AT HOME.

Mrs. Herbert J. Kirkland will be "At Home" to her friends on Thursday afternoon, July the 19th inst. Afterwards on the first Thursday of each month.

The S.S. Sonoma leaves Ladner at 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.; leaves Steveston at 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Every day except Sunday.

BRAN, SHORTS, Whole Corn, Cracked Corn, Rice Meal, Chit Rice, Chick Feed, Timothy and Clover Seeds, Sutton's Garden and Field Seeds may be obtained at Brackman-Ker Milling Co.'s warehouses, Ladner, from Mr. H. N RICH, Local Agent.

BAND NOTES.

The Band wish it made known that the weekly concerts on Friday evenings, will be discontinued until after the busy season is over, owing to the fact that the farmer members find it quite impossible to attend.

From remarks overheard at Cloverdale on the 12th, the Band may take it that their services were much appreciated by the residents of that place, the opinion apparently being that they would be a credit to a very much larger place than Ladner.

Misses Hazel and Bernice Shirley returned home yesterday from visiting friends up-river.

Surrey Council.

Council met in the Town Hall, Surrey Centre, July 7th, the Reeve and all members being present.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Jas. Gaudin, Agent Department Marine and Fisheries, re Johnston road bridge, saying as the year of grace has expired, he would be pleased to be advised when the contract was let and also to receive a plan of the bridge for the information of the Department.

From A. Campbell Reddie, Deputy Provincial Secretary, saying, "I am directed to state for the information of the Reeve and Council that under the powers conferred upon the Lieutenant-Governor in Council by Sec 16a of the 'Benevolent Societies Act' as enacted by Sec 4 of Chapter 3 of the Statutes of 1905, the incorporation of the Society known as the 'Cloverdale Club' has been revoked and the Association dissolved from the 25th day of June, 1906."

From W. J. Walker, chartered accountant, saying he had struck the dyking rates as follows:—General, interest 8-10 mill, Sinking Fund 5-10; Local, interest 6 mills, Sinking Fund 3½ mills. Received

From Jos Shannon, saying he had completed his contract of deepening the Milton ditch, that it was being damaged by Armstrong's cattle tramping in it, and suggesting that a couple of culverts be put across it. Received.

The clerk was instructed to write to G. Kaiser that the Council will pay him $30 for his clearing and moving his fence for road line; also to write to J. Tamboline to have the Canadian thistles on his land cut at once.

The following tenders were accepted:

Ward 1, Hauling hard-pan on C. M. road, at 75 cents per yard and fixing bill for $64 50 to E. F. Trousdell.

Ward 3, Draw, Johnston road bridge, to W. Williams and T. W. Hardy for $1,000.

Ward 4, Town Line road, fixing approaches $18, hauling gravel and rock 90 cents per yard, to W. C Anderson.

Ward 5, Stevenson road, cutting brush and removing logs, 70 cents per rod, to W. Williams. C M. road, graveling 100 yards at 80 cents per yard and grading and removing stones on hill 20 rods at $1 per rod to J. Keery.

The following appropriations were made.

Ward 1, $25 for Hjorth road for gravel.

Ward 5. $25 for gravelling south end C. M. road, to be done by day work also tenders to be in at next meeting for gravelling new grade on north end of H. P. road.

Coun. Lawrence was empowered to furnish power and a man in the pit for assistance to gratuitous labor on C. R. road ward 5, and also to have about 20 rods of grading done on the same road.

The usual monthly accounts were passed and cheques issued.

Council then adjourned to meet again on Saturday, August 4th, at 1 o'clock p. m.

Capt. Dreyfus has been completely exonerated at last.

The Dominion House prorogued at noon yesterday after having been in session since March 8th.

APPEAL TO NATURALISTS

The Natural History Society has undertaken the work of establishing a Wild Flower Garden in this city. We have secured a most eligible site in Beacon Hill Park, and the City Authorities have promised to make us two small rocky ponds.

Our aim is to secure a representative collection of the manybeautiful wild flowers and shrubs native to this province.

We now appeal to anyone who is interested in the flora of this particular locality to help us. We want this fall only those subjects that will thrive on rocks and in dry situations, as we shall not have water until next season.

Our funds are limited and we cannot offer to pay for plants but will gladly pay freight charges. It is a labor of love on our part, and we shall be glad to hear from anyone able and willing to help us in the good work.

ED. ALEX. WALLACE,
President.

Victoria B. C.

The grain is ripening off very fast now and ere another issue appears quite a quantity of barley will have fallen to the reapers.

J Milne, general manager, and C. Rummel, manager of the light department of the P. C. E. R. Co., paid a short visit to Kirkland's Island and Ladner yesterday in connection with the electric lighting.

THE TWELFTH.

The very finest kind of weather greeted the large number of people who hold July 12th to be the day of days in the whole year; this was especially lucky so far as the local Orange Lodge was concerned for surely nothing could have fitted in better for the long drive to Cloverdale and back. Before eight o'clock the Ladner contingent was well on the road, thus taking advantage of the cool of the morning and the pleasant breeze off the Gulf, arriving at Cloverdale nicely before the heat of the day which makes driving through a bush road oppressive.

Shortly before eleven all the visiting lodges had assembled on the main street and, with the Ladner Band at the head of the procession, started for the grounds, some half mile from the village of Cloverdale, where the demonstration proper was to take place—these could not have been better chosen for the purpose—seats having been arranged under the trees and a small platform erected for the speech-making of the afternoon with a nice open field close by for the sports.

On arrival at the grounds, cheers were given for King William III., Prince of Orange, which were very lustily joined in by all, after which an adjournment was made under the "greenwood tree" to await luncheon which was served on the grounds, the tables being nicely shaded by small trees cut and set in the ground for that purpose.

After luncheon some selections by the Band started the proceedings, followed by some most excellent speeches by the clergy of the district, whose watchword to the members of this great Order was most emphatic, "Stand by your constitution and practice what you preach." The Rev. Mr. Owen laid particular stress on the fact that though denominational differences made it impossible to teach the Scriptures in the schools one must not lose sight of the fact that home is, after all, the place par excellence where religion should be instilled into the minds of the young. A few more selections by the Band and cheers for Their Most Gracious Majesties King Edward VII. and his consort brought this part to a close.

A collection was then taken up for the sports which were shortly under way in the field before mentioned. We did not note any records being broken, principally owing to the fact that the heat, by this time, was almost unbearable in the open, and the cool of the trees more alluring than the programme of sports, still everyone seemed to enjoy them nevertheless. Another programme by the Band, after the sports had been run off, brought a very enjoyable afternoon to a close. Tea, served on the grounds, was most pleasant, after which the various contingents from Langley, Hall's Prairie, &c., might have been seen starting for home.

Taken all in all a very pleasant, and for those who listened to the speeches, a most profitable day, and one, although not so brilliant as those which sometimes take place at Vancouver and New Westminster, yet calling for a large measure of praise for those who organized this celebration.

There was quite a good turn-out on Sunday evening last at the annual church parade.

SATURDAY, JULY 14, 1906.

We are pleased to note that men from the high lands have made a fresh appearance here. This is the most desirable class to employ and it is to be hoped that comfortable quarters will be provided for them so that they will have a good report to take back with them.

When hiring Hindoos there is this satisfaction to be derived: They are British subjects; they have fought, and are ready to fight again, for our Empire, and, therefore, are entitled to our best and kindest treatment. Also, remember that they look for much from us as a Christian people. Don't lower the Standard.

During the past week or so a number of undesirables have drifted in here, who will neither work themselves nor let others. When this class puts in an appearance a sharp eye should be kept on them and, after they have been noticed telling others not to work for less than an exorbitant price they should be passed on. The cities do this, why not the rural districts.

As will be seen by reference to a letter in another column, the Foreman of the Railroad Company denies the existence of a danger spot at the crossing on the Monkman road. Now, we contend the ditch is the property of the Municipality and the Council, therefore, would be held responsible in case of an accident, other than a railway accident, occurring at that or any similar point from any defect whatsoever.

During the recent parades and open-air concerts put up by the Band boys, we have noted the dilapidated condition of the uniforms. Some are small, some are short and some had none at all. Now, if we have a number of young men willing to devote their time and attention towards the building up of a band such as we have, we think it would be a good idea to see to it that they have good uniforms to parade in. Let us have your opinion on the matter.

UP TO DATE.

Bulletin No. 18, issued by the B. C. Department of Agriculture, is of especial value to those building or contemplating building new barns, stables or dairies as it obtains new and up-to-date plans for all outbuildings needed on the farm. The plans have been studied out by F. M. Logan, B.S.A., who is a practical as well as theoretical builder, therefore we feel it to be our duty to draw the attention of our patrons to this work. Anyone wishing to see a copy may do by giving us a call.

THAT CROSSING.

EDITOR DELTA TIMES:

Sir: In the issue of the Delta Times for July 7th, I observed an item calling the attention of the Council to the dangerous condition of the railway crossing over the ditch on the Moakman road.

The public crossing over the Railway line is along the centre of the Monkman road. This crossing is in good condition. The Railway Company maintains no crossing over the ditch except for Railway use.

The dangerous trap described does not or did not exist in the public crossing. The Railway culvert referred to is not intended for public use.

Trusting you will give this place in your next issue

I am, yours truly,
M. HARRINGTON,
Foreman for Railway Company.

MUCH BETTER.

An Irish farm laborer, desiring to improve his position, obtained a situation as a bricklayer's assistant.

Being inexperienced, Pat handled the hod very awkwardly, and, on ascending the ladder, a couple of bricks fell to the ground, narrowly missing the gaffer's head.

"Hi! my man," shouted the gaffer, "when you come down I'll give you the sack."

"Thank ye, sor," said Pat. "Shure I could carry them better in a sack than in this blowed thing."—Ex.

Bowel Complaint in Children.

During the summer months children are subject to disorders of the bowels which should receive careful attention as soon as the first unnatural looseness of the bowels appears. The best medicine in use for bowel complaint is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy as it promptly controls any unnatural looseness of the bowels. —For sale by All Druggists.

"Oh!" said the minister, "don't you know there is an old superstition that a piece of money will be required to pay for the ferrying across the dark river"

Ownership of Stage "Business."

One of the peculiar things about a copyrighted play is that any little piece of business or any new lines which may be inserted in the manuscript while a stock company is playing the drama belong thereafter to the man who owns the copyright.

Every time a stock company rents a play for production from the owner of the copyright it is cut, interlined and added to before it is produced. A stage manager, for instance, may interpolate some speeches in order to work up to the introduction of a song or specialty, or he may strengthen the climax by putting in some new and strong lines. Often these interpolated lines prove to be the most striking in the play and make decided hits. If they are left in when the manuscript goes back to its owner, they become his property absolutely and may not be used by the man who wrote them in any other production; therefore shrewd managers, before they return a play to its owner, always take great pains to erase every scrap of correction or interlineation. In this way only may they keep what really belongs to them.

Discovering a Gold Mine.

Gold was discovered in California in 1848 and in Colorado in 1858. The discovery was accidental in both cases, and the fact created the impression that mines were "lying around loose." Adventurers drifted about in hope of "stumbling upon a mine." Mr. Thayer in his "Marvels of the New West" mentions several instances of lucky "stumbling." Three men while looking for gold in California discovered the dead body of a man who evidently had been prospecting. "Poor fellow!" said one of the trio. "He has passed in his checks." "Let's give him a decent burial," said another. "Some wife or mother will be glad if ever she knows it." They began to dig a grave. Three feet below the surface they discovered signs of gold. The stranger was buried in another place, and where they had located a grave they opened a gold mine.

Tea Drunkards.

Tea drunkards are nearly as numerous as opium fiends and social gamblers among our less guarded maids and matrons of the idle aristocracy of wealth. It is a terrible dissipation. Some of the victims boil the tea until every bit of the quercitannic acid is extracted from the leaves, which renders the beverage bitter and dangerous. It is so astringent that no mucous membrane can readily overcome its effect. Women who revel and luxuriate like it because it is a good "pick me up."—New York Press.

Willing to Try.

"For the first year of our married life, dear," said the young man who was poor, but had prospects, "we shall have to live principally on love."

"Well, people can live on spoon victuals, can't they, George?" she said, snuggling closer to him.

No Danger.

"Do you think there is any danger of America being dominated by Europe?"

"No, sir," answered Mr. Meekton with extraordinary emphasis; "not so long as eminent Europeans continue to marry American girls."

Deeper Meaning.

"I went to the church fair last night, and I think I see a new meaning in that old adage now."

"What's that?"

"It's my idea that none but the brave have any business there."

A Boy's Travels.

Little Reggie—I went way around the world last year with my father.

Little Jimmie (aged twelve)—That's nothin'. I've been around the sun twelve times now, and I'm on my thirteenth trip.

What is known as "goose flesh" usually results from a low condition of the system and is really a slight chill. If you have such attacks often, it would be wise for you to consult a physician.

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction.

When Maxim, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was, therefore, a great surprise, instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statement. What they do claim is that it will positively cure diarrhœa, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels, and has never been known to fail. For sale by All Druggists.

TWO OBLIGING MEN.

Each Was the Victim In a Street Car Fare Transaction.

It was in a Boston street car. When the car stopped at a crossing, a lady got up and went to the door. As she rose there was the chink of a coin on the floor, but before it occurred to any one to stop her she was out of the car and across the street. Two ladies who had sat next to her looked with anxious indifference on the floor. One of them leaned slightly forward, but said nothing. Just as the conductor was reaching for the bell rope a young man spied the coin and dashed out of the car. He caught the lady who had left the car, handed her the coin, ran back, caught the step of the car as the motors began to sing in crescendo and sat down breathless. One of the two ladies opposite him leaned forward and said coldly, "Young man, what did you do with the nickel I dropped?" The passengers tittered. An old man at the other end of the car turned to his neighbor. "That reminds me," he said, "of something that happened to my wife years ago.

"It was before the days of conductors, when we used to drop our nickels into a slot, and they ran down a groove to the box behind the driver.

"My wife had started out with a little change and one of those troublesome five dollar goldpieces which used to be more commonly in circulation than they are now. Her eyes were not good, and so she was nervous about her goldpiece and had it on her mind all the way downtown.

"When she took a car for home, she met a friend and grew interested in conversation with her. She put her coin in the slot absentmindedly. The driver turned as it struck the box. You remember the coin fell into a glass compartment first, and then the driver pushed a lever which sent it into the strong box below.

"As my wife heard the click of the lever she thought of her five dollar goldpiece. She looked in her purse. Sure enough, it was gone. She went forward and spoke to the driver. He said he hadn't looked very carefully, but he thought there were only three nickels in the glass receptacle when he pushed the lever.

"My wife insisted. The driver said if she would ride to the end of the line the cashier at the station would open the box. This meant a journey of two miles beyond our street, and my wife was in a hurry.

"An old gentleman who sat by the door said he was going to the end of the line and offered to give her $4.95 cents and get the goldpiece at the station. My wife thanked him and took the money. When she got home, she found the five dollar goldpiece in the lining of her purse.

"Next day I went to the station. The cashier said an old gentleman had made him open the box. There was no goldpiece. The old gentleman had left in a rage, refusing to give his name. He said he had been swindled and did not want to be known for a fool.

"We advertised in the papers, but we never heard from him."—Youth's Companion.

Animal Worship Among the Hebrews

The Old Testament records show, notwithstanding the various revisions through which these venerable books have passed, many indications of animal worship among the Israelites, which must have lasted for ages before the prohibition inculcated in the second line of the Decalogue was formulated. At a comparatively late date "Jehovah was worshiped under the popular symbol of a bull, while the twelve oxen upholding the laver in Solomon's temple, as well as the horns adorning the altar, were drawn from the prevalent bull worship."

Modern research has also proved that the cherubim were represented in the form of winged bulls. M. Lenormant in his famous book on the "Beginnings of History" says that during the time of the kings and prophets "most assuredly the cherubim, as there described, are animals."
