All political parties, can have their announcements, and reports of meetings, printed in The Ledge by paying the usual line rate for this kind of advertising.

This spring beavers have been cutting trees in the pond near the skating rink. This is remarkable, as thes little animals rarely go near any place where there is noise and bustle.

Failing to find store ads in the local papers, is one reason why so many people read catalogues and send east for their goods. It is a dime wise and dollar foolish policy not to advertise.

The retirement of James W. Grier, from the newspaper business in New Denver, is generally regretted by his many friends all over the province. It is to be hoped that after a short and much needed rest, that Jim will again step into the journalistic arena. Worthy, independent and fearless writers are none too plentiful in the grafty west So, Jim, be sure and come back. Your pen is needed.

The Military Announcement 108 issued at Ottawa last year contains the names of Doctors who have been appointed lieutenants in the Canadian Army Medical Corps. Among the names appear Doctors W. E. Spankie, Calgary, C. A. Arnott, Greenwood, and J. B. Thom, Trail. Dr. Arnott has been authorized by the A. D. M. S. at Victoria to conduct the medical examinations for all recruits secured in this district.

Paper Bombs

Instead of throwing bombs, some of the French aviators flying over German territory drop thousands of leaflets, according to a German newspaper, telling the German people that their hope of victory in the war is in vain. Thousands of toy balloons, each containing one of these leaflets, are freed daily when the wind is favorable to carry them into the German lines. There is also being distributed by the air route copies of a French newspaper, prepared behind the trenches, giving extracts from letters found on dead German soldiers in which the hopelessness of the German cause is admitted. This propaganda will, it is hoped by those back of it, cause discontent and unrest and add to the discouragement of the German people.

To The Point

Major George W. Teideman of Savannah, Georgia, tells the following about the old-time Georgia editor who was usually mayor, justice of the peace, and real estate agent as well.

Upon one occasion one of these editors was busy writing an editorial on the tariff when a Georgia couple came in to be married. Without looking up, without once elakening his pen, the editor said:

"Time's money. Want her?"

"Yes," said the youth.

"Want him?" the editor nodded towards the girl.

"Yes" she replied.

"Man and wife," pronounced the editor, his pen still writing rapidly. "One dollar. Bring a load of wood for it. One-third pine, balance oak."

My wife's been nursing a grouch all the week.

Been laid up, have you?

Liberal Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Greenwood City Liberal Association was held in the Star Theatre, on Monday evening. Considering the inclemency of the weather the attendance was large, there being over eighty persons present. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: Pres., J. L. White; Vice-Pres., Thomas Boileau; Sec'y-Treas., C. P. Charlton. A strong committee representative of the town and the immediate surroundings was also elected. Stirring addresses on the questions of the day were delivered by J. E. Thompson, Liberal candidate in Grand Forks riding, and by Dr. J. D. MacLean, the candidate of the opposition forces in the Greenwood riding.

Northport Smelter

For the first time in seven years, smoke, on March 7, began issuing from the smelter stacks at Northport, the new $500,000-plant of the Northport Smelting & Refining Company having been blown in. There are between 75 and 100 men, working three shifts, employed, and it is believed 150 will be on the permanent payroll. But two lead furnaces, each of 300 tons daily capacity, now are in service, but a third may be commissioned shortly. The storage bins are full to overflowing with ore from the Hercules and Tamarack & Custer mines, in the Coeur d'Alenes, and the sidings are crowded with unloaded cars that have been sent in during the last ten days. Iron ore, carrying a small percentage of lead, for fluxing purposes, is being shipped from the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mines at Kellogg, Idaho, the product having been bought outright by the Northport company.

The commissioning of the Northport plant, construction of which has been financed by the Hercules and Tamarack & Custer mining companies, controlled by the Day Brothers and their associates, mark an epoch in the mining history of the northwest, and it also means that a signal victory has been won by independent interests over the American Smelting & Refining company, which heretofore has enjoyed practically a monopoly of the output of the Coeur d'Alene mines. Now that the product of the Hercules and Tamarack & Custer properties has been diverted to the Northport plant, the A. S. & R. is handling little but the ores of the Federal mines, which it controls, and the Bunker Hill, in the entire Coeur d'Alene district, and this source of supply soon will be considerably diminished, as the reserves in the Federal holdings are being exhausted rapidly, and the Bunker Hill & Sullivan company is planning to begin construction of a $1,000,000-smelter of its own, either at Kellogg or on the Coast. —Mining Truth.

San Poil Mine

With 20,000 tons of ore blocked out and a yearly contract with the Trail smelter for supplying them with 2000 tons of ore a month, the West Hill Mining company, which recently took over the San Poil mine and mill, began breaking ore yesterday with Jack Benson, foreman.

D. M. Drumheller, Jr., manager of the company, said yesterday although the ore was low grade, averaging on $7, he had obtained a freight and treatment rate of $4.—Republic Journal.

A Rich Group

Early in May active development work will be started upon the Belway-McLaren group of claims on Kitsum-Kalum Lake, under the terms of a bond which has been taken by Mr. Chas. F. Law of this city for Mr. Earle, president of the Nipissing Mines of Cobalt, Ont., and vice-president of the Granby company.

Mr. Law is representative in Western Canada for Mr. D. A. Thomas (Lord Rhonndda) who has made his own personal interests subservient to his country's call, and is now in full charge of munition on the American continent for the war department. Mr. Thomas is the largest owner of coal lands in the Groundhog district and had contemplated build- a railroad along the Ness river to the field.

The bonded property consists of five claims and but little development work has been done. Surface work has shown, however, that there is a zone of schist and quartz which assays on an average $5 per ton in gold, which is free, and can be saved by the simple stampmill process. Picked samples show the native gold in both the quartz and the schist, but these are not indicative of the average value of the zone, which is at least 100 feet in width. The property was examined last summer by Mr. G. F. Monkton, M. E., and it is upon his report largely that the deal for opening up has been made.

Kitsum-Kalnm lake is north of the Skeena river, its outlet being opposite the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, 91 miles east of Prince Rupert.

Mr. Law stated yesterday that he believed this may prove another Alask-Treadwell proposition. The latter is the largest gold mine on the American continent, though the ore is very low grade, averaging less than one-half of the values claimed for the Belway-McLaren claims. "Gold," said Mr. Law, "is one metal which we must produce in the greatest possible quantities to meet the exigencies of the war demands. The other metals are necessary to the occasion, but it is gold which will foot all the bills. I believe that you will see a great revival of interest in this province in the gold mining industry, not only as to the lode deposits, but in placer as well."

Sixty years ago placer miners sunk prospect holes on the shores of Kitsum-Kalum lake in an effort to find nuggets in the quartz seams which traverse the gold-bearing schist dyke. The marks of their pioneer efiorts still exist, but they were 60 years ahead of the time when this dyke could be profitably worked.—Province.

During 1915 the fur trade of Saskatchewan prospered greatly. Over 950,000 pelts, valued at approximately $600.000, were marketed. as compared with slightly over 700,000 pelts in 1914. The number of dealers reporting was 131.

After Antimony Ore

The first of the year Gordon McLennan and Fred Brewer took a trip to the Babine district for the purpose of bringing out some antimony ore. The weather became so intensely coid that they had to turn back. They are now to make another trip. The ore is a high grade and the Dominion authorities buy it at the railway.

McClennan's property is about 30 miles from town but this is the nearest point on the railway.

Antimony is another metal that greatly advanced in price owing to demands for war purposes. Its principal use in war material is to hearden lead bullets used in shrapnel. During the war the price advanced from 18c to 55c a pound for the best brands, and from 16c to 39c for the ordinary erands of antimony.

Antimony usually occurs in nature as stibnite, the sulphate of antimony, and is a common mineral in British Columbia, occuring associations with lead and zinc ores. It does not, however, as a rule, occur in large quantities, but attempts are now being made in a few places to sort it out from its associated minerals. Two cars of antimony ore are reported to have been shipped from the Slocan to Scotland. It carried from 50 to 55 per cent antimony.—Omineca Herald.

Ainsworth-Slocan Mines

The coming of the milder weather is resulting in the resumption of mining activity all along the line in and around Ainsworth, and all the indications are that the old camp will be on deck with a big production record this season.

Reports of progress at the Bell continue encouraging, the big Jackson basin zinc property continuing to send down all kinds of ore to Retallack for shipment. The only drawback is to get it moved by rail, as the railway blockade has interfered with it going forward, but it is now hoped that further difficulty will not be experienced in that direction. A few days ago, with only four miners at work, the Bell had some like five hundred sacks piled up ahead of the rawhiders.

Lucky Jim and Rambler Cariboo shipments have been again interfered with by the railway blockade, but as that should be lifted this week, ore movements from those properties should again be underway soon.

J. A. Carter hopes to be able to accomplish considerable development on the Flint this summer.—Kaslo Kootenaian.

Birds as Shepherds

Few know of the shepherd birds of South America. They belong to the crane famlly and are known as yakamiks. These curious birds take care of large flocks of sheep, leading them to pasture early in the morning, and caring for them all day unaided. If any stray animals approach the flock the yakamik attacks them with beak and wings. They are said to be much stronger than dogs.

Another fish which is not being utilized in Canada, though, minus the head it has found its way into the fastidious British market, is wolf-fish or sea-cat. Probably its ugliness prejudices people against it. Yet those who have eaten it say that it has a very superior flavor, having perfectly white flesh, whiter than halibut, flaky and delicious. Wolf-fish vary from 15 to 20 pounds in weight. Creat quantities of them are caught in the Maritime provinces and simply thrown away, being considered as absolutely of no value.

Surf Inlet Mine

The Surf Inlet mine on Princess Royal Island is becoming one of the big mines in B. C. It is being operated under option by the Tonopah Belmont Development of Nevada who have spent already $150,000 on development work and paid in $150,000 on the bond. The mine shows general gold values of $7 to $9 per ton on all mineralized quartz.

Plans are now being prepaied for a mill to treat 250 tons a day to start with. This means a gold production of about $2,000 a day, or from $500,000 to $600,000 a year. It is hoped that the further development of the mine will warrant the considerable extension of the plant ere long. The mine should be producing bullion by October next.—Omineca Herald.

Milk in Blocks

The markets of Irkutsk, in Siberia, are an interesting sight, for the products offered for sale are in most cases frozen solid.

Fish are piled up in stacks like so much cord-wood, and meat likewise. All kinds of fowl are similarly frozen and piled up.

Some animals brought into the market whole are propped up on their legs and have the appearance of being actually alive. As one goes through the markets one seems to be surrounded by living pigs, sheep, oxen and fowls standing up.

But, stranger yet, even the liquids are frozen solid and sold in blocks. Milk is frozen into a block in this way, and with a string or a stick frozen in or projecting from it.

This, it is said, is for the convenience of the purchaser, who is thus enabled to carry his milk by the string or stick-handle.

There is, of course, less risk of disease germs in frozen milk, but the danger is not entirely removed for many microbes, it has been found, will survive very low temperatures and can be killed only by intense heat.

Typhoid bacilli are easily killed. If a gallon of water is heated to 180 and then allowed to cool slowly it will not be capable of causing typhoid. A simple method is to heat the water until bubbles of steam appear on the side of the vessel. Then the gas is turned off and the water is allowed to cool on the stove. The temperature developed will kill typhoid. The water will not taste flat.

Dan Carey died in Ashcroft a short time ago, aged 73 years.

About Float.

Float is not a periodical. It is a book containing 86 illustrations all told, and is filled with sketches and stories of western life. It tells how a gambler cashed in after the flush days of Sandon; how it rained in New Denver long after Noah was dead; how a parson took a drink at Bear Lake in early days; how justice was dealt in Kaslo in '93; how the saloon man outprayed the women in Kalamazoo, and graphically depicts the roamings of a western editor among the tenderfeet in the cent belt. It contains the early history of Nelson and a romance of the Silver King mine. In it are printed three western poems, and dozens of articles too numerous to mention. Send for one before it is too late. The price is 25 cents, postpaid to any part of the world. Address all letters to

Cats Taxed In Munich

The first city in the world to levy a tax upon the domestic cat is Munich, Bavaria This municipality has fixed the tax at five marks ($1.20) a year.

Manifold reasons are given for the unpopular measure. It is considered that there are too many cats in the city, and it is expected that the levying of the tax will result in reducing the numbers kept.

Every cat is to be provided with a special collar and a metal check such as the dogs wear, and those who are not thus equipped will be caught by authorized persons.
