HOME TEAM AHEAD

Nelson Cricketers Winning From Rossland

BOWLERS' FINE WORK

Bourke and Mason Make Remarkable Averages---Less Than a Run to Each Wicket.

The cricket match between Nelson and Rossland today is resulting in an easy victory for the home eleven.

Play began at 11, with Rossland to bat. G. C. Hodge is umpire for Rossland and R. J. Steel for Nelson. It was agreed that a boundary hit should be good for three runs.

In a very short time Rossland succumbed to the bowling of Bourke and Mason with a total of nine for the team.

Nelson went in and made 34 for three wickets when adjournment was taken for luncheon at the Strathcona, Wade with 16 being the principal contributor.

Play was resumed at 2:30 and runs came faster. At 3:15 p. m. the score stands at 63 for four wickets, with Bourke and Coppen well set.

The fielding of Rossland is distinctly inferior to that of the home team.

There is a fair attendance in the grandstand, including many ladies.

DREADNAUGHT BADLY BUILT.

Pride of British Navy Already in Dry Dock—Sprung a Leak.

London, Sept. 2.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Portsmouth says that in the hurry to get the new battleship Dreadnaught completed, her plates were badly fixed. Soon after she was launched the correspondent says some holes were found without rivets, and the men responsible dismissed. Some leakage also was found and she is now in dry dock. The Daily Mail calls for a searching inquiry into the matter.

Okanagan Enterprise.

The Vernon News has installed a linotype machine by which the matter for last week s'issue was set up. This is certainly a decided forward step in the career of that excellent sheet which for the last 15 years, in good times and in bad, has always maintained a high standard of excellence, both in its news and editorial columns and in its mechanical department, for in its whole career it never had a ratty interval in either. The hard times of the middle and late 90s were never reflected in its columns and now that prosperity has reestablished itself in the town and district it is pleasing to note that the News is getting its share, and is not disposed to play the laggard, but will keep abreast of the times.

Elias Rogers in Fernie.

Elias Rogers of Toronto, formerly managing director of the C. N. P. Coal company, was in the city for a day or two early in the week, and while here he evinced a great deal of interest in the growth of our town and the improved facilities at the mines. He was particularly interested in the new steel tipple at Coal creek and with the modern methods employed there for handling the coal. Mr. Rogers came around by Banff and the Arrow lakes. He left for the East on Wednesday. While here he was shown about by Messrs. McEvoy, Drinnan and Davies.—Fernie Free Press.

A WARNING TO BREWERS.

O'Keefe Company Fined for Allowing Employes Too Much Liquor.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—In the police court this morning the O'Keefe Brewery company were charged with allowing men in their employ three or four glasses of beer daily. This it appears is a common practice among brewers, although the act distinctly says that no person authorized to sell liquor by wholesale shall allow liquor to be consumed on the premises.

Mr. Haverson for the defendants said if the magistrate was of the opinion that the practice was a contravention of the law he would have to plead guilty. Colonel Dennison imposed a fine of $20 and costs.

ROUND THE BOUNDARY

C. P. R. Lands Surveyed With a View to Installing Irrigation System—Customs Duties.

(Special to The Daily Canadian.)

Grand Forks, Sept. 3.—Assistant commissioner of British Columbia lands for the C. P. R., William Pearce, with headquarters at Calgary, was a visitor in Grand Forks the last couple of days, the object of his mission here being to look up matters relative to the survey of C. P. R. lands in this district.

Mr. Pearce is one of the C. P. R. officials who was closely identified with the big irrigation system in Alberta, recently installed by his company. Judging from the operation of the Alberta irrigation system Mr. Pearce is of the opinion that by thoroughly irrigating land the early frosts would be greatly modified. He is also of the opinion that land could be profitably irrigated at a cost of 50 cents per acre, as that is what is charged by the Alberta irrigation plant. He further stated that by thoroughly irrigating hay lands one year the same land should hardly need water the following year. The C. P. R. man also stated that at a rate of a cubic foot per second two acres of land could be covered a foot deep in twenty-four hours, or it would take about eight days to cover seventy-five acres. Mr. Pearce is probably the best authority on irrigation who has yet visited the Boundary district and his opinions on this subject will be read with great interest by ranchers of this valley, where an irrigation system will be installed in the near future.

While handling a bunch of bananas W. Hoffman of the N. L. McInnes & Co. mercantile store Saturday narrowly escaped being bitten by a half-grown tarantula which crawled out of a bunch of bananas quite unconcerned. The reptile measured four inches in length and was captured and landed safely in a cage.

The following are the receipts from the various district customs offices as received by R. R. Gilpin, chief collector at Grand Forks for the month of August: Grand Forks, $2,543.99; Midway, $6711.07; Greenwood, $2506; Phoenix, $1815.58; Cascade, $112.73; Carson, $101.70; Osoyoos, $64.25; Keremeos, $3950; total, $13,895.17.

There is a great scarcity of water on Bonanza mountain this summer, the lake on the summit hitherto retaining water the year around having gone dry, and it is with great difficulty that animal life can exist at this high altitude without water. A well known prospector named E. R. Knight recently dug a well about 10 feet deep on this mountain, which collected about one foot of water, which would have been sufficient to supply him during his work on the mountain if it had not been for the flying squirrels which infest Bonanza mountain in thousands. These small creatures, fairly famishing with thirst, would crowd around this small well in droves and would drink it dry every evening. Mr. Knight, who is authority for the statement, says that the squirrels were exceedingly tame and would hardly move out of his way when he went for water. He also stated that he could only secure water from the well by going early in the evening, as later on each night the well would be drained dry by the cunning flying quadrupeds.

It is reported today that the Boundary Iron works, the local foundry which was recently destroyed by fire on Ruckles addition, will commence to rebuild at once, and will choose a new location, probably in the west end of the city, where easy access can be had to both the Great Norther and C. P. R. tracks.

POPLAR REVIVAL

New Strike Reported From Rapid Creek

RICH ORE IN CHAMPAGNE

R. Roberts and Archie Reid Find Big Body of Free Milling Gold---Other Discoveries.

Another important strike has been made on Rapid creek in the Lardeau district, along the mineral zone which already contains such famous properties as the Lucky Jack, the Swede, Spyglass, Chisholm and the Hecla.

Dick Roberts arrived in the city from the Lardeau Saturday night. He is a mining partner of Archie Reid, proprietor of the No Place Inn.

In 1903 Mr. Roberts located a claim on Rapid creek and called it the Champagne. Until this summer he did very little work on it although other properties in the same locality have been partially developed with splendid promise, notably the Hecla, which is separated from the Champagne by only one other claim.

Mr. Roberts has now uncovered his vein from the whole distance from the No. 1 to No.2 post, 1500 feet. The vein is 36 feet wide with a body of high grade free milling gold ore 16 feet in width. The news of the discovery has caused great excitement on Rapid creek and in all the camps at the north end of the lake.

Archie Reid left today to visit the property, accompaning Mr. Roberts. The partners intend to develop their find extensively at once and put it in condition for producing.

Joseph Sturgeon, who has extensive mining interests on Rapid creek and around Gold hill, will go north again in a few days.

There is said to be greater activity in the Lardeau at present than even in 1903, in the time of the boom caused by the phenomenal strikes on the Lucky Jack, Swede and Spyglass.

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL.

The list of presents given to Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Shaw on the occasion of their wedding last Thursday, unavoidably omitted earlier, was as follows: Sterling silver tea set, employes of Hall Mines smelter; sterling silver butter cooler, Angus McLeod; china fruit set, Mr .and Mrs. Harris; cut glass bowl, W. Fraser; tea set, employes of Kootenay Stem laundry; clock, Murdoch McLeod; gold watch, C. La France; table cutlery set, J. A. McPhee; carving set, Mr. and Mrs. Kitclue; fish knife, Mrs. T. Henry; case silver spoons, McDonald and Kennedy; lemonade set, D. Darough; purse with gold, Mr. Lundy; pipe, James Lundy.

Captain T. H. Trethewey, manager of the La Plata mines, was a passenger on the delayed Crow boat yesterday morning. He has just returned from Sherbrooke, Que., where he went to attend the annual general meeting of the company. All the reports were considered entirely satisfactory and all the directors, including Captain Trethewey ,were re-elected.

A Calgary syndicate is endeavoring to secure control of all the theaters in the interior of British Columbia, including the Nelson opera house. In the event of not being able to make satisfactory arrangements it is probable that a new opera house will be built in Nelson.

Captain Forin requests the loan of flags and flowers for the decoration of the Armory for the public reception of the governor general and Lady Grey. They may be sent to the Armory tomorrow afternoon or Wednesday morning.

T. G. Noble and Mrs. Noble left for Slocan this morning, where they will spend several days at the Ottawa mine, of which Mr. Noble is president. From there they will go to Revelstoke and Banff, returning to Pittsburg by way of St. Paul.

Wheat cutting was concluded in the Regina district last Friday, which establishes a new record for that district. Last Saturday night there was very little wheat standing in the new province of Saskatchewan.

Ambitious Moyie.

At the Daly Banquet, held recently in Moyie, "Our Suburb, Nelson," was one of the toasts proposed. This leads the Kaslo Kootenaian to remark: "What nerve! Next thing we know those cheeky Moyie people will be claiming Kaslo as a suburb of their camp!"

SPENDING THE HOLIDAY.

Many Diversions of Nelsonites Out of Town—Rossland Cricketers and Tennis Players Here.

Nelson presents a holiday appearance today in spite of the fact that many people are enjoying themselves out of town

A large number have accepted the invitation of the Kootenay Launch club and are picnicing on the grounds of Commodore Busk's residence.

F. M. Black and Mrs. Black are receiving at their summer home the members of the Kootenay Fruit Growers' association and the 20,000 club.

The choir of the Methodist church is enjoying its annual picnic at Squires' ranch on the north shore of the Arm.

Many shooting and fishing parties are out also, all the way from Kootenay Landing to below Slocan Junction.

But a big party of Rosslanders arrived last night and the Strathcona presents a scene of animation. The party includes the Rossland Cricket club and many tennis players who have come over for an informal series of matches.

PASTURE TO ORCHARD.

Changes Taking Place in Ranching in Similkameen.

At no time of the year does the Lower Simalkameen appear to better advantage than in the waning days of August, when the last of the hay crop has been garnered in and the orchards are staggering under their load of luscious, mellow fruit. But the Similkameen of today and that of 10 years ago are in many respects different, for the transition stage has set in and has advanced sufficiently to give the merest suggestion of the conditions whic hwill obtain 10 years hence. The Simalkameen of 10 years ago was almost wholly a pastoral scene, where the fe wsettlers dwelt in Arcadian simplicity and contentment reigned. Their herds, numbered by the thousand, pastured the summer on the upper ranges, and from the wide, rich valley below Keremeos creek with its miles of "meadow sweet" was gathered thousands of tons of sweet smelling hay, almost the entire summer being devoted to the saving of the winter's supply of fodder for the cattle, which were brought down in the autumn to pasture the winter in the lowlands. To their credit be it said, the British Columbia cattle men in this part of the province were more humane than many elsewhere, and provided amply for the winter. Now the number of cattle has been greatly reduced and subdivide is the watchword. Further reduction will steadily be made until a few years hence 15 or 20 acres may be about the average holding.—Hedley Gazette.

STRIKE ON STEMWINDER

Ore Body 60 Feet Wide Encountered in East Kootenay Mine—High Grade Galena.

An ore body having a width of over 60 feet has been pierced by a diamond drill on the Stemwinder, a mineral claim owned by Mann & Mackenzie, located on Huckleberry hill near the North Star mine. For several weeks it has been rumored that a large ore body had been discovered in the Stemwinder; that its width varied from 30 to over 60 feet. It is now known positively that the extent of the vein which has been located, between walls, is over 60 fet wide. The ore is a silver-lead carrying high values in silver.

The diamond drill was in about 140 feet when it first encountered the big deposit.

A tunnel was run on the Stemwinder which is now in about 300 feet, several small bodies of ore being encountered in driving this tunnel, but the new strike is made some distance from the tunnel, on the northern portion of the claim, near the Ontario, which is owned personally by D. D. Mann. The trend of the new strike is in a southerly direction and from present indications passes through the Stemwinder and Ontario, and is at a depth of nearly 1500 feet below the present workings of the North Star mine, which is located some 4000 feet distant.

Mann & Mackenzie are the owners of the Stemwinder, and it is their intention to run a drift in to and across the ore body and to prospect thoroughly the adjoining ground.

MANY ARE KILLED

Details of Freight Wreck Near Dunmore

MISTAKE OF OPERATOR

Head-on Collision of Freight Trains --Track Piled High With Debris---Two Engineers Dead.

The boat from the Crow's Nest branch was about 10 hours' late reaching Nelson Saturday night. The delay was caused by one of the worst accidents in the history of the C. P. R. western lines. News of a collision reached the city Saturday night.

Further details of the unfortunate wreck occurring on the C. P. R. late on Friday night last have been furnished The Canadian. The westbound train was in charge of Conductor Kinney and was pulled by engine No. 1306 in charge of Engineer Glover. This engine was one of the monsters now so generally in use on the western divisions of the C. P. R., and was pulling a very heavy train, which consisted of between 20 and 30 loads.

The accident took place about two miles east of Medicine Hat. The roadbed along this part of the railway is one of the best on the entire system and was in prime condition, so that naturally the train was endeavoring to make good time along this stretch of roadway.

On the other train which suffered the fate of collision Rose, the engineer, was driving No. 1401, another of the moguls in the heavy freight traffic service. His train was light, as he had to reach Dunmore to make up for remainder of his eastbound trip.

Seemingly fated, there was only one spot on the whole line between Dunmore Junction and Medicine Hat where such an accident could have happened, on account of approaching engineers being unable to see each other some distance ahead. At this point there is a sharp curve in a heavy clay and rock cutout which obstructed the vision of the drivers.

Conductor Kinney had asked the operator at Dunmore Junction if he had received any further orders. The operator answered "No" and had given him his clearance. He had no sooner pulled out and got under way than the operator, noticing his mistake, called up Medicine Hat over the wire and asked if the eastbound had left. Medicine Hat had replied "Yes," in answer to which the junction operator is reported to have said, "Well, then, there'll be an accident; get out the wrecking train quickly." This operator has not been seen or heard of since. He is evidently somewhere on the prairies, seeking to make good his escape.

The N. W. M. P. believe they are on his track ,though his exact whereabouts are not definitely known.

It is not true, as alleged in a morning paper, that the operator had been on duty 40 hours, as he had only come on late in the evening of Friday and was on duty exactly 4 hours and 45 minutes when he gave the clearance to the westbound train.

When Engineer Glover rounded the curve and saw the other train approaching it is not known whether he jumped after having reversed his engine and set the brakes, but his body was found away down an embankment several hundred yards from the scene of the wreck.

The poor fellow suffered an awful injury and it was reported late last night that he could not live the night through. His spine was broken and the spinal cord ruptured and severed in two places within a length of two inches. He underwent an operation at Medicine Hat General hospital on Sunday afternoon, when the extent of his injuries was discovered, and he was told that he must give up all hope of life.

Engineer Rose, of the other train, was badly scalded. The Mr. Oliver whose name is mentioned in the dispatches, and who was a brother-in-law of Rose, was killed instantly, his head being literally smashed and severed from the trunk. Engineer Rose died on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

An eyewitness says the wreckage piled up at the scene is the worst ever known in the West and is a pitiful sight. The two large engines telescoped and are almost complete wrecks. The Canadian Pacific railway was prompt in clearing the track and providing means for the continuance of traffic. A track was rapidly constructed around the pile of debris and trains are now running on schedule time.

The death of Engineer Glover is severely felt in Medicine Hat, where he had resided, and was highly respected for his splendid moral character and genial disposition. He leaves four children and a widow to mourn his loss. Mr. and Mrs. Amas and Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson left this morning on the Kuskanook for Melicine Hat to attend the funeral.

LABOR DAY AT CRANBROOK.

Was Successful Celebration in Every Regard.

(Special to The Daily Canadian.)

Cranbrook, Sept. 2.—The celebration of Labor day here far eclipsed anything of the kind previously observed in this city. William Small officiated as marshal and T. Doris as assistant marshal. The parade assembled at the schoolhouse, thence marched up Cranbrook to Baker street, thence south to Louis street, west to Norbury avenue and north to Baker street to the vacant ground near the C. P. R. There was a large crowd from the neighboring towns, including the Italian band from Fernie.

DEATH OF MRS. MAIR

Wife of Canadian Poet Dies in Okanagan—Her Restraining Influence Over Louis Riel.

The sudden death of Mrs. Charles Mair took place in Victoria on the 18th of August. Deceased was stricken with paralysis while riding in a stret car and was taken to the Royal Jubiniee hospital, but never regained consciousness. The deceased was well known to older residents of the Mission valley, where she resided with her husband in the earlier days of Kelowna.

Her husband, Charles Mair, who made for himself a name in Canadian literature by his drama "Tecumseh," and other writings of high literary merit, is at present in the immigration service of the Dominion government at Lethbridge. Besides her husband, deceased leaves three daughters and one son to mourn her loss. Her eldest daughter, Mrs. Cann, is in the Northwest; Mrs. Crichton and her younger sister are still in the Okanagan, on their farm on the east side of Okanagan lake, where Mr. and Mrs. Mair frequently spent holidays, and Mr. Mair, Jr., is in the employ of the Molsons bank.

Deceased was a niece of the late ex-Lieutenant Governor Schultz, who played so prominent a part in the first Riel rebellion, in maintaining British ascendancy in most troublesome times, and only the nearest friends of Mr. and Mrs. Mair know that but for the influence which deceased held over the arch rebel, Riel, more blood would likely have been shed in that unfortunate affair, for both Messrs. Mair and Schultz had incurred Riel's displeasure and were prisoners in his hands.

When mutterings of the second rebellion arose, Mr. Mair, seeing the danger, removed his wife and family from Prince Albert to Windsor, Ont., and went to the front in the governor general's bodyguard, a cavalry corps commanded by his brother-in-law, Colonel G. T. Denison.

When Mr. Mair brought his family to Kelowna in 1892 their home was marked with the good cheer dispensed, and those who enjoyed their hospitality will retain most pleasant recollections of their kind and singularly gifted host and hostess, and their deepest sympathies will go out to the bereaved husband and family in the great loss which has been sustained.

W. P. Tierney is home from Grand Forks for the holidays. He is looking well and reports excellent progress on the grading for the line up the valley of the north fork of the Kettle.

A parade of No. 2 company, R. M. R., is called by Captain Forin for tomorrow night at 8 in the Armory to prepare for the reception of their excellencies, Earl and Lady Grey.

On Wednesday morning the steamer Kuskanook will leave for Kootenay Landing at 4:30, to leave there with the vice-regal party at 9 a. m.

R. E. Gosnell, editor of the Victoria Colonist, is suffering from sciatica, and is spending a few weeks at Harrison Hot Springs.

R. S. Lennie, T. G. Noble, of Pittsburg; R. J. McPhee of Slocan and Douglas Lay spent Sunday looking over the Reliance mine and mill.

Cranbrook will soon boast an automobile, the owner being V. Hyde Baker.

NEW LOAN BYLAW

Polling Will Take Place Tomorrow

IMPORTANCE OF MEASURE

Circumstances Necessitating Raising of Additional Sum to Complete Construction of Plant.

Tomorrow the property owners of Nelson will be called upon to vote on a very important money bylaw.

The sum of $150,000 originally voted and borrowed for the construction of the municipal power plant on Kootenay river has, owing to various unforeseen circumstances, been found inadequate. Now, the only alternative to leaving the plant unfinished is the raising of sufficient money to complete its construction and equipment.

The money will be required at a very early date as a large payment will become due to the Allis-Chalmers-Bullock company immediately on delivery of the hydraulic machinery which is already long overdue.

The exact amount that will be required cannot be determined. It will depend upon the result of the appeal taken by the West Kootenay Power & Light company from the supreme court of British Columbia to the judicial committee of the priory council of the empire.

On that decision rests the liability for a sum of about $12,000, the costs of the city and the Power company in the litigation which began in April of last year.

If the city's position be sustained it will recover all its costs in the litigation, approximately $6000. If the company's appeal be allowed the city will have to meet not only its own costs but also those of the company.

The sum of $50,000, for the borrowing of which authority is now sought from the property owners, is considered sufficient to meet all possible contingencies.

As the city's future as a manufacturing centre, and even, to a large extent, as a residential city, depends upon the successful completion of the plant, it is inconceivable that any property owner should be so short sighted as to oppose the loan, but it is desirable for many reasons that the vote in favor should be large as well as unanimous.

The plant will probably be visited on Wednesday by the governor general of Canada and his party, and will certainly be visited in a few weeks by the touring members of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers. It would be well that the outside public should not be left in any doubt as to the ability and willingness of Nelson to carry its great enterprise to a successful termination.

The hours of polling will be from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m., for the east ward in the city hall, where City Clerk Wasson will be in charge as returning officer, and for the west ward in the board of trade rooms, where E. K. Beeston will be in charge as deputy.

No canvassing should be necessary. Every citizen of Nelson understands the vital importance of the passing of the bylaw.

School Attendance.

The enrollment at the high and public schools for the five school days of August was far below the normal. It is expected that tomorrow or by next Monday at the latest the full strength of both schools will be enrolled. The continued fine weather has kept many families still camping along the Arm.

The enrollment at the high school was 34, with an average attendance of 31.8, a percentage of regularity of 93.5.

The enrollment at the public school had reached 360 by the end of the week, but as many entered only on Thursday or Friday the percentage was unusually low.

The tenants of the second story of the Victoria block have all joined in sending a request to the health officer of the city to examine the premises of an eating place in the said block, which by them is alleged to be maintained in an exceedingly unsanitary condition. Their request will doubtless have the immediate attention of the said officer, as, if the allegations so made are true the nuisance caused thereby should be abated without delay.

LABOR DAY.

Today has been observed throughout Canada as a statutory holiday and business has been generally suspended. It is but a few years since the day was specified in the calendar of legal holidays which could be claimed by those who occupy certain relations to their employers, and it was so specified as a concession to, or recognition of, the dignity of labor. The labor party, or trades councils, or by whatever name the local organizations of labor called themselves, obtained such recognition from the government that the laboring classes might have the same status as art, science and commerce and be reckoned in with the sum total of the separate factors that constitute the life of the nation.

Just what it was originally intended to make of the day, or the purpose beyond what is expressed above, that it was intended to serve, has never been made quite clear. The holiday is spent in various ways, each community deciding for itself, and we fear that in most instances the real significance of the day is lost sight of. To many it is simply an additional holiday and to be spent as all holidays are spent, in fun, frolic or recreation. This, in the opinion of The Canadian, is fast leading the ranks of labor back to where they were before they were granted the special recognition they deserve.

The day should be spent in conventions for the discussion of economic and social issues affecting the body politic, and the labor organizations should plan to make it the biggest day, politically, for them, of any day in the year, excepting the day on which they cast their ballots in the exercise of their franchise. The day should be given up to labor organizers and the representatives of the people should meet their constituents and give an account of their administration of affairs. In other words, it should not be a holiday in the accepted sense of the term, but should be a labor day in the real sense of the term, by people and representatives getting together and working hard to solve the problems affecting societys welfare.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Cranbrook Herald says: "The Conservative organs of the province are taking the cue and instead of discussing provincial matters, which they know are dangerous, they are trying to bamboozle the people by presenting Dominion politics for the provincial campaign. In dodging provincial matters they display a degree of wisdom for which they are to be complimented, but if they can expect to win a provincial campaign on a fight of slander and abuse of the Dominion government, they show themselves to be as weak in politics as they are in the management of a business-like government."

Play fair, neighbor; you have another guess coming. The Conservative organs of the province do not need a "cue," not even from the Liberal papers. The Conservative papers have succeeded in putting the opposition papers up a tree so high that only one has got down as yet, and have succeeded so thoroughly in discrediting their attempts to discredit the provincial administration that they have thought it well to point out to the people of British Columbia how things are running in the pet grit hive at Ottawa. The difference between the press in political matters in British Columbia is, in, that not one of the opposition charges has been made to stick, while not one of the Conservative charges against the Ottawa administration has failed to reach the target. There is both a distinction and a difference.

* * *

The sermon in the editorial columns of the News on Sunday morning, unlike so many sermons preached these days, will bear analysis. In it appears the following:

"Hence it is, that in spite of the long list of "scandals" allegedly committed by the Laurier government and industriously given publicity by the organs that depend on Conservative funds for their very existence, no upheaval of public sentiment against the Liberal party is apparent."

Now, that's all wrong this time, like some sermons. It may not be apparent to the News that "no upheaval of public sentiment has taken place against the Liberal party," but the authorities at Ottawa know a whole lot better. But supposing it were true, which we are proud to declare is not the case, what a commentary on the moral sense of the electors of Canada if such exposures of graft as have been made and proven could be made and proven without any "upheaval of public sentiment against the Liberal party." We sometimes find it necessary to say hot things of our political opponents, but we have never deemed it wise to insult the electorate.

* * *

The News in its sermon asks: "Would it not be more dignified if the political press were to devote its undoubted talents to a logical and serious discussion of the legislative and economic needs of the province rather than continue to play battledore and shuttlecock with harsh words of approbrium and dislike which, in the end, really spell envy and cupidity?" Well surely. We are surprised that it has just occurred to the News. Now here's a go. Let the News devote some of its "undoubted talents" to a logical and serious discussion of the legislative and economic needs of the province rather than continue to play at battledoor and shuttle cock with hard words and "opprobrium" not "approbrium" and dislike, which in the end really spell envy and cupidity.. Let it begin by telling us what the Liberals propose to do in the legislative assembly should the country ever suffer the misfortune of their accession to power. The Canadian will welcome such a discussion with the morning paper, and it cannot begin too soon.

* * *

The News says: "The Conservative organs which earn their bread by their loyalty and zeal invariably terms the disclosures at Ottawa 'scandals,' and those at Victoria 'canards,' without any consideration whatever of their respective merits; and the Liberal press in too many instances, in trying (mark you, it says 'trying') to turn the tables, copies the extravagances of its confreres and thereby falls into the same fatal errors."

That's a gem. We can't speak for the Liberal press with authority, but our esteemed morning contem. is away off in its guess. The Ottanwa scandals have been called "scandals" because they are scandals, while with equal truthfulness the Victoria yarns have been called "canards" because they have so far every one been proven to be canards. Hit it up some more, brother.

* * *

The sermon goes on to say, "Hence too, the repeated accusations against the McBride government at Victoria have lost their inciseness because of their very multitude." Not quite so bad as that, but even that is a strange admission for the News. The fact is the accusations against the McBride government have "lost incisiveness" because not one of them has or can be made to stick, and further, because they have been for the most part the production of anonymous or discredited and disgraced partizans. Again there is a marked distinction and a difference.

* * *

That was a happy thought in 1896 when the Liberals resolved to call themselves Liberal-Conservatives. They are conservative alright in as far as they have not deviated from the national policy of the grand old leader of the Conservative party, Sir John Mac Donald. That they are "Liberal" alright can be amply testified by such men as Moberley, Preston, and most of the constituencies in the maritime provinces.

What a pity the News is not permitted to refer to The Canadian when it wishes to answer The Canadian. That would save it the trouble and inconsistency of dealing out left handed sermons to the Times and World and by the same token as much to itself. The News might as well begin tomorrow as at any time. It will have to come to it some day.

* * *

We wonder how long the Nelson News will continue in its present penitent and goody-goody state of mind? Perhaps till Francis J. Deane gets home again, although we doubt even that.

* * *

Surely Rev. J. G. Shearer will no longer object to the publication of the Daily News on Sunday morning since it has turned out to be such a nice little Sunday school paper.

* * *

A line dropped out of one of the upper stories reads as follows: "The spectacle of the descent furnished amusement for a vast multitude."

This is Labor Day in The Canadian office. Anyone reading the above will easily judge what a picnic we have had.

POETRY OF LABOR.

Toil swings the axe and forests bow;
The seeds break out in radiant bloom,
Rich harvests smile behind the plow,
And cities cluster round the loom;
Where towering domes and tapering spires
Adorn the vale and crown the hill,
Stout labor lights its beacon fires,
And plumes with smoke the forge and mill.

The monarch oak, the woodland's pride,
Whose trunk is seamed with lightning scars,
Toil launches on the restless tide,
And there unrolls the flag of stars;
The engine with its lungs of steel,
And ribs of brass and joints of steel,
From Labor's plastic fingers came,
With sobbing valve and whirling wheel.

'Tis Labor works the magic press,
And turns the crank in hives of toil,
And beckons angels down to bless
Industrious hands on sea and soil.
Here sun-browned Toil, with shining spade,
Links lake to lake with silver ties
Strung thick with palaces of trade,
And temples towering to the skies.

How Dreams Are Woven.

With reference to the explosion of an electric light bulb, the atoms of which struck Lord Grey in the face, a correspondent writes to the News: "About a year ago, and close to midnight, I was reading in bed, with an electric light hanging at my pillow—not more than a foot from my face. I fell asleep and the book fell to the floor. In about an hour I had an alarming dream. I heard a busy burglar slowly mount the stair case. Then he entered my room. Then, standing at the foot of the bed he demanded my purse. When I refused to shell out he urged compliance or he would shoot me. I still refused, and he blazed away, hot shot striking me all over the face and eyes, I awoke, very doubtful in what world I was. The room was absolutely dark and, collecting my wits, I put out my hand to turn on the light and deal with my friend—the enemy. My heart was in my mouth and the sound of his pistol still rang in my ears. I supposed him to be close to me as I groped for the switch. Even when I found there was no bulb, the truth did not at once dawn on me. But by the little points of glass sticking all over my face, the fact was eventually borne in on my mind that the bulb had exploded and all else had been a dream. Perhaps it would be impossible to imagine a more perfect illustration of the well-known velocity of dreams. The fitting of the explosion to quite a clear and protracted series of events had been necessarily instantaneous."—Toronto News.

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL

Mrs. W. L. Spry left this morning on a visit to friends in Kenora, Ont.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Proudfoot yesterday morning.

Inspector J. D. Gillis returned this morning from Rossland, where he spent a part of last week visiting the schools.

Miss Helen Bird, who has been visiting relatives in Nelson for the past three weeks, returned to her home in Spokane this morning.

A meeting of the directors of Nelson Agricultural association is called for tomorrow afternoon, to be held in the secretary's offices, Baker street, at 4 o'clock.

Arch. Wright, the pioneer merchant of Winnipeg, is so favorably impressed with Nelson and its surroundings that he may take up his residence here and engage in fruit farming in a small way.

The Roscians Opera company, under the management of William Cranston, will give four performances in Nelson during fair week. Two operas not heretofore produced in Nelson will be given during this engagement.

Local nimrods complain that game is not as plentiful this year as formerly. An explanation for this scarcity is supplied by the fact that there has been altogether too much hunting out of season for the past few years.

Ah Sam, probably the oldest Chinaman in British Columbia, died the other day at Kamloops. He was 83 years of age and had been a cook at the government house when Sir James Douglas was governor of the colony.

If the present traffic on the street railway continues it will be absolutely necessary for the city to purchase another car. Yesterday afternoon the cars were crowded to the limit and many were forced to walk to and from the park.

A new sidewalk is being laid down in Fairview. The new walk follows the old road from the boundary line of the city to the corner of Behnsen and Second streets. Some of the old boards are being used, but nearly all new material has been purchased for the work.

The Hume school will not reopen tomorrow morning, the necessary repairs not yet having been completed. Everything will be ready for the opening Wednesday morning. The repairs are only temporary, the impression being that a new schoolhouse will be built before the cold weather sets in.

Residents of Fairview are bitter in their denunciation of the people who allow cattle and fowl to run at large. It is impossible to cultivate shade trees while this nuisance continues. raspberry bushes growing near fences have been destroyed by the grazing cattle and hens and chickens have completely destroyed several gardens.

The regular fortnightly meeting of the city council will be held in the council chamber tomorrow evening at 8. The result of the voting on the debenture bylaw will be known by that time and final effect will be given to it. Probably final preparations for the reception of Lord and Lady Grey will also be made.
