Local Development.

It is always difficult, and sometimes quite impossible, to predict accurately the exact direction of local development. Like capital, trade is extremely sensitive in many respects, and is sometimes diverted from its accustomed channels by circumstances of the most trivial character. A tiny pebble sometimes determines the course of a great river, and so it happens that a bad piece of street, or a handsome shop front, may shift into new channels the bulk of a city's trade. But as a rule trade will be developed where the natural conditions are such as to invite it. No person in possession of common sense would dream of planting a city in a desert, where natural resources were wanting and manufactories could not be promoted with success. In a few instances cities have been founded upon pure speculation and boomed into communities of considerable population by persons skilled in the art of palaver; but these unnatural growths, forced by artificial stimulant, have fallen into decay whenever they have been put upon their own resources. It is beyond dispute a fact patent to all observers that a city of considerable size, of considerable resources, of much energy, and of vast expectations, has grown up on Burrard Inlet. In less than a year it has been built, and now contains a population of about 3,000 persons—practically equal to the population of Westminster. This new city in the western terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and this having been said there remains very little else to be added in the way of enumerating its resources. But, to be the western terminus of an immense transcontinental road like the C. P. R. is a very great deal indeed. The railway company has a great deal of patronage, and it means to use that patronage as much as possible to build up a city where its interests chiefly lie. The through traffic, the transhipment of goods, the loading and unloading of vessels, the tourist trade, and the permanent workshops, will necessarily give employment to a considerable number of men, and cause the circulation of a good deal of money. Beyond the benefits of a large transfer business, and whatever patronage may be received from the railway company, Vancouver has a large lumber manufacturing industry, and may be made still more important by the establishment of other manufactories. This depends, however, almost wholly upon her own enterprise and the willingness of her citizens to adventure capital where the returns are not quite certain. Under present stimulous Vancouver is certain to keep on growing for a time at least. At the present moment there are a large number of buildings in course of construction, and although a majority of them are cheap and temporary, some of them are quite large and substantial. There are now more shops in Vancouver than in Westminster, but there are quite a few of them empty and the only sign board visible is the announcement "To Let." We are inclined to think the building of business places is going on more rapidly than the circumstances warrant, and the same remark applies to retail dealers. These remarks are made from the personal observations of the writer, and from enquiries which lead us to the conclusion that although Vancouver is going forward with remarkable rapidity, at present, many people have overestimated the extent of its future development, and some have conceived erroneous notions as to the effect the building up of this new city will have on the other cities of the province. It has been our opinion always that the completion of the C. P. R. would necessarily be followed by a revolution in trade. Instead of receiving our goods from the south, through Victoria, we shall receive them from the east and the west through the C. P. R. and the Pacific steamships. This will transfer the wholesale distributing point from Victoria to the mainland, and whether it shall be Westminster or Vancouver depends entirely upon the citizens of the two places. That this change will shortly be brought about, every one must perceive, and we counsel the people of this city to open their eyes to the very great opportunities that are lying within their reach. It is the wholesale trade more than anything else that has built up Victoria, and enriched so many of her merchants; and unless we keep our eyes open, when that trade leaves the island—as it is sure to do—it will not come to the royal city but to the city on the inlet. In many respects Westminster is more favorably situated as a distributing point than any other city in the province. Its railway facilities now are equal to those of any other place, and when the Westminster Southern and the Delta railways have been built, it will stand out conspicuously as the great provincial railway centre. It has also the river, stretching away through the finest agricultural and timber and fishing district in British Columbia—an advantage which no other city can possess. When the mouth of the river has been deepened, ocean ships of all dimensions will have no difficulty in reaching this city, and the advantages of a fresh water port are well known. This ought, therefore, to be the wholesale distributing point, and it will be if our business men exhibit the energy necessary to make it so. A comparison of resources shows very largely in our favor against any other business centre. We are of opinion that the building up of Vancouver will not interfere with the development of Westminster. The effect so far has been of an opposite character, for Westminster never exhibited so many signs of life and growth as it does at the present moment. It is useless, however, for us to shut our eyes to the fact that a city is springing into existence on Burrard Inlet. The fact is patent, and it is the mark of wisdom not to quarrel with facts, but to meet them with judgment and firmness. We have no reason to fear the rivalry of Vancouver if our people address themselves intelligently to the development of their resources and turn their undoubted advantages to practical account.

O. E. Comstock, Caledonia, Minn., writes: I was suffering the most excruciating pains from inflammatory rheumatism. One application of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil afforded almost instant relief, and two bottles effected a permanent cure.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. Brother Gardner Relates a Sad Story.

"I can't see dat Prof. Trespass Johnson am in de hall to-night," said Brother Gardner as he looked up and down. "De 'fole am, I didn't 'zactly 'spect he would be. Sartin events hev occurred to render his absence a necessity. De secretary will turn to his name on de roll an' scratch it off, and write across it in red ink de word 'expelled.'"

When the Secretary had carried out the request the President continued:

"Up to a y'ar ago Pro. Johnson was an active, respected member of his club. He was not only a worker in our cause, but he was industrious as a man. If he couldn't get work at a dollar an' a half a day he got it fur a dollar. If he couldn't hev roast duck fur Sunday he put up wid a beef-bone soup. His family had plenty to eat an' to war, an' when rent day came around he had de cash handy fer his landlord.

"Jist about twelve months back some white man told de Professor dat he had just as good a right to a piano, gold watch an' span of horses as a rich man. He was told dat de aristocratic white colors made out of his labor. He was made to believe dat de pusson who won't pay two dollars to hev a kitchen spittoon washed was an oppressor. It was pounded into him dat, if he sot on de fence all summer an' talked agin de blue-blood of dis kentry, somebody would furnish him roast turkey all winter.

"Many of you saw how he was affected. He begun to hate honest work. His mouf began to grow bigger. While his close growed shaby, his importance increased daily. When his wood-pile grew low, he cussed Vanderbilt. When his flour bar'l was empty, he reviled Jay Gould. When his childrys become ragged, he ripped at capital. When his wife becum bar'fut, he swore at de aristocracy. When his landlord bounced him for non-payment of rent, he hewled an' raved about oppressors an' tyrants.

"De climax came dis nite. I heard dat he had 5th bosstin' dat de rich must divide wid him, an' I determined to watch my tendcoop. About 7eben o'clock de professor showed up. I had twenty-eyt choices heuh. He hid hone. He was gwine to divide wid me, ka' take 'letys. My dyes, I can't 'zactly describe what happened 'fter I got my paws on him, but I know he went away empty-handed, limpin', sore, an' in de han's of an officer. He am no longer a member of dis club. If dar' am any odder member wid socialistic ideas, now would be a good time fur him to make a grab fer kindlins an' back down sta'rs."

A deep silence followed. Not a man moved.—[Detroit Free Press.

APPETIZERS.

Atanice's Rat Story.

"Yes, Nashville rats are a pretty brave lot, sure enough. I only arrived in the city last night, and after an early breakfast I strolled down along Market street. Just at the foot of the hill I heard an unearthly sort of noise, that reminded me of the overture of one of Wagner's operas, and I set out in search of the cause.

"Rounding the corner of an alley I saw a big black cat, hair standing on end, and progressing by fits and starts backward. Every time she'd move backward the most horrible yell I ever heard would come out of her larnyx.

"I couldn't make out at first why she insisted on going backward, as there was a clear road in front of her; but, moving a little to one side I saw that a great big rat had hold of her by the tail, while another rat, a venerable old cuss, with gray clothes and white whiskers, had hold of the tail of the other rat, and together they were hauling pussy toward a hole in a brick wall near by.

"I stood and watched the struggle until they finally got the cat close up to the hole, and then found out that the orifice was too small to permit of the cat's being pulled in.

"The old gray cuss let go his hold, dived into the hole and came back again in a minute with about forty more rats, and the whole gang at once set to work pulling out the bricks and enlarging the hole.

"It took them about five minutes to do this, and then they 'tailed on' to the big fellow, who had twisted his tail around a gas pipe and was holding the cat all the time, and yanked the poor beast into the hole.

"The last I heard was a terrific squall, and then all was silent.

"I guess those rats had a good Sunday morning breakfast for once at least."

Then the lean man resumed his cigar, and the reporter eyed him with awe and reverence, and wondered why the mantle of Ananias had fallen on such insignificant looking shoulders.—[Nashville Union.

A French Duel Half a Century Ago.

That was a sensational duel fought in Paris in 1815, between the Bonapartist Colonel Barbier-Dufal and a young captain of the Royal Guard.

The two adversaries were put into a coach and bound together so that only the right arm of each was left free, and in each right hand was placed a long, keen dagger. Then the doors of the coach were closed, and before being opened again it was, according to the terms of the duel, driven deliberately three times around the Place Carrousel. The seconds sat on the box, in the coachman's place.

When the doors were opened the young captain was found dead, pierced by many deep wounds. Colonel Dufal was in little better plight, having received three terrible thrusts in the breast, and his whole left cheek having been torn off by the teeth of his adversary.

Nevertheless, the tough old colonel got well, and, even before he was quite cured, fought two more duels, one with Colonel de St. Morys, and the other with General Montlegier, in each case gravely wounding his man and himself escaping unharmed.

A Safe Skipper.

It was the trial trip of Dr. Jones's new yacht. The wind was rather fresh. Dr. Jones was in the cabin with some friends. Young Briggs was on deck talking with the sailing master. The water was spilling over the rail, and washing the deck with spray.

"Is this boat safe?" asked Briggs timidly.

"I should say it was, sir; safe as a crab in its hole."

"Well," pursued Briggs, nervously: "The boat may be safe, but is Dr. Jones a good yachtsman?"

"That he is, sir. Why, do you know he emptied a whole case of 'Extra Dry' last night? He's an accomplished yachtsman. He's fit to be a commodore."

"Yes, I know about the wine, but you will pardon me if I am a little nervous about our safety. You say we are safe, and yet Dr. Jones never comes on deck in stormy weather to manage the boat himself."

"Yes," replied the skipper tartly: "That's the reason there's no danger."—[Puck.

Where Her Honor Was.

A few days ago a fond mother gave a juvenile daughter a chocolate sweetie, which, however, from maternal fears for the bairnie's appetite, was not eaten at once, but was to be kept till the afternoon before being devoured.

"Now, Dolly," said the loving parent, "mind you have promised me on your honor not to eat the chocolate before tea time, haven't you?"

"Yes, mother," answered the dutiful mite, and went on her way rejoicing.

A very short time afterward the chocolate disappeared, all trace of it gone, save a sticky brown mark around the little girl's rosy lips.

"Dolly, Dolly," remonstrated the mother, "where was your honor when you eat that sweetie?"

"In my 'tomach," was the profound and unanswerable reply.—[London Period.

A Geometrical Joke.

"Well, now, Mary, the cook has left us," said she in deep distress, "and what sort of a shape are we in now?"

"In the shape of a polygon," he responded with great glee, for he was a paragrapher and had never got off a good thing so impromptu before.—[Judge.

How the Face Should Be Washed.

Philanthropic Gent: "Do you ever wash your face?"

Mendicant: "I wash it every morning with great regularity, sir."

P. Gent: "I would advise you to wash it with soap, too."

A Forced Admission.

"You say he called you a liar?"

"Yes, an unmitigated liar."

"And you didn't resent it?"

"No; how could I. My grandfather died of heart disease, and it won't do for me to get excited."—[Puck.

MR. G. ROBERTSON,

Representing Goldie & McCulloch, Galt, Ont.

SIR,—We the undersigned having witnessed the terrible fire which wiped out of existence the young city of Vancouver, on the 13th inst., have, after the fire, examined the safes sold by you, some of which were put to the most severe test, having been surrounded by large quantities of lard and bacon, and we are pleased to testify to the remarkable manner in which every Safe sold by you preserved its contents, not only books and papers, but also thousands of dollars in paper money were taken out in perfect condition. We can, therefore, with the greatest confidence, recommend them as thoroughly fire proof:

1873. GRIP! 1887.

CANADA'S COMIC JOURNAL

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

THE AIM OF "GRIP" is to set forth, in an impartial and independent manner, the passing events of Canadian political and social life. Its Cartoons speak more definitely and more pleasingly than whole columns of editorial. In this pungent, easily appreciable, and artistic style of presenting a subject, the whole situation is revealed at a glance. The success of Grip shows how well this fact is appreciated—its Cartoons on the passing political events of the country being even more eagerly sought after than the chaste and humorous letter-press of the paper,—though the latter is equal to that of any similar publication on the continent.

The publishers of Grip are making extensive improvements for 1886. The old cover is to be discarded, and the journal will hereafter comprise 12 pages, and be printed on heavy toned and calendered paper,—every number being so artistically executed as to compare favorably with the best papers on the continent. The advts. will be compressed and more systematically arranged; while similar improvements will be made as to the letter-press. A new and handsome design will adorn the title page; while the Cartoons will certainly not suffer from extensive improvements in the artistic department.

The price of Grip will hereafter be $2 a year, which is lower than that of any paper of its kind in America,—most of them selling for $3. Single numbers of Grip will be 10 cents.

Twice a year, at Midsummer and Christmas, a beautiful special number will be issued, the number of pages being increased, and pleasing features introduced, particulars of which will be given in preceding issues. These numbers will be presented to subscribers without extra charge.

GRIP'S PLATFORM:

Humor without Vulgarity;
Patriotism without Partizanship;
Truth without Temper.

Only $2 a Year, Postage Free.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN Printing Company

(LIMITED.)

ON THE 10TH OF JANUARY, 1887, the COLUMBIAN Newspaper and Printing Concern was purchased by a joint stock company composed of citizens of New Westminster, to be known as the "British Columbian Printing Co., Limited." The concern has been for nearly a year owned and controlled by the British Columbia Stationery and Printing Company, of New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver. The object of the new company is to continue the publication of the BRITISH COLUMBIAN newspaper and carry on a general printing and publishing concern, controlled entirely by those whose individual interest it will be to promote the development, especially of the Mainland. There will be no slackening of the energy hitherto displayed in the management of the establishment, and its patrons may rely upon receiving full value for their money. The COLUMBIAN will continue to be entirely independent in both Dominion and provincial politics, and will devote itself to the advancement of such schemes as may be considered in the public interest. The concern is now entirely separate from any other business, the book and stationery establishment in this city having been taken over by Mr. T. R. Pearson, who will continue to carry it on in his own name and for his own benefit. It is desirable that a daily newspaper should be maintained in this city, and the new company asks for public patronage on the ground that it is engaged in an enterprise calculated to promote the public welfare. It asks that the COLUMBIAN be judged on its own merits and supported only so long as its policy is encontsistt with its professions. In consequence of this business change all accounts due the concern must be settled without delay so that the books of the former company may be adjusted and closed. When they reached the Vancouver wharf they were greatly disgusted to find the Rithet waiting for them there! She had taken the Yosemite's place.

Messrs. George and Robert Kennedy, printers, Westminster, have made an important perforating discovery for printing presses, which is patented in the United States and Canada. On their discovery the Messrs. Kennedy expect to make their fortune. The east will be pleased to hear of this, for it is seldom a printer in Ross is heard of.—Victoria Times.

Mr. Thos. Mowat, fishery inspector, returned to-day from an extended trip on Vancouver Island. Mr. Mowat has been some ten days from this city. Mr. Mowat's mission to the island was to appoint fishery guardians over various river and lakes. He tells us he appointed guardians over the following: Nanaimo River, Sooke River, Shawnigan Lake, Cowichan Lake, and Sooke Lake.

Germans are hailing as a boon to mankind the invention by Messrs. Lorenz, of Carisruhe, of a steelclad bullet with a slight alloy of antimony, which, in addition to increased powers of penetration, gives a much flatter trajectory, and is warranted to pass through a man's body without causing unnecessary discomfort. This is killing two birds with one stone. It will kill two, or even three men at one shot if they happen to stand in the way.—N. Y. Tribune.

There are a number of varieties of corns. Holloway's Corn Cure will remove any of them. Call on your druggist and get a bottle at once.

FOG HORN FOR PLUMPER'S PASS.—The government has decided to establish a fog bell worked by machinery at Plumper's Pass light station. This is part of the system for improving the service on the Pacific coast.

GARDEN PARTY.—The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church will give a garden party in the grounds of Mr. C. G. Major on Wednesday evening, June 29th, to which the public are invited. Admission 25 cts. Strawberries and cream will be served to all present. Music will be furnished by the City Band. dje27t3

ROYAL CITY BASEBALL CLUB was organized last evening. The officers for this year are: Capt., J. N. Coffin; sec.-treas., H. S. Scott; committee of management, H. A. Wilson, J. A. Cunningham, C. R. Monck; umpire, C. J. Minie. We understand it is the intention of a picked nine to visit Vancouver on Dominion Day and play a friendly game with the Metropolitans of that place. We wish the club every success.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.—Mr. Geo. Wise has resigned the several government offices he held at Yale and has been appointed registrar of the supreme and county courts at Westminster in the room of Mr. E. A. Jenns, resigned. Mr. Wise has been a very faithful servant of the government in the past under somewhat trying circumstances and there is little doubt that he will fill to the utmost satisfaction the more responsible post to which he has been appointed. He will make a capital officer.—Colonist.

A LARGE BLOCK.—From an advertisement in another column it will be seen that tenders are invited for the new brick block to be erected by the Masons and Oddfellows of this city. The block is to be 3 stories high, 66x120 feet, and will be the largest single block in British Columbia. Tenders are also asked for the cut granite corner stones for this block. Every day new evidences of local development are presenting themselves, and it is evident that the city is experiencing a building boom such as it never before knew.

FIRE TRAPS.—At the last meeting of the city council a communication was presented from Mr. S. H. Webb, chief engineer of the department, declaring the American Hotel to be a "fire trap." In a letter which appears in this paper Mr. Daggett by implication denies this. It is a matter of very great importance, however, and ought not to pass from public notice until a thorough investigation has been made. If the building is such as represented by Mr. Webb, the owners should be required at once to make such alterations as will ensure the safety of guests. Don't let us have another Arlington Hotel affair.

THE METLAKAHTLA TROUBLES.—The New York Times, June 16, says:—Mr. William Duncan, of Metlakahtla fame, started from this city yesterday for Alaska, to select a village site for the Metlakahtla (British Columbia) Indians, who are seeking the protection of the United States government from cruel Church and State persecutions in Canada. Mr. Duncan stopped off an hour in Philadelphia to receive an American flag, 12 by 18 feet in size, for the village pole. The presentation was made in Independence hall, the Stars and Stripes being spread upon the table upon which the declaration of Independence was signed. In accepting the flag Mr. Duncan made a brief but touching speech.

GO AHEAD.—The Westminster Council have submitted a by-law to raise by way of a loan $75,000 for various improvements within the city. It is not to be allowed to pass without opposition. This is nothing unusual for there are always some people who want things to remain as they are. But Westminster will not be long able to hold her position unless she moves forward. Vancouver is already pressing her hard and will soon take the lead if she does quicken her pace and get things in better shape generally. No live man wants to settle in a place which appears to be only half awake. With all her attractions she will lose the race unless she makes progress her watchword.—Vancouver Herald.

OFF FOR KOOTENAY.—About noon to-day a special train arrived from the east having on board Major Steele and his detachment of police, bound for the Kootenay district, B. C. They go by train to Golden City, where they take their horses and travel on horseback up the Columbia on the old pack trail about 175 miles to their destination. The officers are Major Steele, Inspectors Wood and Hunt, and the Non.-Coms. are Sergeant Major Lake, Quartermaster Sergeant Fane, Sergeants Mercer, Sinclair, Roby, Allen, Monjeau, and Corporals Jones, Quelch, Hayne, Waite, McDonell, and fifty men. They will remain all summer and next winter. Among the old familiar faces were Fane, Jones, Jack Walters, E. Percival and Tom Craig.—Calgary Tribune.

WERE THEY BRIBED?—The Mail says: "It is stated on good authority that on the morning of the day on which the vote on Watson's disallowance motion was taken several members of the house of commons received letters, enclosing each a yearly pass on the C. P. R.

THE PYKE CO.—Miss Jennie Winston as Prince Methusalem carried the house with her, especially in the song "When the leaves begin to fall," (which merited and received an encore), and looked and acted the part to perfection. Miss Louise Manfred as Pulcinela was charming, and her singing was particularly fine. Her voice is a light but pleasing soprano of good compass, and appeared to great advantage in her duetts with Prince Methusalem. Miss Eva Norman as Pluska, wife of Cyprien, was very good; her song, when disguised as a street singer, being capital. Mr. Louis De Lange as Sagismond was inexpressibly funny, and his dancing and singing fairly brought down the house. His song, "I hope it won't happen again," with several local hits in it, was loudly applauded, and was recalled three times. Mr. Alex. Clark as Cyprian, Duke of Ricarac, had a difficult part to sing and carried it off splendidly. Mr. W. H. West as Baron Carbonazzi, and Mr. Frank Valerga as Count Volcanio, were capital. The chorus is large and well trained, and the orchestra is very good.—Vancouver News.

What Toronto's well-known Good Samaritan says: "I have been troubled with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint for over 20 years, and have tried many remedies, but never found an article that has done me as much good as Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure." CLARA E. PORTER.

Police Court.

[Before T. C. Atkinson, P. M.

Five young lads were up before the police magistrate this morning, charged with using obscene language on the street. Policeman Pearse testified against them. One of them, Thos. DeCourcy, had appeared in the police court before and was fined $5 and costs. The others were dismissed, after receiving some sound advice from the magistrate. This is their first offence, and for that reason we withhold their names.

John Rankin was charged with assaulting two Chinamen, Ah Sam and Sam Kee. The Chinamen were unable to prove satisfactorily that Rankin had assaulted them and the case was dismissed.

Two Indians were charged with imbibing too much "fire water." At the request of the chief of police their hearing was remanded until to-morrow.

Burton's Prairie Pic-Nic.

On Monday a large and interesting social gathering took place at Burton's Prairie, on the premises of Messrs. Brealy & Thompson. These gentlemen had made arrangements for a picnic and social entertainment, and had extended a cordial invitation to all the people in the vicinity. About 150 accepted the generous invitation and gathered in the beautiful grounds adjoining the mansion. During the afternoon an elaborate programme of sports and amusements was carried out to the great satisfaction of those present. At 7 o'clock the guests sat down to a magnificent dinner spread in the spacious dining room, and after ample justice had been done to the good things provided, dancing and other amusements were kept up until a late hour. Music of a very choice description was furnished by Mrs. Thompson, who is an accomplished pianist, and songs were also sung by her as well as by Capt. Thompson and Mr. Brealy. The affair was in all respects a most complete success, and the guests have nothing but praise for the liberality and kindness of their generous entertainers.

Mrs. W. J. Lang, Bethany, Ont., writes: I was one of the greatest sufferers for about fifteen months with a disease of my ear similar to ulcers, causing entire deafness. I tried everything that could be done through medical skill, but without relief. As a last resort, I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and in ten minutes found relief. I continued using it, and in a short time my ear was cured and hearing completely restored. I have used this wonderful healer successfully in cases of inflammation of the lungs, sore throat, coughs and colds, cuts and bruises, &c., in fact it is our family medicine.

Communications.

It Struck Him.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN:—Is it for notoriety, or to cover the confidence of those who placed him at the head of the fire department, that Mr. S. H. Webb, pronounced the American Hotel a fire trap? or was it to afford an opportunity of seeing himself in print? If he is no better judge of a fire trap than an engine, he should have Mr. Ovens' opinion on it previous to rendering a decision; or is it just now he has got his eyes opened. Kumtux! S. W. DAGGETT.
