CARIBOO'S FIRST VEHICLE

Old Carriage of By-gone Days Dug up for Dominion Fair.

New Westminster, B. C., May 19.—A vehicle old and ancient, the first to reach the Cariboo gold diggings before the wagon road was completed in 1869, and which was at that time a matter of much curiosity to the miners, has been dug up on the Royston Australian ranch at Alexandria, B. C., and will be on exhibition at the Dominion Fair to be held here from Sept. 27 to Oct. 7. The vehicle was the invention of Mr. Royston, who, with the assistance of Mr. Olson propelled it into Quesnell loaded with supplies. It has but one wheel, in the centre, and is operated by two men at a pair of handles each on either end. It was peculiarly adapted to getting over the rough country in the days of its service.

A Good Suggestion.

Mr. C. B. Wainwright of Lemon City, Fla., has written the manufacturers that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in cases of pains in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drank. That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. "It seems to get at the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by F. J. MacKenzie.

Miss Crisp returned to Vancouver yesterday.

BASEBALL.

A meeting of the Baseball Club was held in H. McDowell's store on Monday evening, when the following officers were elected: Hon. President, C. F. Green; president, R. E. Walker; vice-president, T. Foster; treasurer, H. Creech; secretary, A. Yorke; captain, D. Kenny; manager, H. McDowell.

Games are to be arranged with the following teams: Point Roberts, Steveston, East Delta and three Indian teams.

All local players are requested to turn out for practice every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

Friends of Mrs. H. G. Taylor will be pleased to learn that she is able to be around again.

Methodist Conference

The following recommendations have been handed in to the Conference by the committee on "Temperance and Moral Reform:"

"We believe it to be the imperative duty of every member of the Methodist Church to do all he can to enforce every law that has for its object the curtailment of the baneful influence of the drink traffic and also to aid in the passing of laws having the same object in view but, in our opinon the Methodist Church should never recede from its former advanced position— the entire destruction of the legalised liquor traffic. This should be our ultimate goal.

Whereas complaints have been made to the Conference of the non-enforcement of the Indian Liquor Act; therefore, we recommend that a committee of three, consisting of the Superintendent of the Indian Missions, the Chairman of Victoria District, and Rev. C. M. Tate be appointed to gather facts to be submitted to the Minister of the Interior, and to the Attorney-General of British Columbia, with a view to remedying existing evils.

Local option limits the licence area, educates the people, and puts the responsibility of the saloon on each community. Therefore we most heartily recommend that a strong and united effort be made at the next meeting of the Legislature to secure a Local Option Act for this province. Your committee is of the opinion that the time is ripe for an agitation throughout the whole province to abolish the saloon. What we mean by this is 'saloon licence,' a house that provides no accommodation for the public.

We further recommend that the Provincial Government be asked to enact such legislation as will make it illegal for a licensee to hold any public office in a municipality.

We believe that moral reforms depend primarily upon intelligent convictions in the hearts of the people; therefore, we would urge pastors, class leaders, league presidents, Sunday School Superintendents, and all officials of the Methodist Church to keep this question before those who look to them for light and guidance.

The wide open 'bawdy-house' is shame and disgrace to the cities of our province. We believe the common instincts of humanity, the deeper claims of patriotism, and the broader demands of the Gospel of Jesus, imperatively call upon all men everywhere to make common cause against this terrible evil.

Another matter demanding attention in the cities is the existence of these 10-cent shows. These are poisoning the minds of the young people and children who attend in large numbers. Their influence is most baneful.

Another question that has not yet been settled is the 'cigarette habit.' Our boys are being destroyed physically, intellectually and morally—hundreds of them every year.

Since the Conference met in 1904, we have had a visit from Rev. Dr. Chown, Temperance and Moral Reform Secretary. His long and wide experience make him a strong man. All the centres visited by him were much benefited by his wise counsel."

D. McGregor, wife and family returned home on Thursday.

Obituary.

The death occurred on Monday morning at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Bloomfield, 972 Howe Street, Vancouver, of Robinson Watson, a retired farmer.

The deceased was 68 years of age and leaves five sons — William, John, Hunter, Stonewall and Muir, and three daughters—Mesdames F. Kirkland, A. Gilchrist and Bloomfield, to mourn his loss. Mrs. Forier and George Watson and their mother having gone on before.

The remains arrived here on Tuesday and were interred beside those of his first wife at the Boundary Bay cemetery.

Mr. Watson came here, from Victoria, about twenty years ago, and farmed on the property now owned by Ed. Calhoun afterwards he purchased the farm now owned by the Hume family. After other properties had passed through his hands he moved to Vancouver and thence to Kamloops where he purchased a stock ranch and which the family is now running.

Among the floral tributes were noticed two very excellent ones, a crescent and a wreath which came on the boat with the remains.

THE TENT MISSION.

The Tent Mission now in progress here is attracting large audiences and interest. The cold weather has interfered to some extent, but since the weather has moderated somewhat that handicap is removed. The tent is one of the finest ever built in this country for Gospel meetings, and, though it is only set up half size, it has a capacity of about 500. It is lighted admirably, but in the absence of electric power here, gasoline lamps are used. One of the features of the meetings is the song service, singing new and old songs. Evangelist Shanks is getting a grip of the people in a peculiar manner. All his addresses are listened to with interest. There is plenty of illustration to hold the attention, and strong appeal to reason.

On Sunday there will be three services, Mr. McEwen will speak at the morning service at 11 o'clock. At 4 p.m. there will be a meeting for men only. Mr. Shanks will speak to men on the subject: "A Young Man's Strength." In the evening, at 7:30, beginning with a song service in which Mrs. Shanks will assist, the mass meeting for the people, the subject will be "Christ at the Door," a message from the Songs of Solomon. All meetings are free and every one is invited. Meetings will continue all next week until Friday night.

The final draft of the Stationing Committee places Rev. A. N. Miller at Enderby, and Rev. J. F. Betts, of Fairview, Vancouver, to this charge. While we regret the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Miller from this district, we must say that Delta is to be supplied with an excellent couple of church workers in Rev. J. F. and Mrs. Betts.

The new steam yacht just put into commission by J. Guichon, is the latest addition to the mosquito fleet on the Lower Fraser. The new yacht is a very handsome model and should prove to be a speedy craft. She is fitted with fore and aft compound engines and the latest model McCormick tubular boiler. On her trial trip on Wednesday she proved herself to be remarkably fast and an excellent sea boat.

GEO. R. MANLEY, Manager.

SATURDAY, MAY 20, 1905.

For the benefit of those interested we propose opening a Labor Bureau in connection with the Printing Office. If you want help register here, it will cost you nothing, and we will endeavor to supply your needs. It will be to your interest to help this institution along, and the way to help it along will be by hiring through us. So, if you are in need of help, register your needs with us and we will do the rest.

It is gratifying to note that the request of J. Tamboline, of Westham Island, is to be met, in part at least. A man making an offer to assist the Council to repair damages caused by overflow, even though he himself is to be benefited to a considerable extent, deserves help. In this particular case, neglect to do the work, on the part of the Council, would mean the flooding of one half of the Island at least.

DISCRIMINATION.

Our notice has been drawn, lately, to an auction sale of purebred cattle which has been advertised to take place at Calgary this week, but the most peculiar thing on the poster is the fact that purchasers have only to pay $2 per head freight to any "railway station in the Territories and points in British Columbia, Mainland."

This sale is under the auspices of the Territorial Cattle Breeders' Association and the posters have been distributed by the Department of Agriculture of British Columbia.

Now, if we have cattle here that we might wish to ship away, why are we taxed ten times as much? Why this discrimination? It is time the government took a hand in this matter. Our stock breeders ought to be assisted in their work instead of being discriminated against as has been done in this case. Our Stockbreeders' Association will do well to look into this.

DON'T BE MISLED.

We understand that there has been quite a change of heart experienced by our friends in the East End, with regard to the abolition of the ward system, because some narrow minded person has said that "If you do away with the wards Ladner will control the district."

If those who think, as above, will only take time to go over the matter thoroughly, they will see that it would be utterly impossible for the combined votes of Ladner and Guichon to prevail against those of the rest of the municipality, and we have yet to see the man who can control all the votes of such a village as Ladner.

While thinking or talking this matter over, kindly remember the fact that YOU vote for each individual member of the Council if YOU do away with the ward system, which means that you have five votes instead of one as at present. Surely you are not afraid to vote for five members.

JAPAN AT THE FAIR.

Merchants from Flowery Kingdom Called on by the Mikado's Counsel.

New Westminster, B. C., May 19. — The government of Japan has, through its counsel at Vancouver, Kishiro Morikawa, replied to an offer of space on the Dominion Fair grounds for an exhibit from the Flowery Kingdom explaining that on account of the present struggle in the far east it would be impossible to give the required attention to the matter. M. Morikawa has, however, been authorized to call on all such of the Mikado's subjects as are resident merchants of Canada to contribute to an exhibit that will represent Japan at the Canadian National Exhibition. A space 60x40 feet will be placed at the disposal of the Japanese exhibitors and they promise to produce something most attractive..

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. Lefroy and family wish to take this opportunity of thanking their many friends for the kind sympathy shown to them in their sad bereavement and specially to those whose sympathy took the form of floral tributes.

East Delta, May 15th, 1905.

It is to be hoped that the King's Birthday Sports Committee will not overlook the fact that we have a Band. On the last two celebrations the absence of music detracted very much from the pleasure to be derived

A youth went forth to serenade
The lady he loved best,
And by her house at evening.
When the sun had gone to rest,
He warbled until daylight,
And would have warbled more,
But morning light disclosed the sign
"To Let" upon the door.

Colds

It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and prepares the system for the more serious diseases, among which are the two greatest destroyers of human life, pneumonia and consumption.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

has won its great popularity by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It aids expectoration, relieves the lungs and opens the secretions, effecting a speedy and permanent cure. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia.

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? THE WORLD-WIDE REVIVAL

It may not be out of place to note the signs of the times as seen in the general revival movement that has been operating in all parts of the world during the last two or three years. Beginning with the simultaneous mission in London about three years ago, spreading to Australia, where for two years the whole country witnessed a wonderful awakening, reaching New Zealand and the Isles of the Pacific, this revival movement has crossed America. Denver, New York, Galveston, Portland, Cincinnati and other cities and rural districts have been shaken as never before. During the last year the wonderful revival in Wales under lay preacher's leadership, in all parts of England under the leadership of Dr. Torrey and others, have attracted world-wide attention. What is the meaning of all this world-wide movement? For years there has been a strong movement to materialism and secularization. Religion has been affected by it. Even ministers of the Gospel have taken to preaching on ethics and saying "we need a new evangelism." It seems that God has projected the Welsh revival right in the midst of all this New Thought, as a rebuke. Without special leadership of men, under the Holy Ghost, God is working. Surely the cry that the old time revival is a thing of the past is a vain attempt to close the eyes to the present conditions. God is working and the Holy Spirit is still using the simple Gospel as the means of turning men to righteousness. Repentance and change of heart are taught in His word. The old-time religion; the kind our fathers and mothers professed; the kind that gets down before God and seeks for pardon from sin and then confesses Jesus Christ as personal Saviour is still the honored way of God.

It is time we had done with our professions of godliness which consist in church membership and pride for the church because it was our father's, and that some vital religious life, a knowledge of sins forgiven, a correct Christlike standard of temperance, righteouness, faith and obedience become our personal experience.

If one has not carefully considered the meaning of the world-wide revival, it is time to do so now, for surely these things are significant; they are fraught with meaning.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by F. J. MacKenzie.

THE WEB OF A SPIDER

WONDERFUL SKILL EXERCISED IN ITS CONSTRUCTION.

The Intelligence Displayed by the Insect In Manipulating Its Silken Thread Almost Savors of Reason Photographing a Net.

Dr. Henry Lancy of Cleveland, who does considerable experimenting along scientific lines, has been studying the Tetragnathides, a species of spider that builds its web over water along streams and rivers, with interesting results. The investigation was made for the purpose of getting photographs of the web. The web was obtained by placing a small wooden frame in the spider's way, and it was quickly covered with the perfectly woven silky thread. After securing the web, which in its natural state is comparatively invisible for photographic purposes, Dr. Laney proceeded first to make it tenacious by spraying it with an alcoholic solution of shellac from a medical atomizer. Though still comparatively invisible after this treatment, the web could be handled with case without fear of tearing it. To develop the beautiful work of the spider, Dr. Laney, with another atomizer, sprayed the web with a solution of gallic acid, which made it appear as if frost had settled upon it. The web now seemed to be covered with the morning's dew. To complete the effect Dr. Laney captured the spider, put him in the death box and then ecated him with alcohol. Deftly placing the insect in the web in a natural position, he was sprayed with gallic acid. Using black velvet as a background, Dr. Laney succeeded in photographing one of the most beautiful and delicate pictures found in nature.

Dr. Laney says: "The spider displays wonderful intelligence and mechanical skill in making these nets. Its instinct is far above that of the ordinary animal—indeed it quite borders on reason. When a large spider desires to make a web for himself and he has some distance to stretch it, he does not swing his web, as most people suppose, and let the wind or his own momentum take him where it will. He begins his web by starting the first guy very close up to the corner of the angle. He attaches to the other side of the angle, making a short guy. Each guy increases in length, the spider always using the last guy made to carry the next one over until he attains the position in which he wishes to place his net. The last guy may be 10 feet long and the first one only a foot in length.

"The last two guys become the support of the net. These will each be re-enforced by at least six strands, all laid in the one cable, for the thorough support of the net. After this the spider travels to the point on the cable from which he wants to locate his net, attaches the web to that point and lets drop the next guy, thereby laying the first single guy of the net. Then he crawls back over the same guy to the top again and repeats the act until he has spun eight strands, which make 32 angular divisions in the net. All spiders, as I have observed, make the same kind of a net, with the same number of strands and divisions.

"Now he proceeds to put in the network by starting from the center, where he attaches his web, then with circular motion traveling from guy to guy, spinning web as he goes, and by its natural moisture sticks it to each guy, carefully carrying the web in his hind feet to prevent it from touching except at the point desired by him. When he has a small distance of the inside completed, he goes to the outside of the net and finishes out any irregular part of the net that does not come within the radius of a circle. After the circle has been attained the same rotary motion is kept up until the net is finished to the center.

"Here comes the most comic feature of net building—the test of the durability of the work by the spider himself. As soon as the net is finished he puts every guy through the severest test by sharp, brisk jerks, seemingly sufficient to tear the whole net to pieces. The spider's antics just then are certainly amusing. If the spider finds the web is not taut, he will go to the end of the guy rope, stretch it until the net suits him and reattach the guy. If the net still seems loose from the center, the guy will be carried from the center to some convenient point to give the net its proper shape. This is only done when necessary, displaying the great intelligence of the insect.

"The nets are perched so as to catch mosquitoes and small insects. The struggles of the prey generally seriously damage the nets. The spider himself in the morning demolishes the rest of the web for the day, with the exception of the main guy ropes, retires to a secluded quarter and again appears late in the afternoon, about 4:30 or 5 o'clock, and renews his net. It requires him about an hour and a half to construct the ordinary web. This work is done every day, rain or shine, and both male and female spiders are equally industrious. The baby spiders are taught industry, beginning net building right after their birth. They will select a corner in the big net of the parent and build a small web with the same accuracy and precision as the older insect.

"While building his net the spider takes no notice of the accumulation of insect life in its meshes, and when his work of building is finished he pounces upon them ravenously, consuming them in toto. You cannot knock or blow these spiders out of their nets, nor can they be taken unawares. When they fall, their own net is attached to them, and they can almost touch the water and then quickly veer back on the silken string which they spun while falling. The web is always attached to them. When the main guy of the net becomes too full of insect debris for convenience and comfort, the spider goes out, consuming all before him and at the same time spinning a fine web behind, entirely renewing the guy.

"The silken thread is first liquid, but instantly becomes solidified when it comes in contact with the air, and when the spider drops out of his net, as if falling, it is indeed funny to see him run back again in an instant over the thread which he spun while falling."—Pittsburg Gazette.
