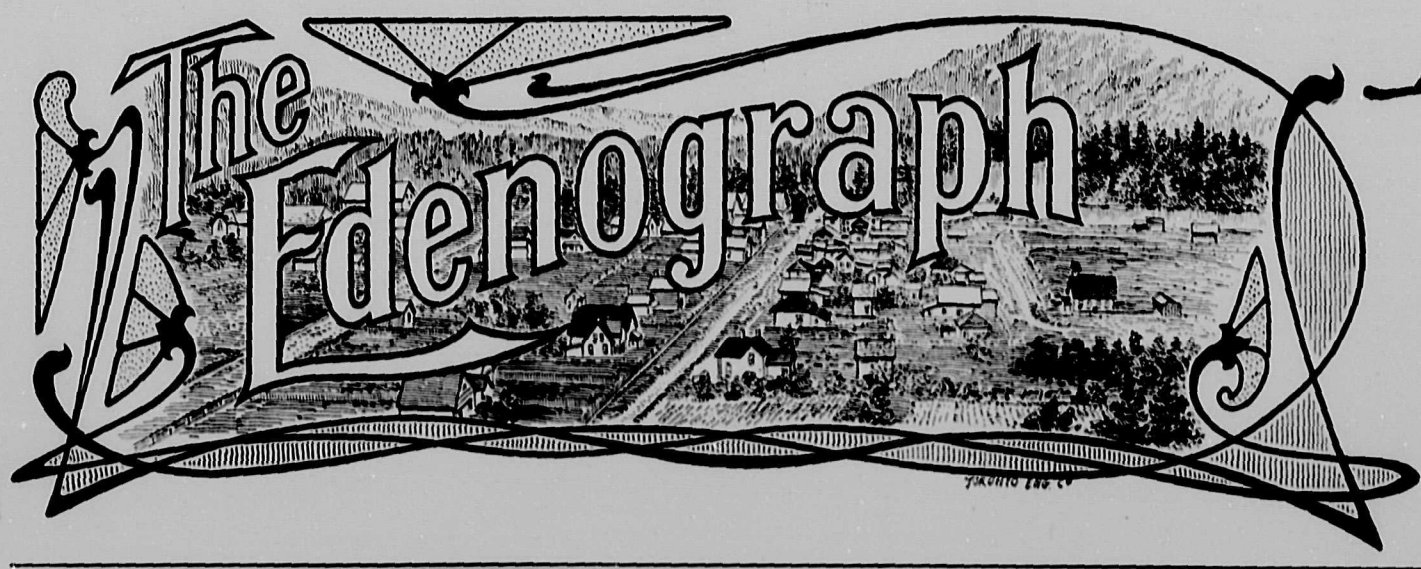
Prov Library

Prov. Library Assembly
JUN 24 1904
VICTORIA, B. C.



OKANAGAN PRODUCE. 1903

Shipped by freight from:
Enderby,	7,928 tons
Armstrong,	6,180 tons
Vernon,	4,497 tons
Kelowna,	3,891 tons
Other points,	265 tons
Total,	22,761 tons

VOLUME I. NUMBER 6. ENDERBY, B. C., JUNE 22, 1904. PRICE, $2 A YEAR

On the Field

Armstrong, 0 1 3 0 4 0 2 0 *—10
Enderby, - 2 2 0 3 0 0 0 0 — 7

The best baseball game of the season was played at Armstrong last Thursday afternoon. It was witnessed from the grand stand by a large number of ladies. It is an unusual thing, even in a creamery town like Armstrong, to see so many of the fair sex out to witness a game of ball. Some laid it to the parsons, (two were present). Others declared that the Armstrong ladies had grown tired of hearing about their twirlers being beaten, and turned out to help the boys win a game. But no matter, they were there; and everybody was glad of it. We must credit them with influencing the game and making it so good. Armstrong never played so well before, and Enderby never layed so many goose eggs between the bases.

Some high flies were caught.

Enderby was first to bat. Billy Mack struck a grounder and went out at first. He strained his ankle a short time before the game and played under difficulties, another having to run for him. C. Hancock made a base hit to center; Matthews followed with another, and Wheeler struck out. Bell reached first on a hot grounder to Jackson; Booth made a safe punt, and Watt Mack sent a fly to Jackson and went out, retiring the side with Bell on third and Booth on second. C. Hancock and Matthews scored. Farr was in the box for Armstrong and was easy to find.

Where Enderby was weak.

Jackson led off for Armstrong. R. Hancock was pitching for Enderby and struck out the first man up. Farr was more fortunate. He picked out a nice one and sent it to Bell but didn't reach first. McIntyre batted a hot one to Matthews at first and went out.

R. Hancock opened the second for Enderby. He hit to McIntyre at third and was stopped at first. Todd hit to Jackson and went out at first. Billy Mack made a base hit past third, and C. Hancock sent another by first. Matthews put a base hit in right field. Wheeler struck out, leaving Matthews on second. Mack and Hancock scored.

Charlie Hancock got under them.

Bird came to bat for Armstrong and hit the ball to Todd who fumbled and made a wild throw to first. Watt Mack scooped up a scorcher off Watson's bat and stopped him at first. Smith made a single-bagger to center, helping Bird to fly home. Lucas and Holtby struck out, leaving Smith on third.

The field work of Armstrong in the third was perfect. Bell's foul hit was caught by Holtby; Booth's punt was stopped by Farr, and Watt Mack was stopped at first by Bird.

Armitage sent a hot grounder to Todd in the opening of Armstrong's third. It did not pass. He stopped at first. Jackson hit safe to left field; Farr did likewise to right, and McIntyre hit to Hancock in the box. Ray tossed the ball to Matthews on first; Matthews dropped it. Jackson scored. Bird hit safe to centre. Watson sent a base hit to left. An effort was made to catch him at second; Todd returned the ball to the plated in time to stop Bird. Smith hit to Hancock and was stopped at first, leaving Watson on third.

In the fourth Enderby had the making of the winning score in their hands and lost by loose base playing. Ray Rancock hit to McIntyre who fumbled. Todd followed suit. Both landed at first before the ball. W. Mack sent a scorcher to Bird, and Hancock tried to knock the starck out of the Celestial clothes cleansing rendezvous under the hill. Matthews hit a liner to Jackson. Wheeler hit to McIntyre, who threw home to catch Mack. Bell made a base hit to left field; Booth struck out. Matthews was run down by McIntyre on the home stretch, and Wheeler was caught between second and third. Tally W. Mack, C. Hancock, R. Hancock, Bell on second.

Jackson let one pass.

Armstrong played against Hancock in the fourth. Lucas, Holtby and Armitage struck out.

In the fifth Watt Mack got to first on Jackson's error but was caught between the bases by McIntyre; R. Hancock struck out but reached first on a pass ball. Todd made a base hit. Hancock was caught at second. Billy Mack struck out, with Todd on second.

Jackson, Farr, Watson and Holtby scored in Armstrong's fifth. McIntyre was put out by Todd; Bird sacrificed, and Lucas struck out.

C. Hancock reached first on a base hit to right field. Farr put Matthews out at first, McIntyre caught Wheeler and Jackson caught Bell at the same point. For Armstrong, Holtby went out at first by Todd; Armitage was caught out by C. Hancock, and Jackson struck out.

Skiff Seed wanted to coach the Enderburys out of 'bisnes' anything.

In the seventh, McIntyre took the box for Armstrong. He was hit, but the ball was mysterious. It wouldn't do anything. Booth, Watt Mack, R. Hancock and Todd found it, but Hancock was the only one to get to first. Farr and McIntyre scored for Armstrong. Bird struck out and Smith and Watson were put out by a pretty double play by C. Hancock.

In the eighth Mack, Hancock and Matthews failed to reach first. Lucas reached first for Armstrong; Holtby was caught by C. Hancock; Armitage was caught at first, and Booth caught Jackson out.

In the ninth Wheeler struck out; Bell was caught between 2nd and 3rd, and R. Hancock struck out with Booth and Watt Mack on bases. Hancock had three balls and two foul strikes, and made four foul hits; then struck at a ball that he could not have reached with anything short of a rail.

W. Wolfenden umpired the game.

Happily Wed.

At the Methodist Parsonage, last Wednesday evening, Rev. A. E. Roberts joined in marriage Miss Tena Long and Ira C. Jones. Only a few friends of the contracting parties were present, and the ceremony was quietly performed. Miss M. Prudy acted as bridesmaid, and H. S. Bagnall assisted the groom.

Miss Long was charmingly attired in white. The flowers worn by the bride were exquisite, and were brought from Vancouver.

After the ceremony the bridal party were escorted to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bell, where they sat down to the wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones have taken up their residence here. They will leave for the East sometime in August to spend three months in visiting the Eastern cities.

Change in Ownership.

The Kamloops Lumber Co., Ltd., this week purchased the mill, logs, and timber limits of the Okanagan Lumber Co., Ltd. It is the intention of the Kamloops company to make Enderby its headquarters, and it is understood the mill here will be still further increased in capacity. This company is composed of Geo. McCormick, M.P., of Orellia, Wm. Irwin of Peterborough, Geo. W. Fowler, M.P., of Sussex, Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Lieut.-Col. M. Davidson, and Lieut.-Col. Jno. McGillivray, all of Toronto. It owns mills at Kamloops, Annis, and now at Enderby.

It is understood that no change will take place in the management of the local mill.

Will Hill, an expert miller of Winnipeg, has taken night charge of the Enderby flouring mill. Mr. Hill is facinated with the climatic and other conditions at Enderby, and believes this valley has a great future before it.

Election Pledges Not Made.

A correspondent in the Armstrong Advertiser writes from Silver Creek:—"The Armstrong correspondent of the Kootenay Mail writes the following to that paper: 'Why does not Mr. Ellison see that his election pledges are kept? The Silver Creek people have no road yet and have to come in by pack horse route. It is a crying shame that thirty or forty families should be cut off from their point of supply. Price ought to make good or quit.' As a voter at Silver Creek I desire to say that in his canvass, Mr. Ellison never promised this road. I didn't vote for Mr. Ellison at the last election, and probably would not do so were he to run again, but I don't like to see such mis-statements made. If Mr. Ellison gives us the road we want, and which we assuredly need, he will be doing so, not on account of any pre-election pledges, but because he thinks it is right.'

In this connection, Walter Gardner says that he drove Price Ellison all over the riding in the last campaign, and that he never heard him make any pledge to Silver Creek voters. He also declares that Price Ellison did not make any pledge to him regarding the position of road overseer for this district, and that he did not know anything about the position coming to him until he received instructions to proceed upon the duties of the office.

Farmer's Exchange.

There will be a meeting of the farmers of the Spallumcheen Valley at Enderby, next Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a farmer's exchange for Enderby and Mara district.

The B. C. government has finally decided to grant licenses to prospect for coal and pretroleum upon and under lands situated within Block 4,593, South-east Kootenays.

25 cents

Will pay for NINE copies of THE EDENOGRAPH, in this way:

One copy each week will be mailed to three friends for three weeks. In other words, if you will send the names and addresses of three friends, or your own name and the names of two friends, accompanied by 25c, we will mail one copy each week for three weeks to each name sent. This, we believe, will not only assist to advertise the resources of the Valley, but will also bring THE EDENOGRAPH before new readers. One sample copy produces good results. Three sample copies will produce better results. Thus we can afford to make this offer. It means a larger subscription list, and a more interested circle of friends. Fill in this coupon and mail it with 25c:

THE EDENOGRAPH, Enderby, B.C.

Enclosed am sending 25c. Send The Edenograph three weeks to the following names—

1 ..... Address .....
2 ..... Address .....
3 ..... Address .....

The Edenograph. Drawer 5, Enderby Hancock Block, Cliff St $2.00 A YEAR

Incorporation

Upwards of 50 people attended the public meeting last Saturday evening in the town hall, to consider the advisability of incorporating Enderby and vicinity as a township, or the town itself as a city. The meeting was called to order sometime after 8 o'clock, and Henry W. Harvey moved that A. E. Roberts take the chair. The motion was carried, and Chas. E. Strickland was called upon to act as secretary.

Mr. Roberts briefly explained the objects of the meeting and asked Attorney Billings, of Vernon, to explain the nature of the requirements looking to incorporation.

Mr. Billings explained the different procedure that would have to be taken in incorporating as a township, and as a city or town. There was one great drawback here should township incorporation be decided upon, and that was the Indian reserve. The roads through this would have to be kept up by the township, and yet no taxes could be levied by the township against the land. In any case, whatever form of incorporation should be decided upon, the provincial government would continue to collect its proportion of the general tax. In township or district incorporation the government maintained the schools; in city or town incorporation the schools were maintained by the town, the provincial government giving a grant of $20.00 per pupil per year.

Before a motion would be considered the chairman suggested that the questions should be open for general discussion.

Geo. Bell was first to present the case. He said that in view of bringing the matter before the meeting, he, with others, had investigated the probable revenue that would be derived under town and township incorporation. By his figures it was shown that the assessed value of Enderby was about the same as that of the whole district that would be included in a township municipality. The estimated annual revenue from the property of the district was in the neighbourhood of $34,000, half of which came from Enderby. This, he believed, was sufficient to warrant the incorporation of Enderby as a town.

Henry W. Harvey followed Mr. Bell. He did not think the revenue was sufficient to warrant incorporation of any kind, and offered a motion that we do not incorporate either as a township or as a town. Fred Barnes seconded the motion.

Geo. Bell offered an amendment, seconded by H. W. Wright that we do incorporate.

After considerable discussion the amendment carried almost unanimously.

J. Johnston moved that we incorporate as a township. Wm. Tomkinson seconded the motion.

Geo. Bell offered an amendment to this, seconded by Mr. Moffet, that we incorporate as a town.

Messrs. Truesdale and Johnston led in support of the motion, and Messrs. Bell, Harvey, Hale, Moffett, Greyall, and others spoke in support of the amendment. Property owners only voted on this motion. The amendment was carried, 22 to 9.

A committee was then appointed to take up the work of incorporation, consisting of Messrs. Harvey, Bell, Moffett, Hale and Bradley, after which the meeting adjourned.

Picked Up and Boiled Down.

Miss Killens was visiting Mrs. Geo. Bell this week from Lansdowne.

Rev. Robt. P. McIntyre preached in the Methodist church, Sunday evening.

Born—In Armstrong, on Monday, the 13th inst., the wife of James Meldrum, of a son.

Chas. E. Strickland and T. R. Wellman are cutting a road through their riverside property, near Enderby.

Mr. Walter Truesdale is experiencing a great rush of business, and has had to employ the services of a stenographer

Monday evening, July 4th, Pauline Johnston, the great Mohawk Poet-entertainer, will hold forth at the Town hall.

W. J. Armstrong has put in a hydraulic ram on the ranch lately purchased by T. W. Platton, in the Salmon River Valley.

All interested in the School are invited to attend the examination to be held on Friday, the 24th inst. Examination from 9 to 12.

There are grinders and grinders, but the Bi-Pedal grinding machine shown by H. W. Harvey for mower knives, axes, etc., is about the neatest thing yet invented.

Nickel-plated cuspidors have been added to the scenery in the reading room at the Enderby hotel, and a $5.00 penalty is put upon the man who spits over one of them.

Rev. A. E. Roberts is to preach in Golden, next Sunday, for Rev. W. D. Misener. The service in the Methodist Church here, will be conducted by Mr. H. S. Bagnall.

A. T. Fladgate, who has won so many friends by his courteous manners behind the wicket at the post office, has resigned to take a position with the Okanagan Lumber Co. S. G. Sutherland, of Kamloops, succeeds him in the post office.

How many times we decide to do a thing and then delay. How often we find that delays are fatal. Particularly is this so in life insurance. We know we ought to take out a policy, but neglect it. Now is the time to do it. Speak to H. S. Bagnall. He represents the Mutual Life of Canada, the best company in Canada.

Wednesday evening, June 15th, a Special Degree meeting was held in connection with L.O.L., No. 446. W. M. Bro. Hammill, and P. M. Bro. Meldrum of Armstrong Lodge, No. 1807, were present to assist the officers and members. There were also a number of other visiting brethren, and a pleasant time was spent in the exemplification of Degree work. The next regular meeting of the order takes place on Saturday, July 2nd.

THE EDENOGRAPH
H. M. WALKER

Published each Wednesday at Enderby, B.C., the Eden of Canada.

Subscription, $2 a year; $1 six months; 50c three months; 5c a copy.

Advertising rates, $1 an inch per month; contract rates on application. Legal advertising rates, 6c and 5c a line.

Dear Friend: You can take THE EDENOGRAPH by paying $2 a year and believe everything the editor says; (if you want to) but if you do not occasionally express your thoughts through its columns, you will not get out of it the good you might, nor will your neighbor, the editor. Wishing to encourage perfect freedom and candor between THE EDENOGRAPH and its readers, we have thrown down all barriers and want you to feel free to walk into the sanctum sanctorum with your best thoughts in your hand and demand a hearing. If you have an idea, have it printed. Don't wait for a better one. Address—

THE EDENOGRAPH,
Enderby, B. C.

We are ready for a Bank.

A BIG STEP FORWARD.

It is evident that the citizens of Enderby do not believe in doing things by halves. They look well before they leap, but when they decide to do a thing they do it with a determination to do it well.

The incorporation meeting was a good one. The objects of the meeting were well considered. The vote to incorporate as a town was a decisive one. Let there be no haggling now. It is the feeling of evey person with whom we have spoken that it is now every citizen's duty to get in line, stand in line, and help the good work along.

If anything is to be regretted in connection with the meeting, it is the fact that so few farmers were present. It is evident that they did not consider themselves interested in the matter, and were willing to abide by the decision of the meeting. There is much wisdom in their action.

The wisdom of town incorporation should be apparent to any man who will look into the matter with an unbiased eye. It has been truely said that the development of a town depends upon the development of the country around about the town. No one will deny this. But is it true that township incorporation is the better way to develop either the town itself or the country around about? It is not fair to burden the farmer with the cost of improvements in a town, nor is it fair to compel a town to confine its improvements, in the way of public utilities, to what the farmer thinks it should have. In the broader sense the interests of each are identical, but in a practical sense they are not. If a town is to advance it cannot afford to have its hands tied by township incorporation. This has been proved by the experience of other places. The town demands a different system of assessment and expenditure than the country. One cannot see the logic of the other's demands, and dissatisfaction is sure to arise.

If township incorporation were to be entered into, and debentures were to be issued for any public utility, such as water works, and if the debentures covered a period of 10 or 20 years, the town would be wedded to township incorporation for that period, with no possibility of attaining cityhood until such debentures were paid. At the same time, the townspeople would have to pay for the utilities the same as if the town itself had issued the debentures independent of the country.

Let the town incorporate as a town, and the country incorporate as a township, and each can then look after their own interests, and pay for what they get. By harmoniously working together they will secure a much better condition of affairs than possibly could be secured through township incorporation.

New Govenor General.

It is announced in London that Earl Grey, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, has been appointed to succeed the Earl of Minto as Governor-General of Canada. Earl Grey is a brother-in-law of Lord Minto. The latter's term does not expire until October, so the official announcement of Earl Grey's appointment will not be made for some time.

Albert Henry George Grey, L.L.M., J.P., Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland since 1899, is the fourth Earl of that title, which was created in 1806. The first Earl, General Sir Charles Grey, Knight of the Bath, was a distinguished commander during the first American war, and was rewarded by being raised to the peerage. The second Earl Grey, K.G., was for twenty-one years a member of the House of Commons, and during that time held office as First Earl of the Admiralty, and afterward Secretary of Foreign Affairs. The present Earl Grey is a grand-son of the second Earl, the celebrated statesman of the earlier part of last century, and is also a nephew of the third Earl Grey, K.G., P.C., G.C.M.G., who was Secretary of State for the Colonies from 1846 to 1852. The third Earl Grey was famous as being one of the most capable critics of state affairs.

The present Earl Grey, who was born in 1851, and is now fifty-three years of age, was educated at Harrow, Trinity College and Cambridge University. He was entrusted with the administration of Rhodesia from 1896 to 1898. He was elected an M.P. for Northumberland in 1880, and served until 1885. He also represented Tyneside from 1885 to 1886. He is a director of the British South Africa Company, and is also the author of several books, among them being "Herbert Hurvey," a memoir, which was published in 1899.

Earl Grey owns about 17,000 acres in various parts of Great Britain, and is heir to Viscount Howick of Howick House, Northumberland.

Too Much Talking.

The official career of Lord Dundonald as general commanding the Canadian militia has been ended by the Government. Sir Wilfred Laurier presented to Parliament last Wednesday the order in Council dismissing Lord Dundonald. The order sets forth that the Hon. Mr. Fisher had a right to interfere as he did, that he did not interfere to give his own political color to the regiment, that the officer Lord Dundonald recommended was disqualified while the one Mr. Fisher recommended was qualified and was a Conservative. In conclusion the order says: "The subcommittee deeply regrets that an officer of Lord Dundonald's high rank should have been so misguided as to fall into these grave errors and to pursue a course which, if ignored, would be fatal to that discipline and subordination to constituted authority which are essential both in civil government and military service.

"For reasons herein set forth the subcommittee advise that the Earl of Dundonald be forthwith relieved of his position as General officer Commanding the militia in Canada."

Sir Frederick Borden was asked whether it was intended to ask the British Government for an officer to command the militia in place of Lord Dundonald. He replied that the bill now before Parliament provided for the appointment of an Inspector-General from amongst the ranks of Canadian officers. If the bill carried, then the position of general would be abandoned.

Lord Aylmer has been given temporary command of the militia. He will proceed at once to the militia camps. He goes to Niagara first.

Commenting upon the Dundonald incident, the London Globe says: "Without entering into the unfortunate dispute between Lord Dundonald and the Canadian government, it is certainly desirable to utter a protest against such language as Premier Laurier permitted himself to use in saying that he must learn that this is a responsible government, and that in Canada they are not accustomed to being dragooned. This is not merely a bad example of cheap sensationalism, but a gross indiscretion such as the late Sir John A. Macdonald was never guilty of. Premier Laurier may feel the necessity of conciliating certain interests in Canada which he had far better disregard, but he will not strengthen his position by attacking in an unmannerly way the most popular commander the Canadian militia ever had."

Waiting for the Earthquake.

Judging from the contentment which some Christians seem to manifest, the following little incident illustrates their attitude toward church work. They, too, are "waiting for an earthquake" instead of digging potatoes for themselves and the hungry ones about them.

A traveller in Georgia met a genial-looking old fellow sitting astride a fence, and thoughtfully smoking. He gave greeting: "Good morning!"

"'Mawning, stranger!"

"How's times?" asked the traveller.

"Put-tee tol-able, stranger. Had some trees to cut down. Cyclone came 'long an' levelled 'em for me."

"Well, that was good!" commented the stranger.

"Yes, guess 'twas. Lightning 'tother night set fire to the brush, an' saved me the trouble of burnin' it."

"Remarkable! Work all done then, eh?"

"Not yet, stranger. Waiting now for an earthquake to come 'long an' shake the potatoes out of the ground.

Suicide at Stump Lake.

Early on Saturday morning, William Frisken, senior, who has for a number of years lived with his son James on the ranch at Stump Lake, took his own life by cutting his throat with a razor. It was not until next morning that his lifeless body was found in the bushes in the creek bottom only a short distance from the house. No reason can be assigned for the suicide. The deceased was 60 years of age and had been a sufferer from rheumatism for many years.—Kamloops Sentinel.

With The Owl

HAVE REGARD IN THE DARK WOODS.

DO NOT disturb me, sweetheart. Over the meadow there comes that delightful smell of clover, red-topped, shower-bedewed, and kissed by the glowing sun. With each breath, I see visions of child-hood days; when life was so simple and so happy. Yonder in the fence corner I see frisky, rollicking Maud, and around her are Tommy and Dick and Harry, and Alice and Kitty and Grace. Their sun-burnt faces are hid in the clover, but their childish prattle and merry laughter tell me so many things about Goodness that I did not know before. I see the flaxen heads just over the clover tops, some sun-bonnetted, and some glistening in the sunlight. Now and then one will bob up and down, so joyous, so careless, and so gay. So indifferent are they to life; so happy in each other's love!

They are healthy, rollicking boys and girls: full of what Nature put into them—no better, no worse than any other children. They do not know they have a stomach until they abuse it; do not know what Goodness is until they misuse it; and are content to be what they are because their minds have not been warpped into believing that there is something better for them in the meadow beyond.

Would I be a child again? No; not I—not a child in pinnafore. But this would I be, now and always,—a child in spirit. We are no older than we feel. I would make this whole world a clover field: red-topped, shower-bedewed, and kissed by the glowing sun. In my corner of it I would be a child forever, and with those I love about me I would be what God by nature made me; no better, no worse than you, m' honey. And as I became child-like, I would become Christ-like. Not a whinning, whimpering, snivelling baby would I be—continually bemoaning my sinfulness. My stomach would not ache, because I would not eat green apples. My soul would not cry out in anguish, because it would not be in anguish. I would be a little child in spirit. And children, sweetheart, do not know what pain is if they are healthy. Neither do souls.

Henry's Nurseries
3010 Westminster Road Vancouver

Thousands of Fruit and Ornamental Trees

Rhododendrons, Roses, Greenhouse and Hardy Plants.

Home Grown and Imported Garden, Field and Flower Seeds

Eastern prices and less. White Labor.

Fertilizers, Bee Hives and Supplies. Catalogue Free. M. J. Henry

Eye Easers

A large stock just received. Finest glasses the eye ever wore. They feel easy, look stylish, and cost little.

F. Pyman, Jeweler
Enderby.

W. H. HUTCHISON
General Blacksmith
Wagon Builder and Repairer

"A bolt in time will grease the line"—makes things run easier—saves wear and tear and a final break down. Anything that is made of iron and can be repaired will be repaired. Farm implements, buggies & wagons a specialty, and all repairs guaranteed to stand.

ENDERBY

A Clean Cut
by an Artist of the Tonsorial Chair

Will aid in keeping the scalp free from dandruff and give the hair a vigorous, luxuriant growth. Few barbers understand the secrets of the trade, and fewer still take the pains to learn them. I learned them when I learned my trade—had to. My razor does not pull.

A. Todd, Hancock Blk, Enderby

Hay Time!

Is with us. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you would like a new Mower, a new Rake, or a Tedder? We have them. And all are made by the best manufacturers and can be relied upon to be as represented. Easy terms; price right.

Henry W. Harvey

GENERAL MERCHANT, ENDERBY, B.C.

20 Years

From today, how much ready cash do you expect to have? Perhaps you are working for wages, and do not see how you can put aside anything for your old age, but you can. Invest in an endowment policy in The Mutual Life of Canada. It will pay you well—no company can give you anything bette, and few anything so good. Apply to—

H. S. BAGNALL, ENDERBY —or— WM. J. TWISS, VANCOUVER

Clearing Out!

Summer Linen and Straw Hats. Lacross Shoes at Less than Cost.

JUST ARRIVED—A large assortment of Shirts, Collars, Ties, etc., also Men's Pants and Overalls. Boys' Knickers and Waterproof Coats, all sizes.

J. C. Metcalfe Enderby

SOLD BY
R. P. Bradley, Enderby Hardware Merchant

NOTICE, SPORTSMEN

We are placing in stock a full line of Guns and Ammunition, and will shortly be in position to supply all demands in these lines. Hold your orders until you can see the goods. In a week or two the stock will be here.

Wm. Hancock, Enderby

Enderby Brick Yard

Orders taken for any quantity. Plastering, chimney building, and brick & stone masonry work contracted

A. M Beird Enderby

LADIES: If you desire something stylish in Visiting Cards you can get what you want at THE EDENOGRAPH office.

The Methodist Church

SERVICES:

Divine Service every Sunday at 7:30 p.m.
Sunday-School and Bible Class, 2:30 p.m.
Prayer Meeting, - - - Tuesday, 8 p.m.
A hearty welcome for all.

A. E. ROBERTS, Pastor.
Residence: Cliff St., next the Church.

Touching The Lepers.

"What a rebuke Christ's touch of the leper gives to the hateful, selfish spirit of caste and pride!" writes Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, in the Christian Endeavor World. "Shame on us that we are so willing to touch the jewelled hands of wealth, and to sit beside silks and satins and sealskins, and yet regard the ill-clad, ill-odored outcasts as if they bred contagion.

"The sin and the shame of too much of the professed Christianity of our day is that it is above touching the lepers. That gap left wide open between wealth and festering poverty, between culture and ignorance, between religion in broadcloth and sin in rags, is today the severest indictment that Christianity has to encounter. And the one only practical solution of the great burning problems of how to reach the neglected masses, and how to rescue the harlot, and how to save the ragged children, and how to evangelize the heathenism of our huge cities, lies in two words—Christian contact. The personal contact of practical piety and self-sacrificing love with darkness, filth, and misery; that's the only remedy. Heart must touch heart. The strong, loving hand must not draw back from lifting lepers from their deadly degradations.

"To praise the Salvation Army for their labor in the slum is cheap; but it is condemning. For unless the strong, rich, and favored followers of Christ will let Him lead them right into the wretched regions where sin and sorrow are sweltering they deny their Lord and dishonor the very name of Christian."

Cheated the Painter.

"I thought you were working on John Thomas' new house," said the housepainter's friend.

"I was going to," replied the housepainter, "but I had a quarrel with him, and he said he'd put the paint on himself."

"And he did do it?"

"Yes, that is where he put most of it."

Boiler Plate or Sour Grapes?

We do not think it is fair to our readers to fill the whole paper with matter tending to boom this town.—Armstrong Advertiser.

NOTICE.

Anyone fishing in the pond on our property, at Mount Ida, after the first of July, 1904, will be proceeded against for trespass.

J. W. GARDOM.
BASIL GARDOM.

L.O.L. No. 446

Meets the 1st Saturday in every month at 8 p. m.
Visiting brethren welcome.
W.M., A. E. ROBERTS. Sec., H. J. BLURTON

IRA C. JONES

Builder and General Contractor. Prompt attention paid to small jobs of renovating.

ENDERBY, - - - - B. C.

ENDERBY MEAT MARKET

A tender steak is hunger's delight and a chef's joy forever. When you feel like eating one ask for it. Fresh and salt meats always on hand. Fish fresh from the sea, the lakes and streams. Delicious sausages.

Geo. R. Sharpe
ENDERBY.

Geo. I. Breen COBBLER

Boot and Shoe repairing
Livery Stable Building. Enderby, B.C.

THE EDENOGRAPH, one year, $2.

Our Undesirable Immigration

There is a good deal of anxiety felt in Montreal at the tide of immigration which is setting in there. It is stated that there are thousands of Italian immigrants there, who are wandering around the streets of the city, "many of them homeless, penniless and hopeless." They appear to have been induced to come to Canada by reports that thousands of men were required to work on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. While this situation is unfortunate for these men and may create serious difficulty in Montreal, should a large number of these immigrants have to be taken care of or sent back to Europe, there are reports that these are only the advance guard of many more. The London Daily Mail states that before many weeks have elapsed, immigrants will be arriving in Canada at the rate of one thousand a day from all parts of the world. Commenting on this statement the Victoria Colonist says: "It is to be hoped that this statement is either inaccurate or exaggerated. While Canada has room for millions of immigrants, it will not be in the interest of either the immigrants or the Dominion that they should be dumped on our shores in the manner of these recent arrivals in Montreal. The stringent enforcement of the regulations to restrict the entrance of undesirable immigrants into the United States, will doubtless cause a large stream of immigration to be diverted to Canada. We want immigrants, but they must be of the right kind. The experience of unrestricted immigration which flowed for two or three decades into the United States should cause Canadian statesmen to take steps to prevent this country being the objective point of thousands of undesirable emigrants from European countries. Anyone who is acquainted with the conditions that have resulted from this indiscriminate immigration into the United States, as they are to be seen in parts of the coal fields and in the iron works in Pennsylvania and adjoining states, will agree with us that a similar influx into Canada will be a detriment to this country. Mere numbers are not all that is necessary for the satisfactory settlement of a country. In immigration, quality is even more important than quantity. We do not know what action the Immigration Department of the Dominion Government is taking with a view to inducing immigration into this country. If this recent arrival of thousands of illiterate, unskilled laborers from Europe is the result of the Department's activity, the sooner it is checked the better for the country. At present there is a steady stream coming into Canada of Scotch and English agriculturists. Most of them are bound for Manitoba and the Nortwest Territories. They are all of a good class, many of them with more or less capital, but all accustomed to agricultural operations and with a definite idea of what they intend to do. They are not settling in communities by themselves, in the manner that most of the immigrants from European countries do, but are scattering themselves all over the country, wherever there is a suitable location to be found. At the same time we are also having our numbers increased by an exodus from the United States of farmers, particularly from the Northwestern and Western Central States. These are also excellent settlers. They, as also the English and Scotch immigrants already mentioned, are the class that should come here. They are what the country wants; they will also do well for themselves. But to bring in thousands of men like those who are now stranded in Montreal, is to cause an injury to the country and to inflict hardship and disappointment on the immigrants. We hope that the Dominion Government will take steps to abate the zeal of its agents abroad. We are well aware that in Mr. Sifton's views it does not matter much what they are like, so long as he can give statistics of the thousands who have come under his auspices. But the permanent interests of the Dominion will not benefit by such a policy."

Hog Cholera.

Rather a bad outbreak of hog cholera is reported from Comox, as a result of which J. McPhee & Sons are something like $500 out of pocket, says the Nanaimo Herald. The outbreak had rather a peculiar origin.

It seems that McPhee received word from a firm in Nanaimo that if he wanted any pigs they had some to dispose of. McPhee telegraphed back for the pigs to be sent on, and about seven or eight were at once forwarded to Comox.

Two days later some of the pigs showed signs of sickness, and very shortly died. When they were cut up they were found to be literally rotten.

Word was immediately sent to the proper authorities with a request for the inspector to be sent up. A week transpired before the inspector arrived, but when he did get to Comox he took very prompt measures.

McPhee, in addition to the pigs he got from Nanaimo, had about 40 of his own. The whole lot were ordered to be killed, and a holocaust was made of them, as well as of all the buildings in which they had been kept.

Just Like Mara.

Farmer—I thought you said you wanted a day off yesterday to go to a wedding—it looks more like a wake.

Irish Laborer—An' a widdin' it was, sor, but it nearly finished with a wake.

Farmer—A fight, I suppose.

Irish Laborer—Yis, sor; a big man with a tall hat on, an' a white weskitt, bumped agin me. "Who are you," says Oi. "Oi'm the best man," says he, and shure he was, too.

Kamloops Has Its Worries, Too.

The managerie of stray dogs, horses and cows wandering about the streets day and night, destroying flower beds, fruit and shade trees in private gardens, is an unmitigated nuisance.—Inland Sentinel.

Under The Olive Tree

WITH HANK REKLAW

Unfortunate is the man who has no work to do.

Sometimes our severest critics are our best friends.

Hatred has no place for Reason, Love, Truth or Holiness.

Chesterfield said that honest error is to be pitied, not ridiculed.

Goodness worked up into life is worth more than goodness put into words.

Greatness, sweetheart, is in personality, not in position; as we build character we attain it.

Let us not complain about our miseries; the world might listen for a time, but it will turn around to mock.

Are we prepared to brand the tales we tell of others with our trade mark as readily as we do our merchandise?

After all, we are only here for a season; 'tis foolish to let anger cloud any of the days or hours or moments.

Condemnation has its place, but 'tis better to have the condemnation of some than to have their commendation.

A cruel story runs on wheels, ball-bearing and pneumatic-tired. Let's puncture the first one that comes our way.

There is an old Spanish proverb that puts it about right. It says: "An ounce of mother is worth a ton of clergy."

Let us get the right conception of love. Passion is not love. Life sets a limit to passion; life cannot set a limit to love.

Of the many ways of getting an education, the best is not in colleges and seminaries—the best is in God's school—the school of Nature.

First let us study what we have in us that the world needs, then give the best that we have in that line—the world will pay us for it.

As a child can frequently help the mother most in the home by keeping quiet, so can we as God's children do more in His service by standing quietly by and watching—sometimes.

$10,000 a Month

That is approximately Enderby's payroll. In addition to this the saw mill and the flour mill each pass checks for thousands of dollars each week for supplies and produce. Capital is flowing into Enderby; new accounts are ready to be opened; business is increasing, and facilities for doing business are fast improving; beautiful homes are being erected; 500 men will be sent into the lumber camps from Enderby this fall; new farms are being brought under cultivation; steps are already taken to incorporate the town. There is business for a bank at Enderby; there is a home for YOU. Its climate is unsurpassed, its resources are unlimited. Wake up! A spot in this Eden of ours awaits you!

A SNAP! 2 80-acre Blocks

Suitable for fruit growing—one block $10 an acre the other $14 an acre. Investigate NOW.

The finest fruit growing section in the famous Okanagan Valley. Warm, delightful climate; rich, productive soil; no rocks. Large and small holdings now listed. Lots 20 acres and upwards; From $15 an acre up.

Correspondence solicited.

Address—

If you want to buy, cut out, fill in, and mail 1 day.

WALTER E. TRUESDALE,
Enderby, B. C.

Please send list of properties in your locality to—
Name.....
Address.....

WALTER E. TRUESDALE, ENDERBY, B. C.

The Enderby Hotel. . . . .

This pioneer house is experiencing the greatest rush of business in its history. It is the result of its popularity. The service and accommodations are the best. Ninety-foot annex now being built to accommodate the trade. The cream of the land on bar and table. Rates: $1 and $2 per day

Webb Wright, Prop.

Magnet Pharmacy

Cliff St., Enderby

The place for Pure Fresh Drugs and Medicines, Toilet Soaps and all Toilet Articles, Stationery and Magazines, Candies. A full line of Smoker's requisites. Prescriptions a Specialty.

SEND US YOUR MAIL ORDERS: PROMPT ATTENTION

E. A. Chappell

ENDERBY, B. C.

House Painting, Paper Hanging
Calsimining, Etc.

CARRIAGE PAINTING A SPECIALTY. Estimates given.

BAKERY MISS GARNET, Cliff St., near Methodist Church Enderby.

Fresh Bread Daily.

Job Printing

That touches the artistic and keeps house for Economy, will be done at this office—quickly, neatly and cheaply. You do not have to send your printing out of town. Anything that can be done in Toronto (in ordinary commercial printing) can be done right here.

The Edenograph
Enderby, B. C.

IT WILL COST YOU ONE DOLLAR to have 50 envelopes and a pad of letter paper with your name and address printed thereon. Address— THE EDENOGRAPH, Enderby.

Enderby Trading Co.

Spruce Up! Boys:

You probably want a new Suit, Shirt, Collar, Tie or Pair of Shoes for THE FIRST. We have a nice range in all these lines. Our Ties especially are worth looking at. New Styles and Designs just arrived.

Enderby Trading Co.,
Cliff St. Enderby.

1-ACRE

Blocks, 2-acre Blocks, 5-acre Blocks, 10-acre Blocks—in short, you can pick your own piece of ground. I am selling 240 acres of my Enderby property. It is situated one mile from town, on the line of the government road, railroad runs through the property; on the banks of the Spallumcheen river. Ideal land for fruit raising, and Dairy Farming. Thirty minutes walk to the Enderby postoffice. For terms and particulars apply to—

CHAS. E. STRICKLAND, ENDERBY

BEGIN WITH THIS ISSUE TO USE HOME PRODUCTS.

We would mention:

HUNGARIAN . . . . . DRIFTED SNOW FLOURS

The Columbia Flouring Mills Co., Ltd. Enderby.

J.E.Orchard

Painter and Decorator,
Graining and Staining

Imitator of native and foreign woods. PAPER HANGING. ALL WORK FIRST CLASS.

E. T. SMITH

ENDERBY DRAYMAN and GENERAL FREIGHTER

Heavy Machinery a specialty. Water supplied by the barrel or tank. Garden plowing promptly done.

One Thousand Picnicers Perish

While returning to New York one day last week with a Sunday School picnic party, the steamer, General Slocum, took fire and had to be run upon the beach. It is estimated that the number of deaths will reach 1000. Most of those who perished were women and children.

Speaking of the awful loss of life, and the scenes witnessed on board the burning steamer, the chief engineer said, he did not know how the fire started, but said that while he was talking to his assistant, Everett Brandow, when opposite 138th street, the first mate reported the fire. "I at once ordered to lay the hose while I went to the pumps, first notifying the captain, who was in the pilot house, by calling him through the speaking tube. I told Brandow to stand by the engine and not to leave it, and he obeyed me.

"In less than a minute water was being poured on the flames, but it did not seem to check them in the least. Two minutes or so later the fire alarms sounded and someone on deck cried 'Fire!' Instantly there was a roar as the terrified passengers arose like one person and made a rush for the stern. Never shall I forget the horror of that scene and the terrible confusion that followed. There was no checking that frenzied crowd; most of the crew were busy fighting the fire and those who were on deck were unable to calm the fears of the women and children. The captain rang the bell for a full head of steam, and the boat shot forward like a race horse.

"A thick volume of smoke went forward and filled the lower part of the boat. I was compelled to cover my mouth and nose with my arm in order to breathe. Mingled with the smell of the burning paint and wood was the sickening odor of burning flesh. Women and children rushed about as though bereft of their senses; mothers grasped their children and rushed to the sides of the steamer and jumped into the water, only to drown. I saw several children with their clothing on fire and their mothers vainly trying to put out the flames with their hands. I never saw fire spread with such rapidity, and in less time than it takes to tell this the whole forward part of the vessel was in flames.

"The boat had been newly painted, and this, of course, made it burn more rapidly. Those who were on the lower deck rushed aft, and many children were knocked down and trampled to death. Try as I can, it is impossible to erase the scene from my memory. When I close my eyes at night I can see the struggling crowd, the dead, upturned faces and floating bodies. I can yet hear those agonizing and piercing screams; and feeling the scorching flames, I realized that our only safety was to beach the boat, and I knew that North Brother island was the only place to do it. We could not turn back and beach on the meadows, for we were above them, and I was fearful that we might strike a rock in Hell Gate. Had this happened the loss of life would have been greater, for no one not a good swimmer could have kept afloat in the swift water.

The Confederation Life.

Mr. Melville Parry, representing The Confederation Life, and Walter Truesdale, local and district agent of the company, have added in the past week some good business to their already well established Enderby agency. The Confederation Life is the most progressive company in Canada. Their Endowment Contract combines the very latest features in the life insurance business, and is as free as the air you breathe from any conditions or restrictions. The 32nd Annual Report just published shows that the company has paid nearly two and one half millions of dollars in profits to its policy holders, a record the management are justly proud of. The motto of the company is to sell life insurance and not purchase it as is so often done now-a-days, in the keen race for business, thus securing the large volume of nearly forty millions at a moderate cost. The result of Mr. Parry's visit has been to place Mr. Truesdale in possession of the very latest policies issued. Mr. Truesdale is in the insurance and real estate business to stay, following no other occupation. Your interests will be carefully looked after year by year. Full information will be freely given on application to Walter E. Truesdale, Enderby.

That Name Again!

The World has already pleasantly referred to that recruit in British Columbia journalism, the Enderby Edenograph. While the name is not a catching one the paper is much better than its cognomen, and Enderby is to be congratulated on having such a live and up-to-date weekly. That the Okanagan will support good papers is shown by the success of the Vernon News and the Armstrong Advertiser. The Edenograph is a paper of a different style, but, if possible, more interesting. It records, by the way, that during the year 1903 over 22,400 tons of produce was shipped from the Okanagon. A pretty good showing for a district with only a few miles of railway line.—Vancouver World.

In the football game last Saturday evening, the Indian team defeated the Enderby team by a score of 2 to 1.

PRIMATE COMING TO AMERICA

The established church of England is undergoing the severest trial it has experienced since the days of James II. In the face of such trying times the Archbishop of Canterbury will visit American to obtain, if possible, some ideas that might assist him to bring the church out of its present chaotic condition. An ex-attache writing in the New York Tribune says of the proposed visit:

"As soon as ever Parliament terminates the labors of its present session and is prorogued, either at the end of July or some time in the first ten days of August, the Archbishop of Canterbury will sail for New York with the object of spending two months in visiting the United States and Canada, and will enjoy the distinction of being the first Primate of All England to set foot in the New World. He comes to America at a time when the church of which he is, next to the King, supreme head, is in a crisis more severe than any which it has undergone since the days of James II.—at a moment when the most powerful and influential statesman of the Empire, in the person of Joseph Chamberlain, is advocating in and out of the House of Commons is disestablishment, and when it is so torn by internal dissensions that it has been found necessary to appoint a royal commission for the purpose, to use the words of the Premier, 'to investigate the ecclesiastical disorders in the national church.' It is possible that the Primate, who is, of course, a member of this commission, may carry back with him from the United States, where there is no state establishment, some ideas culled in this country which may contribute to the solution of the difficulties by which the Church of England is now confronted."

The Okanagan Lumber Co. Ltd.

Now cutting. Can fill any order for Rough, Dressed and Finished

Lumber

Capacity of mill, 75,000 a day. Orders promptly filled. Prices on application. Terms, cash.

Address— The OKANAGAN LUMBER CO., LTD. Enderby, B. C.

YOUR CHARACTER

Personality and Future will be read by an expert of wide repute on receipt of 12 cents and specimen of handwriting.

HENRY RICE, Graphologist. 1927 Madison Ave., New York

Armstrong Hardware Tin & Plumbing Works

Prices right for A1 goods. Silverware, Graniteware, Cruet Stands, Copperware, Fine Table Cuttlery, Tinware, Fine Cooking Utensils, Woodenware, Pipe and Pipe Fittings of all kinds, Butter Crocks, Daisy Churns, Creaming Cans and Dairy Goods. McClary M'f'g Co's Famous Stoves and Steel Ranges.

W. J. Armstrong, Manager, Armstrong, B. C.

Special Rates to Okanagon.

Referring to the Excursion rates to British Columbia from the Northwest, a letter from E. J. Coyle, Vancouver, says: "Tickets are being issued on July 7th to points in Okanagan Valley, at rate of single fare plus $2.00; 15 days are allowed to make going trip, with stop-overs, the return trip to be made in 60 days."

Tomorrow won't be as long as today. Hurry up with your subscription.

FOR SALE COLUMN

[Under this head, all ads not exceeding 35 words will be published at 25c first insertion, 15c each subsequent insertion]

WANTED—A house painter's apprentice. State what wages expected. J. C. Orchard, Enderby, B. C.

FOR SALE—32 pigs, one month old. For further particulars apply to Thomas J. Brash, Enderby, B. C.

Fire! Fire! Fire!

Insure your buildings with

WALTER E. TRUESDALE

Agent for The Liverpool, London & Globe Insurance Co., of London, Eng.; The Phoenix Assurance Co., of London, Eng.; The British American Ins. Co. of Toronto; The Phoenix Assurance Co., of Brooklyn, N. Y.; The Guardian Assurance Co., of London, Eng.

The Armstrong Pharmacy

PURE DRUGS
ACCURATE DISPENSING

Dispensing done by a competent Dispenser.

When in Armstrong, call. We have the only up-to-date Drug Store in the Valley.

R. R. Burns, Manufacturer Masonic Building Burns' Toilet Luxuries

Picture Framing

If you have a picture or two that you think a great deal of, you should have it framed. It will not cost much; but the improvement will be great. Make your rooms prettier.

Jas. C. English, Furniture Dealer Cliff St., Enderby

70 Town Lots

5 11-acre Blocks

Just put upon the market. The choicest building sites in the town of Enderby. Ten minutes' walk from the Postoffice. Enderby has advanced in a wonderful measure during the past year. Property has doubled, and tripled, and quadrupled in value. The town will continue to progress; it has only fairly started. Property will continue to increase in value; building lots will never be less valuable than they are today. Your best opportunity is NOW. Price of Lots, $10 to $70

Henry W. Harvey, Agent, Enderby.