THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN.

VOLUME 29 — NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., SATURDAY, MAY 1, 1886. — NUMBER 35

The British Columbian.

Saturday Morning, May 1, 1886.

Current Events and Opinions.

The days of a man's life are three score years and ten, as the wisdom of the psalmist found, and it has been the world's common experience that strength of body and power of mind are broken at that age, and the man passes from the sphere of respected dominion into the realm of indulgent memory. The exceptions to the great rule of being, the all but inexorable law of nature, are so few, so far apart, they tower into view as miracles of destiny, awakening the wonder and commanding the admiration of the world. The Premier of England, not first in office alone, but foremost in character, in influence of personality, in mental authority, in political understanding among the men of his time, is one of the most remarkable of these noble anomalies. He has over-reached the scriptural limit by seven full years of labor; and now, with the white mists of envious time about him, and the beckoning shadows of eternity a little beyond him, he is yet the master spirit of his people. In the speech with which he determined for Ireland the right of home rule, so long claimed in vain, William Ewart Gladstone at once crowned a brilliant career with immortal honor, and proved himself to be as virile in thought, as potent in argument, as convincing in conclusions, and as profound in apprehension as when, with the prophetic vision of wisdom, he twenty years ago predicted what advancing civilization has since approved. Aside from the aim and purpose of that world reverberating speech — and there were required moral courage and mental health, sound judgment and shrewd deliberation to deftly handle principles and ideas that smote upon the prejudices of tradition and the custom of centuries —there are a logical force and vigor, a rhetorical elegance and grace, and a judicial fairness of discussion that make this one of the most striking and effective orations ever delivered in that chamber whose walls have echoed the eloquence of a Burke, a Sheridan a Chatham, a Fox, a Pitt, or an O'Connell. Whatever may be the result from the action of parliament, whether Mr. Gladstone is sustained or again deserted, as he has been thrice before when advocating a strange truth, there can be but one impression of this speech, one opinion of the superb statesman who delivered it, and these will be a tribute to his unimpaired genius and his imperishable fame. He began by defining the political situation with a skill and completeness that did thorough justice to both parties to the great problem of government, making admissions that in no wise weakened his plea and presenting conditions that did not in the least imperil his case, though in each case his theories were revolutionary. He declared coercion a failure, which the English could not dispute. He claimed the right of the minority to protection, which the Irish could only admit. He asserted the fault of the administrative system of Ireland to be that its spring and source of action was English, a proposition that amounted to an axiom; and so throughout, in a manner the most diplomatic but also the most convincing, he passed from one phase of the momentous problem to another, masterfully, irresistibly, magnificently, having his forces so well in hand, his arguments so obviously construed, that his most radical propositions were received as the logic of unassailable wisdom. Many of his utterances on this famous occasion will become proverbs of future polity. "It is sometimes necessary not only that good laws should be passed, but that they should be passed by the proper persons." "The passing of many good laws is not enough in cases where the strong instincts of the people, distinct marks of character, situation, and history require not only that these laws shall be good, but that they should proceed from congenial and native sources, and that besides being good laws they should be their own laws." "The concession of local self-government is not the way to sap and impair, but to strengthen and consolidate unity." This speech, so wisely committing the government to a new course, so eloquently defining a condition that the logic of events declares to be an inevitable result, reminds one of the prophecy of 1866, when Mr. Gladstone spoke upon the reform bill that twenty years later arose from many defeats to become a law. "You can not fight against the future. Time is on our side. The great social forces which move onward in their might and majesty, and which the tumult of our debates does not for a moment impede or disturb—these great social forces are against you; and the banner which we now carry in this fight, though perhaps at some moments it may droop over our sinking heads, yet it soon again will float in the eye of heaven, and it will be borne by the firm hands of the united people of the three kingdoms, perhaps not to an easy, but to a certain and not far off victory." That for franchise. So with other measures proposed by him, certain victory in the end, whatever trials and defeats intervened. The bill now offered to parliament is but a formulation of opinions born of calm, wise, deliberate regard of contending elements and operating principles, not the hasty notions of partisan interest or factional prejudice. Mr. Gladstone has been no less celebrated for his blameless life, his unswerving conscientiousness, his sound appreciation of justice, than for his eloquence, his vast learning, his great powers of mind; and in this last speech the world was given new and splendid proof that neither his virtue nor his ability have suffered from the taint of time.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The Dominion Lands.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR THE RAILWAY BELT.

The following addition to the regulations for the survey, administration and disposal of the Dominion lands within the railway belt in this province have been adopted: The lands shall be laid off, as far as practicable, in quadrilateral townships, each containing 36 sections of as nearly one mile square as the convergence of meridians permits, together with an allowance of twelve acres in each section for road purposes; the sections shall be bounded and numbered as shown by the following diagram:

N

31	32	33	34	35	36
30	29	28	27	26	25
19	20	21	22	23	24
18	17	16	15	14	13
7	8	9	10	11	12
6	5	4	3	2	1

W E S

The lines bounding townships on the east and west shall be meridians, and those on the north and south shall be chords to parallels of latitude; each section shall be divided into quarter sections of 160 acres, more or less, with an allowance for roads of three acres each; in the survey of a township, the deficiency or surplus resulting from convergence of meridians shall be divided equally between all the quarter sections involved, and the north and south error in closing on the correction lines from the north or south shall be allowed in the ranges of the quarter sections adjoining, and north or south respectively of the said correction lines; the dimensions and area of irregular quarter sections shall, in all cases, be returned by the surveyor at their actual measurements and contents; to facilitate the description for letters patent of less than a quarter section, every section shall be supposed to be divided into quarter sections, or forty and three-quarters acres; the survey may be ordered of public highways, and for that purpose private roads and lands may be entered; on such survey being made the lieutenant-governor shall be notified of the fact, and such highway shall become the property of the province, and no such road shall be closed up or its direction varied, nor any part of the land occupied by it sold or alienated without the consent of the governor-general in council, who may authorize any person to build highways, such person being allowed to take possession of any private lands or roads and the timber thereon, as well as to take any gravel, timber, stone or other material required for the construction of any bridge or highway, and also to enter upon any lands for the purpose of cutting any drains that may be thought necessary.

A Sensation.

TORONTO, Ont., Apr. 17.—The citizens have been stupidly hoaxed by the publication this morning in the News of George Washington's memorable farewell address, slightly altered and purporting to be the farewell address of Sir John Macdonald. It is dated Ottawa, April 16th, and takes up five columns. It is unnecessary to say that it created a sensation here, which, however, quickly subsided when its true nature became known.

The secret of the News' hoax about the resignation of Sir John came out this afternoon. Cable dispatches were forwarded to London, England, from this city this morning, confirming the report. In consequence it has greatly depressed Canada securities. At 2:30 this afternoon the following cable was received from London:

"All Canadian securities dropped 30 to 50 per cent. on confirmation of Sir John Macdonald's resignation."

The originators of the hoax, it is believed, are Toronto street brokers, whose object was the depressing of Canadian Northwest land and Canadian Pacific shares. Scores of telegrams were received here to-day from leading men in Ottawa, saying that there is not one word of truth in the News' statements.

A tool steel is being produced at a steel works in Philadelphia, which, it is claimed, possesses remarkable qualities. Its chief peculiarity consists in its being self-hardening. No process of hardening in water or other liquids, nor of subsequent tempering, is necessary in its use. A tool from this steel is shaped over the anvil, as with ordinary steel. When the tool is forged it is laid aside to cool in the air. When quite cold it is found to have taken a hardness exceeding that of any steel hardened by the usual process of immersion in water or brine. So hard is it that the teeth of the best file will be turned by a single stroke across it, and the edge of a finely tempered cold-chisel completely destroyed in an attempt to cut it, not the slightest impression being felt on the steel.

The British Columbian.

Saturday Morning, May 1, 1886.

We are indebted to the hon. inister of agriculture for a copy of e report on agricultural colleges resented by Mr. William Saunders, . R. S. C. Mr. Saunders seems to ave been most favorably impressed ith the benefits arising from these stablishments, especially the one onducted by the government of Ontario. In many respects this nstitution surpasses any similar one n the continent, and its fame has een such as to attract students rom the United States and from Europe. The report recommends he establishment of 3 Dominion gricultural colleges: One for Ontario and Quebec; one for Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edwards Island; and one for the provinces west of Ontario.

Much speculation is being indulged in respecting the fate of Mr. Gladstone's scheme for the pacification of Ireland. Two estimates of the vote on the second reading of the bill have been made, but they differ materially from each other. One gives a majority of 26 for the bill, and the other 24 against it. It is, perhaps, a pity that the vote should be taken before the scheme has been fully considered in all its bearings. When first proposed it came near taking the nation's breath away, but the more it is considered and debated the more will it gain on the sympathies and judgment of the people. The vote will be looked forward to with much interest, but we are fully convinced that, sooner or later, some form of home rule will be conceded to Ireland.

Excursion Rates.

During the week ending 17th April over 9,000 people arrived in California from the east. This is one result of the low railway rates. The wonderful attractions of the Pacific coast were never so widely known as they now are, and the low railway tariff afforded an opportunity much wished for by thousands to become acquainted with these attractions by actual experience. It is believed that the railways really lost no money by making cheap rates, for the traffic has been immense, and travel will continue abnormally large long after the fares have gone up. Some such expedient as this might be tried with excellent results by the Canadian Pacific Railway when it has been completed. The resources and attractions of this province are not creations of the imagination, but matters of unquestionable fact. It is so very much more desirable as a place of residence that people from the east who once find out its excellencies by personal experience will most likely become permanent residents. Every permanent resident added to the province means a new customer for the C. P. R., and the fruits of a low passenger tariff will quickly be seen in largely increased patronage.

Misrepresenting Again.

Our local cotemporary finds fault with THE COLUMBIAN because it objected to Mr. Homer's speech on the resolution relating to the railway lands in this province, and insinuates that the reason of our adverse criticism is that the hon. provincial secretary proposes running for the Dominion house at next election. We do not know what the provincial secretary intends to do in this matter, but we think it very unlikely that he will withdraw from the position he now holds. Our attitude towards Mr. Homer is not affected by the provincial secretary's plans at all. This journal supported Mr. Homer in his candidature and has continued to support and defend him since his election, even at times when there was a general disposition manifested in this city to condemn him on this very question of lands. Our support has been given honestly and independently, but it was quite impossible for us to defend his speech on Mr. Shakespeare's motion. That speech is not in accordance with public sentiment in the district Mr. Homer represents, and it is entirely out of harmony with the previous utterances of the Guardian itself. But consistency is, perhaps, not an element which ever enters into the calculations of our cotemporary. While we take exception most decidedly to Mr. Homer's speech on this occasion, it does not follow by any means that we have any wish for his retirement. He has done many things for the district, and we are not sure that his place could be filled by a more efficient representative.

Power of the Boycott.

No scheme of modern invention has played a more important part in social and commercial affairs lately than the boycott. This instrument of tyranny has been brought to such perfection that it is scarcely possible for any person to escape who comes within reach of its operations. Hundreds of merchants and business men have been ruined by it. When a boycott is ordered by a large and influential organization, as a rule the victim may as well pack up his effects at once and seek new fields of operation. Every person who deals with a merchant against whom a boycott has been pronounced is himself immediately boycotted, and one cannot foretell where the thing will stop. This is one of the dangerous instruments by which the workingmen's unions have lately armed themselves in their attempts to force employers to accept such terms as they demand. It has been used with great success in several instances, but sometimes tyranny which presents itself under the guise of liberty overshoots the mark. There is in the city of New York a woman named Esther Gray who keeps a small bakery on Hudson street. In her establishment she employs 5 bakers. A few days ago this woman was waited on by a deputation from a baker's union who required her to order her men to join the union. Mrs. Gray sent for her 5 bakers and asked them if they wished to join. They said no; they were perfectly satisfied to remain as they were. Because she refused to compel these men to join a union contrary to their own wish the deputation informed her that her place was boycotted, and she would have to pay $25 a day for the expenses of the boycott. This was decidedly more than the woman could stand. Her martial blood was up, and she quickly armed herself with a broomstick and hustled the boycotters out of her premises. But the boycott went on. Men from the bakers' union stood in front of her shop distributing notices warning the public that the place was boycotted and must not be patronized under penalty. All grocers in the neighborhood were advised that if they purchased bread from her they would also become the victims of the boycott. The outlook for Mrs. Gray was decidedly unpleasant; and in all probability she would have been forced either to discharge her non-union men or close her business, if it had not been for the help afforded by sympathizing friends. She was fortunate enough to possess friends among the aristocracy of New York, and when the circumstances became known it was determined that she should not be permitted to suffer from the unjust action of the boycotters. Rich people from all parts of the city became interested and sent Mrs. Gray large checks for bread to be distributed at the hospitals or among the poor. Some sent $50, some $100, and some even larger sums to be applied in this way, and the little bakery on Hudson street began to do a business such as it had never before known or even hoped for. In this case the boycotters were foiled, for public sympathy became aroused so thoroughly that their purpose to ruin the business of Esther Gray was made the means of bringing her unexpected gains. No doubt there are grievances among the working men, but the boycott is probably an instrument of far greater tyranny than any they themselves have suffered. Their application of this instrument has shown that their operations are governed by neither justice nor common sense. Labor organizations may become the means of great good to the working men if properly conducted, but as they now exist there is room to question whether the good they accomplish is greater than the harm done in securing it.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER.

The great popularity of this preparation, after its test of many years, should be an assurance, even to the most skeptical, that it is really meritorious. Those who have used HALL'S HAIR RENEWER know that it does all that is claimed.

It causes new growth of hair on bald heads—provided the hair follicles are not dead, which is seldom the case; restores natural color to gray or faded hair; preserves the scalp healthful and clear of dandruff; prevents the hair falling off or changing color; keeps it soft, pliant, lustrous, and causes it to grow long and thick.

HALL'S HAIR RENEWER produces its effects by the healthful influence of its vegetable ingredients, which invigorate and rejuvenate. It is not a dye, and is a delightful article for toilet use. Containing no alcohol, it does not evap*orate quickly and dry up the natural oil,* leaving the hair harsh and brittle, as do other preparations.

Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS

Colors them brown or black, as desired, and is the best dye, because it is harmless; produces a permanent natural color; and, being a single preparation, is more convenient of application than any other.

It is stated that the steamers running to Vancouver are to leave Victoria on the mornings of Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday. Surely this must be a mistake. Why should the Sabbath be regularly desecrated both at Victoria and Vancouver? Why should there be a steamer on Sunday and none on Saturday?

The "constantly tired-out" feeling so often experienced is the result of impoverished blood, and consequent enfeebled vitality. Ayer's Sarsaparilla feeds and enriches the blood, increases the appetite, and promotes digestion of the food, and the assimilation of its strengthening qualities. The system being thus invigorated, the feeling rapidly changes to a grateful sense of strength and energy.

NEW GOODS.—First instalment of new Spring goods just arrived at Jas. Ellard & Co.'s Call and examine.—Adv.

CHORAL UNION.—Next practice on Tuesday, 4 prox. The attendance of all members is urgently requested.

CUSTOMS REVENUE.—For the month of April the collections at this port were: Customs, $5,283.26; other revenues, $51.48; total, $5,334.74. Compared with the same month last year this shows an increase of $1,985.13.

METHODIST CHURCH.—In the Mary-street Methodist church to-morrow services will be conducted in the morning by Rev. Thos. Crosby, of Port Simpson, and in the evening by Rev. E. Robson of Nanaimo, and Mr. Pierce, a native missionary. Morning service begins at 11 o'clock; evening at 7.

WORK ON THE BRANCH.—The contractors are making considerable progress on the branch railway line. About 300 men are at work clearing, ditching, grubbing, and preparing the road bed. Considerable crib work has already been done in front of the penitentiary grounds, and excavations along the river front are going on for the esplanade.

ASSIZE COURT.—For the court which opens in this city on Wednesday there are 5 cases, viz: The Queen vs. Isaacs, of Maple Ridge, for shooting his brother; Willie Dick, assault upon a small girl; Alveras, Ross and Cordova, for conspiracy; Bowman, stealing timber; Kelly, killing a Chinaman. The case against Ah Suie, for murdering a Chinaman near Spence's Bridge, may, perhaps, also come up.

NEW CARRIAGE.—Mr. Jos. Cates, who has been driving a carriage in Victoria for several years, arrived in this city a few days ago, bag and baggage, and proposes to stay. His carriage is at the disposal of any person either night or day, and may be had promptly by applying at Mr. Joseph Wise's stables; or it can be ordered by telephone. We hope Mr. Cates will pick up fares enough to make it worth while for him to remain.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION. — Our readers are reminded of the meeting of the British Columbia branch of the Dominion Alliance which takes place in this city next Monday, at 7:30. It is expected that a large number of delegates will be present. All churches, Sabbath-schools and temperance organizations are invited to send delegates. On Tuesday evening a public mass meeting will be held. All friends of temperance reform, and all others, ought to be present.

CHARIVARI.—On Wednesday morning Mr. Henry Young, a guard at the asylum, and Mrs. Northgraves, late of Ferndale, near Whatcom, were married by the Bishop of New Westminster at St. Mary's church, Sapperton. In the evening nearly all the boys of Sapperton gathered about the house of the newly-married couple and made night hideous with horns, tin pans and howling. After enduring the din for some time the outraged bridegroom made peace by inviting the enemy into his house and providing abundant refreshments. It is said that both bride and bridegroom have been there twice before.

CONGRATULATIONS.—One of the benefits of the ceremony of turning the first sod on the branch line is a very cheap and extensive advertisement of the fact that this city is to be connected speedily with the Canadian Pacific Railway. The affair has been telegraphed over the whole continent, and even the people of the North-west have been advised of it as far as the Rocky Mountains. Yesterday the mayor received the following despatch from the lieutenant-governor of the North-west territory, dated at Regina, April 30: "Just seen account of turning of first sod of your railway. Accept the congratulations of an old friend. E. DEWDNEY."

VANCOUVER ELECTION.—On Monday Messrs. R. H. Alexander and M. A. McLean were nominated for the Vancouver mayoralty, and the following 31 candidates were nominated for aldermen: J. R. Northcote, R. Balfour, A. W. Sullivan, J. Humphries, L. A. Hamilton, E. P. Hamilton, F. W. McFarland, H. Hemlow, G. Robertson, S. Brighouse, Thos. Dunn, Hugh Keefer, R. Nuttall, P. Cordiner, J. McArthur, Saml. Pedgrift, J. M. Clute, M. G. McLean, E. McKendry, Jos. Griffiths, Jas. Hartney, C. A. Coldwell, G. H. Lockerby, Chas. Lougheed, J. G. West, Duncan McPherson, Andrew Noble, Dr. Beckingsale, W. R. Soule, J. McGregor, W. J. Brewer. Election next Monday.

RIGHT OF WAY.—Some difficulty has arisen between the city and the Dominion government respecting the right of way through the lands lying in front of the penitentiary. It has been for some time understood that the federal authorities would allow a right of way free through that property. Afterwards, the Dominion government agent threatened to apply for an injunction to stop railway work because no instructions had been sent from Ottawa. In answer to a telegram from the mayor on Monday, Mr. Homer telegraphed that the matter had been all arranged, and the right of way had been conceded at a "nominal rent." Mr. Trutch now advises the mayor that the "nominal rent" is $50 a year for 99 years! Instead of a nominal rent, this is a very full rent, and it is extremely doubtful whether the corporation would be justified in paying it.

REFORMED EPISCOPAL CONCERT.—One of the most successful entertainments ever given in the Reformed Episcopal church came off last Wednesday night. The church, which has been lately enlarged, was completely filled, and the entertainment was excellent. The programme, which was under direction of Mr. Austin Brice, consisted of an opening quartette in which Mrs. McPhaden, Miss Mathers, Mr. Clute, and Mr. Brice took part; songs by Miss Grace Parker, Miss Davidson, Miss Wise, Mrs. McPhaden, Mr. Brice, and Mr. Price; a duet by Mrs. McPhaden and Mr. Brice; two readings by Mr. Ferris; and a piano solo by Miss Rand. Several encores were given and responded to. Refreshments were served during the evening. Mrs. Bachelor and Miss Mathers played the accompaniments. We understand that the proceeds amounted to over $100.

NEW SPRING MILLINERY.—New Millinery just arrived direct from London, at Jas. Ellard & Co's. Call and examine. a7

I. O. G. T.—Mr. W. A. Hundeck, State Deputy and Grand Organizer, of this city, has instituted a lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars at Vancouver. The lodge opens with 29 charter members, and the following staff of officers: Bro. John McAllister, W. C. T.; Sister E. A. Thompson, W. V. T.; Bro. L. de Brisay, W. S.; Bro. T. Andrews, W. F. S.; Bro. J. B. Kennedy, W. Treas.; Bro. J. B. McDonald, W. Chap.; Bro. A. Conner, W. M.; Sister E. M. Hall, W. I. G.; Bro. D. Powell, W. O. G.; Bro. J. H. Carlisle, P. W. C. T., Bro. M. Matherson, W. L. D.; Sister B. P. Hall, W. A. S.; Sister Nellie Bell, W. D. M.; Sister Lida Bell, W. L. H. S.; Sister M. L. Hodgson, W. R. H. S.

FRUIT TREES.—By reference to the advertisement of Mr. G. W. Henry, of Port Hammond, it will be seen that an excellent opportunity is offered to persons who wish to go into fruit raising. Mr. Henry goes east shortly to select a stock for his own nursery at Port Hammond, and he offers at the same time to fill any orders that may be entrusted to him for trees, and select them himself. There is no question about fruit-growing in this province. It grows almost without care; and if good stock is used the returns will be most satisfactory. In the course of a few years British Columbia ought to furnish enough fruit for the north-west, where it cannot be successfully grown in many places. Persons intending to get trees should read Mr. Henry's advertisement.

CONCERT AT LADNER'S.—A very successful concert was given in the Town Hall at Ladner's Landing last Tuesday, in aid of the Episcopal church. The str. Dunsmuir went down from this city with about 50 or 60 people, and the hall was crowded. The programme consisted of a chorus; a song by Mrs. C. F. Green; three violin solos by Mr. C. Pichler; 2 songs by Mrs. Sillitoe; vocal duets by the Misses Ladner, and Miss Arthur and Mr. P. Ladner; a song by Miss L. Ladner; two comic songs, one of which was given by Mr. C. Lord in character; a song by Miss Arthur; piano solos by Mrs. Trew and Miss Dickinson; recitation by Miss Parmiter; dialogue by Miss Arthur and Miss Parmiter; a piano duet; and two charades, which were well given. Mrs. Sillitoe was accompanied on the piano by Bishop Sillitoe, and her singing was greatly admired and heartily applauded. Several of the performers received encores. After the concert, refreshments were served; and after that there was dancing for two or three hours. The Dunsmuir reached this city about 5 o'clock Wednesday morning.

A lady from Syracuse writes: "For about seven years before taking Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovtry and Dyspeptic Cure, I suffered from a complaint very prevalent with our sex. I was unable to walk any distance or stand on my feet for more than a few minutes at a time without feeling exhausted, but now I am thankful to say I can walk two miles without feeling the least inconvenience." For Female Complaints it has no equal.

The farmers are all busy sowing, a very large acreage of ground has been broken this spring, the ranchers being encouraged by the ready market which their produce of last season has found, all having worked off at satisfactory prices. The improvements to the roads in the municipality will be a great boon to all who have inland ranches, enabling them to haul their produce at less cost than heretofore. Mr. Watson, who recently went back to his old home in the east, has returned and intends settling here. Three candidates for the provincial house are talked of from here. The canneries are getting ready and will commence can-making next week. The English Church vestry meeting of Monday last was a lively one, the parties present complaining of neglect of duty on the part of the vicar. A meeting will be held on Saturday next for the purpose of making arrangements for holding sports on the 24th of May, with a dance in the town hall in the evening. The settlers here as a whole are pleased to hear of the plucky way the royal city went after and obtained the construction of its railway. The snag boat is down here busy removing obstructions to navigation and fixing the buoys. The dredger is doing good work deepening the upper channel from the government wharf.

Happiness and Health

Are important problems, the former depending greatly on the latter. Everyone is familiar with the healthy properties of fruit, and no one can afford to be sick and miserable while the pleasant concentrated liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, may be had of our enterprising druggists, Messrs. Music and Politics.

KILLING TWO BIRDS WITH ONE STONE!

(Reported for the Columbian.)

CHILLIWHACK, April 27.—On Monday night a musical and literary entertainment was given in the new hall now in course of erection here by the enterprising firm of Henderson Bros., and which is to be formally opened by the Oddfellows about the 20th of March. The programme on Monday night was well carried out and the pieces were greatly appreciated by the large audience present. Just before the last piece was sung, the chairman said it had occurred to several persons present that this would be an excellent opportunity to obtain an expression of opinion from the people of Chilliwhack on some political questions. Not long ago an agitation had risen in the city of New Westminster about the branch railway, and during the excitement the people of that city had taken upon themselves to offer a public insult to the two representatives of the district. As there were a large number of voters present, it might be proper for them to express an opinion respecting this matter. In order to obtain such an expression the following resolution had been proposed:

"Be it resolved by this assembly that we fully endorse the present government in their operations and disbursements, and we entertain the highest regard for our representative, the Hon. John Robson, and we most heartily request him to become a candidate for re-election as a representative of this district in the next parliament. Be it also resolved that we consider the action of the people of New Westminster in burning our members in effigy quite uncalled for and partaking of the nature of the rash action of a hot-headed mob."

The resolution was moved by Mr. G. R. Ashwell and seconded by Mr. G. W. Chadsey. The seconder said he thought the blame for the railway difficulty rested entirely with the New Westminster council, and not with the representatives. The action of the people of that city looked very like a political dodge gotten up on the eve of a general election for the purpose of injuring our representatives. Mr. Mr. Chadsey was loudly cheered.

Mr. D. McGillivray took the floor and said he thought it was entirely out of place to spring a political question upon an assembly gathered for quite a different purpose. We were interfering in a matter which we did not understand. He thought the people of New Westminster were quite justified in what they had done.

The chairman (Mr. J. C. Henderson) thought the resolution was entirely in order. It would be most difficult to bring together as large an assembly as had gathered to-night when every one was busy with work. The district had been grossly insulted by the people of New Westminster in burning our representatives in effigy.

Mr. G. R. Ashwell said he fully endorsed the resolution. In his opinion the action of the people of New Westminster city in burning the district members was entirely out of place. In reply to Mr. McGillivray he considered it quite proper to bring the matter forward at this meeting.

Mr. D. McCrae being called upon said he fully endorsed the resolution. He believed the people were perfectly satisfied with John Robson as their representative, and so long as the electors stand by him the people of New Westminster need not trouble themselves about him. He considered that the people of this district enjoyed a very great privilege in being represented by the provincial secretary. He would say here that he wished it to be distinctly understood that he had declined to accept the invitation given to him some time ago to stand for election as a representative of this district at the approaching contest. Circumstances would not allow him to do that; but he would suggest that we are entitled to elect one representative from this part of the district. He would not be quite so selfish as the people of New Westminster, but would be satisfied if one representative from this section of the district was elected with Mr. John Robson. We were not working machines run for the benefit of New Westminster (loud applause). He would heartily support any proper candidate from the lower end of this district who would support the government. The district was perfectly competent to look after itself and provide its own representatives. Mr. McCrae sat down amid great applause.

Mr. A. C. Wells was next called upon and said he quite agreed with the resolution, and after making some appropriate remarks which were received with applause, Mr. McGillivray again took the floor. He said he had nothing against the Hon. Jno. Robson. He had seen him a few days ago in Victoria and he (Mr. Robson) then told him he would be in the district shortly and would explain everthing. He (Mr. McGillivray) said Mr. Robson would be elected.

Mr. McCrae said that people of New Westminster might as well burn the effigies of every member of the house as those of our representatives.

The resolution was then put and carried without a dissenting voice, and when the applause from nearly 200 people had subsided the entertainment was closed by singing the National Anthem.

Commerce of the Pacific.

Speaking on the admission of Washington Territory as a state, Senator Morgan made a most elaborate address, of which the following extracts will be of interest to our readers: In ten years' time the Canadian Pacific Railway will have established itself and its lines of traffic throughout the countries of the Pacific, and we shall find that it will snatch from the Bay of San Francisco half, or it may be more than half, of its trade. We must have a competitor there; we must have somebody there at least to divide with Great Britain the honors and the wealth also to be accumulated from her commercial adventures in that ocean. Now, Mr. President, I wish to say a few more words about our traffic in the Pacific Ocean. I think there are not enough of the senators in this body who concern themselves about this matter, if they will allow me to say so. They either underestimate it or they have so much else to think about and to do that they do not consider this great question. But do we not see all the enlightened nations of the earth moving up in competition through the Pacific Ocean and taking this island and that and the other, commencing with the Phillipine Islands, having a strife about them, then coming on by the Caroline Islands, until they get to Samoa, where our former honorable secretary of state, who now occupies a seat in the senate, put himself to great trouble to negotiate a most excellent treaty for the United States. Under that treaty we should have the advantages of a port of our own there if we will provide the means for coaling our ships and whatever else might be necessary for their replenishing while they were out upon the cruises that carry them from fifteen to thirty days from shore. We find the world frequently agitated by disputes between Spain and Germany, and even between Great Britain and Germany, in respect of the occupation of inconsiderable islands in the Pacific Ocean, islands that, when we were boys, we read about as places that were the habitations of cannibals. Now these little islands are matters of great consideration with the most eminent of foreign powers. Why is all this? It is because these nations are measuring their strength one with another, not merely for the purpose of having their flag to float upon conquered territory or newly acquired territory, but for the benefit of commerce, for its protection and for its advancement. Commerce it is that rules this world at this hour. Armies and navies are mere servants of commerce to-day. The commercial men of the world to-day have the control of it. You cannot mention now a man, whether he is a king or a subject, who has got sufficient military renown in this world to make him a dangerous element in politics — not one. No nation fears any king because of his belligerent power, but we look to the commercial power of nations; we look to the merchants, to the diplomatists, to the statesmen of the different nations to see whether or not we shall be able in the future to measure our progress with them. Those are the considerations that now influence mankind. With a forethought that was worthy of one of the greatest statesmen this country has produced we obtained Alaska, and yet there was then an outburst of mingled indignation and scorn through many sections of the United States that we should have given $7,000,000, I believe it was, for the purchase of Alaska. There are the fisheries of the Pacific Ocean, boundless, exhaustless. There is the power of supplying food from the sea on that coast and the adjacent islands, which, if we had possessed the like power in Labrador and in Newfoundland on this coast, we should have been a very much richer people to-day than we are, and far more powerful. Then we commence at Vancouver Bay, the Straits of Fuca, with Washington Territory, and we run down to Mexico—a vast coast with four good inlets upon it, Puget Sound, Columbia River, the Bay of San Francisco, and the Bay of San Diego.

Beyond that we have fraternal relations, I may call them very friendly relations, with Hawaii, that outpost of the sea which stands centrally between us and China, Japan, and Australia. If we were deprived of our friendly relations with that group of small islands we should be bereft of very much that in the future will be of great benefit to the people of the United States. But Great Britain has established herself throughout the world. Commencing at the mouth of the Red Sea, she comes on around the Indian coast to Hongkong, and along the coast of South America. She has got her naval establishments, her naval stations, where she can send her ships and supply them with coal and provisions from place to place. She can go to San Francisco with a full supply of coal, and all the men that are necessary to man a ship and with every equipment necessary, quite as easily as she could go from Liverpool or any other place on the English coast to St. Petersburg. She is prepared all over the ocean with depots, places of supply where she is never wanting in the power to do all that she wants to do, or all that she can possibly do, with her army and her navy, against any power of the world. I do not know that we shall ever get to that state of exaltation, I will call it, in respect of this great government and its control among the nations of the earth. I wish we could make the same boast that Great Britain can make. I should have no fear of the liberties of this people, not the slightest, if we had all the power on the sea in foreign countries that Great Britain has got. I would feel far more comfortable than I do in respect to our ability to discharge our obligations to our own citizens when they are abroad. We have a splendid coast with many deep inlets and bays without fortifications, and perhaps they will remain so for a great while. Perhaps the world will be willing to let us alone until we choose to interfere with them in some way. I do not know. It may be, however, that the jealousy of our increasing riches may inspire them some of these days to interrupt our peace and kill our commerce. Then they will have nothing to do but to shake their fists at us and it will depart from the seas. They may do it, and will do it, if we make no provision for its security. We have a line of picket posts, commencing at Labrador, Newfoundland, to the Bermudas and all the West Indies, clear around our coast, and in the Pacific Ocean, all in the possession of foreign powers. The British government gets as near to us as it can with its picket posts; and when they go to Vancouver Island and to Victoria, where they know they have the control of the Straits of Fuca unless we do something to prevent them, the first thing they do is to build a great dock yard, a naval establishment, and after that a town. They build their railway to it, then their dockyards, then their great naval establishment, and after they have done that they are ready to go to work and build a town. That is British policy as contrasted with American policy; and yet I am very sorry to say that we are lacking in proper enterprise in getting to that western coast and taking care of it.

We have very easy facilities to avail ourselves of in uniting our eastern and western coasts. We have to do nothing more than to extend a friendly, cordial invitation to private men with capital to have a way through Lake Nicaragua where we can pass our fleet—it makes no difference what the size of our ships may be—from the Atlantic to the Pacific. We could thus save ourselves the necessity of having two fleets, one to defend the Pacific and the other to defend the Atlantic coast. But not only does that excite no enthusiasm or interest among the American people, but it seems to excite the distrust of the administration. They are opposed to it.

For my part, I am not capable of highly appreciating an idea of government which is content merely to pull through four years of administration without doing anything whatever for the progress of American people. Perhaps a man ought to thank God hourly that he is permitted to live, and if he is to live four years in peace perhaps he ought to count them as the brightest and best part of his whole existence. Still, we should not stagnate because the lines have fallen to us in pleasant places. I would prefer that this nation should live like a great and powerful people who are working out a higher destiny, and I would prefer that the generations to follow us should be able to point back to our example and say, "These men understood something about what was to be the destiny of this country; they felt its necessities and its demands upon them, and they had the courage to march up to them."

There is no such word as diamond known in the trade for the article in nature. The word used for diamonds is bort. It is a Dutch word. The rough diamond looks like a piece of alumn with a little glazing about it. It is harder on the outside than within, and seems to have a core like a knot in a piece of very fine wood, which is softer than the outside circles of the wood. Sometimes it is impossible to cut a diamond of great promise because there is a hard place within it.

It is stated in London that if the Irish landlords oppose the Land Purchase bill, Gladstone will withdraw the measure, and that if the Home Rule bill be carried by only a small majority it will be withdrawn, and a fresh scheme presented in 1887.

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The Tribune says editorially: De Lesseps, believing that audacity is all one needs to win the support of the French people, takes occasion to declare that the report of Bigelow regarding the condition of progress of the Panama Canal is absurd. Bigelow's statement, contrasted with those of most other observers not directly in the pay of the canal authorities, appeared more kindly and generous to the canal people than the facts warranted; nevertheless Bigelow told the plain truth quite too often for De Lesseps. It may be doubted where, in any other country of the earth than France, a man could continue so long to delude the people by his assertions, after his public statements had been proved incorrect again and again.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The Times in a column article headed, "Outdoing the Tweed Ring," accuses Rollin M. Squire, present commissioner of public works, and Maurice B. Flynn, his backer, of a scheme to control the entire city government for several years to come. The plot, according to the Times, includes the overthrow of Mayor Grace. The passage of the Aqueduct bill at Albany, which places Squire and Flynn virtually in charge of the building of the aqueduct and the formation of the board of excise in the interest of the adherents of the department of public works, and the intention to either bring President Cleveland to what is called "an understanding," or to cripple him and his friends for all time to come, the Times says, is one of the most remarkable conspiracies for spoils and revenge ever entered into even in the Tweed Ring times.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The Herald's Washington correspondent telegraphs: There is a rumor that the president has been making one of those careful and laborious studies, to which he is given, of the public land question, and that he has become so thoroughly convinced of the vastness of the land frauds and of the measure of the present land laws for land-grabbing by syndicates and corporations, and of the necessity of a thorough reform of both the land laws and the land administration, that he will presently send a special message to congress urging its immediate action in the way of land reform and the repeal of bad laws to help him in saving the remaining public lands for homesteads for the people.

NEW YORK, April 19.—A Tribune editorial says: Everything seems to be affected by the disorganization of labor, even the wheat market. The operators who rushed May wheat up 4 cents Saturday believe the railways will stop running entirely in that month. There is more wheat in store at Chicago and at other lake ports than anybody wants to see delivered at New York in May. The movement had some supporters in an export demand for the Mediterranean, which has been completely stopped by the advance in price. Late reports indicate the yield this year will approach 500,000,000 bushels of wheat. Those who believe the demand for iron an unfailing indication of the business future find great encouragement in the reports for April 1st. The capacity for furnaces in blast was greater than ever before in April, exceeding by 708 tons the weekly capacity in 1885, when the annual product was larger than ever before or since. It is significant that easy money and the small expansion of loans did not lift the stock market last week, nor did all the strikes or labor troubles depress it.

NEW YORK, April 20.—At the free trade clubs and at Brooklyn they are acting as if they had heard good news. They say that private advices from trustworthy sources at Washington are to the effect that there has been a new deal in the Morrison tariff bill, whereby its passage in the house is reasonably assured; that the president has awakened to the necessity of passing some bill, if only for political reasons. The expressions of his wishes in this respect are beginning to have an influence on the Democratic members of Pennsylvania, a delegation who heretofore has either been lukewarm on the subject, or had some doubts as to the wisdom of agitating tariff revision at all this session.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Inquiry among the leading real estate men shows that rents for all classes of property have been reduced from 100 to 25 per cent. The strikers and the labor troubles in building trades are preventing the commencement of many new buildings. It is thought this will cause an increase in rents next season. The effect of the labor troubles upon the building trade in the city can hardly be estimated. It is declared that building in this city is practically suspended this season on this account. The same story comes from Boston in regard to the effect of the labor agitation upon the building trade. A struggle of most serious parts is about to begin in this vicinity over the eight hour movement. The hope of the central trades and labor unions, of needed acquiescence by a large proportion of employes in the experiment, proves to be groundless.

MONTREAL, Apr. 28.—A pastoral letter was received here this morning from Cardinal Taschereaw condemning the Knights of Labor as a secret organization inimical to the interests of religion and good morals. All provincial bishops agree with his decision.

Mrs. W. J. Lang, Bethany, Ont., writes: I was one of the greatest sufferers for about fifteen months with a disease of my ear similar to ulcers, causing entire deafness. I tried everything that could be done through medical skill, but without relief. As a last resort, I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and in ten minutes found relief. I continued using it, and in a short time my ear was cured and hearing completely restored. I have used this wonderful healer successfully in cases of inflammation of the lungs, sore throat, coughs and colds, cuts and bruises, &c.; in fact it is our family medicine.

A Berlin syndicate has offered the British Delago Bay Railroad Company £200,000 for the transfer of the concession to that company to build a line railroad. It is rumored that Prince Bismarck is backing the syndicate, with a view of supplanting British influence in the Transvaal and Bechuanland.

AFTER YEARS OF SUFFERING, persons who have vainly sought remedial help from other sources have obtained the long desired relief from Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, which puts a stop to the torments of Dyspepsia, renews activity of the Bowels and Liver, relieves maladies incident to the gentler sex, and builds up failing health and strength, gives purity to the blood, and tone to the whole system.

The North German Gazette admits that the feeling in France against Germany has created a similar feeling in Germany against France, and warns France that her official relations will suffer if the anti-French feeling in Germany be much further aroused.

From Pole to Pole

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has demonstrated its power of cure for all diseases of the blood.

The Harpooner's Story.

New Bedford, June 7, 1883.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.—Twenty years ago I was a harpooner in the North Pacific, when five others of the crew and myself were laid up with scurvy. Our bodies were bloated, gums swollen and bleeding, teeth loose, purple blotches all over us, and our breath seemed rotten. Take it by and large we were pretty badly off. All our lime-juice was accidentally destroyed, but the captain had a couple dozen bottles of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA and gave us that. We recovered on it quicker than I have ever seen men brought about by any other treatment for scurvy, and I've seen a good deal of it. Seeing no mention in your Almanac of your Sarsaparilla being good for scurvy, I thought you ought to know of this, and so send you the facts.

Respectfully yours, RALPH Y. WINGATE.

The Trooper's Experience.

Masren, Basutoland (S. Africa), March 7, 1883.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.—Gentlemen: I have much pleasure to testify to the great value of your Sarsaparilla. We have been stationed here for over two years, during which time we had to live in tents. Being under canvas for such a time brought on what is called in this country "veldt-sores." I had those sores for some time. I was advised to take your Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which made my sores disappear rapidly, and I am now quite well.

Yours truly, T. K. BODEN,
Trooper, Cape Mounted Riflemen.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Toronto Exhibition.

THE DOMINION PIANO & ORGAN CO.

Speaking of the great central exhibition opened at Toronto on the 10th Sept., the Toronto Globe says:

An object of special attention, which by very reason of its prominence on the grounds cannot escape the attention of the most casual and careless observer, is the pavilion of the Dominion Organ Company. This is a separate building but a little distance from the south east of the Main Building. This pavilion must be about 50 feet by 40 feet, with a porch or railed passageway all around it extra. It is handsomely painted, with ample and almost entire glass section, comprising fully one-third of its height in windows, and announces to all in broad letters that it is the pavilion of that company, and that Joseph Ruse, of 68 King-street West, represents the company. Inside no pains have been spared to make it attractive, and certainly its designs have succeeded. No one should visit the Exhibition without going through this pavilion, there he will find a little paradise of music. Here are decorations, handsome pictures of the Dominion factory and of the present store room of Mr. Ruse, and above all, pianos and organs of the most artistic and unique designs. The display of these instruments is grand indeed, and a splendid tribute to the genius and skill of our Canadian manufacturers. Pianos and organs of every style and artistic design are found here—a parlor grand, squares, and uprights of rose-wood, satin-wood with walnut trimmings, ebony and gold, mahogany and beryl walnut. A double manual and pedal bass organ, with handsome pipe top, faces the visitor at the extreme end as he enters this pavilion. For company are organs of every style and design to suit the purchaser. The Company also exhibit with the degree of triumph and merit the fact is worthy of a cable despatch to them from Antwerp, Germany, announcing that at a Grand National Exhibition held there the Company had just carried off the first prize over all competitors for its instruments. This is certainly remarkable, though when the rapid rise of this Company to public favor and confidence is considered, not so remarkable as at first might seem. The Company's success in honors, home and international, is something remarkable. The exhibit on the grounds is certainly attractive and will amply repay a personal inspection and visit.

Sir Charles Tupper on Wednesday last emphasized the high compliment he paid the Dominion Organ and Piano Company at the opening of the London Fair. In his address from the platform of the Art Gallery, speaking of the great impetus Exhibitions gave to every industry represented, he referred to the Canadian exhibit at the Antwerp International Exhibition, Belgium, and cited as an illustration of the wonderful progress this country is making, the success of the Dominion Organ and Piano Company there. He said that this Company (the Dominion Organ and Piano Company) had not only taken the highest award there, the very highest the judges could possibly confer over all other competitors, from England, France, and Germany, the very centres of cultivated classic music, countries justly celebrated for their skill and acquirements in musical knowledge, but these judges, who comprised some of their ablest and best musicians, had declared further that the instruments of this company were superior to any they had ever seen, heard, or examined. With such a compliment from such a source, in addition to their success at this Exhibition, the Company ought to feel content.

A new map of Poetry.

A Reverie.

Wandering once among the cedars,
Where the fire had spent his spite;
Looking at the scarred old tree trunks,
Which the sun just tipped with white;

As it sunk in clouds of splendor,
Clouds of fervid, fleecy red;
As its last beam lit the treetops
Far, far up above my head;

Pointing upwards, ever upwards,
Scorched by fire's heat and flame;
Pointing upwards grim and blackened,
Throughout heat or cold the same.

"Monarchs of the western forest,
Bend your boughs on me less grim;
Do not look so gaunt and stern,
Waving your serrated limbs."

And a murmuring voice me answered,
Like a death moan on the air,
Like a voice among the gravestones
When comes winter dark and drear:

"I am old and gaunt and deathlike,
Gone my waving tresses fair,
Gone my cedar plumes like love-locks,
Gone my feathery, floating hair;

"Gone my beauty and my greenness,
Gone my pleasure on this earth,
Fit for naught but menial service,
Fit for ashes on the hearth;

"Fit but to be trampled under
by the filthiest beast below;
No more happy days for me,
No more blessings to bestow.

"To thy race I count my troubles,
Count my loss of bloom of life,
Count my wreck and grim appearance:
Fell destruction's with them rife.

"Yet I blame them not; th' Creator
Knew my span of life was done,
Knew my life on earth was ended,
Knew my race was fully run.

"Soon upon the ground I'll lie,
Lay my weary head to rest,
Lay my grizzled top in quiet,
Safe upon my mother's breast.

"Day by day I weaker grow,
Day by day I quivering bend,
Only waiting, only longing
For the end."

And the voice stopped with a quiver,
With a querulous moan and sigh,
Bringing troubled thoughts within me
And a tear unto my eye.

For a poet sees the heartaches
Even of murmuring forest trees,
For he looks with eye of vision,
With an eye of vision sees.

Nova Scotia License Act.

The Amherst Gazette gives the following synopsis of the new license act passed by the legislature of Nova Scotia As the license question is occupying a good deal of attention in this province, the act of Nova Scotia will be found interesting:

Municipal councils are to nominate and fix the salary of one or more inspectors, and the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council appoints them.

The council may direct the issue of hotel, shop, or wholesale licenses, to go into operation May 1st, for one year.

An hotel license is for selling less than a quart to guests only, to be drunk at meals or in their own rooms.

A shop license is for selling from a pint to two gallons, not to be drunk on the premises.

A wholesale license is for selling not less than two gallons in each package, or a dozen of reputed quart bottles, not to be consumed on the premises.

License duties: hotel, $200; shop, $300; wholesale, $500.

Application for all licenses to be by petition to council, filed by March 15, and accompanied by a certificate signed by two-thirds of the rate-payers of the polling district, as to the fitness of the applicant and the premises, and the desirability of a license on the ground of public convenience.

The sum of $10 to be deposited to pay for inspection and other expenses, to be refunded if license be not granted.

A list of applicants is to be published, and objections may be filed against the granting of a license.

Applications and objections are to be publicly investigated by the chief inspector, who may summon and examine witnesses, and is to report to the council, with his recommendation for or against. No license to be granted against the inspector's recommendation.

A special meeting of council is to be held on the third Tuesday of April in each year, to consider applications, when the council shall ascertain that the requirements of the act have been complied with. If they have, but not otherwise, the council may entertain the application, or may of its own motion take notice of anything which in its opinion would be an objection to the granting of a license, and its decision once made shall be final.

No applicant refused on the ground of unfitness may apply again within two years.

All sums received on application for and on the issue of licenses or for fines and penalties shall be kept by the treasurer as a license fund, to be applied under the council for salaries and expenses of inspectors or expenses incurred in carrying the law into effect, the residue, if any, to be for the public uses of the municipality.

Licenses may be revoked on complaint and hearing by the county court judge of the district or a supreme court judge, if he find that they have been issued contrary to law or obtained by fraud, and the persons shall be disqualified from obtaining further licenses within three years.

The penalty for keeping a bar in a licensed hotel is $100, and for a second offence $100 and two months' imprisonment.

No hotel-keeper shall sell or dispose of liquor except to a guest or otherwise than specified in the act, and no sale or disposal of liquors shall be made where they may be sold wholesale or retail, save as the act provides, from five o'clock Saturday nights to nine Monday morning, or on all other nights from nine o'clock to nine next morning, except for medicine on requisition of a doctor. On Sundays liquors are not to be drunk in guests' rooms, but only at table between 1 and 3 and 5 and 7.

No liquor to be sold on polling day in municipal or provincial elections.

Licensees to record sales of one gallon or more, giving names, addresses, and dates, the record to be open to inspector.

Hotel-keepers are not to receive as payment or pledges for liquor anything but money or the buyer's check, under a penalty of $20.

A holder of a license receiving in payment or part payment for liquor household goods or implements of trade shall forfeit them and be fined a sum not over $20. If he permits drunkenness or disorderly conduct on his premises, or sells or delivers liquor to a drunken person, or permits such to drink, or permits gambling, or gives or sells to a constable on duty, or attempts to bribe a constable, or sells to a minor, or having a shop license, permits liquor to be drunk on his premises, or himself gives liquor or treats, may be fined $50.

A licensee selling to one not a licensee for re-selling shall not recover for it, and may be fined $50, the burden of proof that the same was not purchased for re-selling to lie upon licensee.

Inspectors and peace officers may seach at any time and place where liquors are sold or reputed to be sold.

All peace officers to aid inspectors in carrying out the provisions of the act, on demand, or be fined not less than $20.

Any magistrate satisfied from information under oath that liquor is kept for sale in an unlicensed house may grant a search-warrant, with power to break and enter any part of building named, seize liquors found, and unless the contrary is proved they shall be considered as kept for sale, and on order of the magistrate are to be destroyed.

Councils in municipalities where there are no licenses to appoint sellers for medicinal, mechanical, manufacturing, and other purposes not inconsistent with this act, who shall record names of buyers, description, and purposes intended. He shall be subject to regulations of council, and have no interest in profits. This is not to prevent registered druggists from keeping liquors as medicines, but they are not to sell more than six ounces at once, and are to record the sales.

Inspectors are to visit every licensed place every three months, report to warden any infraction of the law, and prosecute immediately any offender. He is to take proceedings whenever he thinks the act has been violated and a prosecution can be obtained, and if called on to proceed may exact security for costs.

The penalties for breach of the law under hotel licenses, are: 1st offence, $20 or 15 days' imprisonment with hard labor; 2nd, $50 or one month; 3rd, $100 or three months.

The penalties for unlicensed sales of liquors drunk on the premises are $20 for the first, and $50 for subsequent offences.

A purchaser in a house under a shop or wholesale license, who drinks or causes to be drunk liquor on the premises is liable to $20 fine.

The keeper of a licensed hotel or other premises permitting gambling or disorderly conduct may have his license annulled and shall not obtain another for two years.

Anyone selling or bartering liquors without license shall incur penalties of $50 for the first, $80 for the second, and the third offence $80 with imprisonment and hard labor for not more than two months.

When it shall be shown in open court that anyone, by excessive drinking, misspends, wastes, or lessens his or her estate, greatly injures his or her health, or endangers or interrupts the peace and happiness of his or her family, two justices shall forbid any licensed person to sell him or her any liquor for a year, and may forbid any licensed person in any other city, town or district to which the drunkard may resort to sell to him or her, and any person who sells to such person with a knowledge of such prohibition shall be fined $20. The chief inspector may be required to give written notice to any licensed person not to sell or deliver liquor to a person who is in the habit of drinking to excess, on application of a husband, wife, father, mother, curator, tutor, employer of person under 21, child guardian, or creditor, and if in the course of a year the person notified, sells or delivers, by himself or his agent, liquors otherwise than on a doctor's certificate, he shall be fined $50.

When a person has come to his death by suicide, perishing from cold, or any accident, as the result of intoxication in any house where liquors are sold, the keeper and any person who for him delivered the liquor shall be liable to an action as for personal wrong at the suit of legal representatives of deceased, if action be brought within three months, and not less than $100 or more than $1000 in all may be recovered, as assessed by court, judge or jury.

If an intoxicated person assaults another or injures property, the person who furnished the liquor, if illegally supplied, shall be liable, jointly with or independently of the person intoxicated.

Anyone violating the act, who attempts to compromise or settle the offence, shall be fined $50, as shall anyone who is a party to such proceeding.

For tampering with a witness on a prosecution under the act, the penalty is $200 and imprisonment for not more than a year.

Conviction for a second offence for keeping a bar in a licensed hotel, selling to others than guests, selling at prohibited hours, supplying to a minor, to a drunkard, or other interdicted person, shall forfeit license, and the third conviction for any offence under the act shall operate likewise.

Prosecutions to be brought within 80 days before a police magistrate or two justices of the county, who are to have jurisdiction irrespective of the extent of penalty the act imposes.

Increased penalties are for offences committed on different days.

Anyone may prosecute.

From justices conviction for selling without license there is no appeal, except on notice given within five days, when one may be had to the judge of the county court, without jury, in which case the person convicted shall, if in custody, so remain until the hearing, or if the penalty is imprisonment, shall give sufficient bonds to appear and abide judgment and pay costs.

No conviction affirmed on appeal to be quashed for want of form or removed to a superior court by certiorari.

Where the inspector is not prosecutor, half the penalty goes to the municipality, and half to the prosecutor.

Any room or place in which it is proved there is a bar, beer pumps, kegs, jars, glasses or appliances similar to those usually found where liquors are sold shall be deemed a place of sale of liquors, and the occupant the person who keeps such for sale.

In proving a sale it is not necessary to show that money passed or that any liquor was consumed, if the magistrate is satisfied that the sale or disposal took place.

The presence of others than members of the family or the burning of a light in a room where liquor is kept, during prohibited hours, is to be held as proof of a sale.

Witnesses neglecting to attend, may be arrested under warrant, and if they refuse to give evidence may be committed to gaol until they consent.

Every municipality is authorized to pay out of its funds all costs of enforcing the provisions of the act.

JUST WHAT'S WANTED.

A Nursery at Port Hammond.

UPON LEARNING THE GREAT FA*cilities in this Province for the growing* of nearly all kinds of Fruit, and since my arrival here from Ontario, where fruit-growing has now attained to such perfection, I at once saw the necessity for having a nursery located here, where the people could depend on getting good, thrifty, well-formed trees as would be suitable for orchards in such a fruit-growing country as this is destined to be, instead of depending for their productions on such a class of trees as have been brought in here of late.

Having had a thorough experience in the Nursery business in Ontario, and the shipping of apples to different parts of this continent and Great Britain, I feel perfect confidence in saying that I will be able to supply the people with such trees and varieties of fruit as will yield them greatest profit. Therefore have obtained from W. J. Harris in the municipality of Maple Ridge, near P. O. Hammond, a piece of land especially adapted to the growing of thrifty trees and the forming of fibrous roots so essential in young trees for transplanting. I am now preparing the soil for the reception of my young trees, roots, etc., this fall. I have to return to Ontario in about two months to arrange my affairs for coming out here. Any one who is preparing to put out fruit or ornamental trees of any kind, if they will communicate with me here, I will give them such information as they may require; and should they entrust me with any orders for this fall or next spring delivery, I will bring them together with my own stock, by through car on the C. P. R., a class of trees of which I hope soon to see many in this country. G. W. HENRY.
