment of whiskey to be delivered to his dwelling. On such an order the supply of liquor would reach him constantly as long as he met the bills. In the face of such conditions the question might well be asked "Is this Prohibition?"

In the preliminary campaign in connection with the bill and at the present time prohibitionists have made a grand stand play, both on the platform and through their propaganda literature, of the drunkard and the frightful evils which accompany drinking. Yet, in the bill for which they themselves are admittedly entirely responsible they have done absolutely nothing to lessen the consumption of liquor in British Columbia, the sole effect of the legislation being to send money spent for liquor outside the province. Incidentally it may be mentioned that the drunkard who already has the taste and habit, is the man most likely to be the first to take advantage of the privilege to buy outside and, should the Act pass, would therefore have liquor in quantity in his home whereas he now takes his liquor by the glass. As the small boy would say "What's the use?"

THE GREAT QUESTION LYING BEHIND THE REFERENDUM VOTE ON THE PROHIBITION QUESTION IS WHETHER THE REGULATED SALE OF LIQUOR UNDER GOVERNMENT LICENSE AND THE CONTROL IS NOT BETTER THAN THE UNREGULATED AND UNRESTRICTED IMPORTATION OF LIQUOR FROM OUTSIDE POINTS.

Readers desiring literature or information concerning the Prohibition Act may secure same by writing to the Merchant's Protective Association, Room 24 Canada Life Bld'g, Vancouver.
