Public Notice

New Westminster Public Library.

THE UNDERSIGNED (THANKS TO the kindness and permission of the Mayor and City Council) two weeks ago re-opened the Public Library, and takes this opportunity to offer an invitation to residents of New Westminster to pay him a visit. Papers and Magazines from all directions are received for patrons and visitors, and more will be added in case a reasonable support is obtained. The terms are 50 cents a month, in advance, as papers, &c., are paid for in advance. This will amount to about 2 cents a day, or the cost of one cigar for seven days permission to see news from all over the world, and elegant books which may be changed every 24 hours! There is no compulsion about this, but those who believe in getting in out of the rain and who can enjoy a decent fire will doubtless appreciate this institution. Ladies and strangers are free, so doubtless all the parties who believe in Blue Ribbon will come forward at once and join this attractive affair, both for their own credit and that of others. Come one, come all, and you will be attended to by one who can soap all classes, viz.:

Yours Respectfully,

HENRY W. HUGHES.

Daily British Columbian

Tuesday Evening, March 1, 1887.

It was a remarkable fact that Messrs. Orr and Ladner were absent during the debate upon the Sumas Dyking act repeal bill in the house yesterday. They were probably talking over campaign incidents in the lunchroom. The real interests of their district do not seem to occupy too much of their attention.—Colonist.

It is reported that some professed friends of temperance will vote for Mr. Chisholm because they are not sure Mr. Trapp will carry out his temperance professions. Suppose they are not sure, they may be perfectly sure that Mr. Chisholm is opposed to the cause they profess to have at heart. How many persons in the liquor business are going to vote for Trapp! You will find every man of them, unless influenced by personal antipathy, polling his vote solidly for Chisholm.

The Toronto Mail thinks the time has arrived when a halt should be called in the granting of public moneys to what it calls "wild-cat railway schemes," and we fully agree in this opinion. Since 1882, says our cotemporary, "upwards of $11,000,000" have been applied to doubtful railway enterprises; and the question which comes to the consideration of the projectors of these schemes is not whether they will pay as a commercial enterprise, but will the government grant a subvention! There never was any question in the minds of independent men respecting the purpose for which many federal bonuses have been given. They were given to influence votes.

The Russian government has contracted a loan of 25,000,000 rubles with a Paris firm for the construction of the Perekop Canal in Southern Russia. M. Louis Caisseau, a French engineer of Suez Canal fame, is to be the chief engineer. The canal will establish a direct communication between the River Don, the Black Sea, and the Sea of Azov, and will also be the medium of connecting several South Russian railway lines. It will be of considerable strategical importance, but its commercial significance will be still greater, as it will enable coal to be brought from the rich mines in the vicinity of the River Don to the Black Sea, where their selling price will be lower than that of English coals, which at present are the only kind used at Constantinople and the Black Sea ports.—Scientific American.

We are glad the legislature has taken energetic measures to suppress the disgraceful outrages which have been perpetrated on the Chinese by the Vancouver mob. Such lawless acts of violence against men who were blameless in the eyes of the law, and who were offering no menace to any person, could not be overlooked without danger of covering the province with disgrace in the eyes of the world and bringing about international complications of a most embarrassing kind. It is generally believed that most of the Vancouver officials secretly sympathise with those who have been guilty of these outrages. If they had stood firmly for law and justice, the events of which we complain would probably not have occurred. The prompt suspension of these officials was, therefore, quite justified. The Chinese in this country must receive the protection of the law.

Regulations respecting the cutting of timber on pre-empted or public lands across the line do not seem to be much less restrictive than those enforced in our own territory. It is held by the courts there that a person who pre-empts public lands may cut timber for his own use, but cannot sell or dispose of it at all unless it has been out in the ordinary way of clearing land for the purpose of tillage. To make good the claim under this exception it becomes necessary for the pre-emptor to show clearly that the land from which timber has been removed and sold is actually in a state for cultivation. If he cannot do this, the law provides a heavy penalty, because it presumes the timber to have been taken fraudulently. We understand that the Canadian regulations relating to crown lands have been interpreted in a similar way, and the same principle is being followed in dealing with Dominion lands in this province.

SEVERAL HUNDRED MINERS KILLED.

A CANADIAN ROMANCE.

MONTREAL, Mar. 1.—A young married man, named Berthiaume, left Terrebonne, Que., 15 years ago, for California to seek his fortune, and a year later his wife received news of his death. About two years later the woman married one of the most promising merchants of the village and has lived with him ever since. A few days ago Berthiaume turned up and the matter having been left to him the Cure has decided that the woman must live with Berthiaume.

A GARRISON UNDER REVOLT.

LONDON, Mar. 1.—Dispatches received here from Sofia say that the troops of the garrison of Silistria revolted yesterday evening and pronounced against the regency. Troops are marching to Silistria from Rutschuk, Varna, and Shumla to quell the mutiny. Greekoff and Kalechief, members of the Bulgarian delegation, who visited the various European governments, have arrived at Sofia from Constantinople, which was the last city visited by them during their tour. They state the Porte's attitude toward the regency is encouraging. The Prince of Wales has arrived in London. He is well and hearty.

STILL QUIVERING.

ROME, Mar. 1.—Tremors continue to be felt in the Italian riveria but no additional damage has been done.

BOULANGER TO BE DISMISSED.

LONDON, Mar. 1.—Parliament has been asked to grant another quarter of a million pounds for expenses of the navy. A dispatch from Paris this afternoon to the Exchange Telegraph Co. says it is stated there that Prince Bismarck intends to request President Grevy to dismiss Gen. Boulanger from the ministry.

NEW YORK, Mar. 1.—The Academy of music was sold to-day at auction at real estate exchange to Wm. B. Dinsmere for $300,000.

AMERICAN AID FOR SOCIALISTS.

BERLIN, Mar. 1. — The National Zeitung says the third donation of $2,500 has been received from American socialists to assist in the election of socialistic candidates to the reichstag.

A DEADLY EXPLOSION.

PARIS, Mar. 1.—An explosion occurred to-day in the Beaubean colliery at Stetienne. It is reported several hundred miners were killed.

WRECKED AT SEA.

LONDON, Mar. 1.—The steamship Valparaiso from Liverpool for Valparaiso was wrecked to-day off Vigo, Spain. The vessel had on board two hundred passengers, all of whom with the mails were saved.

ANOTHER BOODLER GONE.

NEW YORK, March. 1.—Ex-Ald. O'Neil was taken to Sing Sing prison this morning. He was too much prostrated to say much, but to friends protested his innocence, asserting it would soon be proved.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

NEW YORK, Mar. 1.—The Post's Rochester despatch says the publication is permitted of the following extract from a private letter written by Sir Richard Cartwright of Canada to his son in this city: "The situation is mixed; we have made large gains and shall probably be able to defeat Sir John when the house meets but are not strong enough to compel him to resign off-hand. At present we are just even, but he will get a very small majority from British Columbia. We will unseat Sir John for Kingston as soon as court sits."

BRIG ASHORE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The brig Selena, which left this port Jan. 29 for Silo, Sandwich Islands, ran ashore at Point of Destination, Feb. 21, and was totally wrecked. She had a cargo of general merchandise, and was owned in this city.

JEFFREYS LEWIS GETS HER DIVORCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Maitland, better known as Jeffreys Lewis, the actress, was to-day granted a divorce from J. A. Maitland on the ground of the latter's cruelty and failure to support her. Maitland is in Australia. It is stated that Harry Mainhall, well known in theatrical circles, will marry Miss Lewis at an early date.

SHIPPING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Cleared, ship Kate Davenport, Port Townsend; str. Columbia, Astoria; str. San Pedro, Tacoma.

RUSSIA CONCENTRATING HER FORCES.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The Star's London correspondent cables: The outlook in the east grows hourly more threatening. The Times publishes a letter from a correspondent at Vienna to the effect that the relations of Russia with Germany and Austria are severely strained, and, what is more important, no further attempts are made in official circles to conceal the fact. Despatches from other sources confirm this. The Levandt Herald, whose special correspondents have recently been making close inquiries into the Russian armaments, declares that the Russian force now concentrated in central Asia, equipped for active service in the field, numbers fully 300,000 men of all arms. Of these, three divisions of 50,000 to 60,000 men each are ready to march on Afghanistan at a few days' notice. Reports have been received of plenty of Russian troops which are massed in Russian Poland, respecting which it has been difficult to obtain information. These reports prove that Russia has made enormous preparations for an offensive war. Poland is described as one vast camp of armed men.

BRITISH GRAIN MARKET.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of British grain trade during the past week, says: "Native wheat in both London and provincial markets is steady at previous rates. Sales of English wheat during the week, 40,471 quarters. Corn is weak. Barley and oats were dull and declined 3d. Linseed was 1s. cheaper.

A DARING ROBBERY.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 28.—Signor Cohen, a well-known diamond broker, horseman and bookmaker of Chicago, was robbed of $100 in money and $3,000 worth of diamonds in a Pullman sleeper on the Iron Mountain road last night, while on his way from Memphis to Chicago.

HARSH MEASURES.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—A despatch from Strasburg to the Post announces that the government has issued orders for the dissolution of the union of the Alsatian choral societies, it being suspected the union assisted the French league of patriots; also, forbidding French military men to stay in Alsace-Lorraine except on special permits, and that societies whose rules forbid the admission of Germans to their membership or society be dissolved. The same law is considered to deal with French emissaries. The advocates of effective Germanization desire the temporary suspension of electoral rights in Alsace-Lorraine, German education in primary schools, and government administration in place of municipal councils. The Hanoverscher Courier says: "Alsatians must blame themselves. The elections were to be applicable to their provinces of laws of absolute dictatorship. When made to understand that another war with France will be the complete ruin of their province, Alsatians perhaps will be ready to vote for German candidates." On the other hand, the Boersen Courier contends that the real conquest of the province must be the work of a generation, and demands patience. It adds: "Their feeling of patriotism to-day shown toward France will revert to Germany when the justice of German rule effaces from the minds of the people the effects of two centuries of French domination.

A NEW TELEGRAPH CO.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The certificate of incorporation of the New York Southern Telegraph company was filed to-day. It states that its capital is $1,000,000.

THE GOVERNMENT AND ARCHBISHOP CROKE.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—A rumor is published in this evening's papers to the effect that the cabinet had decided to prosecute Archbishop Croke for advocating the non-payment of taxes, caused a temporary sensation in the house of commons. Wm. Johnston, Orange leader, asked Sir Michael Hicks-Beach what the government intended to do regarding the archbishop. Sir Michael declined to say more than that the question was engaging the attention of the government. Parnellites greeted the reply with derisive laughter. The report is disbelieved in official circles.

COERCION FOR IRELAND.

The opinion is going round that the ministry has no intention of courting an overwhelming disaster in Ireland. A number of conservative members of parliament who are impatient over the delay in adopting coercion measures will meet to-morrow to take concerted action with the object of inducing conservatives to combine in compelling the government to take some decisive steps.

PROCLAIMING THE PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

DUBLIN, Feb. 28.—The executive has authorized all local magistrates to proclaim every plan of campaign meeting and to demand the assistance of the military and police without awaiting sanction from headquarters. David Sheehy, M. P. for South Galway, will be removed from the office of sheriff of Limerick for presiding at a "plan of campaign" meeting.

THE TALE OF OF THE SURVIVORS.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The surviving passengers and crew of the British emigrant ship Kapunda, which was sunk in collision off the coast of Brazil on Jan. 20, when over 300 persons were drowned, have arrived at Plymouth. They confirm the statement that the bark Ada Melmere, with which the Kapunda collided, had no lights.

Daily British Columbian

Tuesday Evening, March 1, 1887.

A Government Crisis!

Our esteemed cotemporary of the Victoria Times seems to find considerable consolation in the vote which took place last Friday in the provincial legislature. An appeal was taken from the ruling of the speaker, and by a vote of the house the speaker was sustained on a division of 13 to 11. The Times magnifies the incident into a political crisis, and declares that the conscientious sense of duty which animated Mr. Bole and some other members of the opposition was the only thing that saved the government from defeat, and even then it was a very narrow escape. The Times must think its readers are idiots if they are going to swallow such stuff. The question at issue was not one that affected the government at all, but simply the ruling of the chair. In the debate the following opposition members spoke in favor of sustaining the chair: Messrs. Beaven, Bole, Grant, Semlin, and McLeese. These are the men whose "conscientious sense of duty saved the government." Alas, poor government!

Another Daniel.

We must ask our local cotemporary to excuse us for passing by unnoticed his leadlng article of last Wednesday wherein he undertakes to demolish the pleas upon which the COLUMBIAN asked for the election of Mr. Trapp in preference to Mr. Chisholm. The article did not escape our observation, but other matters have hitherto claimed our attention, and we propose to say a few words now in reply to our Church-st. cotemporary. There are only two questions, says our cotemporary, on which the COLUMBIAN finds fault with Mr. Chisholm—the Chinese labor question and the question of temperance. But, because Mr. Chisholm appeared before the Chinese commission and warned it of the danger of permitting unrestricted Chinese immigration, our cotemporary asks its readers to believe he has a perfectly clean record on the Chinese question. We have already pointed out the fallacy of this sort of reasoning, and need not now repeat. It is the conviction of most people that any man who is largely interested in the employment of Chinese is a very unsafe man to entrust with the representation of this district in the house of commons at a time when the question of Chinese restriction is almost sure to be brought forward. Turning to the temperance question our cotemporary says Mr. Chisholm "has clearly followed in the steps of Mr. Foster and Mr. Blake," and with this he drops the subject. But the statement is utterly at variance with the facts. The Hon. Mr. Foster has for years been not only a total abstainer, but a very active and successful worker in the temperance cause. Hon. Mr. Blake has also been for years (fourteen years we believe) a total abstainer, and has publicly declared that he stands ready to co-operate heartily with any person, whether political friend or foe, for the accomplishment of the great temperance reform which has so thoroughly enlisted his sympathies. Now what part of Mr. Chisholm's temperance record justifies the assertion that he "has clearly followed in the steps of Mr. Foster and Mr. Blake?" He has followed the employment of saloon-keeper, a business which in this age of the world no one can engage in without hindering the cause of temperance and moral reform. There is nothing in common between Mr. Chisholm and these men, and the comparison of our cotemporary is ridiculous. But our cotemporary does not stop here. Listen: "His high commercial position here, and his known independence will secure for him universal respect at Ottawa." It would be a waste of words to reply to this. The idea of a saloon-keeper from British Columbia being received with universal respect at Ottawa because of his "high" commercial position! How many saloon-keepers are there among the present members of parliament? When it comes to be learned at the capital that the man who represents the finest district of British Columbia owes his "high" commercial standing to his saloon, what opinion will such men as Sir Charles Tupper, Hon. Mr. Foster, Hon. Edward Blake, and the people of the east generally form of British Columbia? Will it not be a shame and a disgrace forever to this fair land, now reaching out its hands for immigration, and hoping to receive among those who come many of the better classes? But our cotemporary says Mr. Trapp would be a failure as a representative, and why? Because he "is an Englishman, and like all his countrymen, is incapable of comprehending Canadian politics." Well, we suppose this settles it, and leaves little more to be said. Mr. Trapp has spent the best of his years in Canada, and about ten of them in this province; but he is an Englishman, and, therefore, he is incapable!

—OF—

New Westminster District.

GENTLEMEN:—I have already announced myself as a candidate for the seat made vacant by the death of our late representative, and as no election has taken place to fill that vacancy, I now offer myself at this, the General Election.

As it is my intention to visit and hold public meetings in every settlement of the district before election day, I will merely in this address refer to the different subjects that are vital to our interests as a district and province, which will be discussed at length on the public platform, when I hope all aspirants for the honor of representing you in the Commons will be present and take part in the discussion, of which due notice will be given.

The following are some of the most important questions that will have my serious consideration:

The Improvement of the Navigation of Fraser River.—The New Westminster Board of Trade have, with the assistance of our late representative, been successful in obtaining a small appropriation for this purpose, which has been expended the past fall; and it will be the duty of your representative to secure such annual grants as will suffice to complete this important work, which will enable ships of the heaviest draught to navigate the Fraser river at all stages of the tide, and all seasons of the year.

Squatters' Claims.—With reference to this matter there has been gross neglect on the part of the Dominion Government, and I am of the opinion that those settlers who located their land under instructions from what is known as Mr. Trutch's pamphlet, should secure the title thereto free of charge—and the fact that settlers have been unable to secure their titles has acted very detrimentally to the interests of the province generally, and (if elected) I will be unceasing in my efforts to secure the adjustment of every claim in the district.

Railway South.—Another very important matter in connection with our district is railway connection with our neighbors south of the line. Several charters to connect this city and district with the American system of railways have been granted by our local legislature, but were unfortunately disallowed by the Dominion Government (doubtless through the influence of the C. P. R.) The position hitherto held by the Dominion House is now untenable, and the monopoly clause of the C. P. R. will have to be done away with. Should this be done there is no reason why railway construction should not commence in the near future, as our American cousins are ready and willing to commence work as soon as the way is open. I need only say that I shall use my best endeavors to obtain said railway connection and the abolition of the monopoly clause.

Railway Grievances.—The C. P. R. have maintained excessive rates for local traffic in this province and to points as far east as Winnipeg. This is not as it should be, and is one of the reasons why that great corporation should be taught that it is not the only power in the land, but that it must be made subservient to the interests of the people.

Telegraphs and Railways.—I am of the opinion that all telegraphs and railways should be owned and operated by the government in the interests of the people, as is partially the case in England, Germany and elsewhere, and shall (if elected) do all I can to bring about this very desirable state of things.

The Mails.—I shall use my best efforts to have all settlements on the south side of the river supplied regularly with their mails from Ladner's Landing by way of the Grand Trunk road to Chilliwhack and any other places not already supplied with mail accommodation.

The Temperance Question.—Upon this question I feel very warmly and sympathize most heartily with all those who are anxious to do away with the evils caused by the liquor traffic and shall (if elected) give my hearty support to any measures that may be introduced to advance this very desirable object.

The Chinese Question.—With regard to this question, I consider it an unmixed evil, yet at the same time one of the hard-problems that this nation has to deal with. I deem it of vital importance that our Legislatures, both Federal and Provincial, should do their utmost to discourage this traffic, and at the same time use all legal means in their power to get rid of those Chinamen who are already amongst us.

The last question that I wish to bring before you is that of Independence. I again reiterate the statement made by myself in the papers—

"In Politics, I am and will be thoroughly Independent."

Several of the B. C. papers have taken up this statement and have said a great many uncomplimentary things concerning me, such as "being on the fence," "a Grit in disguise," and so forth. I therefore deem it necessary to explain what I mean by being thoroughly independent. I consider any member sent to Ottawa from this Province pledged to support any particular party has allowed himself to be fettered. The greatest evils which threaten the usefulness of the governments of the United States and Canada spring from party politics, and in the United States at the last presidential election a number of the best men of both parties voted independently, and for what they considered the best interests of the country regardless of party.

As an independent I shall endeavor to vote and act (if elected), first, in the interests of my constituents; secondly, in the interests of the province, and lastly for the general good of the Dominion, pledging myself neither to Grit nor Tory, but claiming the right as a free born British Subject to use my influence and vote on the side where I consider your interests and the interests of the nation lie.

I take this opportunity of soliciting the vote and influence of all, and while I shall feel very much honored if you elect me as your representative, I trust that time will prove that your confidence has not been misplaced.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Yours respectfully,

dwfe12tc T. J. TRAPP.

To the Electors of the Electoral District of New Westminster.

GENTLEMEN:—Shortly after the lamented death of our late Representative, Mr. Homer, I was solicited by a number of my friends, to allow myself to be nominated as a Candidate for the Representation of the District of New Westminster in the House of Commons of Canada. The personal solicitation of friends, was shortly followed by requisitions so numerously signed, by prominent and influential Electors of the City and District, that I felt it to be my duty to place my services at their disposal. It is not therefore, Gentlemen, as a self-nominated candidate, that I ask for your support, but I do so in response to the request of over four hundred of your number.

To many of you, Gentlemen, who have known me for a long time, it is unnecessary for me to say, that I am perfectly familiar with the great and varied resources of this Province. My knowledge of its Mining, Fishing, Agricultural and Commercial advantages has been derived from actual experience, and will (if elected) enable me to place prominently before Parliament, the great resources of this Province, and the means necessary to be employed to aid in their further development.

It is impossible, Gentlemen, in an address such as this to do more than allude to some of the questions of interest and importance to you, which as your representative, I would consider it to be my duty to bring to the notice of Parliament. I will, however, enumerate a few matters of great importance to us all, in regard to which it will be my earnest endeavour to obtain beneficial legislation.

I will endeavour to have removed from the mouth of our noble River, every impediment to its free navigation, and have necessary lighthouses erected.

I will endeavor to secure to settlers and squatters an immediate title to their lands. This I consider to be a matter not only of justice, but also of expediency. Heretofore great injustice has been done to a valuable and deserving class of our population, to whom, had justice been done and facilities afforded for acquiring homesteads, the results of their industry would, ere this, have done much to develop the agricultural capabilities of this fine district.

I am aware, Gentlemen, that the number of representatives to which each province of the Dominion is entitled is based upon population, yet I believe that, owing to exceptional circumstances, such as the fact that this province contributes to the revenue of the Dominion a much larger percentage, according to population, than any of the other provinces; and also to the fact that large centres of population are rapidly being formed in this district—that it is entitled to a larger representation in the parliament of the Dominion, and which as a matter of justice I will endeavor to obtain.

I will also endeavour to obtain for the residents of this District better postal facilities, to which they are justly entitled.

I will use my best efforts to secure equitable rates on all railway and telegraph lines, and to have the same fixed by law.

The interests of British Columbia demand that every impediment in the way of constructing railways to our Southern boundary and other portions of this district be removed, to aid in the development of our resources. I will endeavor to have this accomplished, and also to obtain aid for the construction of canals and the improvement of navigable streams.

I will also consider it my duty to render all possible aid to any legislation which seeks to simplify and render less costly the administration of justice, especially as between individuals and corporations.

My political platform is, in the first place, the interest of British Columbia, which I believe can be best served by my giving an independent support to the present government, which has not in the past been unmindful of the interests of British Columbia, and to whom we are indebted for the early completion of the railway, which has brought us into communication with the Eastern Provinces and Europe, and through the agency of which, we will in the near future, be placed in direct communication with Australia, China, Japan, and the Great Eastern Empire, which must prove to be of incalculable value to this province, and to this district in particular.

In conclusion, gentlemen, I have only to say, that I am prompted by a sincere desire to benefit this district and to aid in promoting its varied interests, and I ask your support only upon these grounds. It is my intention to see as many of you previous to the election as time and circumstances will admit of in the meantime.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Yours very truly,

dwfe8td DONALD CHISHOLM.

WAS IT SUICIDE?

"Was Jackson hung himself?" the darkey boy who brought my breakfast tray announced this startling item with a face two shades lighter than usual, and with a tremor in his hands that shook the coffee in my cup.

"Hung himself?"

"Yes, sar. Las' night, sar. In de orchard, an' dey do say dat Miss Lowizy don't go for to get no life 'surance now."

"By Jove!" said I, under my breath, "that's so! If the old man did commit suicide his fifty thousand insurance is gone."

My meal was scarcely finished when Jim Henderson, the accepted lover of Miss Jackson, and an old friend of mine, entered the room. He glanced about and spying me dashed forward to greet me.

"The very man of all the world whom I most wanted to see! Duke, you have not been here long enough for any one to know your profession, and you can help me immensely if you will. I know it's your vacation, but, old boy, for my sake and Lou's I want you to take hold of this case. Will you?"

"Case? My boy, of course I will; but what case? Do you mean the suicide of your prospective father-in-law?"

"That's it, exactly! You've heard of it?"

"Yes, but what case is there? If he suicided Miss Lou loses his life insurance. I'm a detective, not a lawyer. I cannot sue the insurance companies."

"No, no! I understand that," replied Jim; "but see here, the old man did not commit suicide."

"What?" said I.

"He did not commit suicide. The old man was murdered."

"By Jove, that's a serious charge," said I, drawing nearer to my friend, "but why do you say so? If murder's been done it's within my profession, and I'll do my best to find it out."

"Come to my office," said Jim, "and I'll lay the matter fully before you."

Leading the way he left the room and we repaired to my friend's sanctum across the street. There, snugly seated in the backroom, over our cigars he told me the history of the case.

"Duke, Squire Jackson was to be my father-in-law in just two weeks. He was a quiet man, not wealthy, but with a great notion for life insurance, and as his health had always been good he found trouble in obtaining all he could pay for. I suppose that he has about fifty thousand dollars now standing. Aside from that his property was of small value, not exceeding ten thousand.

"The old gentleman has always liked me; Lou was the only child, and naturally enough he counted upon her having his wealth when he was dead. But he had no intention of dying yet, for only the day before yesterday he talked with me a long time about what improvements we should make when I came to live in the old house with him.

"Moreover, Duke, he could not have hung himself as he was found this morning, for the rope was tied upon a high branch, and he could not reach it without climbing."

"But whom do you suspect?" said I; "who could gain by it?"

"Suppose that some one would be better pleased by our loss—Lou's and mine—than by our gain, would not that afford a motive?"

"Ah, that's so!" I had to admit.

"Carl Mott loved Lou, or her money, before I ever met her. She refused him again and again, until it was known that she had accepted me. Then he left her, but before he went he swore to be revenged for her treatment of him. He was in New Orleans two years. One week ago he returned. He is in town now. Duke, I believe that man hung Squire Jackson, and hung him intending to defeat the collection of the life insurance and to prevent Lou from receiving the money her father intended for her."

"Give me three days' time," I said. "I must examine the spot where the body was found, the tree, the rope, everything. Introduce me as a doctor. I know enough of medicine to pass. Point out this man Mott to me, and then wait. In three days from this I will meet you here again."

We walked together down the village street. As we passed a group of men in front of the post office Henderson touched my arm:

"Note the man with the blue tie."

I did so. A strongly built, calm-faced individual of thirty-two or three—a head with fine, curly hair, a bright eye, quick as an eagle's, a nervous hand.

"That is Mott."

I was astonished. The man did not look like a murderer. Two doors farther down Henderson led me into the office of the local physician and introduced me as a friend who wished to be present at the coroner's inquest.

"Was Jackson found in a sitting?"

"Decidedly so," I replied; but excusing myself from waiting, and promising to be back within the hour, I bowed myself out with Henderson.

"Now, my dear fellow, let us go to the orchard," said I.

I was shown the tree, the cord, the path by which Squire Jackson came and went.

"Go to your lady-love and forget me for three days," said I. "If I need you I will leave a word at the office. Otherwise meet me there on the third evening at eight o'clock. And one thing more: when you reach your office conceal a policeman in your closet who can overhear our conversation, and be armed yourself."

The inquest, with its verdict of "Death by his own hand," the solemn funeral and public wonder had ceased. The third day drew to its close. I strolled up the street with a friend, and dropped into Jim Henderson's office. I opened a conversation as follows:

"Mr. Henderson, you will recollect that I said to you at the time of Squire Jackson's death, that the insurance companies would not pay upon the life of a suicide?"

"Yes, sir," returned Jim, stiffly.

"Well, sir," I continued, "interested as I was in this matter, because of the claim which I hold against the deceased, I have been carefully looking into the manner of his death, assisted by Mr. Mott, who has long known him, and we have come to the settled conclusion that Mr. Jackson did not die by his own hand."

"Indeed?" said Henderson, more stiffly.

"Yes, sir, such is our belief. And if you will permit me I will lay before you the reasons for our having arrived at this opinion, merely calling your attention to the fact that if it can be proven that Squire Jackson was murdered you would be largely the gainer."

"I suppose that my promised wife would, in that case, receive the insurance, after paying the debt which you hold," said Jim, in a cold voice.

"Exactly, sir," I returned. "And in such case you would doubtless be willing to pay for such proof?"

"Well, sir," said Henderson, scornfully, "I presume that I should, for Miss Jackson's sake. State your terms."

"If we can satisfactorily prove this fact," said I, soothingly, "so that the insurance companies can be induced to pay, I should expect you to settle in full the debt which I represent, and to present Mr. Mott and myself with the sum of five thousand dollars each."

Jim hesitated a moment. Then he replied:

"The terms are high, but I accept."

"Good!" said I, "and now for the proof. My friend has collected most of it, and has it in tabular form. Mr. Mott, will you read what you have?"

Mr. Mott produced his tablets and proceeded to read as follows:

"First. Mr. Jackson had no monomania nor disappointment to induce the idea of self destruction.

"Second. He was too old a man to arrange the rope as found upon the tree.

"Third. He could not have climbed the tree without a ladder or the assistance of some second party.

"Fourth. It would have been impossible for him to hang himself except by arranging the rope while in the tree and then jumping down. This he evidently did not do, as it was impossible for him to climb the tree without assistance.

"Fifth. The rope is a foreign one, not to be obtained in this country.

"Sixth. A notch had been cut in the the limb in order to fasten the rope. No knife was found upon Mr. Jackson.

"Seventh. Mr. Jackson knew of the loss of insurance in case of suicide."

Mr. Mott closed his memoranda, and looked up. Henderson was regarding him with a fixed stare. Fearing too sudden an explosion, I spoke quickly:

"Let me lock the door, Mr. Henderson. We may be interrupted," and I suited the action to the word. Seating myself, I continued, "I have also made a few notes in addition to those of my friend, which I offer for consideration.

"First. I have here a bit of this foreign rope, apparently cut from the cord which hung Mr. Jackson.

"Second. I have also a knife with a nicked blade which answers to the mark upon the tree where a knife was used.

"Third. I have three links of a gold watch chain and a pendant, picked up beneath——"

I was interrupted by a sudden cry from Carl Mott.

"Great God! Where did you——"

He paused, his face white as death, his eyes outstanding as he suddenly realized the gulf upon the brink of which he stood. His breath came in quick gasps.

"Where did I find those articles?" said I, slowly turning to him. "In your room, sir, yesterday, while I awaited you, and this as well."

I stretched forth my hands. One held the broken links and charm, the other the chain from which they had been torn.

A closet door suddenly opened and an officer appeared with levelled pistol.

"Carl Mott, you are my prisoner!"

"Not yet, not yet!" the man shrieked.

A sudden report rang through the air. Carl Mott fell to the floor a suicide!

We had unravelled the mystery.

The story of the crime is soon told. Filled by a devilish determination to work evil upon the man who had won Louisa Jackson, Carl Mott returned from New Orleans with the settled intention of killing Mr. Jackson.

He had noted his daily walk, and in the dusk of the evening had concealed himself where he could drop the deadly noose about his neck as he passed beneath the tree. To draw up the swaying body was but slight work to a man of Mott's strength.

"Sympathetic" Boston.

Sympathetic is believed to be a word sacred to the Bostonese.

The other day a resident on the "hill" was overheard ordering the family dinner at a stall in the Boylston market, and this is the way she did it:

"You may send me spring lamb. Have you any spring lamb? Why, well, send me, and two ounces of asparagus and a can of 'spring peas.' They are so sympathetic with lamb."—[Boston Herald.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT THE

STARR KIDNEY PAD.

"Treatment by Absorption has for some time been recognized by Medical Men to be the most simple and effectual means of conveying to Diseased Organs, "Curatives," but in cases of Kidney Disease and Complaints attendant thereon, successful treatment was practicably impossible until the introduction of the Starr Kidney Pad. It costs less than a single prescription and is immeasurably more decisive and effective than any quantity of Internal Medicinal dosing. Worn immediately over the seat of Disease, its curative properties become absorbed by the diseased and enfeebled Organs, continuously and directly, as required to insure in return their healthy action and original vigour. It is comfortable to the patient and pleasant in its effects, and cures when nothing else can. The Starr Kidney Pad accomplishes positive, decisive results. A more valuable discovery as a true remedy for Kidney Diseases was never made.—Medical Gazette

The Starr Kidney Pad, manufactured in Toronto, is a permanent sure cure for diseases, disorders and ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and urinary secretive system, or attendant complaints, causing pain in the small of the back, sides, etc., producing urinary disorders, such as too frequent, scanty, difficult, painful or copious micturition, inability of retention and sedimentary urine, dropsical symptoms, etc., denoting the presence in the system of diseases common to the urinary secretive organs—known as gravel, catarrh of the bladder and passages, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, piles, nervous debility, etc. Send for pamphlet to LANGLEY & CO., Wholesale Agents, Victoria. THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN Printing Company

(LIMITED.)

ON THE 10TH OF JANUARY, 1887, the COLUMBIAN Newspaper and Printing Concern was purchased by a joint stock company composed of citizens of New Westminster, to be known as the "British Columbian Printing Co., Limited." The concern has been for nearly a year owned and controlled by the British Columbia Stationery and Printing Company, of New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver. The object of the new company is to continue the publication of the BRITISH COLUMBIAN newspaper and carry on a general printing and publishing concern, controlled entirely by those whose individual interest it will be to promote the development, especially of the Mainland. There will be no slackening of the energy hitherto displayed in the management of the establishment, and its patrons may rely upon receiving full value for their money. The COLUMBIAN will continue to be entirely independent in both Dominion and provincial politics, and will devote itself to the advancement of such schemes as may be considered in the public interest. The concern is now entirely separate from any other business, the book and stationery establishment in this city having been taken over by Mr. T. R. Pearson, who will continue to carry it on in his own name and for his own benefit. It is desirable that a daily newspaper should be maintained in this city, and the new company asks for public patronage on the ground that it is engaged in an enterprise calculated to promote the public welfare. It asks that the COLUMBIAN be judged on its own merits and supported only so long as its policy is consistent with its professions. In consequence of this business change all accounts due the concern must be settled without delay so that the books of the former company may be adjusted and closed. A HOME COMPANY.

This Association merits the confidence the Public is reposing in it from the following FACTS:—

The Security offered to policy holders is unsurpassed by any Company doing business in Canada.

It has no schemes of insurance, but the well-established lines, hence the policy holders cannot be misled as to their contracts.

Its statements to the public can be readily understood, its cash statement showing every item of income and how expended.

Its position is ascertained annually from a detailed valuation in which every item of liability is included.

Its progress has been unexampled in the history of insurance in Canada.

Its policies are indisputable after three years, and non-forfeitable after two years' existence.

Its profits are distributed upon an equitable basis. The profits to one class of policy holders are not lessened to give larger profits to any other class, which method affords superior advantages over the uniform bonus plan of distribution.

The man who stoops to brush orange peel from the sidewalk is bent on doing good.—N. O. Picayune.

It pays to advertise. A Rockford, Ill., man advertised for a wife and got one worth $10,000.

Attention is called to the announcement of Ogle, Campbell & Co. which appears in another column.

The law cannot make a man moral, but it can make him dreadfully uncomfortable when he is immoral.

Two carloads of sundries for Nanaimo were forwarded to Port Moody to-day for shipment in the Dunsmuir.

Forty head of cattle and 20 mules were driven to Port Moody this morning for shipment to Victoria on the Louise.

W. Vianen's fishermen caught three large sturgeon yesterday about three miles down the river, one of which weighed over 200 pounds.

The str. Yosemite again appeared in the bend in the river below the city this morning but was again forced to retire on account of the float ice.

Mr. Trapp will hold a public meeting in this city to-morrow night. At Moodyville he speaks at 12:30 on Thursday, and at Vancouver in the evening.

It continues to be stylish for young men, living on their fathers, to wear coachmen's ulsters and make the world believe they are earning their way.—Detroit Free Press.

In addition to our new stock of spring goods we have opened an invoice of Diagonals, West of England Broadcloths and French Cassimeres. — WALSH'S TAILORING EMPORIUM. dno30tc

Mr. Trapp's meeting to-morrow night has been announced for the Drill Shed, but as that place cannot be obtained the meeting will take place in the Skating Rink.

As Canada professes to have maps of all the fortifications in the United States, the government should hire a Canadian engineer to find these fortifications.—Pittsburg Chronicle.

In another column Mr. T. R. Pearson advertises pianos and organs for sale at low prices. A number of these instruments may now be seen at Mr. Lyal's store on Columbia street.

Mr. Dixon Irwin, late school teacher at Burgoyne Bay, has commenced suit for libel against W. T. Kenny, also late pedagogue of that flourishing portion of B.C., but now employed teaching recruits to shoot at Yale.—Colonist.

Large quantities of ice went out of the river yesterday, and it is believed there will be no further serious obstructions to navigation this year. Although winter did not begin until February, the ice is much thicker than usual.

No Eastern mail arrived to-day. The railway is blockaded by immense snowslides which have occurred about ten miles this side of North Bend, produced by the recent heavy rains. Nothing definite is known as to when the way will be clear.

We have received a letter reflecting severely upon the steam service between this city and Surrey and calling upon the municipal authorities to interfere for the protection of the public interest. The letter is annonymous, however, and cannot be published without its author's name.

A liquor-seller had a tavern undergoing repairs. One day a boy came running to his mother, crying out: "Mother, mother!" "What is it, my boy?" "Mr. Fool's tavern is finished, mother." "How do you know, my dear?" inquired the mother. "Why, I saw a man coming out drunk." Now, that is the legitimate fruit of the dram shop.—John B. Gough.

COMMONS ELECTION: We are authorized to state that Mr. Donald Chisholm is in the field as a candidate for the seat in the House of Commons rendered vacant by the death of our late lamented representative, Mr. Homer. dwoc25tc

FROM TORONTO.—Bernard Sanders, a director of the Industrial Exhibition in Toronto, has addressed a communication to the California Wine Growers Association asking them to make a full exhibition of their exhibits in Toronto at the fair there next fall.

A FUNNY SNAP.—F. W. Carleton, of this city, took a trip to Hammond on Sunday and returned yesterday by foot. On his return home he encountered some deep slushy snow on the track. He started to wade through it but finding his boots interfered with his travelling he took them off and walked barefooted through the remainder of the slush.

A TALK WITH A B. C. DRUMMER.—The Toronto Telegram furnishes the following statement of Thomas Scott, of Nanaimo, while in conversation with one of its reporters recently: "Do you know, I think the recent anti-Chinese agitations in the States are going to do Canada a certain amount of good. How? Well, you see, if China is disposed to feel aggrieved at the manifestation of anti-Mongolian sentiment in the States, her merchants have an excellent opportunity of retaliating by exerting themselves to aid the Canadian Pacific railway in its competition with the American transcontinental lines. As there is also a difference of about 1,000 miles in favor of the Canadian line, I think that it is not at all improbable that the Americans will be rather sorry for the fantastic little amusement to which they treated John Chinaman. Although the almond-eyed celestial is opposed to the emigration of his countrymen to the States, he has enough of the old Adam in him to resent what he regards as an insult, and it cannot be denied that he has some grounds for considering himself insulted. He has enough sense to see that if you want to insult the average Yankee you must strike straight at his pocket, and that is where he is sure to aim for if he does decide to take revenge. But then the Chinee has a good eye to his own pocket, and as he makes about four times as much among the "Melican" as he would at home, the probabilities are that we will not see the Union Pacific under a celestial boycott.

THE CHINESE OUTRAGE.

Vancouver Under Provincial Police.

MAYOR AND MAGISTRATES SUSPENDED.

The City Pays for the Show.

Special Telegram.

VICTORIA, March 1.—The legislature yesterday passed a bill in relation to the Chinese outrages at Vancouver, which empowers the governor to appoint any number of constables, who shall have authority to act within the municipal limits of Vancouver and the electoral district of New Westminster. They shall be continued in employment as long as the governor may see fit, and discharge their duties within the municipal limits of Vancouver, unless otherwise directed by a stipendiary magistrate of the province. The constables are to be under orders of any stipendiary magistrate in the province. They will be paid $2.50 a day and $1 a day for board. Money will be advanced in the first instance out of the consolidated revenue of the province. The amount paid shall be a debt due from Vancouver, and shall form a charge upon all revenues of said city during the time any stipendiary magistrate acts within the limits of Vancouver. The powers and authorities of all other magistrates and justices of the peace, including the mayor, shall be absolutely suspended, except for the purpose of calling out the militia. The gaol and lock-up of the city are to be under control of the provincial superintendent of police. The cost of maintaining the gaol and prisoners is to be paid by the city of Vancouver. Any person having charge of gaols, refusing to deliver up keys, will be imprisoned six months at New Westminster, with hard labor. Municipal constables shall obey the directions of any stipendiary magistrate for the province, also of the superintendent of police. The powers of this act may be exercised as often as the governor may deem expedient.

The bill, of which the foregoing is a summary, was passed through all its stages in about two hours yesterday, and took effect immediately. Under authority of it we learn that the superintendent of provincial police will come to Vancouver to-morrow with about 40 special constables for the purpose of protecting the Chinese. If this force is not sufficient, the governor will appoint as many more as may be deemed necessary. These men will take charge of the city and remain as long as their presence may be required. Vancouver is in a state of great excitement over this unexpected action, but it is not probable that any excesses will be committed.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

FRIDAY, Feb. 25.

Mr. Ladner moved that the Alaska Boundary commission be asked to deal with Point Roberts, a small point of American territory which cannot be reached by land except through British Columbia. The mover said this point of land had already been the scene of two murders, and there were no officers there and no law. The matter had been brought before Sir John Macdonald when he was here, and he promised to have it looked after whenever it was brought officially before him.

The speaker gave his decision on a point of order raised by the introduction of a bill by Mr. T. Davie to amend the Sumas Dyking act. The decision was that no private member could introduce a bill dealing with private interests without going through the usual procedure of a private bill. This decision was appealed against, but was sustained on a vote of 13 to 11.

Hon. Mr. Robson moved the second reading of the Sumas dyking amendment bill. He said the bill was a short one and the subject of its provisions were already so well understood by honorable members that it would be unnecessary for him to occupy the time of the house to any considerable extent. It was proposed only to deal with such of the lands covered by the act of 1878 as have not been in any way affected by the Matsqui dyke. These lands, proposed to be released by the present measure, were in the Sumas and Chilliwhack settlement and some of them on the opposite side of the Fraser river. These lands have been for the most part settled upon and considerable improvements have been made; but the settlers being unable to obtain a title, naturally feel uneasy, and their efforts to create comfortable homesteads are to a great part paralyzed. The present condition is most cruel and unjust to the settlers and injurious to the best interests of the country, and he felt confident every honorable member would agree with him that the sooner it was remedied the better, and the object of the bill was to place the provincial government in a position to administer these lands and issue patents at once to every bona fide occupant. In explanation of the suspending clause, he said that the Dominion government had claimed that, upon the repeal of the act, these lands would go to them. On the other hand, the provincial government contended that the lands would revert to the province; and it was to afford an opportunity to have this matter arranged between the two governments that the suspending clause was put in He might state that the Dominion government had in some measure already conceded the point; and this matter, together with some others, would receive the attention of the government as soon as the house was prorogued, and he felt confident of a satisfactory solution. He felt quite sure that the measure would commend itself to the judgment of every honorable member, as it trenched upon no private rights, while it would release a large and deserving body of settlers from a very great grievance, and put an end to a state of things most injurious to that important district. Mr. Theo. Davie, Mr. McLeese, and Mr. Allen also spoke in favor of the bill, which passed its second reading.

Mr. Allen moved the second reading of a bill for the better protection of cattle ranges, He explained that the object of the bill was to legalize commons 5 miles in extent instead of 5 square miles. It was also intended to prevent sheep and swine running over the ranges.

Mr. Higgins gave notice of motion to amend the statute and rules of court so as to ensure efficient notice in the case of the sale of property levied on by sheriffs; also, to simplify the title and facilitate the transfer of real estate. House adjourned till Monday.

"The cause of temperance is the cause of social advancement. Temperance means less crime and more thrift and more of comfort and prosperity for the people. Nearly all crime in our army can be traced to intoxication, and I have always found that when with an army or body of troops in the field there was no issue of spirits, and where their use was prohibited, the health as well as the conduct of the men were all that could be wished for. No one can wish the cause success more earnestly than I do."—Sir Garnet Wolseley.

Joseph Rusan, Percy, writes: "I was induced to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lameness which troubled me for three or four years, and I found it the best article I ever used. It has been a great blessing to me. Frauds may imitate Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in appearance and name, but in everything else they are dead failures.

A deposit of iron ore in Howard county, Ark., is said to be so pure that it can be forged by a blacksmith into horseshoe nails without any smelting, and that this was often done during the war.
