NIVERSITY CLUB

dress on Federation Tendencies

DGE FORIN'S OPINION

eral Deprecation of Utilitarian Basis for More Intimate Imperial Relations.

he paper and discussion at the Uni- ity Club meeting Saturday night e both well worth hearing; partici- on in the debate was general and animated.

here was a good attendance of mem- , and two visitors, Rev. A. G. Clarke, A. (Cantab.), of London, and D. B. ers, of McGill university, who will d the summer in Nelson assisting . F. H. Graham.

dge Forin had chosen for his sub- "Federal Tendencies Within the pire." He read an interesting and ghtful paper enriched but not con- d by a wealth of quotations from d Milner, Prof. Adam Shortt, and ers.

dge Forin considered preferential e neither possible nor desirable for present at least, in view of the at- de of the British people. He thought diversity of problems confronting parts of the Empire required the est measure of local self-government their solution. The history of Can- , he said, was the history of the de- opment of self-government and any- g that tended to impair that free- would lead to no desirable results er for Canada or for the Empire.

Quoting from Prof. Shortt he showed t there were elements of selfishness deception, if only self-deception, in arguments for preferential relations. theory colonial grain growers and tish manufacturers were to exchange ir products, but in 1878, by adopting National Policy, Canada had elected become a manufacturing as well as agricultural country.

While he denied the wisdom of such empts as Dr. Jameson's and Mr. kin's to form commercial bonds, he ought the steady growth of Imperial timent was satisfactory.

R. J. Clark pointed out that the orig- l argument of Free Traders in Eng- d was that England would continue be the manufacturer for all the world. t all other countries had similar am- ions and many had already attained m. The ultimate result would be t Britain must revise her trade poli- and recreate her fast disappearing ricultural population.

Rev. F. H. Graham deprecated the eking of any commercial or ulitarian sis for Imperialism. He was satis- d with the growth of the sentiment loyalty and unity. Sentiment, he de- ared, would always be more powerful an self-interest. He saw no greater ficulties than were presented by Can- dian Confederation.

Dr. Arthur agreed with Mr. Graham. e believed that the first thing to rengthen the bond of union would be e necessity of co-operation for self-de- ence and preservation.

Rev. J. T. Ferguson discussed the per very fully. He thought Britain's cent decision for free trade was final. e pointed out dangers to the Empire, r to isolated parts of it, from many arters; and even to the whole world f European civilization from a possible wakening and arming of China.

Rev. A. G. Clarke hoped that Imperial deration would mean a league for orld peace. He thought the fact of ch a gathering in Nelson discussing e subject in a way that showed such nowledge and interest was itself a sig- ficant indication of the growth of Im- erial sentiment. He believed that na- onal sport was a very strong unifying ctor, and that the popularity of the "Springbok" Rugby team had prepared e way for the reception accorded to en. Botha.

D. B. Rogers and W. J. Baird followed on similar lines ,the latter alluding to dangers, in India and from Germany, that might force close co-operation earlier than was expected. Judge Forin then briefly closed the debate.

CORBY DISTILLERY BURNED.

One of the Oldest in Canada—Whisky and Grain Destroyed.

Belleville, May 13.—A disastrous fire occurred shortly after 6 o'clock this morning when the H. Corby distillery and mill were totally destroyed, entailing a loss roughly estimated at $250,000 and as a result one man may lose his life. The fire was discovered by Daniel Hubb, night watchman, who noticed smoke issuing from one of the distilling rooms; he went up a stairway and on opening the door was met by a wall of fire which struck him in the face, knocking him backwards into the fire hole. He was stunned, but in a few minutes revived and ran to the office where Eugene Davison, one of the proprietors, lived. The latter was awakened and hurried to the scene, but when he arrived the whole place was a mass of flames. Two hundred thousand bags of grain and 9,000 gallons of whisky were destroyed. There were several narrow escapes owing to falling walls. The building was five storeys high and one of the oldest distilleries in Canada. It was built by the late Henry Corby in 1859. The loss will probably be $250,000 with insurance of probably $100,000.

RESTORING SERVICE.

San Francisco Street Railways Again in Operation.

San Francisco, May 13.—The success which attended the efforts of the officials of the United Railways to run their cars yesterday has prompted them to enlarge the service today. The board of supervisors will insist that the railroads must operate their lines in the interest of the public, threatening that if this is not done at once the municipality will restore the traffic. The company says that it has now enough to run its entire system and large numbers of men are arriving daily from the East. Besides these many of the employees have, it is said, applied for reinstatement and have been taken on.

Minnesota Town Destroyed.

St. Paul May 13.—Word reached here today that the business portion of Rush City had been destroyed by fire, loss $2,000,000.

OUTLOOK GROWS DARKER

Hindus in Northwest Gathering for Outbreak—Preparations for Stern Measures.

Lahore, British India, May 13.—Everything seems to point to the imminence of a native outbreak here, and the authorities are taking all the steps possible to suppress it by force of arms. The political unrest is hourly assuming graver proportions.. Bands of stalwart rustics, armed with bludgeons, who have been enlisted by the leaders of the sedition, are crowding into the native city, and troops of all arms and bodies of police mounted and dismounted, are being drafted into the city of Lahore from all parts of the province. The fortifications of Lahore have been subject to a special inspection and the artillerymen have been reinforced. The Lieut.-Governor of the Punjab, Sir Daniel Ibbotson, is taking active measures to circumvent any possible outbreak. He has issued a proclamation prohibiting meeting of every kind, and solemnly warning the public not to attend any assemblages under pain of severe punishment. In addition the lieutenant governor has struck at the root of the revolutionary movement by causing the arrest of a lawyer, Lajaptria, who practised in the chief court of the Punjab, and who was the leader, financier and organizer of most of the seditious demonstrations and revolutionary riots in the Punjab. Immediately after being taken into custody Lajaptria was deported to another province. His arrest caused a profound sensation among the Hindus, who hitherto had believed that the authorities would not dare to take such drastic action. Another revolutionary leader, for whose arrest a warrant has been issued, received an intimation of the action taken by the authorities and escaped from Lahore, and is now in hiding.

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIR.

Cape Colony Asks Germany to Pay Cost of Watching Herreros.

Cape Town, May 13.—A curious situation has arisen between Great Britain, the Cape and Germany over the native war in German South-West Africa. During the operations a great number of the insurgents crossed the border and surrendered to the Cape police. They were housed and fed by the authorities, and when the trouble was drawing to a close the Cape government forwarded to Germany its account for holding the refugees under observation. The amount demanded was about $25,000

Germany, however, repudiated all liability. The Cape government thereupon communicated with the British foreign office. It is understood that the demands originally made by the Cape government will be strictly adhered to.

The British government has also been appealed to by the Cape to settle the dispute between Germany and the Cape government upon the question of closing certain drifts over the Orange river to German merchandise. Punts ply across to the German side and rates have been fixed which Germany regards as unfair. The Cape government, however, remains obdurate.

Germany Assents.

Berlin, May 13.—The Reichstag today, with only a few negative votes, passed the second reading of the commercial modus vivendi between Germany and the United States.

RAILWAYS' PLANS

Big Development Expected This Year

PROGRAMME OF C. P. R.

Canadian Northern Restoring Service —Grand Trunk Pacific Delayed for Material.

Winnipeg, May 13.—C E. E. Ussher, assistant passenger traffic manager of the C. P. R., stated that in anticipation of an exceptionally heavy season of passenger travel every step was being taken to put on a Transcontinental Pacific service which would meet all requirements. During July and August a new fast train will be put on the service to leave Montreal three times a week and to cross the continent in probably 85 hours. The company also had planned to operate a train for the first time between St. Paul and Spokane. The route would be over the Soo line from St. Paul to Portal on the C. P. R., thence to Kingsgate and the Spokane International to Spokane. This would be the shortest route between St. Paul and Spokane by a distance of 18 miles. A freight service over the Spokane International has been in effect all winter and the passenger service was installed April 1st. The train will be placed in service on June 17th. Despite the lateness of the spring season, Mr. Ussher said that the spring traffic has been unusually large, the passenger traffic being about 85 per cent. in excess of the corresponding period last year.

Winnipeg, May 11.—Frank Dillinger and J. Ogilvie, the railway experts who have been travelling over the Canadian Northern during the last two weeks, examining transportation conditions in connection with the congestion of traffic returned to the city last night. Mr. Dillinger paid special attention to the movement of freight traffic over the road while Mr. Ogilvie dealt with the investigation of the mechanical department of the work, paying attention to the equipment of the road. Both experts will spend a few days in the city in the attempt to obtain additional information regarding conditions in the west, when they will submit a full report to the board of railway commissioners.

Mr. Dillinger and Mr. Ogilvie visited all the chief divisional points along the road where the congestion of traffic was formerly the greatest. A short journey will be made over one or two branches of the C. P. R. in connection with the investigation. Speaking of the condition of the traffic situation at present in the west, Mr. Ogilvie stated that both he and Mr. Dillinger had found that matters were now very much improved, and that in nearly every section of the country the freight traffic was beginning to move forward with reasonable rapidity. While a lack of equipment was undoubtedly one of the great causes of the blockade, Mr. Ogilvie affirmed that the unusual severity of the winter was largely responsible for the hopeless condition of affairs which existed throughout the winter. On the Prince Albert branch the blockades were so great that at times it was evidently next to impossible to attempt to operate a train service.

Both stated that great precaution would have to be taken by the railway companies to provide much greater equipment for the lines in the west. The country along the roads as it was at present was only beginning to be developed and as the land became cultivated the traffic was bound to assume far greater proportion than at present. Even with the very best and most favorable of weather conditions, it would require very great care to properly handle the traffic in the rush seasons of the year.

A large number of immigrants are now moving westward, and they are enabled to move with much greater freedom than they were a few weeks ago. The repaired engines which are being placed on the lines are not being subjected to such severe weather conditions and consequently very few of them are now being put out of service. The lateness of the spring season was probably a fortunate thing inasmuch as the sudden oncoming of warm weather would probably result disastrously in those sections where washouts were most liable to occur.

Mr. Dillinger and Mr. Ogilvie will leave for the east at the beginning of next week.

Ottawa, May 13.—The Grand Trunk Pacific and its contractors are going to have a hard time to complete their line from Winnipeg to the coast for 1911, the date contracted for with parliament. The weather has been going against the work and this combined with the scarcity of labor and lack of motive power on the other railroads, has thrown the work back the better part of a year behind expectations. The temperature and transportation are the chief troubles.

The contractors have graded many miles of the line between Portage la Prairie and Edmonton and have the rails ready to lay, but cannot get the ties to lay them on. Contracts were entered into more than a year ago for all the ties that would be required, but the men have had trouble last year with low water. They could not float them to accessible points. This winter the snow was too deep to get them out and this summer there are none available though the price has gone up from twenty-five to eighty cents. The tie-up on the railroads has prevented the contractors getting their plants in. Foley Bros. started an immense plant three months ago for construction work in the vicinity of Edmonton. It is understood that none of it has arrived yet, but is scattered over sidings all the way between Minneapolis and the point of destination. The contractors arranged for a sufficient supply of labor. Among other things they paid the passage of fifteen hundred men from Scotland to do railroad work this summer, but the season has been so late that the men cannot be made use of. Snow and frost has prevented operations being commenced on any adequate scale so far. Last year men were at work on construction six weeks earlier than the present date.

Mr. Hayes expected that the Grand Trunk Pacific would be able to assist in hauling out the crop grown this year. It does not appear now that these expectations will be realized. The whole of the route from Winnipeg to the Pacific has been approved, with the exception of twenty miles on the eastern end and also about seven hundred miles on the western end from the Yellow Head Pass to the coast. It is known that this will all be within the grade limit of four-tenths of one per cent., with the exception of one pusher grade of twenty miles. On this stretch the grade will be about one per cent.

NO LONGER A HERO.

Sword of Honor Intended for Stoessel Placed in Museum.

St. Petersburg, May 13.—The sword of honor which was to have been given General Stoessel, who commanded the Russian forces at Port Arthur, for the purchase of which a large fund was collected in France before Stoessel's fall from favor, was formally presented yesterday to the museum of war by the St. Petersburg Officers' Club. The presentation was made as conspicuous as possible owing to the embarrassing position of the former hero. General Stoessel was not able to attend the function. The dedication inscription to Stoessel has been effaced from the sword and in its place is complimentary reference to the Russian army.

Preacher Murdered.

Carlyle, Ky., May 13.—Wm. P. Richards, pastor of the First Christian church, negro, was called to his door Saturday night and sot five times. He died yesterday. Jesse Merchant and Miss Hermania Duryeau are in jail. Merchant is the son of a former pastor here. In his dying statement Pastor Richards said Merchant did the shooting, but Miss Duryeau insisted she shot Richards because he betrayed her when she was living in his house.

MUST HAVE FLEET

Germany Will Not Hear of Reduction

LAUGHING AT BRITISH

Campbell-Bannerman Declines to Tell Probable Effect on Britain's Naval Policy.

London, May 13.—In reply to a question asked in the Commons today as to whether, after the recent speech in the Reichstag by Chancellor von Buelow in regard to the limitation of armaments, the government would proceed immediately to the construction of a third vessel of the Dreadnought class, which it had been intimated was conditional on the result of the discussion of the limitation question by The Hague conference, Premier Campbell Bannerman said that at present he was not prepared to make a statement on the subject. The government, he added, recognized the importance of Chancellor von Buelow's declaration, from which it was apparent that Germany desired, while maintaining her own view, to avoid embarrassing the other powers interested in the question. The British government desired to deal with matters in the same spirit, and recognized that any question regarding expenditure on armaments could not be dealt with except by agreement.

Berlin, May 13.—Count von Wentlow, the well-known authority on naval affairs, submitting reasons why Germany is unable to consider the proposal to limit armaments, proposed as a suitable inscription on the portals of the conference hall at The Hague, the sentence: "If you wish for war prepare for peace."

Cologne, May 13.—The German Fleet Society, which is holding its annual convention here today sent a despatch to Emperor William saying that the aims of the Fleet society were to create a strong navy for the Fatherland, "Which in the hands of Your Majesty will be the surest guarantee of peace."

Major General Keim, president of the society, created great amusement by stating that the British Naval League had applied to the German Fleet Society for information regarding the methods by which the latter had attained such phenomenal growth. General Keim added: "In our usual amicability we sent them our bylaws and gave them advice and instructions." The Fleet society is for the hastening of the carrying out of the German naval construction plan in view of the incessant increase in the military and naval equipment of other powers, which the society regards as a serious menace to Germany.

PATHETIC SCENES.

Shriners' Excursion Train Wrecked in California—Many Dead

San Francisco, May 13.—The trains bearing Shriners arrived yesterday from the scene of Saturday's wreck. An excursion train containing 25 Shriners which had been but a few miles behind the wrecked train arrived last night. The train was switched around the wreck and the passengers agreed in the statement that it was the most deplorable sight they ever witnessed. Dr. Ware, of Cincinnati, who was the first physician to reach the scene, arrived last night and told a graphic story of the terrible scenes. The most pathetic incident was the death of a bride and bridegroom almost at the same moment, each believing the other still alive. L. N. Ellenborgen and his bride were members of the excursion party and were thrown from the coach to the opposite track. Both were mortally injured, but regained consciousness and exhibited remarkable bravery. The wife's first thought was for her husband and the husband's first thought was for his wife. "Tell my wife that I am all right," murmured Ellenborgen. "Give her my love and let me know how she is." Mrs. Ellenborgen in return sent a message to her husband with the assurance that she was all right. Before the physician could carry another message both had paessd away. Dr. Ware was compelled to use driftwood for pillows and cut up the sheets on the train for bandages. S. Thornton, the head of a large party of Shriners from Meridian, Miss., who came through Los Angeles on the second secion of the wrecked special, is at the hotel here. He is a railroad man of many years' experience and is not satisfied that the disaster was caused by a defective switch.

According to his statement the sleepers were not badly affected by the wreck and are largely intact. They were flung in every direction, one of them ahead of the engine, but they did not collapse. The San Francisco members of the Mystic Shriners, consisting of the Island Temple, and their wives and daughters who were in attendance at the conclave of the order in Los Angeles, returned here yesterday and were the first to arrive since the wreck.

The train which carried the Shriners doomed to death in the wreck, left Los Angeles 10 minutes ofter the Temple special. By some unaccountable working of fate the first train, containing the party that arrived yesterday, passed safely at a mile a minute clip over the very spot at which the following train was wrecked.

Los Angeles, May 13.—A despatch received here discloses how the first news of the accident at Honda reached the railroad officials. It is said that after the accident Conductor Jones climbed the nearest telegraph pole and with a telegraph instrument provided for such purposes tapped one of the despatchers' wires connected with the San Luis- Obispo division office and told of the wreck. The men at the other end of the line doubted this story, believing some one was playing a joke, but consternation followed when in confirmation of his identity ,the conductor sent a part of his late orders. News was immediately sent to Santa Barbara and other points.

American Swindler in Europe.

Zurich, May 13.—Charles Barmstal, of Chicago, has been arrested here upon the demand of the German authorities charged with fraud. It is alleged that Barmstal obtained $16,250 last month from a lady of Munich, Bavaria, to whom he was betrothed. After obtaining the money it is alleged Barmstal absconded. He had $12,250 in his possession when arrested.

BOUNDARY FRUIT CROP

Sold in Advance on Winnipeg Market—New Rich Strike Reported on Little Bertha.

(Special to The Daily Canadian.)

Grand Forks, May 13.—J. L. Manley, who owns an ideal fruit ranch of some 20 acres on the Covert estate, is authority for the statement that last year there were shipped to the Winnipeg markets five cars of Italian prunes grown on the estate. These prunes brought a little over two cents per pound on the cars at Grand Forks. He also stated that this year's crop of prunes had already been bought for the Winnipeg markets. Mr. Manley himself has 700 fruit trees of mixed fruits, which, this year, will net him $1,000 The Northwest and Manitoba fruit dealers are already buying up all the available fruit crops in this valley, so it is quite possible there may be a scarcity of fruit this fall for the local markets.

Two feet of solid high-grade ore is the latest strike that is reported from the Little Bertha property at Bannock City. It is claimed that it runs over $60 per ton.

Capt. W. Bentley, an old mine owner of this district, is moving up to his copper properties on Volcanic mountain for the purpose of prosecuting development work there all summer; already he has many tons of pay ore on the dump ready for shipment.

Word has reached here today from Beaverdell, on the West Fork of Kettle river that the shipping of ore is being resumed at the Duncan and Bounty fractions—the ore being hauled to Midway in wagons for shipment to the Trail smelter.

Last Saturday morning as young Walter Barren, a lad of about 15 years of age, was driving the delivery wagon belonging to Waugh Bros. into the North Fork river for the purpose of watering the horse the animal got beyond its depth and the river carried horse and wagon down stream; the boy narowly escaped drowning, being rescued by some citizens; the horse and wagon have not yet been heard of.

SHUFFLING OFFICES.

R. Bickerdike, M. P., Predicts Promotion of Liberal Leaders.

Montreal, May 13.—Robert Bickerdike, M. P., says Lord Strathcona will probably be the next governor general of Canada.

"It is Strathcona for Rideau Hall as the man more acceptable to the people of Canada than any other person. As a matter of fact, I think this is receiving consideration at headquarters.

"It is Strathcona for Rideau Hall, Sir Wilfrid Laurier as Lord Arthabasca for high commissioner's office and, last but not least, A. B. Aylesworth for supreme command of the Reform party.

TRIAL RESUMED.

Seven Jurymen Qualified, but None Are Finailly Accepted.

Boise, Idaho, May 13.—The task of selecting a jury resumed today in the trial of Haywood, secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with complicity in the assassination of former Governor Steunenberg, may be completed within the next four or five days. According to counsel, seven men will be in the box when court opens at 2 p. m. today. None have been actually accepted, however, although they have so far qualified themselves to serve that only peremptory challenges can remove them.

OLD TIMER DEAD

Chas. S. Rashdall Found Lifeless in Bed

DUE TO HEART FAILURE

Resident of Kootenay for 13 Years—Sketch of Career—Funeral on Wednesday.

Charles S. Rashdall, a resident of Nelson for the last two years, and of Kootenay for 13 years, was found dead, from heart failure, in his room at the Strathcona hotel this morning.

He had suffered from a severe attack of pneumonia in the winter which confined him to the hospital for several weeks, but since then had semed to be restored to normal health.

Last night he retired rather early, though without any complaint of not feeling well. When called this morning he made no reply. After several unsuccessful attempts to wake him, the hotel porter entered the room about 10 o'clock and found him lifeless. Doctors Arthur and Hawkey were summoned at once, but all had been over for several hours. On retiring he had evidently read for some time, laid the book down unclosed, turned out his light and composed himself to sleep. There was nothing to indicate that he had ever waked again.

The deceased was the son of a Church of England clergyman, graduated B. A. of Trinity college, Cambridge, and practised for some time as a solicitor in London. About 15 or 16 years ago he came to America, still with ample means, which were soon greatly reduced by unfortunate investments in Colorado.

He came to Kootenay in 1894 and settled in New Denver where he remained till the spring of 1905. A younger brother, Edward, also came to Kootenay, and died in Nelson about eight years ago.

For the last year Mr. Rashdall had been employed in the office of T. G. Procter.

The only living member of his family is a married sister now travelling in Italy. Mrs. C. S. Moore, formerly of Nelson, is a first cousin. Another cousin is Hastings Rashdall, Fellow and tutor of New College, Oxford, preacher at Lincoln's Inn.

Mr. Rashdall was not very widely known in Nelson, but in his circle of friends he was greatly liked and esteemed and will be sincerely mourned.

The funeral wil take place on Wednesday. Further announcement will be made later.

MEXICAN MINE ON FIRE.

Many Dead and Others in Great Danger —Caused by Cigar.

Mexico City May 13.—A fire supposed to have been started by a cigar thrown into an abandoned drift caused the loss of 90 lives according to a special received from Torreon, Coahuila, by the Associate Press. The fire started in the corner shaft of the mines in Velarteena, State of Durango, on Friday night. There were 175 men working in that part of the mine and only 17 of them are believed to have escaped. Thirty-five bodies have been recovered. According to the latest reports the fire is still raging and it is feared that very few others imprisoned will be taken out alive. Search parties have been working heroically but only charred, unrecognizable bodies have been taken out. The shaft in which the fire broke out is one of a mine which is a group of the largest copper producers in northern Mexico. The Guggenheim interests are said to own the property. Owing to the remoteness of the region it is difficult to get details.

Norfolk, Va., The celebration today on Jamestown island, 40 miles up the James river, of the 300th anniversary of the landing there of the first permanent English settlers, Sir Christopher Newport, John Smith and others, was held under fair skies and auspicuous conditions. The exercises were directly under the auspices of the Society for the Preservation of Virginia's Antiquities. The opening address was delivered by Governor Swanson of Virginia, and British Ambassador Bryce followed with "greetings from the old world to the new." Among the distinguished persons who are to attend the ceremonies of the day is Lady Grey, wife of Earl Grey, of Canada.

NATIONAL LEADERSHIP.

A highly significant remark was made by one of the speakers in the debate at the University Club meeting Saturday night on the subject of federation tendencies in the Empire.

The University Club's membership includes several who are or have been thorough-going adherents of one or other political party in Canada, or in Britain, or in both. But, although political subjects are often discussed, the debates have never been marred by a display of partisan spirit.

The remark in question was not made in bitterness, nor as a reproach to any individual, or to either party exclusively. It was to the effect that the leaders of both parties, Dominion and provincial, have to a great degree ceased to be leaders of national thought and aspiration.

There was a time, as it was pointed out, and not longer than fifteen or twenty years ago, when the case was far different, when not only cabinet ministers and the front bench of the opposition, but members of the rank and file of both parties, were familiar with, and interested in, national and Imperial questions, and when members of parliament did not disdain to take part in discussion of such subjects in their own cities, towns or villages. Even a party meeting in the heat of an election campaign was capable of developing a debate on matters of national importance.

How far, and in what direction we have travelled since then must be obvious to all. Local party organizations meet now only to choose candidates and award patronage, members of parliament—even the few who have any knowledge of public questions—have neither time nor disposition to meet their constituents in debate. Party discipline forbids their being committed to anything outside the accepted party platform, and questions of organization and patronage take up all their time.

Even in parliament and the legislatures it is very rare that the discussion of any subjects rises above the horizon of party politics, or reveals any point of view higher than party advantage.

Questions that were once regarded as the concern of statesmen and legislators are now contemptuously relegated as "academic" to the Empire Clubs and Canadian Clubs, formed not to advocate any definite policies, but merely to afford their members that opportunity for serious discussion on worthy subjects, once, but no longer, offered by national politics.

The root of this as of all other evils of the Canadian body politic lies deep in the changed nature of the people. The rapid material development of the country has blunted the intellect as well as the conscience of the people. An exaggerated value has been placed upon smoothness of administration. Servility to the party whip is considered the chief merit of a private member. Any statesmanlike ideas he might have would be merely a nuisance to his leaders.

The best that can be hoped is that the maintenance of interest in subjects of real importance by the academic discussion of them in unrepresentative bodies may force upon the electorate's attention the decline in the character and calibre of public men, and the disappearance from the floor of parliament of anything resembling leadership.

PUBLIC SPIRIT.

Toronto exchanges to hand record something unfortunately unique in recent Canadian history. T. W. Crothers, barrister, of St. Thomas, was asked by Premier Whitney of Ontario to assist the commission of the revision of the text books for the public and high schools. Mr. Whitney did not mention any remuneration. Mr. Crothers assented and performed his task satisfactorily. The legislature passed an appropriation of $2,000 for the work and a cheque for that amount was sent by the provincial secretary to Mr. Crothers. His reply deserves quotation in full:

"Dear Sir,—I have your letter of the 26th inst., enclosing cheque for $2,000 re Text-Book Commission, and I thank the government for proposing to pay me that sum.

"When Mr. Whitney asked me to assist in the investigation remuneration was not mentioned. I acceded to his request in the hope that we might render some service to the province, and not with any view to financial gain.

"The honor of the appointment, the pleasure I had in the enquiry, and the assurance that we did accomplish something, are more than ample compensation for the time and labor expended. I therefore return you the cheque, and if you will be good enough to send me one for $192, the amount of my actual disbursements, I shall be perfectly content. Yours truly,

"(Signed) T. W. CROTHERS."

NELSON'S DEFICIENCY.

We are very sure that Sir William Mulock will receive a very cordial welcome from the people of Victoria when he visits the city on Monday next. Sir William is a gentleman of the highest reputation and he deserves a suitable reception. It is very fortunate that we have in Victoria in the Canadian Club, an organization which can show to such distinguished Canadians the honor which is their due.—Victoria Colonist.

Sir William Mulock spent an evening in Nelson. Unfortunately Nelson has no club which could appropriately invite him to speak under its auspices.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Troubles are looming large before the Western States. The strike riots in San Francisco would alone furnish to thoughtful Americans material for anxious thought. Coincident with them is the trial at Boise of the elected heads of the chief labor organization of the West on the charge of conspiracy to murder. The members of that organization openly charge that the trial is the result of a conspiracy between mine owners and state authorities to destroy the Federation. However earnestly one may hope that the men are mistaken there is no reason to doubt their sincerity. If such a charge can with any show of reason be made against authorities all elected by the people, the outlook for American democracy in the West is dark indeed.

Dominion and provincial anti-tuberculosis societies are waging a ceaseless campaign to rouse the people of Canada for a war of extermination of the white plague. There seems something almost savoring of superstition in the way most people regard consumption as fatal, hopeless from the first. It has been repeatedly demonstrated that such is not the case. People have been cured of consumption. But of far greater importance than treatment of individual cases is the prevention of contagion. Elsewhere in this issue we print some valuable directions forwarded by Rev. Dr. Moore, secretary of the Dominion society, who lectured in Nelson last summer.

To Watch Eclipse in Andes.

New York, May 13.—The Lowell expedition to the Andes mountains for the purpose of observing the apposition of Mars and the eclipse of the sun in July next, sailed Saturday for Colon. The expedition is in charge of Prof D. P. Todd, head of the astronomical department of Amherst college.

From Colon the party will proceed by rail across the isthmus and by steamer down the west coast of South America. Several points will be visited in order to ascertain which will be the best place for making observation. The eclipse will occur on July 12th, while the apposition of Mars will occupy several days in the middle of July. Assistance has been given to Prof. Todd in facilitating his arrangements by Secretary Taft and the ministers to the United States from Bolivia, Peru and Chile.

TO PREVENT CONTAGION

Simple Rules for Consumptives Drawn Up by Canadian Anti-Tuberculosis Society.

The following points and suggestions regarding the prevention of consumption which deserve the attention of everybody, are gathered from a recent article by Dr. Knopf, of New York, in the Medical Record:

There are more cases of advanced tuberculosis to be treated than any other disease.

There is no disease where so much can be done to render the patient comfortable and hopeful as pulmonary tuberculosis in the advanced stage.

There is no disease where one case in a family can so readily become the cause of infection in other members, particularly in the stage where the consumptive begins to be confined to the close association of the family members only.

It is extremely important to remember that advanced consumptive patients who are able to go about, perhaps able to work at their ordinary calling, in the office or factory, when ignorant or careless, constitute the greatest danger to the health of the community. They must be considered as the most frequent cause of infection. The careless, ignorant, or helpless consumptive, when confined to bed, can do little more than infect his room; but the advanced patient able to follow his calling, can, if he is careless, scatter 7,000,000 bacili every day with the greatest ease.

Of all tuberculosis patients, he should be the most carefully instructed, and should be most deeply impressed with the fact, that carelessness in the disposal of the sputum is dangerous to himself as well as to his neighbors.

As yet, people generally, have not been educated up to the point at which they are willing to carry and use, a pocket flask or cardboard purse. Being desirous to conceal their condition, they are extremely reluctant to do anything which would call attention to their infirmity. Some way less likely to cause remark must be found. Probably the best that can be done in the meantime is to suggest that tuberculous men have two pockets lined with some material which can be easily cleansed, and that they should carry in one of these pockets, very cheap handkerchiefs, or bits of cheese cloth, or other cheap material cut like handkerchiefs, which when used can be easily put into the other pocket, and there kept until the close of the day, when they can be easily destroyed or sterilized by boiling, after their return home. In this way they can escape observation, and at the same time secure their fellow-workmen with whom they are associated, against danger. When so simple a precaution as this, and one easily in reach of every right thinking man, is available, not to make use of it, would seem little less than criminal neglect.

Somebody Mistaken.

T. G. Procter, A. M. Johnson and J. C. Gordon returned to the city yesterday afternoon from a day's fishing at Procter. Mr. Procter was carrying a splendid specimen of the Great Lake trout, which weighed 14 1-2 pounds dressed. He and his companions stated that it was caught after a very interesting struggle, off the Procter light.

A government official of unimpeachable veracity was on the steamer by which Messrs. Procter, Johnson and Gordon returned. He saw them board the steamer at Procter and is certain that they had no fish. When the Nelson wharf was reached the three gentlemen first mentioned preceded the government official up the wharf. The latter saw the captain of a tug hail Mr. Procter, who stepped on board. When he next appeared he was carrying the big fish.

The stories seem to conflict. But no one would dream of questioning the truthfulness of any of the authorities.

The obvious explanation is that the government official had temporarily lost his spectacles and found them again just as Mr. Procter reappeared with the fish.

Lost Life and Property.

Detroit, May 13.—The steamer Byron Whittaker of Detroit, was sunk in the lower Detroit river last night off Amherstburg in a collision with the steamer John C. Gattle. The Gattle proceeded on its journey up the river. The Whittaker was going down the river with a load of corn. She was built at Mount Clemis in 1890. The Whittaker's crew was rescued by the crew of the tug General. Byron Whittaker, a well-known Detroit vessel man and owner of the sunken steamer, died yesterday, aged 76.

Claim Credit for the Higher Standard of Clothes Worn by Men.

According to some newspapers, advertising is the panacea of all business ills. It can even resurrect the dying business of the custom tailor, according to an article recently republished in the Montreal Gazette. This article was taken from a tailors' trade paper, and was one of a series following up the attempt to kill Semi-ready tailoring by "Confidential Circular, No. 1."

It is claimed by the press that advertising may be credited with the success achieved by Semi-ready tailoring, but the president of the Semi-ready companys says he believes that they could very well do without any advertising.

New Steamer Burned.

Detroit, May 13.—The new $1,000,000 passenger and freight steamer, City of Cleveland, which was being completed at the Detroit Shipbuilding company's yards, is reported to have been burned to the water's edge early today. All of the upper works of the steamer above the water line and her interior fittings have been destroyed; the loss will be about $700,000.

Sudden Death.

New York, May 13,—Edward Johnston, 56 years old, president of the People's Trust company of Brooklyn, died suddenly on a south bound subway express train that drew into the Brooklyn bridge station at 8:15 o'clock last night. Death was due to apoplexy.

Football Postponed.

In order not to injure the celebrations of Empire Day at Kaslo and Greenwood the Nelson Association Football Club has postponed its match with Coal Creek scheduled for that date. The match will be played a little later on a date to be fixed.

Reckless Shooting.

Every year complaint is made of reckless shooting round the shores of Kootenay lake. Yesterday a party at Procter had the pleasure of hearing and seeing a bullet strike the rocks a few feet from them. It had evidently been fired at some object floating on the lake The only solution of the problem seems to be a gun license to be issued only to those who can pass a medical test for sanity.

Anonymous Correspondence.

So much needless trouble arises from the publication of anonymous correspondence that the Victoria Colonist has decided to adopt as an invariable rule that no letters will hereafter be printed in its columns unless the name of the writer is sent for publication. The Colonist takes the ground that it is rarely anything is said over an assumed signature that might not as well be said openly.

Build Kootenay Central.

A private letter, received from Cranbrook last night, contains the information that construction of the Kootenay Central railway is to be begun at once. The writes gives no authority for his statement, and does not say whether the original company has succeeded in financing the enterprise, or has sold out to the C. P. R. The road has already been graded for 10 miles south from Golden.

Firemen's Convention.

The proposal to hold a fireman's convention in Nelson during Fair week is at last taking definite shape. Last Saturday Chief Hallet of Greenwood, Chief McKay of Kamloops and Capt. Berger of Phoenix, consulted with Chief Deasy of Nelson, as to the best method of bringing about the convention, and preliminary steps were taken with that end in view. A convention of the character proposed will bring a great number of visitors to the city, and every encouragement should be given the promoters.

New Drug Firm.

The Poole-Longhurst Co., Ltd., will open in the drug business in the building vacated by the Canada Drug & Book Co., Ltd., corner of Josephine and Baker streets, on or about the 20th of this month. The company is composed of Arthur Poole, Chas. Longhurst, M. J. Vigneux and A. A. Perrier. In addition to the drug business the new firm will carry a line of fancy stationery, and Mr. Longhurst will conduct an ice cream parlor. Every member of the firm is well known in Nelson. Arthur Poole was for a year with the Canada Book & Drug Co., Ltd., and is a capable man in his line of business. M. J. Vigneux is also well known and regarded a first-class druggist. Charles Longhurst has conducted an ice cream parlor for some time in Nelson and has won many friends. A. A. Perrier will not be actively connected with the firm, but his friends will wish for its success just the same. No doubt the firm will succeed in building up a big business.
