DAILY BRITISH COLUMBIAN.

VOLUME 1 — NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., THURSDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 23, 1886. — NUMBER 47

aily British Columbian

Thursday Evening, Sept. 23, 1886.

A peculiar case is on trial at Winpeg. William Stewart, manager the Western Union telegraph ice at Wichita, Kansas, some e since gathered together a little rcel of the company's money and k the oft-travelled road to Cana- He succeeded in crossing the der, but was arrested by the nadian authorities and prosecuted der the Dominion law which kes the bringing of stolen money Canada a punishable offense. e prosecution is being pushed by American Surety Company, by ich Stewart was bonded, and ich was compelled to make good defalcation to the Western ion. The case is still pending, if Stewart is convicted, the ict of the trial will be to make nada almost as unsafe a place for conders as Chicago is for anarsts.—Seattle Post.

More than half the population of nada get a living by cultivating land. The whole population by census of 1881 was 4,324,810, ich, at the rate of 5 persons to a ily, would give 864,962 adult les. Of these 464,025 are classed occupiers of land, 403,491 being ners, 57,245 tenants, and 3,289 ployees. The occupiers of 10 es and under numbered 75,286; ween 11 and 50 acres, 93,325; ween 51 and 100 acres, 156,672; ween 101 and 200 acres, 102,243, over 200 acres, 36,490. Though e than half the people are farmand the families of farmers, we er hear any complaint about an rproduction of wheat, or potatoes, butter, or eggs. The squealing ut lack of market comes from minority engaged in other occuons than farming. Canada does want more cotton spinners on penters or merchants to crowd e already engaged in those lines, a few thousand more farmers to the products of townspeople's stry would never come amiss. true policy in the interest of classes is to give the farmers y encouragement. When they doing well, they will keep town ple busy serving them.—Hamil- Times.

n the whole, the return of the orm candidate in Haldimand t be counted a victory for the eral party. Government held constituency open for months, rder to reap any advantage the franchise bill could give, and the Liberals held their own, comely disappointing; moreover, the her government expectation of ertions from the ranks on account the pro-Riel attitude of Mr. ke and the leading party press. prestige of victory, then, reins with the Liberals, and this verful though impalpable influ e will be on their side in the ping contest. If they had lost ldimand, under the circumstances, r holding it so many years, this st have been most discouraging; leaving the new voters out of sideration, as likely to belong to h parties, this loss would have ked as if recruits from the old formers might suffice to fill up gaps left in the Tory ranks by ections in Quebec. Now, how r, this danger is past; Haldnd has not redressed Chambly; evidently when it comes to the nt of voting, the Riel question ghs very little with those of the tors who cannot approve the new ffold-platform, and they continue vote as Reformers, properly, per s, regarding this tactical vagary the party leaders as not sufficient justify their own even temporary tention from the polls, much less drive them into the camp of the ies. But with this encouraging spect—while thus at least holdtheir own in Ontario, the Lib party have to consider whether y are likely to gain very much in bec by the Riel cry. If they end on any great gains by the ge party in that province, we k they will certainly doomed to ppointment; but if a victory of Ultramontane-Rielite coalition help them to power, then their nces are bright. But this alle, however incongruous it be, st be with these as the chief fac—not with the Rouges; these factions can never work togeth or long, and any particular allies the Rouges will surely be left, them, stranded high and dry. n the new elections in Quebec Castors beat the "pendards," er may shift from these to the tors and Rielites, but scarcely in case will Catholic Quebec subto the rule of such men as the ent Rouge chieftain.—The Week.

Public Notice
New Westminster Public Library.

THE UNDERSIGNED THANKS TO the kindness and permission of the Mayor and City Council two weeks ago re-opened the Public Library, and takes this opportunity to offer an invitation to residents of New Westminster to pay him a visit. Papers and Magazines from all directions are received for patrons and visitors, and more will be added in case a reasonable support is obtained. The terms are 50 cents a month, in advance, as papers, &c., are paid for in advance. This will amount to about 2 cents a day, or the cost of one cigar for seven days permission to see news from all over the world, and elegant books which may be changed every 24 hours! There is no compulsion about this, but those who believe in getting in out of the rain and who can enjoy a decent fire will doubtless appreciate this institution. Ladies and strangers are free, so doubtless all the parties who believe in Blue Ribbon will come forward at once and join this attractive affair, both for their own credit and that of others. Come one, come all, and you will be attended to by one who can soap all classes, viz.:

Yours Respectfully,
HENRY W. HUGHES.

A Sensible Woman.

Because a woman happens to be the wife of the president of the United States, it does not follow that she is wiser than other people, although her high social position gives great weight to her utterances. A great deal has lately been said about Mrs. Cleveland, and a great deal which that lady doubtless wishes had never been said. Her private affairs have been paraded in the public newspapers to such an extent that one can tell almost every day what hour she rises and what she gets for breakfast. But Mrs. Cleveland does seem to be a very sensible person for all that, and it is certain that this kind of public notoriety is not of her seeking. Whenever she has given a public expression of opinion it has been of such a kind as to command public respect. Recently she was asked by a Mrs. Crow, of Virginia, what she thought of the propriety of a woman's signing the total abstinence pledge. The answer is worthy of the woman and the distinguished position she occupies. It is as follows: "The subject to which you refer, and on which you ask my advice, is one upon which your own conscience must dictate the wisest course for yourself to pursue. You have better opportunities for knowing how you can do the most good, and it seems to me that should be the standard by which we women should settle our great questions in life: It rarely occurs that she needs for herself the restraining influences of a temperance pledge; but if by placing oneself under such an organization we can better help our fathers, brothers, lovers and friends, I think there should be no hesitation in the matter. I know something of the Good Templars, and that they do much good work. It is quite certain you can do no harm by casting your lot on the side of temperance, and you may do much good. I do not consider it a small matter by any means and I am glad you asked me the question. It is encouraging to know of every sister who wants to add her strength to the cause which, happily, some day will rid our land of ruined men and broken families." This reply can scarcely give offence to any one, and it furnishes a rule of action which many women and men in our own country would do well to adopt.

Our Next Representative.

It is currently stated that three or four candidates are already looking about with a view to obtaining the nomination as representative of this city and district in the house of commons. It may be presumed that an election will be held shortly to fill the vacancy created by the death of our late lamented representative, and it may not be too soon for the electors to be discussing the question. Our advice is to make no promises until it is definitely known who is in the field. Some people cannot say no. The first person who asks them to sign a petition or to pledge a vote will obtain their consent whether they approve or not. It is in this way often that unworthy projects are made to succeed and unworthy candidates are placed at the head of the polls. Some of this sort of people will even sign a petition and a counter petition sooner than deny a request. Of this kind were some who signed the petitions both for and against the granting of new licenses at the late license court. Persons who do this sort of thing ought not to have a vote, because they do not make an intelligent use of it, and become the tools of men who have a selfish purpose to accomplish. We hope no elector will pledge his vote to an unworthy candidate in the approaching election because he has not back bone enough to say no. Let us first see who are in the field, and choose the man in whose honesty, worth and ability we have the greatest confidence. Our late representative was a man against whose public or private character no breath of scandal ever came. We ought not to go backward, but, if possible, let us advance. Let our next representative be as good as his predecessor at least, and better, if possible. Let him be a man of clean hands and honest purpose, and both willing and able to stand up for the best interests of the district and the province. There are some questions of great importance likely to come before the house of commons at its next session, and there are many matters of great interest to this district especially that will come up for discussion between our next representative and the government at Ottawa. We should, therefore, choose a man whose interests are thoroughly identified with our own, and one whom we can trust to put the public interest before any personal schemes of his own. Let the electors reject firmly the proposals of any person who has an axe of his own to grind.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. Retailed by A. M. HERRING and D. S. CURTIS & CO., New Westminster, and T. McNEELEY, Ladner's Landing. dwse23y1

AYER'S Hair Vigor cures baldness. Hair Vigor restores youthful freshness and color to faded and gray hair. It attains these results by the stimulation of the hair roots and color glands. It rejuvenates the HAIR and cleanses it. It restores to the and cleanses it. that, either by reason of age or diseases of the scalp, has become dry, harsh and brittle, a pliancy and glossy silken softness of extreme beauty. There is no dye in Ayer's Hair VIGOR and the good it does is by the it imparts to the follicles, and the cleanliness and healthfulness of the condition in which it maintains the scalp.

AYER'S Hair Vigor renows the hair. Hair Vigor is the best cure known for Brashy Hair, Scald Head, Itching Humors, Tetter Sores, Torpid Follicles, and all other diseases of the scalp that cause the falling of the HAIR and its fading. Nothing cleanses of the nuisance of dandruff so perfectly, and so effectually prevents its return, as AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. In addition to the curative and restorative virtues peculiar to Ayer's Hair VIGOR it is a toilet luxury. The Hair is by far the cleanliest hair-dressing made. It causes the hair to grow thick and long, and keeps it always soft and glossy.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Contains no deleterious ingredients. Its use prevents all scalp disease, secures against the hair growing thin or gray, and surely cures all baldness that is not organic.

Hay Bailing Press!

REID & CURRIE

—OF THE—

PACIFIC CARRIAGE WORKS

HAVE PURCHASED THE SOLE right to manufacture these celebrated Hay Bailing Presses in the Province of British Columbia, and are now manufacturing them at their manufactory, Columbia St., New Westminster. Farmers and others interested are advised to call and see these presses before purchasing elsewhere. They have no equal for economy, simplicity and efficiency.

With this Press there is no climbing up and tramping in the hay and climbing down again and pulling out the bale, as with the old-style presses. Everything is done on the level ground. You don't stop the team to tie the bale. The bale is discharged automatically, and moves itself on to a platform scale to be weighed and tagged.

It is the cheapest Press, besides being the best; so every farmer can afford to have one of his own, and it will save him its worth in one season by reducing the high rates of freight to a minimum, and by avoiding loss of time and vexation when you want to be bailing hay.

POLICE COURT. — Three Indians charged with assaulting another Indian and damaging his property were fined $8 each this morning. A Chinaman was charged with selling opium without a license. Case adjourned for one day.

BOLD THEFT.—Yesterday afternoon during the interval in which the stores were closed on account of Mr. Homer's funeral a thief entered Mr. Ross' fruit store, on Columbia street, by a door at the rear and stole cash from the till amounting to $30. A party named Devine, who has been suspected of the theft, has not been seen in the city since it occurred.

ENFORCING THE LAW.—The government of Ontario has intimated its intention to take all reasonable steps for the enforcement of the Scott Act in that province. In an interview the other day the premier promised that no inspector would be appointed whose sympathies were not with the Scott Act. Hitherto complaints have been made that some of the inspectors were hostile.

CHILLIWHACK EXHIBITION.—The annual exhibition of the Chilliwhack Agricultural Society will take place on Tuesday next, the 28th inst. It will be seen from an advertisement in another column that an excursion has been arranged from this city to Chilliwhack on the morning of exhibition day. The Chilliwhack exhibition has always been a great attraction, and this year it ought to be even better than usual. Save your pennies and buy a ticket for the exhibition excursion.

TEMPERANCE REFORMERS.—The application of Messrs. Hamm & Marboef, proprietors of the Poodle Dog restaurant, Victoria, for a license to sell liquors, came up before the licensing magistrate in that city yesterday. A petition signed by 43 licensed saloon and hotel keepers was presented to the court representing that there were already enough licenses issued in Victoria, and the application was refused. Every saloon-keeper it appears becomes a kind of temperance convention as soon as he gets a license for himself.

POCKET IN A SHIRT.—Three Chinese laundrymen -- On Sing, Sam, and Ah Long—were charged at the police court this morning by Mr. Wm. Pierce with the larceny of $85. Mr. Pierce placed that amount of money in a pocket in an undergarment, to pay his expenses during a contemplated trip in search of a homestead, and, forgetting to remove the money, gave the garment to a Chinaman to be washed, when the money disappeared. The men arrested are the proprietor and assistants in the laundry.—Times.

WORK ON THE BRANCH. — To-day Mayor Dickinson, Councillor Douglas, and Mr. Rae went over the branch railway as far as the point where the ballasters are at work. They returned this afternoon and state that only three miles of the road has been ballasted! The steam shovel is at work, but its operations are very unsatisfactory, as it frequently breaks down and causes considerable delay. There were only 60 Chinamen working on the track and about half a dozen white men. It is not known how many men are with the shovel at the pit. There is about 5 miles of track to be ballasted yet.

NORTH ARM MAIL.—The people of the North Arm settlement have been asking for a semi-weekly mail service, but without success. We understand that the present carrier has offered to take the mail twice a week for a very small additional sum, and it seems to us that the time has arrived when the mail service to the North Arm should be improved. Our subscribers there complain very much at the present arrangement, which brings the COLUMBIAN to them five days after it has been printed. To obviate this delay in future, we have made an arrangement which will enable the settlers there to get their COLUMBIANS on the day of publication, Capt. Stewart, of the str. Alice, having kindly consented to take them down to North Arm every Saturday.

CARIBOO'S GEOLOGICAL FORMATION. —Mr. George A. Koch, a mining expert of large experience who has recently made an examination of that portion of Cariboo district lying within a radius of six miles from Barkerville, commences his report to the gold commissioner, as published in the Colonist, as follows: "I find the formation identical with that of California. Slate predominates, with belts of limestone, porphyry, granite, and perhaps syenite; with stratification tending north and south, with variations northwest and south-east, showing a continuation of the formation of the gold-bearing belt of California. The surface is somewhat broken and displaced, traceable, however, to glacial disturbances. The formation, I should say, was of the tertiary period; that, however, I shall leave for such eminent men as Professors Dawson, Bowman and others to decide."

The French Journal of Hygiene estimates the probabilites of life for moderate drinkers and total abstainers as follows: A moderate drinker at twenty years of age may expect to live about fifteen years; at thirty, twelve years; at forty, ten years; at fifty, eight years. The hope of a total abstainer is: At twenty years, forty years of life; at thirty, about thirty-six years; at forty, about twenty-eight years; at fifty, twenty-one years; at sixty, fifteen years.

Mrs. D. Morrison, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writing about Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, says: George Bell used it on his son, and it cured him of rheumatism with only a few applications. The balance of the bottle was used by an old gentleman for Asthma, with the best results. It acts like a charm."

THE FRASER VALLEY.—The engineers who are engaged in surveying the Dominion lands of the province into mile sections have an excellent opportunity of learning the true character of the country. They say that people in general have a very imperfect idea of the beautiful strips of agricultural land which exist some miles back of the Fraser and are not yet taken up. An engineer informed a reporter yesterday that they had passed through several beautiful prairies which can easily be placed under cultivation and in the course of a year or two must become the homes of a thriving population. The wonderful productiveness of the soil in the valley of the Fraser, the ready market and high prices which farm produce brings in the province, will always be an incentive to the farming industry, notwithstanding that some difficulties may have to be encountered.

BE PATIENT.— The Canadian Pacific Railroad company is losing considerable traffic from the Sound on account of not having adequate steamer facilities between Seattle and the terminus of its road. Since the Evangel has been laid up several car loads of shingles and other freight have been shipped over the Northern Pacific, which would have been given to the Canadian had there been adequate facilities for getting the freight to Port Moody. Mr. Olds has written to Agent Van Waters to request the people of the Sound to be patient, as he is doing all in his power to provide adequate facilities for them, and expects ere long to have his plans so arranged as to put them into execution. As long as the Canadian Pacific people continue to act in good faith with the people of the Sound, they should be encouraged in every legitimate way by our people.—Seattle Post.

EARLY CLOSING.—In England there are signs of reform. Sir John Lubbock recently introduced a bill into the house of commons requiring that shops of all kinds, except hotels, must close by 10 o'clock on Saturdays and holidays, and not later than 8 o'clock on other days. Where any shop is found opened after the hour at which it is required to be closed, the occupier is liable to a fine of 5 pounds. Chemists and druggists will not be liable to a fine for supplying medicines after the hour appointed, but they must not keep their shops visibly open after the hours named. The measure also seeks to render more stringent the law against Sunday trading by raising the penalty from five shillings to ten pounds. If at any time it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the authorities that more than one-third in the number of occupiers of shops to which the order for the time being in force under this act relates are opposed to the continuance of such order, it shall be the duty of the local authority to revoke the order, but the revocation will be without prejudice to the making of another order. It is proposed that the act shall come into operation on the 1st of January next. No doubt is entertained that the repressive provisions will pass by a large majority in both houses of parliament, but it is doubtful that parliament will pass the provisions as to one-third of the shop keepers being permitted to alter the prohibition by common consent, because the act is for the benefit of the employees, and this provision would allow the shop keepers to defeat its object.

RUSSIAN INTRIGUE.—The New York Herald's correspondent cables from Constantinople: "Sir Edward Thornton arrives to-morrow, and nothing is yet settled about anyone replacing him. Nelidoff, the representative here of Russia, is working hard to obtain from the sultan the rejection of Sir John White as ambassador, but will not succeed, as it suits Turkey to have one astute Elchi to play off against another. Russian intrigue is making it hot for the British all round, cleverly making a catspaw of French vanity in order to stir up an unpleasantness between the porte and the British cabinet over Egypt. Active correspondence is now going on with respect to its continued occupation, the Turks complaining of the little attention paid to Mouktar's proposals and of want of faith on the part of England; Turkey pressing, in fact, to have a date fixed for the withdrawal of the English troops. Russia's hand does not appear, the French embassy alone moving, but it is well understood that a desire to please Russia is the motive of this policy on the part of the French foreign office. Thirty thousand pounds has just been remitted to Mouktar Pasha for the purpose of working up local Egyptian discontent against the English occupation. The Porte does not believe in a continuance of the present calm, and military preparations continue, a large number of troops having passed up the Adrianople line lately, and a large shipment of ammunition having been sent through the Dardanelles two days ago. The Porte has seemed perfectly indifferent respecting the candidates for the Bulgarian throne, but will accept any one obtaining the suffrages of the great powers, though it would prefer Waldemar as likely to afford more chance of a peaceful settlement, he being in close connection with the reigning families of both Russia and England."

A little "fresh-air child" at Elkland, who had never seen a cow before, was watching the milking process, with eyes full of astonishment. After looking on in silence for some time she drew near, and placing her hand on the cow's distended side, exclaimed: "Why! she's chock full of it, ain't she?"—Rural Exchange.

Have you tried Holloways Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescences, as many have testified who have tried it.

Communications.

A Timely Suggestion.

EDITTR COLUMBIAN: It will probably be in the recollection of yourself and your readers that some time ago a temperance convention was held in this city to consider the propriety of attempting the adoption of the Scott Act in this district. Would it not be well now to test the matter and do the next best thing to submitting the Scott Act? A successor must soon be chosen to fill the place of the late much lamented Mr. Homer. Now is the time to prepare the way for the adoption of the Scott Act. Its friends ought, in my humble opinion, to call a convention at once, select a candidate, and use every effort to have one elected pledged to every feasible means to promote the temperance cause. It would be a poor compliment to such a worthy, respectable man as Mr. Homer to see his place filled by a whiskey seller, or whiskey soaker, if that were conceivable in such a constituency as New Westminster.

FACT.

Mr. Edmunds Explains.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN: Your report of the municipal council proceedings of Monday night does not explain my reasons for declining to be liable for taxes on the lot I am to transfer to the railway company. From early in April last, before taxes were imposed, I had given the council power to take possession of my lot for railway purposes, and it is therefore manifestly unjust that I should be made to pay taxes on it. As to the council's opinion that as I get another lot free of taxes in lieu of it I ought to be satisfied, I have only to say that if the council had done their duty and had this matter settled as they agreed "without unnecessary delay," they would have been in a position to impose taxes on my new lot, but as I could neither deal with my old lot nor up to the 1st of September with my new one, I do not consider myself entitled to pay taxes on either. In the Mainland Guardian's report appears a further statement of Councillor Lord's, that I have received $200 for moving a house six inches, and it was not moved. This statement, if made, is a falsehood. No particular sum was agreed upon for moving the house; the land claimed took all the yards and more feet off the house itself than the inches stated, and in fact it has to be moved over 700 feet. It was agreed I was to have three months to move it in, yet the contract is already let, costing with fixing $600, and if these facts were not known to Councillor Lord he must bear the reproach of having preferred to make a false statement recklessly rather than to take any trouble to ascertain the truth, which as a member of the railway committee he could easily have done, and even ought to have known himself. Yours truly,

HENRY V. EDMONDS.

Sept. 22, 1886.

O. Bortle of Manchester, Ontario, Co., N.Y., writes: "I obtained immediate relief from the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. I have had asthma for eleven years. Have been obliged to sit up all night for ten or twelve nights in succession. I can now sleep soundly all night on a feather bed, which I had not been able to do previously to using the Oil."

The Confederation Life.

The annual report of this solidly prosperous Canadian institution will be found in another column. The facts revealed in the accounts and the Directors' report thoroughly justify the encomiums which the shareholders present bestowed upon the management. Thanks to the resolute manner in which the Company has declined to embark upon extravagant methods of procuring business, the working expenses of the company bear to the total income the very small ratio of between 17 and 18 per cent. A point attesting the soundness of the finances of the Company is the fact that the interest income is sufficient to pay the death claims—which in a company of the age of the Confederation Life is something to be proud of. The assets and liabilities are set forth in minute detail, and the tables show that, after making allowance for all possible contingencies and providing for every debt, there is a surplus of $282,199 over liabilities and capital combined. The increase in the assets in the last year was $260,390. So much for what can be done by rigid adherence to what the President defined as the true policy of the Company, viz:—"To keep its balance sheet right and avoid unnecessary, unwise, or extravagant expenditure for the sake merely of increasing new business."—Toronto Globe. T. Surface Indications

What a miner would very properly term "surface indications" of what is beneath, are the Pimples, Sties, Sore Eyes, Boils, and Cutaneous Eruptions with which people are annoyed in spring and early summer. The effete matter accumulated during the winter months, now makes its presence felt, through Nature's endeavors to expel it from the system. While it remains, it is a poison that festers in the blood and may develop into Scrofula. This condition causes derangement of the digestive and assimilatory organs, with a feeling of enervation, languor, and weariness—often lightly spoken of as "only spring fever." These are evidences that Nature is not able, unaided, to throw off the corrupt atoms which weaken the vital forces. To regain health, Nature must be aided by a thorough blood-purifying medicine; and nothing else is so effective as which is sufficiently powerful to expel from the system even the taint of Hereditary Scrofula.

The medical profession indorse AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and many attestations of the cures effected by it come from all parts of the world. It is, in the language of the Hon. Francis Jewett, ex-State Senator of Massachusetts and ex-Mayor of Lowell, "the only preparation that does real, lasting good."

Eastern Affairs.

The Bulgarian episode, whatever its final outcome, cannot but be of use in indicating the probable policy of Germany whenever the eastern question is settled. That policy, as in the days of the Crimean war, when all the personal influence of the English court proved powerless to induce the king of Prussia to forsake his attitude of armed neutrality, must always be more favorable to Russia than to this country, and it is only wise and fair towards the German government frankly to look facts in the face and see why the policy of the two peoples differs. In everything else Germany and England ought to acknowledge common aims and common interests. In this matter alone they cannot; because Germany has a danger as constantly facing her in the alienation of Russia and her possible transformation into an enraged ally of France, as we have in the acquisition of Constantinople by Russia. Each nation is haunted by the shadows of its old sins. Our Indian Empire, won by fraud and violence, tasks our national resources to keep it, and the separation of Alsace and Lorraine from France by Germany forever forces itself on the conscience of the German people as a mistake for which France is bound to take her revenge whenever she can find an ally to help her to it. Germany wishes to settle all questions connected with the East as much as possible in the interests of Russia, so as to keep the czar true to the triple alliance and to save him from a French alliance, with which, every now and then, the Russian journals threaten Prince Bismarck. The German chancellor, if he could have his way, would probably long ago have willingly seen the Sick Man's empire parceled out between Russia, Austria and England—of course, with a fair consideration to himself for his trouble in looking on. France is powerless, and if she were not, another alliance of the western powers after the fashion of 1854-55 is hardly to be wished for. We, in our immediate connection with the Eastern question, are probably the most disinterested power of the lot. We have no wish to see the Turkish empire perish if Turkey could but reform. If that cannot be, we look forward with some hope to the establishment of a group of nationalities bound together hereafter by a confederation, if not by a common government, which shall successfully defy alike Russian aggression and Turkish treachery. But, while we wish for this, we are bound fairly to take into consideration the fears and hopes which animate the continental powers, and to remember that our prolonged occupation of Egypt, and our retention of Cyprus, are not good guarantees of future disinterestedness so far as our own action is concerned. Our French neighbors are fond of reminding us that our troubles are the consequence of the virtual abandonment of the Anglo-French alliance of the days of Napoleon the Third, and of declaring that the peace of Europe will never be again assured till France and England are once more united. We doubt it. Our allies across the channel have their aims as well as Germany, which we can hardly fall in with; and if France were once again the arbitress of Europe we suspect her claims in Indo-China, in Madagascar, and in the New Hebrides would soon cause us mutual trouble, and prevent us from acting long together with cordiality. The fact is, we are all—Russia, Germany, France, and England—cursed with the consequences of our own past greed, and we predict that the power which first finds its way out of the entanglements in which we are all involved will be the power which—perhaps for the first time—determines to walk by the light of common honesty and common sense. That path, if we are all willing, is ours to tread more easily than any other power. The policy of England, it seems to us, is, at the earliest possible moment, to terminate our occupation of Egypt, and to foster by all means the peaceful development of the Balkan nationalities. The course of events is with us. Already the recent fiasco of the so-called revolution in Bulgaria is bringing together the Roumanian, Bulgarian, and Servian peoples. If they were once firmly united in an offensive and defensive league against all comers, it would be difficult for any power to coerce them; and the Turks might one day learn to look upon them as their best bulwark against further aggression by Russia. And there are not wanting indications that the policy which animates the German government is hardly likely always to be that of the German people. The day may come sooner than many people think, when the successor of the German Chancellor shall essay in vain to control events as Bismarck does, and when trouble on her own eastern border may not render a Russo-German alliance so desirable as a lasting arrangement to Prussia. With all this, however, we have little to do. Our course is, or ought to be clear, and that is a policy of strict non-intervention. We have helped to muddle matters enough in the past, and never mended them. What probability is there, if we were able with a word to ensure the objects for which we went to war in the Crimea, that we should be one whit nearer the great end which all the powers profess themselves concerned about—the pacification of Europe? What shall we gain if, having by some diplomatic victory checkmated Russia in her designs on Bulgaria, we find her presently pouring her armies into Armenia, which we are bound by the Secret Treaty to protect?—London Echo.

The explorations of recent years have considerably changed our notions of the comparative rank of the great rivers of the world. If we class rivers according to their length, both the Nile and the Yangtse-Kiang must be named before the Amazon. The Nile's 4,000 miles of water-way, from the headwaters south of Lake Victoria to the Mediterranean, make it the largest river in the world, nearly as long as the Mississippi and Missouri together, and about 1,000 miles longer than the Amazon.

Clean Newspapers.

There is a growing feeling in healthy communities against journals which make it their special object to minister to a perverted taste by seeking out and serving up in a seductive form disgusting and licentious revelations. There is good reason to believe that the clean newspaper is more highly prized today than it was four or five years ago. It is also safe to say that, as people in all ranks of life, who protect their own, at least, from contamination, become more conscious of the pernicious influence of a certain class of journals, which are called enterprising because they are anxious to serve up dirty scandals, they will be careful to see that the journals they permit to be read in the family circle are the class that never forget the proprieties of life. Already men and women of refinement and healthy morals have had their attention called to the pernicious influence of bad literature, and have made commendable efforts to counteract the same, by causing sound literature to be published and sold at popular prices. These efforts are working a silent but sure revolution. The best authors are more generally read to-day than at any previous day. The sickly sentimental story paper and the wild ranger and pirate story books are slowly but surely yielding the field to worthier claimants. In praise of the decent newspaper it may be said that where it has a place in the family, and has been read for years by young as well as old, it has developed such healthy tone and such discriminating taste that the literature of the slums has no admirers. Fortunately, the number of such families is increasing in the land, and as they increase, the journal that devotes itself to sickening revelations of immorality will be compelled to find its supporters solely among those classes who practice vice and crime, or are ambitious to learn to follow such ways.—Printer's Circular.

The Brain and Mind.

It has been asserted that the brain secretes thought as the liver secretes bile. This proposition is a very crude and not wholly exact expression of the facts of the case, but the idea meant to be conveyed, that the physical organ of the liver is no more essential to the secreted product which we call bile than the phsical organ of the brain is to the mental process known as thought—is certainly borne out by modern scientific research. Mind, be it remembered, can not be dealt with as a palpable object, it can only be perceived in the changes of matter which belong to its manifestation. Every mental process is the result of—that is, it is attended with—some change—molecular, chemical or vital—in the nervous elements of the brain. Of the actual composition of nerve element little is known; but the element is known to be of a complex nature, to be readily decomposed, and to contain a large portion of carbon and hydrogen. These two constituents give the substance a high oxidation value, as chemists express it. In other words, oxidation is as necessary to the evolution of thought from brain as it is to the conversion of fuel into flame. Dr. Maudsley, who is perhaps the highest authority on the physiology of the mind, says that "the energy which is mind may most properly be compared to the energy which is muscular function." He finds that the consumption of matter during brain exercise greatly resembles the waste of matter during muscular action. But though it is impossible to assert what the true nature of mind is, we can not evade the knowledge that its manifestation is indissolubly dependent upon the structure of the nerve cells of the brain and a due supply of suitable blood. When disease interferes with either of these necessary conditions, mental action ceases. To sum up the matter from Dr. Maudsley's work, "The Physiology of the Mind," we condense the following summary of propositions which may be said to define the present limits of our knowledge of the physical constitution of mental action: 1. Whenever a thought occurs in the mind there necessarily occurs a correlative change in the grey matter of the brain; without it the thoughts could not arise, and with it can not fail to arise. 2. This change consists of movement of some kind, which as its nature is not and can not be known, each writer may conceive of as he pleases. Dr. Maudsley conceives that it most resembles the compound vibrations in music. 3. This movement requires time; it is unquestionably swift, but always occupies an appreciable period. 4. It requires a regular supply of properly constituted blood. 5. It is arrested or prevented by interrupting the continuity of nerve-cells by pressure upon them or injury to them, or by changes of their structure caused by disease. 6. The movements are impeded and finally prevented by exhaustion produced by their continuous exercise without due intervals of rest.—Inter-Ocean.

The Salvation Army has decided to add a new department to their operations in London, England. It is proposed to take two or three rooms in all the poorer districts of London, which are to be occupied by a man and his wife or two women (members of the army), who will be provided with common medicines and lint for bandages, and a stock of pails, brushes, clothes, etc. Every morning these people will visit the poor persons living in the neighborhood, and where they find the rooms in a dirty condition they will clean them. Having thus gained an entry they are to pay their attention to the spiritual welfare of the people. The medicines will be given where necessary without charge. They are also to visit the prison gates and endeavor to get discharged prisoners to seek the aid of the Salvation Army.
