The Rangoon Times mentions a curious fact. One of the prerogatives of the King of Ava is to set aside any day he pleases and call it 'New Year's Day.' But it is generally fixed by astronomical calculations. This day is the anniversary of the descent to the earth of the Tha Ghya Meng, or the King of the Nats, who is the guardian spirit of the world. The outward and visible representation of this deity is his golden-footed majesty the King of Burmah, who on New Year's Day, receives homage on his account. During these festivities Burmese children consider themselves privileged to squirt water at people.

The Army and Navy Gazette of the 14th inst says:—The close of the present financial year will see us with at least 100,000 breech-loading rifles on the Snider plan, and in the course of next year the whole of our troops will probably be equipped with them. Meanwhile experiments, with a view to the ultimate adoption for future manufacture of a new breech-loading arm, will be continued.

A Boston paper states that Mr. Peabody has announced that he will bestow $50,000 each upon the colleges of Harward, Amherst, and Williams, in the State of Massachusetts, and $1,000,000 upon Boston for homes for the poor.

A thousand shoemakers in and around Newark, N. J., are idle, because their employers attempted to reduce their wages 15 per cent.

W. H. Russell, who witnessed the fight from the Tower of Koniggratz, had his head cut open in the retreat, and narrowly escaped capture by the Prussians.

Victor Hugo, the author, thinks he has mistaken his vocation. As a painter he thinks we would have achieved great fame.

John Stuart Mill pronounces Mr. Gladstone the greatest Parliamentary leader since the time of the Stuarts

About seven thousand Scandinavians have passed through Chicago this season for Minnesota, and more are expected.

FACTS vs. THEORIES.

"Give me a place to rest my lever on," says Archimedes, "and I will move the world." "Give me pure and unadulterated drugs," says Medicus, of the olden time, "and I will cure disease."

In one sense, both of these learned pundits were the veriest charlatans. They knew there was no place to rest their lever on, either to move the world or cure disease. Mechanism was in a backward state, and the medical profession was but another name for sorcery, and all the adjuncts of magic filters and charms of the "evil eye," &c.

But these latter days have borne unto us something more than even superstition and its crew ever dreamt of in their maddest philosophy. In these days of practical science, what was theory of yesterday is fact to-day, and all the old time notions become as bubbles in the sun, and burst and break with every breath we draw.

Let Archimedes shoulder his lever and we will find a resting place for it to move the world. Let mine ancient Medicus pant and toil no more for the drugs he so sorely needs, for we have them at our hand, ever ready to serve them at his beck.

Refined in the laboratory of Dr. Maggiel, the finest materials known in the medical profession are obtainable by any one. His Billious, Dyspeptic, and Diarrhœa Pills stand unrivalled, and his Salve operates with magical effect upon burns, scalds, and all sores and ulcers of the skin.

In fact, we think MAGGIEL'S Pills and Salve are the wonder of this century, and we are happy in the thought that many others of our brethren of the craft agree with us. We would earnestly counsel that all families provide themselves with Dr. Maggiel's Preparations at once, and keep them ready at hand, so as to use them at the most opportune time and as occasion serves.—Valley Sentinel.

MR. ZIRN begs to announce to the inhabitants of Victoria that he has lately received a large assortment of Children's Carriages and Chairs, Fishing Baskets and Fishing Canes, and a large quantity of Market and Travelling Baskets, China Vases, Fancy Goods and Toys, all of which have to be sold on or before February next at greatly reduced prices Goods sold at wholesale for cost prices. *

THE GREAT REMEDY OF THE AGE.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

The effect of the Ointment on the System

To the very core and centre of all diseases which affect the human body, this remarkable preparation penetrates. It disappears under the friction of the hands, as salt disappears when rubbed upon meat. The unguent performs its healing errand rapidly, safely, and without pain. Simple eruptions, open sores, hard tumors, scrofulous developments of all kinds, abcesses, cancers, old wounes, and, in fact, every species of inflammation and suppuration, whether in the skin, the flesh, the glands, or among the muscles, can be arresteb in its destructive course, and permanently cured without danger by rubbing in this inestimable Ointment.

Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Sores, and Ulcers.

In many Hospitals in Europe this celebrated remedy is now used for the cure of old wounds, sores, and ulcers; in Spain and Portugal, and in many parts of Italy, the first Physicians reregularly prescribe its use. It is a sovereign remedy for bad breasts and bad legs; and likewise for all skin diseases. It is to be found in the chest of nearly every sailor, soldier, and emigrant.

Imprudencies of Youth;—Sores and Ulcers.

The above class of complaints is surely removed by nightly fomenting the parts with warm water, and then by most effectually rubbing in this Ointment. Persons suffering from these direful complaints should lose not a moment in arresting their progress. It should be understood that it is not sufficient merely to smear the Ointment on the affected parts, but it must be well rubbed in for some considerable time two or three times a day, that it may be taken into the system, whence it will remove only hidden sore or wound as effectually as though it were palpable to the eye. Bread and water poultices, after the rubbing in of the Ointment, will do great service. This is the only proper treatment for females in cases of cancer in the stomach, or for those who suffer from a general bearing down.

Piles, Fistulas, Strictures.

Blotches, as also swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Ointment be used freely, and the Pills be taken night and morning as recommended in the printed instructions When treated in any other way these complaints only dry up in one place to break out in another; whereas this Ointment will remove the humor from the system, and leave the patient a vigorous and healthy being. It will require time, aided by the use of the Pills, to ensure lasting cure.

Diptheria, Bronchitis, Sore Throats,

Any of the above class of diseases may be cured by well rubbing the Ointment three times a day upon the skin covering the throat, chest, and neck of the patient. The unguent will soon penetrate the pores and give immediate relief. To allay the fever and lessen the inflamation, eight or ten Pills should be taken night and morning. The Ointment will produce perspiration, which is so essential for removing fevers, sore throats, and those oppressions of the chest which arise from Asthma, Bronchitis, and other causes.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following Cases:

Bad Legs	Corns (Corns)	Rheumatism
Bad Breasts	Cancers	Scalds
Burns	Contracted and Stiff Joints	Sore Nipples
Bunions	Elephantiasis	Sore Throat
Bite of Moschetoes and Sand-Flies	Fistulas	Skin diseas
coco-tay	Gout	Scurvy
Chiego-foot	Glandular Swellings	Sore heads
	Lumbago.	Tumors
Chilblains	Piles	Ulcers
Chapped Hands		Wounds

HOMICIDE IN CALIFORNIA—A recent telegram states that B. B. Baker, County Surveyor and Justice of the Peace for Monterey County, was shot and killed on the 10th by W. V. McGarvey, County Assessor. Baker some months ago had lost $2000 which he had buried in his yard, and brooded over his loss so much that his mind became affected. In this state he suspected McGarvey of taking the money, and publicly threatened to kill him. The latter hearing this got a gun and came into a saloon where Baker was reading. An altercation ensued, when Baker was shot dead. McGarvey gave himself up to the authorities.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRES IN PORTLAND.—The North Portland steam sawmills were destroyed by fire on Saturday night last. The Oregonian says: "The mill, which was the largest in the State, together with the box manufactory, office, mess-house, &c., and many hundred thousand feet of fine dressed and undressed lumber, lay in a heaping, smoky and charred mass of ruins last evening. The total loss cannot fall far short of $20,000, and we regret to say, there was no insurance on any of it. The books of the firm were preserved in a safe." The woods in the vicinity of Portland have also been visited by extensive fires, consuming great quantities of cordwood.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—Rev A. C. McDougall, who arrived from Portland by the Fideliter this morning, will deliver a temperance lecture in the Wesleyan Church, Pandora street, to-morrow evening. Mr. McDougall is Grand Lecturer for the Oregon Order of Good Templars, and brings high testimonials from Governor Woods, of that State, also from Mr. Caswell, G. W. C T., of California, and the Chief of the Order in the United States. We learn that the gentleman is an eloquent speaker.

At the late battle of Custozza, which Victor Emmanuel says he "neither lost nor won," the Neapolitan troops in the thick of the fight threw away their fire-arms and fought hand to hand with their knives—a spectacle which is said never to have been seen in civilised warfare since the invention of guns and pistols.

The London dailies are not always very dignified in their political discussions. The Standard the other day began a leading editorial in this fashion: "With a dotard as a leader in one House and a maniac in the other—" meaning, of course, Earl Russell and Mr. Gladstone.

POLICE COURT—The only case before the magistrate to-day was a summons for wages by an Indian against Robert Elford. Through an error in the summons the case was dismissed, and the magistrate in ordering a new summons to issue recommended the defendant to pay the debt and save costs.

SUPREME COURT—His Honor the Chief Justice yesterday ordered the Summary Court to be postponed till Wednesday next, Bankruptcy Court day. After Wednesday there will be no Summary or Bankruptcy Court till one month from that day.

DISABLED.—A. D. Richardson, the well-known correspondent of the New York Tribune, and author of the "Field, Dungeon and Escape," who lately visited Victoria, has been obliged to desist from any literary labor, owing to a disease of the eyes.

FROM PORTLAND—The steamer Fideliter arrived this morning at two o'clock, with twelve passengers, a full freight, also $2500 for Wells, Fargo & Co.

SHIP OUTSIDE—The ship Belmont, lumber laden, from the Sound for France arrived in Royal Roads this morning.

ON DIT—That a despatch has been received by Governor Kennedy recalling him, and announcing that Mr. Seymour has been appointed governor of the united colonies. The family of our governor have also mentioned to friends that they are shortly going home and that Governor Seymour is, or will, soon be on his way out. The people had better begin to preprare for Governor Seymour a fitting reception.

FAREWELL DINNER.—A number of our principal merchants and other citizens entertained S. Reinhart, Esq., at a dinner last evening, in the French Hotel. Robt. Burnaby, Esq., filled the chair, and M. D. Leneveu, Esq, and Jules David, Esq., the vice chairs. The party spent a very social evening.

CLEAL'S—This well known eating-house will be reopened about the 1st of next month. Cleal is a prime favorite with the public, and his return to business will be received with much satisfaction.

ARCADES AMBO.—"Lokaliums" of the Chronicle expresses much sympathy with John Butts in his recent punishment for theft. "A fellow-feeling makes us wondrous kind."

FROM BURRARD INLET—The ship John Jay, lumber laden for Australia, arrived in Esquimalt harbor last night.

MAILS by the Active will close to-morrow, at 2 p.m. The Express will close at 3 p.m.

TELEGRAPHIC.

THE SECOND ATLANTIC CABLE

The following telegram, sent from Alexandria, Egypt, at half-past 1 p.m. July 30th, was received by Mr. Field, at Heart's Content, at half-past 10 a.m. of the same day:

I congratulate you on your success and perseverance. FERDINAND DE LESSEPS.

LONDONDERRY, Sept. 12th—The steamer Nova Scotia from Quebec, September 1st, arrived to-day and sailed for Liverpool.

MADRID, Sept. 11th—The Estafette of to-day says the French troops must be withdrawn from Mexico with the utmost caution, unless amicable relations are previously established with President Juarez.

VIENNA, Sept 11th—The Austrian Minister of Marine has ordered the Adriatic fleet now at Trieste, to proceed to the Po and Fiume. Austrian naval stations are to be disarmed.

BERLIN, Sept. 11th—The Committee of the Chamber of Deputies persist in the design of limiting the amount which the Government asks authority to obtain by the issue of treasury notes from sixty to thirty millions of thalers. The Minister of Finance has protested in a speech against such reduction and expresses the hope that the Chamber would pass the bill in its original form.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 11th—The anxiety as to the British grain crop is increasing; the weather is very wet, and prices are higher in all the markets.

The Duty of the People.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EVENING TELEGRAPH:—Our political horizon has been so frequently obscured of late by dark clouds, and the general aspect so very squally, that I can but regard the actual serene and profound calm as the precursor of a heavy storm. Our vessel of State has been so wretchedly handled since the new skipper took command, that it has been difficult to discover what course she was steered, or if she had any course at all laid down; he attempted, on his first trip, to double Crown Land Point, but met with a snorter and fell to leeward, which has so mortified him that he seems to have become reckless, for no matter where he is bound he is sure to bump his vessel on some rock or shoal, and at last got her on to a spit, well known to skilful navigators as "the Supply Bill;" her bottom is nearly knocked out, and there she lies waterlogged in James Bay. Now, it must be borne in mind that this said vessel, though owned by a Sovereign, has been chartered to the people of this colony, and that, although the master of her may act in the double capacity of commander and agent for the owner, and be paid by him as such, he is still the servant of the people, and he is amenable to them for any deviation from the charter party. The question, therefore, is, whether there have not been gross deviations from the charter party, and whether the present deplorable condition of the vessel is not the result of them? The committee of management, elected by the people, ordered the vessel, at the commencement of the year, to proceed under easy canvass to Prosperity Harbor, touching at Port Economy on her way, but instead of following instructions, the skipper, after consulting with his mate, who knows no more about navigation than a kangaroo does, crowded on all sail, and started, calling at Cape Flattery, for Extravagance Bay, where he lay as long as he could, and then returned in ballast, the cargo having been broached and disposed of to feed and pay himself and useless crew, and the vessel declared to be $80,000 in debt, without a bit of grub left in any of the lockers! I have given a brief account of the untoward start and recent ruinous navigation of the vessel of State, which is no ordinary craft, for not only the interests but the honor also of the people are involved in the management of it, and therefore I consider it their duty to assemble in a mass and determine what is best to be done to repair the damage that has been sustained. "A set of men," appointed by the owner and the skipper, pretend (of course they do) that he is right, that he is bound to have all the money he wants, and to spend it as he thinks proper, and they also contend that they have a right to interfere between the captain and the people in the amount to be expended and how it shall be disposed of The delegates of the people, on the other hand, maintain that they know their own business, and won't allow anybody to meddle with it; if they are in the right, they ought to be supported by their constituents, and if they are at fault let them be censured. In the meantime, the efficient part of the crew is cruelly thrown out of employment and reduced to the greatest penury, while the favorites are retained on pay as ship-keepers; this state of things cannot last long, and the sooner it is put a stop to the better. It is not for me to anticipate the result of the people's deliberations by suggesting any remedy, though many seem to think it would be better to hand the vessel over to the mainland, have a new bottom put in her, change her colors, and sail her more efficiently and economically; one thing is very certain, that, as rats leave a vessel when she is sinking, so would the watchmen be puzzled to remain in her if those concerned resolve not to contribute a dollar for the payment of their wages, but this the people know as well as I do. A word to the wise is sufficient, and if the people are wise they will take action at once. MONITOR.

BUNSTER v. JOSEPH, BROS.—The Chronicle was in error in its report of this case yesterday. The Judge held that Mr. Bunster was to receive the benefit of his judgment, subject to his giving security for repayment, in case of an adverse decision, should the appeal be granted.

Special Notices.

REMOVAL.—Messrs. Solomon Bros. have removed to the two-story brick building on Government street, opposite the St. Nicholas Hotel. They have received, ex ship Mohawk, from London, a fine assortment of men's clothing and underclothing, which they will sell lower than any house in town. Give them a call. *

ALEXANDRE'S GLOVES—Messrs. J. H. Turner & Co., London House, have received to-day, by Express from Paris, a full assortment of Alexandre's famous kid gloves, for which they are the sole agents in Vancouver Island and British Columbia. *

MR. DIGBY PALMER requests that orders for teaching, playing and tuning Pianofortes, and for instruction in Singing, may be left with Messrs. Hibben & Carswell, Stationers and Booksellers, Government street, or at his residence, near the top of Fort street. *

AUTUMN FASHIONS.—Dress goods for autumn, and hats for the autumn season, of the latest style, with feathers to match, have just been received at the LONDON HOUSE, Government street, in 40 days from London. *

MR. FREEMAN requests us to state that he is about to remove his Variety store from Waddington Alley and corner of Government and Cormorant streets to the large store on Johnson street known as the "Queen Saloon." *

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!—Dr. Maggiel is the founder of a new Medical system. The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctors are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are no of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhœa Pills cure where all others fail. MODERN INVENTIONS.

A nation's necessities are the best guarantee of progress. Pride, tradition and superstition must give way to the demands which competition and rivalry are perpetually putting forward. It is only yesterday England was glorying in her "wooden walls," "Britannia needs no bulwarks, her towers are on the steep," are expressions fresh on the lips of those who believed in the invincible character of "the ships of oak." The fond dream has been rudely shaken, and the "pomp and circumstances of glorious war" has come down to very plain and practical facts. The romance of naval fighting is over. Steam and iron have dispelled sail and wood, and the victory rests now not so much on the bravery or even skill of the commander as on the strength of the vessel's armor and the power of the vessel's guns. Everything has succumbed to mechanical science. It is hard for old countries living so much in the past, guided so much in thought and action by the habits and customs of a by-gone age, to relinquish its traditions. It was a struggle in the English mind to acknowledge that wooden vessels were no longer an efficient protection for the nation's commerce or the nation's coast; but the force of circumstances compelled the admission. It was only after years of persistent effort that Armstrong got his celebrated gun adopted; but even this adoption would not have come so soon had foreign nations not advanced beyond England in the character of their ordnance. The rapidity of events, however, hurry up the national mind, and so we find by the recent English papers that almost so soon as the old-fashioned method of loading rifles has been proved on the field of battle to be a failure, England is rushing at once, without a single indication of her old red-tape and delay into the new system which has recently proved so effective in the Prussian service. General Peel, the new Secretary of State for War, following up the design of his predecessor, Lord Hartington, has given orders for the immediate conversion of 60,000 Enfield rifles into breech-loaders; with the 40,000 ordered by Earl Russell's Government this will make 100,000 of something like an effective weapon for the British infantry. The late Prussian war has proved conclusively that the days of muzzle-loading rifles are gone, and that rapidity even more than accuracy of fire is the great aim now to be achieved on the field of battle. And yet, strange to say, this gun which has of late been so much talked of is by no means a new invention; for almost ten years it has been in the Prussian service — and stranger still it was before the English and French Governments for inspection and rejected before the Prussians obtained it. The discoverer was an Englishman; but as he had no courtly or aristocratic influence his invention was scarcely noticed by the English Government. Now, as it was with Hughes' improvement on the telegraph, after having started from England and gone the rounds it is at last accepted, in principle at least, by the country that gave it birth. There is a secret, however, connected with the cartridge of this weapon which is purely Prussian. Other German Governments obtained the fire-arm, but the fulminating matter in the cartridge, which is ignited by the friction of the needle, evaporated after a few weeks. The Prussian secret enables the composition to keep for years.

The action of the English Government in converting the Enfield's already in use into breech-loaders has met with some able criticism. It is alleged that the Enfield only lasts ten years, and that there would be as much economy and a great deal more efficiency in having a new weapon altogether. A breech-loading fire-arm has been already constructed by a Mr. Westley Richards, that admits of being discharged eight or ten times—the "needle gun" only fires five times—in the minute. A Captain Walker, writing to the Times, approves, in an able letter, of this fire-arm, and enjoins on the Government one great principle in modern arms, and that is that no gun now is worth adopting that requires to be capped at each discharge. "Next to ramming down the movements required for capping involve the greatest waste of time and trouble." Nothing therefore but self-igniting cartridges will be admissible in new fire arms. Whatever may be the result of the discussion now going on in England on this question, of one thing the nation may feel thankful, and that is that the Government is at last driven to adopt expedients and inventions, not on account of the source from which they emanate, but on the ground of general efficiency. This in itself is worth to an old country a hundred victories on the battle-field.

The Disastrous Defeat of the Italian Navy off Lissa.

The London Times of July 29th says: The outcry against the inaction of the Italian fleet under Persano, has been very loud and general throughout Italy for some weeks past. Yielding, as it seems, to the general uproar, Persano put to sea on the 12th, but came back to Ancona after a cruise of five days, reporting that he had scoured the Adriatic in every direction, but had been unable to fall in with the Austrian squadron, which was safe at anchor in its harbor of Pola, guarded, not only by double rows of land batteries and floating batteries at the water's edge, but also by a whole shoal of torpedoes. The return of the fleet to Ancona and the reason alleged, roused the wrath of Persano's countrymen to such a pitch that the new Minister of Marine, De Pretis, a personal friend of Persano, hastened to Ancona and had a personal interview with the Admiral, the result of which was the immediate departure of the fleet. It put to sea on the 17th, and on the following evening came in sight of Lissa, a small but not unimportant island of Dalmatia, lying about 48 miles to the southwest of Spalatro, and boasting one of the best harbors in the Adriatic. On the 19th the Italian ironclads forced their way into Port St. George, the harbor on the eastern side of the island, and, after silencing the Austrian batteries by a seven hours' cannonade, were preparing to land, when Vice Admiral Albini arrived with the news that Admiral Teghetoff, with the Austrian squadron, had left Pola, and was advancing to the rescue of Lissa. The Italians, whose attack upon Lissa was probably a mere demonstration intended as a challenge to the Austrian Admiral, now stood off to sea, and on the 20th the long-wished for trial of strength arrived. The Italian fleet consisted of 23 vessels, of which 12 were ironclad frigates. Of the Austrian force we have no account, though Admiral Teghetoff invariably calls it a "squadron," while he designates the opposing force as a "fleet."

On the first encounter the superb ironclad frigate Re del Italia was sunk by the Austrian ironclad Ferdinand Max, and the Palestro, described by the Austrians as another iron-plated frigate, but by the Italians as a gunboat, caught fire and presently blew up. Four Italian ironclads closed with the Austrian line-of-battle ship Kaiser, one of which she ran down, while she drove back the others. At the end of the severe action, which lasted several hours, the Austrians, by their own account, were victorious, the Italian fleet was repulsed and compelled to put back to Ancona, and Lissa was relieved. The Kaiser lost her foremast and bowsprit, and had 22 killed and 82 wounded, but the squadron was otherwise unscathed, and was as ready for action at the end as the beginning of the fray. The version given by the Italians does not materially differ from that of their adversary. They admit the loss of the Re del Italia and Palestro, and merely add that the Anondatore, on board of which Persano had hoisted his flag, bore down upon the Austrian Admiral's ship and carried away its stern, and that, upon the Italians collecting their forces for a decisive stroke, the Austrians fell back and took shelter behind the neighboring island of Lesina. On the ground of having been left in possession of the scene of action, Admiral Persano claims the advantage. He also states that the loss of the enemy was considerable, and that the commander of the crew of the Palestro and the Re del Italia had perished; but the Italian bulletins assure us that nearly all the crew of the Re del Italia were saved by the Vittorio Emmanuele. The news that one Austrian man-of-war and two steamers had been sunk by the Italian artillery is unofficial. It is added in the Austrian report that the Italians three times attempted a landing at Comissa, on the western coast of the island of Lissa, but were in every instance repulsed by the garrison.

WAR IN ABYSSINIA.—Il Commercio, of Cairo, under date of July 7, states: "A tremendous battle is imminent between the King, Theodore II. and Gubassie, who aspires to the crown and has risen in opposition to the despotism of Theodore. Yahro-Medina, the General of Gubassie, has placed the province of Tigre under contributions of men, horses, animals of all kinds, provisions and money. Both parties are making great preparations for war. According to the statements of the Abysinians, there will not be less than 150,000 combatants upon the field of battle. Consul Cameron and all the other European prisoners whom the newspapers had stated to have been released are still in the King's power at Pabretabor. This news is so bad that we should wish it contradicted, but the source whence we have it is one which renders it quite deserving of credence."

The real leader of all the Prussian operations has been Gen. Moltke, the chief of the royal staff. With regard to Prince Frederick Charles, I have been told on very good authority, that he spent two months in the early part of this year in wandering through the various valleys and defiles of the Bohemian frontier, disguised as a common waggoner. At all events he was a considerable time away from Berlin, and no one knew whither he had gone. If this be the case, and it is very possible, one must say he deserves to gain victories.

A Triumph of Science

—AND—

PILLS & SALVE.

These Life-giving remedies are now, for the first time, given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these

Life-Giving Pills

Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorates the ailing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be

A VERY FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH,

For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state. To the young and middle aged they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to vigor and make youth ever

An Eternal Spring!

It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show in one glorious fact the magic that made it fair.

THESE FAMOUS REMEDIES

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back, and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—

For Billious Disorders

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills.—Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.

For Cutaneous Disorders

And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

THE ONE THING WANTED.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

The Blood.

These famous pills are so composed that they operate wholesomely on the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and other organs; by correcting any derangements in their functions whereby a steady supply of pure materials for the renewal of the Blood is furnished, and a constant abstraction of effete products is effected. This perfect circulation thus becomes the very fountain of health and life, and overcomes all form of disease wherever its situation.

General Disorders of the Liver and Stomach.

All who ever indulge at table, either in eating or drinking, should take about ten of these famous pills at bed time, from which will result a clear head and good stomach the following morning. Thousands of Ladies are always complaining of sick headaches, want of appetite, want of energy, and want of strength, to correct all these evils, three or four of these Pills should be taken twice a week, when they would give the invalid the health and appetite of a ploughman.

Females of all Ages and Classes

Obstructions of any kind, either in young or those between forty and fifty—the most critical period of life—may be radically removed by using these Pills according to the printed directions which accompany each box. Young persons with sickly and sallow complexions may have the bloom of health restored by this corrective, which purifies the blood and expels all gross and impure humors from the system. Beware then of the critical age from forty to fifty, as it sends many thousands to premature grave,—these Pills should be taken at that period of life two or three times a week

Want of Strength and Energy.

Persons of sedentary habits, or those troubled in mind, working in Factories or Coal Pits, who cannot obtain that amount of fresh air and exercise which nature requires, suffer from weakness and delility, lowness of spirits and want of appetite. All such should take a close or two of these Pills every three or four days, as they act gently and effectually on the system and impart vigor and energy to the body, which is always followed by a good appetite, sound and refreshing sleep, and a high flow of spirits.

For the Cure of Dropsy.

The efficacy of Holloway's Pills in Dropsy is extraordinary. They act with such a peculiar effect upon the system, that the fluids causing this direful complaint, are perceptibly carried off and prevented from any further accumulation. The sufferer regains a buoyancy of spirits and rejoices in a completely renovated constitution. It is indispensably necessary that the Ointment should be most effectually rubbed into the complaining parts during the whole course of treatment.

Children and their Ailments.

In no country in the world are more children carried to an early grave than in Great Britain. Coughs, Measles, Scarlatina, Fevers, and other diseases attack the little sufferers, and death, but too often, follows at a rapid pace; yet if at the first stage of these complaints, parents were to have recourse to Holloway's Pills, all danger would be avoided, for the stomach and bowels would be gently but effectually cleansed by this mild aperient; the depraved humors corrected and the secretions duly regulated. A perfect cure would soon be effected, and the little patient restored to sound health.
