Wednesday Evening, Sept. 14, 1887.

The Cariboo Mines.

Mr. J. R. Park, of Park & Morton, Kamloops, who just returned from a visit to the Cariboo mines, called at the Sentinel office and related what he saw as follows:—When he was at Barkerville he visited the B. C. Mining Co's works on Louhee Creek, and there met Mr. Craib, one of the shareholders, who took him over the workings. There were about 20 men at work tunnelling and building. The main shaft of the mine is 7 feet 6 in, by 5 feet, substantialy timbered, lagged, and posted—the timber being hewed and placed in a workmanlike manner and very secure. At a depth of 120 feet there is a chamber cut out the whole width of the ledge, showing a distance between well defined walls of 25 feet with a body of apparently first-class milling ore in creasing in richness as it runs westward, or towards the direction of what is known as the American tunnel which is being run a distance of 600 feet in order to lap the ledge, which will then be 1,360 feet from the present workings in Cariboo shaft. It is the intention of the company to run a level from that point and make a connection with the Cariboo works—thereby creating an air-chamber the whole distance of 1,360 feet; and, moreover, in so doing a body of ore will be developed that can be extracted at little expense, and of sufficient quantity to supply a 50-stamp mill for the next 50 years without deeper sinking. The company has a large quantity of machinery in store; and with a few more modern appliances they will have a mill capable of turning out gold to the value of $45 to 50 per ton on the average of the whole rock. The superintendent is very sanguine as to results; and he is a thorough master of his business, as is evidenced by by the appearance of the works under his charge. The Island Mountain mines were next visited, where Mr. Walker, a shareholder of the company, and Mr. Champion, superintendent of the works, were met. These workings are being pushed on with much energy, and the company has now 622 feet of tunnelling which exposes the ledge at different elevations, showing in every place a well-defined ledge containing large quantities of mineral; und the rock already extracted is of free milling quality. Upon examination of the several tunnels Mr. Park was surprised to see how easily the ore could be crushed. He could pulverize it with his fingers, and separate the sulphurets from the quartz readily. The form of the particles, as a rule, were squares varying from ⅛ to ¼ inch; and frequently came large bodies of croppings containing a great deal of oxide of iron carrying considerable quantities of free gold. To satisfy Mr. Park's curiosity, Mr. Walker and Mr. Champion took some of the samples which where brought from the different places, and by the simple aid of a common mortar pulverized them; and after washing the powdered ore in a horn, the gold was freely visible to the naked eye. The quality is 965 fine—1,000 being chemically pure. The location of this company's works is very favorably and pleasantly situated on the Jack of Clubs Lake—a sheet of water well-kdown to old miners of the district. From the mill-site to the apex of the hill is about 800 feet. The superintendent stated that he intends to construct a double tramway to convey the ore from the tunnels to the mill, on the principle that the full truck coming down will raise the empty one up. The company have all the necessary machinery on the ground for the mill, and have a large force of men framing and building; and also placing the the machinery, which they expect to have running in about six weeks. One of the chief shareholders of this mine is Mr. Dunlevy, of Soda Creek—well known for his enterprise in that part of the country. As an offset to the high wages paid to miners in Cariboo district, there is a plentful supply of timber of the useful kinds for mining purposes. Mr. Mason is also erecting a saw mill near Mr. Dunlevy's mine, which, when finished will be an additional convenience of much value in the supply of suitable timber and lumber.—Kamloops Sentinel.

New York State Elections.—The Chicago Anarchists to Hang in November.—Changes in the French Ministry.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

TOO MUCH LIKE WORK.

MADISON, Sept. 13.—Commander-in-Chief Fairchild states that he is not a candidate for re-election at the coming meeting of the G. A. R. Gen. Fairchild says he cannot afford to devote another year to duties as commander-in-chief, which are such as to consume all his time to the entire exclusion of his private business.

SOME OTHER WOMAN.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 13.—The woman arrested at Jersey City on Saturday night on account of her story of the Ford children kidnapping case, is not Mrs. Brooks of Tuscola county, who recently created so much talk by her adventures in Colorado and California. Mrs. Brooks is now at Cairo in this state.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—Joseph Furbush, teamster, was instantly killed this morning while at work. Furbush was driving through the lumber yard when he fell from his seat on the wagon and the wheels passed over him, crushing him to death.

WILL HANG SOON.

OTTAWA, Ill., Sept. 13.—The condemned anarchists will be relieved from suspense before many hours in all probability, and the anxiously awaited decision will be handed down at the opening of the supreme court to-day. If, however, for reasons which may seem sufficient to the justices it is withheld, it will see light on Wednesday. The under law court is compelled to make an oral announcement of the decision reached, and if the verdict of the court below is affirmed the day of execution will be set at the same time. There are no attorneys here in behalf of the prisioners to file a motion for rehearing in event of adverse decision. This step, however, if taken, would fail to act as a bar to carry out the sentence unless a reprieve was granted by the governor.

THE EX-AMEER NEAR HERAT.

BOMBAY, Sept. 13.—Advices from the frontier report that Ayoub Khan, the pretender to the Afghan throne, with all his followers, has arrived in the valley of Herat, and are near the city.

ENGLISHMEN JOINING THE LEAGUE.

DUBLIN, Sept. 13.—A number of Englishmen were nominated for membership in the National League to-day. Among them are Labouchere, Brunner and Lecky, all members of parliament.

THE BREWERS AFTER POWDERLY.

DETROIT, Sept. 13.—The national journeymen brewers convention at their session to-day, introduced a set of resolutions severely scoring Powderly and the general executive of the K. of L. The resolutions were unanimously adopted. They recite that as General Master Workman Powderly has recently proved himself opposed to the sale of intoxicating beverages, that as the constitution of the K. of L. prohibits the admission of organizations whose members are identified with the manufacture or sale of intoxicants, and that as the order of K. of L. refused assistance to them in their struggle against capital; the national association of united brewing employees condemn the action of the General Master Workman Powderly as detrimental to our emancipation, and should we enter politics we shall support for office only such candidates, regardless of party, as shall openly declare themselves opposed to prohibition.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

HARD ON BEER DRINKERS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—There will be a strike on Thursday of the men in all ale and porter breweries in this city and Brooklyn, unless the bosses renew the agreement made with ale and porter employees association in June, 1886. This will mean a total suspension of brewery business. The agreement provides that head men in all departments shall be paid $18 a week, head stablemen $16, route drivers $18, other drivers $15, drivers' assistants $12, all inside men $12, stablemen $12. Ten hours for week days and five hours on Sunday were fixed as maximum hours.

WILL DINE THE CHINESE ENVOYS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The Chinese minister and envoys who accompanied Mitkiewitz from China are going on Wednesday to Philadelphia, upon the count's invitation, where they expect to meet at dinner Wharton Barker and other Philadelphia capitalists who are going to invest money in the Chinese concessions. Mitkiewitz was asked to-day if he had any reply to make to the despatch said to have been sent by the Warsaw chief of police, stating no one named Mitkietwitz has been born there. "It is absurd," said the count, "on its face. Any man acquainted with Russian or Polish affairs will pronounce it bogus. In Poland no language except Russian is spoken now or permitted to be spoken. This despatch is published in Polish. It is nothing but forgery."

A MODEST DOCTOR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Dr. Charles E. Simmons, who attended Samuel J. Tilden in his last illness, yesterday presented his bill for $143,000.

BIDDING FOR POPULARITY.

DUBLIN, Sept. 14.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Irish National League yesterday Henry Labouchere, Cashel Wright, J. T. Brunner and Robert Lake, all English and members of parliament, were elected members of the National League.

Mr. O'Brien, member of parliament, is still in Cork jail, and will be brought before the magistrates at Mitchellstown on the 23rd inst. In an interview in prison he has declared he will not perform prison labor of any kind, nor under any circumstances submit to associate with criminals.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.

DUBLIN, Sept. 14.—In connection with the moonlight affray at Lisdoonvarna on Sunday night in which head Constable Whalcham lost his life, nine men are in custody. It is alleged that the leader of the raid is the informer. At Ballypore, in county Cork, there has been an affray between policemen and civilians in which one of the former fired two shots from a revolver but hit no person. Great preparations are in progress in Dublin for the reception and entertainment of an influential deputation from the Home Rulers of Great Britain. They will be present at a meeting in the round room of the rotunda on Wednesday evening, and on Thursday evening will be guests of the lord mayor at the Mansion house.

LEARNING HINDUSTAN.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A true bill for perjury has been found by the Middlesex grand jury against Constable Endicott, who arrested Miss Cass.

It is announced that the Queen is not writing a book as has been rumored but she is learning Hindustani.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

MINERS ON STRIKE.

WASHINGTON, Mo., Sept. 14.—This morning 500 miners employed by Cabel & Co., struck for an advance of 10 per cent. A long strike is expected.

WILL HANG IN NOVEMBER.

OTTAWA Ills. Sept. 14.—The Supreme court this morning delivered an opinion in the Anarchist cases affirming judgement of court below. Execution set to take place in November 11th between nine and four o'clock. The opinion was unanimous. It was written by Judge Magruder, of the Chicago district, and is an able exposition of law and the previous interpretation thereof by eminent jurists in this country as well as of courts in regard to the alleged and perhaps real errors in this regard. In his work he was helped by each of the other six judges, who made him their spokesman and through him expressed their unanimous decision. The opinion covers 225 pages of closely written manuscript and contains about 56,000 words. The anarchist Spies received a telegram announcing the decision. On its receipt the anarchist editor glanced frowningly at the turnkey and then withdrew to the darker end of the cell. In two minutes or so he called gently to an old man, who sits outside the door as death watch, and asked him to hand the telegram sheet to Parsons. From him it went to all the others and at last reached Neebe, who is under sentence of imprisonment only.

THE COMING ELECTIONS.

SARATOGA, N.Y., Sept. 14.—The ticket favored at a meeting of Republicans last night was as follows: Secretary of state, Fred. D. Grant, New York; comptroller, Jessie L. Ameraux, Saratoga; state treasurer, James H. Carmichael, Erie; state engineer, Perry H. Cornell, Tompkins. Promptly at noon 693 delegates met in the Casino Rink. Hon. Seth Low at once assumed temporary chairmanship, at the same time beginning an address to the convention.

WILL ARRIVE TOO LATE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Some dissatisfaction is expressed at the navy department over the slow progress of United States steamship Thetis towards Alaska. The vessel sailed several months ago from Portsmouth, Virginia, and should have been at her destination by this date if she equalled the trip of the Bear, which is a slower vessel. When last heard from the Thetis was at Callao, Peru, and it is extremely doubtful if she can reach Alaska, where she is to assist in protecting sealeries, before the winter closes in.

CHANGES IN THE FRENCH MINISTRY.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—It is rumored changes are about to be made in the French ministry. M. Rouvier, who meets with difficulty in the financial situation, is said to be desirous of resigning.

A YOUNG RASCAL.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., Sept. 14.—E. C. Gassaway, clerk in Wells, Fargo & Co's. office, in this city, who was found on the floor on the 29th last month, apparently unconscious, with safe open and $615 missing, has confessed that he was feigning unconsciousness and that he took the money. He is also $50 short in his book accounts. Detective J. B. Hume has been working on the case and secured the confession in San Francisco on Tuesday. Gassaway is only 22 years old and has hitherto been considered an exemplary young man.

SENTENCED TO EIGHT YEARS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Fow Ah Fan, a Chinaman, who pleaded guilty to manslaughter on Monday, was sentenced to eight years imprisonment in Folsom state prison to-day.

Geo. Dodge, sr., a well-known citizen of Emporium, writes that one of his men (Sam Lewis) whilst working in the woods so severely sprained his ankle that he could scarcely get home, but after one or two applications of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil he was able to go to work next day.

Daily British Columbian

Wednesday Evening, Sept. 14, 1887.

Frenchmen are always ether very happy or very miserable. Just now they are in the seventh heaven of delight because of the grand success of the mobilization experiment, and they profess to fear no foe that may meditate measuring swords with them. That the experiment was a great success seems beyond question. Everything, the despatches said, went off without a hitch. Of course the whole affair was previously arranged, and every officer and soldier had probably rehearsed his part until he could go through it perfectly. A holiday parade is something very different from a forced reality in which one can never foresee the obstacles that may have to be overcome. But even a successful review of a large force is an important ovent, and may be taken as a proof of efficient training for the more serious responsibilities of war. The Frenchmen have reason to congratulate themselves, therefore, but there is nothing in the event to justify the very extraordinary effusiveness of their delight. The French army is undoubtedly in a state of considerable efficiency, but modern conflicts are of such a kind that no one can predict with safety what the result of a campaign will be.

The Thistle seems to have become a very considerable thorn in the side of New York yachtsmen and the sporting fraternity. They have been making desperate efforts to obtain information respecting her model and her racing qualities, but with very little success. The builders of the yacht refuse absolutely to give any one the dimensions or design of the craft, or to state the amount of canvas she carries. Not long ago a diver was employed to get under the Thistle for the purpose of measuring her and ascertaining her lines, and the result of his investigations has been made public; but the owner of the yacht says that it would be quite impossible for any person to obtain an accurate idea of the model from such observations. It is quite certain that sporting people are afraid of the Thistle, because the only thing known of her is that she is very fast, but just how fast they cannot tell. She has been over the course, but it is well known that her commander did not permit her to do her best, and there is really very little upon which one could form an intelligent opinion as to her possible speed. With this quality of impenetrable uncertainty surrounding it, the coming international yacht race promises to be one of the most interesting and exciting events of the season. Hitherto the Americans have had no trouble in keeping the challenge cup among themselves, and in former races there seemed to be a general feeling of security. But the Thistle is a mystery, and her movements are watched with remarkable eagerness by every one who takes an interest in yacht racing. If she succeeds in carrying away the cup, it may be the beginning of a revolution in the building of yachts.

We shall not weary our readers by any lengthy reply to the column of special pleading which appears in the last issue of the Vancouver Herald relating to disallowance. Our cotemporary asks for proof that the people of Manitoba were deceived with respect to the government's intention at last election. The proof is to be found in the fact that the people themselves admitted they had been deceived, and the press of Winnipeg some months ago reproduced statements made by candidates and others supposed to be in government confidence by means of which the deception was accomplished. But, our cotemporary says, although the candidates and their friends may have made statements to the effect that the disallowance policy would be discontinued, the government could not be held responsible. Well, who said it could? We never held the government responsible for this deception; but we stated that pledged supporters of the government secured election by deceiving the electors with respect to the government's intention, and that they do not represent the feeling of their constituents in the question of disallowance. Our cotemporary is very much disturbed because we quote the Toronto Mail as an authority, and declares that "it has gone back upon all its previous record." There is a good deal of truth in this, but is it necessarily discreditable to the Mail, or a proof of dishonesty? We think not. Formerly the Mail was recognized as the organ of the Conservative party. It voluntarily surrendered all the patronage and other advantages implied in this relationship and took an independent stand on all public questions. If its opinions when released from party alliances conflict with the opinions it proclaimed as a party organ, is it not probable that the independent opinion is the honest opinion and very much more worthy of acceptance? There is no proof that the Mail's independence is not the result of honest conviction. Indeed we have reason to believe that it is, and we are free to confess our admiration for its outspoken, fearless, and able condemnation of public wrong doing, no matter whether its blows fall upon Grit or Tory. We wish our Vancouver cotemporary had a little more of the Mail's independent spirit.

NOTICE

To Bridge Engineers and Contractors.

THE HONORABLE THE CHIEF COMMissioner of Lands and Works hereby invites Bridge Contractors to submit plans, details, specifications, straining sheets, and tender for the construction of a Traffic Bridge, to cross the Fraser River at Lillooet, up to noon of Saturday, 29th of October next.

Required—One clear span of 300 feet in length; approach (on the west side) three spans of 54 feet each; width of roadway, 18 feet; live load, 1,000 lbs. per foot; factor of safety, 5.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted bank cheque for $500, payable to the Honorable Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, which will be returned to unsuccessful competitors, but will be forfeited by any bidder who may decline to execute a contract if called upon to do so.

The contractor will be required to give satisfactory security, amounting to half the contract price, for the due fulfilment of the contract, and for the maintenance of the bridge for a period of six months from the date of the completion of the work.

QUEER TALES ABOUT PLACING AND SELLING MINES.

Old Tom John's Exploits—Claims Located Under Perpetual Snows — How People Have Been Led to Invest in "Holes in the Ground."

The ride from Kansas City to Denver is the dullest, dustiest, hottest and most tiresome, in the summer months, that it is possible to imagine. The distance is 639 miles by the Union Pacific, and civilization is strung out so thinly and at such wide intervals that the trip has a desert flavor, and with the thermometer ranging from 90 to 100 degs., and with the cars crowded to the last platform of the train, there is little comfort and less enjoyment in it than in anything else that I know of. But the journey was, to an appreciable degree, enlivened by some stories told by men concerned in one way or another with Colorado mining. They will of course have no effect upon legitimate trading in mines, which is carried on to such a large extent in St. Louis, but they will serve as pleasant illustrations of the reckless and extravagant ways in which many people have been led to invest in "holes in the ground," without giving the subject any consideration whatever, or allowing their discretion to guide them, as they would in other business ventures. The cause of this rash and impetuous dash for fortune is thoroughly appreciated by the genuine westerner, who keeps cool and resists impulse under the most shining or trying circumstances.

"You are from St. Louis, are you?" a gentleman asked, who is superintendent of a prosperous mine near Georgetown. "Well, you came from a great mine market, and your citizens own some very fine properties. They tell me it's as easy to place a mine in St. Louis as it is to catch the cholera in Constantinople when an epidemic is flourishing there. All a man has got to do is to land in the town with a map of a prairie dog hole, or some kind of two days old excavation, and go around with a subscription paper, and he starts out early in the morning he can have his document full of names and his pockets full of money before night."

"You have heard of old Tom Johns?" another westerner broke in. "What! not heard of Tom Johns—the old fellow that played the specimen trick on Anna Dickinson when Commodore Decatur was showing her over the mountains, near Georgetown? Well, I'll tell you. Tom Johns took the St. Louis and Boston folks in good style, and has made more money selling mines, which nobody has ever seen or heard of, than any man in western history. He sold a mine in St. Louis for $100,000 that paid $24,000 dividends in two years. He paid the dividends himself, and when he got tired of paying them he just quit, and I believe the owners of that mine have been looking for it ever since. I don't suppose old Tom himself knew where it was—or cared either.

"He broke one family in Boston, Tom did, and got $300,000 out of a syndicate at the Hub that were the worst fooled lot of money bags that ever struck Colorado. This syndicate, or it maybe only a delegation of them, came west to see the mine in which they had paid their money, and of which Tom gave them an account ten times more glowing than the Book of Revelations. When Tom got word that they were en route he was not worried in the least. He hired a big house up in the mountains just beyond Georgetown, some kind of a hotel, I think it was, and he got servants and groceries and champagne, and made all necessary arrangements to furnish first class entertainment. He met them at Denver and escorted them the rest of the way. The party were tired, and they stood the entertaining for three or four days; at the end of that time they wanted to see their $200,000 mine. Old Tom took them out a piece and up a bit, and pointing to a row of stakes driven in the snow, said:

"'There she is, gentlemen. Right under them stakes, which I have had put there by a surveyor, just over my stakes in the ground, is your mine. You can't see it now because the snow's on it, but when the snow goes she'll be all hunky, and you can bet it's a bonanza.'

"That's all the Boston syndicate ever saw of their mine, which was located on Gothic Peak, I think. Those stakes in the snow cost them $300,000."

"Talking about snow investments," said a mining expert who was in the party, "did you ever hear of the man who ran a 200-foot tunnel into a snow bank? No? Well, this man who was some kind of an engineer, and some Eastern people who had bought a mine engaged him to run a tunnel for them, and he did it—he ran it through 200 feet of snow and got paid for it, and when the snow melted and the greenhorns went out to look for their tunnel it had been dissipated by the sun and was skirmishing down towards the basin of the Mississipi valley by way of the Arkansas river."

Then another story was told about a young man who belonged to an Illinois syndicate that purchased a mine in some part of the mountains and came out to look at it. This was two summers ago. Somebody helped him to locate the claim, and they found it under a mass of snow. "How can we get at it?" he asked.

"And when will the snow melt?"

"Don't know."

He waited all that summer, and the snow was still there, when he packed his grip and started back for the sucker state. The following summer he tried it again, but the snow was there still. He has not been around yet this summer, but he's expected.

At Nevada City 1,000 pounds of ore were sold a short time ago for $8,000. It was identified as the product of the Eberhard mine, near White Pines, and there was a great deal of curiosity to learn how it had been carried out of the mine. The story was obtained in some way, and this is it: A Cornish miner employed in the Eberhard had his dinner bucket made with a false bottom, into which he put a specimen every day, carrying it away safely to a cabin which he shared with another Cornish man who worked on the night shaft. As his partner was absent when he was present, he had no trouble in secreting the ore, placing it each night under the floor of the cabin and keeping its presence and whereabouts a secret. The morning he informed his partner that he was going to quit the Eberhard and leave the country. The partner must have been suspicious, for he only waited for the ore thief to get out of sight, when he tore up the cabin floor, and, borrowing a horse and wagon, loaded up the 1,000 pounds of stuff, and driving to Nevada City, sold it. He then disappeared, and the original thief never got a cent for his share of the plunder.

Two of a Kind.

He: "You are the only college girl I ever liked."

She: "Why, how so?"

He: "Oh, the others all know so much."—[Life.

AS HE HAD LIVED.

Day has finally broken, and there is a reddening of the eastern sky. The faint flushes deepen, the purple fades to gold, the gold turns to fire and the topmost rim of the sun rises from the plain and burnishes the crags and peaks of the Powder River Mountains as if preparing them for temples of worship.

Five minutes later and a great continent is beamed upon by the full sun of a glorious morning in Indian Summer.

You have seen a grand old horse—almost blind—almost ready to die from old age, rise from his grassy bed of a summer morning? The morn seemed to put new life into him. There is fire in his eyes as he flings his head about and sniffs at the sunshine, and for the moment he is young and strong again.

So on this morn, from his camp in the foot-hills, rises a grand old man, and, as he draws himself up to his full height and faces the glorious east, his eyes grow bright, his muscles quiver, and the strength comes back to every limb. But it is not for long. The sun is scarcely a foot above the plain when the tall form stops, the limbs begin to weaken, and the fire dies out of the eyes and is replaced by a dull stare.

It is the wreck of a man—a mighty hunter and fighter. These plains and mountains and valleys have been his home for a score of years. Face—chest—limbs—every-where about him, are scars of wounds dealt by savage or beast. The going down of the sun has found him alone; the dawn of day has found him solitary. Break a man's heart and he turns from the world and hates vice and virtue alike.

He is old and his strength has waned. Death has been long in coming, but it has drawn night at last. The chill of death drives some men back to the world, to die with tender hands about them. Others defy the grim monster to the last, and they die alone, unwept, uncared for.

"It is my last day on earth!" So says the grand old man as he slowly turns on his heel to look about him. The vision that could once discern a moving buffalo half a score of miles away can now scarcely make out the ragged trees across the little valley. The arms which could have once lifted the most powerful warrior high in air for a dash to death, can now scarcely bring the rifle to an aim. He has run his race and his time has come.

The sun climbs up and up, and the day bursts forth into full strength. The mountains stand out with such ruggedness and grandness as never before. The valleys and hillsides never held the sunshine as to-day. Nature is to give the old man a grand funeral.

And the sun climbs higher, and it is midday.

And how should he die—one whose summers and winters—whose months and years—have been passed in the sunshine of the sterile plains—in the shadows of the rugged mountains—with the growl of the grizzly and the shout of the red warrior in his ears? In the dramas of the stage men die as they have lived; why not in real life?

The old man is ready. Rifle in hand—his grizzly locks half hidden by his fur cap—his strength coming back as if he had been born again, he seats himself upon a great rock and scans the winding valley at his feet. God gives him back his sight once more, and no creeping thing escapes his vision. To the right all is well. To the left—wait He half rises for a better look.

Have they got the word that to-day is the old man's last day on earth, and are they to sit in front and applaud as the curtain goes down? It is well. That long rifle has sent more than one warrior to his death. That great frame, now so rapidly wasting, bears the scar of bullet and tomahawk and knife.

A dozen warriors—a war party bent on rapine and murder—come galloping swiftly up the valley. The old fighter grows young in years as he watches the advance. The thrill of excitement brought the blood to his cheek—the whisper of danger strings every nerve. Fate has been kind to him; as he has lived so shall he die. Would you have the hero of a score of battles die in his bed, alone and unseen, or in front of his foes, fighting gallantly to the last, and his death applauded even by those who slew him?

Ah! they have caught sight of him. The gaunt figure outlined against the sky is a familiar one. It has been feared for its strength, hated for the destruction it has wrought. Escape is cut off to the right—to the left—in front. The background is rugged hillside, on which the warriors are more at home than the hunter. And so shouts of defiance and exultation fill the air as the warriors dismount and advance.

Make ready now! The drama of life is near its close. The life and strength which excitement brought are beginning to die away. Their shouts come faintly to his ear; there is a blur before his eyes; the hands which hold the rifle tremble with weakness. Death is sweeping up from the valley in its war plumes—death is creeping down from the hillside with swift step but invisible form.

And now the shouts of the warriors are nearer and louder, and their rifles are blazing death at the hunter, and he turns his face to heaven and pleads:

They are given him—his eyes clear—his form grows erect—he is the grand old fighter once more. Up comes the rifle—up—up—his eye covers the sights—the weapon is held as firm as a rock, and when the red flame leaps out a chief flings up his arms and utters his death cry.

The drama has ended and the curtain has gone down. The warriors creep nearer and nearer. They wonder and are mystified. They finally reach the rock to find the old man lying dead, his face upturned to the sun, whose rising will see him no more. There is no blood—no wound. They gather about him like children about a mystery, and they whisper to each other:

"It was not for us to slay him. The Great Spirit gave him his life, and the Great Spirit took it away!"—M. Quad.

It appears from the census that the average value of farm land in the United States is about $27 per acre. Every five-cent drink of liquor represents nine square yards of land of average quality; and a man taking three glasses a day swallows the value of a square acre of land every six months. A man who spends ten cents a day for beer would have at the end of ten years twenty-seven empty barrels to show for it; while another saving up the same daily sum would have at the end of the ten years enough to buy a comfortable home, to say nothing of the difference in the health and the intellectual and moral character of the men resulting from their different habits.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE
"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practically impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette
The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO, CANADA
A HOME COMPANY.
This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—
The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.
It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.
Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.
Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.
Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.
Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.
Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.
Liberal Conditions as to Residence and Travel.

Daily British Columbian

Wednesday Evening, Sept. 14, 1887.

The police court showed a clean sheet this morning.

Judge—The prisoner is discharged. Prisoner—Well, begorra, I didn't know Oi was loaded!—Burlington Free Press.

dse13t5

Attention is called to the advertisement of Messrs. Henderson Bros. in another column relating to the provincial exhibition.

The str. Gladys left for Hope this morning. She had on board 10,000 ft. of lumber for the Hot Springs and a small general freight cargo.

Two carloads of brick arrived last night for Beckett & Co., contractors, who will use them on the brick block being erected for the Douglas estate.

Granulated sugar is quoted in England at a little less than 3½ cts. per pound. In Canada it can't be bought under 7½. So much for the National Policy.

The steamer Irving went down to the Richmond cannery this afternoon to bring up 2000 cases of salmon for transportation east via Canadian Pacific Railway.

The R. B. George Co. will be glad to meet all members of the convention in the basement of the Methodist church on Wednesday evening, Sept. 14th. Bring your books.

The salmon run was poor again last night, the average to each boat being very small. Among the other fish brought in by the boats are often mountain and salmon trout.

The Royal City planing mills are turning out 70,000 feet of rough and finished lumber every day. A full staff of workmen one employed and the mills are run to their full capacity.

The str. Rithet arrived this afternoon at 4:20 o'clock from Victoria with 21 passengers and 168 tons of freight. This is the fastest trip made by the Rithet during the present season.

The wizard Oil company have got the better of the Vancouver authorities by holding their concerts on the city wharf which, being outside of the city limits, exempts them from the civic license.

The Colonist says there are myriads of little fish in British Columbia waters which are said to be as good as sardines, and it proposes that some one should can a few of them as an experiment. The suggestion is an excellent one.

The Guardian this morning has an article on the manikin, written by Mr. Kelly, which is a positive disgrace to it and its writer. No person of refined feelings would have written such an article, and no respectable journal would have published it.

The railway statistics of the Dominion for the fiscal year 1885-86 have just been issued. They show an increase of 548 miles of line in operation over 1885, and a total profit of over $9,000,000. During the year 144 persons were killed and 89 injured.

The I. O. G. T. picnic yesterday to the North Arm was not very largely attended owning to the disagreeable state of weather that existed during the earlier part of the day. Those who did attend all join in saying the day was most pleasantly spent.

A tug of war practise was held on Front street last night between the Westminster portion of Geo. Black's team and some others who are good on the tug. The contest comes off on Saturday at Hastings and is creating much interest and considerable betting along the inlet.

The str. William Irving arrived down from Hope and intermediate ports at 1 o'clock this afternoon, bringing 30 tons of farm produce and 20 passengers. Consignees: W. H. D. Jones, W. H. Ritchie, W. B. Secombe, P. Billadoux, Holbrook, B. S. M. Co., W. R. Lewis, C. G. Major, A. J. Stewart, W. Templeton, J. Rosseau, G. Warnock, R. Dickinson, C. P. N. Co.

Much distress and sickness in children is caused by worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator gives relief by removing the cause. Give it a trial and be convinced.

A FAST TRIP.—The steamer Rainbow, which arrived in port yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, made the run from Victoria in 7 hours 20 minutes, including landings. This is remarkably fast time for a steamer of her class.

PLATE GLASS.—A large consignment of plate glass was received yesterday by the R. C. planing mills Co. via C. P. R. which will be used in the large brick blocks now under construction. This is said to be the first plate glass introduced into Westminster.

THE WEEKLY.—This morning the WEEKLY COLUMBIAN was issued. It is an eight-page paper, containing 48 columns of matter, and in point of appearance and circulation it will suffer nothing in comparison with any paper published in British Columbia. Copies may be had at this office for 10 cts. each.

WESTMINSTER VS. VANCOUVER.—The Westminster cricket club has challenged the Vancouver club to play a match in this city on Saturday next, and the challenge has been accepted. It would be well for our club to take advantage of every possible chance for practice between now and the day of the match, as the Vancouver club is in excellent practice, and many of the eleven rank among the best players in the province. If Westminster expects to win, much hard practice will be necessary.

VEDDER CREEK BRIDGE.—Mr. J. C. Henderson informs us that the contract for Vedder Creek bridge was let some months ago and a great part of the work had been done when the water swept the whole business away, pile driver and all. The contractor has been for sometime on a new bridge. If this is not completed in time for the exibition, arrangements have been made to put on a scow ferry so that no person need worry about not being able to reach the fair. This explanation seems sufficient to meet the complaints we have received respecting Vedder Creek Bridge.

MILL IMPROVEMENTS.—The Royal City Planing Mills have lately added one of the Wilkins patent balance gang saws to their mill in this city. The saws were put into successful operation this morning, and gave entire satisfaction as to the manner in which the lumber is turned out. The gang saw has a capacity of 30,000 feet per day, while the circular saw for doing the same work does not cut 10,000 feet per day, which makes a very great saving in time, besides which the new machine turns out the lumber in a much smoother condition than the circular saw. A new engine has been put in specially to run this additional machinery.

A CRUSHING REPLY.—A Delawarean moved to Ohio, and was elected to the Legislature there. A bill relative to the Penitentiary being before the House he took occasion to compare the penal system of his former State to that of his adopted one, giving preference to the order of things to which he had formerly been accustomed. Among his arguments in favor of the whipping-post he said that the same culprits were seldom wipped a second time, the disgrace of the punishment causing them to leave the State and begin life anew elsewhere. At this point of the new member's speech a voice from the opposite side of the chamber called out: "Is that the reason we have the gentleman from Deleware among us?"—Harper's Magazine.

Holloway's Corn Cure destroys all kinds of corns and warts, root and branch. Who then would endure them with such a cheap and effectual remedy within reach?

Welcome.

Lady Macdonald, accompanied by Miss Macdonald and Miss Macpherson, arrived in the city this afternoon from Vancouver and will remain a couple of days.

A Heavy Loss.

Yesterday morning, while a gentleman named J. R. Fortune was proceeding to the C. P. N. wharf he had the misfortune to drop a pocket book which contained about $290. The money is all in American bills and Mr. Fortune's name is printed on the inside of the book. By an advertisement in another column it will be noticed a reward will be paid to the finder who returns it to the Depot hotel.

Mr. R. McCaw, Custom House, Toronto, writes: "My wife was troubled with Dyspepsia and Rheumatism for a long time; she tried many different medicines, but did not get any relief until she used Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. She has taken two bottles of it, and now finds herself in better health than she has been for years."

Gathering Salmon Eggs.

Mr. Mowat left this morning for Harrison River with a gang of Indians to commence the work of securing salmon eggs for the spring hatching. Last year the number of eggs taken amounted to about 7,000,000, this year Mr. Mowat will endeavor to secure at least 10,000,000. This work will last about two months, and as the eggs are secured they will be sent down to the hatchery by every boat. About 4,000 eggs is the average to each fish, so it will be seen a great many fish will have to be taken to gather 10,000,000 eggs.

In Memoriam.

The following letter, signed on behalf of the association by Mr. W. R. Austin and Mr. Wm. Turpin, respectively president and secretary of the Y.M.C.A., has been forwarded to Mrs. S. L. Coffin, Batavia, Ill.: "DEAR MADAM: At the regular monthly meeting of the association this evening the president and secretary were instructed to convey to yourself and daughter an expression of the deepest sympathy for you in your great affliction. We mourn the loss of an earnest member of our association, one who was actively instrumental in its formation, who by his manly Christian bearing did much to aid in increasing its usefulness. We will cherish his memory; and while deeply lamenting his departure we cannot help feeling that with him "to depart was far better." May God bless and comfort you in your sorrow, and may the hand of his Saviour sustain you in your pilgrimage here, and lead you that when God in His infinite wisdom shall call you hence, you may may be united with the dear one who now awaits you on the other shore."

Personal.

Dr. Kent arrived from Ladners yesterday, and is in the city to-day.

J. D. Townley, assistant to the general Supt. Pacific Division C. P. R., was in the city yesterday.

Lady Macdonald, wife of the Canadian premier, arrived at Vancouver yesterday accompanied by Miss Macpherson. They remain only one day.

R. Marpole, Divisional Supt. C. P. R. Kamloops, was in the city last evening and left for Vancouver to-day. He will return in a few days with Mr. Downie on official business.

Guests at the Colonial: A Revesback, Thos. Mowat, M. Miller, J. C. Henderson, Clarence Marpole, Donald; J. D. Townley, Vancouver; R. Marpole, Donald; M. R. Black, Victoria; A. M. Tyson, Vancouver; R. Gibson, Vancouver; C. J. Conover, Spokane Falls.

Mr. J. Leist, warehouseman for Lautz Bros., Buffalo, N. Y., says he had a swelling on his foot which he attributed to chilblains. He used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and is troubled no longer. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil may be imitated in its appearance and name, but not in its virtues.

Gould Still Speculating.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A special from Washington this morning says. "Considerable curiosity has been awakened by the discovery that Jay Gould is among a number of northern speculators who have lately been taking advantage of act of congress 1876, throwing opens lands in Southern states to public and private sale. This form of speculation has taken the shape of a big boom lately. Sales in the state of Louisiana, for example, during July last, alone were equal to the total sales in the same state for the whole year of 1886. Gould has been buying in Louisiana chiefly in Calcasien and Vernon parishes, his investments amount to some thirty thousand acres and he and a few other investors have taken possession between them of from eighty to a hundred thousand acres, comprising all the land that is left in some eight townships of Calcasien and nine of Vernon parishes."

WELL TESTED.—"I was nearly dead with cholera morbus; one bottle of Extract of Wild Strawberry cured me, and at another time I was so bad with summer complaint that I thought I would never get over it, when two bottles cured me." Mrs. E. Askett, Peel, Ont.

PEOPLE WHO RESIDE OR SOJOURN in regions of country where fever and ague and bilious remittent fever are prevalent, should be particularly careful to regulate digestion, the liver and the bowels, before the approach of the season for the periodic malady. The timely use of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure is a valuable safeguard against the malarial scourge. It is acknowledged to be the best blood purifier in the market.

FOR SALE:

Valuable Property at Spence's Bridge,

LOT 1

Contains Sixty-four acres of land, forty of which is under cultivation. There is a large Store, 22x80; a two-story Hotel, 60x40; a large Stable and stalls for 20 horses; three Dwelling Houses, with cellars, and a number of other buildings. Two Gardens, one of them about one acre and a half, and one of the best in British Columbia, in which is growing to perfection Apples, Pears, Cherries, Plums, Grapes, Gooseberries, Strawberries, Currants, Raspberries, &c., &c. There is also a Green House, heated by hot water pipes, and containing a splendid collection of choice Plants. There is also a Water Ditch with this lot that carries over 100 inches of water.

LOT 2

Contains about 250 acres of land, one-third of which is fit for cultivation. On this lot there are about 150 Fruit Trees, 300 Grape Vines, 400 Gooseberry and Currant Bushes, and one of the best Water Ditches in the country, which cost two seasons ago $700.

For any one wishing to go into the Seed and Fruit business, this is a splendid chance. The climate is unsurpassed and the situation is the best in British Columbia for a market along the line of the C.P. Railway. There is already an established business for seeds, plants, fruits, &c., amounting to over $1500 a year, and to one who could manage and look after it himself a fortune.

Salmon Fisheries, Etc.

And has been used by the Cape Ann Fishermen for Pollock, a very powerful fish, with the Flax Salmon Twine, and they find it of ample strength, and it lasts very much longer than flax. The pressure to break a mesh is nearly 100 pounds, dead weight. Samples can be found with our friends,
