DAILY BRITISH COLUMBIAN.

VOLUME 1. NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 21, 1886. NUMBER 122

Daily British Columbian

TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 21, 1886.

If the spirit which seems to pervade the Salvation Army in London animates the volunteer corps in other cities of the world, one may well believe there is a fanatical ardor inspiring the general movement that must make the much ridiculed institution a potent social force eventually. Drawing its chief support from the middle and lower classes, appealing to the unphilosophic and impressionable, it enlists zealot and enthusiast among its agitators, and what power these classes have to alter disapproved conditions of society we may learn from the histories of revolutions which have begun with the lower and ascended to the higher orders of the state. The Salvationists possess that essential of all reform movements, the strength of self-denial; and though the self complacent and intellectual world may be inclined to smile at some evidences of this peculiar quality, it may very well be presumed that a lowly class which is ready to sacrifice its own interests to further a general cause is not altogether an object to invite ridicule or scorn.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The way Stanley ceased to be an adventurer and became a great explorer is told by himself in a speech in New York the other day: "I left New York for Spain, and then the Ashantee war broke out, and once more my good luck followed me; and I got the treaty of peace ahead of everybody else, and as I was coming to England from the Ashantee war, a telegraphic despatch was put into my hands at the Island of St. Vincent, saying that Livingstone was dead! I said: 'What does that mean to me? The New Yorkers don't believe in me. How shall I prove that what I have said is true? I will go and complete Livingstone's work. I will prove that the discovery of Livingstone was a mere flea-bite. I will prove to them that I am a good man and true.' That's all that I wanted. (Loud cheers.) I accompanied Livingstone's remains to Westminster Abbey. I saw those remains buried which I had left sixteen months before enjoying full life and abundant hope. The Daily Telegraph's proprietor cabled over to Bennett: 'Will you join us in sending Stanley over to complete Livingstone's explorations?' Bennett received the telegram in New York, read it, pondered a moment, snatched a blank, and wrote: 'Yes. Bennett.'"

We should hail Mr. Goldwin Smith's entrance into public life. His immense knowledge would add immeasurably to the efficiency of the parliamentary machine, and his high character and stainless honor would furnish no drawback. Glad would we be that the Liberal-Conservative party should have the honor of introducing the greatest literary man on this continent into parliament. His whole life has been devoted to the study of politics—the politics of all times. He is as familiar with the struggles in Athens in the days of Pericles and those which issued in the supremacy of Julius Cæsar in the Roman world as he is with the politics of the Commonwealth, and he is as familiar with these as with the mighty issues which disturb the capacious brain pan of Mr. Mowat. The power of generalizing of such a man, the light of accumulated experience in which he thinks on all political questions would be of priceless value to parliament. Late in life John Stuart Mill entered parliament, but to our personal knowledge he added more than any dozen men, if we except three or four, to the effectiveness of the English legislature. Mr. Goldwin Smith's studies have been at least as well calculated to fit him for public life as those of Mill, and he is wholly free from the crotchets of the philosopher whose mind exhibited shrewd and searching analysis, immense speculative grasp, side by side with the enthusiasm of the lover who lives in dreams. We sincerely hope Mr. Smith will enter parliament next election. The constituency which secures him as a representative will have a man who, from the first, can speak on all political questions with an authority second to no living man.—Regina Leader.

AS AGE CREEPS ON APACE, the various functions of the body grow weaker in their performance. Old people who suffer from increasing indigestion, torpidity of the liver, and constipation, should give renewed impetus to the action of the stomach, bile-secreting organ and bowels, with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspepsia Cure, from which aid is never sought in vain. It works wonders as a blood purifier.

Public Notice

New Westminster Public Library.

THE UNDERSIGNED (THANKS TO the kindness and permission of the Mayor and City Council) two weeks ago re-opened the Public Library, and takes this opportunity to offer an invitation to residents of New Westminster to pay him a visit. Papers and Magazines from all directions are received for patrons and visitors, and more will be added in case a reasonable support is obtained. The terms are 50 cents a month, in advance, as papers, &c., are paid for in advance. This will amount to about 2 cents a day, or the cost of one cigar for seven days permission to see news from all over the world, and elegant books which may be changed every 24 hours! There is no compulsion about this, but those who believe in getting in out of the rain and who can enjoy a decent fire will doubtless appreciate this institution. Ladies and strangers are free, so doubtless all the parties who believe in Blue Ribbon will come forward at once and join this attractive assn., both for their own credit and that of others. Come one, come all, and you will be attended to by one who can soap all classes, viz.:

Yours Respectfully,

Daily British Columbian

Tuesday Evening, December 21, 1886.

And still there is no candidate for the mayoralty of this city. The time will very soon be here when we shall have to nominate some one, and it will be a great pity if, through carelessness, the civic chair should go to one who is unworthy to fill it. There are surely men among us able to take the head of the municipal government and fill it with credit to themselves and the city. It will be a matter of much regret if our present mayor persists in declining re-nomination. There ought to be at the helm of affairs a man whose experience and judgment will prevent him plunging us into embarrassment, and whose sole aim will be the advancement of the city's best interests. We don't want a mayor who will assume an attitude of hostility towards the railway company, or who will permit that company to set at defiance the rights and interests of the city. At present the company is showing a disposition to treat New Westminster fairly, and it would be a great blunder if any act of ours should have a tendency to destroy the good understanding which now exists. We hope, however, that Mr. Dickinson, to whose tact and patience we are very greatly indebted for the railway, may reconsider his determination and consent to remain another year in the civic chair.

In France no government seems able to maintain its authority for any length of time. The French are notoriously fickle, and besides they are extremely impulsive and fond of show. If a Frenchman has plenty to eat and lots of amusement he is one of the happiest of mortals, but he can't stand adversity, and would much prefer war. It is somewhat significant that although the government of M. De Freycinet has just been defeated and a new one has been formed under the leadership of M. Goblet, there has been no change in the minister of war. Boulanger occupies that place in the new cabinet, just as he occupied it in the last. One begins to suspect that, after all, Boulanger is the real head of the government, and that the policy of the whole country must be kept subservient to the exigencies of war. Boulanger seems to enjoy to a great extent the confidence of the French people. He is brilliant, and seems to have been wonderfully successful in placing the army on a solid footing. It may be doubted if there is anywhere in the world a more thoroughly equipped and better drilled army than that of France. From despatches received this afternoon it will be seen that considerable uneasiness exists in Europe, and no one can tell how speedily these vast military preparations may be tested. France and Germany continue to regard each other with increasing hatred, and before permanent peace can be secured for Europe, the power of one of them must be broken.

It is difficult to predict where science and invention will carry the arts of war. The great controversy now is between offensive and defensive implements, and it seems as if the odds were on the side of the offensive. The enormous guns that have lately been constructed, taking about 800 pounds of powder for each charge, and using steel shot of tremendous weights, have proved that they are practically resistless by any armor that an ironclad could carry. One of the most interesting developments of modern warfare, however, is the torpedo, and one of the most interesting phases of torpedo practice was brought out during the novel operations which took place not long ago at Milford Haven, England. Torpedoes were employed here for harbor defence, and the arrangement of them seemed almost perfect. They were planted at various spots along the harbor, and each was connected by a wire with an electric battery on shore. An observer sat in a bomb-proof building watching through a telescope the movements of the hostile fleet. The telescope was carefully mounted, and as it moved to follow the course of the ship it carried with it over the surface of a glass plate a metallic pencil. On this plate metallic buttons were so arranged that whenever the vessel stood over one of the submerged torpedoes the pencil and the button were brought into contact, the electric circuit was completed, and the torpedo instantly exploded! It became possible thus for a solitary man, without risk to himself, to set at defiance the most powerful ships in existence.

M. A. St. Mars, St. Boniface, Manitoba, writes: Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is a public benefit. It has done wonders here, and has cured myself of a bad cold in one day. Can be relied upon to remove pain, heal sores of various kinds, and benefit any inflamed portion of the body to which it is applied.

A new map of British Columbia just issued by the government, for sale at T. R. Pearson & Co's. The best map ever issued $2.25.—Adv.

FOR THE COMMONS.—At the solicitation of a number of my friends I have consented to offer myself a candidate for the representation of the district of New Westminster in the house of commons. THE MISSING LINK.—Senator Canfield and F. H. Richards arrived home from Seattle, on Monday, and report that the railroad survey will be completed from Bellingham Bay to Seattle this week. The Senator will go to San Francisco, about January 1st, on business connected with the railroad. Building on the Seattle end of the line will probably begin in the spring. While Bellingham Bay appears to be asleep on the railroad question, Seattle is alive to her own interests.—Whatcom Reveille.

CHICAGO CHINESE.—There are about 1,000 Chinese in the city of Chicago. There are five Sabbath schools of Chinese pupils, with an average attendance of 225. One of these schools holds sessions five evenings in each week. Eighteen Chinese are members of "The Chinese Christian Association," and eight of these are preparing for missionary work. Several of them are preparing to return to their Chinese homes to engage in labor there. This is not a bad record.—Inter-Ocean.

RED TAPE.—Among other warlike stores which arrived over the C. P. R. a few days ago were three gun carriages for this city. The officers of the militia yesterday proceeded to obtain them in order to have the guns lying in the drill shed, mounted, but the traditional red tape of military proceedings required that they should first go to Victoria by the Rithet, on which steamer they will also be returned when it shall be the good will and pleasure of the deputy adjutant general to have them left where they belong.

NEARLY DROWNED.—Near Ewen's wharf the railway track runs close to the edge of the planking. At this point a boy named Williams was standing, this morning, when a freight engine which was working in the vicinity this morning came along, and before he could get out of the way struck him and knocked him into the river. He was unable to swim, and would undoubtedly have been drowned had not a young man named George Meyer, mate of the Reliance, sprung into the water and rescued him. Near the same place another boy fell in last evening and was barely rescued by his comrades.

ARTHUR'S HOME MAGAZINE.—The January number of this very excellent monthly is received, and if it is a fair sample of what the publishers intend to do for their patrons in 1887 we cannot do better than advise our readers to become subscribers. The magazine contains 115 pages, embracing no less than 34 articles of various kinds, and the tone throughout seems to be excellent. This is the 35th year of its publication, and it shows evidence of vitality equal to that of any periodical we have seen. The subscription is only $2 a year. Published by T. S. Arthur & Son, 920 Walnut st., Philadelphia, Pa.

SCRIBNER'S AGAIN.—It will be remembered that some years ago "Scribner's Magazine" was purchased by a company and the name changed to that of the "Century Magazine." It is understood that this arrangement bound the company known as Chas. Scribner's Sons not to issue any magazine for a number of years. The term of the injunction having expired, the old firm has begun the publication of a new monthly with the old name, "Scribner's Magazine," the first number of which is now before us. It is a magazine of 128 pages, beautifully printed on heavy paper, and finely illustrated. The initial number gives promise of a work in no way inferior to the former "Scribner," which held such a high place in the literary world, and it has the merit of being only $3 a year instead of $4. Published by Scribner's Sons, 743 Broadway, New York.

Mud Bay School.

The semi-annual examination of the public school was held on Wednesday, the 15th inst. Notwithstanding the muddy roads and the inclement weather, a large number of visitors, including the trustees, turned out to see and assist in the examination. The pupils were thoroughly examined in the various subjects taught, and acquitted themselves in such a manner as to reflect honor upon themselves and Mr. R. S. Hanna, their teacher. The exercises were varied by readings and recitations, which were well delivered both as to tone and action. Speeches were made by the trustees and others, and all expressed themselves as well pleased with the progress made by the pupils during the past term.—COM.

GENTLEMEN.—As a successor to your late representative in the Commons will soon have to be elected, I hereby announce myself a candidate for the position.

I purpose publishing an address in which I will give my views on the most important questions affecting your interests, and will visit the different settlements and address the electors before election day.

City Council.

The regular weekly meeting of the city council was held last evening. Present, Coun. Douglas in the chair, and Couns. Bonson, Ross, Lord, Calbick, Shiles, and Elliott.

Coun. Lord said, in respect to the memory of the late lamented A. J. Alport, city clerk, he would suggest that the council adjourn after transacting such business only as was necessary.

Moved by Coun. Lord, seconded by Coun. Bonson, that Mr. Jas. Robinson be appointed city clerk vice A. J. Alport deceased. Carried unanimously.

On motion of Coun. Bonson Mr. Jas. Orr was appointed to assist Mr. Robinson in preparing the city accounts for closing at the end of the year.

Coun. Elliott gave notice that at next meeting he will bring in a motion to amend clause 2 of the election by-law. The motion related to the substitution of a person to act as returning officer in the place of Mr. Robinson appointed city clerk.

Coun. Lord moved the following resolution: "As death has removed from our midst our lamented friend A. J. Alport, city clerk, therefore, be it resolved that in respect of his memory the council do now adjourn without transacting business, and that the clerk be instructed to forward a letter of condolence to the bereaved widow and family on behalf of the mayor and council. Carried.

Council adjourned till Monday evening next.

Hall's Prairie School.

The half-yearly examination of Hall's Prairie public school was held on the 17th inst. The average has been high during the late term, and there were twenty-three pupils present and examined. The teacher of Mud Bay, Mr. R. S. Hanna, and the parents ably assisted the teacher in conducting the exercises. The classes were first examined in reading, and all from the smallest boy in Primer I. to the fifth reader exhibited the greatest care and ability in training. It is a question whether so large a number of excellent readers can be found in any school in the district. Next followed geography, arithmetic and grammar, in all of which the pupils displayed great accuracy, promptness and intelligence, reflecting much credit upon themselves and their teacher. The programme was pleasantly interspersed with songs, readings and recitations, most creditably rendered. The many visitors, ladies and gentlemen, who attended, coming through a heavy rain and almost impassable roads, attested the hearty interest taken in the school and the high esteem in which the teacher, Mr. McLennan, is held by the entire community. Short addresses were made by the three trustees and many of the visitors expressing themselves as highly gratified by the advancement made by the pupils. A most pleasant afternoon's enjoyment was terminated by teacher and pupils singing "Twilight is Falling," and very appropriate, as the shades of evening were falling fast.—COM.

Communications.

Fenianism and Anarchism.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN: In your issue of Nov. 29th you have an article on anarchism in which you quote from the Chicago Inter-Ocean, and in addition you say: "It is a pity the mayors of American cities and the American press did not think of this sentiment when they were conniving at the organization and plans of the Fenian brotherhood, which was quite as bomb-throwing and murderous as the anarchists."

You say "the mayors of American cities," but when we consider how many cities there are in the United States, and how much business of a local character their mayors have to attend to, it will readily be seen that they have no time to spend in affairs other than their own.

The Fenian operations were carried on in some of the eastern cities along the boundary line between the United States and Canada, where no doubt they had emissaries, and were confined to foreigners. There may have been some Americans, but they were Irish-American.

In regard to the American press exposing them: their workings were like the moles, in secret, until the grand expose came.

The difference between the Fenian brotherhood and the anarchists is of course apparent. One aimed to strike a foreign country and the other our own. What would be winked at in one case would not be tolerated in the other. As Josh Billings says, "It makes a pile of difference whose dog's tail the tin-kettle is tied to."

The United States has always preserved a strict neutrality, as is shown by statistics. In 1793, during the war between England and France, we were neutral. In 1805, while Mr. Jefferson was president, he sent out a fleet of vessels to enforce this measure in American waters. In 1818, also 1838 and 1840, the same precautions were used. In the summer of 1866 an unsuccessful attempt was made to repeal the neutrality laws of 1818 by some Fenian sympathizers.

In 1886 a leading periodical contains an editorial an extract from which will show the prevailing sentiment at that time: "While the Fenian movement was confined to Jones Wood and the Moffat mansion it was merely amusing except for its mad waste of the hardly earned money of simple men and women. But when a rabble cross the border and without artillery, supplies or trains begin to make war by murdering honest people who turn out to defend their homes, the affair ceases to be contemptible and becomes criminal, and the worst fate that should befall such offenders would excite little pity. The conduct of our government in the whole affair has been prompt and honorable. There has been no simulated neutrality."

The mayor of Cleveland was right in refusing to allow a revolutionary speech delivered if he could prevent it. Only a few days since our city authorities denied permission to the same party for use of a public hall for anarchistic speech. Can you not give Detroit the same credit? Respectfully yours,

F. C. SHORE.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 12th, 1886.

[We do not doubt that the mayor of Detroit refused a hall for anarchist purposes, but during the Fenian troubles Detroit was a rendezvous for these plotters against the lives of inoffensive Canadians, and they were urged on by many prominent citizens and by many newspapers. It is a notorious fact that the Fenian organization had the active support of many prominent public men and of some high officials in the United States, and although prompt measures were taken to prevent its filibustering expeditions after they had crossed to Canada, that could not atone for the laxity of the government's previous behavior. Our correspondent admits virtually all we claimed, namely, that when dynamiters begin to plot against the United States they are promptly snatched by the executors of the law, but when their designs were against peaceable citizens of Canada it was very different.—ED.]

H. A. McLaughlin, Norland, writes: "I am sold out of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. It sells well, and I find in every instance it has proven satisfactory. I have reason to believe it the best preparation of the kind in the market." It cures Dyspepsia, Billiousness and Torpidity of the Liver, Constipation, and all diseases arising from Impure Blood, Female Complaints, etc.

A resolution for holiday recess from to-morrow to Jan. 4th was adopted.

DUBLIN, Dec. 21.—At the regular fortnightly meeting of the executive committee of the Irish National League it was announced that since last meeting there had been received in donations from Ireland $22,000 and from America $25,000. John Dillon said he would continue to carry out the plan of campaign in defiance of the government. Nobody, he said, has a right to say the plan of campaign is illegal until a jury has decided on the facts. Dillon also said the leaders in this new movement desire to benefit tenants in Irsland without the assistance of moonlighters.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—In special term of the supreme court to-day judge Vanbrunt gave the decision that the assignment of the firm of Kessuth Marks & Co., Maiden Lane jewelers, made on Sept. 1885, was null and void. He declared it to be the consummation of a scheme to defraud their creditors who were chiefly foreigners and ordered it to be set aside on these grounds. The firm was composed of three brothers. The firm failed in that month for over a million dollars. The failure created considerable excitement in trade both here and abroad.

Judge Pratt, of the Brooklyn supreme court, to-day granted an order to show cause why a stay of proceedings should not be granted to McQuade, boodle ex alderman, return able to-morrow.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 21.—The private banking house of V. G. Hush suspended this morning. The liabilities are not yet known. The cause of the failure is said to be the necessity of Hush to carry Jackson and Collins, owners of the Puritan iron mines, on which he was endorsed to the extent of three or four hundred thousand dollars. The bank itself is said to be solvent and Hush himself worth at least $150,000.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 21.—A bold robbery was committed at the first national bank in this city to-day. A cashier who was engaged in signing a new issue of five dollar notes, when about half through with $2,000 went to dinner, leaving the notes on his desk. On his return he discovered the money was stolen by some unknown person who unlocked the door of his room.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—The ship Ericcson, from Port Discovery for this port, with 1,100,000 feet of lumber, was twenty-eight days making the trip down. The time is usually from ten to 15 days. Many vessels from Puget Sound ports are long over due owing to bad weather.

MORNING DESPATCHES.

Press Telegrams.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—McQuade was ordered to stand up and did so with his thumbs in his pantaloon pockets. "The defence," remarked General Tracy, "has nothing to say why sentence should not be pronounced the prisoner. We rely on his former good character and the esteem in which he is still held by his neighbors and acquaintances who are many of them here now to ask for the leniency of the court." The recorder said in substance, "Arthur J. McQuade: You have been fairly convicted of bribery. You were elected to perform a public duty and a public trust. Instead of so doing you violated that trust. Your character as a business man, citizen, father and husband is gone. I have sympathy for your wife and children. You should have considered them before you did wrong. You did not add to the crime of which you have been convicted, as Jechene did by taking stand and committing perjury. I have reason to believe that you received as much money as Duffy did, $10,000. That money is not yours, it is not the property of your family. If it is left with them it will work the inevitable result of ill-gotten gain. I would advise you to give up and pay back to the city the money which you received and I have no doubt it would work to your benefit. The sentence of the court is that you be confined in the State's prison at hard labor for a term of 7 years and that you pay a fine of five thousand dollars. During the sentence McQuade stood up with his arms folded across his bosom in a manner habitual to him. The sentence was given and the audience dispersed, McQuade going out with his keepers and the faithful brother who had stood by his side throughout the trial. McQuade was immediately taken to the tombs and, after the usual formalities was locked in a cell.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Referring to allegations as to Lady Colin's conduct at Leigh court, the judge said that they depended on stories told by servants and principally that of Rose Baer. Her own fellows described her as the "chatterer" and she had contradicted herself and other witnesses had contradicted her on an important point. She at first swore that the Duke of Marlborough and Lady Colin occupied the same apartment for an entire week at Leigh court and afterwards testified that the Duke of Marlborough was at Leigh court only 2 nights. The judge declared that he believed Rose Baer had invented the story about Lady Colin and the Duke of Marlborough sitting together like lovers on a bench in Paddington station. Lord Colin's conduct to his wife while she was in Paris, on one occasion, when he telegraphed to the Paris police to arrest her and lodge her in the prostitutes' prison, Justice Butte characterized as outrageous, remarking that he never had known of anything more dishonest than Lord Colin's allegation to the Paris officials that his wife was living in open adultery with one of the co-respondents and that she should be arrested and treated as a common woman of the town. The story told by the man servant O'Neill as to what he once saw through the key-hole of the door of the dining-room at Cadogan place the judge said he could not regard with favor. The jury must consider whether O'Neill's letter to Lady Colin, after his discharge by her, asking re-employment was not an attempt at blackmail and the jury should further consider the question as to whether Chief Shaw's testimony and denial the statement of a distinguished public servant, was not worth as much if not more than such a person as O'Neill. Gen. Butler, the court thought, should have come into court and given testimony as to his innocence, but so long as he chose to remain away there was no power in England to compel him to come. It would, however, the judge said, be impossible to exaggerate his meanness in remaining away from court, because in so doing he deserted Lady Colin. But, said the judge, the jury must not take Gen. Butler's absence as evidence of guilt on Lady Colin's part. Replying to the question of a juryman the judge said Butler was beyond the jurisdiction of the court and a subpœnae could not compel him to testify. By being made a co-respondent he was protected by the clause of the law which makes it impossible to ask an incriminating question, unless it was a voluntary one. The case was then given to the jury and they retired. At 10 o'clock they returned with a verdict. They found that Lord Colin Campbell had not committed adultery, and that Lady Colin had not committed adultery with any of the co-respondents. The jury added as a "rider" that the conduct of Gen. Butler was unworthy of a gentleman and officer and had caused the only difficulty which the jury had experienced in reaching a decision. The announcement of the verdict was received with applause.

The newspapers in their comments on the Campbell trial express the opinion that although the verdict is unsatisfactory the jury could have come to no other conclusion and that the case shows the necessity of the alteration of divorce proceedings in the direction of camera trials.

The str. Llanallia, sailing from Liverpool, has foundered at Holyhead. 12 persons were drowned.

A terrific railway collision occurred at Charkow, Russia, on Saturday, resulting in the killing of 13 persons and the injuring of 20 others.

CAIRO, Dec. 20.—M. De Lesseps has given £80,000 for the government land along the line of the canal to be used in the work of widening the waterway.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 20.—Some months ago Richard Spinnick, keeper of a bar room patronized promiscuously by whites and blacks, sold out his business and left the city for the west, leaving his wife behind. Last Saturday Mrs. Spinnick, who has been ill with consumption complicated with other diseases, finding her end fast approaching, made an antemortem statement of details of a murder perpetrated by her husband over a year ago. Spinnick lived over bar room, and his wife was frequently called upon to assist him. She says, one night last fall, between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock, she happened to enter the bar room one evening by a back door, and saw her husband, who was in front of the bar counter, strike and knock down a white man with a pair of brass knuckles. He turned and seeing her ordered her to go upstairs, which she did. She could not rest, however, and creeping down again she peeped into the bar, when she was horrified by seeing her husband drag the man's body behind the counter, rob it of a roll of money, raise a trap at the end of the bar and push the body into an old well under the floor. Upon this information the police to day went to work to find the remains by pulling up the floor and digging for the hidden well, but have as yet made no discovery. Last fall two state officials left home for Richmond and have not since been heard of. The authorities are hunting up Spinnick.

DUBLIN, Dec. 20.—Father Fahey, the priest who early in September was sentenced to six months imprisonment for refusing to give bail for good behavior, was to-day released unconditionally from the Galway jail, in which he has since been confined. It will be remembered that Father Fahey interceded with Agent Lewis of the Carrickort estates in behalf of a number of tenants belonging to the priest's parish in Woodford and who were unable to pay their rent. Eviction was threatened, and Father Fahey went to save them from being put into the roadway. Mr. Lewis treated the priest harshly, and he said to Mr. Lewis, "You are hard-hearted towards God's poor; may you repent of it." Lewis at once had the priest arrested and charged him with threatening his life, even going so far as to declare that Father Fahey said he would have him murdered. The magistrate ordered Father Fahey to give bail for good behavior or go to jail. He refused to furnish bail, for the reason that it would be regarded as an admission that the charges against him were true. He was accordingly imprisoned. The priest has met with an ovation, and Galway will be illuminated to-night in his honor.

A family consisting of six children and their parents were asphyxiated by escaping gas last night at Carrick-on-Suir, county Tipperary. Five children were dead when found. The other child and the parents were still alive but they cannot survive.

Dillon and others will be tried on Tuesday on a charge of conspiracy in receiving as tenants' trustees reduced rents which had been refused by the landlords. Healy will represent him. H. A. Chance, M. P. for South Kilkenny, writing to a friend, accuses the chief of the executive of conspiracy, false imprisonment, assault and battery, and robbery. Proceedings against Sheedy have been abandoned.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 20.—On Friday morning Walter Bingham, a deaf mute, hired a buggy and took Miss Turlington, also a deaf mute, apparently to have a drive. Bingham was engaged to be marrried to Miss Turlington, and had procured a license here. They did not return, and were seen riding Friday afternoon within eight miles of Durham. That evening Bingham, alone, took a train at Durham, and on the train inquired the time of arrival at Atlanta and New Orleans. Foul play was suspected, and telegrams were sent out after him and officers from this city are searching for the lady. Bingham is reported crazy, and has disappeared.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 20.—The death from hydrophobia of a daughter of Louis Grund, ex chairman of a republican city council, was reported to the coroner to-day. Miss Grund, 16 years of age, some time ago was playing with a young puppy only two months old, when it bit her. The wound was not serious, and as the dog, so far as known, had never been out of the house since born and had never been with other dogs, nothing was thought of it. About eight days ago, however, the young lady began to show signs of the dread disease, and two physicians were called, but their efforts to relieve her suffering were of no avail, and she rapidly grew worse until yesterday, when she died in great agony.

BERLIN, Dec. 20.—Count Herbert Bismarck, under secretary of state for foreign affairs, at the reception of the Bulgarian deputation yesterday advised Bulgarians to reach an understanding with Russia. It has transpired that a number of Bulgarians who went to Constantinople after the revolution against Prince Alexander at Sofia presented a memorial to the grand vizier accusing the regents of Bulgaria of responsibility for the present state of affairs in Bulgaria. These refugees subsequently visited in a body the different embassies of the powers in Constantinople for the purpose of presenting information contained in a memorial to the grand vizier. The French and Russian embassies only received them.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE

STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practically impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria.
