FIRST MEETING

City Council for 1902 Met This Morning.

THE STANDING COMMITTEES

Mayor Clute's Inaugural Address—The Retiring Mayor's Speech—Who the Chairmen Are.

At 11 o'clock this morning all the old city council members with the exception of Alderman Rolt and the newly elected aldermen, were present at the city hall to make the formal exchange of affairs.

The retiring mayor made a speech, reviewing the work accomplished last year, and at the conclusion of his address Mayor Clute, seconded by Alderman Hamilton, moved a complimentary resolution eulogizing Mayor Lalonde's efforts during his term of office.

Mayor Clute then read his inaugural address, in which he stated that economy must be the watch word in civic affairs during 1902, and promising that he would do his utmost in this direction.

His worship touched on school affairs, and said that the trustees would probably require from $5000 to $6000 from the city over and above the government grant, and that in order to make revenue and expenditure balance the most rigid economy must be practiced in all the civic departments in order to meet this new call.

Certain water works expenditures were absolutely necessary, but no permanent work could be undertaken.

His worship said he was not in avor of ward politics and favored doing away with the wards and electing the council from the city at large.

Alderman Hamilton moved, seconded by Alderman MecKenzie, that the following constitute the standing committee for the year:

Standing committees for 1902—Board of Works—Alderman MacKenzie, Chairman, Daniel and Embleton.

Fire, Water and Gas—Alderman Daniel, Chairman, Dunlop and MacKenzie.

Health and Relief—Alderman Armstrong, Chairman, Hamilton and Embleton.

Finance Committee—Alderman Hamilton, Chairman, Armstrong and Dunlop.

Clam Chowder free day and night a the Alhambra.

COMMUNICATION.

EDITOR EVENING WORLD.

Dear Sir:—I desire to thank very heartily all my supporters who, by their votes elected me to serve on on the school hoard. I also desire to say in common with the rest of the committee, I am proud of the splendid campaign made by the Labor party in the municipal contest. Under all the circumstances, defeat is not disgrace.

Yours truly,
P. R. McDONALD.

MACKENZIE'S FIRST REPORT

Le Roi Figures for the Month of November Last.

INTERESTING DETAILS MADE PUBLIC

The New Manager Gives His Directors Plenty of Information--Full Particulars as to Output, Expenditure and Cost of Mining.

John H. MacKenzie in his first report to the Le Roi directors, dated the 19th of last month, says:

Output—The shipments made to the Northport smelter for the month of November totalled 14,088.042 dry tons of 2000 lbs each, which had an average value of $11.28 per ton.

The following brief tabulated summary gives the general details of the metals values:—4,991,507 ozs of gold at $20 equals $99,830.14, or $7.09 per ton; 8,832.62 ozs of silver at 55c equals $4,857.94, or 34c per ton; 363,042 lbs of copper at 15½c equals $54,271.51, or $3.85 per ton—gross value, $158,959.59; average value per ton, $11.28.

In addition to the above 1,639.1785 dry tons were shipped to the Trail smelter; this netted from the smelter $11.634.07, or an average value of $7.04 per ton of 2000 lbs.

The gross value of the ores shipped to Northport, together with the net amount received from the Trail smelter, makes a total of $170,593.66. In order to arrive at the net estimated profit over treatment I have deducted $6 for all freight and treatment charges.

The [illegible] made up as follows:—Treatment [illegible] smelter, $4.50; freight to smelter, $0.75; average cost per ton of ore for realization of matte, $0.7[illegible] [illegible] ore freight and trea[illegible] tons are [illegible] timated profit over treatment charges, &c., for all ores shipped during the month $86,065.41.

Mine expenditure—The total expenses on mine account for month of Nov. was $50,671.93, and has been apportioned as follows:—Cost of breaking ore, including handling second-class ore dump $409.79, $47,687.61; charged to exploration, $624.85; charged to capital account—machinery $14.57, surface improvements $787.40, mine equipment $1,557.50 — $2,359.47: After deducting the above from the estimated net profit fer treament leaves a balance of estimated profit $35,393.48.

The average cost per ton for breaking ore and delivering same on cars for the month is $3.40 after deducting the cost of handling second-class dump $409.79 and the cost of handling, freight and treatment on second-class ore dump ore is $3.75.

NO STRIKE IN PHOENIX

Denial of a Rumor Circulated About Town Today.

A rumor that wages had been reduced in Phoenix camp and that in consequence all the miners had gone out on a strike was persistently circulated on the streets of Rossland today—probably for a purpose.

A telephone to the miners' union at Phoenix this morning brought a prompt denial of the whole story. The secretary stated that there was not a word of truth in the yarn, and that there had not been any talk of the matter around Phoenix.

Committee Meeting.

A special meeting of the committee of fifteen of the Municipal Labor party is called for Monday evening next, Jan 20th at 8 o'clock sharp in Miners Union hall. All accounts must be sent in to the committee before the meeting.

JACK KNIFE STEALER

Wandered Around Watson's Hotel and Was Run In.

Frank Meyers, who says he hails from the eastern states, and who only arrived here on Friday last, was captured by the police at 2 o'clock this morning charged with stealing jack knives, a watch and some other articles from Watson's hotel.

The stolen goods were found on the prisoner. He pleaded guilty and was remanded for sentence until the authorities could find out something of his past record.

HOW HE PUT IT

What the Ex-Manager Said in London.

THE CAMP WAS AGAINST HIM

In a Royal Rage With Frecheville—Says He Resigned and Was Not "Removed."

Bernard Macdonald in his interview, as published in the London Financial Times, expresses great surprise that Mr Frecheville should submit such a report as he did to his co-directors. "It is at variance" says the Le Roi ex-manager, "with the plain facts, and is technically incorrect, while the bitterness of the attack on my management can hardly fail to be [illegible]parent. I was prepared, of [illegible] thing of the sort, for while Mr. Frecheville was in Rossland, to use the language of his own report he was interviewing all sorts and conditions of men trying, as I was informed, to find some suggestion or idea to use in his proposed attack against my management. I must, however, confess that I did not anticipate such a lack of fairness as he embodied in his report. He thought he saw a favorable opportunity to belie and belittle the mine and smelting works and their operations under past management, and as an opportunist, Mr. Frecheville is certainly Napoleonic"

"The ex-manager," adds the Times reporter, "could not say what necessity drove Mr. Frecheville to make such an attack on his management."

A great deal of the interview is taken up in discussing "my resignation" and Mr. Frecheville's "dismissal." Referring to the strike here Mr. Macdonald says: "The strike was bitterly hostile, and the community at Rossland were divided, by far the greatest number, as would be natural to expect taking the side of the strikers." * * * At this time it was persistently asserted in Rossland that Mr. Bratnober and his associates in London had secured the control of the Le Roi. The Labor press was discussing the letter I had written to Mr. Whitaker Wright, when he was chairman of the Le Roi and which had been published by him, giving the details of the propositions made to me by Mr. Bratnober to give him first information about the Le Roi mine suitable for bear operations against the stock. It was pointed out by the press in sympathy with the strikers, that it was only a question of a very short time until I should be removed from the position I then occupied with the Le Roi, alleging the absurdity of the new directors allowing me to remain as general manager in view of the publication and circulation of the letters referred to. Every one including myself recognized the logic of this conclusion. * * * My efforts in this latter respect (organizing new forces of workmen) were seriously handicapped by the uncontradicted rumors that were circulated to the effect that the policy, (to the victor belong the spoils) was to be adopted by the Bratnober-Frecheville management, and the rascals were to be turned out at

CIVIC ECONOMY.

The WORLD stands ready to accord Mayor Clute and his administration a very reasonable support if a policy of economy and retrenchment is openly adopted at the city hall. Civic administration is too serious a matter to be put to one side and covered up "for the good of the camp" as it has been in the past.

In good truth it is for the good of the camp that there should be a change this year in many respects, and we await an announcement from Mr. Clute with some impatience. He may, he will, make some enemies by doing his whole duty, but he should win over a host of luke-warm supporters and many of those who strongly opposed him if he will do his best to place civic expenditure [illegible] 800, 24c; North Star, [illegible] footing to what they are on at the present time.

Those who insist on such a policy can not now be charged with any other motive than an honest desire to see clean, conservative, economical city government.

THE VOTERS' LIST.

Before another year comes round and a municipal election is held, the whole question of the preparation of the voters' list should be looked into.

At present the methods adopted are very unsatisfactory, to say the least of it.

There is no provision for a court of revision to finally revise the list after the city clerk has made it up. Names may have been improperly placed on the list, and this without attributing any fault to the city clerk who is bound to put on any person who hands in a signed declaration in the required form, and under the peculiar working of the statute and the construction which has been placed on some of the clauses, all sorts and conditions of persons register every year whose right to do so, and to subsequently vote might be fairly tested if there was any provision for so doing.

When the list is closed on the 1st of December in each year and after the city clerk has prepared it for publication, an opportunity for inspection should be given, and a time set for hearing objections to any of the names registered, just as is done by other courts of revision.

We should very quickly get to know who is included by "householder" and by several other definitions in the act, and the result would probably make a much fairer list than the one we now get every year.

Every one noticed the large number of women voting last Thursday and in many instances where the husband owned the property and voted on it the wife voted as an "occupant" or "honseholder," and where the wife was the owner the husband voted as the "householder."

The householder vote is of course by far the largest, exceeding the "owner" vote many times, and it is important if the polling is to properly represent public opinion that the list should be fair to all classes in the community. Next year wil see probably a much larger list than last, but some means should be taken to regulate it so that one rule of construction should be carried out for all.

The whole act should be revised and there is no good reason why everyone should not he required to register every year. The ward system should be abolished, and the one man one vote rule should be strictly applied.

The existing provisions are antiquated, quite inadequate and absurdly unfair, and we submit they should be made to conform to twentieth century ideas.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

In Phoenix the revenue for 1901 exceeds the expenditure by over $2500.

"As an opportunist Mr. Frecheville is certainly Napoleonic."—The Ex-Manager.

There are many iniquities in the present Municipal Election Act. One of the most glaring is the qualifications for voters.—Nelson Tribune.

"The ex-manager could not say what necessity drove Mr. Frecheville to make such an attack on his management."—London Financial Times.

The electiou of Thursday taught people a lesson. In order to have a voice in the government of the city, it is very necessary to be on the voters list.

"The strike was bitterly hostile and [illegible] Rossland [illegible] greater [illegible] Granus would be natural to expect, taking the side of the strikers."—Bernard Macdonald in the Financial Times.

The annual civic statement published last week by the town of Phoenix shows the expenditures and revenues in short form for 1901 and includes a balance sheet certified to by the city auditor. This is what Rossland ratepayers want to see here.

In the lately published report of Director Frecheville, on the Le Roi mine, there is a scathing denunciation of Bernard Macdonald, until recently general manager of that great property. Mr. Frecheville's discharge of Mr. Macdonald seems to have been thoroughly justified, and that of Bela Kadish even more so.—Pheenix Pioneer.

"It was pointed out by the press in sympathy with the strikers that it was only a question of a very short time until I should be removed from the position I then occupied with the Le Roi, alleging the absurdity of the new directors allowing me to remain as general manager, in view of the publication and circulation of the letters referred to. Everyone, including myself, recognized the logic of this conclusion."—Bernard Macdonald in London Financial Times.

Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I chanced to see your sign upon your windows on 130th street, New York, I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her Asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symtoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease.
Yours respectfully, O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

COMMUNICATION.

An open letter to Mr. Pettit from Missouri.

Dear sir:—I saw a communication written by you, at the request of leading citizens of Rossland, of changes wrought by the advent of Missourians in western mining camps, particularly in the Couer d'Alenes, you proceed to tell the great benefits of having a crowd of Missourians in a community (especially if there is a strike on, when they can be most depended on) and start by proclaiming first, that you are a sincere friend of laboring men and labor unions. Why did you say that? Don't your every action (even trying to justify your action through the press (give you back the lie direct?

The union at Northport had no quarrel about hours or wages, but the question of the right to organize for mutual protection and improvement. Now, Mr. Pettit, Northport is in the United States of America and that immortal document, the Declaration of Independence, promises,and the constitution of the United States guarantees, all men under Old Glory the right to organize. And you, a Missourian, stand convicted, out of your own mouth, of assisting an alien corporation to crush a labor union formed for mutual protection and improvement in your own country and sanctioned by your own laws. You, a friend of labor organizations. Bah! Try again. I'm from Missouri; you've got to show me!

You state you are the descendant of a sire that walked barefooted to Georgia to work a mine for $6.00 per month. Why did you not tell those prominent citizens of Rossland that when your father worked for that paltry sum he was in direct competition with the slaves of the south, and that he worked all summer for a heifer, and another summer for a small horse, and then the war broke out. No, no, Mr. Petitt, the war did not break out then. Between the time he worked in Georgia (in competition with slaves) and the breaking out of the war the gold mines of California alone produced over $800,000,000 in gold, and paid shovelers and laborers an ounce of gold for a day's wage, and the gold mines of British Columbia paid the same wages before your cruel war. But shoveller's wages gradually came down until they reached low water mark in Rossland camp and in no other camp, and you and men of your class are doing your best to bring them still lower. I like plain words. Do you, or do you not, think $3.00 per day too much? Write us another letter, not to prominent people, but to the plain folks, and tell us your opinion. But don't write if you don't intend to act as you write, and for heavens sake don't come Barney and the Rossland Miner or Whiner on us, and tell us about averages. A plain question that calls for a plain answer to plain folks. Do Missourians of your stripe think $3.00 too much?

You devote considerable space to telling those prominent people that you and your fellow strikebreakers are the possessors of an unlimited amount of intelligence. That is really good. A friend of labor unions, hired ont to crush unions, intelligent! And then rush into print to defend youself. Go get yourself examined for lunacy. I have been working over thirty years for wages and never knew intelligent labor to rush into print to justify itself. Your intelligence reminds me of a boy who came to Sunday school for the first time. The teacher asked him who died to save sinners. The boy was mum, and on the question being pressed, answered: "Twasn't me, we just moved from Missouri last week."

Now, Mr. Pettit, I don't think you are intelligent, if you did say so, or you would not want to rush into print because prominent people wanted you to. But perhaps they think it will help their case and yours. I will give you som advice and leave you to your own reflections. You go home and read. Read much. Read the Rights of Man and Common Sense, two pamphlets that the leading patriots of America say have done much to cement the thirteen colonies in their struggle for independence. Read these, I say, then read the Declaration of Independence, and then gaze on the noble monuments that have been reared by a grateful people in memory of those who gave their lives to establish on the American continent a free land. Then read the story of Benedict Arnold, but don't draw comparison. Don't, the cap might fit. Thomas Jefferson was once asked how far a man's rights extended. He answered: "A man's rights go until another man's commence." Pin this answer in your hat and ask yourself, are you not getting on dangerous ground?

Don't write any more letters for people. Earn your living, if you must earn it, but don't take another man by the throat that is trying to better his condition, and you will earn the respect of the earliest moment expedient." Mr. Macdonald goes on to relate that he found it impossible to manage the mine affairs under the circumstances as the men were indifferent and unruly and would not comply with orders given them. He gives a detailed account of all the circumstances leading up to his "resignation" and quotes Mr. Frecheville's letters, cables and reported statements in the press concerning his retirement. Concluding "from his (Frecheville) own statement it must certainly be apparent that if his cable of October 26, and the publication of the interview of November 6th are cnrrect then the statement in his report regarding my removal is untrue."

who ie not a scab.

The ex-manager states that he proposes to deal with the Frecheville report in detail as soon as he is at leisure, and as Mr. Frecheville is quite sure to come back at the man he disposed, we may expect some interesting information very shortly.
