SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

The next international archæological congress is to be held in Christiania in 1891.

The Unter den Linden of Berlin, with three lines of arc lamps separated by two rows of trees, is said to be the best illuminated thoroughfare in the world. The wires are under ground.

The population of Norway shows a higher percentage of light eyes (97.25) than any other country in Europe. Black hair is found in only 2 per cent. and red hair in 1.5 per cent.

Mr. Theodore Urban states that he has evidence that America was settled about 650 years after the deluge, and that the tribes that sprang up had tools of metal as well as of stone.

After immersion in water for thirty-seven days, specimens of pine were found by Prof. D. V. Wood to have been lengthened 0.065 per cent. oak 0.85 per cent. and chestnut 0.165 per cent., the lateral swelling being 2.6 per cent. for pine, 3.5 per cent. for oak, and 3.65 per cent. for chestnut.

An eminent cartographer declares that the map of Africa is changed by every mail. Fresh geographical news from the Dark Continent twice made necessary changes of parts of the great globe of the Paris Exhibition during its construction; and two years ago some Belgian map-makers were five times compelled to take from the press a large map of the Congo State for additions and corrections.

EARTHQUAKE MOVEMENT.—"There is a great mistake," remarks a California astronomer, "as to the actual amount of movement of the earth in an earthquake. In the Chabot Observatory this morning the earth moved a little less than a quarter of an inch, and in East Oakland, where the shock (that of July 31) was heavier, it moved about 5-sixteenths of an inch. An earthquake in which the motion was a half-inch would prove very disastrous, and yet people do not hesitate to say that they saw the earth move at least a foot."

ELECTRICITY AND LIFE.—Without conceding that "electricity is life," it may be stated as probable that all forms of life are constantly producing electricity. In several water-inhabiting-creatures—such as the Torpedo, the Gymnotus and the Silurus—the power of producing electrical discharges is strikingly manifest. Several investigators have shown further that nerve-excitations and muscular contractions of human beings also give rise to feeble discharges, while Buff thought he detected electrification produced by plant life.

LIGHT LOST IN WINDOWS.—The loss of light in passing through glass has been tested by two physicists of Berlin. A simple translucent, but not transparent glass diminishes the light 27 per cent.; cathedral glass, both white and with a ground tint, 12⅔ per cent., plain white Rhenish double glass, 10 per cent.; and plain thin mirror glass, 10 per cent. Ground glass with cut stars and white background, such as is found in house fanlights, obstructed 60 per cent. of the light; and plain ground glass with the background, 40 per cent.

PERMEABILITY OF CEMENTS.—Experience has shown that brick tunnels and drains can not be made water-tight when exposed to considerable pressure, as water is forced through not only the bricks but the cements and mortars. In experiments last year by Mr. J. B. Francis, about fourteen gallons of water per square foot of surface passed through a thickness of nearly sixteen inches of cement in twenty-four hours, under a pressure of seventy-seven pounds per square inch. Other engineers have concluded it is not practicable to build a tight bulkhead of cement-laid bricks when the pressure exceeds sixty-four pounds per square inch.

COMPOSITION OF METEORITES.—As constituents of meteorites, Lockyer has found fourteen elements to be of quite constant occurrence, and eleven others to exist less frequently or in smaller quantities. Only hydrogen, nitrogen and carbon occur in an elementary condition. The hydrogen and nitrogen seem to be occluded as gases by the stones, and the carbon takes the forms of graphite and the diamond. Many of the chemical compounds are unknown in terrestrial minerals, while, on the other hand, common terrestrial substances—such as free quartz—are not found in the meteorites. Various alloys of nickel and iron, with which magnesium is always associated, occur; and a white or yellowish crystallizable compound of carbon with hydrogen and oxygen exists. Other meteoric minerals and lawrencite, a protochloride of iron: maskelynite, having the composition of labradorite, and asmanite, a form of silica. Compounds identical with terrestrial minerals in composition and crystallographic character are magnetic pyrites, magnetite, chromite, and varities of olivine and other silicates.

Rev. Mr. McKenzie, Presbyterian missionary at Labrador, writes that great destitution exists there, and urges that a movement be made to transport the inhabitants to the Northwest.

GLORIOUS WAR.

The Haytien War is Over and Hippolyte is the Conquering Hero.

Meeting of the American Society for the Advancement of Science at Toronto.

Mayor Clarke of Toronto to be Forced to Show his Hand on Jesuit Question.

THE HAYTIEN WAR OVER.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—A cablegram giving important news regarding the Haytien situation was received at the navy department from Admiral Gherardi at St. Nicholas, Mole, the cable terminus. It says: "Legitime accepted the terms offered and embarked on Thursday afternoon on board a French covette. It is not known where he will go. The Hippolyte forces occupied the town yesterday morning. Fear riot and have notified diplomatic corps, and will do all I can to prevent a riot. Very important that every new minister be sent immediately." The U. S. ship Galena, now at New York, is under orders to sail for Hayti, and she will depart tomorrow. Minister Frederick Douglas, who has been waiting for a definite turn in Haytien affairs, will be instructed by the state department, and will probably leave New York by an early mail steamer.

LEGITIME LEAVES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Kuhn Hart & Co. to-day received the following despatch from Port au-Prince, dated this morning at Mole St. Nicholas: "Legitime embarked on the 23rd on the Montejointe and entered Hyssola on the 24th; no disorder." This despatch indicates Legitime has left the field to his rival Hippolyte.

A FIFTY ROUND FIGHT.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Aug. 24.—Geo. Bush, of California, and Henry M. Watson, of Billerica, Mass., fought to a finish at 2:30 o'clock this morning, just over the New Hampshire line. Bush had his own way from the start and knocked out Watson in fifty rounds. The fight was for a purse of $300. Bush weighed 175, and Watson 180 lbs. The first round was by agreement with gloves, and the following rounds to be with bare knuckles. Bush was so plainly the better man than Watson that the latter's friends objected to the removal of the gloves, and the Bush party consented to a knock-out fight with gloves. The first and second rounds were tame: Watson endeavored to force the fighting, and in the 3rd round got badly punished and knocked down. He was winded in the fourth, and Bush, after pounding him heavily, knocked him down again. Watson was decidedly groggy in the fifth round and was soon knocked out.

A GENERAL INSULT.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 24.—David Dudley Field in an interview, said his brother, Judge Field, did not regard Terry's assault as personal, but as an insult to every citizen of the U. S. He did not think anything serious would be done to Nagle, who acted within the law.

PASSENGER LIST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The str. Umatilla sailed for Victoria and Puget Sound ports this morning with the following passengers: Miss S. McWhinney, Mrs. J. McWhinney, Mrs. Ferguson and children, Miss A. Keas, Miss B. Keas, J. H. Kuarston, Miss C. Philips, W. J. Parr, O. C. Busser.

NAGLE'S CASE.

STOCKTON, Calu., Aug. 24.—There is no foundation for the rumor that the charge against Justice Field is to be dismissed. Nagle's case has been postponed until next Monday.

BUSH FIRES.

ANADONDA, Mt., Aug. 24.—Great forest fires are raging south of here, and also about ten or twenty miles west. The fire in that direction is thought to be in McCunes' wood camp, and in that case thousands of dollars of cord wood will be destroyed.

ORDERED TO HAYTI.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The U. S. steam corvette Galena has been ordered to Hayti to take the place of the Ossipee and protect American interests.

AN IMPORTANT WITNESS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The counsel for David Nagle have secured an important witness in the person of Henry C. Clary, who proposes to swear positively that he saw Mrs. Terry remove a bowie knife from her husband's dead body and secrete it in her clothing. Clary says the act was done just after Terry's death.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Aug. 24.—John Watson, of this city, has received a despatch from the president, offering him the U. S. dist. attorneyship of Alaska.

THE NEW ROUTE.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 24.—The Wisconsin Central and Northern Pacific traffic agreement takes place from today, in the shape of through car service from Chicago to Tacoma, W. T., and Portland, Ogn., opening the first unbroken communication from Lake Michigan across the continent to the Pacific Northwest.

SHOT HIS NURSE.

WOBURN, Mass., Aug. 24.—At 1:30 o'clock this morning, Fred S. Nichols, living in Grove street, Winchester, while delirious from typhoid fever, got out of bed, procured a revolver from a bureau drawer and shot his nurse, Miss Smith, through the heart, killing her. Before he could be secured he fired two shots at his father, Stillman Nicholas, but without effect. Miss Smith was a trained nurse from Boston, and came yesterday to attend the patient.

SCIENTISTS' MEETING.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Prominent scientists, delegates to the American society for the advancement of science, are arriving here to attend the meeting which opens on Wednesday. There will be an excursion of scientists to the north from Toronto, and some of them may go on through to the Northwest.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—After a most sensational evidence in the Hicks dinner pail poisoning case last night, in which a 13 year old daughter of Mrs. White, the accused, and sister of Hicks, was shown to have been told to swear falsely so as not to incriminate her mother, the latter, and Arthur Hicks, nephew of the deceased, who she used as a tool, were committed for trial as having guilty knowledge of the murder.

THE GREAT WIGGINS.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—It is reported the queen is about to bestow a title on Prof. Wiggins, the weather prophet.

THE HORSE WAS DROWNED.

QUEBEC, Aug. 24.—E. Taschereau, son of Justice Taschereau, of the supreme court, narrowly escaped drowning at Riviere DuLoup yesterday. He backed a horse over the wharf in turning, and would have been drowned but for the men of his own yacht, which was lying near by. The horse was drowned.

FORCING HIS HAND.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Mayor Clarke, who has fought shy of the Jesuit question, has, on the requisition of citizens, called a public meeting to discuss the question. He is a prominent Orangemen, and also has a great many Roman Catholic friends, and intends to contest the next mayoralty election. As he will have to speak at the meeting, it is doubtless sought to compel him to show his hand on a question which may prejudice him in a future contest.

CRICKET MATCH.

QUEBEC, Aug. 23.—A cricket match between teams from the governor general's household and the officers of the fleet is being arranged.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—Allan T. Snyder, of Pottaville, Pa., was arrested by Detective Slemin on suspicion of being one of the gang of American crooks whose favorite custom is that of robbing country stores and empty houses.

SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN EATEN BY BEARS.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Aug. 23.—A little boy, son of John Love, strayed away yesterday while berry picking with his parents, and has not so far been found. It is thought he may have fallen a victim to bears.

A WOMEN'S FIGHT.

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—A woman named Furlong, living in Seaton village, a suburb, is believed to be dying from the effects of a fight with another woman, named Paterson. The fight brought on a miscarriage.

WON THE PRIZE.

BUFFALO, Aug. 22.—The Buffalo business men's association offered a prize about two years ago of $100,000 for anybody who would invent a device which would utilize the power wasted by the Niagara torrent. Several thousand plans were presented, but were never acted upon, because the offer was really a fake, none of the money being subscribed, and some of the subscribers being worth less than they had signed for. The managers of the association had a fit of consternation this afternoon when S. H. Palmer, a practical mechanic employed at the New York central car wheel works, put in a demand for the $100,000 prize, on the ground that he had a device which fully complied with all the conditions imposed by the association. Palmer's machine is simply an endless steel belt, 200 feet long and 20 feet wide, each link of which is a tiny turbine wheel. When set crosswise to the current it moves with resistless force. His working model is fixed in a little iron box that a child could carry, and yet it was able to generate one horse power in the slow current in the Niagara at Block Rock to-day. Palmer talks of suing the prize offerers if they do not pay.

Langley Council.

Council met at the town hall on Saturday, Aug. 3rd, at 11 a.m. Present—the reeve and Councillors Mufford, Davey, Yeoman and Houston. The minutes of previous meeting were read and confirmed. Communications from Messrs. Davie and Bodwell received and filed, and clerk instructed to communicate with the honorable the provincial secretary anent the liability of municipal councils for special constables' fees, employed by magistrates. Tenders were ordered to be called immediately for construction of a bridge on town line, and board of works was instructed to let work on the following roads to the amount indicated: On Monday, Aug. 10th, Brown road $40; McGilvray road $50; and McInnes road $50; and also $50 on Haldis road. The following contracts were awarded: Bridges on town line to R. A. Bradenat, $100; McAdams road to J. Miller, at $250; and river road to D. Harris, at 73 cts. per chain. The following appropriations were made; Ditch near J. Kinnear's $10; Spears road, $25; section line near Page's, $30, and section line near McGregor's, $20. Coun. Davey was authorized to expend $15 on repairs to the road near Hossack's grist mill. The constables' fees for services on May 24th, viz., O. Wilkie, $6, and J. Mathison, $6, were ordered paid. The reeve was instructed to communicate with the government with a view of obtaining aid in opening roads for the new settlers. Council adjourned until first Saturday in September.

Surrey Council.

Council met pursuant to adjournment. Minutes of previous meeting were read and on motion approved. Communications were received from Messrs. Hill and Thibadeau, C.E., together with plans, specifications and estimates, for the construction of the drainage and dyking works; these were approved and accepted. Reports were presented from several councillors, re progress of works in their respective wards; also from Dr. I. M. McLean, health officer, to the effect that there are no new cases of smallpox, and that he trusts to be in a position to raise the quarantine about the middle of next week; reports received and approved. The road tax by-law was reconsidered and passed. E. T. Wade was appointed road tax collector for the remainder of the year, and as remuneration to receive 10 per cent. on all collections. Council adjourned until Saturday, August 31st, at 1 o'clock p. m.

THE TITHES BILL.

Defeat of the Tithes Bill Gives Great Pleasure to Non-Conformists.

Stormy Scene in the House of Commons Last Night Over Irish Prisoners.

Balfour Says Conybeare's Dreadful Disease was Cured by a Cold Water Bath.

THE CHURCH CONGRESS.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Great dissatisfaction exists among Churchmen at the programme of the church congress at Cardiff. It practically ignores the tithes question, which is practically the burning question of the hour among church people. All this has had the effect of making non-conformists jubilant. They consider the collapse of the tithes bill in parliament as another step towards the dis-establishment of the church of England, and the application of tithes to national purposes, instead of to one particular ecclesiastical body.

GERMAN ADVICE.

BELIN, Aug. 23.—The North German Gazette says in reference to the recent press comments on the Emin Bey relief expedition and the utility of holding an indignation meeting denouncing it: "Our friendship for England forms the weightiest security for the peace of Europe and our chief policy is to strengthen that friendship with England. For the two nations to estrange each other by public manifestations, is to play into the hands of their opponents abroad."

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—There was another stormy scene in the house of commons to-night when the Irish estimates had reached the stage of a vote for Irish prisons. In the early stages of the discussion the Irish members spoke bitterly of the treatment of Mr. Conybeare, member of parliament for Cornwall, now confined in Londonderry jail, who contracted a loathsome skin disease soon after entering the prison. Mr. Balfour replied that as far as this case was concerned, altogether too much fuss had been made over it, when the trivial nature of the prisoner's disorder was concerned. As a matter of fact, at this moment Mr. Conybeare's health was as good as any of the members now championing his cause upon that floor. That gentleman had been cured of his terrible affliction without any greater effort of medical skill than the prescription of a bath. The previous occupant of Mr. Conybeare's cell had been a man named Fadden, who had not been affected with the disease from which the prisoner suffered. He had directed a thorough examination of the prison to be made, and this revealed no trace of disease, either in the prison or among the prisoners. Mr. Alexander Blaine, member for South Armagh, told of his experiences in Londonderry jail. As the debater progressed, the Irish members became more excited, and when Mr. Thomas Sexton declared that Londonderry jail was a pest house where Irish prisoners were murdered, his Parnellite sympathisers broke in with cries of, "there is the assasin," many of them going so far as to point their fingers at the Irish secretary. Mr. Balfour rose in his place and hurled defiance at his detractors. He said that long familiarity with such attacks had taught him to treat them with contempt. Mr. Thomas W. Russell, the member for South Tyrone, moved that a sanitary engineer be appointed to inspect the Irish prisons. Mr. Parnell declared that the Irish prisoners were half starved. He added his own testimony to those of the Irish members who had spoken, from an intimate acquaintance with the fact of the unsanitary condition of the prisons. The debate was protracted and acrimonious, and at its conclusion the vote was adopted by 113 to 69.

Strange Disappearance.

It is learned from Capt. McPhadden, of Moodyville, that on Wednesday evening last Capt. Gus Julien, of the tug Leonora, disappeared and has not been seen since, and the supposition is that he is drowned. Capt. McPhadden states that on Wednesday evening Julien was seen in a very inebriated condition in the Moodyville hotel. This was about 11 o'clock in the evening. No quarrel or dispute is known to have taken place. About the hour mentioned on that evening Julien went out, and no trace of him having been discovered since, it is presumed he must have fallen into the water off the wharf and been drowned. A number of men have been set to work to drag for the body, but as yet without any results. Capt. Julien, prior to his disappearance on Wednesday evening, drew $60 due him, and spent part of the sum very liberally after the receipt of it. Capt. McPhadden thinks that there is no other feasible way of accounting for the man's disappearance except that of a watery grave.—World.

LATE CANADIAN NEWS.

Goldwin Smith addressed a fair-sized audience at Winnipeg, Thursday night, on questions of social economy.

Mrs. Eldridge, wife of T. B. Eldridge, treasurer of the Equitable Life insurance company, of Toronto, while returning home on the steamer Cibola yesterday morning when about two miles out, threw herself overboard, but was promptly rescued in spite of her struggle by a party of fishermen near by. It is supposed her mind is affected.

The first guillotine ever seen in Halifax passed through that city yesterday, en route to St. Pierre, where it will be used next week in the execution of the murderer Geel, who was convicted three months ago for the murder of an old man named Coupard. The murder was similar to those indulged in by Jack the Ripper, but even more brutal and fiendish.

Mayor Stewart, in company with several officials and experts of the Canada anthracite coal company, will be at Canmore, Alberta, in a day or so, and big developments are looked for. Four hundred miners and their families will be on the ground in a few days and as the government have the survey of the townsite nearly complete a general boom is anticipated.

Daily British Columbian

Saturday Evening, August 24, 1889.

We have heard it suggested that, considering the fact that all the sidewalks on Columbia street will shortly have to be renewed, it would be a good idea for the city council to investigate the question of cement sidewalks as a substitute for the wooden article, with the object of requiring property holders to lay cement pavements instead of plank-walks opposite their buildings. There is no doubt that the improvement to the business portion of the city, so far as appearance and even durability is concerned, from carrying out this idea would be considerable; but it is a question upon which the property owners themselves would be entitled to be heard, owing to the extra first cost of laying the cement sidewalk. An unequalled cement sidewalk, we have been informed can be laid for 35 cents per foot, guaranteed for five years. For the ordinary plank sidewalk we have not figures to hand, but nearly every one knows that it can be laid much cheaper than the figure above quoted, although, as between cement and the narrow smooth planking which has been laid opposite some of the new blocks, the difference would not be so great. The cement pavement in front of the Masonic and Oddfellows' block demonstrates fairly the advantages possessed by that sort of a sidewalk. The council, at any rate, can do no harm by looking into the matter before the relaying of the Columbia street sidewalks, and might inaugurate a material improvement in several respects in the business part of the town. While on the sidewalk question, a transition to that of the streets is a most natural and easy one, and in this connection our attention has been called to the desirability, on grounds of great utility and ultimate economy, of the city possessing a steam rock crusher (which we believe would cost from about $300 to $500), so that small stones, coarse gravel, etc., might be ground up into a uniform and most useful macadam for the streets, thus keeping them in serviceable condition, clean and handsome looking the year round. We commend this suggestion also to the consideration of the city solons.

The annoying farce that is being perpetrated in Behring Sea by the U. S. revenue cutter Rush, of hailing British sealers, stealing their ship's papers, seal skins, and implements, and committing them to a "prize crew" with instructions (uniformly disregarded) to proceed to Sitka and there be forfeit to their pirates, would be altogether too tiresome and serious a joke to be borne with the equanimity that it is by those whose business is ruined and their season's work made to pass for naught, were it not for the repeated assurances we have from the apparently rather tardy acting Imperial government that it is moving in the matter, not any too precipitately, but perhaps wisely, and that before long the difficulty will be settled by arbitration, to the satisfaction of everyone interested. While the Imperial authorities have declined to allow the Pacific squadron to interfere in Behring Sea for the direct protection of British sealers, it is gratifying to note, by the despatches, that they are not overlooking the damages which our sealers are suffering, but have requested a full schedule of these from the Dominion government, and in due time will, no doubt, demand their payment, to the uttermost farthing, from the nation which has authorized these unwarrantable piracies on the high seas, to bolster up a tremendous monopoly—the Alaska Commercial Company—which would thus appear to dominate the United States government, as the latter actually seizes its own sealers as well as ours, in the interest of the corporation mentioned, and it is a matter of notoriety that the most intelligent public opinion in the republic condemns the attitude and actions of the administration in the whole Behring Sea question. Such being the case, and the position which the American authorities have chosen to assume in the matter being utterly untenable in the light of investigation and reason and in the face of determined protest, we may well believe that, through the pressure which it is the duty of the Imperial authorities now to bring to bear, without the least temporizing or uncertainty, a speedy and satisfactory settlement of the difficulty will be effected by arbitration. Speedy satisfaction is what is wanted in this case, not that long drawn hope deferred that maketh the heart, and the whole man, sick, and ultimately weakens faith in the most cherished institutions. We trust that, because the Imperial government are prosecuting this matter peaceably and dignifiedly, they will none the less do so with firmness, neatness, and despatch.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Once in a while an American editor, apparently in want of some "stuffing" for his columns, allows his errant pen to scratch off some such stuff as this from the Tacoma Ledger: "Our friends in British Columbia will realize before many years have passed that they committed a political plunder when they surrendered the autonomy of separate provincial government and joined the Dominion union. We say this because we are satisfied that in the natural order of political events the time must come when the people of British Columbia will desire to be a self-governing people, either as a separate republic or as a part of the United States. When that time comes the entangling alliance with the rest of the provinces will add greatly to the difficulty of the situation. No doubt England would willingly allow a separation at any time it should be desired by this colony, but Canada would vehemently oppose such a movement. The doctrine of manifest destiny in the march of nations plays an important part, and no student of the geography of this country will fail to recognize the force of our assumption that British Columbia, sooner or later, will be forced to detach herself from the Dominion." While acknowledging the implied compliment in our cotemporary's conjecture that British Columbia may soon want to set up as a separate republic, there is no sense in the remark that the people of this province have "committed a political blunder when they surrendered the autonomy of separate provincial government and joined the Dominion union." When we joined the Dominion union we never surrendered our autonomy, but our provincial government, strictly speaking, began at that date, British Columbia prior to confederation being under the rather crude government of a crown colony. British Columbia joined the Dominion union deliberately, and for her good, and so it has proved, most emphatically, and our American friends needn't coodole with us about having made a "political blunder," or blast their reputations as seers by foretelling what is most unlikely to come to pass. But when our cotemporary gets vagarizing about "manifest destiny," a little further on, we would like to commend to its attention Josh Billings' article on that rather uncertain quantity. Josh says in effect that "manifest destiny iz just what you mak it," and there is great truth in the remark. Our Yankee cousins will have their hands full hewing out their own destiny for some time to come, and may safely and profitably leave us to do the same, which we are doing as a part of the great Dominion of which we are proud as comprising "the greater half of the continent" in area, and which is becoming greater and greater every day in all that goes to constitute a free and prosperous commonwealth. Nevertheless, we desire that our relations with the great republic on our southern border may be mutually as friendly and advantageous, if not more so, than in the past.

NICKELS AND CENTS.

How They Are Made and What They Are Made Of.

Fortunes in Outstanding Coins—How Uncle Sam Gathers Millions from His Stamping Machines—The Silver-Coining Process.

The other day the Treasury Department issued a circular proposing to ship free of express charges to persons desiring them nickels and pennies in certain quantities on receipt of their face value. The offer suggested some inquiries in regard to the cost of these coins and how it happens that the Government can ship them at par value and pay express charges upon them.

The story of the nickel is an interesting one, says the New York Star. Very few people in this country imagine how much profit Uncle Sam makes out of the stamping of these small coins. The actual cost of a nickel to the Government is not much more than three-quarters of a cent. Formerly the metal was fixed, planned and prepared for use in the National work-shops at the various mints, but now the metal is purchased and prepared by outsiders under contract. All the Government does now is to put its stamp upon the blanks and than gather in its profit on their circulation.

The total amount of these coins issued in a year will average about $600,000, and as very few of them ever return to plague the Government, the actual profit to the National Treasury can be easily calculated. Nickels and pennies are, of course, redeemable by the Treasury in other money when a demand is made, but this occurs only occasionally, and then the coins are sent to the mint, cleaned up and sent into circulation again.

It is about the same story in reference to pennies. The Government buys the metal out of which they are made ready for use and pays so much a pound for it, when it is cut and prepared for stamping. Then the mint puts the legal mark upon the coins and they are turned out by the million. What do they cost? Well, every cent that is coined brings in a profit of three-quarters of a cent to the Government. More pennies than nickels are returned to the Treasury in exchange for other money, but they are sent promptly to the mint, and soon get into the hands of the public once again. A bronze penny or a nickel five-cent piece does not wear out as rapidly as a dollar bill.

But there is still another source of profit to the Government in the issuing of these small coins. One of the most expert of men at the Sub-Treasury in Wall street declared a day or two since that there are still in existence somewhere, floating about the country, bunched up in old stockings or in the hands of curiosity collectors, over 100,000,000 of the old-fashioned copper cents, about 20,000,000 of copper-nickel cents, nearly 500,000,000 of the present issue of bronze pennies, 25,000,000 of nickel 3-cent pieces and about 200,000,000 of nickel 5-cent pieces. The total value of these outstanding minor coins is, put in round numbers, $120,000,000, and every dollar of this is absolute profit to the Government.

The coinage of silver pieces is done mainly by the National mints, and, strange to say, there is more profit in the work than any thing else that the mint does. Under the present law the Treasury is required to buy and coin at least $2,000,000 worth of silver into dollars. This $2,000,000 worth of silver makes nearly $2,350,000, so that the profit on the monthly purchase and coinage of silver dollars is fully $750,000. So the profit on the silver dollars, you see, is about $9,000,000 a year or more, and adding to it the profit on the pennies and nickels brings it up to nearly $10,000,000. Of course, there must be taken out of that the expenses of the mint, but they are a comparatively small sum.

The process of coining silver pieces is an interesting one, and is the same practically for dimes and for dollars. The silver bullion is first melted and run into bars. These in turn are run through immense rollers and flattened out to the thickness of the coin. These silver strips are then passed through a machine which cuts them into the proper size for the presses, the strips first having been treated with a kind of tallow to prevent their being scratched in their passage through the cutters. The silver pieces are then put into the feeder of the printing presses, and are fed to the die by automatic machinery. As the smooth pieces are pressed between the ponderous printing dies they receive the lettered and figured impression in a manner similar to that of paper pressed upon a form of type; at the same time the piece is expanded in a slight degree and the small corrugations are cut into its rim. The machine drops the completed coin into a receiver and it is ready for the counter's hand.

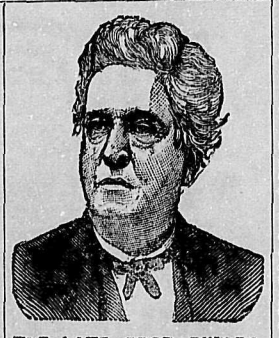
The instrument used by the counter is not a complicated machine by any means, as one might suppose. It is a simple copper-covered tray, having raised ridges running across its surface at a distance apart the exact width of a dime. From the receiver the money is dumped on to this board or tray, and as it is shaken rapidly by the counter, the pieces settle down into the spaces between the ridges. All these spaces being filled, the surplus is brushed back into the receiver, and the counter has exactly 1,250 dimes, $125, on this tray, which number is required to fill the spaces. The tray is then emptied into boxes, and the money is ready for shipment.

The dime does not pass through the weigher's hands, as does the coin of a larger denomination. One and one-half grains is allowed for variation or "tolerance" in all silver coins from one dollar down, and the deviation from the standard in the ten-cent pieces is so trifling that the trouble of weighing coins of this denomination is dispensed with.

MUSICAL INSECTS.

The Notes Produced by the House-Fly, the Bee and the Mosquito.

Poets have frequently alluded to the "busy hum of insect life," and its harmonious murmur adds a dreamy charm to summer's golden days. Naturalists have afforded us much interesting information as to the means whereby these tiny morsels of creation produce distinctive sounds, and musicians have succeeded in transferring to paper the actual notes to which they give utterance. The song of birds has been often utilized by musicians, even Beethoven having so far pandered to a taste for realism as to simulate (and that in masterly fashion) the utterances of the quail, cuckoo and nightingale in his Pastoral Symphony. Mendelssohn, too, has idealized insect life in his "Midsummer Night's Dream" music. From researches recently made it has been discovered that the cricket's chant consists of a perpetually-recurring series of triplets in B natural, whereas the "death watch" a series of B flats in duple rhythm extending over one measure and an eighth. The female indulges in precisely the same musical outbursts one minor third lower. The whirr of the locust is produced by the action of muscles set in motion by the insect when drawing air into its breathing holes, and which contract and relax alternately a pair of drums formed of convex pieces of parchment-like skin lodged in cavities of the body. The male grasshopper is an "animated fiddle." Its long and narrow wings placed obliquely meet at the upper edges and form a roof-like covering. On each side of the body is a deep incision covered with a thin piece of tightly drawn skin, the two forming natural "sounding boards." When the insect desires to exercise its musical functions, it bends the shank of one hind leg behind the thigh, and then draws the leg backward and forward across the edges and veins of the wing cover. The sound produced by the common house-fly is produced by the motion of its wings, the vibrations of which amount, incredible as it may appear, to nearly twenty thousand in the minute. The actual note heard is F. The honey bee, with half the number of vibrations, causes by similar means a sound one octave lower, and the ponderous flight of the May bug originates a note an octave lower than the bee. It is interesting to add that the popular mosquito is responsible for the production of A-natural when wooing her victim in the otherwise silent watches of the summer night.—Boston Musical Herald.



THE LATE PROF. PHELPS.

The above is a portrait of the late Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., L. L. D., of Dartmouth college. He was a strong, able man, who stood high in the literary and scientific worlds. It is not generally known, but it is, nevertheless, the truth, that Prof. Phelps was the discoverer of what is known to the medical profession and chemists universally as Paine's Celery Compound, unquestionably one of the most valuable discoveries of this century. This remarkable compound is not a nervine, an essence, a sarsaparilla or any devised article, but a discovery, and it marks a distinct step in medical practice and the treatment of nervous complications. It has been freely admitted by the best medical talent in the land, and also by the leading chemists and scientists, that for nerve troubles, nervous exhaustion, insomnia, debility, senility and even the dreaded and terrible Paresis, nothing has ever been discovered which reaches the disorder and restores health equal to this discovery of Prof. Phelps.

Paine's Celery Compound is now being prepared in quantities, and can be procured at any reputable druggist. An attractive bunch of celery is to be found on every wrapper. It has become specially popular among professional men, mind workers, ladies burdened with exciting social duties and frequenters of the leading clubs.

A BY-LAW

To provide for the Dyking and Draining parts of the Corporation of the District of Surrey.

WHEREAS a majority in number of the owners as shewn by the last revised assessment roll of the property hereinafter set forth to be benefited by the dyking and drainage have petitioned the Council of the said District of Surrey, praying for the dyking and drainage of certain lands which are the lands hereinafter described, by the construction of certain works which are the works hereinafter provided for;

AND WHEREAS thereupon the said Council procured an examination to be made by Albert J. Hill and Company, Engineers and Land Surveyors, being persons competent for such purpose, of the said locality proposed to be dyked and drained, and also procured plans and estimates of the work to be made, by the said Albert J. Hill and Company and an assessment to be made by them of the real property to be benefited by such dyking and drainage, stating as nearly as possible the proportion of benefit which in their opinion will be derived in consequence of such drainage and deepening by every road and lot or portion of lot, the said assessment so made and the report of the said Albert J. Hill and Company in respect thereof and of the said dyking and drainage being as follows:

The Reeve and Council of the Corporation of the District of Surrey:

GENTLEMEN,—We have the honor to report that your instructions to execute a survey of the lands proposed to be reclaimed by the Surrey Dyking and Drainage scheme (by the construction of a dam in the Serpentine River, and a dyke extending from the high land on the north and south line on west side of Lot 51, Group 2, New Westminster District, and following the shore line, as shown by plans and profiles, to a connection with the existing system of dykes on the north bank of the Nicomekl River) have been carried out and the results are embodied in the plans, &c., &c., herewith submitted.

The acreage subject to tidal overflow, including lands up to one foot above extreme high water level, is 7,348.54 acres, and the acreage of lands from one to three feet above extreme high water level is 612.85 acres.

The acreage of land subject to overflow in the same manner, and included within highway limits, is 137.60 acres, and the material required to raise the highways affected parcelled, to one foot above high water mark, will be 25,538 cubic yards.

Similar land, included in the right of way of the N. W. S. Railway is 20 acres.

We submit that owing to benefits to be derived from the dyking and drainage scheme by lands from one to three feet above high water level they should bear a proportion of the assessed cost of construction, &c., &c., in the ratio of 75 to 100, as compared with lands below one foot above high water mark.

The land dyke required for the protection of the lands to be improved will, according to the line adopted, be in length 5.62 miles, and the cubic contents, approximately estimated, is 21,299 cubic yards, and will require eighteen sluices or flood-gates of moderate dimensions. Practically the whole line of dyke is an open prairie, hence clearing and grubbing will be a minimum.

Trusting that the information herewith submitted will be satisfactory, and sufficiently full and explicit for the purposes intended,

We have the honor to be, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servants,
A. J. HILL & Co.

Charley, a Stickeen Indian, charged with being drunk and incapable, was fined $5 and costs this morning at the police court.

A large number of Chinese laborers went up-river this morning on the str. Irving to work on the Southern Railway grading.

The steamer Rithet left for Victoria this morning with 40 passengers, 80 head of cattle and 50 tons of fruit and farm produce.

The high average salmon catch was maintained last night. Spring salmon are running quite freely at present, but, unfortunately, the most of the fish are white.

A band of Semilkameen cattle was brought down from Hope yesterday by the str. Irving. The band numbered 130 head, and was consigned to parties in Victoria, Vancouver and Westminster.

The sidewalk in front of the court house is in a most disreputable condition, and should either be entirely removed or replaced by a new one. At present the sidewalk is a menace to both life and limb.

The Colonist says: The applicants for the position of superintendent of provincial police are legion; but we understand it is the intention to try and get along without such an officer, thereby effecting a considerable saving in the police expenditure.

At a meeting of the school board last night, Miss Millard was appointed to the vacancy in the central school teachers' staff. Miss Millard passed a very creditable examination at Victoria, before the government board of inspectors last month, and therefore is in every way most eligible for the position.

Capt. Julien of the str. Leonora, of Moodyville, is missing and no trace of him can be found. On Wednesday he received his month's wages and went on a spree. He was seen late that night in a very drunken condition. His hat and one of his slippers were found on the wharf next morning, and it is supposed he was drowned in trying to get aboard the steamer.

On Tuesday morning at one of the Dry Creek mills, near Port Angeles, a serious accident occurred by which three men, Nich Meagher, a sawyer; Albright, a jointer, and Hamilton, an engineer, were badly injured. Yesterday it was not believed that Meagher would recover. The shingle saw was running at a high rate of speed, and bursting broke into a number of pieces, which were thrown about the mill. The sawyer was struck in the face by pieces of the flying machinery. Hamilton was struck in the head. Albright was struck in the breast.

From the Interior.

Mr. M. M. Mowat, of the fisheries department, returned from Yale and North Bend a few days ago, where he spent the last 10 weeks doing special duty for the department. It had been reported that the Indians were catching salmon in Yale canyon and shipping them to the coast. If this unlawful business was being carried on, it stopped immediately on Mr. Mowat's arrival, and no further attempts were made during his stay. Mr. Mowat reports that the run of sockeyes up the Fraser has been something immense, and the Indians had no trouble in securing all they required for the winter's use. The Indians congregate from far and near and do their fishing in Yale canyon, using dip nets with which they were able to bring out 8 or 10 fish at each dip, so plentiful were the fish. The water in the interior is very low for this season of the year, and, consequently, the conditions are very favorable for salmon spawning. The fish, owing to the low water, cannot get very far up the streams and are forced to spawn only a short distance inland from the principal rivers. In consequence of this the ova will be deeply covered with water when the fall rains begin, and will thus be protected against damage by frost when the cold weather sets in.

Reduced Rates.

On September first, the rate on parcels from British Columbia to Great Britain will be reduced to thirty cents per pound; from the remainder of Canada it will be 25 cents per pound, a reduction of 15 cents for British Columbia, the territories and Manitoba; 10 cents for Ontario, and 5 cents for Quebec and the eastern provinces. The limit of weight will be increased to 5 pounds. On the same day an arrangement with the imperial post office takes effect, by which Canadians can send parcels to any country with which England exchanges for the British rate plus the Canadian rate to England.

Large Earnings.

Few persons, even in Westminster have any idea idea of the wages earned by fishermen during the past couple of months. Those fishermen who were lucky enough to obtain licenses made as much money in four weeks' fishing as a well paid mechanic makes in a year or fifteen months. The highest amount earned by any fisherman on the river was made by an Indian who fished for Ewen's cannery. In one month this man caught 14,000 fish, for which Mr. Ewen paid him in cash $1,400—an average of over $50 per day for every day's fishing. Other fishermen earned from $600 to $1,200 during the same period. These figures are enough to excite the envy of even a newspaper man.

For Harrison Lake.

This morning 92 Fort Douglas Indians with their canoes and outfit, and accompanied by their band, left on the steamer Irving for home. They took with them no less than 25 tons merchandise, purchased with the earnings of their summer's work in connection with the fishing industry. The Fort Douglas Indians live at the extreme northwestern end of Harrison Lake, and are as reputable a lot of Indians as any on the coast. They have an excellent brass band, which accompanies the chief of the tribe wherever he moves from one point to the other. The band was mustered on deck this morning as the steamer passed the river front and played a number of lively airs as a parting salute to tilicums who remained behind.

Westminster vs. Vancouver.

The fourth cricket match played this season between Vancouver and Westminster cricket clubs, came off to-day at Hastings. The weather was all that could be desired and the ground was in in good condition. The Westminster team was composed of Coulthard, Rev. Mr. Irwin, Rev. P. Woods, Deakrill, Raymond, Lewis, Miles, Bramah, Brine, Wilson and Read. Vancouver had a strong eleven on the field. The terminal men went first and were easily disposed of for 40 runs. Westminster's men then went to the wickets and made a total of 42 runs before the tenth wicket fell. At 4:30 o'clock Vancouver's second innings was still unfinished, so it is almost a certainty Westminster will win the match on the first innings.

Another Ten Millions.

The Fraser River hatchery is being got into readiness for the reception of salmon ova, and all arrangements will be completed by the 1st prox. Mr. Max Mowat expects to begin the work of stripping salmon for their spawn on September 8th, and his men are prepared to commence operations on that date. The fish are running up Harrison river in millions, and, although the water is high, the work is expected to be easily and rapidly accomplished this year. Should heavy rains, however, increase the volume of water now passing out of the lake, the stripping will be rendered much more difficult and necessarily the work will be slower. Mr. Mowat intends to place 10,000,000 salmon eggs in the hatchery this season, and that establishment has been prepared to receive this number.

Lieut.-Col. Fred Dennison.

Lieut.-Col. Fred Dennison, C.M.G., M. P., of Toronto, was in the city yesterday, the guest of Mr. G. E. Corbould. He visited the saw mills, canneries, penitentiary and other institutions, and was greatly interested and delighted with all he saw. He considers Westminster a beautiful city, and thinks its situation is very fine. He left for Vancouver this morning. Col. Dennison's name is familiar to most Canadians. He has long been identified with the Canadian militia, and had the honor of commanding the Canadian Voyageurs in the Egyptian campaign, under Lord Wolsley. For his services on this occassion he was created a C. M. G. Col Dennison is making a thorough inspection of the coast and will visit Vancouver, Victoria and other points before returning home by the Northern Pacific route.

Died and Made no Sign.

The Mainland Guardian is no more. Sundry rumors for the past week or two, coupled with the fact that the Guardian of the Mainland failed to respond to the roll-call this morning, justify us in concluding that another old landmark has succumbed to the march of time. Started on its career in August of '69, for just twenty years has the Mainland Guardian sentineled the banks of the noble Fraser and discoursed semi-weekly and variable harmony for the benefit and delectation of the lieges of the royal city and vicinity. The exit of the Guardian from the stage of sublunary existence was almost pathetic. Last Wednesday morning it appeared with the usual flush of health on its cheek. No last farewell, no touching valedictory, gave premonition of what was so soon to be. This morning the dull coppery glare of its head-lines looked sullenly upward from the printers' "hell-box," doomed never again to wed with the extra-calendered, double-demi, cream-laid, 45-lb., No. 4 "news", dedicated thenceforth to be the bride of Truth. Died the Guardian like Sir John Moore, and its obsequies were similar. "Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note," etc. We have head the unkind remark made by a wag that "the Guardian wrestled with truth all its life, but that Truth got it at last." But de mortuis nil nisi bonum. The Guardian had its faults of course, but in its way it was loyal to the city of its adoption. Mr. J. K. Suter, the editor, who has been connected with British Columbia journalism for nearly thirty years, and withal has wielded an able and trenchant pen, retires finally, we understand, from the newspaper business, to enjoy the well-earned leisure of his riper years.

FOUND DEAD.

William Campbell, of Sumas Found on the Prairie With His Neck Broken.

Mr. Coroner Ferris received a dispatch from Chilliwack this morning, announcing that William Campbell, J. P., of Sumas, had been found dead on Sumas Prairie yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The despatch stated that the deceased's neck is supposed to be broken presumably from a fall from a horse's back, but as the body had not been examined by a medical expert nothing positive was known as to the exact cause of death. Mr. Ferris left for Sumas by the 1 o'clock train to hold an inquest, and at the Mission he was joined by Dr. Bodington, who will make the necessary medical examination. The sudden and unexpected end of Mr. Campbell created much comment and many surmises in Westminster to-day, where the deceased was well known, but as details concerning the accident are so meagre the theories regarding his death cannot be considered of any value. The deceased was a large and wealthy farmer and had been in the province for many years. He leaves a wife and family behind to mourn his untimely end.

The Game Season.

On September first the game season opens, and then the crack of the rifle and the bang of the shotgun will be continuously heard throughout the land. Game is reported to be very plentiful this year, and as a consequence the sport is certain to be good. The game laws provide that duck may be killed from Sept. 1st to March 1st; quail and cock pheasants must not be killed or trapped before October 1st, 1890, on the mainland; geese, partridge, prairie chicken, etc., may be killed and trapped from Sept. 1st to February 1st; deer, elk, reindeer, cariboo, mountain goat, mountain sheep and hare are in season from Sept. 1st to January 10th. These are the chief points the sportsman is called upon to bear in mind, but there is nothing in the act to prevent the ardent Nimrod from shooting wagon loads of bear, wolf, mountain lion, cougar, panther, wildcat, grizzlies and rattlesnakes during any month of the year.

Chinese Immigration.

The department of finance at Ottawa, a few days ago, forwarded to the provincial treasurer of British Columbia a cheque for $9,600, being the province's share of the revenue derivable last year from the tax on Chinese immigration. Under the statute British Columbia receives one-fourth of the collections from the Chinese poll tax. The total collections from this source of revenue amounted to $38,400, representing 768 persons. Since the act came into force on September 1, 1885, to June 30, 1889, the total number of Chinese arrived in the country was 1,512, made up as follows: 1885-86, 204; 1886-87, 124; 1887-88, 290; 1888-89, 994. The latter number shows a tremendous increase over the previous year, due, of course, to the exclusion act being in effect in the United States. There is a descrepancy between the number from whom the poll tax was actually collected and the number reported as having actually been brought from China. This is due to the fact that under the law Chinese diplomats, professional men and students are exempt from paying the $50 tax, and 112 Chinese came in under this exemption. From information which has reached the customs department there is little doubt but that many of those who have paid the tax have quietly slipped across the lines into the United States and made their homes there.

A Splendid Display.

In D. S. Curtis' show window, on Columbia street, may be seen the fine lot of bottled fruit which Mr. Thomas Cunningham, of this city, will send to the Toronto exhibition, on the 28th inst. The fruit, which was raised in the famous Pelham street gardens, and skilfully preserved by Mr. D. S. Curtis, druggist, comprises the following samples of British Columbia horticulture: Pears, peaches, peach plums,—7 varieties, apricots, crab apples, prunes—4 varieties, grapes—4 varieties, cherries—3 varieties, currants—2 varieties, raspberries—3 varieties, blackberries and gooseberries. Hundreds of people during the day were attracted to the show window by the tempting display of luscious fruit in the transparent jars and liquid, and if Mr. Cunningham's exhibit does not carry off a considerable number of first prizes at the Toronto fair, it will not be the fault of the fruit, for a finer display it would be almost impossible to imagine. Mr. Cunningham's enterprising and successful efforts in horticulture, agriculture, and the improvement of live stock, as well as the practical interest he takes in making known to the world the capacities of the province in these respects, are deserving of the highest commendation. We hope to see many more emulating his example, and the "garden of the province" will soon be filled with a prosperous population, and the royal city become the centre of one of the greatest fruit raising and agriculture districts on the continent, in addition to all its other advantages and industries.

PERSONAL.

Miss Rand left for Brooklyn, N. Y., this afternoon and will visit friends in that city for a few months.

Miss Warner, of Halifax, N.S., who has been the guest of Mrs. J. McKenzie for a few weeks, left for home today.

Mrs. C. J. Robson left for Chilliwack this morning and will be the guest of Rev. C. M. Tate for a couple of weeks.

James Rankin, one of our High school medalists, left for Halifax, N.S. and will enter on a course of studies at Dalhousie college.

The many friends of Mr. John Buie, of the fisheries department, will be delighted to learn that he is able to leave his room again. Yesterday, for the first time since he met with the accident, two months ago, he was able to step outside and enjoy the fresh air. Mr. Buie moves about with difficulty yet, but in a few weeks he will be as active as ever.

Job printing of all kinds neatly done at the COLUMBIAN office. Prices will be found as low as at any other office in the province.—Adv
