Saturday Evening, Oct. 15, 1887.

An Educated Tramp.

On Saturday night, November 2nd, 1884, an Englishman named Morley Roberts arrived at Westminster on the str. Gem and registered at the Farmer's Home, then kept by Mr. Turnbull. This man, although wearing garments and presenting an appearance which would lead most people to pronounce him an ordinary tramp, was a very remarkable character. When he arrived in this city he had just completed a journey of 8000 miles overland from New York. Part of that journey was made on the cars, where he often beat his way, part on steamers, and a good deal on foot. From the western end of the C. P. R., then at the summit of the Rocky Mountains, he had walked nearly all the way to the Mission, a distance of about 540 miles, and he landed here with about two dollars in his pocket. But Roberts was an educated man, being well read in many branches of literature, and familiar with many of the standard Latin and Greek authors. In the spring of 1884 he left England for a tramp on the American continent, and reached Texas in April, dead broke. There he found employment among cattle herders and bull punchers until it became irksome, and after suffering hunger and fatigue and misfortnne he left for the Rocky Mountains to work on the C. P. R. On the 7th of August he left St. Paul for the scene of his future operations, and after a journey of 1600 miles by rail reached the end of the track with an empty pocket. The railway work was not to his taste, and his sense of right could not tolerate the treatment to which the men were subjected by some of the bosses. He determined, therefore, to push on to the coast. The incidents of his wanderings are recorded in "The Western Avernus," a book of 307 pages just issued in London, and the volume is one of more than ordinary interest. Mr. Roberts is a keen observer and seems to be perfectly frank and honest in recording circumstances as he found them. He is a graceful writer, too, and his decription of scenery and surroundings is of undoubted merit. In his long and wearisome tramp from the Kicking Horse to this city he met with experiences and incidents which although related without apparent coloring, possess as much interest to the reader as some of the most thrilling works of fiction. He describes all the place through which he passed, the people whom he met, the character of the stopping places, aad the dismal state of civilization he observed. His personal sufferings were often intense. Without the means of procuring suitable clothing or food, he experienced from day to day the inconveniences of extreme cold and the pangs of real hunger. His feet became terribly blistered, and for days he tramped along with skinned heels and empty stomach. After coming over Jackass Mountain he describes his astonishment at finding a house, formerly used as a hotel, where he got a square meal with Revs. Messrs. Edwards and Small, two English church clergyman who kept batchelor's hall in that lonely place. The pie he ate at that meal he describes as being like "a board, solid, unbendable, durable, and waterproof," and it gave him dyspepsia for three days. This, it may be explained, was Mr. Edwards' first attempt at pie making—and it could not be pronounced a success. His experiences in this city were more romantic than delightful. Two days after his arrival his financial balance sheet showed just 25cts. of a surplus on hand, and he went to work handling lumber in the Dominion Saw Mill. This was a kind of employment to which he had not been accustomed, but he did the best he could. After working a few days, he says: The superintendent spoke to McCulloch one day: "What kind of a man is that fellow with the bighat?" "Well, Mr. G—, he does not know much about sawmills, but I tell you he's a rustler. He gets round quicker'n any man in mill the in spite of his long legs." "Why, I nearly fired him the first morning," said the superintendent; "But I must have made a mistake." Mr. Roberts soon found his way to the public library where he spent many hours of the evenings reading such works as pleased him. On the 29th of December he walked out to Granville with John Anderssen, Pete, and Charley, and on his return he was attacked by fever from which he did not quite recover until some time in February. The loss of time, and the doctor's bill, made him in debt $30. By the end of March the mill owed him $23, which he managed to get through a singular incident. One day at dinner he thrashed the China cook and was discharged by Mr. Henderson, the manager, and drew his money. In about ten days afterwards, he says, the mill company became bankrupt, so that if he had remained it is doubtful if he would have drawn any wages at all. After returning to Eagle Pass and making some money, he went to Victoria, but found no work and spent all his surplus; worked his way on the str. Olympian to Tacoma; found no work there; beat his way to Kalama on a freight train, and walked to Portland; no work there; after trying in vain through the country for work he walked nearly all the way to San Francisco, where he arrived with 25 cts. in his pocket. But no work was to be had there, and for days he wandered about looking for jobs and starving Finally he struck work in the country and saved money enough to take him back to England. The book may be said to contain a record of the wanderings of an educated tramp a period of whose life seems to have been sadly wasted among the lowest classes of society. We hope Roberts has since learned that time is too valuable to be squandered aimlessly as he squandred it on this continent.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

THE CROWN PRINCE'S THROAT.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Chronicle's correspondent at Berlin says that he has learned from an unimpeachable authority that the condition of the German crown prince is precarious and that Dr. Mackenzie's treatment has failed. That the prince became so weak in Toblach that he could travel only by easy stages, and that he positively refuses to submit to any further operation, although the original symptoms have reappeared.

POOR MRS. HALLETT.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The wife of Col. Hughes-Hallett has appealed to the Conservative committee of Rochester to be lenient towards her husband, and not to call upon him to resign his seat in the house of commons. She has, she says, condoned her husbands offence, and thinks the electors should also do so. She offers to personally visit all the electors in her husband's behalf, and asks the committee's opinion on the subject. The committee has replied, extending its sympathy to Mrs. Hallett, but does not favor her visit to the electors.

ON THE WAR PATH.

BILLINGS, Mon., Oct. 14.—Special Agent Howard, who is investigating the difficulty at the Crow agency, said to-day that unless ordered otherwise by to-morrow, an attempt will be made to arrest the insubordinate Indians. Bloodshed will surely follow. Chief Sword Bearer at the head of 200 braves is camped within gunshot of the agency awaiting developments. He is gaining reinforcements daily, and much uneasiness is felt by the settlers. The Indians at the agency are sullen and uncommunicative.

THE YUKON A SELL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—A. M. Mulheim, James McAdams, and four others, all miners in the new gold district on Forty Mile river, a tributary of the Yukon, in Alaska, have arrived in this city. They are the first to reach here from the new diggings, about the reputed richness of which much has reached California papers at odd times by telegraph from Victoria. McAdams is one of the discoverers of this district, and Mulheim has been in these wilds for the past two years. The latter said to-day, "About 100 miners came out with us. Some had made as high as $1,000 during the season, while others were broke. The average was from $200 to $500 each. The thermometer falls to 80 degrees below zero up there. The ground is thickly covered with moss and is frozen the year round. It is the most fearfully wild country imaginable. I would not advise anybody to go to this region. I don't think people would be justified in it. It has been greatly overestimated.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

POWDERLY RESIGNS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 15.—At 12:30 o'clock this morning General Master Workman Powderly attached his signature to a peremptory resignation of his position. He will withhold the presentation of the document to the assembly pending action upon the report of the committee on laws which was submitted just before the adjournment last evening. The report recommended dropping off two members of the general-executive board and placing the appointing power of the membership of that body in the hands of the general master workman. This is the climax of the administration's fight upon Barry, of Michigan, and Bailey, of Ohio. The trouble originated when the executive board ordered that the stock yards strike at Chicago be ended. Barry and Bailey insisted then, and again yesterday in the convention, that the men would win had they been left alone, and this insubordination apparently the master workman never forgave.

TO OVERAWE ANARCHISTS.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The presence of a battalion of U. S. regular soldiers at the international encampment has suggested to a number of officials the idea of keeping them here until after the execution of the condemned anarchists on Nov. 11th. Lieut.-General Sheridan will arrive here to-day, and it is stated that the mayor and sheriff will request the lieut.-general to order a battalion into camp somewhere near the jail until all signs of trouble are over.

BEECHER'S SUCCESSOR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Christian Union, has been engaged as preacher for Plymouth Church pending the selection of a permanent pastor. He will begin his duties in November. It is understood that Dr. Abbott will not be a candidate for permanent pastor and that he will not undertake the pastorate duties other than preaching.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 15.—Last evening Wm. Wickmeyer, of Cornel, Iowa, and H. W. Rice, of Desmoines, were instantly killed in south Iowa while attempting to cross the railroad track. They stepped out of a south bound train and were struck by a north bound train. They were laborers employed in packing-houses.

CLEVELAND IN DANGER.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 15.—When the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Gulf train, preceding presidential train, arrived at the trestle between Bonnerville and Jonesabora, Ark., yesterday, the engineer discovered the trestle to be on fire. A correspondent who happened to be on the train made a careful examination of the burned timbers, which gave unmistakeable evidence of an attempt at train wrecking. The fire was started on the underside of the cross ties in such a manner that there can be no possible belief that the sparks were the cause of it. Further examination showed that the torch had been applied to eight or nine of the timbers. There are many good reasons for believing that the fiends who set fire to this trestle had in mind the president's special train which was to be the next one over the road after the train which discovered the fire. Every trainman whose opinion the correspondent asked on the matter said freely that he had no doubt the intention was to wreck the president's train.

NORTHERN PACIFIC MATTERS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—President Harris said to-day concerning the report of radical changes to be made in the Northern Pacific's management: "So far as I am concerned I was elected one of thirteen directors at the recent annual meeting and I intend to serve the full term. The directors made me president, but of course I would resign if the board wished to put another man in my place. There is no movement in that direction so far as I am informed. The reported consolidation with the Wisconsin Central is without foundation. We are on good terms, but there is no reason why the Northern Pacific should buy or lease any railroad to Chicago when we have a terminus at the head of Lake Superior.

ANOTHER GIGANTIC CANAL.

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—The Conservative government here is kept in office by keeping electors busy with public works. This system of sapping the resources of the country keeps Sir John Macdonald in power and is not allowed to flag. The cabinet, after mature consideration, has determined to begin shortly another most important undertaking, which was broached as far back as 1833. They are going to utilize the valley of the River Trent to connect Lakes Huron and Ontario by a canal that will shorten the present route from head of St St. Lawrence to Mackinaw Straits, a distance of 850 miles to 750 miles. The estimated cost will be $10,000,000. The Trent is a large river discharging into the Bay of Quinte at a point 68 miles west of Kingston, and in passing from Lake Ontario to Lake Huron by the proposed route a vessel would ascend the River Trent, cross Ryo Lake to Ottanabee river, and clear Buckhorn, Chemong, Pigeon, Sturgeon, Cameron and Balsam Lakes, thence by canal to Talbot River into Lake Simcoe, and by River Severn to Lake Huron.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

ANOTHER CABLE PROJECT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—A project is on foot here to lay a submarine cable to Farallene Islands, 23 miles west of this port in the Pacific Ocean. When the chamber of commerce assembles on Tuesday afternoon a communication to be sent to the chief signal officer, A. W. Greely, asking him to assist in the project, will be presented for the approval of the organization, and with it will be a resolution requesting the California delegation in congress to do their utmost to obtain an appropriation for that purpose.

HE DENIES IT.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—The report published this morning that General Master Powderly had at 12:30 p. m. written a peremptory resignation created a sensation. It was not generally believed. Powderly was seen early and he denied having written out his resignation.

Daily British Columbian

Saturday Evening, Oct. 15, 1887.

The Transpacific Line.

Having obtained a satisfactory subsidy for the Pacific steamship line from the imperial government, the C. P. R. Co. is now making arrangements to place suitable steamers of its own on the route. Sir George Stephen will shortly leave for England in pursuance of this scheme. The Montreal Star says that there are to be three steamers, built after the most approved pattern, capable of making 18 miles an hour, and being about 4,000 tons burden. One of the conditions of the imperial subvention is that the vessels shall be constructed according to a pattern that shall meet the approval of the British admiralty, and be available for imperial service in case of war. It is promised that they shall be in every respect first-class, and equal to any steamship afloat. The placing of these fine steamers on the route between this province and China will be an event of great importance to Canada as well as to the C. P. R. The steamers now on the transpacific line are obviously unsuitable in many respects. Their passenger accommodation is extremely limited and of a kind that is not calculated to promote travel, and they are too slow for the times. With high-class steamers running in connection with the C. P. R. we may expect to see a very large increase in passenger travel to and from China and Japan, and whatever benefit there is to be obtained from this trade will fall into the hands of our own people instead of going to foreigners. This arrangement will also considerably augment British shipping on the Pacific. Hitherto the great bulk of the carrying trade of the North Pacific has been done in American vessels, but the day may not be far off when the British fleets will cover the Pacific as they now cover the Atlantic. It is also announced again that the C. P. R. Co. will put a new line of fast steamships on the Atlantic to run in connection with the railway, and that the journey from London to Yokohama will be made in 24 days!

Good News.

It is stated that an arrangement has been reached at last between the Dominion government and the government of this province whereby patents will at once be issued to settlers on the lands known as the Sumas Dyking lands. These lands are in Chilliwhack municipality, and are among the richest and most valuable agricultural lands in the province. The area is very large, but a considerable portion of it is subject to overflow. It is believed that the extent of the overflow may be considerably reduced by dyking, but hitherto the settlers have been discouraged from attempting any extensive public enterprises because of the uncertainty surrounding their titles to the land. Our readers are aware that the ownership of these lands is claimed by both governments, and the question of right has not yet been settled. An arrangement has been made, however, to issue joint titles to holders, and these titles will not be affected by any proceedings between the two governments respecting the right of administration. The adjustment of this embarrassing question removes one of the greatest hindrances to the development of this district, and we may look at once for signs of substantial improvement. The good agricultural lands of this district are being rapidly taken up, and before many years it will be difficult to find a piece of unoccupied land fit for cultivation. There are several instances, however, where people are holding a great deal more land than they can develop to advantage, and in some cases they seem unwilling to accept anything like a reasonable figure for their idle property. This policy retards the progress of settlement, and interferes with the production of wealth, and is contrary to the public interest. During the present season a great many new settlers have located in the district of Westminster, and it is probable the immigration next year will be quite as large as it ever has been. The putting of the Sumas dyking lands on the market will be an event of real importance, and we hope it may be the means of securing to us a large number of good settlers who will add materially to the productiveness and wealth of the province. The Victoria Times intimates that the arrangement above referred to is one of the results of the provincial secretary's visit to Ottawa. If this be true, the mission may fairly be pronounced a most successful one, even if it should accomplish nothing more; and the illnatured and vindictive remarks of the Guardian will have been proved to be entirely uncalled for—if, indeed, any such proof is needed.

What Toronto's well-known Good Samaritan says: "I have been troubled with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint for over 20 years, and I have tried many remedies, but never found an article that has done me as much good as Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure." CLARA E. PORTER.

Why She Refused.

You say you went to the party last night and you saw Mrs. Smith, an old friend, whom you had not seen since she and your sister were at school together. You had a very pleasant talk until supper, when you gave her your arm and took her to supper. When some one came along with a few glasses of wine on a waiter and offered her a glass, you saw her shudder as she said "No!" and you wonder why Mrs. Smith, who didn't used to be so particular about such things, not only refused, but shuddered when she said "No!" You cannot tell why! I can tell why. You went on with your talk and a little flirtation, did you? I won't say you didn't. She was very gay, and seemed very glad to forget herself, did she? Very well, I am very glad that you gave her that hour of the evening. I can tell you where she went after the party was over. She went home—the latest person from the party. She was glad it was late, for her husband had not come home. She sat and read for an hour and her husband did not come. She wrote for an hour and her husband did not come. She sat at the piano for an hour but he did not come. At length, between 3 and 4 o'clock, there was a noise at the door, and two policemen held him in their arms. She knows them both well by this time. It happens so often that she knows every policeman on the beat. They bade her good-night. She had locked her child's room that he might not abuse him. She took the abuse as he flung himself on the bed. She dragged off his neck-cloth and coat, and sat there until he should fall into a stupid sleep. She is the woman who refused the glass of wine with a shudder. You thought she was gay and bright. I know her story because I am her minister. They have a sort of skeleton in the closet, which we are permitted to see and you are not. And when we see that skeleton, do you wonder that we sometimes say pretty sharp things about moderate drinking, and the temptations offered at parties?—Rev. E. E. Hale.

Beer and Health.

A pamphlet sent out a few months ago by the "literary bureau" of the United States Brewers' Association, claiming exceptional good health and longevity for men employed in breweries and heavy beer-drinkers, called forth the following noteworthy reply, published in the Insurance Monitor:

"Thomann's pamphlet, published in this city a short time ago in the interest of the brewers, in which it was attempted to prove by statistics that beer-drinking is healty, has called out the following criticism from Dr. Bombaugh, whose long experience as a medical examiner enables him to speak from the book: Thomann simply proves what he did not start out to prove—that the robust men employed in the breweries, who drink from forty to fifty glasses of beer daily, remain in robust health for some years by virtue of their large amount of vital force and tenacity; not by virtue of beer, but in spite of it. We have closely watched the heavy beer-drinker in this community, with reference to their mortality ratio, for more than twenty years, and our observations show that out of every hundred who saturate themselves in this immoderate way, not more than five pass the age of fifty-three. Those that escape Bright's disease or uræmic poisoning become victims of cirrhosis, or fatty degeneration, or erysipelas, or apoplexy. One or other of these fatal diseases invariably gives the finishing touch to the 'splendid physique,' about which Thomann rants, long before the period of natural expectation."

Alarm of the Liquor Dealers.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, commenting upon the plans of the liquor men to defeat prohibition, says: "The alarm which has been manifested by the leading liquor dealers throughout the country recently is one of the most significant and encouraging signs of the times. Representatives of the whiskey interest realize at last that their industry is in peril, and are taking measures to protect themselves. During nearly all the years which have intervened between the time of the organization of the first temperance society in the United States and the early portion of the present year, the liquor men considered themselves masters of the situation. It is probable, to be sure, that they felt some fear when the early crusades against the rum evil were inaugurated about half a century ago, but that emotion was successfully transformed into contempt, amusement and indifference as they realized their own powers and the weakness of their foes. But all this has been changed since the beginning of the present year. The old arrogance and swagger has departed, and in its place has appeared a decided manifestation of dread at the perils by which they have suddenly found themselves confronted."

Dr. Prudden says that an ordinary glass of water may contain hundreds of thousands of bacteria, but nobody should quit water on that account and take up with the other thing. A bushel of bacteria in his stomach will play far less havoc with a man's natural history than ever so small a snake in his boot.—Washington Critic.

The name of a certain liquor-selling firm in a certain town suggested to a wag who conveniently dropped his "h's" that "the business of the 'ouse was to make cash & stew-'arts." Very likely.

Perfect Hair

Indicates a natural and healthy condition of the scalp, and of the glands through which nourishment is obtained. When, in consequence of age and disease, the hair becomes weak, thin, and gray, Ayer's Hair Vigor will strengthen it, restore its original color, promote its rapid and vigorous growth, and impart to it the lustre and freshness of youth.

I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a long time, and am convinced of its value. When I was 17 years of age my hair began to turn gray. I commenced using the Vigor, and was surprised at the good effects it produced. It not only restored the color to my hair, but so stimulated its growth, that I have now more hair than ever before.—J. NOTICE.

To Bridge Engineers and Contractors.

THE HONORABLE THE CHIEF COMmissioner of Lands and Works hereby invites Bridge Contractors to submit plans, details, specifications, straining sheets, and tender for the construction of a Traffic Bridge, to cross the Fraser River at Lillooet, up to noon of Saturday, 29th of October next.

Required—One clear span of 300 feet in length; approach (on the west side) three spans of 54 feet each; width of roadway, 18 feet; live load, 1,000 lbs. per foot; factor of safety, 5.

False work can only be erected in winter when the river is frozen over.

The bridge site is about 55 miles from Ashcroft Station, on the Canadian Pacific Railway, with which it is connected by wagon road.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted bank cheque for $500, payable to the Honorable Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, which will be returned to unsuccessful competitors, but will be forfeited by any bidder who may decline to execute a contract if called upon to do so.

The contractor will be required to give satisfactory security, amounting to half the contract price, for the due fulfilment of the contract, and for the maintenance of the bridge for a period of six months from the date of the completion of the work.

A plan and profile of the site can be seen at the office of the undersigned.

D. ROBSON,
Manager.

Conducted to the Frontier.

A French traveller in this country last summer gave an account of a visit which he paid to Russia, to illustrate the manner in which the government of the Czar guards and preserves its power.

In 1863, Monsieur de B. (an elder brother of the narrator) spent some time in Russia, and on returning to France published an account of his travels, with some stringent comments on the condition of the lower classes. The book was, of course, prohibited in Russia, and had but a limited circulation in France. It long ago dropped out of public notice.

In 1883, just twenty years later, the younger brother of the author, in making a tour through Europe, came to St. Petersburg.

"I arrived," he said, "at night and was driven to a hotel. The next morning an officer in a gorgeous uniform called on me, and after an introduction and most ceremonious salutations, said,—

"Your name, I believe, is Monsieur de B——?"

"Yes."

"From the province of ——, in France?"

I assented.

"A kinsman, it may be," with a still more profound bow, "of Monsieur de B——, who, in 1863, published a certain volume entitled ——?" giving the name.

"He is my brother," I replied. "What of that?"

"Nothing. But I have the honor to be detailed to conduct monsieur to Memel."

"But I am not going to Memel! I am going to travel through Russia."

"Pardon," with extreme suavity, "Monsieur is going to Memel by the noon train, and these gentlemen and I will bear you company."

He opened the door; two gendarmes were in the corridor.

It was useless to resist. He accompanied me to the train, sat beside me that I might not speak to any other person, was civil, but a jailer. At Memel he took leave of me, with the utmost courtesy.

"Monsieur is now outside of Russia," he said. "A hint is sufficient to a person of your intelligence. You will probably remain there."

An Easy Cure for Sleeplessness.

I had frequently noticed that when engaged in deep thought, particulary at night, there seemed to be something like a compression of the eyelids, the upper one, especially, and the eyes themselves were apparently turned upward, as if looking in that direction. This invariably occured; and the moment that, by an effort, I arrested the course of thought, and freed the mind from the subject with which it was engaged, the eyes resumed their natural position and the compression of the lids ceased. Now, it occurred to me one night that I would not allow the eyes to turn upward, but kept them determinedly in the opposite position, as if looking down; and having done so for a short time I found that the mind did not revert to the thoughts with which it had been occupied, and I soon fell asleep. I tried the plan again, with the same result; and after an experience of two years I can truly say that, unless when something specially annoying or worrying occured, I have always been able to go to sleep very shortly after retiring to rest. There may occasionally be some difficulty in keeping the eyes in the position I have described; but a determined effort to do so is all that is required, and I am certain that if kept in the down-looking position it will be found that composure and sleep will be the result.

Philosophy for the Home.

No man cares much for puddings if he can have his beefsteak and potatoes well cooked, and he never can expect to have them well cooked unless his wife knows how to cook them; and as for shirt buttons, men don't wear them at all any more. A man likes to see a woman sewing petticoats and nobby jackets, and putting new ribbons on a hat. The idea that a woman could be expected to sew on shirt buttons never cuts any figure, and was abandoned long enough ago. Every girl should be anxious to learn plain cooking and plain sewing, not that she may devote her exclusive attention to them, but because they are in general more valuable than any other accomplishment she can learn in the same time and with the same ease.

THE running speed of express trains in England, has if a member of the London Statistical Society is to be believed, been considerably overstated heretofore by persons who ought to know. The highest running speed is that of express trains on the London and Northwestern, but it is only a trifle in excess of three-quarters of a mile per minute—or 46½ miles per hour, without allowance for stoppages. Two other British lines run express at the rate of 45 miles an hour; and the increase of speed during the last ten years has averaged from three to five miles in each hourly run.

Scrofula

Is one of the most fatal scourges which afflict mankind. It is often inherited, but may be the result of improper vaccination, mercurial poison, uncleanliness, and various other causes. Chronic Sores, Ulcers, Abscesses, Cancerous Humors, and, in some cases, Emaciation and Consumption, result from a scrofulous condition of the blood. This disease can be cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

I inherited a scrofulous condition of the blood, which caused a derangement of my whole system. After taking less than four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla I am and, for the past year, have not found it necessary to use any medicine whatever. I am now in better health, and stronger, than ever before.—O. A. Willard, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass.

I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores for five years; but, after using a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the sores healed, and I have now good health.—Elizabeth Warnock, 54 Appleton street, Lowell, Mass.

Some months ago I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores on my leg. The limb was badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy failed until I used Ayer's Sarsaparilla. By taking three bottles of this medicine the sores have been healed, and my health is restored. I am grateful for the good it has done me.—Mrs. Ann O'Brian, 158 Sullivan st., New York. tt

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition; inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA

A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.

Eno's Fruit Salts 80 cts, at Herring's Drug Store. doc11tc

The steamer Dunsmuir arrived at 2:30 from Nanaimo.

Fresh herrings have made their appearance on the market.

Ten carloads of freight went east yesterday, principally salmon and lumber.

The artillery will parade this evening. A full attendance is particularly requested.

The C. P. R. have posted a notice on their property at the railway station prohibiting thoroughfare.

The cricket match announced to come off this afternoon did not commence until after 3 o'clock and was not over as we got to press.

A beautiful fog overhung the river and adjacent flats this morning, which, according to old probs, indicates continued fine weather. Let us hope he is not mistaken.

The chess tournament, Vancouver vs. Westminster, will probably come off on Wednesday or Friday of next week in Vancouver. The exact date will be known in a day or two.

Why suffer with that aching head when you may be cured with Ayer's Cathartic Pills? Send a 2-cent stamp to Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., for a set of their attractive album cards.

The board of management of the Royal Columbian Hospital wish to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of $64:35 from Holy Trinity church, being the proceeds of last Sunday's collections.

The str. Irving arrived from Hope last evening with 20 passengers and 50 tons of hay, grain and farm produce. Her cargo up-river this morning consisted of 25 tons of general merchandise.

The str. Rithet is expected to make two more trips and will then be replaced by the str. Princess Louise. The repairs to the str. Yosemite are expected to be finished by the middle of next week.

The Indians are beginning to bring in cranberries, but as yet they are not plentiful. Many of the marshes are said to have suffered from fires during the past summer and the yield is not expected to be as heavy as usual.

Every wife and mother in the country should know the great value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, as a blood purifier. It gives tone, health and strength to the vital organs, corrects all irregularities, and expels impurities from the system. Young and old use it.

The str. Rainbow arrived last evening about 6 o'clock from Victoria after having experienced a very rough passage across the gulf. She brought 25 tons of freight and in all 30 passengers. She left for Victoria this morning at 7 o'clock, taking 10 tons of hay and 1000 boxes of salmon from Ladner's Landing.

The salmon catch took a better turn last night and the boats averaged over 50 each; some of the boats brought in as many as 70 fish. In spite of all predictions to the contrary, the run is keeping up well, and those who ought to know say the cohoes will be caught in paying numbers until the first of December.

The following extraordinary yields are reported from Ladner's Landing: At English's, from one acre and one-eighth of potatoes over 900 bushels were harvested, not counting the small potatoes, which amounted to 65 bushels. Off first crop, at Sharpe's, 58 tons of oats—3,411 bushels Canadian measure—were threshed from 20 acres of land.—Times.

A roving cow has been doing great damage lately by destroying plants and shrubs in various gardens throughout the city. Even milking the animal does not annoy it and in fact it seems to like the operation. The police should make a special effort to corral this animal at once and not allow it to be wandering at large about the streets contrary to the city by-law.

The str. R. P. Rithet arrived from Victoria last night shortly after 8 o'clock. Owing to a heavy sea on the gulf she was obliged to lie in Plumper's Pass for a couple of hours until the the wind went down. Among her passengers were Mr. and Mrs. Hardman, Sister St. Ann, W. Kelly, S. Clay, R. Wilkinson, E. Wilkinson, John Pollard and W. Wiseman. About 100 tons of freight were brought over, most of it for local points. On the return trip this morning the Rithet took a large number of passengers and 250 tons of freight, which is one of the largest cargoes taken over this season.

Corns cause intolerable pain. Holloway's Corn Cure removes the trouble. Try it and see what an amount of pain is saved.

Memorial Services.

Rev. Mr. Lennie will preach a mission sermon in the Baptist Church to-morrow morning. In the evening a memorial service in connection with the death of Senator McMaster of Toronto will be be held. A collection for missions will be taken up at both services

City Lots.

The sale of city lots will take place this evening at the Colonial. Anyone on the lookout for a good investment, or wishing to buy land for building a home on, should not fail to be present. These lots will pay a handsome profit within the year.

Fire at Victoria.

Two fires occurred at Victoria yesterday. In the afternoon the Gordon Hotel, on Johnson st., was burned with nearly all its contents; and at 9:30 p. m. Mrs. Morris' boot and shoe store, adjoining the Grand Pacific Hotel, was burnt. The loss in both cases was considerable.

New Trial Refused.

The application for a new trial in the case of Judge Walkem vs. Higgins, for libel, has been refused by the court. It will be remembered that the jury gave Judge Walkem $2,500 damages, which the defendant considered excessive under the circumstances. It is said an appeal will be taken to the supreme court of Canada.

The Tribal War.

Acting on the principle that prevention is better than cure, Supt. Roycraft took such measures as were deemed neccessary to protect the Simpson Indians from being attacked by the Salmon tribe which was supposed to be awaiting them at Seymour Narrows, as stated in yesterday's COLUMBIAN The Indians are to be accompanied by an armed escort until the point of supposed danger has been passed.

Salmon Shipments.

The steamer Western Slope is being put into repair for the purpose of transporting salmon from the various canneries along the river to Victoria. In all about 25,000 cases will be taken over, which will form part of the cargo of a vessel about to commence loading for London, Eng. The Western Slope will only make three or four trips and will then be replaced by the str. Rithet when the str. Louise goes on this route again.

Puck Opera Co.

The very large and respectable audience which welcomed the Puck Comic Opera company in the Calgary Theatre last night were mightilly pleased with the entertainment. The company is by all odds the best that has visited Calgary; their performances are as springhtly and pleasing as one could desire. They are artists, every one, and thoroughly understand their business. "Fun on Shipboard" is a conglomeration of burlesque, comedy, opera and tragedy, and consequently pleases every taste.—Herald.

Incorrect as Usual.

The Guardian this morning announces that freight arrivals per C.P.R. have been light for the past few days. Our cotemporary is mistaken as usual, but if he had paid as much attention to our railway items as to our general news when making up his local column, the mistake would not have occurred. Instead of being light this week, the arrivals of freight have been very heavy, and when the returns are made out they will be found to be almost equal to any previous week, and fully double those of last week.

Close Season.

The close season for trout commenced on October first and will continue until December thirty-first. The close season for trout is the same in this province as in other parts of the Dominion; this is a mistake, for the trout are at their very best during the time fishing is prohibited. It is not until after the middle of January they commence to grow bad, and under the present law they spawn during the open season. We understand an effort will be made to have the close season changed, as it is utterly useless at present for the purpose intended.

Homeward Bound.

The Indians, who have been working for the canneries all summer, are being paid off and are returning to their villages up the coast. Their wages have averaged $2.25 per day since the season opened, the greater part of which has been spent in this city in purchasing supplies and clothing for the winter. Several canoe loads of these Siwashes left for the northern coast and the island to-day, in every case loaded to the water's edge with almost every conceivable kind of merchandise. The Indians are all well pleased with their season's work and are returning home in the best of spirits. They will spend the winter in hunting and trapping, which in some cases is almost as profitable as salmon fishing.

Highly Approved.

No article that has appeared in the COLUMBIAN for a long time seems to have met with such general favor and commendation as the one relating to the council's resolution of thanks to the Victoria "champion" of Westminster's rights. We have received many expressions of approval, and some of them have come from very unexpected quarters. The action of the council in this matter, so far as we have been able to ascertain public opinion, is universally condemned, and many people are puzzled to find an explanation of the singular eccentricity of a body of citizens whose acts are usually governed by common sense.

The Stevenson Ledge.

Mr. C. G. Ballantyne, of Victoria, arrived down from Hope last evening on the steamer Irving. He has just came over the mountains from Granite Creek, where for some time he has been looking after his interets in the Stevenson ledge of which he owns the northern extension. Mr. Ballantyne states most emphatically that the Stevenson ledge has been found, and it is equal to all that was expected of it. He brings with him 600 lbs. of very fine ore which will be sent to San Francisco to be melted. The ore was not chosen for it richness, but is a fair sample of the ledge. Mr. Ballantyne describes the ledge as 3 ft 6 in. wide and easy for working. As to the richness of the ore no one seems to have the slightest doubt, and if present prospects hold out, the owners of the ledge have a bonanza.

The superiority of Mother Graves Worm Exterminator is shown by its good effects on the children. Purchase a bottle and give it a trial.

Fishermen report the salmon run a failure in Boundary Bay this season.

Rev. Wm. Bell's residence, Surrey centre, is undergoing various repairs.

Our farmers generally are taking advantage of the late rains to commence ploughing. If the energy of their start is any criterion as to the amount of ground that will be turned over for an ensuing crop, I should say there will be a large acreage sown next year.

Mr. Wm. Boyd Hill, Cobourg, writes: "Having used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for some years, I have much pleasure in testifying to its efficacy in relieving pains in the back and shoulders. I have also used it in cases of croup in children, and have found it to be all that you claim it to be."

DUBLIN EXCITED.

DUBLIN, Oct. 14.—All Dublin is astounded at the announcement that Valentine Hinds has been appointed a commissioner by the government. Hinds was bailiff of the estates of Lord Lansdowne at Luggarcurran. He managed the recent eviction from that estate, in which eighty tenants were ousted from their holdings, and it was upon his advice that Lord Lansdowne refused to allow the reduction of 15 per cent. demanded by the tenants.

BOUND FOR AULD SCOTIA.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Scottish cutter Thistle started for home this morning. It was 6 o'clock when the crew began to make preparations for departure, and at 6:35 the anchor was weighed. The yacht was under way from her original anchorage off Tompkinsville, Staten Island. It was in no manner a joyous leaving, except that the weather was perfect. The atmosphere was clear and bracing, and a twenty-mile-an-hour breeze was blowing from the north-west. There were few yachts or spectators about the scene, and little in the way of a "send-off" was given to the defeated cutter. As the yacht filled away on the port tack and began her run down the bay, the colors on the Corinthian Yacht Club house were dipped, salutes were fired on the steamyacht Hinda and sloop Vision, and two or three of the dozen watermen on shore waved their hats. It was under such auspices, and accompanied by Mr. William Clark's big steamyacht Mohican, that the Thistle left American shores. She recognized the attempted show of good feeling, however, by a parting salute as she went under full way. The cutter ran along before the fresh breeze in her jury rig at a lively pace, and and passed Sandy Hook at 7:50 a. m. Before leaving, Capt. Barr said he hoped to make the run across the Atlantic in 16 days, as he believed he would carry the north-west wind all the way over.

FACES AS YELLOW as that of the "Heathen Chinee," in consequence of bile in the blood, grow fair and wholesome-looking again when Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and great blood purifier is used to relax constipated bowels and expel the bilious poison from the circulation. Rheumatic and blood impurities are also driven out by it, digestion restored, and the system benefited in every way by its use:
