IN THREE WEEKS

What Balfour Said in the House Today.

BOERS TO CONSIDER POSITION

No Armistice Will be Granted During the Interval—Conference Resumes After Some Weeks.

London, April 18.—The government leader, A. J. Balfour, today made the following important announcement:

"After two conferences between Lord Milner and Lord Kitchener and the Boer delegates at Pretoria Lord Kitchener, while refusing to grant an armistice, on military grounds, has agreed to give facilities for the election and meeting of representatives of the various Boer commands to consider the position.

The Boer leaders have therefore left Pretoria to carry out this plan.

Mr. Balfour added that it is not expected that communication between the authorities and the Boer leaders could be resumed in less than three weeks time.

BRITISH BAKERS

New Duty Has Resulted in a Rise of a Penny a Loaf.

New York, April 18.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach is quoted as having said that the duty of three pence per hundred weight on grain and five pence on flour will amount to an insignificant fraction on a quartern loaf, says a Tribune dispatch from London. The bakers, however, frightened by the rise in the price of flour, have in some cases put an extra penny on the loaf.

The Labor Parliament

There is gathered in Raven'e hall today probably as important an assemblage as has ever met in this province. A convention of the labor and reform organizations of this province is in session. No one will gainsay that the decisions arrived at by these men, who represent the wage earners and consequently the majority of our people, will be other than of very material and vital moment to this province, either for good or evil. It is too early in the proceedings yet to express any opinion as to what will be the outcome of this convention, but judging from the business like procedure that characterises this assemblage, the high order of intelligence displayed in the discussions, the apparent desire to consider every subject of a political nature dispassionately and thoroughly, and withal the very noticeable absence of anything like sectionalism, or desire for personal aggrandisment, we cannot but think the matured deliberations and decisions of this, the first Provincial Labor convention ever held in British Columbia will be of immediate and lasting benefit to the province.

At the present juncture in provincial politics it is especially gratifying to find so large and influential an element of the body politic, calmly and judiciously considering ways and means, not solely of bettering their own condition, but that of the province at large.—Kamloops Inland Sentinel.

STAY AT HOMES" COMPLAIN

Dr. Hertz Says the Fighting Boers Send Their Wives and Children to the Concentration Camps.

New York, April 18—Rev. Dr. Joseph H. Hertz who was a member of Lord Milners high or advisory commiteee in South Africa, and Chaplain of the Rand rifles has arrived in this city, his former home. When the war started Dr. Hertz was expelled from Johannesburg by Mr. Kruger for being a Uitlander. He has visited many of the British concentration camps in South Africa, and on these camps and kindred subjects Dr. Hurtz says:

"The stories of British cruelty towards the wives an families of Boers in the concentration camps are absurd. It is not the fighting Boers who makes these charges but the "stay-at-homes." Why, the Boer in the field sends his family to the British to take care of so that he will not be hampered while fighting. While there were but 9000 children attending school in the Orange Free State before the war started, there are now 14,000 at school under the British government rule."

THE HALL MINES.

In yesterday's Nelson Miner appeared an interview with Captain Gifford, manager of the Hall Mines, in which that gentleman denied that he had resigned or offered to resign his position as manager, as reported in Sunday's Colonist.

The captain said further that the drop of the company's stock on the London market from seven to two shillings per share had no connection with the existing state of the property. Just as reported he said:

"He understood that the price of the stock had fallen but with a stock in which there is so little dealing as there is in Hall Mining company shares, this is not remarkable and has not any connection with the condition of the mine."

All mining men will be glad to hear good news of the Hall mines. The company generally, and Captain Gifford in particular, have put up such a plucky fight that the success of the undertaking has been greatly hoped for.

It will be interesting to learn what is the true cause of the drop in the shares.

RELIGIONS.

The census returns of the "Religions" of Canada's 5,371,057 population give some interesting information. It would appear that we are divided into 142 distinct classes, including those who have "no religion" and who number 2452.

Some of the titles given are somewhat startling and are certainly new to the average Canadian. A hasty glance down the list reveals the following "Religions": Church of Nature, Daniel's Band, Apostles' Association, Church of Age to Come, Gathered Out, Reincarnationists and Transmigrationists.

As a sort of satire we have "Christians," who number six thousand odd, and "Liberal Christians" who only total six.

Agnostics make a poor showing compared to the noise we hear about them, only 1579 registering under this head, and the Atheists can only muster 211 followers from the Atlantic to the Pacific. "Socialists" who register themselves as such religiously, amount to 32.

Those at the head of the principal religions are: Roman Catholics 2,228,999, Methodists 916,862, Presbyterians 842,301, Church of England 680,346 and Baptists 292,485.

A "FUNNY" PAPER.

The New York Puck in its last number has a full paged cartoon of Senator Hanna drawing a model of himself for a statue of the man who settled the differences between capital and labor. The vacant pedestal, duly inscribed, is seen in the background and in the foreground are two figures representing capital and labor and both are depicted as laughing very heartily at the senator's effort. The cartoon is styled, "The joys of attempting the impossible," and the reason for the whole picture is a quotation from one of Mr. Hanna's speeches: "I would want no greater monument than to have the world remember that I did something to end the war between American capital and labor." Does Puck really think the conflict between labor and capital a huge joke? and does it honestly desire to, so far as it can, discourage and prevent some reasonable adjustment of the industrial warfare which now exists the world over?

Senator Hanna may or may not be sincere. What he has done in the matter has been openly done and so far the arbitration committee got together by him and composed of representatives of labor, capital and outsiders has at least satisfactorily settled one strike of great importance, and it will be time to criticize the movement when a false step is taken.

The principle of having an arbitration committee to decide the vast number of difficult problems that are so constantly occurring in the industrial world day by day so as to do substantial justice to all the parties concerned is at least a sound one, and the effort put forth by Mr. Hanna and his associates to bring the contending parties together, acquaint each with the difficulties of the other, and so, if possible, arrive at a peaceful solution of many vexing questions, is surely a step in the right direction.

Those who favor compulsory arbitration as now enforced in New Zealand and Australia think that the Hanna experiment will not succeed because it does not go far enough and only contemplates an arbitration hearing when both parties consent, but all the same they welcome the endorsation of the principle of arbitration so far as it goes, and hopefully look for good results from the senator's efforts.

Capital and labor in America both need a power stronger than themselves to hold them in line and arbitrate their differences, and that power is the state.

Puck, being a Democratic party paper, must abuse Hanna in some way or another, but the effort in last week's number is a singularly unhappy production from whatever standpoint it is regarded. It should hurt the Democrats and really help the Republican party with the thinking American public.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Smith Curris has withdrawn from the inquiry before the commission appointed to investigate as to whether his charges against the premier in relation to the proposed railway deal are true. If the accounts telegraphed from the coast in relation to the proceedings of Wednesday are true it is no wonder that Mr. Curtis withdrew. —Nelson Miner.

The city of Hartford has followed Bridgeport and Ansonia, all Connecticut cities, in electing a workingman as mayor. It is an experiment, the outcome of which will be watched with interest by other communities; but there seems to be no good reason why it should not succeed. Certainly there have been enought failure incurred by electing professional politicians to that office.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The fi th annual meeting of the shareholders of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company was held in Toronto on March 7th.

The net profits of the year after paying all operating expenses and all charge of every kind, amounted to $207,848.39. After paying a dividend at the rate of ten per cent per annum, a balance of $28,142,.89 was carried forward to the credit of profit and loss.

This company's assets are their coal mines and the townsite of Fernie. Four years ago this company had no transportation facilities, and their stock sold as low as eleven cents per share. To-day their stock is selling at $90.

The Similkameen Valley Coal company, limited, assets are coal mines, timber, water power, agricultural and horticultural land, city water works, electric light plant and the townsite of Ashnola, surrounded by the following resources: gold, copper, silver, lead, iron, lime, fire clay, platinum, and a fine stockraising country, and it is the smelting center of the Similkameen valley, with a climate that is all that could be asked, You can secure an option on this company's stock by paying 10c per share down, and ten cents per month until fully paid, with non-forfeiture clause. This price is subject to twenty-five cents advance without notice as soon as transportation is assured. The present price is $1.10 per share. Do not wait until it is too late, but get in on the ground floor, and make a handsome profit. A purchaser of one hundred shares now, may gain a profit of $8,990. Crow's nest shares as an example. This would be a fair profit on an investment of ten dollars per month for eleven months. We invite the fullest inspection of the company's affairs by intending purchasers. THE CONVENTION

Second Letter From the World's Correspondent.

FURTHER INTERESTING DETAILS

Proceedings of the Labor Parliament at Kamloops Described—The Planks Adopted.

Kamloops, April 18.—(Special.)—After the re-assembly of the convention on Tuesday at 9 o'clock, one of the first things to be done was the throwing open of the sittings to the general public.

It was proposed to add the name of T. Clouston, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to the platform committee, but Mr. Clouston expressed every confidence in that committee, and begged permission to withdraw his name.

The platform committee reported progress, that ten planks of the platform had been prepared, that a name, the Provincial Progressive Party, was proposed, and that further time be granted to complete their labors.

Chris Foley urged that the convention be careful in considering the platform, to see that violent and radical planks be not adopted, that there was a feeling in the east that the trouble in the west was strong in the impractical demands of organized labor, and that on this account it would be well to show the opponents of the party that these objections were not well founded.

With regard to the proposed name of the party, the Provincial Progressive Party, it was decided to leave the discussion over until after the adoption of the platform.

The first plank to be discussed was the adoption of woman suffrage which was spoken to by T. Beamish of Rossland, who urged that churches were supported almost solely by the women. Delegate Buchton of Phoenix, said they paid taxes and therefore ought to have a vote. R. Bulmer of Rossland, said the plank was not a fighting plank, the party could not win upon it, the majority of voters in the province were against it, and therefore it were unwise to burden the candidates unnecessarily.

Delegate Kingsley of Nanaimo, urged that the question of woman suffrage was not a question of labor, the wage slavery system of the day was the root of the whole evil.

Chris Foley declared that the question was one of labor, inasmuch as T. Eaton, of Toronto, paid 3000 women employes but $4.50 a week, which being insufficient to support them, they were too often driven to sell their virtue. It was a matter that would not come to an issue for many years to come, but it should be discussed.

Robert Macpherson of Vancouver, said the largest petition ever presented to the Victoria house of legislature was by the women demanding suffrage.

The question was then put and carried.

The next plank to come up for discussion was "government ownership of the means of transportation and other public utilities."

An amendment was moved describing the public utilities, more particularly as coal mines, coke ovens, smelters and refineries.

An interesting discussion ensued, in which several delegates took part. There was a tendency to advance certain abstract propositions which rather dealt with a misty utopian future than with the practical problems of the present. This was turned down by the great majority of the delegates.

The plank finally adopted read "government ownership of railways and means of communication."

The plank "compulsory arbitration of labor disputes" was carried without discussion with only two dissentients.

The next read was "absolute reservation from lease of a certain portion of each known coal area, so that state-owned mines, if necessary, may be easily possible in the future. All coal leases or grants, thereafter made to contain a provision enabling the government to fix the price of coal loaded on cars or vessels for shipment to British Columbia consumers." An attempt was made to refer this back to the committee which was defeated, and the plank was carried.

The next plank read "conservation of our forest riches. Pulp land leases to contain a provision for reforesting, so as to produce a perennial revenue, and make pulp manufacture a growing and permanent industry."

Delegate Burns moved to strike out all words after "revenue," on the ground that labor was not interested in the promotion of industry to increase the wealth of the mannfacturing classes. The amendment was lost and the original plank was endorsed.

The next plank was the "restriction of Oriental immigration, including an act on the lines of the Natal Act." Delegate Ebbs wanted to know what was the Natal Act.

It was explained by a delegate who had been in South Africa that the Natal Act meant the ability of the immigrant to be able to read the constitution of the country.

Chris Foley wished to change the the terms of the plank and it was referred back to the committee.

The next plank read "to protect us from Asiatics already in the province the government insert a clause in all private acts to this effect: 'This act shall be null and void if the company fails to enter into an agreement with the government as to conditions of construction and operation and that the house pass a resolution instructing the government to prohibit the employment of Asiatics on all franchises granted by the provincial house." This was adopted.

The next plank compelling the scaling of logs by government scalers be enforced was adopted without discussion.

The next plank was that "all transportation companies be compelled to give free transportation to members of the legislative assembly and supreme court and county judges.

An amendment was moved that the judges be not allowed these priveliges. Delegate Bulmer declared that no privileges should be allowed to anyone which were not allowed to the workingmen.

Delegate Watson said he thought that the passing of this plank would prevent the companies using means to influence government officials.

On going to a vote the amendment was lost and the plank as proposed, was carried.

Delegate W. McAdam, of Sandon, proposed and Delegate G. Kane of Kaslo, seconded, that the preamble of the platform should read, "that the party lay it down as a first principle that they will nominate, endorse or support only such men as will place their resignation, undated, in the hands of the convention which nominates or endorses him; that this resignation be sworn to; that the resignation may be handed into the hands of the lieutenant-governor in-council whenever a majority of the convention shall consider such action advisable."

Delegate Beamish of Rossland, strongly supported the resolution. He said the proposal was not radical, but would help the party more than anything else.

Delegate Lackie of Nelson, said this preamble was the only safeguard the party had.

The proposed preamble was then put to the convention, and carried unanimously.

The consideration of the platform itself was then resumed, and the next plank was, that "we gradually abolish all taxes upon the producers and the products of the producers, and that these taxes be shifted upon the land values."

Chris Foley, of Rossland, urged moderation on the ground that while he believed in socialism himself the general public were not educated to the full system but would accept certain portions. Those portions were a part of the Socialist platform, but if the whole of that platform were forced upon the public, the small property holders would certainly defeat the party at the polls.

Del. Buchton, of Phoenix, moved as an amendment that the shifting of values be accomplished by means of a graduated tax on land values.

Delegate Watson moved another amendment to the effect that a land tax be so applied as to discourage large holdings and prevent monopoly.

Delegate McAdams supported the original motion.

Delegate Buchton said the original motion shifted the land tax upon the farmers whereas a graduated tax would shift this upon the land grabber.

Delegate Thompson, of Kamloops said the proposed tax was not upon land but upon land values. Now land values were greatest in the cities.

Delegate Rodgers, of Phoenix showed that the tax on city land values would inevitably result in lowering wages and raising rents.

Delegate MacRay, of Nelson, said that the farmer would not be affected inasmuch as he would be exempt as a producer.

Delegate Beamish, of Rossland, supported the graduation of the land tax.

The question was put with the result that that the amendments were lost and the original plank carried.

The plank on Oriental immigration was read again with the addition that the act be reenacted again and again if disallowed.

Delegate McAdam raised the point that the Natal act only applied to Asiatics and that it should be extended so as to apply to undesirable European immigration.

Delegate McPherson thought that the Dominion government had no power to disallow the Natal act and that therefor the act should be reenacted if disallowed.

Delegate Kane showed that the disallowance was not the wish of the Imperial but of the Dominion government.

The motion was carried unanimously.

A telegram was read from J. H. Hawthornthwaite to the convention, "congratulations to yourself and convention on excellent progress made. Regret could not be present. I hope that convention will arrange a progressive platform, moderate but essentially labor, and that you will decide unalterably for independent action in politics."

Abolition of the property qualification for public offices was the next plank which was carried unanimously.

Double time for all Sunday labor except that of actual necessity was then considered.

Delegate Burns urged that the plank was too indefinite.

Delegate McAdam said it would hurt the mining industry in the Slocan.

Delegate Wilks thought six days a week were sufficient but that the Kootenays had all they wanted in the way of legislation at present with the eight hour law.

Delegate Foley thought the party would get the support of th churches.

Delegate Beamish wanted a day of rest.

Delegate Bulmer said tnat it were better for seven men to work six days a week than six men seven days.

Delegate Davfdson said the platform should not be a code of laws.

Delegate Macdonald spoke against the plank as not suited to the Slocan.

On the question being put it was laid on the table.

The next plank was that a copper and lead refinery be established and operated by the government.

W. McAdam showed that the smelters in the Kootenays bought lead in ore at $1.43, being $1 less than the London price sent to the United States in bond reshipped refined into Canada and sold it at $5. This was owing to a monopoly, and the speaker therefor desired that the government should establish and operate smelters and refineries to treat all kind of minerals.

Mr. McAdam's proposition was accepted.

The next plank was in the case of a valuable franchise or subsidy the right of a referendum should be conferred.

Delegate McGregor amended that the referendum should be a necessity.

The convention here adjourned.
