Life in New York

Hired guide—We must cross the street here.

Stranger—What for?

"A square further up the wagons are so thick we can't get across without loosing a leg,"

"Well, we are over now, what are you waiting for?"

"I'm waiting for a chance to walk in the gutter. This building is a tenement house, and tenement house walls fall every once in a while."

"Phew! We got safely by that building. See here what are you staring in that direction for?"

"We must walk around this block; the street here is underlaid with steam heating pipes, and they are always exploding."

"Stop a moment; I'm tired out."

Great Scott! Don't lean against that telegraph pole, it's got electric light wires on it. You must have been brought up in the woods." Omaha World.

Preaching and Practice.

It was at the Institute of Technology a few days before the close of the term. One of the professors had been troubled by hearing some of the students indulging in slang. Accordingly, when his class had assembled to hear his lecture, he gave them a ten-minute discourse on the use of slang, told them how it was corrupting the language, and that its use was, among persons of cultivation and refinement, a sure sign of ill breeding. Then he went on with his regular lecture, and at its close called the attention of his class to the fact that some of them had been remiss in their studies, and that it behooved them to make up for lost time, or they would fail to pass the approaching examinations. "The fact is," he concluded, "you've got to brace up or you'll get left," which shows that preaching and practice are often wide apart.—Boston Herald.

How Italy does it.

The new criminal code of Italy, just promulgated, abolishes the death penalty for murder or any serious crime. It substitutes therefor imprisonment for life. The first ten years is to be in solitary confinement at hard labor; at the end of that period, if the convict has conducted himself well, he can thereafter work among his associate convicts, but is still condemned to remain silent. For continued good behviour he is to be rewarded by permission to speak occasionally. In case of dueling the court has first to determine whether all the laws of honor have been complied with, and then the penalty is six months' imprisonment for mere fighting. For death, five years' imprisonment; seconds in the first case to have three months; in the second case two months and a half.

A Tough Yarn.

There is a man living among the mountains of Tennessee who will be 214 years and 7 months old on the 4th day of next July. He stands erect, and one day last week, on a wager, ran sixty miles in 54 minutes, beating a limited express train. The engineer of the train was so mortified at the result that he resigned. The veteran felt none the worse for his run and celebrated his victory by jumping over a five-barred gate and eating a large number of consecutive quail. His hearing, eyesight and taste for tobacco are as good as they ever were. P. S.—This story is not founded on fact, but we cheerfully place it at the disposal of the earnest Democratic editors who are endeavoring to make out that Thurman is rather a giddy young thing than otherwise.—N. Y. Tribune.

Uncle Rastus—Yes, sah; I'se de editor of de job depa'tment.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

PARNELL IN A BAD FIX.

LONDON, July 7.—The Times this morning says that Mr. Parnell's admissions to his character as a member of parliament are seriously affected. He has a very imperfect idea of his position. He places against a tremendous indictment his bare, unsupported denial, which would be as much a matter of course from the greatest criminal as from the innocent man. In the circumstances the denial is absolutely worthless as evidence, even if made by one whose character for veracity was beyond doubt and suspicion. Such a character is not borne by Mr. Parnell, who has been convicted, as in his Cincinnati speech, of solemnly and indignantly asserting what was not a fact. The Times reiterates and is fully prepared to prove in open court the charges made against Mr. Parnell and his followers. The unionist papers are prepared to believe that Mr. Parnell is guilty of connivance in the Phœnix Park murders in Ireland as alleged by the Times, if he does not bring an action for libel and so clear himself. It is understood that Mr. Parnell is considering the advisability of bringing such a suit.

FROM THE CONGO.

LONDON, July 7.—The steamer Volta has arrived at Liverpool with Congo dispatches to May 27, which give further details concerning the camp on the Aruwhimi. The camp was suffering from lack of food and from maladies arising from the surrounding swamps. Reconnoitering parties which had advanced along Stanley's route passed quantities of human bones, which were apparently the remains of victims who had fallen in fights betwee Stanley's followers and the natives. The relief had been received by the camp from Tippoo Tib. Major Bartellot, believing that Stanley was not more than 500 miles beyond the camp in the direction of Khartoum, was prepaaing to strike his tent and push on and join him.

TO EAT THE TURKEY.

LONDON, July 7.—The Berlin Post, in a semi-official article, expresses doubts if anything will result from the conference with the czar, and says it does not wish to discourage hopes of peace, but if war does come it will originate in the internal life, and not by the ambition of princes. All that is likely to be gained by the visit of Emperor William will be the temporary arrest of dangerous tendencies. Pesth advices state that the autograph letter of Emperor William, presented by General Wildersee to Emperor Francis Joseph on Thursday hinted that initiative proposals would be shortly taken to Russia. This agrees with reports from other sources that the Czar has a new scheme for the final settlement of the Eastern question, involving the partition of Turkey. In official circles the chances of any such radical overthrow of the Berlin treaty are regarded as hopeless. No agreement is considered possible on the basis of Austro-Russian division of the Balkan provinces. Count Kalnocky is known to have a close understanding with England, conjoined with Italy to listen to no overtures from Russia unless they are addressed at the same time to the other signatory powers. The sum of the position is, after an almost ceaseless coming and going of statesmen and crowned heads, that diplomacy will finally leave the nations to face the issues of war.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

GENERAL SHERIDAN.

NONQUITT, Mass., July 9.—The Swatara, with Gen. Sheridan aboard, has arrived here. The general has been conveyed to a cottage erected for him about an eighth of a mile from the shore. He has borne the fatigue well.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 9.—A freight train on the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Ry. ran into a small land slide yesterday. The locomotive and ten cars were wrecked, a brakeman was killed and the engineer and fireman so badly injured that the physicians think they both will die.

THE CELEBRATION BEGINS.

MANCHESTER, July 9.—The Irish Catholics attacked an Orange procession while proceeding to church yesterday. Hatchets, pokers and bottles were the weapons used. The police stopped the fight. Many wounded were taken to the hospital.

MARLBOROUGH'S MOVEMENTS.

LONDON, July 9.—The steamer Aurania has arrived at Queenstown with the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough. They will remain in England until the end of the autumn, when they return to America, after which a permanent residence will be made in England.

FRISCO NOTES.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The C. P. steamer Port Adelaide has arrived here from Hongkong and Yokohama, via Vancouver and Victoria. She brings 529 Chinese.

Owen Jones, a prominent civil engineer of Melbourne, was among the passengers by the steamer Zealandia, which arrived from Australia yesterday. He represents the colonies in an important mission. The Imperial and Canadian governments have had under consideration, for some time, the project of a direct cable, communication between Canada and Australia, and the colonial government was asked to send a representative to the conference shortly to be held, at which the course may be considered. Mr. Jones will act for the colonies. This project is regarded with favor in the colonies and if subsides can be obtained will be undertaken.

DR. M'KENZIE INTERVIEWED.

EDINBURGH, July 9.—Dr. McKenzie, in an interview with a correspondent of the Scotsman, totally denied the accuracy of the interview published in the Dutch Dagblad, in which he was represented as admitting that he had concealed the curious nature of the Emperor's Frederick's malady in order to prevent a regency. The Scotsman's correspondent asked the doctor whether the statements in the press that the present German emperor is suffering from an incurable malady were true. He replied that the statements were mostly exaggerated, but it was a fact that the Emperor William had an aural complaint which was not unattended with danger, although many persons similarly afflicted had lived to old age. The Emperor William, he said, had infantile paralysis of one arm which had impeded his growth and was the cause of his being such a short man, unlike his father. The paralysis had slightly shortened his arm but he could use it well. Was otherwise active and strong.

LUMBER VESSEL WRECKED.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The Merchants' Exchange received news this morning of the wreck of the Chilian bark Buena Vista, about 20 miles north of Pt. Reyes. The crew, which had abandoned her, were picked up by the schr. Napa City and taken to Port Benton. The wrecked vessel was loaded with lumber and coal and was bound from Chemainus, B. C. to this city.

THIS AFTERNOON'S DESPATCHES.

THE "TRUSTS."

WASHINGTON, July 9.—In the house to-day Adams, of Illinois, offered a resolution reciting the resolution directing the committee on manufactures to investigate the subject of trusts, stating that the scope of the investigation was so broad as to render it impracticable for the committee to make its report at the present session, and directing the committee to report immediately, with or without recommendation, all evidence relating to the so-called sugar trust, and also in a separate report to report the evidence taken in regard to the so-called Standard Oil trust. Referred to the committee on rules.

VISIBLE GRAIN SUPPLY.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The visible supply of grain on July 7th, as compiled by the Produce Exchange, was: Wheat, 23,031,727 bushels; corn, 10,170,395; rye, 173,581; barley, 154,113.

WANTS HIS SON.

BELGRADE, July 9.—King Milan has formally invoked the aid of the authorities of the Prussian province of Hesse-Nassau to force his wife, from whom he has been divorced, and who is now stopping at Weisbaden, to surrender to him the crown prince.

PROMOTION.

WASAINGTON, July 9.—The president to-day sent to the senate the nomination of Colonel Thomas L. Casey, of the corps of engineers, to be chief of the engineers, with rank of brigadier-general.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

DARMSTADT, July 9.—As Prince Alexander, of Battenburg, late ruler of Bulgaria, was driving from Hellgenburg into Stattback valley, yesterday, his horse shied, and the carriage was hurled from the road down the side of the mountain. The Prince was thrown out and fell a distance of forty feet, when he grasped some shrubs and by their aid escaped serious injury. The horse was mangled and killed and the carriage dashed to pieces.

APPEAL DENIED.

SAN FRANCISCO, JULY 9th.—The final effort to save the life of Alexander Goldenson, sentenced to hang for the murder of a school girl, Mamie Kelly, failed this morning, Justice Field of the U. S. Federal Court denying the appeal for a writ of error.

DESTRUCTIVE STORMS.

KANSAS CITY, July 9.—The most disastrous storm that has visited Kansas City for years raged during last night until 12 o'clock. During the height of the storm Eighteenth street, for seven blocks, became a turbulent river, which flooded all the houses to a depth of two feet. Reports of death and destruction are numerous, but at this hour no fatalities have been verified. It is said a family of four, named Williams, were washed away and drowned. The loss aggregates many thousands of dollars.

ANOTHER FIRM GIVES IN.

PITTSBURG, Suly 9.—The Structural Iron Co., of New Albany, Indiana, signed the amalgamated scale this morning, making nineteen firms that have so far granted the demands of the workingmen.

Daily British Columbian

Monday Evening, July 9, 1888.

There is, perhaps, no better sign of prosperity in the future than the filling up of the vacant lands that yet remain unoccupied. Last week a little colony of stalwart settlers located lands for homesteads near the Scott road in township 2, Surrey, about five miles south from Westminster. Four or five of them are members of the salvation army, lately from the east, all family men, who have come to stay, and if they exhibit the same earnestness and energy as subdued and tillers of the soil as they do in the gospel vineyard, we may expect the wilderness soon to rejoice and blossom like the rose. Westminster district is fast filling up, according to all accounts, and by the time of another general election will be in a position to demand an increase of representation in the legislative councils of the country. It will then be time to take a new start in the management of the affairs of British Columbia generally, and of this district in particular, We must have enlarged municipal organizations wherever practicable, besides representation in strict accordance with population. The people will not any longer submit to special privileges of persons or places: we must have a fair field and no favors.

The Times of Friday last has an article on "Political Degeneracy," which is not uncalled for by the circumstances that brought it forth. The particular phase of political degeneracy touched upon by our cotemporary is that—of all others perhaps the most detestable—of members of parliament seeking election for the real, but concealed purpose, of providing themselves with soft billets, at the expense, very often, of good public servants who hold the positions which they covet, and which, by the influence they are enabled to exercise through receiving the suffrages of the people, they obtain. The Times very correctly says: "The only possible interest served, in the majority of such appointments, is the pecuniary condition of the politician, who not infrequently attains to a position of comparative opulence by sacrificing the cause he was elected to advocate, and abandoning at a critical moment the constituency whose confidence he thereby proves himself unfitted to retain." As a case in point, our cotemporary cites the removal of Mr. Wallace, postmaster of Victoria, whose place was filled by Mr. Shakespeare, ex-M. P. "Mr. Shakespeare will probably fill the position creditably," says the Times, "but not more so than did Mr. Wallace, while there will be an additional cost to the country of several thousand dollars per annum." Another case cited by our cotemporary is what it calls "the triangular deal," which was to give Mr. E. Crow Baker, M. P., a senatorship, Senator Macdonald the collectorship of the port of Victoria, and Collector Hamley, the present efficient customs officer, a corner on a shelf. The consummation of this "job" was prevented, the Times says, by the forwarding of a numerously and influentially signed protest from the citizens of Victoria to Sir John Macdonald. The principle of the people's representatives using their acquired influence to feather their own nests in such a shameful way cannot be too much condemned. It is disgraceful.

The too-ready pistol is a great destroyer of life in the neighboring republic. Our despatches continually bristle with accounts of casualties and tragedies resulting from the almost universal possession of this fiendish toy. A dispute occurs in a bar-room: straightway the deadly revolvers are whipped out, and two or three souls, very often including innocent by-standers, are launched into eternity. A friendly game of cards is being played at a private house: a difference of opinion arises, an altercation ensues, the ever-ready shooting-irons come into play, and friends and relatives meet swift death or mutilation at each other's hands, and the homes and the lives of the survivors are blasted. A dispute on the street, the provocation of some hasty temper, a recollection of an old grudge, and the hand instinctively seeks the pistol pocket, and blood is shed and valuable lives sacrificed, where in other civilized countries, in the majority of cases, nothing more serious would ensue than a wordy warfare, or at most an encounter at fisticuffs. Of course there are no doubt thousands of cases in which the argument of the pistol is not resorted to, and whiskey is doubtless partially responsible for the tragedies of the revolver, which occur principally perhaps among the rowdy class. Our American cousins would do well to repress either the revolver or whiskey, or both, if they wish to preserve a remnant. But the evils of this American vade mecum do not stop here. Some of its saddest work, perhaps, has yet to be recorded. How many accidents do we not read of where, in the hands of inexperience and youth—down to the toddler of six or seven even—the household pistol has been inadvertently discharged, carrying death and sorrow into the family circle or the playground. Last Monday at San Francisco a boy shot and killed his playmate, presumably unintentionally. Only the other day at Seattle a boy of seven shot and killed his brother, two years older, with his father's revolver which he got off a shelf. It was an accident, of course, but the circumstances were very affecting, and the parents became frantic with grief. The ills that flesh is heir to are numerous enough, in all conscience, without recklessly adding to them by affecting such a dangerous and senseless toy as the "six-shooter." Decayed counts and fresh mummies are nowhere in obnoxiousness alongside of the American pistol. But our neighbors appear to be "getting used" to it.

After the celebration of the 24th of May in this city some complaints were heard of negligence on the part of reception committees, but these complaints could not be made good, when it was remembered that no official invitation had been extended to anyone in particular to participate in the day's celebration, although it was understood that all would be welcome. We do not recollect, however, of any complaints of unfairness having ever been brought against Westminster committees on such occasions. It is to be regretted that quite the contrary is the case with respect to the recent Dominion Day celebration in Vancouver. The protests have been quite numerous, and considerable dissatisfaction exists. There is, first, the protest of the six ship captains with respect to the Yosemite's boat being allowed to enter in a race for ship's boats. Dissatisfaction, too, has been expressed at the way the "tug of war" was conducted. Then there is the very decided protest in the matter of the hose-reel race, the Westminster team claiming, it would appear on very good grounds, that they had fairly won the race, but had been defrauded of the prize. The latest freak appears to be the refusal of the Vancouver baseball club to allow Westminster to have a chance to win the handsome silver cup offered by Mr. Harry Cole, of the Greyhound Hotel, Vancouver, to the winner of the baseball championship of British Columbia. The understanding was that Victoria, Vancouver and Westminster would compete for this trophy. Victoria and Vancouver played on the 2nd of July, at the latter place, according to agreement, which resulted in a victory for Vancouver. It was understood that Westminster would dispute the right to the cup with the winner of the 2nd July, on the 4th of the same month. The Westminster boys were ready to meet the winners on the day agreed. The match, however, did not come off, and Saturday word was received here that the Vancouver club were going to hold on to the cup and had sent it to Victoria to be engraved. The fact that Westminster has defeated Vancouver in baseball twice this season does not furnish an honorable excuse for such conduct. If there are any extenuating circumstances in connection with the charges as recited above, they should be made known, or the words of a disgusted Westminsterian, on returning to this city after the Dominion Day celebration, will, whether deservedly or not, come to be accepted as an axiom. The expression was: "There isn't a white man in Vancouver!"

Job printing of all kinds neatly done at the COLUMBIAN office. Prices will be found as low as at any other office in the province.—Adv

THE
PORTLAND, OREGON

The West Shore is the only illustrated magazine published on the Pacific coast, and aside from its excellent literary features, its object is to convey information, by both pen and pencil, of the great resources of this region, and the progress of their development.

Special illustrated articles appear in each issue; also, several pages of notes of the progress being made in every section, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Alaska, Utah, California, British Columbia, and the Pacific Northwest in general, are being illustrated. The subscription price is only $2.50. It is not only the cheapest illustrated magazine in the United States, but contains articles and engravings of great interest to every resident of this region, which can not be found in any other publication.

Subscribers for 1888 receive a large supplement every month. The first one is a beautiful oleograph of the "Entrance to the Columbia River," printed in nine colors, and each of the others represents some feature of our sublime scenery. The supplements are alone worth more than the price of the magazine. Try it for 1888, and after reading, send it to your friends elsewhere. You will find it both entertaining and instructive.

Scrofula

Is one of the most fatal scourges which afflict mankind. It is often inherited, but may be the result of improper vaccination, mercurial poison, uncleanliness, and various other causes. Chronic Sores, Ulcers, Abscesses, Cancerous Humors, and, in some cases, Emaciation and Consumption, result from a scrofulous condition of the blood. This disease can be cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

I inherited a scrofulous condition of the blood, which caused a derangement of my whole system. After taking less than four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla I am and, for the past year, have not found it necessary to use any medicine whatever. I am now in better health, and stronger, than ever before.—O. A. Willard, 21c Tremont st., Boston, Mass.

I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores for five years; but, after using a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the sores healed, and I have now good health.—Elizabeth Warnock, 54 Appleton street, Lowell, Mass.

Some months ago I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores on my leg. The limb was badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy failed until I used Ayer's Sarsaparilla. By taking three bottles of this medicine the sores have been healed, and my health is restored. I am grateful for the good it has done me.—Mrs. Ann O'Brian, 158 Sullivan st., New York. ††

TELEGRAM.

OTTAWA, 27th March, 1888.

TO LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF BRITISH COLUMBIA, VICTORIA.

Your Government should issue public notice cautioning persons going on Sealing expeditions to refrain from assertion of their rights by force, and from taking on board arms and ammunition in excess of their usual requirements. The whole matter is engaging the attention of Her Majesty's Government and forms the subject of diplomatic negotiations now in progress. Any intemperate action in the meanwhile would be most detrimental to British Columbian interests and might lead to serious complications and be followed by grave consequences to those conserned.

ABNORMAL SLEEP.

Somnambulism, Catalepsy and Hypnotism Described—Interesting Examples.

Familiar as is normal sleep, no one can fully explain it. It is, nevertheless, a blessed fact. Though it seems to take one-third from our life, it really prolongs it by the daily renewing of vigor.

Some of the abnormal forms of sleep exhibit strange phenomena. We need not dwell on sleep induced by opiates, the lethargy of apoplexy, and what is doubtless akin to it, the sleep of the drunkard, the coma of Bright's disease and diabetes, and the almost irresistible sleep caused by freezing cold.

The sleep of somnambulism is a very interesting form. The person will get up and go abroad in the darkness and into the most dangerous situations wholly without fear. The power of sight is often greatly exalted, and scems sometimes wholly independent of ordinary vision.

Another form is that of catalepsy. In this there is an entire loss of sensibility and ordinary consciousness. The limbs may be placed in any position, the most grotesque and uncomfortable, and they remain so, as if they were made of wax.

Still another form is that of hypnotism, or mesmerism, induced on susceptible subjects by skilled manipulators. The person becomes insensible to pain, and his will is entirely subject to that of the experimenter. The barest suggestion through any sense is sufficient to put the person under the dominance of the idea suggested.

Akin to artificial hypnotism is a morbid condition into which persons of a nervous organization sometimes fall. The celebrated "Soho Sleeper" would, for many years, fall asleep for a fortnight or more at a time, meanwhile exhibiting more or less of the peculiar characteristics of hypnotism. Many similar cases might be cited, for hardly a month passes when the newspapers do not tell the wonderful story of some "sleeping girl," who has been living unconscious for weeks; but some of the cases are not only interesting scientifically, but pathetic.

In 1745 the wife of an English colonel apparently died. The husband persistently refused to have her buried, and watched over her cold and motionless body for eight days. Suddenly, on the bells of a church ringing, she started up, saying, "It is the last prayer-bell; it is time to go."

A lady patient was requesting to have a hot-water bottle put to her feet saying, "I feel"—when she passed into a cataleptic state, and remained in it three hours. On opening her eyes, she ended her sentence, —"a great cold over my whole body."

FOR GOOD HOUSEKEEPERS.

A Cheap and Easy Way of Polishing up Old Furniture.

Old furniture may be polished up by using a shellac varnish prepared as follows.

A wide-mouthed bottle, good alcohol, as much as you want, pint or quart. Shellac added as long as it will dissolve. Shake well, set in a warm place, then shake once in a while. It will keep indefinitely if kept well corked. Should be made several days before using.

When wanted for use turn out a little in a saucer (it evaporates quickly). It should be a little thinner than good syrup. If too thick add a little alcohol. Use a small flat varnish brush.

It is easy to handle and goes into all the crevices. The alcohol flies off quickly and leaves a thin coating of shellac. It is quickly done, quickly dry, covers scratches and gives furniture a new look.

Soak the brush when done in alcohol, cleaning until soft, then it will be ready for next time. Save the alcohol used in cleaning, putting it in the varnish bottle.

Not Only in Philadelphia.

There are some sympathetic doctors in Philadelphia who are practically supported by attending a few wealthy women, who, if there is anything the matter with them, have been no better nor worse for years. They console themselves with the fancy that none but these doctors could have kept them alive at all, and that to them they owe the continuance of their existence.

With many doctors, especially if they are young and unmarried, their sympathetic personality is their principal stock in trade.—Philadelphia Times.

A Flow of Language.

Children sometimes hit upon a phrase which conveys more than pages in which their elders have striven to set forth things clearly, and an instance was afforded recently by a girl of six.

She had been present while her mother received a call from a neighbor, one of those immeasurably voluble women who are the terror of their friends; and after the caller had departed she said to her mother with the utmost seriousness:

"Mamma, I don't think I like Mrs. Blank. She leaks words all the time."

The Worship of Preachers.

On Sunday, when the pastor of one of the leading Presbyterian Churches in Glasgow was absent, several persons expressed dissatisfaction at seeing a stranger in the pulpit, and one lady said she would not have come if she had known that Dr. —— was not going to preach. An elder standing near very promptly replied:

"Madam, the worship of Dr. —— will be resumed next Sabbath."

Getting Inspiration.

Friend (to Bertie)—"I suppose you know your father and I are going fishing tomorrow, Bertie?"

Bertie—"Oh, yes; pa is getting ready now."

Friend—"Is he? Digging bait, I presume?"

Bertie—"No, sir; he's reading Munchausen."

Defective Scenery.

"I don't think much of the scenery in this part of the country," said a Western man on a Central Hudson train bound north. "Give me prairie every time."

"What's the matter with the scenery in this part of the country?" asked a fellow passenger.

"B'gosh, you can't see any. Them dinged hills an' mountains are in the way."—New York Sun.

"Befo' the Wah."

Out at Otterville, Mo., they have an anti-horse thief association. This reminds us of a story.

Said a lady to old Dr. Willson of the Covenanter Church one day in the fifties "Doctor, is it a fact that you Covenanters won't admit slaveholders to your communion?"

"Yes, Madam," said the doctor, "it is a fact. Indeed, Madam, we do not even admit horse thieves."—Christian Nation.

He Paid Him Off.

Young Physician (to patient)—"What you need is exercise, sir. You should walk more."

Patient (reaching for his pocketbook)—"How much, young man? I walked at last night with the baby."

THE RAIN.

He opened the windows of heaven to-day,
And poured as a blessing down
On the thirsty field and the stony way,
And the hot and dusty town.

The light on the mountain is faint and sweet,
And bright is the flowery plain;
In the silent woods where the lovers meet,
The mosses are green again.

I lifted my plant in my feeble hands,
And held it out to the shower;
For the rain that waters the wide-spread lands,
Will freshen a widow's flower.

And there came a thought of the friendless heart,
Shut up in a lonely place;
Oh, carry it forth, ere its life depart,
And give it the streams of grace.

Oh, carry it forth to a purer air,
From its dark abode of pain,
Till the dust of self, and the stains of care
Are washed away by the rain.

SNAKES IN THE RAREBIT.

Containing a Hint for People Called upon To Do Impossible Things.

"Do you know about Tom Sharpless and his rarebit?" the editor asked. "The tale is simple, but it might comfort you.

"Tom was famous for the delicious rarebit he used to concoct, and Mrs. Chatterton was always declaring she must have him make one at her house. So after a talk of several years she assembled a chosen company of friends to enjoy a Welch rarebit which Tom was to make.

"The blazer was produced, the hostess explaining that only one of the burners would light, but that she guessed it would do. Then a red Dutch cheese was set forth, dry and hard as a bone. Tom did not wince.

"Then Mrs. Chatterton turned from a pleasant chat with one of the guests who sat around in hungry expectancy, and placidly inquired what else Mr. Sharpless wanted. Tom said that he sometimes used ale and mustard, and things of that sort, but he did not wish to trouble her with anything so insignificant as his individual prejudices in regard to the materials proper for a rarebit.

"Mrs. Chatterton then held a conversation with the maid and announced that there was no ale in the house, but that the maid would bring in some sherry, and she guessed he could make that do. Tom assured her that anything would do; it really didn't matter so much what a rarebit was made of. Some French mustard—mixed, you know—and a piece of butter were set before Tom, and he was expected to make a rarebit from such materials.

"He gravely dug out a lot of cheese, contriving secretly to introduce into the blazer with it half a dozen of those diabolical inventions called Pharaoh's Serpents. Somehow or other he managed to light these; let them get started and lifted the lid to expose to the view of the company a nest of squirming serpents.

"The ladies screamed, and for a few minutes there was confusion enough. And as soon as he could make himself heard, Tom turned to Mrs. Chatterton—you know the air he has?—and observed politely; 'I'm afraid there is something peculiar about this cheese, after all.' And so he got out of making a rarebit."—Boston Courier.

TEA DRINKING AND THE TEETH.

Something for the Intelligent Reader to Think About.

Some years since, when on duty at recruiting stations in the North of England, I took observation on the great amount of disease and loss of teeth existing among the class of men offering themselves. It became a cause of rejection of itself in great numbers.

As far as inquiries went I was led to trace it to the excessive tea drinking indulged in by the working classes in the manufacturing towns, and this went on all through the day, whether with food or not. In fact, instead of 5 o'clock tea being the invention of the upper classes, it was found to exist to an injurious extent in the working classes long before that time.

Tea seems to have a peculiar tendency to cause hyperæmia in the tooth sacs, leading to inflammation, and, eventually, abscess of the fang, with, of course, dentralgia at every stage. Whether this special tendency was due to theine or tannin having an elective affinity for dentine it is not possible for me to say.

It would be curious to know if medical men, practicing in such manufacturing districts, had observed the deterioration of teeth to be coincident with tea-drinking.—British Medical Journal.

FEEDING CATTLE IN FINLAND.

Poorly Treated Cows, but Excellent Cream and Butter.

To any one who could be satisfied with an unvarying diet of fish and black bread, accompanied by the best cream and butter that can be found anywhere, it would be easy to satisfy his wants in any part of the country. How the cream and butter come to be so good is a mystery to me, for assuredly the Finnish cows are the worst and most scantily fed of their kind. What other cow that respected herself would be satisfied with hay soup in which the water formed so unfair a proportion to the hay? The most meagre-looking hay, mixed with the dried branches of alder, simmers in a huge iron pot, and one sees the poor beasts dipping their noses into the unsavory broth and fishing out its soddened contents with the evident relish of hunger.

It was complained to me by a resident in the country that cows could not be induced to look upon sawdust as the staple of their food. How far he had seriously made the trial I do not know, but should he ever succeed, there will be a rich prospect for Finland in dairy farming.—Murray's Magazine.

Precept and Practice.

Little Eunice, between 3 and 4 years old, had to be punished one day, her mother prefacing the operation with the remark that she was sorry to do it; she only did it because she loved her so much, etc.

At night, after the little girl was in bed, she called her mother to her, threw her arms around her neck and said:

"Mamma, we love one another, don't we?"

"Yes, dear."

"You don't like to punish me, do you?"

"No, I do not."

"You would rather punish your own self, wouldn't you, mamma?"

"Yes."

"Well, then, mamma, I wish you would."—Chicago Advance.

A Point on Lace.

The word "point" in lace is so frequently misunderstood that we may be excused for explaining that it is simply the French word for "stitch," and the various kinds of lace are distinguished by the varieties of stitch.

Hence it is that the word "point" comes into so much prominence.—Dry Goods Chronicle.

"Look at the congregation," said a London preacher, "I say, 'Where are the poor?' When I count the offertory in the vestry I say, 'Where are the rich?'"

Your Children

Are constantly exposed to danger from Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, and diseases peculiar to the throat and lungs. For such ailments, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, promptly administered, affords speedy relief and cure.

As a remedy for Whooping Cough, with which many of our children were afflicted, we used, during the past winter, with much satisfaction, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For this affection, we consider this preparation the most efficacious of all the medicines which have come to our knowledge.—Mary Parkhurst, Preceptress, Home for Little Wanderers, Doncaster, Md.

My children have been peculiarly subject to attacks of Croup, and I failed to find any effective remedy until I commenced administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This preparation relieves the difficulty of breathing and invariably cures the complaint.—David G. Starks, Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y.

I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for many years, and have found it especially valuable in Whooping Cough. This medicine allays all irritation, prevents inflammation from extending to the lungs, and quickly subdues any tendency to Lung Complaint.—J. B. Wellington, Plainville, Mich.

I find no medicine so effective, for Croup and Whooping Cough, as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It saved the life of my little boy, only six months old, carrying him safely through the worst case of Whooping Cough I ever saw.—Jane Malone, Piney Flats, Tenn. ††

Blacksmithing....Cunningham & Raith

Daily British Columbian

Monday Evening, July 9, 1888.

The city council meets to-night for the transaction of business.

See Messrs. Cunningham & Raith's new adv. in another column.

Large congregations filled the churches yesterday both morning and evening.

A carload of agricultural machinery from the Watson Mfg. Co.'s works arrived yesterday.

Ah Foo, the chicken stealer, has been remanded until to-morrow. No one has been able to identify the chickens yet.

Haying is in full blast at Ladners and the farmers are certain of harvesting a large crop should they be favored with fine weather.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corns stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of them? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

Mr G. W. Grant, architect, is calling for tenders for the carpenter work on the brick block being erected on Agnes street by Mr. Jas. Cunningham.

Early this morning a heavy wind storm set in from the north-west and lasted for several hours. Things were pretty well shaken up but no damage is reported.

The Vancouver club sent over word this afternoon that they would play Westminster, as agreed, for the silver cup. This settles the matter and the match will come off within a week.

To most children, the bare suggestion of a dose of castor oil is nauseating. When physic is necessary for the little ones, use Ayer's Cathartic Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take. Try them.

The str. Irving cleared for Chilliwhack this morning with 30 tons of freight and 25 passengers. On Wednesday morning she goes up to Hope to bring down another load of Semilkameen cattle.

Some 5000 head of sheep will be brought from the Semilkameen district this summer by Van Volkenburg Bros. They will be pastured somewhere along the river and disposed of as occasion permits.

The funeral of Walter, the four-year-old son of Mr. A. W. Scoullar, of Vancouver, took place this afternoon in this city. A large number of friends of the family followed the hearse, in carriages, from Vancouver.

The salmon run last night showed a decided improvement. The boats averaged 25 fish each, all of which were sockeyes with the exception of two spring salmon. A few small sockeyes, supposed to be the product of the hatchery, were caught.

The str. Rithet arrived from Victoria yesterday afternoon with 75 tons of freight and 35 passengers. She cleared on the return trip this afternoon shortly after the arrival of the Pacific express with 60 tons of freight and a large number of passengers.

Mr. James Punch is preparing to dyke that portion of his property fronting on the Fraser River. The high water of this summer has destroyed about 40 tons of fine hay and he is determined not to risk this happening at any future time. The land will be very easily dyked, all that is required being an embankment three feet high.

The idle Chinamen who have inhabited Chinatown for the last seven months have mostly taken their departure for the canneries, where they will be occupied till the salmon fishing is over. Even many of those employed as domestics have been induced, by the prospect of larger pay to throw up their jobs and join in the salmon-packing.

Some repairs are needed to the bridge on Columbia street near Captain Insley's residence, the railing on the side next the river being in a very shaky condition. Several braces and other pieces of timber are missing from the railing, and as it is there is danger of children falling through. It is not necessary to say that the undertaker would be the one most interested in such a fall.

Temperance Lectures.

Rev. J. W. Webb, of Salem, Or., gives one of his celebrated temperance lectures to-night and to-morrow night at the Oddfellows' hall. The rev. gentleman is an eloquent and interesting speaker and is certain to make his lectures well worth hearing.

Nicola Mines.

The saw mill has commenced to cut lumber for the Henderson Concentration Works, and carpenters are now engaged on the erection of the buildings. All the machinery is on the grounds. The Jennie Long mine, owned by Drs. Jones and Deardon, is down 36 feet. It has improved with every foot sunk and now looks very fine.—Sentinel.

Cricket.

The C. Battery cricket club will arrive in this city on Thursday afternoon and will play the Westminster club on Saturday. The Battery men will go into camp on the school grounds where a suitable spot has been selected for the purpose. The Westminster Rifle Association has challenged the cricket eleven to a rifle match if one can possibly be arranged during their visit here. After the cricket match against Westminster the Battery team will play Vancouver.

Paine Denies.

W. Paine denies most emphatically that he sold the race to his friends. He acknowledges that Ball stopped his boat at the finish and allowed him to win, but claims that he himself did his best in the race. The boat he took up was an old one, which accounted for the poor time made. It was in better condition next day, and he rowed his best from start to finish, winning the race. Paine claims that he acted squarely in the matter, and regrets that such a course as selling the race should have been imputed to him. He does not know what to make out of Ball, and now thinks he is a much better sculler than he pretends.—Colonist.

Beat his Klootchman.

Juan Ramero was arrested yesterday, by constable Carty, in a cabin in the swamp. Juan had filled himself to the brim with a large quantity of the soul inspiring ardent, which, rousing his many bad qualities, latent in the hours of soberness, caused him to become anxious to devour some being in whom he might be able to find something offensive. Finding no one within easy reach Juan turned his attention to Annie, a klootchman with whom he lives, and gave her such an unmerciful beating that she was forced to call the police for protection. Ramero has been remanded until to-morrow when he will probably get his deserts from the police magistrate.

Fisheries Report.

The report of the fishery department of the imperial board of trade reveals the enormous importance and magnitude of this industry. Over 600,000 tons of fish were landed on the coasts of the united kingdom last year. The whole value of the catch was nearly six and a half million pounds sterling, or over thirty-two million dollars. The share of England and Wales was about twenty and a half million dollars, Scotland eight and a half million, and Ireland three million, nearly half the latter amount being for salmon, in which Scotland was not far behind. The Canadian fisheries came next to those of the united kingdom in the value of their produce.

The B. C. Brigade Garrison Artillery.

E. Gawlor Prior, M.P., has received his promotion to the colonelcy of the British Columbia Brigade Garrison Artillery, and assumed command on Friday night when a "march out" was held. After the parade Col. Prior entertained the officers and men at the Colonist Hotel where a few pleasant hours were spent in song singing and speech making. The health of Col. Wolfenden, who has been placed on the retired list, was drunk with much enthusiasm as was also the health of the new colonel. It is hoped Lieut.-Col. Prior will visit No. 1 battery in this city at regular intervals and that his interest in the efficiency and welfare of the whole brigade will be zealous and unflagging.

An Emery Wheel Bursts.

An emery wheel burst at the Albion Iron Works stove department at eleven o'clock yesterday morning, breaking into three pieces, which shot upwards and through the side of the stove-shop building. One shot across the road and through a window in the second story of the Western Hotel. Such was the impetus of the flying missile that it passed through two partitions and fell upon a bed in the third room. The occupant of the bed had risen but a few minutes before. The other two pieces fell into the shop, one burying itself into the ground. There was no one working at the wheel at the time, and fortunately there was no injury sustained by the workmen. Had any one been working at the wheel he would have been instantly killed.—Colonist.

The Toronto Exhibition.

Mr. Bernard Saunders, one of the directors of the Toronto exhibition, writing to a gentleman in this city, says: "I suppose you have seen that your live government after promising to exhibit will not do so. It will be the last asking they will ever get from our board. Greenway of Manitoba knows the value and means to use it." This is rather harsh on the government but it was explained that no money could be spared this year to aid a British Columbia exhibit. The city of Vancouver is going to send an exhibit to Toronto, and we think Westminster should follow suit. The directors will grant all the space necessary and it would be a very easy matter indeed to send a splendid assortment of vegetables, grains, fruits and woods to the exhibition.

Coroner's Inquest.

The coroner's inquest on the body of Dave Blair, the half-breed found dead in a stable at Hastings, was held by Mr. Ferris at the Brighton hotel on Saturday. From the evidence it would appear that Blair and the Indian who was with him had been drinking very heavily before leaving Vancouver for their ride; and they also purchased two bottles of brandy to drink on the road. One of the bottles was emptied before reaching Hastings; the other was found on the person of the dead man. On arriving at Hastings the men had four drinks and then Dave became so badly intoxicated that his friends carried him to the stable and laid him on some hay to sleep off the effects of the liquor. Dr. Irving made a postmortem examination which resulted in finding that apoplexy had caused Blair's death. A verdict was returned accordingly.

Cui Bono.

At the meeting of the teachers' institute at Victoria Mr. H. M. Stramberg, M.A., principal of the high school in this city, read a paper entitled "Cui Bono," which is admitted to be a logical and brilliant essay, besides being a much more scholarly and brilliant effort than any of the other papers read before the institute. The Colonist, which prints the paper in full, says: "His paper, 'Cui Bono,' was a magnificent piece of composition. Its reading was listened to with the greatest interest by all present, and upon concluding the author was deservedly applauded, and tendered a vote of thanks for his masterly work." This is not Mr. Stramberg's first production. He has written papers on many subjects all of which have received much deserved praise.

A Dangerous Place.

Just below the C. P. R. station, and a short distance this side of where the ship Puritan is lying at wharf, the river makes a curve quite close to Columbia street, and as there happens to be no wharf extending from this point, and no railing on the unprotected edge of the plank-way, pedestrains are quite liable to walk off into the river any dark night, when a terrible shock and an uncomfortable ducking would be received, if nothing more serious was the result. The proximity of two or three saloons makes this place all the more dangerous; not that there is any fear of too much water being put into the whiskey, but from the notorious fact that men coming out of a saloon are very often seized with an unaccountable dizziness, when they are just as likely to walk into the river as not. The city council should repair the one or find some antidote for the other.

Scarcity of Farm Laborers.

The want of farm hands has been severely felt since early spring all along the river, from Hope to the gulf, but at no time has the want been so keenly felt as now when harvesting operations have commenced. To ordinary farm hands, from $30 to $40 per month, with board was offered in the spring with a year's engagement, but a sufficiant number were not obtainable. Immigrants have been arriving daily in search of employment, but 24 hours, as a rule, found them comfortably billeted. Unfortunately the number of arrivals in search of work have not been sufficient to meet the demand and the consequence is, most of the farmers are working short handed. To-day several large farmers, from Lulu Island and Ladners, were in the city trying to engage men, but were not successful in obtaining the required number, although great inducements were offered. Mr. W. H. Ladner, M.P.P., informs us that there are openings at Ladners for a large number of good farm hands.

Throwing Dice for Bibles.

A curious custom was yesterday observed in the parish church of St. Ives, Hunts, says the London Standard. Dr. Robert Wilde, who died in August, 1678, bequeathed £50 ($250,) the yearly interest of which was to be expended in the purchase of six Bibles, not exceeding the price of £1 8s each, which should be "cast for by dice" on the communion table every year by six boys and six girls of the town. A piece of ground was bought with the £50, and it is now known as "Bible Orchard." The legacy also provided for the payment of 10 shillings yearly to the vicar for preaching a sermon on the occasion, "commending the excellency, the perfection and the divine authority of the Holy Scriptures."

This singular custom has been regularly observed in the church since the death of the testator, but representations having been made to the bishops of the diocese, the practice of throwing the dice on the communion table was discontinued some years ago, and the raffling now takes place on a table erected on the chancel steps. The highest throw this year, three times with three dice, was 37 by a little girl. The vicar, the Rev. E. Tottenham, preached a sermon from the words, "From a child thou hast known the Holy Scriptures."

Henry Clement, Almonte, writes: "For a long time I was troubled with chronic rheumatism, at times wholly disabled; I tried anything and everything recommended, but failed to get any benefit, until a gentleman who was cured of rheumatism by Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, told me about it. I began using it both internally and externally, and before two bottles were used I was radically cured. We find it a household medicine, and for croup, burns, cuts, and bruises, it has no equal."

A professor in the University of Vienna, long a sufferer through poison in the eye, was completely cured by having a rabbit's nerve attached to the old nerve, Dr. Gersuny, the assistant to the great surgeon of the world, Dr Bilroth, performed the operation.

Fortify the system, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, against the diseases peculiar to hot weather. This medicine induces a healthy action of the stomach, liver, and kidneys, causing them to prevent the accumulation of the poisons which produce disease.

Most of our city readers have become accustomed to the familiar form of the Indian mendicant, "Crutchy," and will not be sorry to learn that he has been promoted. Last week he laid down his well used crutches for the last time and departed for the "happy hunting grounds."

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessnes during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure, and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

L. Guichon, of Ladners, was in the city to-day on a business visit.

G. E. Corbould went over to Victoria to-day on professional business.

We regret to learn that Mr. Wm. Johnston is again confined to his bed by illness.

W. H. Ladner, M.P.P., came up from the landing yesterday and returned to-day.

Sergt. Lindsay, of Cariboo, has returned to the city, looking much improved by his visit to the capital.

A. H. Hill, C.E., and wife left for Victoria and Nanaimo this afternoon where they will make short visits.

Jacob Loockman, Buffalo, N. Y., says he has been using Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for rheumatism; he had such a lame back he could not do anything, but one bottle has, to use his own expression, "cured him up." He thinks it is the best thing in the market.

Kamloops Notes.

Considerable building is going on in Kamloops.

Mr. B. S. Pelly has opened a land agency office at Spallumcheen.

Mr. Dan McQuarrie, formerly of Yale, has opened a new shoe shop, opposite the Colonial hotel in Kamloops.

Col. McRae and Capt. King, of Port Arthur, connected with extensive ranching business in the Southern states, were in Kamloops last week.

Rev. Mr. Winslow and wife arrived in Kamloops last week from the east. Mr. Winslow has been appointed to take charge of the Methodist church in Nicola district.

Kamloops had a very successful Dominion Day celebration, according to the Sentinel, including the laying of the corner-stone of a new Masonic building. A new band, called the Kamloops band, under the leadership of Mr. A. Burnyeat, added much to the enjoyment of the day.

Mr. T. C. Wells, Chemist and Druggist, Port Colborne, Ont., writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure sells well, and gives the best of satisfaction for all diseases of the blood." It never fails to root out all diseases from the system, cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, etc., purifies the blood, and will make you look the picture of health and happiness.

MONTREAL, July 3.—Mrs. James Hudson, a fashionable milliner, of St. Catherine street west, returned from Boston to-day, where she has instituted proceedings against her husband, who deserted her five years ago, and has since married a Miss Hale, of Sherbrooke.

BELVILLE, July 3.—Rosa Arabella McDonald, on trial for bigamy, was sentenced to one week in jail. Both husbands were in court, one prosecuting, the other aiding in the defence. There were certain extenuating circumstances in the case, which called for the light sentence. Rosa will be discharged to day, and will claim husband No. 2 as her lawful partner. Zimmerman, husband No. 1, who was begging alms about the city with which to purchase a cork leg at the time of the marriage, was proved to be in easy circumstances. He is supposed to have another wife in Prince Edward county.

WINDSOR, July 3.—Sam Jones, the evangelist, preached at the Methodist church here yesterday evening. At the conclusion of the sermon Mr. Jones said the new organ had cost the church $1,900. There was a debt upon it, but he was going to make the congregation give $500 toward that debt. "I am ready to plank down $5 in gold," he continued, as he placed that amount on the table. "Now, I want say twenty men to give as much each, and two hundred to give $2 each. If you don't want to give anything, sneak out the door." A procession started toward the table, and the requisite notes and silver were deposited, beside Jones' nest-egg.

Job printing of all kinds neatly done at the COLUMBIAN office. Prices will be found as low as at any other office in the province.—Adv.

PARMELEE'S PILLS possess the power of acting specifically upon the diseased organs, stimulating to action the dormant energies of the system, thereby removing disease. In fact, so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of almost every name and nature are driven from the body. Mr. D. Carswell, Carswell P.O., Ont., writes: "I have tried Parmelee's Pills and find them an excellent medicine, and one that will sell well."
