ADVERTISE.

The proclaiming of the possibilities, etc., of the various districts of the Province seems to be in order. The latest method, though by no means new, is one adopted by the Vancouver World, which journal is at present engaged in publishing write-ups of the various sections of the Okanagan Valley. With the World's undoubted good intentions we have no quarrel, and if our business men see fit to support such a write-up as that given Kelowna, Summerland or Peachland, all well and good. We understand that the World's representative is now in Enderby working on similar lines as pursued by him at the other places mentioned, and before the deal is consumated—if it ever is—we would like to have a little say in the matter, seeing that we have written so much lately re the need of advertising this town and district. In the first place, we might just as well say plump out, without any preliminary beating about the bush, that to our mind, a write-up of Enderby in the semi-weekly edition of the World would not give us full value for our money. The World circulates in a community from which we do not look for settlers. Its readers come principally from among the various farming communities of the Province, and it is not from among ourselves that we expect to obtain settlers. It is from the Prairies and Eastern Canada that we look for settlers for our uncultivated land. In further proof of our contention that such a write-up would not give us value for our money, it is only to be noted that the World Printing and Publishing Co. is advertising its paper in a number of Prairie newspapers, such as Edmonton Journal, that "If you want to keep in touch with British Columbia subscribe for the Semi-Weekly World." They are advertising for readers for the articles which are being paid for by Okanagan business men. By this proceeding we are forced to look upon it as an admission on their part that they have not the class of readers which have to be reached in order that such write-up might be of benefit. No, if Enderby wishes to advertise herself, let us do it ourselves, directly—and reap the benefits in a direct manner. Let us organize, as before suggested, a Board of Trade, and spend the money in the getting up an attractive booklet, and carry on an advertising campaign ourselves in the Northwest, using as mediums such papers as the Winnipeg Free Press, Regina Standard, Brandon Sun, Moose Jaw Times, Calgary Herald and Edmonton Journal. In these advertisements should be set forth the district's possibilities, concluding by saying that on application a booklet describing more fully the country will be forwarded. If our business men see eye to eye with us in the scheme, THE PROGRESS will undertake to receive and answer all enquiries and forward such booklet to all who ask for them.

It is only through judicious advertising that our neighboring towns are making such rapid strides, and Enderby must follow suit. With the World we have no quarrel, but there is only a limited amount of money available for advertising purposes here, and we wish to see it spent to the greatest advantage in several ways to our town.

Another thought in favor of us doing our own horn-tooting! Readers of the Prairie papers—if we know a little of human nature—place more reliance upon information emanating from the town itself, than they are likely to in a write-up appearing in a paper—which, well to say it mildly, is not characterized as being over-reliable.

While upon the subject of advertising, we wish to quote the following from the Kelowna Courier, in an appeal to our business men for a more liberal advertising patronage:

"In connection with the subject of advertising, we would like to present to our readers a case for the local paper, not suggesting that the valley can be advertised in the same way by it as by the metropolitan paper of hundred-fold circulation, but we wish to point out that the advertising done is not one odd supplement in 365 issues, but is persistent week by week throughout the year. Do you realise that every statement of a large fish caught, of a fine deer killed, of a bag of grouse, of a monster apple, of a prodigious crop of potatoes, of perfect weather conditions, of the fruit industry, of the tobacco industry, of every new industry or enterprise, is an advertisement for the valley? No, you don't! And you fail, accordingly, to give the local paper the support it deserves.

"All our local business men are keen to see Kelowna advertised but they do not all appreciate what part the Courier plays, and some regard advertising as a cold-blooded business proposition, through which, by paying a certain amount out for advertising, certain goods are brought before the public and larger quantities are sold. They want a direct return, overlooking the fact that the constant publicity given to the resources of the valley in our news columns brings in new settlers, consequently new customers; and that if it were not for the generosity and public spirit of those merchants who do advertise this paper would cease to exist. In these days no one disputes the benefits to a district of a local paper, and, by a curious paradox, least of all the man who does not advertise. Yet he is selfish and unthinking enough to let others bear the burden which he should gladly share.

SUPPORT THE FAIR.

ON Wednesday and Thursday next week is to be held the fall fair, at Armstrong, of the Armstrong and Spallumcheen Agricultural Society, in the society's new hall at the latter place. Of the two other fairs which have been held in the valley this fall, it cannot be written that they have been an untarnished success. On the other hand, a great deal of apathy has characterized the attitude of the growers towards them. The citizens of the two places took all interest possible in them, and yet the farmers would not do their share towards making the shows a success. The Enderby district is synonymous with the Armstrong and Spallumcheen Agricultural Society, and what this body does concerns Enderby as much as it does our neighbor, and, as we do not want this to be said of the fair of the Northern Okanagan, we say it in no uncertain terms, that every farmer of this district should make an effort to be represented at the Armstrong fair, each, striving his best to make the show a good one, heralding what the Northern Okanagan can do. Show the rest of the valley that we are united and that by being united, we stand. It will not be derogatory to our dignity for us to support a show held in another town. Far from it; it will have the opposite effect. It will help along that feeling of neighborliness among the various sections of the valley which is unfortunately on the wane, and prove a good advertisement for the town. So, let

C. P. R. Freight Held Up.

Freighthandlers of the Canadian Pacific at Fort William, four hundred in number, went on strike on Saturday afternoon last, demanding a rise of five cents an hour. As a result work on handling all package freight is at a standstill, and four vessels are in the harbor awaiting discharge of cargo. The present pay of freighthandlers is twenty cents per hour for week days, and twenty-two and a half cents per hour on Sundays and nights. Serious trouble is anticipated, and twenty-five special policemen have been sworn in and are guarding the company's property. A fire, suspected to have been started by outsider, was discovered under freightshed No. 1. While the firemen worked to extinguish it three hundred strikers and sympathizers looked on and jeered. The freight handlers of the C.P.R. at Port Arthur have also gone out. There the movement of all package freight is tied up, about three hundred men being affected. Several clashes took place on Sunday between the strikers and special constables. The men declare that if non-union workers are brought in to take their places there will be bloodshed. Canadian Northern men have joined the strike. A serious clash occurred at Fort William on Tuesday, between the striking freighthandlers and imported strike breakers from Winnipeg. Over a hundred shots were fired, but there were no casualties.

Helped Himself to $25,000.

One of the employees at the head office of the Bank of British North America on St. James street, Montreal, has been missing since Monday, and the bank authorities declared that they are several thousand dollars short in accounts. Unofficially members of the bank staff have estimated the amount which it is alleged is missing at $25,000.

The Forestry Convention.

The business of the Canadian Forestry Convention has been concluded. At the final meeting resolutions were offered to provide for the better protection of forests from fire, and asking the Dominion government to appoint all foremen and log scalers fire wardens, to obviate the danger of fires. The question of burning of cuttings occupied some time, and while it was the concensus of opinion that all cuttings should be burned, some of the delegates were of the opinion that the wording of the resolution which will be passed should be so put as to differentiate between Ontario and British Columbia limits, as the bark of the trees in this province was much thicker than on Ontario trees, and when a tree with thin bark was scorched borers got into the wood and damaged the timber.

HOW TO PLANT A TREE.

Now that the fall delivery of nursery stock will soon be on, we give Mr. Brandrith's suggestion as to the proper methods to be pursued in planting fruit trees. A hole several inches larger than required to take in the extended roots should be dug, the subsoil being loosened and mixed up to a depth of a foot below the setting of the tree. Any injured roots should be pruned off with a sloping cut from the bottom up, the hole rounded up in the centre, fine loose earth placed over the roots, gently moving the tree up and down meanwhile to allow the soil to settle well round the roots. Then the soil should be firmly tramped round the tree and the hole filled up to the level at which the tree stood in the nursery in old ground, or two inches higher in new ground. As to manure, he found bone the best. An orchard should not be planted among stumps, but the ground should be thoroughly cleared and cultivated first.

With a gaping bullet in his temple and a large calibre revolver still clasped in his right hand, the body of E. Armitage, a young Englishman, was found lying beside the C.P.R. tracks at Yale on Wednesday morning last week.

BETTER THAN EVER.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal grows better year after year. It is truly marvellous what an immense circulation it has. Very few homes in this neighborhood are without it and those do not know what they are missing. The Family Herald's new picture this season is entitled "A Tug of War," one of those beautiful subjects that brighten one's home. To give the Family Herald and Weekly Star along with such a picture for only one dollar can only be done by a paper with the Family Herald's circulation. No other Canadian paper could attempt it.

Ontario Election Frauds.

The arrest of John Gorman at Toronto is said to be the first step in the exposure of the conspiracy that purchased London for the Hon. C. S. Hyman in the bye-election of 1905. The disappointed office-seeker has made a clean breast of the machines and methods and a most sensational trial is anticipated.

Is Cuba Annexed?

President Palma has resigned and the United States has interfered to prevent chaos in Cuba. Taft will be declared provisional military governor of the Island. An abortive meeting of Cuban Congress brought matters to a climax. Marines were landed from United States warships and preparations for armed intervention went on all Friday night. Cuba is now virtually annexed by the United States.

Terrible Storm.

Between seventy-five and one hundred lives are lost, a score of vessels driven ashore or wrecked in various parts of the Gulf of Mexico and damage amounting to $4,500,000 in Mobile and several millions in outside towns and districts is the record of a storm which raged all Wednesday and Thursday last.

The C.P.R. has made a voluntary donation of $200,000 to Winnipeg council to help the city in securing an adequate water supply.

Announcement has been made that within a few days the reward for the capture of Bill Miner and gang, amounting to $11,500, will be paid.

Two discoveries of rich ore have been made during the past week in the province, which would appear to bear out the contention that rich ore is likely to be found at depth. The strikes were made at the Centre Star, Rossland, and St. Eugene mine.

The C.P.R. will reduce the service through British Columbia to one train a day on October 14th. However, owing to the enormously heavy travel into the Northwest, the C.P.R. will maintain a double daily train service each way between Montreal and Calgary.

A bad wreck occurred at MacLeod Junction last week. A freight train dashed into an open switch. Engineer Fairley was crushed to death beneath the engine. Six coal cars were wrecked.

A strong constitution means a healthy mind and good work—and good work means advancement. To have a strong constitution one must have the best meats, and that's what you will find at the new brick block. Always fresh, juicy and tender.

TOWN & DISTRICT . NOTES .

Mrs. Dr. Bentley left on Tuesday on a short visit to coast points.

Mrs. Dagg left on Friday for Ashcroft, where she will visit her brother for a short while.

Enderby plays Armstrong at baseball on the second day of the Armstrong fair.

The stork was busy last week at Salmon Arm, says the Sentinel, leaving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McGuire a baby boy, and a wee girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hill. There is great rejoicing in both families.

Mr. and Mrs. Hale returned on Saturday from a visit to the coast. Mr. Hale left on Wednesday for Fernie.

The children of S. George's Sunday School, to the number of nineteen, gathered at Mrs. Dr. Bentley's residence on Thursday evening last week and enjoyed a tea prepared by a number of the ladies of S. George's Guild. After doing full justice to the good things provided, an hour or two was spent in games and other amusements which delight the childish heart. That the kindly thought for the children of the Sunday School was much appreciated by the children and parents it is safe to say.

With frost in the air, curling is again being talked about. Mr. Bailey, of Kelowna, while en route to the New Westminster fair last week, in conversation with a PROGRESS representative, said that he hoped efforts would be made to form an Okanagan Curling association. Armstrong will have a rink this year, and so all the towns in the valley can now play the "roarin' game." If we remember rightly, a committee was appointed at the close of the bonspiel held here last winter for the purpose of forming an association. One, if not two, of the committee have removed from our midst, and so nothing is being done, on that account. It is up to the Enderby curlers to set the ball a-rolling, and a meeting of the curlers would now be in order.

Mr. A. E. Taylor, accompanied by Mrs. Taylor and children, returned on Friday from a visit to friends at New Denver.

Mrs. McCormick and Miss McCormick left on Monday on a short visit to the coast.

The locators of the placer mines on Deep Creek, near Armstrong, are credited with making two and a half dollars a day at pan washing.

F. W. Breedon, of the local branch, is relieving at the Vernon branch of the Bank of Montreal. C. Collas is still making Enderby his home at present, while F. Breedon is having a brief change in Vernon.

Word has reached Enderby of the death of Mr. C. E. Fripp, at Montreal, last week. Mr. Fripp, our readers will remember, left here a short while ago, en route to England.

L. E. Gosling, who has had charge of the Presbyterian mission field between Sicamous and Albert Canyon, during the summer, was in town on Friday saying good bye to his many friends preparatory to leaving for Winnipeg, where he will spend the winter at college.

Wm. Matheson went to Vernon on Wednesday, where he will enter the hospital to obtain treatment for his leg, which has been troubling him again of late. Both F. Franklin and C. Garden are also patients at that institution, and we wish for them all a speedy recovery from their respective trouble.

A runaway caused a little excitement on Tuesday morning. G. Parkinson's team was standing on the dump by the warehouse of the Farmers' Exchange, while potatoes were being unloaded from the wagon. In some way the horses became scared, which started them down the incline. This frightened them still more, and they finally ran away. They dashed through A. Baird's fence, continuing their mad career till brought to a halt by colliding with a gatepost on H. Byrnes' property. Though no damage was sustained by the horses, the tongue of the wagon was broken, while the contents of the wagon were strewn along the course of the flight of the horses.

Death of Larry Doran.

Residents of this district were terribly distressed last week to hear of the sad condition of L. Doran, the late popular conductor of the local passenger train, and on Monday shocked to hear of his demise while on his way to Chicago, whither he was being sent by willing friends to obtain skilled treatment for the sad affliction which had overtaken him. But the loving efforts of his friends were all in vain, for he died on the train while it was crossing North Dakota. Word reached the town last week that a severe attack of locomotor ataxia had overtaken the late Mr. Doran, and a subscription taken up to defray the expense of taking him to Chicago, in order to obtain treatment there. A goodly sum was collected here by his friends, which, together with that raised at Armstrong, Vernon, Kamloops and Revelstoke, made a magnificent sum of over $600. Mrs. Doran, and J. McCullough, accompanied Mr. Doran for Chicago, but the sorrowful journey ended as above stated. The late Mr. Doran leaves a wife and two young children to mourn his loss, who have the most heartfelt sympathy of the whole of the valley, for the deceased man was held in the highest esteem alike by residents and travellers. The funeral will take place at Kamloops, all arrangements being in the hands of the Knights of Pythias, of which order he was a member.

M. Hupel was in town from his ranch at Mabel Lake this week. Mr. Hupel was getting a number of photographs of that part of the country finished for Mr. Rogers, of the Rogers Lumber Co., who have recently purchased the saw mill here. Mr. Rogers is very much impressed with the situation of Mabel Lake as a tourist's and sportsman centre, and intends to interest a number of his Minnesota friends in that country, with the intention of persuading them to enjoy a hunting trip in that country next summer and fall.

The Vernon Band treated us to another serenade on Monday, while on their way to the coast. They have been engaged to supply a portion of the musical programme at the provincial exhibition at New Westminster. We doubt whether, everything considered, that better playing than their's could be obtained anywhere, and Vernonites should be proud of the organization.

A scrap occurred between a Jap and a Chinaman employed at the mill just after quitting time Tuesday evening, resulting in the Jap laying out the Chinaman by hitting him on the head with a piece of wood. The row started in the mill and was stopped, but the Jap, taking advantage of the Chinaman's back being turned when leaving off work, crept behind him and knocked him on the head.

R. J. Coltart enjoyed a visit from his brother-in-law, Mr. J. A. Hall, of Goderich, Ont. Like the majority of our Eastern Canadian friends, they cannot quite grasp the fact that we can produce fruit equal to that of "back east", but have to admit it when brought face to face with the real thing. Mr. Hall inspected the big apple on view at the PROGRESS office before leaving for home on Monday.

Among those from here who have taken advantage of the cheap fare to the coast are Mr. and Mrs. Hancock, Mrs. Dr. Verner, Mrs. R. P. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Grant and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Evans and son, Ernest, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Matthews, Mrs. Van Tassel, Mrs. H. W. Wright and J. C. Metcalfe.

The members of the Enderby branch of the W.C.T.U. announce that they will hold a social evening in the reading room on Saturday evening next, commencing at 7p.m. The ladies extend a hearty invitation to all frequenters of the reading room, and it is hoped that a large number will be present and avail themselves of the opportunity of becoming acquainted with those to whom they are indebted for the keeping up of this institution.

Complaints have reached us that some person or persons are making a practice of letting down fences and opening gates along the Mabel Lake road, and so permitting range cattle to feed on the settlers' enclosed pasture. It is to be hoped that the perpetrators will be caught and a severe example made of them.

W. Gardner, of Salmon Arm, has just received the United States patent on his ingenious bridling bit invention. Mr. Gardner is being overwhelmed with capital propositions from manufacturing firms who wish to buy out the patent rights, to manufacture and sell on a royalty basis, to manufacture for the owner, etc. It is altogether likely, therefore, that the popular horseman will have his choice of a variety of methods of making a very good thing out of his clever device.

Notes and Comments

Enderby combine with Armstrong in making the show of the Armstrong and Spallumcheen Agricultural Society a huge, unprecedented success. A good show of Enderby products will be an excellent advertisement for us, and we hope that "Enderby" will be written largely across this year's fair. Let us have a real Northern Okanagan Fair—one representing truly, the wonderful resources of this favored section. If all put a shoulder to the wheel it will be possible to write: "Armstrong's fair was the most successful in the Province."

It would seem from press reports that Nelson land boosters not only indulge in the disreputable practice of taking unto themselves the credit of fruit from their section having gained for the Province eight medals—when, as a matter of fact, only one—and that, one of the minor ones—was awarded Nelson grown fruit, but have indulged in other questionable practices at the recent fruit fair held at their city. However, it is not to be wondered at, that a bunch of real estate agents who are capable of trading on the honor gained by the Okanagan, would stop at that, but rather run the limit in their efforts to boost certain lake shores and mountain tops which they are making frantic efforts to sell. We hope that the Kaslo Kootenaian will still keep on the track of this kind of men, and bring them to time. One would think that the Kootenay country had had enough of "wild-catting" schemes in the past, when it is remembered the discredit that British Columbia mining has suffered on account of the operations of a like coterie, who will, if given the rope, place our fruit-growing possibilities in the same position. For the credit of our fruit-growing industry, we hope that they will soon be downed and ousted.

It is satisfactory to note that the Kootenay Fruit Grower's Association has rescinded its resolution calling for the abolishment of the tax on Chinese, with the Vernon Association holding their's over, it is evident that, though suffering from scarcity of labor, residents of the Province do not wish to see our fair land over-run with hordes of Celestials. Better far, agitate for a scheme to bring to the country English emigrants.

It would appear that it was not an isolated instance of leaving fruit exposed to the sun which we reported as having occurred at the station a short while ago. Mr. H. P. Lee, Vernon's prominent real estate agent, who has just returned from a trip to Winnipeg, says that fruit is handled very carelessly in Moose Jaw and other centres, being dumped off in any old way and left exposed to the heat of the sun for eight or ten hours, which must seriously damage a very large proportion of it. Hundreds of dollars must be lost in this way every year. Entering a Moose Jaw store, he noticed a lot of poor, half-rotten, worm-eaten apples, which, he ascertained came from Ontario, exposed for sale in Chilliwack boxes. In the same way, some poor specimens of Moose Jaw celery were found in boxes marked Burnet, Armstrong, a scandalous libel on the Okanagan.

It is quite evident that there is a work ahead of some highly-paid officials, both in the government and railway service, to see that such proceedings are stopped.

Byron E. Walker, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who has been making a tour of inspection in many districts in the west where the bank is doing business. "The West is no place for a pessimist," he said, "but optimism should be tempered with caution. Speculation has been pushed almost to the limit. The East is almost too favorably impressed with the growth and prosperity of the West, and a great part of the speculation in western lands has been due to extravagance of eastern ideas on western possibilities." City and town property, Mr. Walker thinks, is quite high enough in value for some time to come, in fact, too high in some sections, but he believes that farm property will further advance in value. "I have seen land in the neighborhood of some towns of perhaps five hundred population and more than a mile from the business centre, held at a figure that was in my estimation much too high. It must be remembered that the great sums required by the West must be repaid in the future, and as development progresses, greater sums will be required. At present there seems to be a tendency to mortgage the future at too fast a pace. A conservatism is an excellent thing and while there is no one who has greater faith in the West and its possibilities than I, there is a need for care."

Back From a Hunting Trip

H. Blurton was up from Mara on Monday and was a pleasant caller at the office of The Progress. Mr. Blurton has just returned from a trip into the mountains to the east of us, whither he conducted an English sportsman by name of H. A. Martin, who was out after caribou. Very bad luck was experienced by Mr. Martin, nothing falling to his gun, though Mr. Blurton said that one or two splendid chances of grizzly were obtained, and plenty of tracks seen of deer, caribou and bear. When within six hours of Mara on the homeward journey, after a light fall of snow, the tracks were seen, first of caribou, then bear and finally, deer, all of which were not two hours old. However, Mr. Martin could not spare any more time, and so the chances had to be passed by. Mr. Martin was so much struck with the possibilities of securing a good bag that he will endeavor to return to this part of the country some time in November. Mr. Blurton says that he does not remember when he has ever seen big game so plentiful and so close to civilization, and he intends to make a little trip on the side himself before very long.

A $40,000 Fire Visits Armstrong

Was Work of Incendiary.

In Spite of this Disaster Armstrong will Go Ahead with Arrangements for Her Reception of Earl Grey To-Morrow

Enderby was startled on arising on Thursday morning to hear that a second disaster from fire had overtaken her nearest neighbor, Armstrong. Extremely wild reports were in circulation, when a PROGRESS representative, in company with Messrs. Harvey, Dobson and Kirby, left for the latter place, with hopes that if the citizens were in such a bad fix as reported, that some assistance could be rendered them; nor were they the only ones among Enderby's business men and others who made all possible speed to Armstrong to help, if needed. Happily, when the true state of affairs was found out, the damage done fell a long way short of the reports which had been in circulation. However, it was bad enough, and six business men, the Bank of Montreal and C. P. R. share a loss of $40,000, with insurance, stated to amount to about one-third. One of the heaviest losers is the hardware firm of Armstrong & Leverington. They carried a fine and comprehensive stock of hardware, cutlery, guns, ammunition, etc., to the value of $16,000, insured at about one-third. The other sufferers are: Bank of Montreal (building owned by T. Fletcher), Armitage & Paul, gents' furnishings, (building owned by C. E. Morris), N. Ratledge, barber shop and pool room, (building owned by Mr. McDonald), H. P. Lee, real estate; B. French, implement warehouse, and J. Symington, carpenter shop. Most of B. French' stock of implements was saved, as were the fittings of the barber shop, but otherwise the fire destroyed everything, even all the contents of the freight shed, the value of which amounted to a large sum of money. Several merchants had shipments in it, including the two burnt out firms of Armitage & Paul and the hardware people.

The fire, as far as is known, started underneath at the back of Armitage's & Paul's store, and is said to have been possibly of incendiary origin. It was first discovered by H. Gamble, teller of the Bank of Montreal, who was sleeping on the premises. When first seen the fire seemed to be coming out from underneath the building, and running up the side. Gamble quickly rang the fire bell, and some hose was out and after some delay, water was obtained—for Armstrong has a satisfactory system of fire protection, having waterworks throughout the town. By this time the fire had gained such headway that it was seen to be impossible to save any of the buildings comprising the block destroyed, and so all efforts were confined to saving the building alongside. This is the Masonic Hall, in which R. R. Burns conducts a drug store. This building was separated from the fire by a passageway about three feet wide and it was here that the fire was checked. If it had got beyond that, three other stores and possibly the whole town would by now have been in ruins. That the citizens maintained an heroic fight here it is plainly evident, for the upper portion of the side of the building is badly scorched and charred and it is considered nothing short of marvellous by the people there that this building was saved. Yet, in spite of a third of the business portion of it being in smoking ruins, her citizens have commenced to decorate their town for the visit of Earl Grey on Saturday, and invite all Enderby down to join with them in their welcome to the King's representative.

The Enterprise of a Go-a-head Firm.

By the liberal use that has been made of Printers' Ink, all know that Messrs. Harvey & Dobson have added to their business a ladies' parlor. This is situated on the second floor of their store building, the alteration and fitting up of which has been going on for some time under the skilful direction of Contractor Barnes. Additional and larger windows have been put into the upper storey, the walls and ceiling all nicely lined and varnished, and also the floor, and lastly though, as one enters the store, it comes first—the erection of what is a very handsome stairway, leading from the centre of the general store to the ladies' department. Though intended to provide a little privacy for the ladies of the district, a PROGRESS representative dared to intrude upon its sacred precincts, to pay a call upon its charming manageress, Miss Robinson. This lady, we found, to be quite ready and willing to talk about her department, and shew the newspaper man all of the latest fashions in belts, collars, evening dresses, blouses and skirts, coats and such wonderful creations in feminine hats and bonnets; silks, satins and cottons. It was all too bewildering for us, and so we must ask our lady readers to excuse us from a further description of their store, for we have no Fashion Editor, or Woman's World Department; all we can do is to advise them to go and see for themselves.

Messrs. Harvey & Dobson certainly can say, without exaggeration, that they have now the nicest, most comfortable, best fitted, ladies' and children's department that is to be found in the whole valley, and can also be borne out in their contention that there will be no need to send to Eaton, et al, for such goods, for they have removed the cause, and—destroyed the excuse.

The Late Mrs. Winters.

A very sad death occurred on Friday night last week, at Hull Car, when the Grim Reaper, Death, removed Mrs. Winters from her husband's side. The deceased lady, who was aged twenty-two, and had only been married three months, succumbed to an attack of acute peritonitis, and was only ill a few days. The funeral took place on Tuesday, service being held in the Presbyterian church, Armstrong, prior to interment, and was conducted by Rev. D. Campbell. Great sympathy is felt for the bereaved husband and relatives of the deceased lady, who was a Miss Ferguson, and was well known and held in high esteem throughout the district. Mr. T. Winters, who is a brother of F. O. Winters, of the Armstrong Hotel, had a lease of the Steele ranch from its owner, Mr. Saltwell, and was preparing to move into town for the winter when Mrs. Winters was taken sick.

A brakeaman on the local freight, named Thompkins, sustained the loss of his hand and forearm on Monday last in Vernon. He was engaged in coupling up, when he slipped just as the cars came together. He put out his hand involuntarily to save himself from falling, and had it caught between the two coupled cars. He was taken to the Vernon hospital, where the injured hand and forearm were amputated.

Masons Attend Church.

The members of Enderby Lodge, No. 40 A. F. & A. M., attended divine service at S. George's church on Sunday morning last in full regalia. There was a large turnout of members of the fraternity. Fortunate in the choice of a beautifully sunny day, some forty brethren were present at the opening exercises, which were held in the lodge room. These concluded, the members marched in procession to S. George's church. The sermon was conducted by Rev. F. V. Venables, who, himself a Mason, was able to deliver a most acceptable and eloquent sermon, which could not have been but interesting to the assembled brethren, as well as to the general public, who were well represented, the church's accommodation being taxed to the limit. The service was fully choral, and the singing by the choir was highly praised by all who were present. The officers and members of Enderby Lodge are very gratified with the unbounded success of this, their first attendance at church as a lodge, and are particularly pleased with the attendance of members of the order from Armstrong and Vernon, as well as those residing in the district.

LOCAL NOTES.

There will be Holy Communion at S.George's church on Sunday at 11 a.m.

An earthquake tremor was felt yesterday morning at Nanaimo.

P. Murphy, of the King Edward hotel, returned on Thursday from a visit to Nelson.

T. Leduc won the Free-for-all at Victoria with his mare, Bessie R. H. Swanson, with Coralcan, won the gentlemen's driving race.

W. J. Thompson, of Devlin, Ontario, came in on Thursday morning's train and is visiting with his aunt, Mrs. J. A. Mohr, and incidentally looking over the valley with a view of removing here.

The Vernon Okanagan draws attention to the fact that it has secured advertising from an Enderby manufacturing concern. We think that the advertisement in question demands the attention of their proof-reader. Moffet is spelt with one "f", while a "n" is attached to "Columbia."

The special, conveying Earl Grey and party to Vernon, passed through Enderby yesterday morning at express gait. That the visit of the Governor-General to the valley would create a deal of interest, and that a goodly number of people would be on the platform to greet the King's representative could certainly be counted on, and the least the Governor-General could have done would have been to have stood on the platform of his car and received and acknowledged the loyal greetings which would certainly have been offered him. His failure to do so has created much unfavorable comment.

MEETING OF CURLING CLUB.

A. E. Taylor, president of the Curling Club, has called the annual meeting, to be held in the store of F. Pyman, on Tuesday, 9th instant for the purpose of electing officers and to elect delegates to attend a meeting to be held at Vernon for the purpose of organizing an Okanagan valley curling association.

Important Annoucement

For some time past we have been quietly making preparations for the production of an attractive booklet to advertise the town and district, and have now in hand a varied collection of photographs and data of the town and district, to do which, we have already gone to no small expense. Our intention has been all along to charge our business men and the prominent ranchers for aid in getting out the booklet, and also to provide means for distributing it as outlined in the leading editorial in this issue. The delay in making the start has been due to the changes which have been taking place in one of our most important industries, combined with the absence from town of prominent business men. With the advent of a second advertising scheme, our hand, as it were has been forced, and we now take the opportunity of appealing for support for our scheme. We estimate that to print three thousand booklets, advertise the district, and distribute the booklets can be done for $200—possibly for $150. At $200, it means that it will cost from seven to ten dollars apiece, and we ask our business men to support a home scheme first.

Enderby in the past has put too much money into the hands of outside newspapers for them to boost her, and it is high time that she did it herself. We have a printing office quite capable of turning out attractive advertising matter, and brains enough to write up the district, although a certain party now in town considers that one has to travel all over the world before being capable of conducting an advertising campaign, and we appeal for the first consideration of our scheme by our business men.

J. Hunter had his hand severely injured by the accidental exploding of a gun which he was carrying, while hunting near Lumby.
