THE PAYNE MINE

Purchase of the Lanark Concentrator.

FIRST ELECTRIC DRILLS USED

Mill to Be Moved and Rebuilt--Contract Let—C. P. R. Officials Visiting the Mine.

Sandon, Oct. 26.—The Payne has purchased the Lanark concentrator at Laurie, near the Illecillewaet, and has let a contract to Ffolliott & McMillan of this place to move the mill and rebuild it at Payne Siding.

The company claims to have enough material in the back fillings, which will pay for milling, to keep the plant busy for over two years.

One of the electric drills at the Payne was tried today. It worked successfully. These are the first electric drills used in British Columbia.

A party of C. P. R. officials including Marpole, Downie, Cambie and Hall were in town last night. They were accompanied by Campbell Sweeney, superintendent in British Columbia of the Bank of Montreal.

Carpenter & Co. have a large stock of the finest grade of amatuer Photo Albums, which will go at actual cost. tf

NOT GOOD FOR MINES

English Paper's Criticism of Sundry Mining Directors.

London, Oct. 26.—The Money Market Review, containing particulars of the British Ontario Gold Mining company, says that it is by no means encouraging to would-be investors, and points out that gold mining run by English companies has not been a success.

The Review says that "the record of the directors has been so unfortunate from a joint stock company standpoint that we should hesitate before entrusting them with the control of another mining company."

Miners Hurt

Two miners named Frank Shannon, aged 26, and Hugh English, aged 20, were seriously injured by an explosion of dynamite in the shaft of one of the iron mines near Kitchener on Wednesday afternoon. A light engine conveying Drs. King and Keith left Cranbrook a 8 p. m. and reached Kitchener at 9 o'clock, making the run of 55 miles in one hour. The doctors left for the mines on horse back immediately after they reached Kitchener.

Peoria Mines Ltd.

At the annual general meeting of the Peoria Mines Limited, held in this city, the following officers and directors were elected for the year: Dr. D. E. Kerr, president; John Dean, vice-president; W. J. Whiteside, solicitor; M. M. Wood, A. E. de St. Dalmas, F. G. Smith, W. Gillies, T. Armstrong, directors; F. W. Bauer, secretary.

THE SITUATION REVIEWED

What the Tribune Thinks Will Be the Outcome.

POLICY OF THE NEW MANAGEMENT

Strike a Legacy of the Wright-Macdonald Outfit--If the Men Hold Firm They Must Win Out--Dislike Recognition.

In a lengthy and singularly accurate review of the strike situation in this camp the Nelson Tribune of this morning says amongst other things:

Manager Macdonald at the mine will go, and Kadish at the Northport smelter will go, but their going will not be in consequence of their strike policy. Their removal will be but the carrying out of the reorganization policy of the new directors. When they are gone, however, it is just possible that a compromise will be arrived at in the immediate future, but it will probably require to be framed in a way to let Mr. Frecheville and Mr. Bratnober down easily. Their minds have been prejudiced against the union. Recognition of it is repugnant to them.

From remarks that have been let fall by Director Frecheville and Henry Bratnober it may be gathered that the chief obstacle to the settlement of the strike is not by any means the additional fifty cents per day for muckers. What Mr. Frecheville dislikes more than anything else is yielding to the demands of the union. Several overtures have been made to him by interested parties looking to a compromise, but none of those who approached him were able to make it appear that he could entertain such compromises as were suggested without showing weakness. The trouble with the Miners' union was none of his making, but it was a legacy which came to the present directors from their predecessors, and in the opinion of Mr. Frecheville must be dealt with in the same manner as if created by the present board.

From the men's side of the dispute it is apparent that all they have to do to win out is to remain firm and they appear to be willing to do so. It may take Messrs. Frecheville and Bratnober some time to reach the proper conclusion, that they cannot hope to work their mine profitably without the union, yet when they do arrive at it they may be counted upon as accepting it and acting upon it. To the men the fight seems the very existence of their organization, as failure in Rossland will invite further conflict in other portions of the district. Just how far they would go along the road to a compromise is a matter which none but the members of the executive know, but from the fact that recent overtures were made with a view to a settlement it is presumed that the men will entertain a compromise when it comes.

COAL MINES OUTPUT

Production of Anthracite Coal in Pennsylvania--Demand Greater.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—The production of anthracite coal in Pennsylvania this year will be the largest in the history of the trade. Approximately the output will be about 10,000,000 tons more than in 1900, when the production was 45,107,484 tons. For nine months of this year the shipment of coal has amounted to 40,309,786 tons, as against 34,292,710 tons for the same period last year.

The demand for hard coal this year has been greater than ever before. The production has been fully taken up and the mining companies have little stock on hand.

The Lehigh Valley and Jersey Central Railroad companies have practically placed an embargo on other lines and will not permit their coal cars to go off their line of tracks.

Clam Chowder free day and night a the Alhambra.

A Cotton Strike.

Valleyfield, Que., Oct. 26.—There is another strike on at the cotton mills here. The mills closed last night for a few days.

NEWS FROM THE WAR

Letter From Mr. Dickenson, Formerly of This City.

Daniel Dickenson, formerly a Rossland broker, who enlisted in the Strathcona Horse for South Africa, writing to his former partner Mr. Orde, gives a vivid idea of the situation today at Johannesburg.

The letter is dated six weeks ago, and Mr. Dickenson says that at the time of writing every able bodied man in that city between the ages of 21 and 50 had been ordered to report at headquarters for active service in and around Johannesburg. The men on duty being required for service up country. Mr. Dickenson had reported and was trying to obtain a horse, these animals being scarce and costly. The writer says the place is in a very unsettled state, but he believes good times are not far off, and he thinks that when the war is ended there will be great opportunities for making money. He is in the broker business and is without a partner and is anxious to get news of Rossland. If matters do not show signs of mending by the end of the year Mr. Dickenson may come out to Rossland.

FROM THE NORTH

A Rough Trip Down From Skagway.

A $1600 GOLD NUGGET FOUND

George Martin Drowned—The Last Boat of the Season — Liberal Meeting at Vancouver.

Vancouver, Oct. 26.—The steamer Danube arrived last evening from Skagway with 120 passengers. She had the roughest trip Captain McLeod ever experienced. Yukon river navigation is not yet impossible, but is practically closed down. The Dawson, the last of the White Pass Company steamers arrived at White Horse on the 18th. The steamer Ora left Dawson on Monday for up river and would probably be the last boat.

The only accident reported was the falling off the Dawson of a fireman, named George Martin, who was intoxicated and walked off the deck.

A nugget worth $1600 has been found in the Treadwell mine at Juneau. This is the largest nugget ever found in that district.

The Liberal association last night passed a resolution favoring the running of the next election on party lines. It was decided to recommend the provincial executive to hold a Liberal convention next January.

WAS HERE ON TUESDAY

Sad Fate of Miss Hoggan--Had a Brother Living in Nelson.

Miss Elizabeth Hoggan, the unfortunate lady who was found dead at the Pacific hotel, in Spokane, was a visitor at the Kootenay hotel here on Monday last, and left for Spokane the following day.

As a joke—the lady registered at the Kootenay as "Mrs. E. Kitchen" and at the time she explained to Miss Tower that she merely wanted to tease some of her friends here. Miss Hoggan had been visiting her brother of Nelson who was at work up the Columbia river near Burton City. At the time of her death she was on her way to visit a sister residing at Montrose, Col.

It was stated today that Mr. Hoggan had left Nelson for Spokane this morning.

A Le Roi Blaze.

About 11 o'cloce last night the frequent blowing of the Le Roi whistle caused Rossland people to turn out and gaze up the hill.

A fire had started in the assay office and for a short time it looked as if there was going to be trouble for the new management but the water was quickly turned on and the fire extinguished without much damage to the building.

Our stock of kodaks, hand cameras and amateur supplies of all kinds, must be closed out by Nov. 5th. Everything at actual cost. Better not fool yourself and overlook this opportunity. Just think of getting a camera for $10 less than eastern list prices. No fooling; if you want these goods you must come at once and get them. 3t. CARPENTER & CO.

UNFAIR LAWS.

When the Toronto Globe imprisoned some fourteen of its striking printers for "unlawful conspiracy" in 1872, it unwittingly greatly strengthened trade unionism generally.

The big publication was strictly within its legal rights as the law then stood in putting the offending printers behind the bars, but the final outcome of the matter was the repeal of the obnoxious statute so far as trade unions were concerned, and the triumph of the printers who succeeded in obtaining the shorter day which they demanded.

The change in the law was rushed through parliament, then in session, by Sir John Macdonald purely in deference to expressed public opinion on the subject and the same pressure will be quickly put on now if the effort is made to crush out trade unionism by the weight of unjust laws.

The late George Brown had legal justification for his prosecution in 1872 and we all know the outcome of the matter. The Le Roi company may strive to enforce the letter of the law here ;just as Mr. Brown did in the early days Toronto, but public opinion will not support the Le Roi company in 1901 any more than it did the proprietor of the Globe in 1872.

PAID OFFICIALS.

In order to injure Miners' unions generally, and to stir up public feeling against the organizations, the officials are described as being in the receipt of "fat salaries" and they are further portrayed as "agitators" who thrive on strikes, and who materially benefit by the troubles of their fellows.

The real facts of the case are totally at variance with the mean assertions constantly made, but this of course makes no difference to the scribbler whose only object is to cast unkind reflections on the working class generally, and who is always profoundly indifferent as to the truth of the assertions he deals out to a suffering public.

Take the Rossland Miners' Union as a sample. There is one paid official, Frank E. Woodside, the financial secretary, who, at least, works as hard as the penny-a-lie men who malign him, and who is entitled to the princely allowance of $3.50 per day, but who, as the WORLD is informed by the union executive, has not drawn a dollar since the strike commenced. The recording secretary receives a rebate of assessments made in return for the work he does, and there the salary list ends.

We have not heard that Bernard Macdonald has refused his salary since the trouble which he himself originated commenced. Possibly he may be assisting the suffering shareholders of the Le Roi company by contributing his services gratis but even if he is he should find some other way of attacking organized labor than by industriously circulating through the medium of his newspaper such palpable untruths concerning the alleged salaries paid to union officials as we hear of day after day.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

By the recent census, the population of the Australian Commonwealth is found to be 3,777,212 persons, thus distributed—New South Wales, 1,362,232; Victoria 1,185,864; Queenland, 502,892; North Australia, 182,553; Tasmania, 171,039; total, 3,777,217. In 1901 the population of the same political division, numbered 3,183,237. The increase of the ten years was therefore, a total of 503,975.

To enforce the keeping of the Sabbath is neither feasible nor desirable. But it is feasible and most desirable to enforce the keeping of the day of rest.—Goldwin Smith.

Speaking of the trial at Vancouver of the striking fisherman the Victoria Outlook says;

Though the strikers broke the law by carrying arms and endeavoring to intimidate the Japanese, it is well remembered that the cannerymen, by aiding and counselling the latter to obtain fraudulent naturalization, were by far the greater offenders.

Mr. Justice Drake, naturally, believes in upholding the majesty of the law—he is in the law business—and when charging the Vancouver juries he viewed matters through strictly legal spectacles; but the juries took a wider view and sided with the fishermen.

If the law is to be respected it will have to be evenly and generally administered. If it is only administered in spots and enforced against the poor and ignorant while the rich and influential go free, the people at large can never be depended on to back it with their approval.

Since the day of the inauguration of the strike in Rossland, a well-devised campaign of misrepresentation has been carried on. The Le Roi company controlled a newspaper, whose editors and reporters obeyed instructions to the letter. These editors and reporters were also correspondents of other newspapers and of the Associated Press. This practically gave the Le Roi company the ear of every editor of a daily newspaper in Canada. But notwithstanding this great advantage, the managers of the Le Roi company who devised this campaign for the dissimination of falsehoods have come to grief. The one at Northport sees his successor looking over the ground, and the one at Rossland knows his days are numbered. Bela Kadish has already got his walking papers, and Bernard Macdonald knows his are all ready to be handed him. With the departure of these two men, it is not likely the strike will continue long. Henry Bratnober, who seems to be the power behind the throne in the Le Roi management, knows that there are few idle skilled hard-rock miners on the Pacific coast, and he knows that in order to mine the Le Roi successfully only good men can be used. Good men are not "scabs" in any country, and no one knows it better than Mr. Bratnober. With good men will come a long period of peace and prosperity at Rossland. The remainder of the country is all right.—Nelson Tribune.

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full size bottle."

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO.
Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I chanced to see your sign upon your windows on 130th street, New York, I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her Asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symtoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease.

Yours respectfully, O. D PHELPS, M. D.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO. Feb. 5, 1901.
Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies, but they have all failed, I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have since purchased your full size bottle, and I am ever grateful. I have a family of four children, and for six years was unable to work. I am now in the best of health and am doing business every day. This testimony you can make such use of as you see fit.

A COUNTRY WITHOUT STRIKES

Henry Demorest Lloyd at Seattle—An Interesting Lecture to the Economic League.

Henry Demorest Lloyd, the noted author recently lectured in Seattle under the auspices of the Economic League. President Jay P. Graves of the state university presided, and introduced Mr. Lloyd.

The lecturer is a polished speaker, and thinks readily. In his address on "Newest England" he showed a complete grasp of his subject, and his ability to render an intensely interesting lecture on the subject:

"The reforms in New Zealand," the speaker explained, "were not brought about as the result of any political agitation or social propaganda; they were not the result of religious enthusiasm taking the form of economic crusade, were merely the result of the acknowledged failure of the existing conditions and theories of government to provide protection for the individual and for the community and in the matter of affording men the opportunity to labor at productive industry and receive for that labor the fruits of their toil.

"The panic of 1893, which so much affected all other portions of the world did not reach New Zealand. It reached Australia and the government anticipating its coming took possession with the consent of the stockholders of that institution of one of the largest banks in the country and through the operation of it financed the country and the business interests of the people over that calamitous period.

"Another radial reform is the compulsory arbitration law which has now been in force for a number of years and has proven so satisfactory that there has not been a strike or a lockout in the land for six years. Another labor law is the law requiring all employers to give their employees a half holiday each week.

"The railroads are owned by the government and conducted to further the development of the country. Persons over a certain age are pensioned by the government. Contracts for government works are let to laboring men without the intervention of contractors, a plan which has met with marked success. And many other reforms have been instituted all of which have given such satisfaction that there is now no suggestion of returning to the old order of things."

METEOR is the new high-grade mining camp in the south half of the Colville Reservation, seven miles west of the Columbia river, eight miles southwest of Daisy and 28 miles by good road from Meyers Falls. A great number of very promising properties are opening up in the vicinity. It is surrounded by a splendid agricultural, fruit growing and stock raising country, unequalled in the northwest, and has a splendid supply of timber for building and mining purposes, together with unlimited water power near It has already, besides a store, a number of buildings in course of erection, and a telephone service, saw mill, etc., will be in operation within a short time. Meteor is a high-grade camp of the real Leadville type, the ores mined being gold, silver, lead and copper. Picked assays have given as high as $140,000 to the ton, the average of the camp being about $35. You can't afford to forget Meteor. Now is your time to get in at bed-rock prices.
