SAINT PATRICK

How Ireland's Patron Saint is Being Honored in the Camp.

Tonight is an exception to the rigid observance of Lent obtaining in the Catholic community. The occasion is that of the day set apart for St. Patrick the patron saint of our Hibernian brethern. The "wearin' o' the green" is conspicuous today upon the street and the lack of the real shamrock is bitterly lamented by the true children of the "ould sod." However anything goes out west and a substitute for the real thing is being sported on many a lapel and pinned on many a coat front and hat.

The celebrations of the day will wind up at the Miners' Union hall where the skilful superintendence of Mrs. Fitz-Patrick has evolved an entertainment which will be at least equal in interest to any entertainment of the kind that has been staged before under the same capable management.

The feature of the evening is to be the laughter provoking farce "Thirty Minutes for Refreshment." Of this the preformers say that custom has not stalled its infinite hilarity (with apologies to the misquoted author—he's dead anyway) The cast is as follows:

John Downley, a bachelor, R. H. R. Hughes; Clarence Fitts, his colored servant, E. M. Purcell; John Foxton, a newly (very newly) married man, Eugene Croteau; Mrs. Fitz-Patrick; Major Pepper, Rigby, a man with a temper; Miss Arabella Pepper, an old maid, Mrs. R. H. Hughes; Polly a waiting maid, Miss Purcell.

The WORLD will not spoil the fun by anticipation but Eugene Croteau has got to be seen to be appreciated.

Stays in England.

London, March 17.—It was officially announced today that King Edward will not go abroad this year. He will cruise in British waters on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPH

Marconi's System is to be Used at Once Upon the Great Lakes.

Chicago, March, 17.—A wireless telegraph system giving connection between ships in midlake and the mainland, may soon be operated on lake Michigan. The managers of one of the companies are considering the fitting all boats, passenger and freight, with sending and receiving stations of the Marconi pattern. With this in view, they will make tests of the system within a few weeks. If the tests are satisfactory the boats probably will be equipped with telegraph stations before the summer navigation.

Strenuous Politics.

There is nothing monotonous or effeminate about politics in British Columbia, says the Paystreak. On the evening before the Prior-Bodwell election in Victoria the Priorites rented the theatre to hold a meeting, and undertook to shut the Bodwell gang out until they had filled the stage with their own followers. But it didn't work. The Bodwell crowd went into a bar room next door and broke through a three-foot stone wall with sledges and drills to make a door for themselves. A general mix-up followed; several ribs were broken, the theatre furniture was demolished, most of the women in the house fainted and the ambulances did a rushing business for a while. Such is life and politics in the wild and strenuous west.

OPENING OF RACING SEASON

First Meet of the Year Was a Decided Success.

THE FIRST TRAIN

Kettle Valley Line is Now Open.

RAILHEAD DISTANT 26 MILES

Tracklaying Being Rushed—Formal Opening Takes Place in April.

Grand Forks, March 15.—A daily passenger service over the Kettle Valley lines was inaugurated yesterday. The first train left here at 7 a. m. and preceeded to rail head at St. Peter's creek, a distance of 26½ miles, returning to Grand Forks in the afternoon and connecting with the east bound C. P. R. express. About 20 passengers bound for Republic on the express connected at St. Peter's creek with the stage which covered the intervening gap of fifteen miles.

The incoming train conveyed 25 passengers to Grand Forks. The work of tracklaying is being rushed. Two engines are constantly employed at rail head and the officials feel confident Republic will be reached on April 5th, the date fixed for the formal opening. Only the decking has to be added to the five principal uncompleted bridges.

WEARING OF THE GREEN

St. Patrick's Day in London is More Than Usually Honored.

London, March 17.—St. Patrick's day was celebrated today more generally than usual. The Irish flag was flying from many public buildings, special services were held in the Roman Catholic churches and the Shamrock was seen everywhere The Irish troops at the various garrisons were given a day's leave. Following the precedent of Queen Victoria, Queen Alexandria sent the battalion of Irish guards on duty at the Tower of London a large quantity of shamrocks, which were distributed to the men at parade this morning.

The Silversmith.

The tunnel on the Silversmith is now in 400 feet and gives a depth of 250 feet on the vein. The ledge, which has been twisting considerably and lay pretty flat, is now taking a decided strike and is straightening up. The ore shoot has never left them since first discovered and in the face is a veritable bonanza. The whole face of the tunnel is in ore and there is every indication that another of those phenominal showings which have made the Slocan Star properties famous is being opened up.—Sandon Paystreak.

Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works Will Not Remove Log Tax.

Victoria, B. C., March 17.—The Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works has informed the deputation of loggers that he would not remove the tax on cedar logs cut for export from the provsnce.

Since the government placed the export tax on cedar logs many shingle mills have been erected in the province and others are going up.

As loggers get a better price from the American mills they prefer to sell them there but the tax prevents this.

IN PINK OF CONDITION.

Montrealers Expect to Win Again Tonight.

Winnipeg, March 17.—The Montrealers, after Sunday's rest, feel in the pink of condition this morning and are confident of turning the trick again this evening. The ice today is in grand condition and tonight's game to decide the possession of the much coveted Sanley cup will certainly be the fastest of the series.

The Vics, strange as it may seem seem after Saturday's whitewash, are in no way discouraged and believe that with a little luck they will be able to pull the fat out of the fire. Their supporters are still anxious to back them but are not now offering the tempting odds of Saturday. The general feeling here is that the cup will go east but that the score will not be so one sided. It is more than probable that the same team that played Saturday will be on the ice tonight.

MANN & MACKENZIE.

Whenever anyone talks of government ownership of railways there is always some back number with a head that is all bone and basswood who rises to remark that the government could not assume the expense of building its own roads, says the Sandon Paystreak. They say that the first cost would swamp the people with debt. Let us just analyze that Canada Northern proposition for a minute we and see the province of British Columbia gives $4500 a mile cash. British Columbia also gives 20,000 acres of land per mile. The Dominion statutory bonus for a road costing $15,000 or more per mile is $6400. There is no bonding or stocking limit in the agreement. Mackenzie & Mann bonded their Rainy River section of the Canada Northern for $40,000 per mile and bonded the rolling stock for $10,000 a mile. Over and above all this they issued common stock to the extent of $25,000 a mile.

The Dominion and provincial cash bonuses equal $11,100 a mile. The land can be picked anywhere, includes coal, timber and petroleum, and is exempt from taxation until they sell it; therefore the promoters would have no difficulty in immediately mortgaging it for $1 an acre, i. e. $20,000 a mile. All of which makes $31,100 a mile in cash that the people give the promoters. The road will never cost that much to build, but nevertheless the promoters will undoubtedly add, as in the case of the Rainy River, $40,000 bonds on the road, $10,000 bonds on the rolling stock, and $25,000 common stock per mile, which will bring the total of government bonuses and interest-bearing securities up to an astounding total of $106,000 per mile. For the proposed 400 miles, therefor the Yellowhead road would cost $42,400,000. Every dollar of this enormous cost is a debt against the people which must be paid in burdensome taxes and excessive freight rates. But the road, although built with the people's money, is the property of Mackenzie & Mann. The people have nothing left but the debt.

Now you gentlemen who do not believe in government ownership, come along with your figures. Please show us how the government could saddle people with a debt of $42,4000,000 for 400 miles of railroad. Don't mention the Intercolonial, because it only cost $65,000,000 for 1200 miles of road, and it belongs to the people. Somebody please show us how private ownership of railways pays the people.

THE WATER LEVY.

At the present time the water users of the camp pay for the fire protection of that city. If the water payers were the same body body of men as the taxpayers there would be little to complain of in the present arrangement. As it is the cost for fire protection rather falls upon tenant than upon the landlord. In mitigation of this it may be stated that the water levy is so arranged that the bulk of the rate falls upon the central portion of the city where fire protection is most wanted so that after all there is no very much difference.

But let it be supposed that the tax was altered so that the fire protection should be paid by the taxpayer. The usual method adopted would be to charge a flat rate of $40 to 50 per hydrant against the fire department. This sum would have to be raised on general revenue and then paid over by the city to the water department. By just that amount of money could the latter reduce its rates and the real cost of the fire department to the city would be at once apparent.

The water department last year, 1901, had a gross revenue of $19,374. Of this a cash balance was left on hand of $89.04 plus outstandings and material to the value of another $5467.33. The maintenance cost $8,098.06. Interest and sinking fund aggregated $8614 and there was a balance of $3420.23 which might have been turned into the city revenues. It was not. It was used on expenditure on capital account with the exception of the $89.04 noted. Now this new work has to be done. It is profitable. During the coming year it will be seen that this new work has more than paid for itself by the added revenue which it will bring in. If the present system is carried out that revenue will be turned into fresh improvements, not maintenance, and so on for a considerable period of time until the yearly improvements necessary will be sufficiently small to allow of a revenue, whose increase will be added to from time to time as debentures are paid off. The present policy of the city is, therefore, to make the extensions of the water system pay for themselves out of the revenue arising from work already accomplished. The only alternative to this policy is to borrow the money on debentures. If this can be done the interest and sinking fund may rise to so large an amount as to swallow all the revenue and leave a sum to be provided for in addition by the taxpayers at present escaping scot free.

Then the point arises can the city borrow this money. One would think that any financial loan company on seeing the books and the undoubted excellent standing in which the water department now stands would have no hesitation in buying debentures to any reasonable extent. But, be it remembered that the water department is a water department and not a water company A water company has the one object, to make money. A water department usually has two objects—to make money and to provide places for office seekers. Companies have occasionally the same fault, and when they have, it always spells bankruptcy. But at the worst the company is only afflicted once in a way but the city is liable to have these nepotic fits yearly. Hence the hesitation. Some alderman might get hold of the whole thing next year and turn the whole profit into a loss and an inevitably increasing burden.

Still there is no doubt about one thing and that is the rates which are heavy might be lessened in some slight degree by throwing the burden of fire protection on all the people who are protected.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Regardless of what point on the map you may put your finger, the aims of trades unions are the same—fair wages, better conditions and a humane workday. That is the whole thing in a nut shell.—Colorado Chronicle.

The Miner is to be congratulated on the civic spirit it has shown in the condemnation of the banal article on Rossland's alleged bankruptcy and on the expense the city has been put to by the medical health officer persisting in remaining in Rossland, where he has nothing to do, instead of getting out to Sheep Creek or Waneta, where he might possibly be of some use. The civic spirit is a plant, however, that grows weakly in alien soil.

NOTES FROM ERIE

Bad Roads the General Complaint.

YMIR THE LEADING PROPERTY

Conditions Prevailing in the Mining Industry Around the Erie District.

Erie, March 15.—(Special.)—The Ymir mine is situated about five miles from the town of that name and is one of the best equipped mines in this country. About half way from the town is situated the cyanide plant lately installed and now working satisfactorily. The stamp mill, in which are installed 80 stamps, is situated at the mine itself where are also a number of other buildings and head works in connection with the mine. Altogether some 125 men are employed but the management intends to augment this number by fifty more as soon as the necessary accommodations can be got ready for their housing. The success of this property is well known and it was never in better condition than it is today. Encouraged by its success a number of properties in the vicinity will start work as soon as the snow is gone.

The Arlington mine, situated 4 miles from Erie, has a force of 75 men. It is at present working under some disadvantage as through lack of storage room the concentrates have to be hauled away over execrably bad roads.

At Craigtown, six miles from Erie, George Green, of Rossland, is running a cross cut tunnel upon the Copperfarm, of which property he is the chief promoter. Some machinery has lately been installed and work is going on steadily.

A large contract is being completed on the Maud S. and some fine indications are lately reported to have been come upon.

The Second Relief, which has a ten stamp mill, has had to suspend operations on account of the water freezing during the cold weather. The stoppage of operations is, however, merely temporary.

The Keystone has had to cut down its force on account of the bad roads but shipments will be resumed just as soon as the roads are again navigable.

On the Gordon, about 12 miles from Erie and situated close to the Spokane Falls and Northern railway, a small force is employed crosscutting to the lead which when gained will entail an increase in the number of men employed.

Generally speaking Erie is somewhat quiet, a condition of affairs almost wholly due to the state of the roads precluding the possibility of proper work at the mines. Perhaps nowhere in this country is the lack of roads militating in a greater degree against the opening up of the district. A little attention on the part of the government would yield directly and indirectly a large return both to the district and to the province.

For fine Cigars and Tobaccos go to Ed Farnsworth's cigar stand.

INVASION OF WEST INDIES.

Canadian Trade is Getting Stronger Hold There.

A Halifax despatch says: [Canadian banks are invading West Indies territory in view of the expected large increase in the trade of Dominion with those islands. The Bank of Nova Scotia, which was the first in the field, has branches at Hamilton, Jamaica, Demerara and Havana, and it is reported that it will also establish an agency in Trinidad, and probably may go to Porto Rico. The inspector of the Union Bank of Halifax, who has just returned from Trinidad has made so favorable a report on trade conditions, that the directors have decided to open a branch at Port of Spain forthwith.

A large and influential delegation of the Canadian Manufacturer's Association, including the president and secretary, are touring the West Indies, seeking to develop trade relations with Canada and it is expected that Canadian manufactures and products will to a considerable extent displace American articles in the islands.

For high-class family liquors go to the International Liquor Store.

ALIEN LABOR ACT

The Department of Labor Shuffle Out of the Complaints Laid.

In the House of Commons last week correspondence in regard to alleged violations of the Alien Labor Act by the C. P. R. last summer during the trackmen's strike was tabled by Hon. Wm. Mulock. Complaints were made by Messrs. John Wilson, President of the Order of Railway Trackmen; A. W. Puttee, M. P.; F. J. Dean, and others, that the company was bringing Italian laborers and other classes of labor from Boston and Ontario and other provinces of the Dominion in order to take the places of the strikers.

In answer to the complaints, the Department of Labor pointed out that interested parties could secure the immediate enforcement of the Act where there was reason to believe the same had been violated. Upon receipt of notification that violation had been proven the department would, by consent of the Attorney-General, see immediately to the deportation of persons illegally imported, but until violation was shown in the courts the department had no authority to act in the matter.

Intollerance.

A ringleader of the Congregational Church in London, England, recently roasted Edward VII, King, Defender of the Faith, etc., for attending a Sunday matinee and inspecting a brewery, says the Paystreak. The probabilities are that Edward would gladly swap his chances of access to the clerical heaven by the Congregational route for a free privilege to go where he pleases on earth. There are some disadvantages in being a king, and one of the most manifest is that of having some picayune gospel shark make a spiel about it every time he deviates from orthodox protestant conventionalities.

LONDON COLONIAL EXHIBITION

Exhibit of Canadian Ore—Canadian Bacon in England.

At the opening of the Colonial exhibition in the Royal Exchange on March 10 Lord Strathcona spoke on the great benefit to the colonies of such exhibitions.

It was the general opinion that the exhibit of gold ore displayed as Canadian was very much inferior to that of Australia.

The lord mayor at the conclusion of the coremonies, when passing out of the building, halted in front of the Davies bacon exhibit, remarking that it was apparently as luscious as the best English article.

TWO BOER COMMANDERS.

Belated News of a British Success in Cape Colony.

During a skirmish near Pearson, Cape Colony, March 10, between some British troops and Commandant Fouche's forces of Boers, Commandant Ovendaal and Field Cornet Vandervall were killed.

The Boers were much depressed at the loss of these two officers who were especially popular with the skirmishes.

NOTICE.

The strike has been settled a the Le Roi mine, but it it is still in force at the other mines as before.

Negotiations are being carried on with the other mining companies of the camp which have been effected by the strike but they are not yet completed.

Working men in outside camps areadvised to keep away from Rossland for the present, as there are more union men at the present time here than can secure employment until a settlement has been effected with the other mining companies.

GENERAL FEELING IS BETTER

The Latest Quotations and Sales Locally and on the Toronto Market.

The market, as is frequently the case at the beginning of the week, was quiet and there were few shares changing hands either here or upon the Spokane and Toronto exchanges There is a better feeling in the camp with regard to the mines but there is as yet little desire evidenced for investment especially with regard to those properties under English control, because of the revelations in London as to the methods of financing and promotion of companies.

MINOR MENTION

Dr. Milloy has returned from a visit to the Slocan country.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Dempster left Rossland yesterday for a trip to the east.

The strike at the lower levels of the Le Roi shaft under progress is said to be looking extremely well.

A. H. MacNeill, K. C., has just returned from the coast where he did not forget to give city a good name.

The W. C. T. U. will meet in the reading room of the Methodist Church tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

Ore has been found in payable quantities on the lowest level of the Centre Star; the barren streak found below the third level has apparently been passed.

The finals for the vice-president's prize will be played off to night between the rinks of R. W. Gregor and A. H. MacNeill. Owing to an injury to the foot of the former skip T. S. Gilmour has been drawn to take his place.

There was a small fire this morning at 10.30 o'clock in the rear of the fire hall which was quickly put out. The house belongs to Mrs. Chambers and the loss sustained is estimated by the fire department as not exceeding $25.

PASSING OF A PIONEER.

Dr. Bowes, the Well Known Surgeon, Leaves the Camp Today.

Dr. Bowes, who has been connected with this camp since the very early days of 1895 left the camp by the noon train today for Spokane. He has been a favorite in the city and is admitted on every side to be one of the best surgeons in British Columbia. Frank and fearless in his opinions, Rosslanders have ever known where to find the genial doctor and his absenst will be regretted by hosts of friends in every rank of life.

It may not be generally known that Dr. Bowes served seven years in the army and was one of those who made the march from Kabul to Kandahar, a quarter of a century ago.

Dr. Bowes has not as yet decided upon the point where he will settle but it will be probably somewhere in the west, though if he finds that conditions are not altogether to his liking he may go to Johannisberg. Wherever he may go the country will find a good citizen but he himself will find no place where his friends will more heartily wish him good luck and Godspeed than those who have known him in this camp
