VAST BUT ORDERLY.

Mr. Cunningham's Meeting Last Night Accords Him and Mayor Brown a Patient Hearing---All the Important Questions Discussed and Mr. Cunningham Lays Bare His Platform.

Herring's Opera House last night held a crowd that would have made any theatre manager's eyes glisten with envy. But the finest play travelling could never attract an audience like last night's in Westminster. Only politics and a universal free list can gather so large a concourse in Westminster. The police force of the City was not so very much to the fore as at the gathering the week before; and throughout the meeting there was nothing to call for their interference. The entire business of the evening passed off with the greatest good order, probably owing to the rigid exclusion of the rough element. By the time the front seats had got filled up and the crowd was standing in the aisle and at the rear portion of the hall, the audience began to show signs of impatience, and Mr. Cunningham stepped upon the stage at 8:24 and said that the hour having arrived to speak he would thank them to nominate a chairman. Mr. Cunningham had to ask twice before Mayor Brown was proposed and seconded, but that gentleman declined. Mr. Hendry was then nominated, and, after some hesitation, accepted the post. Mr. Hendry said this was an unexpected honor. He believed this was to be a meeting at which free discussion would be allowed, and one in which Mr. Cunningham would fully explain the course he had taken in the late Legislature, and probably that which he proposed following in the next. Mr. Cunningham, he said, was also willing to answer all questions the audience might wish to ask.

Mr. Cunningham on rising, was saluted with applause. It was, he said, every representative's duty to call the electors together after the rising of the House and give them an account of his work in the House. He had attended all but one sitting of the House and when he got home he found his private affairs in rather a confused condition, and he was sorry, too, to find a little political confusion; although he was not surprised at that. He thought he would wait a little to see how things would turn out, and that was why he had not called this meeting at an earlier date. He believed the vast majority of the citizens of Westminster were in sympathy with what he had done in the House. He had tried to reflect the views of his constituents as fully as possible. Only in the Redistribution question did he find it impossible to follow the Government. He thought it would be prudent to wait before pursuing any definite line of policy. He felt pretty sure that if he were wanted he would be elected. He had done the very best he could; as much, possibly, as could be expected for a man who was serving his first term in the House. (Hear, hear, and applause). He believed it his duty to come forward and stand again for election. He knew from experience that the man who represents a city of the dimensions of New Westminster in the House, has no easy billet. He had done very hard work in the House, and he believed he had better give a little resume of what he had done. First, the Premier had honored him, and through him, the city of Westminster, by asking him to move the address to the Lieut-governor. He had got through that duty as well as he could, and not discreditably either, he believed. His next duty was attending a caucuns of the Government, in which the line of policy and work was mapped out, and he was assigned posts of honor and responsibility. He had been treated with uniform courtesy throughout the whole term by all the members of the Government. He had determined that he would move the Government to take a decided stand in the matter of the Fraser River buoys and brought in a resolution to that effect.

Mr. Cunningham here gave a complete resume of his remarks in the House on many occasions on his own favorite scheme, namely, the improvements required for the Fraser River. He read the resolution he had moved in the House regarding this matter. Everybody knew how that motion had carried. Applause greeted this reading.

His next motion in the House was his amendment to the Legal Profession Act. The next was his motion to induce the Government to have the voters' lists brought down. (For his recital of all those duties done, Mr. Cunningham received liberal applause. Also for that resolution, after conferring with H. M's naval officers, urging the necessity of putting the Fraser River light ship in its proper place, the fixing of the buoys, and the taking of soundings and surveys in the river channel.) He thought this the most important resolution carried through the House this year. It was carried unanimously. Able editorials had been written by the Victoria papers on this resolution, and one by a Mainland editor. He had forwarded copies of all those editorials to every member of the Cabinet at Ottawa. (Applause). He would always be true to the interests of the Fraser River. (Applause). The importance of keeping free the channel of this river was the most vitally important thing in our politics. They should always keep that in view. Mr. Cunningham related an instance of a vessel which was loaded at Liverpool with steel rails for Westminster, and that a man, whose headquarters were not a thousand miles from Westminster, told the owners if they wanted to lose their vessel they should send it to the Fraser River. Such perfidy and wilful misrepresentation as this made him boil over with indignation. Fortunately a person who could tell the truth gave the owners of the vessel correct information, and that ship and another are now on their way here. One with steel rails for the N. W. S. R. R. and the other with merchandise, and both will take away timber cargoes. (Prolonged applause.) (Mr. Cunningham then read the mail service subsidy resolution, which met with hearty rounds of applause.) It was absolutely necessary for the safety of the commerce of the river that we should have a tri-weekly mail service between Westminster and Victoria. But the time was coming when we should demand more than this, namely, a daily mail service. (Great applause.) It is of the highest importance that we should have daily communication with Victoria, without going away round by Vancouver. Cost what it may we must assert our individuality in this respect. He would give no man his vote who would not work for this at Ottawa. (Applause.) Mr. Cunningham said the first bill he had brought in was the Coquitlam Water Works Act. He had got this through without much opposition. When working the bill through the House he had not asked, "Are Mr. Corbould or Mr. Major my friends or my enemies?" these gentlemen were among the heaviest shareholders and as all knew he had had differences with them; but he worked hard for it just the same, and got the bill through. He had wished to have appended to the Street Railway Bill something that nobody else had ever been able to do—namely, a clause regarding the working of Chinese on public works on the streets. Through a misunderstanding in the House he lost his resolution. The next bill was the Westminster Electric Light Co. Bill. Senator McInnes had asked him whether he would bring in this bill and push it through the House. The senator thought that because Mr. Cunningham's sons were largely interested in the gas furnishing business and his brother president of the Gas Company that he might demur at handling such a bill, but he knew it was the right thing to do and he went ahead and did his duty regardless of persons. He carried that and the Chinese resolution too. (Great applause.) The next bill was the British Columbia Mills, Timber & Trading Co., the most important bill that had passed the House this year or any other year. It was the permit to allow the greatest company in the Province to build ships and carry on trade on a grand scale. The next bill was the Fraser River Gold Gravel Syndicate Co., this bill was carried through the house triumphantly. The next bill was that of the British Columbia Electric Co., and this was dealt with in a manner satisfactory to all concerned. The next bill was the incorporation of the News-Advertiser Co. He had been treated with the utmost shabbiness by the people interested in this bill, he had not cost them a postage stamp and yet they had not even given him one word of thanks. (Great laughter.) The next bill he took charge of was the Vancouver Incorporation Bill, and that, too, went safely through the House. The last bill he brought in was one to which he had been pledged for a long time, the Mechanic's Lien Act. It was very hard to give satisfaction all round under this act, and he had given the act a great deal of careful thought, and had come come to see exactly what was required to bring this act to a successful issue. The primary Mechanic's Lien Act, before being amended, was the pet act and project of the late Attorney-General and Premier, and this in itself presented a difficulty of no mean order in the attempt to have it amended. He wanted to take this act and explain it clause by clause to the working men of Westminster City, and that, too, whether he was elected again or not, he would like to do it for his own satisfaction. (Mr. Cunningham here related a most amusing experience of his own, whereby he lost his money through the "boss busting"). He always intended to fight for this Lien Act. Mr. Cunningham then turned to the redistribution question. His first business when he went to the House was to see the Premier on this question. He found that Westminster was to have another member; Vancouver 3, Kootenay 1 extra and 1 to Alberni. It had been explained to him that Alberni had 65 voters and was a very important agricultural settlement. Then he was told that one member was to be allowed the gulf islands. This proposal he had objected to strenuously. The effort of the Mainland Association in only working for the Lower Fraser was a mistake. This action had seriously embarrassed the Government. They should have taken in the whole Mainland—Kootenay, Lillooet, Cariboo and other outlying districts; this would have made the Association a solid Mainland organization. Mr. Robson had informed him that he was afraid the redistribution measure, as he had stated it as first, was defeated. Mr. Cunningham had plead hard for Mainland rights, and he believed that in the caucus wherein the redistribution measure was recast there was no truer man than Mr. Robson. Mr. Cunningham had then, seeing that the Government were determined to pursue their policy, put on his coat and hat and said good-bye. He had advised Mr. Robson to go to the country whatever the consequences might be. Mr. Cunningham said he would not support any Government which would not give a guarantee that there would be a fair and equitable redistribution measure brought into the House and enacted. That was his platform and he meant to stand by it. (Applause). Another plank in his platform was the unification of the agricultural interests of Westminster City and District. That was why he had labored at the Queen's Park. He had always upheld those things and always intended to do so. Into whatever Legislature he went those would be his main planks. Another plank was the building of roads and bridges throughout the agricultural districts of the Province. Another measure he was going to support was a wild land tax. He proposed to make men who would not utilize their land give it up to those who would. The electors wanted to send men to the House who would not indulge in mere dreamy, political theories, but practical things such as he he had mentioned, and conducive to the best interests of the Province (applause). He intended addressing the electors several times again, and he would now finish by thanking them for the good order that had been maintained and also last on Wednesday evening. A voice: "without the police"—roars of laughter). Great applause greeted Mr. Cunningham on his resuming his seat.

Mayor Brown, on being called, took the platform and said he would not make a speech, as he intended to address the electors himself some time soon, and he thought he had better not make any lengthy remarks at this time. He had been asked to come out and he came out and would stay out; that was the way he did business (laughter and applause). He had taken note of a few of the leading questions and his position was this: That Westminster and the districts of the Lower Fraser should send six independent men, not bound to any leader or party. They had no party lines in this country; it is merely the best thing for the time being. Mr. Cunningham had told them what he had done in the House. He did not wish to criticise that gentleman's actions. There was a good deal of the "lion lying down with the lamb" in our politics at present, and it would be too bad to disturb that happy state of affairs. Still, where did the legislation, the policy in Mr. Cunningham's work come in? Mr. Cunningham had very obligingly taken those bills in hand and seen them through, but where did, the legislation come in? That's what he would like to know. There was nothing more in doing that than plain duty. Mr. Brown thought the Lower Fraser constituencies were large enough and strong enough to stand alone; that was, independently of the Government and of the Opposition. His position was that he did not pin himself to the coat tail of any party; he felt that his duty was legislation for the people and not for the party. All candidates should be made to prove themselves as willing to go in for some popular legislation and not the support of Mr. This or Mr. That. Some of Mr. Cunningham's statements made on the platform that night he had taken strong exception too. That gentleman had tried to impute that the Mainland Association was to blame for the redistribution measure as it stood now. But on the contrary there was no doubt that the Mainland Association had done good work, by uniting the people and stirring up their thoughts in this matter. Mr. Brown said he would meet the electors at his own meeting in a short time, and he would then have to criticise some of the utterances of the Prime Minister and of Mr. Cunningham. Great applause greeted Mr. Brown when he finished speaking, and then there were great cries for "Joe, Joe." But the people's own orator was not feeling disposed for the exertion of one of his rousing speeches and politely declined the proffered honor.

In great good humor and spirits the immense crowd quietly dispersed, eagerly discussing among themselves the various matters alluded to by the speakers of the evening.

Gored by a Furious Elephant.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The Tribune this morning publishes an interesting article relative to the death of Frank L. James, the well-known African traveller and author, who was killed near the Gaboon River in Africa, April 21st, by a wounded elephant. The first news of the accident reached this country April 23rd, by a cable despatch to D. Willis James, his half brother, who received it during his wedding festivities at Northampton. The full details were not received until yesterday when a despatch was received from Arthur James who was in this country to attend his nephew's wedding but had hurried back to Africa to receive his brother's body. Mr. James' body was pierced in front by the tusks of an elephant who was wounded. The injured man knew that he was dying, but his system prevented him from feeling any pain and almost dulled his senses. He lived only forty minutes after receiving the fatal wound. The last words upon his lips were for his youngest brother, William, to whom he was devotedly attached. Only one member of the party was with him at the time of the accident, which happened about five miles from his yacht, and by a strange fatality on his birthday. The body was placed on his yacht, which reached Southampton on Saturday last.

Returning to Bagamoya.

BERLIN, May 28.—Dr. Peters writes the Emin Relief Committee from Bubapina, Nyanda, announcing that the expedition under his command has commenced its return journey to Bagamayo, via Kumangago.

Something New.

LONDON, May 28.—The entrance of the oldest son of the Prince of Wales into the House of Lords during the lifetime of his father is an event unique in English history, for the simple reason that the newly created Duke of Clarence and Avondale and Earl of Athlone, is the only eldest son of a Prince of Wales since Princes of Wales were, who has attained, much less passed by several years, his majority while his father was still heir apparent to the crown.

Pleasing the Protectionists.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The World's London special says: The Harrison administration has a nice muddle on its hands in the consular appointment to Stoke, which is the centre of the pottery district. President Cleveland filled this important post with Mr. Schoenhof, a well known writer on political economy, whom protectionists were anxious to get speedily recalled. President Harrison has removed Schoenhof and given the place to Wm. Burgess, of Trenton, N. J.

The Customs Robbers in Clover.

NEW YORK, May 28.—A big seizure was made by the custom house officials yesterday. A German, who arrived on the steamer Elbe from Bremen, acted suspiciously and was stripped. In his shoes were found seven valuable diamond and three handsome gold watches. In his pockets the inspectors discovered six pearl crosses, three diamond crosses, six pearl bracelets, one dozen elegant scarf pins and other jewelry of all sorts.

Sweet Yankeeland.

COLUMBUS, O., May 28.—At Hope, in this county, O. H. Scuff, aged 25, attempted to elope with Miss Pearl Franzoe, the seventeen-year old daughter of Hampton Franzoe, the owner of several fast horses. The young lady's father heard of the affair in time to appear in front of the couple with a double-barrelled shotgun. Young Scuff showed fight and dealt the irate father a fearful blow on the leg with a stone, making a very painful wound. The young woman's father levelled his gun at Scuff, snapping it several times, but it failed to go off, the young lady having taken the shells out of her father's gun, some two hours previous to her departure from here, as he had threatened to kill her lover. Young Scuff drew a revolver and fired two shots at Franzoe and then departed on the first train, leaving his love in the hands of her angry father, whom he threatened to kill if he did not peacefully consent to their marriage. Franzoe came to this city and filed a complaint against young Scuff for assault and battery with intent to kill.

Died of Heart Disease.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The Sun's London special gives the following particulars of the death of Major Megrue. Major Conrad C. G. Megrue, of London and New York, died suddenly at the Cliftonville Hotel, where he had gone to spend the Whitsuntide holiday, on Saturday night. He arrived at the hotel on Friday and was not then feeling very well. On Saturday night he was taken with a fainting fit in the corridor of the hotel and was carried to his room where he died before the physicians could reach him. Death was due to heart disease. Megrue was a major of volunteers during the war, after which he removed from Cincinnati to New York, where he engaged in business. In the winter of 1883-84 he came to London where he has since been engaged in promoting American enterprises, and with success. His offices were in the Winchester House and he was well-known among business men in London. His last visit to New York was last winter and he returned here only a few weeks ago. Megrue was about 56 years of age and leaves a widow and an adult son and daughter, who are at present in New York. The body was to-day embalmed preparatory to being sent to America.

A Bold Ambassador.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 26.—The Bayakdere affair cabled yesterday, while modified and changed in some of the published details, loses nothing of its importance in the corrected account, which is as follows: The ladies assaulted were the wife and daughter of the Chief Dragoman of the Russian embassy, not, as represented, the daughter and her governess. Their assailants were not Turkish soldiers, but were a Turkish officer and five students, who seized the ladies while the latter were taking a garden promenade, and forcibly kissed them. It chanced that a number of Russian sailors were also walking in the garden and heard the cries of the ladies and promptly hurried to their assistance. Four of the ruffians were captured but the fifth made good his escape for the time. The Russians at once led their captives to the Russian embassy where they delivered them to the Russian Minister, M. Denelidoff. On the day following the assault, the fifth man of the assailants, who had previously escaped, was arrested and confined in the Russian embassy where he and his accomplices still remain. The request of the officers of the Porte that the prisoners be handed over to its representative for trial and punishment has resulted in action so prompt and decided by the Russian ambassador that grave apprehensions are entertained that the episode may become the basis of serious international complications. Denelidoff peremptorily refused to surrender the persons to the Ottoman officials and has not hesitated to say that this action is taken because of the unreliable character of Turkish administration of justice.

A BAD CASE.

A Depraved Man Attempts to Drag His Daughter into a Life of Misery.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock a case came before Mr. T. C. Atkinson, police magistrate, which is fortunately not common in this City. August Shultz charged Mr. and Mrs. Stirsky with exercising an undue influence over his daughter Amanda Shultz and keeping her from her parents. The defendants pleaded not guilty. Shultz' daughter, Amanda, aged 16, is employed as a domestic at Mrs. Stirsky's house and the parents wish to get the girl away for certain purposes; and the girl, being comfortable and well cared for at Mrs. Stirsky's, does not wish to go. The parents attempted to take the child by force about three weeks ago and their efforts were resisted and frustrated, and on this ground August and Minnie Shultz, the parents, laid their charge.

August Shultz was first sworn, and was interpreted by Mr. Tesch. He said that Amanda was hired out—"rented" he called it—to Mrs. Stirsky by the week some months ago. Witness had seen the child only three or four times since then and wanted her to come home. To this the girl would not consent and persisted in remaining where she was in spite of Shultz's persuasions.

Mrs. Minnie Shultz was next sworn and deposed that when she and her husband had gone to invite their daughter to accompany them home the girl refused. But for this emergency the gentle couple had prepared a rope hawser, and this they flung over the girl's neck and proceeded to haul her home to the best of their united ability. It was at this critical juncture that the Stirskys interfered and rescued the captive.

Mr. A. Leamy, who appeared for the defense, asked that the case be dismissed with costs. There had been no case made out under the act. The case was accordingly dismissed with costs against the plaintiffs.

The next case called was that of Amanda Shultz, vs. Minnie Shultz, assault. Mrs. Shultz, the defendant, pleaded guilty.

Mrs. Lieberry who resides at Mrs. Stirsky's house testified that on the date mentioned, about three weeks ago, Mrs. Shultz came to the door and knocked for admission; the door was opened by her daughter; defendant immediately threw a rope around the girl's neck and dragged her across the street; then, putting the rope round her waist, Mrs. Shultz dragged her as far as the Catholic church. A young man there interfered and prevented the mother maltreating her daughter with the rope. When the police arrived, defendant released the girl and the latter went back to Mrs. Stirsky's.

Mrs. Stirsky testified that she had been often annoyed by the visits of the girl's mother. The girl was in a very destitute condition when she came to Mrs. Stirsky's house and had to be supplied with clothing and other necessaries. The mother came after the girl's wages and clothing. Of the occurrence three weeks ago, witness related the same account as the previous witness. Witness said she was afraid of the defendants from the manner in which they had annoyed her.

The young girl, Amanda Shultz, who is a cripple, was then sworn and testified that she was sixteen years old. Her father told her so before she came to the City (although now he swears she is only fourteen). This witness corroborated the evidence of those who had preceeded her. After her mother put the rope around her waist, her mother tried to choke her and then to pull some of her clothes off, all the time calling her "a devil." Her mother then tried to give her some slashes on the face, but a man who was present stopped her. Her father sometimes came and used threatening language to witness, because she would not go home. Her father told her he would kill her if she did not come home. Witness said her father had acted meanly with her, he had tried to do some mean things with her. Witness said she was afraid of her father and mother, as, did they get her home they would kill her.

His honor thought the information ought to be amended to include the father. Mr. Leamy said if they got rid of the mother they got rid of the worse of the two.

Witness said she was kindly treated and well-cared for at Mrs. Stirsky's, and as she had a home there she had no desire to leave it.

On the evidence being interpreted to the defendants the father vigorously denied the allegations made against him by his daughter. He said she was poisoned in the mind and crazy in the head, "verickt." The mother said they wanted the child home to work on the farm. The father said he had been in prison in Oregon City for having, as he said, had something to do with a "witch fire" or "devil fire."

Mr. Leamy said this case was marked with a barbarity happily almost unknown in this land, and that no fine would meet the exiginces of the case. Imprisonment was the only thing to meet the case.

His Honor said he never heard such an outrageous case in his life; it was one of those cases which, fortunately, they were not often called upon to examine into. He fined the defendants $20 each and two months in jail, the committment not to be made out unless the defendants again attempt to molest the girl or Mrs. Stirsky, or otherwise repeat their past behavior.

The Circus.

McMahon's circus yesterday was a success in every particular. The canvas was crowded both during the afternoon and evening, to its utmost capacity, and on both occasions the crowd dispersed feeling that they had got the full worth of their money. The show was first-class from beginning to finish. The bare-back riding was excellent and drew the admiration of the audience by the perilous audacity of the riders. The club-swinging on the globular was one of the very best features of the entertainment and met with rounds of applause. The trained horses and donkeys were also a great source of amusement and delight, and the bar and trapeze performances were very good. The concert at the close was well attended. The singing was good and the other specialties were excellent. The "fire eater," who blew flame from his mouth thirty feet into the air, excited the wonder of the audience. The show will be continued to-day, and is well worth seeing. —News-Advertiser of Tuesday.

THE DAILY COLUMBIAN

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 28, 1890.

THE TWO CITY CANDIDATES.

THE meeting called by Mr. Cunningham for last night passed off quietly and prosily enough, without the benefit of police. The meeting itself was largely attended and Mr. Cunningham nearly put his hearers to sleep by a monotonous recital of his doings in the House, which appeared to consist largely in introducing private bills, for friend and foe alike, for some of which services he received thanks, and in other cases did not get so much as a "postage stamp" for his trouble. Mr. Cunningham was certainly a hardly worked man in the last session so far as the introducing and pushing of private bills was concerned. But that fact was hardly worth dwelling upon at such length in giving an account of his stewardship. In other respects, of course, Mr. Cunningham did fairly well in his way, but it is not necessary to go into details—Mr. Cunningham is not the man to let anyone forget what he did do and especially what he intends to do. Under ordinary circumstances Mr. Cunningham would make a passable member, though never a brilliant, very forcible or effective, or altogether an independent one.

Mr. Cunningham's candidature for the City at this time, under all the circumstances, is not creditable to him in the last degree. Until the visit of the Premier to this part of the Province, last week, Mr. Cunningham, according to his own intentions and the understanding of his friends, was a candidate for Westminster District. Then he arrived at the decision not to "run" for any constituency. Finally, at the mandate of the Premier, evidently, he allows himself to be brought forward in this City, for the express purpose of trying to defeat a much better man, but one whose natural independence and ability unfit him for being in any respect a Government tool, although prepared to give the Government any support that it may merit. It is certainly not a good indication when a Government is not satisfied with the prospects of a nonpartisan and perfectly independent support, but must needs pick its own men and run them in a constituency against the candidate of the people. The people, we have no hesitation in predicting, will make themselves heard most unmistakably in this instance to the effect that they do not appreciate the kindness of the Government in nominating a candidate for them. The people, the electors, as a whole, may have nothing personally against Mr. Cunningham, and may regard him negatively in a political sense, but the great majority are convinced that Mayor Brown is just the man for the emergency and a better and abler in all general respects than his opponent.

Mr. Brown did not delay the audience long last night after Mr. Cunningham's speech, to lay before them his views, but the brief appearance and address he did make could not but impress the meeting with the marked contrast between the two candidates and in favor of the last speaker. Mr. Brown is, plainly, a man who can and will make himself heard and respected on any and all occasions in the House, and who, in thinking capacity and power and style of expression, will not be excelled, if indeed he will be equalled, by the most erudite and eloquent member in Government and Legislature. Mr. Brown's continued residence in this Province, on the Mainland, and in this City, since the pioneer days, his long and valuable experience as a Mainland journalist—taking part in that capacity in some of the most momentous discussions (as for instance the "Battle of the Routes") that have taken their place in the history of the Province—his well established business and executive ability, undoubted independence and integrity, clear and rapid insight, exceptional address, and forcible, eloquent expression, give him an advantage over almost any candidate that could be brought into this field, and this advantage, we doubt not, the constituency will not fail to note, and avail itself of, by electing Mr. Brown by an overwhelming majority, as the representative of the Royal City in the next Parliament.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

ACCORDING to the Boston Transcript, the fadless woman of the future will not find herself obliged to seek external interests at every turn. "She will not at forty, or fifty, or sixty, be full of nervous concern, restless and unhappy and old of spirit. One who in girlhood learns to take care of her health, and who is happy in her broad knowledge of literature, or science, or mathematics, or art, therefore brings a richer sort of life into her home, whatever her home may be. Small and petty gossip is not a natural necessity of any person; it is the resource of the uninterested, and the passion for fads is the result of a craving for the interests of narrow bounds."

The new United States Government silver vault continues to excite comment. It is 85 feet long and 50 feet wide and 12 feet high. It is fenced off into 16 compartments by openwork steel partitions. Each compartment can accommodate 6,500,000 silver dollars, weighing 200 tons. Thus the silver in the vault weighs 3,500 tons of 2,000 pounds avoirdupois to the ton. As only a very limited number of persons can be permitted to handle the present vast money hoards of the United States Government, the quadrennial count is a serious national question, and may, of itself, become a reason by-and-bye for a change of Administration every four years, so as "to count the cash."

The experiences of the English and Italian Governments during the last year with reference to 110-ton guns have demonstrated that monstrosities of this sort are no longer wanted in the navy. The United Service Gazette seems to fear, however, that the opinion of naval officers is veering too far in the direction of light armament. "It is recognized by those who have most carefully studied the subject," says the Gazette, "that to limit the weight of guns to fifty tons, as many propose, would be erring far too much in the opposite direction. In some cases it would be positively necessary to attack a strongly-fortified position from the sea, and heavy guns would be absolutely required in such a case, as they also would frequently be during naval engagements."

The Colonist's question drawer will soon become gorged. The unanswered problems and conundrums, growing out of the redistribution discussion and kindred subjects, are rapidly gaining on our cotemporary, and we do not wonder that it has become dyspeptic, ill-tempered and abusive. Not a word have we heard yet in answer to those two problems, as to why 6,556 Lower Mainland voters are only entitled to SIX members, while 7,111 Island voters are accorded SIXTEEN fully fledged and blooming M.P.P's., and why some slight attempt was not made to equalize this disparity in the famous redistribution measure. Then there is that last little query, to wit: What difference could it make whether the Premier received and answered a certain telegram at Kamloops or Vancouver? We implore the Colonist to gratify the curiosity of its readers on these points.

Patrick applied for a position as porter for a wholesale store. "Patrick, I am afraid that you are not strictly honest." "Faith, an' phy does ye be thinkin' Oi'm not honest?" "Well, I've heard some whisperings that you were a little unreliable at your last place. I must have a perfectly honest man here." "Faith, an' Oi can show ye a certificate of honesty that'll make ye change your mind moighty quick." He then drew out a piece of paper containing words of the greatest praise of himself. "Who wrote this, Patrick?" "Who wrote it? Oi did, sor." "Oh, Oh! Is a certificate of your own writing a proof of your honesty?" "It is, sor; because, sor, Oi know more about meself than any other mon do; an,' begorry, if Oi wasn't honest Oi wouldn't be after tellin' ye Oi wrote it meself." And Patrick got the job, it is related. Patrick, with his own certificate as to his honesty, will remind our readers of a certain local politician.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 28, 1890.

FORT LANGLEY ITEMS.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

LANGLEY, May 26.—The political atmosphere is highly charged with electrical scintillations and the electorate is preparing for a grand display of sage discernment, at the next meeting of our branch of the Mainland Political Association. It behoves us, once for all, to make selection of the best men our wisdom can secure to represent our district in the Legislative Assembly, and return members who will have the interests of the entire Province advanced by good and useful measures, and not allow a small portion of it only—the Island of Vancouver—to be placed in the van of progress. We would fain see our old friends again seek our suffrages—for the last cabinet, and their supporters passed many salutary laws, but their fatal failure to give a fair representation in the House to the Mainland divisions has been productive of a state of feeling, far from desirable at this juncture. The meeting at Herring's Opera House in the Royal City was one the proceedings of which were read with surprise—and regret that some of your most respected citizens should have met with such scant courtesy from the chief speaker, and was such that friends and political opponents must have opened their ears and their eyes with wonder at the mistake made by their hitherto trusted member, and with astonishment at the unexpected attitude taken by him, first in the assertion that he would like to be amongst them again, in preference to the Island, and then telling his hearers that he cared little whether he was chosen by them or not; for if they declined to elect him he would go elsewhere. It was unhappy for all parties, this appearance before the constituency; but there is yet time for explanation and reconstruction. It is hard to part with a valuable representative, but remembering that the Premier and his colleagues have done good service to the State, and that perhaps only in this matter of the amendment to the Constitution Act wrong has been undoubtedly done to the Mainland people, there is still an opportunity to acknowledge the mistake and set matters right between the electors and those members who formed the majority in allowing such a manifestly unjust law to appear upon the statute book. The constituencies on the Centre Mainland will, it is to be hoped and urged, make their aspirations to be respected, by selecting only such men as will pledge themselves to secure in the next Local House a befitting and proportionate number of members who will work with all their powers to apply the resources of the Province generally for the amelioration of the people and the promotion of the prosperity of the country—socially, commercially and patriotically—to do which every section should have fair representation, and Island and Mainland interests be absorbed in the one object—the good of the people alike of every portion of British Columbia.

SCAVENGER'S WORK.

ALL PERSONS ARE REQUIRED TO TAKE notice that the following is a copy of Sec. 27 of the "Sanitary By-Law, 1890":
"Sec. 27.—No person not being a licensed scavenger under this by-law, or the employee of such scavenger, shall engage in removing any garbage, offal, swill, ashes, or night soil: Provided, however, that nothing in this by-law shall prevent any person from removing any such garbage, offal, swill, ashes, or night soil from any premises owned or occupied by himself, or allowing such removal by any person using the same for manure, or as food for pigs, poultry, or other live stock, but no payment shall be made, or consideration given or received, for or on account of such removal, other than the thing removed, and every such removal must be made in accordance with the provisions of this by-law."
The penalty for a breach of the provisions of this by-law is a fine of $50, or imprisonment for a period of two months.
D. ROBSON,
City Clerk.

TO THE ELECTORS OF New Westminster City.

GENTLEMEN:—In response to a requisition, numerously signed, which has been presented to me, I beg to offer myself as representative of this City in the Provincial Legislature.
I frankly confess that, aside from the great question of the just distribution of legislative power, I would scarcely care to be a candidate. If you do me the honor to elect me I shall make that question my first consideration at all times, and in order to do this it is essential that I keep quite free from any entangling alliances with either Government or Opposition. But to the people and the advocacy of the rights of the people, in this matter and in all others, I can fully and freely pledge myself; and with those, be they on what side of the House they may, who are animated by a similar spirit, I will work cordially.
The present crisis demands special treatment. We of the Lower Mainland are denied our just share of legislative power, and so long as that is the case our true policy, in my opinion—nay, the policy which our own self-respect compels us to adopt—is to return no man to the Legislature who will not make the righting of that wrong his first business. It may safely be assumed that those who shall be found willing to do right in this matter, will be the most likely to do right in others also.
Notwithstanding the utmost devotion to this first question, your representative will have to deal with many other matters, and perhaps it will be sufficient now to say on this point that I believe there is room for a good deal of work before the administration of public affairs can claim to be what it should be—government by the people for the people. I should earnestly endeavor to do my share of that work.
I believe I may safely assume that you need no assurance of my deep and abiding interest in everything that makes for the prosperity of New Westminster City.
I am, Gentlemen,
Very truly yours,
dmy16tc J. C. BROWN.

The property is situated on the sunny side of Mud Bay, the land is second to none anywhere, and parties wanting an investment for their capital cannot do better than take a look at this before investing elsewhere.

Stock and implements can go with Ranch if desired.

TERMS—One-third cash; balance to suit purchaser, at 8 per cent. per annum.

ALSO FOR SALE—THE FOLLOWING:

The North-West corner of Section 68, adjoining the Hastings Townsite—54 acres.

The North-West ¼ of Section XI., Township 2, 160 acres, all first-class land, 10 acres improved and sown to timothy pasture. Log house. Good creek runs along line of property, also the Johnstone Road. This is an excellent ranch.

Messrs. Clow & Maclure, architects, are calling for tenders for the erection of the Y. M. C. A. building, at the corner of Church and Columbia streets. Tenders will be received up to noon of June 10th, and as the funds are now on hand for carrying the work through to completion without financial hindrance, it is probable the building will be in course of erection within 30 days.

The Sons of England Benevolent Society will meet in the Temperance Hall Columbia street, to-morrow night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of electing officers for the present year. All members and those intending to join the order are invited to be present. The society is already in a flourishing condition and though only organized for a couple of weeks has now a membership of nearly 100.

On Monday night the steamer North Pacific had a terribly rough time of it crossing from the Sound to Victoria. When she reached that port her bulwarks had been carried away, her boats and lower deck-house stove in and smashed and any amount of glass fractured. The passengers passed the night in the cabin praying and vowing that if Providence let them put foot on shore again Providence could never tempt them off it anymore.

The article in last night's issue regarding the blasting on the North Arm Road, receives direct corroboration this morning from the very person who should know most about it, namely, Mr. Fraser. What manner of man he is can be seen from his contribution to the morning paper's very spicy columns this morning; and those who read may judge whether the author of such a production is a safe person to have charge of dangerous explosives and liberty to use them around the dwellings of unoffending citizens.

The performance by McMahon's great circus this afternoon was excellent. There was a very large attendance and everyone in the immense tent was thoroughly delighted. The show is about the best that has ever come to Westminster and contains many feats that are really thrilling and astonishing. The two gigantic elephants, Romeo and Queen Jumbo, the first aged 19 years and weighing 9,000 pounds, the other, the female, aged 23 years and weighing 9,800 pounds, caused the greatest amazement in all who saw them and their antics.

Columbia River Salmon.

An Astoria despatch says: Columbia river fishermen still complain of the light run of salmon. Larger fish than usual were brought in yesterday to some canneries, one being reported which weighed 62 pounds. At Cutting's cannery, Wednesday, one-third of the boats brought in half the total receipts of the day. The average has been fifteen to the boat for the past three days. The Sand Island traps are doing fairly well, but few steel heads are being caught. Blue blacks are more plentiful, although not in large numbers. At Elmores deliveries averaged 15 fish per boat for the last four days. From the Chinook cannery reports indicate an increased catch.

Lacrosse Practice.

The lacrosse practice should be large to-night, for the time is drawing close when the Westminster men must take the field in opposition to a team which has easily defeated the Victorias, and is thus strengthened by the experience of a match. It is to be hoped employers will arrange to allow their men who are lacrosse players to attend every practice between now and the date of the match; it is necessary to the proper efficiency of the team, and surely all are patriotic enough to assist in placing Westminster at the top of the list in every athletic contest. A scratch match has been arranged for Saturday afternoon, and those wishing to take part in it, are requested to give their names to the field captain to-night.

A Chance for the Defeated.

Elections are epidemic at present, in fact nothing but elections occupy the public mind. The resignation of Alderman Lyal has left a vacancy in the Council wigwam which must be filled, and the warrant for the election is now out. Nominations will take place on June 11th and voting, if any, on June 18th. The election is for Ward 4, and chiefly concerns the people of that precinct. So far there are no announced candidates in the field, but when the day comes there will be lots of men willing to fill the breach. By the way, would it not be an excellent idea to give the vacancy to one of the defeated candidates in the parliamentary elections? There are so many hunters in the political field that some of them are certain to be distanced, consequently one at least might be given a little consolation and a dip in public honors by electing him to the vacancy in the Council.

The Orphans.

Three sisters of the order of "Our Lady of Charity" have arrived in this city to found a home for the orphans. In this home the girls and boys will receive an education to suit them for the duties to be discharged in the household and on the farm. In connection with the establishment there will be a laundry where the citizens can have washing done in a superior manner; and there will be a workshop where the girls with needles and thread can do general repairs. The orphan children of all men shall have free admission to "the home," because the members of the order of "Our Lady of Charity" believe in the noble maxim of universal benevolence. Every rich man who meets them on this mission of charity should remember that a gift to the poor is a loan to the Lord; and that the giver, while making a good investment, gets a payment on account in the pleasure he enjoys assisting to provide a home for orphans.

Ch'ldren Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

George Francis Train's Trip.

Precisely at seven o'clock on Saturday night, George Francis Train reached Tacoma and toed the brass plate in front of the Ledger office, the point from which he started on March 18th, completing his journey round the world in 67 days, 13 hours, 2 minutes and 55 seconds. Train was accompanied by his secretary, S. W. Wall, and when the train bearing the travelers entered the Tacoma station, the crowd was so dense that it was with difficulty the travelers could make their way to the waiting carriages. The rear car in which Train could be seen from the window was at once surrounded by the multitude, all eager for a closer glimpse.

Train was clad entirely in white. Hat, shirt, tie, trousers and shoes were of snowy whiteness, the only colored article of wearing apparel being his black stockings, which showed above the tops of his shoes, and a brilliant red sash knotted about his waist. A gorgeous bouquet protruded from the upper left-hand pocket of his coat, and the top of a red Turkish fez with a long tassel peeped from one of the lower pockets. The hat was a wonderfully and fearfully constructed affair which the Citizen purchased in China. It was two stories high with a small cupola on top and with the inscription, "George Francis Train around the world in sixty days," printed in black letters on the forward end of the lower deck. The appearance of the brain cover was such that a small boy near the platform, couldn't resist the temptation to sing out, "Where did you get that hat?"

Just before the train pulled out, Train took a coral necklace from his pocket, and tied it about a little one's neck. "There, baby," he said, "is a present for you all the way from Arabia. Keep it in remembrance of your friend." The run from Chehalis to Tacoma was one continuous ovation to the traveller, who divided the honors with his New York guests. He was somewhat disappointed over his failure to secure a special over the Northern Pacific, but was much pleased at the reception on the train and at the depot.

Train says he is going around the world again in October, starting again at Tacoma. This time he proposes to make the trip in 42½ days. He lays out his programme this way:

	Days.
Tacoma to Yokohama	10½
Yokohama to Hong Kong	3½
Hong Kong to Singapore	3½
Singapore to Colombo	2
Colombo to Aden	4½
Aden to Suez	4½
Suez to Port Said	1
Port Said to Brindisi	2½
Brindisi to Southampton	2
Southampton to New York	6
New York to Tacoma	8
Total	42½

PERSONAL.

Mr. W. H. Ladner was in the city to-day prosecuting his canvass.

Hon. John Robson arrived in the City this afternoon from Vancouver.

Mr. Amor DeCosmos, president of the Victoria, Saanich and Westminster Railway, was in the city to-day and gave us a call. He is visiting the Mainland in the interests of the railway.

POLICE COURT.

(Before T. C. Atkinson, Esq., P. M.)

This morning Jas. Guest forfeited his $5 bail by non-appearance to answer a charge of having been drunk and incapable.

H. Veiencoat, for being in the same interesting condition, paid $2.50 in a fine and $1.50 in costs, or seven days in default.

Louis White, a colporteur or pedler, stepped up to answer to a rather serious charge. It came out in evidence that he had entered the house of Joseph, a Harrison River Indian, and pointed a loaded revolver at that gentleman, stating that he wished to make love to Joseph's klootchman. Joseph became so imbued with antipathy to this proposal that he made up his mind to knock White down, the thought and the act being simultaneous. When down Joseph divested White of three rings and the revolver. In explanation of all this fuss White informed His Honor that he had an American permit to carry the revolver, which he kept for the purpose of protecting himself from the attack of wild animals on lonely roads. His Honor informed the culprit that no American notions were wanted over here, and sentenced him to one month's imprisonment.

ELECTION OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

Who Are to Vote and How Voters are Registered.

The following information respecting elections for city school trustees will be of interest to many of our readers:

Voters—Any householder or freeholder resident in any ward of the city six months previous to the application to register, and the wife of any such householder or freeholder, shall be entitled to be registered; and any person registered as a voter shall be eligible to vote in the ward for which he is registered.

Registration of Voters.—The register of voters for this city is kept by the Government agent, closed for the present school year after Saturday next, May 31st, so that any desiring to be registered and to have a voice in the elections next month for school trustees should not fail to call upon Mr. Warwick, Government agent, some time this week.

Qualification of School Trustees—Any male or female householder or freeholder in the school district of the full age of 21 years, and registered as a voter, may be elected to serve as a trustee, provided always that no clergyman of any denomination shall be eligible for the position.

Nominations for one trustee in each of the city wards will be made on Monday, the 16th June next, and the poll (in any) take place on the following day.

The Games at Victoria.

The Colonist gives the following interesting sketches of the lacrosse and cricket matches played at the capital on the 24th: The lacrosse match at Beacon Hill on Saturday morning brought together a very large audience, and although the game was frequently interrupted by unnecessary delays, through the ball getting among the crowd, great interest was manifested, especially by those who witnessed Canada's national game for the first time. The Vancouver team came down expecting defeat, and they played a fast and hard game to prevent it, and were very successful, inasmuch as they reversed their expectations and returned home covered with glory. The match was the first in the series for the championship of British Columbia and a handsome trophy. Vancouver club played Simpson, who is now, and has been for some time, a resident of Uncle Sam's domain, and in consequence not a resident of the province for twenty-one days previous to the match. This is a violation of the rules; and does not speak well for the Vancouverites being the first to break them. The referee, Mr. A. McKenzie, of Westminster, and umpires B. Simpson, of Montreal, and H. McGregor, of Westminster, being appointed, the game proceeded, with the result that Vancouver defeated the home team by four goals to one. Too much praise cannot be given to the Vancouver team for the way in which they worked together, and especially the new players, who played far better than some of the old team, who were unavoidably absent. The home play of the visitors was as near perfect as possible, under the circumstances, while their defence played a strong game. The Victoria team played as though they were demoralized and could not gather themselves together. With one or two exceptions the home team did not play lacrosse as it should be played.

In the first game the Vancouvers scored by a ball thrown from behind the flags, Cullin running out to knock it past missed it and D. Smith struck it down and through the flags, scoring first game for the visitors. Time, 6 minutes.

In the second game frequent stoppages occurred, and prevented an exhibition of good lacrosse. Finally Simpson shot on the flags, and the umpire's hand went up, giving the visitors the second game. This game was disputed by the home team and a score of individuals who were standing immediately behind the flags, with the result that the umpire was removed, and Max. Mowat, of Westminster, requested to act. In the third game the Victoria boys seemed to settle down a little, and after a few minutes sharp play, scored the first game by Sprinkling, in a straight overhand shot.

The fourth game was the best contested of any, and the ball travelled from one end of the field to the other in quick time, and some good chary, neat play was indulged in by both teams. Sprinkling again made a good shot on the flags, and a cry of game went up, but was disallowed by the umpire. Discouraged and disheartened, the boys again made a desperate attempt, but the defence was equal to the occasion and the ball was returned to the other end, where the visitors made it very interesting for the demoralized defence of the home team. Several shots were made direct on the flags, finally the ball passed the goal from behind, and Cullin, the goal-keeper, stopped it about a foot in front and it bounded back through the flags, scorthe third game for Vancouver. The fifth and last game was simply a repetition of the fourth and decided by a splendid shot from Nicholls, and won the match for the Vancouverites.

The protest of the Victoria team will be considered by the Association in a short time, and if decided in favor of Victoria the match will have to be played over. The Vancouver team played well throughout. The Victoria team, with the exception of Sprinkling, Sheddon, Blight and Charlie Cullin, played a very poor game. The fact of having no defence players the captain was obliged to take two of the home and place them on defence without any practice, and as a natural consequence were like fish out of water. The Victoria team are lacking on the defence, and if they intend playing the defence that played on Saturday, give them lots of practice. The material is there.

CRICKET.

For the first time since the formation of the club the home team suffered a defeat at the hands of the visitors, the score at the end of the first innings being—Victoria, 128; New Westminster, 171. The latter went first to the wickets, and were there most of the day, it being four in the afternoon before Victoria went to the bat. They succeeded in putting together 115 runs, thus saving the "follow-on" by three runs. For New Westminster Coulthard played a fine innings, scoring 62; Wild put together 36 and Woods 18. For Victoria Shaw's fine hitting had much to do with pulling up the score, he contributing 33. B. H. T. Drake and Maguire's steady play also helped very much to this end. The bowling of the Victoria club went to pieces, though Mr. Pooley bowled steadily for a long time. The Westminster team is undoubtedly the stronger of the two, their bowling being very good, especially that of Mr. Malins. Their fielding also was very superior to that of Victoria. The result of Saturday's match shows that in future it will be necessary for Victoria to spend more time in practice than they have been in the habit of doing. Westminster and Vancouver have strong teams this year, and if Victoria intends to retain her laurels as the best cricket team better work is necessary.

COLUMBIAN SUPPLEMENT.

VOLUME VIII. NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., MAY 28, 1890. NUMBER 98.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

New Westminster District.

GENTLEMEN:—In view of the near approach of the election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of our late representative (the much-respected D. Chisholm) and as I have stated in my card to you that I am a candidate for that honor, I will now lay before you some of my views on the leading questions which I consider will arise in the near future for consideration.

I have been asked what I mean when I announce myself as a Liberal-Conservative; I reply, "That by nature and education I am a Conservative, but a residence of over 30 years in this Province and much intercourse with our American cousins has had the effect of changing many of my views, and given me liberal ideas, therefore I claim I am a Liberal-Conservative." Owing to the fact that party lines are not defined in British Columbia as they are in the older provinces, I consider that our representatives are not in duty bound to give a through-thick-and-thin support to any party, but they should go to Ottawa prepared to give a generous support to all GOOD measures which may be brought before them, and to consider the prosperity of the Dominion as a whole, but our own Province in particular, and should a measure come before them which they consider in any way detrimental to the interests of this Province they should take their stand like true men and vote against it.

I am opposed to a certain extent, to the Tariff, or National Policy as applied to British Columbia. We are a long way from the centres of manufacture in the East, and many articles of every-day use to our Farmers and others, and which we cannot produce at home can be obtained more readily and at shorter notice from our near neighbors over the line, and in many cases the articles are better adapted to our needs than those brought from the Eastern Provinces; in fact, much of our Farming and Mining Machinery, Wooden Ware and other articles are brought from the States, although the duties are so heavy. Again regarding our food supply; we do not raise enough to supply our wants, and are obliged to cross the border for it, and are met with such heavy duties that heads of families in this Province pay more than ten to one compared to their compeers in Eastern Provinces. We have had example to the point during the last three months. If we had not received a good supply from California there would have been a meat famine; as it is we are now and have been paying 25 cents per pound for mutton, which is more than ordinary mortals like to pay, and the same state of affairs is likely to obtain again after any long and severe winter, for in spite of "Protection" for the last eleven years our stock raisers are little better prepared to meet hard winters than they were before, and to my mind the only ones who have reaped the benefit of the N. P. are the manufacturers. As a true Britisher I should like to see "Free Trade," but as that seems out of the question, I would advocate "Reciprocity" in many articles which are at present in the Tariff lists, as I think it would be beneficial to both countries, and the working man would not have to go down so deep into his pockets to buy what he needs to eat and wear. I am aware the Government must have a revenue to carry on the affairs of the country, but I would have "luxuries" pay more and get at the pockets of the richer classes who can better afford to pay taxes.

Owing to the long continued sickness of the late Mr. Chisholm, he was unable to be in his place this session, and very little during the previous one, so we of this District have been practically unrepresented, and our local wants have not been brought before the notice of the House. Had he (Mr. Chisholm) been in his seat, I do not think the Postmaster-General would have been left so much in the dark concerning the necessity of regular mail facilities on the Lower Fraser, as he seems to have been when he proposed to cut off the mail subsidy from that important route, and there are other places in the District which need better postal facilities, which I consider should receive that gentleman's earliest attention.

I hope that in the near future our District will reach that point that we may look for it to be divided and receive another representative. At present I think it is the largest constituency in the Dominion, extending over 1500 miles of territory, and when the census returns are in I think the necessary number of population will be found to demand such additional representation.

The protection of the river banks at Chilliwack, Sumas, Burton's Prairie and other places should receive my earnest attention, also the works for improving the channel at the Sandheads, in view of the expected increase in our shipping interests.

I consider the Province should have control over all railway charters and privileges within our borders.

Our Fishing interests, being of such great importance to this District in particular, I feel should receive more than ordinary attention.

I would urge the cutting of a canal through the Delta lands from the mouth of the Serpentine to Fraser River, also to enquire into the question of cutting one from the Fraser River to Port Moody, which has often been suggested to me.

Immigration, I consider, should be fostered, and encouraged judiciously. Just at present it is coming here fast enough; I would not like to see a large influx pour in at once, as many would be disappointed and go away disgusted and probably give our glorious Province a bad name.

There are many other matters I should like to touch upon, but it would make this address too long. I hope to see as many as possible before the election, when I shall be prepared to lay my views more fully before them and answer any questions. As soon as possible after the arrival of the writ I will arrange for a personal canvass and will send due notice of time and place of meetings.

During my long residence in the Province I have travelled through much of it, from Victoria to Cariboo, and have noted its growth and requirements, therefore, I feel fully competent to bring such matters before the notice of the House in a practical, business-like manner.

Should I have the honor to be elected I assure you I shall watch over the interests of this District faithfully and to the best of my ability, not forgetting that I also go as a true British Columbian and to do my duty as such.

Yours faithfully,

WM. B. TOWNSEND.

Parliamentary Election, 1890

To the Electors of New Westminster District:

GENTLEMEN:—Having been requested by a large number of electors of this District to offer myself as a candidate to represent you in the House of Commons, to which request I have much pleasure in complying, I beg to state that should you do me the honor to elect me as your representative whilst giving the present Government my free and independent support, I would do my utmost to favor the following amongst the many measures that I consider would be beneficial to the interests of this Province and the Dominion at large.

To urge the further improvements of the navigation of the Fraser and other rivers, the protection of their banks, the improvement of any harbors in this District, and the construction of canals where necessary for the purpose of allowing farmers and others every facility to reach market.

To encourage agriculture by protecting all such articles as can be produced in this Province, and to lower duties on all that cannot, and which are absolutely the necessaries of life, and increase the tariff on luxuries so that the consumer would be even taxed less than at present.

To increase the representation in proportion to the wealth and importance of this District.

To increase and have adequate mail service to all portions of the Province and free letter delivery in cities.

No diminution in the Chinese Restriction Act.

To have the Fishing Regulations amended to meet the requirements of this Province.

To have a Dry-Dock constructed at some suitable point on the Mainland to meet the growing demands of this District.

To urge the exchange of Lands in Peace River for the Lands in the Railway Belt;

And that Mining Machinery be admitted free of duty until such is manufactured in the Dominion.

To appoint efficient Immigration agents in all important localities.

To urge the Dominion Government to contribute to make Roads and Bridges through Dominion lands.

To urge immediate aid in any measure to prevent the overflowing of Dominion lands in this Province and to reclaim those subject to inundation.

Having been a resident of this District for over twenty years and knowing its requirements, I should be in a position to advocate your interests, and also my having had the honor to be your representative for the last four years in the Provincial Legislature would place me in a position of knowing something of Legislative routine.

I hope to visit each polling station during the canvass and more fully explain my views on the various topics of the day, which would be impossible to do in a short address.

I have the honor to be,

Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

dwmy13tc WM. H. LADNER.

—OF—

New Westminster District.

GENTLEMEN:—As I have already announced, I beg to offer myself as a candidate for the seat in the Commons made vacant by the death of our late member, and I come before you as a supporter of the Government of Sir John Macdonald, reserving to myself, of course, the right to act independently should the action of the Government in any matter seem prejudical to our interests.

I would strongly urge immediate attention to the improvement of the River where required, for the protection of the rich agricultural lands of the District, and if elected, I shall at once proceed to Ottawa and leave no stone unturned to secure the immediate appointment of a competent engineer with a view to the prompt undertaking of this most important work.

As you are aware, the duty on certain kinds of mining machinery has been remitted in this Province as a special concession to British Columbia on account of the special conditions obtaining here. I would strongly urge the further application of this principle of special tariff arrangements, so as to relieve consumers of goods which must be imported, while preserving the protection of our agricultural and other interests.

The land laws of the Dominion, having been framed without close consideration of our requirements, are in many points unsuitable, for example in the conditions as to clearing. I would endeavor to secure immediate reform in this important matter.

Subsidies having been granted to railways in the various Provinces of the Dominion, I should urgently present the claims to similar assistance of railways within our own Province.

Should the City of New Westminster decide to build a bridge across the Fraser, I should use my best endeavors to obtain a substantial subsidy for the work, urging that an undertaking of this character should rank with canals and railways as one entitled to national aid.

The next census will undoubtedly show such an increase in the wealth and population of this District as will constitute an undeniable claim to increased representation in the Commons. That claim, if elected, I shall support to the utmost of my ability.

Although, with the growth of the District, the mail service has been improved and extended, it still lags far behind our requirements. I should give special attention to this part of your representative's work, feeling that it is one which is of vital importance.

I should urge the enactment of such fishery regulations, especially in the issuing of licences, as would, without any injustice to the canneries, the importance of which to the prosperity of the District all must recognize, fully protect the free fishermen, and encourage the settlement amongst us of the greatest possible number of that industrious and hardy class of men.

All enactments and regulations for the protection of white labor would receive my hearty support.

Continued work towards the improvement of the harbors of New Westminster and Vancouver, and the efficient lighting and buoying of the same, is a matter which would have my closest attention at all times.

In a word, I should constantly urge upon the Government the wisdom of a liberal policy in public works in this District, the vast resources of which make it certain that such a policy would be amply justified by results.

Trusting to have the opportunity of seeing every elector before polling day,

I am, Gentlemen,

Very sincerely yours,

dwmy14tc GORDON E. CORBOULD.
