LADOUX'S VISIT

What He Witnessed on His Trip in the Kootenays.

TWO MILLION POUNDS A MONTH

Large Ore Reserves of the Le Roi —Immense Ore Bodies in the Boundary—Copper Outlook

Dr. A. R. Ladoux has gone back to New York after making a thorouh investigation of the copper outlook here, in the Boundary and at Nelson he said to a Spokesman reporter before leaving Spokane:

"Nearly all the mineral product of British Columbia, especially the copper product, is handled by the firm of which I am a member at New York city, and the copper from the Trail, Granby, Greenwood smelter, and up to recently the product of the Le Roi smelter at Northport, has been sampled by my firm. We issue certificates of assay value and on these certificates sales are made.

"As far as the smelters that I have visited are concerned, at Trail, Grand Forks and Greenwood they are probably doing the cheapest work of any smelters north of Arizona. Most of the ore in the Boundary district is self-fluxing, so that no barren iron or lime is necessary. They are smelting from 350 to 400 tons per day through single furnaces which under ordinary conditions would only handle 250 tons. This is entirely due to the fortunate character of the ore.

"The next most prominent question is the supply of ore for these smelters. With a view of satisfying myself on this point, I examined some of the most important mines in each camp, such as the Le Roi at Rossland and the Granby company mines at Phoenix.

"As far as the Le Roi is concerned, I not only saw large ore reserves as far as I could see on a flying visit, but was especially pleased with the character of the work under ground and the economy and ingenuity kisplayed in the construction and operation of overhead work.

"The mines in Phoenix show even larger bodies of low grade ore than I had expected. In the Ironsides and Knob Hiil one finds it possible to measure up ore in sight by the million tons.

"The copper product of the Boundary and Rossland districts alone amounts to more than 2,000,000 pounds of the metal per month, all being shipped at present in the form of matte, carrying 50 per cent. of copper. By November the Granby smelter will be producing the metal itself, as additional furnaces and converters are being added. By that time they will be smelting over 1000 tons daily.

"Speaking of our direct interests in the Boundary country, I will say that we handle from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 pounds of copper matte per month. This means that we handle $250,000 worth of the product per month."

Veteran Baptist Minister.

Brantford, June 25.—Rev. John Tennant, veteran Baptist miuister of this city, is dead, aged 82.

MR. AND MRS. LANGLEY

Home From Their Wedding Trip in the East--The Okanogan Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Langley who were married last month, returned yesterday evening to Rossland after an extensive wedding trip in eastern cities.

Mr. Langley says that the business outlook is very good in the east for everything except mining and he thinks that before the east can be interested in mining ventures in this province again they must see some return for money already invested here, in mine dividends.

Mr. Langley interested himself in Okanagan company matters in the east, and says that the company will shortly be reorganized on new basis.

SOUTHERN DISASTER

Havoc is Most Appalling--Hundreds Missing--Atl Wires Are Down.

Montgomery, W. Va., June 25.—For 48 hours there has been no communication with the outside world. Telephone and telegraph wires are down and no mail trains or express had passed for 36 hours until last night. The loss here and in the immediate vicinity will be close to $100,000. Houses, barns, railway cars, and bridges, were swept away by the uncontrollable water and such a scene of havoc never before has been witnessed here.

Richmond, Va., June 25.—A dispatch correspondent who returned to Bluefield from the scene of the disaster at 2 o'clock this morning, describes the havoc as most appalling. He says that hundreds of people are missing or reported missing, but discredits the idea that the loss of life is anything like at first rumored.

THE BOER WAR

Some Interesting Details of Late Engagements.

HAND TO HAND ENCOUNTERS

General Delaey Has a Close Shave--Boers Fought Well—Recaptured Convoy—Bayonets Used

Capetown, June 25.—Details of the engagements between General Elliott's column and De Wet's force near Reitz June 6, show that the British surprised the Boers' convoy. The burghers fled, but, seeing that their captors were not in strong force, returned and charged with great determination and after desperate fighting recaptured the convoy.

Meanwhile Colonel DeLisle arrived with reinforcements and the fighting was renewed. The Boers lay beneath their wagons and unflinchingly fired between the wheels while their comrades were engaged inspanning and driving off that portion of the convoy furthest from the British, The latter pushed in among the wagons, using the bayonet freely.

General DeLarey was present and personally used a rifle. His right hand neighbor was killed and the comrade on his left wounded. The affair ended in a series of hand to hand encounters and fierce melees, the Boers eventually being driven off. One of De Wet's staff officers was wounded and taken prisoner.

Botha Jamboked.

Jacobus Botha, the member of the Cape assembly for Aliwal North, has been captured by the Boers and publicly jamboked. In addition his house was burned.

Invading Boers.

Barkley East, Cape Colony, June 24.—General Fouche's two Boer commandos have advanced beyond Glen Almond. Boer and British scouts have exchanged shots six miles hence. All the local defense forces have been mobilized.

COST OF BOER WAR

Twenty Thousand Boers Invading Cape Colony —Typhoid Fever.

London, June 25.—The South African war was the subject of innumerable questions in the house of commons today.

Little information was elicited except that it continued to cost £1,250,000 weekly, that the authorities estimated that the invaders of Cape Colony numbered from 10,000 to 20,000 men and that there had been 1484 cases of typhoid fever among the troops during the month of April, of which 187 had proved fatal.

DR. LADOUX.

During the present period of blue ruin and agitation so warmly supported by the Rossland Miner it is some comfort to turn to the expressed views of Dr. Ladoux of New York, as to the outlook for gold-copper mining in this section of the province.

The doctor is a man amongst men in his particular line of mining and his modestly expressed views cannot fail to materially assist in stopping, in a measure at least, a good deal of the nonsense that is being circulated by the Miner on behalf of its new owners.

The visit of the doctor was a most timely one, and on his return to New York those who are likely to be interested in this section of the mining world will learn from a high authority what the situation here really is, and what it promises.

At the moment the local mining men are all looking to the New York market as promising the most assistance for mine development here, and when the views of Dr. Ladoux become known in the east they will assist very materially the efforts that are being made to bring in American capital here.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Lord James of Hereford as arbiter in the Scottish coal trade dispute, has given his decision on the matter of wages. By this decision the miners' wages are to be reduced 12½ per cent. which is equal to 6d. per day. The masters had proposed a reduction of 1s. per day. The adjusted wage will rule until July 31.

As was anticipated, the result of the South Wales sliding scale audit for the the two months ended April 30 has occasioned a reduction in colliers' wages payable for the ensuing two months from June 1. At the meeting of the sliding scale joint committee it was announced that the reduction would be 2½ per cent., making the percentage above the 1879 standard 76¼. There was a steady and continuous increase in the percentage from February 1, 1899, when it was 22½ above the standard, and the percentage will still be 2½ above that of December and February last.

So far this month the minss of the Boundary camp have shipped 22,158 tons of gold-copper ore every ton of which was smelted at local smelters, Strange to say, there are no "blue-ruin" newspapers in Boundary districts. The Greenwood Miner, the Greenwood Times, the Phoenix Pioneer and the Grand Forks Gazette, all appear to be prosperous and no one of them devotes space to decrying the country or its laws.—Tribune.

Butte pays higher wages than Northport, and at Butte the shifts are all eight hours. At Northport it is eight hours for feeders, ten for mechanics and twelve hours for furnace men and charge wheelers. Eighty-four hours a week, the way hours are being cut down these days, is a pretty good service. The manager was hardly wise to raise the question he did in the Spokesman interview of last week. So far, the men have not questioned the hours of work or the wages paid but if the manager makes any further comparisons they will doubtless rise to the occasion.

Communication.

Editor WORLD:

Sir—Well wishers of our public schools and sympathizers with their object will be pleased with the very sensible determination of the superintendent of education to do away with the elaborate system of promotion examinations that that prevailed for several years.

Hereafter there will be but three grades in the schools and promotions within those grades will be made on the judgment of the teacher of each individual pupil. Too much, it is feared, in the past the great ambition of teachers has been to make a good showing at these half-yearly examinations. When these results have been the the chief criterion by which a teacher's ability and success is judged it is not surprising that the other ambitions have been crushed.

With four-fifths of the children of any nation the public school begins and ends their education. Within that school life the character should be built up in truthfulness, self control, perseverance and self reliance. The rudiments of knowledge must be imparted, but of greater importance is it that the child should have the desire for more knowledge than he can possibly gain at the public school and his mind be so cultured that he knows how to pursue his studies when he passes beyond the guidance of the teacher.

If the schools are to fulfil their best mission, this higher ambition to mould character, to develop mental power and to implant dedesire for knowledge must present itself to every true teacher. It is by success iu working out these objects that the public school teacher should be judged and advances in salary and authority granted. The new regulations, by causing a pupil to remain a longer time under each teacher, gives better opportunity for the carrying out of this work which the public schools have to do. The acquirement of knowledge is but a small part of education and just to that extent which the promotion of character, the instilling of a desire for knowledge, for self improvement, are kept constantly before those who are connected with public schools will our educational system be a success and yield ample compensation for the quite liberal outlay of money upon it.

Yours, etc.,
PARENT.

A MINING FAIRY TALE

Luck in Gold Mining--How Some Men Grow Rich Quickly.

The following is another mining story told by Timothy W. Brooks, an old California miner, some of whose yarns have already appeared in the WORLD:

"James W. Doyle, a millionaire of Victor, Colorado, is an illustration of how fitfully fortune smiles in the realm of gold mining. Doyle, who had learned the carpenter trade, but did not follow it, was driving a hack in Manitou when the Cripple Creek excitement began in 1891. In Colorado Springs there was a young plumber named Jimmy Burns. The two were acquainted, and together they went to Cripple Creek to try their luck. Neither knew anything about mining. Battle Mountain, near Victor, was then covered with location stakes. There was a piece of land, comprising about one-sixth of an acre, which had no owner because it was considered worthless. Doyle and Burns took up this land in the belief that something was better than nothing. They sent for John Harnan, who was employed at driving a street scraper in Colorado Springs, to come and help them dig their claim. Harnan's mining experience consisted of what he had learned as a child in picking slate from the screens of Pennsylvania coal mines. For months the trio put in hard work sinking a shaft, with not a single sign of pay ore. Their acquaintances sought to discourage them, but they persisted, and were rewarded by strfking a vein which made them millionaires."

The list comprises many valuable furs, rugs and jewels, including diamonds. The total of their claim is 400,000 taels. # COMMERCIAL COMBINATION

Europe Against America in 1903---A Stubborn Contest Coming.

New York, June 25.—A. Vanderlip, formerly assistant secretary of the treasury, who has just returned to Washington from a long trip abroad, is quoted by the Tribune's correspondent as saying:

"I think it not only possible but highly probable that Europe can and will agree to a binding term of trade combination against us within the next few years, and that the result will be the most gigantic and stubborn commercial war in the history of the world. As most of our commercial treaties expire in 1903, I look for the real beginning of the war then in a refusal of most of the continental nations to renew these conventions."
