Our Aliens

The Dominion Government has taken a hand in the labor situation in Northern Ontario. All alien enemies have been forced to register and must each month report to the police officials where they are registered. They will not be allowed to leave one place for another without a permit. Neither will they be allowed to remain idle. They must work.

In Porcupine, where a much larger proportion of alien enemies were employed at the mines than in any other camp, the effect was almost spontaneous. Practically all the mines report a much greater efficiency among the alien workmen. The charge made by one of the largest mine managers that the Austrians and Bulgarians were soldiering on the jobs seems to be borne out. His contention was that these alien enemies had considerable savings which they could not send out of the country and therefore worked only when they felt like it.

There is no more danger of the Porcupine mines closing down of their own free will until conditions again became normal, than a strike being called. A number of the aliens, now under surveillance belong to the unions, so the strength of that organization has been materially weakened. This class of labor looks after mucking and tramming.—Cobalt Miner.

In a letter to Harry Goodeve, Jack Frost says he is in Nelson, Nevada, where he owns a good town lot and several mining claims. The war has made the camp temporarily dull, but its future is roseate with great possibilities. Jack says the snakes and scorpions are plentiful, and sometimes he finds a snake in his room. They are real snakes because John does not drink. He wishes to be remembered to all his friends, and speaks longingly of dear old Greenwood.

LIBERAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Greenwood District Liberal Association, was held in Larsen's Hall, Rock Creek, last Friday evening and was the largest turnout of the kind ever seen in the district. A special train was run from Eholt, Greenwood, Boundary Falls and Midway. President, R. W. Taylor was in the chair. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. H. C. Brewster were elected honorary presidents, and the Hon. J. D. MacLean, honorary vice-president; J. L. White, president; Angus McLennan, vice-president; C. Charlton, sec.-treas.

Many routine matters were discussed. Ladies can join the Association and obtain equal privileges. A resolution was passed stating that no member can hold an office in the Association while in the employ of the government. There was considerable discussion re road work, game wardens, etc. There are eight local Liberal Associations in the Riding, and each of them must elect their own executives. The following resolution was presented by D. MacPherson, of Greenwood. It was passed and endorsed by the the entire house rising and giving three cheers for Brewster and MacLean.

WHEREAS:—The Province of British Columbia was, prior to the election of the present Liberal Government, controlled by an incapable and unscrupulous administration whose chief object was the up-building of a powerful political machine, rather than the development and sane government of the province;

AND WHEREAS:—The people of British Columbia on Sept. 14th last, almost unanimously, declared against a continuation of those conditions and elected to office the Honourable H. C. Brewster and his supporters, believing that they would endeavor to give the province sane and progressive government;

AND WHEREAS:—It is apparent that a desperate effort is now being made by the discredited remnants of the old "Machine" administration, assisted by certain hireling and unscrupulous newspapers, to undermine the present government and rob it of the confidence of the people by systematically polluting the channels of public information and making vague insinuations impugning the intentions of the Government as a whole and wild charges against the honour and integrity of its individual members.—

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED by this district Liberal Association, in annual session assembled, that we hereby express our full confidence in the intentions, ability and integrity of Honourable H. C. Brewster, Premier, and the members of his Government, and that we will continue to do so until the contrary is proven on unassailable ground;

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this Liberal Association does pledge to the Government of British Columbia its heartiest support in the furtherance of the policies of development, sound economy and sane, business-like administration to which the Government is committed.

The Advance of The Tanks

The official moving picture of the "Battle of Courcelette" Sept. 15-16, 1916, far clearer than any preceding films of the kind, these wonderful scenes from the Canadian Battlefront. Marvelously realastic, too, are the Tanks, every portion of them in plain view as with big guns manipulating they pursue their reptilian course over all obstacles. Every man, woman and child throughout the length and breadth of Canada should make a point of seeing, these, the latest war films from the Canadian Front. To be shown at the Star Theatre, Saturday, May 12th. Admission, adults, 50 cents, children 25 cents.

The Fisheries

High prices for all kind of fishery product are making the returns very satisfactory, despite complaints as to the high cost of labor and supplies. On the Atlantic coast fishermen have been put to unasual expense this year in repairing their weirs, which suffered from the storms of the past winter, but with this exception a good measure of prosperity is being enjoyed. At St. John's Nfld., very striking results have attended the annual sealing, and twelve ships of the old type of construction, representing the smallest tonnage on record in recent years, secured a catch of 200,000 seals worth $750,000, a very satisfactory result for three weeks' work.

In British Columbia the final figures of the salmon catch show a total of 995,065 cases, a smaller number than any year since 1911. Deep sea trawling has been tested on the Pacific Coast, and promises to be successful. The owners of a large cold storage plant, on the Hecate Straits between the main land of British Columbia and the Queen Charlotte Islands, have equipped a steam trawler which now makes regular trips to the fishing grounds. One trip of four or five days netted 60,000 pounds of fish. The fish gathered in by the trawl are of many varieties, for all of which there is a ready market, and one that gives promise of permanency. The fisherman regard the local indications as favourable for trawling, and point out that the North Sea banks have been fished and re-fished without showing signs of depletion, and that conditions in the field now being tested are in many respects similar to those which have proved so great a source of profit to the European fishermen. The total exports of fish from Canada in 1916 were valued at $23,983,528, as compared with $21,297,611 in the previous year.

Many of the largest Japanese warships have been equipped with wireless tolephones which operate successfully for distances up to 100 miles.

What Is A Minority

What is a minority? The chosen heroes of this earth have been in a minority. There is not a social, political or religious privilege that you enjoy today that was not bought for you by the blood and tears and patient sufferings of the minority. It is the minority that has vindicated humanity in every struggle. It is the minority that have stood in the van of every moral conflict, and achieved all that is noble in the history of the world. You will find that each generation has been always busy in gathering up the scattered ashes of the martyred heroes of the past, to deposit them in the golden urn of a nation's history. Look at Scotland, where they are erecting monuments—to whom?—to the Covenantors. Ah, they were in a minority. Read their history, if you can, without the blood tingling to the tips of your fingers. These were the minority that, through blood, and tears, and bootings and scourgings—dyeing the waters with their blood and staining the heather with their gore—fought the glorious battles of religious freedom. Minority! if a man stand up for the right, though the right be on the scaffold, while the wrong sits in the seat of government; if he stand for the right, though he eat, with the right and truth, a wretched crust; if he walks with obloquy and scorn in the by-lanes and streets, while falsehood and wrong ruffle it in silken attire, let him remember that wherever the right and truth are, there are always gathered round him, and God himself stands within the dim future, and keeps watch over his own! If a man stands for the right and the truth, though every man's finger be pointed at him, though every woman's lip be curled at him in scorn, he stands in a minority; for God and good angels are with him, and greater are they that are for him than all they that be against him.—I. R. Gough.

"Troops of beautiful tall angels"

The Local Paper

A local newspaper is absolutely necessary to any community. It is the home paper that keeps the people of the community in touch with each other by giving them all the news of their own neighborhood and country. For that alone they are of value and worth far more than the small subscription price. They keep the local pride and progressive spirit aroused and in various ways are worth far more to a community ever spends on them. The daily paper with its large news service and quick facilities may, in some instances overshadow the weekly, but the weekly home paper fills a place in the heart of the people that a daily cannot fill. It comes to your home as an old tried friend while the daily enters as a stranger.

The Kangaroo

The kangaroo is the only animal in the world that never educated its feet. It can't walk; and it can only half fly. So it sits upon its hind legs and gets where it's going in leaps.

There are many criticisms like this we might make of the kangaroo. It travels by jerks, like a local train; and if it lived in an icy country it could leap ten feet and slide a mile, and have it on all of us.

But there is this to be said for the brute: It certainly goes in for convenience. It jumps its rivers and ditches and obviates bridges. And as for the mother of the kangaroo race—well, show us the American woman who can put her baby in her pocket and go shopping.

Plenty to Eat

One day last summer a hobo hired out to a farmer who was head over heels in work. The hobo worked till dark, then helped with the chores, and it was half past nine by the time he got his supper. After supper he went to bed.

About four the next morning he was called to get up. When he came down breakfast was ready. He ate another hearty meal, and started upstairs again saying:

"This is the best place I ever worked—two suppers in one night and back to bed again,"

B. C. Mines

The Standard employees at Silverton have a brass band.

At Loon Lake, Wash., a 150-ton concentrator is to be built.

Last week the Noonday in the Slocan began shipping to Trail.

The Donohoe Mines at Stump lake are shipping concentrates to Trail.

A. L. Bass went to Princeton last week to do some work on a coal mine.

The first International Mining Convention will be held at Nelson, May 17 to 19.

In the Stewart disirict R. K. Neil has a bond on the Salmon-Bear River group.

There may be some mining activity this summer, at the old mining camp of Fairview.

The smeltermen in Trail are now being paid 80 cents a day more, than they received a year ago.

At Mirror lake, not far from Kaslo, some good milling ore is being shown up on the Piker group.

Last year Canada produced 59885 tons of copper. More than half of it was produced in B. C.

This summer there will be much prospecting for placer gold along the creeks that are tributary to the Naas river.

This is payday at Trail, and more than $140,000 will be paid to the 1200 employees of the greatest smelter in Canada.

The Dibble group, in the Fort Steele district, will be worked this summer by a syndicate, in which Sir George Foster is largely interested.

There are 41 men at the Emma mine at Denoro. Considerable development work and diamond drilling will be carried on this summer.

The Boundary needs more work done upon its mineral claims within its Boundaries. There is plenty of ore in the hills, but it cannot walk to the smelter.

Joe Walters wants a tax on fuel oil, in order to protect the coal industry of this province. The province also needs a better method of keeping its coal mines and coke ovens in continuous operation.

Sloan's new mining bill has been severely criticised in many quarters. It is not advisable for the welfare of the mining industry to tinker too much with mining laws. Better let well enough alone.

The Hope, Knob Hill, and Lone Pine-Surprise mines at Republic, Wash., have shut down, the operators having refused to grant the miners an advance in wages of 50 cents a day. The Tom Thumb is the only mine in that camp paying $4 a shift.

The Greenwood Mining Division is specially well represented by Mineral Exhibits in the collection of The Canadian Government Exhibition Commission. This is due largely to the action of our local Agricultural association, which wisely donated it's entire collection of local ores to the Commission in the Fall of 1914. Upwards of eighty samples of typical ores from this division were shown at both San Francisco and San Diego Fairs, and the specimens will be exhibited at all Expositions which may later be visited by the Canadian Exhibition Commission.

"There is much promise in the mineral opened by John Falconer on the Logsdon ranch, said J. C. Stutz, of Danville, who is well known as a conservative mining man assayer, in an interview at Spokane the other day. "I made no tests of the rich samples, but believe they contain much more than $100,000 to the ton. They came from a quartz streak ten inches wide that has been stripped 100 feet at the surface. "I am more impressed by the possibilities in the main body, apparently 10 to 25 feet wide, and those in another large body lying parallel and 400 feet west. I obtained low values in copper from decomposed matter in these bodies. As the rock is a porphyry its grade is not against it."

To keep account of piece work a clock has been invented which prints on cards the time a workman begins and ends a task and the elapsed time.

Float
FLOAT is not a periodical. It is a book containing 86 illustrations all told, and is filled with sketches and stories of western life. It tells how a gambler cashed in after the flush days of Sandon; how it rained in New Denver long after Noah was dead; how a parson took a drink at Bear Lake in early days; how justice was dealt in Kaslo in '93; how the saloon man outprayed the women in Kalamazoo, and graphically depicts the roamings of a western editor among the tender-feet in the cent belt. It contains the early history of Nelson and a romance of the Silver King mine. In it are printed three western poems, and dozens of articles too numerous to mention. Send for one before it is too late. The price is 25 cents, postpaid to any part of the world. Address all letters to
