ELECTION CARD.

To the Electors of New Westminster City and District.

GENTLEMEN:—At the urgent request of a large number of the Electors of the above Districts, I have consented to become a Candidate, and request your support and patronage.

My political banner is uplifted, and on it will be seen, printed in gold letters, "Straw Hats—good coverings for massive craniums; Men's Fancy Flannel Shirts; Balbriggan Underclothing; Summer Coats and Vests; Linen Dusters; Pique and Fancy Vests; White and Black Plug Hats;" all of which are very suitable wear for the present political campaign, which is liable to be very warm and close. (An endless variety of Men's and Boys' Suits, Felt Hats, etc.)

Electors, rally around this standard, and down with monopolists and—high prices.

I am perfectly sure I can give you better value for your money than any other candidate in the field.

Yours respectfully,

J. E. PHILLIPS,

THE FILIBUSTERS

Of Lower California are Cleverly Checkmated by the Astuteness of Secretary Blaine.

Steele, the First Governor of Oklahoma, Welcomed in the Indian Territory.

Lord Salisbury States His Views on the Socialistic Question With Characteristic Frankness.

Stopping the Revolutionists.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Herald's Washington special says: The report from San Franscisco and Los Angeles today about the filibustering expedition for the capture of Lower California, attracted little attention here, because, first, it early became known that the Government knew of the scheme and had provided against it with great promptitude and vigor, several days ago; and second, because the high-sounding titles which the leaders were said to have given themselves made the scheme ridiculous. How the Governmnnt got word of the plot before the press is not known, but last Saturday, at the request of Secretary Blaine, who seems to have been remarkably well-informed, the Secretary of War ordered the commander of the troops stationed at San Diego and in that neighborhood to so dispose his command as to intercept and capture all persons or organizations attempting to violate the neutrality laws by any demonstrations against the Mexican peninsula, and use his utmost vigilance in the matter. At the same time the new cruiser, Charleston, was ordered to go to sea and cruise along the coast of the peninsula so as to prevent any filibustering operations by sea. The Herald's dispatch from San Franscisco, printed this morning, said, "The United States steamer, Charleston, left San Francisco to-day under sealed orders, her ostensible destination being Honolulu." Her real orders are as stated above.

Oklahoma's First Governor.

GUTHRIE, Ind. T., May 23.—Governor Steele, of Oklahama, the first governor of that territory, arrived here last evening and was tendered an enthusiastic reception. The crowd at the station was enormous.

A Singular Accident.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Walter Webb, Vice-president of the New York Central & Hudson River Railway, has been compelled to quit work on account of an affection of the eyes. Ten days ago Webb was suddenly struck with blindness as he sat at his desk at the Grand Central depot. The physicians think that the trouble was caused by the bursting of a small blood-vessel at the base of the brain.

A Human Devil.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., May 23.—Advices just received from Mould Pigeon River, W. Va., give details of the most atrocious murder which occurred there last Saturday. Jim Brewer shot and killed Ike Brewer, jr. The shooting was caused by the reopening of an old feud Late yesterday afternoon while Ike Brewer, jr. was sitting in a store, Jim Brewer came in and without a word of warning struck Ike a fearful blow with his Winchester rifle across the neck, breaking the neck. After the dying man fell to the floor Jim put the muzzle of the rifle to his chin and fired, scattering the unfortunate man's brains in every direction. Brewer was arrested and is now confined in Logan county jail. Jim Brewer has gained considerable notoriety by being the leading character in the killing of the Baisden brothers three or four weeks ago. Ike Brewer, jr., was a cripple having only one leg.

An Awful Crime.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 23.—Sheriff John A. May, of Stone Co., Missouri, brought to Ozark jail to-day, for safe keeping, Fletcher Kirby, a young man of Carroll County, Ark., who has confessed the murder of an old school teacher named Rogers, whose body was found by two boys about a month ago. Kirby was arrested in Delta County, Texas, on May 17th. Kirby in his confession says that the murder was planned by another man, whose name he gave to Sheriff May. The old teacher was persuaded to go with Kirby to Stone County to look for a location for a little store which Rogers wanted to establish. When the men reached "Cow Creek," a wild and lonly region on the Missouri border, Kirby persuaded Rogers to leave the main road and take a path leading through a deep ravine; here Kirby shot Rogers twice and took his money and watch. After robbing him Kirby says he thought of killing himself, but the dying man begged him to live and try to get forgiveness for the crime.

One of the Harpers Gone.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Fletcher Harper, a member of the firm of Harper & Bros., all brothers and son of Fletcher Harper the youngest of the original four brothers who established the well-known publishing house of that name, died, after a lingering illness, at his residence late last evening. He was sixty years of age.

Lord Salisbury on Socialism.

LONDON, May 20.—In the House of Lords to-day the Earl of Wemyss and March denounced the tendency of the Government towards socialist legislation. It was not land alone, but every kind of property, that was threatened. Freedom of contract and freedom of private enterprise were assailed. Lord Salisbury admitted the existence of a strong tendency to lean upon the state upon every occasion. Against this, he said, statesmen must guard. Too much importance was attached to the specter of socialism. The public could be trusted to find out what practical good lies behind the socialist doctrines. Nobody not absolutely blind could deny the existence of great evils from which arose the socialist proposals and action. We are bound to do all we can to remedy these evils, even if we are called socialists, knowing that we are undertaking no new principle or striking out on no new route but are simply pursuing the long and healthy tradition of English legislation.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Capt. E. S. Scoullar has decided to retire from the political contest, and will not run for parliamentary honors at present. He finds that his many business interests would suffer severely did he devote much time to political matters, and as he could not attend to both public and private business to his own satisfaction he has decided to withdraw from the contest.

Mr. A. M. Herring returned yesterday from a canvass of the district. He expresses himself as much pleased with his reception by the people.

Mr. C. B. Sword, of Matsqui, has announced himself as an independent candidate to represent the District in the Provincial Legislature.

Mr. J. C. Henderson, of Chilliwhack, comes out on the straight Government ticket, and will stand for election in the District.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

A Public Meeting at Langley Takes Steps to Call a District Convention.

A public meeting was held in the Town Hall, Langley, on May 21st, Mr. J. Maxwell (Reeve) in the chair, in connection with the coming general election. And also a meeting of the Mainland Political Association. It was moved by Henry Harris, seconded by Kenneth Morrison, that Mr. Maxwell be appointed a delegate to meet delegates at meeting in Vancouver on the 22nd inst. Carried.

Moved by Kenneth Morrison, seconded by H. Harris, that each municipality and settlement be invited to appoint three delegates to meet at Langley on Wednesday, 28th May, 1890, at 1 p. m. in the Town Hall, for the purpose of selecting candidates for the Local House. Carried unanimously.

Moved by J. Taylor, seconded by Kenneth Morrison, that J. Maxwell, J. Gray and H. Harris be appointed delegates for Langley to meet delegates here on 28th May, 1890. Carried.

Moved by H. Harris, secended by J. Taylor, that the Secretary be instructed to forward a copy of this meeting to the papers. Carried.

Meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

OTWAY WILKIE,
Secretary pro tem.

Langley, May 21st, 1890.

CORRESPONDENCE.

"MR. ROBSON'S MEETING."

EDITOR COLUMBIAN.—Sir:—The grim and moody silence of a well-behaved and highly intelligent audience, and their refusal to applaud, is a sorer trial upon the feelings of an orator than a tumultuous hurricane of hisses, howls, groans, vile epithets and bitter execrations against him. It is this cold, immobile expression of disapproval, worthy of old Athens, rather than the loud barbaric roar of negation, that makes the orator—full of over-weening pride and wrapped in the flimsy conceit of a suppositious mastery of his audience and subject—feel uncomfortable. In spite of his well-trained mask, that showed no trace of perturbation, his nonchalent jaunty air that betrayed no inward misgiving, Hon. John Robson must undoubtedly have felt himself on Wednesday evening far from comfortable. He did a daring and, to quote his own choice expression, a "cheeky" thing that night in telling his audience a number of what he called facts totally devoid of truth. He actually, to use another of his own elegant pieces of verbiage, "bamboozled" them. When they sought to ask questions he insulted them and stopped their mouths. His emissaries, the police under their empty head, Chief of Police Pearce, actually interfered and threatened one of our most prominent and respected citizens with arrest, because that gentleman dared to dissent from the dull, wearisome, would-be tyrant on the platform, when he tried to impose one of his shabby, clumsy fabrications upon his suffering audience. The question arises, who are the police? are they the censors of public affairs? are they the judges to whom we shall turn on all matters of conduct, literature, art, science and parliamentary rules? Are they the servants or the masters of the public? When did they exchange the lictor's rod for the consul's, the censor's baton? Is it not quite time that those gentlemen, and especially their Chief, who seems to hanker after the earth, and if he got that would probably cry for the sun, moon and stars, should be taught that they are servants, and very humble servants, too? It is disgraceful to expose our best citizens to the ignominy of being cautioned by the police in a full, free and orderly public meeting, and that by a man who seems to be as ignorant of his duty as a Hottentot is of electricity. The Chief of Police and Hon. John Robson make a nice pair. Impudent conceit on the one hand; densest ignorance on the other. "It was the best that could be done under the circumstances," as Hon. John Robson said, probably more than five thousand times. He came here Wednesday night in all the pride and strength of his matchless assurance to explain to the wronged people of this constituency what those circumstances were. He juggled with the audience; he told them paltry children's stories about his own life. He posed before them as the "boss axeman of this Province," and a pretty figure he made while he was posing, with one hand in his trousers' pocket and the other toying with his watch chain. He told them he had worked, oh, so hard. But did he not get paid for it? Well, he would not have been J. Robson, Esq., if he did not; that's all; and well paid for it, too. Leave John alone for that. But what about the "circumstances"? Not a word; not a syllable. Masterly evasion, fencing with the question, caveating, feinting, humming and hawing and repeating himself "till repetition's self grew weary," and, amazing sight, he himself seemed to grow weary of the sound of his own voice. And could there be a grosser insult, a more unpardonable, flagrant piece of coarse, Cromwellian bullying than to tell the gentleman who dissented from his views that he was drunk and making an exhibition of himself? Hon. John Robson does not get drunk himself now, so he felt tolerably safe in hurling that vulgar speech, worthy of a thorough-paced cad, at his opponent; but the charge was false, the gentleman insulted was not drunk; not nearly so drunk as Hon. Mr. Robson, who was in a beastly state of intoxication—"with the exuberance of his own verbosity." Then think of the man hotching on his overcoat and saying his final and perhaps his most odious taunt—"Well, the gentleman may stay here all night if he choose; I'm going home." And the dear, sweet Czar of all the Columbias went home, laughing up his sleeve at having, as he imagined, insulted, brow-beaten, twisted round his little finger, thumped, thwacked and nose-pulled four or five hundred of Westminster's free electors. And poor Thos. Cunningham, Esq., M.P.P., sat like a stucco image behind his lord and master all night, and never a whimper out of his head; the faithful old Tray, after roosting so long on the fence, he at length jumped into the arms of John. Let us admire our faithful Tommy; bless him. There was an example of virtuous mummery, dumbness, Uriah Heep 'umbleness for you. Never once did John, his lord and master, refer to his faithful, pliable marionette behind him. Lastly, Hon. John Robson depicted with feverish zeal the awful catastrophes that would fall upon this country had he resigned. But if it was glory he was after, and his acts show it was nothing else, let him remember the glory of Cincinnatus, of Pericles, called from their inglorious rural toil to grasp the helm of Rome in danger; Greece in her darkest hour; called by the united voice of a great people to come and deliver them. These men did not covet the unsubstantial thing called power; they resigned with ease the gubernatorial pot and back again they went—Cincinnatus to his plough, Pericles to his garden and his books, rewarded in the thought of having piloted the state to the calm waters of prosperity and peace. But they were men of mind and deep philosophy. Here is a chance of glory our provincial leader threw away with prodigal recklessness.

Yours truly,

CAMILLE DESMOULINS.

MAINLAND ASSOCIATION.

Two Meetings at Vancouver Thursday---The Central Executive in the Afternoon, and a Large Public Meeting in the Evening---A Strong Resolution Enthusiastically Carried.

Pursuant to notice, the Central Executive of the Mainland Assoctation met in Hart's Opera House yesterday (Thursday) afternoon shortly after four o'clock. Nineteen delegates were present, representing nearly every municipality and settlement, as well as the two cities of the Lower Mainland. Following are the names of the delegates and the respective districts represented: Mayor Brown (President of the Association) and Messrs. Curtis and Townsend, Westminster City; Messrs. Dunn, Tatlow Templeton and Alexander, Vancouver City; Mr. J. T. Scott, Port Moody; Messrs. Harris, Webber and Stevens, Maple Ridge; Dr. Bodington, Mission; Capt. Thompson, Hatzic Prairie; Mr. D. McGillivray, Chilliwack; Mr. J. Maxwell, Langley; Mr. Shannon, Surrey; Messrs. Sexsmith and Sweet, Richmond; Mr. C. B. Sword, Matsqui.

Considerable routine business was disposed of, and letters were read from the secretaries of the various branches, condemnatory of the Government's redistribution policy and expressing the earnest determination of the electors in the District to return none but thoroughly independent men, pledged to Lower Mainland rights and a fair redistribution for the whole Province.

The subject of the forthcoming Provincial election campaign was discussed in all its bearings, and a resolution (published elsewhere) was unanimously adopted for submission to the public meeting in the evening.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC AND UNANIMOUS MEETING.

The public meeting under the auspices of the Mainland Association had been called for 7:30 p. m. By 8 o'clock Hart's Opera House was well filled, and a few minutes later the President of the Association, Mayor Brown of Westminster, ascended the platform and asked all the delegates present in the hall to take seats on the stage. Nearly all who were present in the afternoon responded.

The chairman, Mayor Brown, then addressed the audience and stated that the object of the meeting was to acquaint the electors with the object of the Mainland Association, its ideas and its propositions with regard to the forthcoming election. He believed that the majority of the electors in the three constituencies were in sympathy with the Mainland Association. The Association felt that they must put some platform before the electors, which at the same time should not be too cast-iron. The more the subject was reviewed the more it became apparent that the true policy of the Lower Mainland constituencies was to send down six men who will stand together, independent of either party, firmly and strongly for the rights of the whole Province, first of all in this matter of redistribution, and afterwards in other matters. (Applause.) The Mainland Association was thoroughly in sympathy with the whole people, it was thoroughly in sympathy with popular rights.

He (the speaker) believed that the audience would agree with him that the true policy of the Lower Mainland was to send down six independent men who would stand, as it were, between the two parties. He thought the candidates should take no pledge which would in any way hamper or embarrass them in standing up for the rights of the whole Province. The people of the Lower Mainland did not wish to obtain anything but their just rights. That was what the delegation had told the Government. The speaker believed that the meeting would agree with him that the three constituencies of the Lower Mainland were wealthy enough and strong enough to stand alone. They had sufficient intelligence and ability to stand on the floor of the house without tacking themselves on to the coat-tails of either party, as they at present existed. (Emphatic applause.) The speaker confessed that he had not seen in either of the present Provincial parties any of that sympathy with the great movements which, his hearers knew, were going on over the whole world in favor of popular rights and popular legislation, which would entitle those parties to the undivided support of right-thinking men. (Great applause.)

A large number of delegates, President Brown continued, were present at the meeting from all parts of the District and letters had been received by the Central Executive from many sections of the District, heartily in accord with the Mainland Association movement and expressing strong disapproval of of the policy of the Government on redistribution matters.

The speaker felt it his duty to bring before the meeting another matter connected with the general subject. As most of the audience were aware, the delegation appointed to wait on the Government at Victoria had come back and had told the people that they had failed to obtain from the Government any pledge. The Government had been asked:

"Are we to understand that the 'balance of power' theory is to be kept up irrespective of any increase of population on the Mainland over the Island? That is, would they legislate in the interest of dividing the Province into two sections. Supposing that the population of one of those sections should run far away from the other, are we to understand that the 'balance of power' is to be maintaned?"

The leader of the Government answered: "We do not understand that there is any theory of the 'balance of power' to be kept up."

I said, continued Mr. Brown, "Then we may understand that the Government is not pledged to maintain this 'balance of power' theory?"

The Premier answered: "Oh, I should have said 'I', not 'we'. I am speaking now as an individual, and not as Premier."

Then, continued Mr. Brown, myself and other members of the delegation did our best to obtain from the Government some pledge that this "balance of power" theory would be thrown aside when redistribution took place after the census; but we entirely failed. The other members of the Government simply refused to say a word on the subject, and yet Mr. Robson on the platform at New Westminster, the previous evening, had stated that every member of the Government had given a direct pledge that this "balance of power" would be disregarded. The fact was that they had been pressed to give such a pledge and had refused. (Applause.)

President Brown then called upon Mr. R. G. Tatlow, who, he said, had been from the first a member of the Mainland Association, thoroughly in sympathy with its objects, and one of its most faithful and efficient workers, to introduce the resolution passed at the meeting of the Central Executive that afternoon, containing the recommendation which they wished to put before the people of the District.

Capt. Tatlow came forward amid hearty applause, and submitted the resolution, which is as follows:

That we earnestly request the electors not to vote for any candidate who will not take the following pledge:

I pledge myself to use every means in my power to obtain, immediately after the census, a redistribution of seats which will be fair to the whole Province; to work cordially with all members willing to adopt this platform, and to hold myself free from any pledge of allegiance to the present political parties. And generally to vote and work in favor of sound, popular legislation, and against all measures tending to create land or other monopolies.

Speaking briefly to the resolution, Capt. Tatlow said that he was very glad that it had fallen to him to propose the motion. He was, as they knew, a candidate for election for the City of Vancouver, and he had met with the question "Are you a Government candidate?" He was not a Government candidate. He had been a member of the Mainland Association ever since it started, and he had been a member of its Executive Committee all through. Immediately after the Bill passed he had made a speech in Vancouver, and thereby lost the support of certain people.

The speaker said he would say no more about his own candidature, as the object of the meeting was to discuss the Mainland question, to ask the members to pledge themselves to withhold allegiance from any political party. Mr. Beaven the other day had told the Premier that the Government had no policy. Mr. Robson replied: "Neither has the Opposition." It had remained for the Mainland Association to formulate one plank of a platform or policy. The other evening, continued Capt Tatlow, a great part of Mr. Robson's address had been an attack upon the Mainland Association. Mr. Robson had said that the Association had asked for representation by population. The Association had asked that population should be a basis for representation, and that other circumstances should also have consideration.

A few statistics would show the necessity for a fairer redistribution than existed. On the Lower Fraser there was a voting population of 6,556, with six members, and the Island had a voting population of 7,111, with sixteen members! Turning to the public accounts for the last fiscal year, it would be found that the Lower Mainland constituencies had contributed to the revenue of the Province $174,000, while the whole of Vancouver Island had contributed but $121,000 (Applause.) But we have been accused of sectionalism because we wish to have our simple rights in the matter of representation. The people of Vancouver Island are the last ones to talk about sectionalism. The pages of Provincial history will show that none have been more sectional than they, where what they considered their rights were interfered with. Why, they were, on one occasion at least, prepared to shoulder the rifle and make war upon the Government of Canada. When Lord Dufferin visited the Province as Governor-General he found an arch in Victoria bearing the motto, "Carnarvon terms or separation." Lord Dufferin had refused to pass under the arch, and it had been removed. These were matters of history, and these were the people who accused the Lower Mainland of sectionalism! (Great applause.)

Capt. Thompson, of Burton's Prairie, was then introduced, and seconded the resolution in a short but telling speech. He was liberally applauded. He said that he believed the right step had been taken in the redistribution matter. The grievance the cities of the Lower Mainland, he considered was greater than in the District. He did not believe that the work of the Association should stop on the Mainland, but should extend to the Island as well. He was in favor of the Association assisting to get fair representation for the whole Province. (Applause.) The speaker observed that the Association had a very important work in looking after the registration of voters. In Westminster District the Provincial voters' list did not number 2,000, while the Dominion register showed nearly 3,000, with a more absolute qualification. This showed great laxity somewhere, and he (the speaker) would endeavor to see that nine per cent. at least of the voters in his section were registered before the census, and he would recommend all the other delegates to do the same. (Great applause.)

The chairman then declared the resolution open for discussion, and Mr. Jas. Orr, in response to cries from the audience went upon the platform and spoke for some time in a semi-humorous vein, but principally in the direction of forwarding his own candidature. He was thoroughly in accord with the resolution, however.

Mr. McGeer, another Vancouver candidate, was the next speaker. He also amused and delighted the audience by his funny and sarcastic allusions to the Government and the Premier, and likewise supported the platform of the Mainland Association.

Mr. Townsend, one of the delegates upon the stage, then spoke a few words in support of the resolution, and briefly referred to his candidature for the Commons.

Mayor Brown, the chairman, expressed the hope that future speakers would all confine themselves more to the subject. No more speakers coming forward immediately, however, and in accordance with the wish of the audience, the resolution, after being again read, was put and carried unanimously amid great enthusiasm and applause.

Mr. Cotton, of the News-Advertiser, was then loudly called for. He spoke at some length, and dealt with the whole subject ably and lucidly. He deprecated the idea of candidates speaking at the meeting and diverging from the question to advance their own election. He was thoroughly in accord with the resolution that had been passed and with the objects of the Mainland Association. The Premier came in for a sharp criticism and the speaker expressed the strongest condemnation of the arbitrary and un-British attempt that had been made to suppress free speech at Mr. Robson's meetings both in Vancouver and Westminster. The speaker was loudly applauded upon taking his seat.

Mayor Brown, on behalf of the Mainland Association, thanked the audience for their attendance.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Brown as chairman was then passed, and the meeting adjourned.

Celestials Burned Out.

STANLEY, B.C., May 23.—A fire in Chinatown this morning destroyed the old Kwong Lee and the Kock Ling stores, together with two or three other house.

Still They Come.

COPENHAGEN, May 23.—A daughter has been born to Princess Louise, the wife of Crown Prince Frederick.

The News-Advertiser in its report of Capt. Tatlow's speech in Vancouver last night made a little mistake that requires correction. It makes Capt. Tatlow say that the "Carnarvon terms or separation" arch incident occurred in Westminster, instead of in Victoria. Quite a difference.

DISTRICT CONVENTION!

By the report in another column of a public meeting held at Langley on May 21st, it will be seen that the people of that Municipality have struck the key-note. They have taken the initiative in bringing about a District Convention to meet at Langley on Wednesday May 28th (two days before nomination), at 1 p. m., to select three candidates—from those who have come forward or may yet present themselves—to run on the straight, independent, redistribution ticket.

This is an admirable move—it is, in fact, an absolutely necessary move—and it is eminently right and proper that the District should take the initiative and the sole control in this matter, and that the Convention to select District candidates should be held at some central point within the District.

As the time is short, it is to be earnestly hoped that there may be the utmost promptness, earnestness, unanimity and patriotism displayed in this matter, both by the candidates who are seeking the true interests of the electorate and by the electors themselves.

There may be some difficulty, owing to the shortness of time, in deciding what representation of delegates in the Convention each municipality and settlement in the District is entitled to. It will be seen that Langley has set an example in this matter by electing three delegates for the purpose. In view of the possible difficulty (owing to the shortness of time) in determining how many delegates each section of the District is entitled to in the Convention, we would suggest that Langley should be taken as the standard, and that every municipality and settlement should, on that basis, send all the delegates they severally believe themselves entitled to (too many will be better than too few), and when the delegates get together in organizing the Convention they may be able to further determine what is a fair representation for each section of the District. A general feeling of patriotism and forbearance by all sections and by all candidates will do much to render a fair arrangement possible.

In another column will be found a report of the meeting of the Mainland Association meetings—Central Executive and public—held in Vancouver yesterday (Thursday). The resolution adopted by both meetings, and which will be found in the report, is heartily recommended to the Convention as a pledge to their candidates, and none but men who are known to be absolutely and perfectly sound and "straight" on this question—who put JUSTICE TO THE LOWER MAINLAND AND A FAIR REDISTRIBUTION FOR THE WHOLE PROVINCE, FIRST, and who will not sacrifice THAT for any consideration—should be chosen on the straight, independent, redistribution ticket; and all candidates who are not patriotic enough to come into the Convention—seeing that the necessity for such a move is so imperative—should receive scant consideration from the electors on polling day.

The people of the various municipalities and settlements are requested to take the announcement in this paper as an official call to the Convention, as there has been no time to make a more formal proclamation. As the next WEEKLY COLUMBIAN would not issue until Wednesday (the very day of the Convention) we have printed a large number of extra copies of this (Friday's) DAILY COLUMBIAN, which we have mailed not only to all our WEEKLY subscribers throughout the District, but to many names on the voters' lists as well.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

To-morrow will be the 71st anniversary of our beloved Queen's birthday, and it is an event which will be honored and celebrated in every corner of the world where the meteor flag of Old England is unfurled to the breeze. Perhaps outside of the British Isles the day will be the most strictly observed, for it is the Briton abroad and the ever loyal subjects of the colonies who love the special occasions when they can join in honoring their good and wise Queen. The life of Her Majesty is too well known to our readers to require space here. Her's has been a glorious history, grander than that of any of her predecessors, and her name will go down to posterity as the most wise and just of our long list of rulers. That Queen Victoria is beloved by her subjects generally throughout the great empire she governs, and on which the sun never sets, goes without saying, as it is proverbial that she is the favorite of the people. Her throne is no uncertain seat; it is not supported from destruction by hundreds of thousands of armed men, overawing discontented and down-trodden subjects. No, the throne of Queen Victoria is upheld by a loyal and happy people, proud of their soverign, and ready at the first call to spring to arms and defend her and the Empire against the united world, if necessary. In British Columbia, as elsewhere, the day will be right royally observed, as it always has been since the earliest days of the colony; and it will, doubtless, be at once a pleasure and a happy task for Prince Arthur, Duke of Connaught, who has just passed through the Province, to convey to his noble mother, the Queen, the news of his loyal welcome, and the extensive preparations being made for the due celebration of her birthday. To Queen Victoria, New Westminster owes its name, she having conferred upon us the great honor of naming our City, an honor which she has not bestowed on any other city in the Dominion. Westminster congratulates Her Majesty on this her natal anniversary, and joins with the rest of the Empire heart and soul in wishing her many more years of life and health to rule over and govern her loyal and devoted subjects.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

The Missing Earl.

A correspondent of the Colonist writes from Kootenay Lake, under date May 12th, as follows: In a recent article from the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, respecting the disappearance of Viscount Boyle, now Earl of Shannon, his last letter is stated to have been dated August, 1887, and he was last heard of at Vancouver in November, 1887. In reference to the above I suppose further information will be acceptable. In 1888, some time in September or October, I met Viscount Boyle at this place, then on a hunting trip for Cariboo. He engaged Burt Henderson and an Indian to accompany him up Crawford's Bar, on the east side of this lake. After killing several head of game (nine, I think), he went out to the Northern Pacific Railroad, via Bonner's. My impression is he told me he was on his way to Eastern Montana or Wyoming to hunt elk. On this last point, however, I am not quite certain.

Shocks of Earthquake.

A few weeks ago the Times published a report of seismic disturbances which had occurred in Queen Charlotte Islands, but from what has been learned from the Rev. A. N. Miller, who came down on the last steamer to attend a general Conference of the Methodist Church, it is evident that a correct idea of their violence has not been formed. There were eighteen distinct shocks of earthquake, of greater or less severity between the 24th of February and the middle of April. These occurred at intervals of from two to ten days and caused a great deal of anxiety to both whites and Indians. The former did not know but that any day the land on which they were living might become the bed of the ocean or be cast up in the form of a mountain. The Indians, who had known of nothing to equal the violence or frequency of the shocks, believed the great spirit to be angry with them and were very frightened. The vibration was so great at one time, says Mr. Miller, that a pan of water on the stove slopped over and the rumbling frequently lasted half a minute. On the west coast of the Island, where the skil fishermen were, the earthquakes were still more severe. Indian totem poles were knocked down or left standing at an angle, two Indian houses fell and a number of land slides were reported.

THE DAILY COLUMBIAN

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 23, 1890.

RUN TO EARTH.

The Murderers of Sunbury Arrested at Fort Rupert and Jailed.

The following account of the arrest of Sunbury's murderers is given by the News-Advertiser: The steamer Skidegate sailed from Nanaimo on Thursday morning with Mr. Moresby, Sergt. Haywood, and a number of special constables on board, and also a survey party going to Fort Rupert. They then steamed north. At Alert bay another anchorage was made and Constable Redgrave, of the Provincial Police, and a half-breed interpreter, named Henry Dual, were taken on board. They then proceeded direct to Fort Rupert, which they reached at 4 o'clock on Saturday morning. The steamer anchored, and about 8 o'clock the survey party were taken ashore, the Sergeant and Governor Moresby keeping out of sight, as the Indians were on the alert. In one of the canoes which the Indians were paddling about on the water, Sam one of the murderers, was seated. He was first recognized by George Morley, the man who rendered the police such good service in ferreting out the facts of the case, and whom the Sergeant had taken north with him. Morley pointed Sam out to the Sergeant, who also recognized him. Very shortly after Sam came along in supreme unconsciousness of the fate that awaited him, and was immediately nabbed by the officers and handcuffed. Sam's face when he was caught gave some slight evidence of fear, but he said nothing, asked no questions and seemed to consider his arrest quite in accord with the civilized conditions at present prevailing and which have such a blighting effect on individual freedom. He had his rifle with him, but did not make any effort to use it. (Perhaps it wouldn't work quickly enough. It looks like the flint-lock which Capt. Gordon lost near Fort Rupert some sixty years ago, when he went shooting with Chief Pinchintee, and which he always accused Chief Pinchintee of stealing.) When Sam had been properly secured against the possibility of his falling overboard, Governor Moresby went ashore and searched the prisoner's cabin to see if it contained anything taken from the person of the murdered Sunbury. He found nothing, however, and when he returned on board, the steamer took her course towards Macclesby, which was reached at 7 o'clock in the evening. Here the party went ashore and made a thorough search of the rancherie after Jim, the other man wanted. He was not to be found, however, and the information was vouchsafed for by the Indians that he had gone to Point Neville. The party accordingly sailed to Point Neville, where they were again disappointed. At this point, however, they ran across Annie, Sam's klootch, and they considered it advisable to take her along (probably to comfort Sam in his affliction.) They learned here that Jim and his klootch, Crazy Annie, had gone along the coast and that if a good watch were kept they might be found somewhere between Point Melville and the Aurora Borealis. The party had, previous to this, been keeping a good look out and overhauling every canoe that they met with, and after having so clearly defined Jim's whereabouts they redoubled their efforts in this direction. After scanning the circumambient atmosphere with its wealth of scenery for a considerable portion of a day, a canoe containing two persons intervened between their vision and the water, and in the occupants of the dug-out they recognized with joy their old friends, the long sought for Jim and Crazy Annie. The canoe was upon the beach and the steamer anchored and the officers landed. Jim had taken to the woods. A logging camp was on fire at this spot and the officers made pretence of an interest in it, and as far as possible tried to let surrounding nature (including Jim and Annie who were as near the natural condition as they could come) know that they were not after anything in particular. Jim, who is not gifted with even ordinary acuteness, took the bait and returned to the beach, where he was promptly arrested, together with Crazy Annie, and both were taken on board. The party then joyfully steamed towards Comox, where they landed for a few minutes, and then went to Nanaimo, which place they reached on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. Here Governor Moresby took on board an Indian named Tom, who is accused of having murdered a native boy some months ago at Cape Mudge, and who was committed for trial. The Skidegate then sailed for Vancouver.

The canoes whith left here on Tuesday the 13th, to warn Sam and Jim of their danger, did not get there quickly enough, although it is understood the Indians meant business and had no whiskey with them when they started. On Sam's aristocratic finger was found a ring which Sunbury nsed to wear, and which has been positively identified. Sam is a powerfully built, good looking and rather intelligent savage. He is possessed, however, of the stoical stupidity usual among his people. Jim is rather a wretched looking fellow and acts as if he had a grudge against the world. His klootch says he is not troubled with dyspepsia.

TO THE PUBLIC.

AS PUBLISHED IN THE ABOVE NOTICE we have bought out the business of Messrs. E. S. Scoullar & Co., in this city, and with this addition to the stock which we previously carried, as H. M. Cunningham & Co., we have no hesitancy in claiming the most complete general stock, in our line, in the Province, and it is our intention to keep our stock up to such a standard that our customers may have anything in our line which they may call for. Our advertisement will be found elsewhere in this issue.

CUNNINGHAM BROS.

17th May, 1890. dwmy19w1

TO THE ELECTORS OF

New Westminster City.

GENTLEMEN:—In response to a requisition, numerously signed, which has been presented to me, I beg to offer myself as representative of this City in the Provincial Legislature.

I frankly confess that, aside from the great question of the just distribution of legislative power, I would scarcely care to be a candidate. If you do me the honor to elect me I shall make that question my first consideration at all times, and in order to do this it is essential that I keep quite free from any entangling alliances with either Government or Opposition. But to the people and the advocacy of the rights of the people, in this matter and in all others, I can fully and freely pledge myself; and with those, be they on what side of the House they may, who are animated by a similar spirit, I will work cordially.

The present crisis demands special treatment. We of the Lower Mainland are denied our just share of legislative power, and so long as that is the case our true policy, in my opinion—nay, the policy which our own self-respect compels us to adopt—is to return no man to the Legislature who will not make the righting of that wrong his first business. It may safely be assumed that those who shall be found willing to do right in this matter, will be the most likely to do right in others also.

Notwithstanding the utmost devotion to this first question, your representative will have to deal with many other matters, and perhaps it will be sufficient now to say on this point that I believe there is room for a good deal of work before the administration of public affairs can claim to be what it should be—government by the people for the people. I should earnestly endeavor to do my share of that work.

I believe I may safely assume that you need no assurance of my deep and abiding interest in everything that makes for the prosperity of New Westminster City.

I am, Gentlemen,

Very truly yours,

dmy16tc J. C. BROWN.

ELECTION CARD.

To the Electors of New Westminster District:

GENTLEMEN:—At the earnest request of a large number of the Electors of the DISTRICT OF NEW WESTMINSTER, I have consented to become a candidate for representative of the DISTRICT in the Provincial Parliament.

I shall take an early opportunity of addressing you all at the various polling places, of which you will receive due notice. My political banner is unfurled and on it you see emblazoned in letters of gold, REPRESENTATION BY POPULATION, OR SEPARATION.

Up fellow Electors, and rally around this standard! Let us shake off the political shackles that have bound down the Mainland for years and retarded its progress. Let us arise in full strength and independence and secure our just rights at the polls.

I now ask you, gentlemen, one and all for your votes, confidence and support at the forthcoming election.

I remain

Yours faithfully,

By Private Sale.---Bargains.

I HAVE RECEIVED INSTRUCTIONS FROM Mrs. A. M. JOHNSTONE, of Mud Bay, to dispose of her Homestead, which consists of 272 acres of Land, good Dwelling House, excellent Barn and Stabling for 40 head of stock, good Dairy and an abundance of Spring Water.

The property is situated on the sunny side of Mud Bay, the land is second to none anywhere, and parties wanting an investment for their capital cannot do better than take a look at this before investing elsewhere.

Stock and implements can go with Ranch if desired.

TERMS—One-third cash; balance to suit purchaser, at 8 per cent. per annum.

ALSO FOR SALE—THE FOLLOWING:

The West Fractional Half of Section 29, Mud Bay, bounded by the Nicomekl River and the Sea—108 acres.

184 acres, adjoining Sections 16 and 25, Township 4, very near N. W. City.

The North-West corner of Section 68, adjoining the Hastings Townsite—54 acres.

The North-West ¼ of Section XI., Township 2, 160 acres, all first-class land, 10 acres improved and sown to timothy pasture. Log house. Good creek runs along line of property, also the Johnstone Road. This is an excellent ranch.

Lot 261, Group 1, Pitt Meadows; 80 acres prairie; 70 acres high brush land. Half of the prairie can be ploughed, and is all hard land, 2 miles from Railway Station.

Stave River Stock and Dairy Ranch. This Ranch consists of 387 acres of land, being Sections 433 and 437, Townships 14 and 15.

This property is situated on the Stave River with a frontage on the Fraser River, at which point the C. P. R. Road passes through property. There is one large 2-storey Frame Dwelling House, hard finished, nearly new, worth $1,500. This is elegantly situated on rising ground and commands a view of the C. P. R., the Fraser River and the surrounding neighborhood. The greater part of the land is Prairie, subject to overflow, a good deal of the high land has been improved and fenced, and there are a large number of young Fruit Trees and the usual Out Buildings in the way of Barns, &c. There is excellent Trout Fishing and Hunting on premises and any party or Company seeking a Stock Farm or Dairy Ranch could not be better situated. Coal croppings of unusual promise have been discovered on the Property. This is to be secured at a bargain, and further particulars can be had of the undersigned or of Mr. Clement Stickney at Wharnock Station, who will show any intending purchaser over the same.

For further particulars apply to

T. J. TRAPP,
New West.

A Lively Pound.

Poundkeeper Murray is still faithfully sticking to his duties, and not a day goes by but he makes a capture or two of one kind or another. This morning he impounded two cows which were found running at large on the streets, and they are now grazing peacefully on the civic pasture. Six dogs, captured some days ago and not claimed by their owners, were killed according to law at the pound this morning. This is the first killing that has taken place since the pound was instituted, and was necessary as the animals would soon have eaten more than the value of the tax.

The Writ to Hand.

The writ for the election of a member to represent the district of New Westminster in the Dominion parliament arrived yesterday and is now in the hands of Mr. Sheriff Armstrong, Returning officer. Nominations are fixed for Thursday, June 5th, and the polling will probably be held about 10 days later. Mr. Armstrong has a great deal of preliminary work to do in connection with the election, which will take several days; when this is disposed of the date of the election will be fixed.

It is not certain that the above can be carried out, on account of the shortness of the time.

Agricultural Society Meeting.

One of the most successful and harmonious meetings the Agricultural Society ever held took place in the City Hall last evening. President Thos. Cunningham occupied the chair and called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock. All the committees were appointed and the work of the year mapped out. A very satisfactory start was thus made and all present felt assured that the exhibition this year on the 24th, 25th and 26th of September would be one of the successful and imposing affairs ever witnessed in this province. The meeting ended at midnight. There was a very good attendance.

The Proper Stand.

Mr. A. M. Herring called at this office last evening in reference to the conduct of "Mr. Robson's meeting" at the Opera House on Wednesday night. Mr. Herring was absent from the City on that evening and therefore had nothing to do with the letting of the building. Had he been at home the Opera House would not have been leased except with the distinct understanding that free speech would be allowed, and then the building would have been given free of charge, as it will be when the next meeting is held. There will be no more one-man meetings in the Opera House, he says, but only such as are free and public to any electors who wish to express their views. As regards the police, Mr. Herring says they will be kept in their place—out of the auditorium—and called in if wanted.

The Coming Circus.

The New United Monster Shows will be with us at New Westminster on Wednesday, May 28. From all accounts this Mammoth Combination, with its wonderful galaxy of arenic talent and wonders from wonderland will, with its advent here, mark an epoch in the history of our town. It is by far the greatest circus in the universe and our citizens, both near and far, should feel specially favored by its coming. One feature alone of its many attractions, Queen Jumbo, is enough to arouse the curiosity and attention of everybody within fifty miles. The presence of the largest animal in the history of the world, and that a living, breathing, moving, mountain of flesh, is sufficient to startle the sluggish blood of the most inert among us. See advertisement elsewhere in our columns. *

A Good Visitor.

Mr. Murgatroyd, a gentleman from Beckenham, Kent, England, arrived in the city eight days ago to spend half a day. So pleased, however, was he with the general appearance of the city that he decided to remain a day longer; the day came and went and he still remained, taking runs into the country, and it was only this afternoon that he finally started homewards. So delighted was Mr. Murgatroyd with Westminster and vicinity that he bought a place for himself and will come and reside here. He says there is no place like Westminster in all Canada, and he is a man who has travelled over the whole Dominion. A few weeks ago Mr. Murgatroyd brought 60 boys from England to Hamilton, Ont., where he found good situations for all of them. He has some intention of bringing a number of good servant girls to this province, a proceeding to which he has been strongly urged by many standing in need of domestic help. While in Westminster Mr. Murgatroyd met an old friend, Mr. H. C. Blaker, a member of the real estate firm of Messrs. H. G. Ross & Co., who was of much service in showing the visitor the many beauties of our city and district. Before leaving to-day Mr. Murgatroyd declared his intention of directing much capital in this direction, which he is quite competent to do, being a gentleman of extensive means and personally interested with many large capitalists.

Done Brown by the Other Side.

Here is a precious piece of Robson campaign literature that will be read with amusement and awarded all the ridicule it deserves by Hon. Mr. Robson's "dear old district;" this is the first appearance in public of this "dear old" dodge to get a body-guard for the slippery protector of our rights:

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 16, 1890.

Dear Sir.—The Hon. John Robson, the Premier of this Province, proposes delivering an address, in the Imperial Opera House, in this City, tomorrow (Tuesday) evening. It has been suggested that in consequence of the exalted position held by him as Prime Minister, a number of persons should occupy seats on the platform with him during the evening. Your name has been suggested to the Committee having the arrangements in hand as one of these. Be so kind, therefore, as to be on hand by a quarter to eight o'clock, and enter by the rear of the building, so as to enter on the platform by the ante-rooms, with the rest of thr gentlemen there assembled.

The front three rows of seats are to be reserved for ladies and their escorts.

By order,
THE COMMITTEE.

And hereby hangs a tale, a very funny tale, too. The committee ordered twenty-five of those little tracts printed as the affair was to be kept very, very select. Unfortunately for this very pretty little scheme, however, a copy of the tract fell into the hands of the Philistines, namely, one of the wicked and depraved Opposition, and this descendant of Rabelais, bubbling over with wickedness and practical joking, went and had five hundred of the dodgers struck off. These he distributed among the supporters of the horrid Opposition and before the meeting began there was a five hundred man-power grin all over the city of Vancouver. At length the time came; the vile conspirators besieged the stage door. The door-keeper went nearly insane, the crowd poured in, chairs were occupied, overturned and the wildest uproar ensued. Nothing could be heard but the clamors of the Opposition "here's my ticket let me in"; "here's mine," "and mine," mingled with roars of laughter and ironic cheers for "honest" John, cat-calls, whistles, and every kind of howl known to savage or civilized man. This counter dodge had the effect of ruining Mr. Robson's meeting.

God Save the Queen.

The citizens of Westminster will celebrate the 24th in loyal style and mostly out of the City. One of the principal attractions is the Oddfellows' picnic to Derby townsite, on the steamer Delaware. A very large number will take advantage of this fine excursion and the ladies will be present in force, and a day of unalloyed enjoyment may be confidently anticipated. Another large contingent will represent the City at Hastings, several of our own athletes intending to take a prominent part in the athletic sports there; it is to be hoped good fortune will smile upon their efforts and enable them to bring home a good share of the prizes. Many private boating excursions have been planned and should the weather be propitious there will be plenty of fun for everybody; even for those that stay at home. Victoria, of course, attracts the lion's share of the pleasure-seekers, and there has been a small exodus from the City since yesterday. The steamer Yosemite leaves to-morrow morning at 3 o'clock, and will take down one of the heaviest loads of passengers she ever carried. Those who intend witnessing the exhibitions at the capital will arrive in good time for the earliest of the day's proceedings, as the Yosemite will arrive about nine o'clock in the morning. Westminster, of course, will honor the day in the orthodox manner by a liberal display of bunting and salvoes of artillery, great and small. The increasing age of Her Majesty seems to increase and intensify the affection and loyalty of her subjects, and every year seems to feel some augmentation of the time-honored festivities of the 24th of May. A morning parade of the military companies in the City on that day has often been talked of, but never carried out. It would be a graceful and a loyal act, besides being nothing more than proper. It would take only about an hour to do, as the ceremony merely consists of saluting the royal standard, firing three volleys and dismissing. The school children will no doubt enjoy the holiday as well as anybody, and it is to be hoped they will meet with no accidents in their efforts to fire off their toy cannon and superabundant enthusiasm.

The Royal Visit to Vancouver.

Yesterday morning before 10 o'clock the C. P. R. wharf at Vancouver was crowded with citizens anxious to give a fitting welcome to the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who were coming in on the steamship Abyssinia. Through the over-zealousness or stupidity of some individuals, the gate at the south end of the bridge was closed, evidently with the design of keeping out the crowd. The crowd, however, resented the effort to debar them, and, smashing the gate in, crowded on to the pier. About a quarter past 10 o'clock the ship was seen to round the point and enter the Inlet. When she reached her wharf and tied up the band in attendance played the National Anthem, and Mayor Oppenheimer, accompanied by Mr. Harry Abbott and Ald. Carroll, Horne, Sentoll, Fox and Garden, went aboard the vessel. They were introduced to the party by Major-General McNiell, and the Mayor, in his most cavalier manner, presented the Duchess with a handsome bouquet. He then, on behalf of the Council and citizens, presented His Highness with an address. The address had been beautifully prepared. The letters are in gold on calf-skin let in to a border of sprinkled calf-skin of a darker shade, on which all the industries of the Province are depicted in black.

In reply the Prince thanked Vancouver for the cordial welcome extended to himself and his Royal Consort. He was glad, he said, to find himself once more on Canadian soil. It was quite a new experience for him to come into a city of only three years of age, and he was perfectly astounded to observe the size and importance of the buildings and the many signs of active progress to be seen on every hand. He greatly regretted that they would be unable to accept the hospitality so kindly extended in the name of the City of Vancouver. As all knew, he was returning from a long journey and had been forced to make his arrangements some time before, in order to make them harmonise with the steamer sailing dates. He hoped that all would understand that this was the only thing that prevented him accepting to the full the invitation of the citizens. He would with great pleasure convey to Her Majesty the expression of loyalty and devotion contained in the address. Again he thanked the people of this young City, and expressed the wish that their manifest prosperity would long continue. He felt sure that this important link between the east and the west (the Canadian Pacific Railway) would prove one of the strongest in the chain binding together the commerce of the nation and of the world. Again he hoped that every prosperity would rest with the City of Vancouver and the great Province of which it was one of the principal towns.

When he had finished he was greeted with lusty cheers, and the band struck up a lively air After shaking hands with their fellow passengers on board the vessel the Duke and Duchess, accompanied by their party, and preceded by the Mayor and Aldermen, descended to the pier, where carriages were in waiting to convey them to the hotel. The citizens on the wharf cheered enthusiastically as they passed by. The party was driven to the Hotel Vancouver where lunch had been prepared. In the afternoon His Highness, accompanied by Mayor Oppenheimer and Major-General McNeill, drove around the park and about the city, and in the evening the party dined with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Abbott and the Mayor and Mrs. Oppenheimer. Subsequently they drove to their special car which they occupied last night. They left for the east at 8 o'clock this morning by special train.
