MARA NOTES.

BORN.—At Mara, to Mr. and Mrs. T. Gray, a daughter.

Three very enjoyable dances have been held during the past three weeks.

Skunks are very numerous now and many chickens have been killed by them. Charles Little lost twenty-five.

Mrs. Daley disappeared on Saturday night and has been traced to Winnipeg. It is hoped she will come back an she has a family of little children which need a mother's care, the youngest girl being only nine months old, but as she took a large amount of money with her it is feared she has made a bolt for freedom from the bonds of matrimony, as we learn that she threatened to leave her husband. She had been suffering from strange nervous spells for some time and fainting fits, somewhat resembling epilepsy and it is thought that she is somewhat unhinged in her mind under the strain, which may account for her erratic action. She is said to have burnt up her children's clothes before she went.

LOCAL NOTES.

Mrs. C. F. Collin visited Armstrong Wednesday.

The Misses Spencer, of Kamloops, made a short visit to Enderby on Tuesday and Wednesday, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Martyn. The Misses Spencer were returning from Summerland and were present at the opening of the college classes of the newly organized Baptist college there. Miss E Spencer is a member of the Provincial Board of Education.

In connection with the New Westminster Exhibition the Canadian Pacific Railway will make reduced rates from all points in British Columbia and Alberta as far as McLeod and Edmonton. Tickets will be sold from September 28th to October 3rd. good to return until October 11th. The rates from Okanagan Valley points will be as follows:—Enderby, $11.70; Armstrong, $12.00; Vernon, $12.40; Okanagan Landing, $12.55; Kelowna, $13.40; Peachland, $13.95; Summerland, $14.20; Penticton, $14.45. Further information can be secured from any agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Harvest Festival services were held at S. George's church on Sunday last, good congregations being present both morning and evening. The decorations of grain, fruits, flowers, etc., were most tastefully arranged, and presented a scene of surpassing beauty. The effect, at the evening service, with the brilliant altar lights among the brasses and the foliage and flowers, was simply indescribable. The solemnity and dignity of the English Church service, impressive at all times, are doubly so amid such surroundings. The music; owing to the unavoidable absence of several members of the choir, scarcely came up to the standard which we expect to find at S. George's on such occasions, but the congregation joined in most heartily, and the effect, on the whole, was very pleasing, and entirely expressive of the festal spirit of the occasion. The Vicar, who officiated at both services, although suffering from a severe cold, delivered two splendid sermons, the evening discourse being particularly impressive.

We are very glad that the freight train is now running. Having no telegraph operator at Mara, people have to wait many hours for the train, not only once or twice, but nearly every day. It is time the C. P. R. put an operator at Mara station, as it is well known that the most dangerous piece of track on the whole road is between Sicamous and Mara. The delay of special excursion tiains can ba blamed to having no operator at Mara.

The attention of the C.P.R. should be drawn to the state of the station yard at Mara. The public crossing has for some years been very inconvenient and as a consequence people have to make other crossings and entrances to the yard when they are loading cars. The result is that the fence is always down and range animals are frequently found on the track. It is said that the authorities have been asked two or three times to put the crossing directly by the station and freight shed, opposite the bridge.

A short while ago a bad accident occurred on the bridge here which might have meant the death of little Albert Gray. Mr. T. Gray was hauling lumber across the bridge for the Rothesay Lumber Company, his little boy accompaning him. When part of the way across the bridge the horses suddenly fell through a rotten plank. During the scramble one of the broken planks hit the boy and raked him off the wagon and under the wheels and was pushed through a hole in the planking into the river. Mr. Gray was so so taken up attending to the fractious horses that he did not notice his boy in the water till Phillip Daley yelled "Hurry up before he drowns. Albert is in the water." Fortunately Willie Witala saw him and without hesitation plunged in and pulled the lad out.

Rancher's Wife Has Run Away

As mentioned by our Mara correspondent, the wife of Mr. P. Daley disappeared from her home in Mara on Saturday last. Since then she has been located in Winnipeg tarough the the efforts of the Provincial Police, and held there pending investigations. Word, however, was sent yesterdy to the Winnipeg officials that the woman must be liberated, as the charge of theft could not be sustained. It is said that she had been enticed away from her home by a man who had been working around Mara for some time, and who left for Winnipeg a few days after Mrs. Daley disappeared.

Horace Dorer, of New Westminster, is visiting the Okanagan. Mr. Dorer spent Friday in town, leaving on Saturday morning's train for southern points.

The Vernon Board of Trade has taken in hand the making of an exhibit at the Provincial Fair. Their action should be heartily endorsed and assisted by the various towns in the valley.

A number of Enderby citizens took in the second day at the Vernon Fair.

The annual shoot of the Rifle Association will be held on October 10th and 11th. Please note.

The Presbyterians have kindly withdrawn their service on Sunday morning on account of the anniversary service of the Methodist church.

The Freemasons of Enderby Lodge will attend S. George's church on Sunday week, the 30th of September in regalia.

The city council held their usual weekly meeting on Wednesday evening. Two matters came up for discussion. One was the receipt of another revised estimate from the School Board, considerably in excess of any of the foregoing. It was decided that, as the rate of taxation for the year had been struck, this estimate could not be entertained and that the previous one would have to stand. The tax by-law was also given its first and second readings and passed.

Mr. W. Richardson, accompanied by his daughter, Miss E. Richardson, spent a few days in Enderby last week visiting his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Acton. Mr. Richardson, who is a prominent figure in Edmonton real estate circles, had been making a tour of the coast, and on his way home paid a visit to his daughter and incidentally obtain a glimpse of the Okanagan Valley, of which he has heard so much. Mr. Richardson was greatly taken up with our climate, the bright sun and blue skies, balmy breezes and the air of calmness which seemed to pervade everything, being just to his liking. He considered that this place was not advertised sufficiently, saying that he had no idea that such a pretty and thriving place as Enderby existed. He was sure that if it were more widely known, the two hotels in this place would not commence to accommodate the number of visitors who would be induced to come here. Mr. Richardson and Miss Richardson left for home on Monday.

MILLS CHANGE HANDS.

It was announced on Wednesday that the mills and interests of the Kamloops Lumber Company had been sold to Minneapolis capitalists.

The Rogers Lumber Company have bought the Enderby property and limits contiguous thereto, while other Minneapolis lumber interests have secured control of the Kamloops mill, and limits on Shuswap lake and elsewhere. The purchase price is said to be in the neighborhood of $750,000, and possession is taken on the 24th inst.

The Kamloops Lumber Company, whose headquarters are at Enderby, have large mills at the latter place and at Kamloops, together with a shingle mill at Annis. The company was organized by Mr. George McCormick, and its shareholders include a number of Ontario people, with whom Mr. McCormick was connected in business in the east. This concern is one of the largest in the Interior. The purchase of the interests of the Kamloops Lumber Company is the second large transfer of a British Columbia lumber industry to men from the United States. The other most recent buy was that of the Arrowhead Lumber Company's property by Mr. Charles R. Lamb and associates, of Minneapolis, who paid $750,000 for it.

Among the many Northwest visitors who have stopped off at Enderby during the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Powell and children, of Edmonton. Like a great many more Edmonton people, Mr. Powell had been spending a holiday at the coast, and on his way back had to stay off at Sicamous and visit the Okanagan, and incidentally to see the writer, whom they know very well at the northern city. Mr. Powell was much impressed with our climate and country. Mr. Powell is an old-timer of the north countrp, having resided there for a great many years. Mr. and Mrs. Powell left for home on Saturday.

The anniversary service of the Methodist church, together with the harvest home, will be held at the church on Sunday next, September 23rd. Rev. J. Pye, of Salmon Arm, will preach. Gifts of flowers, fruit, etc., for the decoration of the church will be gratefully received. On Monday evening following, September 24th, a sacred concert will be given in the church by local talent. Full particulars will be announced later by posters. Remember the date. The following are expected to take part in the programme of the sacred concert of the Methodist church: Rev. J. S. Pye, Mr. and Mrs. Howarth, Mr. Fraser, Mrs. Crane, Miss Marshall, Mrs. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Miller and the choir.

The members of Enderby Lodge, A. F. & A. M., No. 40, will attend Divine worship at S. George's church on Sunday, September 30th, 1906, at 11 a.m., in regalia. The brethren will assemble at the Masonic Hall at 10 a.m., and proceed in a body to the church.

Notes and Comments

ONCE AGAIN.

We ask of our readers no apology for again bringing forward our suggestion that the business men and private individuals of Enderby organize a Board of Trade. Many prominent citizens expressed themselves as heartily in accord with the idea, and hoped that one or two of our more active public men would take the matter up.

It will not be too much to reiterate a few of the many ways in which it could turn its energies. Its primary object would be of course, to seek to increase the population of our district. It is a recognized fact that Enderby can well support many more people. Ranchers with large holdings are only too willing to divide their properties up into smaller farms, provided they can sell such portions at a reasonably fair figure and at the same time enhance the value of the remaining land. Real estate firms have spent, and are spending large sums of money in advertising these very properties; why then, cannot each and every one of our people assist in this effort? It can be done and is being done in other places by such an organization as referred to above. You have a friend in the home province to whom a description of our valley, with its many home-providing advantages, would be interesting; you might write that friend and tell him just what you have found the place to be. Your neighbor has a friend who he might interest, or some citizen has an idea, which, if put into effect, would result beneficially to the entire community, but because he could find no other place to air his views but the street corner, no good results are brought about.

Enderby also wants industries, wants better railway facilities, wants a hundred and one things of which our citizens collectively have knowledge of, and that are daily felt by one or another; but because there is no organization to which such wants may be made known, nor by which better conditions may be pressed for, we drift along and complain of our luck in becoming anchored to such a place.

The members of a Board of Trade need not be confined to the business men. One and all of our citizens, no matter in which way he earns his daily bread, can take an active part in the work of such an organization. Will not two or three get together and set the ball rolling? Like the small ball of snow, which, if set rolling down a hill, will grow larger and larger with every foot that it travels—so will the benefits that we shall reap from a Board of Trape become equally larger. A start is all that is wanted.

It is to be regretted that the decision of the Education Department is that it does not see its way clear to further enlarge the boundaries of Enderby city school district, so as to include certain properties outside the city limits, from which properties children attend the city school. It is manifestly unfair that ratepayers of this district should have to pay for the education of the children from these properties, and, on the other, also unfair that these children should be deprived of educational facilities. No one in the district would wish that these children be refused admittance into our school—though it is crowded. Seeing that the land in question has no immediate prospect of forming part of a rural school district, it should certainly be included in the Enderby district until such time when a district shall be organized in its vicinity, which time, no doubt, will come in the near future. We hope that the authorities at Victoria will see this question from our point of view, and accede to the request of the city council. The owners of these properties wish to be included, and, to our mind, there appear to be no difficulties in the way.

We acknowledge the receipt of "The Heart of Things", written by H. M. Walker, (whom many of our readers remember as the founder of this paper,) and published by the Segnogram Company, of Los Angeles. The contents of the book are a series of essays, written in Mr. Walker's style, so well known to our readers. Not having had the time, we must apologize to the author for not publishing at this moment a more extended review of his book. But, as soon as we have digested its contents, we will return to it in the introduction the author says:

"In writing this book the writer has sought to avoid all superfluity of expression and has given in the simplest words at his command the thoughts that have come in those quiet moments with Hank. With no thought of creating a sensation, and no desire to advance some fine theory, but just to get close to your heart, and, as brother to brother, reason with you about those little things that cling to us and cause us pain and sometimes joy."

During the visit to Kamloops Duncan Ross, M. P., was interviewed by the Sentinel in connection with the rumor that the Dominion Government contemplates making some important changes in the administration of the Crown lands in the railway belt in British Columbia. Mr. Ross confirmed the rumor. He referred to the changes in the local land office and confirmed the report that A. B. Currie, of Salmon Arm, was to be placed in charge of the office. He referred to the numerous complaints that had arisen in connection with the effort that had been made to administer the lands of the railway belt under regulations that were framed to suit conditions in the Northwest, where the physical features of the country were entirely different from those in this province. He had succeeded in convincing the department that it was time for a change and the Minister had decided to make regulations more applicable to the railway belt, and to carry out a policy under which the lands would be properly classified, and under which there would be no clashing of interests as at present. With proper encouragement and with a rational administration of government lands there was no reason why Kamloops should not become the centre of one of the most important fruit growing centres of the province. To carry out contemplated improvements would take some time as it would also take time to remove some of the difficulties which had cropped up in recent years. It was felt that in carrying out a vigorous administration of what had in recent years become an important section of the Dominion it would be necessary to make a change in the local office. Mr. Bannerman had been a very faithful servant who had assiduously applied himself to the ever-increasing work, but unfortunately, through serious and prolonged illness it was felt that he was physically incapable of handling the work of office under new conditions. Mr. Currie was young and energetic.

At an editorial convention in Kansas one of the country editors offered the following toast:

"To save a newspaper man from starvation, take his paper and pay him for it promptly. To save him from bankruptcy advertise in his paper liberally. To save him from despair, send him every item of news you can get hold of. To save him from profanity write your correspondence plainly on one side of the sheet and send it in as early as possible. Dead men are the only ones who never make mistakes. Newspaper readers would do well to remember that there are no perfect people—editors or readers.

Lost For Two Days.

The town of Kamloops was thrown into a state of great excitement on Friday night last week, by the disappearance of two little children, brother and sister, aged three and one-half and five years respectively. The children had been missing since four o'clock, but their mother, Mrs. Somerville, widow, was not disturbed until later, when a little boy who had been with them returned from the hills south of Kamloops without his companions. It was ascertained that the three children had followed a team along the Nicola road, but one became frightened and returned, the others continuing. In answer to the mother's appeal for help, friends drove out to look for them, but failing in their search they returned, and the fire alarm was turned in. When the crowd assembled, evplanations were made, and hundreds of men armed with lanterns, set out to search the hills for the missing children. The coyotes howled dismally in the hills when the fire whistle was sounded, and fears for the safety of the little ones increased. All night parties searched diligently, covering many miles of ground, but it was not until an early hour Saturday morning that they were found, nearly six miles from the city, lying fast asleep in the middle of the wagon road. The little girl had undressed, as though to go to bed, and wore only a little shirt, using her clothing as bed covering. Fortunately, the night was not inclement, though chilly. The youngsters were brought into town Saturday morning at seven o'clock, apparently none the worse for their adventure.

Still Trouble in Cuba.

The extra sessions of the Cuban Congress has granted President Palma the fullest powers of carrying on the war including the right to appropriate any public funds for war purposes. The rural guard is increased to ten thousand men and the artillery to twenty thousand. The Liberals and Independants refrained from voting. In his message President Palma complained that the Opposition instead of attempting to win power by votes were attempting to do so by force.

Relic of The Condor.

Purser Alex. Ferguson, of the steamer Amyr, has brought the news from the north that the miners at Herriot Bay have picked up a life-buoy from the crusier Condor. The Condor sailed from Esquimalt for Honolulu on December 2nd, 1901, and has never been seen since. She was a brand new ship never in commission before. On the night of that initial trip there raged the worst storm in the history of the coast.

Humberts go Free.

The council of ministers of France have authorized Minister of the Interior Clemenceau to issue an order for the immediate release of Frederick and Theresa Humbert under the conditional liberty law. The grounds are good conduct for Frederick Humbert and ill-health for Theresa Humbert, who is about to undergo an operation.

"A Change of Ad."

A blacksmith in a small country town not far from Revelstoke has recently posted the following announcement in front of his store. "The reason why I have hitherto been able to sell my goods so much cheaper than anybody else is because I am a bachelor and do not need to make a profit for the maintenance of wife and children. It is now my duty to inform the public that this advantage will be shortly withdrawn from them, as I am about to be married. They will, therefore, do well to make their purchases at once at the old rate."—Mail-Herald.

Prairie Growth.

The census returns for the three Prairie provinces will be complete in about a fortnight. Approximately it is thought the population of Manitoba will be 360,000; Saskatchewan, 260,000 and Alberta 185,000.

Fire on Launch.

News of a terrible accident on a steam launch near Ketchikan last week, by which the lives of two children were lost, has just been received from the north. While returning from Yes Bay to Ketchikan with passengers, the Walrus took fire at night. Captain E. W. Gurney was on watch, and noticing that his lantern was out of order, undertook to fix it, when it exploded, the burning oil dropping into an open five-gallon can about half full of coal oil. In a moment the entire forward part of the vessel was in flames. There were three natives sleeping there, Mary McKay, a grown woman, Emma McKay, a girl of thirteen or fourteen, and Mamie McKay, a child of six. Captain Gurney succeeded in rescuing the woman from the flames, and going back after the children found it impossible to reach them, who perished in the flames.

C. P. R. Steamer Ashore.

A terrific typhoon did enormous damage at Hong Kong on Tuesday. Two steamers were sunk, while the C.P.R. steamer Monteagle went ashore during the gale while lying at anchor.

News From Near & Far

It is reported that the C. P. R. contemplate building a line into Seattle which will be ready in eighteen months. There is at present a feeling among the road officials that an expansive policy is needed, and it appears to be their intention to fight J. J. Hill in his own territory.

The death has occurred of J. R. Glover, the third victim of the recent C. P. R. wreck near Medicine Hat. His injuries were of too serious a nature to permit of the delicate operation on his spine.

The Gilmour Hotel, in Ottawa, was burned to the ground on Saturday night. The hotel was crowded with guests, some of whom are supposed to be dead. The rescued lost all their possessions.

Probably the largest single customs entry ever put through in Canada has passed through the customs house at Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, when 58,875 tons of steel rails for the Grand Trunk Pacific, valued at $1,500,000 were entered. The duty paid was $372,722.31, which is regarded as a record customs payment.

Frank Clark, a diver, recovering concentrates lost a month ago by the collapse of the dock at the Tacoma smelter, has found the skeleton of a man at the bottom of the bay, holding on to the handles of a wheelbarrow. Several years ago an Italian, while wheeling slag from the smelter furnaces, disappeared with the wheelbarrow and it is thought that the remains are his. The bones were held together by the tangle of weeds with the help of the wheelbarrow. The skeleton will be brought to the surface and given burial.

TOWN & DISTRICT . NOTES .

The C.P.R. will build a vessel larger than the Princess Victoria to place on the run between Vancouver and Victoria.

The last day for getting your name upon the provincial voters list is Monday next.

The Methodist church and parsonage has been greatly improved in appearance by the addition of a coat of paint.

Miss A. Worthington arrived on Thursday from the Old Country, and will take up her residence with her brother, H. H. Worthington.

F. M. Logan, B. S. A., of the Department of Agriculture, Victoria, was a passenger on Wednesday's train to Vernon, where he was to judge the agriculture exhibit at the fair there, which opened on the 19th.

The Armstrong Advertiser says that the name of Dr. K. C. McDonald is freely mentioned in Liberal circles as the probable candidate at the next provincial elections.

A Court of Revision for the purpose of hearing and determining any objections against the retention of any names on the register of voters of the Okanagan Electoral District will be held at the Court House, Vernon, on November 5th 1906.

Duncan Ross, M. P., visited Salmon Arm on Wednesday evening and addressed a well attended meeting in the Orange Hall. In the course of his remarks he announced that a vote of five thousand dollars will be placed on the next estimates for a wharf at that point. F. J. Deane, Dr Wade and G. T Mallery accompanied Mr. Ross to Salmon Arm and also briefly addressed the meeting, which was a non-political one. Mr. Ross left for Vernon on Thursday morning.—Sentinel.

The services at S. George's church on Sunday next will be: 8 a.m., Holy Communion; 11 a.m., Matins and sermon; 7.30 p.m., evensong and sermon. Sunday School at 10 a.m., as usual.

It is reported that the two Armstrong papers are about to be amalgamated.

Five children were drowned at Port Felix, near Halifax, on September 14th while berry picking.

The Education Department at Victoria will not increase the boundaries of the city school district, so as to include certain lands, the children from which are attending the city school. However, the council will not allow the matter to drop, and further correspondence in the matter is being carried on by the city.

A. Youngmayr has commenced to clear the ten acres recently acquired by him across the river, and will commence the erection of buildings for his brewery at once. On account of the scarcity of men, the Enderby Brick & Tile Co., are unable to make a fresh kiln of brick and, as a result, Mr. Youngmayr will erect frame buildings.

Garfield Mohr, the well-known real estate agent of Armstrong, was in town last week. Mr. Mohr spent his youthful days in this city and many of his old friends were glad to congratulate him on the progress into prosperity which he has apparently made since drifting from a schoolboy's estate here into that of a full fledged financial agent.—Vernon News.

Geo. Inch pulled into town on Monday with two wagon loads of effects from Armstrong, and left later in the day for the Campbell ranch, which he purchased a short while ago. This place is situated on the bench just north of town, along the Mara road, and is a fine property, admirably suited for dairying and stock raising and for fruit. We are glad to welcome Mr. Inch to Enderby, and hope that residence here will be as pleasant as it will be profitable.

Other towns throughout the Interior are arranging a reception to Earl Grey. Is Enderby going to be the only one that will not officially recognize the visit of the representative of His Majesty King Edward VII? Nothing could be more fitting than for an address to be presented to the Governor-General by the citizens of the first town through which he passes on his way down the Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carlin were in town on Sunday from Kault, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. McVeigh.

R. Bailey went to Armstrong on Monday, where he has the contract for the erection of a large amount of Frost Wire Fence.

Rev D. Campbell was in town on Monday. Mr. Campbell expressed great liking for the tone of the bell which Mrs. Fortune has presented to the Presbyterian church and which has now been hung in the tower.

A ripe wild strawberry was picked along the railroad track near town one morning this week.

The Inland Sentinel of recent date advocates the organization of a co-operative selling institution, such as a Farmers' Exchange at Kmlcops.

A. Fulton has secured the contract for the plumbing and heating work of Dr. Vankleek's new residence at Armstrong.

Nearly seven-tenths of an inch of rain fell between September 4th and 12th.

Duncan Ross, M. P., spent a short while in Enderby on Friday last. Mr. Ross after attending the forestry convention at Vancouver, intends to return to the valley, when he will hold a meeting in Enderby.

An extra special of the B. C. Gazette, dated September 14th, announced that Thursday, October 18th has been set aside as a day of General Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the bountiful harvest and other blessings with which Canada has been favoured this year; and we do invite all our loving subjects throughout Canada to observe the said day as a day of General Thanksgiving.

The Enderby public school opened after the summer holidays with just over one hundred pupils on the roll. Seating accomodation is now taxed to the limit. In fact, in Miss Beattie's room, when all the scholars are in attendance, there are not desks enough. This is another proof of the growing state of our city.

At the recent meeting of the Presbytery held at Revelstoke, the communication from the Assembly on the question of Church Union was taken up and drew forth one of the most hearty discussions that has taken place for some years. A motion was presented by Revs. J. R. Robertson and C. W. White expressing satisfaction with the present movement looking towards union, and commending the matter to the careful consideration of all sessions and congregations. The discussion that followed showed clearly that the question of Church Union is becoming a live one, and that all the matters involved must be looked into. At one o'clock in the morning the debate was adjourned to the next regular meeting of the Presbytery.

Maxwell Smith, Dominion Fruit Inspector, was a passenger on Wednesday morning's train en route to Vernon on business. Mr. Smith said, in a short conversation with a representative of the PROGRESS, that Okanagan fruit had been of a higher quality this year than ever it was before, though at the same time, the quantity was not so great. He was gratified that the quality of the fruit had so improved, which would lead one to suppose that horticulturists remember and put into practice what they had heard from time to time at the various meetings and demonstrations held under the auspices of the B. C. Fruit Growers' Association. While the train waited at the station, Mr. Smith visited the PROGRESS office to view the big apple which is on exhibition there. Mr. Smith acknowledged that it certainly was a large one, of good color and shape, and said that it was a credit to the grower. The apple is to be photographed, with the intention of including it in the exhibit which will be made of B. C. fruit at the coming show of the Royal Horticultural Society in London, England, this fall. The apple has a maximum circumference of sixteen and one-eight inches and a minimum circumference of fifteen inches.
